ARBITRATION SUGGESTED BY BERLIN OFFICIALS

BELIEVED ITALY HAS REACHED POINT WHERE SHE MUST DECIDE QUESTION OF ENTERING THE WAR

FINAL BREAK WITH TEUTONS IS EXPECTED

Said to Have Denounced Triple Alliance a Week Ago.

London Breathlessly Awaits the Next News From Rome.

Russian Situation in Carpathians Said to Be Much Brighter.

London, May 15.—After having been deluded by a series of chimerical crises, the British public is coming to the belief that Italy finally has reached the point of momentous decision in the matter of her relations to the triple alliance. Early today London was informed unofficially that Italy a week ago had denounced this alliance. When this step failed to produce further concessions from Austria there occurred the resignation of the Italian cabinet. London is now awaiting breathlessly news from Rome of the final break.

The note of President Wilson to the German government divides editorial attention in the London papers today with the Italian crisis. There is unanimous gratification in the press with the contents of the American communication. The only criticism consists of regret that it should have contained a paragraph testifying to the belief of Germany's observance of humane rules of warfare in the past.

Russia Situation Brighter.

WELL-ARMED YAQUIS ATTACKED RANCHERS

Began Assault on Esperanza May 11, Killing Americans.

Washington, May 15.—Latest dispatches from American Consul Simpich at Nogales, Sonora, say his information of the casualties in the attack of Yaqui Indians on the American colony near Esperanza, indicated that J. J. Donovan was killed and Z. O. Stocker was wounded.

A report from Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, said a band of 500 Yaquis, well armed, began the attack on American ranchers May 11, and that Donovan and Jack Wilson were killed that day. In the fighting the next day W. A. Fay was killed and Stocker was wounded.

Naval officials are today awaiting a further report from Admiral Howard, and if conditions warrant, he will be ordered to send landing parties from the cruisers Raleigh and New Orleans, now off Guaymas, into the Yaqui valley to rescue the Americans.

ALL CHARGES ARE DENIED

McAdoo and Williams File Answers in Riggs Bank Suit.

Present Affidavits Showing They Did Not Combine Nor Conspire.

Washington, May 15.—Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams filed in the district supreme court today an answer to the injunction suit brought by the Riggs National bank, charging them with conspiracy to wreck the institution. Their answer is a sweeping denial of all the bank's charges.

Both officials presented long affidavits that they did not combine nor conspire to injure the bank, that their actions, which were set forth as ground for the bank's charge, were taken in the exercise of proper discretion and because of conditions and incidents in connection with its management, the propriety and sometimes the lawfulness of which they questioned.

Secretary McAdoo in his affidavit makes this counter-charge:

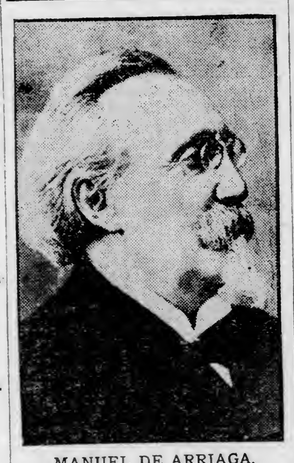
PRESIDENT OF PORTUGAL FACES GRAVE REVOLUTION



MANUEL DE ARRIAGA.

REVOLUTION IN PORTUGAL

Grave Rebellion Breaks Out in Various Cities of Republic.

Wires Cut and Troops Are Powerless to Control the People.

London, May 15.—A news agency dispatch received here from Madrid declares there has been received in the Spanish capital information of a grave revolutionary movement in Portugal. One report is that a revolutionary committee is in control of the situation at Lisbon.

This information has reached the Spanish ministry of the interior. Rebellion is said to have broken out at Ciombra, Oporto, Lisbon and Santarem.

Fugitives reaching Badajose describe the situation as extremely menacing. Telegraph and telephone communication has been severed and the troops appear to be powerless to control the people.

The Fabra News agency, from whose agent this dispatch comes, gives it out under reserve, but at the same time says it believes the information probably is correct.

Indications of a serious revolutionary movement against the republican government of Portugal have not been lacking. On the contrary, reports from this country for six months past have almost all referred to political disorders.

There has been serious dissatisfaction with the administration of affairs

CANNOT ABRIDGE MEMBERS' RIGHTS

Martial Law in Berlin Does Not Affect the Legislators.

Berlin, via London, May 15.—Notwithstanding the fact that the empire is ruled by martial law, the constitutional rights of members of the reichstag cannot be abridged. This was shown by declarations made by Vice Chancellor Delbrueck to the budget committee of the reichstag in answering queries of Socialists touching two of their members.

Herr Haase complained that action had been begun in a military court against Dr. Karl Liebknecht for making statements of a political nature and that his comrades had been forbidden to speak to him under a penalty. The vice chancellor replied that such a process was not legal and that the government had intervened immediately to have it discontinued.

Ebert Expelled.

Herr Ebert, another Socialist, referred to the case of Peirotes, who was expelled from Starssburg on the ground that he was a French sympathizer and ordered to settle in Muenden.

Ebert asserted Herr Peirotes had been compelled to visit the police station daily and that all his mail had been opened. Vice Chancellor Delbrueck replied that the commandant of the fortification district had a right to expel persons, but he had no right in this case to prescribe where the men should go. The government had intervened, he said, to secure for Peirotes those rights and immunities provided under the constitution for a member of the reichstag.

A reichstag order limiting residence has been revoked.

HOLLANDERS FIGHT HUNGER

Serious Dissatisfaction in Country Over High Cost of Living.

Agitators Formulate Six Demands for Relief of Conditions.

The Hague, May 15.—Popular dissatisfaction with the heavy burden the war has imposed on neutral Holland is growing steadily and finding almost daily expressions especially among the workers. Recently several meetings of workingmen and women, as well as of the unemployed, have been held in leading Dutch industrial centers to protest against the high cost of living caused by the war.

In The Hague, a meeting was held in a hall largely devoted to Socialistic and labor gatherings. The hall was crowded. No police were present, although there were a large number within easy call in the streets outside. The meeting was preceded by a parade of the unemployed through the quietest and most select residential quarters of the city, singing "The International," and distributing hand bills calling upon all Hollanders to stand wih the demonstrators in their fight against hunger in Holland. A large crowd gathered before the city hall but was dispersed by the police.

The protest meeting was held under the auspices of a committee of agitation against the war, consisting of representatives of The Hague trade council and allied bodies.

Arraigns Administration.

L. De Visser, a young labor leader, arraigned the administration of The Netherlands in a speech in which Minister of Finance Treub came in for special attack. The minister's pledge, made at the outbreak of the war, that

MANY FOREIGNERS LEAVE WINNIPEG

One Thousand, Mostly Unemployed Austrians, Start for United States.

Winnipeg, Man., May 15.—One thousand foreigners, largely unemployed Austrians, started on a walk from Winnipeg yesterday afternoon, their destination being the United States, where they hope to get food and work. They camped for the night near Niversville.

KING ORDERS FORMATION OF NEW CABINET

Victor Emmanuel Entrusts Giuseppe Marcora With the Task.

Salandra Ministry Insisted Upon Acceptance of Resignation.

New Premier Is Garibaldian Veteran and 74 Years Old.

MARCORA REFUSES.

Rome, May 15, via Paris.—Signor Marcora, president of the chamber of deputies, requested by King Victor Emmanuel to form a new cabinet in succession to the Salandra ministry, has refused the commission.

It is probable that the king will insist on Premier Salandra remaining in power.

Rome, via Paris, May 15.—Giuseppe Marcora, entrusted by King Victor Emmanuel with the task of forming a new cabinet to succeed the Salandra ministry, which insisted upon its resignation being accepted because it lacked the unanimous support of the country in a supreme crisis, is a Garibaldian veteran 74 years old. He has had a wide experience in public life, has served many years in parliament, and has long been president of the chamber of deputies.

Denies Report.

The Tribuna denies the report that Italy has denounced the triple alliance. It explains the king's decision to trust to Giuseppe Marcora the formation of a cabinet instead of insisting upon the retention of Premier Salandra as being due to the fact that the Salandra cabinet had shaped its policy in the direction of withdrawal from the triple alliance, but had not taken definite action to this end, wishing first to obtain the support of parliament. No pledge of any kind has been made, the Tribuna asserts, and the new cabinet will have complete liberty of action.

Riotous demonstrations continued in Rome during a great part of the night. They increased in intensity when it became known that notwithstanding reports to the contrary the king had accepted Premier Salandra's resignation.

Violent Outbreak.

One of the most violent outbreaks occurred in connection with attempts of the crowds to approach the Austrian embassy. A member of the staff of the nationalist newspaper, Idea Nazionale, succeeded in hurling his cane through a window of the embassy breaking the glass. He was arrested.

At a meeting in Borghese square, twenty speakers, most of them deputies, made addresses in favor of war. A resolution was passed to the effect that the people of Rome believed the country to be in danger and would

RAILROADS MUST GIVE UP OPERATION OF BOATS ON THE GREAT LAKES

Applications to Continue Ownership Denied By Commission.

Not Operated in Interest of the Public, Says Board.

Under Independent Operation Boats Will Be Forced to Compete.

Washington, May 15.—The application of the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Lehigh Valley and other railroads to retain ownership or continue operation of boat lines on the Great Lakes, despite the prohibition in the Panama canal act, was denied today by the interstate commerce commission. All the railroads applying must give up their boat lines by Dec. 1, 1915.

This is the first case involving extensive steamship properties under the new law which has been decided against the railroads. The commission held that none of the lake line services maintained by the petitioning railroads "is being operated in the interest of the public or is of advantage to the convenience or commerce of the people," within the meaning of the Panama canal act and that permission to allow their operation by railroads "will prevent, exclude and reduce competition on the Great Lakes."

Of Great Importance.

The decision is regarded as of great importance to all the points on the lakes which are reached both by boat and railroad lines. The fact that they are reached by both those agencies of transportation, the commission says, "establishes a case of competition existing between the owning railroad and its boat line."

The influence of the railroad-owned boat lines on commerce which moves east and west through the Great Lakes ports has been marked. The lake lines, the commission points out, have been shorn of their initial rate-making power because of their control by railroads and the rate making has been done by the trunk line asso-

DR. DERNBURG WILL LEAVE

Unofficial Spokesman for Kaiser to Get Out of United States.

Friends Persuade Him to Go of His Own Initiative.

Washington, May 15.—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, often referred to as the unofficial spokesman of Emperor William in the United States, has made plans to leave the country of his own initiative within a short time.

It became known in official quarters here today that in view of the intimations that President Wilson and the cabinet were displeased with Dr. Dernburg's speech justifying the sinking of the Lusitania and some of his other public utterances, which they believed might be calculated to array sentiment of Germans in the United States against the Washington government, friends of Dr. Dernburg here have persuaded him to leave the United States.

Just when Dr. Dernburg would leave or where he would go was not made known, but it was believed he would sail for Cuba or South America.

AMERICAN DEAD TO COME ON NEW YORK

New York, May 15.—The bodies of nine of the Lusitania's dead, including those of Charles Frohman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Plamondon of Chicago, are being brought to New York aboard the American line steamer New York, which will leave Liverpool at 9 o'clock tonight, according to a cablegram received here today from Liverpool by the line. The body of a Miss McBright, address not given, is also on board.

The New York is due to reach this port May 23.

TO SETTLE QUESTION OF LUSITANIA

Such a Proposition Said to Be Favored in Government Circles.

Would Have Court of Arbitration Deal With Lusitania's Sinking.

American Note Has Not Yet Been Received at Berlin.

London, May 15, 3:22 p. m.—The Exchange Telegraph company has received the following message from Amsterdam:

"A telegram from Berlin states that the Vossische Zeitung announces that high government circles in Germany favor the submission of the question of the Lusitania's sinking and the difficulties with America arising therefrom to a court of arbitration."

Note Not Received.

Washington, May 15.—A cablegram from Ambassador Gerard in Berlin, sent at 7 o'clock last night and reaching the state department today, stated that the ambassador had not then received the American note. State department officials expected further advices soon.

Meanwhile officials sought to trace the note and hasten its delivery. Having knowledge from Ambassador Page at Rome that the note was relayed from there yesterday afternoon on the Italian telegraph lines, officials felt assured that it surely would reach Ambassador Gerard today.

Sent Two Messages.

Secretary Bryan had sent two messages to Ambassador Gerard after the note itself left the telegraph offices here—one notifying him that it had been sent and another advising him that it had been arranged to release it for publication at 5 a. m. Friday and, therefore, to present it to the German foreign office as early as possible. Ambassador Gerard acknowledged both.

Intense interest continued today in official and diplomatic circles as to the probable nature of Germany's reply. It was thought not improbable that Germany would suspend submarine warfare while the diplomatic discussion was in progress and might suggest that if the British government notified all its merchantmen to sail unarmed, the right of visit and search would then be exercised to prevent contraband from reaching its destination.

Another Suggestion.

Another suggestion which was regarded as not unlikely to be made by Germany was that the belligerents give assurances that no contraband be carried on passenger ships. Although the United States has asserted the right of neutrals to travel anywhere on the high seas, even on ships carrying contraband, insisting that the right of visit and search be exercised in accordance with previous rules of international law, the possibility of a discussion of the legal points involved so as to furnish a common ground for an understanding was admitted in official quarters as a likely development.

It was believed Germany might insist on retaining the submarine as a destroyer of commerce, but would offer to make no attacks on non-combatants or crew if merchantsmen were unarmed and did not offer resistance when encountered.

ALL NORTH DAKOTA IS GETTING SOAKING

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Every county in North Dakota has had rain during the last twelve hours and it is still falling in practically all sections of the state. The moisture fallen up to noon ranged around one-quarter of an inch to an inch and a half with no signs of letting up. The chief benefit are to certain counties that have been rather dry which now seem to be getting the bulk of the present precipitation.

SOMETHING HE CAN READ WITHOUT GLASSES.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

French troops have pushed back the German line 300 yards in the direction of Souchez, the war office at Paris announced today. Otherwise there have been no changes in the battle of Northern France.

Another neutral vessel—the Danish steamer Martha—was torpedoed and sunk today by a German submarine. The attack took place off Aberdeen. The eighteen members of the crew were saved.

The Vossische Zeitung, an influential Berlin newspaper, announced that "high government circles" in Germany favored submission to a court of arbitration of the questions at issue between the United States and Germany.

Giuseppe Marcora, a Garibaldi veteran, is to form the new cabinet to guide Italy through the present crisis. It is believed in Rome that he will be able to assemble a cabinet in which the opposing factions will be represented. He is said to have received the support of the retiring premier, Signor Salandra, who insisted upon quitting office notwithstanding the desire of the king to retain him.

It is reported in London that Italy denounced her alliance with Germany and Austria a week ago, and news of the final break is expected there. Internal agitation continues in Italy. A strike has been called at Milan as a protest against the course of political events. The city is in the hands of the military.

In both the east and west the opposing armies apparently are unable to make great headway at present, although severe fighting continues. The French offensive north of Arras has made little further progress. The one important change reported is the shattering of the Austrian line near the Bukowina frontier. This Russian claim, however, has not been confirmed from German or Austrian sources. The Austro-German sweep from the Czneow region eastward through Galicia is said to have been checked, although Petrograd admits the western half of Gallein has been wrested from the Russians.

Anti-German riots in South Africa have brought about a serious condition of affairs. In many of the important cities of the union of South Africa, shops, storehouses and hotels owned by Germans or Austrians have been burned or sacked. Premier Botha has appealed for order, but the police and soldiers find it difficult to control the crowds. The property damage is heavy.

Editor and Missionary Under Arrest as Result of Alleged Writings.

Trials Are Expected to Bring Out Some Interesting Testimony.

The trials of Vincenzo Cimino, editor of "El Corriere Italo Americano," who was arrested Thursday by Federal authorities here charged with sending threatening matter through the mails, and Gaetano A. Lizzi, a Presbyterian missionary of Eveleth, arrested on a charge of misusing the mails, promise to bring out some interesting testimony.

Cimino is now in jail here, so far having failed to put up a $1,000 fund. He denies the charge of sending theatening matter through the mails to secure money for his paper.

Lizzi was arrested early in the week on the charge of sending an obscene letter through the mails to Father Zarilla, the Italian Catholic priest in Duluth. In his letter Father Zarilla was villified. Lizzi is said to have been a member of the Catholic church at one time and recently to have induced Cimino to publish articles of a religious nature and derogatory to Father Zarilli in "El Corriere Italo Americano." Considerable feeling was aroused between Catholics and non-Catholics. Many prominent Italians took exception to the editor's articles and published notices to the effect that they had no connection with the Courier.

Asked for Aid.

Italians in Duluth say that Cimino approached them some time ago, saying he was hard-up, and wanted them to subscribe certain sums to help his paper. The amounts asked for ranged from $10 to $300, it is said. Whether he collected any money in this way is not known, but certain Italians here say that he was refused in some cases.

Not securing the sums he thought he should, articles were printed in The Courier, March 20 last, attacking "parasites of the press" and "putrescent corpses." A copy of The Courier containing this article was sent through the postoffice here, it is said, to Capt. Fiskett of the Duluth police department. One article follows as translated literally from the paper:

"To the parasites of the press:

"The majority of our readers have by this time realized that the campaigns which our Courier is initiating are holy and just.

"Forced by necessity, we will soon be forced to initiate a campaign against the parasites of the press, particularly advertisers and business men. To this class of putrescent corpses also belong some subscribers who, for simple sectarian spirit or for other reason, refuse payment.

"We repeat, the rubric is ready, and we will use it at the earliest moment to illustrate and describe life, death and miracles of this kind of bloodsuckers."

FIRST TALK FROM CHIEF

All Police Officers of City Assemble for Instructions.

No Radical Changes—Matron Must Be Within Call.

Chief of Police R. D. McKercher and Commissioner Silberstein of the public safety department will outline the "new letter of the law" at 5 o'clock this afternoon when all members of the force have been instructed to assemble at headquarters.

It will be the first opportunity the new head of the police department has had of "talking things over" with his men.

"Nothing radical," he said today, when asked regarding the many changes predicted for the police department. "The changes sugested by the commissioner include a number of items, most of which are designed to give the force a better appearance on the street.

R. D. M'KERCHER.

"There is one departure; when women prisoners are held in jail the police matron in the future will be required to spend the night at headquarters, and to be within calling distance as long as the women prisoners are in the city's care.

"Quarters are to be built near the women's department, as this procedure is out of the question under present conditions. I believe that the matron should be here, however, to provide for all emergencies, as soon as rooms are fitted up for her."

Relief for weary traffic "cops" is planned by Chief McKercher and Commissioner Silberstein, according to a plan to be put into operation at once.

The extra officer at headquarters is to relieve the traffic policeman at Lake avenue, Third avenue west and Fifth avenue west, along Superior street, for two hours.

"This will give Officers Wood, Perry and Conners a chance to stretch themselves at headquarters; to clean up a little bit, and to get a short rest. This will give the headquarters' man six hours outside work, which should be welcomed," said the new chief.

"Virtually all of the other suggestions are concerning care of the uniforms, neatness, and appearance when on duty. In some cases the men have been lax in this respect." I understand and it must be corrected."

When asked about his own uniform, Chief McKercher smiled.

"It isn't planned to wear that every day," he said, "but I'm having one made for special occasions."

THIEF RIVER MAY PURCHASE PULMOTOR

So Many Deaths By Drowning, City Desires Life Saving Device.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council has decided to refer to the board of health the matter of purchasing a pulmotor and necessary tools and equipment to aid in the search of drowned persons. At least one death from drowning has occurred in this city ever year, and in several instances, the work of searching for the body would have been materially lessened had the proper tools been available. It was also decided to demand that the owner of the dam here, put up a fence in order to help the authorities enforce the state law prohibiting fishing within 100 feet of the dam.

The local gun club has opened a new trap house, and is now shooting in tournaments for two trophies, watch fobs offered by the Dupont Powder Co., and the Stevens Arms & Tool Co.

Mrs. W. E. Baker is spending the week in Minneapolis, where she went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Thomas Woods, wife of a former Soo Line trainman working out of this city, and whose death occurred Monday.

Heavy Mail Received.

There has been an unusually heavy mail into this city over the Great Northern for the past several days, and on two occasions it was necessary to hire a dray to transport the mail from the depot to the postoffice. Nineteen postoffices are served through the local office.

Mrs. James Farr, who left this city last fall for an extended visit with friends and relatives in western states, for the benefit of her health, returned the first of this week, greatly improved.

Thief River Falls defeated Red Lake Falls in baseball here last Sunday by a score of 12 to 5. The same teams played at the latter city two weeks ago, Thief River losing 6 to 4. Arrangements are now being made for games to complete a series of five between these two teams. In case each team wins one more, the final game will be played at either St. Hilaire or Crookston. Bemidji will play the locals in this city on Sunday.

Many local people went to Crookston Friday to attend the lecture by Peter Collins on "The Menace of Socialism."

The Woman's club, the public affairs committee of the Commercial club and the city authorities will co-operate this summer in a systematic effort to beautify the city. It is proposed to clear the banks of the Red Lake river, in the city limits of all unsightly brush and rubbish, as well as to clean up all other unsightly premises.

THROW AWAY FREE SEEDS

That Is the Advice of A. B. Hostetter to Duluth Homecrofters.

Says Seeds Sent By Congressmen May Not Be Acclimated.

Duluth homecrofters and gardeners who have received packages of seed from their congressman will throw them away and buy a standard variety to plant in their gardens, if they follow the advice of A. B. Hostetter, district supervisor of agricultural agents.

According to Mr. Hostetter the seeds received from the congressional distribution are rarely suited to the conditions of the particular locality to which they are sent. People would do much better, he stated, to spend a few cents and buy a standard variety which is known to be particularly adapted to the climate of this locality.

"The congressmen are doing just what the United States department of agriculture has been preaching against for some time," said Mr. Hostetter. "The department discourages the use of these seeds of unknown and uncertain origin and takes the position that it is unfair to expect the people to whom the seeds are sent to become experimenters."

In a test recently conducted by Miss Margaret Byron of the county agricultural agent's office, it developed that seeds from a package of congressional distribution were of high germination. While thais is a good sign it proves little as to the ultimate value of the seed or of its adaptability to this particular climate.

Mr. Hostetter stated that he had observed that the gardens in which seeds of congressional distribution were planted last year were not as successful as those in which seeds of standard variety were planted and that the difference was due to the seeds themselves.

ANTI-TIPPING BILL KILLED IN WISCONSIN

Bill to Repeal Eugenics Law Is Indefinitely Postponed.

Madison, Wis., May 15.—The assembly voted Friday to abolish the state board of public affairs when it engrossed the Bradley bill repealing the law which was enacted in 1911.

The anti-tipping bill is dead following the assembly's action in refusing by a vote of 37 to 39 to pass the Bosshard bill over the veto.

The senate passed a bill placing restrictions on important nominations for public office by requiring candidates to give notice ten days in advance of the primary even if defeated they intend to run independently.

Bills limiting the length of trains and requiring interurban electric cars to stop at cross roads on signal were killed.

The senate concurred in the Doble bill prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to minors and licensing dealers for their sale to adults.

Free lunches for children of poor parents at the expense of the school district were disapproved by the senate public welfare committee in reporting on the Smith bill which recently passed the house.

To Regulate Insurance.

State regulation of fire insurance rates, provided for in the uniform bill introduced in many states received the senate's indorsement when with no debate, it sent the Bennett bill to engrossment.

The Richards bill making grocers and meat markets amenable to the Sunday closing law by closing them as not works of necessity or charity was passed by the senate. The senate refused to reconsider the vote by which it indefinitely postponed the Bradley bill repealing appropriations of $255,000 for the state fair.

Indefinite postponement was recommended by a committee for the Bennett bill repealing the eugenics law. A new bill to retain the law with improvements has been drafted.

IONIC LODGE CELEBRATES ITS SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Banquet Marks End of Twenty-Five Years of Rapid Growth—Grand Master Is Guest of Honor—Some Lodge History.

With a banquet and program of music and speeches, Ionic lodge, No. 186, A. F. & A. M., celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary at its annual ladies' night last evening at the Masonic temple. More than 300 Masons and their women guests sat down to a 6.30 o'clock banquet over which Chauncey C. Colton presided as toastmaster.

Harry M. Burnham of Jackson, Minn., grand master of Minnesota Masons for 1915, was a guest of honor and in a brief address he took occasion to express his appreciation of representing the grand lodge at Ionic's gathering and to present a past grand master's jewel to Robert E. Denfeld, grand master of Minnesota Masons for 1914, and one of the charter members of Ionic lodge of this city. Mr. Burnham paid tribute to Mr. Denfeld as a Mason, a scholar and a man.

Mr. Denfeld in a few well chosen remarks accepted the token of the grand lodge's esteem and then proceeded to the toast which had been assigned to him—that of "Early Days in Ionic Lodge." Mr. Denfeld recalled the days when there was only one "blue lodge" in this city. He declared that the men who aspired to officer this lodge were greatly in excess of the number of offices to be filled and that this helped to further the idea of starting a new "blue lodge."

Getting a Charter.

Mr. Denfeld then related some of the difficulties experienced in getting a charter. Finally a charter was granted by the grand lodge and Duluth's second "blue lodge" was organized. "It was known as the 'Silk Stocking' lodge," said Mr. Denfeld, "because its officers conferred the degrees in evening dress." Mr. Denfeld told of the early history of Duluth Masonry when meetings were held in the old Hayes block, at one time owned by Rutherford B. Hayes, former president of the United States. The same year that the corner stone of the old temple at Second avenue east and Superior street was laid, Ionic lodge received its charter from the grand lodge. The speaker stated that the late George N. La Vaque was Ionic's first worshipful master and that he was the second.

Women a Paradox.

A toast to "The Ladies" was given by Edward Armstrong, a past master of the lodge. Mr. Armstrong's talk was one of the hits of the evening. "Women are a paradox," Mr. Armstrong said, "We can't live without them nor can we live with them. The young man who hasn't one goes out nearly every evening to see one. The old man who has one goes out evenings to get away from one."

Mr. Armstrong kept his audience laughing at his many witticisms and his description of how King Solomon would have felt if his 300 wives had dressed and lived like the modern woman, granting, of course, that K. S. was already experiencing the pinch of the h. c. of l.

Mr. Armstrong also talked in a serious vein and paid an eloquent tribute to woman and the part she is playing in the affairs of men in the home and in other affairs and concerns of life.

Mrs. George S. Richards was on the program for an address on "What a Woman Knows About Masonic Lodge Work." Mrs. Richards said that she felt honored because of the fact that she was the first woman that had been given a place on the program of Ionic lodge. She told in an entertaining way what a woman might imagine was happening to her husband when he was being initiated into the mysteries of the order.

Mrs. Richards said that her husband was a Mason and that both her father and her grandfather were Masons. She recalled the days of her childhood in Vermont when an attempt was made by a political force to stamp out Freemasonry in that state and related how the furniture and other paraphernalia of one lodge had been taken by midnight to the home of her grandfather and then stored in an attic for safety against marauders.

"Neutrality."

I. K. Lewis was the last speaker. He spoke briefly on "Neutrality." Among other things he declared that it was a subject that was particularly fitting to consider at a gathering of Masons because it means that to be neutral one must sit with an open mind and be actuated with a spirit of fairness.

A splendid musical program was given during the evening under the direction of Gustav Flaaten. The Flaaten conservatory concert orchestra furnished several selections during the early part of the evening and the program of speeches was interspersed with vocal solos by Mrs. Donna Riblette Flaaten and violin selections by Gustav Jackson. A new quartet of Ionic lodge members also sang several selections. Clarence McDonald appeared as accompanist.

The affair was in charge of a committee consisting of W. D. Underhill, J. Harris Trux and Sheldon L. Fraser.

FOUR CHILDREN ROBBED OF BOTH PARENTS WITHIN WEEK

Father Killed While Returning From Making Wife's Funeral Arrangements—John, Age 16, and Elizabeth, Age 14, Bravely Face Trying Situation.

The Grim Reaper called at the home of Eric Peters, section worker, near Short Line Park, May 5 and May 12, and left four children without a mother or father.

Bravely facing a problem which would stagger a grown up woman, Miss Elizabeth Peters, 14, assumed the reins of the household Thursday morning after her father had been killed by a Northern Pacific train near Seventy-third avenue west as he was walking home.

Sophia Peters, the mother, after an illness of several weeks, died a week ago Wednesday and while returning from West Duluth, where he had gone to complete burial arrangements, Eric, the father, met his death just a week later.

John Peters, 16; Elizabeth, 14; Frank, 11, and Esther, 8, are the children who, influenced by Elizabeth, smile bravely and plan on continuing their school work.

"If we can find some place to stay," as the oldest girl said soberly.

Esther, the baby, was sent to Virginia, Minn., to be cared for by friends, when her mother died, but the other three remained in the section house at Short Line Park.

Will Send "Kids" to School.

"I'm going to get a job and send you kids to school," declared John yesterday. "I'm old enough anyway, and I ought to be out earning my own living. Sixteen years old—why, I'm pretty near a man."

"You ought to go to school," was Elizabeth's rejoinder. "I'm going to try to find some nice family who will take Frankie, so he can go to school every day, until he gets grown up, and you'll have to take care of yourself, John."

Frankie, the youngest boy, didn't say a word, but he was very much bewildered at the sudden turn of events, and wondered where his mother and father were.

Touched by the plight of the children, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Graff, living at 1212 One Hundred and Third avenue west, have agreed to take care of Elizabeth for a while at least, so that she can go on with her school work until the end of the term.

Thus the two boys, John and Frankie, will be left alone in the little section house, unless charity comes from another source to provide for them.

Col. F. E. Resche, probation officer, and R. D. McKercher, the new chief of police, made a trip to Short Line Park yesterday afternoon, and visited the school to see Elizabeth.

The little girl smiled bravely and answered the officers' questions without a quaver until Col. Resche suggested that Frankie might be sent to the state school.

"Oh," she said then, with a gasp, "I don't want to have Frankie go so far away, because I'll never see him again. Maybe we can find somebody who wants him out here in the park," she added hopefully.

The probation officer will wait until a guardian is appointed for the children before making a permanent disposition of the case.

CITY MAY HAVE TO PAY TWO SALARIES

Judge Smallwood Files Claim for Back Pay During Contest.

Judge W. H. Smallwood's claim for salary from April 13 to May 3, the period during which he was prevented from assuming the office of municipal judge because of court proceedings instituted by W. L. Windom to retain the seat, may have to be paid by the city, according to an informal opinion handed down today by City Attorney Greene. As a result the city may be compelled to pay two salaries for municipal judge during that time or sue Mr. Windom for the money he received.

The claim for back salary was filed by Judge Smallwood yesterday afternoon with City Clerk Borgen and it will be presented to the city council at the regular meeting Monday afternoon. At that time City Attorney Greene will also submit a written opinion on the case, advising what action should be followed by the city officials. In all probability he will advise the payment of the claim.

In his statement, Judge Smallwood declares that he is entitled to salary from April 13, the day he took his oath of office. He did not assume the duties of municipal judge, he states, because Judge Cant of the district court requested him to refrain from attempting to exercise the functions of the office, pending a decision by the court on the proceedings instituted by Mr. Windom.

Judge Smallwood was elected on April 6 by a plurality of second choice votes over Mr. Windom, but the latter brought a mandamus action to declare himself elected by a plurality of first choice votes. He claimed that the preferential voting system cannot be applied to a state office. The writ was quashed on May 1 by a 2 to 1 decision of the district court judges.

Sebastian Acquitted.

Los Angeles, May 15.—Charles E. Sebastian, suspended chief of police and Mrs. Lillie Pratt were acquitted here last night of the charge of contributing to the dependency of Edith Serkin, Mrs. Pratt's ward and her sister. Sensational charges made against them were declared by the defense to be part of a plot against Sebastian, who was nominated for mayor while the trial was in progress.

BIG CROP IS IN PROSPECT

Larger Canadian Acreage Than Ever Before, Says Winnipegger.

Jitney Boom Has Struck Canadian City With Full Force.

E. R. Anderson of the Benson-Newhouse company, Winnipeg, was a visitor on the Duluth board of trade today.

Referring to the outlook in the Canadian Northwest, he said that prospects were never more brilliant for a bumper crop up there than at present. A larger acreage than in any previous season in the history of the country has been seeded and as spring work was done unusually early, the plant has made a good start. The Canadian government came to the asistance of farmers in the dry districts of last year, where the harvest was practically a failure, in advancing them wheat for seed at $1.50 a bushel, and distributing corn for feed. It is estimated that over 1,000,000 bushels of corn was distributed for relief in Western Saskatchewan, and in that way farmers were enabled to carry their cattle over and are given a good start this spring.

"Grain men at Winnipeg are looking forward to a busy time and the incoming of a new period of prosperity in the Canadian West next fall despite the war," said Mr. Anderson. "As it is now, general business is much better than might have been expected. There is, of course, nothing doing in real estate and investors are hung up in deals made at the various towns during the boom period. A moratorium is still in effect in real estate obligations, and that is helping out holders of properties."

The jitney boom has struck Winnipeg in full force, according to Mr. Anderson. There are more than 700 jitneys in commission in that city, and it has cut so deeply into the revenues of the street railway that the service has been considerably curtailed.

SECOND EXPLOSION OF STRONG EFFECT

Germans Say Ammunition on Board Lusitania Must Have Ignited.

Berlin, May 15.—An official report issued last night by the German admiralty asserts that after the detonation of the torpedo which struck the Cunard liner Lusitania, "a further explosion of extremely strong effect" occurred. This second explosion, it is asserted, "must be traced back to the ignition of quantities of ammunition inside the ship."

It is from the report received from the submarine which sank the Lusitania last Friday, that the following official version of the incident is published by the admiralty staff under the signature of Admiral Behncke:

"The submarine sighted the steamer, which showed no flag, May 7, at 2:20 o'clock, central European time, afternoon, on the southeast coast of Ireland in fine clear weather.

"At 3:10 o'clock one torpedo was fired at the Lusitania, which hit her starboard side below the captain's bridge. The detonation of the torpedo was followed by a further explosion of extremely strong effect. The ship quickly listed to starboard and began to sink.

"The second explosion must be traced back to the ignition of quantities of ammunition inside the ship."

RETAIL GROCERS' ASS'N. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

San Francisco, May 15.—New Orleans was named as the 1916 convention city, and officers were elected at the final session of the National Retail Grocers' association, which adjourned its annual convention yesterday.

Officers elected were: President, Frank B. Connolly, San Francisco; vice president, John H. Schaafer, Davenport, Iowa; secretary, John J. Ryan of Minnesota; treasurer, William M. Jeffrey, New York City.

BANNERS OF GARTER TAKEN FROM CHAPEL

London, May 15.—The banners of the Garter of Emperor William of Germany and Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria were removed today from St. George's chapel, Windsor, without ceremony. At the same time, the banners of the king of Wurtemburg, the grand duke of Hesse, Prince Henry of Prussia, the duke of Saxe-Coburg and Goth and the duke of Cumberland also were taken away.

"These are the Germanic sovereigns and princes whose names were yesterday ordered stricken from the roll of the Knights of the Garter, the famous English order instituted by Edward III in 1348.

St. George's chapel was closed while the removals were being made.

TAILORS WILL ORGANIZE.

Local Men and Women Hope to Improve Conditions.

In order that steps may be taken to shorten their working hours, increase their pay, and better their general working conditions, the "tailors and tailoresses" of Duluth have arranged for a mass meeting to be held at Forester's hall, beginning at 7:30 Monday evening. The arrangement was made by local No. 97, International Tailors' Union of America, and it is the hope of those behind the movement that an organization will be formed that will greatly better the conditions now prevailing among the tailor shops of Duluth.

The backers of the movement urge that every one interested in the formation of a union be present at the meeting Monday night. There will be speakers from Duluth and Chicago who will make addresses in Finnish, Jewish and English.

OPPOSE "NO HUG" LIGHTS

Jitney Drivers Declare They Would Dangerously Hinder Vision.

Association Takes Stand on Provisions of Pending Ordinance.

Jitneurs, in an association meeting at Kalamazoo hall, last night—

Placed a ban on smoking in buses when women are in the car.

Opposed lights in the back of the cars, designed to stop hugging matches.

Decided that a $5,000 surety bond was enough.

Opposed the ordinance introduced in the city council which will not allow them to pick up passengers in parks.

Planned to establish a headquarters.

Voted to become members of the National Association of Jitney Drivers.

In accordance with the vote, cards bearing the words "Do Not Smoke While Ladies are Present," will be placed on cars operated by the association members.

Anti-Hugging Lights Dangerous.

Lights in the rear of a car, it was declared, might prevent hugging matches, but they would interfere with the driver's vision and increase the chances of an accident. On stormy nights it would be impossible for the drivers to see very far ahead, members asserted, when there was a light in the rear of the car.

"There will be no more jitneys if the ordinance goes through that way," said one jitneur in a talk on the provision of the pending ordinance which says that definite schedules and routes must be filed. "We have to drive 'where the pickin' is good," was the way one speaker put it.

Association Headquarters.

An association headquarters, with telephone service and an attendant in charge, was proposed and discussed during the meeting. The idea was received with favor, but there were not enough men present to guarantee an attendant a salary and the matter was laid on the table for a week.

A communication from the National Association of Jitneurs was read and the majority of those present expressed themselves as heartily in favor of affiliation. It was decided to obtain further information before taking definite action.

and the government has been freely characterized as drastic and arbitrary; the president and his advisers have been called outlaws; political assassinations have not been unknown; there have been bread riots at Lisbon, followed by the proclamation of martial law throughout the republic; there has been much plotting on the part of the monarchists and the arrest and incarceration of numerous monarchist leaders; the army and navy have been suspected in their allegiance and officers of each branch have been arrested. There has been established the so-called republic of Northern Portugal, under the presidency of Gen. Barreto, and there have been labor disorders of a serious nature.

Month by month the situation in Portugal appears to have grown worse. The life of the republic of Portugal, since its establishment five years ago, after the assassination of King Carlos, has been marked by political dissensions and strife. There have been frequent reports of royalist agitation from Lisbon, but since the beginning of the European war the activities of another movement, the Democratic, or radical, have been even more threatening to the existing government.

"there shall be no hunger in Holland," was recalled in connection with the rise of from 20 per cent to 40 per cent and even more in the price of the necessities of life, within the last eight months.

Committee Criticized.

The meeting criticized the work of the national relief committee as being directed to aid the large employers of labor in the Netherlands to avoid increasing wages of their employes. The demonstrators alleged that while taxes and the cost of living mounted constantly, wages remained stationary. It was charged that the relief committee was used to stave off the logical economic crisis that ordinarily would result from such a condition by succoring those families placed in imminent want. The workers further declared that they already had more than paid their share of the cost of the mobilization of the Dutch troops, in the increased prices they had been forced to pay for foodstuffs, and protested vigorously against any general tax to cover military expenditures. They claimed that the large property owners and employers of labor in Holland who, they said, have been growing rich out of the war, should be forced to pay the full cost of mobilization through a special tax on incomes above a certain figure, and upon capital.

Formulate Six Demands.

The Hague demonstrators formulated six demands for which the agitation committee is pledged to conduct a propaganda:

1—Productive work at normal wages and under normal conditions;

2—Or full pay for those who have been mobilized and for the unemployed;

3—The national and municipal control of foodstuffs;

4—A moratorium (suspension of the payment of rent and taxes) prohibiting the dispossession of tenants by landlords;

5—Proper care of the sick and the infirm;

6—Payment of the cost of the above, as well as the mobilization, by a special tax on capital and on large incomes.

To these the meeting added a protest against the war and against the mobilization in Holland.

There is no doubt that the presence of thousands of unemployed Belgian refugees in the Netherlands has produced an acute industrial situation. As many of these refugees are ardent Socialists, the situation is not devoid of possible political aspects in Holland, where the Socialists are not yet very strong.

ciation of which the railroads are members. On that fashion the boat lines have been made merely concurring carriers.

Rates Not Reduced.

"No doubt," says the commission, "under joint operation certain economies can be effected, but these economies have not manifested themselves in a reduced lake and rail transportation cost to the public. Instead of any reduction in lake and rail rates they have been steadily advanced under joint ownership. As a direct result of this rate policy of the owning railroads, the lake boats have operated with small cargoes, although their operating expense was almost as great as if they had been fully loaded.

"The railroad control of these boat lines cannot be said to be in the public interest when the policy of these railroads has been, by artificial rate structure, to deprive the public of the natural benefits that would flow from the free use of this waterway.

"The records show no instances where the boat lines owned by the different rail carriers have actively competed for traffic with one another, or with the paralleling railroad under the regime of joint ownership and operation.

Will Become Competitors.

"Under independent operation each of the lines which is now owned by a railroad, in order to survive, will become a competitor of every other boat line and of every paralleling railroad for all traffic which moves by the Great Lakes, or which might move over that route, or the result of such operation will be reflected in the character of the service furnished the public and the rate charged therefor.

"The railroad lines under the control of the petitioning railroads have been first a sword and then a shield. When these roads succeeded in gaining control of the boat lines which had been in competition with paralleling rails in which they were interested and later effected their combination through the lake line association, by which they were able to and did drive all independent boats from the through lake and rail transportation, they thereby destroyed the possibility of competition with their railroads, other than such competition as they were of a mind to permit.

Held as Shield.

"Having disposed of real competition via the lakes, these boats are now held as a shield against possible competition of new independents. Since it appears from the records that the railroads are able to operate their boat lines at a loss where there is now no competition from independent lines, it is manifest that they could and would operate at a further loss in a rate war against independents. The large financial resources of the owning railroads make it impossible for an independent to engage in a rate war with a boat line so financed."

Owned by Railroads.

Steamship lines organized as separate corporations and named in the report, are owned on the lakes by the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Lehigh Valley, Rutland, Erie, and Grand Trunk railroads. They operate practically all over the lakes, but the principal traffic is in coal, ores and grain between Buffalo and the upper ports. The traffic in package freight also is considerable.

Although the commission has no power to require them, joint through rates between lake lines and the barge lines on the Erie canal now are a possibility and even a probability. When the lake lines are separated from the railroads they will be free to send traffic through the canal instead of over the rail lines to New York. Traffic experts say the separation of the railroads and their lake lines promises a revival of independent shipping on the Great Lakes and an impetus to traffic through the canal and the Hudson river.

that the Russian situation today is perceptibly brighter, and this in spite of the fact that the Austro-German victories in West Galicia is becoming more and more obvious and that it is certain the Russians have lost heavily in men and ammunition. Confidence in the strength of the Russian ally of Great Britain is maintained because of their ability to deliver a counter-stroke as has been shown by their success in East Galicia and Bukovina, where the Austrians are reported to have been routed and to be retreating along a front sixty miles wide. It is consequently hoped in London that the Russians may retrieve on the Pruth their failure on the Dunajec.

It is reported also that the Russians have checked the Germans in the Baltic provinces.

French Statement.

Paris, May 15, 2:30 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement on the progress of hostilities: "There has been no change in the situation since last evening in the sector to the north of Arras. Here the fighting continues under the conditions set forth in our last communication. We have progressed 500 yards in the direction of Sauchez. In this sector there have been violent artillery exchanges."

States since the beginning of the war has been closely observed by the president and other high officials here, who came to believe in the last week that a continuation of his speeches and statements might, in the event of a critical turn in relations with Germany, menace the domestic welfare of America. It has been repeatedly denied by the German embassy as well as by Dr. Dernburg himself that he was a spokesman of the German government, or that he had any official status. In view, however, of the fact that Dr. Dernburg was formerly colonial secretary in the German foreign office and has become prominently active in behalf of the German cause since the outbreak of the war, officials here believe that German-Americans attach official weight to his utterances.

Dr. Dernburg himself issued a statement last night declaring he had never discussed matters that had arisen diplomatically between the United States and Germany. Officials here made no comment on that beyond pointing to Dr. Dernburg's utterances in Cleveland and New York recently seeking to justify the attack on the Lusitania.

that my inclusion in the suit is due to ulterior and improper motives and reverted to solely for the purpose of thereby uttering and publishing grossly false and libelous statements under the privilege and protection of judicial forms and free from the legal accountability that would otherwise be involved."

Mr. Williams in his sworn statement says that examinations of the Riggs bank by his office disclosed violations of the national bank act, that it was not so much a commercial bank as one which lent much money on stock collateral which was used in speculative ventures; that some of its officers and directors made false statements under oath; that dummy loans sometimes were made, the proceeds of which went to officers; that some officers were engaged in real estate transactions, and that other things were done beyond their powers.

Affidavit By Burke.

John Burke, treasurer of the United States, the third defendant, submitted an affidavit relating to the retention by him of $5,000 interest on government bonds of the Riggs bank, deposited with the treasury to secure its note circulation. Mr. Burke said he acted in accordance with law.

A number of tables, charts and other statistical data were submitted with the answers each of which makes a small volume. One gives a list of loans by the bank to former secretaries of the treasury, assistant secretaries, a former comptroller of the currency and national bank examiners. The names of Leslie M. Shaw, William B. Ridgeley, L. A. Coolidge and others appear in the list.

Secretary McAdoo said in his answer that he has nothing to do with the penalties assessed by Comptroller Williams, which the bank seeks to enjoin, and that he knows of only two reasons which might cause the bank to be hostile to him. One was that he refused one of its agents a desk in the comptroller's office, and the other was that he charged interest on government deposits. He withdrew government funds, he says, because he believed they should be in a bank doing more commercial business.

Denies Conspiracy.

Comptroller Williams in great detail denies that he has conspired to injure the bank and charges that it has violated the law and been "guilty of improper practices" in stock brokerage transactions, excess loans, stock investments, excess liabilities, deficiencies in reserves, real estate loans, directors' oaths, loans to officers and employes and treasury department officials. He says he has no intention of assessing any other fines.

Both the answers of Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Williams go into great detail in recounting the negotiations between the treasury and the banks in a local financial flurry here and relations between the Riggs bank and the National City bank of New York.

prevent by all means at their disposal "the sacrifice of national honor."

Rome in Turmoil.

Rome was in a state of ebullition yesterday. The shops were closed, flags were hoisted at half mast as a sign of protest against the government's action, and the theaters had been requested to suspend their performances, except the Constunzi theater, where a play was given in honor of Gabriele d'Annunzio. The poet was present and made an address of anti-Austrian character. The entire garrison had been brought out to protect the most threatened points in the city, such as the streets where the Austrian and German embassies and consulates are situated, and the Villa Malta, the home of Former Premier Giolitti. The city was divided into four military zones, and the keeping of order was entrusted to the military authorities.

A riotous crowd during the day invaded the Plazza Montecitorio, in which the chamber of deputies is located, and smashed windows and doors and destroyed everything it came across. The rioters were about to enter the great Hall of Sittings, when troops intervened. A few of the demonstrators were wounded.

Deputies Escaped.

Members of the chamber of deputies who are followers of Signor Giolitti made their escape from the building, some of them leaving their hats behind. A venerable Garibaldian veteran harangued the crowd, declaring that Italy either must go to war or the people would bring about a revolution.

During the day a circular was distributed asking the people to form in procession and proceed to the Villa Ada, the residence of the king, and demonstrate their loyalty to the king, but also express their favor of Italy joining the war.

These circulars caused the forming of processions of thousands of people who, with flags and shouting enthusiastically, marched toward the Villa Ada. On the way the demonstrators smashed all the windows and destroyed the signs of German shops. One of the most prominent of the German business houses attacked was that of Loescher, the book seller. The police carabineers, bersagliers and infantry and even cavalrymen and artillerymen, charged the procession and closed the streets leading to the Villa Ada. The mob, however, proceeded to force the closing of all German shops, placarding them with signs reading "Closed as a national protest."

FIXING UP PLACES AT GRAND RAPIDS

Considerable Being Done in Way of Beautifying Homes and Village.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable improvement work around town is going on these days.

Probably the most extensive work which is being done is the stripping of the surplus dirt on the boulevard opposite the Pokegama hotel and on the street from that point east past the courthouse, and the covering with dirt of the fill near the courthouse which has been used as a dumping grounds for the spring cleanup.

Third Street Boulevard.

The work on the Third street boulevard, having in view the beautifying of that thoroughfare, is progressing nicely.

Mrs. Styza Winsor is having her home connected up with the sewer.

E. C. Kiley has completed quite extensive improvements on his property, including tearing down an old shed and remodeling a barn for a garage, putting in several hundred square feet of cement driveway and walks and improvements to his back yard.

J. S. Lofberg recently completed some minor improvements to his lawn, while others whose grounds have recently undergone similar treatment, are A. C. Bossard, public library, I. D. Rassmussen.

D. M. Gunn, who owns a house on the corner of Fourth street and Hoffman avenue, is having it entirely remodeled.

Work has started on the new house which Milton Betts is building on a site adjoining his present home.

TURKEY YIELDS TO AMERICAN PROTEST

British and French Deported From Constantinople Brought Back.

London, May 15.—Fifty British and French nationals, who were deported from Constantinople to the Gallipoli peninsula by the Turkish authorities have been brought back to the capital through the efforts of United States Ambassador Morgenthau, according to a Reuter dispatch from Athens.

The deportment of British and French citizens to the scene of violent fighting in the Dardanelles region was decreed by Turkey on the ground that shell fire from the allied fleet was killing, wounding or endangering Turkish non-combatants whose homes are on the peninsula. As soon as the order was issued Mr. Morgenthau was requested by the British and French governments to file a vigorous protest in their behalf. In spite of this action on his part, however, the nationals of these two countries were placed aboard a ship and started for Gallipoli. His later protests evidently have been more successful.

Last Day of "The Christian."

This is the last day of the presentation of "The Christian," at the Lyric theater.

One sees in this work all the strength of acting that made Hall Caine's book so great and famous—John Storm, the mission-slum worker of London, and Robert Ure, his arch-enemy, who falsely published in the papers that he had predicted the destruction of London on Derby day; the crazed mob that gathered at the great race track to see the event and their fury when it did not happen; the wickedness of high society in England and the Bohemianism of its music halls; the strength and goodness of the persecuted Storm and his love for a music-hall actress, who turns out to be richly worthy of him.

BIG FILTRATION PLANT DEDICATED

Problem of Clarifying River Water at St. Louis Is Solved.

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.—What is said to be the largest filtration plant in the world was dedicated today at the Chain of Rocks, the site of the St. Louis city water works on the Mississippi river at the extreme northern end of the city.

The filtration plant cost $1,300,000, and is so large that 150,000,000 gallons of water can pass through it every twenty-four hours, absolutely pure; and in case of emergency this can be increased to 200,000,000 gallons.

The opening of the filtration plant is the last step deemed necessary for years to come to assure St. Louis of clear water. The city's water is taken from the muddy Mississippi river, and from the muddy Mississippi river, and then is given a chemical treatment that precipitates the solids and foreign matter. The water then passes through a series of settling basins, from which it emerges clear. For years this system was sufficient to assure the city clear water, but as the demands for water grew with the growth of the city, it was noticed that in hot weather or when the river was unusually muddy, the water was drawn through the settling basins so fast that it poured out of the faucets slightly discolored.

The great sand filter then was built. The water now will pass from the settling basins into the filter, and thence into the mains. The filter, it is believed by engineers, will assure the people of St. Louis absolutely clear water throughout the hottest weather.

For years, St. Louis struggled with the problem of clarifying the muddy river water, and when the settling process was devised it attracted attention in engineering circles throughout the world.

The dedicatory exercises today were attended by many delegates from the convention of the American Water Works association, which met at Cincinnati, May 10.

TRACTION COMPANY MUST REMOVE TRACKS

Judge Grindeland Rules Against Thief River Falls Concern.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Grindeland has filed his decision in the case tried in district court at the January term, in which George Larson and others sought to restrain the Minnesota, Northwestern Electric railway from operating its trains on Davis avenue, between Third and Eighth streets.

The court orders the issuance of a perpetual injunction against the company.

A stay of thirty days was granted and it is understood that the company will appeal. The company is ordered to remove its tracks and road bed and restore the street to its original condition.

Company Given Site.

Judge Grindeland has granted the electric railway company title in fee to the lands affected by the condemnation proceedings brought last summer in an effort to secure the right-of-way for the road between this city and Goodridge. Two of those across whose farms the road was surveyed carried the matter into district court and were awarded larger damages than the road offered to pay. The balance of the property owners were satisfied with the terms offered.

London Newspapers Comment Favorably on President's Note.

Declare Document Is Written With Dignity and Firmness.

London, May 15.—All the morning newspapers commenting on the American note to Germany applaud the dignity and firmness with which the document is written.

The Daily News suggests that, though it would be difficult after the official defense for the sinking of the Lusitania and the expressions of satisfaction of the Germans over the incident, the German government "may take President Wilson's irony at its face value and declare that the submarine commander acted in excess of his orders."

"There are certain things left in obscurity in the otherwise extremely lucid demands," the Daily News adds. "A guarantee of immunity for neutral vessels from attack evidently would not meet the case while the result of a failure to comply with the American government's 'confident expectation' is veiled in a mist of scrupulously friendly words. But it will be a very rash assumption on Germany's part if she persuades herself that there is nothing behind the veil."

Must Have Smiled.

The Daily Express says that President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan must have "smiled some when describing German influence as always on the side of justice and humanity."

"It is inconceivable," the newspaper continues, "that Germany will pull down the skull and cross-bones, but if she does, President Wilson will have won a great victory for humanity, and the allies. In the contrary case, America may not actually declare war but all her aid will be openly and fully put at the disposal of Potsdam's enemies and the deliverance will be materially hastened."

The Times in an editorial today, regarding the American note to Germany, says:

"The American note to Germany, both in substance and expression recalls the best traditions of American diplomacy. Courteous and even considerate in form, it can leave Wilhelmstrasse under no illusions as to the state of American feeling or the determination of the United States government. Nothing could be more vigoriously or more persuasively expressed and not only the allies, but whole world of neutrals may well rejoice that the United States has at length spoken out so forcibly and to the point.

President's Stand.

"The stand taken by the president is something more than a declaration of a national policy. Nothing less than the conscience of humanity makes itself audible in his measured and incisive sentences. Germany today finds herself clearly confronted with the demand to abandon her submarine warfare on shipping. With that demand, we do not for a moment believe she will comply. We do not venture to predict the outcome of her dispute with the United States, but two things may safely be affirmed; one is that the dispute itself and the possibilities latent in it are memoirs of supreme moment to the United States, to whose decision they may safely be entrusted; the other is that whatever may be the issue, the moral interests of the United States and the allies are henceforth indissolubly linked."

The Daily Graphic in an editorial on the note has this to say:

Definite Challenge.

"The American note is a definite challenge and it is difficult to see how either country can evade an issue so clearly stated. It remains to be seen whether Germany will face war with the United States rather than abandon the practice of murdering non-combatants and neutrals upon the high seas."

The Spectator in discussing the forecasts of President Wilson's note to Germany before the text of the document was available says it believes that Germany will not concede the American demands, but that on the other hand, President Wilson certainly does not want to go to war.

"After his earlier declaration that Germany would be held to a strict accountability for the loss of American lives," says the paper, "Mr. Wilson could not have done less than send such a note. If he had acted literally on his words, he would have done much more. But what we know of Mr. Wilson's temperament, of his previous policy and of the nature of his cabinet, goes a long way to diminish our surprise.

Mexican Problem.

"When he tackled the problem of Mexico, he spoke in the high and admirable tone of a puritan who could not tolerate the presence of wrong. . . . We are quite sure that President Wilson is not at heart a pacificist up to the point at which logic of all foreign policy is necessarily destroyed, but we believe that Mr. Bryan is such a pacificist.

"Let us say here emphatically that the British people have not the slightest wish that the United States should enter the war. There are various reasons why the neutrality of the United States in the war is helpful to us as her participation would be."

The Spectator says it is possible that the United States will express reprobation of the German deeds, "by breaking off diplomatic relations," and it recalls that after the dynastic murders Great Britain had no intercourse with Serbia for three years. The United States, the newspaper continues, might declare a commercial boycott against Germany or have warships escort merchantmen through the war zone or seize the German ships interned in American waters. In the event of war, Germany could not do much to injure the United States, says the Spectator, while the United States could not seriously enter the war for many months.

Could Not Have Done Otherwise.

"If the United States eventually ranges herself with the allies, the Spectator continues, in the midst of our regrets we shall feel she could not have done otherwise; that a noble country at last fights for a noble cause because events did not allow her to serve civilization in any other way."

"Either Germany," the Spectator adds "thinks America is so deeply committed to neutrality, or so divided in her nationality that she dares not proceed beyond remonstrances and will be satisfied with her half contemptuous expressions of regret or else she is indifferent whether America enters the war or keeps out. It is idle to ignore the fact that the general public of this country has felt surprised, even some resentment, at the light way in which America appeared to take her international obligation, even her personal injuries."

True Explanation.

The writer expresses the opinion that the true explanation of the caution of Americans is "the recognition of the importance for immediate effective action.

"America is not in a position at present to strike Germany. Should she come the ultimate assistance she could render would indeed be great, for a protracted war invaluable; but her statesmen know she could put no considerable body of troops in the field of European conflict this summer. Except for convoy purposes, her fleet would not greatly add to the preponderance already held by the allied navy while diversions of her manufacturers in supplying munitions and stores for all the allies, military and naval forces, would damage rather than assist the general situation."

"President Wilson," says the Daily Chronicle, "has at last spoken out. His note to the German government is studiously courteous, but it is very firm in substance.

"The blunt language of the note on the indiscretions of the German ambassador to the United States and the fact that the document was sent direct to Berlin over his head, so to speak, probably will make it impossible for Count Von Bernstorff to stay in Washington."

PRESIDENT'S STAND INDORSED BY LEADING MEN OF COUNTRY

Note of Decision.

Columbus, Ohio, May 15.—Governor Frank B. Willis said: "President Wilson's note to the German government is a considerate expression of the firm determination of the United States that its rights shall be respected by belligerents.

"The president has sounded a note of decision and deliberate conviction, which will be heard around the world. The American people, devoted as they are to peace among nations, will sustain him in the decision."

Calmness Will Carry Conviction.

Boise, Idaho, May 15.—Commenting on President Wilson's note to Germany, Governor Alexander of Idaho said: "The people of Idaho are in full accord with the president and will give full approval to his note to Germany. The very calmness displayed by the president will carry conviction to the German government of the friendly desires of this nation, while at the same time giving emphasis to our demands."

Strong and Courteous.

Wahpeton, N. D., May 15.—Commenting on the American note to Germany, United States Senator Porter J. McCumber, member of the senate foreign relations committee, said last night:

"The president's note is both strong and courteous. Its effect must be to bring to a speedy settlement the rights and duties of both belligerents and neutrals in respect to submarines."

Represents American Sentiment.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 15.—"I believe the president's note represents American sentiment," Senator Bryan of Florida declared in a statement here last night.

Indorsed by Senators.

Honolulu, May 15.—Members of the congressional party touring the Hawaiian islands commented yesterday on President Wilson's note to Germany as follows:

Senator James of Kentucky: "The president speaks for all citizens and voices the sentiment of all neutral peoples in warning Germany to cease violation of established rights and imperiling lives. We will back up the president's note. It is statesmanlike and patriotic."

Senator Cummins of Iowa: "I like the tone of the president's note. We should make an emphatic protest against such indescribable violation of international rules."

Wise, Patient and Firm.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 15.—Governor Robert L. Williams, Oklahoma said: "The lives and rights of American citizens must be protected and foreign nations must be made to so understand, but we must go about this in a patient, yet firm way. We must have peace, if it can be had without the sacrifice of our honor. I indorse the wise, patient and firm course that is being taken by our president, and I feel sure the great majority of the patriotic citizenship of this state approve the same."

Position Clearly Taken.

Santa Fe, N. M., May 15.—Governor W. C. McDonald said: "I am heartily in accord with the president's attitude as expressed in his note to Germany. His position is clearly taken, and all ought to appreciate the firm but friendly tone of his statement. The American people can trust President Wilson to do what will prove best for all."

Paves Way to Arbitration.

New Haven, Conn., May 15.—Former Governor Baldwin, a recognized authority of international law, said that he thought the American note to Germany "paved the way for an amicable reference of the matter in the controversy between Germany and the United States to arbitration under the provision of the Hague convention of 1900 and revised in 1907. By the preamble to the convention the contracting powers, among which were Germany and the United States, pledged themselves by all the efforts in their power, to the friendly settlement of international disputes, recognizing the solidarity uniting the members of the society of civilized nations and desirous of extending the empire of law."

Praised by Taft.

New York, May 15.—A message to President Wilson indorsing the position taken in the note to Germany, was voted last night by an assemblage of several hundred persons attending a dinner for Methodist men, given by the laymen's missionary movement. William Howard Taft was among those who voted for the adoption of the message and delivered an address in which he strongly praised the spirit in which the note was drafted and the manner of its phrasing.

Indorsed by Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—President Wilson's "efforts to keep this country at peace with all the nations of the world," were indorsed by the executive board of the United Mine Workers of American in a resolution adopted yesterday.

Shoots Wife; Kills Self.

Green Bay, Wis., May 15.—Frank Deviley shot and killed himself last night after probably mortally wounding his wife. A month ago Mrs. Deviley instituted divorce proceedings against her husband and it was while returning from her attorney's offices that the tragedy occurred. The physicians hold out small hope that Mrs. Deviley will survive.

FINE, FRESH BREAD; ONLY MONTH OLD

New Preserving Process to Aid Bakeries and Housewives.

"What lovely bread and how fresh!"

"Yes, I bought it last month."

This may be the trend of a conversation at any afternoon tea in the near future, after a patent has been issued in Washington for a process that will keep bread in a fresh condition for at least one month.

The new discovery was made by Arnold Wahl, head of a large Chicago bakery, who announced his invention before the members of the Illinois Master Bakers' association at their annual meeting this week. The process, he claims, will make it possible for a housewife to put bread away in the same manner in which she stores preserves and potatoes. He also told of a discovery to prevent "bread diseases" in bakeries.

"The new bacillus," said Mr. Wahl, "has been discovered in germinating malt. When placed with bran mash it grows and throws off a lactic acid which, when added to dough, will prevent the growth of any foreign organisms within the bread baked from the dough."

SPAIN WANTS COAL FROM UNITED STATES

Madrid, Spain, May 15.—The Spanish government is so much concerned over the scarcity of coal that the cabinet is willing to guarantee the payment of orders placed in the United States by opening a credit in New York to the amount of at least 1,000,000 pesetas ($200,000). This deposit will be maintained as long as necessary. The object is to enable smaller concerns to have their American orders filled promptly.

Something like a coal famine exists throughout Spain and large orders are being placed in the United States by Spanish companies.

A royal decree promulgated yesterday suspends the import duties on coal and the transport taxes which were discriminatory against America.

The British government has prohibited the export of coal and coke. Spain therefore must turn toward the United States for coal. Last year Spain imported about 3,000,000,000 tons of English coal.

DECLARES OPTIMISM CAN BE CULTIVATED

Health, Industry and Contentment Necessary, Says Rabbi Lefkovits.

Optimism can be cultivated by the promotion of good health, industry and in fostering the spirit of wise contentment, declared Rabbi Maurice Lefkovits in his sermon on "A Recipe for Optimism" at the regular Temple Emanuel services last evening.

"There are many people in this world," said Dr. Lefkovits, "who see no good, because they do no good. They have had nearly everything and are therefore satisfied with nothing. Women, especially society women, constitute a large part of that class and their pessimism is responsible for many of their ills. Such women need nothing so much as work—healthful work; work that will keep the hand, heart and head nobly busy. Try the work cure treatment on such members of society and they will have no need for rest cures.

"Optimism in a social way is the disposition to take the happiest view or to look always on the brightest side of things, or to believe, however things may appear to the contrary, whatever is or occurs is right and good.

"The true optimist is one of the happiest of men. He loves all that is lovable, and is loved by all those whose love is worth having. In his company there is cheer and joy, while perhaps by little means, he puts more into life and gets more out of it than many others with colossal fortunes and far reaching fame."

Navy Orders Dirigible.

Washington, May 1.—Construction of the navy's first dirigible was authorized yesterday by Secretary Daniels, who awarded a contract for its manufacture to the Connecticut air craft company of New Haven, on a bid of $45,636. The balloon is to be delivered within four months, so as to be in use at the naval aeronautic station at Pensacola early next autumn. It is designed to carry four student observers in addition to a crew of four. It will be 175 feet long, 55 feet high, have a gas capacity of 110,000 cubic feet and a speed of 25 miles an hour. The two-hour radius of action can be doubled by replacing with gasoline the weight of the extra men.

Did You Ever Make a Promise?

Did you ever promise yourself to start a bank account and save a part of your earnings?

Of course you did, but did you keep the promise? That is another matter, isn't it?

Had you made it to a stranger there could be no doubt about your keeping it, but to yourself—"that is different," you say.

FACE COVERED WITH SMALL PIMPLES

Itched Badly. Disfigured for Time Being. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Made Complexion Clearer. Face Entirely Healed.

New Cambria, Mo.—"The first thing I began to notice some eruptions on my face. They were small pimples forming. They would itch so badly that I could hardly keep from picking at them. When I did it seemed as if they kept spreading. I was disfigured for the time being; my face was totally covered with the pimples. They were so bad I hated to have a person see my face. It was in this condition a year or over.

"I read in the paper of how good Cuticura Soap and Ointment were and I resolved to try them. After I used them several times they seemed to heal the places and make my complexion clearer. I spread the Ointment on my face and let it remain for about five minutes and then washed it off with very hot water and Cuticura Soap. My face was entirely healed." (Signed) Miss Flossie Hepworth, June 30, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them.

FACE COVERED WITH SMALL PIMPLES

Itched Badly. Disfigured for Time Being. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Made Complexion Clearer. Face Entirely Healed.

New Cambria, Mo.—"The first thing I began to notice some eruptions on my face. They were small pimples forming. They would itch so badly that I could hardly keep from picking at them. When I did it seemed as if they kept spreading. I was disfigured for the time being; my face was totally covered with the pimples. They were so bad I hated to have a person see my face. It was in this condition a year or over.

"I read in the paper of how good Cuticura Soap and Ointment were and I resolved to try them. After I used them several times they seemed to heal the places and make my complexion clearer. I spread the Ointment on my face and let it remain for about five minutes and then washed it off with very hot water and Cuticura Soap. My face was entirely healed." (Signed) Miss Flossie Hepworth, June 30, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them.

AN ATTRACTIVE DESIGN IN STUCCO

The design that we present to our readers this week represents a house of considerable originality. The building itself is designed to fit onto a site having a gradual slope to the side or rear. The stucco is left in its natural color and the thatched roof is carried out in rather a bold color of red. The interior of the house is well arranged, having a large living room with open fireplace and sun porch adjoining. The four bedrooms on the second floor will take care of a rather large family. The building would cost to erect in the city of Duluth, including plumbing and heating, about $6,000.

A GREAT DOCUMENT.

The president's message to the Imperial German government, from a historical viewpoint, is splendidly in accord with the loftiest traditions of the American people.

No crisis in the history of the American Republic ever produced a finer example of American statesmanship.

There is in the support that stands behind it no equivocation whatever—no reservation of partisanship, creed or race.

At least nobody will even suggest that "it rained jitneys" this morning.

OUR GERMAN FELLOW-CITIZENS.

No matter how radically you disagree with the opinions of your German-American friends you can scarcely refrain from admiring the ardent loyalty to and love of the Fatherland their course throughout the war has illustrated.

There must be something strong and great in a country that can attract such unwavering devotion, and in a people that can show it so consistently no matter how trying the circumstances their loyalty must endure.

Nor must it be thought for a moment that this undying affection for the land of their birth is in the slightest degree inconsistent with a love of and devotion to the country of their adoption as unwavering and as undying.

There never has been any evidence that love for the motherland has made any of our adopted citizens less loyal to the land of their adoption, no matter from whence they come. On the other hand, it has been made very clear that the greater their capacity for loyalty to the land of their birth, the better and more loyal citizens of this country they have become.

To be entirely fair to these fellow-citizens one should attempt to imagine himself in a situation like theirs. Suppose that we had emigrated to Germany, had established ourselves there, and had become citizens of that nation. Suppose that under circumstances similar to those that prevailed in Europe, the United States had become involved in a bitter, desperate war with virtually every other power in the Western hemisphere. Suppose that, to our grief and surprise, we found the general sentiment of our neighbors in Germany to be against the land of our birth.

Wouldn't we be sticking up for the good old U. S. A.? Wouldn't we be trying to convince our mistaken neighbors that they had the wrong view of it, and that their sympathies ought to be with the United States instead of with its enemies? And if we didn't do these things would we deserve anybody's respect?

Maybe we would be misunderstood. Maybe our attempts would simply irritate our misguided neighbors in Germany. But could any reasonable human being honestly challenge our motives?

Faintly, that illustrates the position of our German-American fellow citizens. It is one to sympathize with, not to condemn. Nobody should under-estimate the capacity for citizenship that is illustrated by the ardency of their devotion to the land of their birth.

There isn't the slightest reason for doubting that when it comes to the pinch their love for and devotion to the land of their adoption will be found as ardent and as consistent. Indeed, the records of America in peace and in war dissolve whatever doubt there might be about that, a thousand times over.

Nor if the remote exigency of a war between Germany and the United States should come to try their loyalty, to demand of them the choice between the land of their birth and the land of their adoption, is there the least doubt about what that choice would be with the overwhelming mass of them.

It would be for the United States, for the land of their opportunity, for the land in which their children were born; and though the parting might wrench their hearts, it would be none the less final, and their loyalty to their last choice would be none the less complete.

We believe it, not of him alone but of the vast majority of those of his blood, when Herman Ridder of the New York Staats Zeitung says, as he said yesterday:

> They (the Germans in America) have fought to uphold the flag in the past, and they will do so again, AGAINST ANY ENEMY WHATSOEVER. They deserve the fruits of past loyalty, until they have forfeited the right to claim them. There never has been but one flag under which the German-American has fought. There never can be but one flag under which he will ever fight. And that flag is the STARS AND STRIPES.

Every American will pray that the dread test will not come. No American need be afraid of the result of that test if unhappily it should come.

Does President Wilson ever wonder if he had any real troubles during the time when he was president of Princeton?

GOOD WORK!

Duluth's big Clean-up and Paint-up Week is over, or will be at dark tonight.

And it's been worth while! Splendidly worth while!

It has made Duluth shine as it never shone before. It has brought Duluth into the dawn of summer clean and sightly and orderly—cleaned up, painted up, planted up.

Congratulations all around!

First, to the community for this fine showing of community pride and community spirit.

Second, to its citizens for the work they have done and the spirit in which they did it—not through compulsion, not because they had to, but because they caught the idea and worked through home pride and community pride, through public spirit and self-respect.

Last but not least, to the committee of hustlers that organized and pushed this worth-while campaign to show to this summer's visitors a Duluth as sightly and livable and attractive as natural advantages, enterprise and artistic endeavor can make it.

It's been a fine week, and a fine work has filled it—work that ministered to health of body and peace of mind, to public spirit and good citizenship, to community pride and pride in the home.

Congratulations to everybody! Let's keep it up during the season, and go at it again next spring.

People with an over-supply of patience are advised to sit down and wait for Duluth to object to the divorcing of lake and rail transportation lines.

WOMEN AND WAR.

One of the women delegates from England to the international peace conference at The Hague said that "women are as much to blame for war as men," and that "they do not honestly desire peace." The New York World, commenting on this frank statement, says that the delegate "spoke truly for her sex in general," and that "there are some women and some men who do not approve of war, but when it comes to the issue they do not count."

Now we wonder about all that. Did that delegate speak truly for her sex? Are the women of the world as anxious for war as men are? And are men—anywhere in civilization—anxious for war?

War has been in progress in Europe for the better part of a year, and it shows no present signs of an end. There may be a grimmer determination all around now than there was at the beginning of the war, but it isn't hard to imagine that a good deal of the enthusiasm for war in the abstract has abated of late. Surely, after months in the trenches, months in which warfare has taken the form of the most sordid manual labor, months in which a majority of the households of Europe have been bereaved, months in which incredible hardships and suffering have been endured by millions—surely after all that there can be little enthusiasm for war in the abstract.

The belligerent peoples may be still enthusiastic, each in its own cause; but that is not at all inconsistent with a world-wide revulsion against war as an institution.

And the women! These wives whose husbands have gone away never to return, or who have been sent back helpless cripples; these sweethearts whom war has made unmarried widows; these mothers who have reared precious sons only to see them made mangled cannon fodder in their years of brightest promise—are THEY for war? Then the world is mad indeed!

But we do not believe they are for war. They may be as patriotic as men—even more patriotic. They may be bearing their sacrifices nobly, and we have no doubt that they are. They may long as ardently to see their respective countries victor in the strife as any man can be. But it is impossible to believe that they stand for war as a civilized means of determining international disputes.

It would be interesting to know just how much real enthusiasm there is anywhere in the world for war in the abstract. There is much patriotism. It is easy, when conditions making for international hatred are created, to stir up a patriotic enthusiasm for the war that follows. It is easy, too, to create the conditions that make one nation hate another nation. But it is hard to believe that there can be much enthusiasm anywhere, now, for war as an accepted adjunct to life on this planet.

But that part about the opponents of war in the abstract not counting much when it comes to the issue—that part seems true enough.

Maybe, though, it will not be so true after this greatest and most brutal of wars has come to an end.

Both the jitneys and street cars are safe from submarines.

THE NEW TARIFF AND THE NEW FOREIGN TRADE OPPORTUNITIES.

In his recent talk before the American Academy of Political and Social Science at Philadelphia Secretary of Commerce Redfield made a point that should be remembered: that tremendous opportunities for the development of new foreign trade outlets are at hand.

The war has partially or wholly suspended the foreign business of our chief competitors for the world trade. The longer the war lasts, the more serious this interruption will become. Much of it must be permanent, particularly if this great neutral nation seizes the opportunities that fate has thrust upon it.

And this has a very direct bearing on tariff discussions. Though there has not been so much of that talk of late as there was, the standpatters are still criticizing the new tariff, and demanding a return to the old system which the Wilson tariff succeeded.

Suppose this demand were met. Suppose the Old Guard Republicans were returned to power, and suppose they immediately enacted a new Dingley tariff law. What about these foreign trade opportunities then?

Nobody, surely, will contend that a high protective tariff fosters world trade. It isn't intended to foster it, but to impede it. That is the very essence of its being. Shutting out foreign commerce to "protect" domestic manufacturers, by the same motion it bars our products out of other lands.

The new tariff, with its lower schedules, lends itself to the expansion of foreign trade. World trade is barter, pure and simple. Those who would sell must buy. If we would export, we must import; and the exchange is profitable to both parties, or there would be no exchange.

To raise anew the old tariff barriers would be to shut out the opportunities for foreign trade the world war has offered.

To retain the new tariff schedules is to foster world trade, and to promote our participation in it.

If Italy would fight half as hard as she keeps the rest of the world guessing, somebody can be thankful for every day she keeps out of the war.

"HOW WE LEGISLATE."

This caption over an editorial in the Chicago Tribune, and the discussion itself, are particularly interesting and timely in Minnesota just after the close of a session of the Minnesota legislature.

Says the Tribune: "It is gratifying to note that one of the questions that are to receive serious consideration in the New York constitutional convention is that of improving legislative methods and legislative organization. The great state has a real opportunity in this direction, and many other states that are groaning under extremely inefficient methods of legislative procedure will be grateful to the Albany convention if it shall succeed in suggesting a solution of the problem referred to."

Not New York alone, nor Illinois alone, nor Minnesota alone, will look with interested anxiety for the result of the consideration of this very real problem by the Albany convention.

"The complaint," adds the Tribune, "is not one of insufficient legislative activity—of under-production of acts. As a rule, the trouble is over-production. Thousands of bills are introduced every year, and of those that are passed the majority are crude, hasty, ill considered affairs. Neither the good bills nor the bad and worthless bills are properly discussed. Good bills fail and poor ones emerge into the light of day as a result of muddle and congestion, of hurry and confusion."

You might almost imagine that the Tribune had been giving close attention to the proceedings of the "late unlamented" Minnesota legislature; but it found enough instances at home to justify its criticism, and doubtless it could find plenty in almost any state.

"Certainly," says the Tribune, "we need a radical change in our legislative methods. We need efficient drafting of bills, and rules against deadlocks over speakerships and committee assignments. We need rules against eleventh hour muddles and scrambles."

We need—and "we" means Minnesota and Illinois and New York and most other states—all these things. The trouble is over-production, as the Tribune says; but the trouble is also that the product is inferior.

The system of electing speakers is wrong. Believing in the short ballot, it is hard to come to a belief in having the speaker of the house elected by the people; yet in the senate, where the presiding officer is elected by the people, the scandal of long-drawn speakership fights is escaped, the scramble over committee assignments that is tied up with the speakership fight is evaded, and proceedings are orderly and logical and the results withal are good.

The Minnesota house is too large, but that can't be changed without a revision of the Constitution because selfish interests dictate an increase in house membership at every reapportionment. The house has twice too many committees, and the committees are twice as large as they should be. That will never be changed so long as the speakership candidates trade committee assignments for votes, and they all do it, whether they admit it or not.

There are too many bills, too many members, too many committees, too many members of each committee. The machinery obstructs orderly legislation when it should promote it. The system needs simplification—change almost to the point of revolution.

How far that revolution should go is a matter for discussion to develop. It might even go so far as to have regular sessions only every ten years instead of every two years, with the governor empowered to call extra sessions for specific purposes only. It might go so far as to put a rigid limitation on the number of bills. It might go so far as a single chamber legislature of only a dozen members or so, working all the time but legislating only when a real legislative need existed.

That radical change of some kind is indicated by the failure of the present system nobody, surely, will deny.

And it's just possible that Ambassador von Bernstorff is learning a few things about the kind of Americans his countrymen make.

LETTING THE JUDGES TRY IT.

In all seriousness, apparently, the proposal has been made that every judge who is to have the power of sentencing men to prison shall be obliged to spend from two days and nights to a week in prison under the same conditions as the men incarcerated there. The theory seems to be that after spending that length of time in such surroundings, the judge would be better qualified to determine what sentence should be imposed.

There is something about the idea that rather tickles the fancy, though that effect is more on account of the odd reversal of the principle of "poetic justice" than on account of any real value in the scheme itself. In fact there is no such value, for one of the greatest elements in prison life is the knowledge of compulsory restraint and the fact that this restraint is imposed on account of the acts of the prisoner himself.

Then there is the fact that we send men to prison not only as a punishment for their misdeeds, but in part to protect society. Into this feature the temporary incarceration of judges would enter not at all—at least before they had had an opportunity to display on the bench the traits that might make their imprisonment an assurance of social protection.

Perhaps the idea came in part from the fact that Thomas Mott Osborne spent a brief time, voluntarily, in the prison before he took up the duties of warden at Sing Sing. There can be no question that his time spent among the convicts was largely instrumental in determining his policy of radical reforms in the institution.

But there is a vast difference between sending into those surroundings a judge who has and can have nothing to say about their humanity or betterment, and a man who is about to be put into a position where he will have authority to make important changes in the conditions he finds.

However, if the suggestion for imprisoning judges should meet with favor—if it should be decided to let some spend ten days on the rock pile before taking the oath of office, to lock others up in county jails or put them on work farms, to consign others to state or Federal prisons for awhile just so they can see how they like it—if this system is to come into vogue, we would suggest an extension of it, thus:

That every person elected or appointed to any office, city, county, state or national, whether it be an office of legislative, executive or judicial character, shall, before taking up the duties of that office, spend not less than ten nor more than a hundred days in some penitentiary, under the same conditions and restrictions as the convicts, so that he can get some idea of what he will have coming to him in case he commits some wrong act in the discharge of his public duties.

It seems as if it ought to do a lot more good to warn the possible prisoner of what prison is like, than to supply that information to the judge. The latter, at best, could only minimize a sentence of a convicted criminal; the prospective criminal could profit by the warning of experience and never become an actual one.

But even the presence of dangers in ocean travel won't justify the taking of fool chances with a canoe.

"THEIR POOR MOTHERS."

Awhile ago two Chicago boys, nineteen and twenty-one years old, were arrested on a charge of murder. They confessed to the crime and were locked up pending further action. And the first words that came from their cells when they realized what they were facing was the phrase, "Our poor mothers!"

It is a nice, affecting sentiment. It is the kind of thing that has been made use of from time to time to breed sympathy for the criminal. It no doubt showed that there was some good in these boys, or at least the world will be expected to interpret it in that way.

It may appear like a cynical way of looking at the matter, but isn't it possible, if not actually probable, that it was that interpretation these boys were after when they used that phrase? Boys of their age do not suddenly rush out and commit murder. There are other things, though not necessarily crimes, that lead up to that climax, and in this period of training they develop a degree of craftiness and simulation that they will use instinctively when caught.

What do such boys think about "their poor mother" in these days of preparation for the final act? Do they care whether she is being made to feel shame or sorrow or pain or anxiety on their account? Does any notion of sparing her enter their minds? Or does that thought only come when they find themselves face to face with a stern fact born of their own acts?

One wonders, too, just how much their attitude toward their mother and their thought of her enters into the development of their capabilities for evil; whether any less indifference to her wishes, any less actual deception of her, perhaps, would not have made a difference in their lives.

Mothers are ever prone to think the best of their boys and girls, and even evidence that to others seems plain as plain could be, fails sometimes to convince the mother that there is anything wrong. Right there is the truth that gives power to those verses that urge you to "try to be the fellow that your mother thinks you are."

A good mother's influence is different from any other power in the world, and yet there are those who discard it almost entirely from their lives. The loss is your own, if you do this, for among all the forces that may be exerted upon your character throughout life, there probably will never be another so unselfish, so wholly intended for your own interests and well-being, so ready to sacrifice everything that you may thereby be the gainer, as that affection and interest your mother offers you daily.

If it seems irksome at times, remember that it is but brief, at the best, and that its unselfishness should plead for it in any case. And remember too that it is peculiar to your life; that it can never be replaced, never be duplicated for you, and that when once it is gone you must always be without it—that your life will be left empty to that extent, except so far as memory may supply the void.

What has become of that movement for compulsory courses in swimming in the public schools?

Democratizing the Army.

Toronto (Can.) Mail and Empire: Before the war the British army was officered largely by aristocrats or men of high social standing. "Rankers" were seldom to be found in the officers' messes, though occasionally some men with extraordinary force of character had shoved up by sheer strength. The war is changing that. The "democratization" of the army which the Radicals of Britain called for in the home rule crisis is rapidly proceeding through the effect of German bullets and shells. The casualty lists show that about 5,000 officers have been put out of action, and one of Kitchener's problems has been to recruit the commissioned ranks on an adequate scale. In the new armies the intermediate commissions are largely held by young men of the middle classes. Some aristocrats are serving in the ranks. Merit has been the chief desideratum in selecting the junior as well as the senior officers. In the regular forces that so far have borne the brunt of the fighting the old rule of class has been necessarily more consistently observed, but even here the democratic forces at work within the army are bringing up other men of merit. The under secretary of war told the British parliament a few days ago that there had been 1,546 promotions from the ranks to commissions since the war began. As the men of family and position who formerly officered the army go down one by one, serving their country with devotion, the old traditions will be more and more thrust into the background and from the ranks merit will up.

"Regulating" the Jitney

Editorial in the Christian Science Monitor.

Under the terms of a bill once passed by the house of the Massachusetts legislature and now up for reconsideration, persons operating jitneys—motor cars that carry passengers for a 5-cent fare—would be obliged to file with the local authorities of any community within the commonwealth a bond for $2,000 for each vehicle in use, ostensibly to cover possible suits for damages against the jitney owner. This measure is characteristic of "jitney regulation," sought everywhere in the United States in the interest of the traction corporations. On its face such legislation is discriminating, unjust and practically prohibitive, and, because it is manifestly all of these, it is is quite as likely to be defeated in its object in Massachusetts as it has been in other states when subjected to the constitutional test.

While seeking enactments of this character on the ground that they are intended to insure public protection, almost in the next breath the traction companies, through their representatives, expose the shallowness of the pretense by saying that laws restrictive of jitneys are necessary in order to prevent the impairment of street railway revenue. Thus we find them reported as declaring that, owing to the popularity of the jitneys, the loss of receipts to the tram lines will eventually result in a poorer quality of service on the latter, with consequent inconvenience and discomfort to the public. The more candid proponents of a high protective restriction on jitneys admit that what is really expected from the operation of the bonding scheme is a reduction in the number of those vehicles.

In the event of the enactment of any measure calculated unduly to restrain the freedom of competition in urban transportation, one of the very first things the beneficiaries will be called upon to do will be to show where they find authority for the making of such a law, and, if they find authority, why the law is not applied to the owners of all vehicles engaged in carrying people for money, or, for that matter, to vehicles of all sorts that use the public streets. This, however, is a phase of the matter entirely apart from the main question, which is, whether the welfare of the public or the welfare of the traction companies should receive first consideration in the jitney controversy? We are very much inclined to the position that the public interest should always come first. It has not always come first with the traction companies. It does not come first with them now. Wherever they have monopolistic franchises the traction companies use them perhaps as often to discommode the people dependent on their service as to convenience them. Their attitude, very largely, is that of indifference to public comfort, and too frequently of insolence to the individual patron. They crowd passengers into their cars, not to expedite transit, but to increase the revenue they are so fearful lest the jitneys shall impair. Their methods at transfer stations often are such as to banish all vestige of common courtesy. They have even become an immoral influence in the community in that their methods promote selfishness and arouse the lower instincts of humanity.

Yet, when all is said, they have their rights. The people who own stock in them have their rights. If they would only realize that they have obligations also, it would be a great deal easier to adjust matters so that the invasion of the jitneys, in response to a popular cry for relief, would do the street railway interests no harm. Eventually the jitneys and the traction services must, it would seem, be co-ordinated. Eventually the two must work together for the common good. In the meantime, the public, whose rights have been so long neglected, ignored and openly defied, must see to it that the jitneys are not kept out, or driven out, through manipulation of legislatures or councils.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. (Phil. 4:13.)

Let him take hold of my strength. (Isaiah xxvii, 5.)

When evening comes
I shall be tired enough.
The work may be unfinished,
The hour late,
And since the storms were fierce,
The waves were rough,
I may not land:
With ecstasy elate,
Yet shall I drop the oars
And hasten home,
Glad that at last
The eventide has come.

When the light fails
And I can do no more
Than lift my weary eyes
To one dear face,
I shall forget
The perils off the shore,
And find my comfort
In that resting place,
And if no "Well done!"
Steal upon my ears,
Lips that forgive
May kiss away my tears.

Though the night darken
I am not afraid,
The dangers are all over,
I at rest;
The arms of love around,
Meet undismayed,
Whatever God may send,
It is the best;
And I in quiet peace
Will wait and pray,
Till the day break
And shadows flee away.

A Good Law.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: New Jersey has a new law which makes it a misdemeanor for any person under the influence of liquor to drive an automobile. The law also makes a jail sentence mandatory.

A jolly and wealthy young club man of Passaic is the first to feel the force of this excellent statute. He was happily driving his car through Passaic's thoroughfares when a wagon chanced to get in the way. The wagon was bumped, and the driver of the wagon was thrown to the pavement. The automobilist was indignant at the wagoner for having spoiled an otherwise perfect day, and proceeded to maul him. A policeman intervened, and later the magistrate also intervened, and now the unfortunate young man about town is groaning under a sentence of thirty days in jail, to say nothing of a fine of $10.

Automobilists in general will be well pleased with a law which discourages drunken joy riders. The Jersey statute is altogether commendable, and might well be copied by other commonwealths.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

A Place in the Sun.

Germany wants it, Russia wants it, England wants it—everybody wants it and ought to have it. We all need to get out of gloom and shadow and into regions of light and warmth, where we can be our best and do our best.

A certain wise old pussy cat taught me a lesson one cold winter morning. I watched her circle around the room half a dozen times till she found the one spot of sunlight that came from out a troubled sky. Finding a single narrow streak of brightness on the carpet, Puss lay down in the warm zone and purred contentedly.

It would be well for us if we were always as sensible as that. There is generally a spot of light in the most dismal situation if we are of a mind to find it. We can live in the light of the sun if we really determine to do so.

Nearly everyone has some things in environment or experience that are hard and gloomy. Pain and trouble are so wrought into the warp and woof of human experience that they cannot be ignored. As Dr. Luther Gulick has said, "There is probably no one person in the world but has tragedy enough and pain enough straight along to warrant pretty complete discouragement, and I imagine there is no person who is so perfectly balanced in health, so perfectly adjusted by nature that there are not times when it is necessary to hold himself by absolute will power."

It is not necessary to dwell in the gloom, however. "Is it always foggy here?" asked a lady passenger of the captain, as the ship was crossing the Grand Banks. "How should I know, madam?" was the reply. "I don't live here." It is the privilege of any of us to move on to the spots touched by the sun. As Dr. Gulick further says: "There is beauty enough in the world and enough sanity in life, so that if we deliberately put our minds on that beauty and sanity we shall reach directly toward wholesomeness."

Anyone can get a place in the sun who determines to do so. Will has a very great deal to do with the matter. We may resolve for one thing to exhibit a glad countenance and that, in itself, will help up to keep a glad heart. There was philosophy as well as religion in the exhortation of the old hymn, "And put a cheerful courage on." A right exterior will help toward a right inner state.

Surely, no one ever chose brightness more resolutely than Stevenson, and his petition for himself is a good one for us all.

If I have faltered more or less
In my great task of happiness,
If I have moved among my race
And shown no glorious morning face,
If beams from happy human eyes
Have moved me not; if morning skies,
Books and my food, and summer rain
Knocked on my sullen heart in vain—
Lord, Thy most pointed pleasure take
And stab my spirit broad awake.

THE PARSON.

Satisfied Husband Writes.

Dayton News: A man has no business fooling around the kitchen where the woman is at work. In the first place, he doesn't know anything about cooking. Food was never cooked until the woman puts her hand to the work. There is an art about cooking that cannot be acquired by the male. Men have gotten into the game, and some of the notable male cooks in the big hostelries receive large salaries for preparing foods, but as a matter of fact there isn't a man on earth that can cook food like a woman can cook it. You might as well talk about a man darning stockings or sewing buttons on a vest as to talk about his knowing anything of the art of cooking. He can apply heat to food stuffs, and cover up a multitude of sins that may exist in the raw stuff, but he simply can't get the poetry into the food that soaks in at a woman's loving touch. And without the poetry the food is good only to sustain life; it is of no value as a means of furnishing pleasure when it is consumed.

ABOUT ARMAMENT

By SAVOYARD

Washington, May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Hon. Augustus P. Gardner is irrepressible. He reminds of a fellow Balzac speaks of who would haggle with the pope over an absolution and he insists that more than the revenues of purgatory be expended in the navy that is already ample for all uses that it is likely to put it to. I doubt if the cabinet of any American president ever contained a better or more successful secretary of the navy than Josephus Daniels, but Mr. Gardner insists that our navy is mainly old junk and seems to hold Mr. Daniels responsible for it.

Mr. Daniels in a paper addressed to President Garfield of Williams college discovers to the public the condition of the navy and asserts that it is more formidable than it ever was before. He reveals everything except such matters as all navy departments the world over keep secret. The public was much gratified with the statement of the secretary and all rational folk realized that our country was absolutely secure from foreign attack.

But this here Mr. Gardner objects and criticizes Mr. Daniels because some of the vessels are old and others not speedy enough. If anybody is to blame for that it is not the secretary of the navy or the Wilson administration, but congress, of which Mr. Gardner is a prominent and a garrulous member. It is more than possible that shipyards and armor-plate factories agree with the bumptious and the indefatigable Mr. Gardner, but common mortals are very well satisfied with the navy as it is and the present management of it.

The Hon. Gardner is miserable and refuses to be comforted—is seemingly about ready to take the advice of Job's wife—but Job, a man more or less versed touching the sex, answered that she spoke as one of the foolish women speaketh—because our navy, on form, is weaker than that of Germany, or France. What of that? Germany and France have powerful navies because they have powerful neighbors that each is afeared of. We have no powerful neighbors, and all those nations with powerful navies of whom the Hon. Gardner is afeared have fish to fry at this time other than licking us.

How absurd is this silly clamor of our danger! It can come from only two classes—those afflicted with imbecility of mind, or those prompted by depravity of morals. Here we are the most powerful and the most opulent nation in the world courted by all the other nations of the world of the first or second class. And yet we are gravely told that unless we arm to the teeth our day of destruction is at hand. I can see how the Steel trust, that wishes to sell armor plate for ships, and the powder trust, that hopes to sell munitions for guns, favor an imperial navy, but it is curious that a disinterested man like Gardner should get in a swivet over it.

Let us see. Some years ago England, the most powerful nation in the world, was at war with a beggarly little people in South Africa called the Boers. It took England two years with her mastery of the seas—it took England two years to land 250,000 soldiers in South Africa. Now it has been developed in that deplorable war over yonder that the Canadian contingent is as good fighters as any of them—Germans, French or Belgians. These Canadians had a training of some eight months—taken as they were from civil walk.

It would take even England with her immense shipping, naval and mercantile a year to land 1,000,000 men on our shores and by that time we could have 5,000,000 as good soldiers as the world ever saw to meet them. And it would take Germany or France two or three years to land 1,000,000 on our shores. Nay, Germany could not land 1,000,000 hostile forces on our shores in a century. She has not got the transports, and in time of peace England will never have the soldiers. So we are perfectly safe from both. As for Japan, that people have got too much sense to arouse the anger of the American people to desperation. Besides, where would Japan get the money?

Before long all the great nations of Europe will have had all the fighting they want. It is not unlikely that the war will last another year, or two. Certainly it will if it is fought to a finish—till one side or the other is completely exhausted and helpless, as our South was in 1865 and as France was in 1871. All of them will be tired of war and even the victor will be powerless to harm us even if disposed to do so, for by the time they could destroy our navy and land 1,000,000 men on our shores we would have the finest and biggest army in the world to meet them and welcome them with bloody hands to hospitable graves, as Tom Corwin said.

England's navy has been vastly superior to ours for a century. Relatively we are stronger now than at any period during the century. During our Civil war there were many English statesmen—notably Palmerston and Gladstone—who willingly would have gone to war with us; but the great majority of the English people, to say nothing of the queen, her consort, Disraeli, and others, were on the side of the North, and when England allowed that splendid opportunity to lapse we may rest easy as to her, and if Germany licks her and takes over what she and France have in Africa, as spoil of the war, Germany will be too busy with her new possessions to pick a quarrel with us. Besides, we will be the only nation with a surplus of money. All the others will be ready for the poorhouse.

Another thing. Who knows that naval warfare will not be completely revolutionized before the war is over? When our war of 1861-65 began there was not an ironclad on the water. Farragut's flagship was a miserable little wooden affair. I saw her at Annapolis a year or so ago and it was incredible—the fame the old Hartford had made.

Something of that kind is likely to happen any day. Let us have patience. Of course the Hon. Gardner will remain noisy, but the people stand by Mr. Daniels, who is proving an excellent head of his department.

PEACE MOVEMENT AND WORLD'S CAPITAL CITY BEING PLANNED

Congressman Steenerson Vice President of Society for Arbitration of Differences Among Nations—F. W. Fitzpatrick, Formerly of Duluth, Commissioner in Union for Building of World's Capital City.

Many diplomats and statesmen and keen observers aver, spite of Kitchener's and other warriors' statements to the contrary, that peace is very near. Some indeed, and men whose opinions carry great weight, are firmly convinced that by July next the great European upheaval will have reached its climax and peace will quickly follow.

Certain it is that the world over are peace societies redoubling their efforts and are expressing most sanguine hopes for a near-by "adjustment of differences"—as the greatest crime of the ages is politely termed by diplomats!

It may not be out of the way nor too immodest to remark that, as usual, Minnesota is at the forefront in this as in so many other movements for the world's betterment. Congressman Steenerson of Minnesota has just been made a vice president of the interparliamentary union, an organization of the legislative bodies of the world whose principal work is the codification of an international law, the arbitration of differences among nations and the maintenance of a world peace. This society or union will play the leading part in the drama of adjustment whenever this terrible war does cease. Then it has just been announced that F. W. Fitzpatrick, now of Washington, D. C., but a Minnesota man, has been appointed "commissioner for the United States" in the organization for the building of a world's capital city. This man's unbounded energy and splendid success in launching and consummating such national movements as fire prevention, postal savings and only lately Federal employment should be a guaige or guaranty of the success of the American end of this work.

Good Business Proposition.

This world's capital is quite a scheme, not the mere dream of an idealist, but a sensible, eminently practical, common sense affair, a good business proposition. It differs from business projects that are materializing every day only in that it is a world affair rather than a merely national or local one.

The idea was conceived by Hendrik Christian Andersen, a Scandinavian-American sculptor of international fame. In developing that idea Mr. Andersen has given most generously of his own time and fortune and has enlisted the assistance of the crowned heads of Europe, and of all the great international scientific and other associations. Incidentally Mr. Steenerson's interparliamentary union heads the list of the one hundred associations which are co-operating in this city movement. For years Mr. Andersen has resided in Rome on account of his studio work, and that city has been the headquarters of this international project. Early in June Mr. Andersen will return to this country and will make Washington his headquarters, and from there will be carried on the preliminaries looking to the realization of this splendid project that he first thought of ten years ago.

Primarily this proposed international capital will be a great clearing-house in all matters scientific, economic and artistic. As things are now the great learned bodies have international societies, one with headquarters in one country, and another with its headquarters in some other country. Here they will all be assembled in one city where interchange of data and all that sort of thing would be tremendously facilitated. It would become the greatest seat of learning in the world, with a university where the most able teachers in the world would preside and where a library would soon arise to which all the world would contribute. From this would be but a very short step to making it a center where scientists in laboratories of all kinds would be at work upon inventions and medical tests, wireless telegraphy and the hundred other details that go toward improving the material conditions of man.

Politically it would naturally be the place of meeting and interchange in regard to all things involving the interdependence and relations of nations.

Great Financial Center.

It needs no flight of imagination to also realize that such a city would also soon become the great financial center of the world.

At other times there have been attempts made at such a centralization. The Caesars and Napoleon had such dreams and approached rather nearly to their consummation, but always thought of such a possibility only by means of conquest. This movement is based rather upon and appeals to the common sense of all men who readily realize that great benefits must accrue not via the road of conquest, but through the channels of friendly intercourse, commerce and inter-helpfulness of nations.

The divisions of the different parts of the earth have now been made. The sea and the land have been measured. These are all material accomplishments, but the inspiration and genius of man have no limit and no end, and these will develop in spite of all boundary lines, in spite of peace and war, religions and laws; and it is to facilitate the growth of the inspiration and genius of man that it is proposed to create, for the mutual benefit of all nations, a world center, where their spiritual and intellectual inspirations, as well as their scientific and physical achievements will be focused.

The world has progressed by religion and it has progressed by war. Religion has lent invisible ideals to the minds of men; war has lent them the arms of material protection, but religion as well as war is stained with bloodshed. Yet, in spite of all, the world has progressed. Nevertheless, however great the value of war in the past, however useful it was in blending nationalities, in drawing great groups of people together, in uniting their achievements, in setting up great aims and ideals, for the protection of which even life was never grudged, however potent it has been in stimulating patriotism, yet, although vast sums are annually spent on elaborate scientific preparations, war is certainly becoming less and less of a necessity. That the future will find a new and more righteous means of protection than the destruction of human life, cannot be doubted. Science helps to preserve life, and religion points out ever more clearly the God in man which cannot be trampled on by death. As men awaken to these truths, so they will repel with horror the inhuman desire of inventing death-dealing machines.

A Prevention of War.

The ever increasing interweaving of industry and commerce forms such powerful economic ties that all right thinking people will join in protecting them, and soon no nation will be strong or reckless enough to sever them. This bond will be in itself a prevention of war, for the whole question turns on how far war benefits mankind (not individual nations) or the reverse. The expediency of it affects the people who sacrifice their lives more than the governments or rulers who proclaim it. Though the protection of national rights, entailing the sacrifice of blood and treasure may be regarded as sufficient exoneration for declaring war, yet some different solution is now becoming imperative.

How long men can or will allow their governments to involve them in war against their will is one of the deepest questions of the age; but it is certain that war and the rumors of war will continue to disturb the peace of the world until some solution as efficient as the destruction of life is introduced to protect, benefit and expand the interests both of individuals and states.

The whole earth is eagerly searching for truth and justice, and the boundary lines of states cannot hold the energies of peoples. This is realized more definitely as the human race grows with increasing rapidity and tends to become a world-embracing unity.

The peace which is desired by all, and which is essential to progress, can only come through a world-wide organization, founded on a basis at once spiritual, scientific and economic, capable of meeting the ever increasing demand for enlightment, expansion and unfettered progress.

Location of Capital City.

Mr. Anderson has had the co-operation of some of the best architectural and engineering talent in the world to complete his plans for this city. Half a dozen different locations have been suggested for points where this world's capital had best be established—in Switzerland, in Belgium, in Holland, near Constantinople, near Rome and on the New Jersey coast in this country. Naturally Americans would vote upon this latter location. The selection would be left to the vote of the different delegates from all the countries.

So far but a tentative organization has been effected though on the very eve of war a permanent organization had almost materialized with the King of Italy as president and Emperor William of Germany and the president of France and the other European monarchs as honorary presidents. It might be a bit difficult just at the present moment to effect a meeting of these honorable gentlemen, but even in the very midst of war they have helped and are helping Mr. Andersen in the formulation of his plans for the perfecting of the scheme.

Mr. Andersen and Mr. Fitzpatrick believe and insist that though the war stopped these activties for a brief period it has really very much advanced by many years the plan that is projected. For as soon as peace is declared the need of such a city will be felt more keenly than ever before.

Mr. Andersen has recently engaged the services of the noted economist, Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks of New York, to make a careful study from the economic point of view of the value to the world, and to the individual nations, of such an "international center of communication." It has already been approximately estimated that it would mean a saving to each nation annually of a sum greater than it at present expends in increasing and maintaining its navy.

When Mr. Andersen comes back in April he will bring all the plans of this wonderful city, magnificent drawings prepared under the direction of the famous French architect, Ernest M. Hebrard. These drawings will first be exhibited in Washington in the National museum, and already it is planned to make the opening night a great social affair. Secretary of the Interior Lane will preside, and it is expected that President Wilson and at least those of the diplomatic corps who can still tolerate each other's presence will assist and speak at that meeting.

Later these drawings will be exhibited in the principal cities throughout the country, and it is expected Minneapolis will have them for a week or more.

Ignatius to Augustine.

THE EARLY CHURCH. By Dean George Hodges. Boston: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.75 net.

This is a volume scoring a great success in being able to trace the heresy and history of the church through a wilderness way. It is delightful and scholarly and picks up the story with Ignatius and closes with Augustine.

In the opening chapter we are introduced to the society, lay of the land and emperors of the Roman world. It is a fine sketch with a very clear and definite purpose. The second chapter relates the story of the persecutions and gives the viewpoint in the words, "A tolerant state persecutes a benevolent church." Not in many pages will you find a finer picture of the actual conditions than from that viewpoint.

In the history of the defense of the faith we are introduced to Luclan, Celsus, Marcion, Irenaeus, Clemfor the idea of "The Garden of Paraent and Origen in such a delightful way that we are able to recognize them in any company. Prejudice, heresy and rivalry are selected as the causes of this opposition.

After persecution and argumentation comes the function of the ministry and the forms of worship, which are treated with exceptional fairness. All may not agree with the author but all must find fellowship with his spirit.

The difficulties of the Arian controversy are met with a fine historical sense and a finer theological discernment. The conversion of Constantine, the Council of Nicea, and the wars of the third. Theology give a background for the growth of doctrine that affords the necessary explanation of some most difficult situations.

Monasticism is treated with an eye open to the conditions that gave it birth, uniting history with doctrine in a way exceptional. Ambrose affords an opportunity to sketch the last struggles of paganism against Christianity, and Arianism against orthodoxy, in an impersonal and vivid manner.

The chapter on Chrysostom is a fine biography and a delightful trip from Antioch to Constantinople with the gathering shadows of exile to the bright light of a great life. Martin, Cassian, Jerome pass before us, bringing to mind the later monasticism both east and west. The strong features of Augustine crown this helpful delineation of men and affairs.

This is history for any class, in a style unusually readable and popular. Doctrine grows out of philosophy and new conditions. Everything is normal in a great development. Men and councils, church sects, doctrines, and church life are shown in their proper, and state are shown in their proper, vital relations. The ancient church will have a new message to the reader of this splendid work. A great man, out of a rich treasury of history has brought in pictures of silver a sketch that seems simple because it is masterly.

Here's Something Real.

THE GARDEN OF PARADISE. By Edward Sheldon. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.25 net.

If ever fairy tales are written for people who have attained to years of discretion, here is one. And if ever there was a dramatic writing calculated to test to the limit the powers of the modern, regardless-of-expense producer, here it is.

You are conscious, throughout the reading, of the immensity of the task of production, but none the less of the tremendous power the piece would possess if given adequate production. And yet production is not necessary to the exercise of that power, for few books written in the dramatic form have such impressive strength and such vividness of scene as this.

To Hans Andersen's story of "The Little Mermaid" the author gives credit dise," and many of the scenes are laid under the water. Here we find Swanhild, the youngest daughter of the merman emperor, celebrating her fifteenth birthday and her betrothal to the emperor of the crabs—whom she abhors. Quaint but pretty ceremonies mark the mermaid's first trip to the surface of the ocean, where she races with a ship in a storm, and sees for the first time a human being.

Now there is a tradition among the mer-people that if a human ever loves a mermaid sufficiently, then the mermaid will receive half the man's soul and can go to paradise with him. Otherwise she will but live out her appointed 300 years and then become foam on the surface of the water. Swanhild longs to escape the common mermaid fate, and falls in love with a king. Through the assistance of the wicked witch she is given an opportunity to appear to this man as a woman, and to try to win his love, the penalty of failure of her project to be a return to the witch's home, where Swanhild is to become a toad and serve the wicked mistress.

Tragedy looms large through scene after scene of the play, and yet there is a wild energy—a near-delirium of emotion and an approach to ecstasy—that carries the reader as if on the crest of a wave. Beauty there is in abundance—beauty of thought, of theme, of character and of portrayal. And ever and ever the power of the thing grows more and more insistent. When you finish reading a scene you are left half in doubt whether you really read it or whether it has not been actually portrayed before you on the stage.

Production, at least as it is written, probably is impossible. But while you wish for production as you read, you are forced to admit that there are few plays that have really so little need of it as "The Garden of Para-

An Extravagant Extravaganza.

THE CITY OF PLEASURE. By Arnold Bennett. New York: George H. Doran company. 50 cents net.

"When lovely woman stoops to folly" isn't a marker to what happens when a writer of Arnold Bennett's caliber condescends. It is made plain that Bennett wrote this yarn some eight years or so ago, and that it is just making its first appearance in America. It is likely to prove a memorable appearance, for the story comes just in time to get a good start by the opening of the annual silly season, and it is distinctly a hot weather book.

The City of Pleasure is an amusement park of mammoth proportions, located near London. This park is the result of a combination of the imagination of a genius and the wealth of a multimillionaire. Joseph Ilam is the millionaire—large, important, confident and autocratic; and the genius is Cartwright, a painter, who measures the success of his musical accomplishment by the amount of beer consumed per minute by the audience that listens to his famous musical organization.

Right off the reel we are confronted with a quarrel between these two men, and then comes a succession of surprises and mysteries and one thing and another until you have laughed and wondered and amused yourself all through the book.

"The City of Pleasure" is not likely to pall on anybody. Some readers may not like it as well as others, but it must be a peculiar make-up of mentality that would find the yarn in the least stupid.

How's Your Imagination?

THE YELLOW CLAW. By Sax Rohmer, creator of "Dr. Fu-Manchu." New York: McBride, Nast & Co. $1.35 net.

If your imagination isn't in good working order, don't attempt to read "The Yellow Claw." It will take you into the most unheard of combinations of circumstances and places, and will give you plenty of strange pictures to set up in your mind.

Imagine, if you can, an immense opium den under the very heart of London; a den patronized not only by a certain element of undesirables, but by some of the most prominent people in the kingdom. Put in all the transferred orientalism and mystery that you can conceive of, add a mysterious murder, stir in Scotland Yard and a famous French detective with international experience, and finally rout out the opium den habitues and attendants and chase them through a secret tunnel as they seek to escape—put all that into one mess and season with some more imagination and there you have "The Yellow Claw."

A Minnesota Poet.

THE SEAMLESS ROBE and Other Poems. By Gustav Melby. Boston: Richard G. Badger.

Sincerity, and frequently a deeply religious tone, pervades all the numerous verses in this little volume, and in many of them the writer makes far better success than is often the case with writers of verse. The poems from which the book takes its title are based on metaphorical applications of the idea of the seamless robe of Christ, though to our mind these poems are less worth while than many less pretentious ones. It is no mean honor to any state to have among its people such a thing as this Granite Falls man here proves himself to be, and though he may yet improve materially in details of his work, Minnesota will not go amiss in recognizing the possibilities of his efforts.

A Cheerful Tale.

DOODLES, THE SUNSHINE BOY. By Emma C. Dowd, author of the "Polly" books. Boston and New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1 net.

This is a very pleasant story about a cheerful little crippled lad, bed-ridden, but happy and giving happiness, and with an angel voice; about his wonderful mocking bird; about a couple of pretty romances which his sunlit soul manipulated; about his working mother and other people whose poverty and distress were lit by shafts of happiness, showing how much can be done with little where so much is lacking; about the kidnapers that Doodles and his big brother spotted; and enough other matters to keep interest active in young or old.

The Story of a Good Prison.

THROUGH THE MILL. By "4342." St. Paul, Minn.: Published by G. L. Bartlett, 44½ West Fourth street. 50 cents.

This is the simple, direct narrative of a man who has lately completed a term in the Minnesota state penitentiary. The author, who appears only by his prison number, attempts nothing sensational, makes few complaints, and does not bring himself into the story any more than he has to. His story is told rather from the viewpoint of the interesting observer who has had peculiar opportunities for inside information.

The only pronounced criticism, strangely enough, is leveled at the indeterminate sentence, which is the pet of criminologists and the result of attempted reforms in prison procedure. This system the author declares to result in untold misery from suspense and worry. He also criticizes some of the traditional prison discipline like the rule of silence, and the attitude of some of the prison guards and keepers toward their charges.

Several chapters are devoted to detailed descriptions of prison regulations, cell accommodations, food, clothing, labor, school, recreation, etc., and there are thirty pages of illustrations of the inside and outside of the old and new prisons at Stillwater. It makes not only an intimate and interesting description of Minnesota's state prison, but a straightforward, entertaining and illuminating record of a valuable personal experience.

An Old Standby Revised.

ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER REVISED. By Gen. Henry M. Robert, U. S. A. Chicago and New York: Scott, Foresman & Co.

Since its publication in 1876 Robert's Rules of Order has been a standard authority on the proper methods of organizing and conducting meetings, defining the duties of officers, and the methods of dealing in detail with motions of various kinds. Responding to a widespread demand, the author has prepared a revision of his work which is just published. Every form of organization, from the rural school debating society to national and state legislatures, has found this book a helpful aid, and the new and enlarged edition should be welcomed. It contains nearly twice as much material as the last previous edition.

Light and Likable Tales.

THE KIDNAPED DAMOZEL. By David Skaats Foster. New York: The Franklin Book company. $1.25 net.

The title of this book is that of one of three stories it contains, the other two being "The Oval Diamond" and "Airaschid in Petticoats." Each of the three stories is absorbingly interesting, especially "The Kidnaped Damozel" and the "Oval Diamond." Mr. Foster not only furnishes some thrills in his stories of the young lady who was kidnaped and the quest of the big diamond but not a little of humor. The third story purports to tell of experiences that Queen Elizabeth enjoyed in London during her reign when, like the noted Haroun Al Raschid of the legend she put on a disguise and went out into the highways and byways of the big city accompanied by a yoemen of the guard and the faithful Sir Walter Raleigh to view life from the standpoint of an ordinary mortal. She wanted amusement and the writer found it for her. The three stories are calculated to drive away dull care, the flashes of humor pervading each adding to their likable qualities.

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS — WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

TONIGHT will mark the close of another season of Orpheum vaudeville in Duluth. The Duluth season is closing a little earlier than usual but not earlier than in other cities. The majority of the theaters on the Orpheum circuit are already dark for the summer, and Minneapolis and Winnipeg will be the only ones remaining open after tonight. They have but another week to run.

The season has been a disastrous one on the whole, and the local theater has a balance on the wrong side of the ledger. The attendance was fair after the re-opening, but not heavy enough to be profitable. Duluth will have "big time" vaudeville again next fall, however, the Orpheum re-opening late in August as usual, and the circuit will experiment with another season. It is hoped that a general improvement in business conditions will make a sufficient change in Duluth to bring about the comparatively small increase in business needed to turn a loss into a profit.

The Orpheum circuit has withdrawn from Sioux City and Duluth is now the smallest city supporting a regular Orpheum theater. Both from a business and amusement standpoint Duluth needs the Orpheum, and it is to be hoped that the new season will be on a distinctly higher level of activity.

THE closing of the Orpheum leaves Duluth with only the stock company and the Grand presenting popular priced vaudeville, for its summer amusement indoors. The stock company will complete its first year in Duluth with the Monday night performance, and without opposition and with a big tourist trade in prospect, it should have a profitable summer run.

The new company is an excellent organization—probably the best Duluth ever had—and no fault can be found with the class of plays now being presented. "Mam'zelle" next week will be followed with "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

EVIDENTLY Willard Mack has had a falling out with his newest manager and producer, A. H. Woods. Advertisements in trade papers warn vaudeville managers and producers that Mr. Mack has signed a five years' agreement with Mr. Woods, giving him a first option on all the Mack plays and sketches, and warning that any violation of this agreement will be prosecuted. Mr. Mack has had a rather vivid career since leaving Duluth.

ADVANTAGE may be taken of the opportunity to book a few road attractions at the Orpheum during the summer months. Pavlowa and her company of dancers will probably be seen there during June, and there is a possibility that the all-star revival of "Trilby" will be brought here.

THE death of Charles Frohman on the Lusitania removes one of the most prominent figures from the amusement world. His last words, "death is the most beautiful adventure in life" were a fitting close to a most interesting career. The New York Times says of him:

> The loss of Charles Frohman will be deeply felt, and not only in the theatrical world of America and England, in which he has been a dominating figure for many years. He was energetic, indomitable, and sincere in his efforts to produce good plays as well as possible in view of the economic condition of the contemporary theater, in his encouragement of dramatists and actors. He was in no sense responsible for economic conditions, he did not destroy the old stock company system, but did his best to keep it alive at some large pecuniary loss; he did not invent the system of traveling companies, he did not lay the foundations of the commercialization of the theater. But with clear vision he saw, before others could see, the course theatricals were bound to take in this country unless all theatrical management was to be involved in ruin, and with an inborn skill of organization he met the situation and was instrumental in the upbuilding of the calling he had chosen.
> Although he had the active help of others who were often men of keener business sense, it was his brain that conceived the plans of mutual co-operation which saved the theater after the havoc of the dreary old Haverly days. He did more than that. He managed many theaters with skill, he gave to America the very best that the foreign stage produced in his time, not the erotic and degenerate, but the meritorious and wholesome. His influence extended in time to all departments of the theater, transformed the careless and heedless thespians of old into practical folks. He made a business of theatricals, of course, but the theater always had its business side, though it was often pretty poor business, driving most of the managers to poverty, while the actor, who lived to please, too frequently found it easier to please than to live. There are still evils to be remedied in the theater. A successor to Charles Frohman will be sadly needed.
> Mr. Frohman, though he kept himself in seclusion and avoided personal publicity all his life, was inevitably a man of many friends. All who ever had relations with him esteemed him. His courage and ambition were not more conspicuous traits than his probity and generosity.

On Monday Josephine Victor entered the cast of "A Celebrated Case," replacing Florence Reed, who leaves to fill an engagement in California, in a motion picture production. Curiously enough, Miss Victor also succeeded Miss Reed in "The Yellow Ticket" earlier in the season.

MISS MARGARET LOTUS,
A Popular Member of the Baldwin Company.

STOCK COMPANY ANNIVERSARY

"Mam'zelle" Is Comedy With Vaudeville Trimmings.

With Miss Berta Schmied and her brother, Leo L. Schmied as headliners, a vaudeville show will be included in the second act of "Mam'zelle" the play chosen by the Baldwin Players for next week, and opening with the Sunday matinee.

The vaudeville features are not dragged in as "between act" specialties, but they are necessary to the play, which is heralded as something unique in the comedy line. The second act of the play is laid in a theater, and the producer is given much latitude as to the special features introduced in this act. In order to make certain of at least one high class vaudeville feature, Mr. Baldwin prevailed upon Miss Schmied and her brother to present a program of new dances. They have made but one public appearance on the Lyceum stage, and it was most successful. Since then Miss Schmied has studied in New York and will have an entirely new program.

Monday night will be the first anniversary of the Baldwin Players, and they will celebrate with an informal dance on the Lyceum stage. After the regular performance, which will close at 10:30 o'clock, there will be an additional exhibition dance by Miss Schmied and her brother and those in the audience will be invited to go on the stage and dance or sit in the auditorium and look on. The orchestra will play for the dancers until midnight.

The other special vaudeville features planned for the second act of the play are somewhat of a mystery. Walter S. Baldwin, Jr., and A. Romaine Callender are working on a comedy dialogue which revolves around a jitney bus, and it is said to be a "scream." Mr. Baldwin will appear in blackface and threatens to sing at least one song, and maybe two if he gets any encouragement. Those who have heard him in blackface comedy, say he is a second Al Jolson. The other specialties will not be disclosed until Sunday afternoon.

The play itself is a legitimate comedy, with a well connected plot, but it opens the way to some stage surprises in addition to the vaudeville specialties.

"To give away the story in advance would be to spoil the surprise," said Mr. Baldwin. "We are not trying to merely whet curiosity, but to tell much about the play itself would be to deprive those who attend of much of their pleasure. The company has had a hilarious time this week rehearsing, and we believe we are going to have a big surprise and a big hit in 'Mam'zelle.' If the audiences have as much fun as the members of the company have had, they should be satisfied. I hope nobody will get the idea this is merely a vaudeville show. It is a real comedy with vaudeville trimmings and the trimmings are essential to the plot. We got the best 'trimmings' available with Miss Schmied and her brother."

AT THE NEW GRAND.

Charlie Chaplin in New Film Play; Good Bill Next Week.

The waning vaudeville season has brought no inferior quality of entertainment at the New Grand, as the present bill consists of an array of variegated offerings.

Bert Sheppard, known as the "Whip King," offers a western act full of novelty and variety. His work with the Australian stock whips is especially commendable.

Fitch Cooper, the musical rube, is a capable musician as well as a clever comedian. With a store of laughable foolishness sandwiched in between some clever stunts on as funny instruments, he scores heavily as a laugh-producer.

The Georgia Trio are blackface comedians, singers and dancers. They offer some good harmony and more than the usual amount of rousing comedy.

Montambo and Wells in a European novelty have an acrobatic offering of exceptional merit. New and original in most of their work, they perform many daring and thrilling feats in a sensational manner.

Roars of laughter greet Charlie Chaplin's latest success, "By the Sea." Chaplin, with his big feet performing their usual mirth-provoking perambulations, wanders down by the sea shore and the result would stir the risibilities of the most forlorn gloom on earth.

"Thirty," a thrilling tale of newspaper life, with a pretty love story interwoven, features Francis X. Bushman and Beverley Bayne. "The Sort of a Girl Who Came From Heaven" is a vitagraph special featuring Earl Williams and Anita Stewart.

The Hearst-Selig News of Events in the making of world's history completes the bill.

Heading the new bill, opening Monday afternoon, is Bernard and Myers in their latest comedy offering, "The Cabby and the Passenger." The Goyt Trio in comedy acrobatics and feats of strength; the Misses Long, Chapron and Green, three dainty maids, and a piano, in songs and music, and the Costa troupe of female aerialists are other acts on the new bill.

The photoplay feature, "The Snow Burner," is in three reels and tells a stirring tale of the north woods and lumber camps; Richard C. Travers, Lillian Drew and E. H. Calevert are featured.

"The Borrowed Necklace," a drama; "The Park Honeymooners," a comedy, and an educational film, "Protecting Big Game," are among the photoplay offerings.

LEADING STARS AT REX.

Faversham, Mrs. Fiske and Others Booked for Duluth House.

The Metro Picture Service company has in the last few months added a number of stage stars to the already long line of notables playing in its high class productions. William Faversham, Valli-Valli, Lionel Barrymore, Max Figman and Olive Wyndham are the last to join the company. Rex patrons will have an opportunity to see all these famous players as the Metro pictures are played Monday and Tuesday of each week.

A Mrs. Fiske play, "The Highroad," was selected by the Metro company for the first appearance of Valli-Valli, the exquisite young actress, who created such a furore in "The Purple Road" last season. The first great success of the "High Road" was attained by Mrs. Fiske, for whom the play was written. Those who have seen Valli-Valli in the picture production, pronounce her superior, because her youth, fire and sympathetic interpretation, seem to fit her better to the part. She will be at the Rex Monday and Tuesday.

Blanche Sweet, the beautiful blonde leading woman, and House Peters, the hero man, will dominate the entire stage at the Rex Wednesday and Thursday. The fine acting, pretty mountain scenery and splendid photography are all side issues in "The Captive," for the little lady with the succulent name and beautiful eyes, would make the picture "worth while" by her own personality. Teaching House Peters household duties and the by-play between the lovely Blanche and some animal pets, furnish a touch of comedy that is bound to please.

Friday and Saturday the Lasky-Belasco feature, "The Woman" will be at the Rex. "The Woman" is a drama showing the manner in which domestic scandal may be used as a double-edged weapon. A young "insurgent" is opposing a certain "grab" measure, which the members of the "ring" are endeavoring to put through congress, with such success that the "machine" politicians endeavor to ruin him by exposing an "affair" of his early life.

Paramount travel pictures will be at the Rex Friday and Saturday each week. They are instructive and amusing.

The ancient custom of having a herald announce the performance of a play with trumpet calls has been revived at the Punch and Judy theater in New York. The trumpeter, in Elizabethan costume, blows calls on the half hour, quarter hour and immediately before the rise of the curtain for "The Clever Ones." A platform has been built on the parapet of the theater, on which the bugler stands.

Louise Gunning, who has been resting on her ranch in California, will return soon to the stage. She is to appear in one of the prominent musical comedy productions.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

It is stated that David Warfield, who is one of the principal backers of Marcus Loew is opposed to Loew returning the Sullivan-Considine circuit to John Considine. It is said that Warfield has already lost $150,000 in the enterprise, but is willing to put more money into it, in the belief that there is a future prosperity in popular-priced vaudeville.

Sothern and Marlowe are said to have refused an offer to appear in moving pictures, at least for the time being. The offer made them would have netted them $225,000. Quite a tidy sum to turn down.

Elsa Ryan closed her tour in "Peg o' My Heart" in Cleveland last night. It concludes her second season in the play. She was seen here in it five weeks in two seasons, establishing a record which she duplicated in a number of other Middle West cities.

"Watch Your Step," which was one of the remarkably successful musical shows of the year, has closed its season in New York.

When Sarah Bernhardt arrives in New York in September—and her American tour this autumn is now definitely assured—one of her offerings will be "The Merchant of Venice." She will also present her last success in her own theater, Tristan Bernhard's "Jeanne Dore." Her repertoire will further include "Madame X," Hugo's "Lucretia Borgia," "Camille," "Phedre," "La Mort de Tintagile," by Maeterlinck, and "Resurrection," by Bataille.

On some nights composite bills will be given, including scenes from "Une Nuit de Noel," "La Mort de Cleopatre," Rosland's "Le Bois Sacre," "The Merchant of Venice" and "Romeo and Juliet."

Following the example of Granville Barker, who is to present Greek plays in the open-air theaters of various Eastern colleges this spring and summer, Lou-Tellegen plans to revive the masterpieces of the three great French dramatists, Cornuille, Racine and Moliere, for presentation in these theaters upon the close of his season in "Taking Chances."

Olga Nethersole is to be seen in the playlet, "The Spoils of War." This story of a phase of the world catastrophe is being presented in vaudeville in New York by Blanche Walsh. Miss Nethersole will play it in London.

There is some talk of Oliver Morosco dramatizing Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer." If it is successful it is to be produced next season.

"Daddy Long-Legs" is scheduled to terminate its run in New York in two weeks hence, and "She's in Again," a farce by Tommy Gray, which Ned Wayburn has produced, will succeed it at the Gaiety on May 17, with Helen Lowell in the leading role. The piece is enjoying a successful engagement at Philadelphia, where its booking has been extended until the New York opening.

Ignace Paderewski was so delighted by the imitation of himself, which Fred Stone gives in "Chin-Chin," that he asked to be presented to the comedian. He showered Stone with compliments, and declared himself amazed by the latter's versatility.

The Shuberts are to leave the Boston Opera house, according to report. They are to establish it as a moving picture theater, similar to the Hippodrome in New York. This would mean that there will be no permanent grand opera in Boston for some time.

The second revival of the DeWolf Hopper-Gilbert & Sullivan season at William A. Brady's Forty-eighth street theater will be "The Mikado," in which Mr. Hopper's portrayal of Ko-Ko is well known.

Adele Blood, the statuesque blonde, who was one of the first "Everywoman" stars, is heading a stock company in Buffalo for the summer months.

A new play by Martha Morton, called "The Baron," is to be produced by the Shuberts, with George Nash in the principal role. The play is described as a modern comedy, one act of which is laid in the tapestry room of the Knickerbocker hotel.

Harrison Grey Fiske, who went into voluntary bankruptcy several months ago, has been discharged by the United States court. No creditors appeared against him.

Bert Williams, the colored comedian, who has performed in several editions of the "Ziegfeld Follies," has been re-engaged to appear in the 1915 version of that musical entertainment.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual exhibit of drawings and paintings is offered by the university's department of architecture today. The walls of the main engineering building on every floor are covered with specimens of the work of the students and with the collection of traveling exhibits brought here for display. In the evening a play "Holbein in Black Friars" will be presented by a cast of student Thespians, under the direction of Prof. E. K. Cowley of the department of architecture.

The members of the new all-university council were selected as follows: Academic, Lucy How and Mary Ray as women representatives, both of St. Paul; Wendell Burns of Duluth and Ray Countryman, men; engineering representative, T. G. Sogaard of La Porte City, Iowa; law, H. G. Young of Benson; dentistry, C. V. Lehmann; mines, Fred Davis; home economics, Carolyn Beach; education, J. A. Nelson of Butterfield; forestry, Edwin Schwartz; chemistry, Walter Egge; agriculture, Frank Cobb, St. Paul; pharmacy, Frank Johnson; graduate, W. W. Butler of Everett, Kansas; Stafford King was elected rooter king by a very large majority, succeeding Art Gow.

Pi Beta Phi gave their annual musical Friday evening, at Shevlin hall. The program included Mildred Osais, Mildred Langtry, Mrs. Paetzold, vocalists; Ethel M. Harwood, pianist; Bernard De Vries, violinist; and Monica Langtry, reader.

Suderman's "Far Away Princess" was presented by the Players in chapel Thursday noon. The cast included Lucille Babcock, Earle Badch, Dixie Ingersoll, Althea Heitsmith, Marion Gray, Henrietta Prindle, Dorothy Seymore, Ethel Hall and Charles Gillen.

The Ben Greet Woodland Players will give three performances on June 7 and 8. The plays are to be given on campus knoll.

The Cosmopolitan club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Emil Lindstrom was elected president; Frances Cobb, first vice president; Wen Ping Pan, second vice president; David Bergen, corresponding secretary; G. Sanford Jooste, treasurer; Knox Powell, recording secretary.

Mrs. George E. Vincent gave a reception for all the seniors Thursday evening at her home. The early part of the evening was spent in meeting each other, and the rest of the evening in dancing.

Dean Appleby of the school of mines left Friday evening for San Francisco, where he has received an appointment to the jury of awards in the mine and metallurgy section of the Panama-Pacific exposition. He will be absent from the university during the month of May.

A get-together of the various national clubs and the Cosmopolitan club was held in Shevlin Thursday evening. After a dinner, a program was given, each society contributing a "stunt." The same speech was given by members of various nationalities in German, French, Spanish, South African Dutch, Chinese, Japanese, Hindu and English.

The Scandinavian society will have a moonlight boat ride Wednesday evening, May 19. The steamer Hiawatha and the barge Bessie Dollar have been engaged.

At the Sunbeam.

Written by the same author of that rapid fire drama, "What Could She Do?" the feature play "On the Stroke of Twelve" in three reels is to be shown at the Sunbeam tomorrow. In this photoplay three of the Edison film stars, Gertrude McCoy, Richard Tucker, and Bigelow Cooper are featured, and it presents further evidence of the skillful dramatist who put so much punch in his other successful play, "The Champion" produced by the Edison company in two reels is Charlie Chaplin's latest and greatest comedy and this also will be offered to the Sunbeam patrons tomorrow. This comedy is guaranteed to drive all dull care away and keeps you convulsed with laughter from start to finish. The Sunbeam management in the endeavor to give their patrons the best in motion pictures are showing this great comedian at every change of program.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BAPTIST UNION

W. B. Patton Chosen President—Minneapolis Pastor Gives Address.

At the annual meeting of the Duluth Baptist Union held last evening at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, W. B. Patton was elected president of the society. The other officers chosen are: Leslie S. High, vice president; A. C. Ritchie, secretary; and J. B. Dye, treasurer.

The principal address of the evening was given by Rev. F. W. Sweet of Minneapolis, who spoke on "America Among the Nations." A report of the work done in Duluth during the last three months was also given by Rev. C. E. Oberg, city missionary for Duluth.

COMMISSIONERS AT HILLSIDE CLUB

Farrell Promises Plat of Proposed Street Car Extension.

A plat of the hillside district and estimates of the cost for a prospective thoroughfare on which to extend the Piedmont avenue street car line will be prepared and will be ready within thirty days, according to the statement made by J. A. Farrell before members of the West End Hillside club last night. The commissioner promised to place some of his engineering department at work within a few days to prepare the plans.

Mr. Farrell said that not only would the plat be prepared to extend the line to Sixteenth street and Piedmont avenue, but that a survey would be made to extend to the city limits. Some day, he said, the city will want the street car line extended that far. He also gave a short talk on standardized pavements.

Commissioner Bernard Silberstein also gave a short talk. He said that the request of the citizens of that district for a patrol box would be heeded and that the box would in a short time be installed at Twenty-third avenue and Tenth street. The matter of having a drain provided for the water fountain at Fourteenth street and Piedmont avenue will be taken up with Commissioner Merritt, according to promise made by the speakers.

ENTRE NOUS CLUB WILL GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

The Entre Nous club will entertain Monday evening at its first annual May festival in St. Jean Baptiste French hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street, Monday evening. The club is composed of a large number of young women of the St. Jean Baptiste church and has taken an active part in social work and amusements since it was organized.

During the last winter the club had a strong basketball organization and has played with a number of young women's teams. The officers of the club are Miss Delia Chevrette, president; Miss Jeanette Beaurivage, first vice president; Miss Nina Robitaille, second vice president; Miss Leonora Le Maire, treasurer, and Miss Evelyn Blais, recording secretary.

VASA LODGES WILL HOLD DISTRICT CONVENTION HERE FOR THREE DAYS

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE VASA ORDER.

The annual district convention of the Vasa Order of America will be held in Duluth on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, May 23, 24 and 25. About 150 delegates from all parts of the state, Manitoba, Can.; North Dakota and Wisconsin will be in attendance.

The convention will be held at the Eagles' hall. The sessions will open Sunday afternoon when reports of officers and the appointment of committees will take place. The business sessions will be continued all day Monday and Tuesday.

The entertainment program planned by the local lodges will include a drive around the boulevard during the latter part of the afternoon and a concert in the evening to be held at the convention hall. On Monday evening a big class will be initiated. More than 100 new members will enter the order that night.

On Tuesday evening the visiting delegates will be guests of Sophia lodge of the West end. This affair will be in the nature of a social and dancing party to be given in the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street.

The present officers of the society are: Andrew Horngren, Duluth, district master; Alfred Fredlund, St. Paul, vice district master; C. W. Soderstrom, Minneapolis, secretary; J. J. Darin, Minneapolis, vice secretary; P. W. Anderson, Minneapolis, treasurer; Augusta Wohlin, Duluth, chaplain; Sigrid Henderson, Superior, master of ceremonies; Anna Ordell, St. Paul, inner watch; J. F. Edling, Ashland, outer watch; and Karl E. Skoog of St. Paul, past district master.

Following are the Duluth delegates who will attend the sessions: Lodge No. 170, Jacob Grandlund, Otto Gafvert, Andrew Horngren, George Johnson, Gust Landin, Elof N. Nelson, Peter Olson; Sophia Lodge No. 209, Mrs. Nellie Anderson, Mrs. Carolina Olson, Mrs. Anna Olson, Mrs. Anna Rudin, Mrs. Wohlin; Gosta Lodge No. 243, West Duluth, Axel Mattson, Axel Strom; Gustaf Adolph Lodge No. 255, H. A. Nelson, Andrew J. Smith, F. A. Thorvall; Siljan Lodge No. 292, Mrs. Albertina Lundsten.

SEVEN CANDIDATES NOW IN RACE FOR "QUEEN OF MAY"

Miss Anna Olson has formally announced herself as one of the candidates for the "Queen of May" contest, being held this month under the auspices of the business men of the West end. The contestants are now busily working for votes and from the heavy voting that is already taking place there is a lively interest being taken in the contest by all residents of the community.

The contestants so far are Miss Anna Olson, Miss Linda Olson, Miss Inga Brende, Miss Goodny Neilsen, Miss Ruth Peterson, Miss Alice "Topsy" Mattson and Miss Edith Olson. The last two named entered the contest yesterday.

The contest will close on May 25. None of the votes will be counted until then and candidates will be in ignorance of how they stand until after the boxes are opened the next day. The contest is open to any young woman in this end of the city and it is claimed that many young women will get votes whose names may not become public until the boxes are opened.

A committee is now at work planning an elaborate parade in which floats from various business houses in the district will be entered. The members of the committee are Herman Olson, Emil H. Olson and Leonard Peterson.

MISS ANNA OLSON.

WEST END BUILDERS

AUGUST B. WIDTH.

"Beyond a question, the best place on earth."

That is the opinion expressed by August B. Width, vice president of the West End Commercial club, when asked what he thought of the Zenith City.

Gardens are one of the hobbies that occupy much of the attention of Mr. Width. When not busy disposing of men's apparel, he is out spreading enthusiasm for truck gardening. Last year he was one of the West End Commercial club's committee on market gardens, and although the club is not holding one this year, he has not lost his enthusiasm on the subject.

Mr. Width has lived in Duluth for seventeen years. He has been in the clothing business for the last seven years. He resides at 2112 West Sixth street.

WILL ADDRESS LODGE.

Trinity Members Will Hear Their Chaplain Sunday.

Special services will be held by Rev. W. E. Harmann, pastor of the St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock for the members of Trinity Lodge No. 282, A. F. & A. M. Rev. Mr. Harmann is chaplain of the lodge and has invited members of the organization to attend. The pastor will speak on "Life's Pillars." Special music will be rendered by the choir.

Members of the lodge will meet at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, at 10:30 o'clock and march in a body to the church.

Confirmation at St. Paul's Church.

Confirmation services will be conducted at St. Paul's English Lutheran church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street tomorrow morning at 10:45 o'clock. The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. Wulfsberg. The class has ten members, the largest ever confirmed at this church. An offering for Home Mission will be taken. As offertory the choir will sing "Lord, My God, I Come Before Thee," by Rosenmuller. The following are members of the class: Mildred Huseby, Alfhild Klippen, Stella Knudtson, Martha Powell, Charles Hoben, Victor Lofald, Irwin Lofald, Ellsworth Ness, Abner Solberg and Raymond Sweek.

Sacred Concert at St. Paul's Church.

The annual sacred concert of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will be given next Wednesday evening. The choir, consisting of twenty-five members, is well balanced, and has made wonderful progress this last year, especially in their ensemble singing. Among the numbers for the concert are: "The Lord Is My Shepherd," by Macfarren, and "The Heavens Are Telling," from "The Creation." Rev. E. Wulfsberg is the director, with Miss Marion Koefod as organist. The following soloists will assist: Miss Minnie Nelson, soprano; Miss Esther Hansen, pianist; Rev. W. Sievers, violin; Rev. Charles Anderson, tenor, and Rev. O. G. Juul, bass. The last two mentioned are both from Minneapolis.

MORE BODIES FROM WRECKED STEAMER

Commander J. Foster Stackhouse Among Those Identified.

Queenstown, May 15.—A handful of persons last night, by candle light, at the Cunard pier endeavored to identify twenty-eight bodies of victims of the Lusitania disaster which were landed here after dark by a British torpedo boat and the tug Stormcock. Several of the bodies were identified, among them those of Commander J. Foster Stackhouse, British explorer, and A. L. Hopkins, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding company. The bodies of Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Elbert Hubbard and other well-known Americans, who perished when the steamer was torpedoed, were not among the twenty-eight.

The body of A. L. Hopkins, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding company, was quickly identified, as were those of one of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crompton of Philadelphia; Mrs. William Crichton of New York, Surgeon J. F. McDermott of the Lusitania, and George Tiberghien, a Greek saloon passenger. Three of the bodies appear to be those of members of the crew of the Lusitania.

The tug Stormcock followed the torpedo boat in, bringing 16 more bodies, 11 men, 4 women and 1 boy. Among the first of these to be identified were Robert Edward Dearborgh, New York, and G. L. P. Vernon, an oil man of London and New York. Others identified were: Commander J. Foster Stackhouse, the explorer; William Colbert, New York; H. A. Bruno of Montclaire, N. J.; M. N. Pappadopoulo, a Greek whose wife was saved, and Martin Van Straaten of London.

ASKS PEOPLE TO INSPECT

Commissioner Farrell Wants Citizens to Report on Public Works.

Believes General Co-operation and Interest Would Improve Conditions.

Duluthians as co-operating inspectors, is the plan proposed by Commissioner Farrell, head of the public works division.

The works head would like to have all the citizens of Duluth act as inspectors of street and sewer work this coming summer and to report to his office faulty work or loafing on the part of city workmen. There will be no salary attached to the position, but the satisfaction to the taxpayer that his money is no longer going to waste, would be better assured, Mr. Farrell points out.

Observing, Not Indifferent.

Wherever there is a public job going on, the commissioner would have the citizens stop and observe instead of passing, and then complain of all irregularities immediately. In this way wrongs would be corrected, he believes, and much money saved to the city.

"Of course," explained Mr. Farrell, "we have regular salaried inspectors, but this is a work that is really the duty of every taxpayer in the city. Very often we miss a number of things going on, but with the co-operation of all Duluthians acting as monitors, Duluth will not only save money, but it will have its improvements in the best possible shape.

"This is merely one way of co-operating with our office and making the work a success. We need the help of every citizen, if our program is to be carried out successfully."

CHALMERS ANSWERS ALL REQUIREMENTS

English Dealer Makes This Choice After Looking Over Whole Field.

War plays strange capers as the experiences of Ernest E. Leverett, managing director of the Long Acre Auto Car company, Ltd., of Lonon, proves. Mr. Leverett is at present one of the interesting visitors in Detroit.

Up to the time the war broke out, Mr. Leverett's company did a tremendous business selling an English car. The several declarations of war late last summer paralyzed the motor car industry in both England and France. The manufacture of pleasure cars was almost completely stopped and at least 50 per cent of the private cars in England, according to Mr. Leverett, were seized by the war department and sent across the channel never to return again after their hard usage.

"It wasn't very long before I found myself without a car to sell because no more were being made. I was in a deuce of a pickle. I didn't fancy the idea of being blown up by a German submarine, but our company had to have automobiles and there was no place left to get them but America and so I came directly to Detroit, after a short stay in New York. I asked my old automobile friends there what was in their judgment the best car I could get for $2,000 and under, and I got the same reply from each. But I came on to Detroit with an unprejudiced mind and went through every plant of interest to my requirements.

"I looked them all over, as you say over here. I saw the best cars made. I made a thorough inspection of each one. I mashed the advertisements that I had clipped from the press on the makers and made them prove their statements or disproved them. The Chalmers answered every test. I selected that as the right American car at the price and I know that my English customers will get every penny's worth that they have to pay for them."

Mr. Leverett had booked passage on the Carpania and when her sailing was cancelled at the last moment, made a reservation on the Lusitania for her ill-fated trip, but was prevented at the last moment from going.

ONE-COMPARTMENT CAR GAINS FAVOR

Has Big Influence on Automobile Design, Says Kissel Agent.

"Just a year has passed since the introduction by Kissel of the one-compartment touring car, and a survey of its influence on automobile body design conclusively proves that it was a happy idea," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the KisselKar.

"Nearly a majority of the makers of high grade cars have since adopted the individual forward seats with a corridor between, while a number—mostly leaders in the industry—have one or more models with but two entrance doors. These ideas were, of course, not adopted by other builders merely to compliment Kissel, but to meet public demand for this type of car. Nevertheless it carries a tribute to Kissel originality and sound judgment, the significance of which has not been lost upon motorists generally.

"Less success has met the efforts of competitors in their experiments to produce a satisfactory all-year car, another Kissel innovation. The Kissel detachable sedan top is one of the most important forward steps in the history of the automobile, and there were many difficulties to overcome before it was perfected. It is an open secret that nearly all the principal car makers in the country have been experimenting with this feature, but thus far the Kissel all-year car is without serious competition and we have not been able to build them fast enough."

REFORMATORY BOYS TO BUILD ROADWAY

Inmates of Connecticut Institution Will Receive 50 Cents a Day.

The boys from the Connecticut reformatory are to build a modern roadway from the reformatory to Milldale and possibly on to the macadam in Cheshire and to be paid 50 cents a day each for their labor.

E. Kent Hubbard, a member of the board of directors, who is working in close co-operation with the National committee on prisons and prison labor, states that the fifty boys to be employed in this work will be selected by Supt. Garvin and the Mutual Welfare league. The league is the organization of the inmates which Mr. Hubbard and Supt. Garvin are fostering, as is Thomas Mott Osborne the prisoners' leagues in Sing Sing and Auburn prisons, New York.

The highway department is to retain full responsibility for the construction work, providing all materials and tools. It will also pay to the superintendent the wages for the men, which they may send to their families or hold until paroled.

The boys will not wear stripes or distinctive uniforms while at their work, and will probably be taken to it in trolley cars, having their dinner sent to them. The directors do not fear attempts to escape, as the growth of the league has developed a spirit of self-respect and good conduct among the men and those who will be told of for the work will put backbone into it and do their part towards making it a success.

This road work is a long step forward for Connecticut, as its state prisoners and most of the inmates of its county jails are still employed under the contract system. The National committee on prisons and prison labor has carried on such a vigorous campaign against this system that success in other labor systems will be welcomed by the citizens of the state.

BETTER KISSEL VALUES THIS YEAR

New 36-Four and 42-Six Best Ever Put Out By Company.

"There has never been a year in the career of the Kissel Motor Car company that KisselKars have not compared favorably with any product of similar price," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the car.

"But in spite of past Kissel successes, these 1915 KisselKars—the 36-four and 42-six—are by a wide margin the most conspicuous Kissel values of all time. Both cars, though selling at much lower prices than models of previous years, are so near perfection in both appearance and mechanical excellence, that we seldom lose a prospect who goes into the car situation with care.

"Nothing of importance that isn't good is heard of any of these cars now in the hands of owners, either as to their efficiency, economy or riding quality. All agree that the new Kissel-built engines are wonderful plants in power, flexibility, responsiveness and low running cost, that the comfort of the cars is exceptional, and that in material, workmanship, accessibility and simplicity they leave nothing to be desired. In addition to these facts, there is about a KisselKar a distinct and pleasing individuality that is not the least of its attractions. Every buyer of taste wants a car that looks different from the ordinary car, and in a KisselKar there is a great deal that is exclusive, and the all-year car—well, everybody knows what a great selling feature that is."

PROVINCIAL LINES FADE BEFORE MOTOR

Hugh Chalmers Predicts Much Good to Come From Cross-Country Tours.

"Motor courses in Americanism" is Hugh Chalmers' way of defining the significance of the sudden vogue of transcontinental automobile trips, which Europe's war has conferred upon this country.

The head of the Chalmers Motor company holds that provincialism and sectionalism fade away before the magic of cross-country motoring.

"Cutting a cross section of the country by means of a leisurely caravaning trip by motor," asserts Mr. Chalmers, "will afford intimate glimpses of different regions of their country to Americans who have hitherto been veritable strangers in their own land.

"Europe's war, which has barred globe-trotting Americans from foreign haunts, is going to give our wanderers and lovers of the exotic a dose of genuine, old fashioned Americanism that will do them a heap of good.

"As they go motoring in this country, they will discover that most of our roads lack the perfection of Europe's motor trails. They will discover that one reason for our mediocre roads is the fact that too many American dollars have been poured into the funnel of foreign travel in past years.

"The touring season of 1915 will teach America's wealthy sons many of America's needs. It will vitalize the need of better roads and better wayside inns for devotees of the steering wheel and the open road.

"The wholesome rigors that tourists will encounter on the road will do no harm. Those who drive from coast to coast on the Lincoln highway will find it a boulevard compared with many roads with which they are familiar.

"Even its desert stretches need not be approached with alarm. There are not more than three or four bad spots on the great American desert and even those are not much over a hundred yards in extent."

Mr. Chalmers declares that many Chalmers owners will spend their vacations in their own cars this summer. Vacations thus spent, he asserts, will prove not only profitable but economical. "See America First," he says, "and see it from your car."

WARMED UP TO CAR.

Humorist Finds Pleasure in Seeing Studebaker in Foreign Land.

Homer Croy, the humorist, who recently returned from a trip around the world, brought back a wonderful story of a tiger hunt, to which he was driven part way in a Studebaker automobile. What is more, he brought back pictures to prove it. Although a humorist, Mr. Croy found tiger hunting no joking matter—but it did afford him a number of surprises.

"Naturally," said Mr. Croy, telling the story on his return to New York, "I expected a royal elephant to come for me just like they do in novels. On the day I was to start, the sultan's head huntsman was announced. He carried a cotton American umbrella for a sunshade and wore American shoes, policeman size. He greeted me with a truly oriental salaam and astonishingly occidental words.

"'Sahib,'" he orated, "'the automobile is waiting.'"

"Whereupon he conducted me out to the car owned by royalty, a Studebaker. You know how pleased you are to meet any one from your own country when in a foreign land. Well, that was the way I felt about that Studebaker. I greeted it like a long-lost friend from Detroit. But a Studebaker is never lonesome for its kind in the Far East. More Studebakers are sold there than any other car. While I had seen many before, and have seen many since, I was surprised to find that a Studebaker was to convey me to the jungle on a tiger hunt."

MANY SEE NEW CHALMERS SIX

Mutual Auto Company Host to Duluth Auto Lovers.

Not a few members of the local automobile colony have visited the Mutual Auto company's show rooms at 313 West First street to inspect the motor of the latest Chalmers six. The fact that this motor is of the overhead valve type, with cam shaft overhead, has made it of particular interest to the racing men, inasmuch as nearly all the builders of motors of racing type today are turning to this type of construction.

"The overhead cam shaft means better and surer valve action," declared one of the men who examined the new car last week. "This is because its action is directly upon the valves. Almost every racing car that has recently distinguished itself for speed and reliability has used this type of construction.

"The same positive and reliable action that has made this the dominant type of motor in racing affairs should make it just as popular in touring. For after all, racing is merely concentrated touring, as it were, and the same qualities that the racing man appreciates will also be appreciated by the owner of a touring car."

MANY MOTORISTS WILL VISIT DULUTH ON WAY TO COAST

Hundreds of motorists from all over the East will include Duluth in their trip to the two expositions this year.

According to word received from officials of national motor organizations, this city will be one of the visiting points in the "See America First" movement that has been started as the result of the war in Europe.

Most of the automobile parties stopping in Duluth will come here from points in Wisconsin and Minnesota. From Duluth the motorists will continue to Crookston and then into North Dakota, connecting with the roads leading into that state from the Twin Cities.

On the way to the coast practically every motoring party will stop off at Yellowstone park, which will be open to automobiles on Aug. 1, then the Glacier national park and the Mt. Ranier park, all of these being connected by good highways. From Mt. Ranier park motorists have good roads to Portland and then down to San Francisco and San Diego. Returning, most parties will go through the Middle West or South.

MAKES RUN OF 54,513 MILES.

Test Made in Show Rooms By Haynes Light Six.

"A Haynes light six stock car motor has just completed a run of 54,513 miles in the show room of the Newark, N. J., branch," states M. W. Turner, local distributor of America's first car. "The run was conducted as a test to determine the wear of parts.

"The results show that an average speed of 22 miles per hour was maintained for 3,132 hours with a gasoline consumption of 24.39 miles per gallon. The average consumption of cylinder oil was 430 miles per quart, and of water in the cooling system, 430 miles per pint. The temperature in the radiator averaged 130 degs. even though no artificial cooling was used and the exhaust was conducted of inch the muffler through 22 feet of inch and a half pipe."

GREAT KISSEL DEMAND.

New Pace Set for 1915 Product in Large Cities.

"The KisselKar has this year enjoyed a greatly increased demand from nearly every part of the country," says Sales Manager G. C. Frey. "The increase is, however, most notable in the larger cities, because least expected there. New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, for instance, have shown returns very materially stronger than expected. St. Louis, Buffalo and Cleveland have made excellent records. Such Kissel strongholds as Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul have set a new pace for business and the Pacific coast cities, always fertile Kissel territory, have exceeded their usual quota. These facts, taken in connection with an unprecedented call for cars from the rural districts, upset all estimates and the Kissel 1915 product will be sold to the very last car we can possibly build."

CADILLAC AT EXPO.

President Moore Purchases Car for His Own Use.

With the recent delivery of a Cadillac Eight to President C. C. Moore, of the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, this car becomes more than ever the exposition car. President Moore's car is a standard Cadillac limousine, bearing on the panel between the doors the official seal of the exposition.

This car plays a large part in the official life of the San Diego exposition also. There it is the official car. President Davidson has a limousine and two touring cars are in the service of other officials. At San Diego, on state occasions, it is always the Cadillac Eight that carries distinguished visitors back and forth; and how that the San Francisco fair has a car of the same make, the same probably will be the case there.

FRANKLIN SETS RECORD.

Car Makes Fast Run From Johannesburg to Cape Town.

On the heels of the Franklin record for the New York to Washington trip comes the news from far off Cape Town, South Africa, that the Franklin had broken the record for the drive from Johannesburg to Cape Town, a distance of 1,097 miles in all.

J. W. Kirkland of the South African General Electrical company, Franklin dealers in that territory, is responsible for lowering the mark by five days, the elapsed time of the trip being 97 hours and 5 minutes.

Probably no more adventurous ride has ever been taken in a Franklin car. The route lies across the desert of South Africa, over towering mountains like the Stormberg, through sands and rocks, fording rivers, into the depth of the jungle—in fact almost every conceivable condition of driving.

Mr. Kirkland and his party crossed a country that gave only traces of roads, and many times surprised quantities of wild game along the route. One day they suddenly came upon a herd of springbok, another day ran full tilt into a troop of forty or fifty baboons. Their trip was one of interesting episodes and hardships combined.

TWENTY-FOUR FORD ASSEMBLY PLANTS

Main Factory Has Many Branches at Strategic Points.

Twenty-four assembly plants, placed at strategic points in various parts of the country, and each capable of turning out a goodly daily quota of Ford cars, are the solution of the production and distribution problems of the Ford Motor company.

These assembly plants, which are branches of the main factory in Detroit and under the executive charge of branch managers, are constantly being added to as occasion demands. During the month of March, for example, the Ford Motor company opened new plants at Atlanta, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Manufacturing the Ford Motor company's huge output—300,000 cars during the year ending July 31, 1915—is one thing; but to transport the cars and to distribute them promptly as the demand fluctuates according to seasons and locations is quite another. From the time the company was organized in 1903 until 1911 the entire Ford output was assembled in the —convincingly and overwhelmingly for Goodrich.

The Verdict
This company alone through the daily press of January 31st gave to the consuming public the most sweeping reduction ever made in tire prices. This established the only genuine Fair-List in existence on non-skid tires today. Goodrich prices were dated February 1st in ordinary course. Other tires were reduced in prices a few days later and the reduction dated back to February 1st.
Every real price-reduction on tires has followed the lead of Goodrich.
As always, Goodrich policy and Goodrich methods first gave the tire user the benefit of reduced prices.
We lowered tire cost for every tire user when we did that.
We were more than content to await the verdict
And that verdict is overwhelmingly and convincingly in favor of Goodrich Tires and of Goodrich Fair-List prices.
We knew that the tire user was buying mileage-service—he was buying what the tires would do for him, rather than so much bulk rubber and fabric.
We knew what our long years of rubber manufacture and tire-making had taught us.
We knew we were making tires which had exactly the right amount of rubber and the right quantity of fabric to deliver exactly the right kind of service.
We knew that too much rubber and too much fabric would be as detrimental to the service of the tires as too little.
The tire user knows that Goodrich led in putting tire prices on their just and proper level.
You pay money for your tires. You want miles from your tires.
Goodrich Tires are built to deliver mileage at the least cost per mile, and to deliver it with the greatest ease, the greatest comfort and the greatest economy.
Every ounce of energy, every bit of intelligence, every flash of genius, every atom of efficiency in the whole Goodrich organization has been concentrated on this proposition of making tires which will surely give the greatest mileage at the least cost.
The Goodrich tire user knows that right now, today, with all the stampede to meet Goodrich prices, Goodrich quality is not met and that his dollar buys more tire service in Goodrich tires.
"As good as Goodrich" is today the plea.
Let us say to you, in all good faith and with every confidence in the fair-minded judgment of the tire user, that no other tire made has in it and of it the experience, the know-how and the know-why which govern the selection and the combination of the exact quality and quantity of rubber and fabric which constitute Goodrich Tires.

great Detroit plant. But, as every one knows, the demand for Ford cars increased each year by leaps and bounds and it became apparent that with the big production necessary and the ever-widening market, transportation facilities were growing vastly inadequate for the solution of the problem of distribution.

The Ford company met the situation, as it met many others, in an original way. Two plants, forerunners of the present chain of Ford assembly plants were established—one at Kansas City and one a little later at Buffalo. Unassembled parts were shipped to these plants, Ford cars were assembled there and then shipped as demanded to the dealers in contiguous territory. This in brief was the system inaugurated and which has been followed since then as the chain of assembly plants grew with the addition from time to time of new links.

The advantages are obvious. Unassembled parts made at the Detroit factory can be shipped in large quantities to the branches without difficulty and without excessive demands on the railroad companies. Through these branches the Ford Motor company is enabled to make almost immediate delivery of assembled cars to any section of the country.

This arrangement enables the Ford factory to approach the ideal manufacturing basis; that is, to maintain a steady production all the year around without being obliged to provide storage room. There is no provision for storing accumulated production at the Ford factory because there is no need for it. This system is one of the reasons why Ford cars can be sold at their present low prices.

Of vital importance also is the service the Ford company is enabled to render owners by means of these assembly plants, for each is thoroughly equipped with the machinery necessary to completely overhaul and rebuild a car.

The Ford assembly plants are handsome, well constructed buildings, all built after the same architectural plan and style. The branch at Atlanta is valued at $385,000, and when running full capacity will employ about 300 workers and turn out fifty cars a day; the Indianapolis plant is valued at ,000 will have 250 employes and assemble fifty cars a day; the Cincinnati building is valued at $400,000, will give employment to 250 men and assemble thirty cars a day; the Pittsburgh plant is valued at $575,000, will have about 300 workers and can turn out forty cars a day.

ADVERTISING FROM DOUBLE VIEWPOINT

Benefit to Consumer and Manufacturer, Says John N. Willys.

The value of judicious newspaper advertising as a business asset from the double viewpoint of the manufacturer and the consumer is logically explained by John N. Willys, the owner of the enormous Willys-Overland automobile factory in Toledo and builder of the Garford and Willys-Utility trucks.

"Advertising is merely clapping your hands and getting attention, that you may show your goods, make your talk and close the sales," declared Mr. Willys. "You must gather a crowd and make yourself heard to do a thriving business today. You must show the people what you have and what they should buy.

"From actual results we know that our newspaper campaigns have paid big dividends in two directions. The extensive publicity given the Overland car has enabled our company to become the second largest producer of motor vehicles in the world. This season we are building 75,000 cars. Producing cars on such a large scale allows us to offer the customer a continually increasing value for a continually decreasing price.

"The belief that the purchaser pays for the advertising is a delusion of those who still retain the antiquated business ideas of a half century ago. The manufacturer who stores his product and waits for the public to come around and buy naturally is forced to limit his output and raise the selling price in order to make a profit."

NEW MOTOR SPEEDWAY.

New York to Have Course Second to None in the United States.

After months of preparation, arrangements have been completed which will give to New York a motor speedway which will be second to none in the country. The Sheepshead Bay Speedway corporation has been duly incorporated with $2,500,000 capital, made up of $1,000,000 of 7 per cent cumulative preferred and $1,500,000 common stock.

The once famous Sheepshead Bay racetrack, formerly owned by the Coney Island Jockey club, has been purchased, and on the site will be built a two-mile speedway which will be designed to permit speeds up to 140 miles an hour. In addition, two grandstands with boxes will be erected, affording accommodations for 200,000 spectators, and within the track there will be parking space for 20,000 motor cars.

Beginning this autumn it is proposed to hold annually at least two great international races each for a purse of $50,000, a twenty-four-hour midsummer contest and a series of matinee events for stock cars.

EYES OF WORLD TURNED TO BIG INDIANAPOLIS AUTO RACE

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—With the entry list for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race a closed book, the attention of racing fans is next drawn to the elimination trials for that contest May 20, 21 and 22, which will reduce the field to the maximum number of thirty-three.

Eight of the forty-one cars nominated will fall by the wayside, either because they cannot make the speedway's 80-miles-an-hour minimum for a lap, or else because they are not quite as fast as their rivals. A fraction of a second's difference in time may prove the end for some of them.

Added interest is attached to the elimination trials this year, because of the rule which numbers cars and ranges them at the starting line on race day with reference to their speed, the fastest car receiving No. 1 and being placed in first position, next to the pole.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Frank Galvin and R. G. Dasbach, members of the Peugeot team in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race, who overturned with their car in practice Saturday, are but slightly injured and will soon recover. Galvin is laid up with a broken collarbone and contusions about the head, while Dasbach has a broken arm.

The car suffered but little damage, the frame being bent slightly, and the front axle stripped off. Both injuries will be repaired and the car made ready for the race, a new driver, who has not yet been named, being negotiated for to take Galvin's place.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—E. V. Rickenbacher, sensational Maxwell driver, established a new short distance record for the Indianapolis motor speedway by reeling off eight laps in practice for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race at the rate of ninety-four miles an hour. His fast trip around the track was made in 1:35, or slightly under ninety-five miles an hour.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Despite the fact that he came within an ace of losing his life in last year's Indianapolis 500-mile race, being laid up for months as the result of injuries when his car overturned, Joe Dawson, winner of the 1912 Hoosier contest, has announced his intention of again competing in that event, and is now looking for a car.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—With the contest less than a month away, seats for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race are selling with unparalleled speed. Present indications point to a particularly great "long distance" attendance, especially from the East, probably because of the many parties who will stop off on their way to the fair.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Darlo Resta, winner of the recent Vanderbilt and Grand Prize races on the coast; Bob Burman, the world's speed king; and Earl Cooper, 1913 road racing champion, have arrived in Indianapolis and are getting ready for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Wolverhampton, Eng., May 15.—Jean Chassagne and J. Porporate, Sunbeam entrants in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race, have sailed for the United States to arrive in time for the elimination trials for that contest, May 20, 21 and 22.

EXPENSIVE FORD MODEL.

Miniature of Whole Plant at Detroit Shown at Expo.

There is on display in the Ford Motor company's exhibit at the San Francisco exposition one of the most elaborate and expensive models ever made in this country. This is a miniature, constructed of metal and complete to the minutest exterior detail of the whole vast Ford plant at Detroit, Mich. It constitutes one of the popular features of the Ford exhibit.

This wonderful reproduction of the Ford plant is 15 feet long by 6 feet wide and is on a scale of one-sixteenth of an inch to a foot. Not only is every building, foot of track, traveling crane, window, piece of lumber, freight car, etc., reproduced in this wonderful little model, but all the colors and architectural effects are preserved.

Every building is electrically lighted. In the little power house engines are working away, imitating their huge parent engines. Freight trains hurry back and forth. And at regular intervals a little gate flies open and out dashes a new Ford car, scarcely bigger than one's thumb nail.

The model was designed and built in the Ford plant by Ford workmen.

LATEST FORD JOKES

These are the three latest Ford jokes the automobile editor of The Herald has heard this week. Which ones have you heard?

Send them in to the auto editor by Wednesday of each week.

Turned Over and Died.

A wagon full of insect powder accidentally tipped over in a roadway the other day and the driver went off for some assistance. While he was gone a Ford came along and ran right into the powder.

The little ol' car kept going a few feet and then rolled over and died.

A man was standing alongside a large tree, looking up in a rather dejected manner.

"What's the trouble, stranger?" asked a pedestrian.

"I was just cranking my Ford and it slipped out of my hand."

"You don't have to crank Ford cars any more," a member of the board of trade said yesterday afternoon.

"Well, what do you do then?" immediately asked some of the unsophisticated ones.

"Why, you just tickle them and they'll start."

RECEIVE MOBILOILS.

Duluth Company Gets Carload of Famous Oil.

The Duluth Auto Tire Repair company has just received a carload of the world-famous Gargoyle mobiloils, made by the Vacuum Oil company of Rochester, N. Y.

"We received so many excellent reports from our customers using these oils," states the local manager, "that this year we decided to order a full carload, and it now looks as though we would require another carload before the end of the season. Our carload was one of twenty-five carloads shipped into Minneapolis territory during the month of April.

"Our business this year has far exceeded our expectations, and we attribute our success to the fact that we handle the best automobile supplies the market affords and furnish them to the users at a fair margin of profit."

ROAD RECORD BROKEN.

Driver of Franklin Four-Passenger Makes Fast Run.

David S. Hendrick, driving a Franklin 6-30 touring car, with four passengers, broke the New York-Washington automobile road record last Monday. He made the run from the metropolis to the capital in 9 hours and 9 minutes elapsed time.

The best previous record was held by S. A. Luttrell, who made the run with a Packard, in May, 1911, in 11 hours and 41 minutes.

The Franklin cut the record 2 hours and 32 minutes, coming from New York to Washington, and on the trip Sunday broke the Packard's record by 1 hour, making the distance in 10 hours and 41 minutes.

MOTORCYCLE NOTES

Scores of motorcycle clubs will take advantage of the two holidays which come on May 30 and 31 to stage pleasure or endurance runs. Following are some of the clubs which are planning Memorial day events:

Indianapolis Motorcycle club, three-day socinbility run to Wyandotte cave.

Niagara Falls Motorcycle club, two-day endurance run.

Los Angeles Motorcycle club, annual endurance run.

Rockford, Ill., Motorcycle club, three-day good fellowship tour.

Maryland Motorcycle club (Baltimore), annual spring tour.

Schenectady Motorcycle club, two-day endurance run to Sabin Rock, Conn.

New Jersey Motorcycle club, annual two-day endurance run.

Blair County Motorcycle club (Altoona, Pa.), endurance run to Harrisburg and return.

About half of the 250 riders who participated in the recent six-city motorcycle run from San Francisco, Cal., were women. San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Santa Cruz, Watsonville and Salinas were represented in the tour, which ended at Hollister, where the riders celebrated with a barbecue and motorcycle contests.

Between Feb. 1 and April 1 there were 2,000 motorcycles registered in Canada. At that rate, it is conservatively estimated that there will be at least 10,000 riders of the two-wheeler there before the end of 1915.

Twenty-five thousand dollars has been appropriated in New York city for the purchase of motorcycles and bicycles for use in the various city departments.

The proceeds of the 200-mile motorcycle race to be held at Phoenix, Ariz., on May 31 are to go toward securing a tuberculosis sanatorium for the Salt river valley.

Of the 341,250 motor vehicles estimated to be in use in Great Britain, 132,000 are motorcycles.

The Kissel Motor Car company of Hartford, Wis., has received its sixth order for motor trucks from the European countries at war. The latest commission is for thirty ambulances for use by the Serbian government.

The King Motor company has received orders for ten eight-cylinder models for immediate shipment to Manila, and twenty-four for immediate shipment to London. This makes a total of 126 of these models shipped to London within the last two weeks.

New York, May 15.—Gasoline consumption during 1915 will run over 1,000,000,000 gallons, according to an estimate based on the fact that the number of new cars purchased in 1915 is equal to the number purchased in 1914.

Detroit, Mich., May 15.—Factory Manager C. A. Hills of the Hudson Motor car company, says shipments are going out at a rate of 100 daily, and he will be unable to fill orders after a short continuance of this unlooked-for demand.

Omaha, Neb., May 15.—A purse of $20,000 is being raised in Omaha for the 300-mile race to be held here July 5. It is expected that the leading drivers in the Grand Prix and Vanderbilt cup races will participate. It is said that Ralph De Palma and Barney Oldfield have agreed to compete.

Gov. Brumbaugh, it is announced, has been petitioned to name May 26 as a state good roads day by civic bodies in Pittsburgh, where road work has been especially active. Last year residents of Washington county turned out on road day and did $12,000 worth of work, and it is planned to repeat the "stunt" this year. In Allegheny county a county roads association is being formed.

The band of the Briscoe Motor company, one of the best musical organizations in the state of Michigan and consisting wholly of employes of the three motor car plants in Jackson, Mich., of which Benjamin Briscoe is the head, will be given an outing to the Indianapolis races at the expense of President Briscoe.

The Kissel Motor car company of Hartford, Wis., has issued a miniature booklet setting forth in vivacious verse the merits of the all-year KisselKar. Not a feature of the successful combination touring body and Sedan is slighted in the rhymed description and the story is fittingly illustrated. The booklet is lithographed and is a very creditable piece of printing.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—A protest will be lodged by the Indianapolis motor speedway management against the proposed classification of all road racing courses less than eight miles long as speedways, if the question ever comes before the American Automobile association for official action. A speedway, say the Hoosiers, must be a fully enclosed course like our own.

New York, May 15.—Instead of still being in England, as was generally supposed, the Sunbeam cars in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race have arrived in New York city, and are now being prepared for shipment to Indianapolis. Their departure from the factory at Wolverhampton, England, was kept a profound secret, the Sunbeam officials fearing that perhaps some enterprising German submarine captain might attempt to torpedo them.

Cincinnati is the latest city to feel the need of an automobile speedway patterned after the famous one at Indianapolis, and as a result late last week the Cincinnati Motor Speedway company was organized by a group of local men. The capital is $500,000, and a speedway is to be built at the cost of the full capitalization. The track will be oval, two and a half miles in circumference. A site has not as yet been selected.

Chicago, May 15.—Chicago's fire department at present is about 22 per cent motorized. It has 68 motors and 259 horse-drawn vehicles. Due to the lack of funds, it is not probable that any material increase in motor fire apparatus will be made this year. As much preparation as is possible under present conditions is being made by the department for the complete motorization of the equipment. New fire houses that are being built are designed without provision for horses, and those that have to house horses are so arranged that the stalls can be ripped out easily.

Among the new types of motor buses now being tried out by the Fifth Avenue Coach company of New York city, is one which is described as "the last word in omnibus comfort." The heaters are under the floor giving more foot room for the passengers.

There is a push button for each seat and a double hand rail on the rear stairway to insure greater safety. Ten square feet more of glass has been added to the window space, and the electric lighting facilities of the interior are increased. By the use of aluminum panels and high-test alloy steel, the company states, it has been able to economize space without sacrificing strength. Cross seats have been installed for twenty-two passengers on the lower deck.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Epilepsy and Genetics

EPILEPSY is a disorder of the nervous system characterized by convulsions (fits) or periods of unconsciousness or both. The seizures vary in different cases from a slight twitch limited to one limb perhaps (petit mal) to a frank convulsion of the entire body followed by complete unconsciousness for a time (grand mal). In some cases of epilepsy the seizure amounts to a mere momentary absent-minded state, in which the individual simply pauses, looks vacant, possibly drops something from his hand, recovers, and continues on with his work, unaware that anything has happened.

Alcoholism in one or both parents is a notorious factor of epilepsy in children, a more common cause than direct inheritance of an epileptic tendency from parents.

Degeneracy, feeble-mindedness, narcotism (drug habits) and mental defects in succeeding generations are suspiciously frequent in the family history of epileptic individuals.

A series of cases lately reported seemed to give strong evidence that a single alcoholic debauch of a husband has, in not a few instances, accounted for epilepsy in the offspring.

If one parent is epileptic and the other normal, half the children will be epileptic. That is, on the average. If both parents are epileptics all the children will be epileptic. If both parents are normal, but one grandparent has epilepsy, the children will tend to be three normal to one epileptic. Thus it is a calamity for those with an epileptic tendency to marry.

The disease epilepsy, unfortunately, cannot be cured. It is a defect, a degeneration, which does not permit of human restoration. However, good management accomplishes much for the average case, and sometimes the seizures do not develop for long intervals. One dangerous thing is the alleged "cure" for epilepsy, containing, in almost every instance, bromide or similar nerve-deadening drugs. Yes, it may diminish the attacks, in frequency or severity, but only at the expense of mental integrity.

Whatever of benefit there is to be had for the epileptic individual depends, thus far, upon a wisely selected diet, education, hospital or institutional care.

Questions and Answers.

Chronic Constipation: What would you suggest for chronic constipation?

REPLY.

That you send a stamped addressed envelope for letter of advice.

Treatment of Hardening of Arteries: Is there any remedy or mode of life to stay the progress of arterial sclerosis, or hardening of the arteries?

REPLY.

Yes, both. But their suitability must be determined by blood-pressure tests, urinalysis and heart examination by the physician.

Nerve Tonic for Nervous Person: Can you prescribe a good nerve tonic for a nervous person? asks R. G.—and let's it go at that.

REPLY.

Yes, but we dare not. A remedy which would be just fine for a person made nervous by anemia might do harm if taken by a person made nervous by high blood-pressure, and our specialty is doing no harm.

Another Shadow in Distress: I am 24 years old, stenographer, fairly well, but weigh only 93 pounds and am 5 feet 6 inches tall. I am so thin it hurts to say my prayers. Can you help me?

REPLY.

Surely, with advice. It will cost you one stamped addressed envelope.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

THE DULUTH BOAT CLUB SHOULD ENTER SENIOR EIGHT IN NATIONAL

Eastern Clubs Are Lining Up to Defeat Ten Eyck's Crew—It Would Be a Great Honor to Win This Year—Amateur Baseball Leagues Doing Well—The World's Greatest Athlete Fails as a Baseball Player—Anthony F. Wilding Dead;

BY BRUCE.

WHAT about the Duluth Boat club entering a senior eight in the Springfield National? Pro and cons please come forward. By all means, Jim, stick another grand eight in the Derby event and make an attempt to win the big prize for the third consecutive season! Here is one of the reasons why a lot of rowing sharps, East and West, would like to see the Duluth Boat club eight entered: The New York Athletic club has three Cornell men in its boat and several U. of P. oarsmen trying out for candidates. The Unions of Boston have an eight that is a combination of the Harvard-Henley winners of last season and the Harvard second eight men.

If Duluth can send an eight east to beat both of these crews at Springfield, it will be a decided feather in the well-feathered fez of the local club. It would be likewise a great achievement upon the part of James E. Ten Eyck. Also it will go part way in answering the vexatious question as to whether club trained oarsmen are the equal of college sweep men.

They all line up along the bank and congregate feverishly on the floats and stand frantically up in the stands when the senior eight race starts. Some of 'em tumble in the water when the eights come larruping along toward the finish line. Gee! We can't stay out of that race.

Recruit some of those grand old boys—Kent, Horak, the Moores, Rheinberger, Hoover and the rest, Jim, and go out after the big honors. They are preparing to get us this year; crack college sweep men have been dragged into club boats for that purpose. Duluth has been showing up the Eastern clubs in a scandalous manner. It will be a great race this year—we want to be in it.

Out here the followers of the rowing and the citizens of Duluth and the members of the Duluth Boat club have a reasonable excuse and a pardonable pride for believing that we have had two of the greatest club eights that have ever entered in the National. Down in the eastern part of the country, from Philly up to Manhattan island, the sharps are raising the cry that the Duluth eight is going to be beaten this year. Let's go down and give them a whirl. If they beat us, they'll be going some!

Amateurs Going Good.

WITH games today and tomorrow on the schedule of the Duluth Amateur Baseball league, and with the grade school kiddos going along fine, it already begins to look like a great year for the simon pures.

There are some swell young players on the various teams of the amateur league. As for the grade league, the kids are doing fine, and this despite the fact that some of the scores are lopsided.

One of the most praiseworthy features of the Duluth Grade School Baseball league, is the fact that sportsmanship is placed before the importance of winning games. President Duby declares that if an all-star team is picked, every player chosen will have to have a record of clean playing throughout the season.

This little league stands for greater ideals than those of the ball field. Those behind it have already made it plain that squareness, fair play and honesty are details demanded in the conduct of all of the league games.

A league of kids, conducted along those lines, is deserving of the ardent support of the principals, teachers and students of every grade school in the city of Duluth, of its citizens and of the parents of every player.

Also the efforts of the league are worthy of the attention of the athletic instructors of the local high schools. One of the very best and most simple methods of securing good baseball material in the high schools of any city, is to develop this material in the grade schools. A word of advice, encouragement and boosting now and then upon the part of the high school athletic coaches would assist a lot.

The grade school league is a grand little organization—it is an institution worthy of preservation and upbuilding for the future.

The Shrimp and the Giant.

WILLIE KEELER was a midget playing about the grandest brand of baseball ever seen in an American outfield. This little half-man could run, hit, field in faultless fashion and throw with carrying power and accuracy. It wasn't muscle or brute physical strength—it was brain power and something else.

Jim Thorpe was without a doubt in his Carlisle days the greatest all-around athlete that the country has yet produced, unless we except the recent flare up of J. Howard Berry, Jr.

The Indian played the greatest football the gridiron has perhaps ever witnessed—and there have been Heston, Daly, Brickley and Mahan. He was a track man of superlative ability and could score in classy fields in the weight events. There was nothing apparently Jim Thorpe couldn't do.

John McGraw figured that so flawless a physical machine could be developed into a wonderful baseball player. McGraw is an observing and intelligent student of the diamond.

Infinite patience and laborious practice were crowded into two years. McGraw gave Thorpe every opportunity, devoted all his skill as a moulder of players to the task of making a star of the famous Indian, the friend of Sweden's king. At the end of two years McGraw gave up, much as he hated to.

The midget Keeler could do things on the baseball field that the Indian Thorpe could never accomplish; and the Indian Thorpe could accomplish feats on the athletic field that would astonish the polished Keeler. The Peerless Thorpe, garbed in a Carlisle football suit, tore the wonderful West Point line into shreds, a feat no other Eastern back had been able to accomplish that season. On the baseball field he has been something of a joke. All of this leads one to remark, every man to his own game.

Connie Mack Is Queer.

CONNIE MACK has often been called the oddest man in baseball. Only recently he remarked that he liked his baseball team.

A Great Tennis Star Is Gone.

ANTHONY F. WILDING is dead. War has added another of the luminaries of the world of sports to its grim list of victims. In New Zealand, his native land, in England, in America, the fields of his greatest conquests, Wilding was known and admired as the greatest tennis player in the world. He is gone—and his going will long be felt with a keen sense of loss, for Anthony Wilding was just as much of a man as he was a tennis player.

The National Golf Meet.

IT LOOKS as if the National Open Golf championship play of the present year will bring together one of the greatest fields in the American history of the big event. Ouimet, Evans, Travers and a host of others are to meet at Baltusrol in what should prove a remarkable contest.

Harry B. K. Davis, Pacific coast champion and the recent winner of the Panama Exposition amateur championship, has entered for the open title event. The fact that Davis led Walter Hagen by two strokes on the morning round in the coast meet, should lead some of the followers of the game to keep a keen and observing eye on the Californian.

Collins Has Fred Fulton.

MIKE COLLINS has taken Fred Fulton under his managerial wing. Fulton is the big heavyweight who has made a rather remarkable pugilistic record in that he has never engaged in a fight that there has not been a knockout. Fulton has not scored all of the knockouts, but has won more than his share. Mike has lined up several dates for the big fellow, including mills at Winnipeg and Sparta, Wis.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Mahoney Accepts Boat Club Presidency and Announces Captains.

House Committee Added to Take Charge of Social Affairs.

DIVISION LEADERS.

Rowing division—Wallace M. Quimby, captain; Roy Kent, Dave Horak, H. H. Peyton, Charles H. Kelley.

Sailing division—J. Harris Trux, captain; E. A. Pierce, C. D. Brewer, O. L. Mather, F. H. Waldron.

Tennis division—Lauren A. Kennedy, captain; P. J. Chinnick, Dr. Amundson, Dennis Deighton, C. E. Dewitt.

Canoe division—Dr. Frank Lynam, captain; Lloyd Williams, Joe Horak, Ford Wiltse, Leo Schmied.

Motor boat division—R. B. Odell, captain; J. F. Dennis, Frank Wade, W. S. Telford, Henry Talboys.

House committee—Lawrence H. Gordon, chairman; Phil L. Ray, Hans B. Haroldson, Elmer N. Whyte, C. F. How, Jr.

The committees for the Duluth Boat club during the coming year were announced last night by Daniel Mahoney, new president of the organization. The naming of a house committee was a new feature, and will take more or less work from the other committees. This committee will have charge of dinners, dances, the cafe and other social affairs.

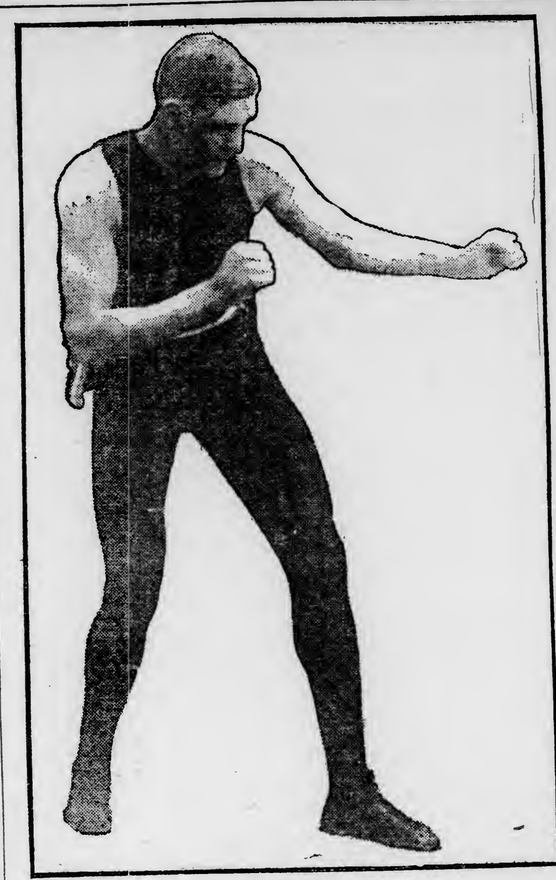
President Mahoney said last night that he had decided to accept the position to which he was elected. At first he had feared that other work would make it impossible for him to accept, but with the co-operation and assistance of the committees and other officials, he said he would be able to keep the position. He stated, however, that he could not devote all his time to the work, but would do the best he could under the circumstances.

The committees will meet twice monthly this summer. The committeemen chosen last night will meet next week and go over plans for the season.

To Play at Border.

International Falls, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Virginia Northern league team will stop off here for a game with the team of this city Sunday afternoon. A fast game is expected as the local bunch is traveling at a fast gait this season.

IRISH BOXER STANDS AS LOGICAL FOE OF WILLARD



JIM COFFEY.

PACKEY DOESN'T WANT MIKE GIBBON'S GAME

The Stockyards Boxer Not at All Eager to Mix With the Phantom.

New York, May 15.—Every time they match Packey McFarland and Mike Gibbons they don't. Not that Mike isn't ready, because he is not only ready but anxious. At one time Mr. Gibbons betrayed no such undue desire to mingle with the light hitting but extremely clever young million-dollar fighter from Chicago's stockyards, but then Mike had everything to lose, including the fight, probably. Times have changed, however. Gibbons is about as simon-pure a middleweight champion as was Ketchel and those who disputed Stanley's claim usually took care to do it outside of a ring. The phantom boxer that was Mike Gibbons of many moons ago, today is in addition a hard-hitting walloper, as clever as any who ever came along in this modern ring era, and confident that he can whip all creation at the right weight.

When Mike was prone to dodge it was Packey who was the world beater and he still may be just that—only we are inclined to voice a few just doubts. Packey, when he was at his best, easily outclassed everything in the division in which he fought—the 133-pound class. Not only did he actually possess the wonderful skill he still insists he retains, but he was too big for the lightweights who faced him. When he was compelled to admit that he no longer could make the weight, he simply dropped out of active competition and went to nursing along his real estate.

The very career of McFarland explains his reasons for avoiding, as long as convenient, the very lucrative match with Gibbons. If Packey were at his best, he would figure to outclass the cleverest of them all at his weight, but the point is that Packy, in Gibbons, will be compelled to face a bigger man than himself, a terrific hitter and a veritable shadow. The tables would be reversed exactly for the stockyards wonder. And Packey never relished a beating.

It is axiomatic that a good little man cannot defeat a good big man.

BADGERS TAKE TRACK HONORS FROM ILLINI

Champaign, Ill., May 15.—The University of Wisconsin track team was recompensed for the loss of the ball game yesterday by defeating the University of Illinois, 71 to 55, Illini's first defeat in a dual conference outdoor meet since 1909.

Wisconsin took most of the first places and a number of conference records were shattered.

Mason of Illinois won the two-mile run in 9:39, cutting the record. Mucks, the Wisconsin star, won the shot-put with 47 feet, 3¾ inches, and Stiles of Wisconsin took the broad jump with 24 feet, 1½ inches, both excelling the conference records.

Mucks was the greatest point winner, taking the hammer throw and discus in addition to the shot-put. His discus throw was 137 feet.

Chicago, May 15.—University of Chicago tennis players won the first conference contest of the season, defeating Ohio State. MacNeal, Chicago, won from Wiestwein, Ohio, 6-2, 6-4, and Bennett, Chicago, took two out of three sets from Carran, Ohio, 2-6, 6-3 and 6-4. Doubles were postponed because of rain.

DULUTH HAS MATERIAL FOR GREAT SENIOR EIGHT

The Question Is Whether Ten Eyck Will Send His Men After Sculling Honors—It Looks as If Duluth Could Develop Fastest Eight in Its History.

(By Port Oar.)

What is the best for Duluth in the rowing line? What policy will give Duluth, and the boys that row in the boats the most honor? Shall we put the senior eight on the shelf and go after only the sculling events and the senior four, or shall we put forth our best efforts to land the senior eight, four and the championship singles? Which is the most important?

The senior eight winners at the national regatta are the champions of America as they defeat the best crews from both Canada and the United States. The winners of the various other events at the national, with the possible exception of the championship single are soon forgotten, but the senior eight winners are heralded far and wide. They figure in the list of champions for the year in all the big city papers around Christmas time. The personnel of the crew is given with usually the qualifications of each man. From the standpoint of honor for the oarsman it is safe to say that the majority of men would leave no stone unturned to get in a winning senior eight at the national. This event has been the big thing in every regatta since rowing began and the winners are considered champions in every sense of the word.

Duluth's Position.

Duluth this year is in a peculiar position. She has won the senior eight for two years straight and there is a tendency on the part of those interested in the work to confine to sculling. With the present material it is figured that Duluth could cop the two senior fours and the intermediate single and double at the national regatta with Horak, D. Moore, Rheinberger and P. Moore, Kent and Hoover, it is figured could take care of the quarter-mile dash, association senior single, championship single and the senior double, and that with the combined efforts of the six men mentioned and a third man to be selected that the quadruple event could also be won. This is a total of nine events, truly a wonderful performance if we could carry it through. But would it pay us for the loss of the one grand event, the senior eight. The events are all minor events when compared with the senior eight and it is a question whether volume of wins would pay up for the loss of the prize event of American rowing. Would Duluth as a city receive as much advertising from the rowing if she were not the champion of champions? Would the boys themselves receive as much glory from the winning of a sculling event as they would if they were a member of the best crew in America? We do not think that they would.

The Senior Eight.

The lineup for the senior eight for this season as now figured by Coach Ten Eyck is as follows:

Bow, P. Moore, 147; 2, Rheinberger, 146; 3, Whiteside, 168; 4, Hall, 168; 5, Hoover, 165; 6, Kent, 175; 7, D. Moore, 155; 8, Horak, 146.

Ten Eyck says his eight ought to be considerably faster than the champions of last season. In that case Duluth ought to stand a royal good chance to win the rowing plum of American rowing again and hold the championship for Duluth. This combination would also take care of the championship four and it is figured that either Kent or Hoover will grab off the championship single. Now here are the three big championships of American rowing, the eight, four and single. These three races would be a greater achievement than we have yet accomplished. In the event of Osman being home in time from the college races this summer it would be possible to put him in the eight in place of either Kent or Hoover and leave the faster of this pair free to row single, as Hoover can row either port or starboard. Osman could then pair up with either Kent or Hoover and it is safe to say that the senior double championship would get a strong play. In the event that Osman should prove to be the best sculler the same program would hold good. This plan gives us an entry in seven races with a strong chance in each race and what is more important than all the others we will be there strong in the senior eight, senior four and championship single, and if we win we are champions not only in the sweep events, but in the sculling as well. With the opportunity that this lineup presents, is it worth while to pass up the senior eight for the sake of entering in an intermediate sculling event or two? By all means let us go after the big things, for Duluth is doing that every day.

Junior Doubles.

Forsell and Hagberg are sculling every day with the prospect of making a strong junior and intermediate double. Grant is daily improving in his single work and is counted on for the junior and intermediate single. A good quadruple will no doubt also be figured out from among the scullers. The intermediate eight and four, of course, are possibilities at present, but from the appearance of the material two good crews are expected.

The latter plan will give Duluth an entry in every event at the national regatta, held at Springfield, Mass., Aug. 13 and 14, with a mighty good chance in each race. A total of twelve races, a larger entry than any other club ever made. This plan looks to us to be the most feasible one and the one that would bring the most glory to Duluth.

Senior Eight Material.

Let us look at the men in the proposed senior eight for 1915. As stroke of the crew we have Dave Horak, who began his career in 1912, rowing No. 2 in the winning bantam four at Winnipeg. In 1913 Horak was shifted to stroke of the junior four and later put in stroke of the junior eight as well. During that season he stroked in six winning races, two at the Northwestern and four at the National regatta. Horak is rather light, 146, for what is supposed to be an ideal oarsman, but he makes up for this by gameness and an ability to get the work out of both himself and his crew. He is quick at both ends of the stroke and combines with this a great knowledge of pace. Horak has paid strict attention to this subject of pace, which, by the way, is a subject in itself, and above all, he has the nerve to carry out instructions in a tight place to the letter. The race at Philadelphia was a test of Horak's ability to know how and to follow instructions in regard to pace. He had the nerve at that time to open his sprint at the finish as to leave no doubt of the result once it was started. A great deal of Horak's success has been due not only to his knowledge of pace, but because of the fact that he has had power behind him. He has been the man at the throttle and any time he chose to open this same throttle the power has always been there. Horak also is stroke of the senior four, whose record is history.

Dave's Shadow.

Right behind Horak in his three seasons of rowing, and behind him in the present senior eight is "Dug" Moore. "Dug" is still a kid, but, believe us, he is some kid. He is very smooth in his movements and is right with Horak all the time; in fact, he seems to be fastened to Dave through all parts of the stroke. In a pinch he will row himself blind and his one fault is that he has not yet learned how to take it easy when his crew has a lead. He is always pulling his best and that is one reason why Horak can run up the stroke whenever he wishes for the simple reason that the power is always on. Moore weighs at present 160 pounds, but will probably not tip the beam at over 155 on race day. Straight as an arrow, quick as lightning, "Dug" is indeed a pretty oarsman. Moore also rows No. 3 in the wonderful senior four.

Kent a Neat Oarsman.

If we were picking an all-American eight from the list of past and present oarsmen the first man we would think of is big Roy Kent who pulls No. 6 oar. Roy is a Niagara Falls for power, so to speak, with his unlimited strength and whenever little Horak presses the speed button Big Roy is the dynamo that furnishes the power. Kent is undoubtedly the best oarsman in the club. With his great power he combines extreme smoothness, quickness and grace. Never yet have they been able to row Roy down into the boat. If the material were strong enough and weighted right Kent would be the man for the stroke position as he combines wonderful head work with his power and ability. Roy stroked the winning senior eight in 1913, but at no time could he hand the stroke to the crew at his full limit for the reason that they were not the type of men that belong behind the kind of an oarsman that Kent is. We would like to see seven men behind Kent that were physically able to take the stroke the way he is capable of delivering it. It would be some crew. At the present time, on account of the necessary arrangement of the weights in the boat and the type of the men, Kent has to have his power harnessed in at No. 6, where it is always on tap when the occasion requires. Kent is no doubt the main spring of the present combination and is truly a wonderful oarsman on a sweep as well as for his cleverness in a single.

Hoover's Worth.

At No. 5 we have Walter McCall Hoover, the kid who startled the rowing fans in this section last summer by his rapid rise in the single sculling game. Hoover is not the prettiest oarsman in the world, but his last name is fight. He is wonderfully quick with his hands and his blade work is excellent. Hoover will weigh about 168 pounds in good condition this year and every pound of it is rowing muscle, the kind of muscle that is long and pliable and untiring. No boat with Hoover in it can be dead for he is always eager to be on the move. The sculling that the barefoot boy has been doing has made him a much improved oarsman over his initial appearance two seasons ago. Walter has the rare ability with a little practice to row on either side of the boat. Hoover is one of the men that is looked upon as the winner of the championship single this year.

One Newcomer.

No. 4 seat is filled by a newcomer to the senior ranks, Francis Hall, the son of the Duluth traffic commissioner, is holding down this seat in a constantly improving style. Hall will weigh 168 pounds in trained condition and again he is one of those boys who does not show a muscle, the kind of muscle that is conceeded by rowing critics as being the best. The staying qualities of this boy Hall are his one best asset. No matter how fast the stroke comes he is always there with the wallop. His body and blade work will stand improving, but with a season among the men already mentioned Hall should make a mighty good boy. The brain and the body are there and the result should be acceptable.

At No. 3 we have another kid that made his appearance in the winning junior and intermediate eight of last year; Charlie Whiteside. Whiteside is one good boy. He went down to Syracuse university last fall to row under Ten Eyck's father who has put him in at stroke in the freshmen crew. With Frank Williams, another Duluth boy, right behind him at No. 7, Whiteside's crew is beating the Syracuse varsity crew in their daily races and will no doubt go to the American Henley at Philadelphia, May 23, to compete against the varsity crews of Yale, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Navy. Whiteside will weigh about 168 and that the No. 3 seat will be well filled there is no doubt.

No. 2 seat is occupied by Max Rheinberger, the boy who rows No. 2 in the championship senior four. The fact that Rheinberger holds a seat in this great four gives him an entrance in any kind of rowing company. Max started his career with Horak, as No. 3 in the 1912 winning bantam four. The following year he changed over to the starboard side, a hard task for any man, and rowed No. 2 in both the four and eight that cleaned up that year. Rheinberger is a student of rowing. He is a careful conserver of his energy as all light men must be at times but when the pinch comes Max is there with the goods forty ways from the deuce. By this we do not mean to infer that Max is a shirker, he is far from that. He is a great judge of pace and knows how to conserve his strength when his crew is ahead, which is proper and right. We have seen this boy in some gruelling practice races and we know that he is class all the way through.

Phil Moore Is Wise.

Last, but far from the least, we have wise Phil Moore, who not only rows bow in the eight but holds the same position in that same wonderful four that has won so many times. Phil is the best bow man we have ever had the pleasure of seeing. In a four he steers as true as a die, and takes advantage of every inch in a course. Good bow men are hard to find but in P. Moore Ten Eyck has a gem. Cool, and clever with his oar, Moore is the life of his end of the boat. In a tight race one can hear him yip out now and then in a manner which lets the stern men know that they are not doing all the work and that his end of the boat is there every minute. Phil is the daddy of the four as well as being the oldest in the eight. Here again as in the case of the others there is class in the highest sense, for Moore has the brain to make his body respond and come through in the pinches which game class is something higher and greater than mere gameness.

Individually and collectively this eight is a great combination. There should be speed and lots of it here but the boys must work harder than ever before to develop it sufficiently to pull down the big event this season. The New York Athletic club will have a wonderful crew. They have the stroke and two others from the fast Cornell university eight of last year, a man from the University of Pennsylvania varsity that finished second at Poughkeepsie last June and four other excollege varsity oars.

The Union Boat Club of Boston will present an eight composed of men who finished first and second at the Henley royal regatta in England last July. Men from the Harvard and Union B. C. crews who rowed in that race. Then, too, our old friends, the Argonauts of Toronto, will be there. These Argonauts are never beaten and have a great habit of coming back.

Our boys are not as far advanced from the standpoint of condition at the present time as a year ago on account of the sculling they have been doing. They have been paying more attention to learning how to scull than to getting into condition and it will now be necessary for them to work hard and get a foundation on which to work. Let us hope that with the arrival of the launch, new boats and oars the boys will soon swing into their old stride to be used as a foundation for greater speed than ever before. Champions in the eight, four and single is what we want at least. Let other victories come, if possible, but make these sure.

TWO GAMES SUNDAY.

The Duluth Amateur Baseball association will play one game tomorrow, and there will be one non-league game, at the Athletic park.

The Moose lodge 595, will play the Canadian Northern nine at 3 p. m. The batteries for the Moose are Morris and Flynn; Canadian Northern, Lenholm, Rossiter and Bishoff.

Previous to this game at 1:30 the Palace billiard hall team will play the Twin Ports nine. This team is not in the league. The billiard hall team was formerly the Sodality nine.

DULUTH TEAM MEETS FAIT

Gets Trimmed at Fargo By Rather Top-Heavy Score.

Three Pitchers Used; Fargo Hurler Has One Bad Inning.

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fait, pitching for Fargo, was not troubled by Duluth players in yesterday's game, the tossers from the Head of the Lakes getting only three hits off him; but Darby O'Brien's offerings in the way of hurlers were sadly deficient in keeping the local players from finding them. They were too apparent at all times, with the result that the score stood, when the ruckus was over, at 11 to 5, with the visitors on the short end.

O'Brien put in three pitchers. Postum started but was too good for Fargo's digestion, so he was pulled out and a man by the prosaic name of Jones was put in. Shredded Wheat being lacking, Jones, however, was fully as bad as the coffee substitute and was soon derricked. Hoffman finished the game with no chance to win.

Fait's only bad inning was the sixth, when he allowed two bases on balls, let loose one wild pitch, presented Ford with a double and allowed a steal, the combination netting three runs. Brammell was walked in the first, advanced by a sacrifice and scored by a hit. Collins walloped the ball for a triple in the fourth and scored on an out at first. Score:

Superior Badly Trimmed.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 15.—Two terrific drives by Flaherty and Anderson, with bases loaded in the second and fifth innings, each good for three sacks, won yesterday's game for Grand Forks against Superior, 10 to 5. Superior uncorked six errors in the first three innings, and eight stolen bases by the Forkers also entered into the run-getting. Score:

Phillies 5; Pirates 3.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Philadelphia overcame a lead of three runs and won yesterday's game by hard hitting in the seventh and eighth innings. Two runs were scored off Mamaux in the seventh on four singles, and three were made off Adams in the eighth on Gravath's home run, singles by Whitted and Dugey and doubles by Nicholff and Paskert. St. Louis 5; Boston 4.

Boston, Mass., May 15.—Held to two hits and without runs for eight innings yesterday, St. Louis, in the ninth, overcame Boston's lead and won 5 to 4. Five singles, an error by Maranville when a double play was possible, and two misplays by Cather contributed to the visitor's scoring. Gowdy knocked the ball into center field for a home run and again rapped it for a double against a sign on the left field fence, offering $25 for any ball striking it. Score:

Win in a Romp.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 15.—Chicago made twenty-three hits for a total of thirty-five bases on three Brooklyn pitchers yesterday and won 15 to 4, the season's record score for Ebbets field, if not the National league. Twelve Cubs went to bat in the second and hammered out eight runs off six singles and two triples. Williams hit for the left for a home run in the ninth. Standridge was effective except in the fifth when two passes, a single and Meyer's triple gave Brooklyn three runs. Kniseley made five hits in six times up. Score:

Colonels Lose to Kaws.

Kansas City, Mo., May 15.—Kansas City made a clean sweep of the series, winning the fourth game from Louisville here yesterday. Taylor, who started for the visitors, was replaced in the second by Scanlon, who also was hammered hard in that inning, but later steadied. In the second inning, Titus tripled with the bases full. ILLINOIS CLUB WINS.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 15.—Before an immense crowd last night, the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago won five of the six swimming events staged by the Sportsmen's show in the Auditorium.

Harry J. Hebner of the I. A. C., came within a second of equaling the world's record for 220 yards. His time was 2:26 2-5; C. Brown of the Hamilton club, Chicago, second, and W. L. Wallen, Jr., H. C., third.

Hebner won the 100-yard back stroke in 1:15 1-5.

The plunge for distance was won by B. H. Princell, H. C., distance 64½ feet.

The six-man relay race for 300 yards was easy for the I. A. C. team. Time, 2:41 1-5.

The fancy diving contest was taken by A. W. Hartung, I. A. C., from J. Battersvy, I. A. C., with a triple somersault.

JIM JEFFRIES, ILL OF PNEUMONIA. PASSES CRISIS.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 15.—James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion of the world, who has been ill of pneumonia for the past four days, was said last night to be past the crisis of the illness.

Jeffries contracted a severe cold nine days ago, which developed into pneumonia.

COLLEGE BASEBALL

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 15.—Koob, of the Kalamazoo Normal college, pitched his second no-hit game of the year here yesterday against the Ypsilanti normal. Kalamazoo won 6 to 1, the locals' one run being scored on three errors.

Champaign, Ill., May 15.—The University of Illinois team won from the University of Wisconsin 5 to 4 in a Western Conference game here yesterday. Gunkel's hitting was the deciding factor. Score:

Wisconsin	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 3 0—	4	6	1
Illinois	2 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 1—	5	7	4

Batteries—Moon and Reach; Gunkel and Bradley.

Chicago, May 15.—Northwestern university defeated Purdue in a Western conference baseball game 7 to 2 here yesterday.

At Hanover, N. H.—Game's result yesterday: Tuft, 4; Dartmouth, 2.

HARVARD-YALE MEET LIKELY TO BE CLOSE.

New Haven, Conn., May 15.—The twenty-fourth annual track meet between Harvard and Yale on Yale field this afternoon promises to be one of the most closely contested in the history of these dual matches.

On paper the teams appear evenly matched. Harvard's showing last week has caused Crimson stock to soar. Yale's chances are not as bright as they were last year, but nevertheless followers of the Blue are predicting a victory by two points.

Vicissitudes of the Game

Chicago, May 15. — Ray Schalk, catcher of the Chicago Americans, suspended Thursday for his disagreement with Umpire O'Loughlin, was restored to good standing by B. B. Johnson, president of the league.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 15.—E. Walsh, Chicago American league pitcher, whose training season was interrupted by a severe case of grippe, left yesterday for Chicago. Walsh said he was "feeling great."

New York, May 15.—Pitcher A. Mattern, formerly of the Boston Nationals and last year with the Newark Internationals, yesterday signed a contract with the Cincinnati Nationals. Mattern reported at once to Manager Herzog.

SENIORS WIN MOST EVENTS

Take Thirty Points Against Fourteen By Central Juniors.

Third-Year Athletes Hope to Overcome Lead Next Monday.

The running events of the Central high school interclass track meet were held on the Boulevard yesterday afternoon. The field events will be held on the school campus Monday afternoon.

The seniors proved the surprise of the meet yesterday, winning most of the events and getting a lead that will be hard for the other classes to cut down on Monday, when the remainder of the events will be held.

Raymond Stevens.

The fourth-year athletes collected a total of 32 points, getting five firsts, two seconds and one third. The juniors totaled 14 points, the result of one first, two seconds and three thirds. The sophomores came third with 7 points to their credit, getting two seconds and one third. The freshmen did not have any representatives in the affair. The juniors will be the favorites in the field events on Monday, and they expect to catch the seniors in the final total.

Individual honors went to Kerr and Stevens, both of the senior class, each one getting eight points and running in the winning relay team. The point-getters follow: Stevens, 8; Kerr, 8; Karon, 6; Lewis, 4; McCabe, 5; Boyd, 5; McKay, 3; Logare, 3; Anderson, 1; Burns, 1; Huber, 1.

The men were handicapped by cold weather and a stiff wind, but some good time was made nevertheless. The events carded for the remainder of the meet Monday afternoon on the school campus are the high jump, broad jump, shot put, discus throw, and pole vault. The results of the meet yesterday are as follows:

100-yard dash—Karon, first; Stevens, second; Lewis, third. Time 10 4-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Stevens, first; Lewis, second; Karon, third. Time 26 1-5 seconds.

440-yard dash, (¼ mile)—Kerr, first; McKay, second; Anderson, third. Time 57 2-5 seconds.

880-yard run, (½ mile)—McCabe, first; Kerr, second; Burns, third. Time 2 minutes 18 seconds.

Mile run—Boyd, first; Logaro, second; Huber, third. Time 5 minutes 34 1-5 seconds.

Relay race—Won by the senior team—Seymore, Collins, Boyd, Stevens.

Skull Hrutiford of the junior class and captain of the school team was ineligible to participate, in that he is a "D" man.

THREE SCHOOL TEAMS TIED

Lincoln, Irving and Adams Nines Head Western Division.

Salters and Jeffersons in Lead in Eastern Division.

Western Division.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Lincolns	8	2	.800
Adams	8	2	.800
Irvings	8	2	.800
Bryants	6	3	.667
Munroes	3	7	.300
Emersons	2	6	.250
Jacksons	2	6	.222
Lowells	0	6	.000

Eastern Division.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Salters	7	2	.778
Jeffersons	6	2	.750
Washingtons	6	3	.667
Lakesides	5	3	.625
Washburns	2	5	.286
Endions	2	6	.250
Franklins	0	7	.000

The Irvings brought about a three-cornered tie for the western leadership in the school league yesterday by winning from the Lincoln nine while the Adams team won over the Lowells. With the end of the season but a few days away, the contest has become keen. The games were fast and clean cut yesterday.

Irving took the Lincolns into camp to the tune of 22 to 15 in a remarkably well played game. The Monroes defeated the Emersons, 15 to 10, while the Adams team had a snap with the Lowells, winning by a score of 16 to 1. The Bryants won from the Jacksons, 17 to 5.

In the Eastern division Lakeside played a double header with the Franklins, winning by scores of 16 to 0, and 10 to 3. Salter defeated Washington 15 to 9 in a hard-hitting contest.

MAUSOLF WINS FROM PACIFIC COAST CRACK

In the final block of the 600-point billiard contest at the Palace theater last night, August Mausolf, the crack Duluth pocket billiard shark, defeated Byers of Pacific coast farme in a great game. The match has attracted the attention of many hundreds of Duluth billiardists, and they are loud in their praise of the local victor. With a high run of 28 as compared to his opponent's 18, Mausolf won the match, 150 to 82. The total score for the four nights was 600 for the victor and 531 for Byers.

Win at Polo.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Point Judith defeated Devon by a score of 9½ to 7 in the opening game of the polo tournament at Bryn Mawr yesterday. The winners scored 11 goals, but lost 1½ by penalty. Devon was allowed four goals by handicap and scored three.

VETERANS UP AMONG LEAGUE LEADERS IN STICK PERCENTAGE

Chicago, May 15.—Veterans of the American league are assuming places among its leading batters, according to averages published here today. Jacques Fournier of Chicago still leads the league with .433, but Cobb, Detroit, has attained second place in the last week, now batting .400, and the first ten include: Lapp, Philadelphia, .400; Crawford, Detroit, .380; Jackson, Cleveland, .348; Kavanaugh, Detroit, .330; McInnis, Philadelphia, .321; Lewis, Boston, .318; Turner, Cleveland, .316; Lajoie, Philadelphia, .314. Maisel, New York, with 13, has most stolen bases, Detroit, with .287, and Chicago, with .257, lead in club batting.

Undefeated pitchers of the American league who are credited with two or more victories are: Dauss, Detroit, with 6; Fisher, New York, with 5; Benz, Chicago, 3, and Shaw, Washington, 2.

Luderus Leads.

Fred Luderus, Philadelphia, has displaced Groh, Cincinnati, as leader in the National. His average is .396 to Groh's .388. Then come Connolly, Boston, .386; Clarke, Cincinnati, .364; Good, Chicago, .356; J. Smith, Boston, .337; Saier, Chicago, .337; Leach, Cincinnati, .333; Lobert, New York, .326; G. Burns, New York, Killifer, Philadelphia, and Williams, Chicago, .321 each. Cincinnati leads in club batting with .279 and Boston with .273 is next. Manager Roger Bresnahan, with 11 stolen bases, is leading the league.

Pitchers setting the pace are Pierce, Chicago, with four victories and no defeats, and Ragan, Boston; Schneider, Cincinnati; Meadows, St. Louis; James, Boston, and Coombs, Brooklyn, with two wins and no defeats.

In Federal League.

Manager Lee Magee of Brooklyn has hammered his way to the leadership in the Federal league and also is setting the pace for the base stealers. His batting average is .412 and he has 12 thefts to his credit. In fact, the first four places among the batters are held by Brooklyn players as following Magee. The first eleven include Westerzill, Brooklyn, .407; Knauff, Brooklyn, .396; Cooper, Brooklyn, .368; Flack, Chicago, .365; Hanford, Chicago, .358; Mann, Chicago, .357; Bradley, Pittsburgh, .355; Scheer, New York, .350; Duncan, Baltimore, and Easterly, Kansas City, .340 each. In team hitting, Brooklyn with .288 and Baltimore with .267 are ahead. Leading pitchers are Allen, Pittsburgh, with 6 wins and no losses, and Prendergast, Chicago, with 3 and 0.

Gharrity Star of Association.

Gharrity of Minneapolis is ahead in the American association. His average is .500 for thirteen games. Then comes Paddock, St. Paul, .448; McMillan, Indianapolis, .406; Butcher, Indianapolis, .400; Leilvelt, Kansas City, .391; Beall, Milwaukee, .374; Gardner, Cleveland, .365; Clemons, Louisvile, .362; Cashion, Minneapolis, .350; Southworth, Cleveland; Barbeau, Milwaukee, and Compton, Kansas City, .341 each. Indianapolis with .295 and Minneapolis with .291 lead in club batting. Bronkie, Indianapolis, leads the base stealers with 10. Ellis of Louisville and Tipple of Indianapolis are credited with 2 victories and no defeats.

Haley of Providence leads the batters of the International league with .467. Richmond with .298 leads the league in team batting.

Jenkins of Atlanta leads the Southern association batters with .419. Nashville with .283 is leading the league in team hitting.

Mogride, Des Moines, leads the Western league batters with .556 for five games. Lincoln with .278 and Des Moines with .275 lead in club batting. Leading pitchers are Harrington, Denver, with 3 victories and no defeats, and Marveson, Lincoln, with 2 and 0.

SEEK REVENGE ON THE TRACK

Gophers Hope to Win Over Cornhuskers in Field Day Event.

Freshman Ties World Record in 100-Yard Dash at University.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minnesota and Nebraska track teams compete in the last intercollegiate meet at Northrop field today. The meet last year was in Lincoln, and the Nebraskans humbled Minnesota by a one-point margin. This year, with the added advantage of running on their own cinder path and the prestige of the recent defeat of Iowa, the Gophers are expected to retaliate for last year's defeat.

Nebraska will bring more than twenty men to Minneapolis for this meet, and the event will practically be the samo as the one that humbled Minnesota last year. Capt. Zumwinkle of the Cornhuskers is said to be one of the fastest men in the West in the dashes and in the quarter. Ries, Irwin and Scott in the dashes, Goetze in the mile and the hurdles, McMaster in the two-mile and Deering in the shotput, are all athletes of no mean reputation and have all won first places in intercollegiate meets. The Cornhuskers will be represented besides those named, by Ralph Anderson, R. B. Ankeny, Clark, Bates, Gribble, E. L. Butterlet, S. A. Henry, R. Hill, L. Hummel, K. Israel, G. Kratz, F. C. Reavis, H. Rees, P. Sloan, D. V. Spohn, R. B. Rutherford, C. V. Lohman, Chamberlain and Webermeier.

Records of Teams.

Judging from past records, Minnesota appears to be the strongest of the two teams in the dashes and the distance events, while the Cornhuskers have the advantage in the matter of hurdles and field events. Minnesota will be represented by the same team that entered the Iowa meet.

Minnesota will meet its time-honored rival, Wisconsin, in the two contests next week. On Thursday the baseball team will travel to Madison to do battle with the Badgers and on the Saturday following, the Gopher track team will meet the Wisconsin team in a dual meet on Randall field.

Last Saturday, L. O. Johnson, a freshman at the university, tied the world's record in the 100-yard dash, when competing in the all-freshman meet, covering the distance in 9 3-5 seconds. He was timed by several different watches. Moersch and McVeedy also displayed rare form in their performances in the high jump and the hurdles. Moersch was first in both hurdle events, but McVeedy pushed him hard. These two athletes tied for first place in the high jump with a record of 5 feet and 7 inches. McVeedy was first in the broad jump with 19 feet and 5 inches. Davis threw the 16-pound hammer 128 feet and Gillen hurled the discus 112 feet 8 inches. Either of these marks is considered good for a place in a conference event. George Bierman, a brother of Al and Bernie, displayed some rare speed in the dashes. The winners of places yesterday will make up the freshman team in the annual meet with the sophomores on May 28.

Phi Delts Win Cups.

By defeating the Theta Delts in the bowling finals yesterday afternoon, the team representing Phi Gamma Delta captured the annual bowling cup offered by the court alleys, as well as the interfraternity cup. The latter trophy has during the last year been in the possession of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, and will now pass over to the Phi Gams until next year. The scores of the two matches played were 818-785, 854-830.

The varsity track team will be confronted by a big problem in the annual dual meet with Nebraska on Northrop field tomorrow. Last year the Cornhuskers defeated Minnesota by one point and many of the same men will be here to compete again. Capt. Zumwinkle of the Nebraska team is the star performer, though he must share honors with not a few others, for the Cornhuskers seem to have no dearth of track material of a high order. Zumwinkle runs the dashes and the quarter mile. Among others whom the Gophers have reason to fear because of past performances are Ries, Irwin and particularly Scott in the dashes; Geoize in the mile and hurdles, and Deering in the shotput. McKay of Minnesota will be pitted against Reaves, a pole vaulter with an enviable reputation. John Martin will have to fight it out with Hummel, football man, in the high jump. Though Nebraska has been defeated by Kansas and Ames in close meets this year, Minnesota is not over-confident of a victory. Coach Frank believes that the Gophers will shine in the distance events and have a good show in the hurdles and dashes. In the field events, however, Minnesota is yet weak. Training was somewhat retarded by last week's rainy spell, but with the remainder of the week fair, the varsity men have easily regained the form they showed in the Iowa meet a couple weeks ago. At present all members of the team are in first-class condition and will at least give Nebraska a hard rub, if they do not gain entire revenge for last year's defeat.

Sigma, Psi Try-Outs.

Sigma Delta Psi trials are scheduled again for next Monday at 5 p. m., when the 100-yard dash, the two-mile run and high jump will be the events for qualification. Only a few more trials in events necessary for admission to the athletic fraternity will be held this year, but a number of men are expected to complete their qualifications before the season is over. Qualification must be made in twelve events in order to gain Sigma Delta Psi membership. For senior grade the requirements are in the 100-yard dash, 11 3-5 seconds; two-mile run, 12 minutes 15 seconds; high jump, 5 feet. Junior requirements in these events are: 100-yard dash, 12 seconds; two-mile run, 14 minutes; high jump, 4 feet 6 inches.

Gophers Beat Carleton.

The Minnesota baseball team took the Carleton team into camp Wednesday, to the tune of 9 to 4. This is Minnesota's second victory over Carleton this year. The varsity tucked the game away in the third inning by knocking the cover off the ball, thereby garnering five runs. Bee Lawler staged a field day all of his own, getting a three-bagger, a two-base hit and six put-outs. "Rube" Pennington let the Carleton team down with six widely scattered hits and struck out seven men. Errors did not figure largely in the result, Minnesota being chalked up with two, and Carleton being guilty of three misplays.

The Women's Athletic association is planning a field meet which will take place in the near future. There will be a program representing the various forms of spring athletics for girls. This will be followed by a picnic supper.

The interfraternity baseball schedule is well under way, and the Greeks are out before breakfast every morning working up a healthy appetite. The games are hotly contested and are developing some excellent baseball material. The games are watched by almost as big crowds as the varsity games, the different fraternities turning out to cheer their teams on to victory.

GREAT COLLEGIATE BOAT RACE EXPECTED.

Princeton, N. J., May 15.—Cornell, Yale and Princeton were given final workouts on Lake Carnegie yesterday afternoon in preparation for their triangular race today.

Never have three crews so uniformly good been seen here, and it should be a battle to the finish. The drawings of positions gave the west course to Cornell, the middle to Princton and the canal bank to Yale.

Ouimet's Good Form.

Brookline, Mass., May 15.—Francis Ouimet, national amateur golf champion, in the first round of match play for the spring cup at the country club yesterday, against H. P. Farrington of Woodland, made the third hole, 435 yards, and the eighth, 375 yards, in three strokes each, and won five up, three to play.

Advertise to Strangers

Friends know all about you and appreciate your goods and service.

You must advertise to turn strangers into friends.

You must make them want to come and get acquainted. After that it is up to you to hold them as valued patrons.

The newspaper advertising columns are the ideal introducer.

They bring your message with the newspaper's good will behind it.

They reach the strangers you want to turn to friends.

THE GOOD JUDGE READS BUT DOESN'T HEED THE WARNING.
PAL, I WOULDN'T PICK THE JUDGE'S POCKET, BUT IF YOU GET ANY REAL TOBACCO CHEW, WE SPLIT 50-50.
THAT'S ALL RIGHT CULLY! HE'D GIVE IT TO US BUT I DON'T LIKE TO ASK HIM FOR IT.

A MIGHTY mean man who will swipe the Real Tobacco Chew. Easy enough to ask—and everybody knows that users are glad to tell other men about the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

TRAIN TIME IS CHANGED

Northern Pacific Suburban Train on New Schedule Monday.

Increase in Fares to Steel Plant District Is Announced.

The Northern Pacific railroad this morning officially announced a change in its train service between Duluth and Fond du Lac. The evening train which now leaves Duluth at 6:10 o'clock will, on week days, leave the city at 5:35 o'clock. The change will go into effect on Monday, but the Sunday trains will run on the present schedule.

Road officials say that they are between two fires in trying to accommodate the people of the western end of the city. New Duluth people do not want a change in the schedule, while an earlier train is insisted on by the West Duluth contingent.

They state that the company is unable to place an extra train in the service owing to the excess of the cost over the receipts.

Another change that will probably not be favorably received by any of the residents of the western suburbs is that of the increase in the fare. The present charge from West Duluth is 16 cents to New Duluth and 22 cents to Fond du Lac. On Monday the fare will be 21 cents to New Duluth and 27 cents to Fond du Lac. Smithville and the steel plant districts will be similarly affected.

JUNIORS WIN ATHLETIC MEET

Defeat Other Three Classes in Track and Field Sports.

Members of the junior class of the R. E. Denfeld high school outstripped their competitors representing other classes at the interclass athletic meet held yesterday afternoon. The points scored were 37 2-3 by the juniors; 25 by the seniors, 23 by the freshmen and 13 1-3 by the sophomores.

Raw weather and a high wind are given as one reason why a better showing was not made in the various events by all of the students. Hugh Myles of the freshman class starred for his class, winning all of the points for the class. The following is the list of events and places won by the participants:

One hundred-yard dash — Lemieux, first; Deutsch, second; Myles, third; Rosborough, fourth. Time, 11 seconds.

One mile run—Mayhew, Moore, Jacobson, LeFaivre. Time, 5 minutes 21 seconds.

Shot put—Donald. Meyers, G. Johnson, V. Johnson. Thirty-three feet two inches.

Four hundred forty-yard dash—Myles, Deutsch, Rosborough, Newsome. Time, 61 1-5 seconds.

High jump—Moore, Allen and Dunstan, tied for first; Lemieux, Four feet nine inches.

Broad jump—Myles, Lemieux, Moore, Rosborough. Sixteen feet seven inches.

Half-mile run—Rosborough, Allen, Mayhew, Erickson. Time, 2:31 3-5.

Two hundred twenty-yard dash—Lemieux, Myles, Deutsch, Ashbeck. Time, 25 4-5 second.

Pole vault—Myles; Moore and Martin, tied for second; Allen. Seven feet six inches.

Norwegian Pageant.

Edda lodge No. 15, Daughters of Norway, has planned a "Feast in the Land of the Midnight Sun" for its annual spring festival to be held next Thursday evening at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. The celebration will be in the nature of an elaborate national pageant and members of the order will be dressed in costumes of their native land.

One of the features will be a drill by small girls who will be in costume. Following the program different dainties of Norway will be served by various members. Mrs. J. J. Olson is chairman of the committee. On the serving committee will be Mrs. P. Lund, Mrs. L. Larson, Mrs. N. Sorenson, Mrs. L. H. Hanson, Mrs. M. Holterud, Mrs. O. Thornes and Mrs. P. Wick.

WEST DULUTH BUILDERS

OTTO HALLER.

"Get a reputation."

That is the request you get from Otto Haller when you meet him and begin to relate some exceptionally good story about a "catch of fish."

Otto says he has his from the story he told last summer. It was this way: While out at Pike lake with a party of friends he went fishing. The fish were not biting very well and more time was used in swapping stories and watching the blue smoke from their pipes going into the air than anything else.

Just about the time the most interesting stories were being told, Otto glanced towards his hook. Swimming lazily towards the boat, he saw a large sized pike. The fish approached closer. Suddenly Otto made a grab and with a quick move he had the fish landed in the boat. Since then when asked what kind of bait he used he says he has no use for any.

When not telling the story of his catch, Mr. Haller devotes his time to disposing of hardware for the Northern Hardware company, or trying to devise some scheme for entertainment. He is just now creating a sentiment for some kind of a celebration in West Duluth for July 4.

FIGHT WILL BE CONTINUED

New Duluth Citizens Say Late Train Is Necessity.

West Duluth Support If Early Train Is Not Jeopardized.

Members of the New Duluth Commercial club will fight any proposition of the Northern Pacific railroad to remove from service a train leaving the Duluth Union depot after 6 o'clock in the evening. This decision was reached following discussions which lasted until well after midnight last night at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club. This change in train schedule was officially announced by Northern Pacific officials this morning to take place Monday.

"We cannot afford to be injured by the removal of this train," said R. L. Taylor, secretary of the New Duluth club, who with Fred W. Damkroeger, president of the club, A. A. Anderson of New Duluth and H. H. Graff of Smithville attended the meeting. "We have had a hard time to exist during the last winter. Many of our men have been out of employment and have had to resort to getting work uptown. Many of these men are home owners in New Duluth and if the train service now established is taken away from them it will mean that they will have to dispose of their homes and move uptown.

"We are pioneering in the westernmost suburb. We are naturally weaker than you are and we ask your support. Unless we can get your support many people will be injured."

Thomas Olafson told of the recent interview with the railroad officials and said that the officials had already posted the change of time of trains to take place Monday. The New Duluth train he said would leave the union depot at 5:25 instead of 6:10 as at present. He said this would provide a train leaving the steel plant for Duluth at about 6:30 o'clock. The club's committee he said had insisted on an earlier train from the steel plant and would not support any move which would not include such a train.

A. C. Anderson spoke of the Northern Pacific getting higher rates than in former years for its freight hauling. The switching charges now were charged at straight freight rates from Duluth when handling cars of foreign roads, being now from $15 to $20 a car instead of the former $5 rate.

At the close of the meeting the members of the club pledged to give its moral support to assist the New Duluth people in maintaining a train service from the city after 6 o'clock. The visitors were told that any petition from them would be supported by the West Duluth people provided it did not affect an earlier train from the steel plant to West Duluth.

Edward Payson Howell Dead.

Sorrento, Fla., May 15.—Edward Payson Powell, 82, veteran journalist, and author, died at his home here yesterday. He was stricken early in the day while on a fishing trip with his daughter. Mr. Powell was born at Clinton, N. Y., and was ordained as a Congregational minister in 1861. Ten years later he left the ministry to become editorial writer of the St. Louis Globe Democrat and subsequently was connected with other publications.

FREE ADVICE NOT NEEDED

West Duluth Club Members Opposed to Auxiliary Commission.

Discussion of Rotary Club Plan Results in Lively Session.

to confer with the city commissioners was not favorably received by members of the West Duluth Commercial club, according to expressions of opinions given by members at the meeting of the club last night. The sentiment was anything but in favor of the project, although at the close of the discussion it was proposed to send three members of the club to confer with the Rotary club at a meeting to be held two weeks hence.

William Burgess presented, on behalf of the Rotary club, the project of the advisory commission. He said that the scheme had first been considered at a meeting of the Stirrup club and that the Rotary club had later been asked to father it. He said that T. T. Hudson, member of the charter commission, had stated the commissioners had not lived up to the intent of the charter and that instead of the entire commission being the governing body it had proved to be a "one man" rule. He read the proposed by-laws for the organization, which he said would exclude the real estate exchange as well as the builders' exchange, but did include membership for the Duluth Trades assembly.

Only a Hindrance.

The opposition to the scheme was started by Charles G. Futter, secretary to Former Commissioner R. Murchison of the public works department. He said he doubted if the commissioners would lay their plans in advance before the proposed federation and that he was opposed to it on the grounds that such a federation would only prove a hindrance to the commissioners and would accomplish no good.

At this point Mr. Burgess asked who the commissioners were if not paid servants. David Sang responded by saying that just now they are "our paid bosses."

Talks opposing the scheme were made by David Sang, Thomas Olafson, P. H. Martin, Emil J. Zauft, George F. Miller, R. J. Fisher and W. B. Getchell. The only members to indorse the scheme were F. A. Carlson and J. J. Frey.

The discussion led to a number of lively tilts and charges that when uptown organizations were asked assistance in boosting anything, support was immediately looked for in West Duluth. These same organizations promised support to boost West Duluth enterprises but invariably "laid down" when it came to the actual work.

"These men speak of boosting for improvements for the western end of the city," said Mr. Futter in one short time ago one of the active members in seeking this federation bitterly opposed and was successful in killing the proposed paving of First street. That paving would at least have provided a paved street part of the way to West Duluth."

The uptown organizations were also arraigned for their inactivity in assisting in getting Oneota street paved. Speakers said that this street was ordered improved nearly two years ago, and no protest had been made by the property owners. When it came to the city doing the work, the cry of "no money" was immediately put up. This city, they said, was not used on similar street improvements uptown; in fact, one member said that the commission had "begged" property owners of Second street to have that thoroughfare repaved.

Mr. Burgess said that until recently the county had been getting only about 30 cents' value of each dollar spent on roads in the county, and that only the activity of the Rotary club, which insisted on meeting with the county commissioners, had resulted in a better showing. The statement resulted in a tilt with County Commissioner Charles Kauppi, who asked when such had been the case.

"Ten years before your time," said Mr. Burgess. "In fact, I want to say that the people in your district are getting dollar for dollar expended, and that such is the case now. The county now has the best commissioners it ever had."

Mr. Burgess invited three members of the club to attend the meeting of the Rotary club on May 27, when the plans for the federation will be discussed. This was accepted by the members.

FORMER DULUTHIAN DROWNED AT SEATTLE

Clarence Lucas, former superintendent of the Lesure sawmill at the foot of Fiftieth avenue west, was drowned at Seattle, according to word received by his friends in West Duluth this morning. The accident took place about a week ago. The details of the accident were not given.

Mr. Lucas was in charge of the local sawmill several years ago. While here he made a large number of friends. He left here about ten years ago for the West.

Birthday Surprise.

BOYS ONLY IN PARADE

School Girls Will Not Be Represented in Memorial Day March.

Boys Meet Parade Official and Make Plans for Observance.

Approximately 1,500 school children will take part in the Memorial day parade on May 31.

Fifty-seven Duluth public schools will be represented. The parade will consist only of boys from the fifth grade up. Heretofore girls have marched, but this year they will not.

One hundred school boys met last evening at Memorial hall, courthouse, and discussed plans for the parade with W. W. Huntley, vice president of the Citizens' staff.

Besides the school children, the parade will be composed of members of local G. A. R. posts, companies of the state militia, the police and fire departments, civic organizations and automobiles.

The parade will begin to form at 9 o'clock in the morning. Each school represented will elect a captain, two lieutenants and two color-bearers. Judges will be scattered along the line of march, and prizes will be awarded to the school making the best showing.

The schools represented at the meeting and the number of flags reported needed for each delegation follow:

Ensign school, George Carlson, Charles Gibson, Rudolf, 75 flags; St. Anthony de Padua, parochial school, Justin Loben, Charles Schisser, 25 flags; Cathedral high, Anton Dratrurad John Stack, 60 flags; Ely school, Nell McCauley, Arthur Lind, 20 flags; Monroe school, Frin Agre, Carl Martin; Oneota school, Ivan Pearson, Edward Murray; Whittier school, Glen Hund, Arthur Jenson, 14 flags; Jackson school, Robert Benda, Lyman Anderson, 48 flags; Bryant school, Earl Moier, George Atchley, 75 flags; Colbyville school, Clement Kreider, Philip Murdock, 19 flags; Radisson school, Harry Chamberlain, 14 flags; Merritt school, Gunner Johnson, Theodore Root, 150 flags; Washburn school, Herbert Berg, Brewer Mattocks, 30 flags; Salter school, Francis Schober, Philip R. E. Schmid, 70 flags; Webster school, Neal McKenzie, Amos Blackwood, Onnie Lanel, 60 flags; and Longfellow school, Clarence Huth, Erving Eajen, 30 flags.

SUBWAYS ARE NOW ASSURED

City Will Vacate Twenty-two Streets and Alleys Monday.

Contract With the Missabe Railway Is Finally Signed.

Final steps for the vacation of twenty-two streets and alleys near Highland street and the construction of three subways under the D., M. & N. tracks at West Duluth were taken shortly before noon today, when officials of the railroad signed the contract with the city, and Mayor Prince announced that the resolutions authorizing such action on the part of the commission will be presented next Monday evening.

H. L. Dresser, chief engineer for the D., M. & N., and George W. Morgan, attorney, represented the railroad at the conference held in the mayor's office. They announced that all matters that had held up final action for the last two months were settled this morning, and the contracts could be signed. They both affixed their signatures to the contract, in which the road agrees to build subways under the tracks at Highland street, Sixty-third and Sixty-seventh avenues west, in return for which the city will vacate twenty-two streets and alleys.

At the council meeting Monday evening Mayor Prince will introduce twenty-two resolutions authorizing the vacation of the streets and another resolution giving the commission power to enter into the above contract with the railroad. The commissioners, the mayor said, all favor the proposition and there is no doubt as to the passage of the resolutions.

The Highland street subway is the principal one, construction work having already been started by the road. There will be an expenditure totalling $45,000, including the lengthy approaches and the subway proper. Connecting with the two approaches will be the new Highland street pavement now under construction by the Gilman-Murphy-Patterson company. The other two subways will both be small and will not entail a very large expense.

The construction of the subway at Highland street was proposed several years ago by the West Duluth Commercial club and only recently did W. A. McGonagle, president of the road, decide to take final action on the matter.

"MOST HELPFUL THING YET DEVELOPED," SAYS BARNES

"I consider this decision of the interstate commerce commission, ordering the divorcement of the lake-and-rail lines, as the most important and helpful thing for Duluth that has developed."—Special telegram from Julius H. Barnes, chairman of Duluth Traffic commission now in New York.

The decision of the interstate commerce commission, ordering that lake-and-rail lines be divorced by Dec. 15, this year, handed down today in Washington, and forecasted some days ago in The Herald, is considered by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the Duluth traffic commission, and by traffic men here as one of the most important transportation decisions, if not the most important to Duluth, that has ever been given by the commission.

Traffic Commissioner G. Roy Hall of the Duluth Commercial club, is in Washington, appearing before the commission in another rate case, and could not be reached, but a few days ago, through the columns of The Herald, he explained in detail the fight that has been made for the divorcement and what it will mean to Duluth.

Other traffic men of the city are fully as jubilant as Mr. Barnes, who is quoted above. One of them said today concerning the decision:

"At last the waterways of the Great Lakes are free. After being controlled for a quarter of a century by the railroads to keep out competition, independents may now enter the business of merchandise carrying and compete. That means a better rate system, cheaper transportation, real competition, and more modern methods of handling freight than we have had.

"It will not be long until the ancient and cumbersome methods of handling package freight from dock to boat and vice versa, will give place to modern machinery, for, to compete, the various lines will have to take steps to economize in this particular, both as to expenditure and as to time. Only machinery will solve the problem. I believe that better steamers and greater dispatch will result as well as better rates.

"Duluth will, with the divorcement of the lake lines and railroads, come into her own, as the greatest waterway terminal of fresh water, in which she has been hindered and handicapped for years."

LOADED WITH AMENDMENTS

Duluth's Jitney Ordinance Will Not Be Recognized Monday.

Drivers Object to Being Forced to Run on Regular Schedules.

Duluth's jitney ordinance, with about twelve amendments prepared by Capt. C. C. Teare, attorney for the Duluth Jitney association, and by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, will come up for final action at the regular council meeting next Monday evening. In addition several other important matters are to come up for consideration, including the awarding of four big contracts.

Because of the city-wide interest in the jitney ordinance and the objection raised by many of the drivers against the establishing of schedules and routes, as proposed in an amendment prepared by Commissioner Silberstein, final action may be postponed for several days. Indications are that the council chamber will be packed for the meeting.

Capt. Teare's amendments include a $5,000 liability insurance policy to cover accidents and deaths; a $5 license for small cars, $7.50 license for cars of seven passengers and a $10 license for all large cars; chains for rear wheels; the stopping of cars only at the curb or as near thereto as possible; and the carrying of no more passengers than there are seats, excepting children under 5 years of age or with the consent of the members of an entire party boarding one car. The amendments strike out the sections of the ordinance prohibiting driving in parks, the placing of a light in the rear of the car and the keeping of the left rear door locked.

Other Matters.

Besides the jitney ordinance the council will take final action on the twenty-two resolutions vacating as many streets and alleys near the Highland street subway in West Duluth. Contracts for the paving of Ninth street, from Seventh to Fourteenth avenue east, will be awarded to D. H. Clough on his bid of $24,128.24; the paving of Sixth street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-fifth avenues west, to J. W. Preston, on his bid of $12,154.85; the construction of plank walks throughout the city, to Kilton & Co., on their bid of $10,940; the construction of cement walks east of Twelfth avenue west to E. F. Hilliard, on his bid of $9,594, and the construction of sanitary sewers in Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth streets to Norquist & Berg, on their bid of $1,320.

The council will formally accept City Clerk Borgen's bond, filed this morning.

Commissioner Farrell will introduce an ordinance authorizing the purchase of twenty-five tons of asphaltic cement and five tons of fluxing oil. The ordinance appropriating $150 for the purchase of window envelopes for the water and light department and the one prohibiting the removal of electric wires by house movers, will be given their second reading.

PRESIDENT ON HIS WAY TO NEW YORK

Executive Will Review Atlantic Fleet First of the Week.

Washington, May 15.—President Wilson left Washington at 10 o'clock last night on board the yacht Mayflower for New York, where he will review the Atlantic fleet next week.

The yacht will reach New York early Monday morning. Returning, she will sail for Washington Tuesday night and arrive here Thursday morning.

With the president on the trip are Secretary Tumulty, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N.; Mrs. G. Howe, the president's sister; Mrs. Anna Cothran, his niece; Anna Cothran, his small grandniece, and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, his cousin. Miss Margaret Wilson, his eldest daughter, will meet him in New York.

The president left the White House last night after attending to a mass of routine business which had been accumulating while he was devoting his time to preparing the American note to Germany.

NO FURTHER NEWS FROM MISS BAKER

No news was received in Duluth today from the New York friends of Miss Millie Baker, the Duluth girl who was aboard the Lusitania when she was struck by a German torpedo a week ago.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. A. Baker of this city, her mother, received word from Bayard S. Cobb of New York to the effect that he had sent a description of Miss Baker to the hospital where an unidentified woman believed to be a "Miss" or "Mrs. Baker" lies ill. She was rescued when the Lusitania sank.

Duluth friends of Miss Baker are anxiously awaiting further news.

FASHIONS FOR COMING FALL

Style Committee of National Association Makes Report on Women's Apparel.

Black, Navy Blue, Green and Dark Brown the Colors.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 15.—Black, navy blue, dark brown and green will constitute the coming fall and winter season staple colors for women's wearing apparel, according to the annual report of the style committee of the National Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' association, made public here today.

The report says:

"There will be no definite line set for the length of the suit jacket, but tailored suits, cut on smartly severe lines, somewhat shaped to the form, are prominently represented. Some of the jackets are distinguished by high buttoning treatments, set-in sleeves, belted, pleated and flare effects.

"Skirts should not be longer than ankle length and the wide suit skirt, which is narrow enough to have a graceful swing, is favored. Broadcloths, worsteds, poplins, gabardines, cheviots, whipcords, serges and tweeds form the fabric basis of the suits. Many models are treated with braid and fur.

Coats for Separate Wear.

"The coats for separate wear are to be long and on somewhat closer fitting lines. They will reveal fullness glare in the skirt portion of the garment. Utility coats will be cut on loose and straighter lines.

"The high-buttoned convertible collar and set-in sleeves will be characteristic. The semi-kimona sleeve and belted effects will be seen on many of the favorite models. Plushes, velours, velvet cords and novelty pile fabrics with fur trimming will be shown, while cheviots in a variety of weaves and novelties in plaid effects and tweeds will make a strong bid for popularity."

The report continues:

"It is gratifying to note that the thought of creating styles in this country has impressed itself on the minds of the general public to such an extent that the public schools are encouraging pupils to take up various phases of this work and this movement is receiving the hearty support of the manufacturers of women's garments."

ASKS MAYOR NYE FOR TIPS

Silberstein Would Profit By Minneapolis Safety Zone Experience.

Consider Concrete Base and Illuminated Standards for Markers.

Commissoner Silberstein, head of the safety division, this morning wrote to Mayor W. G. Nye of Minneapolis for information of the safety zones established in the Mill City recently.

The commission was of the opinion yesterday that the cost of these zones should be borne by the Duluth Street Railway company, but on investigation this morning learned that the city will have to pay the expense, and he may change his mind about installing them next week, although he stated yesterday he would do so. The zones to be established in Duluth will probably follow the plan now in use in Minneapolis.

In his letter to Mayor Nye, Mr. Silberstein asked the cost, how they were operated and maintained and whether they have been successful or not.

The letter was decided upon following a conference between Commissioners Silberstein and Voss. The latter is very much in favor of the safety zone idea. It is the only method, Mr. Voss believes, for handing the heavy traffic on Superior street with safety and could be accomplished at a very little cost.

Concrete for Zones.

Commissioner Silberstein is also considering the suggestion that concrete bases, with a standard bearing red lights, be constructed at each safety zone. This would lessen the chances of accidents and would better protect persons waiting for street cars. The erection of two small standards at each zone, it is claimed, could be of great service, but for a lasting proposition the concrete base is considered more advisable. The commissioner plans to obtain information on both systems from the Minneapolis authorities before taking final action. He plans to establish fourteen zones in the downtown district, from Sixth avenue west to First avenue east.

Commissioner Voss favors the illumination of the two standards marking the safety zone, so that they can be seen at night.

The present plans of Mr. Silberstein call for a zone on the near corner on both sides of the street. When these are established the street car company will begin the near-corner stop in the downtown business district. This announcement was made Thursday by Manager Warren.

MISS BERTA SCHMIED.

THE Black and White polka, that will be danced by Miss Berta Schmied and Leo Schmied at the Lyceum theater Monday night, is the work of Miss Schmied. That it will be danced in costume is about all that is known of it as the new dance has been kept a secret and will be kept a secret until it is given before Monday night patrons of the theater. The new Parisian tango will be danced for the first time in Duluth that night by Miss Schmied and Mr. Schmied.

Monday night the Baldwin Players will celebrate the first anniversary of their appearance in Duluth with a dance on the stage after the presentation of "Mam'zelle" until 12 o'clock. The members of the audience may take part in the dancing that will be under the direction of Miss Schmied, or may remain as spectators. Peggy Peabody's Observations

Don't Dress Slovenly at Home.

A man must feel that it is no compliment to him and a defect in the woman he has married to have her other than neat in her home. It takes no great outlay of money to have pretty, clean house dresses to slip on the moment one is out of bed in the morning instead of making an untidy morning toilet.

I think the worst offense against neatness is made in the morning toilet of many of our younger matrons and maids. Somehow, women of an older generation are at least neat and cleanly in so far as their morning attire goes, though not fashionable. Many mothers still stand by the wrapper, which has come in for its share of ridicule, but at least it is designed for wear about the home and especially for household work, and is not a makeshift costume.

I really believe that most women make an effort to tidy themselves up in the afternoon. But most of the morning costumes are a disgrace to a woman who has had any sort of a bringing up or any real home surroundings. More than half the time you will see them wearing an old pair of shoes, run down at the heels or minus buttons or shoestrings as the case may be. The skirt is usually covered with spots and stains and very much the worse for wear. A faded shirtwaist or one too small, tops the skirt.

I can truthfully say that I know more women who dress themselves upon this order in the morning than I do women who dress themselves neatly. The worst of it is that they all know better and should do differently. They are ashamed when their friends catch them in this careless attire, yet they will daily persist in dressing slovenly when they start the household duties.

There is not an excuse for untidiness about the home. If you can have suitable clothes for any time or any place, surely dresses for the house are within the reach of all, and it should be the ambition of every girl, married or single, to look neat and clean at all times. When women are first married they wear pretty clothes for awhile and the next thing you know they have adopted the old habit of making old and half-worn garments serve as morning costumes.

In many instances the husband is both disappointed and disgusted with this slovenly display of clothes and mode of dressing, and a good bit of bloom is rubbed off the peach by this one bit of carelessness on woman's part.

NEWS OF DULUTH'S WOMEN CLUBS AND MUSICAL CIRCLES

Convention Plans Hold Club Women's Attention

Prepare for District Meeting This Month and the State Meeting in September---Review of Week and Forecast of Coming Week.

PREPARATIONS for the meeting of the Federated Clubs of the Eighth congressional district that will be held in Chisholm May 25 and 26 and for the convention of the federated clubs of the state that will be held in Duluth the week of Sept. 20 are occupying the attention directly or indirectly of all club women of the city. Duluth will be well represented at the Chisholm meeting and the committees in charge of the state meeting will see to it that Duluth will show real hospitality to the club women of the state who have not held a meeting here for about thirteen years.

Monday afternoon a musical and art program was given at the meeting of the Mothers' club of Emerson school.

Tuesday afternoon Senator Richard Jones addressed the Duluth Women's Suffrage association on some needed amendments to Minnesota laws and gave an interesting sketch of the conditions relating to employment agencies and state insurance. It was decided to discontinue meetings until September but a committee was appointed to take charge of any special meetings it may be thought well to call in the summer months.

At the meeting of the West Duluth study class of the Twentieth Century club that was held Tuesday afternoon a study was made of Spain, its geography, climate and history.

Mrs. W. T. Maynard and Mrs. R. C. Bennett gave a silver tea at Whittier school Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of Central W. C. T. U.

Tuesday night the Apollo club gave its spring concert and the Woman's Rotary club discussed a program for next year and Miss Lucille Shook gave a recital at the Flaaten conservatory.

College Day Plans.

The Wisconsin club met for luncheon at the Holland hotel Wednesday to discuss plans for the annual College day celebration and make arrangements to attend the Wisconsin banquet that was held at Superior last night.

Pupils of the Bradbury School of Music gave a recital last night at the Y. W. C. A. and a program was given under the auspices of the Mothers' club of Munger school at the school building.

The last meeting of the Housewives' league will be held Tuesday afternoon in the library clubroom. Reports for the year will be given and a letter of commendation from the state president will be read.

The Minnesota Music Teachers' association will give examinations to candidates for licenses Wednesday and Thursday at Central high school.

The extension committee of the Y. W. C. A., of which Mrs. T. L. Chapman is the chairman, will give a May carnival Friday night at the association building. A continuous performance consisting of a short play and "stunts" will be given.

Dean of Women at Carleton Will Address School Girls

MISS MARY L. BENTON.

THE Association of Collegiate Alumnae has invited the senior girls of the normal and high schools to a reception to be held at the Commercial club Saturday afternoon, May 29, at 2:45 o'clock. Miss Mary L. Benton, dean of women at Carleton college, will speak on "Our Young Women—the Dynamic of the Twentieth Century." This address which she delivered at the Y. W. C. A. convention that was held in the Twin Cities recently was one of the strongest speeches of the convention and made a deep impression upon her audience.

Dean Benton was formerly professor of Latin at Smith college and has many ardent admirers and friends among the Smith graduates in Duluth.

When Dr. D. J. Cowling, the president, was looking for a dean of women for Carleton college he wrote to Dr. M. L. Burton, the president of Smith college, for assistance. Dr. Burton replied that he knew of no woman who had a finer, stronger influence over girls or was better fitted in every way to be a college dean of women than Mary L. Benton.

For a number of years the Association of Collegiate Alumnae has given a reception to the senior girls as the final event of its program. Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota; Mrs. Lois Matthews, dean of women of the University of Wisconsin, and others have contributed their helpful and inspiring talks toward making these receptions enjoyable occasions.

will reach Duluth in about a week, the definite time to be announced later for the benefit of her friends here. Mrs. Wardwell, who was a prominent member of the Ceellian society, is chairman of the music committee of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Minneapolis Orchestra Now Among Three or Four Greatest

CORNELIUS VAN VLIET.

IT IS several years since the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra has appeared in Duluth. During these years the orchestra has not increased in size, but that it has increased markedly in the qualities which go to make up a finely blended group of artists is true, as not only the opinions of Minneapolis critics, but of critics in every city where the orchestra has appeared, cordially attest.

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra now holds an undisputed position among the three or four really great orchestras of this country. It has made three eastern tours, playing in practically every city east of the Rockies in which symphony orchestras, all older than the Minneapolis orchestra, are maintained. New York, Cincinnati, Kansas City, Pittsburg, Detroit and Chicago have united in unstinted praise of the present Minneapolis orchestra with an open and fair-minded freedom that bespeaks their broad-mindedness and sincerity.

The Chicago Music News of March 5, commenting upon the concert given at the close of the orchestra's eastern tour, said:

"It is said that the personnel of the Minneapolis orchestra is improved this year, and indeed after hearing them on Sunday this seems a perfectly true statement, but, after all, it is Oberhoffer who counts, for he is so all-compelling, so thoroughly colorful and electric that his men willingly give him of their best and so, spontaneously, each of his readings becomes a polished gem."

Cello Soloist.

Among the soloists at the concerts that will be given in Duluth June 4 and 5 at the Curling club will be Cornelius Van Vliet, the Dutch cellist.

Mr. Van Vliet's travels began in October, 1903, when but 17 years old he became solo cellist of the Philharmonic orchestra of Leipzig under Hans Winderstein. In Leipzig as well as on many concert tours of the orchestra, Van Vliet proved a brilliant success.

His reputation as an artist soon spread so that Oscar Nebdal, director of the Philharmonic orchestra of Prague, engaged him. With this orchestra, Van Vliet made numerous concert tours through Bohemia, Poland and Russia, always with the same success. After a brilliant season in Pawlowski, near St. Petersburg, Van Vliet stayed for a time in Helsingfors, the capital of Finland, as solo cellist of the Philharmonic orchestra.

He gave up this position in October, 1905, to become the first solo cellist of the Kaim orchestra in Munich, Germany. Here, too, success followed him and he had the honor to play on several occasions for members of the royal household, for example the Princess Ruprecht, the future queen of Bavaria.

In October, 1908, he was engaged by the famous director, Felix Weingartner as solo cellist of the Vienna Royal opera, a position which he held for three years until at last his wish to appear in America was fulfilled through his engagement with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

Children's Seats.

Members of Mrs. Elmer Whyte's committee on reservations have visited the parochial schools to extend to the students the privileges which have been given to the students of other schools of Duluth and Superior. At first it was planned to decorate the auditorium with evergreen trees, but it has been decided to devote the floor space that would be taken up by the decorations to the accommodation of school children.

Subscribers to the concerts are asked to make their remittances direct to H. S. MacGregor, secretary of the curling club, before Monday, May 17, as the allotment of seats will begin on that date and will be made in the order in which the checks are received. The subscription sale will close May 21.

Richard Horgan of Minneapolis will be in Duluth from May 17 to 20 in charge of seat allotments. He will have a down-town office for the convenience of subscribers.

NEWS OF DULUTH'S WOMEN CLUBS AND MUSICAL CIRCLES

Convention Plans Hold Club Women's Attention

Prepare for District Meeting This Month and the State Meeting in September---Review of Week and Forecast of Coming Week.

PREPARATIONS for the meeting of the Federated Clubs of the Eighth congressional district that will be held in Chisholm May 25 and 26 and for the convention of the federated clubs of the state that will be held in Duluth the week of Sept. 20 are occupying the attention directly or indirectly of all club women of the city. Duluth will be well represented at the Chisholm meeting and the committees in charge of the state meeting will see to it that Duluth will show real hospitality to the club women of the state who have not held a meeting here for about thirteen years.

Monday afternoon a musical and art program was given at the meeting of the Mothers' club of Emerson school.

Tuesday afternoon Senator Richard Jones addressed the Duluth Women's Suffrage association on some needed amendments to Minnesota laws and gave an interesting sketch of the conditions relating to employment agencies and state insurance. It was decided to discontinue meetings until September but a committee was appointed to take charge of any special meetings it may be thought well to call in the summer months.

At the meeting of the West Duluth study class of the Twentieth Century club that was held Tuesday afternoon a study was made of Spain, its geography, climate and history.

Mrs. W. T. Maynard and Mrs. R. C. Bennett gave a silver tea at Whittier school Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of Central W. C. T. U.

Tuesday night the Apollo club gave its spring concert and the Woman's Rotary club discussed a program for next year and Miss Lucille Shook gave a recital at the Flaaten conservatory.

College Day Plans.

The Wisconsin club met for luncheon at the Holland hotel Wednesday to discuss plans for the annual College day celebration and make arrangements to attend the Wisconsin banquet that was held at Superior last night.

Pupils of the Bradbury School of Music gave a recital last night at the Y. W. C. A. and a program was given under the auspices of the Mothers' club of Munger school at the school building.

The last meeting of the Housewives' league will be held Tuesday afternoon in the library clubroom. Reports for the year will be given and a letter of commendation from the state president will be read.

The Minnesota Music Teachers' association will give examinations to candidates for licenses Wednesday and Thursday at Central high school.

The extension committee of the Y. W. C. A., of which Mrs. T. L. Chapman is the chairman, will give a May carnival Friday night at the association building. A continuous performance consisting of a short play and "stunts" will be given.

Dean of Women at Carleton Will Address School Girls

MISS MARY L. BENTON.

THE Association of Collegiate Alumnae has invited the senior girls of the normal and high schools to a reception to be held at the Commercial club Saturday afternoon, May 29, at 2:45 o'clock. Miss Mary L. Benton, dean of women at Carleton college, will speak on "Our Young Women—the Dynamic of the Twentieth Century." This address which she delivered at the Y. W. C. A. convention that was held in the Twin Cities recently was one of the strongest speeches of the convention and made a deep impression upon her audience.

Dean Benton was formerly professor of Latin at Smith college and has many student admirers and friends among the Smith graduates in Duluth.

When Dr. D. J. Cowling, the president, was looking for a dean of women for Carleton college he wrote to Dr. M. L. Burton, the president of Smith college, for assistance. Dr. Burton replied that he knew of no woman who had a finer, stronger influence over girls or was better fitted in every way to be a college dean of women than Mary L. Benton.

For a number of years the Association of Collegiate Alumnae has given a reception to the senior girls as the final event of its program. Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota; Mrs. Lois Matthews, dean of women of the University of Wisconsin, and others have contributed their helpful and inspiring talks toward making these receptions enjoyable occasions.

The Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity cathedral will give a birthday party Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Trinity hall. All members of the cathedral are invited. Dr. Thomas W. MacLean, the vicar, will give a talk on "Missions in Alaska," and there will be musical numbers.

The members of the committee on music are Mrs Page Morris and Mrs. J. D. Morrison; decorations, Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Mrs. H. L. Gage and Mrs. Sarah Gouffe; refreshments, Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst, Mrs. D. D. Murray and Mrs. John Uno Sebenius. Members of the junior auxiliary will serve the refreshments.

Has Played for Royalty.

Axel Skovgaard, the Danish violinist, who will give a concert at Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church Monday night, May 24, will be assisted by Mme. Mary Elliott-Heness, soprano, and Miss Alice McClung, piano soloist and accompanist. Skovgaard has played before King Christian of Denmark, King Oscar of Sweden, King Haakon of Norway and Emperor William of Germany.

Club Women of the Eighth District Will Gather in Convention at Chisholm May 25 and 26

"Women's Clubs in Community Service" Will Be General Theme of Meeting---Maria Sanford, Judge Hughes and Many Other Interesting Speakers on Two Days' Program.

MRS. F. G. NELSON,

MISS MARIA SANFORD.

JUDGE MARTIN HUGHES.
President Women's Civic League of International Falls.

"Women's Clubs in Community Service" will be the subject at the convention of the Federated Clubs of the Eighth congressional district that will be held at Chisholm, May 25 and 26. This civic welfare program will include talks by some of the best known club women of the state and an address by R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of the Duluth schools, on "Co-operation Between the Home and the School."

The delegates and visitors will be entertained at luncheon Tuesday, the first day of the convention, at the new high school.

All sessions will be held at the public library.

The convention will be opened Tuesday afternoon. Rev. E. F. Stidd of Chisholm will pronounce the invocation; Miss Nellie Z. Peterson, president of the Women's club of Chisholm, will give the address of welcome and Mrs. H. J. Grannis, president of the Saturday club of Duluth, will give the response. The Eighth district wishes to have the Saturday club on the program as it is the oldest federated club in the district.

Reception for Delegates.

Tuesday night there will be a reception at the library. Judge Martin Hughes of Chisholm will speak, Lady Gregory's "The Workhouse Ward" will be presented under the auspices of the Women's club of Chisholm and Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker of Duluth will give a short talk on Indian mythology and several songs in costume. A vocal number will be given by Mrs. W. W. Smith and a piano selection by Miss Winnifred Andrews, both of Chisholm, and there will be music by the Chisholm orchestra.

At the regular sessions various phases of civic welfare work will be considered.

Mrs. F. C. Corell, president of the Community club of Big Falls, who will speak on "Community Clubs," has done splendid work in fostering in her section of the state community club work. She is chairman of the county committee of Koochiching county, and with the aid of her committee has started several clubs. As the Eighth district leads the state in the number of community clubs, Mrs. Corell's message will be of interest to the delegates. There are many clubs in Northern Minnesota where women of all creeds and nationalities work together as American citizens for community betterment.

Miss Shelland's Talk.

"The Welfare of Our Rural Citizens" will be the subject of Miss Annie Shelland of International Falls. No one in Minnesota has a more thorough knowledge of rural conditions than Miss Shelland, who is superintendent of schools of Koochiching county and visits schools on snowshoes in the winter and by canoe and long tramps in the summer.

Mrs. David F. Simpson, president of the Minneapolis Women's Suffrage association, will tell the delegates "Why the Other Half Should Vote." Mrs. Simpson has spoken at many district meetings this spring and has won praise wherever she has gone.

Mrs. S. R. Holden, president of the Duluth center of the Drama League of America, will speak on "The Drama and Civic Welfare." She will touch on pageantry and the influence of the moving picture shows.

Mrs. Georgiana Shearitt, one of the street mothers of Minneapolis, will speak on "The Need of Street Mothers for Our Smaller Towns." Mrs. Shearitt will take the place of the late Mrs. C. G. Higbee, who promised the district president at the meeting held at Rochester in the fall that she would attend the Eighth district meeting and bring the message of "The Need of Protection for Girls and Boys on the Streets of Our Cities."

A paper on "Our Immigrant Sister Who Has Come to Live Among Us" will be given by Mrs. G. F. Ayers of Ely. The need of work to be done among foreign women is great in Minnesota and Mrs. Ayers will show how the women of the Eighth district may help these new American mothers to become full-fledged American mothers.

Miss Sanford on Peace.

Miss Maria Sanford, who for many years was a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota, will represent the American Peace league and will tell of the significance of the European war in its relation to women and children.

The round table discussion of "Women's Clubs in Community Service" will be led by Mrs. Harold Fegraeus, president of the Linnaea club that has raised more than $1,500 this year for work among the tubercular poor of Duluth. Mrs. D. H. Williams, president of the Lester Park Literary club, and Dr. Sarah McClaran, both of Duluth, will take part in the round table discussion.

It is hoped that an exhibit of work done at the Sauk Center school for girls will be a feature of the convention.

Folders and pamphlets from the state entomologist on the extermination of flies will be given to the delegates to help them in their work of civic welfare. Pamphlets on health rules and regulations will be given out so that all clubs contemplating health work may have a guide. Mrs. Peter Olesen of Cloquet, the district president, is preparing an outline of topics for mothers' and community clubs with suitable exhibits.

Four clubs have joined the federation this year: The Mothers' club of Bovey, most of the members of which are of foreign birth, is doing good civic work; the Mothers' club of Moose Lake invites every woman in the town to membership; the Northome Mothers' club of Koochiching county is doing good work; and the Mothers' club of Moose Lake, the latest addition, has carried on a civic clean-up day and will be represented on the program by Mrs. Edward Slayton, who will talk on "A Civic Spring House Cleaning."

Among the older clubs of the district doing good civic work is the Woman's Civic league of International Falls. It is superintending the equipment of three public playgrounds and a swimming pool, which are financed by the city. The league has arranged to plant shade trees on the three longest residence streets and has taken part in a clean-up and paint-up campaign. The officers of the club are: President, Mrs. F. G. Nelson; vice president, Dr. Elizabeth Monohan; recording secretary, Mrs. F. J. Partlin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. A. Ogaard; and treasurer, Mrs. Richard Lilliblad.

Clubs of District.

The federated clubs of the Eighth district, with their presidents, are: Community club, Big Falls, Mrs. F. C. Corell; Women's club, Chisholm, Miss Nellie Z. Peterson; Mothers' club of Bryant school, Duluth, Mrs. S. A. Hearn; Garden Flower society, Duluth, Mrs. R. P. Boyington; Lester Park Literary society, Duluth, Mrs. D. H. Williams; Linnaea club, Duluth, Mrs. Harold Fegraeus; Saturday club, Duluth, Mrs. H. J. Grannis; Twentieth Century club, Duluth, Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst; Woman's Rotary club, Duluth, Miss Lillie A. Irwin; Duluth Drama Study club, Duluth, Mrs. W. A. Kaake; Mothers' club, Ely, Mrs. E. Leino; Eveleth Art club, Eveleth, Mrs. W. R. Van Slyke; Woman's club, Grand Rapids, Mrs. H. W. Stark; Progress club, Hill City, Mrs. R. L. Abrahamson; Saturday club, Hibbing, Mrs. H. H. Faust; Civic league, International Falls, Mrs. F. G. Nelson; Progressive Woman's club, Virginia, Mrs. J. H. Tretheway; Study club, Virginia, Mrs. Wilbur Van Evers; Garden Flower society, Nemadji, Mrs. E. J. Hoffman; Woman's Friday club, Cloquet, Mrs. F. D. Vibert; Mothers' club, Bovey, Mrs. F. K. Jasper; Northome Mothers' club, Koochiching county, Miss Sarah Gleason; Mothers' club, Moose Lake, Mrs. F. C. Mahnke; and Woman's Civic league, Deer River, Mrs. W. G. Wallace.

There is a train over the Duluth, Missabe and Northern road that leaves Duluth at 7:40 a. m. and arrives at Duluth at 6:46 p. m.

West Duluth W. C. T. U.

The West Duluth W. C. T. U. will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the West Duluth library. The state schools at Red Wing and Owatonna will be discussed under the leadership of Mrs. I. P. Swangie and Mrs. Alfred Jaques. The hostesses will be Mrs. M. E. Allen, Mrs. F. Cashin, Mrs. J. McMillan and Mrs. Stickney.

Modern Dances Simplified; Are No Longer Mere Romp

MISS ZOE BOWERS AND FRED MACMILLAN.

Miss Zoe Bowers and Fred MacMillan who are giving dancing exhibitions in Duluth, say the modern dances have been simplified to a great extent, citing the changes that have taken place in the fox trot. This dance six months ago consisted of a series of run, hop and jump steps which made it very strenuous and fatiguing. In its present form, according to Mr. MacMillan, it has only two fundamental steps, the walk and the two-step, making it restful and enjoyable.

The walk means taking one step for each beat of the music, with a slight spring in each step. The Maxixe glide is nothing more or less than the old fashioned two-step accompanied by a slight sway of the shoulders. With these steps as fundamentals the following figures are developed:

Fig. 1.—The man starting with the left foot and the woman with the right foot walk eight slow steps, one step for each beat of the music—eight counts.

Fig. 2.—Two-step to the left, then to the right, again to the left and again to the right—four two-steps—eight counts.

Fig. 3.—Walk four steps then do the Maxixe glide making a complete circle in doing so. Two glides should be used to complete the circle—eight counts.

Fig. 4.—Walk four slow steps, two-step to right and with weight on right foot make a long spiral or pivot on right foot using two counts—eight counts.

This part is for the man; the woman does the counterpart.

Drama League Will Give "Her Husband's Wife"

Play Will Be Given at Orpheum in June---Special Films for Children Will Be Shown at Rex.

"Her Husband's Wife," formerly played by Henry Miller, will be given by the Drama league at the Orpheum theater some time in June. This will be the climax of the Drama league productions that have been given this season and is the one that has been referred to as "the big play." The affair is in charge of the plays and players committee of which Mrs. F. A. Patrick is the charman. The league expected to give its principal play early in the spring but the selection of a drama and a suitable house in which to present it were factors that made a postponement necessary.

At a special meeting of the executive board of the Drama league held yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. S. R. Holden, action was taken to co-operate with Thomas Furness, manager of the Rex theater, who is making it possible to have films shown that are especially suitable for children. These films will be shown in the mornings. The drama league and Mr. Furniss expect to begin the arrangement next Saturday. Pictures will be shown each Saturday morning until the close of school and three mornings a week during vacation. The committee of the Drama league that will be in charge of this phase of work will be named by Mrs. Holden within a day or two.

The films for the children will include educational subjects and comedies. The educational part will not be over-done and the comedies very likely will include films in which parts are played by animals. As a company has been organized to produce films for children there will be no lack of material from which to draw.

Members of the Drama league will attend each show to take care of the children and to keep order.

Pioneer In Work of Sending Books To Remote Settlements Coming Here

MISS LUTIE E. STEARNS, director of the General Federation of Women's clubs who will attend the meeting of the state federation that will be held in Duluth in September, was a pioneer in the library extension work of Wisconsin that for many years has led in this kind of work and is regarded as one of the most progressive western states in library activities. A great deal of this prestige of Wisconsin came through the far reaching work of Miss Stearns whose object was to get books where there were settlers and no libraries.

After her graduation from the Milwaukee state normal school she taught school two years before entering library work. She was superintendent of circulation in the Milwaukee public library ten years, later was connected with the Wisconsin Free Library commission and eventually was made chief of the traveling department of the commission, from which position she resigned last year.

Trips to Wilderness.

Miss Stearns' trips in the interest of libraries have taken her to the most sparsely settled parts of her state and have made her acquainted with forced drives behind galloping horses which were frightened by the shadows of nine trees made by a lantern tied to the dashboard, with forest fires and with hardships and amusing situations of which only she could tell. She has been an important factor in the lives of the country people, being a farmer among farmers, a farmer's wife among farmers' wives and a foreigner among foreigners to the extent of her ability to speak their languages.

The county system of traveling libraries provides books for the winter reading of the farmers and all members of their families. A consignment of books is sent to the schoolhouse for distribution, the understanding being that the persons of the locality are to exchange with each other. There are books for the grown-ups and the children and "rag" books for the babies. The fiction is of the best and sometimes there are magazines in the collection. As many of the residents of Wisconsin can not read English there are books in the foreign languages that prevail in the neighborhood.

That libraries are welcome additions to backwoods districts where hard work and little or no recreation do their share to add many patients to the hospitals for the insane, is shown by letters that have been received from women who have known the terrors of isolation.

The Traveling Library.

"I have watched civilization come to us step by step," wrote a Wisconsin woman, "the railroad, rural delivery, the county telephone and other modern rural conveniences. But before any of these, right into the midst of our lonely backwoods, came the traveling library. I can recall the thrill of joy with which we received our first case of books. We had a regular literary revival that winter. We talked books in season and out of season; and from talking about the books in the library we fell to talking of other books. It matters little if in the course of these conversations and authors were hopelessly mixed."

A farmer's wife, who evidently lived in a sociable and loquacious neighborhood, wrote, "Good books drive away neighborhood discussion of the four deadly d's—diseases, dress, descendants and domestics."

Children's Home Board Holds Regular Meeting

BILLS to the amount of $1,167.07 were approved for payment at the meeting of the Children's home board that was held yesterday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. G. Herbert Jones, 210 North Fifteenth avenue east. Five insurance policies on the building were renewed for five years.

Every precaution has been taken against contagious diseases that are prevalent in the city. The children were taken out of school and have not been re-entered. Miss Eleanor Torrey, principal of Endion school, will furnish outlines of the work it will be necessary for the children to do in order to keep up with their classes. The members of the board are hoping young women will undertake the coaching of the children during the summer.

A vote of thanks was given by the board to the Red, White and Blue society for its gift of $300 to be used for the Children's home in connection with the new building to be erected. The money is to be used as the board of directors of the home sees fit.

Among the cash donations received this month was $100 given by Mrs. A. M. Miller in honor of the birthday of her little granddaughter, Athlen Miller. The money was given for necessary comforts of the children.

Boat Club Has House Committee.

AT the meeting of the officials of the Boat club last night the president, D. J. Mahoney, appointed a house committee that will have charge of the social events of the club this season. The members of the committee are Laurence H. Gordon, Philip L. Ray, Hans B. Haroldson, Elmer N. Whyte and C. P. How, Jr. They will meet next week to plan for the dinner-dances and other social features that will be given at the main house and the Oatka and Spirit Lake branches.

Societies Will Have Program.

Under the auspices of the Missionary societies of the First Methodist church seven or eight pupils of Miss Mary Shesgreen, assisted by musicians, will give a program in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon, May 25.

Greysolon du Lhut, D. A. R.

The meeting of Greysolon du Lhut chapter, D. A. R., has been postponed from Tuesday afternoon, May 18, to Tuesday afternoon, May 25. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Devey, 804 East Third street.

Guild Makes $850 for Orphanage

It was announced at the meeting of the Guild of St. James yesterday afternoon that $850 was realized from the lecture given for the benefit of St. James' orphanage by Rev. A. B. C. Dunne of Eau Claire in April. The returns are incomplete.

A special meeting of directors and promoters of the guild will be held May 26, the place of meeting to be announced later.

Alumni Will Give Prom.

The alumni association of the Christian Brothers' high school will give its annual prom Friday night in the cathedral gymnasium. The Esther Gomberg orchestra will play.

The officers of the association are A. F. McDowell, president; E. F. Killeen, vice president; W. J. Daugherty, secretary, and J. L. Gruesen, treasurer.

The members of the executive committee are: W. F. Toben, chairman; H. E. Ryan, M. A. Ahearn, E. F. Killeen, V. J. Fitzgerald, E. A. Ruf, E. F. Casey, E. White and G. A. Wagner.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Final Month of School Year Begun; Zenith to Come Out Soon; Donald Alexander Will Head Junior-Senior Ball; Lower Classes to Have Parties.

This week began the final month of the school year at Central high school. The school year will close on June 18, at which time the final reports will be given out. The students are concerned for the most part with preparations for the term examinations that will be given during the last week of school. The seniors leave school one week before the other classes, although, of course, they figure in the commencement and other exercises during the few closing days. Outside of the regular school work, the students of Central were interested chiefly with the Wallace cup contest, held last night, and the interclass track meet, held yesterday afternoon.

The work on the Zenith, the school annual, is progressing rapidly, and the printed pages will probably by ready to go to the binders some time next week. The book will consist of 240 pages this year. About fifty pages have been printed each week. All of this work has been done by the school printery, under the supervision of Robert Rankin. The boys have become experts, and it was found necessary to get but one professional from outside to assist in getting up the book. The boys have taken especial pride in the work, and it is expected that the book will be the best printed one ever turned out at Central. Business Manager Lawson has announced that the annual will be out about the second week in June. One thousand copies will be issued, 750 of these being reserved for the students of the school who bought slips, and the remaining 250 being prepared for the general sale. The students who bought slips obtained the book for 75 cents, while the price charged at the general sale is $1. With the saving of expense in having the book printed at the school department, the quality has been greatly improved. The appearance of the annual will be added to considerably as a result of a process of "roughing" of the pictures.

The final sale of Zenith slips was held last week, as a result of several persons asking that the sale be held again. Those who wish the book and who did not get slips at some of the sales, will have to pay the general price of $1. As there are only 250 books for general sale it is expected that they will be rapidly consumed.

The agricultural club will hold one of its most important meetings of the year following the close of school Tuesday, when plans for the coming year will be discussed and several other important matters decided upon. The election of officers for the Gazette, the popular club paper which has really grown into a school sheet, will be held. These offices will be decided upon this year so that the new "force" will be prepared to start the Gazette as soon as school opens. Successors will be chosen for the following positions: Editor, Irving Grover; associate, Walter Masseau; manager, Jacob Garon; assistant manager, Lawrence Moore. The Gazette has become one of the most powerful influences in school, and there is a great deal of work connected with its publication. The staff should be energetic and alive, and not afraid of work. Irving Grover has proved a most capable leader, and the students will greatly regret his graduation. Jacob Garon was responsible for the large circulation of the paper, and of the many novel advertising schemes that made it so well known and popular among the school student body. Garon will be back next year.

There will be but two more issues of the Gazette this year. It is planned to have the final one prepared by the new officers that will be elected for next year.

The members of the junior class held an important meeting following the close of school Thursday. The class chose Jacob Garon for editor-in-chief of the 1916 Zenith to be issued next year. Garon was editor of the junior section of the annual this year. Under his leadership a good book should be turned out.

Donald Alexander was selected by the class to manage the annual junior-senior ball this year. This is one of the most important social affairs of the year, and is always attended by many of the students. In former years it has always been the cause of unusual formality and extravagance in dress. This year, however, it is expected that this characteristic will be less marked.

It has been decided to send a representative track team from Central to the state meet to be held in Minneapolis on May 29. For this purpose the athletic association will conduct a sale of tags all day Monday. It is hoped that by this method enough will be raised to send a team of several men to the meet.

Capt. Hrutiford will undoubtedly go, but the remainder of the team has not yet been decided upon. This will be determined by the interclass and Denfeld meets. The annual interscholastic meet between the several high schools of the Head of the Lakes will be held on June 5. Although only the very best athletes in the state will be at the Minneapolis meet, it is expected that Central men would make good showings and bring some fame to the local school.

Two important social events will be held in the near future at Central. The seniors and juniors have already disposed of their closed parties, and the two lower classes will have theirs within the next two weeks. On next Friday evening, May 21, the sophomores will have their closed party, while on the Friday following, May 28, the freshmen will hold theirs. These affairs will be about the same as the idea originated by Miss Taylor, advisor of the senior class. Only members of the class are admitted at these affairs. The example set by the seniors has proven very popular, and it is expected that all of the other classes will follow.

The members of the freshmen girls' literary society debating team gained the unanimous decision of the judges for the affirmative side of the question. "Resolved, That Immigration to the United States Should be Further Restricted," in their debate with the Forum, the freshmen boys' debating society, Monday afternoon. This contest had been looked forward to by members of both societies for some time, and they were anxious to settle their dispute.

The winning team was composed of Agnes Ewell, Elsa Zuchow and Julia Watson, while the Forum trio consisted of Le Roy Grettum, Sam Davis and Raymond Larson.

The members of the Lambs' club were entertained for the most part at their meeting yesterday afternoon by A. Romaine Callender of the Baldwin Stock company, who spoke to the students on the general subject of playwriting and acting. His talk was greatly enjoyed by the club members and he was well received. There were about 150 students present. Mr. Callender emphasized the necessity of presenting human nature in a play, and spoke of several other requisites that must be had in order to make a play a success.

The members of the organization will hold a party in the school gymnasium on the evening of Monday, May 31.

The cadet corps had its first taste of real outside work today when the squad assembled at Twenty-Fourth avenue east and took a hike in marching order over some rough country. They were drilled in outdoor maneuvers and marches. "Double quick" up and down hill and through the woods, camp pitching, scouting, and getting used to hard positions for difficult shots were among the several other things that the boys were put through. The uniforms of the boys were given their "breaking in" for rough work. It is not known as yet whether or not the rifles will be obtained this year. The members, however, are planning on several good times outdoors before the season is over. On Wednesday they drilled outdoors.

The Stump held one of its last meetings of the year Thursday. The feature of the meeting was a debate on the Phillipine Islands.

Following a custom originated last year by the board of education, the students of the school were requested to report the amount of money that they had earned in work outside of home during the school year of 1914-15, from September to June. When the results have been determined, it is expected that some interesting figures will be announced.

Several students took advantage of the opportunity to get tickets for the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra concert, at the special pupils' price of 50 cents. There will be a special section reserved for students of Central.

CENTRAL WINS WALLACE CUP

Roberta Ritchie Leads in Declamation, Irving Grover in Oratory.

Superior Central Second; Each School Now Has Three Victories.

Represented in declamation by Roberta Ritchie, and in oratory by Irving Grover, Central high was victorious last night in the sixth annual Wallace cup contest, held in the auditorium of the local school. Second place was given to Superior Central. As was generally expected the contest was exceedingly close, the speeches of all of the contestants being especially good. Miss Ritchie's selection was "The Battle of Bunker Hill," and Mr. Grover spoke on "An Immortal Race."

Superior Central was represented by Miss Mildred Smith, who spoke on "The End of the Task," and Claude Cooper, whose selection was "The March of the Flag." Miss Anne Exstrom, whose selection was from "The Piper," and Walter Yeager, who delivered "Peace and Disarmament," were the representatives of Denfeld high school. Anna Turnberg, speaking on "The Lie," and Oscar Caleson, delivering "Inglorious Peace," upheld the honors of Nelson-Dewey high of Superior.

Judges of the contest were Superintendent Peter Oleson of Cloquet, Prof. J. D. Brownell of Ashland, and Prof. H. Cooper of Two Harbors.

The audience was entertained also by several musical numbers given by Miss Edna McLimans of Denfeld high school, a boys' quartet of Superior Central, a girls' double quartet of Nelson-Dewey high, and the Boys' Glee club of Duluth Central.

The winning of this contest by Duluth Central makes the two Central high schools of Duluth and Superior tied for number of wins. This was the sixth contest, each of these two schools having won three times. The cup, donated by Dr. C. J. Wallace, will become the permanent possession of the school winning it the greatest number of times in ten years. As yet none of the other schools have won the cup.

NO JOY-RIDING IN CITY-OWNED AUTOS

Cars Are Being Labeled in Fire Department Repair Shop.

Duluthians will no longer be able to make charges that city employes are joy-riding in the department automobiles.

Workmen at the fire department's repair shop are now labeling all the city-owned automobiles and it is expected that this work will be completed within a few days. The name of each department is painted on both front doors.

The labeling of city-owned automobiles was recommended by the Munger Improvement club several weeks ago, the members claiming that many employes were in the habit of joy-riding in the automobiles after working hours.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

STATE GIVES CLOQUET AID

Schools of Carlton County Metropolis Are to Be Benefited.

Normal Training and College Departments Are to Be Added.

Cloquet, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The application of the city schools for the establishment of a normal training department at the high school has been granted and $1,200 per year furnished for this department by the state.

The addition of this department will add greatly to the scope and efficiency of the school without adding a cent of cost to the district. Hereafter all teachers in the county must be normal graduates. Seniors who graduate from the normal department will receive a first-grade certificate and juniors may be admitted to the course and finish it in one year and receive a second-grade certificate. Students who take this course will not be required to take an examination for certificates.

College Department.

Another new department of the high school that is doing well is the college department. This department has been approved by the state university, is the only high school in the state giving this course, and is the only one approved by the state university. For the coming year the state aid will be as follows:

State high school aid, $1,800; agricultural department, $1,000; manual training, $600; domestic science, $600. commercial department, $600; normal department, $1,200; total special aid, $5,800. In addition to this there is the regular per capita state aid, which will amount to about $2,200 per year, making a grand total received from the state of $7,000.

The last meeting of the Minerva Literary Society of the Lincoln high school was held Friday afternoon. The following program was rendered: Music, high school orchestra; "Current Events," William Blair; piano duet, Thera Westerberg and Ruth Anderson; recitations, Jennie Lammerson, Annie Hagen, Mamie Lounsbury, Milton Ridout, Carl Johnson, Helen Sarrette, John Janousek, Gerda Nelson and James Harney. At the close of the meeting the entire school sang the school song.

The different grades of the public schools gave their annual exhibit in their respective rooms Friday afternoon. The exhibits embraced sewing, manual training, drawing and cooking. The work was done under the direction of the teacher in each room, supervised by Miss Lillian Hanson, supervistor of music and arts.

Drawing Work Fine.

The work in drawing was exceptionally fine. Many very intricate drawings were displayed and especially some candle sticks that were cut out of paper and the decorations were as fine as cobweb. The sewing done by the sixth and seventh grades was both dainty and durable; fancy aprons as well as other beautiful things were displayed.

One of the novelties of the exhibit was the cooking done by the ungraded boys. This class is composed of six boys and they can make bread, biscuits and other staple foods. The manual training exhibit was work done by students from the fifth grade up, and some very fine work was done, especially an extension table showed very fine workmanship. The exhibit as a whole was one of the best ever given and was attended by the largest crowd that visited work of this kind in the local schools. The teachers remained on duty until 5:30 o'clock to show the visitors around. The rooms were decorated with flowers.

Prof. Strong, assistant state inspector of schools, visited the local schools Friday.

Spooner, Minn., May 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the Cloverleaf Creamery association was held at the Auditorium Tuesday evening. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were adopted and the thanks of the association extended them. A committee was appointed to arrange for the leasing of the plant to the Warren Creamery company for the next three years as a fair offer had been made by the company.

The following officers were elected: President, John R. Norris; vice president, F. F. Sweigart; secretary, W. F. Steffes; treasurer, H. C. Hanson; directors, A. S. Abrahamson, Frank Millen, C. P. Swenson, C. R. Middleton and George E. Ericson.

It is planned to have the plant operating during the balance of the season as it means a great deal to the settlers of this district to have this industry in operation.

HILL CITY PLANT WILL BE ENLARGED

National Woodenware Company to Add Largely to Factory.

Hill City, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is general rejoicing here over the good news brought by George B. Robbins, vice president of Armour & Co. of Chicago and J. H. Berry, president of the National Woodenware company, the latter a subsidiary of Armour & Co., which owns and operates the big woodenware factory here. The two attended the meeting of the Commercial club Wednesday evening and stated that the Armour company will build a large addition to the factory, which will be used for storage.

Plan More Houses.

They will also build some more houses and there will be money spent on the railroad. Details regarding the railroad work were not given. Mr. Berry also stated that the company would also put in more boilers and dynamos and furnish electric current to the village.

This development coming at a time when things are somewhat depressed is most welcome news to Hill City people.

POPULATION OF NORTH DAKOTA

Census Now Being Taken Expected to Show Almost 1,000,000.

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakotans are just now doing a lot of speculating as to what the new official state census will show the population to be. The final returns on the counties will not be made to the secretary of state until July 10 and little detailed information is likely to be secured prior to that time.

The more optimistic insist the population has grown to 1,000,000, but this estimate is regarded by the majority as too large and the more conservative figures of 750,000 to 800,000 are generally conceded as near the actual count.

Had 577,056 in 1910.

In 1910 the Federal census showed that there were 577,056 people in the state and that the increases during the previous decade had been exceeded by only three other states from a question of percentage. It is claimed that the increase during the last five years in total population has been more than the preceding ten, and if this is true the 800,000 mark will be about the right place.

FALL FROM HANDCAR IS FATAL FOR SECTION MAN.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 15.—A section hand named Gunderson, employed on the Great Northern at Greenbush, was almost instantly killed when he fell in alighting from a handcar on which he was returning from work. The cover to his dinner pail fell from the car, and in his haste to recover the article, he stepped off backwards, falling in such a manner as to strike his head upon the rail.

HAS TROUBLE AHEAD.

South Dakota Convict Wanted on Two North Dakota Charges.

Carrington, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stealing eight head of cattle in this (Foster) county and selling them at New Rockford, after which he fled to South Dakota, where he was arrested and sent to the state penitentiary for another offense is the speedy criminal record of Sam Bezenko, badly wanted in this and Eddy counties. New Rockford people want him on a forgery charge and will make the first application for his arrest when his term in South Dakota expires and after the disposition of that case Foster county officials will be after him on the cattle stealing charge.

WOMEN'S CLUBS ELECT.

Sixth District of Federated Clubs End Session.

Little Falls, Minn., May 15.—The session here of the Sixth district of Federated Women's Clubs ended with the election of these officers: Mrs. A. L. Matheus, Wadena, re-elected recording secretary; Mrs. Ed M. La Fond, Little Falls, corresponding secretary, Vice Mrs. Alvah Eastman, St. Cloud, resigned; Mrs. C. M. Park, Brainerd, re-elected treasurer. Mrs. L. D. Brown, Little Falls, president, was elected for two years and has a year yet to serve.

Mrs. Wilbur Cobb of Brainerd, pleading for votes for women, declared war would never be abolished until women are given the power to express their natural instincts through the ballot.

Mrs. Cobb said that the excuse given by the warring powers of Europe for their determination to carry on the world war to a decisive ending is that peace should not be made until a lasting peace can be secured. That will never be, according to Mrs. Cobb, until mothers have the right to save their sons from being food for the cannon by means of enfranchisement.

NEW DISTRICT JUDGE.

Gov. Hammond Appoints Rochester Attorney to Succeed Judge Snow.

St. Paul, Minn., May 15.—G. W. Granger of Rochester has been appointed by Governor Hammond to succeed Arthur H. Snow of Winona as judge of the district court in the Third district. MARKET HAS A REACTION

Wheat Up in Late Trading on Heavy Short Covering Demand.

Flaxseed Turns Weak Following News of Good Rains Over Northwest.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 15.—After showing declines of around 1c during the early trading, the wheat market recorded a substantial gain at the close today, as a result of short-covering, and the appearance of inquiry from exporters at the low spots. Final quotations were at the top.

May wheat opened ⅞c off at $1.53¾, sold off to $1.53⅛, and closed with a good upturn ⅜c up from yesterday at $1.54½ bid. July opened ½c up at $1.51¼, eased off to $1.50, and closed ⅜c up at $1.51⅝. September opened ½c up at $1.22½ and closed unchanged at $1.22.

Durum was weak, only a limited number of transactions being put through in it. May durum opened unchanged at $1.53, and closed ½c off at $1.52½. July opened unchanged at $1.53½, and closed ½c off at $1.53. September closed ½c off at $1.20 asked.

Heavy rains, reported to be general through the American and Canadian Northwest, was a bearish market factor during the early trading. Advices coming from over the winter wheat territory were generally to the effect that fly damage reports of the last three days had greatly exaggerated conditions. That led to weakness in all the Southwest markets, Kansas City being off 2@2½c, for example. The upturn was inaugurated at Winnipeg during the final hour's trading, due to export bids getting upon a workable basis. The firming up extended to all the American markets.

Clearances of wheat and flour were well over the million-bushel mark again today, and ocean space for heavy shipments was reported to have been engaged for grain to go out between now and the end of the month. Ocean freight rates continue firm, but there was advised to be practically no anxiety on the score of interference with shipments through Germany's submarine blockade.

Coarse grains again gave evidence of a weakening tendency. Oats closed ¼c off at 50½@51½c for on the track. Rye closed unchanged at $1.11@1.12, and barley 3c off at from 65c to 75c. At Winnipeg, July oats was ⅜c off at 62⅛c.

Slump in Flaxseed.

Rains over the Northwest brought about increased weakness in the flaxseed market, and quotations sagged off from the opening. Selling pressure was in evidence throughout the session, and crushers held off for further recessions.

May flax opened 1c off at $1.99, and closed 4c off at $1.96 asked. July opened unchanged at $2.01½, and closed 3½c off at $1.98 asked. September opened unchanged at $2.04, and closed 3½c off at $2.00½. October opened unchanged at $2.03, and closed 4c off at $1.99 asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 2¼c off at $1.776, and July 3¼c off $1.78⅛.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed ½c off at $1.33⅞ and London 2½c up at $1.93½.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Weakness in America yesterday was reflected in prices here. A better millers' demand and increased inquiry from the continent helped to check the decline. Spot market was irregular, ½c lower to 1c higher for Manilar, ½c lower to 1c higher for Manitobas. Cargo market was easy with winters 6d lower, while Plates and Manitobas 3d lower early, but firmer later. The general inquiry was quiet. World's shipments are expected to be politically aspect as recently developed is being watched carefully by traders here.

"Corn—American weakness was offset by firmer Plate shippers offers and steadiness in spot. Parcels were in good request and it appears to be the sentiment in Argentina that this crop will be urgently wanted when properly conditioned."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Bearish Crop Reports Cause Reaction in Wheat After Early Advance.

Chicago, May 15.—Bearish crop reports from Kansas made the wheat market react sharply today after an early advance. Strength at the start was due to cable quotations being stronger than expected. The subsequent downturn here appeared to receive some additional impetus from soaking rains northwest where needed. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c to 1⅝c higher, were followed by a general decline to well below last night's level.

Federal government advice to farmers not to be over hasty in plowing up fly-infested ground led subsequently to a more pronounced fall in values. Evening up, however, for the week-end rallied the market. The close was unsettled, 1c down to ⅜c up compared with last night.

Corn was relatively steady. What changes took place appeared to result from the fluctuations of wheat. The market after opened ⅜c off to ¼c advance, underwent a slight sag all around.

Near the end of the day corn followed wheat upgrade. The close was firm at ⅛ to ⅜c above last night.

Hedging sales by cash houses weakened oats. Demand was only moderate.

Higher prices for hogs gave strength to provisions. Offerings were limited, especially of pork.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Shorts Hurriedly Driven to Cover and Closing Is Firm.

Trading Moderate Owing to the Policy of Caution Counseled.

New York, May 15.—The clouds which gathered over the stock market yesterday as a result of the apparent crisis in this country's international relations were partly dispelled. Prices of stocks rose 2 to 4 points and the short interest was again hurriedly driven to cover. War shares, yesterday's weakest features, made up some of their declines, and standard shares as well as speculative issues responded to the more cheerful mood.

Trading was very moderate throughout, however, pursuant to the policy of caution counseled in responsible quarters. Recessions occurred in the final dealings, Bethlehem Steel and Westinghouse Electric reacting sharply. Foreign advices were of the usual conflicting character, but domestic news was altogether reassuring. Bonds were strong. The market closed firm.

SHARP UPTURN IN THE COPPERS

Stocks Higher on Good Buying, With Better War News.

A decided reversion in sentiment appeared in mining stocks at Boston today due to more favorable views being entertained regarding the European war situation. While trading was monopolized by a comparatively few issues, substantial advances were recorded through the list.

Butte & Superior closed $2 up at $60.25; Calumet & Arizona $1.75 up at $62; Copper Range $2.12 up at $49.12; Greene-Cananea 50 cents off at $28; Mohawk $1 up at $66; North Butte $1 up at $30; Osceola, $1.25 up at $74; Shattuck unchanged at $26; and Quincy $1.25 up at $82.

At New York, Amalgamated Copper registered a bulge of $2.12, closing at $65.38. Anaconda closed $1.50 up at $31.25.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Bohemia sold at $2.50@2.56; South Lake at $6.50; United Verde Extension at $3.87; Jumbo Extension at $1; Iron Blossom at 70 cents; Nipissing at $8 and Ohio Copper at 27 cents.

A Boston wire said "When Grauby directors meet next Tuesday, it is expected they will resume dividends at the rate of $1.50 quarterly."

Referring to the situation in mining stocks, Skillings' Mining and Market Letter of today says:

"The stock markets have been marking time this week, awaiting the outcoming of the diplomatic correspondence growing out of the Lusitania incident, but the great underlying strength has been constantly in evidence. The investing and speculative element is in a waiting attitude. President Wilson has apparently handled the delicate situation with good judgment, and few think that any serious development will ensue.

"It is a good time to pick up stocks that may be offered by timid or weak holders, for the coppers, for example, are far below what they should command. At no time in the history of the copper metal market has there ever existed such great assurance of profitable, and long continued, demand as at present. On the present price of lake copper Ahmeek is earning $62.50 per share per year. Calumet & Hecla is credited with earning $126 per share; Anaconda is earning about $5.25 per share; Calumet & Arizona, on a basis of 50,000 pounds per year, earns $8 per share; Shattuck is earning $5.50 per share; North Butte, on basis of 27,000,000 pounds, earns $5.75 per share, and when the new hoist is producing at capacity North Butte may be expected to earn $8 to $10 per share at present prices for the metal; Utah Copper earned $2,167,415 first quarter of 1915, as compared with $1,076,074 in last quarter of 1914."

Section 30 Mining company, which controls and operates the Section 30 iron mine, Vermilion range, is reported to have sold 75,000 tons of Bessemer grade and 55,000 tons of non-Bessemer grade. The company expects to sell and ship from 250,000 to 300,000 tons this season.

It is expected that Section 30 Mining company will go on a dividend basis this year. The sales that have been made were on a basis of 1914 prices, but Section 30 produces an excellent grade of ore and will command any premium that may be paid for Lake Superior ores this season or any other season.

The Iron Mountain Mining company is operating its mine on the Cuyuna range with three eight-hour shifts. The work of sinking the shaft to the 150-foot level is progressing steadily and production of ore at present is at the rate of four cars per week. Sinking will be completed by June 1, when production and shipments will be substantially increased. New territory for production will be opened up at the 150-foot level.

BIG LEDGE

LISTED ON THE NEW YORK CURB

The Register and Transfer Co., 32 Nassau Street, New York City, act as transfer agents. Preparations being made to maintain an active and broad market for this stock.

Work at the property is progressing under most favorable conditions. High grade ore is being taken out and placed in stock pile for shipment. Management informs us that a shipment will be made this month. President LeDuc leaves for the property tonight to start the work of drilling.

In view of the acute situation in copper and prospect for a long period of high prices for the metal, Big Ledge is especially attractive at this time.

Competent statisticians estimate that within 5 years' time the world will be demanding 2,700,000,000 pounds of American copper per annum. The production for 1913 was 1,800,000,000 pounds—in other words, our mines will have to produce 900,000,000 pounds of copper more per year. The demand is bound to exceed the supply. The results are inevitable—higher prices for copper metal—bigger profits for copper producers—higher market values for copper stocks.

The world's leading producers recognize this and are preparing for it. THEY KNOW—THEY DON'T GUESS.

Mining, long scoffed at by the little local banker, has today become the serious business of the big banker and the big business man. They are looking for properties worthy of development—they are investing in the stocks of such properties—we believe

NORTH BUTTE WILL RESUME PAYING DIVIDENDS IN JULY

Miners Employed in the Property Enthusiastic Over Its Showing.

Good Prospects of Refinancing the Butte-Duluth Company Reported.

Butte, Mont., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Butte Mining company will resume the payment of dividends in July. Semi-official information to that effect has been received in Butte. Drifting has been progressing on the Edith May vein on the 3,000-foot level for a week and the result is just what has been predicted, increasing width of the rich ore body and growing indications that soon it will be found to fill the entire width of the vein of fifteen feet. The character of the ore is identical with that on the 2,800 level, where it has been opened and mined for a distance of more than 500 feet. The North Butte, in the opinion of miners employed in the property, has "come back" and will again become as important as a producer as it was when the stock was selling above $100 a share. Beside the Edith May vein, the other portions of the mine are showing up better as development work goes deeper. The Snowball vein is showing up great. In the east drift on the 2,600-foot level the ore body is three feet wide and averages 5.5 per cent copper and 7.8 ounces of silver to the ton, for a distance of 145 feet, and beyond that it has been widening and the value of the ore has been increasing until it reached a width of six feet and assaying 10 per cent copper with twenty ounces of silver to the ton, which is the very best showing yet made in the Snowball vein. This showing is so much better than it was on the 2,400-foot level that it bears out the general experience in the North Butte that the mine is growing better with every new foot of depth attained. The average width of the Edith May vein on the 2,800-foot level is five and a half feet, carrying 10½ per cent copper and 3.5 ounces of silver, while on the 3,000-foot level the ore body carries three and a half feet of the very highest grade and about four feet of a lower grade. Ore assaying from 25 to 34 per cent copper is common on the new levels of the North Butte. The new electric hoist at the Granite Mountain shaft has been tested out for efficiency and economy and found to more than meet the guarantee of the company that installed the engine.

The Alice Sale.

The decision of Judge George M. Bourquin in the suit of Geddes and other share holders of the Alice Gold and Silver Mining company to annul the sale of the Alice property to the Butte Coalition company and the Anaconda Copper Mining company was not unexpected. The Anaconda company, in taking over the Alice when it absorbed the Butte Coalition company, issued 30,000 shares of Anaconda stock in exchange for it, but the court holds that the deal was not a sale but a "swap," and that it must be resold and the Alice stockholders must be paid in cash, deducting, however, the Anaconda dividends that have been paid to Alice shareholders since the sale and purchase. When the deal was made the 30,000 shares of Anaconda had a market value of $1,500,000. The Anaconda also paid the existing debts of the Alice company. Experts for Geddes and others claimed that the Anaconda company took the Alice properties at just at about half what they were worth, and under the resale the objectors and their friends will have an opportunity to pay for the property what they think it is worth and take it.

In its present state, as it was when the Anaconda company took it over, the Alice property was a pure gamble and, in the language of the turf, it was a very long shot. Without the expenditure of a great amount of money the mines cannot be made producing or profitable. Having in mind the probability that no one else would bid a better price than was paid by the Anaconda company, the court in its decision provided that unless a better price was obtained the old sale would not be interfered with, and it would stand. The Geddes crowd tried to bring into the case when it was tried the charge that the Anaconda company is part of a great copper combine and opposed to the Sherman anti-trust law, but Judge Bourquin did not pass on that phase of the case, having doubt that a private litigant could raise the question and holding anyway that a determination of the question was not necessary, as in other matters decided gave the plaintiffs all the relief they desired. It will not be known for some time when a re-sale will be had, as the Anaconda company will doubtless exercise all of its legal rights in the suit by moving for a rehearing and then, if an adverse decision is given, to appeal to the higher courts, so that it is more than probable that a compromise settlement will be reached before the situation is cleared for a re-sale of the property.

Started to Reopen Mine.

Recently the Anaconda company started to reopen the old Alice mine and has been engaged in repair work and cleaning out the workings preparatory to mining the zinc ore, of which there is a very large deposit in the Alice mine, but which, so far, has failed to respond to any method of treatment applied to it. The Anaconda company has been prepared to subject the ore to tests at the Washoe smelter, but what the decision of the court in the Geddes case will do in the matter is not yet known. In passing on the case Judge Bourquin said it was clear that there was no market value for such properties as the Alice, which had apparently been worked out, was deep-ly in debt, had been idle for seventeen years, and its surface plant had been destroyed. Prices for such property are arbitrary, and is not above the value in sight. Anaconda paid a large price, but in view of the extent and history of the Alice and of the district, the price was not so large that it could not be said that it was unreasonable and that a larger price might be obtained. Anaconda could afford to pay more than any other, observed the court, but the question is did it pay more than any other would have paid. The vendor and vendee were controlled by common directors, and the minority shareholders were entitled to have the question of price determined by a public sale in an open market.

Boston and Montana.

The Boston & Montana Development company, which is developing extensive mineral sources in the Elkhorn district and owns a group of developed and producing copper mines in the French Gulch district, has listed its shares on the Boston and New York curbs. Governor Allen, president of the company, who is in New York, writes that despite the financial depression and the fact that London arrangements and contracts for underwriting were held up by the treasury department which opposed new bond issues in that country because of the war, ample financial arrangements have been made in the East and the development work on the Elkhorn mines will continue without interruption. Construction work on the Southern Montana railroad, from Butte to Jackson in the Big Hole valley, has only been delayed, says Governor Allen, by the European situation, but will be taken up during the coming summer and carried through by the contracting firm of McArthur & Perks of London. The large double-track tunnel being driven on the Elkhorn property is in nearly 2,000 feet, but crosscutting to the veins will not be started until the tunnel reaches a distance of at least 3,000 feet.

Butte and Superior.

Butte and Superior broke more records in its April operations. The payroll for the month was more than $155,000, the largest in the history of the company by many thousands of dollars. The payroll was based on the schedule of $3.75 per day, determined by the price of copper, but with which Butte & Superior has nothing to do, though it has given its consent to the sliding wage schedule based on copper prices. However, Butte & Superior because of the high prices of spelter, can better afford the increased wage schedule than can the copper companies. In April, the Butte & Superior mined and treated 43,500 tons of ore, making 13,100 tons of concentrates. The company, with its improvements, is making more money now than ever before, and the outlook is splendid. About 1,200 men are constantly employed. For some time there was, it is claimed, a decrease in the ore values, but lately, because of increasing size of the ore bodies and improvement in zinc content, conditions in the mine on its lower levels have been getting better again.

Barnes-King.

The bullion value of the North Moccasin mine output by the Barnes-King Development company in April was $43,900, which is about $10,000 less than the record breaking month of March. The total tonnage and the average value were also under those for March. The April bullion was the product of 4,608 tons of ore, the average yield having been $9.53 per ton. It is expected that the mill at the Piegan-Gloster mines will be in operation before the end of May. The original date for starting the mine and mill was set for May 1, but the Montana Power company was again delayed in getting the power line to the mine. The machinery for the mill has been installed for sometime. The Barnes-King returns for four months were:

	Ore tonnage.	Value.
January	4,809	$44,883
February	4,287	41,705
March	4,807	56,413
April	4,608	43,900

Butte-Duluth.

The affairs of the Butte-Duluth Mining company are still in an uncertain state. The bankruptcy proceeding, set for hearing in the Federal court, were postponed recently until May 25 on representations of the company's counsel that Capt. Wolvin was in the East and had good prospects for refinancing the company.

AHMEEK IS PROGRESSIVE

Puts Down Diamond Drill to Reach the Calumet Conglomerate.

Will Work Five More Drills on Porcupine Mountain Explorations.

Houghton, Mich., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ahmeek is putting down a diamond drill a little north of the village of that name, close to the street car line, over half a mile west of the Kearsarge outcrop—the lode on which it is mining. The objective point is the Calumet conglomerate, and after this is sufficiently tested, the Osceola amygdaloids will be drilled. This work shows the progressive spirit of the management, which is ever desirous of making the most of its possibilities. Hoisting was begun at Nos. 3 and 4 on May 11, from forty to fifty men being taken on. There is a great number of applicants, as besides those unemployed in this district, many are coming in from the iron mines. For a while only development rock at the rate of about four to five cars a day will be taken out; then this work will be increased, and after a while stoping will be done when the openings have extent enough to justify it. The fifth stamp at the mill will be ready in a few days. The fissure vein which is such a sweetener of the Ahmeek's rock is certainly a pleasing sight to the mining man, as it lies in large pieces on the platform car, averaging nine inches in thickness. About four to seven carloads, 100,000 to 350,000 pounds, are taken out monthly and at a low cost, there being no expensive cutting, as on account of its comparative thinness it is blown into pieces of a proper size by using 100 per cent Atlas blasting gelatine. After the blasting, it appears at the ends as though it had been cut off in layers by some tool.

Onondaga.

Onondaga will in a few days start a drill on the other side of the basin formed by the Nonsuch-White Pine formations, which has, of course, a dip the reverse of that of the White Pine. This basin is about nine to ten miles in length and about five or six wide. The formations are supposed to have been laid down in a straight line approximately, and then by the intrusion of the felsite of Porcupine mountains the western half, hinging upon the center, was turned like the blade of a pocketknife around upon the eastern half, thus forming an elliptical basin. This work will be done about a mile northeast on a line parallel to the series of holes drilled two and three years ago in sections 4 and 14, township 49 north, range 42 west, at the southern end of township 50 north, range 42 west.

Porcupine Mountains.

Porcupine Mountain explorations of the Nonesuch or White Pine formations, will be greatly accelerated by the putting to work of five more diamond drills, making six in all, by Cole & McDonald of Virginia, Minn., under a contract calling for 75,000 feet. This is the largest contract ever made in this district. There will be a hole every 250 feet, as the row now being drilled at the depth of 400 feet will be followed by another at the depth of 600 feet, placed half way between the holes of the first, and then by a third at the depth of 1,000 feet half way between the first and second. This series will cover a length of eight miles, the distance from the shaft to the Nonesuch boundary. Southwest of the shaft 500 feet, one trench has been finished and a test pit will be sunk. The seventh diamond drill hole 4,000 feet from the shaft found an excellent showing, the copper appearing in both the two sandstone beds and the intervening slate in good quantities. The disclosures as a whole while not so rich as the rock of the White Pine, are of quite a profitable grade. The consulting geologist, Prof. A. E. Seaman of the Michigan College of Mines, has just passed a week with Manager Close inspecting the recent developments. A gasoline hoist has been installed at the shaft, and when the workings have been unwatered about twenty men will be employed, which with the thirty men on the six drills will make a total force of fifty. A company may be formed to take over these lands in the not distant future.

Isle Royale.

Isle Royale, owing to the great nobility of the fine quicksand, will sink No. 7 shaft vertically and then turn it to the angle of the lode, as was done at No. 5, in order to reach the ledge, which is about 50 feet from the bottom of the pit, 40 feet from the surface. The distance from No. 2 to No. 4 is 3,100 feet, and all the ground is of a good grade. The twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth and twenty-ninth levels have been extended from the former shaft about 2,000 feet, some of these being beyond that point and others not quite up to it. The twenty-first will be the main level. The rock is being treated by one stamp at the Tamarack No. 2, one at the Franklin, and two at the Centennial-Allouez. The No. 3 stamp at its own mill will be ready early in June.

Tamarack.

Tamarack is shipping to its No. 1 mill from 600 to 700 tons daily from Nos. 3 and 5, all conglomerate. The yield is running about nineteen pounds a ton. No. 2 is repairing its shaft, which, just below where it is crossed by the lode, gives a good deal of trouble. This work will take about two or three weeks longer and when it is completed hoisting will be begun. The rock will be taken from the Osceola amygdaloid, where for seven levels the stoping was done about five years ago, so that the cost is low.

Mass.

Mass is shipping over 1,100 tons daily. The third of the south lodes of the South Lake is being opened by drifts and its richness both in heavy copper running to quite large masses and stamp copper is persistent with a width averaging from 8 to 10 feet. As this is the richest of the three South lodes here, although the second had a width of twenty feet with good commercial copper, and as the management cannot in justice to the other work at the shaft carry on only a limited amount of exploration the development of the other two south lodes will be deferred to some future time. The yield of the mine's rock is keeping up to the standard for the year, between 15 and 16 pounds. Very safely figuring the cost at 13 cents, the yield a ton at 15 pounds, and the price received at 20 cents Mass is earning at the rate of $3.62 per share.

North Lake.

North Lake drifted for about fifteen days on the third lode encountered by its exploratory crosscut from the shaft and met with good commercial values and met with a width of fifteen feet, as far as could be done without putting in switches. It then turned back to continue the crosscut and thus explore the whole Evergreen series and to find some well known mark by which these lodes can be identified. This vein, the one preceding it, and those to be disclosed will be opened in the order of their importance. The management feel greatly encouraged by the finding of two apparently commercial lodes. Two drills are being used in this work.

New Arcadian.

New Arcadian's mill test was very favorably received here as people had been prepared for a good run by those who had seen the stockpile. Sumps or basins for catching the water are being cut out at the 600-foot and bottom levels by three drills and in about a week when these are completed the sinking of the shaft will begin. There are two drills still continuing the crosscut about 310 feet east of the New Arcadian lode in search of No. 8 conglomerate which should be soon encountered and which will enable an identification of the different lodes met with to be made. The other drills will be placed one in a drift to extend the openings for production.

Champion.

Champion has every month decreased the costs and increased the yield of copper a ton. Of course at the beginning of the war all the construction costs, of which there were very few, were cut off, and the expenses reduced to a minimum, and although wages and salaries have been restored to the former figures and some of the customary costs have been again incurred, ways have been devised so that the expenditure have been steadily lowered. The betterment in the yield is the result almost wholly of closer selection and also of the policy of centering the attention more closely on the cost a pound rather than the cost per ton. Champion has been for the last three months been making a new record in yield every month and has reached about thirty-four pounds. The costs of selection as at the Mohawk are very slight in comparison with those of hoisting, transporting, and milling the very lean rock now discarded. Less men are being employed and more copper is being taken out. The ground, at the lowest levels worked, is about all of high grades, and No. 2 is now disclosing the richest rock. No sinking has been done for some time and none will be necessary for quite a while as there are several levels at each shaft unstoped.

Baltic.

Baltic has gained greatly in reduction of costs and in yield for the same reasons as the Champion, No. 2 the banner shaft now, will soon have the skip running down to the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth levels, which are in an excellent grade. No. 3 is getting very good values in the two lowest levels, the twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth, the good ground in the former being to the north of the shaft and in the latter to the south. There has been a great improvement here. Good grades are now showing at the twenty-seventh level at No. 4, which the crosscut from the shaft has just entered. No. 5 is meeting with good copper in the west vein and it would appear that this vein from indications will extend over a good portion of the mine.

Trimountain.

Trimountain is holding the improvement encountered from the twentieth to the twenty-seventh, the bottom level, as shown by the various openings. The great sheet of the metal more than 250 feet in length, averaging 25 feet in width and 4 inches in thickness is to some extent a sweetener and its end has not yet been reached.

Victoria.

Victoria's mineral for last month was 102 tons and the present month will probably equal that figure. The rich stretch on the bottom or twenty-sixth level is now about 500 feet long and while not so wide as the 250 feet on the twenty-fourth level is quite as high in grade, and it is holding its width. It widens out in many places. On the west it has been thrown back by a fault, on the east is still continuing. The twenty-fourth in the stopes is revealing excellent values.

Calumet & Hecla.

Calumet & Hecla has been averaging for the two last months about 10,000 tons daily. It is likely that this will be slightly increased in a short time.

MOUNTAIN VIEW MINE RESUMES

Anaconda Mine Has Been Idle Little More Than a Year.

Butte, Mont., May 15.—After an idleness of a little more than a year, which was brought on in the first place by repairs becoming necessary to the shaft and a general overhauling of the engines and machinery, the Mountain View mine resumed Monday morning. It is expected to have the force up to the size it was before the close down, or about 750 men, within a week.

During the twelve months the shaft has been repaired and even more extensive repairs and improvements made to the machinery than were at first planned. The motive power is now in keeping with the physical condition of the mine and everything is in readiness for actual mining. Among the changes made is in the hoisting cable, which has been changed from the round to the flat style. The decision arrived at some time ago to close the Original mine has been altered, and instead of shutting off work entirely, the force will be decreased with a view to curtailing the output about one-third. In filling the positions open at the Mountain View preference was given those of the Original's men who would be laid off, and they have the opportunity to change without losing a shift. It is expected about 250 men will be provided for in this way. Mine Foreman Barker will again have charge of the work at the Mountain View.

SMELTER OF EAST BUTTE TO START

Company Will Soon Be Producing Copper at Former Rate.

Butte, Mont., May 15.—Smoke was issuing from the chimney of the East Butte smelter yesterday for the first time since its shutdown and the plant is about ready for reopening after a long suspension. It had been prematurely published that the smelter had started up with the mine, but this was not true. Certain repairs and improvements were only recently finished. The smelter, when operating full time, will give employment to a force of about 150.

East Butte, which recently resumed operations after several months' shutdown, should soon be producing copper at the former rate of about 14,000,000 pounds per annum. East Butte has a debt of about $600,000, which it will take several months to liquidate.

The company has spent in the past year several hundred thousand dollars for improvements, which has given it a productive capacity of 20,000,000 pounds of copper per annum, although output will not get up to this total in the immediate future.

East Butte's shaft is now buttomed at 1,770 feet, but will immediately be sunk to 2,000 feet. The major portion of production until shaft sinking has been completed will come from the eighth, twelfth and fifteenth levels, as was the case for several months previous to the shutdown.

ELECTRICITY ON CUYUNA

Progress on Range Indicated By the Growth of Electric Power.

Louis Rouchleau Drilling in Vicinity of Emily and Little Pine.

Brainerd, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Much of the progress made on the range can be guaged by keeping account of the way electricity is supplanting steam in much of the work carried on in the development of the Cuyuna iron range. The development of the Cuyuna Range Power company whose power dam is near Brainerd, now furnishes current to Brainerd, Cuyuna, Deerwood, Crosby, Ironton, Pillager, Riverton and Woodrow, and also supplies much current for light and power to the mines on the range. The city of Brainerd is consuming more current. The increase since the Cuyuna Range Power company took over the contract amounts to 35 per cent. More lighting in homes, streets, more current for power and electric signs, has caused the increase.

Current in the Mines.

The power company supplies the current for pumping at the Inland Steel company's Armour No. 2 mine and generates current for underground mine haulage. The ore hoist will soon be operated by electricity, 70-horse power being used. A number of small motors are also used in the plant and about the machine shop. A 4-gallon electric pump will soon be placed in the Pennington pit mine to pump out the same preparatory to shipping. The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine has an electric pump of 1,600 gallons capacity using 135-horse power. The Adams mine at Oreland has an electric pump. An electric pump in the Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton taps pure spring water and supplies the town with excellent drinking water. The pump is operated very cheaply, being one of 150-horse power capacity. Current for lighting is supplied the Kennedy mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore company at Cuyuna. The Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company at Woodrow has a 1,200-gallon electric pump. The Hull Crest pit mine uses 550-horse power for operating one unit of a hydraulic system, including a sand sucker and a clear water pump. The Rowe pit mine of the Pittsburgh Steel Ore company at Riverton has two units of its hydraulic plant in operation and uses 950-horse power. The machine shop is also run by electricity.

Shipping Stockpile.

Early in the week the Armour No. 2 commenced shipping its stockpile and shipments will now largely increase. Three train crews are busy. Ore will continue to be hoisted and loaded directly into cars. The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna is loading from shaft to cars.

The Hill Crest pit mine west of Ironton is operating one hydraulic unit. The Rowe pit mine is operating two units, two steam shovels and four engines. A large concentrator is being built which is expected to be in operation by Aug. 1. The Pennington people are operating a shovel at the Armour No. 1 mine. The Inland Steel company is working a shovel in the Thompson pit mine. The Adams underground mine may be started up this season.

It is reported that the Mahnomen Mining company, recently organized by Clement K. Quinn and associates to operate the property of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company, will start stripping soon, A. Guthrie & Co. of St. Paul having the contract. Tom Watson of Crosby surveyed the ground recently. The lands of the Mahnomen Mining company lie in the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 10, township 46, range 29.

Concentrator Being Built.

The need for an ore concentrator has also been felt by the Inland Steel company and one of moderate capacity is being built at Crosby. The Cuyuna-Duluth and Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mines are expected to ship soon. The Wilcox mine at Woodrow is crosscutting.

Considerable interest has been attracted to the country around Emily and Little Pine, for in this neighborhood Louis Rouchleau of Minneapolis had three drills at work for a long time. H. J. Kruse of Crosby also had drills there and in the eastern part of the county. The Gopher Iron company is receiving royalties on some of its holdings.

Drilling has been very active in the vicinity of Woodrow, where Cuyler Adams, the E. J. Longyear company, the Adbar Development company, Cole & McDonald and others have been drilling. Jamison & Peacock have taken an option near by. Geary & Hill of Pine River are interested in lands in the north end of the county.

The Great Northern Exploration company has uncovered rich deposits of ore in its lands near the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine. The Iron Mountain mine near Manganese is being gotten in shape for heavy shipments this season. The Western Iron company has been organized by John A. Oberg, county commissioner, and his brothers, Gust Oberg, Charles Oberg and Frank Oberg and Gust Franson, all of Deerwood. It is a holding company with interests all over the range in 1,000 acres, selected properties.

Brainerd-Cuyuna.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine shaft in Brainerd is down 164 feet. At the 154-foot level drifting was commenced and carried out a distance of fifty feet. A pump station is now being cut. A cement gate is also being put in. It is but a short distance to ore and hoisting may commence in July.

The Seafield Exploration company has discontinued drilling the Duluth Land & Timber company's land, but the drill remains in position and drilling may soon be resumed. The Haley-Bradley Exploration company is about to put in a new drill at Woodrow.

John R. Harrington and his associate, F. B. Lynch, are drilling the Holland lands. Ore has been found in two holes put down and values have increased with depth.

APRIL DIVIDENDS PAID BY MINES

Twenty Producers of Copper Pay Dividends of Nearly $9,000,000.

While April dividend disbursements did not compare with those of 1914 and 1913, they were of an encouraging nature as compared with the payments made in the last several months and were indicative of the great improvement that the mining industry in general is undergoing. From reports made to Mining & Engineering World it is learned that eighty-seven American mining companies paid dividends during the first four months of 1915 amounting to $24,889,522. This, however, does not include the $5,222,944, paid by five securities-holding corporations, whose profits are secured from holdings in other companies and from the operation of their own mines. Added to the disbursements of the eighty-seven companies this makes a total distribution by ninety-two companies of $30,112,466, certainly not an unsatisfactory accomplishment when it is taken into consideration that the industry is but just recovering from one of the worst years in its history.

In point of total dividend payments the eighty-seven companies mentioned above have a remarkable record, for they have enriched shareholders to the extent of $844,795,464. This is approximately $170,000,000 in excess of their outstanding share capital.

The copper properties, twenty in number, were able to earn profits in 1915 that permitted them to divide among shareholders $8,869,859. An indication of the continued earnings of these companies, reports show that they have disbursed no less than $433,145,661, a return of $169,813,655 in excess of outstanding capital.

YEAR'S PRODUCTION IN COEUR D'ALENES

Output of Leading Mines Shows Gross Value of Ten Millions.

Reports of seven of the principal mines of the Coeur d'Alenes, for the year ended Dec. 31, 1914, show a gross value of $10,313,745 of ore produced and net profits of $2,699,612. The product extracted last year is much higher grade than in former years.

The reports filed last week with the assessor of Shoshone county, Idaho, show:

Caledonia Mining company—Extraction, $64,987; transportation and reduction, $173,113.

Sierra Nevada Consolidated Mining company—Extraction, $204,860; transportation and reduction, $202,725; royalties, $9,777.

Bunker Hill & Sullivan Mining company—Royalties, $11,888; extraction, $1,060,149; transportation and reduction, $1,352,949; betterments, $159,361.

Hecla Mining company—Extraction, $382,949; transportation and reduction, $300,775; betterments, $46,067.

Federal Mining & Smelting company—(Morning mines, Mullan)—Extraction, $560,882; transportation and reduction, $549,694; betterments, $47,492.

Federal Mining & Smelting company—(Wardner mines)—Extraction, $550,655; transportation and reduction, $316,651; betterments, $1,868.

Green Hill-Cleveland Mining company—Extraction, $650,786; transportation and reduction, $591,662; betterments, $35,754.

Snowstorm Mining company—Extraction, $202,995; transportation and reduction, $48,782; betterments, $141,780; net loss, $22,394.

GIVES WIFE MONEY FOR DULUTH TRIP

Deer River Wife-Beater Punished and Made to Provide Funds.

Deer River, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Gothard was arrested on complaint of his wife, who testified that he beat her severely. He was fined $26 and costs by Justice W. H. Herreid and was compelled to give his wife $40 to take her and her two children to Duluth.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will hold a meeting and serve a 15-cent lunch at the church next Wednesday evening.

Many local dairymen are having tests of the milk of their herds made at the Deer River creamery and the tests are running above the average.

Colin McLennan, an old timer of the county, has come to Deer River to rest up for several months at his summer home at Turtle lake.

Grandma Tellin, aged 82 years, was taken to Bemidji by her son, C. F. Tellin to enter a hospital for treatment for old age infirmities.

Girl Bitten By Dog.

The 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jones was bitten on the leg by a dog at her home Wednesday. Quick response by Dr. Craven eliminated serious results.

Mrs. W. A. Ryan has reopened her millinery store after a rest of two months to allow settlement by creditors.

Young men of Deer River have a move well advanced for the organization of a baseball team and a good sum has been subscribed by the business men.

SAFETY FIRST COURSE.

Will Be Given By Iron Range Railroad at Biwabik.

Biwabik, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth & Iron Range railway will give its first series of a "safety first course" in the Grand theater Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The railroad company proposes to give these illustrated lectures at Biwabik once each month, and have the safety spirit brought before its employes more forcibly than before. The lectures will consist not only of the railroad work, but will show good pictures for the families and friends. There will be no admission fee, and a cordial invitation is extended to all interested.

TOWER NEWS NOTES.

Ladies' Aid of Swedish Lutheran Church Enjoy Coffee Party.

Tower, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Jeanne Gallien entertained the members of her Sunday school class at her home Tuesday evening. Games furnished amusement and refreshments were served at the close of the evening's entertainment.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Swedish Lutheran church gave a coffee party yesterday at the home of Mrs. Andrew Pearson. A large crowd attended and a neat sum was realized for the church treasury.

Mrs. John Johnson of Ely is spending the week-end at the home of her mother, Mrs. Julius Dahl.

Mr. Matt Belsich, who has been at Buhl for some time, returned this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Peterson, who have been making their home with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wahisten, have purchased the residence of Harry Meeker for $800, and will soon occupy it.

RANGE ITALIANS TO GO HOME TO FIGHT

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—A well known local Italian believes that if Italy goes to war against Austria and Germany a large number of Italians living on the range will go home to fight for their country.

There are living on the range now several hundred Italians and he says that nearly half of them own property in Italy. Some have only small holdings while others have sufficient to permit them to live comfortably without worry, if they would do so. It is from the Italians, who own property in Italy that it is likely an answer will be made to the call of their motherland.

"Many of them that go will be spurred on by the thought that they may lose their property if they do not go, or that a heavy fine will be assessed against it," he said. "Patriotism will draw but few, because those who

FREE LIFE READINGS TO ALL WHO WRITE AT ONCE

The well-known European Astrologer, Prof. Roxroy, has once more decided to favor the people of this country with Free Test Readings of their lives from his office in Holland.

Prof. Roxroy's fame is so well known in this country that he hardly needs an introduction from us. His power to read the lives of people, no matter at what distance they may be is described as simply marvellous.

In August, 1913 he clearly predicted the Great War, and informed all his clients that "A bereavement in Royal circles will affect most of the crowned heads of Europe. Even Astrologers of various nationalities and reputation all over the world acknowledge him to be their master, and follow in his footsteps.

He tells you what you are capable of, and how you can be successful. He mentions your friends and enemies, and describes the good and bad periods in your life. His description as to past, present and future events will astonish and help you.

Baroness Blanquet, one of the most talented ladies of Paris, says.

"I thank you for my Complete Life Reading, which is really of extraordinary accuracy. I had already consulted several Astrologers, but never before have I been answered with so much truth, or received such complete satisfaction. With sincere pleasure I will recommend you and make your marvelous science known to my friends and acquaintances."

WHITEWATER LAKE IS BEING RESTOCKED

Aurora, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local sportsmen have undertaken to restock Whitewater lake near here with game fish. Eight cans of pike fry were planted there last Sunday. Years ago the lake was noted for its game fish, but netters and dynamiters got busy and about depleted the lake. During the past several years, through the activities of the game wardens, the gangs which operated there have been broken up, and Aurora fishermen have determined to restock the lake and try to make it a fisherman's retreat once more. Any further violations of the game laws will be vigorously prosecuted and it is the opinion of local sportsmen that in three or four years there will be good fishing. The lake is spring fed and is one of the prettiest of Northern Minnesota's small lakes.

GRAND RAPIDS BRIEFS.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. H. C. Jackson and little son have arrived to take up their residence here with Mr. Jackson who has been here for some time. Mr. Jackson and family have leased the J. D. Doran house on Hoffman avenue, and they are now nicely settled there.

Mrs. John Jones of Deer River was here the first of the week.

M. J. Taylor, editor of the Deer River News, was here Monday afternoon.

Mrs. K. Ross who has been stopping in Grand Rapids for some time past, left Tuesday for Duluth.

H. D. McIntyre of Warba was here Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Doran are preparing to spend the summer at Pokegama lake, and have secured the J. E. McMahon cottage in Cottage Grove plat. They expect to get moved out next week.

Mrs. Mort Taylor and little daughter came from Deer River Thursday to visit Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McAlpine.

Clerk of Court Rassmussen this week issued a marriage license to Ogemahgeshig and Louisa Wabono, both of Ball Club. Both are of Indian blood.

Mrs. John Vanpatter, who went to Outlook, Wash., with her son Datus Vanpatter, shortly after the death of her husband last winter, has returned to Grand Rapids and for the present is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilmoth here.

Ed Grefe left Thursday for Mudbaden in the southern part of the state where he will take treatment for rheumatism which has been bothering him of late.

R. W. Hitchcock, publisher of the Hibbing Tribune and family motored over here Tuesday.

Mrs. Ida M. Bartow and little grandson went to Hill City to visit at the home of the former's son, Don Bartow.

Albert Kramer, who had a carload of horses and cows here for sale this spring this week purchased the Peter Olson farm south of Pokegama lake. Mr. Kramer also bought the Nelson farm northwest of town. Mr. Olson has leased back his old place for one year.

Mrs. D. P. Cashen of Ironton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, and with other relatives and friends.

The Reishus Remer Land company report the sale of 200 acres of land in the town of Grattan in the northwest part of the county to Louis L. Bacon of Brooten, this state.

Theo. Liebrich, who lives near the McKinley school in the township of Harris, is recovering from the attack of pneumonia from which he was suffering.

LUMBER SCALER DIES.

Old Employe of Alger-Smith Company Passes at Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ben L. Brunson, aged 53 years, died at the Two Harbors hospital yesterday following an illness of only a few days, of pneumonia. Brunson suffered a sudden attack of the disease while at his home in Knife River the first of the week. His case grew serious and he was brought to this city Wednesday morning.

Mr. Brunson was a scaler for the Alger-Smith Lumber company for many years in their camps in the northern part of Minnesota. Recently he moved to Knife River where he intended going into business. He leaves a wife, but no children.

The remains were shipped today to Lindstrom, Minn., his old home, where the funeral services will be held and interment made.

Evelethians at Bowstring.

Deer River, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. F. A. Miller and Mrs. Carl Christie arrived Friday from Eveleth to spend two weeks at Bowstring lake. Mr. Miller and his father will arrive Monday to join the party.

Aurora to Play Hibbing.

Aurora, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local baseball team will play one of the strong Hibbing independent teams here Sunday. Aurora has one of the strongest teams this season that has represented the village in years and considerable baseball enthusiasm is being worked up. The team is under the management of Frank Tillmans.

OLD LOGGERS NOW BECOMING FARMERS

Quit Lumber Business to Till Soil in Itasca County.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—One by one the old-time loggers who are through with their logging or with the woods operations with which they have been connected are going into other lines of endeavor, mostly farming.

J. B. Sinnett, an old logger, is clearing a farm a couple of miles south of town in the town of Harris. Mr. Sinnett, the past fall and winter and spring, has had thirty-two acres cleared and is putting that amount into crop. Mr. Sinnett expects to build on the place in the near future, and he is making preparations for this now. He expects to clear twenty acres more, put in a good well, and get into shape to do the farming business in good shape.

JITNEYS NOW RUNNING NASHWAUK TO HIBBING.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The jitney craze is not confined to Duluth and other big cities. It has reached this section and the traveling public between here and Hibbing is thereby benefited. In opposition to a Hibbing concern that ran an auto bus between that village and Nashwauk several owners of smaller cars got into the game and now one can ride quite cheaply between the two towns by auto and many are taking the trip just for the fun of it.

PUPILS AS FARMERS.

Nashwauk Boys to Raise Crops on the School Plot.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new plan will be adopted this year by Earl H. Martin, agricultural high school instructor, for using the school plot. About half of the west half will be devoted to pupils' gardens in the school garden contest. There are 47 gardens eighteen feet square. Prizes to the amount of $15. Will be awarded to the successful contestants. The remainder of the west half will be used in growing different varieties of potatoes, corn, wheat, barley, turnips and rutabagas. The object is to demonstrate suitable varities for this locality and also to provide material to be used in the agricultural laboratory next year. The east half in hay crop, the big crop for this locality. Clover was seeded on the north end and broom grass on the south end last spring.

STEEL WORKER INJURED.

Axel Olson Falls, Striking on His Head at Nashwauk Plant.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Axel Olson, a steel construction worker, was seriously injured while at work on the washing plant at the Quinn-Harrison mine operated by Butler Bros. He was on the top floor of the five-story steel structure and when walking across a plank his foot slipped and he fell head first to the floor below, a distance of about twenty feet. His fellow workmen hurried to the rescue and he was immediately brought to the town hospital where eight stitches were taken near the left ear. His body in several places was badly bruised by the fall He is reported improving.

DRILLING FOR WATER NEAR GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carl Becker, who is engaged in the well drilling business, this week, brought his outfit down from Deer River, where he had been drilling wells for the farmers and others in that vicinity, and he has commenced drilling for water on the farm of Mrs. Bert Brooks, a mile south of town. Mr. Becker has several other jobs in this section. Mr. Becker reports that one well which he finished near Deer River flowed all that a four-inch pipe would carry, and that he secured numerous flows which were almost as good.

WHAT TO DO FOR ITCHING SKINS

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians have been prescribing it constantly for 20 years.

Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's and are not at all expensive.

RAIN

Oh, yes, snow would be worse all right, but why look on the black side of things? "Every cloud has a silver lining," "the darkest hour is just before dawn," "cheer up, the worst is yet to come" and other cheerful platitudes, mechanically used by the lackluster people, are permissible today; but English, rich in possibilities as it is, is barren of words to express one's feelings over the stormy, rainy, windy weather that prevails and has prevailed all night and morning. Heavy thunder started the fuss during the night, after a deceiving clearing of the sky earlier in the evening. Optimists still hope for a bright Sunday. How do those people do it?

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 4:31 and will set this evening at 7:36, giving fifteen hours and five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometric depression centered over Western Iowa caused light to heavy rains in practically all districts west and northwest of the lake region, and strong northeast winds on West-ern Lake Superior. Somewhat cooler weather prevails in the Northwest and Rocky Mountain region. High temperatures occurred Friday in Central states and portions of the South."

General Forecasts.

GILBERT SOCIAL EVENTS.

Two Dances Are Given and Another Is Scheduled.

Gilbert, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gilbert Social club gave a dancing party last evening at the new pavilion on Ely lake. A large number were present, including several out-of-town guests. This evening the Gilbert orchestra will give a dancing party at the pavilion, the first of a series of dancing parties to be given at the pavilion during the summer.

The Williams orchestra gave a dance last evening at the Carlson hall. A large number was present. Luncheon was served.

The sophomores entertained the high school students at a party Friday evening. Light luncheon was served by the girls of the sophomore class.

MANY HIBBING PUPILS TREATED

Hibbing, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—A total of 169 pupils were treated by the school medical department during April, as follows: Medical, 22; nose, throat and chest, 20; eye and ear, 11; skin, 4; surgical, 35; extraction of teeth, 28; refraction (fitted with glasses), 7; vermin, 14; redressing, 28.

JESS HARRY BECOMES ITASCA GAME WARDEN

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jess Harry, who, since his return last summer from Canada has been police officer, street commissioner and village health officer, this week resigned as village marshal and announced that he had received the appointment of game warden for this section.

Joseph McVeigh has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Harry's resignation.

AURORA CLASS PLAY IS WARMLY RECEIVED

Aurora, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senior class members of the high school made a splendid success in their class play, "Sherwood," at the Hearding auditorium last night and were roundly applauded by the large audience. Miss Harrison, their director, and the individual members of the class have been highly complimented on their success, which has resulted from careful training and painstaking efforts.

NO SUNDAY SERVICES IN EVELETH CHURCH

Eveleth, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be no preaching services in the Eveleth First Presbyterian church next Sunday, owing to the absence in the east of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Schwarz, and the inability to secure another minister.

Gets Aurora Fence Contract.

Aurora, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Matt Alto has been awarded the contract for building the two miles of barb wire fence along the west line of the village to keep the cattle from the streets. There is approximately two miles of fence, which has been made. The matter of supporting a Presbyterian church and pastor will be taken up in earnest next week.

PREPARING FOR MORE SHIPPING

Many Mesaba Range Properties to Increase Output.

Hibbing, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the exception of a beginning of activities on independent properties, mining operations on the entire Mesaba range remain practically as they were last week. Removal of overburden, however, from many corporation mines is being pushed rapidly forward in preparation of larger shipments, which at the present time are said to be as great as ore carriers on the lakes can handle.

Larger Sellers Output.

The Oliver Mining company has begun removing great quantities of gravel from the Sellers pit in preparation of more active mining in that property. The gravel is being utilized as fast as it is removed in forming a balance grade for the Hull-Rust cut off. More than three train loads of gravel was taken from the Sellers mine yesterday while many times this amount still remains to be removed.

The Hull-Rust mine is the most active property on the range. Working night and day more than 600 carloads of ore leaves this mine every twenty-four hours.

The Oliver Mining company has started sinking a shaft on the company's underground property south of Chisholm. This property is one of the two holdings developed this season in the Chisholm district. A steel shaft will be sunk and the shop buildings will be constructed of cement. At present a small crew is employed but a larger force will be employed as the work of development progresses. Captain Leo Mitchell of the Monroe mine has charge of the development work. A shaft is also being sunk in the south Myers property. Both these mines, it is expected, will begin shipping ore in two or three seasons.

One thing which has added greatly to the amount of ore shipped to the ore docks this season is that in order to make room for mining operations underneath, the stockpiles of the Minnewas and Lincoln mines at Virginia, will have to be removed. This ore, amounting to several thousand tons, will be shipped over the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad. These two mines have a monthly pay roll of more than $15,000.

At Old Mesaba.

At Old Mesaba one steam shovel has started loading ore at the Graham No. 2 and it is expected that a fair shipment will be made this season from this property. Pumping is progressing at Graham No. 1 and will be completed this week. To meet the demand for increased shipping from the Genoa open pit mine, another steam shovel and engine has been started operating here. Previous shipments were made from the stockpile. This mine is located at Eveleth. Drills have been working on the Merritt Hill between Biwabik and the Bangor location. These, it is reported, have been sunk fifteen feet in a strata of low grade ore. The exploration will be continued.

At Nashwauk it is reported that every available house or flat to rent has been leased. The La Rue mine is employing a large force of men and is extending its operations not a little.

COOK JOTTINGS.

Cook, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cook Heading Mill company has closed for the summer months.

Axel Pearson has about finished his log driving down the Little Forks river, and has commenced shipping ties.

A special school meeting was held at Beatty schoolhouse Friday to consider the location for the new schoolhouse.

Helga Pearson has returned from Ely, where she has been for some time visiting her sister.

Emil Loff left for Duluth Wednesday for a couple of weeks on business.

Alex Perkins and Charles Peterson, who have been employed by the Cook Heading Mill company, left for Frederic, Wis., Monday.

L. T. Luthey is building a confectionery store onto the First State Bank building, which will be occupied by Gus Ardin.

Ole Sassos has started road work out on the Vermilion road, near Peterson.

A dance will be given at Gheen tonight in Lemoine Bros. hall.

Ed Rolland was a Virginia visitor Thursday.

O. J. Leding and John Olson were International Falls business visitors on Wednesday.

William Schimmel's new livery barn is nearing completion.

The Order of Vasa met at the Cook hall Friday.

VIRGINIA DEBATE.

Question of Manager Form for City to Be Discussed.

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—There will be a debate this evening at the Technical high school between the sophomore and junior class debating teams on the subject, "Resolved, That the City of Virginia Should Adopt the City Manager Form of Municipal Government." The Sophomore Literary society's team will uphold the affirmative and the junior society's team, the negative. Clara Larson, Thomas Fleming and Hazel Eaton compose the sophomore team, and Douglas Nelson, Jeanette Baer and Lawrence Hagen, the junior team.

The main talks will be ten minutes long. Notice will be given by the timekeeper at the end of nine minutes. Five minutes will be allowed for rebuttal.

E. J. Larsen, K. K. Tibbitts and H. J. Scharr will be the judges. Timekeepers, Claire Lippman, president of the senior class literary society, and Reynolds Milroy, president of the freshman class.

The Boys' Glee club will sing.

This debate will decide the school championship for the year. The winners will have their names engraved on the silver cup.

TWO HARBORS CLASS PLAY GREAT SUCCESS

Initial Performance So Popular, Two More Are to Be Given.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first performance of the class play, "A Strenuous Life," was given by the graduating class of the local high school last night at the Minnehaha building before a packed house and was voted a success. Each student seemed to be especially fitted for the various characters essayed. The untiring efforts of Miss Steichen, who directed, are also praised.

Another performance was given this afternoon for the school children and the final performance will be given this evening.

Those Taking Part.

The following are the cast:

Tom Harrington, football captain, Stewart McCall; Reginald Black, his chum, James Maher; Byron Harrington, father of his son, Charles Irwin; James Roberts, a freshman, Roy Lusch; William Everet James, a professor, Bryant Richards; Dan Dawvenant, from the hills, Fridtjof Spilhaus; Prof. Magee, director of the gym, Herman Falk; Nugata, Japanese school boy, Esther Sullivan; Dawley, a collector, Lyle Scott; Mrs. Wigginton Wiggins, the landlady, Freda Brickson; Marian Davenant, Lillian Thorstenson; Ruth Thorton, Mrs. Wiggins niece, Alphild Gafvert; Dulcie Harrington, Tom's sister, Hildur Starnd; Widow Maguire, Vivadile Schultz.

SNOW, RAIN, SLEET VISIT MESABA RANGE

Weather Man Furnishes All Kinds of Weather in That Section.

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The weather man gave this section a variety of weather today, snow, sleet, rain and a heavy thunder storm being furnished. Early this morning there was a fall of snow. Later it turned to sleet and rain, while about noon a thunderstorm broke loose here and covered a good portion of the range.

There was quite a heavy fall of rain but so far as known no damage was done.

TO MEET DULUTH NINE.

Two Harbors Gophers to Meet Zenith Furnace Team at Home.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gopher baseball team will play their first game this season here tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting, with the Zenith Furnace company team of Duluth. A new pitcher named Darling has joined the local team. He claims to be a big league pitcher, having done much mound work in the Pacific Coast league.

The locals will line-up as follows: McDonald, catcher; Darling, pitcher; Woodward, first base; Johnson, second base; Ginter, third base; Zirath, short stop, Gustafson, Holliday and Risberg, fielders.

Jitney busses will leave the corner of First avenue and Poplar street for the ball game. This is a new means of transporting the fans from the city to the ball park.

NINE BOXCAR INMATES TO COUNTY WORK FARM.

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The police early this morning raided box cars here and arrested nine men, among them being two claiming to be baseball pitchers. They were sent to the county work farm by Judge Carey.

GAS MEN ON RANGE.

Eastern Gas Machine Makers Looking Over Range Possibilities.

Eveleth, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. P. Smith, C. J. Tenney, D. C. Tenney and Charles Schauer of the American Gas Construction company of Newton, Pa., are visitors on the Mesaba range. They came on from the East to confer with J. A. Kennedy of this city and Thomas Lynch of Eveleth in regard to the proposed gas plant to be established here.

Messrs. Kennedy and Lynch are holders of the franchise at Eveleth and it is proposed to construct the plant here for the purpose of furnishing fuel gas to the people of this city and also extend their pipe lines to Gilbert.

WOMAN IS ACCUSED.

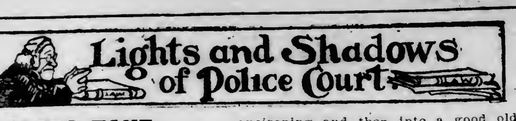
Alleged to Be Running Blind Pig at Kinrose.

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Sarach Stark also known as Serah Kincaid, was arraigned before Judge Carey in municipal court yesterday afternoon on a blind pigging charge preferred by Lachlyn McDonald, who alleges she has been conducting an unlicensed drinking place in her home near Kinrose. She was released on her own recognizance pending a hearing May 21.

Mrs. Stark has been living near Kinrose for a number of years, where she did some farming on a small scale. In the past Kinrose has been the rendezvous for picnic parties and it has been generally known that Mrs. Stark catered to the wants of the people by serving refreshments in the line of drinks, but whether she served them with liquor remains to be proven. Mr. McDonald is in the real estate business in Virginia.

MISSING VIRGINIA MAN IS LOCATED

Virginia, Minn., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former Mayor A. N. Thompson, who dropped out of sight Monday and who, it was feared, had been seriously ill or perhaps met with foul play, was found about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of a neighbor. He was much surprised to think his absence had created any worry and today is back on his job.



BURGLARS TAKE SUPPLY OF BUTTER

East Eighth Street Grocery Entered—Thieves Have Oleaginous Appetites.

THIRTY pounds of fresh creamery butter, value 35 cents a pound, was missing from a grocery store at 1001 East Eighth street this morning when A. E. Arntson, the proprietor, opened up shop.

After an investigation he found that his nocturnal visitors had entered through a rear window. About 100 cigars and $1.50 in small change also was reported missing.

"It won't be hard to catch those burglars," was the comment at headquarters, when Mr. Arntson reported his loss. "The family lucky enough to have fresh butter won't be able to conceal their elation."

Footsteps leading away from the window gave detectives their only clew as to the identity of the burglars, and this clew was unsatisfactory, as the burglars were equipped with most commonplace feet, judging from their trail.

JUST "TUMMY" ACHE.

A suicide subsided into accidental poisoning and then into a good old-fashioned stomach ache, caused by eating too much candy last night when Mrs. Doris McDonald, 437 Lake avenue south, brought police to her home in answer to a hurryup call.

"A woman tried to commit suicide," said some one in an anonymous telephone call to the headquarters about 6 o'clock.

Sergeant David Butchart investigated, and then the emergency patrol made a rush trip for Police Surgeon Klein. When Dr. Klein reached St. Luke's, breathless, to prevent the suicide, it was found that Mrs. McDonald had preferred to stay at home.

Dr. Klein was rushed to the McDonald home in a police touring car, and there found the victim "resting easily," in a physician's phraseology.

"I think I ate too much candy this morning," explained Mrs. McDonald.

"LOSES HEAD" IN CITY.

Lodger Forgets He Had Left "Roll" Safeguarded; Reports to Police.

Forgetting that he had given his money to E. F. Madden for safe keeping, John Conners of Lake Nebagamon caused the police considerable trouble yesterday morning when he reported that someone had entered his room at the Ryan hotel, West Superior street, and taken his roll of $15.

Conners went to bed Friday night at the hotel and left his door unlocked. When he awoke, his first thought was of his money, and when he couldn't find it, he hurried to headquarters.

"The attractions of a city evidently have proved too much for him," explained Mr. Madden.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

SPEEDING UP BALL GAMES IS PLEASING TO THE FANS

Efforts to Stop Time-Killing Practices Proving Successful—English Golfers Are Coming to American Tournaments—Baseball Growing in Popularity in Australia.

New York, May 15.—The efforts being made in both the major leagues and the Federal league to speed up the daily games is already beginning to show results. Complaints from the cities represented in all three circuits first called the attention of the league executives to the fans' objections to long-drawn-out contests, and there was immediate action on the part of the baseball authorities.

President Ban Johnson of the American league notified the junior organization club managers that less time must be consumed in playing games, and that several time-killing practices must be discontinued. President Gilmore of the Federals took a similar stand, and intimated that he might offer prizes in order to shorten the average playing session. In the National league the matter was also given careful study and several plans considered to improve the conditions.

A study of the playing time figures of the three leagues discloses some interesting details. Using the April contests as a basis, it is shown that the average in the American league for from ten to thirteen contests is 2 hours 6½ minutes. The Federal league clubs under similar conditions required 2 hours 24 minutes to play nine innings, while the National league made the best showing with an average of 1 hour 52½ minutes.

Of the individual clubs of the American league, the Washington team led the organization with an average of 1 hour 51 minutes. Boston and New York followed with averages 6 and 7 minutes slower respectively. St. Louis consumed the most time, the Browns requiring 2 hours 19½ minutes, with Chicago but one minute faster. The Philadelphia Nationals were the hustlers of the Tener circuit, averaging 1 hour 41 minutes for ten games, with the New York Giants but half a minute slower. Chicago required 2 hours 11½ minutes, and Pittsburgh also crossed the two-hour mark. In the Federal league, the Pittsburgh club showed the best time, averaging but 1 hour 50 minutes for thirteen games. Buffalo showed the other extreme, requiring an average of 2 hours 27 minutes for twelve games.

English Golfers Coming.

Four of England's leading professional golfers sail today for this country, and British golfing authorities predict that one of the quartet will win chief honors in the United States National Open. Ray, Vardon, Duncan and Mayo form a formidable entry, and the American players will have to be at their best at Baltusrol a month hence in order to keep the national championship in this country. An English expert, writing of the invasion, states:

"The British quartet this time have the very best prospects, and it is at least likely that the humiliating defeat of Brookline will be avenged. The American climate is not likely to be at its worst from the British point of view in June. Then Vardon and Ray, who are both playing well, though the circumstances of the times prevent much attention being given to their forms and doings, acclimatise quickly in America, and have had the inestimable advantage of experience in the championships there. They will tackle the ordeal of Baltusrol in a different frame of mind from that in which they engaged upon their test at Brookline, and will, moreover, not run any risk of being overplayed beforehand, as they will have just three weeks on the other side to lick their game into proper American shape. As to Duncan, whose chances in this expedition I regard as being as bright as they possibly could be, there is this to be said—that though he has not taken part in the American championship he was in the country on a short tour four years ago, and on that occasion he played some wonderful golf on various American courses.

"Charles Mayo, the Burhill professional, who has been in partnership with Duncan on many memorable occasions, has not been in America before, and it is difficult to estimate his prospects. He is a sound golfer, and very steady, and is not so slow as he used to be. I might add that there is a possibility of a certain British amateur—one who has not won the championship either here or in America, be it said—making the trip as well as the professionals, and if he does so he will need to be taken into most serious consideration, for I do not think that any amateur in this country is playing better golf at the present time, and hardly a professional either for that matter."

Baseball in Australia.

Reports from Australia indicate that baseball continues to grow in popularity. The seventeenth annual report of the New South Wales Baseball association shows that the general advancement of the American game was more marked in this state in 1914 than in any previous season and that the standard of play in all grades was of a high character. A special note expresses satisfaction at the success of school baseball, the wisdom of fostering the game in the nursery section being exemplified by the victories of the youngsters in the interstate matches. As to finances the association has a sum of about $1,445, an increase of almost $600 over last season.

How a Story Originated.

An interesting insight into the manner in which baseball gossip occasionally upsets big league circles occurred in New York recently. Manager John McGraw of the Giants, having signed Benny Kauff of the Brooklyn Federals to what he considered a binding contract, a club official confided to a friend that the Giants had made a splendid deal whereby a sensational outfielder was to join the New York Nationals. Asked where the player was from, he answered, Brooklyn.

The friend, who is a thirty-third degree fan, forgetting of the existence of the Brookfolds, immediately jumped to the conclusion that Zack Wheat of the Brooklyn Superbas, was the player meant. He passed the story along and others furnished still further details, including the names of the Giants players, Perritt, Murray and Robertson, as the trio scheduled to wear Brooklyn uniforms.

The officials of both clubs were dumbfounded when they heard the story and it was not until Kauff tried to jump from the Brookfeds to the Giants that the explanation of the alleged deal for Zack Wheat was found. President Charles Ebbets of the Brooklyn Nationals, is still busy explaining to indignant Brooklyn fans that he never had any intention of trading Wheat and that McGraw referred to Kauff when he spoke of a Brooklyn fielder.

Tennis Team to Coast.

It is likely that the Eastern tennis team to be selected by the U. S. N. L. T. A., for a playing tour of the Pacific coast will consists of: R. Norris Williams, national champion; G. M. Church, Eastern intercollegiate champion; T. R. Pell and W. M. Washburn. This quartet includes three of the first ten ranking players and one in the second ten. Williams is No. 2; Church, No. 7; Washburn, No. 9 and Pell is one of the class of players which is composed of those racquet wielders graded from eleven to twenty.

This is the most representative four that the East can supply since Alexandler, Clothier and Behr, the other Eastern ranking players, cannot give the time necessary for such an extended trip. Just what this quartet can do against the stars of California, including McLoughlin, Murray, Johnston, Fottrell, Griffin and Strachan, remains to be seen. Certainly the invaders will find formidable opponents defending the California courts.

RAIN PUTS QUIETUS ON TRACK CONTESTS

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Heavy rains have prevented the state high school track meet which was to have been held here today under the auspices of the Athletic department of the Agricultural college. The track is a sea of mud. Some events may be pulled off on the turf if the rain ceases later today.

RAIN AT GRAND FORKS; GAME POSTPONED

Grand Forks, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The game scheduled here today between Superior and Grand Forks has been postponed because of rain.

Indians Release Infielder.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 15.—The Cleveland American association club today released Infielder Larry Pezold to New Orleans. This cuts the Cleveland squad to the sixteen-player limit. Pezold is now in New Orleans at the bedside of his mother who is ill.

COAST TO COAST TRAIL IS BOOSTED

Fargo, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the purpose of boosting the coast to coast trail through this state, the North Dakota Automobile association is holding a special meeting here this afternoon. There are delegates present from all sections of the state and they will be entertained by the local automobile association at a banquet tonight.

CLEAN-UP A SUCCESS.

Citizens' Committee Well Pleased With Week's Work.

Duluth's clean-up week has been a complete success.

This is the opinion of the members of the citizens' committee that directed the work for clean-up week, which began last Monday.

Frank X. Gravel, one of the committee, declared this morning that the people of Duluth responded admirably to the request that all yards and alleys be cleaned and the entire city given a good washing in preparation for the visitors, who will start coming here next month.

The members of the committee desire to thank the people of the city for their earnest co-operation in helping make Duluth clean and neat for the tourist season.

SUMMONS THIRTY MORE WITNESSES

Syracuse, N. Y., May 15.—It became known here today that counsel for William Barnes in his libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt had summoned additional witnesses to appear Monday when the trial will enter its fifth week. These witnesses are all former members of the legislature. They are to testify, it was said, in connection with Col. Roosevelt's allegation that Mr. Barnes in 1911 had an arrangement with Charles F. Murphy by which the Tammany leader was to have a "free hand" in the selection of a United States senator.

Each witness will be asked whether Mr. Barnes tried to influence his vote.

Dancing on stage after performance. Anniversary night. Lyceum theater, Monday.

SUPERIOR

More Recall Signers.

Recallers will get an additional list of at least sixty-four names, according to a decision reached yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the committee in charge. The list filed with the city clerk a few days ago was said to have been found insufficient. It is possible that a larger list than this will be obtained. Mayor J. S. Konkel, against whom the petition is directed, has stated, it is said, that he will indorse the petition when it has the proper number of signatures.

Site for Auditorium.

A conference of citizens of Superior interested in the proposed new municipal auditorium will be called next Tuesday afternoon at the city hall. Several proposals for a site have been received and the question of selecting the proper place for the building will be taken up. The proposed building will cost $75,000. Bonds for its construction were authorized at the spring election.

JOHN BIRKINBINE DIES.

Designed the Original Blast Furnace for West Duluth.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 15.—John Birkinbine, a noted mining and mechanical engineer, died at his home here yesterday. He was 71 years old. Mr. Birkinbine developed schemes for utilizing the water power of Niagara Falls, and also devised the use of blast furnaces in the Lake Superior copper region. He was a former president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

Mr. Birkinbine was prominently connected with the iron industry at the Head of the Lakes during the latter part of the '80s and early '90s.

He designed the original blast furnace in West Duluth, and made several trips to Duluth at the time the plant was installed. From this original furnace has grown the Zenith Furnace company's plant. He was widely known among iron ore men during the early days of the Mesaba range and will be remembered by many old-time Duluthians.

Issued Very Fine Booklet.

The Duluth Business University have just issued a very attractive booklet setting forth to prospective students the advantages that may be obtained by attending this institution. The catalogue contains numerous illustrations showing students at work in the various departments of the school and also expressions from the leading firms of Duluth paying tribute to Mr. McCarter, the principal, for the excellent manner in which he has conducted the school. The students who have finished the institution of learning have taken positions all over the United States and Mr. McCarter has been the recipient of words of praise from the many firms that he has supplied with help, of the thorough training which his students have received.

Big gala anniversary night, Lyceum theater, Monday. Baldwin Players.

Section of Canal Opened.

Albany, N. Y., May 15.—The eastern section of the new state barge canal as far west as Rexford was formally opened today by Governor Whitman and other state officers. In this instance, the inspecting boats were lifted 169 feet by a series of five locks which are said to form the greatest flight of high lift locks ever constructed.

Jail-Breaker Arrested.

Lisbon, N. D., May 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wanted for an attempted rape and jail breaking in 1912, Floyd A. Reed has been located at Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Sheriff Craig will bring him back. Three years ago he married a local girl, soon after which he deserted her and was arrested and placed in jail, from which he escaped. The young woman has since secured a divorce and remarried.

KANSAS GOVERNOR'S WIFE NATIVE OF STATE

MRS. ARTHUR CAPPER.

For the first time in its history the state of Kansas has a native son presiding over its destinies and also for the first time it has a native daughter as the governor's wife. Arthur Capper, the new governor of Kansas, is the owner of the Topeka Capital. Mrs. Capper, who presides over the governor's mansion, was Florence Crawford, and Topeka was her home at the time she married the man who is now governor of his state. Mrs. Capper is a charming hostess and socially an able aid to her husband in his political ambitions.

LITTLE NEGRESS HAS INCOME OF $800 A DAY FROM OIL

Courts Have Aired and Stopped Many Wiles of the Wicked Who Were Robbing the Indians—Elma Glenn, an Indian, Is Worth $400,000 and Reid Lee Hood, a 12-Year-Old Indian Boy, Is Worth $300,000 But Doesn't Want an Auto—The Queer Story of Lucinda Pittman, Who Kept House for Her Divorced Husband's Second Wife.

Muskogee Phoenix: The Muskogee county court is really a great, big family of a few more than 14,000 persons—some of them wards and about 3,000 of them guardians—who meet together at least once every year and discuss with Thomas W. Leahy, the judge, everything from their money to their physical welfare.

The Muskogee county court is the second largest probate court in the world, being exceeded only by that of the city of New York. The immense total of $130,000,000 in estates is handled through this probate court. It is the oil production of Oklahoma that is responsible for such an enormous figure.

There are many interesting figures connected with the sudden wealth literally heaped upon the wards of this court. Perhaps the most famous is that of Sarah Rector, a little negro girl, now 13 years old. Sarah is a Creek freedman and when she was allotted her land she selected an uneven tract on the south bank of the Cimarron river, near a little town named Cushing.

Gets $800 a Day.

A few years ago, E. B. Jones, an oil man, sunk a steel bit into the center of Sarah's land and before he had drilled many feet he had struck what was then the biggest oil well in Oklahoma. Sarah's income from the sale of oil is $800 a day, on which nearly any person can live. She has $53,000 loaned out at 8 per cent interest, she has $15,000 on time deposit in a local bank, she owns farm property worth about $6,000 and her allotment is valued by conservative oil men at not less than $400,000.

Including the value of the oil, Sarah Rector will be worth a million dollars by the time she becomes of age.

For many years of her life Sarah lived in a tent. She continued to make this her residence long after she was a rich girl. Then Judge Leahy ordered her guardian to build her a three-room house and here Sarah Rector lives. The Indian, is paid $125 J. Porter, Sarah's guardian, is paid $125 a month to handle the girl's estate.

Last year Judge Leahy, against the wishes of Sarah's parents, sent the little girl to Tuskegee Institute, where she will receive an education under Booker T. Washington.

Under Judge Leahy's administration of the county court, more than $250,000 in actual cash has been recovered for wards from guardians who were found "short" in their final reports. In addition, there is $20,000 to the credit of different minors on the judgment docket of the county.

Money Recovered.

Some of the largest shortages discovered and where money has been recovered for minors are:

The Bates P. Burnett case, where this man who was guardian for Edith Durant, a negro, was found short $45,000. The Southwestern Surety company paid Edith Durant $40,000 in one check and another surety company paid the balance.

The G. L. Torr case, where this man who was guardian of Sally Hodge, a negro, was found short $25,000 and the money was repaid. Torr was later sent to the penitentiary.

The Dr. W. A. Reid case, where this man who was guardian for Reid Lee Hood was found short $20,000. This case was complicated by the fact that Reid was killed in an automobile wreck before the civil suit was decided but the money is now about to be repaid.

Many other such cases of smaller amounts could be mentioned. They have been growing much more infrequent of late, however, and Judge Leahy believes that the time is coming in Oklahoma when such cases will almost cease.

Praise for Judge Leahy.

Only a few months ago the different county judges of Oklahoma met in Muskogee and adopted a uniform set of rules for the handling of Indian business. On that occasion, practically every rule made by Judge Leahy for every rule made by Judge Leahy for the Muskogee county court was adopted and Cato Sells, United States Indian commissioner, paid a high compliment to the administration of the local court.

Since Judge Leahy has been in office, 139 guardians have been discharged. The greater part were for apparent shortages in their accounts, but some were for "incompetency and some even for "suspicion." But with more than 300 appointments, the judge believes he has surrounded himself with a fairly efficient "family."

Wiles of the Wicked.

One of the most important functions of the county court occurs in connection with land sales of wards. Formerly land was sold to the highest bidder and this bidder given several days to make good his purchase. Here is what happened: A piece of land would be advertised for sale near a spot where an oil well was being drilled. A bidder would offer any amount necessary to get it. He would wait until the result of the oil well drilling was discovered. If a good well was found, he would have no trouble in disposing of his purchase at a profit. If not, he would simply fail to make good his purchase and nothing happened. Judge Leahy has changed this by requiring every successful bidder to deposit a certified check for the amount he bids before he leaves the courtroom.

Another "graft" quite common in the early days has been abolished by a simple rule. Formerly when an Indian sold an oil lease on his land, the purchaser would simply give the guardian a check for the amount. Oftentimes these checks ran as high as $5,000. The guardians in no small number of cases were farmers unused to the ways of business. They would express some doubt as to the check. The purchaser of the lease would reassure the guardian and would promise to take the check to the bank himself and get the money for the guardian if the guardian would only indorse it. This being done, the purchaser would give the check to a third party, who would get the money, return it to the purchaser, and if the guardian "squealed," the purchaser had his canceled check, with the guardian's indorsement to show for good faith. This scheme has been stopped by an order requiring that all money for property belonging to a ward be paid directly to the county judge.

Fair Cheated the Indians.

A peculiar thing about the Oklahoma oil land is that a great majority of it is in the possession of negroes and mixed blood Indians instead of the fullbloods, who it seems should own it by right. The explanation for this is that when the lands were first allotted Indian Territory had no thought of oil, but only of agriculture. The fullbloods received the best agricultural lands and the others got what was left. These rocky "leavings" have turned out to be the rich oil land holdings.

Sarah Rector, the richest negro in the world, is a Muskogee ward and has probably the most valuable property, but she is not the only one who has an enviable wealth. Sally Hodge, a 16-year-old negress, who is already married and the mother of a baby, has an estate worth more than $400,000. Sally's land is in the Glenn pool and many of the wells on it are still producing. Her guardian, H. L. Rose, showed in his last report that Sally's income from oil, investments, interest and rents is slightly in excess of $12,000 a year. Sally Hodge owns a small home at Red Bird, a negro town, where she lives without realizing the wonderful wealth she possesses.

Elma Glenn and Reid Hood.

Elma Glenn, an Indian, owns an estate that is also estimated to be worth $400,000. Her land is in the very heart of the famous Glenn pool, named for her father, and once the largest oil pool in the world. Elma Glenn received the largest bonus for a piece of oil property that has ever been recorded. She received $40,000 in cash for consenting to lease twenty acres of her land to G. W. Barnes, a Muskogean. She did not sell the land—only leased it—and her royalties were in addition to the money she received for the lease. But stupendous as the price may seem, Barnes made money on the deal. He later died in Monte Carlo, a millionaire. Elma Glenn lives at Gleen Pool, a little postoffice from which miles and miles of oil derricks greet the eye.

Reid Lee Hood, a 12-year-old Indian lad who lives at Sapulpa, has an estate which is valued at $300,000. This lad is going to school and is said to be an adept scholar. He once thought of buying an automobile, but later decided that he would not. In spite of the fact that Reid's former guardian is accused of stealing $20,000 of this lad's money, his income last year was still a little in excess of $9,000. Reid has $66,400 loaned out at 8 per cent—a figure, by the way, which Judge Leahy insists shall be paid on all loans made through his court—and he owns quite a little business property in Supulpa in addition. The boy's present guardian is Thomas H. Owen, who formerly received $100 every month to look after this estate. Reid's land is in the Glenn pool and has almost ceased to produce oil, but his estate will continue to increase at a rapid rate every year until he is allowed to spend his money himself; and then it will either increase or decrease, depending on the lad's own intellect.

Lucinda Pittman's Story.

A novelist would have no trouble in making a remarkable story out of the experiences of Lucinda Pittman, a ward of the court who has an estate valued at $250,000. Lucinda is a full-blooded Indian. She was 30 years ten years ago when large oil wells were discovered on her land. For many years this Indian has been what is known as an "incompetent," or a person unable to handle her own affairs. Less than three months after huge streams of gold were literally poured upon her, Lucinda married. She did not have the least idea of money. Her husband, however, died in two years, leaving her with one child.

Not many months thereafter, Lucinda married again, this time choosing the brother of the first husband. He took her to Denver, Colo., where after a short time he divorced her and took another wife. Officials became suspicious of the case and called an investigation. They found Lucinda after a long time. She was living very contentedly as housekeeper for the man who had divorced her and remarried.

She was taken away and is now living in Tucson, Ariz. The United States government has selected a white companion for her and those two women live together. The white woman is paid $75 a month and Lucinda is given $250 for each month. The Indian has a small child whose estate is just beginning to be valuable by reason of a recent oil discovery. It may turn out to be the most valuable of all allottments in Oklahoma. D. N. Fink is the guardian.

Marcus McGuire, Indian.

Two other estates that are worth approximately a quarter of a million dollars each are those of Marcus Wilson McGuire, a 10-year-old Indian boy, and Edith Durant, a 16-year-old Indian girl.

Marcus lives in Muskogee and his land is in the Glenn pool. It is still producing. This youngster owns several of the two and three-story brick buildings in Muskogee. He has also invested in farm land. His mother, Mrs. Sophia White, is his guardian, and she is an expert manager for this large estate.

Edith Durant is the girl whose former guardian stole $45,000 from her but who was lucky enough to get it all back. This money has all been loaned out and is bringing her the neat little sum of $3,600 annually. In addition she has made many other loans and owns two farms. Her land is in the Glenn pool. Monday Durant, her father, and R. L. Hays, a Muskogee business man, are her guardians.

Joseph Morrison is another of the fortunate negroes. He is now 16 years old and for the last ten years has been piling up an income of $6,000 a year. His guardian, H. H. Ogden, has realized on some good investments for him and although his oil wells are not producing now at the rate they have been, he is in no danger of starvation. By the time Morrison is of age he will be worth at least $200,000—that is if he lives to be of age for this wealthy youngster is suffering with consumption.

There are many other estates of more than $100,000 each and a great host in which the value is sufficient to net the ward an income of more than $2,600 a year. But it would be tiresome to enumerate even a few of them because the story is always the same—first poverty, then a steel biting stream of a greenish liquid and sunk into the earth, suddenly a spout —then—riches.

FARM COLONIES VERSUS COUNTY JAILS

Indiana's Plan for Reducing Prison Population By State Instead of County Care.

By AMOS W. BUTLER.
Secretary Indiana State Board of Charities.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

Why should not a violator of the state law be a prisoner of the state? Why is it not as much the duty of the state to care for those who commit petty offenses as for those who commit greater ones?

As it now is, in practically all our states, the petty offenders are cared for by local officials, and in most of the commonwealths without much, if any, supervision. To Massachusettes, perhaps, can be given the credit for leading the way in the suggestion that the minor prisons be placed under state authority. In other states, this plan has been suggested, but nowhere has any material progress been made in this direction.

English Experience.

The experience of the United Kingdom since 1877 is suggestive. Three acts passed simultaneously by the three kingdoms placed the control of the minor prisons under central government. The end sought was a uniform system of punishment, the repression of crime, and economy in expense, and that the law was effective is to be gathered from the following statement from Sir Evelyn Ruggles-Brise:

"The act came into effect on April 1, 1878, 113 local prisons being so transferred. Since that date, their number has been reduced to fifty-six. At the time of their transfer, the local prison population stood at 23,030, the highest known. From that date a continuous fall was recorded until 1885, when the numbers reached slightly over 15,000. After a series of fluctuations below and above this number, here the population stands at 15,000 at the present time."

In what other countries has there been such a great decrease in the number of misdemeanants?

Our short-term prisoners are our greatest prison problem. There are more of them. We give less thought to them and do less for them. Our county jail system is a survival of the early days, a relic from the past. Considered in the light of modern social developments it is an obsolete thing.

A placard that was used in Indiana to call attention to the county jail system, read as follows:

"How prisoners live and learn in Indiana jails.

"They live in idleness at the expense of the taxpayer.

"They learn vice, immorality and crime.

"They become educated in criminal ways.

"They degenerate both physically and morally."

The Wrong Word.

A similar legend would apply with more or less force to the jail system of all the United States.

Out of these local prisons come all the prisoners in our state institutions. One of the delegates to the international prison congress in Washington, in 1910, spoke in admiration of the reformatory laws of some of our states, but added, "It seems to me that you have begun at the wrong end, with the felons in the state prison, instead of with the petty offender, whose numbers are many times as great, in the local jail."

Altogether, the local jail presents the most difficult problem to solve. Few people are interested in it, fewer still care. No one goes to the jail except on business unless he is committed, and yet perhaps these local prisons to which few people give a thought are making more criminals than any other one agency. Our public schools are supported by taxes for the purpose of making good citizens. Our jails, too, are public schools, but they are making bad citizens. They are schools for the training of criminals.

An important development in penology has been the recent changes in the treatment of misdemeanants in Indiana. This involves a change of attitude and of theory. An offender against the Federal law becomes a prisoner of the United States. The judge of the court having jurisdiction —a United States officer—has full authority over the prisoner, including his keeping and care.

Where Indiana Leads.

In effect that principle has been adopted by the state of Indiana alone so far as we know. Under its jail supervision law, all prisoners are really prisoners of the state. They are under the authority of the judge of the circuit or criminal court, who is a state officer. The judge may determine where the prisoner shall be kept; how he shall be cared for; his food, bathing, etc. He is given authority to adopt rules for the care and behavior of prisoners and the conduct of officers, to condemn a jail if it is unfit for use and remove the prisoners until it is repaired, remodeled or rebuilt. As a result the buildings are in better condition. There is improvement in cleanliness, neatness and sanitation. These combine to effect a lessening in the number of prisoners in many of the jails. Where discipline, regular habits and cleansing of quarters and persons are required, many persons who love careless ways of living manage to keep out of jail.

Indiana also established a house of correction for women misdemeanants. This is a branch of the woman's prison. It is wholly under the charge of women. This law has been in operation since 1908, with very gratifying results. Many of the women who know about domestic employment are trained so that when they go out they may do something for themselves. Some of them have been reclaimed and re-established and are doing well.

The New Farm.

The next step was the establishment of the state farm for male misdemeanants. This was provided for by the legislature of 1913. It is located near Greencastle, about forty-five miles from Indianapolis, within reach of two important railroad lines. On this farm there are different grades of limestone, principally Mitchell limestone, the best road-building material in the state. There is good surface clay for use in brick and tile making. It is well watered and there is a considerable tract of forest land.

Twenty-four men were first transferred from the state prison at Michigan city and placed in tents borrowed from the state National Guard. They did their own cooking and practically guarded themselves. On the day of the first cold weather and the beginning of the first heavy snowfall, they completed the first building and moved into it. This will eventually be the store house. They are now at work upon the dormitories, kitchen, dining room and other necessary buildings. These at first will provide for 250 or 300 men. Others will later be added to double this capacity.

The newspapers call this farm the "prison without walls." That is what it is hoped it may be, but probably at first it will be surrounded by barbed wire fence. However, the buildings will be of the same one-story frame dormitory type, and it is expected there will be no bars, as is the institution after which it is modeled.

Built By Prisoners.

At any rate, it will be an industrial farm colony for short-term or misdemeanant prisoners. It will be built by the prisoners, inexpensively, of wood, at least at first. The prisoners will be employed in useful occupation, contributing to their own support instead of living in idleness at the expense of the taxpayer in a local jail.

The governor proclaimed the institution ready to receive prisoners April 12, 1915. There will be sent to it the men with longer sentences of the class that now go to the work houses and jails. Eventually, there will doubtless be established more farms of the same kind. Then there will be opportunity for an indeterminate sentence of some form for misdemeanants. This will naturally mean that the county jails will not be used for the confinement of convicted misdemeanants. They will serve only as places of detention for prisoners awaiting trial. It is confidently believed the result will be a notable lessening in the number of these prisoners.

People often speak of "prison" farms. This is not alone a prison problem. The industrial farm colony is a type of institution which has come to be regarded as a desirable means for the care of certain groups of practically all classes of public charges. It has been adopted and successfully conducted for the care of the insane in Wisconsin, Massachusetts and Indiana; for the feeble-minded in Massachusetts, New Jersey and Indiana; for epileptics in New Jersey and Indiana.

ORDUNA REACHES NEW YORK SAFELY

New York, May 15.—The Cunard liner Orduna reached New York today from Liverpool. The trip was made without incident. Passengers had heard at sea that the Lusitania had been sunk, but received no details.

Capt. Taylor of the Orduna said he passed the Lusitania at 1 o'clock Friday morning, eleven hours before she was torpedoed, but did not communicate with her, although the two ships came within hailing distance, because the British admiralty had forbidden wireless operations in and near the war zone.

The Orduna brought eighty-six passengers. Among them was F. S. Butterworth of New Haven, Conn., once a Yale football star. Mr. Butterworth said he was aboard a channel boat April 29 when a German submarine fired a torpedo without warning at the boat. The captain saw the missile and dodged it. It missed the steamer by thirty yards.

There were no soldiers aboard the steamer, Mr. Butterworth said, but many women and children. The boat was making twenty-six knots and this aided her in dodging the torpedo.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

"OWN-YOUR-OWN HOME" IDEA HELPS SELL HOUSES AND LOTS

Transfer of Residence Property Chief Feature of the Week.

City Buys Two Lots for Library Branch; Many Small Sales.

Spread of the "own-your-own-home" idea as exemplified in sales of houses and building lots, continues the outstanding feature in the real estate field. As set forth in this week's list of transfers, transactions in that class of property practically monopolized the business put through.

Substantial inquiry is reported in the market for central business and industrial sites and it is said that were it not for an inclination towards the exercise of caution at the moment owing to fears of complications arising out of the European war, some interesting deals would have been brought to the closing stage before now. All properties are being extremely closely held by their present owners, while prospective purchasers, on the other hand, are as a rule holding off for price concessions.

Easy Payment Plan.

The present eagerness on the part of salaried people to obtain homes on the easy-payment plan is regarded as a healthy development by realty operators, and it is being encouraged in every way possible. The persistency of that class of buyers during the last four or five years in carrying through their contracts is regarded as remarkable. Said an operator in referring to that class of business today: "Going back over a period of five years when the additions were first platted and sold on that plan, we have taken back an extremely small percentage of the lots then sold and a large proportion of the buyers have since built homes and are carrying through their payments upon them satisfactorily."

Site for Public Library.

A feature of the week was the purchase by the city of two lots at the southeast corner of Twenty-third avenue west and Second street to be utilized as a site for branch public library. The consideration to be paid is $4,200. One lot was purchased through the Hoopes-Kohagen company, and the other through P. George Hanson & Son.

Arranging for Convention.

The executive committee of the Duluth Real Estate exchange is working upon plans for attending the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges to be held at Los Angeles, Cal., during the week beginning June 21. The delegation from the Head of the Lakes will leave on June 14 upon a special all-steel train to start from Minneapolis. Stops will be made at fourteen points en route, where the delegates will be entertained by the local real estate exchanges to banquets, lunches, auto trips, etc. The return trip will be made over the Canadian Pacific and stop-over will be made at Lake Louise, the Glaciers and Banff, Alta. An especially low rate to include berths, parlor cars, staterooms on the steamers, etc., has been obtained for the round trip. It is expected that over 2,000 delegates from all parts of the country will be in attendance at the convention.

An active week was reported by D. C. Eaton of the Little & Nolte company's realty department. The following sales were put through: For Mrs. John Mahon to F. S. Nixon, house No. 1520 East Third street at $5,000; for Charles A. Bronson to John A. Hoyt, house No. 420 Second avenue west at $3,000; Myrtle Eaton to Emelia Patschowski two lots on Ninth street, between Tenth and Eleventh avenues east at $810, and for V. H. Bridgeman to Louise E. O'Keefe, a lot at Fifty-fourth avenue east and Superior street. The placing of a number of loans for the building of new homes was also reported by that office.

The Ebert-Walker company sold for George Felthouse to E. Johnson an eighty-acre farm located one mile from Kelsey, Minn., and earnest money was taken on the sale of twenty acres over the Duluth Heights.

A steady inquiry for tracts at Exeter farms was advised by the Alliance Real Estate company. Two tracts were disposed of yesterday to local buyers for immediate improvement.

"The outlook appears to be growing better all the time. Outside capitalists are taking more interest in Duluth propositions. We sold five lots in Gary Central division during the last few days, and we are looking forward to putting through a good business during the next month," said A. W. Kuchnow, president of the Gary Land company.

The Benjamin F. Schweiger company sold for John Klosky to Andrew Bourman, a house and lot at No. 1011 East Eighth street, containing five rooms, at a consideration of $1,100.

It also sold to the Hazelwood Presbyterian Church association, the southerly eighty-eight feet of lots 14, 15 and 16 on the northwest corner of Thirty-ninth avenue west and Fourth street, at a consideration of $1,650.

The Western Realty company reported the sale of a house and lot at 3926 West Sixth street from William A. McArthur to Hans O. Carlson for $1,000.

Also the sale of acre tracts back of the West end to George Swanson, Peter Hoyem and John Dalsrud.

MANY SMALL JOBS KEEP DULUTH BUILDERS BUSY

Forty-One Permits Issued By Inspector During Week.

Family Apartment Hotel May Be Erected in Central District.

That building operations are fairly active throughout the city in the way of small work especially, is attested in the issuing of forty-one permits at the building inspector's office during the week for improvements estimated to cost $71,550.

It is interesting to note that all but six of the permits taken out authorized the building of homes or betterments to existing structures, and judging by the applications being received for mortgage loans, it is thought that condition will remain marked throughout the season.

Building propositions in the towns over the district are rounding to nicely and considerable advantage is thus accruing to Duluth builders and contractors. Several large jobs both local and at outside points are scheduled to go out for figures within the next couple of weeks thus going to assure full employment in the various trade channels.

Apartments Becoming Popular.

The probability of a large family apartment hotel being erected in a central locality is said to be increasing. Preliminary details are being discussed by the interests associated with the enterprise, and it is expected that an announcement in connection with it will be made shortly.

To supplement F. W. King's apartment house proposal, it was intimated this week that outside capitalists are negotiating for an East end site for a similar type of structure. It is now generally conceded that there are openings for more apartments in this city, and the erection of at least three of them in the near future is predicted.

Architects and contractors are interested in the outcome of the discussions and conferences between the various interests in connection with the housing code changes, and it is hoped that an amendment ordinance will become effective at the earliest date possible. In the meantime it is said that considerable building work is being held up.

The superstructure plans for P. Johnson's new house on Woodland avenue, near Bruce street, will go out for figures next week from the office of E. G. Gilluson, architect. Its cost is estimated at $14,000.

The heating and plumbing contract at the F. A. Cokefair home in the East end has been awarded to H. Gazett, and the electric wiring to the Burgess Electric company.

Shurick & Solheim, architects, have been commissioned by Charles P. Craig & Co., agents of the owners, to prepare plans for extensive remodeling to the premises at Nos. 101 to 109 West Fourth street and Nos. 405 to 413 First avenue west. The exteriors will be rendered attractive with stucco fronts, and provision will be made for two stores and ten modernly equipped apartments.

Plans will go out for figures next week from the offices of the same architects for a brick apartment building at Forty-second avenue east and Robinson street. Its cost is estimated at $10,000. They are besides preparing plans for a frame bungalow on Forty-first avenue east for E. T. Harris, and they have sketches in hand for a $5,000 home in the Park Drive addition and for a $7,000 brick and tile house to be built on East Fifth street. The plans on this job will go out for figures next week.

THE HIGHLAND COMPANY IS PLATTING

Forty acres of its CHOICEST land in Garden Acres—only 5 minutes' walk from end of Highland Avenue car line and WITHIN THE CITY'S LIMITS.

They are ideal farm tracts, being only a short distance from center of city. THESE ACRES ARE NOT in the backwoods, but are where the city's growth will increase their value.

(Office on Duluth Heights is open on Sunday and the acre plats are only a short walk from there.)

GOOD HOUSES

Do you want a House that will be planned and built exactly to suit you, on a lot selected by you? If so, come in and see me. I have lots in nearly every division of Duluth; and also have very desirable plans for both fine and moderate cost Houses. Come in and select your lot and look over plans and see if we can give you what you want at a price you want to pay. Every House will be "built right," and you can watch its construction; the man who will superintend the building has built over 60 houses in Duluth and could not be induced to build a poorly constructed house. Will try to accommodate you in terms of payment.

W. J. HOLMES, 706 Palladio

WHY—I Bought at Exeter Farms

BECAUSE—I wanted to live in the country, yet within easy reach of the city. I wanted to own a small farm where I could raise poultry, garden truck and enjoy fresh air—and I wanted to get out of paying rent and reduce my living expenses—so I bought at Exeter Farms, and now bank the money I save in rent, etc.

We have a few choice Exeter Farm tracts left—better see us about them.

GOOD HOUSES

We are planning to build three "built right" houses on the beautiful large southwest corner at Twenty-fourth avenue east and Second street; also two "built right" houses on the fine southwest corner of Twenty-fifth avenue east and Third street. These are possibly the best unimproved corners in Duluth. If you want a good home, go and see these lots, and if you like them, come in and look over our house plans and see if you can find what suits you, and arrange to have it built exactly as you want it. Favorable prices and terms of payment.

WOULD PLANT SEED EARLY

Long Seasons Generally Conducive to Good Crops, Says Agent.

Seed Should Be Heavy and Soil Well Prepared.

While usually there may be grave dangers in this northern district from too early seeding, H. G. Larson, county agricultural agent, sees no cause for alarm in cases where the soil is in an ideal condition.

"If the soil is loose and mellow, with plenty of moisture in the subsoil, such as has been the case this spring, little trouble should be experienced from seeding even though the season be opened easily two weeks earlier than usual.

"The old German farmer's advice, 'If you manage to get a good crop from early seeding or late planting, don't tell your boy about it' should still hold good. There is one big advantage in a good long, generous growing season like the one just opening up and there need be very little excuse for planting in unprepared or poorly prepared soil.

"Good heavy, well selected seed should be used, and the seed bed should be well prepared. Let the season bring what it will, you will have the satisfaction anyway, that with a good season you will be well repaid for the extra care you took in selecting your seed and preparing your soil.

"In my opinion, there is nothing quite so discouraging as to look all summer long through a splendid growing season upon a crop that shows unmistakable signs of a poorly prepared soil and seed of poor germination. The combination is bad. It is like mating a scrub cow with a scrub sire."

H. G. LARSON,
County Agricultural Agent.

Mr. Larson recently returned from a visit to the Bear River district in St. Louis county, where he reports the farmers are taking an active interest in club work. "The Bear river farmers," he said, "have learned the value of co-operation. They have recently organized a telephone company and are connecting it with the range towns.

"Mr. Brude, a farmer in this community has several acres of potatoes planted already. Oats are coming up fine and that is what I call getting a good start." Mr. Larson also referred to the splendid alfalfa field which is being grown by E. E. Pixley, the Bear River postmaster.

GOOD ADVICE FOR NURSERY GROWERS

State Society Should Be Consulted, Says Mark Thompson.

If farmers of Northern Minnesota follow the advice of Mark J. Thompson, superintendent of the Northeast Experiment station of this city, they will not purchase nursery stock until they have learned what the State Horticultural society recommends for planting in their several localities.

"The information gathered by the horticultural society," says Mr. Thompson, "is based upon the experience of hundreds of growers for many years."

Mr. Thompson further urges farmers to buy seed corn grown within the state for tilage either Northwestern Dent, No. 13, or Pride of the North; for mature corn, Minnesota No. 23, Northwestern Dent, or some variety of flint.

WOULD PROMOTE DAIRY INDUSTRY

Chicago Conference Results in Organization to Advance Cause.

In the rounding out of the National dairy show for 1913, one of the ideas worked out during the show was a "round table conference" of the dairy industry. At this table there sat three delegates from thirty industrial and educational branches of dairy activities, and from this conference there was envolved, an organization to meet each year with the show, called the "Council of the National Dairy Show." The council has served a more or less useful existence, but the ravages of the foot and mouth disease among the dairy cattle the past winter, with a subsequent jeopardy to the cattle breeding industry, and an enormous loss to the dairymen, together with a generally demoralized outlook for markets for dairy products, as a result of European war conditions, and many disturbing home economical problems, have aroused the active men of the dairy industry to the necessity of galvanizing the council into an active, potent force for the promotion and protection of the whole dairy industry.

For this purpose, a meeting of the organized life associated with dairying, was held in Chicago, April 16, and some of the most able men engaged in the various dairy pursuits, were present, and it was deemed wise to enlarge the scope of the council, and to change its name to "The National Dairy Council," which was done on April 24, at a second meeting. At these meetings, representatives from the following associations were present: The American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers and the National Creamery Butter Makers' association; the National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers; the Milk Producers' association; the International Milk Dealers' association; the American Jersey Cattle club; the Holstein-Friesian Association of America; the Ayrshire Breeders' association; the American Guernsey Catatle club; the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' association; the Machinery Exhibitors' association, as also many prominent individuals. To carry forward the work of promoting and protecting the dairy industry, through the medium of this council the following directors were elected for the year of 1915, two from each working dairy association:

Dairymen—W. J. Kittle, H. S. Early.
Milk dealers—Dr. C. E. Peck, Loton Horton.
Cattle associations—M. D. Munn, W. W. Marsh.
Ice cream industry—John W. Knobbe, R. A. Woodhull.
Butter industry—George E. Haskell, J. J. Farrell.
Machinery—H. B. Osgood, H. O. Alexander.
At large—H. B. Favill.
Cheese industry—To be selected.

The object of this organization, as set forth in its constitution, is as follows: "To advance the cause of dairying in America, by promoting the dairy cow, and all interests dependent upon her, through co-operative and united effort."

"The whole problem of dairying before the farmer, is quality with quantity for better profit, and to this end, by utilizing the lowest purchase cost method, is to be pushed by this council, and every legitimate aid rendered to its successful conclusion—good cows plus good feed equals increased revenue for our dairymen; better milk, better butter, better ice cream, better cheese follow as natural sequences, and the result must be—increased consumption of dairy products. The membership of the council is limited only to those engaged in any character of business related in any manner with the dairy cow, as shown in the following constitutional clause.

It is the intention to make of this council a great clearing house of all dairy troubles, so that all manufacturing branches of the industry may always be found in close harmonious ministration with one another, and also with the dairyman and cattle breeder; through this medium the dairy industry would then always be in a position to meet any important industrial, economical or legislative questions that might confront it.

FORBES SETTLER HAS FINE FARM AND ATTRACTIVE RESIDENCE

THE ATTRACTIVE FARM HOME OF JACOB PETERSON AT FORBES, MINN.

One of the many St. Louis county farmers who have made a success of their vocation, is Jacob Peterson, a well known settler at Forbes.

Starting from a small building, Mr. Peterson has developed a farm that is a credit to himself and to the community in which he resides. Recently he built a handsome new house on his property. A photograph of the home is reproduced herewith.

Mr. Peterson has sixty acres under cultivation. His livestock consists of ten cows, six young stock and three horses. He is also deeply interested in poultrying and keeps about sixty hens.

Mr. Peterson and his wife are parents of a large family of children. Two of his sons conduct the general store and postoffice at Forbes and two others live on farms there. All are prominently identified with the work of the Farmers' club in that locality.

DO YOU KEEP A MOSQUITO FARM?

Many a farmer keeps a regular mosquito farm and does not know it. Are you one of this kind?

You are, if on your premises you have open water barrels, empty tin cans, open water tanks, marshy or low ground that holds the water after a rain.

It is the opinion of experts that the "domestic" mosquito could be eliminated.

Assistance in such work may be found in Bulletin No. 55, by C. W. Howard of the Minnesota college of agriculture.

Copies are free on application to the Office of Publications, University Farm, St. Paul.

PORK IS PRODUCED CHEAPLY ON PASTURE

In Minnesota Best Crops Are Alfalfa, Clover and Combinations.

Pork is produced from 8 to 10 per cent more cheaply on pasture than in the dry lot. Last year at the Iowa Station, with corn at 50 cents, the feed-cost for 100 pounds of pork was $3.73 on alfalfa pasture and $4.07 in the dry lot. After adding the original cost of the pig and interest on the investment, there is left a good profit.

For Minnesota, the best pasture crops for hogs are alfalfa, rape, clover and combinations of field peas, oats, rape or clover. The following figures from three experiment stations are given for comparison, and also to indicate the possible value of a good pasture:

Pork Produced Per Acre.

Crop.	Missouri	Kansas	Iowa
Alfalfa	591.8 lbs.	408 lbs.	744 lbs.
Red Clover	560.7 lbs.	400 lbs.	728 lbs.
Rape	274 lbs.	202 lbs.	865 lbs.
Oats, peas and rape	394 lbs.	...	966 lbs.

In all of the above tests liberal grain rations were fed with pasturage.

At the Minnesota Station last year, three-quarters of an acre of rape furnished plenty of pasture for twenty pigs from the middle of June until frost. They were given, in addition, three pounds of corn per day for each 100 live weight.

Allow an acre of pasture for each fifteen pigs, grain being fed. Seed rape now or later, using four to six pounds of seed per acre. By making a couple of seedings the best of pasture is available all summer.

Good pasture combinations are: Rye (early spring), rape (summer); corn in field and rape (fall); rye, alfalfa, corn; rye, clover, oats and peas.

WON'T LISTEN TO WARNING

Buffalo Now Threatens Tax on Steamers Tying Up at Docks.

New Welland Canal Will Make Montreal and Oswego Competitors.

Buffalo and Buffalo people evidently are determined to keep their cars sealed to the warnings that have been given them from time to time to the effect that if they do not adopt a more liberal policy toward vessel owners, and furnish accommodations for independents, Buffalo is going to suffer as a port when the Welland canal opens.

The latest move is an attempt to charge freight boats tying up at the islands at the entrance to Buffalo harbor, $25 a day.

Buffalo probably will suffer in two ways if the present attitude is not abandoned. Obviously a great deal of grain and other commodities consigned for export will go by way of the Welland canal to Montreal—and the larger Welland canal is only three years or less away.

Oswego a Contestant.

Oswego, N. Y., will make a big bid for the business that now goes through Buffalo for Eastern points, and with boats up to 800 feet in length being able to pass through the Welland to Lake Ontario, Oswego being 165 miles nearer New York on the Erie canal than Buffalo, the latter port will have to look well to her laurels to hold her importance or even a portion of it. The time is not far distant when shippers from the West will not "have to" send their consignments Buffalo-wise. Concerning Buffalo's new move, the Express of that city says:

Has the Fetchers.

"Considerable comment has been caused in shipping circles by the announcement of the owners of the islands at the entrance to the harbor that all freight boats tieing up there in the future would be liable to a tax of $25 a day. This announcement was made in a letter to the Independent Towing company on Wednesday. Officials of the company said yesterday that in the future if this tax still remained, grain boats would anchor off the west side of the island and then let the owners of the land take any action which they thought proper.

"It was generally agreed that such a charge would necessitate boats tying up behind the breakwall until they could come up to their proper docks. This would prove very inconvenient for a number of the boats. A number of vessel-owners doubted whether the Buffalo Creek Realty company and the Seaboard Elevator company had the power to enforce this rule.

Question of Right.

"The question of the right to charge a boat for tying up beside a dock or other piece of private property when it was not interfering with the rights of the property-owners was brought up several years ago when the Buffalo Dry-Dock company put in Dock No. 2. At this time Col. Ward expressed the opinion that the waterways in Buffalo harbor were like the streets of the city. A person had no more right to charge for a boat which tied up to his property for a reasonable length of time and which did not interfere with the property, than a householder had a right to charge for leaving an automobile in front of his house."

SUIT TO PLACE RESPONSIBILITY

May Follow as Result of Collision of Steamers Thursday.

Concerning the collision and sinking of the steamers A. W. Osborne and Valcartier near Port Huron, Mich., Thursday, it is reported that the crews were in no danger as the Valcartier got down to the middle ground of the river before she sank, and the Osborne was run on Corsica shoal to keep her from sinking in the channel.

The lighter Newman took off part of the cargo of the Osborne and the tug Michigan towed her to Sarnia bay on Thursday evening, where temporary repairs are being made.

A heavy fog hung over the lower end of Lake Huron at the time of the collision. The Osborne, upbound with coal, and the Valcartier, downbound with oats, were moving and came together. A misunderstanding of signals is reported to have caused the accident.

The Osborne had her forepeak crushed and her forward cargo hold had some water in it. The Valcartier has several broken plates and is leaking freely. After being lightered she will be taken to an elevator at Port Huron. Her cargo of oats is extensively damaged.

Reid's equipment is working on her, and it is thought temporarily repairs can be made, so that she can proceed.

Both ships are insured. Unless the same underwriters are on both ships there is likely to be a lawsuit to determine responsibility, as the damage to the grain cargo in the Valcartier will be very large and expensive.

NORTHEAST GALE STILL ON, DIMINISH SUNDAY.

Weather Forecaster Richardson says that the storm warnings hoisted yesterday afternoon hold good for today and tonight. "A gale that has been blowing thirty-four and thirty-six miles an hour, and, at times, reaching forty miles, will continue, but is expected to diminish by tomorrow. "The storm centers over Western Iowa and Eastern Nebraska," said Mr. Richardson this morning, "and so far as the lakes are concerned, the western end of Lake Superior is getting the worst of it. We are getting a northeast wind here, but from Ashland eastward, the wind is milder and from the east. I expect a let-up during the night or tomorrow."

MAN ELECTROCUTED AT NEW DAVIS LOCK

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., May 15.—Robert Patton of this city, employed as lockman on the Davis lock, was electrocuted yesterday while at work cleaning a dynamo in the engine building at the head of the third lock.

Although wires were placarded "Danger 4,000 volts," the unfortunate man in some unknown manner came in contact with the machine brushes, and the entire voltage passed through his body. Five hour's work with a pulmotor failed to resuscitate him. He leaves a wife and one son.

This is the first fatal accident in connection with the working of the new lock.

SUNLIGHT

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

For the vast majority of plants sun is an absolute necessity. They cannot grow and thrive without it. It is of almost equal importance to human beings, though comparatively few people recognize the fact.

When we walk into a house where the sun streams through the windows and brightens everything, instinctively we say, "what a cheerful place." The stimulating effects of sunshine are difficult to estimate, but they are nevertheless a potent factor in maintaining our physical and mental health.

It has been said that suicides are more prevalent following a period of rainy and depressing weather and figures have been advanced to show that they are more common among people who have rooms with a northern exposure lacking sunlight.

We all know how one's spirits are depressed by a succession of rainy days, but we lack a full appreciation of the value of sunlight in our homes.

The germs of tuberculosis for example will not survive for any length of time if exposed to the sun's rays. It is a mistake to so protect our windows with shutters or curtains as to make it impossible to secure the maximum of sunlight. This is especially true in the fall and winter when the days are short, but at all seasons of the year sunlight is invigorating and stimulating and almost as much a necessity as fresh air.

The planting of trees so close to houses that they shut off the sun's rays is a mistake from a health standpoint.

Sun baths are beneficial in stimulating the functions of the skin, sometimes to a degree which enables it to resist minor ailments.

HOME FOLKS.

Chicago News: "This fellow Arbuthnot is a peculiar creature," commented Obbs, as he lit his cigar. "He hasn't seen his home town for twenty-five years, still he never picks up a newspaper that he doesn't look to see whether the bank clearances of his native place are mentioned, and whether they are ahead of Milwaukee or not. Having done that, he looks to see how his home team stands in the race for the pennant.

"He doesn't remember the names of more than three of the banks in his town and he never had a cent in any of them. Why should he worry about the bank clearances and the bank standing?

"And baseball—he doesn't know the name of a single player! Not one! And the team is almost invariably last in the race, but that makes no difference to him.

"Then he reads what there is in the shape of an account of a game where the home team was bested 13 to 3.

"If he ever went back to the home town he would never go near the ball park or a bank. I can't imagine why he should. In fact, he hasn't been to a ball game for eighteen years. Still, he looks up the standing of the old home team. It seems to me some person ought to write a poem about that fellow."

"Oh, it's just a matter of habit," returned the fat man. "I never open up my old home town paper without looking up the society column and personal mention corner to see what the Bink family is doing. I got that habit when I was going with the Bink girl—two of the Bink girls, in fact, or, I might say, three of them. I used to know the Bink boys, too. I went to school with one of them.

"Any of the Bink family would pass me in the street now and never know me. I am nothing to them. I busted up with that bunch long before I left town. Still, I never pick up the paper without looking to see what the Bink family is engaged in."

"That's funny," said Obbs, as the fat man paused to light his cigar again. It was dead. "When I get a copy of the old paper I look at the ads to see what a suit of clothes costs there. I must have acquired the habit when I lived there. There was a fellow who could get up the most charming ads! My wife reads the furniture ads. She reads the ads of a dealer who once swindled her. She likes to read his ads and say: 'Uh-huh! Still at his old tricks, I see!'

"She reads the society items, too, although she never sees a name mentioned with which she is acquainted more than once in ten times. It's strange how these habits cling to us."

Thousands of sensible, well-to-do people are waiting to co-operate with you through Herald Want ads. Advertise your needs—look for your wants.

BRITISH ARMY ADVANCES NEARLY MILE INTO GERMAN LINE

MOST POWERFUL ARRAY OF U. S. FIGHTING SHIPS LINED UP FOR REVIEW

Sixty-Four Great Warships Swing at Anchor in Hudson River.

President Views Parade of Land Forces From Stand in City.

Thousands of People Cheer Executive as He Rides Through Streets.

New York, May 17.—A mighty armada of battleships, destroyers, submarines and auxiliary craft, the nation's bulwark in case of war, swung at anchor in the Hudson river today groomed for review by the president of the United States.

The most powerful array of fighting ships ever assembled in an American port, sixty-four in all, the fleet stretched for four miles in a double line of gray. Each battleship thundered out the presidential salute of twenty-one guns when the navy yacht Mayflower, with the president on the bridge, passed them during the afternoon.

Rain Spatters Parade.

A sharp rain spattered the natty uniforms of the sailors as they swung into parade formation shortly after 10 o'clock and headed north on Fifth avenue for the reviewing stand in front of the library, between Forty-first and Forty-second streets. Soon after they started the rain changed again to a drizzle. A solid wall of umbrellas, dripping rivulets of water, sheltered the thousands who had come to see and cheer along the line of march.

President Wilson left the Mayflower in a launch and came ashore at the foot of West Forty-first street at 10:15 o'clock. He was accompanied by Acting Mayor McAneny and W. Duncan Butler, vice chairman of the citizens' committee, whom he had invited aboard the Mayflower. As he entered an automobile to drive to the reviewing stand the two troops of mounted police who had escorted Mr. McAneny to the pier, started their horses in a

ZEPPELIN AIRSHIPS ARE AGAIN ACTIVE

Drop Bombs on Calais, Killing Two; Also on Ramsgate, Eng.

Calais, France, May 17, via Paris.—A Zeppelin airship coming from the channel, flew over Calais last night. It dropped bombs on various quarters of the city, killing two children and wounding one woman. The property damage was slight.

After its raid the Zeppelin sailed away in the direction of the sea.

Air Raid on Ramsgate.

Ramsgate, Eng., May 17.—An air raid occurred here early this morning. About forty bombs were dropped. So far as has been ascertained, three persons were injured.

The air craft was a Zeppelin, and in addition to dropping bombs here, it also flew over Margate. No news of the extent of the damage done there, if any, has been received.

The Zeppelin was first seen seaward at midnight, but it did not venture over the town until 1:30 o'clock this morning, when it dropped a large number of incendiary bombs all over the town. No serious material damage was done except to the Bull hotel, which was almost wrecked.

The bomb went through the roof and pierced its way to the cellar. Three guests asleep in the hotel were injured, but it is not believed their hurts were serious.

Several fishing smacks in the harbor were damaged by bombs.

CONDITION OF THE KING OF GREECE IS MORE SERIOUS

KING CONSTANTINE.

Paris, May 17.—The condition of King Constantine of Greece has become more serious, says a dispatch from Athens to the Havas news agency.

Since noon today the fever of his majesty has become higher and it has been accompanied by restlessness.

PORTUGAL IS AGAIN QUIET

New Government Under Joac Chagas Calms the Populace.

Casualties in Fighting of Saturday and Sunday Are Heavy.

RIOTING RENEWED.

Madrid, Spain, May 17, via London.—An official dispatch received here today from Lisbon announces that disturbances similar to those which occurred last night broke out again today. Details are lacking.

Paris, May 17.—Absolute calm has been restored in Lisbon and the Portuguese capital has resumed its normal appearance, according to a dispatch to the Havas agency filed late yesterday.

Revolutionists Successful.

Lisbon, May 17, via Paris.—The success of the revolutionary forces has been confirmed. The new government, which will be presided over by Joac Chagas, was proclaimed from the windows of the city hall and the announcement was received with enthusiastic manifestations.

The military governor of Lisbon immediately posted throughout the city proclamations praising the courage of the citizens, and calling upon civilians

NEW DEAL IN COMMISSION

Plan to Reorganize the City Council Crops Up Again.

Merritt May Be Given the Public Affairs Division.

Reorganization of the city council is up for consideration a second time. Just what will be done, is not known, but it was announced by three of the commissioners this morning that the reorganization plan has been revived and that the proposal, as tentatively outlined, has met with the favor of a majority of the commissioners.

It is planned to switch Commissioner Merritt from the water and light department to the public affairs division, now held by Mayor Prince. Just who will take the former's department is the question now being considered, as the names of both Commissioners Voss and Silberstein have been mentioned. In the event of the former taking the utilities division, Mayor Prince will take finance, while if Mr. Silberstein becomes head of the water and light department, Mayor Prince will take charge of the safety division.

Last January a movement was started to reorganize the council, but a report published in The Herald the day before the scheduled meeting "spilled the beans," and friends of Commissioner Merritt caused the plan to be dropped. At that time it was planned to place Commissioner Voss in charge of the utilities, Mayor Prince in finance, and Commissioner Merritt to public affairs.

It is not known whether Commissioner Merritt will consent to any reorganization. He declared last January that he would resign before being changed to any other department.

ITALIAN CABINET NOW IN SESSION

Developments of an Important Nature Are Expected From Meeting.

Rome, May 16, via Paris, May 17.—Developments of the utmost importance are expected tomorrow (Monday) in the affairs of Italy. Premier Salandra has called the first formal meeting of his cabinet to be held since the passing of the ministerial crisis which resulted in his remaining in power with a virtual vindication of his foreign policy. It is considered highly probable a definite decision, for peace or war may be reached.

The tension has been intensified by reported clashes between Austrian and Italian frontier guards. The temper of the Italian people has been more highly inflamed by dispatches telling of a "women's revolution" at Triest. Forty-seven women are said to have been killed and 300 wounded there by gendarmes when they charged a crowd which was threatening the governor's palace.

Official confirmation of the report that the Salandra cabinet would remain in power was greeted by one of the most remarkable demonstrations of approval ever witnessed in Rome.

SUPPORTING PRESIDENT

City Council Will Consider Resolution Approving Wilson's Course.

Would Show Chief Executive He Has Confidence of Citizens.

When the city commission convenes for its regular weekly meeting this evening, Commissioner James A. Farrell, head of the public works division, will introduce a resolution praising President Wilson for his handling of the present crisis in international relationships and expressing confidence in his ability as the chief executive of the nation.

It is generally understood that the commissioners will favor the resolution and if it passes tonight copies will be sent to President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan.

This action on the part of the council will be in line with that of virtually every large organization in the country, the governors of the states, city councils, the newspapers and prominent and professional men of the nation.

Commissioner Farrell's resolution, which will be introduced this evening, was given out this noon by Secretary Culver. It follows:

"Resolved, That it is the unanimous conviction of this body that President Wilson has risen nobly to the high demands made upon him by the grave crisis in the international relationships of this nation; that he has voiced clearly and vigorously the unanimous thought of the American people, and has voiced it as they would have had him voice it, with patriotic spirit and far-seeing statesmanship; that the trust imposed in him by the American nation has been splendidly justified; and that the people of Duluth, like the people of the rest of the United States, are back of him to a man."

"We want to show the president," said Commissioner Farrell, "that we are all with him to a man and believe that he will handle the situation in the best possible manner. Let us show him we have confidence in his ability, integrity and sincerity to bring the questions now confronting him and this government to an agreeable conclusion."

SHIMADA IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF HOUSE

Well Known Chinese Parliamentarian Selected for High Position in Diet.

Tokio, May 17.—Saburo Shimada, the parliamentarian known as the Wendell Phillips of Japan, was elected president of the house when the diet convened today. He has been connected with the Dooshi-Kai, Prince Katsura's party. In 1911 he visited the United States and in his own country took a prominent part in the agitation against the California land ownership bill. Baron Shimada in 1914, while leader of the opposition in the diet, urged the rejection of the measure providing for naval increases on the ground that they were likely to arouse suspicion in the United States that they were aimed against that country.

NO INTIMATION AS TO NATURE OF REPLY FROM GERMANY YET RECEIVED

Gerard Formally Notifies Washington of Delivery of Note to Foreign Office.

No Word Received From Any Sources as to Probable Answer.

German Press Expresses Regret for Loss of American Lives on Lusitania.

Washington, May 17.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin today notified the state department of the delivery of the American note to the German foreign office. It was the first official notification that the note had arrived at its destination, although its delivery had been reported in news dispatches.

The American government still was without advices early today indicating the nature of Germany's reply to the Lusitania note. No word has come from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin and unofficial information was lacking.

German Press Comment.

Berlin, May 17, wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas News Agency gave out the following:

"The whole German press, particularly the Cologne Gazette, the Frankfurt Gazette and the Berlin Tageblatt, deeply regrets the loss of American lives caused by the sinking of the Lusitania.

"The Tages Zeitung and other newspapers state that the responsibility rests with the British government, which, attempting to starve the peaceful civilian population of a big country, forced Germany, in self-defense to declare British waters a war zone; with ship owners who allowed passengers to embark on an armed steamer carrying war material and neglected German warnings against entering the war zone and finally, with the English press, which ridiculed Ambassador von Bernstorff's warnings, calling them a gigantic bluff and thereby preventing passengers from canceling their passage.

"Heartfelt sympathy is expressed by the German press and public for the victims of the catastrophe and their relatives."

FIRE ON BOARD THE STEAMER CHIYO MARU

Tokio, May 17.—A wireless message has been received from the steamship Mongolia that a fire occurred on the steamer Chiyo Maru Sunday night, according to the Asahi Shimbun. No details were given. The Chiyo Maru is due at Yokohama tomorrow. The Mongolia sailed from San Francisco yesterday. The owners of the Chiyo Maru deny the report of a fire on board her.

The Chiyo Maru is owned by the Toyo Kisen Kabushiki Kaisha of Yokohama and is a vessel of 7,253 tons. She sailed from San Francisco May 1 and from Honolulu May 7 on her way to Yokohama and Hongkong.

One Thousand Foreigners at Gates Will Be Kept Out.

Rumored That Unemployed May Be Arrested and Interned in Canada.

Emerson, Man., May 17.—A handful of stragglers, mud-covered and weary, limped into Emerson today and reinforced the 200 Austrians and Russians who form the vanguard of unemployed estimated at more than 1,000, which is scattered along the border in a thirty-mile circle and which has voiced its determination to enter the United States.

United States and Canadian immigration officials held hurried conferences and were ready to deny the request to cross the border, which it was announced leaders of the army would make upon their arrival. A large number of deputies have been sworn in by the United States officials.

Several companies of Canadian soldiers will reach this town today with instructions to suppress immediately any attempts by the marchers to disobey orders of officials.

It was suggested that the purpose of

RUSSIAN LOSS HEAVY, SAYS GERMAN REPORT

Berlin, May 17, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The Overseas News agency today gave out a report reading:

"Unofficial reports from West Galicia confirm previous statements that the Russians suffered very heavily durtheir defeat, in spite of the Russian attempts to deny these losses. The Forty-eighth Russian division was totally dispersed. A Russian commander and his staff were captured by a baggage escort behind the Austrian front."

MAY MEAN RETREAT FOR THE TEUTONS

Recapture of Steestraete Bridge By French Cuts Off West Side.

German Assaults on British at Ypres Seem to Have Ceased.

Petrograd Reports Do Little to Minimize Recent Defeat of Russians.

London, May 17.—Field Marshal Sir John French has broken his silence in regard to the movements of the British army northwest of La Bassee with the announcement of an advance of nearly a mile into the German line. This, together with the continuance of the French thrusts both north of Ypres and southwest of La Bassee, constitutes the outstanding feature of the military situation today.

Military commentators here regard the British advance as a genuine break of the German line, which, if maintained, must mean a retreat for a considerable section of the invaders' forces.

Recapture of the bridge over the Yser canal at Steestracte by the French deprives the Germans of their last connection with the west side of the waterway. German assaults on the British position at Ypres seem to have spent themselves, at least for the moment, as Field Marshal French reports all has been quiet there for the last forty-eight hours.

Official reports from Petrograd do little to minimize the severity of the

MANY ARMENIANS ARE MASSACRED

Six Thousand Said to Have Been Killed at Van, Armenia.

London, May 17.—Six thousand Armenians hase been massacred at Van, in Armenia, Asiatic Turkey, according to a dispatch received in official quarters in London today from the Russian consul at Urumiah, Persia.

This message is dated May 16. It adds that the Armenians are defending themselves to the utmost against the Turks and Kurds arrayed against them but that help is urgently needed.

TO TRY TO POSTPONE HARRY THAW HEARING

Judge Puts Over Case Until Afternoon at Request of State's Attorneys.

New York, May 17.—A legal contest over the question of a postponement was considered likely today when Harry K. Thaw's attorneys appeared before Supreme Court Justice Hendrick to show that he is now sane.

Supreme Court Justice Hendrick, at the opening of court, adjourned the trial until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Representatives of the attorney general's office asked for an adjournment on the ground that Susan Merrill and Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, two witnesses for the state, were out of the jurisdiction of the court and they also said the state intended to appeal from the decision of the appellate division.

John B. Stanchfield, representing Thaw, explained that the order in the decision of the appellate division had not yet been entered and that technically, therefore, no appeal could be taken until such an order was entered. As a result of these statements Justice Hendrick ordered the adjournment.

Great Force Thrown in By Austro-Germans Too Much for Army.

Petrograd, Saturday, May 15, via London, May 17.—(Delayed by storms)—The Russian general staff, explaining the change in the Galician campaign from a successful advance to a retreat, gave out the following today:

"From the middle of April news began to reach us of the transport of great numbers of Germans from the western front and their concentration in Western Galicia. The state of affairs thus created forced us to stop the development of our advance in the direction of Mezelaboroz and Uzsok, in order to insure ourselves facilities for sending reserves to the threatened sec-

HOT AFTER SALOON KEEPERS OF CHICAGO

Those Who Kept Open on Sunday to Be Punished.

Chicago, May 17.—Investigators for the Chicago citizens' committee were preparing today to swear out warrants against saloon keepers whose places of business remained open yesterday, in the committee's first attempt to keep saloons closed from midnight Saturday until Monday morning.

"Chicago administrations have tolerated violations of the Sunday closing law so long that saloon keepers no longer attempt concealment," said A. B. McCold, attorney for the committee, "and we do not propose to stop this fight until we have brought violators to punishment. If juries disagree on the first or second cases we present, we will continue until convictions are secured."

Attorney McCold said that leading club women and others had been interested in the fight to close saloons on Sunday.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Further gains are reported by the allies today in the first great effort of the spring to roll back the German line, now under way on the same ground where thousands of lives were lost last fall in the Germann attempt to break through to the English channel. According to Berlin the Germans are holding their ground.

The French war office announces that allied troops, crossing the Yser river, took German positions on the eastern side at one point. A gain of ground near Het Sas also is claimed.

The unrest in Asiatic Turkey during the war has resulted in further attacks by Turks and Kurds on Armenians. The Russian consul at Urumiah, Persia, states that 6,000 Armenians have been massacred in the province of Van.

French forces have invaded successfully the German colony of Kamerun, South Africa. A force from French West Africa captured the post of Enoka on May 11.

A German dirigible appeared over Calais last night and dropped bombs, killing two children. The British admiralty announced that the Zeppelin which raised Ramsgate early this morning was pursued across the English channel by aeroplanes and apparently was damaged seriously.

Another sudden thrust at the German line—this time just north of La Bassee—has been made by the allies, and according to French and British official reports, has been attended with conspicuous success. The claim of the British that the German line was broken down over the greater part of a two-mile section is disputed, however, by the German war office, which says all attacks of the allies were repulsed. The operations now in progress are characterized as the most important of any since last fall.

A Berlin dispatch asserts the Russians have suffered very heavy losses in Galicia, notwithstanding their denials. The Austrians apparently have made a further slight gain, but the Russians, strongly placed on the River San, are offering stubborn resistance. A great battle is expected along the river.

Italy's long-awaited decision for or against war may be reached today. Premier Salandra has called a meeting of the cabinet, the first since the political crisis which resulted in the retention in office of the Salandra ministry. The final decision may be postponed, however, until the assembling of parliament, set for Thursday.

All Italy is in a state of feverish excitement and the temper of the people is represented as overwhelmingly in favor of war. Clashes between Austrian and frontier guards are reported. News dispatches from the border say that an uprising has occurred in Triest, one of the principal Austrian cities claimed by Italy. A crowd composed largely of women became so violent in anti-Austrian demonstrations that it was charged by troops, occasioning the death of forty-seven women and injury of more than 300.

KARLSRUHE AGAIN SAID TO BE SEEKING HARBOR

Norfolk, Va., May 17.—Unverified reports were current again today that the German cruiser Karlsruhe was coming up the lane used by the German raiders Kronprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Friedrich to a haven of safety at Hampton Roads. PEACE DAY IN CITY SCHOOLS

Tuesday Will See General Observation Following Governor's Proclamation.

State Superintendent Urges Emphasis Against Race Prejudice.

School children throughout the state will hold special exercises tomorrow, following a proclamation by Governor Hammond, which designated May 18 as Peace day.

Supt. R. E. Denfeld of the Duluth schools today received a communication from C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, recommending that Duluth school children be allowed to give suitable recognition of the day.

"All superintendents and teachers have been notified," said Supt. Denfeld, "and the day's exercises will include references to Peace day and its meaning."

Supt. Schulz, in his letter, says:

"The present year marks the one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the first peace organization in the United States, since which, many organizations have been formed in Europe and America, for the promotion of world peace.

"It is well to know, when people argue that wars are necessary to prevent over-population of the earth, that those who are removed by war are the very ones the world can least afford to lose. France has not yet recovered from the Napoleonic wars.

"The peace organizations desire," declares Mr. Schulz, "that instead of the figure of the dove, the figure of Justice, with the scales, be considered the fitting emblem of this great idea.

"Something else, possibly of more value yet," he adds, "because more intimate and more personal, would be the representation on Peace day of some of the interesting national customs of the various countries from which pupils in nearly all Minnesota schools have come.

"Because the greatest reason for race prejudice is race ignorance, the more the children learn the customs and habits of the nations represented in their own schools, the more respect and affection they will have for each other. The foolish misconception that one race is inferior to another is due largely to the idea that all foreigners are inferior; and anyone not of our own race is a foreigner, no matter what our nationality."

YACHT IN STORM OFF JERSEY COAST

Reason Why Mayflower Reached Port Sunday Instead of Monday.

New York, May 17.—The Mayflower's arrival in New York harbor last night, instead of this morning as planned was explained today. The yacht ran into a storm off the New Jersey coast yesterday. The president showed the effects of the voyage less than other members of the party, but did not feel very well, he said.

Because of the storm, it was decided to put into New York harbor last night instead of waiting outside till today. It is likely that the party will return to Washington by train.

A change in the hour of the fleet's departure tomorrow was made by Secretary Daniels today. Instead of steaming out to sea at 9 o'clock the fleet will leave at 11 o'clock. The change is due to tidal conditions.

ASSESSORS WILL FINISH WORK EARLY

Systematic Planning of Work Will Save Ten Days to City.

So systematic has been the work done by the personal property assessors this year, that the work will be completed within another week, almost ten days ahead of last year.

City Assessor Scott said this morning that by Wednesday of this week three-fourths of the outside work would be completed and that all the work would be done in a week. Some of the men are now being dropped and that the force of twenty-five deputies, who started May 1, is gradually being reduced.

As soon as the outside work is completed, a force of clerks will begin tabulating the reports and entering the valuations on the tax books.

SENTENCE TEN SALOON MEN

Tower Dealers Held for Selling Liquor on Sunday.

Must Pay $53 Apiece; Another Alleged Violator in Court.

Selling liquor on Sunday in violation of the state law has cost ten Tower saloon keepers $53 apiece and a chance of spending thirty days in the county jail if the law is broken again.

Appearing before Judge Dancer in district court this morning, ten Tower saloon men against whom secret indictments were returned by the May grand jury, pleaded guilty to the charge again them.

In each case, the court imposed a fine of $53 and a thirty-day jail sentence. The jail sentence, however, was suspended during the good behavior of the defendants. All paid their fines.

County Attorney Acts.

For some time past, the county attorney's office has been receiving complaints about the illegal sale of liquor at Tower. On Sunday, May 9, under the direction of the county attorney, two men visited the saloons of Tower and the next day told the grand jury which was in session, that they had no difficulty in securing liquor at any of the saloons except one.

The result was that eleven indictments against the Tower saloon keepers were returned. Sheriff Meining today made a return on all but one of the bench warrants. It is understood that the other man will be brought into court this afternoon and will plead to the indictment returned against him. The "haul" netted the county $530 in fines. James A. Wharton appeared in court as attorney for the several defendants and County Attorney Warren E. Greene represented the state.

The defendants were: S. J. P. Lackie, Alfred Wadman, John Hickey, Charles Mike, Charles Johnson, Hans Peterson, John Anderson, Matt Mehelich, Joseph E. Xass and Jacob Skalo. Lackie, one of the defendants, was indicted and convicted two years ago on a charge of illegally selling liquor to a person of Indian blood.

Pleads Not Guilty.

Louis Anderson, who conducts the saloon on the Pike Lake road between Duluth and the range towns, was brought into court this morning on a bench warrant. He pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with having sold liquor on Sunday, March 28, contrary to the state law.

Anderson was also indicted by the January grand jury for the similar offense. The case, however, was not brought on for trial, owing to the fact that one of the state's principal witnesses died.

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR KEATING

Shareholders in Gold Corporation Will Meet on June 1.

New Road May Enter District; Optimism in Report.

Keating Gold Mining company shareholders will hold their annual meeting at Radersburg, Mont., on Tuesday, June 1.

The prospects of the company are regarded as encouraging and with the building of a railroad into the district now in sight increased returns from the mine are regarded as assured.

The following optimistic report has been issued to stockholders by the president of the company, Julius H. Barnes:

Last Year the Best.

"The last year has been the most hopeful in the company's existence. A year ago the lowest level in the mine was the 800-foot level. Since then the main shaft has been sunk to a depth of 1,200 feet. In the last year the 1,000-foot level has been driven north from the shaft about 1,160 feet. The ore values in this level have been fully as good as they were in the 800-foot level and the ore is a little wider. A station has recently been cut at the 1,150-foot level that disclosed the vein with a ledge of sulphide ore carrying values in gold and copper a little better than the values at the shaft on the 800-foot level. This augurs well for the future of the mine, and proves what the officers of the company have all along believed, that the ore is in place in the vein to a great depth. There is one block of ore that is completely blocked out on four sides between the 800 and 1,000 levels, that is 900 feet long and 200 feet in height, that alone contains more than 100,000 tons of ore. The ore is wider in this block of ore than it was on the levels above, and the value per ton is fully as good. Besides this one block of ore there are many other large bodies of ore exposed on two sides instead of four. The copper values seem to grow better with depth, while the gold values are fully as good as they were on the upper levels where there was no copper. In addition to the gold, the company is producing from 90,000 to 100,000 pounds of copper each month. We are now shipping about eighty cars of ore per month, and this output will be maintained except during the short time that the roads will be nearly impassable as a result of rain.

"There are, on the dumps at the mine, about 120,000 tons of concentrating ore of a gross value of $5 per ton, making a gross value of about $600,000, that can be concentrated by installing a concentrator, and the directors have had this improvement in mind for several months.

Railroad Prospects Good.

"The most encouraging news that the directors have to announce to the stockholders at this time is the promise of a railroad from the mine to the Northern Pacific railroad. The preliminary surveys for this railroad have been made, and those who are projecting the road assure us that work of actual construction will commence within about thirty days from this time, and the road will be completed within a few months. Rail transportation will not only save the company $1.15 per ton on every ton of ore shipped, but will enable the company to ship ore during all seasons of the year, irrespective of the condition of the weather and the wagon roads. It will also enable the company to double its shipments, which will decrease the cost of mining. To increase the output of the mine, however, it will be necessary to install a new hoisting plant, which can be completed by the time the railroad is completed.

"During the last year the directors have purchased several adjoining mining claims, which purchases seemed to be advisable, if not necessary, in order to protect our property and to increase the value thereof. The mine now is to the directors more promising than it has at any time during its history. During the past year and a half more development work has been done than during any like period in the past. While this has cost a great deal of money it was necessary to assure economical mining in the future."

ARGUMENTS BEGIN IN RIGGS BANK SUIT

Questions of Law on Contention That Court Has No Jurisdiction Submitted.

Washington, May 17.—Arguments began in the supreme court of the District of Columbia today on questions of law in the injunction suit brought by the Riggs National bank against Secretary McAdoo, Comptroller Williams and John Burke, treasurer of the United States, whom the bank charges with a conspiracy to wreck it. Attorneys for the bank argued against a contention by the defendants that the court is without jurisdictions.

Justice McCoy almost at the outset of the proceeding was forced to restrain attorneys for both sides who got into a wrangle over methods of obtaining publicity for the proceeding.

Attorney Frank J. Hogan for the bank filed a supplementary affidavit by President Glover bearing on Secretary McAdoo's part in withholding a $5,000 interest check due the bank on its bonds. Hogan maintained that McAdoo usurped the functions of Treasurer Burke and after signing the check withheld it for fines imposed by Williams. Hogan further argued that Burke had told him he hoped there would be a court ruling in the matter as to whose function it is to pay interest to the bank as he wanted to "avoid a controversy with the head of another department, meaning John Skelton Williams."

Hogan also argued that Comptroller Williams in demanding that the bank submit a list of all its loans for eighteen years knew the institution was solvent, but sought to find out something about actions of the bank officials in the past. His actions, counsel said, were those of "a man made mad by personal malice."

LOCAL SHIPPERS MUST PAY TAX

According to a recent Federal ruling all parcels, packages, etc., shipped locally, either by water or rail, require a receipt which must bear a stamp of 1 cent as war tax. This, however, does not include furniture, trunks, hand baggage and the like as moved from house to house by carriers when moved by trucks or similar vehicles.

There has been some difficulty in the interpretation of the government rulings on this matter, and at first there was an exemption on packages, etc., destined for local or suburban delivery.

According to a bulletin received at the local internal revenue office, the law was so interpreted at first that it was generally understood by express companies and other carriers that no war tax would be required on goods for local or suburban delivery. The latest order, however, takes precedence over all former regulations.

The order is intended to put local and interstate companies on an equal footing that no handicap may be experienced by carriers doing interstate business.

Local carriers say that they have been paying the required war tax on all parcels delivered in suburban territory when shipped at all by water or rail.

DULUTH IDEA IS SUSTAINED

Commission's Decision Contains Language of Local Witnesses.

Discusses Rights to Lake Waterways in Divorcement Proceedings.

In its decision, handed down Saturday last, ordering the divorce of the lake and rail lines by Dec. 1, the interstate commerce commission dealt with the destruction of the proper and free use of the lake waterways by the controlling of the package freighters by the trunk line railroads in almost the exact language used by Duluth witnesses who testified in the case. Duluth's contention that the divorce should be ordered was sustained in every point in decision. Regarding the destruction of the free use of the lakes, the commission said:

"The right to use the waterways of the country as a means of transportation is a natural right, but this right may not be abused to the injury of others, and it is the public right that the waters be so used as to return benefit to the people. The waterways of the country furnish ready-made roadbeds for transportation routes, on which the rates for shipment may be made low because of this physical fact.

Advantage Rendered Nil.

"But these arteries of commerce, without boats to ply on them, are useless for transportation purposes. And although there may be many boats plying on these water routes, they may be so operated as to produce practically the same condition of things as would exist were there no boats afloat.

"The boat lines operating on the Great Lakes in conjunction with the barge lines operating on the Erie canal furnish a through water route from western lake ports to the eastern seaboard.

"It is significant from the records in these cases that the through route arrangements and the interchange of traffic between lake lines and these canal barge lines have been terminated under the joint ownership of the lake lines and the traffic has practically disappeared, to the injury of the boat lines and of the Erie canal barge lines on eastbound traffic.

"It is contrary to the interests of the owning railroads operating from Buffalo east for their boat lines to continue any through operating arrangements with the canal barge lines for the movement of eastbound traffic.

Leaves Arrangements Optional.

"There is no power in this commission to require the establishment of a through route between these railroad owned lake lines and barge lines operating the Erie canal, but under divorcement the lake lines will be free to make arrangements for the through carriage of freight in connection with the Erie canal barge lines, and it will be to their interest to do so.

"The interest of the shipping public will be conserved and those of the boat lines will be bettered in this respect under divorcement."

Chicago, May 17.—"The roads have practically a monopoly of the lake business now," said Henry C. Barlow of the Chicago Association of Commerce, discussing the order parting the lake steamer lines from their railroad ownership.

"Just how they will divorce the ownership remains to be seen, but it can be taken for granted the boats will continue to operate bewteen the lake ports. In the past they have run cheaper than the rail lines and there is no reason why they should not now.

"Although the rail lines own most of the docking facilities here, a new municipal dock will be completed by next spring. It is not likely that any hardship will be worked on the roads."

CLOQUET CONTEST.

Edwin Johnson and Leo Gilbert at Declamations.

Cloquet, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the declamatory contest held at the Lincoln high school Saturday evening, Edwin Johnson won first place and Leo Gilbert, second. The attendance was small, due to the bad weather and the fact that there were two other public meetings on the same evening. There were four speakers and all the marks were above 85 on a scale of 100. The speakers and their orations follow:

Roy Ralter, "The Arena Scene From Quo Vadis;" Lloyd Lindell, "The American City;" Edwin Johnson, "Water and Rum;" Leo Gilbert, "Spartacus to the Gladiators."

The first two places were awarded with a gold and silver medal respectively. Preceding the contest Miss Amelia Olson gave a violin solo and at the close of the contest Miss Dorothy Hornby sang a vocal solo and the Misses Fryklund and Olson rendered a piano duet. The judges were Rev. Ward, Victor Michaelson and Hanford Cox.

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSIONS

CHAPTER IX.

In the preceding chapters it was stated that the company desired the people of the Twin Ports to be as well satisfied with its policy regarding extensions as they appear to be with its service. The policy of the company regarding extensions was stated and some facts were given bearing upon the matter.

While the value of suburban property in American cities is undoubtedly more dependent upon transportation facilities than upon any other one thing, permanent value cannot be put into such property by transportation facilities alone. The assurance that an extension will be built to any locality causes an immediate rise in the price of real estate in that locality and encourages speculation but if more such property is supplied with transportation facilities than there is legitimate demand for, the values must necessarily recede and the only result of building, or of promising to build, extensions under such conditions is to encourage real estate speculation.

There are today any quantity of desirable building lots located directly upon street car lines and supplied with water, light and sewer service, in rather sparsely settled districts, that can be bought for much less money than they were sold for immediately after the street car lines had been built.

The increased price asked for building lots immediately following the building of a new street car line tends to put them out of the reach of home builders of moderate means who are thereby driven to localities where the land will be cheaper, although not so convenient to street car service, or else they locate along older street car lines where the prices have receded.. On this account settlement following the building of a new extension is not always as rapid as expected.

When a street car extension is built in the natural way following a legitimate demand for service from actual residents of the district to be served the value added to the building lots goes directly to the home owners, while when a line is built in advance of actual settlement those interested in the lots as dealers, speculators, or investors, many of whom are non-residents, receive a large profit from any actual settler who can afford to buy the lots at the advanced price.

We believe that it is much better for everyone that the city of Duluth should be made a little wider rather than any longer and on that account we believe that it would be desirable to have the district on the hillside provided with street car service and other facilities as rapidly as its settlement will warrant, provided streets can be improved with grades on which it will be safe to operate street cars. In this connection we would urge upon all citizens of Duluth the importance of obtaining the easiest possible grades on all streets that are improved in this locality, not alone with a view to making the grades safe for street car operation, but for the benefit of all kinds of traffic that would ever have occasion to use the streets. Where possible to obtain a 4 per cent grade a 5 per cent grade should not be considered as the easier the grades to the districts are made the more desirable it will be to live in. Easy grades will make coal and all other supplies cheaper and will save time of the residents whether they go by street cars, automobiles, or on foot, to say nothing of lessening danger of accidents.

We hope that those who have taken the time to read this article through will thoughtfully consider the facts stated and will so modify their views regarding what is reasonable or possible for a street railway company to do in the way of extensions that the policy of this company as stated above will meet with their full approval.

TWIN PORTS ELECTRIC LINES

CASE TRIED A SECOND TIME

Curious Legal Situation Arises in Acton Against Railroad.

Plaintiff Will Base Plea on Defendant's Version of Case.

Because of a curious situation which arose a year ago at the trial of the personal injury suit brought by Mathew P. Montee against the Great Northern Railway company to recover damages for the benefit of his 18-year-old son, Cecil Montee, the plaintiff, at a retrial of the action, will endeavor to prove that the defense offered by the company at the former trial constituted actionable negligence.

Had the story related by Harry O'Dill, the company's star witness, conformed with Young Montee's testimony and the theory of negligence outlined by Montee's attorneys at the first trial, it is probable that the court would not have disturbed the $6,250 verdict which the jury awarded Young Montee for the experience of having his left leg taken off under the wheels of a locomotive in the Allouez yards on June 24, 1913. But because the jury in a special finding held that O'Dill was responsible for the accident and returned a general verdict for $6,250 in favor of the plaintiff, who was proceeding on the theory that the negligence did not rest upon O'Dill, but upon another employee of the company, the award of damages was not permitted to stand.

Thrown Under Wheels.

Young Montee was employed by the company as a boiler washer at the Allouez roundhouse. While crossing the yards on his way to work on the day of the accident, he testified he signaled to the hostler in charge of a passing engine to slow down and let him get aboard. O'Dill, the hostler's helper, was standing on the footboard of the tender. The engine was backing up as it approached the young man who was standing between the rails. Montee declared that he signaled O'Dill and that O'Dill transmitted the signal to stop to the hostler, one Berlinger. The engine came almost to a dead stop, he testified, but just as he was about to step aboard, it suddenly lurched forward so that he was thrown underneath the wheels.

O'Dill, the hostler's helper, testified as a witness for the company, that Montee was standing between the tracks as the engine approached him, that Montee gave him no signal and that he transmitted no signal, and that because of the position of the hostler in the cab, the hostler could have had no knowledge that the boy was in the path of the locomotive. O'Dill admitted that although he knew it was suicidal for even an experienced trainman to attempt to step upon the footboard of an approaching locomotive in such a manner, he gave neither Montee nor Berlinger any warning.

Grants New Trial.

A special finding returned by the jury fixed the responsibility for the accident upon O'Dill, but the court refused to permit the verdict to stand against the company because the plaintiff had proceeded on a specific theory of negligence not in accordance with this finding. When the company moved for judgment, nothwithstanding the verdict, Judge Ensign denied the motion and, acting upon his own initiative, granted a new trial. The case was appealed to the supreme court, but the higher tribunal dismissed the appeal on the ground that the order appealed from was not appealable.

In district court today, Judge Bert Fesler signed an order permitting the plaintiff's attorneys, Warner E. Whipple of this city and Samuel A. Anderson of St. Paul, to amend their pleadings so to allege that the accident was caused by the negligence of O'Dill, the hostler's helper, and that because of his mistake the company is liable in damages.

Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes appear in the case as attorneys for the railway company.

FINDS WIFE IN CITY JAIL

Ben Waters, After Two Years' Search, Locates Lost Spouse.

Latter in "Bastile" on the Charge of Disorderly Conduct.

After searching for his wife for two years Ben Waters, formerly of Hennessey, Okla., found her in the Duluth jail this morning.

"This is a nice note," said Lena, the wife, disgustedly as she was brought back to her cell after being in police court. "Not to see your husband for two years and then have him find you in jail."

With Charles Anderson, 28, Lena was arrested Saturday by Detectives Herman Toewe and J. L. Bradley, and charged with disorderly conduct. Anderson had kicked her downstairs, she told the officers, when swearing out a complaint against him.

A minute after she left the clerk of court's office, Anderson swore out a counter-complaint and both of them were en route to jail when Lena's husband walked down the corridor.

Ben Waters lived in Minneapolis in 1913, when his wife left him. Since that time she has been in Oklahoma, Chicago, St. Louis and St. Paul. Ben also has been a nomad, and efforts to get-together "didn't work" as Lena put it.

The husband arrived in Duluth from Oklahoma this morning, and went to 232 South First avenue east, where Lena was living. From there he was directed to the jail. Both Anderson and the woman pleaded not guilty to the charges against them when arraigned before Judge F. H. Cutting.

They will be given a hearing this afternoon.

PLAN RAIL EXTENSION

Rich Territory of Bayfield and Cornucopia Will Open to Duluth.

Bayfield & Western Road May Be Connected With Northern Pacific.

A project for direct railroad connection between Duluth and the Bayfield and Cornucopia, Wis., districts is assuming concrete form. It is claimed that this would lead to the development of a remarkably rich fruit and agricultural territory through the affording of an outlet for the sale of its products here.

The plan as now proposed is to extend the Bayfield & Western railroad to Cornucopia and Herbster, from whence connection would be established with the Northern Pacific railroad at Iron River.

Engineers Go Over Route.

Engineers who have made an examination of the proposed route claim that the levying of an assessment of $2 an acre upon lands in the territory benefited would result in the raising of sufficient capital to finance the proposition, as it is said that the majority of the settlers and land owners have indorsed that plan. The question is now being considered by a committee appointed at a recent meeting and hopes are now expressed that the initial steps in carrying through the extension of the railroad will be taken this year.

Country Being Settled.

Despite its handicap through inadequate shipping facilities, that country is being steadily settled up and a substantial increase in the volume of fruit and dairy products shipped out of it is expected this season. To further the development of dairying, several cars of cattle have been shipped into Cornucopia this spring and have been sold to settlers on easy payments. The acreage in fruit there will also be materially increased, according to C. A. Knippenberg, who has returned from a trip through the district. It is mentioned by him that the last killing frost there this spring came on April 18. During a period of ten years the growing season without frost in the Bayfield district extended over an average of 180 days.

GERMAN REPORT ON HOSTILITIES

Advanced Positions Near Ypres Given Up to Avoid Losses From Artillery.

Berlin, May 17.—By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—German army headquarters today gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading:

"In the western war theater: North of Ypres and to the west of the canal near Steenstraete at Het Sas, the Germans yesterday gave up their advanced positions and to avoid losses from the strong artillery fire of the enemy they drew back their smaller forces to the main positions on the eastern bank of the canal.

"South of Neuve Chapelle, the British still hold parts of the front trenches taken May 15. The fighting continues north of Arras. Near Ablain and Neuville French attacks yesterday were repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy.

"German airships have successfully attacked the seaports of Dover and Calais."

(Dispatches last night from England set forth that a hostile aircraft had appeared over Dover but for a short time only and no mention of an attack was made. An airship, probably the same vessel, did deliver an attack on Ramsgate, twenty miles north of Dover dropping forty bombs.)

"In the eastern war theater: On the Dubysa river near Ejargola and Czekiszki and south of the Niemen river, near Mirlampol and Ludinow attacks by the enemy were repulsed. Among the Russian prisoners taken near Shevli in Courland, were a number of recruits of the class of 1916 who had only been in training for three weeks.

"In the southeast of war theater: The German advance between the Pilica river and the upper Vistula, and the front from Sember to Stry and Stanislau continue. The river San has been crossed at several places, near Jarislau and to the northward. There is fighting going on around Przemysl."

HOUSTON FOR PRESIDENT OF ADVERTISING CLUBS.

At a meeting of advertising men representing a number of advertising organizations held at the Aldine club, New York, last Wednesday, it was unanimously decided to ask Herbert S. Houston, vice president of Doubleday, Page & Co., New York, to accept a nomination for the presidency of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

A telegram was sent to Mr. Houston telling him of the action it was desired to take and stating that "We want to see you in the presidency for two reasons: first, because we believe the organization desires to recognize your great services to the association in the past, and second, because we need a man of your caliber to carry on the work on the high plane already set by Dobbs, Coleman and Woodhead."

Mr. Houston telegraphed in reply that he would deem it a very great honor to respond to the call.

Herbert S. Houston has rendered signal services to the organization since it was started. His development of the educational work of the various clubs throughout the country, during his five years' tenure of the chairmanship of the educational committee, is well known to every member.

He is the first and only candidate whose name has been announced for nomination.

The convention will be held at Chicago, June 20 to 24 and twenty-five delegates from Duluth are expected to attend.

"TRACE" OF SNOW FALLS

One of Latest Storms in History of Weather Bureau.

Hail and Frost Also Damage Gardens Near Duluth.

The snowfall this morning was not "the latest in the weather records of Duluth" but it is very close to it. Nor was it the heaviest that Duluth has experienced in the month of May, for Duluth has seen real winter weather in the merry month ere this. Frost did considerable damage, however.

The fall of snow this morning was what the weather people call "a trace," but in prior years there have been snowfalls that shamed that designation.

Heavy frost occurred last night and this morning back of the hill, but Duluth and other portions of this territory where there was lake influence, escaped that calamity. The latest day for frost has by no means been reached for according to weather records the latest is May 29.

But the Duluth territory as a whole was treated to a snowfall, in some places, it is reported, in generous proportions. Duluth itself escaped with the "trace." Range railroad official report a quite heavy fall at points along their lines, in several places amounting to as much as an inch or more. The snowfall was noticeable on the ranges and in the immediate vicinity of Duluth—just back of the hill—yesterday.

Hail Storms.

Hail fell at intervals also, and Duluth got some of this; in fact got, at one time on Saturday afternoon, hail stones as large as peas. The "hens' egg" variety gave the city the go-by, however. In the city yesterday, rain fell at intervals, and in the evening the higher portions of the city got hail, which froze to board walks and made walking difficult, and, in some places, dangerous. Back of the hill it is reported today, considerable snow fell. At Arnold, Hermantown, and other places there was enough snow to permit small boys to scrape it up and make snowballs. This, according to reports, occurred at various times during Sunday, and last evening and during the night, some fell. The last offering froze hard, and some of it that fell on plants and buds froze to them and wrought havoc with them.

Damage to Shrubs.

It is believed that in communities back of the hill the damage to plants and buds in gardens was heavy and widespread, for it is pointed out, that with the conditions that prevailed, heavy frost following damp snow causing lodgements on sprouts, conditions were perfect for killing tender plants and buds on flowers and trees.

The heaviest snowfall reported in the month of May, according to Weather Forecaster Richardson's records, was on May 6, 1885, when 6 inches of the white stuff was deposited on the ground. The snowfall at that time lasted for three days, May 6, 7, and 8, at the end of which 7½ inches of snow was on the ground. The next heaviest was on May 10, 1902, when 5½ inches fell, and the next heaviest was on May 15, 1907, when there was a fall of 2 inches. The latest snowfall on records was on May 29, 1910, at which there was a trace, like today.

The storm of Saturday proved to be productive of a good deal of snow on this end of Lake Superior, and proved an inconvenience to vessel masters coming up. However, as the storm did not extend down the lake a very great distance, the boats did not have to suffer many hours of it.

SUCCESSFUL ADVANCE GAVE WAY TO RETREAT

tors of our front.

"However, the forces which the enemy threw against our front were so considerable that our Third army was unable to check the pressure on the Cenjnovitze-Gorlitza sector.

Desperate Fighting.

"The result was desperate and uninterrupted fighting, with impetuous counter-attacks which prevented the enemy from breaking our front. The enemy's action was reduced to frontal attacks on the positions of the Third army, which he occupied in succession.

"The enthusiasm of our troops enabled them to maintain perfect order, cope with the difficult problems of the battle and inflict enormous losses on the enemy.

"On May 14, the whole Third army deployed on the San and in conformity with this fact we were obliged to make rearrangements which were already near completion to enable the adjacent armies to unite their fronts.

Obliged to Fall Back.

"Although we were obliged to fall back in the Carpathians we simultaneously made a decisive offensive in Eastern Galicia, whereby we gained results essential to our left wing and inflicted a severe defeat on the Austrians on the Dniester front of over 150 versts (about 100 miles). Within five days, beginning on the ninth, we captured in this region about 30,000 prisoners and forced the enemy to retreat in disorder across the Pruth.

"On May 14 our long range batteries at Przemysl dispersed a column of the enemy approaching from the west, inflicting heavy losses. On the other sectors of the San and the eastern slopes of the Carpathians no actions are reported.

"The Austrian army defeated on the Dniester on the fourteenth could not maintain its position on the left bank of the Pruth, except in the region of Kolomea, with the assistance of reinforcements brought by train, bringing in the last reserves composed of sappers, detachments still in course of formation and the last available units.

"On the same day our troops carried Nadworna after a great struggle."

canter. As they clattered over the cobblestones, 100 strong, other mounted police took their station beside the automobile in which the president rode and escorted him during the short ride.

President Cheered.

The president rode between thousands of persons lining the sidewalks who cheered and roared a noisy welcome. The presidential party traveled at a brisk pace through the street, trailed by three automobiles of secret service men and a detachment of detectives from police headquarters. Seldom had such precautions been taken before to guard a president in New York city. Along the way the president traveled there were many detectives in the streets, some of them being stationed even on the tops of houses so that they might better observe the throngs. The secret service guard also was unusually heavy.

When the president arrived at the reviewing stand he found the Seventh regiment, New York National Guard, drawn up in salute. The block in which the stand stood was roped from the public, but as the head of the column of mounted police dashed into the square, the throng for blocks set up a cheer that did not end till the president had taken his place. The arrival of his automobile was heralded by a fanfare of trumpets that was almost drowned in the roar of human voices.

Flowers Hid Woodwork.

Immediately in front of the spot where the president stood beneath an awning to protect him from the rain, a bank of flowers hid the woodwork of the platform. At the corners of the stand the big American flags drooped in the rain, but the weather apparently did not dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd. Within the stand the president was surrounded by naval officers resplendent with gold lace.

A few minutes after the president had reached the head of the parading line came into view. A battalion of mounted police preceded the marchers. Next came the marine corps band, then the marines themselves, clad in dark blue coats with light blue trousers, and then the regiment of sailors. As each detachment passed, the president was saluted. Throughout the parade the president stood, silk-hatted, intent on the spectacle, serious of face except when the passing of the mascots from the various battleships drew ripples of laughter from the crowd.

Not Long in Passing.

The line was not long in passing the stand. When the last detachment had passed, the president, accompanied by Acting Mayor McAneny, Admiral Fletcher, officers of the cabinet, Mr. Boutler, representing the citizens' committee, naval officers and members of the committee, left for the Hotel Biltmore where the program called for a brief address by the president at a luncheon given by the citizens' committee.

"Fine! Wonderful! A great set of men," were some of the president's expressions, as the blue line tramped past in front of the reviewing stand. Once his face became very grave, however, when the sailors from the Florida and Utah marched by, holding aloft a standard on which was written "Vera Cruz, April 21-22, 1914." The Florida's mascot, "Dynamite," a goat, restored his smile.

As the president entered the hotel, he was given another round of cheers by a crowd in the lobby. He went to his room to rest before luncheon.

to deliver up all arms at the arsenal under pain of arrest.

Casualties Heavy.

The casualties in yesterday's fighting numbered 67 killed and 300 wounded. Saturday's list is not yet obtainable, but there were many victims on both sides during assaults on police headquarters, the military college and the cavalry barracks, the defenders of which delivered determined counter attacks before they were overcome. One hundred prisoners were taken to war ships.

The insurgents wrecked and looted the house in which Captain Coucelro, the royalist leader, stayed until recently. Several royalists were arrested including Marquis Ficalho.

Order Partially Restored.

Order has been partly restored and the new government is taking measures to re-establish normal conditions. The former minister of marine was arrested and taken aboard a war ship for having ordered a destroyer to sink the warship which was bombarding the city.

News from Oporto indicates that the disturbances there were similar to those in Lisbon, but that there were fewer casualties.

All the regiments in Lisbon and in the provinces now have surrendered. The last two to capitulate were cavalry regiments which led the military movement resulting in the appointment of Pimenta Castro as premier in January.

CANNOT ENTER UNITED STATES

the troops is to arrest the entire army and intern it at the camp at Brandon, Man.

Two Hundred Arrive.

Weakened by exposure, many of them having been without food since leaving Winnipeg three days ago, 200 Austrians and Russians, the vanguard of an army of unemployed estimated at 1,000 arrived here late last night after struggling through mud and rain for work which they expect will be given them across the boundary in the United States. Scattered along the highway within twenty miles of here, 800 other members of the band, whose progress has been delayed by a steady downpour of rain, the past twenty-four hours are trudging in this direction.

Upon their arrival here the men were given food and a place to sleep. Many of the men had not tasted food since they left Winnipeg last Friday. The condition of the men is pitiable.

Owing to a lack of employment in Canada, it is stated by leaders of the band that between 3,000 and 4,000 more of their countrymen will start for the United States within a few days.

defeat which the Russians have experienced over practically the whole line from Central Poland to the Carpathians. The victorious Germanic armies have robbed the Russians of most of the gains of the hard winter and early spring campaign, with the exception of Przemysl, which is closely threatened on both sides by hostile forces.

It is evident that the Austro-German forces will leave nothing undone in the attempt to force a crossing of the river San. The Russians admit the loss of fifty guns during the retreat of their third army to the San, but assert that most of them were destroyed.

Zeppelin Attack.

Another Zeppelin attack on seaside resorts on the east coast early this morning accomplished no more than other recent air raids. British airmen, however, made a vigorous attack and routed the Zeppelin, which when last seen appeared to have been damaged severely.

Germany's reply to America and Italy's next step divide diplomatic interest. Nothing has reached London to dissipate the impression that Germany's answer will be more or less negative. As to Italy, the return of the Salandra government is accepted in England as confirmation of the belief that Italy will enter the war on the side of the allies.

French Statement.

Paris, May 17, 2:35 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"In the region of Het Sas we have continued to make progress. Yesterday evening we occupied a house strongly defended by the enemy, and on the east bank of the canal we took possession of the first German line, making at the same time 145 prisoners and capturing four machine guns. A counter-attack on the part of the enemy was a complete failure.

"Nothing new to the north of Arras, where it is again raining, with the exception of an extremely violent artillery duel in the region of Lorette and the sanguinary checking in this same vicinity of four counter-attacks on the part of the Germans, who suffered heavy losses.

"On the rest of the front nothing has been reported.

"On the Oise at a point near Bailly, the Germans, undoubtedly in an effort to influence our sharpshooters, displayed in front of our lines a Turkish flag, a green background with the crescent. Our African troops responded to this provocation at once by rifle fire, which brought this flag to the ground. A sharpshooter subsequently went out and brought the flag back to our lines."

INCORPORATE ALL UNIONS

Urged By Counsel Drew of National Erectors' Association.

Washington, May 17.—The relation of labor and the law were again inquired into today when the Federal industrial commission resumed its hearing. The witnesses included Clarence S. Darrow, labor attorney; Walter Drew, chief counsel for the National Erectors' association and James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers. Their testimony probably will conclude this phase of the inquiry.

Mr. Drew presented a long-written statement, urging incorporation of labor unions which he said were able to evade legal responsibilities.

"Power without corresponding responsibility—this fact is, in my judgment, the one most important fundamental fact in the legal status of unions," he said.

Mr. Drew defended the use of injunctions in labor disputes and vigorously assailed the boycott as a weapon of labor. He said the injunction was necessary to deal with boycotts and sympathetic strikes. He did not believe the Clayton law would relieve the injunction situation complained of by labor, which, he said, had equal opportunity with all other classes before the law.

Rests Only on Statements.

"The charge that our courts have unfairly and in a partisan manner administered the laws of the country in labor cases rests only upon the constant statement and restatement of those whose effort is to avoid the equal enforcement of the law," said he.

When employers, in times of labor trouble are unable to get protection from the regular authorities, it becomes a duty and a necessity, Mr. Drew said, for them to take "such measures as may be at hand for such protection."

"The employer," he continued, "must rely in such cases upon such hired mercenaries as he can find. The history of actual fact must acquit the employer for the chief responsibility for such unfortunate results as may come from the use of private guards."

NATAL DAY CELEBRATED

Nearly 1,000 Duluth Norwegians Attend Two Meetings in Nation's Honor.

Singing of "America" Is Feature of Both Gatherings.

Duluth Norwegian-Americans are first of all, Americans.

Norway's 101st anniversary of the adoption of the constitution that made her an independent nation was fittingly celebrated by more than 1,000 Duluth Norwegian-Americans at the armory and Central high school yesterday afternoon, but at both meetings speakers dwelt on absolute loyalty to America. Last evening the Normanna Male chorus gave an entertainment at the Maccabee hall in honor of Dr. Thomas Warloe of Chicago, principal speaker at the armory meeting.

Both Halls Crowded.

Despite the inclement weather, both halls were filled for the independence day celebration, which is observed by Norwegians throughout the world on May 17. This year the programs were arranged for Sunday, when more people are able to attend. It was on May 17, 1814, that Norway formally broke away from an alliance that had been made with Sweden and Denmark and adopted her own constitution that has remained in force to this day.

In addition to lauding Norway, her institutions, famous men and industries, the speakers at both meetings paid high tribute to America and the American government, one of the principal exhortations being that all Norwegian-Americans "remember first, last and always that you are citizens of the United States."

Besides addresses by Mr. Warloe at the high school and Prof. J. N. Kildahl at the armory, lengthy musical programes were rendered, including songs dear to the heart of every Norwegian. At the close of the high school meeting the Normanna Male chorus led the 500 members of the audience in singing "America" as a finale to the entertainment. "America" was also sung by the entire audience at the armory meeting.

Recites Historical Events.

Dr. Warloe gave an exhaustive account of the history of Norway down to the present day. He told of the treaties with Denmark and Sweden and of the events that led up to the adoption of the constitution on May 17, 1814. An eloquent tribute was paid to the Norwegian explorers, the musicians, chemists and writers of the Norse country, who have astounded the world with their accomplishments. Dr. Warloe closed his address with an eloquent tribute to the United States and urged the Norwegians of this country to remember that they are citizens here for all time.

Mayor Prince Speaks.

John Heitman, chairman of the day, delivered the address of welcome and the first speaker was Mayor Prince, who lauded the Norwegian-Americans of Duluth and the splendid work they have done in years past. Musical numbers were rendered by the Normanna male chorus and Flaaten's orchestra. The program at the Central high school auditorium follows:

Normanna Chorus Entertains.

Last evening the Normanna male chorus entertained at a reception at the Maccabee hall in honor of Dr. Marloe, about 200 Norwegian-Americans being present. A feature of the evening was the singing of "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" by the Normanna chorus, with Mrs. Donna Riblette Flaaten as the soloist.

Addresses were made during the evening by Dr. Marloe, Dr. H. Hovde, Gus Thrana and John Heitman. The chorus rendered several musical numbers following the banquet.

MINNESOTA "DRYING UP"

Little "Wet" Territory Will Be Left Next Year, Says Martinson.

Man Who Put County Option "Across" Is Duluth Visitor.

Predicting that within a year there will be very little "wet" territory left in Minnesota, Magnus Martinson, the man who "put across" the county option bill at the last session of the legislature, is in Duluth today.

Mr. Martinson is legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and the success of the county option bill is largely due to his efforts. For fifteen years efforts had been made to pass such a bill in Minnesota, but not until Mr. Martinson took charge of the campaign was it successful. He handled the campaign for the bill both before the election, and during the fight in the legislature, and his tact and persistence were largely responsible for the victory of the "dry" forces. He was looked on as a good "two fisted fighter," and won the respect even of his opponents, by his methods.

"My visit to Duluth has no special significance," he said to The Herald today. "I am here merely for a little rest and recreation, and I know of no better place to get this than right here. I have always been a warm admirer of Duluth and its progressive citizenship. Incidentally, while up here, I have promised to deliver a few speeches during the week in Carlton county where an election is to be held next Monday. I am confident the outcome will be in favor of the 'drys.'

"Today the dry question is being voted upon in Clay county whose county seat is Moorhead. I look for a dry election.

Thirty Counties Will Vote.

"Within the next two months thirty counties will have voted, and in at least twenty-seven of them there is scarcely a doubt as to the outcome. A dry victory in nearly every case being all but conceded. Inside of another year there will be very little wet territory left in the state.

"As to St. Louis county I have no very defined idea at this time, and am not in position to express any opinion. There is, however, little doubt in my mind that temperance sentiment is steadily growing in this county, and I don't believe the day very far distant when St. Louis county will do what the rest of the state is doing. Nothing else is possible considering the type of citizenship which is shaping the destinies of this thriving section.

"As to polltics ond the campaign for next year, I haven't the slightest idea. I am a novice at the game and know very little about it. Don't know who are candidates for the governorship or any other office. Have been, and am, too busy with other matters to even give politics a passing thought. I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see my name linked up with almost anything from assessor up to the presidency, but I have but one ambition at present, and that is to make this old state as dry as a whistle."

ONE PERSON IN 500 IS FEEBLE-MINDED

Figures Given By Secretary of Indiana State Board of Charities.

Baltimore, Md., May 17.—There are 200,000 feeble-minded persons in this country or one in every 500 of population, Amos W. Butler, secretary of the Indiana board of state charities, today told a sectional meeting of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections. He added that "This is a most conservative estimate."

"About one-tenth of the feebleminded are receiving proper care," said Mr. Butler, who asserted also:

"That two-thirds of the feeble-minded inherit their condition."

That whereas the number of children in an average family is four, there are 7.3 to each degenerate family.

That 80 per cent of truants are feeble-minded.

That from 46 per cent to 89 per cent of reformatory inmates are feebleminded.

"If we take these claims at half their value," concluded Mr. Butler, "the need of prompt action is apparent."

An End to the Curse of Wearing Worthless Trusses

No More Rupture Troubles

60 Days Trial To Prove It

You Don't Have to Risk a Penny

Here is something absolutely guaranteed to keep your rupture from coming out.

And you can try it sixty days—make a thorough prove-it-to-you test—without having to risk a penny.

If it doesn't hold—if it doesn't keep your rupture from bothering you in any way—then it won't cost you a single cent.

The Only Thing Good Enough to Stand Such a Test.

You know as well as we that you can't tell anything about a truss or anything else for rupture merely by trying it on. That's the worst of going to a drugstore or local truss fitter's.

A truss or so-called "appliance" may seem alright when you first put it on, and afterwards prove utterly worthless.

The only way in the world you can make sure of exactly what you're getting is by a 60 days' trial a thoroughly day-after-day test.

And our guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthe—is the only thing of any kind whatever for rupture that you can get on sixty days trial, the only thing good enough to stand such a long and thorough test.

Something Nothing Else Does

The Cluthe is so utterly different from anything else for rupture that it has received eighteen separate patents.

It provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

Just how it does that—entirely automatically—is all explained in the free book.

Will Save You From Operation

The Cluthe has so thoroughly proved its merits that physicians in all parts of the world and surgeons in the U. S. Army and Navy now recommend it instead of advising operation. It has brought complete recovery in hundreds of cases after operation has proved a failure.

No Belt or Leg Straps to Annoy You

That's why people who have tried it say it is as comfortable as their clothing. It is water-proof—will hold in the bath. Easily kept clean.

Get World's Greatest Rupture Book

Don't send any money—just write for our free book and find out everything you want to know.

Full of facts never before put in print. Cloth-bound—96 pages—20 separate articles and 23 photographic illustrations. Will save you from being fooled and save you from wasting money.

Explains why elastic and spring trusses are a merely by trying it on. That's the worst of going to worst enemy—why they are the ruptured man's wicked crime—why the law should stop their sale.

Exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," etc.

Shows why operation is often a needless gamble with death, and why, if a man manages to get well from the operation, he often has to keep on wearing a truss.

And it tells all about the Cluthe and how you can try it sixty days and how little it costs if you keep it.

Gives endorsements of over 5,000 people.

Better write for the book today—it tells things you could never find out by going to doctors or druggistores. Simply use the coupon or say in a letter or postal "Send me the book."

"TRACE" OF SNOW FALLS

One of Latest Storms in History of Weather Bureau.

Hail and Frost Also Damage Gardens Near Duluth.

The snowfall this morning was not the latest in the weather records of Duluth, but it is very close to it. Nor was it the heaviest that Duluth has experienced in the month of May, for Duluth has seen real winter weather in the merry month ere this. Frost did less desirable damage, however.

The fall of snow this morning was what the weather people call "a trace." For the prior years there have been storms that shamed that designation.

Heavy frost occurred last night and this morning back of the hill, but Duluth and other portions of this territory where there was lake influence, escaped that calamity. The latest day for frost that by no means been reached for recording to weather records the latest is May 29.

But the Duluth territory as a whole was treated to a snowfall, in some places it is reported, in generous proportions. Duluth itself escaped with the "trace." Range railroad official report a quite heavy fall at points north their lines, in several places according to as much as an inch or more. The snowfall was noticeable on the ranges and in the immediate vicinity of Duluth just back of the hills yesterday.

Hail Storms.

Had fell at intervals also, and Duluth got some of this; in fact got, at one time on Saturday afternoon, hail stones as large as peas. The "hens' egg" variety gave the go-by, however, in every case in the city yesterday, rain fell at intervals, and in the evening the higher portions of the city got hail, which froze to board walks and made walking difficult, and, in some places, roadways. Back of the hill it is reported today, considerable snow fell. At Arnold, Hermantown, and other places there was enough snow to permit small boys to scrape it up and make snowballs. This, according to reports, occurred at various times during Sunday, and last evening and during the night, some fell. The last offering froze hard, and some of it that fell on plants and buds froze to them and wrought havoc with them.

Damage to Shrubs.

It is believed that in communities back of the hill the damage to plants and buds in gardens was heavy and widespread, for, it is pointed out, that with the conditions that prevailed, heavy frost following damp snow causing lodgements on sprouts, conditions were perfect for killing tender plants and buds on flowers and trees.

The heaviest snowfall reported in the month of May, according to Weather Forecaster Richardson's records, was on May 8, 1885, when 6 inches of the white stuff was deposited on the ground. The snowfall at that time lasted for three days, May 6, 7, and 8, at the end of which 7½ inches of snow was on the ground. The next heaviest was on May 16, 1902, when 5½ inches fell, and the next heaviest was on May 15, 1907, when there was a fall of 2 inches. The latest snowfall on records was on May 29, 1910, at which there was a trace, as today.

The storm of Saturday proved to be productive of a good deal of snow on this end of Lake Superior, and proved an inconvenience to vessel masters coming up. However, as the storm did not extend down the lake a very great distance, the boats did not have to suffer for many hours of it.

tors of our front.

"However, the forces which the enemy threw against our front were so considerable that over 75 rd army was needed to check the pressure on the Dniester position sector.

Desperate Fighting.

"The battle was of special and unintermitted fighting, with impetuous counter-attacks which prevented the enemy from breaking our front. The enemy's action was reduced to frontal attacks on the positions of the Third army, which he occupied in succession.

"The enthusiasm of our troops enabled them to maintain perfect order, cope with the difficult problems of the battle and inflict enormous losses on the enemy.

"On May 14, the whole Third army deployed on the San and in conformity with this fact we were obliged to make rearrangements which were already near completion to enable the adjacent armies to unite their fronts.

Obliged to Fall Back.

"Although we were obliged to fall back in the Carpathians we simultaneously made a decisive offensive in Eastern Galicia, whereby we gained results essential to our left wing and inflicted a severe defeat on the Austrians on the Dniester front of over 150 versts (about 100 miles). Within five days, beginning on the ninth, we captured in this region about 30,000 prisoners and forced the enemy to retreat in disorder across the Pruth.

"On May 14 our long range batteries at Przemysl dispersed a column of the enemy's approaching from the west, inflicting heavy losses. On the other sectors of the San and the eastern slopes of the Carpathians no actions are reported.

"The Austrian army defeated on the Dniester on the fourteenth could not maintain its position on the left bank of the Pruth, except in the region of Kolomea, with the assistance of reinforcements brought by train, bringing in the last reserves composed of sappers, detachments still in course of formation and the last available units.

canter. As they clattered over the cobblestones, 100 strong, other mounted police took their station beside the automobile in which the president rode, and escorted him during the short ride.

President Cheered.

The president rode between thousands of persons lining the sidewalks who cheered and roared a noisy welcome. The presidential party traveled at a brisk pace through the street, trailed by three automobiles of secret service men and a detachment of detectives from police headquarters. Seldom had such precautions been taken before to guard a president in New York city. Along the way the president traveled there were many detectives in the streets, some of them being stationed even on the tops of houses so that they might better observe the throngs. The secret service guard also was unusually heavy.

When the president arrived at the reviewing stand he found the Seventh regiment, New York National Guard, drawn up in salute. The block in which the stand stood was roped from the public, but as the head of the column of mounted police dashed into the square, the throng for blocks set up a cheer that did not end till the president had taken his place. The arrival of his automobile was heralded by a fanfare of trumpets that was almost drowned in the roar of human voices.

Flowers Hid Woodwork.

Immediately in front of the spot where the president stood beneath an awning to protect him from the rain, a bank of flowers hid the woodwork of the platform. At the corners of the stand the big American flags drooped in the rain, but the weather apparently occurred at various times during Sunday, and last evening and during the night, some fell. The last offering froze hard, and some of it that fell on plants and buds froze to them and wrought havoc with them.

Not Long in Passing.

The line was not long in passing the stand. When the last detachment had passed, the president, accompanied by Acting Mayor McAneny, Admiral Fletcher, officers of the cabinet, Mr. Butler, representing the citizens' committee, naval officers and members of the committee, left for the Hotel Biltmore where the program called for a brief address by the president at a luncheon given by the citizens' committee.

"Fine! Wonderful! A great set of men," were some of the president's expressions, as the blue line trampled past in front of the reviewing stand. Upon his face became very grave, however, when the sailors from the Florida and Utah marched by, holding aloft a standard on which was written "Vera Cruz, April 21-22 1914." The Florida's mascot, "Dynamite," a goat, restored his smile.

As the president entered the hotel, he was given another round of cheers by a crowd in the lobby. He went to his room to rest before luncheon.

PORTUGAL IS AGAIN QUIET

to deliver up all arms at the arsenal under pain of arrest.

Casualties Heavy.

The casualties in yesterday's fighting numbered 67 killed and 306 wounded. Saturday's list is not yet obtainable, but there were many victims on both sides during assaults on police headquarters, the military college and the cavalry barracks, the defenders of which delivered determined counter attacks before they were overcome. One hundred prisoners were taken to war ships.

The insurgents wrecked and looted the house in which Captain Couceiro, the royalist leader, stayed until recently. Several royalists were arrested including Marquis Ficalho.

Order Partially Restored.

Order has been partly restored and the new government is taking measures to re-establish normal conditions. The former minister of marine was arrested and taken aboard a war ship for having ordered a destroyer to sink the warship which was bombarding the city.

News from Oporto indicates that the disturbances there were similar to those in Lisbon, but that there were fewer casualties.

All the regiments in Lisbon and in the provinces now have surrendered. The last two to capitulate were cavalry regiments which led the military movement resulting in the appointment of Pimenta Castro as premier in January.

the troops is to arrest the entire army and intern it at the camp at Brandon, Man.

Two Hundred Arrive.

Weakened by exposure, many of them having been without food since leaving Winnipeg three days ago, 200 Austrians and Russians, the vanguard of an army of unemployed estimated at 1,000 arrived here late last night after struggling through mud and rain for work which they expect will be given them across the boundary in the United States. Scattered along the highway within twenty miles of here, 800 other members of the band, whose progress has been delayed by a steady downpour of rain, the past twenty-four hours are trudging in this direction.

Upon their arrival here the men were given food and a place to sleep. Many of the men had not tasted food since they left Winnipeg last Friday. The condition of the men is pitiable.

Owing to a lack of employment in Canada, it is stated by leaders of the band that between 3,000 and 4,000 more of their countrymen will start for the United States within a few days.

defeat which the Russians have experienced over practically the whole line from Central Poland to the Carpathians. The victorious Germanic armies have crushed the Russians of most of the gains of the hard winter and early spring campaign, with the exception of Przemysl, which is closely threatened on both sides by hostile forces.

It is evident that the Austro-German forces will leave nothing undone in the attempt to force a crossing of the river San. The Russians admit the loss of fifty guns during the retreat of their third army to the San, but assert that most of them were destroyed.

Zeppelin Attack.

Another Zeppelin attack on seaside resorts on the east coast early this morning accomplished no more than other recent air raids. British airmen, however, made a vigorous attack and routed the Zeppelin, which when last seen appeared to have been damaged severely.

Germany's reply to America and Italy's next step divide diplomatic interest. Nothing has reached London to dissipate the impression that Germany's attitude will be more or less negative. As to Italy, the return of the Salandra government is accepted in England as confirmation of the belief that Italy will enter the war on the side of the allies.

French Statement.

Paris, May 17, 2:35 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"In the region of Het Sas we have continued to make progress. Yesterday evening we occupied a house strongly defended by the enemy, and on the east bank of the canal we took possession of the first German line, making at the same time 145 prisoners and capturing four machine guns. A counter-attack on the part of the enemy was a complete failure.

"Nothing new to the north of Arras, where it is again raining, with the exception of an extremely violent artillery duel in the region of Lorette and the sanguinary checking in this same vicinity of four counter-attacks on the part of the Germans, who suffered heavy losses.

"On the rest of the front nothing has been reported.

"On the Oise at a point near Bailly, the Germans, undoubtedly in an effort to influence our sharpshooters, displayed in front of our lines a Turkish flag on a green background with the crescent. Our African troops responded to this provocation at once by rifle fire, which brought this flag to the ground. A sharpshooter subsequently went out and brought the flag back to our lines."

INCORPORATE ALL UNIONS

Urged By Counsel Drew of National Erectors' Association.

Washington, May 17.—The relation of labor and the law were again inquired into today when the Federal industrial commission resumed its hearing. The witnesses included Clarence S. Darrow, labor attorney; Walter Drew, chief counsel for the National Erectors' association and James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers. Their testimony probably will conclude this phase of the inquiry.

Mr. Drew presented a long-written statement, urging incorporation of labor unions which he said were able to evade legal responsibilities.

"Power without corresponding responsibility—this fact is, in my judgment, the one most important fundamental fact in the legal status of unions," he said.

Mr. Drew defended the use of injunctions in labor disputes and vigorously assailed the boycott as a weapon of labor. He said the injunction was necessary to deal with boycotts and sympathetic strikes. He did not believe the Clayton law would relieve the injunction situation complained of by labor, which, he said, had equal opportunity with all other classes before the law.

Rests Only on Statements.

"The charge that our courts have unfairly and in a partisan manner administered the laws of the country in labor cases rests only upon the constant statement and restatement of those whose effort is to avoid the equal enforcement of the law," said he.

When employers, in times of labor trouble are unable to get protection from the regular authorities, it becomes a duty and a necessity, Mr. Drew said, for them to take "such measures as may be at hand for such protection."

"The employer," he continued, "must rely in such cases upon such hired mercenaries as he can find. The history of actual fact must acquit the employer for the chief responsibility for such unfortunate results as may come from the use of private guards."

NATAL DAY CELEBRATED

Nearly 1,000 Duluth Norwegians Attend Two Meetings in Nation's Honor.

Singing of "America" Is Feature of Both Gatherings.

Duluth Norwegian-Americans are first of all, Americans.

Norway's 101st anniversary of the adoption of the constitution that made her an independent nation was fittingly celebrated by more than 1,000 Duluth Norwegian-Americans at the armory and Central high school yesterday afternoon, but at both meetings speakers dwelt on absolute loyalty to America. Last evening the Normanna Male chorus gave an entertainment at the Maccabee hall in honor of Dr. Thomas Warloe of Chicago, principal speaker at the armory meeting.

Both Halls Crowded.

Despite the inclement weather, both halls were filled for the independence day celebration, which is observed by Norwegians throughout the world on May 17. This year the programs were arranged for Sunday, when more people are able to attend. It was on May 17, 1814, that Norway formally broke away from an alliance that had been made with Sweden and Denmark and adopted her own constitution that has remained in force to this day.

In addition to lauding Norway, her institutions, famous men and industries, the speakers at both meetings paid high tribute to America and the American government, one of the principal exhortations being that all Norwegian-Americans "remember first, last and always that you are citizens of the United States."

Besides addresses by Mr. Warloe at the high school and Prof. I. N. Kildahl at the armory, lengthy musical programmes were rendered, including songs dear to the heart of every Norwegian. At the close of the high school meeting the Normanna Male chorus led the 500 members of the audience in singing "America" as a finale to the entertainment. "America" was also sung by the entire audience at the armory meeting.

Recites Historical Events.

Dr. Warloe gave an exhaustive account of the history of Norway down to the present day. He told of the treaties with Denmark and Sweden and of the events that led up to the adoption of the constitution on May 17, 1814. An eloquent tribute was paid to the Norwegian explorers, the musicians, chemists and writers of the Norse country, who have astounded the world with their accomplishments. Dr. Warloe closed his address with an eloquent tribute to the United States and urged the Norwegians of this country to remember that they are citizens here for all time.

Mayor Prince Speaks.

John Heitman, chairman of the day, delivered the address of welcome and the first speaker was Mayor Prince, who lauded the Norwegian-Americans of Duluth and the splendid work they have done in years past. Musical numbers were rendered by the Normanna male chorus and Flaaten's orchestra. The program at the Central high school auditorium follows:

Normanna Chorus Entertains.

Last evening the Normanna male chorus entertained at a reception at the Maccabee hall in honor of Dr. Marloe, about 200 Norwegian-Americans being present. A feature of the evening was the singing of "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" by the Normanna chorus, with Mrs. Donna Riblette Flaaten as the soloist.

Addresses were made during the evening by Dr. Marloe, Dr. H. Hoyde, Gus Thrana and John Heitman. The chorus rendered several musical numbers following the banquet.

MINNESOTA "DRYING UP"

Little "Wet" Territory Will Be Left Next Year, Says Martinson.

Man Who Put County Option "Across" Is Duluth Visitor.

Predicting that within a year there will be very little "wet" territory left in Minnesota, Magnus Martinson, the man who "put across" the county option bill at the last session of the legislature, is in Duluth today.

Mr. Martinson is legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and the success of the county option bill is largely due to his efforts. For fifteen years efforts had been made to pass such a bill in Minnesota, but not until Mr. Martinson took charge of the campaign was it successful. He handled the campaign for the bill both before the election, and during the fight in the legislature, and his tact and persistence were largely responsible for the victory of the "dry" forces. He was looked on as a good "two fisted fighter," and won the respect even of his opponents, by his methods.

"My visit to Duluth has no special significance," he said to The Herald today. "I am here merely for a little rest and recreation, and I know of no better place to get this than right here. I have always been a warm admirer of Duluth and its progressive citizenship. Incidentally, while up here, I have promised to deliver a few speeches during the week in Carlton county where an election is to be held next Monday. I am confident the outcome will be in favor of the 'drys.'

"Today the dry question is being voted upon in Clay county whose county seat is Moorhead. I look for a dry election.

Thirty Counties Will Vote.

"Within the next two months thirty counties will have voted, and in at least twenty-seven of them there is scarcely a doubt as to the outcome. A dry victory in nearly every case being all but conceded. Inside of another year there will be very little wet territory left in the state.

"As to St. Louis county I have no very defined idea at this time, and am not in position to express any opinion. There is, however, little doubt in my mind that temperance sentiment is steadily growing in this county, and I don't believe the day very far distant when St. Louis county will do what the rest of the state is doing. Nothing else is possible considering the type of citizenship which is shaping the destinies of this thriving section.

"As to politics and the campaign for next year, I haven't the slightest idea. I am a novice at the game and know very little about it. Don't know who are candidates for the governorship or any other office. Have been, and am, too busy with other matters to even give politics a passing thought. I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see my name linked up with almost anything from assessor up to the presidency, but I have but one ambition at present, and that is to make this old state as dry as a whistle."

ONE PERSON IN 500 IS FEEBLE-MINDED

Figures Given By Secretary of Indiana State Board of Charities.

Baltimore, Md., May 17.—There are 200,000 feeble-minded persons in this country or one in every 500 of population, Amos W. Butler, secretary of the Indiana board of state charities, today told a sectional meeting of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections. He added that "This is a most conservative estimate."

"About one-tenth of the feebleminded are receiving proper care," said Mr. Butler, who asserted also:

"That two-thirds of the feeble-minded inherit their condition."

That whereas the number of children in an average family is four, there are 7.3 to each degenerate family.

That 80 per cent of truants are feeble-minded.

That from 46 per cent to 89 per cent of reformatory inmates are feebleminded.

"If we take these claims at half their value," concluded Mr. Butler, "the need of prompt action is apparent."

An End to the Curse of Wearing Worthless Trusses

No More Rupture Troubles

60 Days Trial To Prove It

You Don't Have to Risk a Penny

Here is something absolutely guaranteed to keep your rupture from coming out.

And you can try it sixty days—make a thorough prove-it-to-you test—without having to risk a penny.

If it doesn't hold—if it doesn't keep your rupture from bothering you in any way—then it won't cost you a single cent.

The Only Thing Good Enough to Stand Such a Test.

You know as well as we that you can't tell anything about a truss or anything else for rupture merely by trying it on. That's the worst of going to a drugstore or local truss fitter's.

A truss or so-called "appliance" may seem alright when you first put it on, and afterwards prove utterly worthless.

The only way in the world you can make sure of exactly what you're getting is by a 60 days' trial a thoroughly day-after-day test.

And our guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthe—is the only thing of any kind whatever for rupture that you can get on sixty days trial, the only thing good enough to stand such a long and thorough test.

Something Nothing Else Does

The Cluthe is so utterly different from anything else for rupture that it has received eighteen separate patents.

It provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

Just how it does that—entirely automatically—is all explained in the free book.

Will Save You From Operation

The Cluthe has so thoroughly proved its merits that physicians in all parts of the world and surgeons in the U. S. Army and Navy now recommend it instead of advising operation. It has brought complete recovery in hundreds of cases after operation has proved a failure.

No Belt or Leg Straps to Annoy You

That's why people who have tried it say it is as comfortable as their clothing. It is water-proof—will hold in the bath. Easily kept clean.

Get World's Greatest Rupture Book

Don't send any money—just write for our free book and find out everything you want to know.

Full of facts never before put in print. Cloth-bound—96 pages—20 separate articles and 23 photographic illustrations. Will save you from being fooled and save you from wasting money.

Explains why elastic and spring trusses are a merely by trying it on. That's the worst of going to wicked crime—why they are the ruptured man's worst enemy—why the law should stop their sale.

Exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," etc.

Shows why operation is often a needless gamble with death, and why, if a man manages to get well from the operation, he often has to keep on wearing a truss.

And it tells all about the Cluthe and how you can try it sixty days and how little it costs if you keep it.

Gives endorsements of over 5,000 people.

Better write for the book today—it tells things you could never find out by going to doctors or druggists. Simply use the coupon or say in a letter or postal "Send me the book."

CHANGES FOR HOUSING CODE

Mayor Declares Some Amendments to Measure Are Decided On.

Suggestions Made at Conference of City Officials Being Considered.

Several changes to the housing code will be made at the public hearing to be held in the council chamber at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow, according to Mayor Prince.

The chief executive said this morning that the city officials have agreed to a few of the changes proposed by the general committee, consisting of representatives from the Commercial club, the Builders' Exchange, the Real Estate Exchange and the Duluth Association of Building Owners and Managers and that one or two others may be decided on at the meeting tomorrow. He said that a few of the objections made by E. A. Silberstein, president of the Associated Charities, are concurred in and that the dropping of the amendments will be recommended.

Those amendments decided on at the hearing tomorrow night will be prepared by the mayor and presented at the regular council meeting a week from tonight.

The mayor said this morning that the city officials, including the health inspector, building inspector and himself, since their conference last week, have agreed that the housing code requires a few changes. These include the granting of permission to erect a bathroom window in a court two feet square, but barring windows smaller than six feet square; the reducing of the sizes of the one large room from 150 to 140 square feet and other rooms from 100 to 90 square feet, that wooden tenements should not be increased in height and that there should be no change in the section prohibiting overcrowding of rooms.

"Many of the suggestions by the general committee," said the mayor, "are very good and will help us considerably, if adopted, while others would practically ruin the housing code. We will oppose the reduction of the minimum depth of yards, the width of courts and the width of rear steps."

The mayor declared that the authority was transferred from the health department to the building inspector a year ago and that the objection to such a move by Mr. Silberstein of the Associated Charities is untimely.

FARMER ON TRIAL FOR FIRING HOME

A jury was drawn in Judge Ensign's division of the district court this morning to try Nels Nelson on a charge of arson in the third degree. Nelson was indicted by the May grand jury on a charge of having set fire to his residence, a farm house in the town of Adolph, on March 5, last. The building was owned by Emil Ejerlin, a baker of this city.

According to the state's witnesses, Nelson came home drunk on the day in question and set fire to the house. The blaze was discovered by Miss Minnie Hillman, a school teacher, who was boarding at Nelson's place, and her friend, Miss Gertrude O'Neill, another school teacher, who went into the house with her. The evidence disclosed that the two young women found that fire had been started in a bed upstairs and in a bureau drawer downstairs.

Warren E. Greene, county attorney, is prosecuting and Thomas J. Joyce is defending.

BLAMES ROAD FOR LOSS OF HEALTH

A personal injury action, in which Berg Leland, aged 28, an inmate of the state sanatorium for tuberculosis sufferers at Walker, Minn., is suing the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company for $10,986.40 damages, claiming that it is responsible for his present condition of health, was brought to trial this morning before Judge Dancer and a district court jury. Leland alleges that he contracted tuberculosis while in the employ of the company at Proctor.

On Oct. 5, 1913, he hired out as a member of a "material gang" but on Oct. 26, he was transferred to the work of thawing frozen ore by means of steam. He claims that it was while he was engaged at this work that he contracted tuberculosis. He testified that he was obliged to breath hot steam and vapor continually while at work in the cold air. On Nov. 5, 1913, he contracted a bad cold, and was obliged to quit, he asserts.

LOGGING CONTRACT AIRED IN COURT

A dispute over the terms of a logging contract will be aired before a jury which was impaneled this morning in Judge Cant's division of the district court in a lawsuit brought by Robert bordage against Clyde Fortier.

Fortier and Bordage entered into a logging deal in 1913. The former owned logs near milepost No. 38, on the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railway, and engaged Bordage to get them out to the railroad right-of-way for him.

Bordage is suing for $744.21 for his services under the contract. Fortier claims that the contract was not carried out by Bordage and that $1,005.37 is owing to him on a counter-claim.

TWO BROTHERS WOUNDED.

East Grand Forks Pastor's Relatives Hurt in Big War.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two brothers of Dr. C. E. Coles, the Presbyterian minister of this city, have been wounded in the fighting in France, being members of the British expeditionary force.

Reports received by Dr. Coles of his brothers' injuries are not very definite, except that they indicate the condition of one to be quite critical. Both were wounded in action, but the date and place of their injuries are not designated.

ADDRESS ON PATRIOTISM

President Talks on American Flag at New York Luncheon.

American Fleet Great One, With Nothing of Bluster About It.

New York, May 17.—President Wilson delivered a patriotic address on the American flag and the protection it carries for Americans, at a luncheon given today in his honor by the New York Citizens' committee for the reception of the Atlantic fleet. When the president arose to speak soon after reviewing the parade of sailors and marines from the fleet he was enthusiastically cheered. Five hundred army and navy officers and other guests jumped to their feet and applauded. All the officers were in full dress uniform.

Alton B. Parker, Jacob Schiff, Joseph H. Choate, August Belmont and many other prominent New Yorkers were among those present.

Acting Mayor George McAneny introduced the president.

The president declared that the luncheon was not the occasion at which it was wise for him to make an extended address. He said he had always had a deep interest in the navy.

Should Have Great Navy.

"It is right," he said, "that America should have a great navy to express its character."

The navy, he added, brought the United States in touch with the rest of the world. Secretary Daniels was warmly praised by the president. Under him, the president said, the navy had become more and more efficient. The secretary, he added, had his entire support.

"The navy of the United States," the president said, "expresses our ideals. The fleet lying here at New York is a great fleet and has nothing of bluster about it.

"The great thing about America is that it wants no territory and questions no other nation's honor. We stand for humanity and for the things that humanity wants."

Speaking of the flag, the president asserted that it typified all that was best in the world.

Mission of America.

"The mission of America," he went on, "is what her soldiers and sailors should think of. They have nothing to do with shaping of policies. Sometimes the persons who run the United States forget the principles it was founded on, but the people themselves never forget.

"When a crisis occurs in this country it is as if you put your finger on the pulse of the nation; as if you put your hand on the pulse of a dynamo.

"We lift no threats against any nation or class in the United States. This fleet in the river is a great solemn evidence that the force of America is the force of moral principle. There is nothing else for which she contends."

At the conclusion of his address President Wilson left the hotel to inspect the fleet, lying at anchor in the Hudson river.

OPPOSE ENTRY OF AUSTRIANS

Immigration Officers Expected to Check Party at Border.

The party of about 1,000 Austrians said to be on their way to the United States from Winnipeg will probably find difficulty in getting into this country in the opinion of Brown McDonald, government immigration officer at Duluth. The probability that they would be unable to find work and would become public charges would undoubtedly cause the government authorities to oppose their entry to the United States he says.

"The government officials may have considerable trouble in keeping so large a party across the border," said Mr. McDonald today. "If they stampede, as it is very probable that they might, the immigration officers would find it impossible to check them without troops at their disposal, and such is not the case. I understand that the Austrians are heading toward the North Dakota line, and we do not expect to have anything to do with them here."

Mr. McDonald says that he has received no government orders regarding them, and does not expect to be involved in the case.

AUTOMATIC STOP.

Duluthian Invents Device to Prevent Accidents on Railroads.

An automatic stop device for railroad trains which may do away with accidents, has been invented by B. B. Brosvik, 16 Highland avenue, Duluth.

The inventor claims that his device will stop trains when there is danger of collision, or danger from an open switch, and believes that it will be a big factor in promoting "safety first" in rail travel. It will be tested before the railroad and warehouse commission of Minnesota some time during the summer.

O'LEARY FUNERAL WILL BE HELD HERE

Funeral services for George M. O'Leary of Duluth, who was drowned at Hampton Roads, Va., April 26, will be held from Sacred Heart cathedral Tuesday at 9 a. m., with interment at Calvary cemetery.

At the time of his death Mr. O'Leary was a fireman aboard the U. S. S. Louisiana. He was on an excursion trip with several friends, and fell over the rail of the boat, striking his head on the rail as he fell. The body did not come up for some time and it is believed that he was knocked unconscious before striking the water.

The young man enlisted at San Francisco nearly four years ago and had but two months to serve. He leaves relatives living at 28 West Second street.

THREE SMALL FIRES.

Department Has Early Runs Sunday Morning—Little Damage.

Defective wiring in the basement of the N. E. Lugoff home at 1116 East Second street started a fire which routed the family out in their night clothes shortly after 4 o'clock Sunday morning. No one was injured.

Mr. Lugoff was awakened by smoke and after rousing the other members of the household, made his way to the telephone with difficulty and called the firemen. Damage, which was confined to the basement, will not amount to more than $200, it is believed. The loss is covered by insurance.

Apparatus from engine companies No. 1, 3 and 4, with Chief Joseph Randall and Assistant Chief Wilson, responded.

Two other small blazes within an hour of the Lugoff fire caused nominal damage. A chimney fire at 218 West Second street was extinguished with the loss of but two shingles. At 6:02 a. m. apparatus was called to Third avenue east and Railroad street by a fire in a boxcar.

NEW AND HANDSOME WENGER PARLORS OPEN

The H. S. Wenger fur parlors have been moved into 7 West Superior street, and the new apartments have been arranged most attractively, making the new home of the concern one of the most charming in the city. There is plenty of floor space and numerous private fitting rooms are provided, all handsomely furnished, making the general effect one of the smartest shops in the city. The woodwork has been finished in mahogany, the walls are a dull sage-green with tones of tan, the rugs are green to blend and the furnishing are of mahogany.

The color plan of the interior is followed in the display windows, with myrtle green velvet on the floors and the mirrors set in mahogany frames. In sharp and tasteful contrast are the cream silk shades on the windows and the whole effect gives a perfect setting for the new summer furs of white fox and ermine displayed.

The new parlors are now open for inspection and displays of the latest things in furs are shown.

Mr. Wenger, discussing fashions, says that coats, next season, will be of the flaring mode and muffs will be small and round, fashioned after the styles of grandmother's time. Beaver, martin and Hudson seal will be the favorites, with beaver heading the list.

This paper is the college news medium of the Ohio College Press association, is owned by the students of the literary societies, and is published twice a week by an elected staff. It contains college news, editorial comment, features and communications, and conducts a bulletin service for important out-of-town events. In a recent competitive comparison the Oberlin Review ranked first in heads and second in style of write-up among the twenty or more college publications in Ohio. High scholarship is necessary to eligibility for these elective positions.

Week-End Party at Solon Springs

Morris Thomas of 1511 East Fourth street entertained at a week-end house party at Solon Springs.

Saturday evening Mr. Thomas gave a dancing party in honor of his guests. His grandmother, Mrs. M. Thomas, chaperoned the house party. Mr. Thomas's guests were: Misses Grace and Marjorie McClenaghan, Jeanette Gomberg and Helen Harbison and George Wilson, Russell D. McCord and A. B. Kapplin.

Mr. Thomas and his grandmother will remain at their summer home until June 1.

Birthday Dinner.

Mrs. M. Cook of 1021 East Second street entertained at dinner last evening in honor of the twenty-first birthday of her son, Norman A. Cook. Covers were laid for fourteen. Yellow flowers were used in the dining room and red peonies and red and pink roses in the living room.

Levin-Levy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Levin of 431 East Second street announce the engagement of their daughter, Hazel, to Abe B. Levy of St. Paul. The wedding will take place in June.

Housewives' League.

The Housewives' league will hold its last meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the library clubroom.

Tag Day Is Postponed.

As the rain Saturday made it impossible for the members of the Linnaean club to continue their sale of tags for the benefit of Duluth persons suffering from tuberculosis the sale will be continued next Saturday. About $138 was realized Saturday morning.

The members of the club ask that persons who bought tags Saturday, wear them next Saturday to avoid being approached a second time.

Junior-Senior Club Gives Play.

"The Ambassador," the most pretentious play that has been attempted by the Junior-Senior Girls' club of Central high school was given Saturday night at the Y. W. C. A. Those who took part showed the excellent training they received from Mrs. George A. Reifsteck, who also coached a group of one-act plays the club put on early in the winter.

The first three scenes took place in Paris homes and the fourth one in a garden. The garden scene was especially attractive as the stage was decorated with pines, wild cherry blossoms and cowslips.

The evening gowns worn by the performers added attractiveness to three of the acts and some of the young women appeared in men's evening clothes.

All the parts were taken well but special mention should be made of Miss Irene Johnson, who as the British ambassador at Madrid was very stately; Miss Katherine Birch as Sir William Beauvedere, attache to the British embassy at Berlin; Miss Daisy Macaskill as Vivian Beauvedere; Miss Esther Wood as Lady Beauvedere; Miss Gertrude Flinn as Juliet Gainsborough, as Isabel McDunnough as Jenkins, a typical English footman.

Considering the weather, the attendance was very good. Miss Frances Pond won the prize for selling the greatest number of tickets.

Painting By C. C. Rosencranz Receives High Praise

"An Autumn Retreat," C. C. Rosencranz of this city, was among a group of the best paintings selected from the exhibit by Northwestern artists held in St. Paul and placed on view at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts last Tuesday.

The Minneapolis Tribune of yesterday said of the painting by the Duluth artist:

"Lovely in its unruffled peace is the landscape of C. C. Rosencranz of Duluth, with its great quiet trees in the foreground, and beyond, a stretch of still water with overhanging bushes on the far shore. There is a wonderful spirit in the landscapes of this sterling artist. It is as if he saw beyond the outer beauty of nature to the inner meaning."

Although there were many good things in the St. Paul exhibit that are not included in the group, nevertheless the collection is fairly representative of the best work of the big exhibit.

C. C. ROSENCRANZ.

Lodge Notes.

Progressive Rebekah lodge will entertain at five hundred and pedro tomorrow night at Odd Fellows' temple. The members of the committee are Mrs. James Simpson, Mrs. James Beatty and Mrs. John Blais.

Zenith lodge, No. 99, Degree of Honor, will hold an important business meeting tomorrow night at Maccabee hall. The business meeting will be followed by a social hour.

Church Meetings.

Mrs. Frank A. Barber and Mrs. N. S. Mitchell will entertain the Westminster Circle of the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church parlors.

Endion Circle of the First Presbyterian church will hold an all-day meeting for quilting in the pastor's study Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Once More the Servant Problem.

Every time I go in search of a housework, I return marveling the more at the perversity and density of human nature. Naturally women excel in domestic service, yet it is the one thing that those who are forced to earn their living persistently avoid. If a woman does not like housework and is better fitted for some other field of labor I am not one of those who think that she should confine herself to domesticity. But I have been disgusted with women who turn up their noses at housework and actually prefer more laborious work at less wages, to escape the despised duties of a "servant girl."

I am fast losing patience with the phase of the servant-girl question which deals with her menial position in the home. I think her menial position largely depends upon herself. This is especially true among the great class of middle people who employ one, or possibly two, servants about the house. If a girl insists upon doing her work in a slip-shod fashion she will always remain a menial because that is what she is in body and soul. If she shows ability and willingness to learn, the chances are that she will meet with encouragement from those who employ her.

No matter how you figure it, most of us are subordinate to some higher authority. The shop-girl, the stenographer, the school teacher, the dressmaker and workers in every line of endeavor, have to bow down more or less to those who make their living a possibility, no matter how free and untrammeled they seem. We are all servants and all have to serve.

I do not know why a woman who works in my home should expect me to make an intimate associate of her. We who work out in the world are daily forced to recognize that we have superior officers. If we prove our worth and are friendly and not envious, all will be well in time. The faithful woman, working in the home, will be accorded friendliness, confidence and consideration as her worth is made plain to those who employ her.

I know that there are mistresses who have no consideration or humanity for those who enter their homes as housework assistants. Such women have no consideration for anyone, as far as that goes, and make no more desirable friends than mistresses.

If only someone would hit upon a scheme to make housework a much prized occupation, what a happy world it would be for mothers with families to raise. It is useless to say that these mothers do their housework themselves. They need and must have competent help.

"MAM'ZELLE" AT LYCEUM

Baldwin Patrons Enjoy Hilarious Hodge-Podge of Comedy-Vaudeville.

If the author of "Mam'zelle," which received its first hilarious treatment at the hands of the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum Sunday, intended that the company should have a romping good time along with the audience, he succeeded. "Mam'zelle" is one long laugh—punctuated by screams.

There isn't much of a plot—there needn't be. There isn't much to tell about the action of the "play" for "telling" would spoil the effect of the many surprises offered by the Baldwinians en route to the final curtain, but the audiences yesterday enjoyed it to the limit.

"Mam'zelle," in short, is a hodge-podge of fun, with situations galore, each situation as laughable as its predecessor, and with the local stock organization at its best, using its best character portrayers and "getting by" in good shape with the numerous specialities introduced.

Walter Baldwin, Jr., and A. Romaine Callender, assisted by a donkey, an automobile of before the war vintage, and with almost a complete hardware store for accessories, received perhaps the best "hand" for their efforts; although the carrying out on a stretcher of Miss Meta Eyferth, she having been overcome by an emotional crazybone, and the distribution of cigars "from one gentleman to another" by William A. Mortimer, got to the crowd in fine shape and kept up the merriment throughout.

The company this week is on and off stage. Off the stage they put over some good and original comedy; on the stage they are up to their previous best in all respects.

The only way to appreciate "Mam'zelle" is to go and see it, and the prospects are that a great many Duluthians will laugh with the company, sing with the company and enjoy with the company the utter foolishness of the "play" as the Baldwinians enjoy it, sometimes in the boxes, at other times in the parquet, helping young Baldwin "sing," eating mighty good-looking sandwiches, drinking "champagne" or "pulling" just nonsense that catches the audience and makes it laugh uproariously along with the actors and actresses. Chester McLeod also "sings."

Beginning tonight, Berta Schmied and her brother Leo will present the latest New York ballroom and costume dances in connection with "Mam'zelle." Tonight will be the anniversary of the company's first appearance in Duluth and, following the regular performance, there will be an informal dance on the stage, lasting until midnight. Flaaten's orchestra will provide the music and the members of the audience may either dance or look on.

Next week's bill will be "Seven Keys to Baldpate," a "ghost story" with many surprises, that made so good in New York that it had a run of one year there and played to capacity for six months in Chicago. It is a George Cohan play, which is sufficient.

Theater Gossip.

The array of talent and photoplays at the New Grand is headed by Bernard and Myers in their latest success, "The Cabby and the Passenger." Bernard's chatter is particularly clever and Miss Myers' songs are introduced in a refreshing manner in this pleasing sketch.

THE NEW GRAND BILL.

An European novelty is introduced by the Goyt Trio. Their work in gymnastics and feats of daring stamps them as artists in their line.

Three dainty maids are the Misses Long, Chapron and Green. Beautiful costumes and excellent voices form a combination that makes them popular.

The Costa Troupe of aerialists consists of three beautiful young women and a man who perform marvelous and thrilling stunts on the trapeze and flying rings.

The photoplay feature, "The Snow Burner" tells a thrilling story of the north woods and lumber camps. Richard C. Travers, Lillian Drew and E. H. Calevert are featured. "The Borrowed Necklace," a drama; "The Parkmooners," a comedy, and an Edison educational film, "Protecting Big Game," completes an enjoyable entertainment.

VALLI VALLI AT THE REX.

The dainty Valli Valli is appearing today and tomorrow at the Rex in "The High Road." Valli Valli is the very spirit of youth and piquant beauty, and has a personality that was made for acting.

The first great success in "The High Road" was attained by Mrs. Fiske for whom the play was written. Those who have seen Valli Valli in the production pronounce her superior, not because she is a better actress, but because her youth, fire and sympathetic interpretation, seem to fit her better to the part.

Valli Valli is supported by a cast of artists.

NORTH DAKOTA IS NOW QUITE MOIST

Last Rains Have Given Flickertail State Very Thorough Soaking.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota grain fields have a sufficient supply of moisture to carry them for another month without any additional rainfall.

The ground is now thoroughly soaked, the Saturday rain being general over a very wide section. Reports west as far as Stanley, Minot, Rotham, and north to the Canadian boundary line, all show a very heavy fall of rain, while even from the Canadian Northwest the same kind of a rain seems to have fallen.

Rained Over 24 Hours.

The North Dakota rain commenced about 1 o'clock Saturday morning, and it was not till 4 o'clock Sunday morning that it ceased.

Roads, however, have not been badly affected by the rainfall, being in good shape for travel, as they were hard and well packed before the rain. That fact will facilitate the early resumption of corn and potato planting operations.

RANGE TOWNS HAVE WINTER APPEARANCE

The ranges and surrounding country bear the appearance of mid-winter, according to Victor L. Power, mayor of Hibbing, who came down from the range early today.

"There is several inches of snow at Hibbing, and out in the country the snow is even more plentiful," said he.

"Coming down on the train today the scene was almost a typical winter one. It was actually hard to believe that we are well advanced in the month of May. We opened our baseball season up there on the range several days ago. We have temporarily suspended it. When summer rolls around we are going to open up another season."

EXPECTS BUSY SEASON ON RANGE

David Graham, a well known contractor of Hibbing, who is registered today at the St. Louis, says all indications point to a busy mining season on the iron ranges. Talk of pessimism and a light shipping season is not credited by Mr. Graham. "The Sellers mine is being stripped," said Mr. Graham, "and other mines are being prepared for a busy year. Right now it looks as if the ore shipments will be heavier than expected a few weeks ago.

"Duluth is one of the busiest cities in the Northwest, as far as building operations are concerned. There is more building going on here than at any other point. I don't understand why they talk hard times around here. It is time the chronic calamity howlers laid off. With the activity in the building line here and the mining operations on the ranges, there is little basis for all the talk of the hard times in this part of the state."

WARREN TO ENTERTAIN W. C. T. U. MEETING

Warren, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Fourteenth District Womans' Christian Temperance union will be held here May 20 and 21. Warren members of the organization are making preparations for entertaining about 100 delegates as well as a large number of prominent state workers who will be present. An excellent program has been prepared for the occasion.

THE LAW OR THE SUBMARINE?

It is possible that the issue raised by the sinking of the Lusitania is graver and more far-reaching than some have yet realized. While hoping for the most favorable outcome possible, it is the part of wisdom to be prepared for whatever outcome fate may bring.

The law of civilized warfare forbids the sinking of the merchant and passenger ships of belligerents unless passengers and crews are first removed.

In the making of that law, which is a law in the interests of humanity and civilization, Germany participated, and Germany has acquiesced in its provisions.

The submarine brings a situation new in the annals of warfare. The submarine, used against the commerce of a belligerent, cannot always—or often—comply with that law.

What then?

It is law and civilization against the submarine and a "military necessity" that knows no mercy.

Which shall prevail?

President Wilson, speaking accurately the thought of the American people, demands that the law shall prevail, as it has prevailed in the past. The meaning of this demand is that submarines shall be used only against armed craft. Clearly, if the law is to stand, they can only be used in that manner.

Germany, hemmed in by a successful British blockade, which she characterizes as an attempt to starve her women and children, thought to retaliate by a submarine attack on British commerce. Her navy impotently bottled up, her intention was—perhaps still is—so to terrorize shipping as to blockade the British Isles. Though her government felt it necessary to tell its people that the Lusitania was armed when it was not armed, Germany seems to have no compunctions about the course she had chosen. So far as neutral shipping is concerned, she has withdrawn her earlier threats, and now declares that she will not molest it, and that if by accident neutral vessels are harmed, she will accept full responsibility therefor and will make prompt and full reparation.

Yet compliance with the American demand would stop the German submarine campaign, upon which desperate resort Germany manifestly has placed high dependence.

Germany will not readily agree to abandon its submarine campaign against the commerce of its enemies. Its pride in it has been manifestly too great to expect that she will eagerly forego it.

The American people will not submit to haggling over the national honor and the national self-respect. They are behind the president to a man.

The situation has unmistakable possibilities of delicacy. It is, so far as the United States is concerned, in wise and safe care. The people are calm, unafraid, hopeful for the best but ready for the worst.

It's an even bet that most of THE colonel's peevishness over the sinking of the Lusitania is due to the fact that it interrupted the Syracuse limelight.

A WAR OF ATTRITION.

Apparently it is by attrition or abrasion—a long, painful process of wearing away—that the present war is to achieve its end.

All hope of any great coup seems to have been abandoned. The bitter contest has settled down to a test of endurance. The side that can stand it longest will win. The side that is first forced to give in will lose.

The opening of the Dardanelles is about the only possibility in sight that in itself might have momentous consequences. It is the key to the East—the coveted gateway to the Orient—the outlet for a mighty commerce. In Turkey's hands, even under Germany's leadership, it is merely a barred gate. In the hands of the allies it would become an open road. Its control would strengthen Germany's enemies mightily. Yet even the dislodging of the Turk and the Teuton from control of the Dardanelles would not necessarily end the war, though it would give the allies a powerful leverage which Germany, through Turkey, now holds.

The strategy of swift master strokes, aiming at quick decision, hardly outlasted the first two months of the war. Germany, banking on Belgian complacency, British home dissension and Russian internal discontent, intended to dash to and capture Paris, establish herself on the North sea, intimidate England, and then to propel herself upon unprepared Russia. Had this plan succeeded the war might possibly have been over long ago. It did not succeed.

Germany, delayed by brave little Belgium, got close to Paris and then had to return. Since then two mighty battle lines, in the west from Switzerland to Flanders, in the east from the Baltic to the Carpathians, have stood well defined for months, with, on the whole, relatively little significant change. Here and there the line has been pushed one way or another—a hundred yards, a half mile or even a score of miles—by valorous dashes against temporarily inadequate defenses. Yet few of these shifts in the line have had much bearing on the final result.

Broadly, these titanic forces have been well matched—more or less equal in courage, endurance, tenacity and equipment, often making up in one what they lacked in others. The fight, if it stopped today, would be a drawn battle.

A special cable to the Chicago News from its London correspondent the other day pictured the situation thus: "Now, as at the beginning of the war, no particular set of trenches, town, farm or village is regarded as vital for the allied armies. The object of the allied armies for the present is to keep their lines intact while making the wastage of German troops as heavy as possible. Precisely the same is the object of the Russians in the east. Before the allies can hope to bring the war to a definite conclusion in their favor a further wastage of German troops must take place and the full plans of the allies be evolved."

Less is said nowadays than formerly about the inevitability of German defeat because of the superior numbers and resources of the allies. Despite the enormous "wastage" that has already taken place, despite the fact that Germany and Austria are virtually fighting the rest of Europe, the Germans are flinging themselves against their enemies with unabated vigor and apparently in unabated numbers and with undiminished supplies.

World opinion doubtless still is that in the end the allies will win. There is scarcely any opening for a belief that anybody will win soon. A war of attrition is a slow process. Ten months of it has hardly made a beginning. Unless somewhere a mighty stroke is unexpectedly made, the end of the war is far distant.

That Goliath incident may be considered as another proof of history's repetitive character.

COMPLETELY JUSTIFIED.

Victoriano Huerta's visit to this country is not to be classed as useless, though the American people will hardly take without salt his explanations in extenuation of the various outbreaks in Mexico. His efforts to bolster up his own actions by historical precedents somehow lack conviction, at least to American minds.

But in one point Huerta has made his visit to us worth while, and that is by his statement of what would happen if the jingoists' demands had been complied with and we had actually tried to intervene in Mexico by force of arms. His opinion on that point is complete justification of the policy of watchful waiting as contrasted with that of armed intervention. Speaking to a New York Times representative, Gen. Huerta said:

> Their conquest (that of the Mexican people) would not require a little army of fifty thousand men, nor a big army of hundreds of thousands of men, but, I solemnly believe, an enormous army, which, before the victory was won, would have included millions of men. It is my absolute belief, indeed, that really and permanently successful intervention in Mexico by any foreign power is impossible without what would amount to the annihilation of the Mexican people. * * * As a soldier I know that an effort by an invading army to go from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, a distance of four hundred kilometers, would cost any invading army not a few soldiers, but fifty thousand soldiers. No one who has not seen that country can have any idea of what an advantage the defending force would have in it against any invading force.

The United States has never at any time been ready to send millions of men to Mexico, either at one time or in detachments. There has not been any event that would have justified even starting on such an undertaking. And yet there are people in this country who would have forced us into just that sort of thing, and the chances are that they would have succeeded had it not been that we had an exceptionally cool and clear-headed man at the helm of our ship of state.

Huerta may not be especially well posted on ethics or philosophy or some similar matters, but he knows the Mexican people "like a book," and his judgment of them can be taken as final. It is reassuring to find his opinion so complete a justification of our own national policy.

It didn't really need this to make war unpopular, but it does help.

ASK A HARD ONE.

Is the fact that the legislature failed and refused to enact into law a single one of Governor Hammond's recommendations a reflection on the legislature or the chief executive?—F. Day in Fairmont Sentinel.

That's a ridiculously easy question, and one nobody would raise who wasn't hard pressed for a means of either condoning the legislature or insinuating something against the governor.

If the statement is true, nobody who is acquainted with the "late unlamented" legislature will need two guesses as to whom the fact reflects upon.

The legislature, which was a reflection upon itself, didn't enact much of anything into law except one or two things it couldn't get out of and a mass of minor stuff none of which is so important as the things that were left undone.

Anyhow it's pretty hard to torpedo the rain check.

Praise and Prayer

Buffalo Enquirer: "Thank God for Wilson!"

That was the top-liner on the front cover of the Democratic campaign campaign book in 1914.

It was a party shibboleth then. It is a national paean now.

Day by day it becomes plainer that this country should offer daily thanks for the guidance that gave it Wilson and preserved it from Roosevelt. Yesterday's contribution was the Roosevelt interview at Syracuse.

Thank God for Wilson! God save us from Roosevelt!

They Didn't Like His First Name.

Collier's: Lafe Young has been arrested by the Austrians as a spy. That episode will stick in our minds as the most serious indictment of Teutonic intelligence that we know. Deceit or any kind of dissimulation is about the last thing Lafayette Young is capable of. If the Germans really want to hold on to this Iowa senator and make some use of him, let them lock him up in a comfortable museum as the real thing in the line of that much sought and not often seen article—the typical American. Senator Young was born of the race of pioneer farmers who followed the frontier from Western Pennsylvania through Indiana and on to the outer edge of the prairie. When he was 15 years old he left his home in Southwestern Iowa to go to the war. They turned him down because of his youth, and so he went to sticking type as a printer's devil on the local paper. For fifty years now, as typesetter and editor, he has been at it, and all that half century he has been absorbing the cultivation that passed beneath his fingers and increasing his native store of shrewdness, insight, good humor, kindliness, and all the other qualities which make up the best kind of American. Incidentally, he has been winning the good opinion and affection of his neighbors. He is a standpatter and does not walk the path in politics that we do; if more of the reformers had his humanity and understanding, reform would get along faster than it does. We should like to live in a world made up of Lafe Youngs. In his later days he lets his son and the other boys run his paper while he refreshes his mind and gets well-earned recreation traveling abroad reporting wars or anything else that he comes in contact with. There are two fine types of the older American generation to whom our literature has not even yet done justice—the country judge and the country editor. And Senator Young is still a sublimated country editor, even if he does own the Des Moines "Capital" and dine with prime ministers. If we should ever happen to become president of a university, we would introduce two or three novel features. One of them would be to hire Lafe Young just to sit around the campus in the sun, letting the young men soak in common sense, benevolence, and good morals from him.

Our American Press.

Collier's: President Wilson was especially happy in his address last month before the newspaper editors and publishers. His description of what newspaper correspondence is when conscientiously conducted stands all the tests of truth and pungency. "You deal," he told the publishers, "in the raw material of opinion, and if my convictions have any validity, opinion ultimately governs the world." In view of several biased attacks upon the Associated Press in the last few years, and particularly in view of the German attacks upon American newspapers generally since the great war began, the president's view has its vivid interest. Notable, too, is the account of this tremendous engine of public instruction given by Melville E. Stone, manager of the Associated Press. Its function, he said, was to furnish its members a service of world news, untainted and without bias; its organization was owned and controlled by its members and by them alone. "So we are here," he added, "Democrats and Republicans, Protestants, Catholics and Jews, conservatives and radicals, wets and drys—differing on every subject on which men differ, but all at one in demanding that, so far as is humanly possible, no trace of partisanship and no hint of propaganda shall be found in our news reports." It would be rash to say that any news organization has ever lived up to the fullness of this great ideal. But the ideal itself is much, and explains a very great part of American faith in democracy and education. Germany and the German propagandists, so able in arranging the facts and in drilling public opinion into a goose-step uniformity, have misunderstood the American press; and in calmness and charity we think that this is because Germany is incapable of entertaining the ideal of a free press in a free land.

Advice With Motive.

Chicago Herald: "I am much bothered," he said; "I can marry a wealthy widow whom I don't love, or a poor girl that I do love intensely. What shall I do?"

"Listen to your heart," advised his companion, "and marry the one you love."

"You are right, my friend, I shall marry the girl."

"Then you can give me the widow's address?"

Saved.

Philadelphia Ledger: "I'll have to arrest you," said the policeman.

The man who was having trouble with his wife threw both arms around the officer and exclaimed:

"This isn't any arrest. This is a rescue."

Taking Note of Teddy

What the Newspapers Say of His Characteristic Outbursts.

No Soldier-Statesmen.

New York Times: Mr. Roosevelt was of the opinion that the time for thought was past and that the time for action had arrived. "Within twenty-four hours" he would stop commerce with Germany and encourage commerce with the allies. These are characteristic views, the thought of a man of action, accustomed to prompt decisions, and sometimes with good results. They find a responsive chord in the minds of many like him. The nation could not do without this class of citizen. Armies could not be raised or battles fought without them. But seldom, if ever, are the leaders of charges chosen for their wisdom in council. There have been generals who were statesmen, as excellent in peace as in war, but there is not now living in any land the man who has demonstrated both qualities of leadership.

No Jingo Talk.

Los Angeles Times: No jingo talk is needed just now. The situation calls for sober consideration and cautious expression. Such inflammatory sentiments as those given to the press by Congressman Gardiner and Theodore Roosevelt only tend to make more difficult an exceedingly difficult dilemma for the president. It would be better for all agitators to cease from agitating and let the constitutional authorities work out a solution of the problem that is so dangerously loaded.

Food for Thought.

Atlanta Constitution: Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft were once firm and fast political and personal friends. Their views, their attitudes, in connection with this incident that has shocked the world, and in which we are so intimately involved, cannot but attract national interest. There is substantial food for thought in the comparison.

Used Wrong Word.

Kansas City Journal: "What a pity," says the New York Herald, "that Theodore Roosevelt is not president of the United States today!" With "blessing" substituted for "pity," the Herald expresses the devout sentiment of the American people.

Reckless Idiocy.

Baltimore Sun: The reckless idiocy of the great outsider is undoubtedly making him a more prominent figure, but unfortunately "prominent" principally, we think, as a public enemy. The man who ties the hands or places obstacles in the way of Woodrow Wilson at this critical juncture in order to cater to the plaudits of the unthinking mob is guilty of the basest sort of treachery to the American people.

Woodrow Wilson has not only to face the problem that concerns America's future, but should, with a vision not vouchsafed to ordinary men, search out the ultimate welfare of the entire world. Even Mr. Roosevelt, with all his lack of balance, must admit that this is no small problem for a finite mind to master, and yet his principal purpose in life at present seems to be to render Woodrow Wilson's task more difficult. Not content with the astonishing exhibition of vicious meddling which he has given within the past three days, he goes himself one better by comparing the president with Pontius Pilate, "the arch-typical neutral of all time."

Sense of Responsibility.

Indianapolis News: Having been a president with a sense of responsibility himself, Mr. Taft can realize what a tough job is on hand now, and is frank to say so.

Playing Second Fiddle.

Springfield Republican: The country is not so vitally interested in what Col. Roosevelt would do as in what President Wilson will do. It will be discovered wherever business men meet that they rejoice in such assurance as has come from the White House that the United States is not to be hurried into war.

Not Get Very Far.

Des Moines Capital: Theodore Roosevelt's criticism of Wilson's foreign policy will not get very far in this country just at present, especially that part of the ex-president's remarks which refer to Wilson's foreign policy as similar to China's.

Stamp of Demagogy.

Nashville Banner: The colonel has always understood well the art of publicity, and of securing for himself first-page space in the newspapers. That is plainly what he is after in this instance. He has no responsibility for the country's welfare, or at least feels none. He has nothing to lose, and he has seized the opportunity to criticize President Wilson and to put himself in contrast with the present occupant of the executive office. It is so plain that he is playing for popular favor with the hope of reviving his decadent political fortunes, as to give his utterances the stamp of demagogy and make what he says absolutely disgusting to sensible people.

"Political Maverick."

Augusta, Ga., Chronicle: And yet, the man whose ill-natured and reckless utterances appear above was, at one time, considered a "great" man by hundreds of thousands of his fellow American citizens; by many of them held to be "the greatest living American."

But, in reality, how small and unsound and unsafe he now seems—in the face of a great crisis—as compared with the thoughtful, cultured, patriotic but patient statesman who today guides this nation's course through the most turbulent blood-red waters on which it has been tossed since the time of Lincoln.

And how those few short, single sentences, from that truly great and timely speech delivered by President Wilson in Philadelphia, seem to burn into the very flesh of Theodore Roosevelt and leave the brands of "professional malcontent" and "political maverick" upon him.

Yea, verily, the American people may well thank the Great Jehovah, who, despite all, has not hidden His face from us, that, at a time like this, Woodrow Wilson is in Washington, rather than Roosevelt the Reckless.

T. Roosevelt, Oracle.

St. Louis Republic: The impudence of Theodore Roosevelt, in the present crisis, would be highly exasperating if it were not funny. Serious treatment would involve a scathing indictment of Mr. Roosevelt for violating every rule of ex-presidential sense and courtesy. It is easier, and more appropriate, to treat him as a chartered scold, and let the unconscious humor of his pronouncement lighten for an instant a somber situation.

Teddy knows not only exactly what ought to have been done, but the precise hour in which it ought to have come to pass. "Within twenty-four hours" our commerce with Germany should have been suspended, etc., etc. Roosevelt is a man incapable of learning anything from experience. His experience as an executive should have taught him the priceless value to the nation of united support of the president in an emergency. Cruel as the fact is, there is no way in which we can oust the president we have and put Roosevelt, with all his wisdom in emergencies—so refulgently illustrated when two gentlemen once called on him before breakfast to tell him the country would go into panic if he did not let the Steel trust swallow Tennessee Coal and Iron—into his place.

We must continue to get on with Woodrow Wilson. So Teddy ought to have encouraged us to trust him, instead of revealing the fact that the only way to save the country was to follow a program the time for which had everlastingly gone by when the oracle spoke. It will be observed that we do not say that the Colonel should have kept still. We recognize the fact that the day of miracles is past. Teddy will keep still, in an hour when silence is wisdom, "when the cows roost and the chickens give milk"—as the French peasants say.

Frank in His Own Defense

Chicago Tribune: Whenever Leo M. Frank speaks in his own defense the impression that he is about to be the victim of a miscarriage of justice is strengthened. This effect might be obtained by shrewdness, but it has the appearance of being the effect made by innocence. His pleas are dignified, concise, and cogent. He does not whimper, and although he asks that he be spared, he does not beg.

A man subjected as he has been to ordeal might be raised above and out of himself by the experience and given a clearness of perception and force of expression which he would have lacked if his life had been undisturbed by such a shock.

Most people who have a conviction with regard to this case undoubtedly have arrived at it emotionally, but the facts we know all question Frank's guilt. What gives so many uneasy people the feeling that a tragic injustice is about to be done was set forth by the condemned man himself yesterday in Atlanta, when he was resentenced to be hanged, and spoke in court before having sentence passed upon him:

"The legal arena is closed to me. The bar is placed forever against further legal process. Yet the issue of guilt or innocence has been before but one court, that in which the jury sat. All subsequent appeals were made upon alleged legal and judicial errors, not upon the facts or the evidence. Since the jury heard the case no court of inquiry or review has sifted the evidence. No decision of any appeals court undertook to predicate an opinion on the record of the testimony and evidence. The doubt of the trial judge as to my guilt still remains."

This was the sense of the United States supreme court justices who dissented from the majority opinion in the case and it is what makes so many Americans apprehensive. Frank was tried once and convicted upon evidence which seemed insufficient, plainly if not terribly insufficient. That, in spite of appeals, became final. There has been no opportunity to weigh the evidence again. All subsequent questions have been upon the methods and not the evidence.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

"Just where you stand in the conflict
There is your place!
Just where you think you are useless,
Hide not your face!
God placed you there for a purpose,
What e'er it be;
Think you He has chosen you for it,
Work loyally."

"It shall be given you in that same hour."—Matthew x, 16-28.

And so I am not to worry about the coming crisis! "God never is before His time, and never is behind! When the hour is come, I shall find that the great Host hath made "all things ready."

When the crisis comes He will tell me how to rest. It is a great matter to know just how to rest—how to be quiet when "all without tumultuous seems." We irritate and excite our souls about the coming emergency, and we approach it with worn and feverish spirits, and so mar our Master's purpose and work.

When the crisis comes He will tell me what to do. The orders are not given until the appointed day. Why should I fume and fret and worry as to what the sealed envelope contains? "It is enough that He knows all," and when the hour strikes the secrets shall be revealed.

And when the crisis comes He will tell men what to say. I need not begin to prepare my retorts and my responses. What shall I say when death comes to me or to my loved one? Never mind, He will tell thee. And what when sorrow or persecution comes? Never mind, He will tell thee.—From "J. H. Jowett."

Dayton, Ohio.

The Sharpshooter.

I think I nearly had you, then, old chap!
That breeze is blowing up, though, quite a lot—
I'd better give the wind-gauge sight a tap
And hold her down a trifle, my next shot.

You're surely not an easy one to scare—
Oh, quite at home the way you stroll around,
As Comrade Jacques would say, "Si debonnaire."
And yet, you know, you're booked for underground!

I judge that, when you lived beyond the Rhine,
You were a decent man, about like me,
And had a cheerful little home, like mine,
Until the kaiser toyed with destiny.

No doubt you have a missis waiting there—
It's very like you have some kiddies, too,
All pink and white, with sunny flaxen hair
And big blue eyes, a-watching out for you.

'Tis queer, perhaps, that I should feel this way
To you, a foe, I really ought to hate,
But then, I never saw you till today,
And, given luck, tomorrow'll be too late.

I'll hold my breath to aid a steady hand,
I'll press the trigger lightly, softly—so!
What! missed again? Still firm and straight you stand,
Ah, now you wheel and stagger—there you go!

Another Suspicious Proceeding.

Rochester Herald: A Japanese engineer has been here looking over our fire-alarm system. Now what designs can Japan have on our fire-alarm system?

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

Frank Has Grown Older.

Little Falls Transcript: Here, in the notice of the appointment by Governor Hammond of Frank G. Scribner of Duluth as surveyor general of logs and lumber at the Head of the Lakes, succeeding William A. Kennedy, is afforded another surprise for us. Mr. Scribner was, in our youth, one of the gay and motley throug whose antics kept the staid and quite proper little village of River Falls, Wis., from falling into a dull and profound stupor. A cut of him as it appears in The Duluth Herald of last night shows not the face of the young man which memory calls up to our mind, but that of a man with a gray mustache, head bald on top (as is the masculine custom) and a face settled and determined.

Bouquet for the D. C. C.

Gonvick Banner: There is perhaps not another city in the United States with a Commercial club that compares with the one that blesses Duluth. This club has an immense membership and each member is a persistent worker for a greater and better Duluth. It is an extremely aggressive organization and generally gets what it goes after. Duluth's Commercial club is certainly filling its part. Its achievements are many and its efforts have proved beneficial to the city it represents and to St. Louis county as well. The splendid work of this band of boosters has caused state-wide attention. This commercial club has been exceedingly active since its organization and without it Duluth could never have made her remarkable stride. It is not our sole purpose to herein boost Duluth, nor its Commercial club, but to cite facts that furnish a good example of the asset such a body is to a city, town or village.

Other Places Had More Cases.

Wabasha Herald: A carpenter in Duluth was overcome by the heat recently. In view of the Zenith City's "coolest place in the summer" advertising, it does look as if "the best laid plans of mice and men gang aft agiee."

But He's Far From It.

St. Cloud Times: Judge Ensign of Duluth, at the age of 82, has just commenced his twenty-seventh year on the bench. According to Postmaster General Burleson, Judge Ensign is obsolete and should retire into obscurity.

Seems So Sometimes.

Sandstone Courier: In Duluth, they don't seem to have many private autos. They're nearly all "jitneys."

Why, You Sassy Old Thing!

Anoka County Union: A division of St. Louis county would be a good thing for the state and thereby get rid of the bad influence of Duluth.

How the Language Grows.

Cambridge North Star: Jitney buses are said to be cutting heavily into the revenues of the Duluth street railway. Several Western companies have been jitney busted.

Boys, Girls and Police.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: A Duluth preacher condemns the practice of sending young boys to jail for trivial offenses. We hold with the preacher, and add young girls to the list.

No boy is a criminal at heart—he is merely full of vigorous young life, and thoughtless, and in the fullness of his boyhood he does many things that are accepted as crimes by our modern police system. He is ruthlessly slapped into jail and started on a criminal career, no matter how good may be his intentions.

No boy or girl can be what the police call "good" with the hand of society raised against them—and that is the present method of directing the young.

The young girl, too, is given a shove downward by the savage city police system, and with immense satisfaction, apparently—and the city newspapers help the evil crusade along by making "news" stories of the unfortunate escapades of youth.

A helping hand, a word of good cheer and encouragement, will do more toward saving these youngsters than all the courts on earth—give the youngster to understand that he is somebody and that we are really interested in him, as we should be.

We hope the Duluth preacher and others will drive their arguments into the minds of the people, who are the ones really to blame, as they are responsible for the courts and the police.

What're They?

Mankato Free Press: Another blow at our "personal liberties." The Duluth city council will adopt an ordinance forbidding the giving away of "eye-openers" in the saloons of that city. But there is nothing to prohibit the saloon keepers from handing out "night caps" to their patrons.

A Growing Reputation.

St. Cloud Times: The Duluth News Tribune "crawfishes" on its own proposition as to the Herald's circulation, which was explained in these columns on the 5th inst. Here is the Tribune's backdown:

So far as we are concerned this ends the controversy unless The Herald can produce the proofs and show that these have not been doctored with to suit its purposes.

The above is not only a backdown, but it is a direct reflection upon the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Essential Goodness

Kansas City Star: Such acts of heroism as those chronicled in the sinking of the Lusitania make men proud of the human race. In small things men may be petty and mean and selfish. But when the supreme sacrifice of life itself is required there are few men who hesitate.

On such occasions it is fair to suppose that the real individual acts. The undesirable qualities which he may have acquired, which he may have allowed to obscure the actual self, all fade out, and the essential human nature shines through—that human nature which has blindly urged mankind up from savagery to civilization.

The readiness for self sacrifice that appears in such crisis is an earnest of that future progress which is only faintly discerned today.

Harvard Patriotic English.

New York World: Under the caption "Keep Your Shirt On," the Harvard Crimson, an undergraduate publication, counsels the students against "too hasty and too vigorous action" in preparing for war. The advice is good, but better still is the revelation that college English has not become mollycoddled or effeminized.

A Helpful Suggestion.

Baltimore American: Old Millionaire—"My wife is droopy and gloomy all the time. I wish I could find a way to change her."

Cynic—"There's only one way for a rich, old husband to do that."

Old Millionaire—"What's the way?"

Cynic—"Turn his sad, young wife into a merry widow."

Lawrence Barrett's Romeo.

Strand Magazine: Irving contributed to the gaiety of the supper a story about Lawrence Barrett. One night Barrett and his old friend, Edwin Booth, met at their club in New York. Barrett, after brief greeting, bustled towards the door with every appearance of remembering a pressing engagement.

"Halloa! Where are you off to?" Booth asked.

"To a rehearsal," said Barrett.

"What's the play?"

Barrett said it was "Romeo and Juliet."

"And what part do you take?" Booth asked, in sudden access of interest.

"There is only one part for me in the play," Barrett said, drawing himself up in lofty indignation.

"Oh, ah, yes," said Booth. "I know—the Nurse."

The angered tragedian strode forth in haughty silence, and did not speak to Booth for two days.

An Easy Creditor.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer (though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MISSES THE POEMS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Being a constant reader of the Open Court, I miss the songs and poems, not having seen any now for some time.

I am going to ask once more for "The Baggage Coach Ahead" and "The Two Orphans." A part of "The Two Orphans" is as follows:

"We never will forget those two orphans,
Bad luck seems to be on their way,
It seems they were brought to our city,
The lives of our dear friends to take."

Thanking you in advance, I am

THANK YOU, SIR.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please accept my compliments on your editorial on page 8 of yesterday's issue "Safety First."

This is the most sensible article I have seen for some time in any paper.

Very truly yours,

WHAT SOCIALISM MEANS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

1. The collective ownership of the means of producing and distributing wealth, such as lands, mines, factories, railroads, mail, express, telegraph and telephone service, light, water and heat plants, stores, etc; so that private monopoly, graft and extortion will be impossible, and rent, interest and profit will be abolished, and all may have the full product of their labor.

2. Private ownership of wealth, such as a home, vehicles, furniture, books, pictures, etc., according to the value of one's labor. Socialism means the public ownership of capital, the private ownership of wealth, the public ownership of opportunity, the private ownership of the product of one's labor, the public ownership of the means of life, the private ownership of life itself.

3. Direct legislation through the initiative, referendum and imperative recall, so that the peoples themselves may rule promptly as they please in spite of councils, legislatures, congresses or courts.

4. A new system of money issued by the government alone and limited so that it will be a true medium of exchange only, not a medium of exploitation as now.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling of or concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Herald Reader, Walker, Minn.—I would like to know if Pearl White, the motion picture actress, is married, and if so, to whom. Also Crane Wilber.—Mr. Furniss dug out some records to show that Miss White is not married. Crane Wilber is.

John Schaefer, Ely—I see by The Herald of May 11 that farm hands are badly needed in some parts of the state. Can't you tell me something more definite?

I know of several young men who would be glad to take jobs at $30 or $40 per month and board, who can pay their fare out, and would be glad to do so if they were reasonably certain of getting jobs.

Reports for farm help so often turn out to be misleading that young fellows who mean well are somewhat afraid to follow up those reports. I know one young fellow who is 23 years old who wants to learn something about farming. He has never done much farm work, but he is used to hard work and is strong and willing. I could send out several like him, but they don't feel like going on a wild-goose chase without some reasonable assurance that they will find jobs open. —You doubtless refer to the reports published by the commissioner of immigration in The Herald of May 12. Go through those reports from different counties, pick out the most promising, write a letter to the crop reporter signing it, and enclose that in a letter to Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration at St. Paul, asking him to forward it.

What the Child Is Learning

The Fifth Grade.

In later years the fifth grader of today may remember this class as the one in which he memorized Lincoln's Gettysburg speech. It marks the beginning of a new division of the grades.

Readin' again plays an important part, and is used extensively to enable pupils to recognize at sight words with the sounds of which he is familiar. With the aid of a dictionary, children in this grade are expected to read more difficult stories and understand what they are reading. "Swiss Family Robinson" and "The King of the Golden River" are characteristic stories.

Units, integers, improper fractions and mixed numbers are introduced to pupils early in the fifth year, after the fourth grade work has been reviewed. Decimals and compound numbers also come in for a large share of attention in the 'rithmetic class.

In this grade the language class shows signs of developing into a grammar class, with rules for the plurals, singular and plural possessives, and other simpler forms being studied. Subjects and predicates and the component parts of a sentence are explained by the instructor. Composition writing in generous applications accompanies the study of sentence and word construction.

Before the end of the fifth year the child should know about verbs, transitive and intransitive; prepositions, conjunctions, interjections and other less terrifying parts of speech.

In the geography class the study of the United States is completed for the time being, while Alaska, Hawaii, Sandwich Islands, or the Philippines are given a week. After this, four weeks are alloted for a detailed study of West Indies, Central America and Mexico. South America also is given considerable attention.

The aim of the history class is "to give punils a general knowledge of the geographical development of the Western continent." After a review of the world in the fifteenth century, the work leads through a detailed study of the periods of exploration, settlement, and the revolution. Your child should know about Henry Hudson, Americus Vespucius, Ponce de Leon, Balboa and Cortez, as well as about Roger Williams, William Penn, Joliet and La Salle.

With the fifth grade work also comes advanced lessons in physiology, which teach the child about the skin, the glands, the blood and the heart.

Mr. Gardener, Now Is the Time to ——

Mr. Gardener now is the time to watch for a sunny day and do a stroke of business in your garden.

The recent rains and nor'easters have made it impossible to do much and have kept garden work back.

As soon as the first warm day comes, it is the time to get your plants out of the cold frame into the ground. Take a chance on the frosts. It is not likely that they will be serious after the one last night.

Gladiolus bulbs may be planted within a week or ten days.

Some enterprising homecrofters have already set out their tomato plants. While this may have been a bit premature, it is unlikely that the frosts will damage the plants from now on. Tomato plants should be set out as soon as the ground warms up.

Cabbage and cauliflower may be set out at any time now.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Inflammation of Eyes of Newborn

It has been estimated that about one-fourth of the blind in state institutions are blind as a result of an easily preventable inflammation of the eyes which appears shortly after birth.

Every newborn baby should have the eyes carefully washed out by the nurse or doctor immediately after birth. This may be done with any simple, non-irritating antiseptic, like boric acid solution. In some states it is legally prescribed that an antiseptic shall be dropped into the eyes, and the one most commonly advised is a 1 per cent solution of silver nitrate, a drop in each eye. This is an almost certain preventive of the serious eye inflammation known as ophthalmia neonatorum, the infectious inflammation which has terminated in partial or complete blindness in so many cases.

Blindness From Sore Eyes.

Any tendency toward inflammation in the eyes of very young infants is serious and should have the immediate attention of a competent physician or eye specialist. While the baby may have a simple conjunctivitis or inflammation of the lids which will respond promptly to mild remedies like boric acid solution, there is too frequently the chance that this inflammation may prove of specific, infectious nature and go on to a deplorable destruction of the sight.

Preventable blindness is a terrible thought. Parents cannot be too particular to see that the doctor or nurse does his or her duty in performing the trifling maneuver. It takes but a moment, cannot possibly do any harm, and gives almost perfect assurance of freedom from infection.

Progressive health boards generally supply the drops ready to use, since the outfit costs a very small sum and unquestionably saves the community a great deal of money by preventing blindness.

In cleansing a baby's eyes use soft pledgets of cotton or muslin wet with boric acid solution, and wipe away the secretions toward the outer corners. Never put tea leaves, milk, flaxseed or anything of that character in or on a baby's eyes. So delicate a structure requires the gentlest care. Never allow very bright sunlight or artificial light to fall directly upon a baby's eyes.

Questions and Answers.

Flat Foot: Is there any cure for flat foot? I have it, and I wear steel arch supports, but I suffer with pain in hips, knees, back and calves most of the time.

REPLY.

A steel arch will never cure. No form of support alone will cure. If your doctor is not in a position to treat you, he might refer you to a good orthopedic surgeon. Beware of nondescript "foot specialists" and arch-fiends in general.

Wanted, Information: Can a baby afflicted with littles from childbirth be cured? inquires a reader.

REPLY.

This is a new one. Will some one kindly enlighten us about it?

Useless, Burdensome Knowledge: Please state in the paper what are the names of the baby's first teeth, and their order of eruption.

REPLY.

This is a detail we have never taken the trouble to learn by heart. What earthly use could it be, we wonder. We should consider it more important to know how early the baby wiggles his ears and kicks his pa.

TO FORM NEW NAVAL CORPS

Militia to Have Eight Divisions After This Year, Says Wood.

Bemidji and Lindstrom on List—No Air Corps Yet.

Minnesota will have eight divisions of the naval militia after this year, according to Adjt.-Gen. Fred B. Wood, head of the state national guard, who was a guest aboard the naval training ship Gopher Saturday and Sunday, during the first cruise of the season.

"In accordance with the bill passed at the last legislature providing for four more divisions, we expect to organize the new corps as soon as the petitioning cities qualify," he said.

Praise For Armory.

"Duluth's new armory, when completed, will be equipped as well as if not better than, any similar building in the country," declared Gen. Wood. "It will be a place where the young men can go nights and will keep them away from many temptations," he added.

Bemidji and Lindstrom, Minn., probably will be two cities in which naval divisions will be formed, as both places have petitioned to be allowed to establish corps. Representatives from these towns were guests on the Gopher with Gen. Wood and Commander Guy A. Eaton Saturday night and Sunday.

Minnesota's naval militia equals that of any state in the union, in the opinion of Gen. Wood, while the military organization was classified as being in "fairly good shape" by its commanding officer. In addition to the four naval divisions, there are three regiments, and the field artillery division includes three batteries in each of the Twin Cities.

"An aeronautical corps cannot be established at the present time," said Gen. Wood when asked about the aeroplane division planned for Duluth. "There are not sufficient funds in the naval apportionment to warrant an outlay in this direction."

Pleased With Showing.

The commanding officer expressed himself as being very well pleased with the showing of the Gopher and its crew.

Because of rough weather the Gopher, with about eighty men from the three Duluth and one Pine City divisions aboard, lay in the local harbor Saturday night. Sunday morning a series of maneuvers were executed in the harbor basin, including signal drill and other routine work.

Shortly after noon the Gopher cleared, making a trip to Knife River, where more maneuvers were executed. The return trip was finished shortly after 7 p. m. Sunday. The ship was in charge of Commander Eaton during the trip.

The next week-end cruise of the training ship is scheduled for June 5-6. Just where the vessel will go has not been determined, but Commander Eaton has planned to visit a number of nearby points, including Encampment island, the Apostle islands, Grand Marais and Port Wing during the summer.

WINONA JURIST DIES.

Winona, Minn., May 17.—Judge Arthur H. Snow, whose resignation as judge of the Third judicial district to become effective June 1, after eighteen years' service, was recently accepted by Governor Hammond, died at his home here Saturday of cancer from which he had suffered for years. As late as Wednesday he was at his office, and Friday he dictated letters at his home. Harold F. Snow of Kentwood, La., another son, Clinton, of Winona, and their mother, survive. Judge Snow held the record for length of service on this district bench, having held the judgeship more than eighteen years. Judge Lloyd Barber, also of Winona, who served from 1864 to 1871, died here barely a week ago. Judge Snow was held in the highest esteem by the bar of the district. He was born at Clinton, Mich., Sept. 20, 1841, and was admitted to the bar in New York state. He had resided in Winona since 1871 and practiced law here until he went upon the bench in 1897.

MANY GOING TO CONCLAVE

Knights Templars and Masonic Band Will Go to Minneapolis.

Will Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary of the Grand Commandery.

Duluth Knight Templars—100 strong—and thirty members of the Masonic Temple band, will leave tomorrow noon for Minneapolis where they will attend the fiftieth annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Minnesota to be held at the Mill City, May 18-19.

Nearly thirty commanderies of the state will be represented at the conclave. The local Knights Templars will march from the temple down Lake avenue to Superior street and thence west to the Soo station. The train will leave tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock and will reach Minneapolis at 5 o'clock.

Tomorrow evening, the delegation from Duluth will take part in the drill maneuvers to be executed by the visiting commanderies at the Armory in Minneapolis. At the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the grand commandery, T. W. Hugo of this city will be one of the principal speakers.

NORTH DAKOTANS SEND PETITION

Ask Governor of Georgia to Commute Leo Frank's Sentence.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition, headed by Governor Hanna and practically all the other state officers, and bearing several thousand names, together with appropriate resolutions, will be forwarded from here to the governor of Georgia, requesting him to exercise clemency and commute the death sentence of Leo Frank.

There was an enthusiastic mass meeting held here, at which some addresses were made and local people given an opportunity to sign the petition.

CHINESE UNITED, SAYS CHIN ONG

Does Not Believe There Will Be War With Japan.

The Chinese are united to a man and would expend their last dollar to defend their country in case of a war with Japan, declares Chin D. Ong, a prominent member of the Chinese colony of Duluth and Superior.

"Great credit is due to representatives of the United States," he declared, "for their efforts so far in helping us to avoid a conflict. Personally I don't believe there will be a war between the two nations, but if there is, China may be depended on to give a good account of herself."

China is strongly opposed to war he says and Japan's withdrawal of her ultimatum, requiring compliance with her demands in forty-eight hours, is regarded as a favorable peace omen. Whether China's counter demands will be granted is another question, he declares.

Mr. Ong referred to a Tokio dispatch in "Sai Gai Yat Bo," the Chinese World, published in San Francisco, which states that the Japs have refused to restore Kiaou Chow or to pay damages since their invasion of Celestial territory.

"Most Chineso regard the possibility of war as serious, but they are undaunted," Chin said. "If Japan chooses to fight, she will find a powerful adversary. The Chinese are too independent and their love of liberty is too strong to permit subservience to Nippon."

Relief Ships Arrive.

New York, May 17.—Eight relief ships of the commission for relief in Belgium arrived at Rotterdam during last week it was announced today. They have a tonnage of 44,350 and the cargo and value approximate $4,000,000.

Swedish Steamer Seized.

Amsterdam, May 17, via London.—A telegram from Hamburg says that the Swedish steamer Bjorn, bound for London with a cargo of ore and food supplies, has been seized and taken to Hamburg.

More Bodies Brought In.

Queenstown, May 17.—The bodies of three men, three women, two small boys and one child a year old, all victims of the Lusitania disaster, were brought to Queenstown yesterday by the tug Flying Fox which was storm bound all day Saturday. Four bodies were identified.

CROOKSTON REPORTS FROST; SMALL FRUIT DAMAGED.

Crookston, Minn., May 17.—A heavy frost last night followed by snow flurries this morning, is interfering with corn planting. This is the latest snow in a number of years. No damage was done except to small fruit in this section.

McDONALD AT HANCOCK.

Immigration Bureau Chief Investigates Desertion Case.

Hancock, Mich., May 17.—Brown McDonald, chief of the immigration bureau in Duluth has been investigating a case concerning a Mrs. Leona Brunette of Hancock. Pending the inquiry, the woman will be held in custody in the juvenile court because the Federal immigration laws specify that a woman or child cannot be held in a county jail.

It is alleged the Brunette woman deserted her husband two years ago and moved to Canada, where she resided until recently. At the request of her husband, she returned, but in crossing the border into the United States, it is charged, she misinformed her examiners. It is on this charge that the woman is held.

AMERICAN AMMUNITION BEST.

German Soldier Writes From Trenches to Brother at Minot, N. D.

Minot, N. D., May 17.—That the ammunition sold the allies by the United States is a hundred times better than the ammunition made by the French or English, is the statement of Emil Katz, a German soldier in the trenches, who wrote his brother, Morris Katz, deputy revenue collector at Minot, a long letter describing conditions in the trenches.

Emil Katz has been fighting in the German trenches several weeks, and he says that the Germans are holding their lines and that in his opinion it will be impossible for the English and French to drive them out.

Arrested for Beating Man.

Odessa, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Albert King and James Armitage were arrested on a charge of brutality beating Frank Robusek. They became involved in some trouble, and the latter claims they double-teamed on him. He came out of the melee with a broken nose and jaw and with severe cuts and bruises on the head and face.

CHANCE TO REMAKE LIFE

Man Can Regain Power After Sinning, Says Dr. Hoffman.

There is hope for the man who has fallen into sin and has failed in his primary purpose; he can remake his life, rebuild his character, and become successful, according to Dr. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, who preached yesterday morning on "Remaking Life." In part he said:

"As a nation Israel illustrated what often occurs when a man, through folly and sin, loses his original purpose and fails of his primary object in life. He feels the utter futility of any effort of recovering personal power and usefulness of career. He becomes bitter, reckless, and revengeful. The discomfort of fair prospects blighted oppresses and degrades him."

God Plans Abundant.

"To all such the divinely anointed Seer comes with splendid enthusiasm. God is fertile in plan, versatile in genius and abundant in purpose. No one need despair. God is infinite in wisdom, love and resource.

"The ability and willingness of the Divine is unquestionable, so also is that of the human. The one prime condition of moral reconstruction is that of repentance and obedience. A condition neither arbitrary nor impossible.

"Reduced to its simplest terms it means a perfect determination on our part to co-operate with God.

"To make the venture of life apart from the guidance and comfort of God is to go astray, it is to fall of the holiest. No atheist has given us a message or exhibited a character worthy of the best and bravest.

Obedience Necessary.

"In our reorganization of life we must not forget the necessity for assiduous and intelligent culture of every resource. The finished technique of the artist in tone, the consummate skill of the craftsman in wood and metal, the wealth of nations and of men come from a frank recognition of this law of growth and of excellence.

"To seek moral power and spiritual conquests apart from it is to foredoom one to failure. Prayer, meditation, worship must bulk large in the experience of one who would regain usefulness in life and nobility in character."

PLATONISM AND CHRISTIANITY

Platonic Love Not Unsexed Sentimentality, But Spiritual Harmony.

"Plato and Christianity" was the subject of the sermon delivered by Rev. George R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church yesterday. He said in part:

"According to the Gospel of John, the world was made not directly by God, but by his living word, the 'logos.' 'All things were made by Him, and without Him not anything was made that was made.' That is Platonism, at least very kindred in thought. According to Plato, God did not create the world, but He sent down His spiritual energy, the soul, into the realm of material space, and through it the phenomenal world came into existence.

"Thus in Plato the world soul stands as an intermediary between spirit and matter. This explains to us the imperfection of the world and the inherent yearning after perfection, which in man becomes a conscious striving. In man we have, indeed, the world in a small compass, as a microcosm. Man realizes his dependence upon the universal, God, the spirit above all, and at the same time he is aware that he is of the earth earthy. He craves to attain to the high pattern, to the ideal inherent in his soul, and yet he feels himself drawn down by the world of matter, the things of the senses. Indeed such a hold has the phenomenal world upon the mind of man that the great masses are not aware that the things of sense have no reality in themselves, that they are but the shadow of reality. And out of this sense life, that life in illusions, has come the evil of existence. Knowledge, therefore, is salvation. Men must know the truth, and the truth will make them free, will save them.

"But now Plato naturally does not see in the soul the creation of yesterday. He holds that man will live again because he has lived before. He holds to the notion of metempsychosis. Yes, we may say he holds to the belief that at one time, in a purer existence, we had clearer ideas of truth than we have now. We are reminded in this of the fall of man. And that is why Plato contends that our knowledge is at heart only reminiscence, truth rediscovered. Reason, as it were, takes away the veil of error from our eyes and we see the truth. The object, then, of the ethical teacher and savior is to open men's eyes to the truth that is in them; our intellect simply confirms the truth of intuition, or inherent knowledge of truth. And now, while this phenomenal world may indeed lead us away from the truth, it may also lead us to it. For the things of existence may suggest to us the things of life; the poor things of clay speak to us of the eternal patterns in the heavens. And with that truth in our souls we can rise by stepping stones of our dead selves to higher selves. We can see what heaven means and how to get there. We learn to see that life eternal is not in passing lusts, which cling to the temporal. We learn to see that 'the just man treated unjustly by the gods, is yet infinitely more happy than the unjust man who receives the reward of justice.' We see that 'to do injustice is worse than to suffer injustice, and to be punished for a misdeed is better than to go unpunished.'

"In this point Platonism seems to strike a deeper note and a truer one than the conventional idea of salvation through the sacrifice of Christ. Platonism believes for the vicarious atonement, in which the good in us suffers for the acts of what is evil in us. Platonism has such deep faith in the ultimate goodness of the world, because the divine soul is in it, that even punishment is a godsend; that it is desirable for the soul to suffer and atone through a new life born out of suffering.

"Thus Platonism is strictly an ethical religion. The object of its worship is goodness itself, the reality of all realities. If Plato thought of this goodness as a principle rather than a person, is immaterial. The main thing to him, as to every true worshiper, was the spirit of worship. And the spirit of that worship is the 'eros,' that divine spirit which stirs in us as in the world at large these cravings after perfection. Platonic love does not mean, as so often erroneously understood, unsexed sentimentality or affinity, but a positive spiritual and mental harmony, which binds souls together in the spirit of truth. Men and women who love and worship the same ideal of love are brethren in spirit, partakers of the same divine reality."

NECROMANCY IS SCORED

Departed Will Know Nothing Until Resurrection, Says Pastor White.

Pastor Stemple White spoke last night at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of Sixth street and Tenth avenue east, on "The Absurdity of Spirit Communication." Using the text, Isaiah viii, 19, "And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead?" he said in part:

"The very absurdity of thinking that the living and the dead can in any wise communicate is suggested by the Lord Himself in the last question of our text, and the next verse admonishes us to consult the word of God as to the reason of it all.

Dead Know Nothing.

"Turning to Eccl. ix, 5, we read, 'The dead know not anything,' and Psalm cxlvi, 4, declares that 'all thoughts perish' at death: Psalm cxv, 17, says 'The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into silence;' and Eccl. ix, 10, says, 'There is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.' Let it ever be remembered that the living soul is the whole living man, for it is written in Gen. ii, 7, 'The Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul.' Paul wrote that 'Adam was made a living soul,' and all through the Scriptures the words 'soul, 'man' and 'person' are used synonymously. Many times does it specifically state that the soul in death is in the grave, while not once in all the Bible does it speak of the soul going to heaven at death.

"A living soul can no more communicate with the dead than he could talk to statues, which, like the dead, have eyes, but see not, neither is there any breath in them. Since the Scriptures declare that all creatures have 'one breath,' it is as absurd to think that a live man can talk to a dead man as it would be to think that a farmer could send the supposed spirit of his dead shepherd dog after the cows every evening. As Lester F. Ward, A. M. of the Smithsonian institute, says, 'It is a universal induction of science that modification of brain is accompanied by modification of consciousness, and the destruction of brain results in the destruction of consciousness. No exception to this law has ever been observed.'

Dead Until Resurrection.

"There is hope that we can some day personally associate with those now sleeping in the grave, but that can be realized only through the resurrection of the dead, when Jesus, the Lifegiver, shall awaken them to life at His personal return to earth. In this hope is also wrapped up all the fondest wishes, aspirations and consummation of the longing desires of all holy men of old.

'Pretended spirit communication is not of God. It is opposed to divine revelation, science, all human experience and common sense. The dead know not anything. A well-known medium once said under 'control,' 'This same devil is our god, our father.' This is true. Fallen angels impersonate the supposed spirits of the dead, even as to voice, manner and personal appearance, to try to make Satan's lie, 'Thou shalt not surely die,' look like the truth. No wonder that God has always condemned necromancy, saying, 'All that do these things are an abomination to the Lord.' 'The dead know not anything' is the divine truth that punctures all spiritualistic air bubbles. A deceiver is on the other end of the line."

FEW DOORS OPEN TO HOMELESS CHILD

State Worker Makes Appeal to Duluthians During Stay Here.

That the homeless child question is one of the serious problems before the American public today was the declaration of Rev. E. A. Savage of the Minnesota State Children's Home society, in a short address yesterday morning at Glen Avon Presbyterian church.

"The state organization," said Rev. Mr. Savage, "has on its hands one of the greatest problems of the state. People generally are loath to receive children into their homes, and for this reason considerable trouble is experienced in finding homes for children whose parents have either left them or have died."

Rev. Mr. Savage has been in the city for the last few days securing the names of persons who might be interested in receiving homeless children into their homes.

"TOPSY" MATTSON ENTERS CONTEST TO BECOME "QUEEN OF MAY"

MISS ALICE "TOPSY" MATTSON.

Miss Alice Mattson, 1913 West Superior street, better known by many of her friends as "Topsy," is one of the young women of this end of the city to enter the contest to become "May Queen" at the festival to be held May 28 by the business men of the West end. The contest will have about twelve young women entered before the end of the week, according to a statement made by a member of the committee this morning.

A meeting of the committee is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at which details of the parade and other features of the affair will be gone over. Capt. K. A. Franklin is rapidly getting into shape the proposed line-up of schools, which will march in the parade. These will make five squads representing those who are taking an active part in the clean-up campaign.

PRAISES WILSON FOR PEACE EFFORTS

President Shows Highest Stamp of Courage, Says Pastor.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, praised President Wilson for his steadfastness in refusing to entagle this country in war. The pastor took for his subject, "Peter the Fisherman." The pastor said that it took greater courage to keep from war as urged than in getting into it.

"In this respect, Wilson emulates Peter, the Fisherman, who learned from the example of Christ that to refrain from striking back when under attack, to suffer voluntarily and without a murmur, although able to save himself through subterfuge, is the height of bravery and courage," said Rev. Mr. Fish.

"China has an aversion to war because she is cowardly and war would hurt her private interests, while President Wilson is struggling to keep this country out of war from devotion to duty."

Mrs. Emma Garlarno, age 65 years, died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nelson Perry, 215 Exeter street, following an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Garlarno had been a resident of Duluth for forty-five years.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the St. Jean de Baptiste French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be made in Calvary cemetery.

WEST END BUILDERS

It is not often that a business man in a locality can keep his picture out of the hands of newspapers for any length of time and especially if that time extends over a period of more than two decades. But such is the case with Sever Morterud who holds the distinction of being the pioneer merchant in this end of the city.

Mr. Morterud started in business in the West end twenty-seven years ago. He still tells stories about the wilderness of the West end, the pine trees standing but a short distance back from the small settlement and the howling of wolves at night from the brink of the hill, the inhabitated district then extending only to a point now designated as Third street.

"I have had great faith in the city said Mr. Morterud this morning. The longer I am here the more convinced I become that within a few years Duluth will be the metropolis of the Middle West. The West end will undoubtedly become the center of the business district as well as the central part of the city in the near future.

Trinity Notes.

The Epworth League of the Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street, will hold its meeting in the church tomorrow evening.

Bible study will be taken up Wednesday evening at the mid-week services to be held in the church.

The ladies' aid society has planned to hold a home cooking sale Saturday afternoon and evening at the Lion drug store.

Confirmation services will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The members of the class will receive their first communion on Sunday evening.

Swedish Mission Notes.

The girls' chorus of the Parthenoe society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will hold rehearsal this evening. The society is arranging for its twentieth anniversary celebration to be held on Decoration day.

The confirmation society will meet in the church Tuesday evening.

A joint meeting will be held Wednesday evening by the Men's Welfare league and the Parthenoe society. The members in charge will be Erick Ostlund and Bernard Gustafson. The program will include addresses by Albin Carlson, Miss Ellen Lindberg and Rev. J. J. Daniels.

Mid-week services will be held at the East End Mission on Thursday evening.

The choir will meet in the church Friday evening.

Confirmation will be held in the church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Members of the class will take their first communion Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Lodge to Give Social.

A social is planned for members of the Sons of Sweden lodge, No. 170, Vasa Order, following its meeting at Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, tomorrow evening. A program is being arranged by a committee consisting of Gust Landin and Ed Herngren. The members in charge of the refreshments are Carl Carlson, William Landin and Albert Melander.

West End Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erickson, 113 Park avenue, have left for Lakewood, where they will spend the summer on their farm.

Special services were held yesterday at the St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, for members of the Trinity lodge No. 289, A. F. & A. M. Members of the lodge marched to the church in a body from the Woodman hall.

Mrs. E. D. Dickenson and daughter, Elna, have left for Brainerd, after spending several days visiting at the home of Mrs. C. W. Johnson, 1717 Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Churchill, 3815 West Third street, are expected to return home this week from Lake City, Mich., where they were called by the illness of relatives.

EQUITY CASE IS ABSORBING

Much Interest Shown in Hearing Coming Up at Fargo Tuesday.

Seek to Throw Equity Co-operative Exchange Into Receiver's Hands.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to Herald.)—Much interest is shown in the Equity Co-operative exchange case which comes up for a hearing before Judge Pollock here tomorrow.

Attorney General Linde, basing his action on a large number of affidavits filed in his office, seeks to have a receiver appointed for the concern on the ground that false reports have been made by the officials that the institution has been fraudulently conducted and that the patrons have been grossly deceived.

The proceedings were initiated before Judge Pollock some time ago and tomorrow fixed as the date for the hearing. In the meantime the attorneys for the exchange have been collecting material for the hearing before a master appointed by Judge Pollock, the hearing being in the Twin Cities and witnesses being secured on subpoenas issued through the Minnesota courts on acts of courtesy.

It is announced by the attorneys for the Equity that many of the affidavits filed with the attorney general have been refuted and they have discovered that some of the makers of other affidavits have disappeared and cannot be located. The attorneys are confident they will be able to have the proceedings set aside.

Hearing to Draw Many.

It is also intimated that a large number of members of the Equity exchange will be in the city tomorrow. It is not expected the same latitude will be permitted the attorneys for the Equity before Judge Pollock's court that was practised by Attorney Manahan in the hearings before the master. Witnesses will not be subjected to personal abuse as is complained of in the master's hearing.

It is rather anticipated that the attorneys will not submit a great deal of oral testimony in this hearing. It is presumed affidavits will be left with the courts, arguments made, briefs prepared and after the examination of those the court will render his decision. Judge Pollock is somewhat familiar with the Equity, as the arguments for the examination of the books of the exchange were made before him some months ago. At that time he permitted the stockholders to examine the accounts and that decision was upheld by the state supreme court.

FARGOANS WATCHING CLAY COUNTY VOTE

Outcome of County Option Battle Across Red River Absorbing Interest.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargoans are much interested in the result of the county option election in Clay county, Minn., across the Red river, today.

That the "drys" will win seems a foregone conclusion; that the results are likely to be a great deal closer than some of them admit, however, is possible. There are some contributing factors to this view. By their activities the "wets" have undoubtedly influenced some voters to their views. Others have been induced to take a neutral position. The elements have also contributed in a manner toward a decreased "dry" vote. The heavy rains of Saturday and Saturday night made some of the Clay county roads practically impassable and some of the rural voters may be kept away from the polls because of the condition of the highways. The lighter the rural vote the better the chance is considered for the "wets."

"Drys" Quite Confident.

Still the "drys" have the utmost confidence in the outcome.

Both sides have had considerable ammunition. The "wets," it is said, had a good fund from the breweries and saloon men, while the "drys" have had rather liberal contributions, and both sides have solicited contributions from North Dakotans.

The general opinion is that the "drys" will win anywhere from 500 to 1,500 in the county as a whole, though the "wets" are expected to carry Moorhead by a larger vote than at the recent spring election.

RURAL LIFE THEMES WILL BE CONSIDERED

Second Minnesota Rural Life Conference in St. Paul in July.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.) — Minnesota's second rural life conference will be held at university farm, here July 27 to 30.

The leading speaker will be Charles Otis Bemies of McClellandtown, Pa., who has made a careful study of the country life movement and who is a speaker in great demand by such conferences. Mr. Bemies is on the program for four lectures.

On the program also are men who have done exceptional things in Minnesota. Among them are E. H. Edwards, a pastor of Castle Rock, Minn., and E. C. Bickman of Byron, Minn. The latter will discuss the rural church and country life, and the former will lead the discussion on rural life problems in general. A. M. Locker, secretary of the Minnesota Sunday School union, will talk of the Sunday school as a factor in rural life. The Boy Scout and Camp Fire Girls movements will be presented by J. H. Kolb, secretary of the Young Men's Christian association at university farm.

Others to Speak.

That those in attendance at the conference may be brought into closest touch with some of the practical problems of rural life, the program includes addresses and demonstrations by men of the faculty of the college and school of agriculture. Among these are Dean A. F. Woods, D. D. Mayne, Andrew Boss, T. L. Haecker, A. D. Wilson, W. G. Brierley, Francis Jager, E. C. Stakman and Le Roy Cady. It is expected also that a symposium of opinions by the editors of the state on rural life problems will be presented.

The conference, it is believed, will attract many to university farm at the time set. The best of accommodations can be had and those in attendance will be given not only a profitable, but a very enjoyable outing.

Fuller information can be had by addressing A. F. Woods, dean, department of agriculture, university farm, St. Paul.

MANY HOME-SEEKERS BUY BELTRAMI LAND

Large Sale of Drained Tracts Made to Actual Settlers.

Bemidji, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—All the 20,000 acres of state land offered was sold to purchasers at the state land sale held last week, most of whom are actual settlers who will make their homes in Beltrami county.

Not only was this vast amount of land sold, but many buyers who came to Bemidji to bid in on the state lands were forced to return to their homes without purchasing on account of all the land being sold. The 20,000 acres sold represented 275 claims while applications for 500 were made. In most cases the purchasers took 160 acres of land which is the limit by law.

One 160-acre tract was sold for nearly $600, and several 40-acre tracts brought $200, while one was sold for $205, a record price. Although the lands in the district of the Lake of the Woods were swampy and low, they were rapidly taken up by purchasers, cleaning up every tract offered for sale. At the present rate every acre of government land in Beltrami county will be sold in less than two years.

Are Drained Lands.

The lands which are now being sold are located in the districts of Beltrami county which are being drained by judicial ditches, and which until recently could not be used for agricultural purposes. Many of these lands are located in what is known as "The Beltrami County Prairie," which, although low land, is free from trees and when drained makes excellent agricultural land. Most of the land listed in the sale of last week is well drained and is situated in districts that are now being farmed. Many of the farmers in these districts bought additional land at this sale. The judicial ditches are rapidly draining other lands which will be offered for sale by the state later.

On the first day of the sale about 200 prospective buyers were in attendance, but the bidding was slow. The next day things livened up and the purchasers began to make bonus offers, and from then on the sale livened up at a rapid pace until not a single tract was left unpurchased. Many of the buyers represented clients and one man purchased fifteen tracts and paid large bonus prices on other tracts.

LITTLEFORK CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Effort to Take Liquor Lid Off Town Before High Court.

Little Falls, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Notice of appeal in the decision of the Littlefork saloon case, recently made in favor of the "drys" by Judge Stanton, has been served on County Attorney Franz Jevne by M. A. Spooner. This case was of a peculiar nature since the town of Littlefork voted "wet" at the April election by the narrow margin of one vote, while the town of Jameson, in which the place is located, voted "dry" by three counts. Technical points of law arose and the matter has been fought hard on both sides. It will be decided in the state supreme court when the case again comes up on June 2.

Hopeful About Tax Case.

Mr. Jevne states that he is confident of victory for the state in the personal property tax matter, the Backus interests when Judge Stanton announces his decision. The Backus-Brooks interests are attempting to secure an injunction to prevent Sheriff Thomas White from seizing property of the company for personal property taxes which are delinquent to the amount of about $16,000. Harris Richardson, in behalf of the folkins people, argued for the injunction on the grounds that the state tax commission acted illegally in the matter and that the warrants issued by the clerk of court were illegal because premature.

GOVERNOR IS MOOSE.

Gopher Executive Rides Goat During Thief River Falls Visit.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—It has just come to public notice that during his visit here last Wednesday when he spoke at the dedication of the Carnegie library, Governor W. S. Hammond joined the local Moose lodge. James Geraghty, district organizer, was in the city for the dedication. In company with Attorney G. H. Smith, he was introduced into the governor. Mr. Geraghty asked if Governor Hammond was a "Moose" and upon being informed to the contrary, immediately sought his application. It was also ascertained that Governor Hammond was the only governor in the United States who was not a member of this new and growing organization. The governor stated that the only reason he was not a member was that there was no Moose lodge in his own town, and upon being informed that the local lodge was putting through a class that night, signified his willingness to join and "ride the goat" with the rest of them.

The dedication exercises at the auditorium, in which the chief executive of Minnesota took a prominent part, were concluded about 9:30 o'clock, and a committee from the Moose lodge was present to conduct the governor to the lodge hall, where the initiation was taking place. Governor Hammond went through and apparently enjoyed the ceremonies.

Clears Skin—Stops All Blood Troubles

Goes Right Down to Where the Germs Start From.

The action of S. S. S. the famous blood purifier, is notable in the skin. It is but natural that blood impurities should seek an outlet. Water, gas, oil and nearly all the active products of nature seek the surface. It seems to be a cosmic law. Even our thoughts will undertake to find expression. And so whatever we take into our system will eventually come out changed in form, converted often into some other substance, but constituting always either waste or that which has served its useful purpose and must be eliminated. And the skin is the principal avenue for escape of certain acids or poisons. If the skin and blood be healthy, these wastes pass off as vapor or perspiration. But impure blood loads the skin with eczema, pimples, acne, rheumatism, rash, fever blisters, blood risings and other eruptions. And S. S. S. has been found the very best, safest and most effective remedy to purify the blood and thus restore the skin to clear and attractive health. Get a bottle today of any druggist, but be emphatic. Do not allow anyone to hand you a substitute. Wrapped around the bottle is an interesting circular that tells you how to obtain skillful advice free on any subject concerning the blood.

S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 113 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Look for this name on the package.

ANDREW JACKOLA OF CALUMET PASSES AWAY

Calumet, Mich., March 17.—This community is mourning the death of Andrew Jackola, aged 74, father of Justice of the Peace Jackola and one of the best known and most highly respected Finnish residents of the Copper country district, who died Saturday noon.

Mr. Jackola, a native of Finland, had been a resident of the Copper country for an extended period. For over thirty years, up to the time of his illness, he was employed by the C. & H. Mining company.

He leaves a widow and the following children: Mrs. Alex Onkka of Cokato, Minn.; Mrs. Mathew Sorsen, wife of Dr. Sorsen; Justice of the Peace C. O. Jackola and Eli G. Jackola.

Mr. Jackola was a member of the old Finnish Lutheran Evangelical church and was quite active in its interests.

FOUR MEN MUST RETURN TO PRISON

Houghton, Mich., May 17.—Judge Richard C. Flannigan today vacated his order for a new trial for the four defendants in the Seeberville case in accordance with the mandamus writ issued by the supreme court, and issued an order for the return of the four men, Cooper, Davis, Groff and Polkinghorne, to Marquette prison to continue the serving of the sentences for which they were originally committed.

LAW IS RELENTLESS.

Does Not Forget Charge Against North Dakotan Who Comes Back.

Mandan, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The memory of the law is long, according to Martin H. Webber. Two years ago a complaint was made against him that he had violated the prohibition law, but before his arrest could be made he fled from his home at New Leipzig and located at Great Falls, Mont. Apparently believing his offense had been forgotten, he recently returned here and was visiting former acquaintances in this county, when State's Attorney Langer heard of his presence and caused his arrest on the old charge.

ATTACKS WOMAN WHO DENIED HIM "HANDOUT."

Fairmount, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peder Sola, a stranger, was arrested near here on a charge of attempted assault on Mrs. Peter Jensen, the wife of a farmer. Sola saw Jensen go to the fields to work, and then, it is alleged, went to the house and demanded something to eat. When he was refused, he attacked Mrs. Jensen and had thrown her to the floor, when the timely arrival of Jensen's brother frightened him away. After some hours he was located and taken to Wahpeton. Sola claims to have been recently discharged from the Norwegian army.

RED TRAIL ASSOCIATION.

Meeting Just Held at Fargo Develops Much Interest in Idea.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Displaying a great deal of interest in the coast-to-coast Red Trail through this state, the representatives of the North Dakota Automobile association held an enthusiastic meeting here. J. P. Reeve of Beach, an ardent auto enthusiast, was made president; Representative Divet of Wahpeton was elected vice president; State Senator Mudgett of Valley City, treasurer, and Seth W. Richardson of Fargo, secretary. The association will assist in boosting the Red Trail and other auto lines through the state.

YOUNG LIQUOR VENDER TO REFORM SCHOOL

Cogswell, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Back to the state reform school until he is 21 is the punishment inflicted on John Carlton, arrested here on a charge of selling liquor. It developed the boy had been a former inmate of the reform school and was out on parole. His violation of the parole will mean that he must continue in the reform school until he is of age.

NEW TRIAL IS ASKED FOR JAMES M. DARNELL

Milwaukee, Wis., May 17.—In filing with the Federal court a written motion for a new trial, E. J. Cooney and J. A. Verhoeven of Chicago, attorneys for James M. Dafnell, convicted of white slavery, allege several causes why, in their opinion, a rehearing should be granted.

The court is expected to rule on the motion for a new trial on Thursday next.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio— "My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise." —Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

EQUITY CASE IS ABSORBING

Much Interest Shown in Hearing Coming Up at Fargo Tuesday.

Seek to Throw Equity Co-operative Exchange into Receiver's Hands.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to Herald.)—Much interest is shown in the Equity Co-operative exchange case which comes up for a hearing before Judge Pollock here tomorrow.

Attorney General Linde, basing his action on a large number of affidavits filed in his office, seeks to have a receiver appointed for the concern on the ground that false reports have been made by the officials that the insurance has been fraudulently conducted and that the patrons have been grossly deceived.

The proceedings were initiated before Judge Pollock some time ago and tomorrow fixed as the date for the hearing. In the meantime the attorneys for the exchange have been collecting material for the hearing before the referee appointed by Judge Pollock, the hearing being in the Twin Cities and witnesses being secured on subpoenas issued through the Minnesota courts on acts of courtesy.

It was announced by the attorneys for the city that many of the affidavits filed with the attorney general have been rejected and they have discovered that the makers of the affidavits have disappeared and cannot be found. The attorneys are confident they will be able to have the proceedings dismissed.

Hearing to Draw Many.

It is also intimated that a large number of members of the Equity exchange will be in the city tomorrow to attend the hearing. It is expected that Judge Pollock will be left with the impression that the case is heard and after the examination of the court will render his decision. Judge Pollock is somewhat familiar with the Equity case as the arguments for the examination of the books of the exchange were made before him some months ago. At that time he permitted the stockholders to examine the books and that decision was upheld by the state supreme court.

FARGOANS WATCHING CLAY COUNTY VOTE

Outcome of County Option Battle Across Red River Absorbing Interest.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargoans are much interest ed in the result of the county option election in Clay county, Minn., across the Red river, today.

That the "drys" will win seems a foregone conclusion, but the results are likely to be a great deal closer than some of them admit, however, is possible. There are some contributing factors to this view. By their activities the "wets" have undoubtedly influenced some voters to their views while others have been induced to take a neutral position. The elements have also contributed in a manner toward a decreased "dry" vote. The heavy rains of Saturday and Saturday night made some of the Clay county roads practically impassable and some of the rural voters may be kept away from the polls because of the condition of the highways. The lighter the rural vote the better the chance is considered for the "wets."

"Drys" Quite Confident.

Still the "drys" have the utmost confidence in the outcome.

Both sides have had considerable ammunition. The "wets," it is said, had a good fund from the breweries and saloon men, while the "drys" have had rather liberal contributions, and both sides have solicited contributions from North Dakotans.

The general opinion is that the "drys" will win anywhere from 500 to 1,500 in the county as a whole, though the "wets" are expected to carry Moorhead by a larger vote than at the recent spring election.

RURAL LIFE THEMES WILL BE CONSIDERED

Second Minnesota Rural Life Conference in St. Paul in July.

St. Paul, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.) — Minnesota's second rural life conference will be held at university farm, here July 27 to 30.

The leading speaker will be Charles Otis Bemles of McClellandtown, Pa., who has made a careful study of the country life movement and who is a speaker in great demand by such conferences. Mr. Bemles is on the program for four lectures.

On the program also are men who have done exceptional things in Minnesota. Among them are E. H. Edwards, a pastor of Castle Rock, Minn., and E. C. Bickman of Byron, Minn. The latter will discuss the rural church and country life, and the former will lead the discussion on rural life problems in general. A. M. Lockner, secretary of the Minnesota Sunday School union, will talk of the Sunday school as a factor in rural life. The work of the Camp Fire Girls movements will be presented by J. H. Kolb, secretary of the Young Men's Christian association at university farm.

Others to Speak.

That those in attendance at the conference may be brought into closest touch with some of the practical problems of rural life, the program includes addresses and demonstrations by men of the faculty of the college and school of agriculture. Among these are Dean A. F. Woods, D. D. Mayne, Andrew Boss, T. L. Hoecker, A. D. Wilson, W. C. Brierley, Francis Jager, E. C. Stakman and Le Roy Cady. It is expected also that a symposium of opinions by the editors of the state on rural life problems will be conducted.

The conference, it is believed, will attract many to university farm at the time set. The best of accommodations can be had and those in attendance will be given not only a profitable, but a very enjoyable outing.

Fuller information can be had by addressing A. F. Woods, dean, department of agriculture, university farm, St. Paul.

MANY HOME-SEEKERS BUY BELTRAMI LAND

Large Sale of Drained Tracts Made to Actual Settlers.

Bemidji, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—All the 20,000 acres of state land offered was sold to purchasers at the state land sale held last week, most of whom are actual settlers who will make their homes in Beltrami county.

Not only was this vast amount of land sold, but many buyers who came to Bemidji to bid in on the state lands were forced to return to their homes without purchasing on account of all the land being sold. The 20,000 acres sold represented 275 claims while applications for 500 were made. In most cases the purchasers took 160 acres of land which is the limit by law.

One 160-acre tract was sold for nearly $500, and several 40-acre tracts brought $200, while one was sold for $205, a record price. Although the lands in the district of the Lake of the Woods were swampy and low, they were rapidly taken up by purchasers, cleaning up every tract offered for sale. At the present rate every acre of government land in Beltrami county will be sold in less than two years.

Are Drained Lands.

The lands which are now being sold are located in the districts of Beltrami county which are being drained by judicial ditches, and which until recently could not be used for agricultural purposes. Many of these lands are located in what is known as "The Beltrami County Prairie," which, although low land, is free from trees and when drained makes excellent agricultural land. Most of the land listed in the sale of last week is well drained and is situated in districts that are now being farmed. Many of the farmers in those districts bought additional land at this sale. The judicial ditches are rapidly draining other lands which will be offered for sale by the state later.

On the first day of the sale about 200 prospective buyers were in attendance, but the bidding was slow. The next day things livened up and the purchasers began to make bonus offers, and from then on the sale livened up at a rapid pace until not a single tract was left unpurchased. Many of the buyers represented clients and one man purchased fifteen tracts and paid large bonus prices on other tracts.

LITTLEFORK CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Effort to Take Liquor Lid Off Town Before High Court.

Little Falls, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Notice of appeal in the decision of the Littlefork saloon case, recently made in favor of the "drys" by Judge Stanton, has been served on County Attorney Franz Jevne by M. A. Spooner. This case was of a peculiar nature since the town of Littlefork voted "wet" at the April election by the narrow margin of one vote, while the town of Jamenson, in which the place is located, voted "dry" by three counts. Technical points of law arose and the matter has been fought hard on both sides. It will be decided in the state supreme court when the case again comes up on June 2.

Hopeful About Tax Case.

Mr. Jevne states that he is confident of victory for the state in the personal property tax matter of the Backus interests when Judge Stanton announces his decision. The Backus-Brooks interests are attempting to secure an injunction to prevent Sheriff Thomas White from seizing property of the company for personal property taxes which are delinquent to the amount of about $16,000. Harris Richardson, in behalf of the Backus people, argued for the injunction on the grounds that the state tax commission acted illegally in the matter and that the warrants issued by the clerk of court were illegal because premature.

GOVERNOR IS MOOSE.

Gopher Executive Rides Goat During Thief River Falls Visit.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—It has just come to public notice that during his visit here last Wednesday when he spoke at the dedication of the Carnegie library, Governor W. S. Hammond joined the local Moose lodge. James Geraghty, district organizer, was in the city for the dedication. In company with Attorney G. H. Smith, he was introduced to the governor. Mr. Geraghty asked if Governor Hammond was a "Moose" and upon being informed to the contrary, immediately sought his application. It was also ascertained that Governor Hammond was the only governor in the United States who was not a member of this new and growing organization. The governor stated that the only reason he was not a member was that there was no Moose lodge in his own town, and upon being informed that the local lodge was putting through a class that night, signified his willingness to join and "ride the goat" with the rest of them.

The dedication exercises at the auditorium, in which the chief executive of Minnesota took a prominent part, were concluded about 9:30 o'clock, and a committee from the Moose lodge was present to conduct the governor to the lodge hall, where the initiation was taking place. Governor Hammond went through and apparently enjoyed the ceremonies.

Clears Skin—Stops All Blood Troubles

Goes Right Down to Where the Germs Start From.

The action of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is notable in the skin. It is but natural that blood impurities should seek an outlet. Water, gas, oil and nearly all the active products of nature seek the surface. It seems to be a cosmic law. Even our thoughts will undertake to find expression. And so whatever we take into our system will eventually come out changed in form, converted often into some other substance, but constituting always either waste or that which has served its useful purpose and must be eliminated. And the skin is the principal avenue for escape of certain acids or poisons. If the skin and blood be healthy, these wastes pass off as vapor or perspiration. But impure blood loads the skin with eczema, pimples, acne, rheumatism, rash, fever blisters, blood risings and other eruptions. And S. S. S. has been found the very best, safest and most effective remedy to purify the blood and thus restore the skin to clear and attractive health. Get a bottle today of any druggist, but be emphatic. Do not allow anyone to hand you a substitute. Wrapped around the bottle is an interesting circular that tells you how to obtain skillful advice free on any subject concerning the blood.

S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 113 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Look for this name on the package.

ANDREW JACKOLA OF CALUMET PASSES AWAY

Calumet, Mich., March 17.—This community is mourning the death of Andrew Jackola, aged 74, father of Justice of the Peace Jackola and one of the best known and most highly respected Finnish residents of the Copper country district, who died Saturday noon.

Mr. Jackola, a native of Finland, had been a resident of the Copper country for an extended period. For over thirty years, up to the time of his illness, he was employed by the C. & H. Mining company.

He leaves a widow and the following children: Mrs. Alex Onkka of Calumet; Mrs. O. H. Sorsen, wife of Dr. Minn.; Mrs. O. H. Sorsen, wife of Dr. Minn.; Justice of the Peace C. O. Jackola and Eli G. Jackola.

Mr. Jackola was a member of the old Finnish Lutheran Evangelical church and was quite active in its interests.

FOUR MEN MUST RETURN TO PRISON

Houghton, Mich., May 17.—Judge Richard C. Flannigan today vacated his order for a new trial for the four defendants in the Seeberville case in accordance with the mandamus writ issued by the supreme court, and issued an order for the return of the four men, Cooper, Davis, Groff and Polkinghorne, to Marquette prison to continue the serving of the sentences for which they were originally committed.

LAW IS RELENTLESS.

Does Not Forget Charge Against North Dakotan Who Comes Back.

Mandan, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The memory of the law is long, according to Martin H. Webber. Two years ago a complaint was made against him that he had violated the prohibition law, but before his arrest could be made he fled from his home at New Leipzig and located at Great Falls, Mont. Apparently believing his offense had been forgotten, he recently returned here and was visiting former acquaintances in this county, when State's Attorney Langer heard of his presence and caused his arrest on the old charge.

ATTACKS WOMAN WHO DENIED HIM "HANDOUT."

Fairmount, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peder Sola, a stranger, was arrested near here on a charge of attempted assault on Mrs. Peter Jensen, the wife of a farmer. Sola saw Jensen go to the fields to work, and then, it is alleged, went to the house and demanded something to eat. When he was refused, he attacked Mrs. Jensen and had thrown her to the floor, when the timely arrival of Jensen's brother frightened him away. After some hours he was located and taken to Wahpeton. Sola claims to have been recently discharged from the Norwegian army.

RED TRAIL ASSOCIATION.

Meeting Just Held at Fargo Develops Much Interest in Idea.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Displaying a great deal of interest in the coast-to-coast Red Trail through this state, the representatives of the North Dakota Automobile association held an enthusiastic meeting here. J. P. Reeve of Beach, an ardent auto enthusiast, was made president; Representative Divet of Walhpeton was elected vice president; State Senator Mudgett of Valley City, treasurer, and Seth W. Richardson of Fargo, secretary. The association will assist in boosting the Red Trail and other auto lines through the state.

YOUNG LIQUOR VENDER TO REFORM SCHOOL

Cogswell, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Back to the state reform school until he is 21 is the punishment inflicted on John Carlton, arrested here on a charge of selling liquor. It developed the boy had been a former inmate of the reform school and was out on parole. His violation of the parole will mean that he must continue in the reform school until he is of age.

NEW TRIAL IS ASKED FOR JAMES M. DARNELL

Milwaukee, Wis., May 17.—In filing with the Federal court a written motion for a new trial, R. J. Cooney and J. A. Verhoeven of Chicago, attorneys for James M. Darnell, convicted of white slavery, allege several causes why, in their opinion, a rehearing should be granted.)

The court is expected to rule on the motion for a new trial on Thursday next.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THE WEATHER MAN VERY MEAN TO NORTHERN LEAGUE

Darby O'Brien and Company Have Encountered Rain at Every Stand—Brooklyn Has Secured Another Hurling Sensation—Were the Players of the Past Greater Than Those of the Present?

BY BRUCE.

OLD Man Weather has not been exactly exuberant and all that stuff regarding his treatment to the Northern league. The devoted Dooks got a bitter taste of the cold and wet varieties that make spring time in this delicious section of the country a libel on inspirational poetry in three of the towns visited to date, and the calm is not on as yet.

In fact the start off of the Burmeister organization has been somewhat frayed around the edges as a result of the kick in of dirty weather, as the nautical dogs have it. So early in the season the postponed games are piling up.

It is too early to judge of the teams. There are some new faces in the league—yes, and there are a lot of the old and haggard ones with us as yet. Errors have fairly reveled in the box scores. But with scarcely no preliminary training it could hardly be expected that the players would escape the bubbles.

Duluth's pitchers are clear off. So are some of the other hustlers. The weather man will have to smile once or twice before the barometer is brought out and a measure of the game taken.

Up, Back and Back Again.

"WHEEZER" DELL is the monaker applied to the latest pitching sensation in the National league. Would you plant violets in an ash heap? Cry no, city cleaners! Oh exclamation of inappropriateness, "Wheezer" Dell is with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Poor Nap Rucker has labored and sweated and wept bitter tears of regret these many years. With any other team but Brooklyn fame and a considerable legion of golden sheckels would have chased the Rucker one through this vale of tears. It has been almost a national anthem—"Oh why, oh why, did Brooklyn land Rucker—oh why, oh why, oh why, yes, oh why?"

And now comes "Wheezer" Dell. This bird was up once and down again. We should say he was part way up, as he only reached the St. Louis Cardinals. The management of that team could see nothing in "Wheezer" Dell but an added expense and cast off the binding strings.

Down went Dell and then with the elapse of a season or two behold he is back again. Some ill luck, some nemesis of ill fortune seems to follow "Wheezer" Dell. First with the Cardinals and now with Brooklyn. It were better that a millstone were cast around his neck and he be cast into the deep.

They say Dell has as much as Walter Johnson. He will need it all with Brooklyn.

Comparisons Are Odious.

A WRITER in one of the Winona papers have concocted and otherwise manufactured an article dealing with the little peculiarities of great batters. First he mentions Lefty Davis and then turns briefly to Ty Cobb.

Evidently some prophets are honored in their own country.

The Reverence of Time.

VERGING on ancient fans of the ripe and philosophic age of 60 or thereabouts will wax enthusiastic and grow reminiscent over the prowess of Mike Kelly, Gore, Williamson, Pfeffer, Anson, Radbourne and others of the old procession of great diamond stars.

These passing witnesses of the game of baseball will tell you with a sad shake of the head that there are no players of the present day to compare in brain and speed and skill with some of the most illustrious of the old squad.

This chucks us up on straining haunches to the present question as whether we will view the future with the same glazed eyes of reverence and dote on the doings of Wagner, Cobb, Lajoie and Mathewson and shake with an ague of doubt over the performances of the players of the future. Time must cast a reverence over the deeds and performers of the past, or else man is prone to cuddle to the fancies and memories of earlier days and cherish them with love and jealousy.

Some brutal materialists will claim that the Cobbs, Maranvilles, Speakers, Johnsons, Dauberts, et al., of the present era are infinitely superior to the Kelleys, Brownings, Ansons, Williamsons, Ryans, Langes, etc., of the dimming past. Some warm enthusiast of the present day might also claim that Jess Willard could have vanquished Samson, plus streaming locks. The argument between the glories of those of the past and the ability of the present squad will ever continue. It is part of the game.

Pay Day Always Wins Out.

A SOB writer of one of the New York papers springs the annual yarns of Merkle being heart broken over brooding over that failure to touch second incident, or accident, and declares that the Giant first baseman is going to retire from the game.

That yarn runs for Sweeney. Merkle gets $5,000 or more per annum. As long as the secretary of the club signs the pay slip without protest from McGraw—as long as Merkle draws the pay envelope twice a month, just so long will he exercise admirable control over the breaking heart the scribe weeps over.

Brooding over a crushed and broken heart for several hours during the fleeting months of summer is infinitely more judicious and more preferable than digging ditches in the fickle weather of blistering summer, screeching fall and freezing winter.

Stick to your job, Fred.

Play Fourteen Innings.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 17.—Boston defeated Cleveland in a great pitchers' battle yesterday in fourteen innings. After holding Boston to one hit in nine innings, a single by Wood with one out in the ninth and three hits in thirteen innings, Morton weakened. With one out in the fourteenth, Mays got a hit to left. Hooper scratched an infield hit, while Wagner and Lewis followed with doubles. Not a Boston man reached first base until the eighth inning, when, with one out, Hoblitzell was passed, after there were two strikes on him. With one out in the eighth inning, Morton, Leibold and Turner singled in succession only to have Chapman hit to Wood for an easy double play. Score: R. H. E.

NEW PLAYERS FOR THE DOOKS

Sioux City Expected to Come to Assistance of Darby.

Owner Blume has received no word from the dashing Dook concerning the acquisition of additional players to brace the White Sox—that is, up to a late hour today.

"I've told Darby to fire all those pitchers and get some new ones, if they don't show something," said Magnate Blume. "It's no use monkeying around with them, unless they come through."

Just who Darby is to receive from Sioux City, Owner Blume wots not. The Anderson tried at third in the game of yesterday was not the infielder the team has been waiting for, according to word let loose here.

Heaver Jones has been sent home to gain more control. It is believed that the lad's parents will have a great influence on his wildness.

If some new twirlers are secured there will be some more releases of members of the present hurling staff. O'Brien has more hurlers than he can use now, but desires to choose the best of the lot.

GRAND FORKS FIRST.

Captured Most of Track Events in Wet Fargo Field.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the muddy field day track meet held here, Grand Forks highs took first place. Fargo was second. Langdon and Lidgerwood captured some honors. The meet was unfortunate in that a pouring rain prevented any time or records. In the declamation contest that followed, Miss Lucile Hustings of Fargo, a niece of the Wisconsin senator, won first, and Wilbert Peterson of Moorhead second place.

UHLANS WIN FROM DOOKS

Cadreau Hit All Over Lot and Duluth Is Humbled 7 to 1.

Dumont Holds the O'Brienites Helpless in All But One Round.

Fargo, N. D., May 17.—Unglaub's Uhlans had an easy time with the Duluth White Sox yesterday, winning the contest by the score of 7 to 1. Dumont held the visitors to one hit until the eighth round, when four singles resulted in the lone hostile score. Chief Cadreau was larruped to the far corners of the lot.

After the home team had accumulated seven runs and the game was lost O'Brien put Boley in and the former Winnipeg twirler finished the final inning without allowing a hit.

A heavy playing field made fast play next to impossible. Two games were scheduled for yesterday, but the second contest was postponed.

SHIFTING RESULTS OF FIRST INVASION PERIOD OF SEASON

Important Changes in Standings of Big Leagues and More Coming Soon.

New York, May 17.—The first week of the initial clash of the season between Eastern and Western clubs of the two major leagues, while bringing about several changes in the positions of the clubs, gave indications of probable important shifts in the near future.

In the National league, three out of four clubs in the Western circuit played out the week with more defeats charged against them than victories to their credit. Pittsburgh was the only one of the invading quartet to come out on the right side of the ledger, and the club has moved up from sixth to fourth.

The Chicago club, which figured notably in the performances of the week previous, has found the sledding rather hard so far in Eastern territory, getting only an even break in Brooklyn and being swamped in the first games of the series with the New Yorks.

Giants Recovering.

Roger Bresnahan's men were perhaps unfortunate in encountering the Giants at a time when McGraw's players were in the full stride of a recovery from the depressive gait they had maintained from the season's beginning. The brace was largely due to an encouraging improvement in the form of the pitching staff. Mathewson, who had not won a game this season, started the spurt. New York, although still at the foot of the standing, seems to be rounding into something like the form of recent years.

Cincinnati, despite three defeats in four games against the Giants and another dropped in Brooklyn, is playing excellent ball. St. Louis took the series in Boston, finding the Braves starting the unusual practice for them, of losing ninth inning decisions, but began badly against Philadelphia, which still tops the league. Brooklyn has taken perhaps the most impressive brace of any of the Nationals except the Giants, and has moved to fifth position.

Yankees' Great Advance.

The American league race saw another change in the leadership, New York displacing Detroit. The Yankees stepped into the premier position Saturday and clinched their hold on the place yesterday by defeating the Tigers handily in the first game of their series. Some of Donovan's pitchers are accumulating an impressive record, Ray Fisher's for instance, totaling six without a defeat, placing him at the head of the league's twirlers.

Detroit has suffered more than any other team in the American league from the force of the Eastern attack, for one thing, because it had more to lose. Cleveland also has dropped four out of six games to Eastern clubs, the Bostons continuing their victorious career yesterday by shutting out the Indians.

The Red Sox look more impressive all the while they continue their travels, and their victory yesterday, while Chicago was losing to the Philadelphia, put Carrigan's men in third place. Washington has not been particularly successful on its trip so far, and the Athletics up to Sunday had won only one game.

Association Play.

Indianapolis effectively stopped Milwaukee's career in the chase for the American association pennant. The Hoosiers took three out of the four

We're Hammering Away At This Fact

PEERLESS is the best tobacco in the world for big, strong, manly men. It was put on the market purposely to please this kind of man. We first marketed it fifty years ago; it has been the favorite of men of vim and vigor ever since.

It is pure Southern Kentucky tobacco, carefully and naturally aged for three to five years so as to bring out all its mellow, natural richness and honest sweetness. It is a juicy, full-bodied tobacco that thoroughly satisfies a powerful man's tobacco-hunger.

PEERLESS
Long Cut Tobacco

Take the case of the blacksmith. When he wants tobacco satisfaction, he cannot get it out of "flat," insipid mixtures. He has got to have a man's size real old natural he-tobacco.

We have the greatest tobacco organization in the world and are in business to stay in business—by giving the best values. PEERLESS is only one of our many brands, but like all it is the "highest quality—biggest quantity" of its kind sold.

We tell the big, brawny men of this country that PEERLESS is the best tobacco for them on the market and they know they can bank on that statement.

A week's trial of PEERLESS will prove it. "Smoke it or chew it—but go straight to it."

Sold everywhere in 5-cent packages.

games in the first clash, and widened the breach between them and Louisville, and Milwaukee, as a result of the set, dropped back to the second division.

The race is close, as usual, and while Columbus and Minneapolis are far down in the standing, the others are closely pressing Indianapolis.

The great pitching of Young in the third game of the Indianapolis-Milwaukee series saved the latter from losing the entire series.

Pittsburgh retained the lead in the Federal league by consistent play during the week and started the new playing period well, defeating Chicago. New York held on to second place, but Brooklyn dropped to fifth, Chicago moving up to third place and Kansas City to fourth. Buffalo is in little danger of vacating the tail-end position as the week was one of steady reverses for the club, which failed to win a game.

MEXICANS CHECK RAID OF YAQUI INDIANS

Washington, May 17.—Raiding Yaqui Indians, who killed several Americans during a recent outbreak in the Yaqui valley in Mexico, have been checked, Admiral Howard reported to the navy department yesterday, and it now probably will not be necessary to land marines and bluejackets from the cruisers Raleigh and New Orleans at Guaymas.

Mexican troops which at first had declined to give battle to the Indians, finally went into the fighting, Admiral Howard reported, and checked the raid. The dispatch did not mention further loss of American lives and said the situation was encouraging.

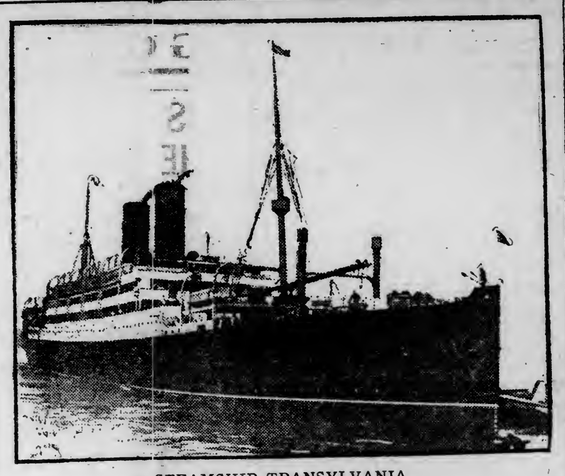
TRANSYLVANIA ARRIVES SAFELY



STEAMSHIP TRANSYLVANIA.

Liverpool, May 17.—The Cunard line steamship Transylvania arrived safely at Greenock, Scotland, at 3 o'clock this morning. When the vessel sailed from New York this city was supposed to be her destination, but her course was changed to minimize the danger of passing through the German "war zone."

Fears had been felt for the safety of the Transylvania, as she had a large cargo of contraband on board and her usual course to Liverpool, for which port she cleared, would take her near the point at which the Lusitania was struck and sunk by a German torpedo on May 6.

It was assumed in many quarters, however, that because of the danger of submarine attacks, the Transylvania would change her course and proceed over a more northerly route, probably to a Scotch port. This surmise proved correct, as this morning's advices of her safe arrival at Greenock, Scotland, showed.

The Transylvania carried nearly 1,000 passengers, of whom 28, according to the passenger lists, were American citizens.

Philadelphia Arrives.

Liverpool, May 17.—The passengers on board the American line steamer Philadelphia, which left New York May 8, and arrived here yesterday docking at 1 p. m., experienced during the voyage much anxiety Friday afternoon out in the Atlantic off the coast of Ireland, when a cruiser appeared and approached the liner.

The chief topic of conversation during the voyage had been about the German submarine activities, and the sight of the war ship caused some alarm. The cruiser approached near enough to the steamer to exchange signals with her.

A number of passengers spent Saturday night on deck in their chairs with life belts beside them in case of danger. The boats of the Philadelphia were ready for use. The steamer kept a course much farther out from the Irish coast than the Lusitania was traversing when she was torpedoed.

The port officials subjected the passengers of the Philadelphia to a careful examination to discover if there were any spies on board, but nobody was detained.

"FEAST OF WEEKS" WILL BE OBSERVED BY JEWS OF DULUTH

Special services in celebration of the Shabuoth festival will be held at the Temple Emanuel Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. An elaborate musical program will feature both services.

Shabuoth, "The Feast of Weeks," also called "The Feast of the First Fruits" falls according to the Jewish calendar, on the sixth of Sivan which will occur this year on the 19th of May. Its name is derived from the seven weeks which elapsed between the departure of the children of Israel from Egypt and their arrival at Mount Sinai. Like its companion holiday, the Feast of Passover, it, too, has both an agricultural and a historical aspect. This was the early harvest season when the first of the wheat, baked in two loaves of bread, was brought as an offering of gratitude, and as a token of man's dependence upon the goodness of God. Historically it goes back to the promulgation of the Ten Commandments, when Israel accepted the new moral code and religious legislation, and was aroused for the first time to the consciousness of its new spiritual task and destiny. The Ten Commandments are the Magna Charta of Religion. Having secured political freedom, Moses found it necessary to give his people religious freedom. The new nation must be buttressed upon religious obligation. They may be a kingdom, but they must be a kingdom of priests, a holy nation.

Shabuoth has gained a stronger and a more impressive hold today by entwining its symbolism about the impressionable child. "Confirmation" is the ceremony expressive of religious consecration. Jews publicly affirm by this ceremonial that their children, the first ripe fruits of our religious schools, shall stand morally and religiously in the same enthusiastic and receptive attitude as did their fathers at the foot of Mount Sinai.

Shabuoth has a distinctly modern and indispensable appeal to the individual. It teaches, first of all, that religion, as a necessity of life, is the actuating motive and sanction of personal, social and national character. Secondly, it champions the cause of religious freedom as the most highly prized privilege and possession of the human race.

STREET CAR MAN'S AILMENTS QUICKLY RELIEVED BY AKOZ

Conductor Pitt of Superior Praises the California Rival of Radium.

HORACE A. PITT.

Horace A. Pitt, a well known street railway conductor residing at 706 Highitt avenue, Superior, has become an enthusiastic booster for Akoz, the California mineral rival of radium, because of the prompt relief it gave him after he had suffered for four years with stomach trouble and eczema.

"After enduring much suffering and inconvenience from stomach trouble and eczema for four years, for which I tried various remedies with but temporary relief, my attention was called to Akoz, and, in reading about the results others were getting from it, I decided to give it a trial," said Mr. Pitt. "I am truly grateful for the relief it has brought me.

"I was troubled with gas on the stomach, and, after eating, my food felt like a chunk of lead in my stomach. I received but little nutrition from what I ate. I was reduced in flesh and strength and got up in the morning feeling tired and languid, but now, after using Akoz 10 days, my stomach is almost cured. I get up in the morning with renewed life and vigor, eat well and sleep well. My eczema is also much better. I think Akoz is the king of remedies and I gladly recommend it to all in need of medical aid."

Akoz is not a patent medicine but is a natural mineral that has proven very effective in the treatment of rheumatism, stomach, kidney and bladder trouble, eczema, catarrh, piles and other ailments.

Akoz is sold at the Lyceum Pharmacy, Duluth, and other leading drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.

ACCOUNTANTS' BANQUET.

Duluth Branch of State Society Gives Quarterly Spread.

Members of the Duluth branch of the Minnesota Society of Public Accountants held their quarterly banquet at the Commercial club last Saturday evening.

R. D. Webb of Minneapolis, president of the state organization, presided at the banquet and the business meeting that followed. During the evening arrangements were made for the annual convention to be held at Minneapolis next August.

CHARITY CENSOR BOARD PLANS WORK

Discusses Printed Forms and Chairman F. W. Paine Issues Statement.

The initial meeting of the committee that will pass on charitable organizations' solicitations for help, appointed by President J. B. Cotton of the Commercial club, held a meeting Saturday afternoon and went over plans for the carrying out of their work for the coming year. Reports forms, and outlines for indorsement cards were gone over and decided on, and will be ordered printed at once so that the committee may begin its work at any time that charitable organizations soliciting funds, or about to do so, may submit their case to the committee and have the matter passed upon.

F. W. Paine, chairman of the committee, outlined the general plan and aim of the organization. He made it plain that the committee does not aim to hamper worthy charities, but, rather, to help them; but, on the other hand, to condemn unworthy solicitations and thereby protect both the public and worthy charities, the chances of the latter being frequently injured with the public by people having been "stung" by unworthy individuals getting money. In this connection, Mr. Paine said:

"We wish to prevent the waste of funds, and the greatest waste comes through solicitation by unworthy organizations. They not only waste the money they receive, but divert it from organizations that would make good use of it. We know of many cases in which solicitors have come to Duluth from other cities and have obtained money that was not used for charitable purposes.

"No institution should hesitate to submit to the committee its financial plan and other information. The contributing public is entitled to that. The indorsement of the committee will be of assistance to organizations that are doing good work; the public will be protected by the exposure of those that are maintained solely for private profit. We do not believe that there are any unworthy charities soliciting in Duluth, but we know that solicitors from outside have represented such institutions and have taken money from our citizens."

FIRST MEETING OF NEW COMMITTEE

Chairman Nolte Will Announce Public Affairs Organization.

The first meeting of the newly-appointed public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club will be held tomorrow evening at the clubrooms. Dinner will be served at 6:15, following which the business meeting will be convened. Chairman Henry Nolte will name the sub-committees and outline their work, after which Joseph B. Cotton, the new president of the club, will give his first official address. President Cotton will outline the work of the club for the year and tell what he hopes to have accomplished during his term of office. Mr. Cotton fully expects the current fiscal year to be an eventful one in the history of Duluth, and for that reason looks for the club and the public affairs committee to have a good deal of work cut out for them.

It is expected that this, the initial official meeting of the new fiscal year, there will be a large attendance.

POSTPONE FLOWER SALE.

On account of the rainy weather yesterday, young Jewish women working for the cause of the Zionists, postponed their flower sale on the streets.

Despite this fact, many dozens of roses and carnations were sold through telephone orders.

The money raised from the sale of flowers will be contributed to a fund to be used by the Zionists in purchasing tracts for Jewish settlers in Palestine.

TO REDUCE KING'S PREROGATIVES

Renewed Attempt By Socialists and Radicals in Norwegian Parliament.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Christiania, May 1.—The Socialist and Radical members of the Norwegian parliament are making a renewed attempt to reduce the prerogative of King Haakon. Bills to take away from the king the privilege of conferring decorations, the right to attend the opening session of parliament and to alter the laws of succession to the throne—some of which were defeated three years ago—are to be pressed again.

After the union between Norway and Sweden had been dissolved in 1905, the country voted upon the question of adopting a monarchical or a republican form of government. Norway had been a monarchy for 1,000 years and 79 per cent of the people voted to continue that system. When Prince Charles of Denmark accepted the call of the nation to become its king, most of the people shared with him the supposition that he could be assured of reigning and working on the conditions guaranteed by the constitution. Very soon, however, the Socialist and Radical politicians began to attempt to restrict the king's prerogatives. After they obtained control of parliament in 1912, several bills were debated and voted on but failed to secure the necessary two-thirds majority. The king has the right to bestow the royal order of St. Olav upon natives and foreigners as a decoration of honor, and this has been a personal right of the king which did not concern the cabinet or parliament. Proposals to take away that right and to prevent the king from attending parliament were defeated.

Bills have now again been presented to abolish the order of St. Olav, and to forbid citizens from accepting decorations, also to forbid the king from attending the opening and closing of parliament. Another measure proposes to take from the throne the prerogative which he holds as head of the Norwegian church of appointing priests, bishops and other church functionaries. Even more sweeping than these bills is one dealing with the succession. If the king should die without an heir, under the Constitution parliament would elect his successor. This provides that under such circumstances parliament shall decide whether Norway is to continue to be a monarchy. Another would make amendments to the Constitution possible by a majority vote instead of two-thirds.

There is no dissatisfaction with King Haakon personally in Norway, but the extreme Democrats aim at making the institution of monarchy useless and paving the way for a republic. The members of the royal family live with greater simplicity than the heads of most republics. The king and queen ride in the street cars and bicycle about the country roads, and meet the people on a plane of equality.

WOMEN LIFTED FROM FEET BY THE WIND

Crossing at Third Avenue West Center of Terrific Gale.

The longest street crossing in the world Saturday afternoon and night was on Superior street at Third avenue west.

When the struggling pedestrian, man or woman, once left the shelter of buildings on either side, it was "a long way to Tipperary." Before the trip was finished, the pedestrian was drenched, gasping for breath, and usually minus one or more articles of wearing apparel.

Accompanied by a terrific wind that swept in from the lake, many wild dashes from shelter to shelter were staged during the few hours when the storm was at its height. Traffic Officer George Wood withdrew to the leeward of a nearby office building, and street car signalmen resigned temporarily, for traffic was badly demoralized.

Umbrellas, hats, caps and everything that wasn't tied down, went with the wind, and in one or two cases women were blown from their feet and were compelled to sit down on the pavement until the traffic officer came to the rescue.

HIBBING PROPOSES TO BE CLEANED UP

Several Methods of Improving Appearance of Things Are Planned.

Hibbing, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretary J. E. Lawler of Commercial club has outlined the work for clean-up and paint-up week, as follows:

Monday is fire-prevention day, and the efforts of citizens will be devoted to cleaning up indoors, ridding attics and cellars of household rubbish which may catch fire.

Tuesday activities will be centered on the back yard. Rubbish and unsightly accumulations will be removed. Flowers and vegetable gardens will be sown.

The following day front yards will be given attention. Landscape work, planting of shade trees and grass and improvements to the sidewalks and fences will be given preference. Lawns will be raked and flower plants set in gardens.

Paint-up Day Thursday.

Thursday is paint-up day. Paint brushes will be vigorously used on houses, fences, gates, barns, garages and other structures or fixtures exposed to weather and the eye of the general public. Premises will be surveyed and housewives and husbands are urged to do what they can to brighten up the village. Those unable to obtain a painter will go after the jobs themselves.

Filth and other places where flies breed and lawns where dandelions grow will be attacked on Friday. Attention will be given to screening garbage cans and other places which are the mecca for flies. Grass seed will be planted in places where dandelion roots have been removed.

Saturday will be children's day. On this day school pupils will be invited to help by picking up papers on vacant lots and otherwise making open areas clean and tidy.

"Hibbing is nationally known," Secretary J. E. Lawler said, "for its municipal pride. Now if the citizens will exhibit individual civic pride the village will be one of the most inviting and hygenic places in which to live in the state.

"Dirt does not only disgust and repulse people but is the soil of disease germs. Lack of paint on houses, experts say, shorten the life of the dwellings enormously."

GRIM REAPER GETS BUSY AT HIBBING

Four Deaths Reported, One in Case of Man Who Just Arrived.

Hibbing, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Peter Lindbeck, age 50, who died at a local rooming house Thursday night, was held this afternoon from Barrett's undertaking rooms. Lindbeck was in the village two days when he died. Interment was in Hibbing cemetery. Rev. Idstrom officiated.

William Baer, age 45, died Saturday afternoon at the Detention hospital. Funeral arrangements will be made upon the arrival of his parents from Iowa today. Baer was sick at the Detention hospital here eleven days. Pneumonia caused his death.

Two Infants Buried.

Max Painter, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Painter, 58 Morris location, died last night following a short illness. Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from Barrett's undertaking rooms. Interment was in Hibbing cemetery.

Elena Eigimattiste, the 1-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nichola Eigimbattiste, Brooklyn addition, died Saturday afternoon following a short illness. Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon from the residence. Interment was made in Hibbing cemetery.

SNOW STORM ON MESABA

Considerable of "Beautiful" Drops, Quickly Melting.

Eveleth, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The wet weather that has prevailed the past few days on the Mesaba range still continues. About 5 o'clock this morning it commenced to snow in this section and continued up to after noon. The snow melted almost as rapidly as it fell and will be a great benefit to growing crops. It is not believed frost reported in some places did very much damage, as young crops are not far enough above the ground to be injured.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR KNIFE RIVER TEACHER

Knife River, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A shower was given by the principal, Miss Edna Glenn, and the two grade teachers, the Misses Zelda Glenn and Leebaw, in honor of Miss Amy Thompson, primary and grade teacher, whose wedding will take place in June. The decorations were white and yellow, the dishes and candle holders of cut glass, making a brilliant setting for the delicious orange salad, angel food and other beverages served, all in white and yellow. Miss Thompson received many beautiful gifts. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Jones, White, Turner and McCall. Misses Rema and Charlotte McPhee, Lydia Reynolds, Mayme Upthegrove, Leota and Hazel Champaign.

NORWEGIANS PLAN BIG CELEBRATION

Great Gathering of Norsemen Expected at Virginia Exercises.

Virginia, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—This, Norwegian day, the 101st anniversary of the independence of Norway, will be celebrated here tonight by Norsemen from all portions of the range, as briefly announced in Saturday's Herald. The exercises will be held at the Finnish Temperance hall, and there will be a program of English and Norwegian musical numbers. E. J. Larsen will make the address of welcome to the visitors.

A feature of the program will be the singing of "Tipperary" by the Norwegian Quartet club, the four-part arrangement having been made by N. O. Foosness, a member of the club.

The program is as follows: Address of welcome, E. J. Larsen; "Sangedhilsen," (Grieg), "Norge, Norge," (Wendelborg), Norwegian Quartet club, O. R. Olsen, director; "Tame Variation," (Daniels), Olaf Langlo; speech of the day, E. C. A. Johnson; "Ja, vi elsker," (Nordraak), audience and club; "Naar fjordene blaaner," (Paulsen), "Brudeferden," (Kjerulf), Norwegian Quartet club; "Echoes From the North," Kraft's orchestra; selection, "Tuten," quartet; reading, selected, J. Jacobson; "Aftenroster," (Borg), "Vikingsonner," (Moller), "Ritch, Rutch, Bom," (Paulsen), old quartet; "America," (Lully), quartet club and audience.

BUCK LAKE SECTION RAPIDLY DEVELOPING

Nashwauk Commercial Club Working to Get Road Built There.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Buck Lake country near here is rapidly developing into a rich farming section and the Commercial club has started an agitation in favor of better road facilities to that section from this village.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Commercial club, President Raatama was authorized to appoint the following committee to go before the Itasca county board at Grand Rapids tomorrow and urge the appropriation of $5,000 for repairing the road: P. H. Tweed, Charles Latvalla, J. C. Lewis, Oscar Johnson and Abe Markus.

Santo Sella was unanimously elected treasurer to fill the vacancy of Alex Jaffe, who is now located at Calumet, Minn.

Further plans for the Fourth celebration were discussed at the meeting which will give the citizens here one of the best celebrations that was ever held here. The following committee was selected to act on the Fourth of July celebration: H. Haugen, Mayor H. T. Reifel, J. H. Tweed, Charles Latvalla and Santo Sella.

Crockett Brown, manager of the Unique theater, is also trying to make arrangements with a moving picture firm to have moving pictures taken on July 4th, including pictures of the various mines, schools and the celebration. Many other important matters that will aid in Nashwauk's lively celebration were discussed and prepared.

Given Farewell Party.

A pleasant farewell party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Aitkin at the high school auditorium Thursday evening by their many friends. The high school orchestra furnished music and everyone enjoyed dancing after which lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Aitkin were presented with a beautiful set of silverware. They have resided in the village for the past six years and will leave shortly for Milwaukee, Wis., where Mr. Aitkin has purchased a motion picture theater.

H. A. Gilruth was a Duluth visitor Saturday, accompanying his wife home from Negaunee, Mich., where she spent a few weeks visiting relatives.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE AT GRAND RAPIDS

Peter Olson, Lately From Wheaton, Minn., Cuts Wrist.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Laboring under delusions that some one was trying to kill him and that he was being pursued, Peter Olson, aged about 40, apparently a farm laborer, tried to kill himself here about 8 a. m. today by severing an artery in his wrist with a razor at the Great Northern depot. Some men working on the telephone system saw a man walking about holding aloft his wrist from which blood dripped and called officers who took the man in custody and had him treated by a physician. If he had not been discovered in time he would have bled to death. Olson came here recently from Wheaton, Minn., and is said to have about $400 on deposit in a local bank. An effort is being made to locate his relatives as it is believed the man is temporarily demented.

GRAND RAPIDS COURT.

Judge Stanton Is Now Trying Civil Cases.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge C. W. Stanton today resumed the session of district court here taking up the civil calendar. There are a number of such cases to be tried.

CHISHOLM EVENTS SPOILED BY WEATHER

Chisholm, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rain, snow and sleet, put a damper on the ball game between Hibbing and Chisholm, the Athletic Girls' picnic and the opening of the new Longyear Lake park Sunday. Baseball fans were very much disappointed as a good game was expected.

Virginia Eagles' Mulligan.

Virginia, Minn., May 17.—Virginia Eagles will be the host tonight at a mulligan smoker to be given at Moose hall in honor of the members of Eveleth lodge. The entertainment is given for the purpose of increasing the good fellowship between the two lodges and to lay plans for assisting the Eveleth members in entertaining the state convention of the order which meets there next month.

TWO HARBORS PLANS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Exercises Are to Be Held on Saturday, May 29.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committees in charge of arranging the program and exercises for Memorial day held a meeting Saturday evening. The committee on martial music reported that it had met with the Two Harbors marine band in regard to securing the band for the day. A proposition was finally agreed upon. The band will play at the hall, lead the march to the cemetery and back again to the passenger dock. It was decided to hold the exercises on Saturday, May 29.

Wants Business Closed.

A committee consisting of George Munford, John P. Paulson and F. E. Evans will visit the business men and ask them to close their places of business Saturday afternoon between the hours of 1:30 and 3:30. Five members of the Duluth drum corps will be present and take part in the exercises.

An invitation to join in the parade to the cemetery and return was extended to the members of the Two Harbors Automobile club.

Henry K. Gillon was appointed marshal of the day. A firing squad from the Duluth militia has been engaged for the day.

It was decided to hold the exercises in the fair ground buildings, as they are much larger than any other available place in the city.

PLANTING SEEDLINGS ON SUPERIOR RESERVE

Many Young Pine Trees Are Being Set Out Near Ely.

Ely, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Leslie M. Brownell, supervisor of the Superior National Forest, and a crew are planting about 50,000 Norway pine on the Birch lake part of the reserve. The pines are seedlings grown the past few years. A. B. Gibbs, state forester, and men, are setting out about 20,000 pine seedlings in the Burntside forest on Burntside lake. These trees were shipped in from the Itasca park nursery and are a healthy lot of 3-year-old seedlings. About 80 per cent of the trees, set out by the foresters last year, are in a healthy condition and more seedlings will be planted next year.

LAST JURY CASE NOW BEING TRIED

Pair Alleged to Have Attacked Man With Axe Face Jury.

Virginia, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Martin Hughes and a jury in district court today are trying the last jury case of the present term. Oscar Saari and Lauri Mattson are being tried on the charge of assault with an ax on Oscar Holmstrom. It is alleged that during a drunken row in Virginia several weeks ago they attacked Holmstrom with a double-bitted woodsman's axe and severely cut him about the head. The wounded man has about recovered from his injury and is in court, along with the axe that did the injury, to testify. O. D. Larson, Duluth is defending and Assistant County Attorney Boyle prosecuting. On the conclusion of the case Judge Hughes will dismiss the petit jurors from further attendance on court. He still has some court cases to consider, but expects to dispose of most of them before adjourning court to meet at Hibbing June 1, when another term will be commenced.

MANY REPENT SINS.

Sky Pilot Sorenberger Ends Successful Two Harbors Revival.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Sorenberger, the cluckerjack sky-pilot, completed a series of revival metings here last evening when he spoke to one of th largest crowds that has turned out to hear him. Fully 900 people crowded the fair buildings, where the revival meetings have been held. Mr. Sorenberger has been conducting these revival meetings here for the past three weeks or more and has in that length of time converted about 250. After the services last evening about twenty "hit the sawdust trail," to quote Billy Sunday.

The revival meetings were held under the auspices of the following churches: The First Presbyterian, First Methodist, Swedish Methodist and the Norwegian Lutheran. The pastors of each of the churches took a very active part in the services.

ELY MOTHERS' CLUB ENDS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Ely, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The officers for the Mothers' club were elected at the last meeting as follows: President, Mrs. H. E. White; vice president, Mrs. J. C. Mapson; secretary, Miss Borchill Sand; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Quigley. Mrs. W. D. Gallagher and Mrs. George T. Ayres were appointed delegates to the convention of federated clubs at Chisholm on May 25 and 26. Mrs H. E. White and probably several other members will also attend the convention.

The club has done much the past year, especially during the severe winter months, to eliminate poverty among the needy of this city. The club also tried to see that all poor children enjoyed Christmas.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

BELGIAN MEAL TICKETS DISPLAYED IN VIRGINIA.

Virginia, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two tickets issued by the relief committee in Belgium, one calling for soup and the other for bread, were received today by Mrs. O. A. Porier of this city, who has been active in Belgian relief work and are displayed in the First National bank windows where these grim souvenirs of a great calamity attract much attention. Thirty bowls of soup were secured on one ticket as shown by the punched holes, while nearly as many loaves of bread were issued on the other.

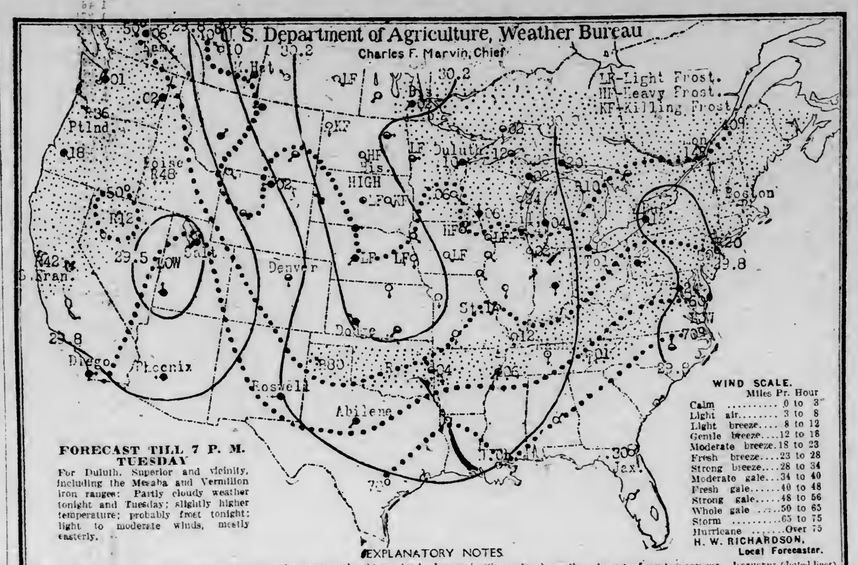
No Need of Being Old or Wrinkled Before 75

Lillian Russell says any woman who has wrinkles before she's 75 is herself responsible for them. Sunshine and fresh air she considers more valuable as complexion preservers than nostrums and cosmetics.

The chief objection to cosmetics is that at best they only temporarily cover up defects. There are certain true aids to Nature, which may be applied with directly opposite effect. Ordinary mercolized wax, for instance, actually removes a bad or oldish complexion, by gradually, almost imperceptibly, peeling off the worn-out scarf skin. Just one ounce, procurable at any drug store, will soon unveil an entirely new and natural complexion, with an exquisite girlish color. Of course cutaneous blemishes, like pimples, freckles, blotches, moth patches, liver spots, disappear with the discarded skin.

To prevent or remove wrinkles, a face bath, which also produces natural results, is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This is immediately effective and gives no untoward after-effects. —Advertisement.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. TUESDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Partly cloudy weather tonight and Tuesday; slightly higher temperature; probably frost tonight; light to moderate winds, mostly easterly.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Observations taken at 7 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

CLOUDY

Doubtless this will be a fine day forstale jokes about snow—even puns, the last resort of the witless. But who can say that it is not deserving? Sunday was a day of uncertainties except as to temperatures. On that score there was no doubt about the chill; but the uncertainties came on the matter of whether or not it was safe to go out for a walk or drive; whether 'twas better in the house to suffer, or, by defying rain, to draw it. Last night snow fell back of the city. On the hillside, walks grew icy and dangerous last evening. Today snow started and fell for quite a while and everybody got a grouch. What the future holds is, as is its habit, problematical. Well, let'er go—who cares—we're calloused.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 4:29 and will set this evening at 7:39, giving fifteen hours and ten minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours rain fell over the Northwest, Eastern and Southern states and the far West. Chilly weather prevails throughout the Northwest and Middle West. Light to killing frosts occurred last night over the Dakotas, Western and Southern Minnesota, Nebraska and Western Iowa. Temperatures of 90 deg. or higher occurred Sunday over South Atlantic and East Gulf states."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 17.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Tuesday; rising temperature; frost tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Tuesday; heavy frost tonight; rising temperature Tuesday.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight; rising temperature Tuesday.

North Dakota—Fair weather and rising temperature tonight and Tuesday; frost in east and central portions tonight.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and probably Tuesday; rising temperature; frost in east portion tonight.

Montana—Showers tonight and Tuesday; somewhat warmer tonight.

Lower Michigan—Partly cloudy, continued cool tonight with frost; Tuesday fair, slightly warmer.

Upper Michigan—Fair, continued cool tonight with frost; Tuesday fair; slightly warmer.

CONSPIRACY CASES ARE NOLLE PROSSED

Indictments Against Moyer and Others in Copper Country Quashed.

Calumet, Mich., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The conspiracy indictments found against President C. H. Moyer and other officials of the Western Federation of Miners, to the number of eighteen, by the Houghton county grand jury a year ago, as a result of acts of violence alleged to have been committed at the direction of the defendants during the copper strike here, were nolle prossed today by Judge P. H. O'Brien in the Baraga county circuit court at Lanse, on motion of Prosecutor W. J. Galbraith of Houghton county.

C. H. MOYER.

The prosecutor said the strike has established in this community certain fundamental facts and principles, and its conduct, leadership and subsequent events have thoroughly discredited the imported mercenary agitators and the gospel of class hatred.

MAY NOW DEPOSIT MONEY BY MAIL

Any Person Over 10 Years Old May Start Postal Savings Account.

Although thousands of new depositors have taken out postal savings accounts and millions of dollars have been taken from "stockings" during the last year, the department at Washington has now widened the scope of the postal savings banks so that every person 10 years old or more may open an account after July 1. This important extension of the service will be made possible by permitting persons living in communities so sparsely settled as not to justify the designation of their local postoffices as regular postal savings banks, to open accounts by mail.

This information has just been received by Postmaster William E. McEwen from Washington, D. C., and he declares that the new regulation when put into effect will greatly enlarge the usefulness of the postal savings bank.

EATING WHAT YOU WANT

Not to be limited in his diet but to eat whatever he pleases without discomfort is the dream of every dyspeptic.

Nobody can honestly promise to restore any stomach to this happy condition because all people cannot eat the same things with equally satisfactory results. It is literally true that "what is one man's food is another man's poison." But it is possible to select a pleasing diet from articles of food that cause no discomfort and it is possible to tone up the digestive organs.

When the stomach lacks tone there is no quicker way to restore it than to build up the blood. Good digestion without rich, red blood is impossible and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer the best way to build up the blood. They also have a direct action on the nerves and as the nerves control the processes of digestion, these pills are especially good in stomach trouble attended with thin blood and in nervous dyspepsia.

You can begin this treatment at once because your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Perhaps you are not eating the right foods. Sometimes the very things that people eat 'for their health" are the things that hurt them. A postal card request to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will bring a free diet book. Write for it today.

EXAMINATION OF BARNES

Plaintiff in Suit Against Roosevelt Again on Stand.

Follows Number of Former Members of the State Legislature.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 17.—William Barnes resumed the witness stand in the supreme court today to submit to further cross-examination at the hands of John M. Bowers, chief counsel for Theodore Roosevelt. He followed to the stand a number of former members of the state legislature, who gave testimony regarding the deadlock of 1911 over the election of a United States senator.

One of these witnesses, William Keyes, said he talked with Mr. Barnes about the senatorial situation and quoted Mr. Barnes as saying it would be a good idea if the Republicans would stand with the Democratic insurgents to elect an independent Democrat.

Similar Testimony.

Several former legislators gave testimony of a similar nature. Among them was Eugene M. Travis, state comptroller and formerly a state senator. Mr. Travis attended the conference at Mr. Barnes' house, which has been told about by previous witnesses. He said Mr. Barnes asked him whether he could get the Republican legislators from Long Island to vote for an independent Democrat.

Witness said Mr. Barnes stated "that seemingly enough votes could not be gathered," to elect an independent Democrat. Mr. Travis said he considered that ended the matter.

Loeb Back.

William Loeb, private secretary to Col. Roosevelt, when he was president, and later collector of the port of New York, has returned to Syracuse. Witnesses for Mr. Barnes have contradicted Mr. Loeb, who testified that Mr. Barnes in 1911 told him he "could not do anything" to end the deadlock. The plaintiff's witnesses all admitted having seen Mr. Loeb at an office in New York where the former collector said he talked to Mr. Barnes, but they swore they saw him late in 1912 or early in 1913 and not in 1911.

The belief prevailed that Mr. Loeb would go on the witness stand again after the plaintiff's case in rebuttal has been concluded.

IOWAN DIES AT BRAINERD

Veteran Le Mars, Iowa, Business Man Passes in Gopher City.

Brainerd, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry W. Vanskickel, aged 83, of Le Mars, Iowa, died here at the home of his grand daughter, Mrs. Charles Sutter, who he was visiting. He was a prominent Mason and Shriner of the Sioux City, Iowa, lodge. He was active in business to his death.

He leaves seven children: Harry Vanskickel and Mrs. C. M. Hough of Brainerd, Mrs. F. J. Kenedy of Luverne, Minn.; Watson Vanskickel of Sioux City, Iowa; Mrs. O. L. Laudenstager, Mrs. Rhoda V. Tempel and J. H. Vanskickel of Le Mars, Iowa. The body was shipped to Iowa.

W. C. T. U. GATHERING.

District Convention at International Falls This Week.

International Falls, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The W. C. T. U. district convention will meet here on Tuesday and Wednesday. The district comprises unions in Gemmell, Blackduck, Northome, Cohasset, Mizpah, Margie, Little Fork and International Falls.

Delegates are expected from each of these towns and the state president, Miss Resette Hendryx of Minneapolis, will also be present.

Meetings will be held Tuesday and Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. On Tuesday night, besides the medal speaking contest, Miss Hendryx will render music and an address. A number of automobiles will be ready on Wednesday morning to show the city to the visitors.

Quickly Relieves Without Distress

The congestion of waste and refuse from the stomach, fermenting in the bowels, generates poisonous gases that occasion distress and invite serious illness. Health and comfort demand that this congestion be speedily relieved and the foul mass expelled.

The well-founded objection most people have to the violence of cathartic and purgative agents is overcome by using the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A dose at night brings relief next morning, without discomfort or inconvenience. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

MARKET HAS FAIR UPTURN

Wheat Advances on Crop Damage Reports From Over Northwest.

Flax Strong, With Crushers Picking Up Supplies at Low Spots.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 17.—Wheat was strong around the close on good general support. May wheat closed 1⅛c up; July 1⅛c up and September 1⅝c up; May durum closed ½c up; July ½c off, and September 1c up.

Oats closed 1c up at 51½@52½c for on the track; rye, unchanged at $1.12@1.13, and barley unchanged at from 65c to 75c.

At Winnipeg, July oats closed ¼c off at 63¼c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.45, and calls at $1.50½.

Lurid reports of damage through flies in Kansas, Missouri and other sections of the Southwest led to a strong market in wheat this morning. Opening quotations were firm and thereafter the market advanced to the extent of 2½c, with good buying reported by millers and some short covering. Export business was quiet. Seaboard operators met with some inquiry, but only a straggling trade was put through.

Duluth grain men advised sales of a few lots of one and two northern wheat to Eastern millers, but no export trade was noted.

The sharp reduction in elevator stocks here is becoming a subject of more and more concern. Wheat stocks in the elevators at the Head of the Lakes were reported last Saturday at 3,315,000 bu, a decrease of 564,000 bu in the week. From that total is, however, to be deducted 662,000 bu, since loaded out of the houses. Further liberal forwardings are expected on May contracts, so that stocks in hand at the end of the month will be in small proportions. The tightness of millers' supplies in Minneapolis is attested in stocks of only 4,744,000 bu being carried there as compared with 15,408,000 bu a year ago. Millers there are said to be now picking up wheat in the Northwest.

Operators are disposed to regard the Southwest damage news as greatly exaggerated, pointing out that crop reporters have always been able to underestimate early damage reports at this stage of the plant's growth that have been discounted later on. Advices regarding the progress of spring wheat over the Northwest are said to be uniformly encouraging.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.54½, advanced to $1.56⅝ and eased off to $1.55¼ at the noon hour. July opened ⅛c up at $1.51½, gained 2⅜c more and reacted 1⅜c. May opened unchanged and gained ¼c. ⅜c up at $1.22⅜ and gained ½c. July Durum was quiet. May opened unchanged at $1.52½ and gained ½c. July opened unchanged at $1.53 and declined ½c. September opened unchanged at $1.20 and held there.

Flaxseed Strong.

Good buying developed in flaxseed at the opening and moderate advances were reported. As a result of the lower price levels after the decline in the seed that set in last Friday, crushers were reported to be more disposed to cover their requirements.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.96, and closed ½c up at $1.96½ asked. July opened unchanged at $1.98, and closed ⅛c up at $1.99. September opened closed ⅛c off at $2, and closed 1¼c up at $2.01¾ asked. October opened unchanged at $1.99, and closed 1¼c up at $2.00¼ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.80¼, and July at $1.83½ asked.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed unchanged at $1.93⅞, and London unchanged at $1.93½.

A moderate export trade in new crop flour during the last few days is reported by the Duluth-Superior Milling company. Foreign business in old wheat flour is at a discount at present, as it comes into competition with new crop wheat. High freight rates and the time it takes to get shipments to Europe is another factor against export flour trade just now.

Minnneapolis cash market was steady and firm with a very good demand for top grades. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 4½@7c over May and velvet chamm 2@3c over May. Flour sales were reported moderate. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.53½ to $1.58½, and No. 2 northern at from $1.49 to $1.55½.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Late steadiness in America on Saturday and liberal consumption here helped grain prices although the market was dull. Spot market was steady but unchanged, and cargo market was steady and generally unchanged with India partly 3d lower. Cables report that American winter damage is being exaggerated, and the spring outlook and Canadian prospects are excellent. American shipments were liberal, with Canada contributing the United Kingdom quota satisfactorily. American crop weather continues to exercise an important influence. Corn was dull but undertone strong in sympathy with firmness in Buenos Aires and smaller shippers' offers. Spot market was dul land nominally lower."

Liverpool stocks—Wheat, 2,368,000 bu; increase, 204,000 bu. Corn, 1,284,000 bu; decrease, 144,000 bu.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following closing letter from Chicago: "After an easier opening prices scored a good advance on further unfavorable crop reports. These found the market oversold and a general rush to cover resulted. Foreign news was mixed. Argentine weather was more favorable and should result in an increased movement from the interior. Cash markets held firm. Country is offering new wheat moderately. We favor purchases of July and September wheat on declines only, from this level."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Serious Crop Damage Reports From Missouri Has Bullish Effect on Wheat.

Chicago, May 17.—Serious crop damage reports from Missouri had a bullish effect today on the wheat market here. Assertions were received that Hessian fly was in every field in the western part of the state and that a heavy reduction of yield apparently could not be escaped. Widespread frost over the spring crop belt tended further to strengthen the market. After opening ½c off to a like advance, prices scored a material gain all around.

Talk that the crop damage in Missouri, Kansas, Illinois and other states might result in a cut of 100,000,000 bushels from the government figures of a month ago, led afterward to a sharp additional upturn. The close was unsettled at a rise of 1⅜@1½c net.

Corn ascended with wheat. At first, however, the market was heavy owing to favorable crop reports and because of easy cables. Opening prices, which were ⅛c to ¾c lower, were followed by a rally to well above Saturday night's level.

Predictions of frost counted against the bears. Quotations closed firm, ⅝@½c net higher.

Oats merely reflected the action of other grain. Trade was of a scattering character.

Steadiness was the rule in provisions. The bulge in cereals seemed to offset lower prices for hogs.

FLAX LOAD IS TOO HEAVY

Traders Weary of Carrying Seed and Market Weakness Develops.

A weakness has set into the flax market which bids fair to continue for some time, unless something in the way of heavy crop damage or an ending of the war should be reached. The market has remained strong in the face of no demand for many weeks, but during the week just ended the weakness developed, and it would seem to be about time.

Flax seems like a dead issue so far as marketing conditions are concerned. The fact that there will be an immense shortage in the acreage sown to the seed this year is offset by the fact that stocks are stagnant. Local elevators, for instance, contain about 1,200,000 bushels of the seed and there is not the slightest demand for it. Holders are wearying of carrying it and would like to unload as soon as they can. Of course there is the occasional demand for small lots by crushers, merely to fill immediate needs, and there the demand ends.

In the face of this condition, the government of the Dominion of Canada is urging its farmers to sow some flax at least in view of the fact that it will be practically none planted in Europe. But American farmers are not influenced by this condition for they can see no relief in the flax situation until there is some indication that the war will end.

In the meantime flax will be inactive and a poor investment for realizing on it under present conditions would be impossible. Of course, on the other hand, should the war end, it will make another story, for it is believed that the demand would be enormous, with but, comparatively speaking, little to meet it.

EARLY GAINS ARE REDUCED

Extreme Dullness Prevails During Session of Stock Market.

Short Covering Checks Further Decline in the Final Hour.

New York, May 17.—Last Saturday's price recovery was resumed on a broad and general scale at the outset of today's trading, standard shares gaining 1 to 2 points, while war specialties rose 3 to 7, Bethlehem Steel making the greatest advance. Trading reflected confidence in an adjustment of impending international complications, London's market for our shares showing firmness. Dealings were fairly large, but without spectacular feature. United States Steel was the only stock to show unusual activity at the opening, a block of 4,600 shares being offered at 52½ to 53, against last week's close of 51⅝.

Initial gains were followed by slight recessions, resulting mainly from selling for profit. This condition in turn gave way to yet a higher level for some of the leaders, notably Steel. Specialties, however, failed to retain more than a fair share of their advance, Bethlehem Steel, for instance yielding 3 points. Trading slackened before the end of the first hour, becoming almost stagnant by midday. Commission houses, recently prominent in the rising market, took little part in today's operations, which were almost wholly under professional control. Bonds were strong.

During the mid session trading dwindled to the most slender proportions and prices shaded until many of the early gains were reduced to fractions. War stocks made further recessions of 1 to 3 points.

Extreme dullness prevailed throughout today's stock market session. Early gains were partly reduced later. Short covering checked a further decline in the final hour. The closing was firm.

SERVICE NOT SATISFACTORY

Suburbs Protest Against Earlier Evening Train Schedule.

New Duluth, Fond du Lac and Smithville Demand Extra Train.

Employes of the steel plant will have to wait only forty minutes instead of an hour and a quarter for a train to bring them home from work, beginning this evening. The new schedule for the operation of the Fond du Lac passenger will go into effect this evening. Instead of leaving at 6:10 o'clock, as it has been doing for the past year, the train will leave the union depot at 5:25 p. m. It will leave Fond du Lac at 6:10 and arrive at the steel plant at 6:30 o'clock.

New Duluth residents are now preparing a petition to be forwarded to the state railroad and warehouse commission asking for a hearing on railroad transportation for this end of the city. With the removal of the later schedule leading citizens of New Duluth and Fond du Lac say the suburb has been badly handicapped.

At the proposed hearing it is intended to demand another train that will serve as an extra to care for the employes of the steel plant.

"The proposed service that will go into effect this evening is unsatisfactory all around," said L. R. Taylor, secretary of the New Duluth Commercial club this morning. "The train will leave Duluth too early to be of good use for residents of the suburbs, and employes of the steel plant will have to wait forty minutes after quitting work before the train arrives to take them home. In bad weather this is a long time when there is nothing to protect them from the elements."

Two petitions are now being circulated, and every resident of New Duluth, Fond du Lac and Smithville as well as those of Morgan Park will, it is expected, sign. This will be forwarded to the railroad commissioners. The residents will ask for the restoration of the service given this end of the city up to August last year.

IS DELEGATE TO GENERAL ASSEMBLY

West Duluthian Will Attend National Meeting of Presbyterians.

William Towner, 414 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, will leave this evening for Rochester, N. Y., where he will attend the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of America, which will be in session from May 20 to May 30. Mr. Towner will be one of four commissioners representing the Duluth presbytery and the only representative from the city of Duluth to the conference.

The other three delegates from the Duluth presbytery are Rev. George Turner of Gilbert, Rev. James Watt of WILLIAM TOWNER.

Carlton and Louis Nelson of Mora. Mr. Towner is one of the elders of the Westminster Presbyterian church of West Duluth.

Before returning home Mr. Towner will visit at the home of his son, William Towner, at New York city, and relatives in other parts of the Eastern states. He expects to be gone about three weeks.

MRS. ROSE BROWN DIES.

Had Been Resident of West Duluth Nearly Quarter of Century.

Mrs. Rose Brown, age 71, a resident of West Duluth for nearly twenty-five years, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Anderson, 5119 Wadena street, following an illness of several months. The funeral service will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the St. James Catholic church. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

STOLEN ENGINE FOUND.

Police May Get Thief Who Visited Finnish College.

The engine stolen nearly two weeks ago from a motor boat at Spirit Lake owned by George Ritchie of Morgan Park showed up yesterday afternoon at the New Duluth fire hall. The engine was brought to the fire hall by "Casey" Cejovich, who wanted assistance in making repairs to it.

When the engine was brought in it was immediately recognized as the one stolen from the boat. When "Casey" was asked where he got the engine, he said he had purchased it from a workman in Morgan Park for the sum of $3.

He was unable to give the name of the man from whom he had bought it, but said he had been delivering papers to him for some time past, and that the man had worked during the construction period at the park.

The engine, as well as considerable copper and brass from a pump belonging to the Finnish Working People's college, was stolen Saturday night, May 1. Since the discovery of the engine the police have been busy on the newly found clew, and expect to have the thief under arrest within a short time. They are of the opinion that the same man stole the brass from the pump.

WEST DULUTH BUILDERS

W. B. GETCHELL.

The expression of "Let George do it" might well be adapted to W. B. "Ben" Getchell. If there is any particular piece of business to be done, it matters little whether it is in his line or not the usual expression is "Let Ben Getchell do it." He usually does it.

"Ben" became a good West Duluth citizen nearly two decades ago. He says he landed here because he could not think of any other place to stop at. That was when he came here from the Klondyke where he located a rich gold mine. To prove that assertion he sometimes will show some of the highly lithographed stock certificates.

His first view of West Duluth was followed by the conclusion that this should be a great city. Since then he has been doing his best to make it such.

Mr. Getchell is probably the most active public citizen in West Duluth today. He is at present a member of the school board, served as alderman from the Eighth ward several terms under the old form of government, and was a candidate for mayor two years ago.

Several good stories are told about Mr. Getchell. He is a member of the Western Curlers of this city, in fact its treasurer. Once he was a member of the rink that won a trophy. He lays the winning of the trophy more to the fact that he invariably forgot to show up on the nights he was drawn to play than to the fact that his name was drawn as a member of the rink.

"The only time I ever remember that I got really mad occurred several years ago," said Mr. Getchell this morning. "It was over a little insertion in the papers. I had an ad telling about my business and the fool printer dropped the letter 'c' out of my name."

The best time to catch Mr. Getchell in his office is at night. "That's the only time I get a chance to do something for myself," he said one night about 11 o'clock. "During the day time I am generally hopping about for someone else. I also make it a rule never to go to bed on the same day that I get up."

FALLS INTO DITCH; FARMER LOSES LIFE

Adrian Hendrickson, One-Armed Man, Perishes Near Floodwood.

Floodwood, Minn., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Adrian Hendrickson, a farmer, about 60 years old, living about six miles from Floodwood, was found dead by J. H. McGilvrey, also a farmer, early Sunday morning in a ditch along the Halden road about one and one-half miles from this village. Mr. McGilvrey notified the village marshal who in turn called up Coroner McComb. The coroner ordered the remains brought to Floodwood, and he came here last night.

It is said Hendrickson, who was known as a sober and hardworking farmer, drank considerably here, and started to walk home about 9 or 10 o'clock Saturday evening. The night was very dark, and evidently he fell in the ditch, and got stuck in the water and mud. When found his legs were covered over with mud and water, while the head was resting on the bank of the ditch also covered with mud. Hendrickson had but one arm, having lost the other many years ago. Mr. Hendrickson and his wife kept a boarding house in Floodwood for about a year, and later moved out on their 80-acre farm. He leaves a wife, but no children.

DESPONDENT ST. PAUL MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Ladysmith, Wis., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—An unknown Bohemian workingman from St. Paul walking to Ladysmith looking for work, who got despondent on account of not being successful, committed suicide at the Port Arthur pulp mill, five miles from here, by jumping into the river. The body has not been recovered.

SICK AND POOR BUT STICKS TO "PAL"

Penniless Sailor Refuses Aid Offered By the County.

JOHN LINDMAN, 56, sick and penniless, refused to be separated from his "pal," to be taken to the poor farm hospital Saturday afternoon.

Charles Anderson, 62, with whom Lindman has lived for some time past, came to A. P. Cook, clerk of the poor commission, Saturday, with a request that Lindman be taken off his hands. Anderson declared that his work was not steady enough to enable him to support both himself and his friend.

When an ambulance called for Lindman the latter refused to go. Anderson and Lindman were sailor-comrades in the Swedish merchant marine. Both have lived in Duluth for more than twenty-five years.

DIDN'T SEE "COP."

Jitneur Fined $7 for Not Obeying Signal to Stop.

Since the inception of the jitneys, Duluth's traffic rules have been violated in many ways, according to the police, but a new offense was unearthed this morning when Harry Hayden, 1801 West Superior street, was brought into police court.

Hayden, driving a jitney west on Superior street, thought the crossing at Third avenue west was clear and didn't look at Officer George Wood, who signaled to him to stop.

After the driver shifted gears he saw the forbidding hand, but then it was too late. He paid a fine of $7 before Judge F. H. Cutting and promised never again to overlook a traffic policeman.

LIGHT SUIT HIS UNDOING.

Pedestrians Saw Amateur Raffles at Work in Pool Hall.

A light colored suit last night proved the undoing of Fred Gedenberg, 21, who was found hiding under a pool table in a hall at 212 South First avenue east by police.

Pedestrians saw Gedenberg in the pool hall and called the police. Officer P. Barber, with Jailer Wanvick, answered in the "hurry-up" wagon, and by a little maneuvering, succeeded in trapping the amateur Raffles.

When searched Gedenberg had ninety pennies, nine cigars, two packages of cigarettes, and two packages of tobacco in his possession. He said that an accomplice opened the window for him at the rear of the pool hall.

The place is operated by Fred Hill.

JITNEY VICTIM HAS SUIT STOLEN

William McArthur Robbed; New Chief Secures Missing Clothes.

While William McArthur, 2804 Helm street, was being taken to his home after being injured in a jitney accident late Saturday, William C. Swan, 30, a fellow passenger, stole from him a bundle containing a suit of clothes, according to a police report this morning.

It was the first arrest credited to Chief R. D. McKercher since he assumed the office.

At Twenty-fourth avenue west and Superior street the bus, driven by Elmer Swanman, skidded and struck a street car broadside, injuring Mr. McArthur and Lawrence Smith, 2831 Huron street, the third passenger.

The driver started home with the two injured men, and as he was helping McArthur into his home, Swan took the bundle and fled, it is claimed.

Chief McKercher investigated the affair when it was reported and after a visit to Swan's home, 2705 Huron street, secured the missing suit and locked up the alleged thief. Swan pleaded not guilty before Judge F. H. Cutting and will be given a hearing this afternoon.

ARMED TO TEETH; ARRESTED.

"Freight" Passenger Denies Carrying Concealed Weapons.

Carrying an automatic Colt's revolver, loaded to the muzzle, a box of cartridges, a railroad tie spike and a flashlight, evidently prepared to do rushing business, Stanley Zawado, 28, was arrested at 4 o'clock Sunday morning by Officer Nyberg.

After Zawado had been relieved of his ugly looking "cannon," he was charged with carrying concealed weapons. He was discovered by the officer after beating his way from the Twin Cities on a freight train.

When the charge was read to him in municipal court, Zawado became indignant. He fairly bristled as he answered Judge F. H. Cutting's question with an emphatic "Not guilty!"

He will be given a hearing this afternoon.

ACCIDENT REPORTS ARE CONFLICTING

Osborne-Valcartier Collision Must Be Threshed Out in Court.

The steamer A. W. Osborne, which was in collision with the Valcartier last Thursday, has left Sarnia on her way up the lake with the coal she is carrying. A cement patch has been put on the hole in her forepeak.

The Valcartier has a hole eight feet by two feet on one side and is on the Middle Ground two-thirds of her length. Wreckers are lightering the cargo of oats to the steamer Inland, preparatory to patching her and towing her to the Grand Trunk elevator.

Conflicting stories are told of the way the accident happened. One report has it that the Valcartier was swinging around to anchor when the Osborne struck her. Another is they struck almost head on and the Osborne was damaged by the anchor of the Valcartier and the anchor of the Valcartier cut the Osborne. The facts of the accident probably will not be agreed to until tried in a court. The extent of the damage to the Valcartier's cargo is large and the money involved will run well up into the thousands.

CARGOES LACKING; BOATS LAYING UP

Many Ships Cannot Find Loads—Grain Rate Low.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tonnage that has been waiting for orders the last day or two will be laid up temporarily. Not many boats will go into ordinary, but some of the ships cannot find cargoes of any kind.

Grain shippers are not offering enough to keep boats moving. The grain trade is whipped. The rate is so low that vessel men figure they cannot accept it, ⅞ cent being the most recent. Some business for medium-sized boats for August loading has been taken at 1¼ cents.

Small coal cargoes are not scarce, but there are not many small boats operating. The small boat cannot exist under present conditions, and therefore very few have been put in operation. Large coal cargoes are all contract business and boats that are caught at this end of the route have small chance of finding coal.

Ore shippers are not selling much ore. They are hopeful that independent furnace buyers will come into the market for liberal supplies in the near future. Once large orders are started by independent furnace interests it is thought the sales will run into very much larger totals than at the initial buying a few weeks ago.

DREDGE SINKS; CREW SAVED BY LEAKY TUG

Bay City, Mich., May 17.—A dredge owned by John Martin, formerly of Green Bay, Wis., sank during heavy weather between Point Lookout and the Charity islands in Lake Huron yesterday. Her crew of five were struggling in the water, but they were picked up by the tug S. O. Dixon, the dredge's tow, after an hour's work.

It was then discovered that the Dixon was leaking and she was beached at Point Lookout. The dredge was valued at $7,000.

THREE BOATS LOADING GRAIN IN THIS HARBOR

Three boats are loading grain in the Duluth-Superior harbor today. The Delaware is taking on about 110,000 to 120,000 bushels of wheat, the Sellwood about 350,000 bushels of wheat and the Pope is taking 150,000 bushels of oats.

The grain movement from now on is expected to be slow, owing to the fact that the stocks of grain available for loading are getting to a very low point, and the rate offered—⅞ cent—is considered too low for owners of tonnage to accept.

Erie Canal Opens.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Erie canal opened Saturday noon for the 1915 navigation season. Ten boats cleared for Albany with grain and three for Utica, one with pig iron. There are about forty boats here, all of which will get out before the end of the week. Owners see a prosperous season because of the higher rates.

New Craft for North Shore.

The steamer Frank D. Phelps arrived yesterday from Lake Ontario to enter the fish-carrying business along the north shore for the Northern Cold Storage company. The Phelps is of 83 gross tonnage, is 90 feet long, has a beam of 20 feet, and has two spars. She was built in 1903.

Snow Storm on Lake.

The rain storm on land on Saturday and yesterday was a snow storm on Lake Superior and somewhat inconvenienced masters of vessels making this end of the route. The storm was comparatively local, however, not extending down the lake very far.

ASKS FOR PRICES ON STANDARDS

Commissioner Would Learn Cost of Establishing Safety Zones.

Commissioner Silberstein this morning asked local factories to enter bids on manufacturing standards for the proposed safety zones on Superior street, and if the expense will not be too large he said that he will order them made at once.

The commissioner has received an offer from a factory in Minneapolis, where the standards now in use by the Mill City authorities were made, but he would rather give the contract to some local concern, he said. The Minneapolis company makes a charge of $3.50 a standard, with a special rate for large quantities.

The present plans of Commissioner Silberstein are to order two standards, about five or six feet high, with a large white round sign on the top of each. On one will be the words, "Safety zone," while the other will bear the inscription, "Cars stop here." These will be placed about ten feet from the curb and four feet from the tracks and will be connected with a heavy rope. The standards will have 60-pound bases so that it will not be necessary to fasten them into the pavement. This is the plan followed in Minneapolis, so that they can be removed whenever the streets are cleaned, or during the winter months.

The street car company will establish the near-corner stop as soon as the safety zones are established, Commissioner Silberstein was informed today.

The commissioner also expects to hear shortly from the mayors of Minneapolis and St. Paul, where the safety zones are now in use. He wrote to the chief executives of the two cities last Saturday for information on the new system, how it works and if it has proven successful. He plans to establish fourteen zones between Sixth avenue west and First avenue east.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.

St. Paul, April 29, 1915.

Notice is hereby given, That on June 16, 1915, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable on June 1 in each year.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at time of sale.

Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.

Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.

Lists giving legal descriptions of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

J. A. O. PREUS,
State Auditor.

THE MONTH IN WHICH YOU PRINT AND ANSWER THE MOST HERALD WANT ADS WILL BE YOUR GOOD FORTUNE MONTH.

THE STAMP YOU PUT ON YOUR LETTER

When you mail a letter you pay the cost of its delivery in advance. Because of this the operation expense of the Post Office department is reduced and its rates are within the reach of every one.

Similarly, Herald want advertisements are payable in advance. This eliminates bookkeeping, expensive collections and credit losses. It makes possible a low rate.

As a matter of convenience and to further the usefulness of the want ad service, The Herald accepts telephoned advertisements, on the assumption that they will be paid for the following day.

If you cannot bring your ad to The Herald office, phone it to 324. And be sure to have the money convenient when the collector calls next day. Don't keep him waiting. Don't ask him to call a second time.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion. No Advertisement Less Than 15 Cents.

TELEPHONE DIRECTORY OF BUSINESS HOUSES.

Below you will find a condensed list of reliable business firms. This is designed for the convenience of busy people. A telephone order to any one of them will receive the same careful attention as would be given an order placed in person. You can safely depend upon the reliability of any one of these firms.

ITALY CONTINUES TO RUSH ITS PREPARATIONS FOR ENTERING WAR; DECISION NEAR AT HAND

SEIZE AUTOS OF MEMBERS OF CABINET

Machines, With Exception of Salandra's, Commandeered By Army.

Parliament to Be Asked to Confer Plenary Powers on Government.

Cabinet Holds Long Session But Gives No Intimation of Action.

Rome, May 18, via Paris.—The automobiles of every member of the cabinet, with the exception of Premier Salandra, were commandeered today by the army authorities.

The Italian parliament will be asked Thursday to vote on a bill containing a single clause conferring plenary powers on the government, according to the Giornale d'Italia. Final action regarding war is not expected until after that time unless Austria makes the first move, which is considered unlikely in view of the pacific speeches made in the Hungarian diet.

The cabinet council today was one of the longest on record. At its close a brief communication was issued, stating that the ministers discussed the statement to be made before parliament. No further intimation was given as to what action was taken.

King Victor Emmanuel spent the entire day in granting audiences to government officials and in the consideration of military and political questions.

Continues Preparations.

The general staff continued with feverish activity its preparations for eventualities.

There were further demonstrations of rejoicing throughout Italy at the solution of the ministerial crises. In Rome a great crowd climbed the Capitoline hill to listen to a fiery address by Gabriele d'Annunzio who was carried on the shoulders of the people. He declared war was sacred, purifying and exalting. The enthusiasm was increased by an address by Prince Colonna, mayor of Rome, in which he emphasized the necessity for Italy to participate in the war.

In an article summarizing the situation the Tribune says: "The die is cast, the Rubicon is crossed and the Triple Alliance has been denounced."

TRANSYLVANIA SAW GERMAN SUBMARINE

Passenger Says the Ship Steered Zig-zag Course and Avoided It.

Glasgow, Scotland, May 17, via London.—(Delayed in transmission.)—A passenger who came over from New York on the Cunard line steamer Transylvania, which arrived at Glasgow today, declared that a German submarine was sighted last night. The Transylvania steered a zigzag course and was successful in racing clear of the danger. While the submarine was in sight the small boats of the liner were swung out in readiness for any emergency.

QUIZ BARNES ON PRINTING

Questioned as to Selling State Contract to J. B. Lyon.

Says He Retained $11,000 in the McCarthy Deal.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 18.—William Barnes resumed the witness stand in the supreme court here today for further cross-examination in his $50,000 libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt.

He was questioned by John M. Bowers, chief counsel for the colonel, who at once reverted to the McCarthy printing contract which Mr. Barnes purchased from the bidder who secured it and sold to James B. Lyon for $20,000.

In response to questions, Mr. Barnes said he had retained an $11,000 interest in the McCarthy contract and that this was later paid. He explained that he transferred the $20,000 to the Albany Journal company, of which he was the head, and when Mr. Lyon paid him the $11,000 this completed the transaction. He declared he had done nothing which would justify Mr. Lyon in paying him a salary. An entry in the books of the Journal company indi-

President Reviews Five-Mile Line as It Passes His Yacht.

Tens of Thousands of Persons Witness Great Marine Procession.

Fleet Will Go to Newport to Participate in War Exercises.

New York, May 18.—The big fleet of warships which has been at anchor in the Hudson river for ten days steamed out to sea at 11 o'clock today with President Wilson reviewing the five-mile line as it passed the Mayflower off the Statue of Liberty.

Headed by the superdreadnaught Wyoming, Admiral Fletcher's flagship, the sixteen big battleships and their train of lesser fighting craft steamed past the presidential yacht at a speed of fourteen knots, each ship with its sailors and marines standing at the rail at attention. As each craft neared the Mayflower her six-pounders, fore and aft, let loose white puffs of smoke and over the harbor there roared the thunder of a presidential salute of twenty-one guns.

Tens of thousands of persons flocked to vantage points to view the great marine procession. Along the water

RELATIONS OF LABOR AND LAW

Clarence Darrow Gives His Views Before Industrial Commission.

Believes People Have Right to Resist Attacks Without Authority.

Washington, May 18.—Chief interest in the hearings before the Federal Industrial relations commission centered in the reappearance today of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for examination in connection with the Colorado coal strike.

The witness had prepared a detailed statement in connection with the Colorado labor trouble which he was to read when he resumed his testimony late today.

When today's hearing opened, Clarence S. Darrow, the labor attorney, resumed his testimony regarding the relations of labor and the law.

Commissioner Weinstock questioned Darrow on military operations in strikes.

Ought to Resist.

"If a constable seeks to arrest a man without authority the man ought to have a right to resist," said Darrow. "If the militia attacks people brutally and without authority they should be resisted if there is a chance to resist and win. The idea that a man who is an officer can do anything is only fit for slaves to harbor."

"Suppose in a given case strikers should form the judgment that acts of the military were unwarranted, that violence followed in which blood was shed and property destroyed," sug-

STATE AGAIN BLOCKS HARRY THAW'S TRIAL

Order From Appellate Judge Stays All Proceedings in Petition.

New York, May 18.—An order issued late yesterday by Presiding Justice Ingraham in the appellate division of the supreme court, staying all proceedings in the habeas corpus petition of Harry K. Thaw, in which Thaw seeks to have a jury in the supreme court pass upon his sanity, brought another delay in the long drawn out proceedings against the slayer of Stanford White.

Thaw's case had been called twice during the day in the supreme court, and Justice Hendrick had postponed the case until today at the request of Deputy Attorney General Becker. The justice at the time stated that unless some action was taken in the meantime by the appellate division, he would begin the hearing today.

The stay granted by the appellate division is part of an action begun by Frank Cook of the attorney general's office. The order directs Thaw to show cause Friday morning why a stay should not be issued, pending the determination of an appeal taken by the attorney general from the decision of the appellate division last Friday in which the ruling issued by the supreme court granting a jury hearing as to Thaw's sanity, was upheld.

RUSS VICTORY IN BUKOWINA OFFSETS DEFEAT IN GALICIA

CRITICISM TOO MUCH

Sir Edgar Speyer Resigns as Member of British Privy Council.

Also Asks That His English Baronetcy Be Revoked.

London, May 18.—Sir Edgar Speyer has sent a letter to Premier Asquith, resigning his privy councilorship and requesting also the revocation of his baronetcy.

The latter declares that Sir Edgar was led to take this step after nine months of charges of disloyalty by the newspapers, which charges have lately culminated in speeches against him by public men.

The Globe, in an editorial published before the letter of Sir Edgar had been made public, complained that neither Sir Edgar nor Sir Ernest Cassel, both privy councilors, had made public "their detestation of Germany's crimes."

It was charged by the Globe that because they were of alien origin, Sir Edgar and Sir Ernest were only permitted legally to hold their seats in the privy council by an amendment in the naturalization act, which passed unnoticed during the turmoil of last August.

Resigns Chairmanship.

Sir Edgar Speyer who resigned as privy councilor, also has resigned the chairmanship of the London Underground Electric Railways company, which controls most of the city's subways and omnibus lines and has resigned from the boards of directors of various hospitals and art galleries.

The letter of Sir Edgar to Premier Asquith says:

"Dear Mr. Asquith: Nothing is hard-

AMERICAN ON TRIAL AS AN ALLEGED SPY

Anton Kuepferle Charged With Selling Information.

London, May 18.—The trial of Anton Kuepferle, who claims to be a naturalized American citizen residing at one time in Brooklyn, N. Y., charged with spying, opened in Old Bailey police court today before Lord Reading, lord chief justice, and Justices Avory and Lush.

Although it had been announced earlier that the hearings would be in camera, the authorities decided at the last moment on a public trial, and the courtroom was crowded. Admission by ticket was insisted upon. The charge alleges that the prisoner, with the intention of assisting the enemy of Great Britain, feloniously attempted to communicate information respecting warships and military forces and material calculated to be useful to the enemy. The prosecution was conducted by the attorney general.

Kuepferle pleaded not guilty. In opening the case the attorney general remarked that the prisoner had claimed to be an American, but the prosecution contended he is a German.

PRISONERS' FREEDOM OF SHORT DURATION

Three Who Escaped From Racine Jail Captured at Evanston.

Chicago, May 18.—Three prisoners, one of them a woman, who escaped from the Racine, Wis., jail last night, after robbing the sheriff's office of $1,000 and some revolvers, were arrested in Evanston, a suburb, early today.

The prisoners were Carl Miller and his wife, Mary, and Charles Jones. Miller and his wife were waiting trial on charges of arson. Jones was charged with horse stealing. They were given into the custody of W. B. George, captain of the Racine police department, who had followed them in an automobile.

ATTEMPT MADE TO MURDER CHAGAS

New President of Portuguese Cabinet Shot By Senator Freitas.

Lisbon, via Paris, May 18.—Improvement is shown in the condition of Joao Chagas, new president of the cabinet, who was shot and dangerously wounded while on board a train. Examination showed that a bullet entered the forehead and came out near the right parietal bone. It is feared Senor Chagas may lose the sight of his right eye.

Lisbon has again resumed its normal appearance except that no street cars are running. Business is being conducted as usual.

Assailant Slain.

Senator Freitas, who shot and dangerously wounded Joao Chagas, president of the new cabinet, was slain at the Entrocamento railway station by a soldier who witnessed the attack upon Senor Chagas. By his action the soldier forestalled an assault upon Freitas by civilians who were clamoring for his life. The assassin's body still is lying on the station platform awaiting the arrival of members of his family.

It was Freitas who led the attack in the senate against Alfonso Costa's party in the parliamentary conflict last year. It is believed in some quarters that the bullets which struck Chagas were intended for Costa, who arrived at Lisbon earlier in the day.

SHEFFIELD ELEVATOR AT MINNEAPOLIS BURNS

Minneapolis, Minn., May 18.—Fire today swept through the Sheffield elevator, Garfield avenue and Twenty-ninth street, destroying the building, which was filled to capacity with grain. The loss is said to be $340,000. A number of families were driven from their homes, but all escaped injury.

FRICTION IN ADMIRALTY

Spencer Churchill and Lord Fisher Said to Be at Loggerheads.

Resignation of Admiral of Fleet Thought to Be Probable.

London, May 18.—There have been no new developments so far today in the threatened break between Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, and Lord Fisher, admiral of the fleet and first secretary of the admiralty board. It is understood, however, that the matter will be the subject of a statement in the house of commons today.

The Daily Telegraph this morning says the resignation of Lord Fisher is thought to be probable.

The Times is among the London newspapers this morning which mentions the fact that Lord Fisher has not attended the admiralty for the last two days, and the rumors arising from this of friction between him and Mr. Churchill.

Restless Stage.

Editorially the Times refers to these reports as confirming the popular impression that the government, like the nation, has reached the restless transitional stage. "The government presumably is anxious about the character of its own control of the war," the Times says, "which is being subjected to widespread and searching criticism both in public and private. At present the storm center seems to be the admiralty but beyond the above mentioned facts all is rumor and we trust and believe unfounded rumor."

The editorial then goes on to refer in general terms to the dissatisfaction expressed in many quarters with Mr. Churchill, who is credited with assuming responsibility and overriding his expert advisers "to a degree which might at any time endanger the national safety."

The Times declines to express any definite opinion, but suggests it would be well to have a seaman at the head of the admiralty who would command popular approval, and it thinks the only man for this post is Lord Fisher.

NO SINGING MASTER FOR NAVAL RECRUITS

Chicago, May 18.—The singing master at the United States naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., has resigned and an hour of Swedish athletic exercises substituted for the vocal training, according to an announcement by Commandant W. N. Moffet. "This is not the good ship Pinafore," said the commandant, "the boys are learning boxing, wrestling, running, boat racing and shooting. They have not any time for musical comedy sailoring."

GERMAN BEER SIGNS TABOOED IN TORONTO

Toronto, May 18.—The anti-German sentiment in this city is becoming more acute. Yesterday the city council revoked the permit for a large electric sign advertising beers with German names, although they are brewed in Canada by Canadian citizens. Instructions were also sent to heads of municipal departments to discharge employes of German and Austrian birth.

William Kraussman, a native born German-Canadian, announced that owing to criticism he would sell his horse which is entered for the king's plate.

BROTHER OF GEN. VILLA IS KILLED IN BRAWL

El Paso, Tex., May 18.—Antonio Villa, a brother of Gen. Francisco Villa, died late yesterday from wounds received in a brawl at Chihuahua City, according to advices received today at Juarez. Several others were killed and wounded.

The fight arose, it was asserted officially, when Villa, an officer in his brother's army, attempted to quiet some intoxicated soldiers at the bull ring in the Chihuahua state capital.

The incident was said to have no political significance.

MUCH LOST TERRITORY IS RECOVERED

Czar's Troops Make Victorious Sweep Through Austrian Crownland.

Russ War Office Concedes Further Retreat in Russian Poland.

Austro-German Army Compels Them to Fall Back Between Rivers.

A far-reaching victory in Bukowina, the Austrian crownland on the eastern extremity of the Russian front, is claimed in an official announcement from Petrograd. According to this statement, the Russians have swept through Bukowina, taking back much of the territory which they held earlier in the war until they were driven out by the Austrians. Their successes are described as of such importance that they more than offset the Austro-German victory in Western Galicia, in the drive from Cracow. It is reported the Russians have taken Czernowitz, capital of Bukowina, having broken down Austrian resistance over a ninety-mile front, and captured 20,000 prisoners.

In Southern Poland the Russians confess to having been forced to retreat to a new line between the Pilica river and the Upper Vistula. Consequently their whole plan of campaign may have been profoundly altered by the irresistible advance of the German allies. The Russians have been compelled to abandon their movement in the westerly passes of the Carpathians, but they appear still to hold Uzsok pass, the main gateway to Hungary.

Emperor Nicholas of Russia today again left Petrograd for the front, although which front has not been divulged. The campaign so successfully launched in the past few days in the northern part of France, if it can be pushed home, must have a most serious effect on the German lines in the belief of British military critics. With the possible advent of Italian forces on the Austrian rear the argument is being advanced that there must be soon a relaxation of the German and Austrian pressure on the Russian front.

The Turkish general staff at the Dardanelles reports that the allies on Saturday made several attacks on the Turkish right wing. It is said they were repulsed, with the loss of 1,500 men. The British press representative at the Dardanelles telegraphs that the

KITCHENER ASKS FOR MORE RECRUITS

Tells House of Commons He Needs 300,000 for New Armies.

London, May 18.—In the house of lords this afternoon Secretary of War Kitchener said he wanted 300,000 more recruits to form new armies.

He expressed his confidence that in the very near future the country would be in a satisfactory position with regard to the supply of ammunition.

The news from Gallipoli penisula, in other words, the Dardanelles, was thoroughly satisfactory, Earl Kitchener declared.

Secretary of War Kitchener stated in the house of lords this afternoon that the British and French governments felt that the allied troops must be adequately protected against poisonous gases by the employment of similar methods. These would remove the enormous and unjustifiable advantage which must otherwise exist.

TO RE-ESTABLISH DUTCH LEGATION

Believed to Be Purpose of Visit of Monsignor Nolens to Vatican.

Rome, May 18, via Paris.—The declaration has been made here that Monsignor Wilhelm Nolens, The Netherlands prelate now in this city, was sent with the purpose of re-establishing a Dutch legation to the Vatican, a mission which was suppressed when diplomatic relations between Holland and the Vatican were interrupted as a result of The Netherlands minister of foreign affairs to invite Pope Leo to the first peace conference at The Hague.

In these efforts some observers see a purpose to hold at The Hague the peace conference which will follow the war, the pope taking part in the conference.

RAIN AND LIGHT SNOW SAVES FRUIT BELT

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 18.—Rain and light snow during the early morning hours is believed to have saved western Michigan's fruit belt from serious damage by frost last night. Snow fell in Muskegon, Jackson, this city, and hope was expressed today that the growing crops in most districts would survive.

Styleplus Clothes $17

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

"The same price the world over."

The gist of what the users say is this—"I never had a suit I liked better."

More models to choose from than you can usually find anywhere at a medium price. A selection of fabrics equally big.

The moment you slip on a suit and stand in front of the mirror you will recognize that the superior set of the coat and its style is the work of a master. The workmanship also speaks for itself.

These are the qualities that will bring you back for a second STYLEPLUS because the price is only $17—all the time. You would have to pay more if one of the great makers did not specialize on this one suit.

WILL CARE FOR WIFE.

Finding Spouse in Jail No Check to Husband's Devotion.

ARBITRATION worked wonders before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting yesterday afternoon when Lena Waters, for whom her husband had been searching two years, faced the court with her spouse.

"I was terribly ashamed, Judge," Lena explained, "just think how it would be if you were away from your wife two years and then found her in jail."

Ben Waters, the husband, came to Duluth from Hennessey, Okla., and arrived just in time to see his wife enroute to jail. He promised to take care of her in the future and Lena was released.

Charles Anderson, 28, who with the Waters woman, was arrested at 232 South First avenue east by Detectives Toewe and Bradley, was sentenced to thirty days in jail. Mrs. Waters testified that he had "kicked her downstairs," and other witnesses confirmed her story.

TOOK WRONG PACKAGE.

First "Arrest" of New Chief Allowed to Go Free.

"I took the wrong package, your honor," said William C. Swan, 30, arraigned in municipal court on a charge of stealing a suit of clothes from William McArthur, 2804 Helm street, a fellow passenger in a jitney.

Swan was Chief R. D. McKercher's first arrest since he took office, but Judge F. H. Cutting let him go.

The bus, driven by Elmer Swanman, collided with a street car at Twenty-fourth avenue west and Superior street late Saturday night and Mr. McArthur was slightly injured. While Swanman was carrying him into his home, Swan left the car, taking the package with him.

DANGEROUS TO BE AT LARGE.

Court Jails Man Armed With Spike and Revolver.

"What were you going to do with that spike?"

"That's to pry up windows with, Judge," explained Stanley Zawado, 28, who said he was not guilty of carrying concealed weapons.

"How about that gun?" continued the judge.

"Well, your honor, I bought that for $2, and I thought it would be a good thing to have on my trip."

"That," was an ugly Colt's automatic, loaded to the muzzle. Zawado also had a flashlight. He was arrested by Officer Nyberg early Sunday morning as he was alighting from the rods of the Northern Pacific freight train.

The court decided that Zawado was a bad man to meet in a dark alley and sentenced him to serve sixty days in jail.

JUST COULDN'T STAY AWAY.

Refugee From "Farm" Must Now Be Jail "Guest."

Duluth was "such a good town" that John Zeleski, 20, couldn't stay away, even though a workfarm sentence was hanging over his head.

He went to the county jail this morning for three months.

On April 13 Zeleski was arrested for stealing several hundred feet of copper wire from the Zenith Telephone company, and on April 14 he began a 60-day sentence at the "farm." Six days were enough, and then Zeleski ran away.

He went to Superior, but couldn't stand it any longer yesterday, he told the police, and so came back to Duluth. He was recognized by Officer Krawczyk.

HAS "ROLL;" SISTER BEGS.

Anton Keboski Forced to Care for His Relative.

Although Anton Keboski, 2621 Railroad street, had $900 in currency tucked away under the mattress in his bedroom for safe keeping, he allowed his sister to go from house to house begging for aid.

Residents in the West end complained to Poor Commissioner Cook yesterday that the Keboski woman, who is quite old, was annoying them by her persistent attempts to get money, food and clothing.

Upon investigation, the commissioner found Anton, like the king in the nursery rhyme:

"Sitting in his counting house,
Counting out his money."

He promised to care for his sister, and to see that she stops trying to impose upon kind-hearted neighbors.

"JEALOUSY" CAUSED ARREST.

Lodger in Sand Box Charges "Cop" With Envy.

"Jealousy—that's what it is," declared Ernest Carlson, 26, journeyman cigarmaker, at police headquarters this morning.

Carlson, with the approach of warm weather, forsook his place on the cement floor at the station lodgers' room, and took up quarters in the Soo railway company's sand box near Twentieth avenue west.

He was sleeping soundly late last night when Patrolman Duff acted as call boy and took him "in" as a vagrant. His case was referred to Probation Officer Hicks.

USED WRENCH FOR WEAPON; FINED $25

Frank Chounard, janitor in a public school at Floodwood, was fined $25 by Judge Dancer in district court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of having struck E. J. Colovin, superintendent of the Floodwood schools, over the head with an iron wrench.

Chounard was indicted on a charge of assault in the third degree by the May grand jury.

WESTERN UNITARIAN CONFERENCE BEGINS

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 18.—Representatives of seventy churches from the Alleghenies to the Mississippi were in attendance when the sixty-third annual meeting of the Western Unitarian conference was called to order here today.

Sessions will continue tomorrow and Thursday, during which time many important ecclesiastical subjects will be discussed. The meeting is also important in that it commemorates the founding of the organization in this city in 1852.

Commissioners, Postmaster and Joseph B. Cotton Will Speak.

Plans Under Way for Special Train to and From Suburb.

Duluth's governing body will move to New Duluth on the night of May 27 for a temporary stay. Mayor W. I. Prince and Commissioners Voss, Mermitt, Silberstein and Farrell have all promised to attend and give short talks at the fifth annual banquet of the New Duluth Commercial club, to be held that evening at the Kulascewicz building.

Warren E. Greene, county attorney, will be toastmaster. Among the speakers, in addition to members of the commission, will be Postmaster W. E. McEwen, Joseph B. Cotton, president of the Duluth Commercial club, will also be a speaker if he returns in time from a business trip to New York. He leaves the latter part of this week for the East.

The musical part of the program is being arranged this week. The orchestra will be furnished by Miss Esther Gomberg. A vocal selection will be given by Miss Winnifred Tower, and a duet by the Misses Winnifred and Lola Tower. Theodore Shurman will give a violin solo.

Special arrangements are being made with the Northern Pacific railroad to furnish a special train to the suburb for the occasion. This train will leave the Union depot at 6:45 and West Duluth at 7 o'clock, and returning, leaves New Duluth about midnight. The supper will be served at 7:30 o'clock

J. O. JOHNSON.

West Duluth boosters are not all confined to Central avenue. Sometimes they are to be found busy contributing to the growth of the city off on one of the side streets. Such is the case with J. O. Johnson, one of the pioneer grocers in West Duluth.

Good roads are one of the hobbies of Mr. Johnson. He has been active in assisting in getting better highways for this end of the city.

Mr. Johnson confesses to being something of a fisherman in his idle hours. On some occasions he will tell of good catches made while on trips to the country although there are few who will actually charge him with having caught any.

A good one is told on him while on a trip to one of the streams this spring. He was sitting on the bank with his line dangling in a pool when the owner of the land approached. The owner called out and said: "Can't you see the sign which says 'fishing prohibited here?'"

"I'm not fishing," said Johnson, "I'm just feeding the fish."

TO PLANT FISH FRY IN ST. LOUIS RIVER

A large consignment of pike fry will arrive in West Duluth Thursday to be planted in St. Louis river. The consignment is being shipped by the state game and fish commission to W. A. Pond, president of the West Duluth Commercial club.

The club recently requested the commission to ship the fish fry this spring so as to restock the river. This request was granted, and this morning Mr. Pond was advised that the pike would arrive on Thursday.

Arrangements will be made to take the fry in the cans to Fond du Lac where it will be dumped into the river. Fishing in the vicinity of Fond du Lac has not been very good, it is said, owing to the scarcity of fish. With the fry planted this year, it is expected that within a couple of years the place will be one of the best fishing places in Northeastern Minnesota.

Cannot Find Thief.

New Duluth police have as yet been unable to find the man who is alleged to have stolen the engine from a motor boat owned by George Ritchie of Morgan Park. The engine was purchased by "Casey" Cejovich, a newsboy at Gary and recovered by the police when the boy brought it to the New Duluth fire hall for repairs. "Casey" has been unable to locate the man for the police.

On Fishing Trip.

Rev. Herbert Ford, pastor of the West Duluth Baptist church, and Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, left yesterday afternoon for a short fishing trip at a Sunset lake, near Barnett, Minn. They will return the latter part of the week.

Attending Mother's Funeral.

R. F. Beutner and P. E. Beutner of Proctor are at Winona, Minn., where they were called by the death, last Friday, of their mother, Mrs. Bertha Beutner. She was 58 years old and had been a resident of Minnesota for forty years. The funeral is being held at Winona this afternoon.

OBITUARY

George Howard Russell, president of the People's State Bank of Detroit and a former president of the American Bankers' association, died at Detroit, Mich., May 17. He was 67 years old.

George M. Curtis, widely known as a lawyer, is dead in New York. Mr. Curtis met with remarkable success as a lawyer and some of the cases he handled attracted country-wide attention. His address to the jury in the famous Buford murder case in Kentucky stands, today, in Kentucky school books as a model of excellence. He defended Buford, who in the late seventies was tried for the murder of Chief Justice Elliott of Kentucky. Buford was the brother of Gen. Buford, the Union cavalry leader, and no Kentucky lawyer wanted to defend him. It was the first murder case in the country in which insanity was pleaded as a defense, and so brilliantly did Curtis try it that he won an acquittal for his client. In his life time he defended forty-nine men accused of the crime of murder and lost not a case.

HOMES FOR FOUR ORPHANS

Three Families Would Adopt Children Suddenly Left Destitute.

Three families living in or near Duluth want to care for the four children of Eric Peters, section worker living at Short Line Park, who lost both their father and mother during the week May 5 to 12.

On May 5 Mrs. Peters died after a short illness, and just a week later, as the husband was walking home from West Duluth, where he had been to complete funeral arrangements, he was struck and instantly killed by a Northern Pacific freight train.

The children are John Peters, 16; Elizabeth, 14; Frank, 11, and Esther, 8. Esther, the baby, was sent to Virginia, Minn., to be cared for by friends when her mother died, but the other three lived for several days and went to school without any one to care for them.

Since that time, John, the older boy, has declared his intention of "getting a job." Elizabeth is going to school and is being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Graff, 1212 One Hundred and Third avenue west.

Probation Officer F. E. Resche this morning received a letter from Mrs. M. E. Stevens of Meadowlands, who wants to adopt Frank, the younger boy. Two other families have written to Col. Resche, asking to be allowed to have one or more of the children.

WILL REGULATE ROOMING HOUSES

Commissioner Silberstein has instructed Health Director Fahey to prepare an ordinance regulating rooming houses in the city of Duluth.

Last week the commissioner found that in the western suburbs there are from fifteen to twenty persons sleeping in houses of three or four rooms and he decided to introduce an ordinance that will regulate such conditions. He has copies of ordinances now in force in other cities and these have been submitted to Dr. Fahey for reference.

"The conditions at New Duluth and Gary are deplorable," said Mr. Silberstein this morning. "In many cases the women have no privacy whatever and from a moral viewpoint this condition should be stopped at once. We have no law on our books at the present time that will regulate such rooming houses."

BOOKS FOR TOURISTS

Tourists will find the Duluth public library a good place for "travel" this summer, and those contemplating a trip to the Panama exposition may put themselves in the best possible position to see the sights worth while by looking over the many reference books at the disposal of the public. Miss Frances Earhart, the librarian, has put many very instructive books of travel in the bookrack in the rotunda of the library.

The current events of the last year have been of such a stirring nature that books on historical and geographical subjects have been of vital interest to the public, and the magnitude of current topics has been so large that new literature has been in constant demand. The Panama exposition, which would under ordinary circumstances, command international interest, has been somewhat dwarfed in importance by other events, but with the approach of the tourist season, more interest is being created daily. There is considerable call at the library now for books of travel, and works describing the scenery along the southern and northern routes to the coast, are now placed on the bookshelves in the rotunda. These are being eagerly read, and it looks as if many Duluthians would be well informed on the Grand Canyon, the Yellowstone park, and other noted spots before they go to the fair.

The general interest in the war is being satisfied also by making available the latest and best books on all the belligerent nations, military topics of

BAD WEATHER HALTS FIELD MEET

The second part of the track and field meet of the Central high school was postponed yesterday on account of the bad weather, but if conditions are favorable today, the remaining events will be staged.

The juniors and freshmen were unable to play their baseball contests. It is planned to pull off the freshman-sophomore game at Twelfth avenue east and London road today.

At the end of Friday's contests the score stood: Seniors, 22; juniors, 14; sophomores, 7. A protest, however, has been made by the juniors that five of these points are not deserved by the seniors. According to the third-year men, Seymour, a "D" man, a man of two years, was a member of the relay team, which they say disqualifies the team.

Manager Glyer says that a decision in the matter will be given when the entire meet is over.

MAGNATE OF MINES AND BASEBALL HERE

W. H. Yawkey of New York, owner of the Detroit baseball team and also of extensive mining interests on the range, is registered at the Spalding today. Mr. Yawkey is just back from a fishing trip to Greenwood lake in Cook county.

"Don't ask me about mines or baseball," he said today. "I have been fishing and have forgotten about business and baseball. I see where the Yankees have kicked my team out of first place. Sure, we have a good team! Some of our men are sick, though. I guess the mining business is going along all right. I have been too busy catching trout to really find out."

John Howard of Duluth, who knows every trout in Greenwood lake by its first name, is reported to have had some fish trained to bite Mr. Yawkey's hook when he arrived.

JEWS TO OBSERVE FEAST OF WEEKS

Special Shabuoth services will be held at Temple Emanuel this evening and at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Dr. Maurice Lefkovits will preach tonight on "The Fundamentals of Judaism" and tomorrow morning on "An Appeal to Jewish Womanhood." Elaborate musical programs will be rendered at both services.

Shabuoth, or the "Feast of Weeks," derives its name from the seven weeks that elapsed between the departure of the Jews from Egypt and their arrival at Mount Sinai, where Israel received the ten commandments.

WILL TAKE PART IN MAY QUEEN CORONATION

The entire city commission will take part in the West end celebration on May 28, according to an announcement made this morning by Mayor Prince.

The business men of the West end have invited the commissioners to participate in the festivities and this morning an official acceptance was sent by Mayor Prince.

According to the arrangements, Mayor Prince will crown the May queen on the night of the celebration, while the commissioners will take part in the parade that will follow and will also act as judges in awarding the many prizes to be donated by the West end merchants.

Let Miss Schaull Give You the Individual Bon Ton Service This Week

During previous visits to Duluth, Miss Schaull has devoted her time to lecturing on the Art of Corseting and the Figure Beautiful.

Several times her talks have been illustrated by fittings on living models. On each visit many women who really wanted it could not obtain a personal fitting, and on this visit we have specially arranged that Miss Schaull devote her entire time to meeting our trade.

She Will Show You Just Which Bon Ton Corsets Are Suited to Your Individual Needs

She will show you how to improve your figure, how to preserve its good points and how to correct any little faults of figure or carriage.

She will show you how to improve your health by proper corseting.

Bon Ton Corsets are for particular women who want the best.

Prices range $3.00 to $10.00 for the more popular models.

START EQUITY EXCHANGE HEARING IN FARGO COURT

Fargo, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case brought by Attorney General Linde to have a temporary receiver appointed for the Equity Co-operative exchange, to have its charter annulled, its business wound up and the corporation dissolved on the ground of insolvency and fraudulent and improper methods with intent to practice deception on the shippers of North Dakota came up for a hearing before Judge Pollock of the district court here today.

From the proceedings this forenoon it is possible an adjournment may be taken till a later date at the request of the defense which stated that because of the refusal of J. G. McHugh, secretary of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, to testify fully before a commissioner appointed by this court the defense had not had sufficient time to prepare its case.

Two weeks more time as well as a limitation on the time the plaintiffs had for filing additional affidavits will probably be sought by the defense.

Demurrer Argued.

A demurrer to the complaint asking the dismissal of the case on the allegation that sufficient grounds for a cause of action before the court had not been made was being argued at the noon recess. This is regarded as largely a formality and there is little indication that the demurrer will be granted.

Attorney General Linde, assistants Murphy and Bitzing and Former Supreme Court Justice Engerud appeared for the state, Attorneys Manahan and Drake of Minneapolis and Robinson & Lempke of Fargo, appeared for the defense.

Under a misapprehension that the burden of proof was on the defense Manahan asked the right to open and close the case but the court informed him that under the practice in this state the burden of proof lay with the plaintiff.

Manahan Sarcastic.

In his statement to the court Manahan referred in a sarcastic manner to the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce which aroused applause among the 100 or more Equity Co-operative Exchange stockholders present. The court announced at that stage of proceedings that the action involved a large amount of money, that it interested hundreds of shippers in the state and required serious consideration in an unbiased and uninfluenced manner and that no demonstration of approval or disapproval would be permitted and those offering it would be in contempt of court.

This put a summary stop to the demonstrations.

Manahan also started to roast the attorney general for bringing the case in the name of the state and claimed he was a tool of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce. The court stopped that line of statement by announcing that it was presumed that the actions of the attorney general, a duly accredited official of the state, were proper and legal and that until shown otherwise such statements as Manahan was making would not be permitted. Manahan's argument in favor of his demurrer followed the reading of the lengthy complaint by Assistant Attorney General Murphy and were not completed at the noon adjournment.

THREE HIGHWAYMEN GIVEN SENTENCES

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mike Bearnet, one of the men who was with the trio who held up Theodore Yukovic on the Coleraine road on March 15 last, pleaded guilty to the charge against him and with his two companions, Mike Schmitt and John Selvonski, who were found guilty after trial on the same charge, were sentenced. Bearnet and Schmitt to the reformatory at St. Cloud and Selvonski to the state penitentiary.

In the case of State vs. James Johnson the jury disagreed.

The case of Henry Thielen vs. John Shea to recover the price of a team which Thielen claims he sold to Shea for $300 was completed last evening and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

Today the case of Dr. M. M. Hursh is on trial to recover his fee for treating the little daughter of M. O'Brien of Cohasset. The amount involved is $110, and O'Brien has counter-claims amounting to $60.

Duluth Inventor Obtains Patent.

A. M. McDougall, manager Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse company, of this city, has just obtained a patent upon a new method of preserving and marketing fresh fish.

The possibilities of the fish business here at the Head of the Lakes are well known, and the problem of properly handling and marketing them has been solved by the new process just patented.

The patent was obtained through the office of S. George Stevens, 716 Fidelity building.

DULUTH TEMPLARS TO MINNEAPOLIS

More than 100 members of Duluth commandery, No. 18, Knights Templar, and thirty members of the Masonic Temple band, left at noon today on a special train for Minneapolis to attend the fiftieth annual conclave of the grand commandery of Minnesota to be held in Minneapolis tomorrow and Wednesday.

The Duluth knights decked out in full uniform and regalia, marched from the temple to the station behind the band.

Thirty commanderies of the state will be represented at the Minneapolis conclave. T. W. Hugo of this city will be one of the speakers at the celebration of the grand commandery's fiftieth anniversary.

UNDERWRITES FLEET.

American Firm With Duluth Connections Insures C. P. R. Boats.

Marsh & McLennan have been given the marine insurance on the Canadian Pacific fleet, which is said to be the largest single line of insurance on hulls. This naturally follows the acquisition of the railroad insurance of the Canadian Pacific some time ago by Marsh & McLennan. The line has been placed for twenty-five years by Williams, Faber & Co. of London and will now be cared for through the Canadian office of Marsh & McLennan at Montreal. While handled from London, none of the American companies were interested in the line, but Marsh & McLennan have given full lines to all of them.

Don McLennan, formerly of Duluth, and a member of the Manley-McLennan agency of this city, is the McLennan of the firm of Marsh & McLennan.

LIFE DRAMA IS LONG TRAGEDY

Duluthian Will Be Brought Back From Minneapolis Hospital By Police.

Last Time He Returned He Found Wife Married Again.

Life's drama, so far as Raymond J. West is concerned, has been one long series of surprises and tragedies.

When West returned to Duluth in the fall of 1913 from a nine-months' trip to the Pacific coast, he found that his wife, Mrs. Mabel West, was married to another man.

West was no Enoch Arden and procured her arrest as well as that of Arthur F. Bigby of Superior to whom she was married in the spring of 1913.

A reconciliation having been effected, West and his wife lived together again. Two weeks ago he disappeared. His mother-in-law, Mrs. M. C. Cottrell, with whom he and his wife lived, discovered that $40 of her money had also disappeared.

Before the May grand jury met, Mrs. Cottrell and her husband visited the county attorney's office and swore out a complaint against their son-in-law. What action the grand jury took has not been learned.

A man who answers to the description of West lies on a cot in a Minneapolis hospital suffering from injuries which he received this week when he was struck by a motor truck.

The man refused to divulge his name or anything about his past. A nurse, however, discovered a postcard in his pocket which gave the name of R. J. West of Duluth. She notified authorities here.

The Cottrells, parents of Mrs. West, residing at 622 Garfield avenue, are confident that the man in the hospital is their son-in-law and they have asked the authorities to arrest him on a charge of taking the $40 from his mother-in-law when he took French leave from his wife on May 3, last.

Bride Only a Child.

The Wests were married Sept. 29, 1911, and are parents of two children, one aged 2 and the other 11 months. At the time she married West, Mabel was only a girl of 15. According to her story they lived together but a few months when he left her.

The young wife, then a mother, returned to live with her parents and afterward went to work as a domestic to support herself. She finally drifted into a boarding house conducted by Mrs. Bigby at Superior.

Arthur W. Bigby, 36, son of the proprietress, paid attentions to her and finally prevailed upon her to marry him. She did so on March 18, 1913. She claimed that she told him of her previous marriage, but that he repeatedly told here that it was a "fluke" marriage. He finally persuaded her to come to Duluth and secure a license to marry him.

After Bigby and the young woman had lived together as man and wife a short time, West returned. When the girl learned that her first husband had returned, she left Bigby and returned to him. Bigby then came to the authorities with a story of how he had been hoodwinked into marrying a 15-year-old girl who was the wife of another.

County Attorney Greene subpoenaed Bigby as a witness to appear before the November, 1913, grand jury to testify against the girl, charged with bigamy. The grand jury evidently believed that he had knowledge of her first marriage. At any rate an indictment was returned against him. He was arrested in the courthouse while awaiting to find out whether the jury had indicted his wife.

When brought to trial Bigby was convicted and was sentenced by Judge Ensign to a term at Stillwater prison on the indeterminate plan. Later, however, the sentence was set aside and he was permitted to pay a fine of $250 instead. The case against the girl was never prosecuted.

SOME DAYS BEFORE ANSWER IS READY

Berlin, May 18, via London.—The official text of the American note to Germany was published here today. It was said at the foreign office that it would be some days before the answer of the imperial government was ready. This because the note raises many points, and consultation between several departments of the government will be necessary in preparing a reply.

WOULD FORBID INTENSE LIGHTS ON AUTOMOBILES

Intense headlights will not be allowed on automobiles, if an ordinance now being prepared by Commissioner Silberstein, is passed by the city commission.

The commissioner has written the authorities in St. Paul and Minneapolis for copies of the ordinance regulating headlights on automobiles and he expects to have the local measure ready by next Monday.

There is no need for blinding headlights, the commissioner said this morning. They not only blind the pedestrian, but are a menace to street traffic, he declared.

RAILWAY EARNINGS SHOW BETTERMENT

Returns From Fifty Lines for April Are Favorable.

That railroad earnings are gradually improving is shown in recent traffic statements. It is set out that fifty roads for the month of April showed a decrease of $5,392,000 or 8 per cent in traffic returns, as compared with a decrease of $7,801,000 or 10¼ per cent for March. From present indications, managements of the leading systems predict that the balance will shortly be on the right side of the ledger, it being generally conceded that the corner has been turned in the commercial and industrial situation.

Soo line officials report betterment in all directions over its system, and if the present crop prospects in the Northwest are realized, an active fall is predicted. The Soo's net revenue for March after taxes, was reported at $412,237, as compared with $374,264 last year, an increase of $33,053. On the road's Chicago division, the net revenue for March was $277,393, a decrease of $48,918 from the corresponding month last year.

In Hands of Jury.

In Judge Ensign's division of the district court this morning a jury retired at 11:30 o'clock to consider the question of the guilt or innocence of Nels Nelson, charged with having set fire to his farm home at Adolph. The jury had not reported up to a late hour this afternoon.

CLOSER TO CAPACITY

Steel Plants Operating on Basis of 70 to 75 Per Cent.

Bethlehem Steel Company's Plant Is Running Day and Night.

Iron and steel plants, taking the country over, are estimated to be operating on a basis of between 70 and 75 per cent of capacity this week, and views of the leading authorities in the trade are steadily growing more optimistic.

While the Lusitania affair is said to have brought about a slight slowing up in the placing of domestic orders in some lines, export business is upon an increasingly broad scale, and quotations are being well maintained in the various products.

Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company, is estimated to have booked at least $100,000,000 in war contracts. The corporation's plant at South Bethlehem, Pa., is operating at full tilt. Most of its departments are running day and night, and the total number of employes on its payrolls is said to be over 20,000. The shrapnel contracts closed by it are estimated to be larger in the aggregate than those booked by competitors, and on account of inadequate capacity to meet the extraordinary demand, work amounting to several millions of dollars in value has been farmed out to other companies.

Contracts of the American Locomotive company, New York Air Brake company and the Westinghouse Air Brake company figure up to about 5,000,000 shrapnel shells, and will require over 54,000 tons of steel in their manufacture. The Baldwin Locomotive company is also a large beneficiary in war contracts, and is in the market for 9,000 tons of steel to carry them through.

Among the other foreign business mentioned is a $750,000 order taken by the Combria Steel company for 20,000 car axles shipment to Russia and more than $1,000,000 by the same company to go to other countries.

Car Trade Picks Up.

Business with the car companies is said to have picked up substantially of late. An order for 1,000 steel cars has been placed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad; one for 2,700 steel oil tanks by the Atchison road, and the proposed big Pennsylvania order is expected to be distributed shortly.

Exports business of the United States Steel corporation is improving, and is now estimated to be up to what it was prior to the outbreak of the war.

Discussing the general situation in the trade, the Iron Trade Review says: "With the broadening of domestic demand accentuated by numerous inquiries for railroad equipment, the steel trade moves forward another lap in its march of improvement. Just at a time when a slight halt was noticeable in some finished lines, added impetus has been given the industry by the Pennsylvania's announcement of enormous requirements which will involve the placing of 30,000 steel cars, divided almost equally between Eastern and Central Western lines.

"Large rail orders are also pending, including 8,000 tons for the Central of Argentina railroad and 138,000 tons for Pennsylvania. War orders that have played so conspicuous a part in recent satisfactory developments show no abatement in size or number. Lackawanna Steel company will roll 30,000 tons of 65-pound rails and track fastenings for Russia, and the American Locomotive company and the New York Air Brake company have made inquiry for 27,000 and 12,000 tons of steel bars respectively to fill contracts."

THOUSANDS NEEDED IN HARVEST FIELDS

Bumper Crop in Oklahoma Ready for Cutting Early in June.

Oklahoma, through its department of labor, is already making preparations for the harvesting of the 46,000,000 bushels of wheat that the government reports predict will be handled in that state this year. Between 16,000 and 18,000 men will be needed in the task in the opinion of W. G. Ashton, the state commissioner of labor there.

Shortage of helpers at harvest time was overcome by Oklahoma last year through the adoption of a systematic method. In conjunction with the labor commissioners of Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and other great wheat-growing states, a plan was worked out by which the harvest hands were gathered from all over the country. The hands were started to work in Oklahoma, where harvest time starts earlier than any of the states. Next they were sent to Kansas and then on to the other states. So by this plan, with the several states co-operating, the shortage of men, which in years gone by has been a serious problem, has been averted.

None but English speaking people are encouraged to come to the state seeking employment in the harvest fields by the labor department. A year ago a number of foreigners landed in different parts of the state looking for work, and the fact that they could not speak English made their handling by labor department officials such a task that they did not care to tackle it again this year.

The following is the labor commissioner's statement:

"We will need between 16,000 and 18,000 harvest hands this year. The wages will range from $2 to $3 per day, and we want all white English-speaking people.

Harvest About June 5.

"The harvest from present indications will open in the southwestern part of the state about June 5, in the north central counties about June 8 to 10 and in the extreme northwest about June 12 and 15. The condition of the crop at this time is such that it might be possible that the cutting would actually begin a little earlier than this, and those desiring to come should watch the press and postoffice bulletins for definite information on this point about May 18 to 20.

PEACE DAY IN SCHOOLS

Whittier's Poem, "Disarmament," Is Included in Some Programs.

Pupils Hear Government Articles on "The Promotion of Peace."

School children throughout the United States today gave programs and special exercises commemorative of Peace day.

May 18, the day of the meeting of the first Hague conference, was designated by the American School Peace league to be observed in the schools each year. Governor Hammond, in a proclamation issued May 12, further suggested that Minnesota school children observe the day.

In Duluth schools the pupils heard articles on "The Promotion of Peace" furnished by the United States Bureau of Education, while in some classes a recitation of John Greenleaf Whittier's poem "Disarmament," was included in the program.

"We were sorry not to have been able to make more of the Peace day observance," said Supt. R. E. Denfeld, "but we were not informed of the governor's proclamation until Monday, and the time then was too short."

In a circular letter sent to all school superintendents, C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, said:

"In the geography and history of Europe at present it would be almost impossible to avoid showing the terrible ruin and devastation being wrought daily. In economics we have frequent illustrations of the disastrous effects of such a war even on nations far removed, and not participating in the terrific struggle. In our own capital and labor struggles we can begin to see dimly what a new world might perhaps emerge if all capital and labor duels should cease, as they have in some of our great industrial corporations, because 'all owners work, and all workers own.'

"In addition to the teaching of peace through the regular studies, it seems necessary, until our education has progressed much further, that at least one day a year should be set aside in the public schools for the express purpose of discussing this great world problem."

NOTED LECTURERS ON EDUCATION COMING

Educational lecturers of repute will come to Duluth next season, if plans formulated by the program committee of the Duluth-Superior Kindergarten club are carried out.

At the last meeting to be held by the organization this year, at the Blaine school Wednesday, the committee will present a list of speakers for approval.

MISSION STATIONS BEGGING FOR FUNDS

Boston, May 18.—The American board of commissioners for foreign missions today received the following cablegram, dated May 15, from the American ambassador at Constantinople, Henry Morgenthau:

"All stations begging relief funds. Some state starvation threatened. Please help quickly."

The stations mentioned are the seventeen posts of the board in Turkey.

Surety Company Sues.

Action to recover on $13,567.71, given as bonds in indemnity by the National Surety company of New York to the Graham-Young company to cover contracts, was begun in the United States district court today before Judge Page Morris. The suit is against David Graham and his wife, Minnie Graham.

NOT STATE INSTITUTION

Resche Criticises Soliciting Methods of Minnesota Children's Society.

Says State School Has No Difficulty Placing Its Children.

Criticizing the methods used by Rev. E. A. Savage in soliciting and securing funds for the support of the Minnesota State Children's Home society, Col. F. E. Resche, probation officer of the district and juvenile courts, today gave out an interview in which he takes Mr. Savage to task for his statement to the effect that considerable trouble is being experienced in finding homes for children whose parents have died or have left them.

Col. Resche declared that the state home school for children at Owatonna keeps four agents busy throughout the state all the time looking up applications of families which are desirous of adopting children and that the applications for children greatly outnumber the children to be placed. Since the state institution for homeless children at Owatonna has been operating, 4,315 children have been placed out in homes. The total number received is 5,016. The figures are taken from the last annual report.

Col. Resche, declared that people throughout the city who have been approached with reference to making a contribution to the Minnesota State Children's Home society have, in many cases, labored under the impression that the money went for the support of a state controlled institution. As a matter of fact, according to Col. Resche, the institution is a private enterprise conducted at a place midway between the Twin Cities.

The probation officer also declared that the contribution boxes which have been placed around the city, in banks and business houses with cards soliciting aid for the "Children's home" are for the support of the Twin City institution and none of the funds go to the Children's home of Duluth.

CHICAGO BANKER CHEERFUL.

Forgan Says Basic Business Is Good; Hannaford Predicts Big Crops.

Cheerful opinions continue to be expressed by leading financial, railroad and business authorities.

James B. Morgan, president of the First National bank, Chicago, expressed himself as follows in the course of a recent interview: "Money will continue as a drug on the market for the next two months. I look for a good, substantial business this coming fall following the summmer months which are naturally dull for the banking business. The farming interests are in a firm position again this year, with good crops and high prices ahead of them. The agricultural implement firms have already felt the farmers' prosperity, and I have been told that business is already well above normal with them as a result of recent buying. The basic business of the country is good, and the other will follow as a matter of course."

President Hannaford and Chairman Clough of the Northern Pacific railroad were interviewed at Chicago at the end of last week. Mr. Hannaford said: "Traffic is rather featureless, but our territory is well off and we expect another big crop. Our crop season is ahead of the average to date, and our grain acreage will be 15 per cent above last year.

"There is plenty of moisture everywhere, and I never before saw crop conditions so good at this period."

Mr. Clough said: "Lumber and coal are behind, while grain, livestock and merchandise compare very well. Our average haul tendency has been to increase, and we are continuing to hold down all expenses not essential to maintain our high standard of plant and service.

"Our business this year shows about $5,000,000 decrease to date, but we have made up all of that except less than $1,000,000 in lower operating costs."

AVIATOR BELIEVED TO BE IN DELIRIOUS STATE

El Paso, Tex., May 18.—A man believed to be the German-American aviator, Frederic Bonnie, delirious from lack of water and food, has wandered into the Villa lines about San Luis Potosi, it was reported today in advices from the south. Bonnie was the principal in an adventure a week ago in which his aeroplane was struck by a shell from the Villa artillery.

Want Old Lignite Rate.

Bismarck, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Railroads operating in North Dakota will insist that the lignite coal rate maintained prior to the time the legislative rates of 1907 were made effective, and which recently were declared confiscatory, be reinstated. This position of the railroad companies has been placed before the state railroad commission, and that body is now engaged in a study of the rate problem.

NO IMMEDIATE FEARS FOR AMERICANS' SAFETY

Washington, May 18.—Immediate fears for the safety of sixty-five or more American settlers in the Yaqui valley, Mexico, where Yaqui Indians are on the war path, were relieved yesterday by advices to the state and navy departments. The Americans, the report said, had concentrated at Yaqui, Pueblo, on the railway within reach of the coast, but for the present they were waiting and hoping for restoration of order.

FIVE TRAMPS BURNED TO DEATH ON TRAIN

Nebraska City, Neb., May 18.—Missouri Pacific freight train No. 155 was wrecked two miles southwest of Nebraska City yesterday. At least five tramps, riding in a lumber car, were burned to death. Ten cars of oil exploded. The screams of the imprisoned men could be heard above the roar of the flames, but, owing to the intense heat, nothing could be done to save them.

JITNEY ORDINANCE PASSED; ROUTES NOT REQUIRED

JITNEURS HAVE TO—

File a $5,000 liability insurance policy.
Carry no more passengers than there are seats, excepting children under 5 years of age, or two extra members of one party willing to submit to temporary crowding.
Carry but one passenger with the driver.
Discharge passengers only when the car has stopped.
Discharge passengers only at the curb, or as near thereto as possible.
Travel not faster than ten miles an hour in the business district and not more than fifteen miles an hour in the residence districts.
Stop within thirty feet of a steam railroad.
Take all lost articles to police headquarters.
Carry signs on cars, showing their routes.
Stop cars within fifty feet of street intersections.
Use chains on rear wheels during rainy weather and in the winter time.
Obtain a license at the rate of $1.50 for every seated passenger that the car can carry.
Pay a fine of $100 or sixty days, if they violate this ordinance.

JITNEURS DON'T HAVE TO—

File a $15,000 bond to cover accidents and deaths to passengers or pedestrians.
Pay a license fee of $20 a year.
Carry a light in the rear of the car during evenings.
Keep out of public parks.
Establish regular routes and time schedules.
Stop at the curb, but "as near thereto as possible."
Limit passengers to the number of seats, but can carry two extra, if they are of one party.
Lock the left rear door, but just keep it closed.
Secure a state license for chauffeurs, if they operate their own cars, or have been driving for two months.
Drive on one street, but can go on side streets as long as they reach their stated destination.
Operate on rainy days, cool days or during the winter.
Run their cars after the noon-hour rush or after the closing of factories and stores.
Follow a stated route, but may run all over the city, through the parks and over the boulevard.

Omitting the amendment establishing regular routes and time schedules and adding ten amendments proposed by Capt. C. C. Teare, attorney for the Duluth Jitney association, the city council at its regular meeting last evening finally passed the jitney ordinance introduced three weeks ago by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division. The measure will become effective on June 19.

The council chamber was packed long before the commissioners convened, it being apparent that most of those present were there in behalf of the jitney measure. Capt. Teare requested two more changes in the ordinances last evening, one being denied by the commissioners, while the other, permitting passengers to leave on the left side in case of right-hand drive cars, was allowed. The former had reference to the carrying of signs.

After City Clerk Borgen had read the ordinance for the third time and Capt Teare proposed the two additional changes, Commissioner Silberstein presented the ten amendments prepared by Capt. Teare. These were all passed unanimously and the amended ordinance was then adopted unanimously. Commissioner Merritt was absent from the meeting.

An amendment prepared by Commissioner Silberstein regulating the routes and schedules was not introduced, because the claim was made by Capt. Teare that it would be impossible for the police to enforce such a regulation.

Commissioner Silberstein will immediately order jitney licenses, so that they can be ready for distribution before the ordinance goes into effect on June 19.

SAMUELSON WILL BE FIRST ASSISTANT TO CITY ATTORNEY

City Attorney Greene, at the regular council meeting last evening, announced the appointment of John E. Samuelson as first assistant city attorney to succeed William Harrison. He will assume his duties on July 1.

The appointment was announced by the city attorney in a communication to the council.

With the appointment of Mr. Samuelson the city attorney's staff is now complete. Since taking office nearly a month ago he has appointed Walter Gomska as second assistant city attorney and Leonard McHugh as law clerk. He announced that Mr. Harrison would continue indefinitely until he could select a successor.

Mr. Samuelson is very well known throughout the state, having been chairman of the William E. Lee forces in St. Louis county during the last gubernatorial campaign. He has been a practicing attorney for many years, and recently was chosen grand exalted ruler of the Duluth lodge of Elks.

Mr. Harrison, who has been first assistant attorney for the last two years, will continue in the private practice of law.

JOHN E. SAMUELSON.

"S. R. O." SIGN AT CITY HALL

Big Audience at Evening Meeting of the Council.

Jitney Ordinance and Other Matters Occupy the Session.

The "S. R. O." sign was hung out at the city hall last night.

Long before the city commissioners convened for their regular weekly meeting, the council chamber was packed and by the time City Clerk Borgen called the roll, the audience had filled the aisles and the entrance. The city commissioners are "drawing well," and the popularity of night meetings is constantly growing.

Mostly Routine Business.

Outside of the jitney ordinance, which was passed last night, very few important matters were taken up. The council awarded several contracts and ordered a number of minor street and sewer improvements in various parts of the city. The vacation of twenty-two streets and alleys near Highland street was laid over another week, at the suggestion of the city attorney, because of an irregular contract.

On motion of Mayor Prince the ordinance prohibiting the removal of electric wires or poles by house movers was tabled, after it had been given its second reading. The mayor stated that the men, who favored such an ordinance, had not agreed on its provision and that the matter will be presented at another time.

Because he wants to change the contract, so that 10 per cent of the cost of sidewalks can be kept out the first year and 5 per cent the four following years, in place of 8 and 3 per cent, respectively, Commissioner Farrell was authorized to reject all bids on the construction of cement walks and to advertise for new proposals. The contract for plank walks was awarded to Killin & Co., on their bid of $10,940.

The following contracts were also awarded: To D. H. Clough, for the paving of Ninth street, from Seventh to Fourteenth avenues east, on his bid of $24,128.24; to J. W. Preston, for the paving of Sixth street, from Twenty-first to Twenty-fifth avenue west, on his bid of $12,154.85; to Norquist & Berg, for the construction of gas and water mains in Twelfth street, from Third to Fourth avenue east, Eleventh street, from Thirteenth avenue east to 292 feet easterly, and Tenth street, from Ninth to Tenth avenue east, on his bid of $1,320; to the Mutual Auto company for furnishing the water and light department with a Ford automobile on their bid of $560; to the Standard Oil company, for furnishing the public works division with asphaltic cement and fluxing oil, on their bid of $486.25.

Claims for Services.

Claims for professional services were allowed the following physicians: Dr. I. J. Murphy, $33; Dr. O. S. Olson, $45; Dr. W. E. McCabe, $12; Dr. C. E. Vercellini, $18; Dr. N. H. Gillespie, $10, and Dr. R. S. Forbes, $10.

The Duluth Herald was designated the official paper of the city of Duluth for another year.

Sanitary sewers were ordered constructed in the alley between Olney street and Tacony street and between Sixty-first and Sixty-third avenues west, in Sixty-first avenue west to Tacony street, in Tacony street to Sixty-first alley west and in Eleventh alley, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenue east. Gas and water mains were nues east. Gas and water mains were from Michigan to Superior street, and in Michigan street, from Forty-first to Forty-third avenue west.

Saloon license renewals were granted to C. R. Honan, 1524 West Superior street; Arthur Salter, 414 Central avenue; Peter Schmidt, 6503 Grand avenue; W. J. Fremont and J. A. Carey, 306 Central avenue; Sterling Rogers, 6625 Grand avenue; William Hesbeck, 314 Lake avenue south; Norman Smith, 522 West Superior street, being a transfer from 520 West Superior street; Nels Erickson and Carl O. THOUSANDS APPEAL IN BEHALF OF FRANK

Governor of Georgia Receives Many Requests Asking Commutation.

Atlanta, Ga., May 18.—Three thousand letters, many from public officials, asking that the sentence of death imposed upon Leo M. Frank, be commuted to life imprisonment, were received by Governor Slayton yesterday. The total number of similar appeals now in the hands of the governor is estimated at 75,000.

Prominent men who have interceded by mail for Frank in the last few days include Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France; Philander C. Knox, former secretary of state; Chairman Walsh of the Federal commission on industrial relations; F. I. Delano of the Federal reserve board; Senators Borah, Thomas, Newlands and Reed; Governors Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania; Ferris of Michigan; Hall of Louisiana, and Mayor Rolph of San Francisco.

Ferris Appeals.

Lansing, Mich., May 18.—Governor Ferris of Michigan yesterday made a personal appeal to Governor Slayton of Georgia, for the commutation of the sentence of Leo M. Frank, whose fight to escape the death penalty imposed upon him after his conviction of the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory girl has attracted nation-wide interest.

In a letter to the Georgia governor, Mr. Ferris based his argument on the fact that he is opposed to capital punishment. By commuting the sentence, Governor Ferris wrote, Governor Slayton could make amends for any mistake which either the jury or the courts might have made and at the same time give heed to the request of Frank that he be given a chance ultimately to prove his innocence.

POSTPONE HEARING IN SHRAPNEL CASE

Milwaukee, Wis., May 18.—Argument on the order of Circuit Judge William J. Turner, requiring Gen. Samuel Pearson to show cause why proceedings for the examination of Otto H. Falk, president of the Allis-Chalmers company and others in connection with the alleged manufacture of shrapnel shells for the allies, should not be permanently stayed, was today postponed until Thursday, May 20.

South Dakota Odd Fellows.

Mitchell, S. D., May 18.—South Dakota Odd Fellows and Rebekahs met here today for the annual meeting of their grand lodge, grand encampment and Rebekah assembly. Preparations have been made for the entertainment of 1,200 members of the three-linked order.

Fire on Ship Extinguished.

Tokio, May 18.—"A wireless dispatch received yesterday says that the fire on board the steamer Chiyo Maru, which broke out Sunday afternoon, has been extinguished. It was confined to a small section of cotton cargo.

Heads Auto Association.

Boston, Mass., May 18.—The American Automobile association, at its annual meeting which opened yesterday, re-elected John A. Wilson of Franklin, Pa., a cousin of President Wilson, as president. Except for the choice of P. J. Walker of California as vice president, all other officials were re-elected.

FROST CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE IN DULUTH AND NORTHWEST

Gardens Suffer and Only Hardy Plants Withstood the Cold.

Lake Helps Temper Air; Another Freeze Is Predicted.

That there was heavy damage from the frost of last night in Duluth gardens is becoming more apparent as the day wears on. The growing warmth of the sun is developing wilts where it was hoped in the morning hours frost had not touched.

Duluth was not alone in the heavy frost belt, the entire Northwest, and, according to reports from Washington, almost the entire country was touched. In Duluth, however, the frost was distinctly of the killing variety and tender plants in all parts of the city have suffered. The chief damage, it is claimed, was in low places and in glens behind the hill where the lake influence did not reach. Reports from Superior, which comes in the low-lying territory, are to the effect that lilac bushes and vegetation in general suffered greatly.

Weather Forecaster Richardson says that the temperature's lowest point during the night was 26 deg., which is 6 deg. below the freezing point; and he adds that at the weather bureau ice formed, which was from 1-16 to ¼ of an inch thick.

Sunlight Wilts Vegetation.

Expert gardeners say that a quick thaw, following a heavy frost, does much more damage than if the thaw were gradual, the thawing, in reality, doing the damage, and not the freezing. It is believed that the bright sunlight, unhampered by clouds, today will wreak havoc in many places. It is claimed that the chief damage is found, in such instances, on clay soil—sandy soil and sandy loam not being so much affected. C. H. Roe, whose specialty is nursery stock, says that so far as he has found, fruits, as a rule, have not been damaged, but that it is about all over with the tender plants. Shrubbery and the hardier perennials have withstood the test; but plants put out during the recent very warm spell, despite advice against it, have probably been killed. Many Duluthians had flower seeds well sprouted and only the hardier plants were saved.

Warnings Issued.

Mr. Richardson, who has been issuing warnings for several weeks against too early planting, says that the danger is not yet past, and that there is another killing frost due tonight. He says that while territory along the hillside, influenced by the lake, did not suffer so very much last night, as did other portions of the city, it is well to protect the plants. He suggests that in preparation for tonight and every night until the frost period is passed, plants should be given protection if in no other way than but covering them with paper, the corners held down with stone. Piles of stable refuse, piled to windward and set fire, will also protect them, he says, for the smudge holds off the effects of the frost. But some measures should be taken, he declares.

Cold Over Northwest.

That cold weather was universal and by no means confined to Duluth or to the Northwest, is shown in the following dispatch from Washington:

"Abnormally cold weather prevailed last night throughout the entire country except in the gulf states, with temperature 20 deg. below the season average in the Upper Lake region and the Dakotas.

"Reports to the weather bureau told of two disturbances, one accompanied by heavy frosts in Nebraska, Minnesota, and parts of Iowa and Wisconsin, and the other attended by rains over the Northern states east of the Mississippi, which was said to be responsible for the unsettled conditions and lower temperatures.

"The eastern storm was said to be passing off into the Atlantic and the one in the West to be moving eastward.

"Frost warnings were issued last night for the lake region and the central portions of the east mountain districts."

"PAPA'S SHOT HIMSELF," SAYS CHILDISH VOICE

Laborer, Despondent Over Wife's Illness, Tries to End Life.

Police Find Him Trying to Complete Job—Will Die.

"Come quick, papa's shot himself!"

When a girlish voice stammered this over the telephone to Operator Lutz at police headquarters shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, officers made an emergency run to 1809½ West First street.

They found Olaf N. Rapp, 47, leaning against a wall with blood streaming from a wound in his right temple, pulling the trigger of his revolver again and again, as if to make sure of his work, although the gun held nothing but empty cartridges.

He was taken to St. Luke's hospital, fatally wounded, and Police Surgeon Harry Klein, after an examination, declared that he could not live.

"My wife's got consumption and I'm tired of living, anyway," explained Rapp before he became unconscious at the hospital. "I don't want to live. I want to end it all," he repeated.

This was the only explanation the police were able to make of the affair, the belief being that Rapp, who has been a laborer at the Alger-Smith company's mill, became despondent over his wife's illness.

His wife, with two small children, was in the house at the time of the shooting, and looked on, helpless. There were only two loaded cartridges in the weapon, the first bullet grazing his head and burying itself in the wall, while the second entered the head just above the right temple, coming out on the other side.

BUSY YEAR IN PROSPECT

New Public Affairs Committee Will Hold First Meeting.

Sub-Committees Will Be Announced—President Will Make Address.

The newly appointed public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club will hold its initial meeting this evening at the club rooms and will be informed of its sub-divisions into working committees by Chairman Henry Nolte, and will listen to the first official address of the new president of the club, Joseph B. Cotton.

The business meeting of the committee will follow dinner, which will be served at 6:15, and it is expected that there will be a very large attendance, for the general belief is that the ensuing year will be one of the most active and important in the history of the club and much interest is being taken. This interest has been enhanced by reason of the fact that Mr. Cotton has been elected president of the club, which, members believe, forecasts an energetic administration and with plenty of intiative furnished.

The appointment of the sub-committees and the naming of their chairman tonight will complete the working organization of the club for the year. In view of the fact that practically all of the work of the club is done by these committees, Chairman Nolte has taken much thought to the matter of the assignment of members of the public affairs committee to the sub-committees and believes that the minor organizations will prove effective and efficient.

Get Together Meeting.

In his speech tonight, President Cotton announces, he will make no formal statement, but will talk in a general way of what there is to accomplish during the coming year, of Duluth's exceptionally advantageous situation to profit by the revival of business, and of what he hopes that the members of the committee on public affairs will do.

"Some time, after the work has properly started," said Mr. Cotton this morning, "I may make a formal statement embodying plans that are already in mind and those that may develop as the work goes on. But at present, it seems to me, what we want is a get-together meeting so that we may all enter into the spirit of working hard for Duluth during this year, which appears to me to give promise of exceptionally fruitful possibilities. No other city in the country is better situated or in better condition to meet the business revival even more than half way and to seize opportunities for business development that always come following a halt. The public affairs committee, I believe, is made up of men who are alive to these opportunities and who combine with their business alertness and foresightedness the spirit and energy to seize them and make the most of them. That is what we want to talk over tonight. It will not be a one-man talk, nor discussion by a small group, I hope, but a general expression of opinion of what should be done and how to do it."

TEN OBTAIN FREE GARDENS

Remainder of 300 Plats Still Open to the Public.

Ten of the 300 public gardens recently platted by the city in the Harrison division are now under cultivation.

Mayor Prince, head of the public affairs division, who platted the free gardens, announced this morning that ten men have applied since the offer was made two weeks ago, and that they are now working daily on their plats. Any persons wanting a garden may have one by applying to Miss Edna Meeker of the Associated Charities, the mayor said.

The public gardens are on both sides of the boulevard drive running through the Brookdale division. Each plot of ground is 30 feet square and a 3-foot walk extends around the entire grounds and each garden. The land is owned by the city, having been purchased three years ago for park purposes, but because of insufficient funds, no improvements will be made for some time to come. As a result the mayor and Park Manager Cleveland arranged to plat the property so that citizens, who have no land of their own, may have small gardens during the summer.

If the plan is successful this year, it will be continued next year, the mayor said this morning.

Hairs Will Vanish After This Treatment

(Toilet Helps)

You can keep your skin free from hair or fuzz by the occasional use of plain delatone and in using it you need have no fear of marring or injuring the skin. A thick paste is made by mixing some of the powdered delatone with water. Then spread on the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and all traces of hair have vanished. Be careful, however, to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

One Agent's Comment

One of the leading advertising agencies of the country writes to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association:

'In going over the figures for our billing for the month of February, this year, I find that our newspaper department billed exactly 45 per cent more volume in newspapers this year over the same month of last year."

Just another straw showing the direction of the advertising wind.

The drift of national advertising is towards the newspapers, because the test of time shows them to be the best result producers.

D. A. REED WILL GIVE ADDRESS

Will Discuss Water Works Convention at Housing Code Meeting.

Preceding the public hearing on the housing code at the council chamber this evening, D. A. Reed, manager of the water and light department, will deliver an address on the convention of the American Water Works' association held at Cincinnati last week. Mr. Reed attended the convention and delivered one of the principal addresses.

The entire council will hear Mr. Reed's address at 8 o'clock, after which the commissioners will conduct the public hearing on the housing code. Both meeting are open to anyone interested.

Last week the general committee, consisting of representatives from the Commercial club, the Builders' Exchange, the Real Estate Exchange and the Building Managers, presented a number of amendments to the housing code, which they declared are necessary. Objections to several were made by E. A. Silberstein, president of the Associated Charities, and after a conference held with the health director and building inspector last Friday, the mayor announced that a public hearing will be held this evening.

Those amendments meeting with favor at the meeting tonight will be prepared for presentation at the council meeting next Monday.

Burning, Sweaty or Sore Feet.

Don't endure foot agony. Here is quickest and surest remedy known. "Two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in warm foot bath." This gives instant relief; corns and callouses can be peeled right off; excess sweating or tenderness is overcome and bunions reduced. It acts through the pores and removes the cause. Get a twenty-five cent package of Calocide at any drug store. Prepared at Medical Formula, Dayton, Ohio.

MANY OBJECT TO PROPOSED SHIFT

Do Not Want Commissioners Voss or Silberstein Disturbed.

The announcement in The Herald last evening that the reorganization of the city council is up for consideration a second time has brought protests by citizens against any change that will mean the shifting of Commissioners Voss and Silberstein. Each declared this morning that he is willing to take charge of the utilities division in the carrying out of a reorganization program, but the protests received today convinced them there is a strong sentiment against such a change. It was suggested to the commissioners this morning that Mayor Prince and Commissioner Merritt exchange departments, but this is not thought advisable by the commissioners in view of the fact that the mayor must be at the city hall, virtually all of the time, and his duties as utilities head would demand his presence at the water department headquarters.

The commissioners are still trying to find some solution that will meet the approval of the majority of voters.

JITNEURS ON GROUND EARLY

Although the jitney ordinance passed last night does not become effective until June 19, about a dozen jitney drivers made application to City Clerk Borgen this morning for licenses.

These applications will be referred to Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division, according to provisions of the ordinance, and he will submit them to the council for final action.

It was announced by the city clerk this morning that the regular cab licenses now in use will be given to jitney drivers obtaining the permits. These will start numbering from 300, so that there will be no mix-up in the different licenses.

The ordinance provides for a license to cost $1.50 for every seated passenger that an automobile can hold. No license can be issued for less than $5.

BETTER RATES OR NO DEVELOPMENT

President Pennington of Soo Road Gives Railroad View of Legislation.

Edmund Pennington, president of the Soo line, W. L. Martin, vice president, and G. R Huntington, general manager, came to the Head of the Lakes yesterday afternoon on a special train, spent last night in Duluth and left today for a trip to the Cuyuna range. They will return this evening and leave for Minneapolis tonight.

When questioned as to present business conditions, Mr. Pennington made the rather paradoxical statement that there was too much money in the banks of the country for general prosperity.

"Too much money in the banks simply means," said he, "that the people are afraid to withdraw their deposits. There is a fear of something—a nameless fear, as it were, and it is just this hesitancy, this desire to keep money out of circulation that is making present conditions."

Mr. Pennington added that there will be no railroad building until the roads of the country are granted satisfactory rates—rates that will pay a fair dividend on the capital invested. Mr. Pennington asserted that it costs something like 10 per cent more than formerly to operate roads, while the returns to the railroads through rates are smaller.

Declaring that adverse business legislation was responsible for present conditions, Mr. Pennington said that there would be a business boom if congress would fail to meet for ten years

CLOQUET GIRLS SHOW SAMPLES OF COOKING

Cloquet, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The girls of the eighth grade cooking class of the Washington school entertained their mothers at a luncheon at the high school yesterday afternoon. They also gave an exhibit of cookies, pies and cakes of their own make. The luncheon was served in the domestic science rooms which were decorated in purple and yellow. This class is under the instruction of Miss Beatrice Parks, a senior, and is making remarkable progress

LOSS OF APPETITE
Most Successfully Treated by Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Loss of appetite is accompanied by loss of vitality, which is serious.

It is common in the spring because at this time the blood is impure and impoverished and fails to give the digestive organs what is absolutely necessary for the proper performance of their functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable all-the-year-round medicine, is especially useful in the spring. Get it from your druggist today. By purifying and enriching the blood and giving vitality, vigor and tone, it is wonderfully successful in the treatment of loss of appetite and the other ailments prevalent at this time. It is not simply a spring medicine—it is much more than that—but it is the best spring medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the rich red blood the digestive organs need.

MANITOBA'S FORMER PREMIER A CALLER

Sir Robert Roblin Passes Through Duluth on Way East.

Sir Robert P. Roblin, former premier of Manitoba, passed through Duluth yesterday. He was en route from Winnipeg to Toronto and spent but a short time here.

Sir Robert did not discuss politics, but declared that the people of Canada looked for better times, whether the war ended in the near future or not, and that, generally speaking, the depression across the line had been somewhat exaggerated.

Sir Robert was premier of the province for twenty years and his recent resignation came as a great surprise to Canada as a whole. Charges against his government, not against himself, of irregularities in connection with funds expended for the construction of the new $3,000,000 government building, caused him to appoint a royal commission to investigate, after which he handed in his resignation to the lieutenant governor, Sir Donald Douglas Cameron. He was succeeded as premier by Thomas C. Norris, and Manitoba is watching the latter's development with interest.

Sir Robert Roblin is credited with being the most potent of all factors in the development of Manitoba and Western Canada.

TWO GRAND LODGES ARE IN SESSION

Grand Forks, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Degree of Honor grand lodge, which opened its annual meeting here this morning, received a report from its special committee in charge of the anti-tuberculosis fund, showing that $2,000 is on hand of the $2,500 being raised to build a cottage at the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Dunseith. The balance of the fund, it is expected, will be obtained soon.

The grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen also opened here today.

Both gatherings are attended by a total of over 300 delegates. Yesterday the executive board of the A. O. U. W. held its annual meeting, preparing the report for the sessions of today.

Very satisfactory conditions are shown in the reports of the officers of the two bodies, there being a big increase in membership, with several new local lodges organized.

Monday night there was a slight frost and the green things growing in many of the gardens were killed.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from Boyce Drug Store, No. 331 West Superior street, or any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

TRYING OUT CORN IN KOOCHICHING

Several Varieties Will Be Planted to Ascertain Best.

International Falls, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — Several sacks of seed corn have been obtained by the high school agricultural department and will be distributed among farmers in the local school district to plant. It is proposed in this way to ascertain the best varieties of corn to plant in Koochiching county, as some of the best varieties obtainable are in the lot.

Among them are the popular Minnesota 23, six-row Vermont flint, North Dakota white flint, Gehu flint and northwest dent. This seed has all been obtained at Mahnomen, Warren and Crookston and it will prove by reports made by the farmers in the fall which variety is best adapted to this region. A quantity of mangles of both long and short varieties have also been brought in and will be distributed with the seed corn.

To Distribute Alfalfa Seed.

Alfalfa seed of the best kind will be ready for distribution in a short time. Thirty pounds have been obtained and will be distributed in quantities of one pound each, which amount is sufficient to sow one-tenth acre. By the time the seed is ready to sow, germs to use in inoculating it will be on hand from the government department and all seed will be treated with it. These germs come in small bottles and are mixed with the seed. They draw nitrogen from the air and thus aid in the germination and development. Edward Vancura, instructor in agriculture at the high school, is in charge of caring for and distributing these seeds.

One incubator containing twenty eggs hatched out a large number of Barred Rock chicks yesterday very good results being obtained. Four more incubators holding a total of about 500 eggs will soon produce results also.

Forty-two garden plots which youngsters from the grades planted and are caring for, are coming along in fine shape, most of the vegetables being well above the ground.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff it to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces or ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do its work.—Advertisement.

FURNISH WATER AT COST.

City to Receive No Profit From Charitable Institutions.

The city of Duluth will furnish water at cost to the Children's home, the St. James' orphanage and the Bethel.

At the council meeting last evening Commissioner Silberstein introduced a resolution authorizing the water and light department to furnish these three charitable institutions with water at cost during the present year.

Similar action has been taken by the council during the last few years.

"BEYOND THE POINT OF ROCKS"

MUCH INTEREST IN MAY CELEBRATION AT WEST END

MISS GOODNY NEILSEN.

The May celebration to be held by the business men of the West end is attracting much greater interest than was expected according to results which were shown at the meeting of the general committee yesterday afternoon. The parade will be the big feature and promises to become a great industrial pageant.

Miss Goodny Neilson, 21 North Twenty-first avenue, is one of the late entrees in the "May Queen" contest. The known contestants now are: Miss Neilson, Miss Linda Olson, Miss Anna Olson, Miss Inga Brende, Miss Ruth Peterson, Miss Alice "Tonsy" Mattson and Miss Edith Olson. Several others whose names will not become generally known until the ballots are counted, will be voted for by their friends.

At the committee meeting yesterday it was decided to start the parade at Twenty-ninth avenue west. From this place it will march to Garfield avenue and then return. On the return the float carrying the successful contestant in the May Queen contest will stop in front of the Rex hotel where Mayor W. I. Prince will make a presentation speech on behalf of the committee.

Virtually every merchant in this end of the city will be represented with a float in the parade. In addition to this, arrangements have been made for two bands. The boys from the various schools will also take part.

No intimation as to how the candidates for May queen stand can be had until the ballots are counted. The committee yesterday decided on the appointment of Alfred Moe, Matt Konecsny and William F. Mohoupt as judges of the contest.

WILL LECTURE ON LIFE IN REFORMATORY

REV. HANS JULIUS WOLNER.

"Four Years in a Reformatory, or What I Saw Behind the Bars" will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Rev. Hans Julius Wolner, rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal church of Virginia, on Thursday evening, May 27, at St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street. Rev. Mr. Wolner was one of the instructors at the St. Cloud reformatory for several years following his school days.

The pastor has given many lectures on this subject in various cities and has attracted large audiences. For three years he was superintendent of the school at the reformatory. Not being able to get close enough in touch with the inmates, he asked to be transferred to some other department so that he could study them at closer range. He then became assistant night cell housekeeper. This gave him an opportunity of talking more with the prisoners.

Rev. Mr. Wolner's lecture touches on the conditions under which the prisoners are kept, the possibility of their reform and their behavior at the institutions.

Mrs. Scribner Called.

Mrs. Margaret Scribner, aged 40, wife of Howard Scribner, 2804 West Third street, died yesterday afternoon following a short illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home with interment in Oneota cemetery. Mrs. Scribner was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America. She is survived by three daughters besides her husband.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty Seekers

Lydia says: "I've tried most everything for my freckles, but can't lose them. What do you suggest?" See answer to "Stella." The treatment suggested I've never known to fail in any case of freckles or other cutaneous blemish.

P. J. K. asks: "Is there anything better than massage to remove wrinkles?" Too much massaging may aggravate a wrinkled condition, tending to soften and loosen the tissue. I advise bathing the face in an astringent lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.

Stella writes: "My complexion is horribly muddy. What shall I do for it?" Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's. Apply this nightly like you'd use cold cream, washing it off mornings. This will cause the offensive cuticle gradually to make way, by a process of gentle absorption, for the clear, velvety healthy-hued skin underneath.—Woman's Realm.

WEST END BUILDERS

A. B. ANDERSON.

One of the younger business men of the West end who has taken an active interest in the upbuilding of the community is A. B. Anderson. Mr. Anderson has been a leader in the work of the West End Commercial club for the last few years and is a member of several of its important committees.

It was largely through the personal work done by Mr. Anderson that the West end business district now has a "white way." He was chairman of the committee that procured the signatures of the property owners as well as from the business men that rent the buildings, to the petition asking for the "white way." The names of all interested had to be obtained before the improvement could be put in.

Mr. Anderson is president of the Anderson Furniture company. He resides at 2126 West Second street.

LUMBER CONCERN MUST PAY TAXES

Otherwise Beltrami Sheriff Will Seize and Sell Spooner Plant.

Bemidji, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unless the International Lumber company, a Backus concern, pays its personal property taxes amounting to $10,367.29 on its plant at Spooner within forty-eight hours Sheriff Andrew Johnson will seize the company's sawmill products at Spooner and proceed to sell the lumber to the highest bidder.

This action follows the decision of Judge C. W. Stanton here Monday, denying the motion for an injunction restraining the sheriff of Beltrami county from seizing the lumber of the Backus sawmill at Spooner to pay the 1914 tax, which was brought through their attorney, Harris Richardson.

The warrant for confiscation of the lumber at Spooner was given to the sheriff by Clerk of Court Fred Rhoda, following the refusal of the lumber company to pay their taxes and this warrent commanded the sheriff to collect the taxes with penalties and costs.

The sheriff then seized a portion of the lumber yard and put a deputy in charge. It is estimated that the lumber now being held by the county is worth about $100,000.

Alleges Illegal Assessment.

The reasons given by the lumber company for seeking to restrain the sheriff from selling its lumber were that the tax was illegally levied; and that the warrant was illegally and prematurely issued and that the state tax commission had illegally increased the assessed valuation of the property without notice to the lumber company.

In the course of his decision denying the injunction the judge says:

"Prior to 1897, the statute provided that the county treasurer should file his list of unpaid personal property taxes on April 1, and that the clerk should immediately thereafter issue his warrant. No provision was made for time after filing of the list in which to answer. Even under the law as it then existed, our supreme court held in Nelson Lumber company vs. McKinnon, 61 Minn., 219, that:

"Even though by reason of irregularities and omissions, the tax proceedings are in fact void, if the distressed warrant is regular on its face it protects the officer, executing it in a reasonable manner.

"In the light of that decision where would be the consistency in now holding that a more liberal rule should apply in a case where the tax debtor has failed to take advantage of the generous provisions which allows him ten days in which to answer?

Should Not Intervene.

It, therefore, seems plain that the court should not intervene to restrain the sheriff from performing a mandate of the distressed warrant, unless the warrant is void on its face. The conclusion narrows this controversy to the one question: Whether the premature dating of the tax warrant vitiates it and renders it invalid? I am unable to assent to the counsel of plaintiff that it does. I am of the opinion, rather, that the warrant need not be dated at all and that it makes no difference what date it may bear. It does not in the least affect the material facts that no authority was attempted under it by the sheriff until after the lapse of all the time which the statute accorded to the plaintiff in which to answer or pay the tax and that no attempt was made by plaintiff to pay the tax. It could in no manner prejudice the plaintiff.

"To give attention to such and alleged defect we would be widely departing from that statutory provision in relation to tax matters which requires the court to disregard all technicalities and matters of form not affecting the substantial merits. It would be a flagrant disregard of the rule of law laid down in Kipp vs. Dawson, 31 Minn. 373, that:

"No one should be permitted to plant himself upon the non-feasance or misfeasance of officers under these tax laws which in no way concerns or prejudice him.

"Further, such adequate remedies at law as will preclude the plaintiff from the equitable relief sought in this action seems to be provided by section 2079, G. S. 1913."

NORTHERN NATIONAL BANK

KOOCHICHING TO SEIZE PLANT, TOO

International Falls, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Stanton at Bemidji has denied the injunction sought by the Backus-Brooks people to restrain Sheriff Thomas White of Koochiching county from seizing personal property belonging to them for delinquent taxes. These people are in arrears in their personal property taxes to the amount of about $16,000 and unless the amount is paid within forty-eight hours Mr. White will be authorized to seize the property. The fight was made for the lumber forces for this restraining injunction on the grounds that the warrants issued by the county clerk here were premature and that the state tax commission acted illegally in the matter. Arguments of the matter took place before Judge Stanton in St. Paul, May 10. County Attorney Franz Jevne was confident of a victory for the county from the beginning.

NATURAL GAS MEN IN SESSION IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 18.—More than 800 delegates were present when the tenth annual convention of the Natural Gas association opened for a three days' session here today. A meeting of the National Association of Natural Gas Supply Men began at the same time and will run jointly with the Natural Gas association convention.

Mayor Spiegel welcomed the delegates in behalf of the city, and Judge S. M. Douglass of Mansfield, Ohio, responded on behalf of the association.

RESINOL STOPS SKIN TORMENTS

How This Wonderful Ointment Ends Itching and Heals Skin Eruptions.

The soothing, healing medication in Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap penetrates the tiny pores of the skin, clears them of impurities, and stops itching instantly. Resinol positively and speedily heals eczema, rashes, ringworm, and similar eruptions, and clears away disfiguring pimples and blackheads, when other treatments prove almost useless.

Resinol is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for twenty years. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment (60c and $1) and Resinol Soap (25c).

MISS MARGARET ANNEKE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Anneke of 1801 East Second street, and Leon Allen Perl of Honduras, were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Oscar Sanne at Glenellen, a suburb of Chicago. After a two months' wedding trip Mr. Perl will probably return to Honduras for a time and Mrs. Perl will remain in Duluth. Mr. Perl is in charge of a mine in Honduras that is financed largely by Duluth capital. It is in the interior of the country far from civilization.

The ceremony yesterday was attended by only immediate relatives. The decorations were clusters of apple blossoms and bridal wreath. Mr. and Mrs. Anneke, the bride-elect and her brother, Victor Anneke, left Saturday night for Chicago.

On Mr. and Mrs. Perl's wedding trip to California they will join the bridegroom's mother and sister, Mrs. Mary Perl and Mrs. W. A. Hunt, both of Duluth, and De Gray Perl, who has just come from Kobe, Japan.

Japanese Princess Marries

Season of National Gayety Begins In Nippon.

Tokio, May 17.—A brilliant court wedding took place here today when Princess Yasu, the youngest sister of the emperor was united in marriage to Prince Naruhiki Higashi-Kuni attached to the second army division of the empire.

This was the first great court event since the close of the mourning period for the late Empress Haruko. It was notable also as inaugurating a season of national gaiety, which will find its climax in the accession ceremonies at Kioto in November.

All the imperial princes and princesses were present at the wedding and the American charge d'affaires George Post Wheeler, and Mrs. Wheeler, were among the guests. Subsequently the couple was escorted before the emperor and empress for felicitations. The emperor later gave a wedding feast.

War Breaks Friendship of Long Standing

ELISE KUTSCHERRA.

The war has broken a friendship of many years between Camille Saint-Saens and Elise Kutscherra, the opera singer. Mme. Kutscherra, who had sung often under the composer's direction, met him at the dock when he landed in New York and embraced him warmly. Saint-Saens returned the embrace; then suddenly he said: "But you are German. Go away." And he hurried into his cab. Kutscherra was born in Prague but she is the wife of a Belgian and has a Belgian passport.

Miss Schmied and Brother at Baldwin Anniversary

Present Graceful New Dances Before Capacity Audience---Stock Company Has Been in Duluth One Year.

The celebration last night of the first anniversary of the appearance of the Baldwin Players in Duluth, and the debut of Miss Berta Schmied and her brother, Leo L. Schmied, were the occasion of a crowded house and a large number of theater parties at the Lyceum.

One of the chief attractions was the presentation of some of the newest dances by Miss Berta Schmied and Leo Schmied, the black and white polka, one of Miss Schmied's creations, and the Parisian tango, that was danced in Duluth for the first time last night. For the black and white polka the dancers wore satin costumes, the right side of black and the left side of white. Miss Schmied's skirt was accordion pleated. She wore a particolored satin coat and waistcoat and a black silk hat. Her hair was arranged in the Castle bob. This dance was joyous but dignified in its nature.

For the Parisian tango Miss Schmied wore a Paquin gown of rainbow chiffon. This dance differs from the former tangos for it is stately, and graceful. Both dances were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

The black and white polka and the Parisian tango will be repeated tonight and at the matinee tomorrow. Tomorrow night, Thursday night and Friday night the Maurice fox trot will be shown. Saturday afternoon and Saturday night Miss Schmied and Mr. Schmied will dance the new society dances for which there are the greatest number of requests, including the Berta Schmied pony trot, the opera one-step and the Castle polka.

After the Saturday night performance a dancing contest will be held on the stage and the winning couple will be presented with a loving cup by the Lyceum management.

Miss Schmied received many beautiful floral offerings last evening.

At the close of the performance last night a waxed canvas was placed on the stage and an hour's dancing was enjoyed by members of the audience. Miss Schmied was in charge of the anniversary dance.

Walter S. Baldwin made a brief address after the second act, thanking Duluth people for a year's generous patronage.

Duluth society was well represented. Among those who gave theater parties were: Mrs. Richard Sellwood, who entertained her twelve guests at supper at the Kitchi Gammi club; Mrs. H. A. Carmichael, with party of six; Mrs. G. A. St. Clair, party of six; Mrs. A. B. Wolvin, party of five; Mrs. Watson Mendenhall, with three guests, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sinclair and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Chapin.

Two Mild Cases of Mumps Worry Children's Home Directors

Although Patients Are Isolated, State School Will Accept No Children, and Congested Condition of Home Greatly Aggravated---More Room Needed.

Two cases of mumps at the Children's Home, neither of which is serious enough to keep the child in bed, have greatly increased the congested condition at the home, because of the refusal of the state home to accept any children while the quarantine of two rooms is on, and the problem of getting more room is giving the directors no little worry.

Relative to the meeting held yesterday at the Kitchi Gammi club by the directors of the Children's home and representatives of the health department, the city and the county, Mrs. G. Herbert Jones, president of the Children's home board, said:

"Notices for the special meeting held yesterday were sent out Saturday because the Children's home society is hampered greatly in the work of admission and dismissal on account of two cases of children's diseases. For months the family of children has never been less than 100.

Clean Bill For Two Weeks.

"The great difficulty lies in the arbitrary and absolute refusal of the state home at Owatonna to accept children from a building where there is any ailment, such as mumps, less than two weeks after a clean bill of health is given the entire building. With two children, not ill enough to be kept in bed, in absolute quarantine in the Fay and Agnew detention rooms that are equipped for perfect isolation, the home still is handicapped in admission and dismissal work and school attendance.

"This is confusing as two years ago the board of health and city and county physicians all approved of our arrangements as sufficient. Since then we set aside two additional wards for detention but on account of the ever-increasing demands, more room is needed imperatively. Cases of mumps, measles, chicken pox and whooping cough will not be accepted at detention or other hospitals in the city.

"From April 23 to May 2 the home has had applications for the admission of twenty-one children representing ten families. When examination proves the necessity for such help it is unbearable not to grant it.

Must Increase Capacity.

"At the meeting yesterday all agreed the Children's home society was justified in increasing the capacity of the home and seeking help of the community for that purpose.

"The largest financial volunteer help for the home this year came from children, many of them grandchildren of women who established the home and have helped to maintain it twenty-eight years. The Christmas club gave a sun porch that cost about $250 and the Red, White and Blue society gave $300 to the home."

Yesterday's meeting was adjourned to meet Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the Children's home.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Some Half Lies Excusable.

A judge, actively engaged in the duties of his office, recommends that a witness, if a man, and has occasion, shall lie like a gentleman when a woman's honor and reputation are at stake. How paradoxical, when every single living person's definition of gentleman includes one clause that is identical with that of everyone else, and that is, that a gentleman shall be the soul of honor and truth.

Though there can be no such thing as a lying gentleman, I think there have been many instances when gentlemen have been called upon to lie like gentlemen and that the lying has not detracted a tithe from their real truthfulness or anything from their inherent manhood. The spectacle of a man testifying against a woman in such a way as to deprive her of her womanliness is not an edifying one. No matter how bad the woman may be, men and women are unaccountably swayed to sympathy for the woman in the event of woman's natural protector standing forth and testifying to her wrong-doing with him as a party to the wrong.

An oath sworn to in a court of law to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth is, on the other hand, a rather serious question with most intelligent citizens. No one can take this matter in too serious a light. Therefore, whether a man shall lie like a gentleman under those circumstances even to defend the honor of a woman, is a subject which will be supported from both sides and wise arguments advanced pro and con.

It seems to me that there would be no great crime in claiming ignorance on a subject that sought to rob a woman of her respectability. "I do not know," is an answer easy to make to the leading question of cross-examination, albeit one must exasperate the court and the lawyers seeking testimony. While it is not the truth exactly, it acts as balm to the conscience in two ways. If one is in possession of the real facts of the matter and would save one's soul from the blacker crime of incriminating a woman and blasting her reputation, the noncommital, "I do not know," or "I don't remember," are at one's command and saves the day from this point.

As far as that goes, it seems to me that either a man or a woman, equally or even partially guilty with another, would do better to confess their own wrong before setting themselves up as informers of the wrong-doing of others. The whole scheme of permitting one criminal to go free because he furnishes information that will catch a bigger criminal is all wrong, in my estimation, humble though it is."

When You Wash Your White Gloves

Philadelphia Telegraph: Everyone is wearing washable gloves nowadays, but not everyone knows how to wash them successfully. The chamois skin and washable kid are apt to dry very stiff and hard and the wearer often has difficulty in working them on the hands after washing. These kid or doe skin gloves should be well washed as usual in soap and warm water, but instead of rinsing in clear water, a basin of thick suds should be made and the gloves saturated in these suds, then wrung out without putting in clear water and hung up to dry. The suds have a softening effect on the skin of the glove and when dry it will be found that the gloves are quite soft.

The cotton gloves are, of course, to be washed just like any other cotton article, in hot water and soap, and then well rinsed in clear water.

You will find that your silk stockings will not begin to show holes nearly so quickly if you wash them before wearing them at all. Before putting them on your feet rinse them out in soap and water and you will find that they will last twice as long. Always be sure in washing silk stockings that no soap is left in the silk.

CONSIDINE TAKES LOEW CIRCUIT BACK

Big Vaudeville Deal, Long Predicted, Is Finally Consummated.

Rumors that have been current in theatrical circles for some time, to the effect that the Loew circuit was to be transferred back to the control of John W. Considine, have finally been verified, and the biggest deal in vaudeville circles in many months has been consummated.

The old Sullivan & Considine circuit and the Western Vaudeville interests were for years the two big "small time" circuits in the West.

Following the death of "Big Tim" Sullivan, the senior partner in the Sullivan & Considine circuit, Marcus Loew bought control of the business, and took over all the old S. & C. bookings. The change affected fully 150 acts and fully 1,000 vaudeville performers. The deal is said to have represented $1,400,000.

For several months there have been rumors that all was not well with the Loew circuit, and that it was not proving profitable. Now comes the report that John W. Considine has resumed control. All the theaters booked will be "dark" for a week or ten days while new booking arrangements are made, and they will reopen under the new management.

Duluth is not directly affected by the change. The New Grand theater has been booked by the Western Vaudeville association since it opened, with the exception of a few weeks. It transferred its affections temporarily to the Loew circuit, but returned to the Western after the brief experiment with Loew acts. The western "time" is controlled by virtually the same men who control the destinies of the Orpheum circuit. When a Western act shows sufficient merit to play the "big time" it is taken over by the Orpheum circuit, and when an Orpheum circuit act has played the circuit, it frequently accepts bookings over the Western time.

AT THE GRAND.

Many Unable to Gain Admittance to New Show.

Many persons passing the New Grand theater last night thought Charlie Chaplin must be playing there. The crowds defied the bad weather, and the S. R. O. sign was hung out early in the evening and left there until bed time for Puritans. The new show was pronounced good by those who were able to get into the theater.

Bernard and Myers in a skit entitled "The Cabby and the Passenger" headline the bill, and they proved to be good entertainers. Mr. Bernard's small talk was excellent and Miss Myers sang well a number of popular songs.

The Goyt Trio, including two dogs, does some clever gymnastic turns. The canines are somewhat out of the ordinary in the nature of their stunts, and the whole act pleases.

Misses Long, Chapron and Green, three girls of attractive personality and becomingly dressed, put over some catchy songs and won much favor.

The Costa Troupe, three well formed young woman and a man, are aerialists who do many daring and thrilling feats in an original manner.

The photoplays are varied in subject matter and many noted film stars appear. "The Snow Burner" portrays a gripping story of the north woods, and Richard C. Travers, Lillian Drew and E. H. Calvert are stars in this picture. "The Borrowed Necklace," "The Park Honeymooners" and other films of interest are shown.

Theater Gossip.

Duluth theater managers did not seem to be worrying about the "business depression" last evening.

DULUTH THEATERS CROWDED.

Long before 6 o'clock last evening the Lyceum was "sold out" for the anniversary of the Baldwin Players, and the first appearance of Miss Berta Schmied and her brother, Leo Schmied. Fully 100 persons were turned away, unable to purchase seats, and many stood throughout the performance.

For more than an hour the sidewalk in front of the New Grand was crowded and the lobby of the theater filled with those waiting to gain admission.

The picture theaters enjoyed better than average attendance also, and many who were unable to gain admittance to the Lyceum and Grand sought their evening's entertainment at the "movies."

Edward Sheldon, one of the youngest and most successful of American dramatists, will be remembered by such plays as "Salvation Nell," "The Boss" and "Romance." He is at his best in the "High Road," as is also the case with the young star who is acting it today at the Rex. Valli Valli is appearing in the part made famous by Mrs. Fiske.

Three Americans in List.

Ottawa, May 18.—The names of three members of the Canadian contingent, who came from the United States, appear in the casualty list made public here last night. T. Richardson, Lenox, Mo., is reported wounded, T. M. Carson, St. Paul, sick from gas fumes, and James Smith Mullin, Dayton, Ohio, previously reported sick from fumes, is missing. The list also contains the names of two members who were killed in action.

Walworth, Wis., Bank Robbed.

Janesville, Wis., May 18.—Burglars blew open the vault of the Walworth state bank at Walworth last night, and escaped with $1,000 in gold and currency. No arrests have been made.

THE RECLAMATION AMENDMENT.

The LeSueur News, about the time Northern Minnesota should be beginning its campaign for the ratification of the reclamation amendment to the Constitution, starts a campaign against it.

Not a very violent or at all ill-meaning campaign, but still a campaign.

And probably that's not such a bad thing either, because it often takes a fight against a thing to stir its friends up to the right pitch.

The News is afraid that when state land is reclaimed under this amendment speculators owning adjacent land may profit by it indirectly. It is also fearful that it means an invasion of the permanent school fund, so it thinks that the money for reclamation ought to come out of the general fund raised by taxation.

Now we think the News is wrong about this, and we have been so impressed with its fairness and public spirit that we haven't the least bit of doubt that if its wrong angle of vision on this issue can be corrected, it will cheerfully say so and as cheerfully support the reclamation amendment.

Its first point, that owners of adjoining lands may benefit when state lands are improved, isn't a point at all. Of course private owners of nearby lands will benefit some when state land is improved and sold. That can't be helped—if it should be helped. The main thing, for Northern Minnesota and the state, is to get all this idle land settled and under cultivation, no matter who owns it. If Editor Grimes owned a tract of land in Northern Minnesota that he couldn't sell because it was hedged in by unreclaimed state land, he would benefit if that state land were improved and sold. He would be able to sell his land too, and might even get more money for it. But when Editor Grimes sold his land to settlers it would begin producing wealth to the profit of the whole state, so the state would be benefited and nobody harmed.

The second and third points are really one. The question—it being admitted that state lands ought to be reclaimed and sold—is whether it should be done out of money raised by taxation or out of a reclamation revolving fund set aside TEMPORARILY out of the permanent school funds. The News thinks it ought to be done out of money raised by taxation; but the trouble with that is that the legislature wouldn't appropriate it, because when the improved lands were sold the investment and its profits would all go into the permanent school funds.

That's what reclamation is—an investment. To take the money invested out of tax funds, when it can as well be taken out of the fund that will be benefited, isn't fair to the taxpayers, and they probably wouldn't stand for it.

But the plan is to set aside a quarter of a million dollars out of the proceeds of the sale of state land, thereby temporarily diverting it from the permanent school funds. With this money roads and trails and firebreaks would be built, and tracts of cut-over state land partially cleared so buyers could begin making a living from the start. If private property were benefited directly, of course it would be assessed its pro rata share of the expense.

When the lands thus reclaimed are sold, the proceeds will be divided as follows: to the reclamation revolving fund, the amount that has been taken from that fund for improvements: to the permanent school funds, the original value of the land, plus the inevitable enhancement due to the improvements that have been made.

When the need of the reclamation revolving fund has ceased, the whole of it will be returned to the permanent funds, which meanwhile it will have enriched.

The plan is not to take money out of the school fund for private benefit, but to devote a small part of that fund to a richly paying investment in fitting for use and sale the state lands from the proceeds of which the fund is derived. Not only will the school funds not lose a dollar, but they will make five dollars for every dollar invested in this way, besides recovering the original investment.

One thing that will serve to divert many minds from the war talk is the announcement that this year the country has only some ninety-six thousand acres devoted to the raising of watermelons.

OUR BEST-LOVED EX-PRESIDENT.

The example of former President William Howard Taft throughout the critical juncture that lately befell the country has been an admirable example of good citizenship and sound patriotism.

His advice has been to keep cool and trust the president. He has been unstinting in his expressions of confidence in President Wilson's ability safely to steer the ship of state through the troubled waters. He has been ungrudging in his praise of the president's conduct and policies.

Following the publication of the president's note to Germany, Judge Taft said of it: "Admirable in tone, moderate in the judicial spirit that rules through the entire communication, dignified in the level that the writer takes with respect to international obligations, accurate in its statement of international law, he puts the case of the United States in a way that may well call for our earnest concurrence and confirmation."

All of his public utterances since the fate of political defeat befell him have been of a piece with this. They have shown him to be too big for bitterness, too great for envy.

Judge Taft never stood higher in the admiration and respect of his fellow citizens of this Republic than he does today. His attitude is that of a good citizen and a patriot. The contrast between it and that of another ex-president who shall be nameless here is one of the most striking things in America today.

And no doubt there are some who expect momentarily to hear that some foreign power had sunk that whole fleet during the maneuvers off New York.

REGULATING THE JITNEYS.

The jitney ordinance passed by the city commission last night will doubtless be disappointing to those whose notion of an ordinance regulating jitneys is one that would regulate them out of business.

But that is not the purpose of regulation, nor the purpose of the city commission, nor the purpose of the people of Duluth.

What is to come of the jitney movement nobody knows. It may be ephemeral. The blasts of winter may dissolve it. It may take permanent form and endure. It may even be that trolley companies will take their cars off the rails, substitute motors for trolley wires, and go into the jitney business themselves. Any of these things may happen; but in the meantime the jitney is here, and in the interests of the public convenience and the public safety it must be regulated.

The council has made many concessions to the jitney folks in the ordinance that has just been passed, and they can hardly say now that the ordinance is burdensome. At the same time it meets some of the obvious demands of the situation, and it affords a working basis for experiment. Practice will develop whatever need there may be of making it more severe or less.

One very necessary thing the ordinance does, and that is to require financial responsibility for accidents. Perhaps there should have been some attempt to require stated routes and schedules, but that is something that can be added later if it is thought proper.

The ordinance is at least a step in the right direction. It meets the chief needs of the situation, it does not lay unfair burdens on the jitneurs, and it formally places the jitney under a regulation that can be changed from time to time as the need of change is discovered.

Political history can produce few more excruciating bits of humor than the New York Herald's desire to see Roosevelt in the White House now.

BUY YOUR GARDEN SUPPLIES AT HOME.

Buying home products is sound economics and wise public spirit.

You keep your money at home, you deal with people you know, and besides you have somebody handy to complain to if the goods do not turn out as they should.

This is particularly true of garden supplies—seeds, plants, roots and trees—and this is important because in the last few years nearly everybody has become a back yard farmer.

Your home dealer knows the kind of seeds best fitted for this climate. He knows the fruits and flowers that are dependable here. Whether he grows them himself or not, if he is a reliable dealer he handles only goods suited to this particular latitude. This alone is reason enough why you should do your buying at home.

Many buy from solicitors who come around taking orders. If they wish to take the chance, that's their business. But it is taking a chance. Too many of these solicitors are concerned only in selling you a bill of goods. Whether the plants thrive after they are delivered or not is the least of their troubles, for by that time they have passed rapidly on to the next place, and they do not return. This isn't true of all of them, but it is true of too many.

Apples, for instance, do well here, providing they are the kind of apples that do do well here. Buying varieties not demonstrated in this climate is likely to be a pure waste of money. And what is true of apples is true of all other fruits, many flowers and some vegetables.

Many pick their supplies from catalogues, choosing articles the descriptions of which are attractive with little regard to whether or not they are suited to this climate. They are likely to be disappointed, too.

Duluth has a number of reliable dealers in garden supplies. The safest plan is to patronize them. Disappointments and discouragements will be fewer among those who do this than among those who buy from outside.

Did you ever see anything to beat war for mussing things up?

"America First" In War Also

Editorial in the New York World.

To the British newspaper press, which is discussing the issue between the United States and Germany with characteristic short-sightedness, a few words of instruction and admonition may properly be addressed.

We are not contemplating war with Germany very seriously as yet, for we cannot believe that its rulers are so infatuated that practices certain to justify war will be persisted in. But if, unhappily, this country should find that its honor and interests can be maintained as against Germany only by war, we shall engage in the conflict on the same principle that has guided our course as a neutral. That principle is expressed in the words, "America first."

We went to war with Great Britain in 1812 at a time when that country was fighting France, but we acted for ourselves. We did not ask the permission of anybody in Paris. We made no formal alliances. We did not think about and we did not care what the effect of our hostility to Britain would be upon France, and, so far as is known, the Bonapartist press of that time did not presume to advise us concerning the methods by which we could be of most service to its master.

The trouble between the United States and Germany today is not unlike the quarrel between the United States and Great Britain then. We are no less determined now that our rights at sea shall be respected than we were a century ago. Now as then the difficulty has its origin in a general European war. Now as then it will be argued out, and, if inevitable, fought out, with the sole purpose of establishing those rights.

For some of the embarrassments encountered by us in foreign waters Great Britain is clearly responsible. It has not lawlessly taken life, but for a time it lawlessly took property. With neither the will nor the power to declare a true blockade of Germany, it has subjected our commerce to vexatious restraint and loss, making amends at times, but persisting nevertheless.

If Germany forces war upon the United States, we will respond in our own name, under our own colors and with our own arms. We do not fight for Britain, for France, or for Russia. We fight as Americans for America.

The Englishman

John Galsworthy in the North American Review: The Englishman must have a thing brought under his nose before he will act; bring it there and he will go on acting after everybody else has stopped. He lives very much in the moment because he is essentially a man of facts and not a man of imagination. Want of imagination makes him, philosophically speaking, rather ludicrous; in practical affairs it handicaps him at the start; but once he has "got going," as we say, it is of incalculable assistance to his stamina.

The Englishman, partly through his lack of imagination and nervous sensibility, partly through his inbred dislike of extremes, and habit of minimizing the expression of everything, is a perfect example of the conservation of energy. It is very difficult to come to the end of him. Add to this unimaginative, practical, tenacious moderation an inherent spirit of competition—not to say pugnacity—so strong that it will often show through the coating of his "live-and-let-live," half surly, half good-humored manner; add a peculiar, ironic, "don't-care" sort of humor, an underground but inveterate humaneness and an ashamed idealism, and you get some notion of the pudding of English character. Its main feature is a kind of terrible coolness, a rather awful level-headedness.

The Englishman makes constant small blunders, but few, almost no, deep mistakes.

The Kimono.

Omaha World-Herald: The advertising columns carry the news that kimonos are marked down from $4 to $2.98. Doubtless many feminine hearts flutter with pleasure at the announcement. But many will regard with regret anything that increases the kimono habit.

For the kimono in its Americanized translation has degenerated into a symbol of spineless inefficiency. When a woman is tired or sick or disgusted she sheds her dress and corset and reverts to her kimono. When she is disappointed or grief-stricken she seeks refuge in her kimono. The kimono is regarded as her best friend by the lazy woman—from the slatternly female of the shanty in her limp, faded cotton version to the pampered dame of the palatial mansion in her silken version embellished with Japanese embroidery.

Whatever the faults and failings of man, this much must be said for him: He dresses completely when he gets up in the morning and stays dressed until he goes to bed at night. All day he is clothed and ready for whatever may befall. Even when the house catches fire at midnight he manages somehow to scramble into his shirt and trousers and appear ready for action. The woman stands ineffectually by clutching at the throat of her kimono.

Can it be that, in this respect, woman has not evolved as far from the fig-leaf stage of our original ancestors as man, that she is not so much advanced in clothing civilization?

The Vice-Presidency

By Savoyard.

Washington, May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Republicans for a while thought they would fetch out a candidate to beat Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic nomination for president of the United States in 1916 and they made suggestion of several very excellent and very prominent Democrats for the job, but everybody knew they were like Lige Pinkston's dog that Proctor Knott used to tell us about—they were 'barking up a tree there was nothing in." And now they have shifted to the vice presidency and chosen a prominent senator in congress, whose seat they covet, to displace Mr. Marshall on the Democratic ticket—another barking up a tree there's nothing in.

But three men have been re-elected vice president—George Clinton, Daniel D. Tompkins and John C. Calhoun. The first of these died in office and the last resigned his seat to be senator in order to meet Webster in debate on the powers delegated in the Federal Constitution. One other vice president received renomination, but his party was defeated at the polls—James S. Sherman, who died before the election.

Daniel Webster twice refused the nomination for vice president when the office was a stepping stone to the presidency—in 1840 and in 1844. Both Harrison and Taylor died, and were succeeded by their vice presidents, Tyler and Fillmore.

"Who seeks, and will not take when once 'tis offer'd, Shall never find it more."

And they had to force the nomination for vice president upon Col. Roosevelt when the office again became a stepping stone to the presidency in 1901. What a great pity that Platt, Quay and Hanna did not allow the convention of 1900 to nominate Jonathan P. Dolliver for second place on the ticket!

Politically speaking the office, the past fifty years, appears to have fallen into disrepute. It was with more or less scorn that the late John J. Ingalls contemptuously spoke of nominating for vice president "some fellow like William Walter Phelps," and frying the fat out of the manufacturers to obtain the boodle to buy the floaters in blocks of five. Phelps was very rich and a dude; but he was an able man and the finest orator I ever heard who lisped in his speech. He was much of a man, too, as witness the steadfast loyalty he gave to Fitz John Porter, who, notwithstanding his heroism on the field, was saddled with the blame for the stupid strategy of that colossal sham of our big war—John Pope.

Thomas A. Hendricks is another man who, like Webster, lost the presidency by an underestimate of the vice presidency. If after 1877 he had not become a candidate for first place, there is nothing more certain than that the old ticket of Tilden and Hendricks would have been renominated and re-elected with a vote so great that the offices could not be stolen as they were in 1876. But he would not have it so. A very great man, he could not be made to see that if Tilden was put aside, it inevitably followed that the tail of the ticket had to go with its head. Six months in the White House would have made an end of Tilden, whose health was feeble, and Hendricks would have succeeded to the presidency. The road to the White House was plain to the vision of Thomas A. Hendricks in 1880, but he could not be made to see it.

Much speculation has been wasted trying to explain Mr. Lincoln's object in causing the nomination of Andy Johnson for vice president in 1864. Johnson was a Democrat. He opposed Douglas and supported Breckenridge in 1860 because Douglas refused to allow indorsement of a solemn adjudication of the supreme court. Had Douglas agreed, and dropped his "Squatter Sovereignty," he would have been nominated at Charleston in 1860 and elected. Dean Richmond, the New York boss, threw the fat in the fire at Charleston fifty-five years ago.

Lincoln insisted on Johnson, a Democrat, for vice president in 1864 because he hoped to make the Republican a national party, and he would had he lived. There was nothing against Hamlin, another Democrat, except that he was from the North. Lincoln's plan was to make a real Republican party at the South, and that is why Andy Johnson was chosen. Being a Southern man it was impossible for Johnson successfully to contend against the radicals like Sumner, the visionary, and Stevens, the devil himself.

In 1872 the Republicans refused Schuyler Colfax a renomination for vice presidency because there were some ugly charges impeaching his personal integrity and it was manifest that he would be a load to carry in the campaign, so Henry Wilson was chosen instead; but it has never been explained why Whitelaw Reid was substituted for Levi P. Morton in 1892. Both were enormously rich, but Reid was obnoxious to organized labor and his name on the ticket greatly weakened it.

It is the office of the vice president to preside over the proceedings of the senate except when that body is sitting as a court to try charges brought against the president in impeachment proceedings. As a presiding officer John C. Calhoun was the greatest the senate ever knew. He was more like a Roman than any of them and the dignity with which he presided amounted to grandeur. Aaron Burr was a magnificent presiding officer. His farewell address to the senate is one of the gems of English speech, and the tradition is that it moved many senators to tears though the blood of Hamilton was yet red on his hands. That speech of Burr, so tradition says, was the occasion of a tragedy years later. Mr. Speaker White of the house of representatives, in the closing hour of the Twenty-seventh congress, asked his secretary to prepare him an address to the resolution of thanks that is always adopted just before a congress dies. At that time the speaker is always the busiest official in the nation. The fellow went off and dug up Burr's farewell, which White innocently delivered. Party spirit ran rife and White was charged with plagiarism. A proud, sensitive man, he was grievously wounded, and shortly afterward he died by his own hand.

John C. Breckenridge presided over the senate proceedings with exceptional grace, urbanity, dignity and ability, but then he was the finest looking man of his day and generation.

If you are going to predict, let your forecast be to the effect that Tom Marshall will preside over the last session of the senate March 4, 1921.

"Infamous English Lies"—Von Tirpitz

Senator Albert J. Beveridge in Collier's Weekly. (This interview took place in January.)

In his conversation Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz, chief of the German navy, is clear, simple, sometimes eloquent and all the time forcible. He speaks English perfectly, and his vocabulary is very large. He talked with unreserved frankness; and although an interview for publication was not intended as the purpose of the conversation, the grand admiral, at the end, heartily consented to be quoted. * * *

"Your excellency, you ask why Germany would begin war, and American public opinion think so. There are many things that have caused Americans to think so. One of them concerns a practice of the German navy. By books, articles, editorials, Americans have learned of the famous toast drunk by German naval men: 'To the Day!'"

Admiral Von Tirpitz leaned forward with eyes ablaze and said with all his force, though not loudly: "An infamous English lie—that is the explanation! It is an outright falsehood. I say, on my honor as a man and an officer, that I never heard such a toast proposed, never drank such a toast, and never heard of such a toast being proposed or drunk! It is past belief that sensible people should believe such stuff! I can admire at least one thing English—their ingenuity in concocting falsehoods and putting them before the world! The fact is that our officers fraternized with and were and are good friends of the officers of other nations. Especially did our officers try to be friendly with the officers of our neighbor, England. I am sure no honorable English officer with say otherwise, or will say that he ever heard that this ridiculous toast, 'To the Day'' was ever proposed or drunk, or that he knows any honorable man who says that he heard it. Every honorable English officer will tell you that it is a wretched lie." * * *

I mentioned Germany's violation of Belgian neutrality as another source of unfavorable American public opinion.

"Where," answered the grand admiral, "is a neutrality which the supposed neutral country has itself destroyed? We believed Belgium had made an arrangement with France and England for mutual action against us in case of war. Perhaps we could not have proved it; now we can prove it and have proved it. And if Belgium was to permit France and England to attack us through Belgian territory, should we have taken such a chance? It would have been madness! It would have been criminal! Do not forget our history—trampled over, fought over, for hundreds of years. And now we are fighting for our lives!

"* * * It is astonishing that you Americans, the shrewdest people in the world, should credit England's statement that we Germans do everything that is foolish and wicked, and nothing that is sensible and good! The German citizens of your own country—are they not sensible people? Are they not good people? Yet we are the same people!"

"Our people of German descent are among the very best citizens we have. We have no better. We wish we had more of them," I replied.

"Oh, is that why you are not neutral?" snapped back this keen-minded chief of the German navy. What a great lawyer he would have made, I thought. "You want more of our people for citizens? You know that if we are beaten you will get hundreds of thousands of them, whom our industry and commerce now keep prosperously and happily here in Germany."

"But, your excellency, we are neutral; we wish to be impartial and just; even in thought, as our president has said," I remarked.

"Neutral!" exclaimed this builder of Germany's sea power. "When you are sending provisions to England, France, Russia—and none to us!

"Neutral! When you are supplying our enemies with rifles, guns, ammunition—and selling none to us! Tell me"—and this mighty figure of a man rose to his feet, towering like an ancient viking, whom indeed he resembles—"do you call that neutrality?"

"But, your excellency, the merchants and manufacturers of a neutral nation may sell what they like to all belligerents, may they not? The belligerent power buys and ships them at its own risk. If one warring country can get such goods into port and another cannot, has the neutral nation violated neutrality by that course?"

"Technically, no; morally, yes. That argument is what you call splitting hairs, I believe. Here is a great and friendly nation, millions of whose people are your own citizens; and the greatest and most unnatural combination of enemies in the history of the world is trying to crush that nation. That nation is fighting for its life; yet neutral America, which prides itself on justice and despises technicalities, says that, although Germany's location and this wicked combination of enemies surrounding her prevent her from getting provisions and munitions of war, for which she has the gold to pay, still America will supply Germany's enemies with food and powder and guns; but not Germany—upon the technicality that it is not America's fault if American goods cannot reach Germany and can reach Germany's enemies. We Germans think that this position is morally unfair. We think it is not what you call a square deal."

"But are you in need of provisions, of munitions of war?"

"No; we have more than enough. We can neither be starved nor beaten. But the big point is that, by selling war materials and provisions to the allies, the United States is prolonging the war. If America would not send any more powder, guns and food to our enemies, this war would very soon be over. Does America wish to take the responsibility for this? I wonder if the good people of the United States who talk about peace realize that by furnishing our enemies with the necessities of war, America is actually keeping up the war. She could end it very quickly if she would."

The Martyrs' Hyma.

Flung to the heedless winds, or on the waters cast,
The martyrs' ashes watched shall gathered be at last;
And from that scattered dust, around us and abroad
Shall spring a plenteous seed of witnesses for God.

The Father hath received their latest living breath;
And vain is Satan's boast of victory in their death.
Still, still, though dead, they speak, and trumpet-tongued proclaim
To many awakened lands, tho One availing Name.

Early Simmerings In the Political Pot

State Press is Already Interested in Next Election.

Bring On Your Thousands.

Elk River Star-News: The Twin City political reporters are having the time of their lives parading has-beens, lame ducks and other old-time political hacks as candidates for governor and United States senator in 1916, but the public generally are taking no particular interest in the matter at the present time. What a happy solution of this proposition it would be should the people exercise their power and go outside the political organizations and select candidates for these important positions regardless of a pull with the organization. There are thousands of capable, middle-aged men in Minnesota who would make good officials in either of these positions, and we imagine they would stand a better show of succeeding than any of these old-timers. Practically that was done last fall and the man in the executive chair as a consequence will prove a hard man to oust, anyway, and it cannot be done with a political hack.

Rather Early.

Chaska Valley Herald: Now comes the refreshing news that Dan W. Lawler will seek the indorsement of the primary for the exalted position of United States senator, making the race on the Democratic side of the house. We also learn that Moses E. Clapp will have opposition for re-election in the Republican ranks. We opine that this is rather early in the day to "put it over" the rank and file of either party.

Two Guesses.

Bemidji Sentinel: They say Dan Lawler is a candidate for the United States senate. Again, or yet?

Don't You Know?

Park Rapids Journal: We notice that Senator Moses E. Clapp is getting around among the common people in his home state more now than ever for the past five or six years. What's the matter, Mose? Getting lonesome?

What Frank Said.

Fairmont Sentinel: Some paper started the report that the Sentinel seconded the nomination of Jim Tawney for United States senator and more than a dozen of our exchanges have given it credence. The Sentinel is on record just to the contrary, but it did say that in the event of the people taking a backward step to standpatism it were best to have a smart chap like Jim in preference to some sycophantic lunkhead whose long suits were money and subservieney to the Fat Boys.

Tut-tut!

Cambridge North-Star: A late (very late) governor is worrying himself into an early decline, it is said, because no one seems to regard him as superior to Senator Clapp as material for the upper house of congress. And, come to think it over, we don't know as we blame him for feeling sensitive when we consider the position Clapp holds in the estimation of the thinking public.

Natural Horror.

Red Wing Eagle: The Anoka Union holds up its hands in horror, so to speak, at the suggestion that "Bill" Lee run for governor again, and exclaims: "Don't that make you sick?" It most likely would result in making "Bill" Lee sick, anyhow.

Horrible Suspicion!

Elk River Star-News: Senator Nelson is credited with the statement that he would resign if he could be convinced that Former Congressman Fred Stevens would be appointed to the vacancy by Governor Hammond. Both men are of the reactionary type of Republicans, but there is a suspicion that the people are looking for a more progressive type of man to succeed Senator Nelson. However, such action would put Stevens in the office and that would be giving him a substantial advantage.

Ought to Qualify Him.

Cambridge North Star: Why not Jadam Bede for U. S. senator? He has been beaten twice for congress.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

Unto me hath God shewed that I should not call any man common or unclean.—Acts x, 28.

We find what we look for in the world. I have always been looking for the nobler qualities in human beings and I have always found them. There are great souls all along the highway of life, and there are great qualities even in the people who seem common and weak to us ordinarily.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Oh that Thou wouldst keep me from evil.—I Chron. iv, 10.

Jabez was a man of prayer. It was the habit of his life. This was the secret of his courage, his goodness and success.

Here is one petition from his prayer. It reminds one of another petition: "I pray not that Thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that Thou shouldest keep them from the evil" (John xvii, 15). After all, this is better than more territory, more power, more wealth. It is better than all temporal blessings. "Keep me from evil."

Are there not many things we need to be kept from every day? There is evil without and evil within. It is not our vigilance that keeps us, but the Lord Himself, though it is those who are watchful and prayerful whom He keeps. "Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain." (Ps. cxxvii, 1). It is the soul that commits itself to God to be kept that knows the sufficiency of His keeping power. Many are trying to believe that the Lord will keep them without yielding themselves right over into His hands to be kept.

Am I honest in my prayer, "Keep me from evil?"—E. H. Hopkins.

Boosting Brainerd.

"Brainerd, City of Opportunity, and Range Review," is the general title and the theme of a special edition of the Brainerd Dispatch. The edition comprises twenty-four pages and was issued to accompany the daily and weekly editions of the Dispatch of last Friday.

Special editions of newspapers are not uncommon, but this one is deserving of special notice not only on account of its contents and purpose, but because it is a product of the Dispatch office. It is essentially a "home print" proposition, and none but the "informed" can appreciate what that means in the case of an edition of this kind. The newspaper office that can turn out such an edition and at the same time keep up the regular daily grind has a right to feel that it has accomplished something real.

Brainerd may be an unknown city to some, but after reading this special edition you cannot help feeling an interest in the place.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

Dr. Fred Barrett of Tower died at the St. Louis hotel last night after a long illness. Funeral services were held by the Elks this afternoon, conducted by Exalted Ruler W. W. Walker. The remains were taken by the Iron Range train to Tower, where the funeral will take place tomorrow from the Episcopal church, where services will be conducted by Archdeacon Appleby. Dr. Barrett was 52 years of age and a native of Pennsylvania. He graduated from Jefferson medical college, in Philadelphia, and after practicing for several years located at Jackson, Miss., where he edited the Southern Republican. He served four years in the Mississippi legislature. Later he removed to Medford, Miss., and in 1887 removed to Tower, where he bought the Vermilion Iron Journal. He was a member of the G. A. R., having enlisted as a private at Clearfield, Pa., and served through the war.

Leo Lazarus has resigned as agent of the Western Union Telegraph company at West Duluth to become an operator in the general offices of the Great Northern railway at Duluth. He will be succeeded at West Duluth by Miss Mary Sessions of Minneapolis.

Nevers & Hanson of West Duluth have purchased the store of H. R. Patterson at Proctorknott.

Rev. F. E. Higgins, who has been been studying in the Duluth high school for the past eight months, has accepted a call from a church at Barnum.

M. S. Stokely left yesterday for his old home at Steubenville, Ohio, where he will make an extended visit.

Don J. Leathers, a well-known lumberman and horseman of Grand Rapids, Mich., is in the city.

John Berg, recently of Minneapolis, has taken a position in A. Le Richeux's pharmacy.

Mrs. J. H. Delaney is seriously ill.

Rev. Dr. Forbes and G. C. Gilfillan, general freight and passenger agent of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, addressed the pupils of the high school yesterday. Mr. Gilfillan formerly was a teacher of penmanship and was much interested in what he learned of the vertical system of penmanship as now taught in the Duluth schools.

A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Brunt on the evening of May 16 in honor of Mr. Van Brunt's birthday by a number of ladies of the Eastern Star, together with their husbands. Mr. Van Brunt was presented with a handsome cup and chair.

The Faces of Paris.

Edith Wharton in Scribner's Magazine: It is not fanciful to say that the Parisian face, after six months of trial, has acquired a new character. The change seems to have affected the very stuff it is molded of, as though the long ordeal had hardened the poor human clay into some dense commemorative substance. I often pass in the street women whose faces look like memorial medals—idealized images of what they were in the flesh. And the masks of some of the men—those queer, tormented Gallic masks, crushed-in and squat and a little satyr-like—look like the bronzes of the Naples museum, burnt and twisted from their baptism of fire. But none of these faces reveals a personal preoccupation; they are looking, one and all, at France erect on her borders. Even the women who are comparing different widths of Valenciennes at the lace counter all have something of that vision in their eyes—or else one does not see the ones who haven't.

Hopeless.

CARELESS CHAUFFEURS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Last Friday evening about 8 p. m. an automobile driven by a criminally careless chauffeur, swung without warning into the "Central Garage" on West First street, narrowly missing a pedestrian walking past this place. I have noticed some reckless work by chauffeurs in driving into and leaving this garage with automobiles. A little boy at one time by almost a miracle missed being run over and mangled and probably killed. The owner or manager of this garage should give timely and forcible warning to some of these chauffeurs who have rooms to rent in their upper stories, and by doing this a valuable life may be saved in the future, or a serious accident avoided. Yours truly,

DO YOU KNOW?

Do you know why prices of wheat and coarse grains fell the other day, following the announcement of the demands that President Wilson made on Germany?

Do you know that the usual talk among certain classes to the effect that the "big" interests manipulate the market arbitrarily to suit their own ends at such times has but little foundation in fact?

As to the first question: Such a demand on a foreign power contains a possibility of war—and, in fact, the country is not free from that possibility, now that the demand has been sent, until a compromise or agreement between the United States and Germany will have been reached.

Suppose you found yourself "long" on wheat—that is, with a large amount on hand, or you had obligated yourself to take over a large amount at a certain date—and suddenly the prospect changed from the certainty of marketing your holdings—at a profit, you hoped—to the possibility, and, perhaps, probability of sales being cut off—

And suppose, further, that every cent you had in the world—also your credit at the banks—was involved—

You would want to unload that wheat, or as much of it as possible, just as soon as you could, wouldn't you?

Well, that was just the situation in the wheat pits of the nation last week. The men "long" on wheat, who had not the capital to weather a heavy storm, wanted to realize on their holdings while the realizing was good, after the demands had been made on Germany, and the fact that large amounts of wheat were offered for sale, with comparatively few takers, left the wheat a-begging and, naturally, the price sagged.

"Oh," some will say, "they did not need to be that frightened. War was not declared; and if it was coming, was weeks away."

Very true, but if war should come and catch the "long" with the wheat still undisposed of, and he unable to carry the load, where would he be? Credits would be shut off in the face of war; and almost every business man in the world, in any line, must have a line of credit, no matter how much his financial rating is.

War between America and Germany would mean a stoppage of exports, and a stoppage of exports would be ruinous to the grain market.

Do you know that you would get out from under, yourself, in a big hurry if you were in the same situation, and you wouldn't care a hoot who sneered at you about your financial cowardice?

What the Child Is Learning

The Sixth Grade.

Magazines and daily papers are recommended for reading work by the time the child reaches the sixth grade, as a method of getting information on the affairs of everyday life. Attention is paid to articulation, enunciation, and pronunciation and every effort is made by instructors to create a taste for the best in literature.

How many cubic inches in a gallon? In a bushel? How many pounds in a bushel of wheat? The sixth grade student knows. Practical application of the tables learned forms an important part of this work, so that problems in carpeting, plastering, capacity of wood bins and cisterns can be estimated.

Reduction ascending and descending, with compound addition, subtraction, multiplication and division are taught in this class. Percentage, another unwelcome visitor, is also introduced. In the latter part of the year profit and loss, trade discount, taxes, fire insurance, commission and brokerage are explained and used daily in the "rithmetic classes.

More advanced oral and written composition work, with daily themes, and considerable memorizing, form the bulk of the work in the composition and language classes.

Geography and history are combined to some extent, with close attention being paid to history and growth of civilization. A history of the cities of Europe, both the old and commercially important, is added to the list of things learned by the pupil.

As a result of the work of the physiology class the child should know about digestion, the alimentary canal, the saliva, the gastric juice, pancreas, the liver, the portal vein, the thoracic duct, and many other important parts of the body.

English history, beginning with the English invasion by Romans, and extending through the sixth century, with the story of King Arthur, the invasion of the Danes, the Norman conquest, and then on down to the time of Oliver Cromwell, becomes familiar to the sixth grader. Your boy or girl should be able to tell you about the Plantagenets, King John, Richard, the Lion Hearted, the Black Prince, Wat Tyler, Henry V., the Tudors, Queen Elizabeth, and other important personages.

In the latter part of the sixth grade the work starts with the death of Cromwell and goes through to the reign of Queen Victoria. William Gladstone's work, the settlement of Australia and Africa, and the story of Cecil Rhodes, all should be understood by the sixth grader.

"You Don't Look Right, Jones"

Errors of living, among which coffee-drinking is one of the most common, has stirred the New York Health Department to prepare a booklet of suggestions for indoor workers, and among other wise bits of advice this booklet says:

"Bracers are harmful. This applies to the use of tea, coffee and alcoholic beverages."

Sound advice!

All over America, for years, coffee drinkers, indoor and out, prompted by their own feelings and enlightened by science, have gotten rid of coffee troubles by changing to —the pure food-drink.

Postum, made of choice wheat and a small portion of wholesome molasses, tastes much like the finest Java, yet contains no caffeine (the harmful drug in coffee) nor any other harmful element.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal--the original form—must be well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum--the soluble form—is prepared in the cup. A teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes a delicious drink instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

"There's a Reason" for Postum

—sold by Grocers everywhere.

Two Very Poor Reasons

If some housewives inadvertently use baking powder which contains alum it is Usually for two reasons—lack of knowledge as to what it is made of, or because it costs less than a standard brand like Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar.

There is no longer any reason for lack of knowledge, since the label on every baking powder can shows in plain English just what it contains. If the label on your can names alum as one of the ingredients, and you are in doubt about its unhealthfulness, your doctor can enlighten you.

As to the lower cost, there is very little difference in practical use, about one cent for a whole cake or pan of biscuits—a mere trifle when you consider the vast difference in healthfulness in favor of food made with Royal Baking Powder.

CLAIMS HIS WIFE WAS EXTRAVAGANT

Young Coe, Found in Alaska After Long Search, Explains Disappearance.

According to a story that comes from Boston, the extravagance of his wife was what caused Henry Clark Coe, Jr., to disappear last January, and "beat it" for Alaska, where he has been found. The young man was married seven months before to the daughter of A. Allen Ainslee, who, at the time of the disappearance, was manager of the St. Louis hotel of Duluth.

Mrs. Coe, at her parents' home in Boston, denies that she was extravagant and refuses to believe that her husband has said that she was.

In the meantime young Coe is still at Fairbanks, Alaska, where he is working as machinist for a hardware company and doing well.

According to the story that has reached Boston from Fairbanks, Coe says that not only was his wife extravagant but that his married life was unhappy, he wanted freedom from society, he was tired of Boston, and he was not getting on in business as rapidly as he had hoped.

All of which Mrs. Coe denies. She says that they not only lived within their income, despite the fact that she had been accustomed to luxury, but that they saved money; that they did not go out in society because of their fondness for each other and their desire to be alone together; that Coe bought her only a blue serge dress and a pair of shoes since their marriage; that their chief amusement was attending the "movies" twice a week; also that had her husband remained with the Standard Oil company, by which he was employed, he was to have been advanced in April.

Mrs. Coe still believes, she says, that her husband is suffering from mental aberration, and will not accept the reported explanation as authentic.

Coe disappeared from Boston on Jan. 30, and since then, until the Burns detective agency found him in Fairbanks, a nation-wide search had been made for the young man. His father, a prominent New York physician, has spent a large sum trying to locate his son. Young Coe is quoted as saying that when he left Boston, he went directly to Seattle, shipped there to Cordova, and walked 400 miles to Fairbanks, reaching that place Feb. 22, and soon afterwards got his present job. He claims that he likes his place and will not return to Boston.

A daughter has been born to the young couple since the disappearance of the father, and Mrs. Coe is considering taking the child and going to Fairbanks to join her husband.

URGED TO HELP FUTURE HUSBANDS

Organizer Declares Tailoresses Should Unionize; Likely to Wed Tailors.

Declaring that girls who work in tailor shops are likely to marry tailors, A. S. Gleason, general organizer for the Journeymen Tailors' Union of America, last night urged them to organize a union to better conditions for their future husbands.

Mr. Gleason spoke last night at a meeting at Foresters' hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. It was attended by fifty men and ten women.

The speaker bitterly assailed "bosses who employ non-union men." He referred to the present conditions as "damnable."

"The boss doesn't like you," he said. "He keeps you because you make money for him; because you pay his rent; because you enable him to buy swell clothes for his wife and kids. Your wife deserves as much as the wife of the boss. Get together and make conditions right."

The Duluth local, No. 97, was organized more than twenty years ago. It now has fifty members. Eight new men joined last evening. Mr. Gleason will remain in Duluth a few days. He expects to have all of the Duluth tailors in line before he goes, he says.

CANADIANS DETERMINED

Lusitania Disaster Intensifies War Interest, Says R. J. Mackenzie.

The interest of the Canadian people in the war and their determination to help push it to a successful issue against the Germans has been greatly increased by the sinking of the Lusitania by the Teutons. This is the observation of R. J. Mackenzie, Winnipeg, son of Sir William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern railway, who is in charge of the construction work of the Canadian Northern lines.

"The Canadians have had a great interest in the war from the start," said Mr. Mackenzie, "but the sinking of the Lusitania has intensified this interest a hundred fold. The Canadians are incensed at the act committed by the Germans and are in sympathy with the families and friends of Americans who were lost in the wreck."

Mr. Mackenzie said that in his travels he had found the sympathies of the Americans were mostly with the allies. In speaking of business, he said conditions in the dominion were "pretty good." There, as in the United States, he said, the people were not investing heavily at present, but were exercising caution.

"The outlook for a good crop in Canada is especially bright. I look to see an improvement in conditions immediately.

"Work on the main line of the Canadian Northern road from Vancouver to Quebec has been practically completed," said he. "Ballasting is being done now, and I expect that it will be possible to run trains over the line by Aug. 1.

"No extensions in Canadian Northern lines are being made in the United States because we have found no necessity for them."

MINNESOTA VICTIMS FIND QUICK RELIEF

Wonderful Remedy Saves Many From Desperate Illnesses and Dangerous Operations.

End stomach troubles quickly with Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. The first dose proves what it will do. Hundreds of people in Minnesota have used it with unusual benefit.

Here are the words of a few of the many in this state who have taken it:

JOHN TOWEY, 2030 Dayton avenue, St. Paul, Minn., ordering a second treatment, wrote: "I have been feeling fine since I took your medicine. It certainly cleared my skin. I have recommended your medicine to a number of stomach sufferers."

MRS. PETER WILLIAMS, 2749 Eighteenth street, south, Minneapolis, wrote: "I have taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and feel like a new woman. I am entirely out of pain. Four of our best doctors could do nothing for me and agreed I must have an operation."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—If not satisfactory money will be returned.

BACK PAY FOR SMALLWOOD

City Must Pay Two Salaries or Bring Suit Against Windom.

As the result of an opinion handed down at the council meeting last evening by City Attorney Greene to the effect that the city must pay Judge W. H. Smallwood a salary from April 13 to May 3, the time he was prevented from taking office by court proceedings of W. L. Windom, the city will have to pay a salary for that office a second time and in all probability sue Mr. Windom for the money he received.

On May 3 Mr. Windom received a check for the entire month of April, and if the city follows the recommendation made by the city attorney, about $150 will have to be paid Judge Smallwood. Either the city will pay two salaries for the period between April 13 to May 3, or bring suit against Mr. Windom for the amount paid the present municipal judge.

Mr. Greene's opinion, which was read at the council meeting last evening, states that Judge Smallwood was declared duly elected by the city council after it had canvassed the votes and that he took the oath of office the following day. The district court, he states, has confirmed his election, while the council had never declared Mr. Windom elected, nor had he taken any oath of office.

Last week Judge Smallwood filed a claim with the city attorney for the back salary paid Mr. Windom.

NO CLAIMANTS TO DULUTH WOMAN'S ESTATE

Heirs of Mrs. Lizzie Green Cannot Be Found—Leaves Considerable Property.

The estate of Mrs. Lizzie Green, who died intestate in Duluth, Dec. 7, 1914, leaving property worth $5,000, has no claimants. So far as can be ascertained, Mrs. Green left no heirs. If none show up, the property will be turned over to the state.

Mrs. Green came to Duluth twenty-two years ago from Utica, N. Y. She was married and her husband died here about twelve years ago. She led a rather secluded life. Since the death of her husband, her only known friend was Miss Alice Reamer of West Duluth. Miss Reamer was named as administratrix of the estate.

The unclaimed estate consists of $600 in the bank, 120 acres of land in Itasca county, two and one-half acres of land in Colbyville and a home in this city.

James A. Wharton, attorney for the administratrix, has failed to locate any heirs although diligent search has been made.

The matter of turning the estate over to the heirs came up for consideration in probate court before Judge Gilpin yesterday afternoon.

NEED OF WOMEN ON POLICE FORCE

Mrs. Wells of Los Angeles Addresses Convention at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., May 18.—A policewoman, Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells of Los Angeles, Cal., was given close attention by a special section of the National Conference of Charities and Correction here today when she told of policewomen's work.

For a long time past, she said, the "woman policeman has been a figment of the imagination, held up to ridicule as the acme of the absurd and impossible, but though the last echo of derision still reverberates, there has grown a policewoman movement as great in strength and size as any recent humanitarian movement has attained in equal time."

As the latest list of cities which have added regular policewomen as an integral part of the police department for outside work, she named, Chicago, as leading with 20; Los Angeles, Baltimore and Seattle with 5 each; San Francisco and St. Paul, 3 each; Topeka, Minneapolis, Dayton and Toronto, 2 each; Vancouver, Fargo, Grand Forks, Rochester, N. Y., Ottawa, Aurora, San Antonio, Syracuse, Denver, Muncie, Colorado Springs, Superior, Jamestown, N. Y., Fort Wayne, Ind., Racine, Wis., and Phoenix, Ariz., 1 each. She also believed that Sioux City, Iowa, Beatrice and Omaha, Neb., Boston and Salem, Mass., Bellingham, Wash., and Ithaca, N. Y., were to be included in the list, and she named Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Des Moines, Iowa, as places where a policewoman was paid from private funds, with approval of the chief. In addition there were numerous cities which employed police matrons.

She has found upon investigation that the United States led in this departure, for notwithstanding reports of the employment of policewomen in foreign countries she had been unable to learn that they were officially employed abroad except in Norway; and in England in a voluntary way.

The need of women on the police force had arisen, she said, from the fact that industrial and social energy no longer centered in the home, "but has given us an age in which men, women and children, eat, sleep, work and play together as never before in the world's history."

NURSERY STOCK NOT ADMITTED TO CANADA

The Dominion Government Closes Mails to Most Matter of This Kind.

Nursery stock and plants of many kinds are prohibited entry into Canada through the mails under a ruling of the dominion authorities, according to information just received by Postmaster William McEwen of the Duluth office. The nursery stock tabooed includes trees, shrubs, plants, vines, grafts, scions, cuttings or buds, and greenhouse grown florists' stocks, including cut flowers, herbaceous perennials and budding plants, are admitted only in case a detailed statement of the contents is attached to the parcels containing such matter.

Postmasters have been asked to inform patrons of their offices of this ruling, and to inform them of the conditions required in mailing such plants as are allowed importation.

HE WAS THIN

Weighed 135 Pounds, Now Weighs 160—a 25-Pound Increase.

"When I started taking Sargol my weight was only 135 pounds," writes H. E. Henninger. "Now my weight is 160 pounds and I am the picture of health and stronger than I ever was before. You may use my letter for I am sure it will help somebody in the same shape I was. Would not take $100 for the good it has done me." "When I commenced taking Sargol I weighed 116 pounds. I have been taking it only 26 days and weigh 130 pounds," writes Miss Lillie Davis. "I gained 7 pounds in 10 days," states W. P. Thackery.

And so it goes. Some folks take little stock in testimonials because they say people are apt to take treatment for some disease and just imagine they feel better. But Sargol is not a treatment for any disease. It simply puts firm, healthy, "stay there" fat and muscular tissue on men and women who are thin, rundown and underweight. There is no guesswork—no imagination about it. These people weigh themselves before they begin. They weigh themselves each week thereafter, and the scales tell the story. Hundreds upon hundreds of Sargol users are constantly reporting increases in weight ranging all the way from ten to forty pounds.

Sargol is just a tiny tablet which you eat at meals. It mixes with your food and turns all the fats, sugars, starches and oils of your food into rich, ripe, flesh-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood. If you are underweight it is certain that the greater portion of the fat-producing material in your food is going through your body as waste. You eat and eat but get no benefit. Sargol stops this wasteful, dangerous leakage of fats and the result is quickly noted as the hollows of the body fill out with healthy flesh.

You risk no loss in taking Sargol, as leading druggists everywhere sell it with a positive guarantee of increased weight as contained in every package.

Absolutely harmless. Costs little if it succeeds and nothing if it fails. If you are ten pounds or more underweight you owe it to yourself to try it.

Sold in Duluth and vicinity by Boyce Drug store and other leading druggists.

AUTO VICTIM LEFT TO DIE

Hit By One Car and Later Run Over By Another.

Police Search in Vain for the Owner of Roadster.

Fatally injured when struck by an automobile, Alex Carpenter, 25, 210 Lake avenue south, lay in the street on Garfield avenue near the viaduct until a second automobile struck him. He died at St. Luke's hospital at 2:40 o'clock this morning.

Police are combing Duluth and Superior this morning for the owner of a Studebaker roadster, believed to have been the man who drove over Carpenter and left him lying in the street without stopping to investigate. The second car was driven by Larry McDonough and owned by James Keefe of Superior.

Just how the accident occurred is not known by police. The victim, with a friend, James Curran, was on his way home from Superior, aboard the late car. Before reaching the Garfield avenue viaduct Carpenter, who was rather noisy, declared that he wanted to go to Lake avenue, and after an altercation with the conductor, was put off the car.

Curran says he stayed to argue with the conductor, but when he reached Superior street, he got off, and with Officer Magner, went back to find his friend. The officer's report showed that the conductor complained of the conduct of the two men, and that he went back looking for Carpenter, intending to arrest him.

By the time Curran and the officer reached the viaduct, Carpenter was not to be seen, but when Curran reached police headquarters, he found his friend had been taken to St. Luke's hospital.

McDonough, who struck Carpenter as he lay in the street, was coming from Superior when the accident happened. He passed over the man's legs, without seeing him, but stopped a minute later when occupants of a passing machine called to him. He went back and picked up the injured man, taking him to police headquarters.

Police Surgeon Klein was called and after a hurried examination, had Carpenter taken to the hospital, where he died a few minutes later. His ribs and one hip were broken, in addition to internal injuries which probably caused his death.

Little is known of Carpenter, except that he roomed at the address on Lake avenue south. He formerly was employed as a laborer at the Duluth Boat club.

QUIZ BARNES ON PRINTING

cated that the $20,000 was for salary paid Mr. Barnes.

At Request of Lyon.

The witness was questioned at some length about conferences he had with Attorney General Davies, who was a member of the state printing board. Mr. Barnes said he had gone to Mr. Davies about the contract at the request of Mr. Lyon. Mr. Bowers continued the examination.

"Do you mean to say you went to see Mr. Davies and told him you hoped Mr. McCarthy would not get the contract when you had no knowledge as to whether there were any other bidders except Mr. McCarthy and the Lyon company?"

"I knew of course there were other bidders."

"Did you know there was a difference between the Lyon and McCarthy bids of $160,000?"

"I did not. Those figures surprise me."

"Did you buy the contract from McCarthy before or after it was awarded?"

"Mr. McCarthy came to me and asked me to buy it after it was awarded."

MIGHTY FLEET OF U. S. WARSHIPS STEAM OUT TO SEA FOR WAR GAME

front on both sides of the Hudson the piers were black with spectators, the windows of downtown skyscrapers were thronged, hundreds of housetops witnessed the spectacle and Battery park, southernmost tip of Manhattan, was filled with a crowd that stretched from the sea wall across the acres of green to the custom house.

Traffic Suspended.

Traffic on the Hudson river was suspended between the Manhattan and New Jersey shores half an hour before the fleet sailed. Ferry boats, excursion steamers, tugs and other craft lay at dock with many thousands of persons who had come to watch the departure. It seemed as if all New York had forgotten the rain of yesterday and swarmed to the river's edge to say good-bye.

The day was overcast, but through the clouds the sun shone at intervals. The air was chilly and a stiff breeze along the water front made overcoats comfortable. So great was the city's interest in the warships, however, that few of the throng who stood during the fleet's passage complained of discomfort or departed before the last of the battleships had left the Mayflower behind.

Boats Near Mayflower.

Close by the Mayflower lay the Dolphin, the Isis and the Yankton, with government officials, members of the citizens' committee, newspaper men and invited guests aboard. Swinging at anchor the little reviewing squadron tossed out streams of pennants and bunting that danced against the gleaming water about the shadow of the Goddess of Liberty in colorful contrast to the monotony of gray steaming past.

As each battleship passed the Mayflower, with the crew lining rails and turrets with a fringe of blue, the ship's band played the national anthem. There was little cheering in response. In bidding good-bye to the fleet the crowds seemed to be in a thoughtful mood.

Leaving New York the fleet made for Newport, the rendezvous from which will be directed maneuvers in the war game along the Atlantic coast. The president and most of his party had arranged to return to Washington aboard the Mayflower, the notable exception to the program being Secretary Tumulty, who was to go back to the capital by train.

Reviews Fleet.

The president boarded his yacht for the review of the war fleet at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon after a quick trip from the Hotel Biltmore, where the luncheon was held. A half hour was spent in receiving official visits from the flag officers and captains of the fleet, and then the Mayflower got under way. The president, together with Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary Lane, Secretary Redfield and Acting Mayor McAneny, stood on the yacht's bridge.

The fleet stretched ahead up the river for four miles, each ship dressed from stem to stern with pennants and ensigns, the national colors fluttering over the taffrail and at mastheads. The crews in blue service uniforms, the officials in gold lace, manned the rails. The Mayflower's course took her between the lines of battleships and destroyers around the end of the fleet, and back between the battleships and the Manhattan shore.

As the Mayflower, convoyed by four destroyers, reached the flagship Wyoming, the first in line, the president's salute of twenty-one guns boomed across the water. Each battleship, as the Mayflower passed, thundered a similar salute, 336 guns in all.

Followed by Dolphin.

The Mayflower was followed by the dispatch boat Dolphin, carrying Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, the yacht Iris of the commerce department, the Yankton as press boat, the Dixie, with the wives and friends of navy officers aboard, and accommodation ferry boat for the city board of aldermen. Their bands saluted each battleship with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner, which the battleships' bands returned.

President Wilson kept up a constant stream of questions to those about him. He asked about the armament and crew of each ship and often expressed his pleasure.

The frequent playing of the national anthem kept the president's head bared during most of the review. Despite the mist, he refused to keep his hat on.

Too Much Respect.

"I have too much respect for the fleet and the anthem," he remarked.

A miniature boat called the "Suffrage" hanging on the Michigan, which later appeared in a water carnival at night, attracted the president's attention but he only smiled.

The president remained aboard the yacht after she had again cast anchor, and at 7:30 was taken in a navy launch to the flagship Wyoming, where he was a dinner guest of Admiral Fletcher and officers of the fleet.

The day's program ended with a race among the battleships' boat crews under the glare of searchlights and the water pageant, consisting of a parade of ships launches, humorously or historically decorated.

RELATIONS OF LABOR AND LAW

gested Commissioner Weinstock, "would you say the strikers should be punished?"

"Suppose there was bloodshed and destruction of property and liberty was saved; then what?" countered Darrow.

"There are other things to be considered besides life and property. The liberty of a man is one thing and must be judged by history. There has been very little improvement in the world without bloodshed. It seems to be the law of nature."

"Do you believe in bloodshed?"

Bloodshed Is Nature.

"I neither believe or disbelieve in it. It is nature. Take bloodshed out of the world and we would still be living in caves."

Both labor and capital, he said, looked upon strikes as warfare.

"To you believe our liberty is a delusion and that we are as much warranted in resisting authority as the people of Russia?" Darrow was asked.

"Freedom is a relative term," was his reply. "The people of the United States are freer than those of Russia and Germany. They are not as free as the people of England. They are nowhere as free as they were 75 and 100 years ago."

Darrow suggested government ownership of coal mines and when asked what would prevent it if the people wanted it replied:

"Congress, the president and the supreme court."

Minimum wage, eight-hour day, workmen's compensation and woman suffrage laws Darrow characterized as "not worth a pinch of snuff; not which get at the root of nothing."

er to bear than the sense of injustice that finds no vent in expression. For the last nine months I have kept silence and treated with disdain charges of disloyalty and suggestions of treachery made against me in the press and elsewhere. But I can keep silence no longer, for these charges and suggestions now have been repeated by public men who have not scrupled to use their positions to inflame the over-strained feelings of the people.

allies have now advanced about five miles up the Gallipoli peninsula.

An Amsterdam dispatch to a Paris newspaper says the German reply to the American note will be dispatched on Thursday, and that it is expected in Holland that Germany will decline to modify her methods of submarine warfare.

The decision of Italy's policy concerning the war apparently has been postponed until after parliament meets on Thursday. It is expected in Rome that parliament will be asked to confer plenary powers on the cabinet.

A plot to assassinate the sultan of Turkey, Field Marshal Von Der Goltz, Field Marshal Von Sanders and Enver Pasha is said to have been discovered in Constantinople.

Reports from the western front disclose no important changes subsequent to the victory over a two-mile front near La Bassee announced yesterday by the British commander. Heavy fighting continues all along the line north of Arras.

Violent counter-attacks undertaken by the Germans are said by the French war office to have failed and a small gain for the allies near Ablain is reported. The French communication also says the Germans left 2,000 dead on the ground near the Yser canal, over which they attacked the allied lines.

Passengers on the steamship Transylvania which reached Glasgow from New York yesterday state that they saw a submarine within a few hundred yards of the vessel then off the Irish coast on Saturday. Statements of some passengers that a torpedo was discharged at the steamer are contradicted by others.

French Statement.

Paris, May 18, 2:35 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"On the terrain to the west of Yser canal conquered by us yesterday and the day before yesterday, the Germans left about 2,000 dead, and a great number of rifles.

"During the course of the engagements of yesterday we made some further prisoners.

"To the east of the canal we have consolidated the positions recently taken by us.

"During the night the Germans undertook a particularly violent counter-attack, preceding this action by a bombardment with artillery and bomb-throwers. They were repulsed.

"In the region to the north of Notre Dame de Lorette, on the road from Aix-Noulette to Souchez, we checked completely by our fire two other German counter-attacks.

"As for ourselves we captured as a result of a night advance a group of houses near the cemetery of Ablain. Along all the front to the north of Arras the artillery fighting is continuing by day and by night. The Germans have bombarded Arras with particular ferocity.

"In the region of Ville-Au-Bois, near Berry-au-Bac, the enemy yesterday undertook a fresh attack, but he was easily repulsed."

Russian Statement.

Petrograd, May 18, via London.—An official statement issued by the Russian general staff admits that Austro-German columns "pursued" Russian troops which moved to a new position between the Pilica and the Upper Vistula. It is contended, however, that attacks against the recently occupied front in the direction of the Stry and Dolina were fruitless as were assaults along the Pruth.

You Will Feel Better All Day Long

If You Will Start in the Morning With "Benetol."

Make "Benetol" a part of your regular morning toilet. Just a few drops in a glass of water. Rinse the "morning taste" out with it—gargle with it, drink a swallow or two, wash your teeth with it, and use it as a nasal cleanser.

A "Benetol" Gargle Will Take Away that "Morning Taste" and Leave Your Breath, Stomach and Disposition Sweet.

It is the most powerful, harmless antiseptic and germicide known to medical science. It will free you from a cold or sore throat, cure any catarrhal affection you may have, keep your bowels and kidneys antiseptically clean and healthy and keep you free from germ diseases.

Most highly recommended as a general household antiseptic and germicide because it is absolutely harmless, both externally and internally. No danger of the little tots getting hold of the "wrong bottle" with such fatal results as are frequently caused by the presence in the home of carbolic acid, mercury tablets and other poisons. And still "Benetol" is actually stronger as a germicide than any of these!

"Benetol" is sold by nearly all druggists in 25c, 50c and $1.00 packages. If you wish a trial, we have a liberal package containing "Benetol" liquid, ointment and tooth cream. This trial package is not to be had at dealers', but will be sent to any address upon receipt of ten cents (coin or stamps). Be sure to try these "Benetol" preparations—they are really most delightful and you are sure to be pleased and benefited by them. Made only by the Benetol company, 130 Benetol building, Minneapolis, Minn.

Sold, recommended and guaranteed in Duluth by all druggists and leading drug stores everywhere.

SUIT TO DISSOLVE THE BILLPOSTERS

Government Charges the Organization Violates Anti-Trust Law.

Chicago, May 18.—The opening statement of the government in its suit to dissolve the Associated Billposters and Distributors of the United States and Canada on grounds that the organization violates the anti-trust statutes was made yesterday before Judge Kenesaw M. Landis in the United States district court.

"The government contends that the officers of the associatiton are engaged in a conspiracy to monopolize interstate trade in posters," said Morgan L. Davies, assistant district attorney, in his opening statement.

"We contend that this organization conspired against the law by limiting its membership to one representative in a locality, by adopting rules, which were strictly enforced, preventing members from accepting advertising from anyone not a licensed solicitor of the organization, and by establishing arbitrary schedules of prices for billposting service."

The old days of the advance man who plastered gaudy circus posters on barns, fences and sheds, were described by Charles Ringling of Ringling Brothers, the first witness. Mr. Ringling said his experience as a circus man extended back to 1884 and that formerly it was the practice of the circus men to deal directly with local men in the temporary erection of boards for posters.

COUNCIL UPHOLDS PRESIDENT WILSON

Expresses Confidence and Trust in His Ability to Meet Complications.

Confidence and trust in President Wilson's ability to handle the grave international complications that have arisen as the result of the European war, are expressed in the resolution unanimously adopted by the council at its regular weekly meeting last evening.

The resolution, as published in The Herald yesterday, was introduced by Commissioner Farrel. It follows:

"Resolved, That it is the unanimous conviction of this body that President Wilson has risen nobly to the high demands made upon him by the grave crisis in the international relationships of this nation; that he has voiced clearly and vigorously the unanimous thought of the American people, and has voiced it as they would have had him voice it, with patriotic spirit and far-seeing statesmanship; that the trust imposed in him by the American nation has been splendidly justified; and that the people of Duluth, like the people of the rest of the United States, are back of him to a man."

CONSERVATION OF LIFE IMPORTANT SUBJECT

Grand Forks, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Conservation of life, said Dr. Harry E. Ward of the University of Boston, is the most important problem now confronting society. Dr. Ward is delivering a series of lectures here under the Hazlett foundation of Wesley college.

The question of checking the waste in human lives, which are found in poverty, disease and vice, Dr. Ward maintains, is one of education only.

DRYS CLAIM BIG VICTORY

Unofficial Result of Clay County Vote Shows Majority of 1,066.

All of Moorhead's Thirty-Seven Saloons Will Quit June 30.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roseau, Clay and Yellow Medicine counties voted dry in yesterday's county option election, thereby putting forty-seven saloons, of which thirty-seven were in Clay, out of business.

Moorhead, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The drys have a majority of 1,066 as a result of the county option election in Clay county yesterday. These figures are unofficial, but are claimed by the leaders of the dry movement as correct on private advices from the few precincts not yet officially reported.

The victory is regarded as one of the biggest of any county in Minnesota, when considered from the big fight put up by the saloon men and from the record of Moorhead as a saloon town.

Plan Celebration.

The "drys" feel that with more favorable weather conditions yesterday, their majority would have exceeded 1,200, possibly 1,300. A huge mass meeting will soon be held to celebrate yesterday's victory. As all licenses at present held by Moorhead saloons expire June 30, and Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith has given an opinion that new licenses cannot be issued after counties have gone dry, all Moorhead saloons will close June 30.

One of the Barnesville saloons, under the terms of its license, can operate until Nov. 17. The drys claim to have carried every town but two.

HEAVY SNOWFALL AT APPLETON, WIS.

Heaviest Fall in Twenty Years; Will Prove Boon to Crops.

Appleton, Wis., May 18.—One of the heaviest snow storms of the season prevailed last night, and probably aided greatly in saving part of the crops. In addition to the strawberries, it is thought the entire apple crop is ruined.

The snow was the heaviest fall since 1895, and the first May storm in four years.

HORSES STRAY MANY MILES TO FORMER WYOMING RANGE.

New England, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three out of four horses that strayed from L. M. Mortenson's ranch near here several weeks ago have returned to their old home range in Wyoming. The other animal may have been captured on the route. The horses were originally purchased in Wyoming and had never been satisfied since being brought to this state. The distance they returned is 250 miles air line and they were on the road several weeks.

TO ENCOURAGE CANNING.

State Will Urge Boys' and Girls' Clubs to Preserve Fruit.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The canning club work for boys and girls, which has been carried on so successfully in the southern states, is to be conducted extensively in all parts of Minnesota this year to demonstrate how the enormous waste of fruit and vegetables in a season of plenty may be turned into a profit.

T. A. Erickson, head of the boys' and girls' club work in the state, is to be in charge.

The canning outfits will be small portable machines costing from $10 to $25, with a capacity of from 100 to 200 quarts a day. Many of the schools and several of the county superintendents of schools have bought canning outfits for use this summer.

County Superintendents N. A. Thorson of Polk county and W. B. Stewart of Beltrami county will use outfits in rural school work. The high schools of Albert Lea, Wayzata, Mankato, Bemidji, East Grand Forks, Lake City, Cokato, Moorhead, Warren, Stevens, Grand Rapids and other cities are pushing the work. Many farmers' clubs are purchasing canners.

To encourage the canning work the Minnesota state fair, Sept. 6 to 11, will hold a canning club demonstration with O. H. Benson, canning club specialist of the United States department of agriculture, in charge. The girls competing in the bread making contest will be divided in groups, and a contest conducted each day to prove the comparative efficiency of different canners. All types of portable canners will be used.

BOTH LITIGANTS LIKE 1 CENT SLANDER VERDICT.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Joseph H. Beck, secretary of the Association of Commerce, was awarded a verdict of 1 cent Monday in his $25,000 suit for alleged slander against Dr. J. C. Nelson, Danish vice consul.

Both Secretary Beck and Dr. Nelson expressed their satisfaction over the result.

Secretary Beck charged Dr. Nelson with slandering him at a hearing on a Summit avenue paving project before the old board of public works, June 12, 1913.

ARGUE TRAIN CASE.

State's Appeal in Duluth Sunday Train Matter Presented.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Arguments were presented before the Minnesota supreme court Monday regarding an order made by the railroad and warehouse commission, compelling the Great Northern to restore Sunday train service between East Grand Forks and Duluth.

The hearing was on an appeal made by the attorney general from a decision by Judge Dickson of the Ramsey county district court, who upheld the railroad company in its appeal from the order of the commission.

The chief contention of the Great Northern, represented by General Attorney L. M. Countryman, was that the order interferes with interstate commerce.

APPEAL TO GOVERNOR

Planned By Mothers of Men Convicted in Copper Country.

Houghton, Mich., May 18.—A meeting of mothers has been called to initiate a petition to Governor Ferris asking him to pardon Edwin Polkinghorne, John Groffe, Arthur Davis and Joshua Cooper, the four Seeberville convicts returned to prison at Marquette Monday because the supreme court refused them a new trial.

The four were convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of Steve Putrich, who was shot to death in a fight following the attempt of the four men to arrest laborers involved in the copper miners' strike.

All four were sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment.

PINE CITY WILL GREET FIREMEN

Making Ready to Give State Fire Fighters Fine Reception.

Pine City, Minn., May 18.—When the state convention of firemen is held here next month, it is expected there will be at least 2,000 visitors, and citizens are preparing to properly entertain everyone. Secretary Myler of the state committee predicts an attendance of this magnitude, basing his statements on reports from fire chiefs and departments throughout the state.

Private homes of Pine City will shelter at least 500 visitors. Pokegama lake hotels can accommodate 100. About 400 will be cared for in eight sleeping cars that are to be sidetracked here for the convention. Cots will be placed in buildings at the fair grounds for 1,000 men and tents will be provided for the remainder.

Women to Serve Meals.

Women of various church societies will aid in serving meals. Quarters will be fitted up where 250 persons can be waited upon at once. Pine City has a big task to house and feed the delegates, but the problem will be worked out satisfactorily.

Bands are coming from Virginia, Rush City, Brookpark and several other places. More than $1,000 has been subscribed here for convention expenses.

Winona Jurist's Funeral.

Winona, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Westley Kinney of Lake City, Burt W. Eaton, C. C. Wilson and Judge George W. Granger, all of Rochester, J. A. Carley of Plainview, and J. W. Murdock of Wabasha, were honorary pallbearers today at the funeral of Judge Snow. Younger attorneys of this city were active pallbearers. The services were conducted at St. Paul's church. There were only simple Episcopal rites. Attorneys from all over Minnesota attended. Messages of condolence poured in from many places in the Northwest.

TOWNS FEEL SAFER.

Decision in North Dakota County Seat Case Causes Relief.

Mott, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Residents of county seat towns in the southwestern corner of the state, as well as elsewhere in North Dakota, feel somewhat more secure since the recent supreme court decision on the Dunn county seat removal. The local seats of government in Hettinger, Adams, Bowman, Slope, Golden Valley, Sioux and many other counties of the state were merely designated by the county commissioners and have never had the indorsement of the voters.

In Dunn county, where an effort was made to remove the county seat from Manning to Dunn Center, the proposition received a majority, but not a two-thirds vote, and was carried into the courts. The supreme court has decided that a two-thirds vote is necessary, the Dunn Center people contending that only a majority was required.

BREAKS HIS PROMISE; IS AGAIN ARRESTED

Marmarth, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Failing to keep his word with local officials resulted in W. C. Miller falling into the hands of the Federal authorities on a charge of violating the Mann act. Some time ago he was arrested on a charge of stealing fence posts and agreed to enter a plea of guilty. Later he learned the principal witness against him had left and then he changed his mind. Angered at his double dealing the local officers investigated and found the woman with whom he was living ago as man and wife as the undivorced wife of a St. Paul man and brought the matter to the attention of the Federal government, which now has Miller in charge.

DEMENTED WOMAN'S QUEER HALLUCINATION

Cando, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Possessed of the hallucination that she was the sister of Christ and ordered especially to preach the gospel, Mrs. Rose Woodfork was taken into custody here on an insanity charge. She had been employed in a local cafe as cook for some time, and recently developed a religious dementia. She has been taken to her former home at Redfield, S. D. The unfortunate woman is a widow with two children.

KILLDEER TO REMAIN PRESENT N. P. TERMINUS

Killdeer, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the Northern Pacific will not be extended beyond this point until after the next presidential election has been definitely determined by interviews with the officials of the company by local people. The extension beyond this point to Sidney, Mont., will be expensive because of the rough country through which the line will cross the Bad Lands. There are many elevations to cut down or tunnel and a correspondingly large number of fills to be made. There will be twenty-five to fifty miles of this kind of track, and the company hesitates to make the extension under the present financial conditions and until the European war is settled, a new president elected and more stable conditions established.

SENTINEL BUTTE, N. D., HAS GIVEN UP FIGHT

Beach, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Sentinel Butte contest against Beach on the county seat election held last fall has been dismissed. The recent supreme court decision on the Dunn county case was probably a factor in the matter. The Sentinel Butte residents contended that many fraudulent votes were cast at the election, and engaged attorneys to initiate the county seat contest, one of the contention being that Beach had only one precinct, when it was an organized town divided into wards, and should have had a precinct in each ward. Judge Crawford called in Judge Neussle of Bismarck to hear the case, and the Sentinel Butte attorneys asked for a postponement. This was resisted by the attorneys of Beach, and the latter secured a dismissal of the proceedings.

NORTH DAKOTA EDITOR EXPIRES IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Thomas A. McCann, 42 years old, editor and proprietor of the Palermo, N. D., Standard, died here Saturday at the residence of his sister. He was taken ill suddenly in Palermo and came to St. Paul for an operation, dying before being taken to the hospital. He had been in Palermo for six years. Funeral services were at 10 a. m. Monday from St. Andrew's church, St. Paul. He is survived by his wife and two children.

St. Paul Elks' Loss.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Fire resulting from a defective fireplace caused damage estimated at $1,000 at the Elks' clubhouse on Washington street, near Sixth street, Monday. Firemen found it necessary to chop into the walls to fight the flames.

Lightning Kills Farmer.

Winona, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Planting corn in a field on his farm near Bethany, this county, Herman Bendett, 52 years old, was struck and killed by lightning. Both horses were felled, but merely stunned. Sons of the dead man discovered their father when they looked from a window of their home, which overlooked the field. His clothing was afire.

Bloom Now Postmaster.

Devils Lake, N. D., May 18.—As a result of the resignation of Mrs. Marjorie J. Bloom as postmistress here, which was recently accepted by the postmaster general, Col. J. H. Bloom has been named as her successor and assumed charge of the office Monday.

Boy Hangs Himself.

Blue Earth, Minn., May 18.—Walter Behrends, 15-year-old son of Herman Behrends of Klester township, this county, committed suicide by hanging himself after being reprimanded.

Spooner, Wis., Fire.

Spooner, Wis., May 18.—Fire destroyed a feed store, secret society hall, Weldon's harness shop and Ole Scanlon's hotel, and partly destroyed Rasmussen Brother's livery stable and the Lentz hotel. Several residences also were damaged. The loss is $17,000, with little insurance. The Royal Neighbors, Modern Woodmen of America, Order of Beavers, railroad conductors and trainmen lost all their furniture and paraphernalia.

Wins in First.

Kansas City, Mo., May 18. — Indianapolis was one run behind when they got three men on bases with no outs in the ninth yesterday, but Kansas City tightened and shut them out, winning an eighth straight victory, 1 to 0. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	0	9	1
Kansas City	1	4	1

Batteries—Merz and Gossett; Lathrop and Alexander.

Millers 7; Colonels 3.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 18. — Bunched hits in the sixth and seventh innings gave the champions a 7-to-3 victory over Louisville yesterday. Middleton was batted from the box in the sixth, and Marks, who succeeded him in the seventh, was hit hard. Young was steady except in the sixth. The game was featured by much fast fielding. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	3	8	2
Milwaukee	7	10	3

Batteries — Middleton, Marks and Clemons; Young and Brannan.

Smothered in Rain Storm.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 18. — A drizzling rain started in the first inning of yesterday's game and was a downpour before Umpire Johnson called the game. Harper was woefully wild and Cleveland had no trouble making runs without the aid of hits. Williams' home run was the only Minneapolis score of 11 to 1 game, which was called in the eighth. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	11	4	1
Minneapolis	1	5	4

Batteries — Harper, Ingersoll and Sullivan, Gharrity; James and Devogt.

Five-Inning Game.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Leonard, who had singled, scored on Coleman's double in the second inning and Columbus won a five-inning game from St. Paul yesterday, 1 to 0, rain stopping the play. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Columbus	1	4	0
St. Paul	0	3	0

Batteries—Schenceberg and Coleman; Hall and Johnson.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Phillies 5; Cardinals 3.

Philadelphia, May 18.—Home runs drove in all of the tallies which gave Philadelphia a victory over St. Louis yesterday. Cravath's home run sent in two runners besides himself, while Niegoff and Becker each made a circuit drive with no runners on the sacks. A home run by Dolan and three doubles and a single in the fourth and fifth produced St. Louis' tallies. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	3	7	1
Philadelphia	5	11	1

Batteries—Perdue, Griner and Snyder; Mayer and Killifer.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Whales 6; Baltimore 5.

Chicago, May 18.—Hanford's single in the tenth inning, gave Chicago the tying and winning runs and a victory over Baltimore yesterday, after Meyers' steal of home had put the visitors ahead in their half of the tenth. Both McConnell and Bender were hit hard, five hits in succession, including a triple and double, being made off the latter in the eighth, but fast fielding kept the score down. Swacina of Baltimore and Bender and Farrell of Chicago made four hits each, the first named getting a home run. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	5	14	2
Chicago	6	14	2

Batteries—Bender and Jacklitsch; McConnell and Wilson.

Wins Protested Game.

Kansas City, Mo., May 18.—One inning of good hitting and base running gave Brooklyn a victory in a protested game with Kansas City yesterday. The protest came in the seventh inning when Johnson hit into a double play. Manager Stovall declared that Grover Land touched the hitter's bat with his glove. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	7	13	5
Kansas City	5	12	3

Batteries—Seaton and Land; Johnson, Packard, Cullop and Brown.

Walsh Joins White Sox.

Chicago, May 18.—Declaring his arm is in its old-time form, Ed Walsh, the Chicago American pitcher, has rejoined his team here. Walsh went to the Pacific coast on the training trip and while taking special treatment for his arm became ill. His recovery was announced a few days ago and soon after he left Los Angeles.

Oklahoma Cracks Win.

Chicago, May 18.—The Oklahoma university tennis team, Dean and Monett, yesterday defeated M. James and H. James of Northwestern university in doubles, 6-7, 7-5, 6-1, 7-5. M. James defeated Monett in singles, 6-1, 6-2, and Dean bested H. James, 6-2, 6-3. This is the first invasion of the North by the Oklahomans. They are to play at Wisconsin today.

GRADE TEAMS WILL PLAY

Five Games on the Cards; Washingtons Defeat the Franklins.

In the Duluth school league baseball schedule for today five games are carded, as follows:

Adams and Bryants, Nineteenth avenue west and Boulevard.

Irvings and Monroes, Thirty-second avenue west.

Emersons and Lincolns, Tenth avenue west.

Jacksons and Lowells, Duluth Heights, doubleheader.

Lakesides and Endions at Lakeside.

It is expected that all of these games will be close and well played.

Yesterday the Washingtons defeated the Franklins by the score of 14 to 4. The Washington team is going along at a fast clip and is expected to make a real bid for the pennant in the Eastern division of the grade school league.

DARBY AND UNGLAUB HAVE USELESS RUN-IN

Quarrel Over Extra Game; Weather Makes It Impossible, Anyway.

Fargo, N. D., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Darby O'Brien of the Duluth Dooks and Col. Unglaub of the Fargo-Moorhead baseball forces, got into a bitter argument over the postponement of a double-header that may lend a little zest and interest to future contests between their forces.

Because of the lay-off on account of Saturday's rain, arrangements were made for a double-header Monday. O'Brien agreed, then early in the forenoon backed out on the ground that his flingers were going badly. As Unglaub had advertised the game he became peeved and the pair of baseball managers said a lot of decidedly uncomplimentary things to each other.

All of the argument was useless, too, as the weather man turned on a few snow flurries and not even one game could be played.

When Duluth returns from a four-day series later on six games will have to be played.

BILLIARDS

Detroit, Mich., May 18.—Clarence Jackson of Detroit defeated Walker Cochran of Chicago 300 to 280 and 300 to 268 in two blocks of their 1,800 18.2 balk-line billiard match, which began here yesterday.

In the first game played in the afternoon, Jackson's average was 13.04 and his high run 56. Cochran's average was 12.34, high run 61. Averages for the night game were: Jackson, 12, 48; Cochran, 11.17, 87. Two more blocks will be played today.

New York, May 17.—George Moore, world's champion at three-cushion billiards, defeated Alfred De Oro, former champion, 50 to 49, in the first round of their 150-point match here last night.

Testing Baseball Pools.

Chicago, May 18.—Four men arrested Saturday, charged with promoting baseball pools, were granted jury trials when arraigned. Their cases were set for May 24 and June 3. Hermann Schuettler, first deputy superintendent of police, declared these were to make a test case to learn if the baseball pools violate the ordinance against gambling. The defendants will fight their case.

DULUTH TO ENTER SENIOR EIGHT IN THE NATIONAL

Julius H. Barnes Declares in Favor of Going After Big Race; Ten Eyck Starts His Crew Rowing Over Two-Mile Course in Preparation for Pacific Coast Contest.

BY BRUCE.

Yesterday was an important day for the rowing department of the Duluth Boat club—first, Julius H. Barnes sent on word from New York that he was in favor of the club entering a senior eight in the Springfield races and, second, James E. Ten Eyck started his men rowing over a two-mile course.

It now looks certain that the club will send another grand eight east, and it also begins to look certain that the local club will send an eight to the Pacific coast to compete against the college crews that finish first and second in the Poughkeepsie events.

The elder James Ten Eyck has written to our Jim that it looks as if the winner of the Poughkeepsie and the second crew in the eight race will, without a doubt, go to the coast for the big Panama fair national events. Mr. Barnes, in the communication of yesterday, also stated that he stood heartily in favor of Duluth's sending an eight to the Pacific coast, if there was an opportunity of competing against the big college eights.

What Mr. Barnes said in his letter is the very reason why Jimmy Ten Eyck measured off a two-mile course yesterday and without loss of time started his eight getting used to the distance.

Down at Poughkeepsie the college crews row over a four-mile course. It is not believed that the racing distance on the coast will be fixed at much over two miles, and, in the meantime, while waiting for a multitude of events to transpire, Ten Eyck is going to prepare his men for the two-mile distance.

Out to Equal Record.

Now that it is practically established that the Duluth Boat club is going to send a senior eight to the Springfield events, it is not out of the way to state that Duluth has the opportunity this season to equal the record of the Pennsylvania Barge club—that of winning the senior eight event three successive seasons.

The Philadelphia club pulled down the derby event of the National in 1897-98-99. The Argonaut Rowing club of Toronto won the prized trophy event in 1901, 1905, 1907 and 1910. The New York Athletic club eight won it in 1891, 1892, 1906 and 1909. In 1906 the senior eight contest between the New York Athletic eight and the Riverside, B. C. of Boston was a dead heat. But as each of the crews was awarded a medal the race has been counted in the list of wins for each club.

As every follower of rowing knows, the dauntless eight of the Duluth Boat club captured the big classic event of the National in 1913 and 1914. If Ten Eyck's boys come through with a win this season the consecutive winning record of the National will have been equaled and great honors added to the already famous reputation of the boat club.

It might be added here that the Duluth boat crews have already equaled the record of the Argonauts in the matter of consecutive winning in the intermediate eight event. The Toronto club has won the intermediate eight event in three consecutive seasons, while in 1912-13 and last year the intermediate event was pulled down by the local club eight.

Great Honors to Be Won.

Even a superficial consideration of what may be in store for the oarsmen of the Duluth Boat club this season, impresses one with a conception of what new honors may be added to the national fame that has been won by the Duluth crews during the last four seasons.

For years it has been a popular theory that college crews are superior in finish, execution, endurance and finish to the best crews that can be turned out in the athletic and boat clubs of the country. If the Poughkeepsie first and second eights journey out to the Pacific coast, and Duluth sends an eight out in question of what will practically amount to the national American eight championship, and should win the event, rowing men the country over would lavish praise on the rowing machine developed by Ten Eyck.

In addition to the honors that may be won on the coast there is the opportunity to win three straight senior eight contests in the national. It should prove a great year for the crews of the boat club—that is, understand, if Ten Eyck can develop the same class of oarsmen that have carried the colors of the club to victory in the past.

RED WATSON AND MANDOT

Lightweights Will Clash at Superior; Billings on Bill.

Joe Mandot and Red Watson are scheduled to meet at the Superior Grand on the evening of May 28. Watson is expected to complete his training in Superior, arriving some time during the latter part of the present week. Mandot will go to Chicago and work in one of the gymnasiums of the Windy City.

Mandot should defeat Watson, judging the bout on form. Freddy Welsh had little trouble with Watson, easily avoiding the laborious swings of the stocky, little red-headed pugilist from the sunny vales of California. Welsh jabbed Watson repeatedly without a return, discounting the heavy artillery of the coast lad by nimble footwork.

Comparing the work of Mandot and Watson against Pal Brown, it looks like Mandot. Watson is a swinger pure and simple with little use or knowledge of a straight blow. Mandot should be able to get inside the swings of Red and reach his head and body.

Kid Billings and Mike Snyder will furnish the semi-windup of the bill. The Billings one has not made an appearance across the way for some time.

DOOKS HOME ON FRIDAY

Final Road Series Will Open With Grand Forks.

Bad Weather Has Hurt the Finances of League.

Duluth opens a series with Grand Forks today. But three games are scheduled with the Flickertails. On Thursday evening the members of the White Sox clan will pack their bats and gloves and things in portmanteaus and carpet sacks and hit the home trail. On Friday of the present week the Dooks will usher in the home season by meeting the members of the Fred Curtis aggregation at Athletic park.

Out of the seven games played to date the Dooks have succeded in losing five. The pitchers have been going badly. Aid has been rushed to the front and Owner Blume expects that his athletes will present somewhat of an improved appearance when they limber up for the first home game of the year.

Chief Cadreau came to Darby with the reputation of being a real pitcher. The Indian has failed to show anything as yet. Whether it is the weather, lack of early training, or because of the fact that Cadreau is going back, it will require some time to answer.

Frank Hoffman is expected to fill a hole in the hurling department. The former Duluthian made a creditable record with Joe Killilan and should prove steady and effective in this league.

Mayor to Start Game.

As has been the custom in various municipalities since the days when Father Chadwick was a lad peeking through a knot hole in the fence, the game will be opened by the mayor of the city throwing the first ball. Mayor Prince officiated at the amateur league opening and let loose a wild pitch. His control on Friday of the present week is expected to be much improved. There will be a parade from the city hall to the ball park. A band will lead and the players of the two teams will be in automobiles. As jitneys are enjoying great vogue this season the parade may be augmented by a string of the small vehicles. The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

Magnates Losing Coin.

As stated yesterday, the atrocious brand of weather that is being flopped about over the Northwestern territory is responsible for the loss of some coin on the part of the Northern league magnates. Duluth has had five games postponed to date, but seven out of the even dozen scheduled having been played. As the opening series in Winnipeg and St. Boniface were supposed to draw large gates, the rain has caused a real money loss in addition to causing a grievous tieup in the schedule.

In the first two weeks of the season enough postponed games are piled up to make double-headers the rule on the return engagements in Winnipeg, St. Boniface and Fargo upon the part of the Dooks.

Magnate Blume counted on a big gate at Winnipeg, the financial rock of Gibraltar of the league. His hopes were dashed to the ground by rain and cold weather. Now there is but one more trip in which to get some of the Winnipeg dough. It's tough on Harry.

Just how the Peg will turn out to the games this year, it is quite too early to state. The weather has hurt the attendance so far, but John Burmeister and the magnates of the league believe that the weather alone is responsible. Neither John Burmeister nor Herr Blume believe that the war will cause a falling off at the gate of the Canadian clubs.

Byers Defeats Dawson.

Clayton Byers won his first block in the contest with Edward Dawson at the Palace Billiard parlors last evening. Byers ran out his 200, while his opponent was accumulating 161 points. Byers made a high run of 26, and Dawson clicked off a run of 35.

Killed By Pitched Ball.

Chicago, May 18.—Walter Johnson, 18 years old, died yesterday of concussion of the brain caused by a pitched ball which struck the youth on the head Sunday during an amateur game at Des Plaines, a suburb. A coroner's jury exonerated the pitcher.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Blessings of Thee, Barefoot Boy

SOON after the close of school for the long vacation—ah, how we wish we were young again!—seven million eager, red-blooded young American gentlemen will buttonhole about three million anxious American mothers and ask for the privilege of leaving off their shoes and stockings. The three million mothers will consider gravely, and if the air seems a bit damp or drafty they will sadly shake their heads. But if the weather is just right some few thousands of the careless mothers and a few hundreds of the intelligent ones will smile and say, "Why, certainly—go barefooted all summer long if you wish, darlings."

Now, why will the exceptional, enlightened mothers say this? Because they have learned, from theory and experience, that there is nothing better for a youngster's health than going barefooted in the summer time. For those who have retained the old Puritan notion that whatever you like is bad for you, let us state the case in scientific terms.

It Is Good to Get the Splints Off.

Most all foot troubles among children, we believe, are caused by bad footwear. There is nothing better for a child's foot or any other person's foot than freedom and exercise—nothing better than the removal of the splint, the brace which constitutes the shoe.

Even for individuals with weak, pronated or flat feet, exercise without encumbrances on the feet is a very helpful thing.

But particularly sunlight is a great stimulant to metabolism, vitality, growth. A boy can absorb a lot of sunlight through his shanks if he gets half a chance. It increases his hemoglobin, his red blood cells, his digestive capacity, his resistance against disease.

If you are afraid of slivers, thorns, glass, nails and such obstacles of progress, why, buy the boy a pair of moccasins or sandals.

"Catching cold," did some one mutter?

Give me my choice between the barefoot boy and his unfortunate shoed-and-stockinged brother and I should be reluctantly compelled to choose the coddled one, being, as you might say, a doctor following the sick for a living. Somehow a family doctor doesn't often get a chance to look over a barefoot boy. If he did he would perhaps conclude that going barefoot is a positive aid in the prevention of tuberculosis and some other useless diseases.

Questions and Answers.

Neuralgia: What is neuralgia caused from? Is it serious? Will it leave the face and go elsewhere? Is castor oil a good remedy for neuralgia?

REPLY.

1. Neuralgia is pain in the course of any particular nerve, often the trifacial nerve. Anemia from any cause, toxemia from various ailments, malaria, syphilis and several other chronic affections may be causes. 2. Not serious, only painful. 3. No. 4. Castor oil in daily doses of full laxative quantity has been found remarkably efficacious in many cases.

LONG MOTOR RACE CARDED

Minnesota State Fair Officials Will Stage 200-Mile Event.

Hamline, Minn., May 18.—It has been definitely decided to hold a 200-mile auto race at the Minnesota state fair this coming fall. The first leg of 100 miles will be held Wednesday, Sept. 8, while the second 100 miles will be run off Saturday, Sept. 11. The auto race program has just been worked out by the committee of the fair board to which the matter was referred.

The purse for the 200-mile race is to be $5,000. There will be five divisions of this purse, as follows: First, $2,500; second, $1,000; third, $500; fourth, $300; fifth, $100. The sum of $600 is reserved for a consolation purse in a minor sweepstakes event. As the rules of the International Motor Contest association limit the starters on a mile track to ten, all other entries failing to make the event in the elimination trials early Wednesday afternoon will be permitted to enter in this consolation event. Prizes in the consolation stake will be as follows: First, $350; second, $150; third, $100. Elimination trials will be run over a two-mile course.

Exhibition time trials for the Hamline and world's one-mile circular dirt track records of 49 and 46.40 seconds, respectively, will also be held on Wednesday, with prizes of $200 and $500 if they are shattered. An attempt will be made to lower the five-mile Hamline and world's records of 4:17 and 4:06 in a fourth event, the prizes being the same as in the one-mile event. The entries for the time trial events close Sept. 4, the fee being $5.

The entry fee for the 200-mile race is $100. Entries close Aug. 10. Only three cars of any one make will be allowed in any event, and chains or anti-skid studded tires will not be permitted.

ITALIAN MILLIONAIRE FATALLY SHOT IN N. Y.

New York, May 18.—Joshua Gallucci, millionaire and a political power in Harlem's Little Italy, was shot and probably fatally wounded last night by two men in his son's coffee room. His son Luca, aged 19, was also shot through the body and will probably die. Tonight's attempt on Gallucci's life is said to be the twenty-fifth to kill him by gangsters who envied his power. He went abroad surrounded by not less than six bodyguards. Within two years two of these guards have fallen by shots aimed at their employer.

THOUSANDS OF JITNEYS

Duluthian Says Nickel Bus Has Overrun the Coast Cities.

Moral Problem Arises—Duluth's Winter Colony in California.

Like Duluth, Los Angeles, Cal., has its jitney bus problems only on a much greater scale, according to Howard T. Abbott, local attorney, who returned this week from a two months' sojourn at Pasadena and other California winter sorts.

Los Angeles, declared Mr. Abbott, is fairly overrun with the jitneys. "There are thousands of them there," said Mr. Abbott. "Great crowds of people line up at certain starting points at all hours of the day and board these jitney buses as they pass by. The buses cover routes running in every direction from the four principal streets in Los Angeles—Broadway, Spring, Olive and Main streets."

Mr. Abbott declared that the jitneys had very materially affected the revenue of the street railway company in Los Angeles. "There is no question whatever," said Mr. Abbott, "but what the jitney has made great inroads into the traction company's revenue and that the street railway of that city has a great problem on its hands."

He also declared that the Los Angeles authorities have concerned themselves with certain moral phases of the jitney bus question. The crowding of men and young girls into the same vehicle is a practice which has caused quite a disturbance, he said, and authorities are endeavoring to work out some scheme to prevent such conditions from arising.

Mr. Abbott declared that most of the large towns on the western coast have the "jitneys," but that they were more in evidence in Los Angeles than in any other place he visited.

Duluth's California winter colony was larger than ever during the last season, according to Mr. Abbott. He declared that about seventy-five or eighty well known Duluthians spent the winter at Pasadena, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara and San Diego. Pasadena attracted most of them, according to Mr. Abbott.

Business conditions on the coast are quiet, said Mr. Abbott, except for the tourist trade, which is always brisk during the winter months.

TAXATION IN THE SOUTHERN STATES

Washington, May 18.—Of $300,000,000 collected annually for purely state purposes in the Southern and Southwestern states, railroad, banking and insurance companies especially, pay 40 per cent, about $120,000,000, and, of that sum, railroads pay almost half. These and other extensive statistical details of taxation in the section named were disclosed today in the final portion of a report by the old bureau of corporations submitted to President Wilson. Other portions on taxation in other sections of the country have been published previously. Today's report covers Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

All the reports have emphasized the lack of uniformity in taxing corporations in various states and between classes of corporations in the same state.

Oil Burners in Use.

St. Joseph, Mich., May 18.—Oil burners glowed last night through the vineyards in the fruit belt as a means of protection against the frost predicted by the weather bureau. A severe frost would jeopardize fruit valued at millions, according to fruit growers. The burners raise the temperature of the blooms 10 deg.

THE GOOD JUDGE WANTS EVERY MAN TO HAVE THE COMFORT OF SATISFACTION

JUDGE, THAT MAN ALWAYS TURNS HIS BACK WHEN TAKING A CHEW--GUESS I'LL TELL HIM ABOUT THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW
THAT'S YOUR DUTY. THERE'S NO USE OF A MAN STUFFING HIS MOUTH WITH A BALE OF HAY WHEN A LITTLE OF THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW GIVES SATISFACTION

IT makes everybody feel good to know that a little of the Real Tobacco Chew gives a lot more satisfaction than a mouthful of the old big chew sort. There you have the reason why men like to tell each other about the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS
Sixth Pres. of U. S., Son of the Second President. Born 1767, died 1848. Minister to Holland, Germany, Russia, Great Britain. Secretary of State under Monroe, both terms. Chosen Pres. by Congress, 1824. Afterward Member of Congress.

Self-Government Leads to Temperance.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS TELLS WHY PERSONAL LIBERTY ALONE ENFORCES TEMPERANCE.

"Forget not, I pray you, the right of personal liberty; self government is the foundation of all our political and social institutions, and it is by self-government alone that the law of temperance can be enforced. Seek not to enforce upon your brother by legislative enactment, that virtue which he can possess only by the dictates of his own conscience and the energy of his own free will."

John Quincy Adams.

"The best temperance workers among us, that I know, are the men who brew light, pure beer." Hon. Andrew D. White, dean of American diplomats, in his book of reminiscences.

THE KIESELGUHR FILTER AN INNOVATION IN BREWING

The Kieselguhr filtration of Fitger Natural Beer is the only known way for "keeping" bottled beer and preserving its taste. For proof: Taste the similarity between Fitger Natural Beer (bottled) and any of the finest imported or domestic draught beers.

Pasteurization, the old method commonly in use for keeping bottled beer, spoils the taste of beer. But filtration, by way of a Kieselguhr Filter, does not spoil it. In fact, it preserves it. For proof: Taste the difference in other brand of beer between its draught beer (unpasteurized) and its bottled beer (pasteurized).

The Kieselguhr Filter (first of its kind in America) makes Fitger Natural Beer the clearest, most brilliant beer in America. For proof: Compare any other bottled beer with Fitger Natural Beer.

ATTEMPTS TO LEAVE TRAIN

Crazy Man, Being Taken to Asylum, Gives Itasca Officer Time.

Peter Olson Tries to Jump From Window, Then Cuts Himself.

Crookston, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Sheriff T. T. Riley of Grand Rapids had a desperate time in getting Peter Olson of Wheaton, Minn., to the Fergus Falls insane asylum. After giving a banker at Grand Rapids $415 Olson slashed both wrists with a razor and after a hearing at Grand Rapids was declared insane.

Before reaching Crookston, Olson jumped through a window of the moving train, Sheriff Riley catching him by one foot and holding him until the train was stopped and assistance secured in pulling the man back through the window. Later Olson slashed his throat with a piece of the broken glass which was taken from him after a desperate struggle. The journey to Fergus Falls was continued from here today.

Committed to Asylum.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Olson who came here from Wheaton, Minn., to buy lands at the state land sale and then tried to kill himself yesterday by cutting his wrist after giving $415 to Cashier Aikin of the First National bank, was declared insane yesterday after a hearing before Judge Webster. Deputy Sheriff Riley left here last evening with Olson for Fergus Falls.

ALL HIBBING TO JOIN IN CLEAN-UP

Dirt and Filth Will Be Generally Attacked in Range Village.

Hibbing, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dirt, filth and disease, unsightly buildings and repulsive alleys and lots will be vigorously attacked by organized forces of men, women and children of the village next week when it is planned to make Hibbing the cleanest and healthiest, as well as the largest and richest, village in the state.

The Commercial club has taken active steps toward the most thorough clean-up and paint-up campaign in the history of the village and Secretary J. E. Lawer has secured the support of every civic organization and department.

School Children to Help.

School children have shown an unusual enthusiasm in the campaign and are daily pledging their support in the work. This is received on cards signed by the children. Those who accomplish most in brightening up the village will be given prizes. This feature alone has induced many children to join in the work.

VIRGINIA WILL HAVE NOTABLE CELEBRATION

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—Chairman Charles Eaton of the Commercial club committee, appointed to have charge of arrangements for a Fourth of July celebration, announces that a meeting of the committee has been called for next Friday evening at the city hall at 8 o'clock.

"The general public," said Mr. Eaton, "is invited to meet with the committee. The business men will be especially welcome and we want everybody in the city to have an interest in the forthcoming celebration. We hope to have it the biggest event of the year on the range. At Friday night's meeting we will apportion the work to the various sections of the committee and try to get things started on arrangements for the celebration."

LITTLE ONES ENTERTAIN.

Rice Twins and Williams Family of Eveleth Appear in Public.

Eveleth, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A unique entertainment was given at the city auditorium last evening when the children of Richard Rice and William H. Williams gave a program of music and athletics, featuring the Williams family orchestra and the Rice twins.

The Williams orchestra consists of five pieces, Mr. Williams and four children, one of whom plays the piano, one the cello, one the violin and one the clarinet. Mr. Williams plays the cornet. Alecia Rice assisted in the program with the violin and Marie Rice at the piano.

Twins Are Gymnasts.

The Rice twins, under the tutelage of their father, have developed into a remarkable pair of gymnasts for their ages. They are 7 years of age and have been working at exercises and work in the ring was clever and their bag-punching and posing brought prolonged applause. The twins had all the appearance of heavyweights when they stepped onto the stage, which had been roped off for the four-round sparring match, which closed their part of the program and they gave an exhibition of sparring that showed well the idea the youngsters have of the science of the game.

A WOMAN'S HAIR AND THE STORY IT TELLS

Somebody has said that a woman's teeth are milestones indicating her age, but a far more important feature indicative of years is the hair. Many a woman has kept her youthful appearance long past middle life because of proper care of the hair, and in this care the first considerations are absolute cleanliness and a choice of the right shampoo. It is not advisable to use a cleanser made for all purposes, but rather always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of Canthrox from your druggist. Dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous, or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and overindulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble, while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

VIRGINIA COUNCIL PLANS BUSY SESSION

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council tonight plans on having a busy session. It is expected contracts will be let for concrete, for gravel, for a street sweeper and curbing and other work. The traffic ordinance will be given its first reading.

Former City Engineer John Wilson of Duluth, engaged by the city to inspect the Sixth street sewer and see whether it was properly built, was on the job today. He and Ald Mattson donned gum boots and overalls and crawled through the sewer making a careful examination. It is expected they will partially report tonight.

An inspector of the septic tank construction may also be named tonight.

VIRGINIA PROTEST IN LEO FRANK CASE

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A mass meeting will be held at the curling rink next Sunday afternoon to protest against the execution of Leo Frank in Georgia, and to call on the governor of that state to commute the sentence. Senator Griggs, Mayor Boylan and others will speak.

MOUNTAIN IRON NOTES.

Mountain Iron, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. F. L. Parr-Hansen and Bernertson spent Saturday afternoon.

The Misses Luxford, Potter, Dubois, Hanse nand Bernertson spent Saturday and Sunday at Sand Lake.

Miss Isabelle Currie entertained a cousin, Miss Currie, Sunday.

The junior-senior dance in the auditorium of the high school building last Friday evening was a decided success.

Members of the junior class of the local high school have elected the following officers: President, John Simonich; vice president, John Endriz; secretary, Eva Gagnon; treasurer, Frank Endriz.

The ball grounds have been graded and are now in first class condition. Manager Saari announces that he has several games scheduled.

TWO HARBORS MAY OIL CEDAR STREET

Two Harbors, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council last evening considered a proposition of oiling a street. The street under consideration is Cedar street and the idea of oiling it was instigated by property owners abutting this street.

It is proposed to oil it from First avenue to Seventh avenue. No definite action was taken but the matter was referred to the public works committee. The cost of oiling the street would be about $300.

City Engineer Morris presented the plans and specifications for the improving of Poplar and Maple streets from Seventh avenue north to Eleventh avenue. The plans were approved by the council. A hearing will be had on the proposed improvements of these streets at the regular council meeting the first meeting in June.

Accept Bond Offer.

A resloution was adopted accepting a proposition made by the Marine band to furnish music in the Lake View park the coming summer. According to the arrangements the band will give four open air concerts in the park on Sunday afternoons and four concerts on the county court house lawns in the evenings.

Ten Scandinavian lodges of the city were given the use of the city park for a joint picnic on June 27, when they will celebrate Midsummer day.

On the part of the general committee on the Memorial day exercises, John Dwan extended an invitation to the city officials to attend the Memorial day exercises which will be held here on Saturday May 29.

George Raper, a property owner on Eighth avenue, appeared before the council and asked that the council get busy and finish their job of improving the street in front of his property. Mr. Raper claims that he paid for doing the work two years ago and thinks it is about time that the job was completed. He claims that the street at that place is about a foot below grade and during wet weather the place is a regular pond and impassable at times.

AURORA LIGHTED.

Aurora, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Aurora was electrically lighted again last night after being for a week without current. William Cromquist, foreman at the new plant, set to work as soon as the new packing arrived for the cylinder on the engine and soon had things in running order again. Although the plant is not yet ready to turn over to the village, he has been very accommodating in supplying electricity since the old plant has been out of commission.

FAIR

The weather man missed his guess yesterday so far as today is concerned. He said that it would be generally cloudy, and "lookut." Right here pause is made to knock wood. Not a cloud in the sky this morning and the temperature is warming up. But the weather man will have his little joke at times. Now he says "fair weather for tonight and tomorrow," but gives warning of another killing frost tonight. Last night ice formed and frost did a lot of damage.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 4:28 and will set this evening at 7:40, giving fifteen hours and twelve minutes of sunlight; two minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light to killing frosts or freezing temperature occurred last night over Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Northern Michigan and Nebraska. During the last twenty-four hours rain or snow fell over the Lake region and Upper Mississippi valley, and rain over the Ohio and Middle Mississippi valleys. North Atlantic districts, Middle states and the Far West. Sleet was falling this morning at North Platte, Neb."

General Forecasts.

NORWEGIANS CELEBRATE

Two Harbors Norsemen Observe Anniversary of Independence.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Norwegians celebrated at the Scandia hall last evening the independence of Norway. Music and speaking were given and the celebration ended with a fine baquet. Julius B. Baumann of Carlton was the chief speaker of the evening. Mrs. Bratger of St. Paul also spoke and appropriate readings. The musical program was well received. A piano and a cornet duet by Miss Erickson and Martin Sollie was especially pleasing. Gust Krogseth rendered some very fine solos and the Varde chorus also sang in their usual pleasing manner.

McCOMBER MINE IS MAKING GOOD SHOWING

Ely, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The McComber Mining company's mine about nine miles southwest of the city, is being rushed toward the full development of the property. Day and night shifts are now working at the 100-foot level. The drift is still in the ore and has penetrated it to a depth of eighty-seven feet. As soon as the wall is reached another drift will be started on the next level.

The report is that the company has contracted to deliver 30,000 tons, which will be shipped as soon as the railroad is built, but could furnish 50,000 tons on short notice.

Two new boilers and a fifteen-drill air compressor is being installed. In addition to the other machinery this will be sufficient to care for matters for some time.

John Wehr is the new mining engineer employed at the McComber.

J. C. Holly, a contractor of St. Paul, has begun the erection of a two-story 24x80 hotel, which will have all modern conveniences and be modernly equipped Several other buildings will be built at the McComber township.

ANIMALS POISONED AT CHANDLER LOCATION

Ely, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The authorities are on the lookout for the perpetrators of vandalism at the Chandler location. A valuable dog was deliberately poisoned while tied to its kennel. A week ago a dog fell victim to the poisoner.

Plan an Outing.

Ely, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the Range Manual of Arts club, composed of manual training teachers in the range schools, will spend a few days camping at Birch lake.

Besides the members several superintendents of schools signified their intention of joining the party, among these being Dr. P. P. Volgrove of Virginia, and C. C. Alexander of Hibbing. The party will stay at one of the lumber camps at Birch lake. The Ely members have made the arrangements.

Safety First Showing.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A safety first entertainment was held at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Iron Range Railroad company. A large attendance was present at both meetings. Safety first slides, which have recently been made, were shown and several reels of safety first moving pictures were presented.

Ely Man Under Knife.

Ely, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jerry Harri, a brother to Mayor John Harri, was operated on yesterday for appendicitis at the Shipman hospital. Jerry Harri suffered a very acute attack and was operated on just in time, as the appendix was nearly ruptured. Jerry's parents reside in this city.

Phone to Burntside.

Ely, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth & Iron Range Telephone company will begin the construction of the telephone line to Burntside lake this week. A pay station will be installed at Burntside lodge which will prove of great benefit to the public.

Gun Toter Fined.

Virginia, Minn., May 18.—John Sikola, farmer, arrested by the police, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs in municipal court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Sikola was in an irresponsible condition from drinking when the police arrested him.

RIO JANEIRO PAPERS COMMENT ON NOTE

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, May 18.—Commenting on the American note to Germany the local papers in editorial articles express the view that this communication makes it incumbent upon Germany either to make herself hated in North America or cease her "piratical and infamous acts." In defending its interests, the papers say, the United States is defending the interests of all America and of all neutral countries, countries which already should have taken action along these lines.

THE PAIN OF NEURALGIA

People think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same, the cause is the same and the remedy to be effective, must be the same.

The pain of neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the pain that you feel is the cry of the nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is often because the blood itself is weak and thin.

Anemia, or thin blood, is the most common cause of neuralgia. Build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you are attacking neuralgia at its root. These tonic pills also have a peculiar and direct action on the nerves so that they are probably the very best possible remedy for the treatment of neuralgia.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Get a box today and write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free book "Nervous Disorders, A Method of Home Treatment."

YOUTH TELLS HOW HE KILLED WOMAN

Russell Pethrick, 22, Confesses to Murder of Mrs. Coppersmith.

Chicago, May 18.—Russell Pethrick, 22 years old, who confessed yesterday to the murder of Mrs. Ella Coppersmith and her baby boy, was taken to the Coppersmith home by detectives today and explained in detail how the tragedy was enacted.

There was a quarrel over change for a $10 bill, he said, and Mrs. Coppersmith slapped him. He killed her with a hammer which he picked up from the floor and slashed her with a butcher knife. He killed the child in the same manner when it began to scream, he said.

He robbed the house to make it appear that the murders were the work of burglars. Pethrick's arrest was based on finger print identification.

NOT AN AMERICAN ON BOARD ORDUNA

New York, May 18.—There was not an American among the 225 passengers when the steamship Orduna sailed for Liverpool today. In honor of President Wilson, whose yacht, the Mayflower, lay at anchor in the Hudson awaiting the passage to sea of the fleet, the Orduna was decked out in bunting with strings of streamers stretched from masts to bow and stern. Capt. Taylor said he was not worrying about submarines.

Increase Justified.

Washington, May 18.—An additional charge of 5 cents per gross ton for dock service by the Chicago & Northwestern and other railroads serving mines in the Michigan peninsula, was held justified today by the interstate commerce commission.

WHEAT STILL SELLS DOWN

Market Weak on Favorable Crop Reports—Export Call Light.

Absence of Crushers' Support Leads to Break in Flaxseed.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 18.—The market was dull up to the close, and showing increasing softness.

May wheat closed 1⅞c off; July 2¼c off, and September 2⅜c off. May durum closed 3c off; July 1½c off, and September 1¼c off.

Oats closed ½c off at 51¾@52¾c for on the track, rye unchanged at $1.12@1.13, and barley unchanged at from 65c@75c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c off at 62¼c bid, and July ⅜c off at 62⅝c asked.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.42⅛, and calls at $1.48.

After a firm opening, the wheat market turned weak today, as a result of liberal rains over Kansas and other sections in the Southwest, and more favorable news regarding the prospects of the winter crop. Operations have come to regard the crop damage reports as greatly exaggerated, and that has led to a cessation of the buying movement that had been inaugurated under expectations of the yield falling much below the last government crop estimate.

Export trade turned quiet, with foreigners showing no disposition to increase their commitments at the present. Some experts consider that current quotations in September wheat are plenty high enough, and they do not care to bull the market in it with the crop outlook as it is. "This is largely a weather market now, and it does not take much to influence prices either way," said a Duluth trader today. "Should the yield of winter wheat be cut down to any extent, you may expect to see the quotations in the July future shoot upward."

The weak position of the general markets today was attested in bearish advices from some of the leading centers. Baltimore said that with the export demand dried up, spot grain had become almost unsalable. Cash No. 2 red was reported to have sold there this morning at 5c under May. Kansas City reported country sales of grain light, and Eastern demand slow.

There was nothing doing in the way of Eastern millers or export trade on the Duluth board of trade, but some inquiry from millers was noted.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at $1.55¾ and it eased down to $1.54½ at the noon hour without a rally appearing in the interval. July opened unchanged at $1.52½, and sold off 1⅜c. September opened ⅛c off at $1.23⅝ and declined 1⅜c more.

Business in durum was limited, and the market in it was weak. May durum opened unchanged at $1.53, and declined 3c. July opened unchanged at $1.52½, and broke 1½c.

Break in Flaxseed.

Flaxseed marketed turned weak again under the influence of rains over the Northwest. Pending definite information regarding the area under flax in the Northwest, crushers are sitting tight, and are just covering their immediate requirements.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.96½, and closed 1c off at $1.95½ asked. July opened unchanged at $1.99, and closed 1¾c off at $1.97½ bid. September opened unchanged at $2.01¾, and closed 1¼c off at $2.00½. October opened ¾c up at $2.01, and closed ¾c off at $1.99½ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 3¼c off at $1.77, and July 4⅛c off at $1.79¾.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 1¼c up at $1.35⅛, and London 1⅝c up at $1.95⅝.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Inglis wired Logan & Bryan from Lincoln, Neb.: "General conditions of wheat and Southeast Nebraska are still promising. It has a good stand and color. It is not sufficiently advanced to show any extensive fly damage. Some fields in Richardson and Pawnee counties have flies but it requires search to find them. Oats are very good and large acreage."

Minneapolis cash market was unchanged, with a good demand for reliable milling wheat. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 4½@7c over May, and velvet chaff at 2@3c over May.

Flour sales were moderate. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.55@1.58, and No. 2 northern at from $1.48@1.55. Wheat stocks at Minneapolis decreased 280,000 bu in three days.

St. Louis & San Francisco railroad crop report for week ended May 15 says: "Corn planting is generally completed and in southern portion territory the plant has received its first cultivation. Some low sections in Southern Oklahoma are weedy on account of heavy rains.

"Wheat and oats—In Southwest Missouri, South Kansas, North and Northeast Oklahoma damages reported to wheat by fly ranging from 10 to 50 per cent. In some sections many fields are entirely destroyed. Next ten days will probably develop extent of the damage."

Chicago & Northwestern railway crop report says: "The seeding of all grain is now about completed and considerable corn has been planted. With favorable weather, this work will practically be finished this week. General conditions remain very favorable. There is plenty of moisture everywhere and the cool weather is preventing too rapid growth of small grains."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Strength in America yesterday and lighter offerings in winters, stimulated a firmer feeling here, although market is within a narrow range. Spot, firm was ½@1½d up and cargoes were strong. Plates, 3d higher; winters, 4½ to 6d up and Manitobas unchanged. Free Indian offers checked the advances, although Plate holders are firm and the continent bidding freely. Arrivals here are ample and on passage liberal. American damage reports are being watched carefully and seem to be feature of the movement.

"Corn—Strength in Buenos Aires yesterday helped to establish a firmer feeling and forward offers were dearer, while spot was easier with a poor consumption demand."

Foreign crop summary:

United Kingdom—Good rains have fallen and this is beneficial to crops. The acreage will be under expectations.

France—Outlook is very favorable.

Germany—Reports from Copenhagen state the outlook for the new crop is very unfavorable owing to labor difficulties.

Russia—Generally speaking the crop outlook is satisfactory.

Balkan countries—Crop outlook is generally favorable with a reduced acreage.

Australia—Good general rains have greatly improved the seeding outlook.

India—Arrivals are liberal.

Italy—Crops and weather advices are generally favorable.

Spain—Rains have fallen and the coming harvest is expected to be substantially larger than last year.

B. W. Snow's report, as received by C. E. Lewis & Co., said: "Last fall and repeatedly since, I have called attention to the fact that Hessian fly was present to a damaging extent over a wider area than for many years, and early this month I said that serious complaint of loss would be heard by the middle of May. The reports now coming in accord with the survey I made last fall, and while many are couched in extravagant language, they undoubtedly present with reasonable accuracy the situation in the immediate locality to which they refer. The difficulty in applying such reports is the tendency to assume that the condition within limited areas represents the situation over the whole crop breadth. Fly damage is always more or less local in character, and while it is unusually widespread and severe this year, still it only involves relatively small portion of the whole acreage, so that sweeping claims of general crop disaster are unwarranted.

"General soil and moisture conditions have been favorable since May 1 over practically the entire wheat belt, so that whatever loss the crop has sustained since that date may be attributed to insect damage. Fly damage of serious nature is reported in Kansas and Missouri, with some injury apparent in Oklahoma, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio. Elsewhere there is yet no development of insect loss that was not known on May 1. The official crop indication on May 1 was for 693,000,000 bu. If the balance of the country, with the favorable weather experienced, has held its own then in order to bring a crop loss to date of 200,000,000 bu, it is necessary to assume that the crop condition in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma has declined considerably more than 25 per cent in two weeks, an assumption difficult to accept in view of the fact that only a moderate part of the acreage in any of these states is involved at all, while in 1908 when Kansas suffered a heavy loss from fly the decline in condition between May 1 and June 1 was only six points.

"The official report on June 1 next will show a material decline in condition in the states affected, but it is not probable that it will show anything approaching a crop disaster for wheat as a whole."

P. E. Olson, president of the North Dakota Grain company, has returned from an inspection trip during which he covered a wide area of the Northwest.

He says that crop prospects are magnificent all over North Dakota, and that grain growers generally are feeling optimistic. There has been an abundance of rain, sufficient moisture having fallen to carry the plant along well into June.

"With the exception of a little barley and corn still to be put in, seeding in North Dakota has been completed, and the wheat plant has got a good start everywhere," said Mr. Olson. "Farmers have gotten every possible acre under crop this spring and there is very little idle land over the west. The great bulk of the farmers did well as a result of the high prices obtained for their last year's grain crops. A larger proportion than is generally thought were able to hold for the up turn in quotations, and there is still a considerable quantity of grain remaining in farmers' hands."

CHICAGO MARKET.

After Wavering Start Wheat Suffers Decided Break in Values.

Chicago, May 18.—After a wavering start, the wheat market today suffered a decided break in values. Crop reports were more encouraging, and there was a disposition on the part of many traders to regard damage estimates as having been exaggerated. On the other hand, higher cables and some demand from the seaboard led to considerable support at the outset. Opening prices, which carried from the same as last night to ½c lower, were followed by slight net gains and then a fall of 1c more all around.

Rains promising a material improvement of field improvement in Kansas, led subsequently to additional sharp declines. Pessimistic rumors about the German reply to the American note counted also against the bulls. The close was nervous at 2¼ to 2¾c under last night.

Corn sagged with wheat. Besides cables had an easier tone. After opening unchanged to ⅛c off, the market underwent a moderate general decline.

Plentiful moisture tended to cause further weakness. The close was unsettled at 1 to 1¼@1⅜c net decline.

Oats took the same course as other grain. Crop reports were favorable.

Lower prices for cereals and hogs weakened provisions. Buyers were scarce.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.54½@1.56¼; No. 2 hard, $1.54½@1.55¾.

DULL MARKET IN COPPER STOCKS

Declines General and Business Is Confined to Only Few Stocks.

Business in mining stocks at Boston was light and confined to a few issues today. The market was nervous and showed weakness on fears of complications with Germany. Declines were general through the list. Butte & Superior was the exception to the rule, selling up $1 to $63.25 and closing unchanged at $62.25. Strength in that issue was attributable to expectations of increased dividend at the directors' meeting about May 24.

North Butte closed 87c off at $30.62, Calumet & Arizona 25c off at $63, Copper Range 50c off at $50, Granby $2.50 off at $79, Mohawk 50c off at $68 and Shattuck 50c off at $26.50.

At New York Amalgamated Copper closed $1.12 off at $65.63 and Anaconda 50 cents off at $31.50.

Sales of Boston curb stocks as reported by Paine, Webber & Co., were: South Lake at $6.75; Davis-Daly at $1.06@1; La Rose at 55 cents; Ohio Copper at 17@25 cents; Jumbo Extension $1.06; United Verde Extension at $4@3.94; Calaveras at $2; First National Copper at $2.25; Cons. Copper Mines at $1.50; Iron Blossom at 71@70 cents, and New Cornelia at $8.75.

At London, spot copper sold at £77 10s, off 5s; futures at £78 10s, off 5s, and Electrolytic at £88, off £1.

A Boston wire said: "American Zinc Lead and Smelting company on Monday made some sensational sales of spelter aggregating 3,500,000 pounds, at prices far beyond any figures which even a few days ago were deemed possible, and calling for delivery well into the fall months."

At a meeting of Granby directors today no action was taken on the dividend.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Drooping Tendency Prevails During Session and Close Is Heavy.

Dullest and Most Unimportant Market in Over Two Months.

New York, May 18.—Heaviness was the dominant feature or today's early stock market, all branches of the list registering declines from yesterday's close. Numerous leaders were affected to the extent of a point or more as were also the speculative specialties. Over-night news was of the character which made for increased caution. Dealings were again extremely moderate and plainly of professional origin. United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific were singled out for bear pressure.

Prices today made a slight recovery from the opening level but went lower later. Business up to 11 o'clock aggregated less than 100,000 shares or the dullest first hour in many weeks. As the session progressed trading became even lighter, with a complete absence of public interest. Private cables from London were not altogether assuring although Americans were fairly steady at that center. Domestic news was a trifle mixed with unconfirmed reports of crop damage in the southwest.

Bonds were easy.

Absolute stagnation prevailed during the midsession, sales between 12 and 1 o'clock barely amounting to 12,000 shares. Prices of standard stocks hardened slightly.

Today's stock market was altogether the dullest and most unimportant in over two months. A drooping tendency prevailed throughout.

Further selling forced prices down again in the later dealings. The closing was heavy.

EXTRA DIVIDENDS FOR BUTTE COMPANY

President MacKelvie of the Butte & Superior Copper company in its quarterly statement to stockholders, says: "The exceptionally high price of our product, a large part of which has been sold for succeeding quarters at prices greatly in excess of the estimates, will warrant a substantial increase in dividend disbursements, and it is the intention of the directors to declare, in addition to the regular dividends, such extra dividends as the cash position of the company warrants."

The company's report for the quarter ended March 31 last showed a net income through the sale of zinc and lead concentrates of $2,011,511, an increase of $1,142,295 over the corresponding period last year. Operating costs came to $848,354, leaving a net income of $747,354, a gain of $825,915. With the high prices now prevailing for zinc and lead, the company is shown to be earning large profits in its operations.

THREE YEARS' "TECH" COURSE

High School Will Aid Pupils to Earn Living Without "Sheepskin."

Manual Training Instructor Wants Plan Tried at Central.

Plans for a "tech" course, giving three years of practical vocational work in the high schools and fitting students to "earn their own living" without being graduated, have been formulated by Edward F. Geiger, head of the city's manual training department.

The instructor wants the plan tried at Central high school and probably will present it to the board of education for their approval at the next meeting.

"The course will take three years," said Prof. Geiger, "and will not be sufficient for college entrance. It will embrace English, mathematics, physics, chemistry and manual training.

"The four-year manual training course will be reduced to two years by having the pupil go to school longer hours. He probably would be required to begin his manual training work at 8 o'clock in the morning, work until 10 o'clock, take his other subjects until 2 o'clock and then work on manual training problems until 5 o'clock.

"The third-year work would be made still more practical, with close observance of the student's ambitions, and we would endeavor to find him a position in the line of work desired. For instance, if the student wanted to become an architectural draftsman, we would get him a position where he could spend half of his time of the third year at work.

"Many of the boys entering high school never expect to go to college, and for these this course would fill all the requirements and fit them for their work much sooner. I believe by doing this, we can help many boys satisfy their ambitions."

Prof. Geiger also has announced that beginning next September, manual training students will have classes from 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, enabling them to complete the course much sooner.

LAUNCH BLOWS UP; TWO ARE MISSING

Bad Accident in Sault River; Pockets of Survivors Picked.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — August Lempinen and Jacob Hauhia are missing and Charles Jarvinien, his son, Tenho, and Tom Melo narrowly escaped drowning when a gasoline launch, in which they were on their way to the Sault, last evening from Drummond island, caught fire through a gasoline explosion.

August Lempinen was captain and owner of the craft and was on his way to the Sault to get his papers. He brought his four companions along with him as witnesses. All hailed from the Finnish settlement at Johnswood on Drummond island.

When about at the head of Mud lake, fire got into the gasoline tank and an explosion wrapped the boat in flames. With hair and whiskers ablaze, Lempinen jumped overboard with a life preserver on. Hauhia followed, but the remainder stuck to the launch as long as they could. They threw the remaining life preservers out to Hauhia after they each had put on one, but as far as they know he failed to get them, the three hung on to the anchor chains of the launch until picked up by the upbound steamer Wissahickon, which brought them to the Sault late last night.

Nothing has been seen or heard of the two who jumped.

On the way to the Sault the rescued Finns divested themselves of their wet clothes and hung them to dry in the boiler room. Each of the Jarviniens claim that they had considerable money in their clothes, but when they put them on again on reaching the Sault they found their pockets had been pilfered.

SHIPPING LESS AT FORT WILLIAM

Transportation Conditions Show Falling Off at Canadian Terminal.

In their weekly letter concerning transportation conditions, coal and grain stocks and receipts and shipments at the Canadian Head of the Lakes, up to last Saturday, F. & W. Jones, lake transportation agents of Fort William, say:

"Only two cargoes of coal have been unloaded this week, one anthracite and one bituminous. There are no ships at the docks at the present time. Two steamers are enroute with coal, both being for the Canadian Pacific dock. The dock companies at these ports expect a very slack season until July, but expect a considerable increase in coal arrivals beginning about the middle of July and continuing for the balance of the season. Western car shipments are still very light and stock piles are being reduced very slowly.

"This week has seen a big drop in grain shipments, only fourteen cargoes leaving these ports as against thirty-two last week. The shipments, which totaled 2,845,940 bushels, show a decrease of over 1,000,000 bushels when compared with last week's figures. Only one cargo, about 350,000 bushels, went to Buffalo, the majority of the Canadian steamers discharging at Port Colborne. There is little prospect of any increases in the grain movement for some time. Grain shippers have sufficient grain in the East to fill all the present export demands, stocks of grain in Eastern elevators at the present time being: Wheat, 4,081,757 bushels; oats, 1,836,821 bushels. The greater bulk of this amount is in store at Montreal. Receipts from the West are steadily dropping off, this week's figures showing a decrease of over 140,000 bushels against those of last week.

Stocks on hand at date, and receipts and shipments during the week are:

	Stocks.	Receipts.	Shipments.
Wheat	4,060,880	867,685	1,905,965
Oats	2,369,789	164,178	571,882
Barley	497,230	25,800	59,638
Flax	1,434,188	44,068	24,726

WHEELSMAN ASKS HEAVY DAMAGES

Buffalo, N. Y., May 18.—Anker Nilsen of Buffalo, wheelsman on the steamer Chester A. Congdon, filed suit in the United States district court yesterday against the Continental Steamship company to recover $50,000 damages.

He alleged defective rigging caused his fall to the deck from aloft when the steamer reached here from Duluth last November, seriously injuring his spine and causing partial paralysis.

NEW RECORDS IN ORE LOADING

Records for vessel loading are coming fast these days. A new one was made yesterday at the Missabe ore docks when 86,000 tons were loaded into ten boats between 7 yesterday morning and 6 last night. Last week 71,400 tons were loaded in a similar length of time into ten boats. Had the weather been better, it is said, it is likely that the record would have been greater. The fact that the new ore dock—the largest in the world—is working this year, makes the record-making possible. It is likely, it is claimed, that there will be several still larger records before the season ends.

EASTERN TIME GIVEN IN DETROIT REPORTS

Vessel agents and others to whom the Detroit reports of passages of vessels, as published in The Herald daily, are of importance, are adjusting their estimates of arrivals at certain points, based on the passages at Detroit, on the fact that now time reported at Detroit is on the Eastern standard time.

Up to a few days ago Central time was used, but Detroit has now adopted the Eastern standard. Central time is one hour behind Eastern time. For example: Noon at Detroit is 11 a. m. here.

WILL INITIATE NEW CLANSMEN

Clan Stewart will put through a large class of candidates this evening at its regular weekly meeting at Clan hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, and, following the work, there will be a program for clansmen only. The committee in charge of the program consists of B. F. Forbes, Dr. C. J. Wallace and A. A. Deans.

That a large class will be put through is assured. The royal clan is offering a prize for the most members taken in during a given period and Clan Stewart is after it. Last year it won first place in the country as a whole, and it wishes to duplicate that feat. Simon Clark got his fighting clothes on, the other day, and the way he has been getting Scotsmen not yet members of the clan into his drag-net has the other members of the clan dazed. Mr. Clark alone has a class for tonight that will reach large proportions even if nobody else has done much.

WILL ACCEPT NEW BOULEVARD

Formal acceptance of Chester A. Congdon's gift of the lake shore boulevard between Duluth and Two Harbors is made in an ordinance introduced at the council meeting last evening by Mayor Prince. The measure will require two more readings before it comes up for final passage.

The ordinance states that the city of Duluth accepts Mr. Congdon's offer of the boulevard rights and promises not to utilize the property for any other purpose. Mr. Congdon has agreed to pay the engineering expenses and the condemnation awards.

Nearly two years ago Mr. Congdon presented his offer to the old council, agreeding to purchase the boulevard right-of-way, if the city would conduct condemnation proceedings and arrange for all the preliminary work to secure the property. His offer was immediately accepted and the council passed an ordinance on July 3, 1913, condemning the property, pursuant to an act of the state legislature, which gives cities the right to acquire property outside their limits for boulevard purposes.

Immediately after the passage of the ordinance condemnation proceedings were begun and only recently was this work completed. Frank Crasweller represented the city at most of these hearings and he also prepared the ordinance, which was introduced last evening.

CLOQUET DRY MEETING.

Speaker From Chicago Speaks From Anti-License Viewpoint.

Cloquet, Minn., May 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Carlton Anti-saloon league held a public meeting in the Workman's hall last evening, the speaker being James F. Cunneen of Chicago. The hall was well filled and the large audience liked Mr. Cunneen's lecture. The campaign for county option is now in full force and both sides are exerting every means to win. Rev. Mr. Ramshaw of Cloquet and Bert Wheeler of Duluth went to Cromwell Monday to hold a meeting there for the "drys."

THE MONTH IN WHICH YOU PRINT AND ANSWER THE MOST HERALD WANT ADS WILL BE YOUR GOOD FORTUNE MONTH.

Mr. Wage Earner, Does the Cost of Living Keep Just Ahead of Your Wages?

Are you having an uphill struggle trying to make both ends meet?

A half acre or an acre of land in one of our suburbs is the best solution of your problem. Give up the rented house. Get a place of your own.

You'll be surprised at the money you can take out of a half acre of ground, where the soil is good. Potatoes, strawberries, blackberries, gooseberries, red currants, etc., are easily raised and easily marketed. One thousand laying hens will produce $1.000 to $2,000 a year.

You can work in town, as usual, and do your gardening in your spare time, as others are doing—and you'll enjoy the work these beautiful mornings and evenings.

Duluth Herald Want Ads contain many opportunities in suburban real estate, where only a small payment down is required, then a little each month.

RUSSIAN ARMY CONTINUES ITS RETREAT ALONG RIVER SAN BUT RESUMES ATTACKS ELSEWHERE

PESSIMISTIC FEELING OVER THE SITUATION

Retreat of Russian Third Army Considered a Masterly Feat.

Russ Offensive in East Galicia Made Necessary By Austrian Menace.

Bad Weather Is Impeding Operations in France and Belgium.

London, May 19.—England, distracted by the political upheaval which is expected to end in a coalition government, finds little time to interest herself in war news, but nevertheless the Russian situation is causing a feeling of pessimism.

The official Russian announcements do not wholly confirm the pessimistic special dispatches from Petrograd, but they admit that the Russian retirement along the River San is still under way. At the same time they claim that the Russians have been able to resume the offensive on the left bank of the Vistula, a movement which may result, it is explained in outflanking the Germans attacking Przemysl.

The Austrian rout in East Galicia is not yet complete, according to London's information, but the impression is growing here that the defeat of the Teutonic allies in this section has been severe enough to prevent the complete success of the wholesale offensive movement which they initiated along the eastern front.

Retreat Masterful One.

Military experts in London are today characterizing the retreat of the Russian third army as a masterly feat

ATTITUDE OF ROUMANIANS

Action of Republic Is Being Keenly Watched in Rome.

Rome, May 18, via Paris, May 19.—Roumania's attitude regarding the war is being watched with keenest interest as no official announcement has been made as to whether the cordial relations which always have existed between that country and Italy have been transformed into an actual alliance. There undoubtedly is a diplomatic understanding between the two governments.

SCORES KILLED IN UPRISING AT POLA

Rome, May 18, via Paris, May 19.—Forty persons were killed and several hundred wounded by the police and Austrian troops in quelling the uprising in Pola, according to the Idea Nazionale. Homes of Italian subjects are said to have been sacked by the authorities.

BLAME FOR COAL STRIKE

Laid at Door of Minor Officials of Companies By Witness.

Clergyman Says They Were "Brutes" and "Blasphemous Bullies."

Washington, May 19.—Responsibility for the Colorado coal strike was laid at the door of minor officials of the coal companies directly in touch with the men, in testimony today before the Industrial Relations commission, by Rev. Eugene S. Geiddis, a Methodist clergyman and former superintendent of the sociological work for the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. Minor officials in touch with the men were "brutes," and "blasphemous bullies," he said.

Chairman Walsh asked if there were no state officers to protect workers against cruelties at the hands of minor bosses.

"The state of Colorado is represented in the closed camps and in some of the open camps by justices of the peace, who were company men," said Geiddis.

Conditions Bad.

Sociological conditions in the camps, the witness declared, were generally bad and "cursed by saloon associations," and in many cases "disreputa-

TELLS OF THE STRAINED RELATIONS WITH ITALY

DR. VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG, German Imperial Chancellor, Who Tells Reichstag of Troubles Between Austria-Hungary and Italy.

ARGUMENTS NEAR CLOSE

Motion to Dismiss Action of Riggs Bank About Ready for Judge.

Untermyer Says Hostility Against Treasury Officials Basis of Suit.

Waashington, May 19.—Concluding arguments on the motion of counsel for the government to dismiss the temporary injunction secured by the Riggs National bank against Secretary McAdoo, Comptroller of the Currency Williams and Treasurer Burke, which charges the first two officials with having conspired to wreck it, were begun today before Justice McCoy in the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

Samuel Untermyer, of counsel for the treasury officials, presented the closing argument in support of the motion to dismiss. He was to be followed by Former Senator Bailey, who closes for the bank. It was expected that the arguments would be concluded today.

Mr. Untermyer argued that hostility of the Riggs bank and the National City bank of New York against Secretary McAdoo and Mr. Williams was the basis of the present suit.

Aroused Resentment.

He declared that the removal of a "pipe line" between the treasury and the banks and the withdrawal of "special privileges" aroused resentment which culminated in the legal action, to which, he argued, Mr. McAdoo was rightfully not a party and he described the secretary's inclusion in the bank's bill as "wanton, unprovoked and indefensible."

"When Mr. McAdoo became secretary," said Untermyer, "he found that the vice president of the Riggs bank was an official of the National City bank at $12,000 a year. What was the

GOVERNMENT TO BE RECONSTRUCTED

Asquith Announces to Commons That Movement Is Launched.

London, May 19.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons today that steps were in contemplation which involved a reconstruction of the government upon a broader personal and political basis.

There is a widespread belief that although Baron Fisher has tendered his resignation as first sea lord he will be enabled to retain his post under the new first lord of the admiralty, if he does not assume the first lordship himself.

Regarding the lord chancellorship, the question is raised whether Lord Reading could take the position on account of his Jewish faith, as the lord chancellor is "keeper of the king's conscience."

All parties are working earnestly to mobilize the strong men of England.

CONVICTS WILL HAVE HOLIDAY SATURDAY

Moundsville, W. Va., May 19.—The 1,227 convicts who make up the population of the West Virginia penitentiary here, will, beginning next Saturday, enjoy a Saturday half holiday during the summer months. The majority of the convicts are employed in the prison shops on contracts and work much the same hours as free labor on the outside. The prison board recently adopted the half-holiday on recommendation of the warden, who pointed out the benefits to be derived from the weekly rest. A score of civilians, employed in the prison, will also benefit by the innovation.

IN LIGHTHOUSE NEAR THE SEA

Gen. Carranza Directs Operations of Constitutionalists in Mexico.

Says He Has No Intention of Taking Mexico City at Present.

Galveston, Tex., May 19.—A reliable statement of some of Carranza's military plans, coming from Carranza himself, was given out here today by an American who has just returned from Vera Cruz. Reports are frequent in Vera Cruz that Gen. Carranza intends soon to remove his capital to Pueblo, then to retake Mexico City and there permanently establish the Constitutionalist government.

Gen. Carranza himself, frankly says he has no immediate intention of returning to Mexico City, notwithstanding the moral effect the return might have among other nations.

Carranza's reasons for this, he says, are:

People Antagonistic.

That the people of Mexico City are antagonistic to him; that the city would require a large garrison, which necessarily would take thousands of his soldiers from active field work; that Mexico City has no military advantage: that at Vera Cruz supplies are available from foreign countries and communication with the outside cannot be interrupted.

The question recently was put to Carranza:

"The conclusion is drawn in some quarters in the United States that your

BRITISH STEAMSHIP DRUMCREE IS SUNK

Boat Torpedoed in English Channel By German Submarine; Crew Saved.

Cardiff, Wales, May 19, via London.—The British steamer Drumcree, which left Barry yesterday, has been torpedoed in the English channel. The members of her crew have been saved.

The steamer Drumcree was built in Sunderland in 1905. She was of 2,557 tons net register and 374 feet long. She was owned in Liverpool.

TRANSYLVANIA NOT CHASED BY SUBMARINE

New York, May 19.—The Cunard line made public today the following cablegram received from its representative in Glasgow:

"Absolutely no foundation for report that Transylvania has been chased by a submarine or any attempt made to torpedo her."

SUBMARINES WILL ACT AS OTHER SHIPS

Germany Said to Be Willing to Change Instructions to Submersibles.

Do Same as Surface Warships, Giving Passengers Chance to Leave.

Germany's Answer to Note Not Expected for Week or More.

Washington, May 19.—Official information was received here today that Germany's reply to the American note will not be completed for at least a week and probably not reach Washington for at least ten days.

It is now known with some definiteness that Germany will indicate her willingness to have her submarines act toward all merchantmen just as destroyers or cruisers would, giving ample time for passengers and crew to leave, provided merchantmen are unarmed or if passengers and contraband traffic are separated. That position is looked upon with some favor here, provided it is suggested as a modus vivendi or temporary arrangement does not involve the relinquishment and does not involve the relinquishment by the United States of the rights of its citizens to travel anywhere on the high seas on enemy or belligerent unarmed ships.

Must Recognize Principles.

There is an insistence on the part of the United States, however, that the principles of law and humanity expressed in its note must be recognized and admitted by Germany and that any intention to destroy American lives on the Lusitania must be disavowed. That the United States will stand firmly on the principles set forth in its note has been conveyed indirectly and informally to Germany since the communication itself left here.

Another factor in the situation, which is expected to be clarified in a day or two, is that with respect to Great Britain over the embargoes proclaimed by the allies.

That a note has been in preparation on the subject and is practically completed is authoritatively known, but it was learned today that President Wilson probably will not make any move in that direction until Germany's reply is received.

CASE OF FRYE TO PRIZE COURT

Germany Said to Have Acted Before Receiving American Note.

Washington, May 19.—Germany has sent to a prize court the case of the American sailing ship William P. Frye, sunk in the South Atlantic last January by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, but it is understood that the German admiralty took that action before it had received the American note insisting that the damages be adjusted directly through diplomatic negotiation in Washington.

It is said by officials here that the reference of the case to a prize court will not necessarily prevent diplomatic adjustment. Germany has admitted in principle liability for the sinking of the Frye.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA FORMALLY ASK UNITED STATES TO CARE FOR INTERESTS IN THE CASE OF WAR

PREPAREDNESS AGAINST WAR

Favored By Dr. Hibben, President of Princeton University.

Startles Pacificists at Arbitration Conference By Remarks.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 19.—Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university, stirred the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration today by taking issue with the pacificists who favor disarmament and by advocating "a wise preparedness of our military forces in the United States."

"I do not advocate preparedness for war," he said, "but a preparedness against war—a preparedness which in the event of the catastrophe of war itself will prevent the enormous initial sacrifice of human lives which has characterized every war in which the United States have been engaged throughout our past history.

"No one can be so blind regarding the significance of present conditions as to take the position that a grave national emergency is not at least a possibility.

"I am not in sympathy with the peace propaganda which is being prosecuted in many of our schools, so far at least as it endeavors to quicken the peace sentiment by impressing upon the minds of the young children the horrors or the economical losses of war."

Obligations Swept Away.

Without naming any of the belligerents, Dr. Hibben asserted that one fallacy tending to obstruct the progress of peace was that "this present terrible war has developed certain

TAKEN FROM TOMBS TO ANOTHER JAIL

Harry Thaw's Quarters Changed Owing to Condition of Health.

New York, May 19.—Supreme Court Justice Hendrick signed an order yesterday transferring Harry K. Thaw from a cell in the Tombs to the custody of the sheriff in Ludlow street jail.

Thaw's counsel complained that Thaw was suffering from rheumatism and throat trouble and did not receive sufficient exercise in Tombs.

In signing the order, Justice Hendrick said that inasmuch as Thaw is not a prisoner charged with any crime and the state does not wish to punish him, it would be better for him to be in Ludlow street jail.

Thaw will not be given a jury trial until June 7. Justice Hendrick postponed the case until that date in order that the appellate division may have time to render a decision on the new attempt by the state to prevent such a trial.

TURKS FIGHT WITH VALOR

British Correspondent Extols Ability of the Soldiers of Sultan.

Says They Hide Themselves in Trenches in Remarkable Way.

London, May 19.—Tribute to the fighting ability of the Turks in the three days' battle of Achi Baba, from May 6 to 8, is paid by the British representative of the press with the allied forces in the Dardanelles.

"The Turkish soldiers," he said, "fought bravely and with determination. The handling of their artillery was masterly. The Turks dug endless trenches, which were located only with extreme difficulty, while their machine guns were concealed with the skill which is such a prominent feature of German warfare. Nothing could be more remarkable than the manner in which the Turks succeeded in concealing themselves. They are experts in digging themselves in and never disclosing their position by any movement above ground. Their trenches are beautifully made, eight feet deep and extremely narrow, thus resisting effectively the most intense fire from the warships."

In summarizing the results of the three days' fighting by combined land and naval forces, the correspondent says:

"Everywhere the allies had gained ground, but the main object of their attack was not achieved."

Describing the scene of the battle, he writes:

Old-Fashioned Battle.

"It was a battle of the old-fashioned type, where the commanders could direct the movements of their troops by telephone on the basis of what they could watch going on under their eyes. The objective was to gain possession of the height of Achi Baba. This mountain has a peculiar and forbidding aspect. It closely resembles an old Chinese idol with a great, round, stupid-looking head, two stout, thick-set shoulders and two long arms stretching out on either side to the sea. From the hill above the beach a perfect view is obtainable of the battlefield.

"All the trenches of the allied troops on the firing line and the closer formations of reserves were visible. Spectators could watch over every movement on the chess board of war, but what of the enemy? Not a Turk nor a Turkish gunner or trench was visible."

CANADIAN SUBMARINE SINKS GOVT. STEAMER

Quebec, May 19.—The little government steamer Christine, which was sunk with a loss of eight lives in a collision off the Island of Orleans last night, was rammed by a Canadian submarine. Announcement to this effect was made here today.

How the submarine came to ram the steamer was not disclosed.

SWITZERLAND LIKELY TO ACT FOR GERMANY

American Embassies in Two Capitals Instructed to Be in Readiness.

German and Austrian Ambassadors Have Not Yet Asked Passports.

More Territory Said to Have Been Offered Italy By Austria.

Washington, May 19.—Both Austria and Italy have asked the United States to care for their diplomatic interests in Rome and Vienna, respectively, in the event of a severance of diplomatic relations. The Washington government has instructed its embassies at the two capitals to be in readiness to do so.

A dispatch from Rome says that owing to the feeling caused in the United States by the sinking of the Lusitania, Germany is reported to have asked Switzerland to undertake the same task for German subjects and property in this country. It is understood that the Swiss minister here already has been unofficially informed that the mission would be entrusted to him.

Report Denied.

Rome, May 18, via Paris, May 19.—At the Austrian and German embassy tonight denial was made of the report that Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, and Baron von Macchio, the Austrian ambassador, have demanded their passports or that their departure is imminent.

Offer More Territory.

Rome, May 18, via Paris, May 19.—Foreign Minister Sonnino is reported to have informed the council of ministers at its session this evening that offers of additional territorial concessions had been received from Austria.

A royal decree under which all railroad lines and stations in Italy are placed entirely under the supervision of the military authorities is published by the Official Gazette.

Under the provisions of the decree military officials are given the power to prohibit suspected persons from traveling on the railroads or even approaching the lines. All travelers are warned that at certain points they must not look from the carriage windows, but must keep the shutters closed.

Any person approaching a tunnel or bridge will be imprisoned for six

MORE COMMENT BY BERLIN NEWSPAPERS

Say It Is Impossible for Germany to Abandon Submarine Warfare.

Berlin, May 19.—The evening newspapers discussing the American note are agreed that it is impossible for Germany to abandon her submarine warfare. Various newspapers point out what they regard as the inconsistency of the Washington government "in asserting against Germany the right of American citizens to go wherever they please on the seas, but abandoning that right against England," and also in admitting "the legality of England's declaration of a war zone but protesting against Germany's submarine zone."

The Tagliche Rundschau says:

"Owing to the presence on board the Lusitania of ammunition which menaced the lives of many thousand German soldiers, it was not only Germany's right, but her duty, to sink this auxiliary cruiser, which was bringing ammunition to England and using American citizens as a shield for carrying contraband. More sacred than the lives of neutrals are the lives of our compatriots, our brave troops who would long since have ended the war if America had not prolonged it by the profitable export of arms to our enemies.

"America, as always, is proud of her sober reasonableness and when English mendacity has abated she will say that Germany violated no American rights, but acted, according to right and duty, as she was obliged to act."

THE FARTHER HE GOES, THE TOUGHER THE ROAD AND THE HEAVIER THE LOAD.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Information from various sources indicate that the defeat of the Russians in Galicia has reached serious proportions. British correspondents at Petrograd, who heretofore have been willing to concede little to the Austrians and Germans, admit that the Russians have been forced to retreat along a 200-mile line. The statement is made, however, that the Germans and Austrians have not thus far won a victory of decisive strategic significance and that their losses have been enormous.

Austria is reported to have offered further territorial grants in the hope of keeping Italy out of the war. The German and Austrian ambassadors are ready to leave Rome and the Italian railroads have been placed under military control.

Reconstruction of the British ministry apparently has been decided. It is assumed in London that sweeping changes will be made in forming the coalition government.

A dispatch from Mitylene says fresh troops have been landed by the allies on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, near the entrance to the straits.

The Turks are now said to possess an abundant supply of shells, after having been threatened for some time with a shortage.

The British steamer Drumcree of 2,500 tons has been torpedoed in the English channel. Her crew was saved.

Official announcement was made in London today that the allies are improving daily their position on the Gallipoli peninsula.

On the western front a lull has come after the heavy fighting of the last fortnight. Bad weather is interfering with military operations.

MANY LOGS BEACHED.

Raft Containing Nearly Million Feet on Wisconsin Shore.

Ashland, Wis., May 19.—The Stearns Lumber company has tugs and men working along the Lake Superior beach near Clinton park, and the mouth of the Montreal river, salvaging nearly 1,000,000 feet of logs that piled up on the beach during the late storm when a raft of logs belonging to the company that was being towed from Black river to Washburn went to pieces on the beach. The logs are worth about $15 a thousand.

WILL WEED OUT LAWLESS

Saloon Keepers Will Assist Commissioner to Enforce Law.

Meet and Decide to Watch for Any Lid Tilters.

Duluth saloon keepers will co-operate with Commissioner Silberstein of the public safety division in his effort to enforce the saloon and liquor laws of the city.

The commissioner received word yesterday that the saloon keepers held a meeting recently and that it was decided to co-operate with the safety division in its effort to enforce the laws and regulate saloons in the city. The members voted unanimously to kepe in harmony with the city authorities and to do everything in their power to get the lawless saloon men out of the business.

The saloon keepers have agreed to watch for any violations and to report those who refuse to obey the law directly to the police, so that they may be weeded out, the commissioner explained this morning.

"We want the authorities to know that we are not against any of the laws," said a representative saloon keeper, who explained the action taken by the members last week. "On the other hand, we want the ordinances enforced and will do everything in our power to help. We want the confidence of the police and the public, so that there will be no antagonism. If we find any saloon keper violating the law, we will report him immediately. We don't want those kind of men in the business, for they not only antagonize the police, but hurt those men, who are operating legitimately."

Commissioner Silberstein is well pleased with the attitude taken by the saloon keepers.

TO CANCEL LAND PATENT.

Federal Government Brings Action Against Holder of Land.

Trial of an action brought by the United States to cancel a land patent granted to a Chippewa Indian in 1892 was begun before Federal Judge Page Morris here today.

The patent to a quarter section of land was granted by the Duluth land office Feb. 15, 1892, to John Way-ke-may-mub, Chippewa Indian. Later the Indian and his wife sold the land to John R. Cass for $75. Action is now brought against Mr. Cass, a Tower man, to cancel the patent, which would virtually mean that he would have no title to the land. The government maintains that a straight patent should not have been given but a trust patent instead.

JITNEY IN HEAD-ON COLLISION WITH STREET CAR; TWO MEN IN MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Two men had a miraculous escape from fatal injury about 7:30 o'clock this morning, when the jitney bus in which they were riding collided head-on with a street car at Seventeenth avenue west and Superior street.

They are:

John Iverson, 2011½ West Third street, jitneur; and

Ivar Savo, 112 North First avenue east.

The bus was almost totally destroyed and the front of the street car was damaged to some extent, the bumper being torn off and the headlight smashed.

The jitneur and his passenger were thrown from the car by the force of the collision, landed clear of the wreckage and escaped, with severe cuts about the head, hands and legs.

They were picked up by street car men and placed in another bus, which took them to the office of a nearby physician and then to their homes.

At the time of the accident Iverson was driving west on Superior street at what witnesses claim was a high rate of speed. He was in the center of the westbound car tracks, and at the Seventeenth avenue west crossing he turned to the left to pass a dray in front of him. The turn brought the bus squarely on to the eastbound tracks and directly in front of the eastbound car.

Motorman C. Payne, 3728 West Fifth street, tried to stop his car, but both the bus and the car were going too fast to prevent a collision. T. Thorson, 4127 Grand avenue, was the conductor of the car, which was being operated on the East Fourth and West Third street line.

Witnesses to the affair stated that the car men were not to blame, and that the jitneur turned on to the track in such a way that the accident could not have been avoided.

Several hours before this accident, Stanley Schulz, 28, a laborer, was struck by a jitney bus as he was crossing Superior street at Fourth avenue west. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital and attended by Police Surgeon Klein, who pronounced his injuries slight.

Stephen Rose, 732 Fourth avenue east, was driving the car, which is owned by James Curran, 901 Woodland avenue. Arthur Juntella, 208 Lowell block, was a passenger.

WOULD START PAVING PLAN

Business Men Hope to Create Sentiment for Systematic Work.

Concrete Favored; Will Urge Petitions for Street Improvements.

An attempt to create a demand for the paving of many of the residence streets in West Duluth will be made by some of the leading citizens of this end of the city and an effort will be made at once to secure sufficient names to the necessary petition for the paving of at least one of the streets this summer. It is believed that when this improvement is completed the demand for similar improvements to other streets will be such as to keep the city department of public works busy.

Concrete pavement to a width of not over twenty-four feet in the residence district will be advocated. This improvement will not cost over $60 per 25-foot lot, according to estimate made, on a basis of $1.80 per square yard, which contractors say is a high estimate.

Property Can Afford It.

"The property owners can afford the improvement," said Emil J. Zauft this morning. "The trouble is that there has been no concerted effort to have the streets paved. Every start has been given a cold shoulder by the public works department of the past and the result has been that these efforts have been dropped.

"The streets of West Duluth are a disgrace. Property values are low because of these streets being in poor shape and the impossibility of access to some parts of the district with any kind of a vehicle. The first impression given a visitor when he sees these streets is that the community is unprogressive and that is an impression that we as residents of West Duluth cannot afford to permit."

Means Better Values.

"The cost of paving streets is small compared with the added value that it gives the property," said T. F. Wieland. "Every parcel of property fronting on a paved street will raise in value several times the cost of the improvement and the property owner who opposes such improvements is not looking into the future. Reinforced concrete paving, such as has been laid in nearby towns, is beyond a question good, as well as low in cost. All that is necessary here is a start and it will not be long before every owner of property will want the street in front of his home paved."

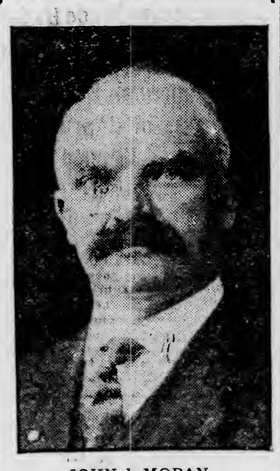
WEST DULUTH BUILDERS



JOHN J. MORAN.

If a stranger were to ask who was the best known character in West Duluth, the answer undoubtedly would be, "Judge Moran." Judge John J. Moran is one of the pioneer newsdealers in this end of the city and is said to be a fisherman by those who have been out on little trips with him.

Judge Moran also claims to hold the cribbage championship of West Duluth, but this is contested by many others.

Judge Moran was justice of the peace for nearly two years before the adoption of the new city charter. He is a bachelor.

PIANO PUPILS ARE HEARD IN RECITAL

Piano pupils from the class of Miss Florence Mattson gave a well balanced recital last evening at the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Green street. It was attended by a crowd that taxed the capacity of the big church. The program was one of the best that has been given by pupils in this end of the city.

Among those who took part were: Wilhelmina Wiberguts, Annette Almquist, Ruth Monson, Mabel Gould, Victoria Carto, Hazel Heiner, Emily Peterson, Linnea Walborg, Marie Mattson, Gladys Swenson, Wallace Strandberg, Lillian Swenson, Esther Peterson, Emma Brascullis, Marion Strandberg, Elion Sundstrom, Mildred Nystrom, Ruth Davidson, Violet Viergutz, Elwin Hallen, Margaret Kuchenbecker, Ida Antila, Ethel Mattson, Una Erickson, Marie Mattson, Agnes Henry, Eva Larson and Miss Borgil Dahl.

CLUB MEMBERS WILL DISCUSS PAVING

The paving of Thirty-ninth avenue west from Third to Seventh street will be the principal subject to come before the meeting of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club at the Merritt school this evening. A committee of property owners has been seeking information relative to the cost as well as the sentiment regarding the improvement.

The club will also discuss various features of the proposed new building code.

PETITION FOR FRANK'S PARDON

West Duluthians Will Ask Georgia's Governor to Commute Sentence.

West Duluth people will do all they can to save the life of Leo M. Frank, who has been sentenced to hang at Atlanta, Ga., on June 22. A petition is now being circulated among the residents of this end of the city which will be forwarded to Governor J. H. Slaton asking the commutation of the sentence.

Much interest has been manifested by residents of West Duluth in the trial of Frank and many are of the opinion that he has not been given a fair trial or allowed to place evidence before the court which might free him.

The petition is being freely signed. It is in the hands of Edward O. Adams, 406 North Central avenue. Similar petitions will be circulated throughout the city, it is said.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN BASEBALL LEAGUE

The West Duluth Junior Sunday School baseball league was formally organized last evening at a meeting of representatives from the Westminster Presbyterian, West Duluth Baptist and Asbury Methodist churches. Four teams are entered, two of them being from the first named church, under the name of Presbyterian Juniors and We Brothers clubs.

Charles I. Towner was elected president of the league; A. C. Ritchie was elected vice president, and William Ritchie, secretary and treasurer.

The league will begin playing ball on June 1. Fifteen games will be played by each of the four teams. It is expected to complete the schedule by the last of July.

Farewell Party.

A farewell party was given last evening in honor of Ray Messner, who will leave tomorrow for Chicago. Dancing, music and games provided the entertainment. The guests were: Misses Jennie Olsen and Bertha Sanders of Superior; Agnes De Care, Ida Sampson, Martha Kaiser, Ethel Woodford, Esther Hagen, Myrtle Clark, Adeline Bishop, Marie Anderson, Addie Hagen and Messrs. Edward Johnson of Superior; and Ray Messner, Gust Messner, Roy Mellen, Cecil Gordon, Hart Sundseth, John Anderson, Harry McMillan and J. O'Brien.

Lodge Will Give Dance.

Gosta lodge, No. 243, Order of Vasa, will entertain Friday evening at a dancing party at Victor's hall, 5528 Grand avenue. The members in charge are Fred Anderson, Axel Strom, Gust Spitz, Cristina Anderson, Clara Peterson and Alma Peterson. The music will be furnished by Jackson's orchestra.

West Duluth Briefs.

Zenith temple, No. 50, Pythian Sisters, will entertain at cards tomorrow evening for its members and friends at the Odd Fellows hall, 602 North Central avenue. Mrs. M. J. Solberg and Mrs. Micklau are in charge.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Asbury M. E. church held a business meeting at the church this afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Third Swedish Baptist church will hold its annual sale of fancy sewing tomorrow evening at the church.

Miss Hortence Carr, 3907 West Third street, has returned from a week's visit to friends at Hibbing.

Mrs. Charles E. Wilcox, 5717 Roosevelt street, has left for a two months' visit with relatives at Marion, Mich.

Division No. 2, Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H., will hold a business meeting tomorrow evening at Gilley's hall. Following the meeting a social session is planned.

Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

SUGAR MARKET IS BECOMING BULLISH

Refiners and wholesalers are becoming increasingly bullish in their views regarding the future course of the sugar market. Much higher prices are predicted.

Increased sugar consumption in Great Britain and heavy rains in Cuba interfering with cane grinding, are factors in the strong market sentiment in sugars. On top of that again is the cutting off of beet sugar production in Europe as a result of the war.

Present stocks of refined sugar in England are placed at 404,000 tons as against 424,000 tons last year. The total consumption of sugar over there for April was 187,000 tons, an increase of 69,000 tons over the corresponding month last year. The British government is now being compelled to contract for its sugar supplies in additional markets. Orders for 9,000 tons of refined sugar are reported to have just been placed in Argentina and 16,000 tons in Holland.

Quotations on the refined product are being held firmly at 6 cents by refiners at New York.

WILL WEED OUT LAWLESS

Saloon Keepers Will Assist Commissioner to Enforce Law.

Meet and Decide to Watch for Any Lid Tilters.

Duluth saloon keepers will co-operate with Commissioner Silberstein of the public safety division in his effort to enforce the saloon and liquor laws of the city.

The commissioner received word yesterday that the saloon keepers held a meeting recently and that it was decided to co-operate with the safety division in its effort to enforce the laws and regulate saloons in the city. The members voted unanimously to keep in harmony with the city authorities and to do everything in their power to get the lawless saloon men out of the business.

The saloon keepers have agreed to watch for any violations and to report those who refuse to obey the law directly to the police, so that they may be weeded out, the commissioner explained this morning.

"We want the authorities to know that we are not against any of the laws," said a representative saloon keeper, who explained the action taken by the members last week. "On the other hand, we want the ordinances enforced and will do everything in our power to help. We want the confidence of the police and the public, so that there will be no antagonism. If we find any saloon keper violating the law we will report him immediately. We don't want those kind of men in the business, for they not only antagonize the police, but hurt those men, who are operating legitimately."

Commissioner Silberstein is well pleased with the attitude taken by the saloon keepers.

TO CANCEL LAND PATENT.

Federal Government Brings Action Against Holder of Land.

Trial of an action brought by the United States to cancel a land patent granted to a Chippewa Indian in 1892 was begun before Federal Judge Page Morris here today.

The patent to a quarter section of land was granted by the Duluth land office Feb. 15, 1892, to John Way-ke-may-mub, Chippewa Indian. Later the Indian and his wife sold the land to John R. Cass for $75. Action is now brought against Mr. Cass, a Tower man, to cancel the patent, which would virtually mean that he would have no title to the land. The government contends that a straight patent should not have been given but a trust patent instead.

JITNEY IN HEAD-ON COLLISION WITH STREET CAR; TWO MEN IN MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Two men had a miraculous escape from fatal injury about 7:30 o'clock this morning, when the jitney bus in which they were riding collided head-on with a street car at Seventeenth avenue west and Superior street.

They are:

John Iverson, 2011½ West Third street, jitneur; and

Ivar Savo, 112 North First avenue east.

The bus was almost totally destroyed and the front of the street car was damaged to some extent, the bumper being torn off and the headlight smashed.

The jitneur and his passenger were thrown from the car by the force of the collision, landed clear of the wreckage and escaped, with severe cuts about the head, hands and legs.

They were picked up by street car men and placed in another bus, which took them to the office of a nearby physician and then to their homes.

At the time of the accident Iverson was driving west on Superior street at what witnesses claim was a high rate of speed. He was in the center of the westbound car tracks, and at the Seventeenth avenue west crossing he turned to the left to pass a dray in front of him. COMMITTEE IS SUB-DIVIDED Chairman Nolte Announces Assignments of Public Affairs Members.

Twenty-Two Divisions of Civil Work for Coming Year.

The sub-divisions of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club were announced at the first meeting of that committee last night by Henry Nolte, chairman. That the committee as a whole is a strong one is the general opinion, according to expressions heard. Strong, active and zealous men have been named for the various chairmanships, and other members of the public affairs committee have been, it is believed, assigned judiciously and advantageously.

The executive committee consists of Chairman Henry Nolte and Vice Chairman C. A. Duncan of the public affairs committee, and the following: Chester A. Congdon, Joseph B. Cotton, Frank Crasswellor, C. A. Luster, R. B. Knox, W. A. McGonagle, J. L. Washburn and David Williams.

The chairman and members of the other sub-committees follow:

Agriculture.

John G. Williams, chairman, George C. Stone, vice chairman, L. A. Arnold, H. W. Cheadle, E. G. Church, T. W. Hoopes, A. B. Hostetter, Dr. W. A. Magie and W. C. Sargent.

Building Trades.

HIGH SCHOOL GAZETTE BROADENS IN SCOPE; NEW EDITOR CHOSEN

At a meeting of the Agricultural club of the Central high school yesterday, Jacob Garon was elected editor-in-chief of the 1915-16 Gazette, the school bi-weekly paper. Sam Gofen was chosen manager. The associate editor and assistant manager will be appointed by Editor Garon at the beginning of the term next year.

The present officers of the Gazette are: Irving Grover, editor; Walter Mauseau, associate; Jacob Garon, manager, and Lawrence Moore, assistant manager.

The Gazette was started by the Agricultural club, but it has developed into a school paper and is one of the most influential forces in the school. Nearly every student is a subscriber. There will be only two more issues of the paper printed this year, one appearing on Friday of the week and the other one two weeks later. The last issue of the year will be handled by next year's force.

It is planned to make the paper considerably larger next year, and to have it cover the whole school thoroughly. It is believed to have filled a long-felt want this year, and the students all regret the graduation of the head of the "force," Irving Grover, who was an especially good leader.

FLYCATCHERS ARE THE ONLY BIRDS WHICH HAVE NOT YET RETURNED

Bird Houses Should Be Erected at Once to Be of Any Use; Gulls as Weather Prophets; House Wrens Came With Last Storm.

"Put up your bird houses at once."

This is the advice of ornithologists to school boys and girls, as well as grown-ups, who have built homes for their feathered friends in trees or on ridge poles near their residences.

"Most of the birds are back for the summer," said S. George Stevens, attorney, who is noted as a bird lover, yesterday, "and we should open the houses for them as soon as possible. The only bird yet to come is the flycatcher, and he is due almost any day."

Mr. Stevens is enthusiastic about the Jay Cooke park plan, and believes that when this tract of land is laid out it will be a refuge for hundreds of birds which cannot be cared for in the city.

Birds are better weather prognosticators than human beings, in the opinion of Mr. Stevens, who is able to forecast a storm in many cases by watching the movements of gulls from Lake Superior.

"Before a storm the gulls fly up the St. Louis river for a considerable distance, and stay until the northeaster passes," he said. "Whenever I see gulls and ducks feeding and 'taking it easy' near my Fond du Lac home I know a storm is coming.

"From now on," he continued, "bird lovers should be able to enjoy themselves greatly on a trip through the woods. The blue birds, swallows, bitterns and wrens, with the martins and other late arrivals, all are here.

"The bittern, sometimes known as the stakedriver, is busy repairing his fences. The bittern has a gurgling call which evidently comes from deep in his throat.

"The house wrens arrived during the storm which swept the Head of the Lakes Saturday and Sunday, and their first cousins, the winter wrens, have been here for some time. The winter wrens have the same song as the house bird, but sing it more musically and in a higher key. They seem to be in better voice this season than almost ever before."

CODE WILL BE SATISFACTORY

Compromises Made By General Committee at Public Hearing.

Proposals of Charity Head Indorsed; Council Now Will Act.

That the new housing code for the city of Duluth will meet with general satisfaction among all classes of business men, welfare societies, and the public, appears certain after the public hearing held at the council chambers last evening. The city commissioners, the general committee, and the public in general were represented, and there was little friction. Commissioner Merritt has been out of the city for several days, and could not be present.

Compromises Clear Differences.

The proposals that have been made by the members of the general committee to reduce the requirements of the present code, have been compromised more or less, and it is expected that the new measure will go a long way to promote better health and greater comfort without working undue hardship upon property owners. The general committee as a whole and the city commission feel that the discussions and working over of various recommendations will result in a very satisfactory code for Duluth as a whole.

From the mass of suggestions made those deemed most desirable by the general committee and the city council will be worked over by City Attorney Greene, who will draft a new ordinance, which will be a revision of the old with various amendments. After the code has been passed by the commission it will be published in pamphlet form and replace the present code.

Health and Welfare.

President E. A. Silberstein of the Associated Charities, who had dissented somewhat from the general committee members, declaring that health and general welfare are the first considerations necessary in drafting such a measure, has worked harmoniously, despite his differences of opinion, and many of his recommendations now meet with the approval of the committeemen. Some compromising has been done. His chief recommendations last night as concurred in by the committee follow:

The present code requires that in the minimum requirements for rooms one must contain at least 150 square feet, and that none shall contain less than 100. The committee urged a reduction to 140 feet and 80 feet for these respective requirements. Mr. Silberstein compromised by accepting the former, but declared the latter should not be less than 90.

The committee also urged that the area of bathrooms might be reduced from six to four feet. Mr. Silberstein maintained this might be justifiable in case of residences, but that the requirements in case of tenements should not be lowered.

The committee also asked that the requirements in case of courts facing bathrooms might be reduced from 5 to 2 feet, but Mr. Silberstein again urged that this should not apply in cases except where the lot was not more than twenty-five feet.

Septic tanks were recommended by the general committee for tenements where there are no sewers. Mr. Silberstein asked that in such cases the septic tanks be connected to sewers as soon as sewers were provided.

In cases of rear stairways in tenements it was recommended that the required width be reduced from three feet and six inches to three feet while Mr. Silberstein urged that this apply only when the tenement was not more than two stories.

Mr. Silberstein also objected to the proposal to permit the council to waive the provisions of the code in case of alterations in old tenements, and he urged the increase of the minimum for yards of tenements from ten to twelve feet.

In conclusion Mr. Silberstein said that most of the changes recommended by the committee were desirable. The committee is composed of representatives from the Duluth Real Estate Exchange, Duluth Building Managers' association, Duluth Commercial club and welfare societies.

WHY PAY EITHER?

Voss Thinks Neither Smallwood Nor Windom Entitled to Salary.

In view of the fact that neither Judge W. H. Smallwood or W. L. Windom served as municipal judge during the mandamus action brought by the latter in district court, Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division, is of the opinion that no salary should be paid for that period and that the city should recover the money drawn by Mr. Windom. Discussing the dispute, Mr. Voss said today:

"Capt. Smallwood did not act as judge from April 13, when he took the oath of office, to May 3, when he became active judge, while Mr. Windom did not try any cases during the period of the court action. Neither man worked at all, so why pay them any salary?

"We must follow the ruling of City Attorney Greene, who has said that Judge Smallwood is entitled to back pay, but I am of the opinion that if such action is taken, then the city should bring suit against Mr. Windom for the salary he received. The city cannot pay two salaries. I am not inclined to agree with Mr. Greene and hope that he will change his opinion.

"It must be borne in mind that the decision on the mayoralty dispute between Messrs. Prince, Silberstein and McEwen was not settled for a year after the 1913 election. Mayor Prince held the office and discharged its duties during that time.

"If the supreme court had decided for either Mr. Silberstein or Mr. McEwen, they could have collected salary for the year, under Mr. Greene's ruling."

AGAIN HEADS CREDIT MEN

H. A. Sedgwick Elected President of Duluth Association for Third Time.

Five Delegates Elected to Salt Lake Annual Convention.

Duluth will be represented by five delegates at the national convention of credit men at Salt Lake City in July. This was decided upon last evening at the annual meeting of the Duluth Association of Credit Men. The meeting took place in connection with the annual banquet which was held at the Spalding hotel.

Those who will represent Duluth at the Salt Lake City convention are: W. B. Cross, G. H. Bate, R. W. Higgins, William L. MacKay and H. A. Sedgwick.

Mr. Sedgwick was elected to his third term as president of the association. Other officers were also re-elected. They were: Mark Baldwin, vice president; J. W. Lyder, treasurer, and George H. Wright, secretary.

President's Report.

In his annual report, President Sedgwick called attention to the financial standing that a credit man should maintain.

"Success," said he "is met only after years of experience. Personal acquaintance with creditors enables a credit manager to pull business for his house. General knowledge of business conditions in the territory in which the house is transacting business, ability to make steadfast decisions on short notice, and a personal acquaintance with salesmen are aids."

The secretary's report showed that the organization was in a flourishing condition and that each meeting during the year had been well attended. The legislative committee submitted a report to the effect that several important bills offered in opposition to the business of credit men had been defeated in the legislature.

Business Education.

B. M. Bleahy, an instructor in the extension department of the university, stated that an effort was being made to continue business extension courses in Duluth this year. These classes were conducted in Duluth two years ago and were attended by a number of merchants from small towns in the vicinity of Duluth.

One of the features of the evening was an address given by W. B. Cross, treasurer for F. A. Patrick & Co. Mr. Cross gave a paper on "The Education of the Country Merchant." He discussed his subject from many angles and his talk was full of helpful suggestions.

L. B. Manley of the Manley-McLennan Insurance agency gave a talk on "Insurance." His paper treated with insurance problems and their connection with credit questions. He discussed his subject mainly from the standpoint of a credit man.

CO-OPERATION TO UPBUILD WHOLE CITY PURPOSE OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Commercial Club Committee and President Full of Enthusiasm.

Greater Efforts Are Urged By Speakers at Initial Meeting.

President Cotton and Chairman Nolte Make Bow to Members.

There was a vim and briskness to the manner in which the twelfth public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club took hold of the club's business at the first meeting of the new organization last night, which inspired in the breasts of the veterans in the work a feeling that, as one of them expressed it:

"This is an outfit with 'pep' in it."

From the conclusion of the dinner, when President Joseph B. Cotton made his initial bow as head of the club until the announcement of adjournment by Chairman Henry Nolte, there was not an idle moment, not a drag in the talk, no delay in presenting the questions that came up or in putting motions, and every minute was filled with interest.

The business of the club was light, and the chief attention was given to the opening addresses of President Cotton and Chairman Nolte; and also the latter's announcement of the various sub-committees, detailed in another column.

President Cotton Introduced.

The meeting was called to order by Secretary Eva immediately following the dinner, and President Cotton was introduced. Mr. Cotton's speech, which was brief but spirited, was enthusiastically received. He expressed his thanks to the club for being elected to the board of directors, and thanked the directors for the honor done him by electing him president of the club.

"I have been somewhat derelict in my civic duties, I must admit," said he, "and I want to thank the club and the directors for forcing me out of my shell. I know that it means hard work and the devotion of time and attention to make that work a success, but I accept gladly and respectfully and agree to do my share. It behooves every man to do his civic duty and I know that it is a good thing for me that I was brought out of the shell, and I accept, with very great pleasure, the call to duty. It is a good thing for every man in the club and named on the public affairs committee to be given the opportunity to work for civic advancement, and I am sure that there will be no shirkers. With your assistance, I promise that, with you, I will do everything I can to carry forward the great work this club has before it.

Get Machinery Running.

"Tonight we are here for a certain purpose. We want to get together and get the machinery running. We are to hear from the chairman of the public affairs committee and to make a beginning of the work of the year.

HENRY NOLTE.

JOSEPH B. COTTON.

"The Commercial club of Duluth occupies a unique position among the commercial clubs of the United States, for its work has been so aggressive and effective that it is watched and copied by other Commercial clubs of the country, and other cities envy Duluth of such an organization. I would speak especially of the work done by the agricultural committee and by the traffic committee.

"The agricultural committee has done more to develop this country about Duluth than any other organization; it has achieved what, a few years back, was not considered possible. Nineteen years ago it was my business in one case to establish in a legal matter that this part of the state had so much land that was good for mining purposes, it had so many lakes, it had so much land that was valuable for timber, and that all the rest was worthless. And we believed it. But the agricultural committee of this club has proved that we were all wrong, it has brought settlers in, made them contented, set them on the way to wealth, in short it has done wonders.

Work of Traffic Committee.

"The work of the traffic committee needs little comment. It has done and is doing a very great work for the upbuilding of Duluth, and it has attracted universal attention throughout the land. Its victories in battles fought to secure for Duluth adequate, fair and equal rates not only have given to Duluth many of the rights that belong to her as a great trade center, but has attracted the attention of the business world to her and to her possibilities.

"The Commercial club of Duluth is working for the whole of Duluth. It has nothing to sell, but is broad enough in scope to embrace every interest within the city and in the surrounding country. Its business is to promote the well-being of this great city and to lay a firm foundation for our future growth.

Must Be Prepared.

"We know not what the future may bring forth. The future is always uncertain, but we must be prepared for whatever happens. Nobody, a year ago, contemplated the catastrophe which has fallen upon the old world. And with all our enlightenment we cannot tell from day to day what the next day or the next year may bring. Each year brings its problems and there must be an engine, an instrument to do the work and to direct affairs aright. That is the function of the Commercial club. This club has no ax to grind and has no interest to represent. The object of it is to get the greatest good for the greatest number.

"Great credit is due to those who, in the past, have given their time and thought to the work of the club, and who have accomplished such great things; and I feel sure that we, their successors, will not falter or fail in our duty to the club and to the city.

Have Good Leader.

"We are fortunate in obtaining the services and enthusiasm as chairman of the public affairs committe of Henry Nolte, whose experience and energy is a very large asset, and we should congratulate ourselves on the fact that he will head this committee. We are equally fortunate in obtaining the glad and hearty acceptance of C. A. Duncan, who will be vice chairman. We have always Col. Eva as secretary, who is a host in himself."

President Cotton spoke about the difficulty of choosing a public affairs committee from the universally fine material presented in the list of members. He said that while he did not wish to impose on the men who have been serving on the committee in the past by asking them to work again, he felt that it would be a very great loss if all of them should retire, so he adopted the plan of holding the services of 50 per cent of the old workers and making the other 50 per cent up of new ones, who, he said, should take their turn in the harness. He expressed the belief that the combination would prove all that could be desired.

Urges Initiative.

"I trust," said President Cotton, "that the committee members will not wait for the secretary or somebody else to take the initiative in presenting things to be accomplished, but that they will initiate plans and projects themselves. We want, above all things, efficiency and concentration in committee work.

In closing, President Cotton said:

"The kicker we always have with us. It is for us to put him to shame. When the agricultural committee began its wonderful work, there were plenty of kickers who declared that the committee's attempts to make a farming country of this part of the state were futile. The kicker abounded, but where is he now? The agricultural committee has put him to shame. We should pay no attention to the kicker; we should put him out of our consideration, for the Commercial club stands for the composite man and the composite Duluth, not the kicker."

President Cotton then introduced Henry Nolte, the new chairman of the public affairs committee, who was given an ovation. In taking charge of the meeting, Chairman Nolte spoke of the remarkable co-operation that has been enjoyed by the club in the past, and urged a continuance. Said he:

System Justifies Itself.

"This is the twelfth public affairs committee named since the inauguration of that system by the Duluth Commercial club. The system has amply justified itself. Your president, Joseph B. Cotton, has honored me with the appointment of chairman of this committee. I accept the appointment—not with pleasure, but with intense enthusiasm in a sense of duty to this club and to my city.

"Having been an officer and director of this club for the last ten years I know the responsibilities pertaining to this office, and do not assume them lightly. There are men by temperament better fitted for the place. No city has ever, to my knowledge, possessed a Commercial club or kindred body whose membership is or has been more loyal and helpful to its officers than the men composing this club.

Splendid Co-operation.

"There has been splendid co-operation. You seem to breathe the spirit that men succeed only as they utilize the service and ideas of other men. That is the true road to efficiency. Work worthy of our best efforts is what counts, particularly when based on our own practical experiences.

"A well-appointed club like ours is a joy. The club is well managed, runs smoothly, almost noiselessly; its helpers are alert, bright, intelligent, willing. The public affairs committee may be likened unto a machine, where each chairman, vice chairman and member represent either pulley, shaft, cog, gear or pinion—each in its proper place, doing its own work, where, however, the efficiency of the whole depends upon co-operation. What is co-operation? It is the intelligent working together of many for a single result; and the result we are working for is to make Duluth a better place in which to live.

Energy for Progress.

"Please bear in mind that in co-operation all energy is expended in the direction of progress. Duluth's opportunity is to teach herself to use her great strategic position and resources for the good of all business in the whole country.

"It is said: 'Business consists in the production, transportation and distribution of things that are necessary to human life.'

"Where, I ask you, can you point to a place more favorably situated to do big business than Duluth, Minnesota, U. S. A.?

"Nothing changes environment so quickly as transportation, and in my judgment the railroads and steamships are the greatest things in the world today, barring nothing. Those already here should welcome all those that desire to come and make it easy for them to join our business family. It should be our aim to add to their effectiveness, prosperity and efficiency in every legitimate way. The happiness of more people depends upon the prosperity of our transportation factors than on any other agency.

Help Local Business.

"I bespeak your very loyal support both in spirit and with substance of all the legitimate enterprises now established within our community. Let us help in enhancing their usefulness and prosperity, thus adding to our own opportunities.

"The members of this club and members of this committee should be especially considerate of and helpful to all tourists and visitors so they may go away impressed with the fine community spirit that prevails here, to the end that the news may be carried far, that Duluth in every way measures up to a true cosmopolitan city, and thus create a desire to become of us.

Committee Is All-Embracing.

"The membership of this committee is composed of men in all walks of life. A man with a job can be as efficient as the man with a position. Efficiency implies action. Life is a working day. To be happy we must be busy. Mutual helpfulness is one prime essential of efficiency. To make friends as well as to make money is to add to our efficiency.

"Public affairs committees of this club in the past have been of very great service to our city, our country, our state, yes, and to our nation. It is my wish and hope that this committee, composed, as it is, of men of action, will add to the laurels already achieved.

"In the course of business all questions coming before the club will be assigned to the appropriate sub-committee for action, and will be finally disposed of by the full committee. The executive committee, however, is clothed with power to decide emergency matters, but these, too, are subject to approval, review, amendment or repeal by the committee at its next meeting.

Duluth Needs Everyone.

"Now in conclusion: Duluth needs you, needs everyone of you. It wants what you can so abundantly furnish—enthusiasm, loyalty, square dealing, hopeful optimism. You can serve her, and if you will, you will be rewarded richly—by the consciousness of a duty well performed."

Before the meeting adjourned, Secretary Eva read a tentative outline of dates for committee meetings during the year. He said also that in regard to the initiation of questions for consideration, if a member determined to bring some matter up, the club's office force would put the matter in shape for him, and be glad to do so. Mr. Eva announced also that the meeting on the housing code had been held until 8:30 last night in order that the members of the public affairs committee might attend the other meeting after the adjournment.

BURNED HOME WHEN DRUNK

Nels Nelson Found Guilty of Arson; Leniency Recommended.

A jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court late yesterday afternoon found Nels Nelson guilty of having set fire to his home at Adolph on March 5 last and convicted him on a charge of arson in the third degree.

The verdict of "guilty" was reached after four hours' deliberation. The jurors recommended Nelson to the leniency of the court. The statute prescribes as punishment an indeterminate sentence of not more than seven years in state's prison.

Nelson's defense was that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing. Witnesses for the state admitted that he was drunk at the time of the fire. The farm house to which fire was set is the property of Emil Bjorlin, a West end baker.

T. J. Joyce appeared as defendant's attorney and Warren E. Greene, county attorney, prosecuted. Nelson will be brought before the court later for sentence.

DELEGATES FOR AD. MEET

Alfred Hanchett and C. H. Mackintosh Chosen By Duluth Club.

B. P. Neff Lauds Advertising as Necessary to Business Success.

Alfred Hanchett and Charles H. Mackintosh were elected last evening as official delegates of the Duluth Advertising club to the national convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World to be held at Chicago next month.

The Duluth Advertising club held its "On-to Chicago" meeting last evening, at which it was announced that at least eight members of the organization would attend the big Chicago gathering to be held June 20-24.

The Winnipeg Ad club will be entertained in Duluth June 19 on its way from Winnipeg to Chicago to attend the big meeting. President Mackintosh will appoint a committee to take charge of the matter of entertaining the Canadian visitors.

A committee will also be named to arrange for a costume to be worn by members of the Duluth club at the night pageant in Chicago during convention week.

Bentley P. Neff made an address in which he urged the importance of such a convention from a national standpoint. Among other things, he said:

"Arrangements have been made whereby Alfred Hanchett, advertising manager for E. A. Patrick & Co., and Mr. Hillis, advertising manager of the Glass Block store, will be at the convention. It will more than repay our firm to send these representatives to such a convention.

"There are two real 'generals' in business: General Salesmanship and General Advertising and they are co-related. Advertising is a necessary adjunct to salesmanship and paves the way for the latter; and despite the fact that much money has been foolishly wasted in advertising, it is an all-important, moving power in business. It is an investment, not a gamble, and if so used, seldom fails to produce results."

Mr. Neff also declared that 84 per cent of the failures reported by Bradstreet were of firms that never appreciated the value of advertising.

TO START PETITIONS.

Meeting of Mothers at Houghton, Mich., to Secure Men's Pardon.

Houghton, Mich., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Club and society women of Houghton county, the mothers of the district, are meeting here today to organize a campaign for circulating a petition and securing signatures of 10,000 mothers of the Copper country to petition to Governor Ferris for the pardon of Joshua Cooper, William Groff, Howard Polkinghorn and Arthur Davis, deputies convicted of murdering two strikers at Seeberville, "while in performance of their duty" in 1913. A new trial was granted the deputies but was later denied by the supreme court and the four men have been returned to Marquette prison to serve out terms of from seven to fifteen years. Two have mothers, one a wife and two children, and the fourth, a sister dependent upon them.

Once a Baronet, Always a Baronet.

London, May 19.—Sir Edgar Speyer cannot divest himself of his baronetcy, which in his letter to Premier Asquith he asked to have revoked. "Once a baronet, always a baronet," said an official of the College of Arms. "Sir Edgar may cease to call himself a baronet, but he still remains one, and if he had any sons the eldest would succeed him all the same."

Big Order for Cars.

Philadelphia, May 19.—Orders for 14,043 steel freight cars for replacements were placed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company for its lines east and west of Pittsburgh yesterday. This will represent an expenditure of approximately $16,000,000. The orders were distributed among six different concerns.

Sewing Circle With Much Whispering

Before the stork arrives there is much to talk about. The comfort of the expectant mother is the chief topic. And there is sure to be someone who has used or knows of that splendid external help, "Mother's Friend." It is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed in and has a most pronounced effect as a lubricant. It soothes the network of nerves, enables the muscles to expand naturally, relieves strain on the ligaments and thus sets at ease any undue strain on the organs involved. And it does this with perfect safety. Expectant mothers thus go through the ordeal with comparative ease and comfort. Knowing mothers who have used "Mother's Friend" speak in glowing terms of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and a freedom from many other distresses.

You can get "Mother's Friend" at any drug store or they will gladly get it for you. Write today to Bradfield Regulator Co., 401 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a highly instructive book of great value to all expectant mothers. It contains a valuable expectancy chart, rules on diet and is brimful of suggestions that all women will appreciate.

WOULD SUPPLY WATER METERS

Manager Reed Recommends Revision; Indorsed By the Council.

New Arrangement Will Be Worked Out for the City.

The Duluth water and light department will probably supply meters to its patrons instead of asking consumers to furnish them as under the present system according to recommendations made by Manager D. A. Reed at the meeting of the city council last night. Mayor Prince and other commissioners were heartily in favor of the recommendation, and asked that the matter be taken up at once that early action might be taken.

Mr. Reed made the recommendation at the conclusion of his discussion regarding the activities at the thirty-fifth annual convention of the National Waterworks association at Cincinnati. He declared that the work of the convention from year to year served as a checking up for all municipal departments recommended, and that he had decided after hearing the discussions there, that the Duluth department was up to a high standard with the exception of its meter system.

Mr. Reed said that the plan was to relieve the consumer of the expense of buying the meter. It is better for the department to furnish meters direct he said. It is planned to charge a rental of 15 cents a month, which would in four years amount to the cost of the meter.

In speaking of the convention Mr. Reed said that there were about 850 delegates present, and that the discussions were a great source of information. He said Cincinnati was the only city in America with a municipally-owned university and electric railway system.

PRESIDENT MAKES POSITION CLEAR

Writes Letter on Liquor Question Clarifying Two Previous Ones.

Louisville, Ky., May 19.—A letter from President Wilson was made public here yesterday reaffirming his position on the liquor question and clarifying two previous letters on the same subject. Known as the Shannon and Grogan letters, they were written when Mr. Wilson was governor of New Jersey. The Shannon letter favored local option as a means of settling liquor issues. It stated if they were injected into state or national politics they brought disruption and rendered constructive legislation impossible. The Grogan letter has been construed in Kentucky to mean the writer favored state-wide prohibition.

In view of the widely divergent interpretations placed upon the two letters, W. B. Haldeman, editor of the Louisville Times, wrote the president asking for "a statement of present date from you as to your general attitude toward the questions presented by these letters."

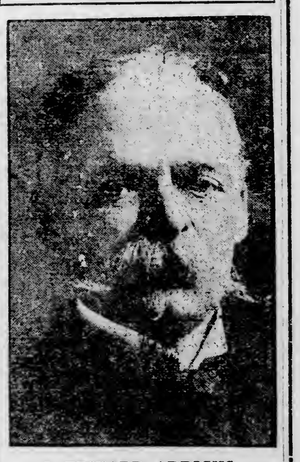
"I have your letter of May 5," the president's letter made public says, "and must apologize for not having replied to it sooner. I am sure that you will understand the pressure of circumstances I have been under. The reply to your letter is very simple. My so-called Shannon letter precisely defines my position on the liquor issue, not only as it was when I wrote the letter but as it is now, and the letter to Mr. Grogan is, or was, at any rate, intended to be entirely consistent with it. What I intended to say to Mr. Grogan, and I think I said it with sufficient clearness, was that, while the position I had taken in the Shannon letter expressed my fixed convictions, I was not self-confident or self-opinionated enough to say what the proper course of action was, either in Texas or in any other state where I was not personally in touch with the conditions obtaining. I felt that it would be arrogant on my part to state that there were, in my opinion, no circumstances which justified an agitation for state-wide prohibition.

"I am sure that you, yourself, felt that there was no inconsistency between the two letters and I am sincerely obliged to you for having offered me the opportunity to make this very explicit."

Minnehaha Arrives.

New York, May 19.—The Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha from London, with seventeen passengers, docked here yesterday after an uneventful voyage.

FORMER FINANCIER HAS TROUBLE GETTING BAIL



J. EDWARD ADDICKS.

New York, May 19.—J. Edward Addicks of Wilmington, Del., former financier and politician, who was arrested here last Saturday, in a two-year-old proceeding growing out of a judgment for a promissory note, was again paroled by Justice Greenbaum in the custody of the sheriff. His counsel told the court that the $18,000 bail bond required probably would be furnished today.

Addicks spent Saturday and Sunday night in Ludlow street jail, but was permitted Monday night to occupy rooms in a hotel under guard of deputy sheriffs.

ELKS GOING TO FARIBAULT

Antlered Ones From Duluth and Range to Attend State Meet.

Arrangements Being Made for 400 to 500 From Northern Minnesota.

Several hundred Elks from Duluth and the range towns will attend the annual state convention of the lodge to be held at Faribault, June 17 and 18.

Local officials are now arranging for the trip and indications are that from 400 to 500 Elks will make up the party from the northern part of the state. The range Elks will all gather in Duluth, and from here a special train will take the members to Minneapolis, where the Twin City Elks will join the party. The trip to Faribault from Minneapolis will be made in a special train over the Rock Island road.

Thomas Sexton, assistant secretary of the Duluth lodge, who is handling the work of George V. Heathcote, secretary, the latter being ill at his home, has received word from the officials of the lodges in Virginia, Hibbing and Eveleth that large delegations will be sent to join the Duluth members on the trip to the convention next month. In addition, Mr. Sexton expects about 200 Elks from Duluth.

The Virginia lodge has also arranged to send its band along and the musicians will act as the official escort for the party from Northern Minnesota on the entire trip to Faribault. The train from Duluth will leave some time during the afternoon of June 16, Mr. Sexton said.

According to word from Faribault, one of the largest state conventions of the B. P. O. E., is expected to gather in the Southern Minnesota city. Large delegations will be sent by practically every lodge in the state, while many members are planning to motor to Faribault with their families.

At the regular meeting of the local lodge this evening arrangements will be made for Duluth's part in the convention.

bly disgraceful." One of the directors of the company, he said, told him in Denver a few years ago:

"We might as well confess it; we have not given the miners anything but the saloon."

"Twenty-five years ago," he said, "four-fifths of the men in the Colorado mines spoke the English language. Not long before the strike, however," he ascertained, "only one-fifth of the employes were English-speaking."

"We were informed," he said, "that foreigners were given the preferred places, because they were better money makers."

"The policy of the company," said the witness, "is to condone parceling out camp saloons, many in company buildings, to human ghouls who operate them illegally, in connivance with the marshals. Saloons after paydays are chambers of horrors and outlaws are fattening on the earnings of the miners with the tacit approval of Mr. Rockefeller's officials."

"Is it a fact," asked Chairman Walsh, "that the Colorado Fuel & Iron company still has control of politics in Colorado?"

"They control it as far as they dare," Gelddis replied, "although I do not think they do it to such an extent as before the coal strike. They absolutely controlled it before the strike."

ITALY AND AUSTRIA

months. If war has been declared when the offense is committed they will be courtmartialed. Soldiers and the police are entrusted with the enforcement of the decree and are authorized to fire upon persons who violate its provisions.

Fights From Necessity.

The Green Book, containing diplomatic documents, is said to show that if Italy fights it will be because of necessity, and that during the negotiations with Austria the representatives of the dual monarchy apparently had failed to realize that Italy was firmly determined to enter the war if she was unable to obtain satisfactory territorial concessions by diplomatic action. The Green Book contains also the note of May 4 in which Italy, after summarizing the course of events and emphasizing that Austria's course had been contrary to the letter and spirit of the triple alliance treaty, denounced that treaty.

In explanation of the manner in which the treaty was denounced it may be stated that on May 4 the duke of Avarna, Italian ambassador at Vienna, acting under instructions from his government, notified the Austrian minister of foreign affairs that Italy considered Austria's declaration of war against Serbia a violation of the triple alliance treaty. He added that the negotiations started first by Germany and continued by Austria with a view of giving Italy compensation for maintaining neutrality, had resulted in Italy deciding to resume her complete liberty of action both because the Austrian offers were totally inadequate and because Italy's situation had become intolerable. Austria made no reply, but continued the negotiations offering additional concessions.

Strained Relations.

Berlin, May 19.—"You are aware," said Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, speaking in the reichstag, "that the relations between Italy and Austria-Hungary within the last months have been strongly strained.

"From the speech made by Count Tisza, you will have gathered that the Vienna cabinet, in a sincere effort to insure enduring peace between the dual monarchy and Italy, and to take into account the lasting great vital interests of both empires, had resolved on far-reaching concessions to Italy of a territorial nature.

"I consider it proper to indicate these concessions to you.

"First, part of the Tyrol inhabited by Italians was to be ceded to Italy; second, the western bank of the Isonzo, in so far as the population was purely Italian, and the town of Gradisca, likewise was to be ceded to Italy; third, Trieste was to be made an imperial free city, receiving an administration which would insure the Italian character of the city, and to have an Italian university; fourth, Italian sovereignty over Aviona (a seaport of Albania) and a sphere of interest belonging thereto, to be recognized; fifth, Austria-Hungary declared her political disinterestedness regarding Albania; sixth, the national interests of Italians in Austria to be particularly respected; seventh, Austria-Hungary to grant amnesty to political military prisoners belonging to the ceded territory; eighth, the further wishes of Italy regarding the general question to be assured every consideration; ninth, Austria-Hungary, after the conclusion of the agreement to give a solemn declaration concerning the concessions; tenth, mixed committees for the regulation of the details of the concessions to be appointed; eleventh, after the conclusion of the agreement, Austro-Hungarian soldiers, natives of the occupied territory, shall not further participate in the war.

"I can add," continued the imperial chancellor, "that Germany, in order further to strengthen the understanding between both her allies, undertook with the agreement of the Vienna cabinet, to give a full guarantee for the loyal fulfillment of these offers. Germany and Austria-Hungary herewith formed a resolution, which, if it should lead to results, would, I firmly believe, please an overwhelming majority in the three nations.

"With its parliament, the Italian people will now decide whether it will reach the fulfillment of all national aspirations in the widest extent in a peaceful manner, or whether it will plunge the country into war, and tomorrow draw the sword against its allies of yesterday and today."

practices and usages which will revolutionize the accepted restrictions of international law so that hereafter all immemorial obligations of nation to nation in a state of war will be swept away.

"This is not a question of mere academic interest which we are discussing," he concluded. "We as a nation are looking into a future that is dark and mysterious. In the high tension of international hate and international suspicion the most insignificant accident may chance to precipitate for us a national catastrophe. And in the great emergency if it should come, what will we say? Peace? Peace at any price?

"By all means let us pay any price which can buy peace—restraint of passion long sufferance, sacrifice of material wealth or of every personal convenience and comfort. Let us sacrifice it all, everything which can buy peace. But let us not forget that there are some things which cannot buy peace. If we sacrifice them in order to secure peace, the peace thus sought becomes for us the veriest torment of a living hell. We dare not trade honor for peace, we dare not betray duty in order that we may bargain for peace."

Call to Arms.

Never in the twenty-one years of its existence had the Lake Mohonk conference heard such a call to arms.

The conference was opened by Daniel Smiley, who, as usual, was host to all the members of the conference and their wives. The president's address was delivered by John Bassett Moore, professor of international law and diplomacy at Columbia university and formerly counsellor of the state department. His subject was "The Attainment of Objects of Common Interest Through International Action."

Moore's Address.

Mr. Moore referred to the fact that the address which he delivered before the conference last year had been reported as having a pessimistic tone in regard to the value of present treaties of arbitration.

"Upon this interpretation," said Mr. Moore, "perhaps no comment is necessary beyond that which is furnished by the tragic events that have since occurred.

"These events inculcate the importance of facing candidly the realities of life and the grave problems which they involve. The tendency of the human mind, running in advance of results, to treat as an accomplished fact that which it desires to bring about, may often exert in the affairs of life a useful and helpful influence, but when, following the 'illusions of hope,' it bids us close our eyes to actual conditions and to rely in comfortable security upon safeguards that either do not exist or are so defective as to be practically non-existent, it may become a peril as well as a hindrance to wise and essential effort."

Co-operation Lacking.

Pointing out that although a world court had been established at The Hague sixteen years ago, the spirit of co-operation has been lacking to support it and make it effective, Mr. Moore discussed some of the necessary steps to secure international co-operation.

"At the present day," he said, "the world is groping about for something which will establish a reign of law among nations similar to that which exists within each individual state. It is evident that the first condition is the regulation of the conception of nationality. Exaggerated to the point where it either subordinates human rights to supposed national interests, or regards the interests of humanity as being capable of realization only through a particular national agency, there can be no doubt that this conception directly incites to the transgression of the bounds of law and justice.

"Nevertheless, when we come to analyze the conception of nationality, as expounded by the philosophers, we find its principal ingredients are largely imaginary."

The principle that every independent nation has the right to declare war, and having declared it, to assume the rights of conquest, Mr. Moore said, would have to be restricted before there was anything like a reign of law among nations.

International Police.

"Far more difficult than the statement of the object to be attained is the formulation and application of measures to carry it into effect. Here again it is of the first importance to grasp in its details the problem with which we are dealing. During the last ten years we have, for instance, often been assured that what the world needs is an arbitration tribunal and an 'international police' to enforce its awards. This statement seems to disclose both a misconception of fact, and an incomplete grasp of conditions. The misconception of fact is the supposition that the evil from which the world today suffers is the disregard of arbitral awards. In reality, arbitral awards have been remarkably well observed. The actual problem with which the world is confronted is how to induce nations to accept not the results, but the process of arbitration.

"The proposal for an 'international police' requires a more extended examination. The underlying idea of an international police appears to be that of a force to compel all states, without regard to their strength or weakness, to observe international law; and, when so extended, the proposal is at once seen to be closely connected with the question of the limitation, or of the development, as the case may be, of national armaments. How large a force, it may be asked, would have to be maintained in order effectually to hold in check any of the great powers of Europe, if their national armaments were continued on the scale of the last twenty-five years? It is manifest that it would have to be practically overwhelming, unless it were merely to have the effect of the great armaments of Europe today in involving in hostilities a larger number of men and making armed conflict more bloody and more costly.

Force Not an End.

"The fact cannot be too often or too strongly stated that, for the preservation of order, national or international, we cannot rely upon force alone. Force is not an end; it is merely the means to an end. Situations often arise in which the resort to forcible measures tends to provoke conflict rather than to prevent it. Economic pressure may, in many instances, be far more efficacious than attempts at direct coercion; nor are proofs wanting that forbearance may sometimes be more effective than either, even leading to the eventual acceptance of wise solutions which were in the heat of controversy rejected. We must not forget that, back of all effort, moral or physical, lie the feelings, the sentiments, the aspirations of humanity, and it is only by the organization of forces, moral and physical, in such manner as to assure justice and contentment through co-operation, that widespread outbreaks of violence can be avoided.

"In order to attain this end, it would be necessary to provide for the employment of three different kinds of agencies, which may be designated by the titles arbitration, conciliation, legislation.

"Arbitration represents the judicial process. As defined in The Hague convention for the pacific settlement of international deputies. 'International arbitration has for its object the settlement of differences between states by judges of their own choice, on the basis of respect for law.' With the object of facilitating the immediate recourse to this process, the convention provided for the establishment of a 'permanent court of arbitration, accessible at all times and proceeding in accordance with definite rules, for the establishment of another or additional tribunal differently constituted.

Judicial Methods Insufficient.

"The fact is generally admitted that for the preservation of peace and order judicial methods will not alone suffice. Even though it be demonstrable that international arbitration may be carried, because it has been carried, it is nevertheless true that the judicial process is not adequate to all the needs of international life. It often happens that differences can be effectually adjusted only by the removal of their causes, and this may require the exercise of a power and discretion beyond the application of existing rules. The exercise of such a power would properly be vested in a tribunal of conciliation.

"In the formation of an international organization, provision for the delimitation and improvement of the rules of international intercourse would form an important and essential part. A step in this direction was taken in the peace conference at The Hague, but it fell far short of what is necessary to make the legislative process effective. This is particularly the case in respect of the power to enact rules of law. In The Hague conference unanimity was necessary to the establishment of a rule binding on all the powers; and even in the treaties relating to the conduct of war, it was provided that they should not be obligatory unless all the parties to the particular conflict had ratified them. It is probably true, that, if there were allowed to each independent state, as has heretofore been done, a single vote, a mere majority rule would be quite unacceptable. While I am not so much disturbed, as many persons seem to be, by the apprehension that small states would not be found systematically to unite against larger states, yet the rule of a mere numerical majority of nations would necessarily meet with strong opposition. The requirement of unanimity must, however, be done away with before an international law-making power can be effectually established, and there should be no difficulty in abolishing it, when the principle, so essential to international organization, is once accepted, that no nation is so high or so powerful as to be above the law."

Other speakers at the opening session were Theodore Marburg of Baltimore, former minister to Belgium, and John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union.

which must have cost the victors dearly.

The Russian offensive in East Galicia stands out as in reality a defensive movement made necessary by the fact that the Austrians constituted a serious menace to the left flank of the Russian armies in Galicia.

A story published in London today of the allied attack on Achi Baba, on the Gallipoli peninsula, indicates that the Turks were unexpectedly strong and that they had built marvelous entrenchments for themselves. It is evident that they made the attacking forces pay a fearful price for the ground won.

Bad Weather in West.

In France and Belgium bad weather again is impeding operations, continuous rain and thick mists making vigorous action impossible. The British north of La Bassee and the French north of Arras have held their recent gains, but they have not been able to move forward.

Italy seems no nearer war today than she did yesterday, but persistent reports are reaching London that the Teutonic ambassadors in Rome have been handed their passports and will leave today.

Several of the London morning newspapers make definite announcement of the resignation of Baron Fisher, first sea lord. The different party organs agree that the formation of a coalition government is inevitable.

French Statement.

Paris, May 19, 2:30 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading:

"The bad weather continues. There has been no development on the front during the night with the exception of some artillery exchanges at various points. Also to the east of the Yser two attempted attacks on the part of the enemy were checked by our fire."

IN LIGHTHOUSE NEAR THE SEA

being in Vera Cruz is an admission that you are not strong enough to hold the capital; that you sought a port as a means of personal safety in case of defeat—is that true?

"I am not conducting my campaign according to the views of foreigners," replied Gen. Carranza. "The holding of Mexico City is an empty honor. It has no value from a military standpoint. We could take it with little effort if we wanted it. This is shown by the fact that our army under Gen. Obregon is fighting northward of the capital after having gone around it. When Gen. Villa is crushed in the north, Mexico City will fall into our hands without our fighting for it."

Fortified in Lighthouse.

Gen. Carranza rarely appears in public. Fortified in a lighthouse 300 feet from the bay, and within sight of the American cruiser and gunboat usually lying off the harbor, the first chief remains secluded with his cabinet members. Many persons here comment on this apparent aloofness as being in marked contrast to the custom of former President Madero of giving audiences to his followers.

Evidence of distressing economic conditions throughout Mexico is beginning to show in Vera Cruz within sight of Gen. Carranza's headquarters, according to passengers arriving here from Vera Cruz. The distribution to the poor of corn, said one of these passengers today, has resulted in the formation of a corn line, where daily scores of women and children patiently wait for the scanty supply doled out to them.

Many From Interior.

The influx of persons from the interior, augmented by the increased garrison, has swelled the normal population of 35,000 to more than 100,000. The feeding of so many people, the overtaxing of the water system and inadequate sanitation are giving Gen. Carranza almost as much concern as his efforts to push Villa back in the north.

Almost all the bustle instilled into Vera Cruz during the American occupation—the general cleaning up, killing flies, and mosquitoes and activity attendant upon American business methods—has disappeared.

purpose of the National City in keeping a high-salaried official with a staff in the capital of the nation? Investigation disclosed a remarkable situation. The secretary found that in 1897 the now president of the National City resigned as assistant secretary of the treasury and was succeeded by the new vice president of the Riggs bank. It is well known that the National City is a large lender of call loans on the stock exchange.

Paid No Interest.

"From 1898 to 1913 the National City was receiving funds of the United States on deposit and paid no interest. At times from one-fourth to one-tenth of all the deposits of the United States in national banks was in the National City and of these funds it held at times $15,000,000 and $13,000,000.

"When Mr. McAdoo took office he purposed to cut that pipe line and to use government deposits, not to stimulate stock market speculation through the National City bank, but to serve the commercial needs of the country."

AS TO STRAY STOCK.

Nashwauk Council and Owners of Cattle Discuss Problem.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many owners of livestock attended the meeting of the village council Monday evening and protested against the wholesale arrest of stray stock by poundmasters. The outcome of the matter was the decision of the council to put on two poundmasters and keep stray animals off the street.

P. H. Tweed and Oscar Johnston, representing the Commercial club, asked a donation of $60 as expenses for the village band, etc., to the Northern Minnesota Development association meeting, to be held at Coleraine on Friday, June 11. The petition was granted.

The village also decided to build a fence around the ball park, a matter which has been agitated for several years. Fred Flink was appointed village engineer for 1915. It is also expected that the plans and specifications of the new proposed village hall will be received when more definite action will be taken at the next regular meeting, on Monday, June 7.

CHILDREN IN PLAYLET.

"A Midsummer Day's Dream" Presented By Grand Rapids Kindergarten

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The playlet, "A Midsummer Day's Dream," given by the kindergarten of the local schools under the direction of Miss Rose Priegnitz and Miss May Benton, teachers, proved to be a delightful entertainment.

The part of "Elaine" was prettily taken by Madeline Costello, while the other parts were delightfully rendered as follows: Princess Goldilocks, Marjorie Hutzler; Queen of Fairyland, Alice Ranfranz; Court Storyteller, Mildred Miller; King Midas, Frank Pratt; Prince Tristam, Ronald Hashey; policeman, Stanley Olmstead; clown, Clarence Lighthizer; firefly dancer, Stella Lee; chorus of fairies, brownies and fireflies.

VIRGINIA WOODMEN PLANNING MUCH WORK

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local Modern Woodmen are looking forward with interest to the coming here Saturday of the West Duluth degree team when a big class will be initiated that night. The local Moose lodge last night installed new officers. The lodge is now one of the largest on the range.

VIRGINIA ELKS CASE NOW BEING ARGUED

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Hughes in district court here today is hearing the application of the local Elks home directors against the city to prevent the water and light for the local Elks temple being shut off, the Elks claiming a prior contract with the company that once owned the public utility. The Elks are represented by Attorneys Edward Boyle, Archer and Pickering while City Attorney Montague represents the city.

CHISHOLM GETS TROPHY

Newly Organized Gun Club to Compete for It Next Sunday.

Chisholm, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Mueller, secretary of the local Rod and Gun club, has received a handsome trophy from the Hercules Powder company of Wilmington, Del., which will be put up for competition by members. The first shoot of the season will be held next Sunday morning if the weather permits. The trap houses and platform have been completed and are situated outside the western limits of the village. Membership in the new club numbers almost 100.

HIBBING DELINQUENTS MUST SETTLE BILLS

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—Users of water and light in the village who are in arrears with their bills will be cut off from these commodities, according to an announcement made at the accountant's office. Employes are making up a list of those who have not paid their bills. The list, it is said, will contain eighty names.

AUTO STICKS IN MUD.

Eveleth's Main Street Develops One of Worst Mudholes.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—An automobile got stuck on one of the main business streets, Monday, directly in front of the city hall.

The mud hole into which the machine stuck was worse than any that can be found on country roads in this vicinity. Water service pipes were laid across the street at intervals of a few feet and the trench filled up while the ground was frozen. When the frost left the ground settled and the moisture from the storm Saturday and Sunday make sink holes without bottoms.

The runabout driven by Joseph Egan, a traveling salesman, made about half of the hill before stalling. A team employed by the street department pulled the car out and the street was then closed to traffic. The city will pave the street.

HIBBING TEAM IS TO PLAY CHISHOLM

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Brady's colts will play three games with the Chisholm miners. The first game will be played Thursday and others Saturday and Sunday.

For Hibbing, Captain Edmunds announced today. Withers will pitch the first game. Wilson will throw the Saturday game, while Reiger will be on the mound Sunday.

Evelethian Buys Farm.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Babnick of this city has purchased a 40-acre farm south of the city from the Gardner-McDonald agency of Virginia. The land is located one and a half miles south of the city, and a quarter mile south of the Troy mine. Babnick will improve the land.

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Power was given a surprise at the Elks club last night when he was presented with a gold watch with a diamond setting and a gold cane by Hibbing friends for his efforts in defeating the Harrison per capita bill at the late legislature.

Joe Austin gave the watch and cane to the mayor, who was overwhelmingly surprised.

The mayor was met by a large number of Hibbing people at the 11 o'clock train from Duluth last night and taken in an auto to the club rooms.

EVELETH CITY LEAGUE.

Youngsters Form Clubs and Are Playing Games Regularly.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—League ball can now be seen in this city. At the beginning of the ball season it was thought that there would be no big games played this year. But a league has now been organized by the "kids," and league games can now be seen several times each week. The league consists of four teams, the Lincoln sixth grade team, Johnson's team, Langdon's team and the high school sixth grade team.

The results of the games last week were:

Johnson team, 14; High school, 9.
Lincoln school, 17; High school, 7.
Langdon, 11; High school, 6.
Lincoln, 13; Langdon, 10.

ELKS GOING TO FARIBAULT

Antlered Ones From Duluth and Range to Attend State Meet.

Arrangements Being Made for 400 to 500 From Northern Minnesota.

Several hundred Elks from Duluth and the range towns will attend the annual state convention of the lodge to be held at Faribault, June 17 and 18.

Local officials are now arranging for the trip and indications are that from 100 to 500 Elks will make up the party from the northern part of the state. The range Elks will all gather in Duluth, and from here a special train will take the members to Minneapolis, where the Twin City Elks will join the party. The trip to Faribault from Minneapolis will be made in a special train over the Rock Island road.

Thomas Sexton, assistant secretary of the Duluth lodge, who is handling the work of George V. Heathcote, secretary, the latter being ill at his home, has received word from the officials of the lodges in Virginia, Hibbing and Eveleth that large delegations will be sent to join the Duluth members on the trip to the convention next month. In addition, Mr. Sexton expects about 200 Elks from Duluth.

The Virginia lodge has also arranged to send its band along and the musicians will act as the official escort for the party from Northern Minnesota on the entire trip to Faribault. The train from Duluth will leave some time during the afternoon of June 16, Mr. Sexton said.

According to word from Faribault, one of the largest state conventions of the B. P. O. E. is expected to gather in the Southern Minnesota city. Large delegations will be sent by practically every lodge in the state, while many members are planning to motor to Faribault with their families.

At the regular meeting of the local lodge this evening arrangements will be made for Duluth's part in the convention.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA

months. If war has been declared when the offense is committed they will be courtmartialed. Soldiers and the police are entrusted with the enforcement of the decree and are authorized to fire upon persons who violate its provisions.

Fights From Necessity.

The Green Book, containing diplomatic documents, is said to show that if Italy fights it will be because of necessity, and that during the negotiations with Austria the representatives of the dual monarchy apparently had failed to realize that Italy was firmly determined to enter the war if she was unable to obtain satisfactory territorial concessions by diplomatic action. The Green Book contains also the note of May 1 in which Italy, after summarizing the course of events and emphasizing that Austria's course had been contrary to the letter and spirit of the triple alliance treaty, denounced that treaty.

In explanation of the manner in which the treaty was denounced it may be stated that on May 4 the duke of Avarna, Italian ambassador at Vienna, acting under instructions from his government, notified the Austrian minister of foreign affairs that Italy considered Austria's declaration of war against Serbia a violation of the triple alliance treaty. He added that the negotiations started first by Germany and continued by Austria with a view of giving Italy compensation for maintaining neutrality, had resulted in Italy deciding to resume her complete liberty of action both because the Austrian offers were totally inadequate and because Italy's situation had become intolerable. Austria made no reply, but continued the negotiations offering additional concessions.

Strained Relations.

Berlin, May 19.—"You are aware," said Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, speaking in the reichstag, "that the relations between Italy and Austria-Hungary within the last months have been strongly strained.

"From the speech made by Count Tisza, you will have gathered that the Vienna cabinet, in a sincere effort to insure enduring peace between the dual monarchy and Italy, and to take into account the lasting great vital interests of both empires, had resolved on far-reaching concessions to Italy of a territorial nature.

"I consider it proper to indicate these concessions to you.

"First, part of the Tyrol inhabited by Italians was to be ceded to Italy; second, the western bank of the Isonzo, in so far as the population was purely Italian, and the town of Gradisca, likewise was to be ceded to Italy; third, Trieste was to be made an imperial free city, receiving an administration which would insure the Italian character of the city, and to have an Italian university; fourth, Italian sovereignty over Avlona (a seaport of Albania) and a sphere of interest belonging thereto, to be recognized; fifth, Austria-Hungary declared her political disinterestedness regarding Albania; sixth, the national interests of Italians in Austria to be particularly respected; seventh, Austria-Hungary to grant amnesty to political military prisoners belonging to the ceded territory; eighth, the further wishes of Italy regarding the general question to be assured every consideration; ninth, Austria-Hungary, after the conclusion of the agreement to give a solemn declaration concerning the concessions; tenth, mixed committees for the regulation of the details of the concessions to be appointed; eleventh, after the conclusion of the agreement, Austro-Hungarian soldiers, natives of the occupied territory, shall not further participate in the war.

"I can add," continued the imperial chancellor, "that Germany, in order further to strengthen the understanding between both her allies, undertook with the agreement of the Vienna cabinet, to give a full guarantee for the loyal fulfillment of these offers. Germany and Austria-Hungary herewith formed a resolution, which, if it should lead to results, would, I firmly believe, please an overwhelming majority in the three nations.

"With its parliament, the Italian people will now decide whether it will reach the fulfillment of all national aspirations in the widest extent in a peaceful manner, or whether it will plunge the country into war, and tomorrow draw the sword against its allies of yesterday and today."

practices and usages which will revolutionize the accepted restrictions of international law so that hereafter all immemorial obligations of nation to nation in a state of war will be swept away.

"This is not a question of mere academic interest which we are discussing," he concluded. "We as a nation are looking into a future that is dark and mysterious. In the high tension of international hate and international suspicion the most insignificant accident may chance to precipitate for us a national catastrophe. And in the great emergency if it should come, what will we say? Peace? Peace at any price?

"By all means let us pay any price which can buy peace—restraint of passion long sufferance, sacrifice of material wealth or of every personal convenience and comfort. Let us sacrifice it all, everything which can buy peace. But let us not forget that there are some things which cannot buy peace. If we sacrifice them in order to secure peace, the peace thus sought becomes for us the veriest torment of a living hell. We dare not trade honor for peace, we dare not betray duty in order that we may bargain for peace.

Call to Arms.

Never in the twenty-one years of its existence had the Lake Mohonk conference heard such a call to arms.

The conference was opened by Daniel Smiley, who, as usual, was host to all the members of the conference and their wives. The president's address was delivered by John Bassett Moore, professor of international law and diplomacy at Columbia university and formerly counsellor of the state department. His subject was "The Attainment of Objects of Common Interest Through International Action."

Moore's Address.

Mr. Moore referred to the fact that the address which he delivered before the conference last year had been reported as having a pessimistic tone in regard to the value of present treaties of arbitration.

"Upon this interpretation," said Mr. Moore, "perhaps no comment is necessary beyond that which is furnished by the tragic events that have since occurred.

"Those events inculcate the importance of facing candidly the realities of life and the grave problems which they involve. The tendency of the human mind, running in advance of results, to treat as an accomplished fact that which it desires to bring about, may often exert in the affairs of life a useful and helpful influence, but when, following the 'illusions of hope,' it bids us close our eyes to actual conditis and to rely in comfortable security upon safeguards that either do not exist or are so defective as to be practically non-existent, it may become a peril as well as a hindrance to wise and essential effort."

Co-operation Lacking.

Pointing out that although a world court had been established at The Hague sixteen years ago, the spirit of co-operation has been lacking to support it and make it effective, Mr. Moore discussed some of the necessary steps to secure international co-operation.

"At the present day," he said, "the world is groping about for something which will establish a reign of law among nations similar to that which exists within each individual state. It is evident that the first condition is the regulation of the conception of nationality. Exaggerated to the point where it either subordinates human rights to supposed national interests, or regards the interests of humanity as being capable of realization only through a particular national agency, there can be no doubt that this conception directly incites to the transgression of the bounds of law and justice.

"Nevertheless, when we come to analyze the conception of nationality, as expounded by the philosophers, we find its principal ingredients are largely imaginary."

The principle that every independent nation has the right to declare war and having declared it, to assume the rights of conquest, Mr. Moore said, would have to be restricted before there was anything like a reign of law among nations.

International Police.

"Far more difficult than the statement of the object to be attained is the formulation and application of measures to carry it into effect. Here again it is of the first importance to grasp in its details the problem with which we are dealing. During the last ten years we have, for instance, often been assured that what the world needs is an arbitration tribunal and an 'international police' to enforce its awards. This statement seems to disclose both a misconception of fact, and an incomplete grasp of conditions. The misconception of fact is the supposition that the evil from which the world today suffers is the disregard of arbitral awards. In reality, arbitral awards have been remarkably well observed. The actual problem with which the world is confronted is how to induce nations to accept not the results, but the process of arbitration.

"The proposal for an 'international police' requires a more extended examination. The underlying idea of an international police appears to be that of a force to compel all states, without regard to their strength or weakness, to observe international law; and, when so extended, the proposal is at once seen to be closely connected with the question of the limitation, or of the development, as the case may be, of national armaments. How large a force, it may be asked, would have to be maintained in order effectually to hold in check any of the great powers of Europe, if their national armaments were continued on the scale of the last twenty-five years? It is manifest that it would have to be practically overwhelming, unless it were merely to have the effect of the great armaments of Europe today in involving in hostilities a larger number of men and making armed conflict more bloody and more costly.

Force Not an End.

"The fact cannot be too often or too strongly stated that, for the preservation of order, national or international, we cannot rely upon force alone. Force is not an end; it is merely the means to an end. Situations often arise in which the resort to forcible measures tends to provoke conflict rather than to prevent it. Economic pressure may, in many instances, be far more efficacious than attempts at direct coercion; nor are proofs wanting that forbearance may sometimes be more effective than either, even leading to the eventual acceptance of wise solutions which were in the heat of controversy rejected. We must not forget that, back of all effort, moral or physical, lie the feelings, the sentiments, the aspirations of humanity, and it is only by the organization of forces, moral and physical, in such manner as to assure justice and contentment through co-operation, that widespread outbreaks of violence can be avoided.

"In order to attain this end, it would be necessary to provide for the employment of three different kinds of agencies, which may be designated by the titles arbitration, conciliation, legislation.

"Arbitration represents the judicial process. As defined in The Hague convention for the pacific settlement of international deputies. 'International arbitration has for its object the settlement of differences between states by judges of their own choice, on the basis of respect for law.' With the object of facilitating the immediate recourse to this process, the convention provided for the establishment of a 'permanent court of arbitration, accessible at all times and proceeding in accordance with definite rules, for the establishment of another or additional tribunal differently constituted.

Judicial Methods Insufficient.

"The fact is generally admitted that for the preservation of peace and order judicial methods will not alone suffice. Even though it be demonstrable that international arbitration may be carried, because it has been carried, it is nevertheless true that the judicial process is not adequate to all the needs of international life. It often happens that differences can be effectually adjusted only by the removal of their causes, and this may require the exercise of a power and discretion beyond the application of existing rules. The exercise of such a power would properly be vested in a tribunal of conciliation.

"In the formation of an international organization, provision for the definition and improvement of the rules of international intercourse would form an important and essential part. A step in this direction was taken in the peace conference at The Hague, but it fell far short of what is necessary to make the legislative process effective. This is particularly the case in respect of the power to enact rules of law. In The Hague conference unanimity was necessary to the establishment of a rule binding on all the powers; and even in the treaties relating to the conduct of war, it was provided that they should not be obligatory unless all the parties to the particular conflict had ratified them. It is probably true, that, if there were allowed to each independent state, as has heretofore been done, a single vote, a mere majority rule would be quite unacceptable. While I am not so much disturbed, as many persons seem to be, by the apprehension that small states would not be found systematically to unite against larger states, yet the rule of a mere numerical majority of nations would necessarily meet with strong opposition. The requirement of unanimity must, however, be done away with before an international law-making power can be effectually established, and there should be no difficulty in abolishing it, when the principle, so essential to international organization, is once accepted, that no nation is so high or so powerful as to be above the law."

Other speakers at the opening session were: Theodore Marburg of Baltimore, former minister to Belgium, and John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union.

which must have cost the victors dearly.

The Russian offensive in East Galicia stands out as in reality a defensive movement made necessary by the fact that the Austrians constituted a serious menace to the left flank of the Russian armies in Galicia.

A story published in London today of the allied attack on Achi Baba, on the Gallipoli peninsula, indicates that the Turks were unexpectedly strong and that they had built marvelous entrenchments for themselves. It is evident that they made the attacking forces pay a fearful price for the ground won.

Bad Weather in West.

In France and Belgium bad weather again is impeding operations, continuous rain and thick mists making vigorous action impossible. The British north of La Bassee and the French north of Arras have held their recent gains, but they have not been able to move forward.

Italy seems no nearer war today than she did yesterday, but persistent reports are reaching London that the Teutonic ambassadors in Rome have been handed their passports and will leave today.

Several of the London morning newspapers make definite announcement of the resignation of Baron Fisher, first sea lord. The different party organs agree that the formation of a coalition government is inevitable.

French Statement.

Paris, May 19, 2:30 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading:

"The bad weather continues. There has been no development on the front during the night with the exception of some artillery exchanges at various points. Also to the east of the Yser two attempted attacks on the part of the enemy were checked by our fire."

being in Vera Cruz is an admission that you are not strong enough to hold the capital; that you sought a port as a means of personal safety in case of defeat. Is that true?

"I am not conducting my campaign according to the views of foreigners," replied Gen. Carranza.

"The holding of Mexico City is an empty honor. It has no value from a military standpoint. We could take it with little effort if we wanted it. This is shown by the fact that our army under Gen. Obregon is fighting northward of the capital after having gone around it. When Gen. Villa is crushed in the north, Mexico City will fall into our hands without our fighting for it."

Fortified in Lighthouse.

Gen. Carranza rarely appears in public. Fortified in a lighthouse 300 feet from the bay, and within sight of the American cruiser and gunboat usually lying off the harbor, the first chief remains secluded with his cabinet members. Many persons here comment on this apparent aloofness as being in marked contrast to the custom of former President Madero of giving audiences to his followers.

Evidence of distressing economic conditions throughout Mexico is beginning to show in Vera Cruz within sight of Gen. Carranza's headquarters, according to passengers arriving here from Vera Cruz. The distribution to the poor of corn, said one of these passengers today, has resulted in the formation of a corn line, where daily scores of women and children patiently wait for the scanty supply doled out to them.

Many From Interior.

The influx of persons from the interior, augmented by the increased garrison, has swelled the normal population of 35,000 to more than 100,000. The feeding of so many people, the overtaxing of the water system and inadequate sanitation are giving Gen. Carranza almost as much concern as his efforts to push Villa back in the north.

Almost all the bustle instilled into Vera Cruz during the American occupation—the general cleaning up, killing flies, and mosquitoes and activity attendant upon American business methods—has disappeared.

ARGUMENTS NEAR CLOSE

purpose of the National City in keeping a high-salaried official with a staff in the capital of the nation? Investigation disclosed a remarkable situation. The secretary found that in 1897 the now president of the National City resigned as assistant secretary of the treasury and was succeeded by the new vice president of the Riggs bank. It is well known that the National City is a large lender of call loans on the stock exchange.

Paid No Interest.

"From 1898 to 1913 the National City was receiving funds of the United States on deposit and paid no interest. At times from one-fourth to one-tenth of all the deposits of the United States in national banks was in the National City and of these funds it held at times $12,000,000 and $13,000,000.

"When Mr. McAdoo took office he purposed to cut that pipe line and to use government deposits, not to stimulate stock market speculation through the National City bank, but to serve the commercial needs of the country."

AS TO STRAY STOCK.

Nashwauk Council and Owners of Cattle Discuss Problem.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many owners of livestock attended the meeting of the village council Monday evening and protested against the wholesale arrest of stray stock by poundmasters. The outcome of the matter was the decision of the council to put on two poundmasters and keep stray animals off the street.

P. H. Tweed and Oscar Johnston, representing the Commercial club, asked a donation of $60 as expenses for the village band, etc., to the Northern Minnesota Development association meeting, to be held at Coleraine on Friday, June 11. The petition was granted.

The village also decided to build a fence around the ball park, a matter which has been agitated for several years. Fred Flink was appointed village engineer for 1915. It is also expected that the plans and specifications of the new proposed village hall will be received when more definite action will be taken at the next regular meeting, on Monday, June 7.

CHILDREN IN PLAYLET.

"A Midsummer Day's Dream" Presented By Grand Rapids Kindergarten

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The playlet, "A Midsummer Day's Dream," given by the kindergarten of the local schools under the direction of Miss Rose Priegnitz and Miss May Benton, teachers, proved to be a delightful entertainment.

The part of "Elaine" was prettily taken by Madeline Costello, while the other parts were delightfully rendered as follows: Princess Goldilocks, Marjorie Hutzler; Queen of Fairyland, Alice Ranzanz; Court Storyteller, Mildred Miller; King Midas, Frank Pratt; Prince Tristam, Ronald Hashey; policeman, Stanley Olmstead; clown, Clarence Lighthizer; fairy dancer, Stella Lee; chorus of fairies, brownies and fireflies.

VIRGINIA WOODMEN PLANNING MUCH WORK

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local Modern Woodmen are looking forward with interest to the coming here Saturday of the degree team when a big class will be initiated that night. The local Moose lodge last night installed new officers. The lodge is now one of the largest on the range.

VIRGINIA ELKS CASE NOW BEING ARGUED

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Hughes in district court here today is hearing the application of the local Elks home directors against the city to prevent the water and light for the local Elks temple being shut off, the Elks claiming a prior contract with the company that once owned the public utility. The Elks are represented by Attorneys Edward Pye, Archer and Pickering while City Attorney Montague represents the city.

CHISHOLM GETS TROPHY

Newly Organized Gun Club to Compete for It Next Sunday.

Chisholm, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Mueller, secretary of the local Rod and Gun club, has received a handsome trophy from the Hercules Powder company of Wilmington, Del., which will be put up for competition by members. The first shoot of the season will be held next Sunday morning if the weather permits. The houses and platform have been completed and are situated outside the western limits of the village. Membership in the new club numbers almost 100.

HIBBING DELINQUENTS MUST SETTLE BILLS

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—Users of water and light in the village who are in arrears with their bills will be cut off from these commodities, according to an announcement made at the accountant's office. Employes are making up a list of those who have not paid their bills. The list, it is said, will contain eighty names.

AUTO STICKS IN MUD.

Eveleth's Main Street Develops One of Worst Mudholes.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—An automobile got stuck on one of the main business streets, Monday, directly in front of the city hall.

The mud hole into which the machine stuck was worse than any that can be found on country roads in this vicinity. Water service pipes were laid across the street at intervals of a few feet and the trench filled up while the ground was frozen. When the frost left the ground settled and the moisture from the storm Saturday and Sunday make sink holes without bottoms.

The runabout driven by Joseph Egan, a traveling salesman, made about half of the hill before stalling. A team employed by the street department pulled the car out and the street was then closed to traffic. The city will pave the street.

HIBBING TEAM IS TO PLAY CHISHOLM

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Brady's colts will play three games with the Chisholm miners. The first game will be played Thursday and others Saturday and Sunday.

For Hibbing, Captain Edmunds announced today, Withers will pitch the first game. Wilson will throw the Saturday game, while Reiger will be on the mound Sunday.

Evelethian Buys Farm.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Babnick of this city has purchased a 40-acre farm south of the city from the Gardner-McDonald agency of Virginia. The land is located one and a half miles south of the city, and a quarter mile south of the Troy mine. Babnick will improve the land.

POWER IS "WATCHED."

Hibbing Village President Rewarded for Harrison Bill Fight.

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Power was given a surprise at the Elks club last night when he was presented with a gold watch with a diamond setting and a gold cane by Hibbing friends for his efforts in defeating the Harrison per capita bill at the late legislature.

Joe Austin gave the watch and cane to the mayor, who was overwhelmingly surprised.

The mayor was met by a large number of Hibbing people at the 11 o'clock train from Duluth last night and taken in an auto to the club rooms.

EVELETH CITY LEAGUE.

Youngsters Form Clubs and Are Playing Games Regularly.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—League ball can now be seen in this city. At the beginning of the ball season it was thought that there would be no big games played this year. But a league has now been organized by the "kids," and league games can now be seen several times each week. The league consists of four teams, the Lincoln sixth grade team, Johnson's team, Langdon's team and the high school sixth grade team.

The results of the games last week were:

Johnson team, 14; High school, 9.
Lincoln school, 17; High school, 7.
Langdon, 11; High school, 6.
Lincoln, 13; Langdon, 10.

Virginia Swindler Caught.

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Miller alleged to have sold $10 notes in the shape of soap certificates for $6 was arrested last night by the police and arraigned this afternoon before Judge Carey with a good prospect of getting a work farm sentence as the police say he is all that has been charged against him. Adolph Brinkey got ninety days at the work farm for vagrancy.

Evelethians Petition for Frank.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition signed by about seventy influential men of Eveleth was mailed Tuesday to Governor Slaton of Georgia, asking clemency for Leo M. Frank. Sam Ellis prepared the petition and circulated it.

A SIMPLE wedding about which much interest centers, is that of Miss Irma Hartley and James Verner Claypool of Coleraine, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Claypool of this city, that will take place at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guilford G. Hartley, 1305 East Superior street. Only the immediate relatives will attend the ceremony and no additional guests have been invited to the reception that will follow.

The service will be read by Rev. A. W. Ryan of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will have as attendants her sister, Miss Judith Hartley, and Miss Marjorie Congdon. Charles Claypool of Virginia, brother of the bridegroom, will be the best man and the ushers will be Roger Spencer, Maurice d'Autremont, Fred Buck and Charles McLennan.

Before the ceremony Miss Ruth Rogers, pianist, and Mrs. Valborg Finkelson, violinist, will give a short program.

The bride is a graduate of Miss Finch's school for girls in New York. Since the completion of her school work she has taken an interest in philanthropic work, especially that of the King's Daughters. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Taught Fifty-Three Years

Pittsburgh Instructor Is Retired on a Pension.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 19.—Miss Harriett A. Graham, yesterday was retired on a pension by the Pittsburgh board of public education after having taught fifty-three years in the local schools. Miss Graham began teaching when a young girl. For the last forty-one years she has been a teacher in the Columbus avenue school. It is estimated that nearly 3,000 children have been under her tutelage.

DULUTH Y. W. C. A. GIRLS WILL GIVE UNIQUE MAY CARNIVAL IN ASSOCIATION ROOMS

PARTICIPANTS IN CARNIVAL.

Venders, country girls, fortune tellers, a vaudeville performance, hot waffles and everything else that goes to make up a carnival will be parts of the May carnival that will be given by the extension committee of the Y. W. C. A. at the association building Friday night. The proceeds will be used to send delegates to the conference that will be held at Albert Lea in the summer.

Mrs. T. L. Chapman, chairman of the extension committee, will be in charge of the fancy roller skating that will be given in the gymnasium by Misses Mamie Norske, Emma Williams, Ethel Williams, Jessie Broadbridge and Clara Broadbridge and Frank Norske and Louis Eacobacci.

A short play, "The Sniggles Family;" vaudeville stunts; shadow pictures, and a jig by Miss Clara Broadbridge will be given in the assembly hall and there will be several side shows under the direction of Mrs. Rene Hugo.

Hot waffles will be sold in the domestic science room and other refreshments will be served in the small dining room that will represent a Japanese garden. The garden will be presided over by Mrs. E. H. Brommund.

Miss Mary Salter will have charge of the "shoot the nigger babies" booth and the auction and there will be up-to-date fortune tellers who doubtless will improve upon the time honored prophecy about the dark men and a trip across the water.

There will be diving and swimming contests in charge of Miss Bertha Parmalee; a brownie dance by Misses Delilah Bailey, Ethel Heller, Josie Grohman, Helen Putman, Sylvia Walker and Marie Guilmette.

Employes of the Union Match factory will give an exhibition baseball game in the gymnasium. The members of the team are: Misses Ida Freeman, Celia Salter, Pauline Winner, Dorothy Freeman, Emma Erickson, Martha Longdon, Mabel Peterson, Alice Sparks, Lydia Gagnon, Laura Boilier Beaulle, Annie Swanstrom, Grace Hazen and Jessie Wolover.

Girls of the different extension clubs will be dressed to represent familiar characters at carnivals and will sell typical carnival wares.

The Henry Williams orchestra will play during the evening.

Duluth Has One Candidate for Music Examination

Here Are Some of the Things a Candidate for Licentiate Should Know.

Duluth had one applicant for the examinations offered this morning at Central high school by the Minnesota Music Teachers' association. There were fifty applicants for the examinations that were held in Minneapolis today. The one applicant took the piano examination for licentiate and will report again tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock for examinations in theory and history of music that are required of candidates in all classes, piano, violin, voice, organ and public school music.

Miss Josephine Carey, chairman of the piano committee of the state association, presided at the examinations today and Isabel Pearson Fuller, chairman of the organ committee, will preside at tomorrow's examinations. The same questions were prepared for all the candidates in the state, examinations being held at Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Winona and Albert Lea.

The questions related to the mechanism of the voice, piano and organ; positions of fingers, hands, wrists and arms; interpretation; and musical terminology. Each candidate in piano, violin, organ and voice was given an unmarked piece of music to edit.

Sample of Questions.

The following are examples of the questions prepared by the Minnesota Music Teachers' association for the examinations held in the state today and give a fair sample of some of the things a person must know to be a teacher accredited by the association:

Piano.

1. Describe in a general way the mechanism of the piano, including that of the damper and una corda pedals. Give principles governing the use of pedals.
2. Give in outline form what you consider essentials of piano technique.
3. Name and define the principal varieties of touch.
4. Name and define what generally is considered the most highly organized form in piano literature.
5. Give some suggestions for developing sight reading, ear training and memorizing.

Voice.

1. Name and define the principal organs making up the vocal apparatus. State briefly their uses.
2. What, where and how treated are the so-called breaks in different voices?
3. Compare briefly the German, English, French and Italian schools of music.
4. Write an essay of 200 words on some voice topic of your own selection.

Violin.

1. Describe the function of fingers, wrist and arm in up and down and whole bow strokes, giving reasons and any fundamental principle involved.
2. Give a description of the correct position of the left hand and arm in relation to the violin.
3. How many kinds of fundamental bowing can you name?
4. Describe your way of teaching each one.

Public School Music.

1. Give the source and value of the do, re, me system.
2. How do you conduct class singing?
3. Give good and bad features of the old-fashioned singing school.
4. Relate your experience in drilling and staging two operettas, pageants or choral festivals.
5. Outline a victrola course on musical appreciation.

The examination in theory tomorrow will include questions on intervals, chords up to the diminished seventh, and the application of this knowledge on the harmonization of different bases and melodies.

Tomorrow's examination in the history of music will include questions on the fundamental musical forms, decline of the polyphonic system, development of the symphony, romantic movement, growth of the opera and the lives and works of composers who led these movements.

Three Symphonies Chosen

Orchestra Will Play Tschaikowsky, Beethoven and Dvorak Numbers---Audience Will Break All Records in Duluth.

The three symphonies chosen for the appearance here of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, are the Tschaikowsky No. 6 or the "Pathetique," the Beethoven No. 5, and the Dvorak "New World" symphony.

Such was the announcement made over the long distance telephone this morning by Carle Fisher, the assistant manager of the orchestra.

These three, and the Cesar Frank symphony were the four that secured the highest number of votes, and Mr. Oberdoffer selected the three mentioned.

The biggest audiences ever assembled indoors in Duluth will hear the three concerts. Every seat has been sold, with the exception of 128 single tickets for seats in a new gallery that will be erected. There may also be a few seats subscribed for and not taken and these will be placed on sale several days before the date of the first concert. The capacity of the curling rink will be 3,940, and there is no doubt but that at least that many people will hear the concerts. School children's tickets to the number of 2,144 have been sold, so that at each concert more than 700 school children will be in attendance.

With such an audience special attention has been paid to safety precautions. It is asserted that the thousands of tons of ice which the rink holds in the winter months, in addition to the load of spectators at a big hockey game, is far greater than the weight of the 4,000 people who will be in the building for the orchestra concerts.

Duluthian Accepted as a Member of the Michigan Comedy Club

STANLEY LAMB.

Stanley Lamb of Duluth, who is a student at the University of Michigan, has been taken into the membership of the University Comedy club, one of the best-known organizations on the campus. The Duluth young man won his election by virtue of his ability in public speaking and the acting of theatrical parts, amidst strongest competition by a number of candidates. The Comedy club was organized a quarter of a century ago and has numbered among its members while they were here in college some of the well-known actors and actresses of the day.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Marry Your Own Choice.

"They don't speak to him since his marriage," replied my companion, seeking to inform me why a certain young woman, a mutual acquaintance, did not notice her only brother while passing him on the street. I had believed the two to be the best of friends until that moment and wholly devoted to one another. My friend continued to inform me that all the members of the young man's immediate family thought that he had married beneath his station in life, and that further he should have waited until his sisters had been married and had homes of their own, as he had been the main support of his family.

This young man, it seems, got no thanks for his many years of faithful care and thoughtfulness. Instead, base ingratitude is meted out from those who had cause to be grateful. Insult is hurled at his wife, and slurs heaped upon him and everything that he undertakes to do for his little home. How bitter the reflections of such a man must be, yet he must endure them patiently.

Instead of standing off and berating the son and brother who had done so much for his family, and treating him publicly as an outcast, his family, mother and all, should welcome any plans for his happiness and do their utmost to bring them to pass. The task of bringing up a family to the self-supporting age is no small one for a young man's hands and brains.

Any self-respecting sister, with a spark of real love for her brother, will, of her own free will, relieve him of the burden of support as soon as she can. She will ever be grateful for his effort to keep a home for her, and there will be no question of displeasure when he seeks to make a home of his own. The insinuation that a son who has worked hard all his life married beneath any social station should not be given passing consideration.

It is a strange spirit for a mother to evince toward so good a son, and stranger still for two sisters to resent their brother's marriage on the ground that he should remain at the head of their home until each had a home of her own. It would appeal to me that these young women may never have homes of their own, if they continue to show a disposition so mean and so unjust to the man who has shown them so much kindness.

Any man who has done his duty by the father and mother who brought him into the world should marry when he pleases and whom he chooses without consulting the opinions of others not directly interested.

Woman Police Force Formed at National Charities Meeting

Baltimore, May 19.—The final sessions of the national conference of charities and correction were held today. During the forenoon there were six section meetings at which many aspects of social service were discussed.

An organization of police women who attended the conference, has been effected with the following officers:

President, Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, Los Angeles, Cal.; vice president, Mrs. Mary Steele Harvey, Baltimore; secretary, Mrs. Georgiana Sherrot, Minneapolis; treasurer, Miss Annie McCullis, Dayton, Ohio.

The objects of the organization are: "To gather information as to the progress of policewomen's work and furnish authentic data in response to inquiries from individuals and communities wishing to establish this work.

"To maintain such a standard of character and efficiency as will attract to the work the highest type of women.

"To advance, as loyal members of the police department, its general service to the community, placing special emphasis upon crime prevention and protective measures for women and children without in any wise interfering with the work as established in any police department."

GETTING THE RIGHT START.

Enthusiasm is a mighty motive power. Displayed in a good cause, wisely directed, and carefully sustained, it is the greatest motive power in the world.

That very important fact makes last night's initial meeting of the new public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club an earnest of an active and successful year in Duluth, for it was marked by abounding enthusiasm from beginning to end.

Moreover, the enthusiasm was displayed not only by the new president of the club, Joseph B. Cotton, and by the new chairman of the public affairs committee, Henry Nolte, but by the members of the committee, without exception.

It was a gathering of men who believe in Duluth, who have the will and the energy and the capacity to do what needs to be done, and who showed by the spirit they gave the meeting that they are determined to buckle down to a year's work that will maintain the reputation of the Commercial club as a body that DOES THINGS.

The spirit and purpose of the Commercial club and of its public affairs committee were admirably phrased last night by President Cotton when he said that the Commercial club "has no ax to grind, no special interest to serve, but its object is to secure the greatest possible good for the greatest possible number," and by Chairman Nolte when he said that the fundamental purpose of the club is to "make Duluth a better place in which to live."

With men like those entrusted with the work of the club striving in this spirit, and with their year's labors begun with such abounding enthusiasm, the prospect for the future of Duluth shines with new luster.

There is a growing suspicion that the month got its name from a word in the sentence "It may freeze."

GAS AS A WAR IMPLEMENT.

The Germans have made effective use of gas in their attacks on the allies in Belgium, thus introducing a new system of warfare which is not at all to the liking of its victims. Just how much of the indignation against the use of gas is due to its efficiency it is hard to say, though indignation is by no means confined to the allies.

Most of the comment on this departure in warfare has been based on the assumption that it is abhorrent to the rules of the game. The same criticism is likely to be made of any new means of making war, especially if it is highly effective. A pretty good case could be made against the submarine, which strikes from ambush without warning.

It is drawing a very fine line to try to make a distinction between civilized warfare and uncivilized warfare. The purpose of war is to kill. Killing human beings is not civilized at its best, and it is much to be doubted if there is such a thing as "civilized warfare."

When British troops fought Indians in colonial days the Indians utterly refused to play the game according to the rules. The redcoats marched in proper order and arrayed themselves in conventional battle front. The redskins absolutely refused to follow their example, but used their old-time methods of ambush and fighting from behind trees. The Indians were savages, and no better could be expected of them; yet since the purpose of both was to kill, what better way to do it could be imagined than the most effective way? The Indian way was most effective, and the whites had to come to it at last, or submit to being outmatched and defeated.

War is a cold, brutal business. Its purpose is to destroy. It is only convention that makes one war method more "civilized" than another. If, as a result of this war, all rules are abolished and killing is accomplished by the most direct and effective and comprehensive means imaginable, it will be neither surprising nor altogether evil. At least it will help make nations hereafter more reluctant to engage in war.

But on the humanitarian side there is even something to be said for making war by the use of poisonous gas. A writer in the New York Times—though he admits that his argument is far-fetched and perhaps does not even convince its maker—makes a plausible case for war-gas on this ground. He says:

> Assuming that slaughter of the enemy is in itself justifiable—and if it be not then the whole case of war must be thrown out of court—it can be said in behalf of chlorine as a substitute for bullets and shells that this plan transfers to the battlefield a close analogue to the "lethal chamber" so much commended by the humane as a means of putting out of existence superfluous dogs and cats.
> The smothered soldier's sufferings are certainly short, and probably they are less acute than those of men fatally injured but not instantly killed by missile weapons. We tolerate military actions that strew broad acres thick with wounded and leave them here to agonize for endless hours, and we do it simply because such actions are familiar to us and pass as a necessity of war. A like familiarity with gaseous extinction might make us tolerate that, too, and in time it might become evidence, not of barbaric ferocity, as it seems now, but a considerate and scientific extension of the civilized desire to lessen pain.

Probably Germany did not adopt this method out of consideration for the sufferings of its enemies. It is more likely that it is simply a part of that German thoroughness and efficiency which is so typical of its "kultur," which means efficient thoroughness rather than what we vaguely know as "culture."

Time will tell whether the gas bomb is simply an atavistic reversion to a barbaric type, or a newer, more efficient and more merciful war implement that has come to stay.

And anyway, one way to avoid such hairsplitting would be to abolish war, and that can be brought about any time the brotherhood of humanity around the world determines that it shall be brought about.

Now that a St. Paul man's name has appeared in the list of casualties from the war zone, it is undeniably up to Minneapolis to send a regiment or two over there to get wounded.

HOUSING AND HUMAN WELL-BEING.

In the discussions of housing ordinances here and elsewhere nobody should permit the human side of the question to be forgotten. It is vastly more important to society than the side of profits.

The purpose of a housing ordinance is to insure to the people who are to live in the houses to be built under it places to live in that are fairly suitable for human habitation. That is, places where there is an assurance of sufficient light and ventilation for human health.

Every community has unchallenged ordinances requiring that buildings erected for the housing of human beings shall be properly safeguarded against the perils of collapse and fire. Every community should have ordinances requiring that buildings that people are to live in shall be properly safeguarded against the deadly evils of insufficient lighting and ventilation.

A recent investigation in Glasgow pointed this need in a striking manner. In order to solve the question how far housing affects the physique of the people, 72,857 school children were examined. The following table gives the results:

	Weight, Pounds.	Height, Inches.
Boys from one-room homes	52.6	46.6
Boys from two-room homes	56.1	48.1
Boys from three-room homes	60.0	50.0
Boys from four-room homes (or more)	64.3	51.3
Girls from one-room homes	51.5	46.3
Girls from two-room homes	54.8	47.3
Girls from three-room homes	59.4	49.6
Girls from four-room homes	65.5	51.6

Such figures need no comment. The invariable increase in weight and height with the increase in the accommodations of the home is inescapable. Moreover, the sharp increase between three-room homes and those of four-room or more is even more striking; though here doubtless other factors come in, as the children who live in the larger homes probably not only have more facilities for light and ventilation, but better and more abundant food as well. The lesson of this to society is equally important, but it goes into a wider field.

It would help to promote the general peace if seeds of trouble were handled on the same system that is followed with those distributed by congressmen.

CHINA AS AN OBJECT LESSON.

The Lusitania interruption crashed into the midst of a very interesting discussion wherein certain partisans, in an attempt to coerce this country into adopting a policy of heavy armament, were engaged in a patriotic endeavor to compare this country with China.

This attempt lapped over past the Lusitania tragedy to this extent, that Col. Theodore Roosevelt emitted one blast of it in a bitter comment on President Wilson's Philadelphia speech, as a result of which he was whipped into silence by a sharp explosion of public indignation.

China, these gentlemen said,—some of them are not interested in the profitable manufacture of war implements, but rather in the manufacture of campaign material for Republican use in 1916,—is prostrate at the feet of Japan, simply because she has contented herself with a policy of unarmed impotence. So Japan is having its will with China, and, taking advantage of the fact that the rest of the world is either busy or supine, is taking over China to be its tool and vassal.

Something like this, these manufacturers of campaign material intimated, will happen to us if we do not squarely change our policy and rush into the market to buy all the armament there is to buy.

Now leaving out of consideration for the present the kind of patriotism it is to compare the people of the United States with the people of China, what about the kind of patriotism it is to attempt to manufacture profits for armament dealers or profits for political patronage dealers out of that sort of argument?

And, remembering that after all Japan has been very decent to China, has utterly failed to take advantage of its opportunity to oppress her, and hasn't done a single one of the things they said she was going to do, after all is the pitiable state of unarmed China so VERY much worse than the present state of armed Europe?

Chicago expects a call from Billy Sunday in 1917. Meanwhile Bathhouse John will not forego his usual New Year's eve celebrations.

"Incessant Mothers and Infrequent Fathers."

Mary Ware Dennett in the Century Magazine: Are not children, as Charlotte Perkins Gilman brilliantly puts it, too much "the victims of their incessant mothers and their infrequent fathers?"

The fundamental trouble is probably twofold—not enough leisure and too much specialization on the part of both parents. If the father had time not only to work for his children, but to work with them, to live with them, and to "do" for them, he and they would understand each other better and be of vastly more consequence to each other. If the mother could not only keep house for the family, but be away from it regularly enough to relax her nerves, to give her a better sense of proportion and enlarge her horizon, she would enormously improve the quality of her motherhood.

It will be a very solid as well as pretty indication of chivalry when men jump at the chance to render a fair share of the service of child rearing as a courteous appreciation of the fact that women will always have to do one untransferable bit of work—the bearing of the children.

Quite likely this will not be an easy or very rapid evolution for men, as it is unquestionably a program which will require time. • • •

After all, it is a simple and reasonable proposition that, since it takes a man and a woman to produce a child, it should be the joint and equal business of both to rear it. And, besides, there will be the inspiration and compensation of helping to erect a milestone on the road to civilization marked, "At this point children began to have two real parents."

The Catch.

Philadelphia Bulletin: Representative Bartholdt said at a banquet in Milwaukee:

"Those people remind me of the old man. Yes, they remind me very much of the old man.

"He had a soft, daft look, the old man I'm speaking of, and he sat on a park bench in the sun, with rod and line, as if he were fishing; but the line, with a worm on the hook, dangled over a bed of bright primroses.

"'Daft!' said a passer-by to himself. 'Daft! Bughouse! Nice-looking old fellow, too. It's a pity.'

"Then, with a gentle smile, the passer-by approached the old man and said:

"'What are you doing, uncle?'

"'Fishing, sir,' answered the old man, solemnly.

"'Fishing, eh? Well, uncle, come and have a drink.'

"The old man shouldered his rod and followed the kindly stranger to the corner saloon. There he regaled himself with a large glass of dark beer and a good 5-cent cigar. His host, contemplating him in a friendly, protecting way, as he sipped and smoked, said:

"'So you were fishing, uncle? And how many have you caught this morning?'

"The old man blew a smoke cloud toward the ceiling. Then, after a pause, he said:

"'You are the seventh, sir.'"

After the War.

Henry W. Massingham in Atlantic: Let America try to imagine the end of the war. Exhaustion, famine, plague, lack of confidence, lack of faith in God and man will follow in its train. From the impoverished and heavy-laden nations, robbed of the flower of their manhood, will arise a passionate demand for guaranties against its renewal. The diplomatists will then get to work. Two processes will, it is possible to hope, be set up. The belligerents will arrange the general terms of peace. But their initial arrangements will probably leave over many questions for final settlement. New boundary lines must be drawn. New arrangements must be devised between central powers and autonomous dependents. As it is a continent, or rather a world, which calls for resettlement, many points of interpretation will arise, calling for judicial decisions. It is possible to suppose that these disputes may be referred to a reconstituted and strengthened Hague tribunal. But there will be a further range of questions not open to settlement by a body of jurists—questions of policy, of the relations between powers desperately inflamed with each other, but not, it may be presumed, anxious to reopen the floodgate of war. How are these to be dealt with? Here we must look for some new and permanent body representative of the powers, great and small, European and non-European. Such a body could not well be identical with the governments from which it would proceed. But it must obviously be in close relation with them and have the power of preliminary dealing with disputes that threaten the general tranquillity.

Houston's Divided Population.

Houston Post: With nearly 7,000 automobiles in Houston, 10 per cent of which are jitneys, the population of the town may be said to be divided into two classes, viz., those who are endeavoring to support automobiles and those who are trying to have automobiles support them.

Blackguarding the Navy

Editorial in the New York World.

In 1863, Gideon Welles, President Lincoln's secretary of the navy, recorded in his diary that—

> When the first turret vessel, the Monitor, was building, many naval men and men in the shipping interest sneered at her as a humbug and as me as no sailor or judge, until she vindicated her power and worth in that first remarkable conflict.
> Then I was abused by party men because I had not made preparations for and built more. There is constant caprice in regard to the navy.

Secretary Welles' experience was not unlike Secretary Daniels'. Everything is wrong, and the more it succeeds the worse it is.

No other member of President Lincoln's cabinet was so habitually and variously assailed as Gideon Welles, who was probably the best secretary of the navy the country has ever known. The United States under his administration built up the largest and most efficient navy it had ever had, a navy that revolutionized marine warfare and has never yet received full credit for all its remarkable achievements in the Civil war or for its vast contributions to the victory of the North.

The United States now has the greatest and most efficient navy that it has ever had. The appropriations made for it by the Sixty-third congress were the largest ever made for naval purposes. In his recent letter to President Garfield of Williams college, Secretary Daniels showed that there are now thirty-six more ships in commission than when he took office, with seventy-seven vessels, including nine dreadnaughts and thirty-eight submarines, under construction or authorized.

The personnel of the navy has been increased by 5,824; the total now being 4,355 officers and 53,171 enlisted men. With an increase of 12 per cent in the enlisted strength, desertions have decreased 17 per cent.

The number of mines has been increased 244 per cent in two years. The number of torpedoes has been increased 90 per cent, and the cost of manufacturing torpedoes has been reduced from $4,202.11 each to $3,245.72 each, the total saving being $326,700. As against twelve submarines, costing $7,958,936, which were authorized under the Taft administration, twenty-six submarines, costing $16,260,000, have been authorized under the first half of the Wilson administration. In addition, $1,000,000 was appropriated for aviation purposes.

Much of this increase has been obtained without cost to the country. Mr. Daniels shows that $1,110,084 has been saved in the purchase of armor plate alone, and that in two other bureaus $1,800,000 was saved last year. The cost of making powder has been reduced to 2.7 cents a pound, and $150,000 saved on that one item. Based upon former prices for guns, there is a saving in that respect of $280,425.33.

When Admiral Fiske in a fit of pique resigned as chief of operations, the critics of the secretary unanimously insisted that the wreck of the navy was complete. Secretary Daniels has now made Capt. Benson chief of naval operations under the new act, and nobody can be found to deny that Capt. Benson is one of the ablest and most competent officers in the service. Nevertheless, the campaign against Secretary Daniels proceeds with as much virulence as did the campaign against Secretary Welles. Not satisfied with assailing the secretary personally, there seems to be a well-organized program to incite the navy itself to revolt against the civil authority that controls it, or against any civil authority to control it.

How much of this is party politics and how much of it is armor plate, fighting for swollen profits, nobody knows, but the campaign reflects little credit upon the patriotism of the men responsible for it.

This is a poor time to blackguard the United States navy.

Our Newspapers in a Time of Stress

Springfield Republican: Everybody understands that the responsibility resting upon the press of the United States just now is a serious one. In a very real sense newspapers are the avenue by which the country becomes articulate. Those who desire to reach their fellows send letters to the newspapers. Those who speak upon exigent questions look to see the newspapers carry their words far beyond those who listened to them. Then there must be the editorial expression of a press which, at its best, is strong and dispassionate, swayed neither by bitterness nor hate. The newspapers are charged with the vital public duty not only to record events, but to interpret and pass judgment upon them. It is for them to place the public welfare first, and they must have thought not only for the present, but for the future. At a time when, as seldom before, there are many men of many minds in this country, no editor is going to please everybody, but every editor will fall of his mission who does not in watchful calmness come as near as possible to satisfying his own sense of patriotism and right.

The sobering events through which the world has been passing have exercised a subduing influence upon most of us. There is not at this time, as there was when the little war with Spain was precipitated, any eager crying out for war. Editors ought to be a good deal saner than the average of folks, and so they are showing themselves to be. A wide reading of the newspapers of the United States discloses a minimum of thoughtless expression and appeal. It is human nature to take sides, but the recognition that truth is not all on one side has been a marked feature of our newspapers as a whole. Of "rocking the boat" there has been mighty little. Very few journals have sought to hurry President Wilson into action. It has been recognized that we must not lose sight of the principles which underlie our national history.

In a word, the press of the United States in a great crisis has been a credit to it. The occasion has been so big as to make even the narrowest partisans ashamed to display too much bias against an administration not of their making. With few exceptions, the newspapers have been ready to wait upon the action of those to whom has been intrusted the duty of piloting us, while at the same time exercising the right of a free press to express its opinions. There is much of reassurance in the exhibit that the newspapers are making.

A Diplomatic Woman.

Kansas City Star: It was evidently her first visit to the hair department of the great emporium, and she was noticeably embarrassed.

"I—er—wish to look at some—er—false hair," she stammered.

"Very well, miss," rejoined the diplomatic saleswoman. "What shade does your friend desire?"

Man in the Open.

A. M. Judy in the Atlantic Monthly: I believe religion will never die while man strives with Nature in the open and finds indisputably that Nature is the foster mother of the soul.

Edison

(Read by the author at Carnegie hall, New York, May 6, on the awarding to Thomas A. Edison of the Civic Forum Medal of Honor for distinguished public service, and printed in the New York Independent.)

A thousand leagues on the Arctic sea
A ship went down through the frozen floe,
Captain and crew they watched her go;
They ran her colors free;
They cheered her lustily;
And far peoples chanted her praise with them
Where a phonograph, from her plunging stem,
Pealed to the stars her requiem.

A thousand leagues through the Afric wood
A man went looting the jungle's wealth;
Leopard nor lion could stay his stealth,
Nor sleeping-death nor flood;
He drew not the monsters' blood,
But he led them alive through the scorching day
By a tape of moving film, to play
With the wondering children of Broadway.

A thousand leagues, or a thousand years,
Are motes in the gaze of the seeking mind;
By its own radiance thought can find
Its way to ultimate spheres
Dark, till its beam appears
To blazon them. So on that beam hath run—
Round Arctic moon and Afric sun—
The electric mind of Edison.

Through delicate engine and disc and reel
He quickens the elemental cause,
Kindling the lightnings of its laws
Till atoms of jelly and steel
Are made to stir and feel,
And mortals, that long have ceased to be,
Live on—for the world to hear and see—
In a semblance of immortality.

The throbbing ticker resounds his fame
With its ominous pulse, and the mart responds,
Selling his magic in stocks and bonds;
But they who toss his name
With gold in their mighty game
Behold not the soul of the mightier One
Who sits in the brain of an Edison
And weighs the dreams when all is done.

For all that the millions sell and buy
And wrangle for is a dreamful thing
Wrought of a lone imagining.
Tower'd cities that top our sky
Loomed first on the pensive eye
Of brooding architects; the glories
Of art and science, their sounding stories,
Have birth from silent laboratories.

So out of his visioning silences
The great inventor reveals for us
New pathways of nature, perilous
With unknown skies and seas,
For new astronomies
To chart; and each dim discovered trail
Is lit by the gleam of a luring grail
With the legends: What shall the search avail?

What at last shall avail our invention? Yea,
What avails our soul its cunning brain
If our paths be hatred, our goal be pain?
Brain searches in cloud and clay,
But our soul must point us the way
Through cloud to a star, through clay to God's breath,
Or else it were wiser to welcome death
On the starlit road to Nazareth.

But they shall avail—both—brain and soul!!
They avail us now in him who has won
Earth's wondering homage—Edison.
For his mind has held as its goal
The good of a world made whole,
And his spirit girds it with lightning span—
The planetary American
Whose master-thought is the joy of man.

—Percy Mackaye.

Rockne of Zumbrota

Faribault Pilot: Mr. Minnesota Voter: Have you ever met or been acquainted with Hon. A. J. Rockne of Zumbrota, Goodhue county, Minnesota? If not, let us introduce him to you. He was born down in Fillmore county in this state about forty-six years ago, of good, old honest Scandinavian parents. He was graduated at the law department of the University of Minnesota, was an active member of the Minnesota house of representatives in 1903, 1905, 1907 and 1909, and is now the state senator from Goodhue county. He was speaker of the house during the session of 1909. His long and arduous public service in behalf of the people of Minnesota for the miserable pittance he received as salary, is very commendable in Mr. Rockne. We find no fault with or make no adverse criticism of Mr. Rockne's career as a statesman and patriot. But it is quietly and noiselessly reported that Mr. Rockne carries a concealed ambition to become governor of Minnesota. This ambition is a secret only known to a few of his most intimate and confidential Republican friends, who are guarding it from a loquacious public. The editor of the Pilot, not being either a Republican or a confidant of Mr. Rockne, is not bound to keep Republican secrets, so we are not violating any political trust or confidence when we report on information and belief that Hon. A. J. Rockne will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

This announcement will be sad news to Hon. Samuel Y. Gordon, Hon. William E. Lee, H. H. Flowers and Hon. Lewis Spooner, who are aspirants for the Republican honors of being the party candidate for governor in 1915, but the sad news may as well be broken to these worthies now as later.

Mr. Rockne is said to have made a good record in the session of the senate just closed, in which he fought hard to cut down appropriations. He is well equipped by blood, training and experience to make a strong candidate for the nomination for governor.

The Youth of Athens.

Newell Dwight Hillis: When Athens gave every fourth block to her children and youth for the gymnasium and the playground, she built bodies of silk and steel, and great men walked up and down her streets, in regiments, and her health bloomed in the orations of Demosthenes, and the essays of Plato and the marbles of Phidias. Just as soon as the race and the body began to deteriorate, Athens went to pieces. This has been the story, also, of Ephesus and Corinth and Venice.

The Late Unlamented State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Hindered by Partisanship.

Faribault Pilot: There is an apparent disposition on the part of the Republican newspapers of this state to adversely criticize and to ridicule the work accomplished by the recent session of the Minnesota legislature and to attribute its failure to enact more remedial legislation to the fact that the members were elected as non-partisans and therefore not subservient to party bosses and party discipline. It is true the legislature was legally non-partisan, but in reality not actually so, for there were a large number of ambitious members in the body who thought more and labored harder to promote their own prospects to secure the Republican nomination for the governorship than they did to promote the public welfare.

If these ambitious Republicans could have been eliminated from the legislature the session just closed, it could and would have enacted much more beneficial legislation. The non-partisan legislature is on trial in this state and it should not be hastily condemned because a few schemers of the dominant political party in this state dissipate and fritter away the time of the members of both houses in promoting their own political ambitions.

Eight Hundred at a Clip.

Luverne Herald: The Pennsylvania legislature has passed one repealing act that repealed 800 worthless and obsolete laws. If only Minnesota's late lamented legislature had devoted its time in like manner instead of in passing new laws what a blessing it would have been.

Disorderly and Silly.

Perham Enterprise-Bulletin: The blame for the short-comings of the last legislature is of course to be laid at the door of non-partisanship; but we have seen other legislatures as disorderly and silly that were the simon pure article. The general level of intelligence and purpose govern the output more than mere political complexion.

Have a Heart.

Belle Plaine Herald: The way the country press has been hitting at the legislature the last few weeks one would think that that much abused body performed no other service than to enact fool laws, waste the people's money, and to merit no other criticism than sarcasm and ridicule. Some of these critics should have a heart. They may land in the legislature themselves some day.

Hope Springs Eternal.

Anoka Union: It is to be hoped in the next legislature that some of the self-constituted leaders of this legislature will be conspicious by their absence. Their work was nefarious.

Not Exactly a Bouquet.

Mahnomen Pioneer: Minnesota's first experience with a non-partisan legislature is being generally discussed throughout the state. The old guard is freely predicting that the next legislature will repeal the law and go back to the old party plan of electing the legislature, but this is hardly probable. It is generally admitted that the lower house is too large, and this fact was emphasized during the closing hours, when a great many bills fell by the wayside. Speaker Flowers was hardly equal to the task of governing the body and before the close seemed to have lost all his control. The "Flowers organization" will not go down into history as being a great success.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

Open thy mouth wide and I will fill it.—Ps. lxxxi, 10.

God often would enrich, but finds not where to place His treasure, nor in hand nor heart a vacant space.—Richard Chenevix Trench.

My Savior, may I unlade Thy ships as they come, richly freighted, for my need. May I rejoice in all the good Thou sendest, and be receptive of all things that pertain to life and godliness, that my character may abound in gold, silver and precious stones.—B. F. M.

If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul, then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday, and the Lord shall guide thee continually.—Isa. lviii, 10, 11.

Be Thou my Sun, my selfishness destroy,
Thy atmosphere of love be all my joy;
Thy presence be my sunshine ever bright,
My soul the little mote that lives but in Thy light.

O Lord, who art our guide even unto death, grant us, I pray Thee, grace to follow Thee whithersoever Thou goest. In little daily duties to which Thou callest us, bow down our wills to simple obedience, patience under pain or provocation, strict truthfulness of word and manner, humility, kindness; in great acts of duty or perfection, if Thou shouldest call us to them, uplift us to self-sacrifice, heroic courage, laying down of life for Thy truth's sake, or for a brother. Amen.—C. G. Rossetti.

If thou hast yesterday thy duty done,
And thereby cleared firm footing for today,
Whatever clouds make dark tomorrow's sun,
Thou shalt not miss thy solitary way.

—J. W. von Goethe.

Sincerity.

Carlyle: This is the grand secret for finding readers and retaining them; let him who would move and convince others be first moved and convinced himself. Horace's rule, Si vis me flere, is applicable in a wider sense than the literal one. To every poet, to every writer, we might say: Be true, if you would be believed. Let a man but speak forth with genuine earnestness the thought, the emotion, the actual condition of his own heart; and other men, so strangely are we all knit together by the tie of sympathy, must and will give heed to him. In culture, in extent of view, we may stand above the speaker, or below him; but in either case, his words, if they are earnest and sincere, will find some response within us; for in spite of all casual variations in outward rank or inward, as face answers face, so does the heart of man to man.

In the Far East.

Philadelphia Ledger: "I have no objection to the open door in China," said the Japanese statesman.

"I am very pleased," responded the Chinese mandarin.

"But," added the Nipponese, "I shall be at the door taking the tickets."

Meining also won the 120-yard hurdle race, the 220-yard dash, the 220-yard hurdle and the quarter-mile run.

In the Face of Death.

Dayton News: Winton R. Markley is, if he is still living, editor of the Delmont, S. D., Record. He was sorely stricken with disease some time ago, and put up a good fight for his life. But the odds seemed against him, and he recognized it. In fact, he writes about himself in his paper in a way that impresses the stranger with the man's resignation—a beautiful, uncomplaining, quiet resignation that inspires. Listen:

"We returned from Sioux City last Thursday and did not get much benefit as a result of the trip down there. It seems that the best we can do is to stay at home and die. There is very little use in going away to die, when it is just as easy at home. At least that is our version of it. Every time we try to get any help, we always get worse for a time, so we have given up hope and are going to let it go at that."

Such simple, fearless philosophy from one looking into the very face of death, should help us all. No resentment at his fate, no reservation of hope in the statement, no desire to attract attention or to win applause—this plain man of the newspaper office chronicles his own condition as unemotionally as he would tell of the distress of the stranger. It has been a long time since a more impressive paragraph was written.

Not Unusual, Either.

Washington Star: "My boy has a wonderful ear for music."

"Perhaps," replied the unsympathetic person. "But he doesn't sing or play with his ears."

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 200 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer (though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

LIKES WAY DULUTH IS TREATING ORCHESTRA

To the Editor of The Herald:

While at Hutchinson, Kas., recently, a friend placed in my hands several copies of your paper with the remark: "You people certainly must be very popular in Duluth judging by the remarkable publicity they are giving you. We thought our papers gave you lots of space and excellent mention but I suppose Duluth, being so much nearer home than we, knows more about you and consequently is in better position to say more good things." I have since picked up a few of the Duluth papers here, and while I know that you are doing this more for the Duluth Curling club than for the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, still I feel a word of appreciation from us may not be amiss. You certainly are giving the whole affair remarkable and fine publicity and I only wish our home papers would at all times be equally good to us. They do encourage us at every turn of the game but not to the extent that you do at Duluth. I am certain that if the concerts there are a success, it will be as much due to your efforts as to the wonderful managerial ability of Mrs. Stephen H. Jones.

Yours very truly,
CARLO FISCHER,
Assistant Manager.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 18.

JITNEYS AND SERVICE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Where, oh where was our jitney bus Saturday night? I came down town that evening and behold, I crossed Superior street without dodging a single jitney and didn't get hooted at once. Public service, indeed. I wonder what the public would do if the street cars tied up every time it rained. About the most advantages I have seen about the jitney was for a lot of young hoodlums who probably don't know where dad keeps the wood-pile and a bunch of young girls who had ought to be helping mother wash the dishes or at least learning how. Take a look some Sunday morning about 3 o'clock, Mr. Jitney Booster.

Yours truly,
ANOTHER LOOKERON.

Duluth, May 18.

DULUTH'S PARKS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Yesterday was my second day in Duluth. Having read in your papers about your parks, I decided to go out and visit one of them. I didn't ask anybody what car to take but just waited till a car came along signed up Hunter's Park. I got on said car and rode to the end of the line but failed to see any park. Here the conductor told me it was as far as they went. I then asked him if they were not going to Hunter's Park, whereupon he informed me that we were at Hunter's Park. I then got off and looked around some more and found a cemetery.

This is the only car I've seen with a park sign since I came here and that takes you to a graveyard. If this is a joke Duluth plays on strangers, it's a grim one.

I also wish to know what is the name and date of the carnival coming off here this summer in connection with the Pan-American exposition? Thanking you very kindly, I remain.

Yours respectfully,
BERT MANDALKA.

Duluth, May 15.

Any policeman or private citizen could have told you how to reach any park in the city if you had taken the trouble to ask. There will be no carnival here this summer in connection with the exposition.—The Editor.

ACCLIMATED SEEDS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Just a few words, Mr. Editor, regarding Mr. Hostetter and his acclimated seeds. I have for a few years read different sayings and advice also ideas of Mr. Hostetter on farming and trucking which caused me to smile inwardly, but when I read in The Herald last Saturday Mr. Hostetter's advice for homecrofters to throw away seeds sent to them by their congressman on account of them not being acclimated, my inward smile burst out in an outward laugh. Being bred, born and raised on a farm in states where farmers farm I just couldn't help it. It stands to reason that seeds that are raised in that part of the country where the season is long become more thoroughly matured than they do in any country where there is a short season. I have in the last ten years experimented quite extensively with different seeds and varieties of vegetables and my conclusion is that seeds grown outside of this part of the country are more productive than home grown seeds.

Five years ago this spring I got some seed potatoes from New York state. They were an "Early Triumph." I planted on the sixth of May and my family enjoyed eating new potatoes from the planting on the Fourth of July, fifty-eight days. Three years ago I raised my own carrot and beet seed, about one-third came up. I had to replant with store seed. Last year I received seeds from Congressman Miller. Among the different varieties was radish seed. I had a package of Burpee's radish seed, also some home grown seed. I planted all three side by side at the same time under the same conditions and the result was the ones from the United States were as fine a radish as we ever had on our table and Burpee's were delicious. My home grown seed produced tops only. We got very few radishes from them. I can say the same of flower seed and of trees also. I have three lilac bushes. Two of them are from Shenandoah, Iowa, one from home here. The one I purchased from a local concern I had planted two years before I got the other two and I can show any one the difference if they care to call at my home.

My experience in farming has been in three great states namely Pennsylvania, Illinois and Nebraska. The greater part in Illipois (Monmouth), and if you don't believe that my people were farmers and are today, just write a few lines to the mayor of Monmouth and ask him. This "seed acclimated" talk is all bunconibe.

Mr. Larson says plant seeds early. I have peas, radishes, onions and lettuce up and growing tonight. We had to blanket then to keep them from freezing, the seventeenth of May and 28 deg. above zero, then agitate early planting up in this part of the country; plant late and you are ahead. I have tried both and I know whereof I speak. Thanks, Mr. Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

During the last few days The Herald has received at least a dozen letters asking what has become of the "Poems Wanted" column. It simply languished temporarily for want of contributions. Mrs. H. G. Goetzinger of Duluth and Miss Bena Dube of Cloquet sent in Copies of "In the Baggage Car Ahead," asked for recently. The meter is decidedly faulty, and probably this version of it is not quite correct—both copies being taken from the same source—but it is published again this evening.

The Herald also acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the poem "Butte," from "A former reader of The Herald."

Requests have been received for the following:

"Three Leaves of Shamrock," from Miss Bena Dube of Cloquet.

"School Days," "Butcher Boy" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," from Mrs. H. G. Goetzinger of Duluth.

Butte.

In the land of gold and copper,
Where the ground is full of holes
As a hope is full of misses,
Or a sea is full of shoals;
In the land among the mountains,
On a hill that looks a brute,
On a gray-green hill of granite,
Is the busy town of Butte.

In the land of gold and copper,
With the sage-brush here and there,
Where the yellow aspens tremble
Like the sunshine in the air,
You can hear the old prospector,
With his tale beyond dispute,
How he found the mint of Midas
Underneath the town of Butte.

In the land of gold and copper
There is hope in every breast,
And a vein of mammon-fancy
Sleeping idly in its nest.
Take me back, I'm tired of dying,
For I'd rather live and toot
For the treasure that is hiding
Underneath the town of Butte.

Take me back to dear Montana,
Where the streams are full of trout,
And the world is full of bigness,
For I cannot die without
Just another try for glory;
Then I want the little flute
That will play the final music
To be playing out in Butte.

Let me creep along at nightfall,
When the air is crimp and chill,
Till I see the diamonds sparkle
Like a brooch upon the hill;
Like a bright star, newly shattered,
With the spangles scattered, mute,
Just to make it look like heaven
When you're coming back to Butte.

She's a queen of mountain-fancy,
With a dias cut on stone;
Richest hill in all creation
For a gold and copper throne.
She was born of hero parents,
So we raise a round salute
To the little monarch malden
Of the mountains, "Hail to Butte."

—C. F. Chapman.

"In the Baggage Coach Ahead."

On a dark, stormy night, as the train rattled on.
All the passengers had gone to bed
Except one young man, with a babe on his arm,
Who sat there with bowed-down head.
The innocent one commenced crying just then,
As though its poor heart would break.
One angry man said, "Make that child stop its noise,
For it's keeping us all awake."
"Put it out," said another; "don't keep it in here.
We've paid for our berths and want rest."
But never a word said the man with the child,
As he fondled it close to his breast.
"Where is its mother? Go take it to her,"
One lady then softly said.
"I wish that I could," was the man's sad reply,
"But she's dead, in the coach ahead."

CHORUS.

While the train rolled onward, a husband sat in tears,
Thinking of the happiness of just a few short years;
For baby's face brings pictures of a cherished hope that's dead,
But baby's cries can't waken her in the baggage coach ahead.

Every eye filled with tears when his story he told
Of a wife who was faithful and true;
He told how he'd saved up his earnings for years
Just to build up a home for two.
How, when Heaven had sent them this sweet little babe,
Their young happy lives were blest;
His heart seemed to break when he mentioned her name,
And in tears tried to tell them the rest.
Every woman arose to assist with the child;
There were mothers and wives on that train;
And soon was the little one sleeping in peace,
With no thought of sorrow or pain.
Next morn at the station he bade all good-by;
"God bless you," he softly said.
Each one had a story to tell in their homes
Of the baggage coach ahead.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

E. H. F.—Kindly advise me if you may enter a law school without first obtaining a high school education, also the time required to finish the course and the approximate cost.—There are some law schools you may enter without any requirements and others that call for a high school and even a college diploma. The courses run from a few weeks in a correspondence school to four or five years and the cost from about $60 to as much as you care to pay. In Minnesota you may study in a law office and take the state bar examination, which will admit you to practice. Write to the registrar of the state university for information as to the course in law at that education which is now recognized as one of the best in America.

Charles J. Benson—Please answer this question for me. What is the Goddess of Justice always blindfolded.—The bandage about her eyes simply signifies that real justice does not see the persons before her, and does not discriminate between them. The figure of the old Roman goddess was shown so blindfolded.

K. J.—To settle a dispute will you please publish in the Open Court the nationality of Owen Moore, the motion picture actor, and oblige me.—Irish.

T. S. Finlayson—"A" says that the Duluth Central high school has not won a single basket ball game in the last ten years, from either the Superior normal or the Blaine (otherwise called Superior Central), and only one football game, in the last ten years. "B" disagrees. Which is right?—"B" is right on both contentions.

What the Child Is Learning

The Seventh Grade.

By the time the child has reached the seventh grade he is 13 or 14 years of age, and has acquired a general knowledge of the more elementary phases of the school work.

From the seventh grade on, the object of all lessons is, fundamentally, the same. To teech reverence, patriotism, self-respect, honesty and industry is the aim of every teacher, and is emphasized by heads of the schools.

By this time one of the R's, 'ritin', has been relegated to the background to some extent, but the other two are more in evidence than ever. The seventh readers, stories of the American revolution, old Greek folk stories, and similar books are selected for reading in class, and are accompanied by a large amount of memory work.

In the 'rithmetic class students learn about proportion, powers and roots, square root, interest, fractions and properties of numbers. They learn also to write promissory notes, to exact interest, including annual and compound.

Grammar naturally receives more attention in the seventh and eighth grades, known as the grammar grades. In the seventh the study includes declarative, imperative, interrogative, simple and compound sentences. Later all parts of speech, and the functions of each are taught. For the first time sentences are diagrammed and nouns are parsed.

Geography and history again are closely combined, the work of the geography class including little more than a study of the lives and routes of early explorers.

In history, the most important subject of this grade, teachers aim to give an accurate knowledge of the principal events in our national history from the discovery of the continent to the present time; and to teach them to understand the cause and effect of national conditions.

First the periods of discovery and exploration of America, the colonial period and the revolutionary period, come up in class work. In the colonial period work the early history of each state is gone over in detail. The list includes Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, Rhode Island and South Carolina.

Following this, students learn about the so-called formative period of the United States; of early financial policies; the struggle for commercial independence; of slavery and state sovereignty; and of the administrations of presidents up to Abraham Lincoln.

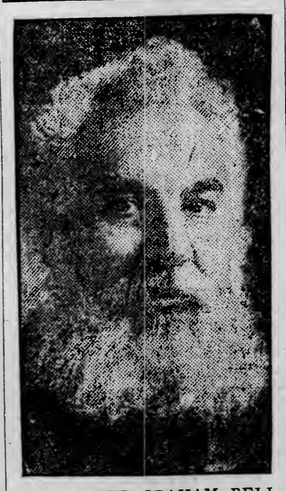
KEEPING CHILDREN AWAY FROM TRAINS

New North Dakota Law Expected to Stop Much Crippling.

Fargo, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be fewer maimed and crippled children in North Dakota if the new law which becomes effective July 1 is properly enforced. It is a radical measure that prevents children under 15 years of age, unless accompanied by parents or guardians, or unless they have business with trains, from approaching nearer than ten feet any engines, trains, rolling stock, switch yards, round houses, terminals, turntables and empty coaches and cars of any railway company.

It was enacted at the request of the railroads and supported by many parents who live in constant terror of their children being injured while playing in railroad yards and around depots. It will also prevent the practice of youths catching onto trains and taking short rides. The railroads are preparing to placard their yards in this state.

AWARDED EDISON MEDAL FOR MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT



ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL.

New York, May 19. — Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was awarded the Edison medal for meritorious achievement in electrical science last night at the annual meeting of the American institute of electrical engineers.

The medal is provided for by a trust fund established by friends and associates of Thomas A. Edison and is awarded each year to a resident of the United States or Canada who has accomplished work of great value in electrical engineering or electrical arts.

GOD SEEN IN EVERYTHING

Harmony of the Universe Not Matter of Chance, Says Rabbi.

All Religions Based on Three Principles of Judaism, He Says.

"The three fundamental principles of Judaism—the existence of God, the divine origin of law and the belief in future reward and punishment—are the foundation upon which all religious beliefs and creeds are built," declared Dr. Maurice Lefkovits in his sermon on "The Fundamentals of Judaism" at the special Shabuoth services at Temple Emanuel last evening. Another service was held at 10:30 o'clock this morning, when he preached on "An Appeal to Jewish Womanhood."

Nature Points to God.

"All in nature points to Him above as the most supreme and source of all existence. The wonderful harmony with which the myriads of creatures work together, their wise arrangement, their usefulness, their beauty and their grandeur, strongly and irresistibly impress upon the human mind the idea of an infinite intellect, from which they all emanated. Chance cannot bring forth works of wisdom; chance cannot produce harmony, beauty and goodness. You ask, looking around you, overpowered by the vastness of the universe with its countless wonders and splendors: 'Where is God?' 'And with a thousand voices echo answers: 'Where is God not?'

"But not only is the world God's residence. He is also its governor. 'Holy is God on earth, the scene of His governing strength.' There is a law for every creature; there is a design and a plan underlying the whole of creation. Or, do you think it possible that the spheres would move in their orbits so regularly and complete their circuits in the heavens with unchanging uniformity, that day and night, summer and winter, warmth and cold, birth and death, growth and decay, would alternate so accurately, were there no law and no statute?

"History also certifies to the truth of the doctrine of God's government. We perceive clearly purpose and plan in the annals of the past. We observe one grand design, one dominant thought and will throughout all the convulsions and revolutions of mankind. We notice in the long march of time, a steady progress toward the better. Every event brought man forward, every incident furthered the process of civilization. The steady, onward march of humanity evidences the existence of a supreme law giver, an endless intellect, scheming and prearranging upon mankind's spiritual growth.

Belief in Hereafter.

"Still one more stay is necessary to prop the edifice of religion. It is the conviction that there is a hereafter, where man reaps the fruit of his deeds. Without this assurance law, duty, virtue and morality would be mere empty meaningless sounds. What is to sustain man in the midst of a life of trials and struggles; what shall encourage him to foster virtue and practice self-abnegation, if he has not the belief in a world of retribution? If, therefore, in spite of the adverse circumstances which surround man, he is to remain faithful to the higher standard that law sets for him, he must be sustained by the hope of a life beyond. This hope is thus closely allied with the idea of law and a supreme law giver. He, who directs man to do the right and to shun the wrong, rewards him according to his ways, for 'Holy is He forever, and in all eternity.'"

NEW ROCKFORD'S REVENGE.

Evens Up With Bismarck By Furnishing Penitentiary's Biggest Convict.

New Rockford, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—By sending a prisoner of such enormous physical proportions that there were no clothes or shoes of sufficient size for him at the state penitentiary, New Rockford got even with Bismarck over the refusal of the legislature to remove the state capital to this city. The Bismarck officials claim Eddy county scoured the country for the gigantic offender. The prison tailors had to work over time to get a suit large enough and a pair of No. 14 shoes had to be ordered by mail for the new arrival.

WALTER HILL IN RACE.

Railroad Magnate's Son in Crookston; Mill City Auto Contest.

Crookston, Minn., May 19.—An automobile race from Crookston to Minneapolis, a distance of about 315 miles by wagon road, will be run June 5. Walter J. Hill of Northcote, son of James J. Hill of the Great Northern railway, will race A. F. Harland of Chicago to decide a bet, Hill putting up a check of $1,000 against $500. All of the preliminaries are settled. The race will be an endurance contest, both drivers to go through to Minneapolis without stopping, except to replenish their gas tanks and make necessary repair.

DON'T WASH YOUR HAIR WITH SOAP

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

IVAN WILL BE GIVEN WATCH FOR MAKING THE BEST BIRDHOUSE

Judges Decide Prize Winners in Contest Conducted Under Auspices of Duluth Humane Society.

Ivan Miller, 318 Twelfth avenue east, has won the first prize offered by the Duluth Humane society for the best bird house submitted in a competition open to the school children of St. Louis county.

Ivan will have his choice between a $13 watch and a set of sterling silver teaspoons of the same value.

The contest closed Monday, but no awards were made until yesterday afternoon. The judges met at the office of the society in the courthouse to select the winners.

Laury McKay, a boy at Nopeming sanatorium, sumbitted a martin house, which captured second prize. He will receive a camera as a reward for his efforts.

Other prizes were awarded as follows: Irving Romieux, 1513 East Third street, third prize; Harvey Bronson, East Seventh street, fourth prize; Ward Luxon, 1607 Woodland avenue, fifth prize, and Max Gebauer, 1209 East Third street, sixth prize.

The third prize consists of a kodak and the fourth, fifth and sixth prizes, bird guides and books on "What Every Child Should Know About Birds."

Mayor W. I. Prince, Henry Cleveland, Mrs. Walter Turle and S. George Stevens acted as judges of the competition.

The winning specimens will be placed on display in the window of the premises formerly occupied by the Lake Hardware company, on West Superior street, near Lake avenue.

The purpose of the competition was to encourage the study of birds and bird welfare work among the school children of the county.

Housewives' League Will Send Delegates to Minneapolis

Committee Is Appointed to Ask Merchants to Protect Food From Flies and Dust.

A report on the financial standing of the Housewives' league, the lunches that have been served to school children, the lack of ordinances to protect food from dirt and a discussion of the Housewives' league convention that will be held in Minneapolis at the time of the state fair, took up the attention of those who attended the meeting of the Housewives' league that was held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom.

The treasurer's report showed that donations from clubs and individuals, and the proceeds from the play given under the auspices of the Housewives' league had put $404.06 in the treasury, that disbursements had amounted to $253.48, leaving a balance of $150.58. The lunches that have been served to the school children of the Irving district cost $225.63. The children gave pennies to the amount of $17.85, making the amount spent by the league for this purpose $207.78. The lunches will be served until the close of school.

Mothers Approve.

Mrs. Mary L. Hickox of the Associated Charities reported that the mothers in the Irving district are unanimous in their approval of the lunches and that the Superior members of the Twin Ports Social Service club are watching the experiment with much interest.

Mrs. J. T. Watson, the president, thanked the volunteer workers for their assistance in preparing and serving the lunches to the children.

Mrs. John Uno Sebenius, the secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Julian Heath of New York, president of the National Housewives' league, saying she was sending the local league a charter and asking their co-operation in the work the Minnesota league is doing. Mrs. Heath will attend the meeting that will be held in Minneapolis in the fall. This is expected to be an important gathering, as the questions of sanitary housing and clothing will be taken up. The local league hopes to be able to get Mrs. D. W. MacCourt, the president of the Minnesota Housewives' league, to come to Duluth just after the Minneapolis meeting. Mrs. Watson has been asked by Mrs. MacCourt to be a member of the state executive board.

A motion was adopted at the meeting to pay the expenses to the Minneapolis meeting of two delegates who will be named later.

Mrs. W. C. McCarter, Mrs. O. A. Oredson and Mrs. J. T. Watson were named as a committee to interview the merchants and report to the league those who are willing to provide adequate protection against dust and flies for the food they have exposed for sale.

The meeting yesterday was the last that will be held until fall. At the September meeting officers for next year will be elected.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Mam'zelle," assisted by Miss Berta Schmied and her brother.
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—Blanche Sweet in "The Captive," photoplay.
DIAMOND—Duluth in films.

Theater Gossip.

This is "dance week" at the Lyceum. The fever has caught even the members of the Baldwin company, and several of them have arranged for instruction from Miss Berta Schmied, who is appearing as an added attraction, with her brother, Leo L. Schmied. Miss Schmied and her brother are watched from the wings at every performance, and their steps are practiced whenever the opportunity offers. The dancing contest Saturday night is creating much interest. Following the regular performance of "Mam'zelle," a contest for the Schmied cup will be staged. It is open to any amateur. Only professional dancers will be barred. The judges will be nine well-known Duluthians, and entrics for the contest may be made at the Lyceum box office.

DANCE WEEK AT LYCEUM.

Miss Schmied will change her program tonight, substituting the Maurice fox trot for the Parisian tango, which she and her brother have been dancing. Saturday night will also be a "request" night, and they will dance whatever dances are asked for by the greatest number of patrons. The attendance this week promises to break all records for the Baldwin company's engagement. The play is a popular comedy and the Schmieds have proven a big drawing card. Next week "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will be presented.

NEW GRAND BILL POPULAR

The new bill at the popular New Grand tomorrow matinee has for a headliner a rather unique offering in Lady Alice's Pets. The pets consist of dogs, cats and rats, all working together in perfect harmony and without the least disposition on the part of any of them to be antagonistic toward their natural enemies.

The Sherlock Sisters in songs and dances; Ted and Uno Bradley, versatile entertainers; and Burns, Brown and Burns in a comedy bar act, are other offerings in a vaudeville way.

"The Jest of Jealousy," in two reels; "The Understudy, or Behind the Scenes," a drama; and "A Lucky Strike," a comedy, are among the photoplays. The Hearst-Selig news completes the bill.

The bill closing with tonight's performances has proved an exceptionally popular one. Bernard and Myers in their comedy skit, "The Cabby and the Passenger," head the bill. The Goyt Trio, two dogs and a man, in gymnastic feats; Long, Chapron and Green, three dainty maids and a piano, and the Costa Troupe of women acrialists are vaudeville offerings.

"The Snow Burner," a thrilling tale of life in the north woods, is the photoplay feature in three reels featuring Richard C. Travers. Two sterling comedies and a drama complete the bill.

"The Biograph Blond" gets all the credit for pulling the "captive" across at the Rex. Working with characters that are too ladylike to be real, it's only the fine photography, some pretty mountain scenery and some human bits of business, combined with Blanche Sweet's personality, that makes this "worth while."

BLANCHE SWEET AT THE REX

This feature will please because Blanche Sweet has a chance to pout and smile most bewitchingly in many scenes. House Peters does the nonchalant hero acceptably, if he does have to wear his Turkish sky-piece all the time to keep one in mind that he is a Turk. The introduction of many little scenes between Miss Sweet and Peters, teaching him household duties, gives "The Captive" more of a light comedy touch than drama.

Blanche Sweet and an all-star cast will be at the Rex Beautiful today and tomorrow.

DULUTH IN "MOVIES" AT THE DIAMOND

Duluth will be shown in the "movies" at the Diamond theater today, tomorrow and Friday. Among the features to be shown will be a tug breaking ice on Lake Superior, launching of the Chicora in the Superior shipyard, Duluth harbor and aerial bridge, Governor Hammond and party visiting schools, and many other features well known in this city.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR FOREIGNERS IN BERLIN

Berlin, May 19, via London.—New regulations for the control of foreigners in Berlin and the province of Brandenburg were today issued by the military commander. These regulations become effective June 1. They set forth that all foreigners, except Austrians and Hungarians and Turks, must appear personally before the police and submit their passports within twenty-four hours of their arrival in the city or the province.

Foreigners desiring to leave this territory must make personal appearance before the authorities. Foreigners already in the district named on the first of June must appear before the police prior to June 10.

Individual Bon Ton Service for You by Miss Schaull This Week

During her visits last year and the year before, Miss Schaull had many requests for personal fittings which she was unable to grant.

As you know, she usually gives lectures with living models. However, by special arrangement on this visit Miss Schaull will give her entire time to fittings.

Just let her show you which Bon Ton Corset suits you best.

You'll not be asked to buy. She will prescribe for you—she knows as very few women in America know just what model is suited for special figures.

Bon Ton Bridal Corsets
Beautiful brocades, the very foundation for the bridal gown

Miss Schaull will show you how to improve your figure, how to preserve its good points, and how to correct any little faults of figure or carriage. If you do not need a "Bon Ton" she will frankly tell you so. However, in the scores of different models there is likely to be some special model to exactly suit your personal need.

IMPROVEMENTS IN RURAL MAIL SERVICE

Insurance and C. O. D. service will be extended to the rural mail patrons in the same manner now in effect for other patrons of the postoffice, according to a ruling issued by Postmaster General Burleson. Postmasters at all offices which have rural mail service are instructed to see that rural carriers are equipped with parcel post scales, maps and guides and also insurance and C. O. D. tags. A bulletin containing this information has just been received at the Duluth office by Postmaster William E. McEwen.

"When desired by patrons," says Mr. McEwen, "insurance or C. O. D. tags may be left in the post box by the carrier to be properly filled out and attached to parcels by patrons. On succeeding trips the carrier should accept such parcels bearing tags, if sufficient postage and fee is left in the box. If such parcels appear to be packed and indorsed properly they may be accepted at the sender's risk in case of damage, since the carrier would be unable to make inquiry regarding packing and articles inclosed."

NORTH DAKOTA ALFALFA STOOD SEVERE WINTER

Fargo, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—That alfalfa successfully withstood the past winter without winter killing is regarded as a particularly strong point in its favor because of the severity of the test it underwent. The cold, while not as extreme as in some winters, was hard on the alfalfa from the fact that there was little or no snow during the winter for protection for the plant, and the advocates of alfalfa as a hay crop for this state are expressing great elation at the manner in which it came through the rigorous test. Only in low or water covered spots was there much loss reported.

DIRT SQUADS ARE VIGILANT

West End Schools Organize for Systematic Clean-up Work.

Each School Has Pupil Officers in Charge to Force Work.

Systematic work is being pushed by the boys and girls of the five West end schools in their campaign to clean the district of rubbish and other unsightly matter and making this end of the city the cleanest in town. The organization of workers has adopted as its name, "The West End Beautifying Club," and its members declare that the name is going to be lived up to during the summer.

Each school district is being well looked after. Each of the schools has its captain, and under him are lieutenants, each of whom has charge of a small squad which looks after one block of territory. The school districts have been split up into blocks and each block numbered.

Gets Quick Attention.

No rubbish is too small or two large for the squads to tackle and dispose of. When a block has a large amount of refuse, the health department is notified and a wagon is asked for to cart it away at once. The clean up organization is claimed to be the best ever assembled in any part of this city. Every week the captains of the various schools report to Capt. K. A. Franklin, chairman of the West End Commercial club's committee having charge of the clean-up campaign.

List of Commanders.

Following are the captains of the various schools and their lieutenants:

Adams—William Sullivan, captain; lieutenants, Earl Olson, Harold Eck, Bernard Torrence, Clifford Johnson, Adolph Carlson, Herbert Beckman, John Sullivan, Arthur Larson, Harold Beckman, David Torrence, Carl Miller, Adolph Carlson, William Sullivan, John Olson, Harold Sherman, Carl Miller, Dorothy Kearns and Mildred Olson.

Bryant—George Atchley, captain; lieutenants, Victor Johnson, Edward Barknowski, Edwin Schumaker, Arthur Swanstrom, Loren Condie, Enerd Nuberg, Wilfred Colby, Ralph Strom and Elmer Anderson.

Lincoln—Milon Morris, captain; lieutenants, Harold Hanson, Arthur Knudson, Claud Wahl, Wallace Smith, Alton Anderson, Robert Rude, Erling Berg, Elnar Johnson, Walter Wilson, Chester Driscol, Clarence Hagar, Frank Wagner, Frank Krysiak, Mabel Mathews, Eva Anderson, Harold Peterson, Egel Nelson, Ernest Gustafson, William Saunders, Raymond Holmes, Wilfred Rylander and Erling Klippen.

Monroe—Eusche Blais, captain; lieutenants, Carl Johnson, Gustaf Bjorlin, Harry Winberg, Lester Erickson, Dorothy Lundquist, George Mork, Arthur Acre, Charles Lorentsen, Arvid Olson, Clarence McKay, Edward St. Marie, William Marceau, Albert Belsvik, Roy Stronach, Thomas Johnson, Amelia Nelson, Herbert Gustafson, Arthur Cobham, Morris Friedman, Archie Goodwin, Alex Rochebeau, Earl Schneider, Helmer East, Herman Aune, Clyde Sullivan, Elmer Olson, Eric Renstrom, Lillian Erickson and Edward West.

The captain of the Ensign district is Harold Haug. The names of the lieutenants will be announced later.

Wife Says He Repeatedly Threatened to Kill Himself.

Repeated threats to commit suicide made by Olaf N. Rapp, aged 47, 1809½ West First street were carried out yesterday when he shot himself through the head and died several hours later in St. Luke's hospital.

"We thought he was joking," said Mrs. Rapp. "He had said for several weeks that he would either hang or shoot himself, and yesterday morning when he called to us from the next room and said 'good-by,' we thought he was just talking. A minute later I heard the first shot and ran into the room to find him leaning against the wall, pulling a trigger on empty cartridges."

Mrs. Rapp told Police Surgeon Klein that her husband had been injured in a twenty-five-foot fall two years ago and that since that time he had been hard of hearing and often "acted different," as she put it.

He had been ill for several days, and had not been working at the Alger-Smith Lumber company's mill, where he is employed. Police believe that his illness, combined with a mental derangement, prompted his act.

The Rapp family came to Duluth twelve years ago from Sweden. In addition to his wife, a son, Edwin, aged 11, and a daughter, Mildred, aged 7, survive him. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

WEST END BUILDERS

When a man ceases to bend his energies to securing votes the field most popular to enter is that of real estate. The real estate business is said to contain more ex-politicians than any other business.

When August Lofgren quit being a politician he did the exceptional. He entered the drug business. Nothing like being original, says Mr. Lofgren, and he immediately opened up a place to fill prescriptions in the West end.

Mr. Lofgren was county register of deeds for several years. Since then he has been just an ordinary citizen and a booster. His boosting consists of doing all he can to make the West end the best place in the city to live in, and in so doing he takes an active interest in the deliberations of the West End Commercial club as well as the business men's organization. He was one of the prime movers in instituting the monthly noon meetings of the West end business men at which topics of interest to this district are being taken up.

"The West end is rapidly coming into its own," said Mr. Lofgren. "The business men are rapidly realizing that this section of the city will soon be the 'hub' of Duluth."

The St. Luke's Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Harmann, 113 North Twenty-eighth avenue west.

Mrs. A. Farrington, 2131 West First street, who has been spending the last three months in California, is expected home this week.

Mrs. Andrew Nord, 3906 West Third street, is reported seriously ill at her home.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Grace M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will entertain at supper in the church this evening. The supper will be served between 5 and 8 o'clock.

Miss Genevieve Helam, 2024 West Second street, has returned from Aitkin, Minn., where she has been spending two weeks visiting relatives.

A joint meeting will be held this evening by the Men's Welfare league and the Parthenoe Society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. The two organizations will be entertained by Erick Ostlund and Bernard Gustafson. The program will include talks by Albin Carlson, Miss Ellen Lindberg and Rev. J. J. Daniels.

JITNEY MEN WELL PLEASED

Duluth Ordinance Compared With Those Passed in Other Cities.

Duluth jitney drivers feel elated over the terms of the ordinance passed last Monday evening. Other cities have passed more stringent measures and local jitneurs feel they have been well treated.

The Municipal Journal in its last issue sums up the ordinances in Pasadena, Cal.; Fort Worth, Tex.; Oakland, Cal.; San Antonio, Tex.; Joplin, Mo., and Boise, Idaho.

The local ordinance compels a jitney driver to obtain a liability insurance policy for $5,000 and a license of $5 for a car of five passengers; $7.50 for a seven-passenger car and $10 for larger cars.

In Other Cities.

The following table shows the amount of insurance a jitney driver has to obtain in the other six cities:

Pasadena—$5,000 for injury to one person; $10,000 for injury to all in any one accident.

Fort Worth—$5,000 for injury to one person; $10,000 for injury to all in any one accident; $1,000 for property damage in an accident.

Oakland—$10,000.

San Antonio—$5,000 for injury to one person; $10,000 for injury to all in any one accident; $50,000 for liability for not over five cars; $100,000 for liability for any number of cars.

Joplin—None mentioned in ordinance.

Boise—$10,000 for one or two cars; $20,000 for over two cars.

License Fees Required.

The following tabulation shows the license fees in each of these cities, with Duluth charging an average of $7.50 a year:

Pasadena—Vehicles holding five persons or less, including driver, $30; vehicles holding six or seven persons, including driver, $35; vehicles holding eight to fifteen persons, including driver, $45; vehicles holding sixteen to twenty-nine persons, including driver, $55; vehicles holding thirty or more persons, $75.

Fort Worth—Vehicles holding five persons or less, $10; vehicles holding six or seven persons, $20; vehicles holding seven or more persons, $30.

Oakland—Each vehicle, $60.

San Antonio—Vehicles having seven seats or less, $25; for each seat over seven, $3.50.

Joplin—For holding five persons or less, $10; for holding six or seven persons, $15; for holding eight to twelve persons, $20; for holding thirteen to sixteen persons, $25; for holding seventeen to twenty-five persons, $55; for holding twenty-six persons or more, $40.

Oklahoma City (charge according to capacity)—Minimum fee, $50; maximum fee, $150.

Boise—Vehicles holding five passengers or less, $75; vehicles holding six to ten passengers, $100; vehicles holding ten to twenty passengers, $150.

MAINE KEEPS LE SAGE.

Declines to Give Him Up Until He Serves Sentence.

Grand Marais, Minn., May 19.—Sheriff Lien of Cook county, who went to Lewiston, Me., after John B. Le Sage, who broke jail here two years ago while being held pending trial, has returned empty handed. Le Sage has been convicted in the Pine Tree state of passing a forged check under the name of "John Harris," the name he appears to have adopted since leaving here, and sentenced to four years in state prison. Although Sheriff Lien was armed with a requisition for Le Sage from Governor Hammond, the Maine authorities refused to give him up until he served his time. Sheriff Lien says Le Sage wanted to come back to Minnesota with him and generally presented a dejected appearance.

Mrs. Walters Out on Bail.

New York, May 19.—Mrs. Ida Sniffen Walters, who poisoned her two babies and has been in jail on the charge of murder, was yesterday released under bail of $7,500, granted on the plea that she was again to become a mother.

SENSATIONAL AFFIDAVITS ARE OFFERED AT HEARING

Agents of Equity Exchange Alleged to Have Violated Gopher Law.

Claim Made That Actual Figures of Grain Sales Were in Reports.

Fargo, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The hearing before Judge Pollock for the appointment of a receiver and the winding up of the affairs of the Equity Co-operative exchange was resumed today. The reading of affidavits by the plaintiffs continued this morning from yesterday afternoon following the overruling of the demurrer to the complaint.

This morning Attorney Manahan, for the defense objected to the introduction of certain portions of certain affidavits.

Let in All Testimony.

The court, after a careful consideration of the matter, announced that all testimony, good, bad and indifferent, would be submitted for the purpose of expediting the action and that when the arguments were finally made objections would then be considered. This is the practice of the courts of this state, in cases where there are no jurors and hastens the actions.

One thing strongly brought out in affidavits read this morning was that desolte the Minnesota law which requires reports of grain sales shall be made in writing within twenty-four hours and shall give the hour and the minute of the sale, the Equity Exchange delayed reporting from two days to twenty and thirty and it is alleged made entirely false reports as to the actual time the sales were made.

One affidavit introduced this morning indicated that a sale which had actually been made by the exchange at 88 cents was reported to the customers as having been for 85½ cents or a difference of 2½ cents per bushel to the owner.

Just before the noon adjournment an affidavit of W. F. Converse of Minneapolis was read showing that he would go to different representatives of the Equity Co-operative exchange, secure samples of grain, upon which he would then get bids from commission firms. He would buy at whatever price he could make and frequently sold from 4 to 6 cents in advance of prices he paid the equity man for grain shipped that exchange by farmers of North Dakota.

$30,000 Subscribed.

With a view to making good the alleged impairment of the capital stock of the exchange, $30,000 were subscribed by a number of enthusiastic stockholders of the Equity exchange. One of the features of the attack on the exchange and one of the reasons asked for the appointment of a receiver is that the directors of the orgnization have wasted the capital stock and have constantly lost money on their grain deals. It is claimed money subscribed for stock has been used to pay the traveling expenses of George S. Loftus, and others in making trips over the Northwest.

An affidavit and copy of the contract between the Equity exchange and the Co-operators Herald, published in this city, showed the exchange paid the publication $2,000. These and other reasons are mentioned in the complaint why a receiver should be appointed to wind up the affairs of the exchange and why the charter of the exchange should be annulled.

What Subscriptions Indicate.

The subscriptions through which this fund was raised was suggested by Congressman George M. Young, whose idea was that if the depleted and impaired capital was made good it would influence the court as to the honesty and integrity of the intentions of the stockholders of the exchange. Their subscriptions are regarded by the plaintiffs as being a virtual admission of the impaired condition and of the existence of a big shortage in the funds of the exchange as claimed by the plaintiffs following so closely after the admission yesterday of errors and illegal acts by the directors of two years ago, made by Manahan, the efforts to make good the impaired condition of the exchange is regarded as indicating the truth of the charges made against it and is having a pronounced influence of some of the stockholders, who had believed no errors had been made and no wrong acts committed.

So much interest was attracted by the suit that about 150 members of the co-operative exchange were present at the first day's hearing. Early in the forenoon they had assembled at the Equity headquarters and secured badges. It was claimed they had rehearsed to some extent their plans in the courtroom for a demonstration that would impress the court with the big following of the Equity. They were in the courtroom in a body when the case was opened.

Court Rebukes Audience.

Attorney Manahan opened the proceedings and quickly made a reference of an uncomplimentary nature against the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce. This aroused laughter and a faint hand-clapping on the part of some of the Equity sympathizers.

There is where Judge Pollock broke up the system that has proven such a big asset for Loftus in his campaigns in this state. The court immediately stopped the remarks of the attorney and, turning to the audience, he remarked on the importance of the case, the interest in it on the part of hundreds of shippers over the state, the necessity for serious consideration on its merits, the fact that the courtroom was not a theater or place of amusement, and emphatically stated he would tolerate no demonstrations of either approval or disapproval, as he wished to so conduct the case that at its conclusion each side could say there had been no prejudice or bias. There were no more expressions following that.

At the noon recess Tuesday, the 150 visiting stockholders in the Equity Co-operative exchange paraded the streets, preceded by a band. They carried a number of banners bearing catchy inscriptions in the interests of the exchange and the parade was for the purpose of inspiring the citizens of Fargo with the strength of the organization and the widespread interest in it.

The court also repressed several over-enthusiastic declarations of Attorney Manahan and insisted that he confine his remarks to the case and not indulge in any personalities.

MORE MONEY; TAXES SAME

Voss Has Plan to Make $40,000 Available for Improvements.

Would Reduce Hydrant Rentals and Shift Bond Retiring Fund.

Commissioner of Finance Fred J. Voss has under consideration a plan whereby the city will obtain about $40,000 for additional expenses that will come up in 1916 without increasing the 13-mill tax levy. He will present the proposition to the council at an early date, he said this morning.

The city now pays $53,750 a year to the water and light department as a rental for hydrants and fountains. Most of the 1,000 hydrants that have been installed are never used and Commissioner Voss is of the opinion that the annual rental of $50 for each hydrant is too high. He would establish a minimum price of $40 and as low as $25, if possible. This would save the city from $10,000 to $25,000 a year out of the general fund, the money to be divided among the various departments or laid aside for the construction of the new West Duluth fire hall or the erection of a new garbage incinerator.

Water Bonds.

In addition, the city now pays about $27,000 a year to retire a $100,000 bond issue of the water and light department made two years ago. The commissioner believes that this money should not come out of the general fund, as at present, but should be paid out of the sinking fund, which is well able to care for it. The $27,000 could then be distributed to the other departments.

To care for the hydrant rental the city has to levy a 1-mill tax every year, while a ½-mill tax is included to cover the bond issue. In making the above changes, the commissioner will be able to keep within the 13-mill tax limit and at the same time obtain more money needed by the various departments each year.

In 1911 the water and light department asked for a $300,000 bond issue, which was passed by a vote of the people. At that time but $200,000 was issued by the city and when the department asked for the remaining $100,000 in 1913, the money market was such that a big premium was asked by the bond dealers of the country. As a result Commissioner Voss arranged to sell the bonds over the counter to the general public and instead of tying the city up with an issue covering a 30-year period, arranged to have the council levy a ½-mill tax for four years to retire the bonds within that time. Now with the need of a West Duluth firehall, a new incinerator, a municipal garbage collection system and numerous other improvements, the commissioner is eager to make a change, so that the money will be available to the city. If the water and light department is unable to retire the bonds, then the commissioner would have the money paid out of the general fund.

STATE LAND DISPOSED OF

Eighteen Bidders Purchase 760 Acres at Monthly Sale.

Prices Range From $5 to $30 Per Acre; Appraising New Lands.

Eighteen bidders were present and made purchases today at the monthly sale of state and other school lands in St. Louis county. The sale was conducted by Theodore Nelson, manager of the state land department of the state auditor's office.

In all, nineteen descriptions were disposed of, and acreage totaling about 760. The prices paid ranged from $5 to $30.

The southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2, 57-20 brought the highest price. It was sold for $30 an acre. Mario Paoli of Chisholm was the buyer.

According to Mr. Nelson, it is the intention of the department to follow out the plan of State Auditor Preus in appraising new lands to be added to lists. This work will begin some time after June 1.

Just how much will be appraised this summer, Mr. Nelson was unable to state. "It is Mr. Preus' plan to appraise first the descriptions requested by the settlers, some of whom wish to acquire adjoining state land as an addition to their own tracts," he said.

Mr. Nelson was also unable to say whether the lands appraised this summer would be placed on the lists to be offered for sale this fall or not. The next sale will be conducted in this county on July 21.

BIG STICK AS CLEAN-UP AID

Council May Acquire Right to Order Work and Assess Cost.

Property Owners Would First Be Served With Order to Act.

Compulsory garbage removal and clean-up work are provided in a new ordinance completed yesterday by City Attorney Greene, and which will be presented to the council by Commissioner Silberstein of the safety division at the regular meeting next Monday evening.

The ordinance will fill a long-felt want in Duluth, according to Commissioner Silberstein, who said this morning that whenever a property owner refuses to remove any garbage or rubbish, the city will have the authority to order the removal and to assess the cost against the property benefited. At present there are many residents who refuse to clean their lots, and as a result complaints are constantly being received from persons living in the neighborhood, protesting against the conditions. The city is powerless, however.

The ordinance provides for the removal of garbage, ashes, manure, rubbish or dead animals within forty-eight hours after a notice is served, when public health and decency require it, or the work will be done by the city, with the cost assessed against the owner of the property. The assessments will be made by the commissioner of safety, who is required to prepare an assessment roll to be certified by the council.

After the council certifies a roll, the ordinance states, the clerk will insert one notice in the official publication, describing the property to be assessed and stating the time of a meeting, when appeals may be made by the property owners against the assessments. The council will act on all appeals and also present the list of delinquents on Oct. 1 to the county auditor, who will spread the assessments on the tax list of the respective property owners, with the penalties for non-payment. An owner will also have the right to appeal to the district court.

If the ordinance is given its first reading next Monday evening, it will require two additional readings before it comes up for passage.

FIRST GAME ON FRIDAY

White Sox Will Open the Home Baseball Season.

Superior Will Be Opposing Team—Big Parade Planned.

The 1915 home season of the Duluth White Sox will be properly inaugurated at Athletic park Friday afternoon.

There will be a parade, starting at the city hall at 1:30. The players of the Duluth and Superior teams will head the procession. The city officials and some of the prominent fans will occupy automobiles, while bringing up the rear of the parade will be the thirty-three degree followers of the team.

At the ball park Mayor Prince will make a speech and officially usher in the home season by tossing, or attempting to toss, the first ball over the plate.

Superior is going very well at the present time. Manager Fred Curtis of the Swampers has promised to put his best curler in for the game of Friday. It is probable that Cadreau or Frank Hoffman will be the mound nominee for the Dooks.

Owner Blume asks that every real follower of baseball who owns an automobile, get into the parade. While the team has made a rather sorry showing so far on the trip, it is believed that the White Sox will come into their own after starting the home series. The fans are asked to make the parade a large one and assist in starting the home season off in a proper and enthusiastic manner.

ALLEGED BURGLAR BROUGHT TO TRIAL

John Mack Accused of Using Pass Key in Hotel Robbery.

John Mack, jointly indicted with Andrew Niemiecka on a charge of burglary in the third degree, was brought to trial under the indictment in district court this morning before Judge Ensign and a district court jury. Niemiecke will be tried later, the two defendants having demanded separate trials.

The two are accused of having broken into the room of Sam Dahl at the Grace hotel on the early morning of May 7. It is claimed that they entered the room by means of a special pass key which belonged to a set of burglar's tools found in Mack's possession.

When Dahl retired on the night of May 6, he locked his door and turned the key in the lock. About 1 o'clock in the morning he was awakened by a noise in the room and aroused himself just in time to see some one leave the room. It was dark and he could not distinguish who the intruder or intruders were.

Stepping out into the corridor he saw two men step into another room and heard their door slam. Returning to his room, he found that four silver dollars and a $1 bill had been taken from his clothes. The key, he found, had been pushed almost out of the lock, but was still hanging to the lock.

The next morning, before the two men had left the hotel, Dahl and an officer went to their room and found them in their room. The officer searched them and found four silver dollars and a $1 bill on them. He also found in their possession keys and burglar's tools. Both of them were arrested.

D. J. Donovan appears in the case as attorney for Mack and County Attorney Greene is prosecuting.

DICE GAMES WILL NOT BE ALLOWED

Police Chief Given Orders to Stop All Playing in City.

Dice games in cigar stores and saloons will not be allowed under the Silberstein administration.

Yesterday afternoon Commissioner Silberstein ordered Chief of Police McKercher to stop all gambling in the cigar stores and the latter immediately sent word to his men to warn those who were using dice. As a result dice games, which flourished for several days, are now at an end.

When Commissioner Silberstein took office a month ago, some of the dealers began sending word around that dice games would be allowed. However, no one ventured to start until about a week ago, when several of the cigar stores introduced the "bones" after an absence of a year, when Former Commissioner Hicken ordered all dice boxes or any gambling device out of stores and saloons.

When Commissioner Silberstein received word of the introduction of the dice, he immediately started an investigation and the order yesterday followed.

"Gambling will not be allowed while I am in office," Mr. Silberstein said this morning.

SENTENCED FOR ROBBING HIS "PAL"

Eugene Ferguson Given Ten Months for Grand Larceny.

Because he touched his "pal" for a roll of $80 after getting drunk at his expense, Eugene C. Ferguson will have ample opportunity for reflection.

Ferguson admitted a charge of grand larceny in the second degree to Judge Ensign in district court this morning and was given ten months at the work farm at hard labor.

Ferguson told the court that he and A. A. Palmer had been drinking together on March 1 last and that when Palmer "went under" he relieved him of his surplus cash.

The court gave Ferguson a lecture on abstinence from liquor and admonished him to live uprightly when he left the work farm.

FOLKY DE VOHN CALLED.

Horseshoe Manufacturer Summoned; Funeral Service Friday.

Folky H. de Vohn, president of the Duluth Manufacturing & Welding company, and a director of the Diamond Calk & Horseshoe Manufacturing company, died at his home, 119 Twenty-sixth avenue west, shortly before midnight last night. He was 34 years old.

Mr. de Vohn has been prominent in West end business circles for several years, having been associated with his brother, A. R. de Vohn, in the realty operations before the manufacturing concern was organized.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

In addition to his brother, Mr. de Vohn leaves a mother and sister, who live in the West end.

MAYOR "WARNED" TO THROW BETTER BALL

Will Open Season Friday; Should Improve, Says Silberstein.

Unless Mayor Prince throws a straight ball at the opening of the baseball season Friday afternoon, Commissioner Silberstein this morning threatened to go out on the diamond and show the city executive some real "class." The entire city commission will attend the opening game and take part in the parade, the mayor said.

"That was an awful ball you threw last year," said the commissioner, "and you'll have to do much better Friday. It reflects on the city, when its mayor can't pitch a straight one and if that ball doesn't go right over the plate, I'll go out myself and put one across."

"Of course, if you want the ball right over," replied the mayor, "you shall have it. I've been trying to 'cut the corner.'"

HIGH SCHOOLS IN CONTESTS

North Dakota Field and Track Meeting at Grand Forks This Week.

Nineteen High Schools Are Already Entered and More May Enter.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nineteen high schools will compete in the annual field and track meeting of the North Dakota High School Athletic league here next Friday and Saturday. This is one more school than has previously been entered, and the managers of the meet expect two or three more teams will be entered.

The meet is conducted annually as a part of the annual meeting of the high school conference, while the annual declamation contest and the annual final debate also take place at this time.

Schools So Far Entered.

The personnel of the competing teams follow:

Langdon—Row, Smith, McLean, Robertson and Johnson.

Park River—C. Bateman, M. Bateman, Phair and Ferguson.

Hannah—McLean, Whitmore and Olson.

Cavalier—Campbell, Fisher, Laxdall, Milstein, Martin, Forbes, Rygh, McBride and Sproule.

Dickinson—Erb and Richards.

Buffalo—Mason.

Stephen—Hanson.

Drayton—Wallace, Wylie, Reid, Dryden and Lean.

Crystal—O'Toole, F. Minder and R. Minder.

Grafton—Donnely, Rinde, Hostetter, Hogg and Nelson.

Pembina—Wardwell, Ryan, Booker, Heneman, McKay and Lembke.

Velva—Booth, Anderson and Penn.

Casselton—Box.

Lisbon—Blake, Byrne, Crandall, Nalsdahl and Larson.

Inkster—Johnson, Muir, Richmond, Wilson and Cruttenden.

Walhalla—Morin, Delisle, Briden and McQuarrie.

La Moure—Herke.

Grand Forks—Flynn, Elton, Collins, Black, Finch, Bridston, Raines, Webster, Jacobi, Duggan, De Long, Lodmell and Twite.

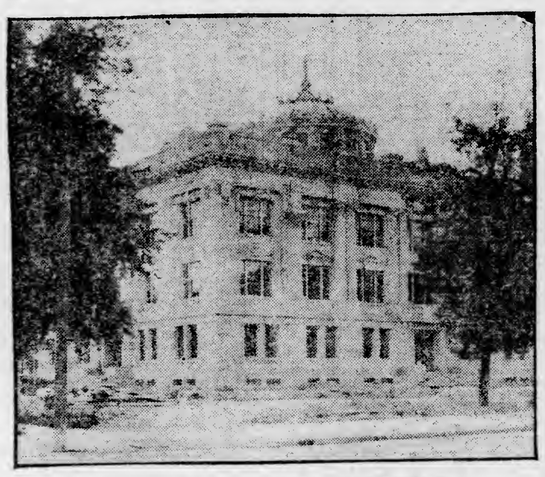
IS TOO PRO-GERMAN.

Former Jamestown, N. D., Man Gets Into Trouble in Alberta.

Jamestown, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local acquaintances of Peter Kokott, a former resident of this city, are worried over the predicament he finds himself in at Lethbridge, Alta., where he has been arrested because of his strong pro-German views.

Although Kokott has taken out papers as a subject of King George, his development of German sympathies have proved rather annoying, and charges of a serious nature have been lodged against him.

NEW BUILDING IS TO BE DEDICATED ON THURSDAY



GRAND FORKS COUNTY COURTHOUSE.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Grand Forks county courthouse, erected at a cost of $200,000, will be dedicated tomorrow. Among speakers expected to take part are Governor L. B. Hanna, C. J. Fisk, chief justice of the supreme court; Tracy R. Bangs of Grand Forks, Hans Georgeson of Niagara, and R. B. Griffith of Grand Forks.

J. R. Poupore of Grand Forks, chairman of the board of county commissioners, will preside over the exercises. Tomorrow has been proclaimed a half holiday in the city of Grand Forks.

PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDERING WOMAN

Leonard Iliff Pleads Guilty to Killing Mrs. Blyckert in Ironwood.

Bessemer, Mich., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Circuit court opened at the courthouse here yesterday. Ten criminal cases are on the calendar, four issues of facts, trial by jury, five issues of law, trials by court and three chancery cases.

Leonard Iliff pleaded guilty to the charge of the murder of Mrs. Hulda Blyckert, who he shot twice at Ironwood and who later died at Rundstrom's hospital. Judge Cooper will pronounce sentence before the end of the present term.

Young Man Paroled.

Emil Neimi, a young man just 21 years of age, was charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the charge of murder. The judge gave the young man some good sound advice and paroled him for one year on the pledge that he will not touch intoxicating liquor during that time. He is to come back in one year and if he keeps his pledge he will be left free, if he breaks his word of honor he will be given the full penalty of the law. The police were warned to keep watch.

GRAND MARAIS COMPANY GOING TO BREED FOXES

Grand Marais, Minn., May 19.—The Robertson Silver Fox company just incorporated is the first corporation of its kind in the state and will absorb the business of Robertson Bros., whose experience at breeding foxes during the last three or four years has proved very profitable. Their experiments with foxes have been so successful that others have been attracted to the business, so there are at present a number of settlers with two or three pairs of foxes each.

The state forester was so impressed by the possibilities presented in fur farming by the experiences of Robertson Bros. and others in Northern Minnesota that he devoted several pages in his annual report to the possibilities of that industry.

PRESIDENT GRATEFUL.

Thanks People of Crookston for Message of Sympathy and Support.

Crookston, Minn., May 19.—Former Senator A. D. Stephens, who was chairman of the peace mass meeting held at the armory a few nights ago, when a message was sent to President Wilson, pledging the support of all citizens, regardless of party or creed, to the president in whatever action he would take regarding the Lusitania disaster, Monday received the following letter from President Wilson's private secretary, which follows:

"THE WHITE HOUSE,
"Washington, May 13, 1915.

"My Dear Mr. Stephens:

"The president directs me to thank you and the good people of Crookston for your kind message, and to assure you of his deep appreciation of this generous expression of confidence and support.

"Sincerely yours,
"J. P. TUMULTY,
"Secretary to the President."

ESTABLISHES ALIBI.

Federal Proceedings Against Cecil Peterson Are Dropped.

Ayr, N. D., May 19.—The charge preferred against Cecil Peterson of this place of violating the Mann act has been dropped after an investigation by United States Commissioner A. W. Cuplar of Fargo, the accused having established a clear alibi, disproving the charge made against him of inducing a girl to accompany him to St. Paul. Peterson and his friends claim the charge was an attempt at blackmail.

Peterson is married and has been local agent for an elevator company for some time.

LATE MOISTURE GREAT BENEFIT

Minnesota Red River Valley Crop Conditions Almost Ideal.

Crookston, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Just back from a 250-mile automobile trip in Northern Polk, Southern Marshall, and Eastern Red Lake and Pennington counties, N. S. Davies, who has been boosting for the second annual convention of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association at Hallock, June 16 and 17, reports that the recent rains were of immense benefit to the crops which never in the history of the valley looked more promising. The stand is heavy, the growth vigirous and the color of the grain most healthy.

While the last rainfall was exceptionally heavy there is little water in the fields even in the low places. The ground was very dry last fall and the fact that a great deal more than the average amount of plowing was done resulted in the moisture being absorbed very rapidly.

Seldom if ever at this season of the year, Mr. Davies says, have the early wheat and oats attained such a growth. All of the grain sprouted immediately after being planted and as a result the grain has such a big start of the weeds that the crops will be exceptionally clean this year.

Despite the heavy rainfall the farmers are all again at work and as grain seeding was finished by most farmers last week, the corn acreage will be greatly increased this year. The total acreage of grain, corn and potatoes in the tenvalled river valley counties will be increased over last year from 15 to 20 per cent.

HALLOCK PREPARES FOR LARGE CROWDS

Alfalfa Wigwam Being Built to Entertain Many Visitors Coming.

Hallock, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second annual meeting of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association in the alfalfa wigwam here, June 16 and 17, promises to be the most interesting conference in connection with stock raising, general agriculture, co-operation and relative subjects ever held in the valley.

The success will be due not only to the excellence of the program, the first day being devoted to Red River Valley Live Stock Breeders' association, with the state senatorial excursion and other important features, while the second day there will be a monster conference of farmers' clubs from the ten counties, with all farmers welcome at all sessions during both days, and certain of hearing matters of vital interest to them discussed.

At a mass meeting held here, committees were appointed and active work of preparation for entertaining the big convention put under way. Every detail in connection with local entertainment will be taken care of and provision made to accommodate a monster crowd.

Alfalfa Wigwam.

The alfalfa wigwam will have a capacity of 5,000 and next week the work of preparing the alfalfa decorations will be started. The alfalfa will be tied by the Hallock school children, the rural schools and the various farmers' clubs in Kittson county, which are taking a very active interest in the coming gathering, and will be prepared especially to entertain the farmer club members from the other nine counties.

There will be 100 automobiles at the disposal of a special committee appointed to provide transportation from Hallock to the Walter Hill farm at Northcote, so that all attending the convention will have an opportunity to inspect the 3,700-ton cement twin silos, and the steel and cement stock barn with stanchions for 500 head of stock, the silos and feeding barn being the largest in the world.

Children as Farmers.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two hundred and forty-six Grand Forks county children have this year become interested in growing corn, potatoes, tomatoes, and producing pork, as a result of contests launched by the Grand Forks County Better Farming association.

Start a Health Account in the Bank of Life for Your Baby

The best heritage that you can give your baby is health, and health depends mainly on his food. Nurse your baby if you can, but when mother's milk fails, do not use cow's milk. It is almost impossible to get it pure, and it is always hard for babies to digest. Cow's milk was made for strong little calves, not for babies' tender little stomachs. Use the Food that for three generations has been best for babies—

Nestlé's Food

Nestlé's is pure and safe. It has just the nourishing elements necessary to build firm flesh, bone and muscle. Pure cow's milk is the basis of Nestlé's Food—milk from rigidly tested cows in sanitary Dairies. In Nestlé's the curd of the milk is rendered soft and fleecy as in mother's milk, and to it are added the food elements that cow's milk does not contain, and that baby needs—until it is a perfect Food for your little baby. Just add cold water and boil.

Send the coupon today for a free sample box of Nestlé's and see for yourself. With the sample—enough for twelve feedings—will come our "Book for Mothers" filled with the things you should know about your baby.

DOOKS HELD TO TWO BLOWS

Flickers Defeat White Sox 7 to 1, With Snow on the Knoll.

Boley Is Found for Nine Blows By Dakota Sluggers.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—Duluth was defeated in the opening game of the series with Grand Forks by the score of 7 to 1. Bill Snow was on the knoll for the Flickers and held the visitors helpless, while Boley was found easy picking for the homecrofters.

But two hits were allowed by Snow, both of these coming in the initial round and accounting for the one hostile tally. Nine blows were nicked off the delivery of Boley.

Wolfe singled, pilfered, and was counted on Collins' blow. That was all for the visitors. With two on and no one gone in the fourth, Sweeley lofted out, Ford was retired at the plate on Boley's grounder, and Brammell was heaved out at first.

WINNIPEG VERY EASY FOR FORT WILLIAM

Winnipeg, Man., May 19.—Fort William had a field day here yesterday at the expense of the Peggers, winning the opening game of the series by the score of 10 to 2. Snyder was easy picking for the visiting hitters, and the field play of the locals was wretched. The hitting of the visitors was the only feature. Score: R. H. E.

Great Pitchers' Battle.

New York, May 19.—Chicago evened its series with New York, winning the second game yesterday. It was a pitcher's battle between Humphries and Tesreau, in which both pitchers received perfect support.

Chicago scored in the first when Fisher doubled with one out. He was retired on the base line on Schulte's grounder to Fletcher. Schulte took third on Zimmerman's single and scored on a double steal. It was suffrage day at the Polo grounds though showers and a cold dismal day held down the crowd. Each player scoring a run was promised $5, but Schulte was the only player able to take advantage of the offer. Score: R. H. E.

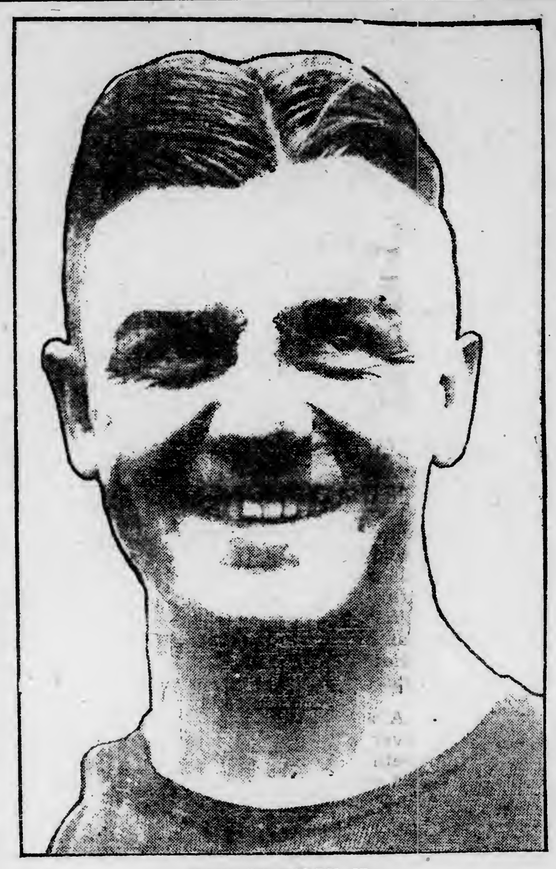
PENNSYLVANIA STUDENT IS GREAT ALL-ROUND ATHLETE



HOWARD BERRY, JR.

J. Howard Berry, Jr., of the University of Pennsylvania has earned the distinction of being the first intercollegiate all-around champion. At the relay carnival on Franklin field recently he won a first in the javelin throw and the 1,500-meter run; second in the 200-meter run and the discus throw, and third in the broad jump. His tally was nine.

Cardinals 5; Phillies 5.

Philadelphia, May 19.—St. Louis defeated Philadelphia here yesterday, the visitors knocking Demaree off the rubber in five innings. They bunched five of their hits, which included a triple and three doubles with passes, errors, and a passed ball and scored all their runs in the second and fifth innings. Doak held the home team to one hit until the seventh inning, when two runs were scored on two doubles, a single, and a sacrifice fly. Score: R. H. E.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Fabre Wins Six Straight.

Chicago, May 19.—Fabre won his sixth straight game yesterday when Chicago defeated Philadelphia 11 to 6. Fabre was unsteady in the first two innings, but settled down and was never in danger thereafter. Bush was affected by the cold, and the locals, by bunching hits and taking advantage of his wildness, won easily. Score: R. H. E.

CLABBY AND CHIP BARRED FOR FIASCO

New York Boxing Commission Suspends Middleweight Boxers.

New York, May 19.—Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., and George Chip of Newcastle, Pa., middleweights, were suspended yesterday by the New York state athletic commission for thirty days on the charge that they had not given their best efforts while engaged in a scheduled ten-round bout which was stopped by Referee Billy Roche in the eighth round here last Wednesday night.

Roche called the bout "no contest," and the club management refused to pay over the money contracted for by the pugilists until yesterday when the commission directed that the money be paid and the men prohibited from boxing in New York state for one month.

Moore Beats De Oro.

New York, May 19.—George Moore, world's champion at three cushion billiards, defeated Alfred De Oro of Cuba, former holder of the title, 50 to 42, last night in the second block of their 150-point match. Play lasted sixty-eight innings.

Passing Pitcher Perry.

Louisville, Ky., May 19.—Pitcher Scott Perry, recently returned to the Louisville American association club from the St. Louis Americans, has been sold to the Atlanta club of the Southern association.

Madison, Wis., May 19.—Wisconsin lost to the University of Oklahoma in tennis yesterday afternoon in the second of a series of intercollegiate tennis matches. The Oklahomas won all three individual matches.

BRANDON MAY SECURE NORTHERN LEAGUE BERTH

There Is Talk That Manitoba City Will Supplant St. Boniface, Where the Attendance Has Been Very Poor—Grand Forks to Remain in League —Turner to Join the White Sox.

According to information unleashed here yesterday, there is already some talk to the effect that Brandon, Man., may come into the Northern league this season. And, according to the same brand of gossip, it is very likely to be St. Boniface that will be supplanted as a franchise holder in the Burmeister circuit.

It was stated yesterday that to date the attendance in the little French municipality across the Red river from Winnipeg has been nothing to rave over. Owner Blume is authority for the statement that one game was played at St. Boniface before fewer than fifty persons.

If Sunday baseball could have been played in the French settlement, a community whose citizens are very liberal concerning the playing of sports on the Sabbath, the financial worries of the St. Boniface stockholders would have exaporated like the fog before the drive of old Sol. But—and the but is ominous—it looks now as if some miscalculations were made in staking any belief on the probability or possibility that professional baseball could be played in the province of Manitoba on Sunday, a day more sacredly observed than is the case in the states.

Two Teams at the Peg.

A glance at the Northern league schedule will disclose the fact that St. Boniface and Winnipeg teams are booked for home games on conflicting dates. This means that St. Boniface will be called upon to supply its own patronage. Some of the league magnates have been rather disappointed in the turnstile showing to date.

It is also stated that there is at the present time little likelihood of Grand Forks losing its franchise. There is some flighty stuff going back and forth among the directors of the Grand Forks club, but it is said that there is small probability of the franchise being transferred.

New Player Signed.

A new player by the name of Turner has been signed by Darby. Turner hails from Des Moines and is supposed to arrive here some time today. What position he plays and where he has served, remains a mystery. The wire was short and unburdened with comment.

Cadreau is here. The Dook shipped the Indian hurler home ahead of the remainder of his warriors. Whether the White Sox commander figured the chief was in no shape to pitch, or figured that he should rest up for the home opening, Owner Blume is unable to figure out.

Right here it might be stated that Herr Blume is not allowing himself to be worried over the wretched showing of his ball club to date.

"We will strengthen and sign new players, if necessary," said the Dook magnate today. "Players are cheap and plentiful at the present time. If we find that some of the present members of the team need to be supplanted, new players will be secured."

Herr Blume made an inspection trip to the ball park yesterday and reports that the grounds are ready for the opening game on Friday. The usual festivities will proceed the playing of the first home game of the 1915 season.

SOLDIERS WILL BE GIVEN BASEBALL GOODS

Chicago, May 19.—Canadian soldiers in France who want to spend the intermissions between battles in playing baseball will be supplied by American leaders of the game with the paraphernalia which they cannot obtain readily abroad.

The soldiers complained first to their friends and relatives in Canada that baseballs, bats and gloves were scarce in France and official attention was called, with the result that President B. B. Johnson of the American league, and others were appealed to.

President Johnson has promised to contribute several boxes of new baseballs.

MITCHELL TOO MUCH FOR AD WOLGAST

Out-Boxes Former Champion; Ritchie Meets Match in Baldwin.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 19.—Ritchie Mitchell, lightweight contender, outboxed and outfought Ad Wolgast in six rounds of a ten-round bout last night. Mitchell broke his left hand in the fifth round, but continued the contest, landing on Wolgast at will.

Wolgast appeared in excellent condition. In the exchange he swung wild

Boston, Mass., May 19.—A twelve-round bout between Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of America, and Mutty Baldwin, of this city, ended in a draw last night. The champion forced the fighting constantly during the early rounds and Baldwin was at a loss for defense. But after the sixth round, the Boston man assumed the aggressive and landed blow after blow on Ritchie.

SENIORS WIN SCHOOL MEET

Hoopes Makes Record for Central High in Shot Put.

Close Contests, Juniors Making Good Second Mark; "D" Men Barred.

The field events of the Central high school track meet were held on the school campus yesterday. As in the running events, held on the boulevard course Friday afternoon, the seniors finished ahead; but their lead was not as good as that made in the runs. The seniors scored 17 points yesterday, the juniors 14, and the sophomores 14. The freshmen were not represented in the meet.

The relay race, won by the seniors Friday, was disputed by the juniors because the seniors had a "D" man in it. Seymore won a "D" on the 1913 squad, and therefore should have been ineligible to take part in the inter-class meet. The juniors were given 5 points for the race, but the fourth year men got nothing. The final standing of the meet gives the seniors first place with 44 points, the juniors second with 30, and the sophomores third with 21.

Makes School Record.

The affair yesterday was postponed from Monday. Hrutiford, the only other "D" man beside Seymore, was also ineligible to participate in yesterday's events.

Hoopes threw a shot 41 feet, which it is said, is the school record. Lewis surprised the students by winning the high jump with a mark of 5 feet, 3 inches. This is three inches less than the school record held by Paine, who was ineligible to jump in the meet yesterday.

Capt. Hrutiford of the school team feels that his men will not have to worry much about the Denfeld meet, although the team is practicing hard to insure a good showing. During this week tags are being sold in school to raise money to send the track team to the state meet at Minneapolis on May 29. It is practically a certainty that they will go now.

Contest Results.

The results of the various events yesterday were as follows:

12-pound shot put—Hoopes, first; Peterson, second; Karon, third; distance 41 feet.

Discus throw—Kerr, first; Hoopes, second; Karon, third; distance, 70 feet.

High jump—Lewis, first; Anderson, second; Parsons, third; height, 5 feet, 2 inches.

Broad jump—Lewis, first; Karon, second; Anderson, third; distance, 19 feet, 1 inch.

Pole vault—Jentoft, first; Parsons, second; Melander, third; height, 7 feet.

The result of Friday's track events are as follows:

100-yard dash—Karon, first; Stevens, second; Lewis, third; time, 10 4-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—Kerr, first; McKay, second; Anderson, third; time, 58 2-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Stevens, first; Lewis, second; Karon, third; time, 26 1-5 seconds.

Half-mile run—McCabe, first; Kerr, second; Burns, third; time, 2 minutes, 18 seconds.

Mile run—Boyd, first; Legare, second; Huber, third; time, 5 minutes, 34 seconds.

Relay race—Won by the seniors: Seymore, Collins, Boyd, Stevens; later disputed by the juniors; five points given to the juniors, and none to the seniors.

Stopping English Races.

London, May 19.—The Goodwood races, one of the fashionable sporting events of England, have been definitely abandoned this year. Lord Derby speaking at Wigan said the Jockey club had informed a representative of the government he had only to say the word and racing would be stopped within twenty-four hours. If it went on, the government was solely responsible.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Health and Matrimony

SELF-SUFFICIENT conservatives profess to find the modern question of eugenics quite a joke. Any reform or new movement in the line of social progress is greeted as an absurdity by the hidebound cynic of advancing years and hardening arteries. Nothing so ridiculous in the mind of the senile as the wild aspirations and dreams of youth.

We don't know much about the science of eugenics, if it is a science. Nor do we believe the human, so to speak, race will ever consent to play the role of fancy stock in a breeding experiment. But of one thing we feel reasonably assured, and that is the maxim that health is the greatest asset a man or woman can possess.

Now, parents ordinarily deem it wise to throw certain restraints and limitations around the courtship and marriage of their sons or daughters, even if the latter do not always conform to parental wishes in the matter. When a suitor comes to ask for the hand of a daughter, the parent who pretends to have the interests of his loved ones at heart naturally likes to know what sort of a man the suitor may be and whether he can support a wife in the manner she deserves. Likewise when a son goes forth to take a wife, his parents wish to know that the fortunate young woman is worthy. This is mere common sense eugenics, if you please.

The Time to File the Certificate.

Why should parents care? Because it is natural that they should desire to see their children happily married. Couldn't be anything in eugenics to oppose that.

Very well. Financial, social and moral qualities being satisfactory, is there nothing else to think of? How about the present and future health of the contracting parties? Would you ignore these factors altogether. Or would you rely upon amateurish observation and hearsay? Or would you prefer to be sure about it?

For our part, we should expect the suitor to file his health certificate before the engagement is announced. That is the time—not on the day of the wedding, for then there might be bitter disappointment. We take it as a fair assumption that no young man has the right to ask a woman to promise marriage until he has satisfied her parents or guardians of his physical fitness. We are forced to this position by our knowledge of the miserable outcome of too many marriages—the invalidism brought upon the innocent wife by the former sins of the husband.

Questions and Answers.

Diet for Nursing Mother: Is it necessary for a mother to drink warm drinks only when nursing a baby? What is the best diet for such a mother?

REPLY.

No. She may drink all the cold water she likes and whenever she likes it. Her diet should be as usual, avoiding nothing whatever that does not upset her own digestion. She, and the baby, will have little trouble if she wheels out the baby for an open air walk daily.

* * *

Symptoms of Adenoids: Please tell me the symptoms of adenoids in a 3-year-old boy. Is the operation for adenoids dangerous?

REPLY.

Frequent so-called "colds" or sore throat, mouth breathing, restless sleep, undeveloped nasal passages, high palate, drawn, stupid expression, earache or deafness. The operation, if necessary, is less dangerous than the disease.

By defeating the Washburn team yesterday the strong Washington team of the eastern division of the Grade School league, gained first place among the teams of the eastern section of the city.

The Washington team won the game by the score of 14 to 5, keeping up the fast gait that the team has shown since the opening of the season.

As the Lincolns won again yesterday they held their lead in the western division. The Adams also won and are right on the heels of their old rivals. The games of yesterday were the closest of any played so far this season and some real class was displayed.

Yesterday results:

HARRY STOUT AS REFEREE

Milwaukee Man Will Judge; Mandot-Watson Mill.

Harry Stout has been selected as the third man in the ring for the Joe Mandot-Red Watson contest, slated for the Superior Grand on the night of May 28.

Watson is scheduled to reach the Head of the Lakes today. The red-topped one will complete his training on the other side of the bay, working with Kid Billings. Mandot will complete his work in Chicago, coming here several days before the fight.

It will be a case of the slugger against the clean and accurate puncher, and Mandot should win. Based on the showing the two men made against Pal Brown, Mandot has the call. The Southern boy can hit and can box. Watson can hit, but as a boxer is not in the same class with the New Orleans baker boy. His aggressiveness is unquestioned, however.

Kid Billings and Snyder will furnish the semi-windup of the bill. Snyder is a hardy youth and is expected to give the Billings Park kid a hard workout.

Both Watson and Mandot are scheduled to work several times on this side of the bay.

DULUTH BOYS IN SYRACUSE EIGHT

Whiteside to Stroke Crew and Williams to Row at No. 7; Osman Will Scull.

Young Charley Whiteside will stroke the Syracuse Freshmen eight in the American Henley regatta that will be rowed at Philadelphia on Saturday. Frank Williams, another of the boys who has received instruction under Jimmy Ten Eyck, will sit in at No. 7 in the freshmen eight.

Art Osman is down to represent Syracuse in the senior singles. From the East comes the information that the Duluth sculler looks to have a good chance for first honors.

If there is time between the freshmen eight race and the varsity eight event, Whiteside's crew will also enter the latter event. The Syracuse freshmen eight has been defeating the college varsity eight right along in spring practice. The presence of young Whiteside and the husky Frank Williams has added a lot of class to the freshmen aggregation.

It is a signal honor to choose the freshmen eight to start in the junior varsity event—and to the Duluth boys must be credited a good part in securing this honor.

Stovall Protests Game.

Chicago, May 19.—President Gilmore has received a telegraphed protest from Manager Stovall of the Kansas City Federals against the victory of the Brooklyn team Monday. Stovall charged that Catcher Land of Brooklyn struck Johnson's bat as the latter swung at a ball and said that the alleged interference caused Johnson to hit into a double play. President Gilmore will await word from the umpires before taking action.

Woman's Broad Jump Record.

Columbia, Mo., May 19.—The woman's collegiate broad jump record was broken here yesterday by Miss Irene Chancellor, who cleared 15 feet, 1 inch during a dual track meet between Howard Payne College of Mexico, Mo., and Stephens college of Columbia. The former record was 14 feet, 6½ inches, held by Vassar college.

WHITE PLAGUE VICTIM LOSES DAMAGE SUIT

Court Directs Verdict in Favor of Missabe Railway.

Under the direction of the court, a verdict for the defendant was returned by a jury in Judge Dancer's division of the district court yesterday afternoon in the personal injury suit brought by Berg Leland against the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company.

Leland sued for $10,000 damages, claiming that he contracted tuberculosis while in the employment of the company at Proctor in the late fall of 1913. He alleged that he was obliged to work at thawing frozen ore with hot steam and that he was compelled to breathe hot vapor.

After the plaintiff had rested his case, the railway company moved for a directed verdict. The motion was granted by the court. Howard T. Abbott appeared for the railway company and Andrew Nelson represented Leland.

Charged With Smuggling Chinese.

Emporia, Kan., May 19.—Charles Hundley, a railroad brakeman, was arrested here yesterday on a Federal warrant charging him with smuggling Chinamen across the United States border in Texas. Hundley, who was indicted in El Paso last April, is said to have smuggled the Chinese in in April, 1914, while he was employed as a brakeman on a road crossing the border.

Face Eruptions Have Deep Significance

Often They Indicate Impurities Deep in the Tissues.

The results shown by S. S. S. in clearing the skin reveal how searchingly and how deeply this famous blood purifier attacks blood troubles. Facial eruptions are more often significant of impaired nutrition resulting from faulty elimination of body wastes.

Most people realize this to be true. And yet it is a difficult matter to convince such people they should avoid those harmful drugs such as mercury, iodide of potash, arsenic and so on. S. S. S. gives just as good effect without the destructive results, because it is more searching. It goes deeply into the circulation wherever the blood flows, but it does not remain to clog the system. And its effect is complete and thorough as indicated by blood tests. One of the strange things today is that so many people are wedded to the notion that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience, for it has been clearly shown there is one ingredient in S. S. S. as essential to health if the blood be impure as the nourishing elements of the grains, sugars and salts of our daily food. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist, but insist upon S. S. S., accept no substitute. And if your case is peculiar or of long standing, write to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 101 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

The song of the old jimmy pipe just rings in your ears when you fire up load after load of Prince Albert—tobacco without a bite, without a parch. You can smoke it sun up to sun down without a comeback, because it is made by a patented process that removes the bite and the parch.

So, first thing after breakfast, you make fire with a match and open the day as do the little birds—with song and sunshine! Then you'll be right jimmypipejoy'us, which is good for what ails your smokeappetite!

PRINCE ALBERT

has jimmied open pipes for thousands of men who were once scorched—and, naturally, pipe-shy. The most sensitive tongue won't even tingle when you smoke P. A.! So, you take a chance, and get some smokefunsunshine into your system. For there's nothing friendlier nor truer to a man than his old jimmy pipe. And you'll know that's a fact quick as you hit the P. A. trail to pipesmokejoy!

Prince Albert makes a corking cigarette. You never put a cleverer smoke between your teeth. And P. A. rolls up mighty easy and without waste because its crimp cut—and stays put! You take a tip—and play ball!

DECLARE "CAR" WAS A MYTH

Victim Run Over By Only One Auto, Says Deputy Coroner.

Disbelieves Story Regarding "Mystery Car" Leaving Man to Die.

After a two days' search for the "mystery" automobile, described as a Studebaker roadster, which is supposed to have run down and fatally injured Alex Carpenter on Garfield avenue Monday night, police late today expressed the belief that the car was a myth.

Larry McDonough, 28 West Seventh street, Superior, brought the dying man to police headquarters late Monday night and said that he had run over his feet, the man having already been left injured and dying in the road.

Injuries by One Car.

Deputy Coroner James McAuliffe, following an autopsy at Crawford's undertaking rooms yesterday afternoon, stated that he was of the opinion that two cars had not struck the victim, although the first report of the accident stated that Carpenter had been struck down by a car and left dying, to be picked up later when McDonough ran over him.

The injuries seemed to indicate that the machine ran across the right leg lengthwise and up across the man's trunk, breaking several ribs and causing internal injuries.

Patrolman Magner, stationed at Garfield avenue and Superior street, was accosted by a man and a woman in an automobile shortly after the accident.

"We passed a man lying in the street a short distance back on Garfield avenue," said the man, evidently a well-to-do business man, according to the officer, who neglected to get his name. If police succeed in finding him they may get further clews as to the identity of the driver of the "mystery" car, provided there was one.

One of the principal witnesses at the inquest was Andrew Sjolund, night watchman for the Duluth Lumber company, 360 Garfield avenue, who was but a short distance away at the time of the accident. It is chiefly on his testimony that the theory of the "mystery" car is based.

"I heard someone scream," he said, "and ran out into the street from the office. An automobile was going towards Superior at a high rate of speed. I couldn't tell what kind of a car it was, or how many persons there were in it."

McDonough, with James Keefe of Superior, the owner of the second car, were close at a short distance behind.

Keefe's car bumped as it passed the lumber company's building and Keefe said he thought it was a dead cat.

"No," said McDonough, after looking around, "we've run over a man's feet."

Sjolund said that when the car turned around and came back to where Carpenter lay, he spoke to McDonough and advised him to take the injured man to a hospital.

"Oh, he's drunk," McDonough is said to have replied.

Taken to Hospital.

"Maybe he is," Sjolund said he answered, "but he's hurt. Are you going to take him to the hospital, or shall I call the police." McDonough then picked up Carpenter and drove to headquarters. Whether or not the first car struck Carpenter is the question which may never be answered unless the driver is located.

Funeral arrangements for Carpenter have not been completed, pending the receipt of instructions from Mrs. Alma Gilman of Norwich, Conn., a sister. He also leaves a brother, Joseph, living at Moosup, Conn. Carpenter's father lived at Hibbing, Minn., for several years, dying some time ago.

MAY FIGHT BREAKWATER

Old Central Canal Scheme May Be Resurrected in Opposition.

Maj. Peek Announces Hearing for June 10 at the Commercial Club.

The central-entry plan for the Duluth-Superior harbor has been resurrected, and, it is claimed, will be used in opposition to the proposed breakwater for the Duluth entry to the harbor, when that matter comes up for hearing before Maj. E. D. Peek, United States engineer in charge of this district, on June 10.

Notice was issued by Maj. Peek today that a hearing will be held at the Commercial club on June 10 at 9 a. m. on the matter of building the breakwater to protect Duluth's harbor entrance. Maj. Peek has already made a preliminary report to the war department recommending that a breakwater be built, and the public hearing is part of the routine that is necessary before a final report is sent in.

Demand For Breakwater.

Wave action in time of storms, damaging dock property inside the harbor as well as making the current through the Duluth canal a millrace which was practically impossible for incoming vessels to negotiate, has caused a general hue and cry for a protecting breakwater to be built out from about Twenty-second avenue east, over-lapping the entrance to the harbor in order that the force of the sea from the lake might be broken.

Serene Until Recently.

Until within the past few days there had been little, if any, indication that any interests might oppose such a protection for the harbor. Absolute unanimity in Duluth was looked for, and Congressman Miller got the matter up to the investigation stage without receiving anything in the way of counter requests. However, it is now claimed that there will be opposition to the plan, and that it may develop at the hearing on June 10.

The opposition will take the form of urging the old and time-worn plan of establishing a central canal and closing up the Duluth and Superior entries, according to report. This report took form as a result of the anxious inquiries of certain owners of property near the middle of Minnesota point, who immediately hope that their property would be either taken over by the government for the canal site in such an event, or would be increased in value as dock property were the project of a central canal to be put through.

This morning there was a good deal of telephoning back and forth among these, as soon as it was learned that Maj. Peek was to set a date for the hearing.

May Not Be Germane.

It is not likely, some believe, that such a project can be given a hearing on that date and at the meeting to be held, for the reason that the hearing is to be held concerning a specific subject, and the United States is exacting as to what matters come up at such hearings. The specific subject in this case is the matter of the advisability and necessity of a breakwater to protect the Duluth entry; and alternative plans are not mentioned in connection.

Maj. Peek is today sending out notices to about 300 persons and companies interested in the protection of the harbor, such as steamship companies and dock property owners. The hearing will be public and will be held for the purpose of getting the views of those most concerned with the matter. Maj. Peek's notice, regarding the matter, reads in part as follows:

Object of Hearing.

"Information is particularly desired on the following points:

"In your opinion is the improvement necessary or not? Please state your reasons. What type of breakwater was desired by those who caused the item to be inserted in the river and harbor bill? What is the most desirable location for the proposed breakwater? What are the benefits to commerce that are expected to result from the desired improvement? What are the benefits to be derived by property owners from the desired improvement? Any further statements bearing on this subject.

"You are requested to submit, in quadruplicate, statements of such facts and opinions as you may have to present, whether for or against the proposed improvement."

Another hearing announced by Maj. Peek will be held at the Superior Commercial club rooms on June 8, and concerns the providing of an anchorage and turning area in the Superior bay for a distance of one mile and between the harbor lines.

WINDING UP BARNES SUIT

Counsel for Roosevelt Attacks Veracity of Witnesses for Plaintiff.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 19.—John M. Bowers, chief counsel for Theodore Roosevelt, today summed up in the supreme court here the case of the defense in William Barnes' suit for libel.

He assailed the truth of many of the statements made upon the witness stand by the plaintiff and presented arguments to the jury designed to show that his client was justified in saying the things he did about the former chairman of the Republican state committee.

The lawyer contended that the suit was not brought with the purpose of securing pecuniary damages, but in reality was a "game to lower the defendant before the people of the United States."

Counsel for Mr. Barnes were to sum up the case of the plaintiff during the afternoon session of court.

Motion Denied.

During the day Justice William S. Andrews denied a motion to instruct the jury to find a verdict for Mr. Barnes and ruled that the jury would not be allowed to consider the allegation that the article upon which the suit is based was privileged because the plaintiff was in public life and a political campaign was in progress at the time of its publication.

Justice William S. Andrews said he would restrict the jury's consideration to two charges—the general charge that there was a corrupt alliance between Mr. Barnes and Murphy and that Mr. Barnes worked through an alliance between crooked business and crooked politics.

DAMAGE SUIT ON TRIAL.

Driver of Buggy Asks $1,500 From Auto Driver.

Trial of a personal injury action in which Jalmar Laaksonen is seeking to recover $1,500 damages from Charles Sandboe was started before Judge Dancer and a jury in district court this morning.

Laaksonen claims that while driving along the Lang road, three miles out of Floodwood, on Nov. 6 last, his horse was frightened by an automobile driven by Sandboe, and that as a result he was thrown out of his buggy and severely bruised.

Laaksonen blames Sandboe for the occurrence and holds that he is liable in damages.

SENTENCED FOR THEFT.

James Hagagenes Draws Work Farm Term of Ninety Days.

James Hagagenes drew a work farm sentence of ninety days from Judge Ensign in district court yesterday afternoon when he pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with having purloined a shotgun from R. J. Gorman at 128 West Third street last January.

Hagagenes was indicted by the grand jury on two counts. The other charged that he had stolen a suit of clothes from another occupant of the boarding house where he was stopping at the time. Although Hagagenes admitted both offenses, County Attorney Greene decided to ask the court to dismiss the second case. The court granted the motion.

Hagagenes decided to enter a plea of guilty after three jurors had been impaneled to try his case. T. J. McKeon appeared as his attorney.

KEEPS EYE ON SPEEDERS

Silberstein Prepares Table as Guide for Patrolmen.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, has prepared a table for the patrolmen to follow in watching for automobile speeders.

The table shows what distance an automobile travels a minute at various speeds and can easily be followed in comparison with city blocks, which are 400 feet long, excluding street intersections, which are thirty feet wide. Mr. Silberstein's table follows:

Miles per hour.	Feet per minute.
10	880
15	1,320
20	1,760
25	2,200
30	2,640
35	3,080
40	3,520
45	3,960
50	4,400
55	4,860
60	5,280

CLASS AND COMMODITY RATES REASONABLE

Washington, May 19.—Class and commodity rates from points in the region between St. Paul and Kansas City on the west and the Atlantic seaboard on the east to points in Montana were found not unreasonable or unduly discriminatory today by the interstate commerce commission. Complaint against them made by the Retail Merchants' association of Montana was dismissed. The Chicago Association of Commerce was an intervenor in the case aligned with the Montana association.

JURY ACCUSES KAISER OF "WILFUL MURDER."

Ramsgate, Eng., May 19.—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of "wilful murder" against Emperor William in the case of John Smith, who died as the result of shock following injuries sustained in the Zeppelin raid of Monday.

The coroner suggested that the jury fix the responsibility on the persons whom it regarded as being to blame for war waged in this manner.

SENDS MESSAGE TO LEGISLATURE

Governor Phillip Cautions Members About Voting for Appropriations.

Madison, Wis., May 19.—Governor Phillip today sent a long message to the legislature in which he told the lawmakers that before they vote upon another appropriation bill, that they start with present authorization in excess of special receipts which, if not diminished by repeal, will require a property tax of $8,741,000.

"No action whatever is required to compel this sum in the tax levy," says the governor. "To reduce that levy will require specific action by the legislature. In other words if amounts already appropriated are not reduced by legislative action every dollar that from now on is voted for any purpose whatsoever, will come out of the property tax and will be fixed in the tax levy by the legislature before it adjourns."

The governor submits estimates, the result of an investigation by accountants covering a period of nearly two months.

Governor's Recommendation.

Following is his recommendation: Make an estimate of the deficiency in ordinary revenues to meet expenses to be paid out of appropriations for each of the succeeding two fiscal years: add thereto any deficiency for the preceding years; and, by bill, levy a state tax to cover the total. No other state tax will meet with my approval or will be made by my consent.

The governor points out that although extensive improvements were authorized by the last legislature aggregating $1,542,000, none of this money was included in the tax levy.

The assembly today reconsidered the vote by which it passed the Grell bill repealing the $200,000 appropriation for a physics building at the university.

It amended the bill to leave the university physics building bill appropriation intact but to repeal appropriations of $200,000 for a liberal arts building and machine shop and then ordered it engrossed.

The assembly refused to reconsider the vote by which it passed the Hambrecht bill raising the non-resident tuition fee of the state university.

The governor's message was referred to the finance committee.

The senate spent the forenoon in discussing water power bills.

CROP WILL BOOM THE NORTHWEST

East Expects Great Things; New York Paper Quotes Julius Barnes.

Eastern financial and commercial authorities are much impressed with prospects in the Northwest as a result of the large acreage under crop this spring and the high prices likely to be realized next fall for all the grain that can be marketed. Boom times for this part of the country are predicted in many quarters.

In that connection, the New York Times comments as follows:

"The familiar standard of value, 'as good as wheat,' has acquired a new and higher meaning since the beginning of war. Come what may, a market for all of the wheat this country and Canada can raise is assured, even though peace should come at an early date. When the war is ended there will be plenty of time for wheat growers to readjust their acreage while Europe is getting its able-bodied surviving soldiers back to the land. Early reports have the Northwestern crop situation unusually favorable, both as to wheat and oats, and the season is everywhere earlier than usual. Canada's acreage last year, 11,000,000 acres, will be about one-eighth larger this year, while the United States is expected to show about 20,000,000 acres in these two grains. In view of this favorable prospects, heightened by satisfactory rains, elevator men are advising farmers to dispose of every bushel of their holdings in anticipation of a big crop this year. Julius H. Barnes of Duluth estimates the export movement of grain in the current quarter of the crop year at from 50,000,000 to 70,000,000 bushels."

TWO BURNED WITH HOME

Mrs. Nyssonen and Her Son Perish in Fire at Mesaba.

Mother Loses Life Trying to Save Boy Who Also Perishes.

Mesaba, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A two-story frame building occupied by Otto Nyssonen, who is employed by the county on road work, and family, John Benson and family, and six other people, was burned late last night and two lives were lost.

The dead:

MRS. OTTO NYSSONEN, aged 35.

ESCO NYSSONEN, aged 12.

The woman lost her life trying to save her son, who also perished. The head of the family was absent, and returned after the fire had done its work. Benson and family and the people living on the second floor escaped.

The fire broke out about 11 o'clock, presumably from sparks from the Nyssonen kitchen stove. Benson, who was sleeping with his wife and 9-months-old baby in a room on the first floor, was awakened by Mrs. Nyssonen's screams. He saved his wife and child and then turned to aid Mrs. Nyssonen, who cried that her three children were sleeping in a rear room, cut off by fire. Benson ran in with her and they carried out Annie Nyssonen, aged 8, and Andrew, aged 5.

Returns to Her Death.

Then Mrs. Nyssonen rushed back alone after her son, Esco, aged 12, who was screaming for help, being shut off by the flames and smoke, although neighbors tried in vain to hold her back. She dashed into the already seething caldron and never returned. The roof crashed in then, and it is supposed she and her son were swept by the falling timbers into the cellar, which was a veritable furnace.

Neighbors raised ladders to the windows and rescued the six people sleeping upstairs, whose escape had been cut off. None saved anything. Firemen tried to save the building, but it was beyond salvation and today is a gutted ruin. The loss is about $2,500, partly covered by insurance.

Otto Nyssonen, whose wife and son perished, did not return until the fire was under control, and he then learned of the tragedy that had saddened his home. A deputy coroner is investigating the tragedy today.

Chisholm Banker Home.

Chisholm, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cashier George L. Train of the First National bank is home after spending several months in the Far West. Mr. Train was taken ill with pneumonia during the winter and spent his convalescing period in travel. Mr. Train visited Los Angeles, Mount Low, San Diego, San Francisco, Salt Lake and the Grand Canyon. He is much improved in health and has resumed his duties.

PRESIDENT'S STAND IS GIVEN SUPPORT

Virginia City Council Passes Resolution Indorsing Executive.

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council last night adopted a resolution of confidence in President Wilson's handling of the situation with Germany and indorsing his recent message in regard to the use of submarines.

Milton A. Butler was appointed superintendent of the construction of the new septic tank.

P. Segal was granted permission to move a building on Mesaba avenue despite the objections of some women who claimed it should be torn down, the council informing those protestants that they should seek recourse in the courts.

Paving Work Outlined.

It was decided to do considerable paving on both the North and South sides this year. In all, about one and one-half miles of this work is contemplated.

The new traffic ordinance got its first reading. This limits the speed of vehicles to ten miles an hour in the business section of town, six miles an hour going around corners and fifteen miles in the residence sections. The regulation of jitneys went to a special committee that will report later.

EVELETH CONCERN IS GIVEN CONTRACT

Will Lay Water Main and Sanitary Sewer in Summit Street.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth Construction company, consisting of William Kilbride and F. E. Forristel, was the low bidder last night for the work of laying water mains and a sanitary sewer in Summit street and received the contract for $3,157.65. Risberg & Marvik of Virginia bid $3,320 and the Lawrence-McCann company of Eveleth, $3,483.

Liquor licenses were granted to Mirko Rudman, Edward Finch and Theodore Oakman. There was no opposition except to that of Mirko Rudman on which Commissioner S. H. Owens registered a negative vote. Mayor J. S. Saari was absent and Commissioner Owens presided. No recommendations were made on the licenses.

Refused Liquor License.

John Primozich had made application for a license at the same location as Primozich and his application was rejected after the granting of Rudman's.

Charles Meyers was appointed driver of the auto street sprinkler at a salary of $80 a month and Matt Thomas was named as assistant at a salary of $75 a month.

A permit was granted to Gust Leander to raise his building on Grant avenue and put in a new front and a concrete foundation to his Grant avenue building. Licenses were granted to the Empress and Bijou theaters.

TWO HIBBING BODIES POSTPONE MEETINGS

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of the absence of Mayor Power and Recorder D. D. Haley yesterday the council postponed its meeting until today. The water and light board did not meet either, because of the absence of D. D. McEachin. The board will meet today and appoint a superintendent for the power plant. V. A. Harding of Kansas City, who made the survey of the power house, is now considering an offer of the village.

To Leave Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. A. A. Myers, for the past three years pastor of the local Methodist church, has resigned to go to Caledonia, Minn.

Mr. Myers came here from Warren three years ago and has made his church grow from a comparatively small parish to one of considerable proportions by additions to the church rolls.

MESABA TELEPHONE'S NEW HEADQUARTERS

Grand Rapids Exchange Now Installed in Hughes Building.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local Manager George Bielitz of the Mesaba Telephone company and the balance of the local force are proud of their new home in the Hughes building into which the force has just moved from the quarters used in the Campbell building for twenty years. The new switchboard and everything is now in complete operation.

The company has practically entirely rebuilt its exchange here, putting up a large amount of new cable, building new lines and tearing out old lines. Several hundred pounds of old copper and iron wire cable, etc., were "junked" and many of the cross arms and poles were taken down, with the result that the streets which were so treed have been noticeably improved in appearance.

The new system, which includes an entirely new switchboard will materially add to the convenience of handling the business of the office. The fine new offices of the company will be comfortable and convenient.

Occupy Four Rooms.

The quarters are located in the northwest corner on the second floor of the Hughes block, and consist of four rooms. The first room fronting on the hall will be the office of the commercial manager where Manager George Bielitz and his office force will hold forth. Adjoining this will be the operating room where the switchboard is located and where the calls will be handled. Off of this room is a retiring room for the operators, while the other room will be the office of the local plant manager and will be occupied by A. W. Boardman.

The work of the reconstruction was done under the direction of A. W. Boardman, and William Keefe, who has charge of the construction work for the company, looked after the construction crew which consisted of between ten and twenty men.

The regular force of the local exchange now consists of George Bielitz, commercial manager; Miss Edith Freemont, cashier; Miss Jeanette Kinney, chief operator; Misses Ina Thornton, Agnes Cassidy and Myrtle Johnston, operators; A. W. Boardman, plant chief, and Earl Knickerbocker with the plant department.

EVELETH MINISTER IS GIVEN SURPRISE

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tuesday evening about fifty members of the M. E. church surprised Rev. O. D. Cannon and his wife, by calling on them and presenting them with a beautiful electric reading lamp. After a program of music and readings there was served a light lunch. The lamp was presented to Rev. Mr. Cannon and his wife by Mr. Boardman, who gave the pastor due credit for the work he has done and assured him of the good will and esteem of his congregation.

BRAINERD OFFERED NEW PHONE SYSTEM

Brainerd, Minn., May 19.—At Monday night's meeting of the city council a new telephone ordinance was considered, that of the Minnesota Telephone company, and the franchise was amended in some sections and given its first reading. In the next ten days aldermen and citizens in general will study its provisions.

The new telephone company offers these rates: Private line business phone per month, $1.75; two-party line business phone, $2.50; private line, residence, $2; two-party line residence, $1.75; four-party line residence, $1.25.

These rates are payable in advance, a discount of 25 cents to be allowed on the bill if paid before the 10th of the month.

Constipation a Penalty of Age

Nothing is so essential to health in advancing age as keeping the bowels open. It makes one feel younger and fresher and forestalls colds, piles, fevers, and others dependent ills.

Cathartics and purgatives are violent and drastic in action and should be avoided. A mild, effective laxative-tonic, recommended by physicians and thousands who have used it, is the combination of simple herbs with pepsin sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The price is fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

HIBBING'S MAYOR URGES CLEANING UP

Issues Proclamation Calling on General Fixing Up Next Week.

Hibbing, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Power today issued a proclamation designating six days, beginning Monday, May 24, as clean-up and paint-up week.

"This is an opportunity for every citizen not only to show his personal pride, but also his civic pride," the proclamation reads, "Hibbing is known as the largest and richest village, and we should endeavor to make it the neatest and most beautiful as well. No village is attractive if it is dirty and littered up. All should be willing to co-operate in cleaning up not only their own premises, but in helping to clean up the premises of others if help is necessary."

Cards have been distributed among the school children for their signatures and it is expected that every citizen and child will work for a cleaner and prettier village.

GETS FREE FAIR TRIP.

Ingwall Holbeck Writes Best Essay in Lake County Contest.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contest for boys for the best essay on "Clover and Its Relation to Farming in Lake County" is over and, according to the judges, Ingwall Holbeck is the winner of the contest and consequently will be entitled to a trip to the state fair this fall at the expense of the agricultural society. The judges were: Miss Elizabeth Steichen, principal in the high school; Miss Kate Mark, a high school instructor, and George Munford.

Arthur Lornston of Beaver Bay won second prize and Lawrence Dolson won the third prize. The essays were all considered very good and explained the clover advantages in this county cleverly.

SECTION 30 MINE MAKES IMPROVEMENTS

Ely, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Section 30 company is making many improvements at the mine. A large amount of stripping is being done. In addition to this considerable ore from an adjoining property will be developed and shipped. This development will necessitate moving several residences and store buildings.

Chisholm Benefit.

Chisholm, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A performance will be given at the Chisholm opera house Thursday evening by local Finnish people, under the direction of L. H. Siukonen, for the benefit of the Suomi college, Hancock, Mich. The entertainment will take the form of a concert, in which musicians from Hibbing and Virginia, as well as local people, will take part.

PLAN BIG PICNIC AT TWO HARBORS

Scandinavian Midsummer Festival Will Be Held on June 27.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting was held last evening by representatives of ten Scandinavian lodges of the city to arrange for the second annual celebration of the Scandinavian Midsummer festival which will be held on Sunday, June 27, in the Lake View park.

The following committees were appointed:

Program, Conrad Peterson, J. T. Westerlund, Albert Hanson and Malvin Kreutzer.

Finance, M. Peterson, John Eddie and John Fosslund.

Sports, Charles Starloff, Fred Wickstrom, Oscar Herman and Adolph Stenseth.

Decorations, Gust Anderson, Oscar Swanson, John Bodin, Nels Berglund and H. Rystad.

Advertising, Ernest Strand and Peter Larson.

Refreshments, August Bloom, Arthur Olson, Olof Halvorson, Henry Waade, Louis Reinartson, Mrs. J. T. Westerlund, Mrs. Edward Bangsund, Mrs. M. Peterson, Mrs. R. Austad, Mrs. Oscar Bergman, Mrs. N. O. Thornfield and Mrs. H. Bjurstrom.

The officers of the general committee are: Peter Larson, chairman; M. Peterson, treasurer, and Ernest Strand, secretary.

According to the committees there will be a full program of sports and special stress will be made to make the musical program a special feature.

Burntside Lake Stocked.

Ely, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forty cans of pike fry were planted in Burntside and Dunnigan lakes on the Stoney river, five cans in Dunnigan lake, and thirty-five in Burntside. The Ely Burntside Outing company made the requisition for the fry. This company proposes making pike fishing at Burntside a true sport, and will stock both Long and Burntside lakes.

Absorbs Skin, Chases Wrinkles; Young Again

"The shock at beholding myself in the glass after nine long weeks abed, nearly caused a relapse," writes Emily Colson in Home Queen. "The faded face, with its lines of illness and worry, seemed twenty years older. Now, I thought, I could not attend my chum's wedding, eleven days off, to which I had looked hopefully forward.

"She herself came to my rescue. She procured an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at the drugstore, which she bade me spread on like cold cream, washing it off next morning. Applied nightly, this apparently absorbed the withered skin, so gently I experienced no discomfort. Upon the wedding morn the pallid complexion had entirely given way to one of youthful color and loveliness.

"And there wasn't a wrinkle. This due to a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. The daily face bath had dispersed every line." —Advertisement.

FAIR

"Fair weather was prophesied and fair weather it is. Coming (as it does, after rain, snow, frost and other things, the brand of yesterday and today is many times welcome.

A year ago today was fine. The sun rose this morning at 4:27 and will set this evening at 7:41, giving fifteen hours and fourteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Heavy to killing frost occurred over North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. The temperature has risen a little over the lake region, Upper Mississippi, Missouri and Red River valleys, while throughout the Rocky mountains and Western and Southwestern states the weather has turned colder. During the last twenty-four hours precipitation occurred quite generally over the middle tier of states and the Far West. Heavy rains fell over Western Missouri, Kansas and Eastern Washington, and heavy snow in Western Nebraska and Colorado. North Platte, Neb., reports four inches of snow on the ground."

General Forecasts:

Chicago, May 19.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Thursday, except probably rain in extreme south portions; frost in north and central portions tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair in north, cloudy with probably rain in south portion tonight and Thursday; frost in north portion tonight.

Iowa—Probably rain tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and probably Thursday; frost in east and central portions tonight.

SEVERAL BUILDINGS ARE BEING ERECTED

Considerable Going on at Ely in the Construction Line.

Ely, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is considerable building and improvement being made here. At the east end of Chapman street four fine residences are being built. John Koscak has a fine, two-story frame residence just about complete. Slogar Bros. have the material on their lots just across the street from the Koscak residence and will begin building at once. Jack Miettunen is excavating and commencing the erection of a cement block foundation on the corner of Harvey street and Second avenue and will build a residence. Two of the residences are just about completed that are being built on the lots formerly occupied by the municipal skating rink. The foundations of the other two residences are complete and work began on the buildings.

The foundations for two more residences next to the Pioneer school have been started. Mark Zorecetic is building an addition to his residence, which he rents, on Sheridan street. Slogar Bros. have built eighteen feet onto the garage on Sheridan street, which they recently purchased. They will equip the building for a moving picture and vaudeville house.

OPENING GAME TO DRAW BIG CROWD

Mayor Boylan to Proclaim Next Wednesday Virginia Half Holiday.

Virginia, Minn., May 19.—The opening of the Northern league baseball season here will be observed as a half holiday next Wednesday when the Virginia and Fort William baseball teams will meet at Oliver park.

Mayor Boylan announced this morning that he would proclaim a half holiday. "Baseball is getting Virginia some excellent advertising over the Northwest," says Mayor Boylan. "The greater part of the people of the city will want to see the opening game. I shall proclaim a half holiday that the city may give its fine baseball team a fitting welcome and that the season may be inaugurated on the local grounds with the kind of a crowd Virginia should turn out to welcome its baseball team."

All the mayors of the range have been invited to attend the opening game as the guests of the Virginia baseball team and all are expected to accept. President John Burmeister of the Northern league will also be present. There will be a parade from Chestnut street to the baseball grounds and the guests of the day will include several Fort William officials.

IN PEACEMAKER ROLE.

Man Arrested at Virginia and Taken to Bessemer, Mich., Released.

Bessemer, Mich., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—In circuit court here yesterday Judge Cooper called the case of the People vs. Alex Visovade, charged with the murder of young Wraz in Ironwood last summer. Visovade was brought here from Virginia, Minn., three months ago when the charge was preferred against him and since that time has been confined in the county jail. When called yesterday morning he told the judge that when he saw the two brothers fighting on the street in front of their store in Ironwood, he did what he considered was his duty and attempted to separate them, with the result stated. Judge Cooper could not find sufficient evidence against the man and commended him and dismissed the case.

CHISHOLM EAGLES TO EVELETH MEETING

Chisholm, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local Eagles have engaged a special car to the big Eagles' convention at Eveleth June 9 and 10. The local lodge has also ordered natty white uniforms to be used at the big convention when the local members take part in the parade.

CHISHOLM CLASS PLAY ON FRIDAY

Chisholm, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senior class play, "Our Boys," which will be staged at the high school auditorium next Friday evening, promises to be a great success.

The members of the cast are: Perkyn Middlewick, a retired butterman, John Lipovetz; Charles Middlewick, his son, Henry Tomphor; Sir Geoffry Champneys, a country magnate, Lincoln Knecbone; Talbot Champneys, his son, Andrew Talus; Clarissa Champneys, his sister, Hilda Kangas; Kemper, Sir Geoffry's manservant, William Talus; Poodles, Middlewick's butler, Joseph Gzelka; Violet Melrose, an heiress, Helen Rahja; Mary Melrose, her poor cousin, Fannie Leppi; Belinde, a lodging house slavey, Anna Schweiger.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

Nervous dyspepsia is a disease of the nerves, not of the stomach.

Indigestion one day and complete freedom from symptoms the next usually means nervous dyspepsia, especially if the patient is of a nervous or highly emotional temperament.

The attacks recur at more or less regular intervals and are often brought on by nervous excitement. A sick feeling after eating, sometimes vomiting, a weak, shaky, "gone" feeling when the stomach is empty—these are the usual symptoms, but in the case of some highly nervous people the sight of food or the approach of meal-time may cause vomiting.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are especially useful to sufferers from nervous dyspepsia as they not only build up the general physical condition but also act directly on the nerves, strengthening and revitalizing them. These pills, with proper regulation of the diet, afford the most correct and successful way in which nervous and functional dyspepsia can be treated.

A postal card request to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will bring a copy of a useful diet book and a pamphlet on nervous disorders, both free of cost to you. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

GILBERT CONTRACTS FOR ALARM SYSTEM

Range Village Will Be Equipped With an Up-to-Date Service.

Gilbert, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The council last night considered bids for installing an electric fire alarm system and for the heating and plumbing of the waterworks filtration plant at Ely lake.

The contract for the fire alarm system was awarded to the Star Electric company of New York. It consists of a series of alarm boxes placed at different points in the village and a steam fire whistle which will be mounted on the Pettit boiler house of the Republic Iron & Steel company. The system will be complete and up to date.

The contract for the heating and plumbing at the filtration plant was not awarded, all bids being rejected. The bidders were A. C. Schirmer of Hibbing, M. Boylan & Co. of Virginia, the Virginia Heating & Plumbing company, and the Gilbert Hardware & Furniture company.

The work of installing the sewer system in the Gilbert location was delayed somewhat by the snow and rain last week, but about fifty men are engaged in the work which is now nearly one-third completed. This work involves the laying of about 3,000 feet of eight-inch sanitary sewer which discharges into the village mains and makes it possible to connect all the houses of the location with the village sanitary system.

Plant About Finished.

The work of improving the sewage filtration plant is nearly completed. About 250 yards of crushed rock have been placed in the filter proper bringing it up the required capacity. The grounds have been leveled off and a fence will be constructed around the plant. New screens have been put in place and the general appearance of the plant much improved. Street Commissioner Herman Bodas has a gang of men at work making a fill and connecting Summit street with the Virginia road on Indiana avenue.

In the township of Mesaba Mountain, Road Overseer A. J. Noble is putting crushed rock on the Virginia road and the gasoline roller has been at work on various roads in the district so that the roads in the vicinity of Gilbert are in as good condition at the present time as any on the range.

TWO GILBERT DEATHS.

Woman Victim of Acute Indigestion—Child Dies of Meningitis.

Gilbert, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Dave Moykonen died Tuesday morning at her home here. It was thought that she was getting along alright and Tuesday morning she was uptown and seemed to be improving. On arriving at her home she was taken with a severe attack and died in a short time.

She was 35 years old and has lived in this village for the past five years. She is survived by her husband, who is proprietor of the Broadway livery here. Funeral arrangements have not been arranged for.

Miss Alil Jarvanen, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvanen, died Tuesday afternoon at the More hospital after suffering for the past month of tubercular meningitis. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

CHISHOLM SAFE NOT DAMAGED BY FIRE

Chisholm, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. Sapero & Sons, who recently lost their store, will build again, according to announcement by Simon Sapero. Already the special lengths of timber have been ordered from the West. The new store will be but one story and basement, but the walls will be built to accommodate another story, if business warrants the addition. The safe was opened Sunday and the contents were found intact, the books and a roll of bills inside being unharmed, although the heat must have been terrific.

Attends Centenarian's Funeral.

Eveleth, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Malloy has returned from Stillwater, where he attended the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Phelan. Mrs. Phelan died Sunday morning at the home of Mrs. E. Malloy, the mother of Frank and William Malloy of this city. She was 101 years old and death was caused by senility. She is survived by three sons, Martin, J. and E. Phelan of Stillwater and one daughter, Mrs. E. Malloy.

Seedlings Being Planted.

Ely, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota forest service is planting 160,000 Norway pine and 40,000 white pine trees on the Burntside state forest. The seedlings are 3 years old, and come from the experimental station at Cloquet.

Sure Way to Kill Rats

Worst and Most Expensive Household Nuisance.

Millions of dollars of property are destroyed yearly by rats simply because people do not appreciate the destructive power of rats and do not know how easy it is to kill them. Simply get a two-ounce box of Stearns Electric Paste from your druggist for twenty-five cents and use it at night in accordance with the simple directions, and in the morning there should not be a rat in the house.

Nothing else is as effective as Stearns Electric Paste in exterminating rats, mice, cockroaches and other vermin. The government uses it in its fight against rats. Directions in fifteen languages in every package.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS IN SAMPLE ROOMS

About $2,000 Damages Sustained From Blaze in Mesaba Block.

Fire starting in a pile of clothing samples on the second floor of the Mesaba block, 414 West Superior street, caused $2,000 damage last night about 12 o'clock. The loss is covered by insurance.

Finch, Van Slyck & McConville, a wholesale dry goods firm of St. Paul, were the heaviest loser, as the flames penetrated to their sample room and destroyed the contents. The origin of the blaze, which started in the rear of the sample rooms, has not been determined. H. J. Tonskemper, local representative of the company, was unable to estimate the loss.

A considerable loss was sustained by the Twin Ports Clothing company, 405-407 West Superior street, directly below the Tonskemper sample rooms. After the fire had burned through the floor the salvage corps was unable to prevent damage by water and smoke. M. Cook, manager of the Twin Ports company, was unable to make an estimate of the probable loss this morning.

The dry goods stock of Lindeke, Warner & Co., a St. Paul firm represented by C. T. McKenny, and the shoe stock of C. H. Smith, kept in rooms adjoining the Finch, Van Slyck & McConville showrooms, were damaged to some extent.

The offices of George R. King, contractor, also were damaged slightly by water.

Firemen had considerable difficulty with the blaze, as they were unable to reach the center of the blaze. They finally entered the building from Superior street and forced their way through to the Tonskemper rooms.

(From Herald May 4.)

TO ADJUST FIRE LOSS.

Insurance adjusters are expected to arrive in Duluth this evening to commence work in adjusting the loss sustained by the Twin Ports Clothing company in the fire that did considerable damage to the Mesaba block late Monday evening. While the fire was confined to the second floor, the salvage corps was forced to batter down the door leading into the Twin Ports store on Superior street, and their stock suffered considerably from the heavy smoke and water that emanated from the floor above.

WHEAT AGAIN SELLS DOWN

Market Weak on Better Crop News and Light General Demand.

Flaxseed Breaks With Lower Cables and Selling Around Close.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 19.—The market was weak at the close, with further selling appearing.

May wheat closed ¾c off; July 1⅝c off and September 1c off. May durum closed unchanged. July 3c off and September 2c off.

Oats closed ⅝c off at 51@52c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.12@1.13 and barley unchanged at from 65c to 75c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ¼c off at 62c bid and July ¼c off at 62⅝c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.41¾ and calls at $1.45¾.

After showing some strength around the opening on reported buying by exporters at the seaboard, the wheat market turned easy today as a result of more favorable news coming to hand regarding the progress of the winter crop. Operators in the leading markets are advised to be more and more inclined to the opinion that fly damage rumors emanating from the Southwest have been greatly exaggerated. Deterioration in that connection is now said to be confined to Kansas and Missouri, with the promise unimpaired in other states. Some authorities have gone so far as to cut the Kansas wheat yield down to 100,000,000 bu, but that is thought to be drawing the blue bow very far.

Advices from New York this morning were to the effect that 300,000 bu of spring wheat had been sold there for export, while sales of oats to foreigners had aggregated between 600,000 and 700,000 bu. A Duluth operator reported the sale of a round lot of No. 1 northern wheat to Eastern millers yesterday afternoon. Today, however, trading became dull here with no inquiry reported from any quarter. Foreigners were reported to be holding off in expectations that another easy spot to come in upon would develop. The uncertain foreign situation was also a retarding factor in trading.

Cash markets at the leading centers were reported off today, with declines ranging around 1c.

Receipts of wheat at all points have slackened down sharply of late. At Duluth today, only 22 cars came to hand against 45 a year ago. At Minneapolis arrivals were 120 cars against 86, at Winnipeg 119 cars against 420, and at Chicago 103 cars against 204 a year ago.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.54¼, advanced ½c, and then eased off 1⅛c around the noon-hour. July opened ⅝c off at $1.50, gained 1c, and then broke to $1.49¼. September opened ½c up at $1.21½, and weakened 1¼c.

Operations in durum were again limited. May opened unchanged at $1.50, advanced 1c, and then ran off ½c. July sold off 1c to $1.50.

Slump in Flaxseed.

Lower London cables and easing off in crushers' inquiry led to weakness in flaxseed. From a crop point of view, the market situation in the seed is regarded as bullish, reports from the Northwest all telling of greatly decreased acreage being sown to the flax crop this spring. Pending more active inquiry from linseed oil interests, however, the market has become a draggy affair. The close was especially weak with liquidation developing.

May opened unchanged at $1.95½, and closed 1¾c off at $1.93¾. July and opened unchanged at $1.97½, and closed 1c off at $1.96½. September opened unchanged at $2.00¼ and closed 1¾c off at $1.99¼. October opened unchanged at $1.99½, and closed ½c off at $1.99 asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ½c off at $1.76½ asked, and July ¾c off at $1.73¾ asked.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed ¾c off at $1.34⅜, and London 7c off at $1.88⅜.

Minneapolis—The cash market was firmer. Local and country mills were keen for heavy top grades. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 4½c to 8c over May and velvet chaff at 2c to 3c over May. Flour sales were moderate.

Lecount wired from Hutchinson, Kansas, May 18: "Splendid rain all through this country today, will greatly improve this thin looking wheat and relieve the baked condition of soil. From Pratt here, wheat is very spotted and condition is far below last year's promise on this date. Still the territory will raise with favorable weather, about an average crop."

* * *

Price Current says: "Growth condition winter wheat continues favorable in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, while in Kansas and Missouri, the winter crop has deteriorated to some extent on account of damage by bugs and Hessian fly. Reports regarding damage are conflicting and we believe that as usual these are exaggerated to some extent at least. Growth conditions of oats thus far are very favorable throughout the principal producing states."

Iowa state report says: "First five days were much warmer than usual this time of year, but the last two days were cold. Frost was general on May 17. Rainfall was generally light and poorly distributed, southwest counties receiving none. Field work has progressed rapidly and about 75 per cent of corn is planted. Oats are beginning to show need of moisture."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The undertone was easy as a result of weak American cables yesterday. Spot, ½@1d lower, with cargo market weak; Manitobas, 6d and 7½d lower, with Plates unchanged.

"Indian offers were liberal and inclined lower. The demand was quiet awaiting developments as it is the belief here that American prospects are largely maintained. Millers are buying and absorbing freely at prices satisfactory and arrivals are expected to be liberal this week.

"Corn was easy, influenced by American and a poor spot demand with Plate parcels 3d lower.

"Shipments from Archangel, Russia, are being further delayed by the government using this port for military purposes. Weather continues favorable.

"Compilations of stocks at all centers in Great Britain show a decrease and foreign arrivals are inadequate for present needs."

Foreign crop summary:

India—Rain continues and movement is delayed. A noticeable hardening of values at ports is noted. Local consumption is liberal as native food grains were in light supply.

Russia—Weather is favorable. Local consumption is large and supplies moderate and very little is moving to ports.

United Kingdom—Compilation of stocks at all centers shows a decrease and foreign arrivals are inadequate, largely due to disappointment in Indian shipping and fact that continent bought heavily. Consumption is large. India's tonnage is abnormal.

Spain—Rainy weather is general, moisture being needed. Broomhall's advices confirm an increase of 800,000 acres.

Argentina—Weather is fine, clear and cool. Demand for wheat is good, and corn demand urgent. All arrivals which meet grade are being quickly absorbed.

Horace Jackson of Jackson Bros. Co., Chicago, was a visitor at the Duluth board of trade today.

He expressed the opinion that the market has been largely held up through reports of damage through flies and chinch bugs in some sections of the winter wheat territory. "We have learned from past experience not to place too much reliance in these stories," he said. "There is always more or less damage through flies, and perhaps it may be more pronounced this year than in some others. At the same time it must be remembered that a larger area is under crop, so I am disposed to look for an outturn of winter wheat this season fully equal to last year's record crop."

Regarding the supply situation, Mr. Jackson expressed the opinion that stocks of old wheat would prove sufficient to carry the trade through, but with the grain still to be shipped out during May and June under export contracts, he estimates that supplies would be about cleaned up by July 1, and that in the event of any bullish news coming out later on, it would be highly dangerous for an operator to be caught short of July wheat. Deliveries of wheat during July at Chicago last year aggregated 21,000,000 bu upon which farmers netted 80 cents, he pointed out. With growers able to obtain say $1.25 this year, he thinks it reasonable to look for larger July deliveries, especially as a certain percentage of farmers are not in a position to hold.

*—Inches and hundredths.
‡—Highest yesterday, lowest last night.
‡—Not included in the averages.
NOTE—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 or more.
NOTE—Weekly summaries of conditions in the grain region will be telegraphed from Washington April 13, and each Tuesday thereafter during the growing season, except that this summary will be telegraphed and published on Wednesday whenever the preceding Monday is a holiday.

Summary of weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat region for the week ending May 18, 1915:

Washington, D. C., May 19, 1915.—In the winter wheat belt, the weather was generally favorable for crop development, but damage by fly and chinch bugs is reported from a number of the principal wheat growing states; quite serious in portions of Kansas and Western Missouri. In the spring wheat belt the week was generally favorable, with good rains in western portion where drought had prevailed, but somewhat too cool for rapid germination and growth. Week was favorable for finishing corn planting in all portions of that belt, but cool weather retarded germination and growth.

Oats, pasture and alfalfa continue in good condition except in the more eastern and southeastern states where crops are short. Frost and freezing weather at the close of the week probably caused considerable damage to tender vegetation and fruit in the more northern districts but the extent of the damage is not yet determined.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Splendid Rains in Kansas and Elsewhere Bring Lower Prices in Wheat.

Chicago, May 19.—Splendid rains in Kansas and elsewhere tended today to bring about lower prices for wheat. A fall in quotations at Liverpool gave an additional advantage to the bears and so also did the prospect of Italy entering the war. Shorts, however, were prompt to seize the chance to cover. After opening ¼c to ⅜c down the market rallied, steadying at around last night's level.

Subsequently prices scored an advance, but greater heaviness quickly developed owing somewhat to the uncertainty about Germany's reply to the American note and because of reports that Italian communication with Trieste had been cut off. The close was weak, 1⅛@2⅛c under last night.

Corn swayed with wheat. Trade was light. Opening prices which varied from a s hade to ⅛@¼c off were followed by a moderate upturn.

Later the market showed a disposition to sag, influenced by assertions that heavier receipts were about to begin. The close was nervous, ⅞@⅞c net lower.

Oats had no independent action. Pit speculators did most of what scanty business there was.

Lower quotations for hogs eased the provision market. Sellers, though, were not urgent.

BEARS HOLD UPPER HAND

Bears in the grain markets have had the upper hand during the last week, and despite lurid reports sent out of serious damage to winter wheat through chinch bugs and flies, the cash article, as at the close of yesterday, showed a decline of 5¾c at 56½c.

In view of the suddenness with which they sprang up, and more reassuring news from reliable sources, grain men are disposed to discount the damage rumors materially, and they see good reason to look forward to a bumper harvest, though the total may fall off slightly from the government crop report of May 1.

It is pointed out that even during seasons of the greatest damage in the past, only a small proportion of the Southwest territory has been affected through the ravages of flies, and in view of the situation in Kansas and Missouri having been greatly relieved by rains, the proportion of loss this season is thought likely to be materially reduced.

Bright Northwest Outlook.

If the early condition of the growing plant and soil preparation counts for anything, experts who have been over the Northwestern states during the last few days consider that, with anything like normal weather conditions prevailing during the next six weeks, there is every reason to base hopes upon a big outturn of all grains in Minnesota and North and South Dakota next fall.

It is thought that the June government crop report will show a large increase in the acreage seeded. It is said, furthermore, that farmers have not placed all their eggs in one basket, but are going in for mixed farming quite extensively, in face of the temptation offered in the high prices likely to prevail for wheat during the coming twelve months. That the grain market will be a nervous affair during the next few weeks with the trend of prices dependent upon crop and European war developments from day to day, is predicted by operators. The progress of the allies in the Dardanelles is being keenly watched, for it is realized that the forcing of that passage and the consequent furnishing of an outlet for Russian grain would be a bearish factor in so far as the new crop is concerned. Italy's entry into the war on the side of the allies, if it comes, it is also thought, would be an influence for lower prices, in view of the probability that it would tend to bring the day of peace nearer.

It is interesting to note that cash wheat is now selling at just 2½c over its figure on April 1, and that at the close of the local market yesterday a decline of 8⅜c has come about since May 1.

Durum Market Weak.

Trading in durum has been quiet of late, cash and May at yesterday's close being down 7c from a week ago. The spread between the May and September future now stands at 20½c, and generally speaking, dealers entertain more conservative views regarding the course of the durum market next fall. That its price will depend largely upon the availability of Russian grain for supplying the Italian market, is conceded. Since last fall the Italian call has been filled entirely from America and a supply and demand situation was created that may never occur again, it is thought. However, durum specialists are sanguine that it will sell at prices next fall and winter that will be remunerative to growers in this country, and with the increased attention given to seeding it this spring through the Dakotas, the harvesting of a materially larger crop is expected.

Crushers Are Waiting.

Crushers are pursuing waiting tactics in the flaxseed market. Under the influence of favorable weather and predictions that a larger area than had been expected will be seeded to it at the eleventh hour in the Northwest, the figure in cash and May flaxseed of $1.95½ yesterday, was off 5½c in the week.

The trade is giving more consideration to the fact that Argentine seed is now being laid down at the Atlantic ports on a much lower price basis than that ruling here and with the increased number of steamers available for the trade, South American shipments are expected to be larger in the near future.

That condition is conceded to have checked the sale of flaxseed supplies in Duluth elevators, so that in the face of small receipts, stocks have been accumulating steadily since the early spring.

TRADING AT STANDSTILL

Stocks Start Higher, Decline, But Soon Regain the Losses.

Delay in Germany's Reply to United States Restricts Trading.

New York, May 19.—Stocks opened with some signs of improvement today, leading shares, as well as the unclassified group, scoring general gains. In some instances notably the war specialties and coppers, advances extended to a point or better. Union Pacific was the feature of the investment issues, with a one-point gain. Missouri Pacific was almost the sole exception to the general trend, adding a fraction to yesterday's decline as a result of the uncertainty attending its note extension plan. London's market for internationals reflected irregularity at that center.

Cables pointing to an early severance of relations between Italy and her Teutonic allies, semi-official denial of Germany's abandonment of her submarine warfare and indications of further delay in that government's reply to Washington's recent note, today caused a general cancellation of initial gains. Trading dwindled to minor proportions, the only notable feature being increased heaviness in Missouri Pacific and a 3 point decline in Chesapeake and Ohio, based upon doubtful dividend prospects. Towards midday, prices hardened again.

Bonds were steady.

Trading came to another standstill in the early afternoon and prices made gradual recovery to yesterday's level. The market was featureless, however, except for moderately heavy selling of Wabash 4s at concessions.

Trading again was at a standstill today, pending further developments abroad. A 5-point rise in one of the speculative coppers was the only feature of the late trading. The close was firm.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, May 19.—Liberal receipts and a falling off in shipping orders had a depressing influence today in the hog market. Cattle seemed over plentiful. Competition for sheep and lambs was mostly from out-of-town buyers.

Hogs—Receipts, 33,000; slow; 5c to 10c under yesterday's average; bulk, $7.60@7.60; light, $7.35@7.65; mixed, $7.35@7.65; heavy, $7.15@7.60; rough, $7.15@7.30; pigs, $6.75@7.35.

Cattle—Receipts, 16,000; weak; native beef steers, $6.90@9.20; western steers, $6.10@7.90; cows and heifers, $3.25@8.75; calves, $6.50@9.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 10,000; steady; sheep, $7.70@8.50; lambs, $7.75@9.90.

London Stocks.

London, May 19.—The American section was fairly active today at a lower parity, but improved in the afternoon and finally finished steady. A number of dealings were made in Amalgamated copper rights around a dollar.

New York Cotton.

New York, May 19.—Cotton: Futures closed steady; May, 9.22; July, 9.43; October, 9.79; December, 10.01; January, 10.05.

New York Money.

New York, May 19.—Mercantile paper, 3½@4. Sterling exchange weak; 60 days, $4.73; for cables, $4.7915; for demand, $4.7875. Bar silver, 48¾; Mexican dollars, 38c. Government bonds, strong; railroad bonds, steady. Time loans, easier; 60 and 90 days, 2¾@3; six months, 3¼@3½; call money, steady; high, 2; low, 1¾; ruling rate, 2; last loan, 2; closing, 1¾; offered at 2.

BIG ADVANCE IN BUTTE & SUPERIOR

Outside of four issues, business in mining stocks was light today and price changes only fractional.

Butte & Superior was again the feature, advancing under a wave of buying $5.75 to $67.87, and it closed strong at that figure. American Zinc was another active issue, selling $5.25 up at $44.38. Both these issues advanced on reported heavy sales of zinc at high prices.

Calumet & Arizona closed unchanged at $68.75; Copper Range 25 cents up at $50.25; Granby 50 cents off at $79; North Butte unchanged at $30.63; Osceola, $2 up at $77; Quincy $1 up at $84, and Shattuck fractionally up at $26.12.

At New York, Amalgamated Copper closed a shade up at $66.75, and Anaconda fractionally off at $31.

CITY ASKED TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYED

Petition Signed By 621 Jobless Presented to City Council.

"How Can We Get Food and Shelter Without Being Criminals?"

Demand That Commissioners Answer Question Through Daily Papers.

"How can 621 idle men find the means to exist without becoming criminals?" was the question put up to the city council this morning.

Six hundred and twenty-one men, attracted to Duluth by the optimistic reports sent out during the winter and spring, presented a petition to the city council this morning demanding work and an opportunity to clothe and feed themselves.

But a few of these men, it is claimed, are married, the remainder being men who came here when reports were sent out about the opening of several sawmills, the blast furnace, steel plant construction and of the season on the lakes.

In the petition the 621 signers state that they are all in need and that they must have work at once. They ask the council how they can avoid doing a criminal act since there is no work for them so that they can earn money for bread and clothes. They request the council to answer the question in The Herald.

Have Spokesman.

William Risto of 137 Lake avenue south was the spokesman for the unemployed and he presented the petition to Mayor Prince. Risto declared that he is married, but admitted that most of the signers are single and have lived here but a short time. He went to the city hall with but one companion.

Mayor Prince said this noon that the petition will be presented to the council at its meeting next Monday evening and that formal action by the commissioners will be taken at that time.

"Conditions in Duluth," said the mayor, "are far better now than at any time in the last year. Four sawmills, the Zenith furnace and the steel plant have all reopened this spring, employing about 2,000 men, who were out of work during the winter months. In addition the city gave several hundred men work during the winter on a number of sewer jobs that were started just to help these men.

"The many favorable reports that went out of Duluth naturally brought many men here, who were unable to obtain employment elsewhere. Most of these men, who signed the petition, have been on the range and they all came here at the opening of the navigation season.

Council Helpless.

"Of course, it is heart-rending to have such a condition, but the council is absolutely helpless in the matter. If employers will ask for men, we will gladly see that those who are unemployed will receive work. I will present the petition at the council meeting next Monday."

The petition signed by the 621 men follows:

"To the City Council of Duluth:

"How can we, the unemployed, earn our daily bread without doing a criminal act, when there is no chance to get work? We know very well, that we are out of work and suffering because employers, who own all the means of life, do not give us a chance to work, but keep us in misery and hunger.

"We, the unemployed, demand you to answer our question in the Duluth Herald and the News Tribune.

"Some time ago the Duluth newspapers reported that there are only a few men out of work in the city of Duluth, and that they are unwilling to work at all. Now we want to prove that there is a great army of unemployed men in this city. We have already over 600 men on our list, and they are absolutely out of work and without food or shelter."

NEW TRIAL IS GRANTED

Hibbing Man Given Another Opportunity to Collect $10,550.

Abel Laitinen of Hibbing, who sued the Great Northern Railway company for $10,550 damages for personal injuries sustained by himself in a collision between his automobile and a train, and recovered a verdict for $1 after two juries had passed upon the question, has been granted another trial.

Judge Dancer in district court this morning signed an order granting a motion for a new trial which was made by Victor L. Power, Laitinen's attorney.

Laitinen based his claim for damages on an accident which occurred on Sept. 28, 1913. He was driving an automobile on the public highway between Hibbing and Alice when he was run down by a Great Northern train.

The machine was wrecked and the impact of the collision threw him out of the machine. He testified that he received injuries which permanently disabled him from following his vocation, that of a musician. The injuries resulted in a partial paralysis of the left side of his face.

The case was tried twice at the May, 1914, term of court. The first jury disagreed and the second returned a nominal verdict in his favor. Judge Ensign presided at the first trial and Judge Dancer at the second. Donald S. Holmes of Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes appeared in court as attorney for the railway company.

In granting the motion for a new trial, Judge Dancer stated in his memorandum:

"While it must be conceded that the plaintiff's case is weak as appears from the testimony and as evidenced by the fact that two juries have declined to give him a substantial verdict, still the court is of the opinion that the evidence presents questions of fact for the jury.

"If the only damage claimed were to the automobile, the court would not hesitate to raise the verdict, but the plaintiff claims that his face is injured to such an extent that he can no longer follow his avocation as a musician. If this is true, then his damages are such as should be fixed by a jury, if there is any liability at all."

STEAMER OSBORNE REACHES DULUTH

Was in Collision With Valcartier Last Week; Extensive Repairs Needed.

The steamer A. W. Osborne, formerly the Carnegie, which was in collision last week at the mouth of the St. Clair river with the Canadian steamer Valcartier, arrived in Duluth this morning with a cargo of coal, which she is now unloading at the Osborne dock. The Osborne was treated with a cement patch at Sarnia, and permitted by the underwriters to continue on her way to Duluth with her cargo, but she will have to be more extensively repaired at the Superior dry-dock before she will be permitted to go into commission again. She is pretty badly damaged forward.

The steamer Valcartier is still on the bottom at the middle ground in St. Clair river. Three pumps are working steadily with no success. Divers are trying to patch a large hole on her starboard side, but the current is so swift their work is handicapped. It is necessary that this hole be closed before she can be pumped out and moved to drydock, which will take several days. About 80,000 bushels of grain have been lightered and delivered at the elevator.

Associates With Duluth Company.

C. A. Morris, coal freighting agent of M. A. Hanna & Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, has resigned to become associated with R. A. Williams in the grain and vessel brokerage business there. Mr. Williams is a member of the Duluth Shipping company, and handles the Cleveland end of the Duluth company's business.

PREDICT DRY POLK.

County Optionists Hope to Carry Election Next Monday.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—County optionists are sanguine of winning the county option fight in Polk county next Monday and thereby putting out of business thirty-two saloons now operating in this city, together with twelve wholesale distributing depots and a brewery.

This city, through its liquor business, has for many years borne anything but an enviable reputation. In recent years conditions have been far improved.

There was a time when East Grand Forks was a city of 1,500 people, and had forty-nine saloons—one saloon for about each thirty residents. Of course, Grand Forks, N. D., on which the East side saloons depend for much of their retail business, contributed. It had, at that time, a population of about 10,000.

At the present time, the thirty-two saloons cater to a local population—in Grand Forks and East Grand Forks—of about 17,500—15,000 in Grand Forks, and 2,500 in East Grand Forks.

East Grand Forks, in the olden days, with its wide open gambling, its restricted district, and its 40 to 50 saloons operating constantly, was anything but a Christian camp meeting. In the fall of the year, thousands of harvest hands, bound to and from the harvest fields of North Dakota, made this a stopping off place, and they were, in the vernacular of the gaming room, "rich picking" for the gambling sharks who infested the city. That day, however, has gone by.

ANOTHER HEAVY FROST; NOT SO BAD AS FIRST

Another heavy frost visited Duluth last night, and, it is feared, that while it was not quite so bad as that of the night before, it did considerable damage where people failed to take the warnings issued to protect their plants.

The lowest the temperature got at the weather bureau was 34 deg., but, according to Weather Forecaster Richardson, that would mean 30 or even 28 deg. in low places, and there the damage would be done.

THIRTY FEET AT NEW LOCK

Greater Depth at Sault Favored By Public Affairs Men.

Enlargement of Welland Canal Will Call for Larger Boats.

A depth of thirty feet at the new No. 4 lock at the Sault, now being constructed, was unanimously indorsed by the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, at its meeting last night.

The excavation work for the fourth lock has been finished, and the concrete work is about to be begun. The present plans for the new lock call for a water depth of twenty-four and a half feet, but the chief engineer of the war department, under whose charge the work is placed, has been urged by the Chicago Association of Commerce to alter the plans so that a depth of thirty feet will be secured.

In this petition the Duluth Commercial club will join and the chief engineer of the government will be officially asked, as a result of last night's action, to make the change requested by the Chicago organization.

Give Lake Superior a Chance.

The reason for the desired change is that the enlargement of the Welland canal, now under way, calls for the accommodation of boats 800 feet long and having a draft of as much as thirty feet, and it is desired that any new locks to be constructed at the Sault will be made ready to accommodate boats of equal size in order that craft that will be able to get through the Welland canal may sail, without shifting their cargoes, either out of or into Lake Superior; otherwise, it is pointed out, the importance of the Welland canal as a unit for a deep waterways to the sea would be discounted so far as the Head of the Lakes and other Lake Superior ports are concerned.

Too Important to Delay.

The request for action by the Duluth Commercial club came from the Chicago Association of Commerce, and in its communication, the Chicago association urged immediate action, pointing out that should the concrete work be put in, the depth of the new lock will be settled.

The club, considering the matter too important to permit of the delay that would be necessary if referred to a committee, took immediate action without debate.

A memorandum from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, of which the Duluth Commercial club is a member, was turned over to the rivers and harbors committee, of which Capt. Alex McDougall is chairman.

Emergency Measure.

In view of the fact that the vote on the referendum must be in Washington by June 22, the river and harbors committee was instructed to, after considering it, turn it over to the executive committee with recommendations, and that the executive committee act upon it as an emergency measure. The referendum is in regard to the shipping bill, and as the questions involved take up forty-three printed pages, they were not read last night.

The questions submitted by the national chamber are as follows:

"Do you favor the government undertaking the purchase, construction or charter of vessels for mercantile purposes, together with the operation of such vessels?

"Do you favor ownership of merchant vessels by the government, but with operation by private parties under leases?

"Do you favor subsidies from the government sufficient to offset the difference in cost between operation of vessels under the American flag and operation in the same deep sea trades under foreign flags?

"Do you favor a subvention from the government to establish regular mail and freight lines under the American flag to countries in which the commercial interests of the United States are important and to the American dependencies?"

A letter from City Commissioner J. A. Farrell, explaining his policy with regard to public improvements, already printed in The Herald, was referred to the committee on street improvements.

A communication asking the club to take action regarding the change of time of the trains to and from New Duluth was referred to the traffic committee which was instructed to look into the matter.

RURAL CARRIERS WANTED.

Federal Examinations to Fill Positions in Northern Minnesota.

Rural mail carriers are wanted at Virginia, French River, Embarrass and Lakewood, Minn., and competitive examinations will be given by the civil service department June 12. Only citizens of the United States, who have their actual residence in territory supplied by an office in the county for which the examination is held, will be admitted as applicants.

Application blanks for this examination can be obtained from the secretary of the local board, from the postmasters of the offices named above, or from the United States civil service commission at Washington, D. C.

LIQUOR IS SEIZED.

Ward County, N. D., Authorities Confiscate Carload at Minot.

Minot, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ward county authorities confiscated a carload of liquor here on the claim it was shipped into the state in violation of the Federal Webb-Kenyon law.

The liquor was shipped here, it is said, on the so-called distributing basis, the use of fictitious names being resorted to to get the liquor out of the possession of the railroad company and into the hands of local purchasers.

This is the same condition that is being combatted in the suit recently launched by Attorney General H. J. Linde of North Dakota involving shipments to Bismarck.

In the meantime local authorities are holding the liquor and say they will continue to hold it. Failure of the rightful owner to claim it will result in its destruction and, should the owner claim it, he will be arrested for violating the prohibition law.

TWO GRAND LODGES CONCLUDING SESSIONS

Grand Forks, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual conventions here of the North Dakota grand lodges of the A. O. U. W. and grand lodges of the A. O. U. W. and the Degree of Honor, which opened yesterday, will close this evening.

Both gatherings have been exceptionally successful, with a total attendance of over 500 delegates.

The reports of the several officers of the two bodies show excellent conditions.

Many Gophers Killed.

Hannah, N. D., May 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Over 2,000 gophers were slain in Hannah's gopher day, the first annual event of this nature.

That the work of local citizens has saved the farmers of the territory adjacent to the city a total of between $20,000 and $30,000, is the opinion held by those who staged the celebration.

Gopher Livestock Meeting.

Mankato, Minn., May 19.—This city has been selected as the place for the Minnesota Live Stock Breeders' association to hold its annual meeting. The dates are June 3 and 4, and it is expected that 150 members from other parts of the state will be in attendance, besides several hundred farmers from this vicinity.

Boy Shoots Stepfather.

Menominee, Mich., May 19.—Roman Flecho, 45 years old, is in a hospital, and Joseph Kubiak, his stepson, in the Menominee county jail. Following a quarrel at Flecho's farm near Wallace, Menominee county, young Kubiak fired three shots from a revolver at Flecho, two striking the elder man in the leg. The boy claims the man was chasing him with a stick at the time of the shooting. Flecho will recover.

Herald Want Ads are steadily increasing in usefulness. This is truly the "get-together place" of Duluth.

THE MONTH IN WHICH YOU PRINT AND ANSWER THE MOST HERALD WANT ADS WILL BE YOUR GOOD FORTUNE MONTH.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS BETTER

SIXTY DAYS AGO

Wall Street commenced to recover from the stunning blow delivered by the European war.

It sat up, looked around and saw the greatest crops ever harvested and sold at prices 50 to 100 per cent higher than usual—

It saw money pouring into the country from the sale of war supplies—

It saw everything at the lowest prices, business "rotten" and merchants with no stock of goods—

It saw ninety-five million of people still living in the United States to be fed, clothed, housed, just as usual—

It saw the wonderful new financial system of the Federal Reserve Bank in operation.

Then Wall Street made up its mind that this was the chance of a lifetime.

Duluth Real Estate is still selling at rock bottom prices.

Think this over. The man who has "foresight" is the man who profits by such conditions as these.

The "Want" ads in The Herald offer many splendid opportunities for investment. This is a good time to look them over and "think" them over.

FLEET OF WARSHIPS IS DEFENDING THE COAST IN WAR GAME OF NAVY

Great Array of Sea Fighters Stretched Up and Down Atlantic.

Aims to Test Strength of Country's Protection Against Invasion.

Outcome of Game to Be Decided By Rear Admiral Knight.

Newport, R. I., May 20.—The defense of the coast from Portsmouth, N. H., to Cape Hatteras against attack by an invading fleet, was the problem which occupied the attention of the Atlantic fleet beginning at midnight last night. At that hour the battleships, destroyers and submarines, which steamed out of New York under review by President Wilson became the fleet of defense in the mimic war arranged by the navy department to test the strength of the country's protection against foreign invasion.

Somewhere at sea, were the vessels of the hostile fleet. The scout cruiser Chester, flagship of Rear Admiral Frank E Beatty, who is in charge of the threatened attack on the coast, was believed to represent a division of superdreadnaughts. The mine-layer San Francisco was thought to be regarded as a transport group headed for a beach on which to land a fighting force. Three torpedo boat destroyers were mimic equivalents of other elements of an invading fleet. These vessels which left here several days ago, are to make their dash on some point on the northeastern seaboard.

MEXICANS FIRE ON AMERICANS

Patrol Launch Ensenada Attacks Fishing Boat Flying American Flag.

San Diego, Cal., May 20.—The American fishing launch New Ancono arrived here yesterday with bullet holes in her hull received, her captain Joseph Escolanius declared, in an attack by the Mexican patrol launch Ensenada.

Capt. Escolanius said he was attacked yesterday eight miles off shore and half way between Ensenada, Lower California and San Diego, and was flying the American flag. His crew of three men, crouched behind fishnets, fired eighteen shots and the Ensenada sheered off, the captain reported.

Ensenada port authorities and American owned fishing boats have been st outs for some time.

Messages received late yesterday from Ensenada stated that one of the Mexican customs officers aboard the patrol boat was shot five times by the American fishermen, dying shortly after the arrival of the patrol boat at the Mexican port.

WISCONSIN BANKERS PLEAD FOR TRANSFER

Washington, May 20.—Representatives of national banks in Eastern Wisconsin today urged the Federal reserve board to transfer them from the Minneapolis to the Chicago Federal reserve district. The Wisconsin banks contend that the customary course of their business is toward Chicago and not Minneapolis.

WEALTH OF THE NATION

Estimated at $1,965 for Each Man, Woman and Child.

Minnesota Among States Ranking High in Total Wealth.

Washington, May 20.—The national wealth is officially estimated at $187,739,000,000, or $1,965 for each man, woman and child in the country.

Such are the figures contained in the special bulletin, "Estimated Valuation of National Wealth, 1850-1912," which is about to be issued by the census bureau.

In less than two-thirds of a century—from 1850 to 1912—the total wealth of the nation, excluding exempt real estate, increased from $7,136,000,000, or $308 per capita, to $175,426,000,000 or $1,836 per capita the percentages of increase being 2358 for the total and 496 for the per capita amounts. In other words, the wealth of the nation as a whole is nearly twenty-five times as great as it was in 1850, while that of the individual is about six times as great.

The exempt real estate, which was estimated at $12,314,000,000, or $129 per capita, in 1912, includes the buildings, other structures and public works owned by the Federal, state and local governments, with the land on which they stand, together with such real property of educational, charitable and religious institutions as is exempt from taxation.

BARNES CASE GOES TO JURY

Concluding Arguments Are Made in Libel Suit Against Roosevelt.

Former President Warmly Roasted in Address By Ivins.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 20.—The jury sitting in the trial of William Barnes for libel against Theodore Roosevelt went out at 3:11 o'clock this afternoon.

Before beginning his final address William M. Ivins, chief counsel for William Barnes, announced that he planned to conclude during the forenoon session of court. Justice Andrews' instructions to the jury will follow.

Attorneys connected with the case said they considered it possible that a verdict might be returned some time today or tonight.

Mr. Ivins began his address by defining his duty and criticizing Mr. Bowers for delving into politics.

"What," he asked, "has the future usefulness of this defendant or even of this plaintiff got to do with this action at law?"

Not Politicial.

He discussed this subject with some detail, urging the jury to forget politics and remember that "this is not a political controversy."

Mr. Ivins referred to a part of the story told by Col. Roosevelt as a "fairy tale."

"The question in this case is," said the lawyer, "has any man the right to rob another of his honor? A man must fight for his honor as he would fight for his life."

Coming down to the publication of the alleged libel, Mr. Ivins said the article charged Mr. Barnes as being a "political Benedict Arnold." Then he said, "This defendant has charged so many men with being habitual falsifiers that it has long since become a national joke.

"What does the word boss mean?" he continued. "I'll tell you; it implies a dishonorable occupation. In the article complained of, bi-partisan boss rule is alleged. What does that mean? Sim-

DETAINED STEAMER REACHES NEW YORK

Norwegian-Ship Arrives in Port After Being Released By British.

New York, May 20.—After being detained by the British authorities for six weeks at Kirkwall and Dundee, the Norwegian steamer Taurus reached here today from Gothenburg.

The Taurus was detained on her last outward trip on which she left New York, Feb. 20. Eight thousand tubs of American lard were removed from the vessel, her officers said, and the cost of discharging the lard charged to the vessel. After the Taurus had been taken into Kirkwall by a British warship, she was sent to Dundee, where the long delay and the seizure of part of her cargo ensued.

FORMER HUMANITARIAN WILL MAKE AMMUNITION

ISAAC B. TRUMBULL.

As the result of the sinking of the Lusitania, the Trumbull Electric company of Plainville, Conn., will put in machinery immediately for the manufacture of ammunition for the allies. John H. Trumbull, the president of the company, has refrained from making ammunition for humanitarian reasons. But his brother, Isaac B. Trumbull, was a passenger on the Lusitania and is among those reported missing. John Trumbull says his brother was murdered by the Germans and he proposes to begin at once the making of ammunition to be used against them.

MANY SUBMARINES HAVE BEEN LOST

Seventeen German Submersibles Said to Have Been Destroyed.

London, May 20.—The Evening News has received a dispatch from its Copenhagen correspondent saying the report is current in German naval circles that seventeen German submarines have been lost since Feb. 18, the date of the commencement of the submarine blockade of England.

BIG BATTLE EXPECTED SOON NEAR THE SAN

Berlin, May 20, via London.—The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger at Austrian field headquarters has sent in a dispatch reading:

"The Austrians have assembled reinforcements behind the River San and have made preparations for a stand. We must therefore anticipate a big battle in the near future. The Teutonic allies already have gained several strong footholds on the Russian side of the River San and the ring around Przemysl steadily is growing smaller."

A correspondent of the paper at Czernowitz wires that fighting there is continuous and that shrapnel is being used largely against the German and Austrian positions around this city.

WAVE OF DEPRESSION IN ENGLAND CHECKED BY OPTIMISTIC NEWS

Announcement of New Coalition Cabinet Favorably Received.

Better News From Eastern War Front Has Cheering Effect.

Writers Claim Only One of Russian Armies in Danger.

London, May 20.—The wave of depression which has been sweeping England for the past few days, following the receipt of war news regarded as unfavorable, was checked today by the definite announcement of the decision of the government to form a coalition cabinet, together with better news from the eastern front.

It is believed here that the Russian advance near Shavli in Courland where the lines of the forces of Emperor Nicholas have been straightened out will do much to counteract the effect of the Austro-German advance in the vicinity of Przemysl across the River San.

The military writers in the morning newspapers claim that only one out of fourteen Russian armies has been in deadly danger, and that Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces in the field is playing his usual strategic game of drawing the enemy away from his base. Petrograd maintains that forty Austrian and German army corps have been used during the fighting of the past fortnight.

LINDLEY M. GARRISON.

PROBLEM OF ARMAMENT

Secretary of War Garrison Addresses Peace Conference on Subject.

Favors Making the United States Ready to Protect Itself.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 20.—Secretary of War Garrison in an address on, "The Problem of National Defense," before the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration today, left no doubt of the fact that he favors making the United States ready to protect itself from any and all aggression.

It was the second time that the problem of armament has been brought to the front at the conference. Mr. Garrison's address was not so pronounced, however, as that of President Hibben of Princeton yesterday.

The secretary of war made a hasty trip from Washington in order to be present and departed immediately after speaking, so as to be back in Washington in time for the cabinet meeting tomorrow.

Garrison's Remarks.

"I can and do entirely sympathize with every sane and sensible movement which tends to abolish conflict and to insure peace," said Secretary Garrison; "but I am utterly out of sympathy with the idea that we should neglect or postpone consideration of what is now the existing condition, because of a hope or a belief or even conviction that it may be altered, even radically altered in the future."

Such a great epochal event as the establishment of an international tribunal or the limitation of armament, Mr. Garrison said, could only be brought about "by those who are strong, courageous, self-respecting and righteous; by those who look facts

BIG STEAMSHIP AND TRAWLER TORPEDOED

Dumfries Hit Off Hartland Point; Lucerne Sunk Off Ratary Head.

London, May 20.—The admiralty reports that the British steamer Dumfries was torpedoed yesterday. All hands were saved. It is added that the steamer is still afloat twenty-five miles southwest of Hartland point.

The Dumfries which is 4,121 tons gross left Cardiff Tuesday for Leghorn.

Crew Landed.

Plymouth, May 20.—Fifty-two members of the crew of the steamer Dumfries have been landed at Ilfracombe. They were picked up half an hour after the steamer was torpedoed. Two Lascars of the crew were drowned and two others were badly injured.

Trawler Sunk.

Aberdeen, May 20.—The trawler Lucerne was sunk by a German submarine forty miles off Ratary Head. The crew of the trawler was landed.

London, May 20.—The cabinet reconstruction, according to both Liberal and Conservative morning papers, will be most thorough, involving a large number of resignations.

The Morning Post says the cabinet will be reduced in size, the reduction being effected by the exclusion of certain ministers, whose offices only within recent years have carried cabinet rank, such as secretary for Scotland, the president of the board of agriculture, and the board of education, the postmaster general and other posts. PRESIDENT BACK IN THE WHITE HOUSE

Arrives on Mayflower and Settles Down to Accumulated Work.

Washington, May 20.—The yacht Mayflower returned from New York with President Wilson and his party docked at the navy yard here at 6:30 a. m. today.

Immediately after breakfast the president went to his study and attacked an accumulation of work. He had no engagements for the day, but expected to be in communication with Secretary Bryan and other officials.

Capt. William E. Luckett, who has piloted the Mayflower for several years on her trips up and down the Potomac, was injured while on his way to Piney Point to join the yacht last night. His automobile was ditched and he was thrown through the windshield. His head was cut but he continued to Piney Point and boarded the Mayflower and piloted her to the navy yard here. The president expressed his sympathy to Capt. Luckett.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

"No one in Italy any longer doubts that war begins today," said a press dispatch from Chiasso, in Switzerland, near the Italian border, to Berlin.

A dispatch from Paris says word has been received there from Rome that the Italian chamber of deputies today granted full powers to the minister of war.

Renewed efforts against the Turks on the Gallipoli peninsula have been undertaken by the French and British with the object of capturing the important strategetical position of Krithia. By attacking simultaneously from two sides, the allies hope to surround the Turks.

The predicted great battle along the San, in Central Galicia apparently is already under way. The official announcement from Berlin today speaks of heavy fighting near Przemysl which is said to have resulted in great losses for the Russians. Several victories in the north also are claimed by the Berlin war office.

The interval of comparative quiet in the western front has not been broken, reports indicate.

The British trawler Chrysolite has been sunk by a German submarine. The crew was saved.

Austria's final proposals have been rejected unanimously by the Italian council of ministers, and the two nations are a step nearer war. The Italian parliament assembles today and a declaration of the government's policy is expected.

An Italian Green Book has been issued, giving a review of the negotiations with Austria, which are shown to have been started last December. Italy's demands, which Austria has failed to satisfy, were based on the claim that she was entitled to compensation for Austria's advance into Serbia.

The Russian fortified line along the River San, running across Central Galicia, on which great reliance was placed to check the Austro-German advance, has been definitely broken. Statements of the Teutonic allies that they had crossed the river are confirmed in an official announcement from Petrograd. Przemysl, which Russia won from Austria after a struggle of several months, is now under attack by Austrian guns. One of the greatest battles of the campaign apparently is impending along the San.

In the north the Russians claim successes in operations against the German force which invaded the Baltic provinces. It is said the Germans have been expelled from Shavli.

London dispatches say the reorganization of the cabinet will be thorough. A large number of resignations is expected, and the cabinet will be reconstituted with the sole idea of carrying on the war successfully.

Anton Kuepferle, who claimed American citizenship when placed on trial in London on the charge of having sent military information to enemies of Great Britain, committed suicide last night in prison.

(By the House of Kuppenheimer)

TO know Who's Who in the world of Young Men's Clothes it is only necessary to keep your eyes open.

Where else will you find such class as in the WAYNE, for instance?

It mirrors every latest detail of fashion. There is a self-possession, a general expression of rightness about it that makes it a safe suit to buy and an effective one to wear.

The coat has a soft roll front and closes with two buttons. It shows the new military tendency in its high waist-line, natural shoulders and its shapely sleeves finished with narrow cuffs.

If we were asked to account for the remarkable growth of our young men's business over the entire country, we should say that the facts are getting across to more young men every day.

They have a better idea of the thing to wear —who makes it, the dealer who sells it and where they can come the nearest to getting value for both sides of their dollar.

ASSESSOR MAY LIST IRON ORE ROYALTIES

Judge Holds They May Be Taxed Under Money and Credits.

Decision Will Affect Huge Sum Received Annually By Duluthians.

Iron ore royalties accruing to resident fee owners of St. Louis county mines are taxable under the item of "money and credits," according to an important decision handed down yesterday afternoon in district court by Judge Cant.

As a result of the court's ruling, a sum, roughly estimated at more than $1,000,000, but received annually by Duluth mining men as royalties for their fee interests in iron properties will be placed on the city assessment roll and taxed as any other item of "money and credits." The estimate of $1,000,000 is looked on as conservative and the sum may be far in excess of that.

The decision was given in a test case brought by the Royal Mineral association to determine whether an assessment made by City Assessor J. Allyn Scott should stand. The court confirmed the assessment.

Under the classification of "money and credits," City Assessor Scott placed an assessment of $35,000 against the Royal Mineral association in 1913. The assessment was protested and when it became delinquent in 1914, the company filed an answer in the personal property tax proceedings to enforce its collection.

Of the $35,000 assessed against the corporation, $5,000 was for cash and $30,000 for credits. The assessor took the position that certain minimum royalties on iron ore due the Royal Mineral association under mining leases on Mesaba iron range properties were subject to assessment and taxation.

Royalties Not Credits.

At the trial of the case before Judge Cant last fall, the mining concern contended that minimum royalties were not "credits" within the meaning of the statute. On the other hand, the taxing authorities argued that minimum royalties due under mineral leases, because payable absolutely at quarterly payment dates, unless the lease should thereafter be cancelled were "credits" and were taxable as such within the meaning of the statute.

Under Chapter 285, Laws of 1911, money and credits are taxed at a flat rate of three mills on the dollar, or 30 cents on each hundred dollars. They are listed separately from other forms of personal property. As this is a comparatively low rate of taxation, it is expected and required that every owner of such property will make a full return of it to the assessor.

If an owner neglects or refuses to make a full return of this item to the assessor, it is the duty of the assessor under the law to make an arbitrary assessment against him, and then add 50 per cent to the assessment for such neglect or failure. This is not optional with the assessor. The penalty provision of the law is mandatory.

"Credits" as defined by the law on the statute books covers all book accounts, bills receivable, promissory notes, bonds, rents, annuities, land contracts and mortgages not recorded and all other claims or demands for money. No deduction is allowed for debts.

Charles E. Adams, special county counsel, appeared in court on behalf of the taxing authorities, and Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell represented the Royal Mineral association. The mining concern is a holding corporation for the interests of M. H. Alworth and associates.

FRENCH TROOPS ON PENINSULA

Paris, May 20.—French troops have been landed at Seddul Bahr at the southern tip of the Gallipoli peninsula and on the European side of the Dardanelles, and are now fighting around the Turkish positions at Kritha, according to a dispatch received by the Grecian newspaper Messager d'Athens from Mudros, Lemnos island. This information was received today by the Havas News agency from Athens.

The French troops are being supported by the French fleet, which is stationed in the bay.

The British forces which debarked at Gaba Tepe are directing their action toward Krithia with the object of surrounding the Turks.

The attack on the fortified positions at Chibaba continues. The battle front at the latter point is three and one-half miles in width.

NO EXPERT THIS YEAR

Farrell Would Save $3,000 on Public Works Payroll.

Commissioner of Works Farrell will not hire an expert concrete engineer this year, because of the heavy expense it would involve.

The commissioner said this morning that he will do most of the work himself and will divide the remainder among his engineers, so that from $2,500 to $3,000 can be saved to the city. If it is found necessary to employ a concrete expert, he will arrange to do so in 1916, he said.

"We want to keep our expenses down as much as possible," said Mr. Farrell, "and our department can't afford to spend $3,000 for an expert this year. I would very much like to have an engineer, who is an expert on concrete pavements, but I guess we will be able to do the work this summer. And if we can get along all right, we won't hire an additional man at all."

When Commissioner Farrell took office a month ago, he announced that he would obtain a concrete expert to supervise the construction of all the concrete pavements in the city. He received applications from engineers throughout the country, but he has finally decided not to employ one this year.

The one person in the city to whom your Herald want ad should appeal is doubtless "reading the papers" these days.

WILL ASSIST IN CITY SUIT

F. W. Sullivan Will Help Collect Paving Assessment Against Street Railway.

City Makes Ready for Hard Fight in Test Case.

Francis W. Sullivan has been engaged by the city to assist City Attorney Greene in presenting the municipality's argument in the East Fourth street paving case brought against the Duluth Street Railway company.

Mayor Prince announced the appointment this morning and Mr. Sullivan will begin at once in preparing the case. The trial is expected to take place during the June term of the district court.

In this suit the city will attempt to establish the municipality's right in assessing the street railway company for a share of the cost of laying pavements in streets where the company's tracks are located. It is a test case, agreed upon by city officials and officers of the street car company, so that the question may be settled for the remaining years of the life of the franchise, which expires in 1931.

Compromise With Taxpayers.

Shortly after the East Fourth street pavement was completed, the property owners protested against paying the entire assessment, claiming that the street car company should bear a portion of the cost. A petition was circulated and enough money subscribed by the owners to start a suit against the railway company. The city, fearing the possibility of the paving assessments remaining unpaid for several years, agreed to accept two-thirds of the assessment made against each property owner and then bring suit against the company for the remaining one-third.

After the agreement was made with the owners, the city began its suit to test the franchise of the company and as a result the paving case was held up. However, immediately after the court ruled that the company's franchise does not expire until 1931, the council agreed to bring suit at once.

Decision Broad.

The decision in the East Fourth street pavement will affect the entire city, and will have a bearing on pavements planned for East Superior street, Second street, Grand avenue and New Duluth.

Mr. Sullivan will receive $500 for his services, he having agreed to assist during the present trial and in an appeal before the supreme court, should the street car company bring the matter before the higher tribunal. He also assisted the city during the franchise suit last year.

INTEREST IN HEARING LAGS

Public Not So Keen to Follow Equity Exchange Case.

More Evidence as to Concern's Dealing With Patrons.

Fargo, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A lack of interest in the Equity Co-operative Exchange case was evident when the court opened today.

Many of the stockholders and sympathizers of the exchange, who have been so much in evidence during the past two days, were absent and only a mere handful filed into their seats when the hearing was resumed.

The forenoon proceedings were characterized by their monotony. The attorneys were on their good behavior and, barring a short interchange between Manahan and Engerud, which necessitated a sharp call to order by the court, there was no diversion from the affidavit reading.

Some of the early time was spent in getting the affidavits relating to the same thing grouped and other numbered for easier reference to facilitate the hearing.

During the forenoon, affidavits of G. L. Meine of Minneapolis, J. A. Morrow and W. A. Godstetter of Donnybrook, N. D., E. S. Hughes of Minneapolis, James Tierney of Oriska, Charles S. Yaley, H. H. Westle of Plaza, and others were read and those of Messrs. Simmons, Welter, Johnson, Palmer and others were mentioned as containing corroborative evidence along certain lines, and some excerpts were either read or used in reference and may be brought out more fully later.

Meine's affidavit was to the effect that he had been a representative of R. J. Johnson & Co. of Minneapolis and was later buying wheat on his own account from the Equity Co-operative exchange, and selling it to the Chamber of Commerce at Minneapolis through the Johnson company. He did most of his business direct with Nels Enge, a representative of the Equity exchange, and traded in wheat, barley and corn.

Details Transactions.

He detailed at considerable length his transactions, and said on a few cars he made little or no profit. On the majority he sold through the Johnson company at a considerable advance over the prices paid the Equity exchange and in that manner made considerable money. He stated in his affidavit that his dealings with the exchange were because he found he could make more money and get wheat that had been consigned to them by shippers at a lower price than from any other source. He always sold on samples. The prices he secured for grain shipped by farmers of North Dakota to the Equity exchange could have as easily been secured by the farmers direct without the payment of a commission, and the profits he made were net losses to shippers in addition to the commission the shippers had to pay the Equity concern. The tenor of the other affidavits was to show sales reported by the Equity at less than the market quotations, a discrepancy of 12 cents being alleged by one maker of an affidavit. His car was sold at $1.14¾ and reported at $1.02¾. Managers of farmers' elevators reported the failure of the Equity exchange to hedge on orders as wired by shippers and many other points were brought out during the forenoon hearing.

There seems little possibility of any immediate termination of the case and it may take the state some days to introduce all its affidavits at the slow progress now being made.

"ENIGMA OF THE ELUSIVE PAY CHECK, OR WHO GETS THE $150?"

Being a Motion Picture Drama in Three Reels, Showing Stirring, Scintillating, Sensational Salary Scramble; "Give It to Cutting" the Solution.

"The Enigma of the Elusive Pay Check, or Who Will Get the $150?" might be the title of a three-reel comedy-drama that is being staged at the city hall in the Smallwood-Windom contest over the salary of the municipal judge from April 13 to May 3.

"Give it to Judge Cutting," was one suggestion offered City Attorney Henry F. Greene this morning. "Judge Cutting held court on both benches during the time mandamus proceedings were being held, and did the work of both judges," continued the suggester, "why shouldn't he get the $150?"

The city attorney, however, has ruled that Judge Smallwood was judge between April 13 and May 3 and that he may draw the $150—unless the supreme court rules that Judge Windom is entitled to the office.

For the benefit of "movie" fans, the sketch might be interpreted in scenario form, thus setting forth the salient features of the thrilling playlet to much better advantage.

Reel I. Scene showing city treasurer's office. Enter Judge Windom, co-hero. He presents an order and is given $150 of the city's money. Saying "Possession is nine points of the law," he departs, tucking away the $150. Cut in with scene showing judge salting money in bank or investing it in chickens for his Fond du Lac farm.

Reel II. Same scene. Enter from deep center Treasurer Voss: "Give the money to Smallwood. He was judge from April 13 to May 3 and should get $150. The city will be out an extra $150 if he wants to start mandamus proceedings against the city clerk, unless we can get the money we paid Judge Windom out of Clerk Ross' bond."

Enter from left center City Attorney Greene: "It's Smallwood's $150," says the C. A. "We should not have paid Windom. But how to get it back. That's the question."

Reel III. Scene shifts to reporters' room of Morning Scream. Time—2:30 a. m. Enter Scoop, black hat atilt.

"Hold the press! I want two columns —must be front page."

For a few minutes the scene is one of chaos, but as the smoke clears away Scoop is seen pounding away on his typewriter, hat still a-tilt, and pipe in full blast.

"Can it be true?" say wondering reporters, whispering among themselves and looking on in awe. "Nothin' to it," replies the indefatigable Scoop.

Finale shows front page of Scream, proclaiming to the citizens that the $150 is safe, or not safe, and that Smallwood can draw his salary, or that he can't, as the case may be. Beside it, stories on Italy's war decision and the new English cabinet pale into comparative insignificance.

Author's note: This is a comedy-drama for two reasons. The comedy is obvious, while anything concerning $150 is dramatic during war times.

TRANSYLVANIA TAKEN OVER BY GOVERNMENT

New York, May 20.—It was announced at the Cunard line office today that the Anchor line steamship Transylvania, which arrived in Glasgow from New York on Sunday last, had been requisitioned by the British government. Her sailings have accordingly been canceled. She was due to leave Glasgow next Saturday for New York.

The withdrawal of the Transylvania leaves in the trans-Atlantic passenger service of the Cunard and Anchor lines only the steamships Orduna and Tuscania.

HOMECROFTERS BUSY TRYING TO OFFSET DAMAGE DONE BY FROST

Growing Fruit and Hardy Plants Not Affected—Second Planting of Many Kinds of Vegetables Should Now Be Made—The Garden Calendar.

Mr. Gardener, now is the time to see that all hardy varieties are planted.

Next week, make another sowing of peas, carrots, spinach and Swiss chard.

Plant a few gladioli bulbs as soon as the ground warms up a bit. They make excellent cut flowers in early autumn. The bulbs are cheap this year.

Remember that thorough cultivation should be given all vegetables, fruits and flowers, if the best results are to be obtained.

A few radish seeds scattered with onion or other slow growing seed will mark the rows so that cultivation may begin even before the plants are up.

Now is the time to plant a few nasturtiums California poppies, petunias or other annuals.

Peppers and egg plants should not be planted outside until the first or second week in June.

Although delayed spring frosts have played havoc with growing vegetation in the Wisconsin fruit belt and in other parts of the Northwest, Duluth homecrofters probably escaped with less damage than did gardeners in other localities, and in most cases the damage is not irreparable. Where plants were destroyed, it is not too late to begin again.

The frosts of Sunday and Monday nights did appreciable damage to be sure, but it is not believed that it was severe enough to kill growing fruit or berries. Raspberries were probably affected somewhat and it is likely the yield of currants will be affected to some extent. The currant yield promised to be one of the heaviest in years.

The prudent gardener lost nothing because of the frost. He has been and is now waiting for settled weather before planting anything but the hardier vegetables. Homecrofters who set out tomato plants last week have learned their mistake.

Destroys Foliage.

The frost of the last week destroyed the foliage on all levels. In some parts of the city it was more severe than in others. In the Woodland district it was particularly severe. Lilac bushes and the foliage on young poplars and maples did not escape. The high bush cranberry, a native shrub and known to be hardy, was also affected.

There is little for the gardener to do except to make preparations for planting when the ground warms up and settled weather comes. It is useless to expect seeds or bulbs to germinate in cold, moist earth. They will decay, instead.

Onions, carrots, beets, lettuce, radishes, parsley, smooth-seeded peas, etc., may be planted at any time now. In fact, all garden truck except wrinkled-seeded peas, beans, cucumbers and sweet corn ought to be planted at once. The beans, cucumbers, wrinkled-seeded peas and sweet corn should wait for settled weather.

In the flower garden, the hardier plants, such as the bachelor buttons, nasturtiums, calendulas, candytufts, etc., should be planted at once. Other annuals, such as the phlox, for instance, should wait for settled and warmer weather.

During the first week in June, bedding plants, such as geraniums, vincas, daisies, verbenas, etc., may be set out with safety. These should not be planted before the ground has had an opportunity to warm up.

BRAINERD ADOPTS COLLECTION BUREAU

Brainerd, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the chamber of commerce meeting of retail merchants and professional men, I. B. Sherwood of Austin explained the collection system employed by the Business Men's association of that city in the collection of delinquent accounts. About twenty business men of Brainerd have signed to inaugurate the system in Brainerd, and Mr. Sherwood is securing further support in the project. One of the business men will be elected secretary of the organization.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR WILL BE IN CHARGE

J. R. Batchelor Will Conduct Program Outlined By T. S. Settle.

John R. Batchelor, physical director of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., will have charge of the summer recreational program as outlined by T. S. Settle, field secretary of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, who recently completed a survey of the city. He will begin his work on July 1.

If the program works out successfully this summer, then the all-year plan will be started as outlined by Mr. Settle. The board of education yesterday turned over $800 to the city welfare department and Mayor Prince has arranged to appropriate a similar amount as the city's share.

"The city will devote all its recreational funds this summer to the experiment," said Mayor Prince. "We will make no separate appropriation. Money that in winter goes for social center and other recreational work will be diverted to the Settle plan, providing $1,600 for its trial.

"The future plan in recreational work, of course, will depend on the outcome of the test. It is generally expected that the results this summer will justify the continued employment of a general recreation director indefinitely by the board of education and the city."

The mayor will be assisted by the committee on schools of the board of education, the members consisting of Mrs. T. J. Davis, Dr. D. E. Seashore, J. R. McGiffert and R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of schools. The playgrounds at Chester park, Harrison's park at Thirtieth avenue west and the public grounds at Fifty-second avenue west will be included in carrying out the summer program. Mr. Batchelor will give up his duties at the Y. M. C. A. on June 1 and will receive $150 a month as general recreation director.

RED RIVER PIONEERS PLANNING BIG PICNIC

Old Settlers' Association Will Have Outing at New Dam June 4.

Crookston, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Plans are completed for the annual picnic of the Red River Valley Old Settlers' association by the committee on arrangements, N. S. Davies, Elias Steenerson and Charles E. Kiewel.

The picnic will be held on the shores of the lake at the new dam on Friday, June 4. The old settlers will assemble at the picnic grounds at 10 o'clock and enjoy an old-fashioned picnic dinner at noon, after which speeches will be followed by old-time sports.

The speakers will include United States Senator Clapp, Congressman Steenerson and A. D. Stephens, with reminiscences by James J. Elton and James Twamley of Grand Forks; John Scott of Gilby; W. C. Nash of East Grand Forks; Judge William Watts of Crookston; Gomer Evans of Angus; Col. S. S. Stadsvold of Fosston; Mayor Jenson of McIntosh and other pioneers.

Committees in Charge.

Committees in charge of the affair were named as follows: Grounds, Ed Peterson; refreshments, A. F. Rausch; music, O. W. Peterson; sports, Walter Stone; automobiles, County Attorney G. A. Youngquist; reception, Judge William Watts, O. O. Christianson, John Carter, O. H. Richardson, O. H. Bjoin, B. H. Huggard, O. K. Berget, S. L. Collins, E. E. Lommen, B. Dufault, J. O. Sauve.

All of the old settlers will bring a lunch basket ample for themselves and perhaps a guest. Coffee will be furnished free to all, together with a barrel of lemonade, and for the guests from a distance ample provision will be made by the committee on refreshments.

Among the amusement features the old-time sport program will be of special interest, and an opportunity will be provided to demonstrate just how limber some of the old joints are on that date.

WEST END

CLASS WILL TAKE FIRST COMMUNION

Fifty-Five Young Folk Will Join the Mission Church.

The largest class of young people ever confirmed at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will take their first communion next Sunday. The class has a total membership of fifty-five of which twenty-seven are boys and twenty-eight girls.

The confirmation ceremony will take place at 10 o'clock. Communion will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and in the evening a special sermon on "Our Opportunities," will be preached by Rev. J. J. Daniels, pastor of the church. The following are the young people who will be confirmed: Mildred Anderson, Violet Anderson, Hazel Bergquist, Myrtle Berne, Myrtle Blomstrand, Hildur Bodin, Evelyn Broman, Olga Broman, Marie Carlsen, Amy Erickson, Agnes Erickson, Esther Erickson, Helen Erickson, Ruth Erickson, Hazel Hall, Alice Hurtig, Lillian Johnson, Olga Larson, Nina Nordstrom, Esther Noren, Jennie Olson, Olive Rustad, Ebba Strandberg, Alice Tenblade, Elvira Turnquist, Lillie Turnquist, Millie Turnquist, Anna Westling, Walter Anderson, Herbert Beckman, Thore Boren, Walter Broman, Arthur Carlson, Clarence Carlson, Theodore Edstrom, Philip Eklund, Harry Ekroth, Clarence Fredrickson, Fred Hagaberg, Albert Jacobson, Leslie Johnson, Cyril Johnson, Berger Larson, Gotfred Larson, Carl Nelson, Elmer Nelson, Lloyd Nyberg, William Nylund, Carl Olson, Ruben Olson, Emil Peterson, Ossian Sholund, Edwin Wahl, Melvin Wahl, Walter Wieberg.

WEST END BUILDERS

JOHN OLSON.

When John Olson, 21 North Twenty-first avenue west, was requested to give his opinion as to who was the most popular man in the West end, he looked up and smiled.

"Olson," he said.

"What Olson?" he was asked.

"Olson," he responded again. "It may apply to any of them. There are more Olsons in the West end than any others. That's sufficient to guarantee his popularity."

John Olson has been a booster in the West end for the last five years. "The West end looks better to me every day I am here," he said.

Swedish Tourist Here.

Rev. John Wahlberg of Sweden, who is touring the United States in the interest of the Baptists of Sweden, will be in the West end on Sunday, a guest of Rev. Swaney Nelson, 2212 West Third street. Rev. Mr. Wahlberg will speak Sunday evening at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street.

WEDDING SETS NEW ATTENDANCE RECORD

Julia Bergquist and Tenny F. Seline United in Marriage.

One of the prettiest and probably the most largely attended weddings ever held in the West end occurred last evening at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, when Miss Julia A. Bergquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bergquist, 2030 London road, became the bride of Tenny F. Seline. Fully 600 people were present.

Rev. Swancy Nelson, pastor of the church, conducted the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mildred Bergquist, and Miss Emma Lindstrom of Cambridge, Minn. The groomsmen were the groom's brother, B. Seline, and George Semingson of Thief River Falls. Little Miss Agnes Shore was ring bearer and Laura Bergquist, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Prof. N. E. Erickson and Erhart Palin. The ceremony took place at 8:15 o'clock sharp. Following the reading of the ceremony by the pastor, a reception was held, after which a short program of congratulatory addresses followed. The talks were given by Rev. K. A. Lundin, former pastor of the church; Rev. Carl E. Oberg, city missionary for the Baptists; Charles Persons and O. J. Paline, an uncle of the bride.

The bride wore a white chiffon and bridal veil and carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley and roses. The church auditorium was decorated with palms and roses. In the church basement, where supper was served to more than 300 guests, the decorations were of blue streamers and white and red carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Seline left on a late train last evening for the Twin Cities. Before returning to Duluth they will visit relatives on the range as well as the southern part of the state. They will make their home on Piedmont avenue near Twentieth avenue west.

To Attend Engineers' Meet.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Laubach, 2201 West Third street, left yesterday afternoon for Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Laubach, as delegate of the local order of engineers, will attend the national convention of the body. Following the convention Mr. and Mrs. Laubach will visit relatives in Toronto, Detroit and other Eastern points. They expect to be gone about a month.

TO AID IN INITIATION.

Old Hickory Camp Will Send Delegation to Virginia.

Old Hickory camp, No. 1555, Modern Woodmen, will send its officers and degree team to Virginia next Saturday evening to participate in an initiation and exhibition drill.

The local Woodmen will leave Duluth Saturday afternoon, arriving in the range city in time for the entertainment in the evening. A banquet will be given by the Virginia lodge in honor of the visitors.

The entire degree team of eighteen members, under the direction of Capt. C. C. Salter, and seven officers of Old Hickory camp, will make the trip to Virginia.

West End Briefs.

The choir of St. Paul's English Lutheran church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, entertained last evening at its annual sacred concert. It was attended by a big audience.

The Young Ladies' Aid Society of the First Swedish Baptist church will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Gust Jacobson, 929 Garfield avenue.

John Skagen, a theological student from the Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill., is a guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Ofstie, 2113 West Third street.

Rev. H. A. Ofstie, pastor of the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church, will leave Monday for Grand Forks, N. D., where he will attend the annual conference of the Red River Valley district of the Norwegian Danish M. E. church.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church will speak this evening on "Why I Am a Protestant."

HOUGHTON MEETING TO PETITION FERRIS

Hall Crowded By Copper Country Mothers to Appeal to Governor.

Houghton, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—One hall was not big enough for the meeting of the Houghton County Mothers here, called yesterday afternoon to prepare a petition to Governor Ferris to pardon Deputies Groff, Polkinghorne, Davis and Cooper, now serving terms in Marquette prison for killing two strikers at Seebersville during the copper strike. Overflow meetings were held in other halls, women from all over the district being present. Mothers from every town volunteered to circulate petitions. The signatures of mothers only will be asked. A retrial of the deputies' case was denied by the supreme court.

Family Finances

Women direct the spending of nearly all the family income. Important it is, therefore, that the housewife utilize the best methods of disbursing that income—the "pay-by-check" method.

Women who make all their payments by check KNOW DEFINITELY where and for what the money goes, keeping a brake on expenditures by spending thoughtfully.

Hundreds of Duluth housewives have found a checking account in this Bank a means of economizing the family finances. You are invited to test this method.

I Used Peruna. Am all Right Now. I owe my Health to Peruna.

A friend Advised Peruna For my Chronic Disease. Peruna Cured me

Mrs. Anna Linder, R. F. D. 5, Dassel, Meeker Co., Minn., writes: "For two years I suffered with that terrible disease, chronic catarrh.

"Fortunately, I saw your advertisement in my paper. I got your advice, and I took Peruna. Now I am well and the mother of two children. I owe it all to Peruna.

"I cannot express my thanks for the good your medicine has done me and my family. This spring I took cold and it settled in my kidneys. I took Peruna and in a few days I was all right."

Mrs. Maggie Durbin, 209 Victory St., Little Rock, Ark., writes: "I was troubled for five years with a chronic disease. I tried everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Some doctors said my trouble was catarrh of the bowels, and some said consumption of the bowels. One doctor said he could cure me; I took his medicine two months, but it did me no good. A friend of mine advised me to try Peruna and I did so. After I had taken two bottles I found it was helping me, so I continued its use until I am sound and well.

Fine men and women all over this country are glad to testify to the merits of Peruna as a household remedy. Peruna is the leader as a catarrh medicine. For coughs and colds Peruna has no superior. It is also extensively used as a grip remedy.

FRENCH OPEN CREDIT TO PAY FOR DACIA'S CARGO

Paris, May 20.—A law was promulgated yesterday according to the Temps, opening a credit for the payment of the cargo of the steamship Dacia, formerly of the Hamburg-American line, but later under American register, which was seized by a French warship on Feb. 27. The cargo of cotton, however, was not confiscated, owing to an agreement existing between the French and British naval authorities.

"The law proposes," says the Temps, "that the value of the cargo be reimbursed to the American owners, who demand 3,820,756 francs ($764,151). Whether this amount or a lesser sum will be paid, will be determined by a committee of assessors who will use the cotton market at Rotterdam as a basis of calculations. It was to this port that the vessel was bound. The cargo will then be the property of the French government which will be able to either dispose of it at the most advantageous price or keep it for the needs of France."

Wisconsin Homeopaths Elect.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—Dr. S. W. Murphy of Kenosha, was elected president of the Homeopathic Medical Society of Wisconsin at the annual meeting held here yesterday. The other officers chosen are: Dr. J. E. Guy, Milwaukee, vice president; Dr. M. M. Hopkins, Oconto, secretary; Dr. F. E. Brown, Milwaukee, treasurer.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name, and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Answer: Your nerve cells and tissue cells have not been receiving proper nutrition from the blood. Practice regular habits of living and take three grain cadomene tablets to invigorate the system. They should soon improve your condition.

"Mary" writes: "Please tell me what I can do to get rid of this tired feeling. My mother says my blood is in bad condition."

Answer: If you have bad blood, you need a good system cleanser, blood purifier and tonic. Such you will find in three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). Constipation, headache, dark, sallow skin, coated tongue, nervousness and sleeplessness and a tired out feeling are symptoms of impure blood.

"W. C. L." asks: "Will you please tell me what to take for kidney trouble? I have constant headache, chills and fever. My feet swell and my complexion is terribly muddy looking, and I have sacks under my eyes. I have pains in my back all the time. I am afraid of Bright's disease."

Answer: Be careful not to take cold. Get a tube of "balmwort" tablets at once, and take according to directions. These are the best you can take to benefit your condition, and continued treatment should result in permanent relief.

"Mr. R. R." writes: "Two years ago your prescription reduced my weight 15 pounds. I have forgotten the name of the tablets you had me use. Please let me know what they were."

Answer: I have always recommended five-grain arbolone tablets to reduce weight. Sold by druggists in sealed tubes with full directions.

"Ill" writes: "How may I regain my strength? Have been ill for six months, but am well again now, only that I'm so weak and thin. I should weigh forty-five pounds more."

Answer: You will find just the proper tonic and flesh producer you require by using regularly three-grain hyponuclane tablets. They build up strength, health and flesh. I have prescribed them many times and they are highly recommended.

"Grey" writes: "My hair is coming out. I have dandruff and itching scalp. What may I do to overcome this condition?"

Answer: I always recommend the use of plain yellow minyol to restore the scalp to healthful condition and overcome dandruff and falling hair. Minyol contains no alcohol to dry the hair and make it brittle. It is the best hair and scalp tonic I know of.

"Niagara" writes: "My mind seems to be getting weak as a result of the impoverished condition of my blood, and my whole system seems to be losing strength fast. Please suggest something I may take to relieve this depressed condition, and restore to my system new life and energy and ambition. I feel twenty years older than I am. Up to a few months ago, I hardly knew what it was to feel sick."

ASK AID FOR LEO M. FRANK

Duluthians Requested to Send Letters Appealing for Clemency.

Life of Prisoner Rests With Governor and Board of Pardon.

Men and women of Duluth are asked to intercede in behalf of Leo M. Frank, Atlanta factory superintendent, who is sentenced to hang on June 22 for the murder of Mary Phagan, a 15-year-old factory girl, on April 26, 1913.

Only executive clemency will save the prisoner from death and in an appeal to the men and women of Duluth, officers of Covenant lodge, B'nai B'rith, ask that letters be sent to Governor John M. Slaton or the board of pardon commissioners of Georgia, petitioning them to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. Official action may be taken by the city council at its meeting next Monday evening, it was announced today.

Similar action is being taken throughout the nation and prominent men and women everywhere are appealing to the Georgia officials, among those who have already written being United States Senators Borah, Thomas, Newlands and Reed, Governors Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania, Ferris of Michigan, Hall of Louisiana and Mayor Rolph of San Francisco. Others who have written are Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France; Philander C. Knox, former secretary of state, and F. I. Delano of the Federal reserve board. News dispatches state that Governor Slaton has already received 100,000 letters from men and women all over the nation.

Those, who are interested in Frank's case and who feel that his guilt has never been established, are asked to write to the Georgia officials at once.

The following statement has been prepared for those not fully acquainted with the facts in the Frank case:

"Leo M. Frank is to be hanged on June 22 at Atlanta, Ga. The only hope left for him is the exercise of executive clemency. An application to that end has been made to the board of prison commissioners and to Governor John M. Slaton at Atlanta, Ga.

"The judge before whom Frank was tried publicly stated in denying a motion for a new trial that he was not satisfied as to his guilt. The supreme court of Georgia, in denying the motion for a new trial, was not unanimous, two very able judges dissenting. Two justices of the supreme court of the United States also dissented from the decision of that court denying a writ of habeas corpus.

"Under the laws of the state of Georgia only questions of law arising on ruling during the course of a trial can be reviewed in a criminal case. No court of appellate jurisdiction has passed upon the facts in the case."

ENGINEERS WILL BE GUESTS HERE

Electrical and Mechanical Branches to Meet in June.

Members of the state branches of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, with ladies, will be in Duluth, June 11 and 12 for a joint meeting of the organizations, according to J. B. Crane secretary of a local committee, arranging the meeting. About 100 persons are expected to attend.

Both societies hold regular meetings in the Twin Cities and are members of their respective national organizations. Leo Cooper of Minneapolis is president of the electrical engineers and Max Toltz of St. Paul heads the mechanical experts.

During their visit in Duluth the party will be taken on a boat trip around the harbor; they will inspect the docks and the steel plant, winding up the trip with a banquet at the Commercial club.

The local committee consists of: T. W. Hugo, chairman; J. B. Crane, secretary; W. N. Ryerson, F. M. Fuller, S. S. Rumsey, C. C. Ferguson, F. E. Boyd, G. C. Olmstead and J. R. McGiffert.

DEEP WATERWAY BILL GETS START IN ILLINOIS

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—Governor Dunne's $5,000,000 deep waterway bill, which would provide for a continuous water route between the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico, won its first victory in the legislature yesterday when all efforts to invalidate it by added amendments were voted down. The measure, which provides for the construction of an eight-foot channel connecting the Chicago drainage canal and the Illinois river, will come up for final action in the house next Tuesday.

In advocating the waterway plan before a joint session of the legislature, United States Senator J. Hamilton Lewis said it was his idea that in the event that the United States ever became involved in an international war, which might make it expedient to remove the national capitol from Washington to an inland point, which undoubtedly would be Chicago, such a waterway would prove of the greatest value. He said that it could be used in the transportation of munitions of war in the same manner that the European waterways now are being used.

ADDICKS SENT TO JAIL IN DEFAULT OF PAYMENT

New York, May 20.—J. Edward Addicks, former millionaire financier and once a political power in Delaware, was sent to the Ludlow street jail yesterday, in default of a payment of $15,472, due on a judgment in supplementary proceedings instituted by Hiram M. Burton, the creditor. Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum signed the order when Addicks asserted that after several days' effort he had been unable to raise the money.

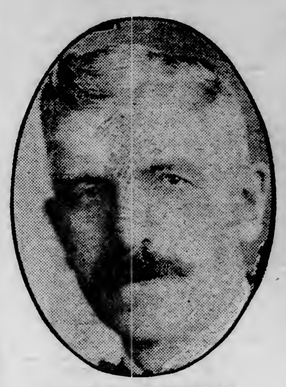
Addicks was arrested here several days ago and has been in the custody of the sheriff, although allowed considerable liberty since his arrest. He is 74 years old.

FINAL ORDER FOR SPEEDERS.

Violations of Law to Be Punished, Says Safety Head.

Commissioner Silberstein issued his final order yesterday to automobile speeders. He declared that no more warnings will be given to motorists, who insist on speeding through the business streets and that further violations will result in arrests. Instructions have been issued to all patrolmen to see that automobiles do not go faster than ten miles an hour in the business district and fifteen miles an hour in the residence districts.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR THE OFFICE OF HUMANE AGENT



CAPT. D. E. STEVENS.

JOHN G. ROSS.

Although it is probable that no selection will be made by directors of the Duluth Humane society to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. D. McKercher, humane agent, until the first week in June, the various candidates for the place are now being carefully considered.

Among those who have been mentioned for the place are Capt. D. E. Stevens, former deputy sheriff, and John G. Ross, former clerk of the municipal court. It is understood that both have made application for the position.

Other candidates who have placed their applications with the executive committee are Edward Stevens, Henry Teslaw, Edward Totman and Edward Slocum.

IS MULE A HORSE? SUPREME COURT OF STATE HAS HARD NUT TO CRACK

Captors of "Mule" Thief Denied Reward Offered for Conviction of "Horse" Thief; Steele County Court Decides "Mule" Is Not "Horse;" Webster Gives "Half" Solution of Problem

Is a mule a horse, half horse, or just a plain, everyday mewel?

The state supreme court, aided by Judge John C. Nethaway, assistant attorney general, and Former State Senator John Moonan of Waseca, is going to decide.

One George Thomas Greer stole a team of mules in Steele county, C. J. Ost, Bernhard Fisher, Thomas Courtney, T. Madden, A. Madden and others caught him Feb. 8. Greer went to the state reformatory in due time, and his captors claimed the $200 reward which the state offers for the conviction of anyone charged with horse stealing in Minnesota.

Is a mule a horse?

The Steele county court said "no." George Thomas Greer stole mules, not horses, they said, and he was sentenced for stealing mules. Horses had nothing to do with the case.

George Thomas Greer stole two mules, say the reward seekers. A mule is 50 per cent horse. Had he stolen one horse he would have stolen half a mule. But he stole two mules, 50 per cent horse each, and therefore he stole a horse.

Noah Webster says:

"Mule. A hybrid between the horse and the ass; especially the offspring between a male ass and a mare. Mules have the large head, long ears and small hoofs of the ass, with the form and size of a horse."

It is up to the supreme court.

WANT EQUAL FIRE RATES

Duluth Retail Grocers' Association Will Attempt to Get Regulation.

George M. Peterson Indorsed for Secretary of State Association.

In order that a concentrated effort may be made to equalize fire insurance rates of grocery stocks in Duluth, the Duluth Retail Grocers' association, at its meeting last night at Foresters' hall, instructed its secretary, George M. Peterson, to investigate rates levied here with a view to getting at the minimum rate paid on stocks, which will be used as a basis on which to figure with the insurance companies for equalization. This matter has been up before the association for some time, and at the meeting a month ago the first steps toward the result were taken, but last night the matter was put in the hands of the secretary.

The association also, last night, indorsed Secretary Peterson for secretary of the state association. The present incumbent of that office has been elected secretary of the national body and his successor will be chosen by the directors of the state association at a meeting to be held in St. Paul early next month.

Against Trading Stamps.

The matter of trading stamps, coupons and other means, outside of the regular channels, of attracting trade, came up for discussion, and although no official action was taken, the various members of the association present expressed themselves against such inducements.

To A. M. McEwen was referred the matter of making arrangements for the annual picnic. Mr. McEwen will look over locations for the affair, and as his place of business is on Duluth Heights, close to the official residence of Weather Forecaster H. W. Richardson, Mr. McEwen is expected also to make arrangements for the proper kind of weather and escape, if possible, the usual rain.

Of late a good many fraudulent checks have been passed on grocers of the city, in payment of purchases, and grocers were urged to be on the lookout for more of them and to investigate well before accepting checks about which they feel any doubt. Secretary Peterson has sent to each member of the association a copy of the law governing the uttering of fraudulent or worthless checks. The law is as follows:

Fraudulent Check Law.

"Any person who, with the intent to defraud, shall make or draw or utter or deliver any check, draft or order for the payment of money upon any bank or other depository, knowing at the time of such making, drawing, uttering or delivery that the maker or drawer has not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank or other depository, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisonment not more than one year, or both. The word 'credit' as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank or depository for the payment of such check, draft or order."

Tint Your Hair With "Brownatone"

Don't Be Deceived by So-Called "Restorers"—They Are Slow Acting Dyes and Nearly All of Them Positively Dangerous.

The safest road and the shortest cut to the certainty of an attractive and beautiful appearance is the use of "Brownatone" Hair Stain.

This preparation will instantly change gray, streaked or faded hair to the softest and richest golden, medium dark brown or black—just as you wish.

Just comb or brush it into your hair.

"Brownatone" will always give you the most pleasing results and you need have had no previous experience. Impossible of detection, will not rub or wash off—needs retouching only as the hair grows out.

So-called "Restorers" are slow in action and all depend upon some dangerous mineral stain, such as lead, sulphur, silver or other agent that is of a poisonous nature.

"Brownatone" is absolutely and positively harmless.

Sold by all up-to-date druggists, in two sizes, 25c and $1.00. If you are offered a substitute, save annoyance by refusing it and ordering "Brownatone" direct from the makers.

Insist on "Brownatone" at your hairdresser's.

A sample bottle, and interesting booklet will be mailed for 10c. No samples at dealers.

Address The Kenton Pharmacal Co., 527 Pike street, Covington, Ky.

STUDENTS SELECT 'HOMELIEST FUSSER'

Fate Frowns on William Harrison; Hazel Burnside Best Girl "Mixer."

When Central High school seniors tried to elect the "homeliest" boy "fusser" in the class yesterday afternoon, Fate stepped in and stuffed the ballot box, the result being that William Harrison was unanimously elected.

Amid roars of laughter, the seniors had just finished making nominations, when the door opened and "Bill" entered. Mental telepathy aided fate, even though "Bill" shouldn't have been elected the homeliest man because he isn't—that is—not so very.

Miss Hazel Burnside was voted the "best girl mixer." A tentative program for class night exercises was offered by L. C. Rasey, who is in charge.

BIG SHELL EXPLODES NEAR KAISER WILHELM

Geneva, via Paris, May 20.—The German emperor and his staff had a narrow escape on Sunday while watching the operations in a village near the River San in Galicia, according to a dispatch from Budapest received here by indirect route. A heavy shell burst 500 yards away from the emperor. It fell among some automobiles, destroying several machines, including the emperor's and killing his chauffeur. The emperor had left his car only fifteen minutes before.

As more Russian shells were falling in the neighborhood, the emperor and his staff left hastily in machines, which they commandeered.

YOUTHS FINALLY ADMIT THEIR GUILT

Change Minds Twice About Plea in Grand Larceny Case.

After changing their minds twice about their guilt, John Skot and Mike Spolaric, aged 19 and 20, respectively, came into Judge Dancer's division of the district court yesterday afternoon and confessed that the May grand jury had made no mistake in indicting them on a charge of having maliciously damaged the property of Alexander Sang.

Judge Dancer committed the young men to the county and city work farm for sixty days. They admitted that they had stripped the brass from a stationary engine located at Thirteenth avenue west and Second street. They were caught in the act, say the police.

When their cases were called for trial yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock they notified the county attorney's office that they were willing to plead guilty to the charge. They changed their minds later and decided to take their chances with a jury. Before a jury was drawn, however, they switched again and declared that they were ready to plead guilty.

Judge Dancer received the pleas, after the boys had assured the court that they had finally made up their minds in the matter.

BARAGA MAN VICTIM OF KEROSENE HABIT

Calumet, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Albert Cosgrove, aged 40, a prominent citizen of Baraga, died yesterday of burns sustained Tuesday when a can of kerosene oil with which he was kindling a fire exploded.

BAD COMPLICATION RESPONDS QUICKLY TO AKOZ TREATMENT

Mrs. Viken of Superior Checks Stomach Trouble and Painful Rheumatism

Mrs. T. O. Viken of 1205 Eighth street, Superior, who has a host of friends at the Head of the Lakes, after suffering three years with rheumtism and stomach trouble, found quick relief by using Akoz, the new California mineral rival of radium.

"I suffered for three years with gas on the stomach, rheumatism and other complications," said Mrs. Viken. "I have experienced much relief during the brief time I have taken the Akoz mineral water and am relieved of the distress of gas of the stomach after eating.

"My rheumatism is also better. The swellings are reduced and the pain relieved. My case was a very serious one. I took treatment in a sanatorium and tried the bake oven treatment, neither of which effected a cure. There seems to be wonderful activity in Akoz, in both the mineralized water and the compound. My circulation was stimulated to a very marked degree. The compound causes magnetic sensations. I shall continue the Akoz treatment, both internally and externally, as I believe it has great merits. I cheerfully recommend it to all."

Mrs. Viken is but one of the large number in Superior and vicinity who have found relief by using Akoz for their ailments. Akoz is not a patent medicine. It is a natural mineral that has proven very effective in the treatment for rheumatism, stomach, kidney and bladder trouble, piles, eczema, catarrh and other ailments.

Akoz is being introduced at the Lyceum pharmacy, Duluth, and other leading drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.

BORDER CITY GIRL WINS W. C. T. U. PRIZE

Miss Kursek of International Falls Captures Medal.

International Falls, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A two-day district convention of the W. C. T. U. closed here yesterday afternoon after a highly successful meeting.

Delegates from Gemmell, Mizpah, Northome, Margie, Cohasset, Littlefork and Rainier were in the city and two meetings were held Tuesday, one in the afternoon at the Baptist church and one in the evening at the Bethlehem church. In the evening the medal speaking contest occurred.

Miss Rosaline Kursek of this city was declared winner over one competitor from Northome and one from Blackduck. Miss Knrsek was presented with a silver medal and her victory entitles her to compete in the state contest for the gold medal. Clyde Parker of Littlefork, who had intended to compete for the medal arrived too late. Yesterday afternoon the convention met at the Methodist church for the third meeting. Miss Rosette Hendryx of Minneapolis, state president of the organization, spoke at all the meetings, rendering music also.

The delegates left for their homes last evening after enjoying the two-day stay in the city.

Courthouse Dedicated.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The splendid new courthouse, costing $360,000, considered the finest county building in the state, was dedicated this afternoon. Governor L. B. Hanna, Chief Justice C. J. Fisk, Tracy R. Bangs, Hans Georgeson of Niagara, N. D., and several others spoke. The ceremonies were attended by an immense crowd.

KAISER'S SYSTEM FOR IDENTIFYING HIS LOST SOLDIERS IS URGED FOR MISSING CHILDREN

Every Child Should Wear Metal Tag About Neck, Says Jailer Johnson at Police Station; Would Be Great Help to Mothers and Also to Police.

"Every baby should wear a metal tag about its neck—the same kind of a tag the soldiers in Europe are wearing."

So says Louis Johnson, jailer at police headquarters, and temporary father for every lost child who is brought to the station.

"Identification tags would save me from a lot of gray hairs," continued Louie, "but I suppose mothers would call me a hard-hearted wretch if I were to tell them of my plan.

"They tell me that when Kaiser Wilhelm loses a man, he can be identified in a minute by a little metal tag he wears around his neck.

"Now why wouldn't that be a great idea for babies?"

Growing more enthusiastic over the plan as he progressed in his discourse, the man with the keys continued:

"Just yesterday there was a little girl in here, crying as if her life depended upon it. Her face was all smudgy from her tears and dirty hands, and I don't believe her mother would have recognized her until she had a scrubbing.

"I tried for an hour to get her to talk, or to try and tell me something that would help me to find her mother, but she only bawled. It looked like a nursery around here, with two or three cops telling me to spank her and make her stop crying, and two or three more feeding her candy, with the same object in mind.

"Now if mothers would put tags on their children, giving their name or some clew for identification, life would be a good deal more of a long, sweet song around here.

"Of course a jailer has absolutely nothing to do but to feed candy to lost babies and jostle them on his knee," Louie added.

"If the tag system for Duluth youngsters was started, there would be fewer frantic mothers and fewer heart-broken babies at headquarters.

"It's a darn shame," he added as a parting shot, "that The Herald doesn't make some suggestions along this line, but—be sure and tell the mothers to telephone headquarters the first thing, if they do lose any children."

MANY HEAR COLLINS.

Anti-Socialistic Lecturer Speaks at International Falls.

International Falls, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter W. Collins of Boston, anti-Socialist lecturer, spoke in the city hall here Tuesday night under the auspices of the local Knights of Columbus. The lecture was well attended and Mr. Collins interested his audience every minute of the time. The meeting was thrown open to questions at the end of the lecture, but as no one cared to question the speaker, the meeting ended after Mr. Collins also furnished a little entertainment with comic stories and humor.

LITTLE PIMPLES ON CHILD'S FACE

Itched and Child Scratched. Could Not Leave Them Alone. Something Terrible. Used Cuticura. In a Month Child Was Healed.

Merle Beach, Mich.—"My little daughter was nearly two years old when she had little pimples come on her face. It was just a little red bunch when it first started. I think they must have itched for she would scratch them until they would get to be large sores, nearly as large as a ten-cent piece. It seemed as if the poor girl could not leave them alone; if we held her hands she would try to rub her face on something else. It was just terrible.

"I used most everything I could think of and everything anybody told me to use and nothing would help her. I decided to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment and before I had used them one week I could see they were healing. Before a month was up you would never know the child had ever had any sores on her face." (Signed) Mrs. Lewis White, June 22, 1914.

FOUR NEW RURAL ROUTES JUNE 16

Service for Districts in St. Louis County Will Be Established.

The postoffice department will establish four new rural routes in St. Louis county, according to information given out by Postmaster William E. McEwen of the Duluth office. June 16 has been set as the date for their establishment.

One will be from Lakewood to the Lester river road, and will take in Normanna township and Exeter farms, the second will go out of French River postoffice, another will go out of Embarrass postoffice and the fourth will be out of the Saginaw office and will take in the territory near Twig and Pike Lake.

It is announced that deliveries will be made three times weekly in the Lakewood district and daily in the Saginaw district. The schedule for deliveries in other districts has not yet been given out. Examinations for the position of carrier for any of these routes will be given at Virginia, June 12.

OKLAHOMA NEEDS THOUSANDS OF MEN

Postoffice Department Issues Call for 16,000 to 18,000 Harvest Hands.

The call to the harvest fields of the Southwest has now gone out and should meet with a hearty response from the unemployed at the Head of the Lakes. Postmaster W. E. McEwen received the following communication from the postoffice department at Washington this morning regarding the labor situation in Oklahoma:

"Sixteen thousand to 18,000 men will be needed this season for grain harvest. Wages will range from $2 to $3 per day and board. The department is informed that the vast majority of the farmers of Oklahoma who want harvest hands prefer English-speaking white men. For this reason persons other than English speaking white men who wish employment in the harvest fields of Oklahoma should first communicate with W. G. Ashton, commissioner of labor, Oklahoma City, Okla., to find out whether or not he can secure employment for them.

"It will be necessary for all persons desiring this harvest work to defray their own expenses to and from the place of employment.

"Harvest will begin in the southwestern part of Oklahoma about June 5, in the north central counties about June 8 and in the extreme northwestern parts of Oklahoma about June 12.

"Harvest hands proceeeding to the southwestern part of the state should report to the state labor distribution office in any of the following towns: Wichita Falls, Tex.; Clinton or Frederick, Okla. Those who desire to proceed to the northern or northwestern part of the state should report to the state labor distribution office at Enid, Carmen, Alva or Woodward, Okla. It is suggested that applicants report for specific directions to the state office in the town nearest the point from which they are traveling.

"C. L. Green, general inspector in charge of employment and distribution work, representing the United States department of labor, will be stationed during the harvest season at room 212, postoffice building, Kansas City, Mo. Employers and persons seeking employment may obtain detailed information concerning the harvest work by communicating directly with him. The services of Mr. Green and those in charge of the offices above referred to are free."

TREATMENT CAUSES DEATH OF PATIENT

Thief River Chiropractor Said to Have Been Too Strenuous.

Warren, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Rickman of Mavie, Minn., died at a local hospital early in the week after being brought here in a very pitiable condition. He suffered from paralysis and it is said sought treatment from a chiropractor at Thief River Falls, who is alleged to have stretched his neck until something snapped. His ante-mortem statement was given to the county attorney who immediately ordered that a post-mortem be held.

This showed that his collar bone was fractured, the sharp end penetrating an enlarged blood vessel in such a way that the chest and neck slowly filled with blood, gradually strangling the patient.

First Herb Postmaster Dies.

Karlstad, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Peter Johnson, pioneer resident of Lind township, and the first postmaster at Herb in the early Pelan days, died at his present home at Strathcona, Wednesday, at the age of 75 years.

CHURCH FREE FROM DEBT

The Pilgrim Congregational Trustees Will Burn Mortgage on Manse.

Celebration of Release From Financial Obligations on Friday Night.

Tomorrow night officials of Pilgrim Congregational church, Lake avenue and Second street, will burn a mortgage which will wipe out of memory all indebtedness against property held by the congregation; and the occasion will be made one of rejoicing and celebration.

The mortgage to be burned was held against the manse, which is at 1131 East First street, and is occupied by the pastor, Rev. C. N. Thorp and his family. The church itself was paid for a number of years ago and the only debt against the congregation was on the manse. Now that that debt has been wiped out, the congregation is free from its financial obligations.

The manse was purchased six years ago from the late W. H. Cole for $9,000, and the initial payment on it was made by the late Ward Ames. It was first occupied by the late Rev. Alexander Milne, then pastor. Since then the chief work of payment has been undertaken by the ladies' union of the church, which has raised the money almost entirely by its own efforts, aided occasionally by donations made by members of the congregation.

Supper and Program.

The celebration tomorrow night will begin at 6:30 with a supper served by the Congregational Ladies' union, and at 8 o'clock the program will begin. Addresses will be made by the pastor, Rev. C. N. Thorp; Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, former president of the ladies' union; Mrs. W. O. Falk, president of the ladies' union; H. W. Nichols, church treasurer; W. G. Hegardt, chairman of the finance committee; Albert Baldwin and W. A. MacMillan, deacons; and Judge W. A. Cant.

There will be vocal numbers by Mrs. Walter S. Adams and Mrs. O. J. Larson.

The mortgage will be burned by Oscar Mitchell, chairman of the board of trustees, assisted by Trustees Alex Anderson, A. W. Frick, W. N. Hart and W. G. Hegardt.

INCUBATOR EXPLODES; FARM HOME BURNS

Karlstad, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald).—The farm residence of Nels J. Sundberg, eight miles southeast of Karlstad, burned to the ground Wednesday afternoon. The fire was caused by the explosion of an incubator. Sundberg was outside playing ball at the time and did not notice the fire before it was too late to save anything. Small insurance was carried.

COPPER COUNTRY MINERS TO CELEBRATE BONUS

Calumet, Mich., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Employes of the Calumet & Hecla and associated mining companies, who will be given $500,000 June 12, by the employing companies because of the great boom in the copper producing world, making up for the depression of the past eight months with its accompanying reduction of wages, are preparing a big celebration here of appreciation. General Manager James MacNaughton of the Calumet & Hecla and other prominent mining men will be asked to participate. The Calumet & Hecla band has been engaged. There will be fireworks, an airship and other attractions. The entire district is rejoicing.

DULUTH CURLING CLUB

DULUTH KNIGHTS TEMPLAR WINS FIRST HONORS AT GRAND CONCLAVE

Awarded $100 Silk American Flag for Presenting Best Appearance Among 2,500 Uniformed Men; Jesse Norton Elected Deputy Commander of Grand Commandery.

JESSE NORTON,
Elected Deputy Grand Commander of Minnesota Commandery.

Because they presented the best appearance in the Minneapolis parade of Minnesota Knights Templars, in which 2,500 uniformed men marched, the company of 100 members of Duluth Commandery, No. 18, was awarded a $100 silk American flag. The Duluth Knights returned with their trophy last evening after attending the semi-centennial celebration of the Grand Commandery of Minnesota.

The street parade, in which thirty-one commanderies of the state were represented, took place at Minneapolis Tuesday evening. The line of march was inspected by three army officers who unanimously agreed that the Duluth Knights made the best showing in appearance, carriage and equipment.

Following the parade, a drill was held at the armory. This was followed by a banquet at which about 2,000 were served. A special program of speeches in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the grand commandery was held. T. W. Hugo of this city, past grand commander, was one of the speakers.

At the business session yesterday, Jesse Norton, a past commander of Duluth Commandery, No. 18, was honored by being elected to the office of deputy grand commander of the grand commandery. This is the second highest office in the order.

The Duluth Knights left for Minneapolis in a special train Tuesday. A. D. MacIntyre, commander, was in charge of the local party. The Duluth Knights, however, marched under the direction of Charles W. Wilson.

The newly organized Masonic Temple band of twenty-six pieces accompanied the Knights Templars to Minneapolis and proved to be one of the hits of the big parade. The Duluth musicians were under the direction of Charles Helmer.

FORMER DULUTH THEATER MAN NOW THE BEAU BRUMMEL OF NEW ORLEANS

Resident Manager of Crescent City Orpheum Gets Into Limelight as "Some" Dresser; Also Grows Fat and Rosy-Cheeked; Will Visit Zenith City During Summer.

ARTHUR B. WHITE.

Arthur B. White, former treasurer of the Duluth Orpheum and at present resident manager of the Orpheum theater in New Orleans, is establishing himself as the Beau Brummel of the Crescent City.

"Art" always was a fancy dresser while he resided in Duluth, but it is only since going to the Southern metropolis that he has developed an insatiable ambition to make the famous Berry Wall look like a back woodsman and classy Crawford Ellis hide for shame when it comes to being a prognosticator of style and fashion.

Latest reports from the city of the Mardi Gras state that "Art" has been getting stouter right along and that he is the most stylishly dressed man in the Southern port. Just what connection fat and clothes have, it is impossible to fathom, but "Art" has them both.

"Art" closed a successful season as manager of the Orpheum theater in New Orleans Saturday night and he may visit Duluth this summer. He always spends his vacations at Forest Lake, near the Twin Cities, and while in the state will probably come up here and visit his friends.

New Orleans newspapers gave him a great send-off last Sunday in announcing the close of the Orpheum season and his many Duluth friends will be pleased to learn of his success as a manager. The New Orleans item calls "Art" the "minister plenipotentiary of the theatrical powers of "America." That's some job, whatever it is.

STREET COMMITTEE OUTLINES WORK

New Commercial Club Improvement Organization Holds First Meeting.

The first meeting of the new street improvement committee of the Commercial club was held at the club yesterday. The general condition of Duluth streets was discussed and the course of the committee's work in some directions outlined.

Commissioner J. A. Farrell's recent statement on the proposed standardization of paving materials was considered briefly, but on account of lack of time no recommendations in regard to it were formulated. The committee decided to have a sufficient number of copies made to furnish one to each member, they to study it in the two weeks intervening before the next meeting and to make individual recommendations at that meeting. At a later date Commissioner Farrell will be requested to meet with the committee to discuss the subject.

Following yesterday's meeting, a letter offering co-operation and support to Mr. Farrell in all movements for the improvement of street conditions in Duluth was sent to the commissioner. Commissioner Murchison during his term of office made a practice of meeting frequently with the Commercial club committee and Commissioner Farrell, it is expected, will follow the same course.

MINNESOTA LEADS ALL.

Gets Most Carloads of Immigrants' Movables During April.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—Minnesota received 176 cars of immigrants' movables out of the 389 cars of this class handled in April at the Minnesota transfer. Fifty-six cars went to North Dakota, fifty-one to Montana, forty-nine to Northern Wisconsin and thirty to Canada. Immigration Commissioner Fred D. Sherman had hoped for a larger showing, he said, but is content in a measure, with the knowledge that Minnesota is attracting nearly half the emigrant movement from the East and South.

LUMBER CONCERN HAS PAID TAXES

Settles With Beltrami County Officers in Large Sum.

Bemidji, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Sheriff James Cahill yesterday received $11,044.80, from the International Lumber company, the E. W. Backus concern at Spooner, to pay the 1914 personal property tax on their Spooner plant.

The payment was made following the decision of Judge C. W. Stanton denying the motion of the lumber company to restrain the sheriff of Beltrami county from seizing the lumber in their yard to be auctioned to pay their personal property tax.

The decision also gave the sheriff authority to seize the lumber forty-eight hours after service of the decision on the lumber company's attorney and it was late in the afternoon that the money was paid to Deputy Cahill by the First National bank of this city, upon an order from the lumber concern.

The original amount of the taxes was $10,367.29 which was increased to the amount paid to the sheriff by penalties and expenses in the action brought through the courts.

HUEBSCH VICE PRESIDENT.

Duluth Laundryman Officer of Minnesota Laundry Owners' Association.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—The Minnesota Laundry Owners' association came into being here upon dissolution of the Northwestern Launderers' association, with Irving Robitshek of Minneapolis at its head. Other officers elected are: C. C. Huebsch, Duluth, first vice president; A. M. Stokoe, St. Paul, second vice president; and James Nankivell, St. Paul, secretary-treasurer.

The first meeting of the new organization will take place in this city in July, just preceding the national conference at Portland, Or., July 18, so that delegates here may join the launderers' special to the convention.

James Nankivell, secretary of the Northwestern Launderers' association since its organization nine years ago, and secretary of the new Minnesota association, was presented with a thirty-second degree Masonic ring set with diamonds Tuesday night as a tribute for his services.

"AUTHORITIES" MISS POINT

Eastern Comment on Divorcement of Lake and Rail Lines Misleading.

Fail to Realize Important Questions of Terminals and Discrimination.

Some professed authorities, among them the Wall Street Journal of New York, discussing the recent decision of the interstate commerce commission which orders the divorce of boat lines from railroad control by Dec. 1, declare that instead of giving relief to the shippers of package freight so far as the lake lines are concerned, it will be simply a case of jumping from the frying pan into the fire. The Wall Street Journal expresses the belief that when the lake lines are sold by the railroads, the probability is that the lake lines will combine, and the lakes will be controlled by a lake monopoly instead of a railroad monopoly, and that the lake monopoly will control lake rates just the same as the railroad monopoly now does.

Misses the Point.

As a matter of fact, Duluth traffic men declare, the Wall Street Journal misses the point entirely. Under the present lake-and-rail situation, which will end Dec. 1, the railroads control the rates to the end that railroads get the benefit; in short lake competition is rendered nil. Also—and most important—the railroads own the terminals, and independents—if there were any—would stand but a small chance to get any favorable consideration for terminal facilities when competing against the lake boats controlled by the railroads.

Will Modernize Railroads.

Another thing that the Journal misses is the fact that when the railroads have no further interests in the lake lines, but have to handle the freight brought to their dock terminals by boats of various lines, it will be to the interest of the railroads then—which it is not now—to do away with the ancient and out-of-date facilities for handling the freight at the docks, and quicker and cheaper means of dispatch in the way of modern machinery is almost certain to be installed. This, in itself, will insure not only quicker delivery but better rates of transportation by lake, and will cause a corresponding decrease in railroad rates, for the roads will certainly want their share of business.

Roads Must Make Connections.

As to dock facilities, the commission can take care of that. Congress has given the interstate commerce commission final power to force the railroads to make physical connections with boat lines and also to make through rates for the accommodation of shippers. So the railroads cannot fight the new order of things even were they so disposed.

And, finally, Duluth traffic men point out, independent lines will at least be given a chance to compete, whether or not a package freight-carrying trust is formed, for all will have equal rights at the docks, which is the important point, while under the present system, independents have no chance on any route where railroad-owned boats operate.

Will Remove Discrimination.

In its comment to the effect that independent lines will probably be unable to handle the freight any cheaper than at the present rates, the Journal fails to take into account the evidence produced in the hearings before the interstate commerce commission. That evidence showed clearly, in actual figures taken from the books of the companies involved, that there was an excellent profit—enormous in some instances—but that certain points were discriminated against.

For instance, it was shown conclusively that in one of the companies, the Lake Michigan route lost money or played about even, while the profits were great on the Lake Superior route; so that the profits were taken from the Duluth end of the business while Chicago and Milwaukee were favored.

This condition, traffic men feel safe in assuming, cannot well exist when railroad domination is removed. Each route will have to pay for itself, and Duluth, for instance, instead of paying tribute to Chicago business, will have only herself to take care of.

The comment of the Wall Street Journal follows:

Wall Street Comment.

"The commission has by no means established that the railroad domination of the package freighters actually does reduce the usefulness of the lakes to the public as a means of transportation. As a matter of fact, its decision was based upon the much narrower ground that the railroads, in the language of the act, 'do or may compete' with the boat lines, and that the entire situation is such as comes within the prohibition of the law.

"Assuming that the next congress leave this section of the Panama act unaltered, what will happen when the railroads seek to comply with the commission's order? The railroads in question—which are not carriers of grain, coal, or ore, but only of package freight—will be sold either to a number of new owners or to one powerful steamship corporation. If the former, the expense of divided operation and their competition with one another will in all likelihood prevent them from doing business at a profit at any less than the prevailing rates, which have not, as a rule, yielded substantial returns to the railroad boat owners.

Predicts Lake Monopoly.

"If a single company takes over the new boats, the result will be simply that one monopoly will have been substituted for another, and the new will be of such scope and power as to prevent the entrance of new and competing capital into the business just as effectually as railroad domination has in the past. And one owner or several will alike be exposed to the competition of the all-rail lines.

"It is only fair to say that under the language of the statute the commission could hardly have reached any other decision. The act allows the commission to license railroads to own and operate water lines, but only when it has been convinced, not merely that such lines are being operated 'in the interest of the public' and are 'of advantage to the convenience and commerce of the people,' but also that such a license 'will neither exclude, prevent nor reduce competition on the route by water under consideration.'

"Had the commission been convinced that no substantial public benefit could be obtained from the separation of lake from rail carriers, it could not have concluded that the present ownership of the former by the latter does not 'reduce' competition."

FOR INDIGESTION

Take Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Half a teaspoonful in water before meals will aid the stomach, and prevent distress after eating.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its re-generative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Boyce Drug Store and other leading druggists of Duluth and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution:—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

STILL HOPE FOR MISS BAKER'S SAFETY

Mrs. W. D. Jones Denies She Received Positive News of Death.

Although Duluth friends of Miss Miller Baker of this city, who was a passenger on the ill-fated Cunard liner which was sent to the bottom of the sea by a German torpedo off the coast of Ireland on the afternoon of May 7, have received no encouraging news as to her fate, they have not as yet entirely abandoned hope.

Mrs. W. D. Jones of 316 West First street, today denied the report given some circulation by a morning paper, with reference to a letter which she received yesterday from a New York friend of Miss Baker's. The report published by the morning paper stated that Mrs. Jones had received definite news that Miss Baker had perished and that she was not among the survivors.

Mrs. Jones declined to state just what the letter did state, further than to say that it contained no encouraging news.

The New York Times of Sunday contains an interview with George Kessler, who was one of the party with Alfred Vandervilt on the Lusitania. Mr. Kessler was one of the survivors. A paragraph with reference to Miss Baker is as follows:

"Some time after I joined the ship I saw Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt taking leave of each other, and later I noticed Charles Frohman limping along the deck by the aid of a cane. His sisters were on the landing stage to see him off. Presently a party of us came together—Vanderbilt, C. F. Williamson, a dealer in antiques of Paris, and a great personal friend of Vanderbilt; Edward Gorer, an art dealer of Bond street; Mr. Slidell, a newspaper correspondent, and a lady known to us all who lives in Paris, Miss Baker."

The Miss Baker of Paris referred to was Miss Baker of this city.

TWO GERMAN COMEDIES

Will Be Presented By Brainerd High School Students Friday.

Brainerd, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—German classes of the high school will present two German comedies at the high school auditorium Friday evening. Some of the best German students in the high school are children of Scandinavian parentage.

"The 1915 Frolics" was given at the Grand theater under the direction of Mrs. Clyde D. Parker for the benefit of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Some of the most prominent talent of the city took part. An entire change of program will be given this evening.

Miss Anna Michaelson, superintendent of Northwestern hospital, will take a post-graduate course at Columbia university, Newark, in July.

Secrets of London Complexion Doctors

Famous London specialists who cater to titled ladies and others of social prominence, employ a remarkable method of complexion rejuvenation. One undergoing this treatment visits the beauty doctor late in the afternoon, has something dabbed over her face, then, heavily veiled, departs in her motor car. This is repeated daily for a week or so, when a complexion of snowy purity and exquisite delicacy is in evidence. The secret of this method is—ordinary mercolized wax. Anyone can apply the wax without assistance of a specialist. An ounce of it costs very little at any drug store (obtainable here as well as in England.) It is used like cold cream, before retiring, and washed off mornings. Its success is due to a peculiar absorbent property which gradually removes wornout particles of cuticle, revealing the younger, healthier skin beneath.

A wonderful wrinkle-chaser, also in vogue among Englishwomen, is prepared by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion, this completely and quickly effaces even the deepest lines. —Advertisement.

AN ATTRACTIVE home wedding that took place among elaborate spring floral decorations was that of Miss Irma Hartley and James Verner Claypool of Coleraine, which was solemnized last night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guilford G. Hartley, 1305 East Superior street. Rev. A. W. Ryan of St. Paul's Episcopal church officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an empire gown of white satin and tulle made with a court train. The bodice was of duchess lace. Her tulle veil was arranged in cap effect and was caught with strings of pearls. The bridal bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley.

Miss Judith Hartley, sister of the bride, and Miss Marjorie Congdon were the bridesmaids. Miss Hartley wore blue charmeuse veiled with blue chiffon and caught with garlands of pink roses. Miss Congdon's gown was of pink veiled in white chiffon. The three flounces of the skirt were edged with black and there were touches of black on the bodice.

Charles Claypool of Virginia was his brother's best man and the ushers were Fred Buck, Maurice d'Autremont, Charles McLennan and Roger Spencer.

The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Ruth Rogers, pianist; Mrs. Valborg Finkelson, violinist, and D. Tracy Brennan, cellist.

In the receiving line with the bride and bridegroom and Mr. and Mrs. Hartley at the reception which followed the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Claypool, parents of the bridegroom, and Master Guilford Hartley, brother of the bride. Mrs. Hartley wore a costume of black lace over white satin trimmed with lavender. Mrs. Claypool was gowned in black charmeuse and lace.

Clusters of American beauties were used in the parlor and living room and the stairway and hall were decorated artistically with spring flowers, Easter lilies and peach blossoms.

Miss Judith Hartley caught the bride's bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Claypool left last night for a wedding trip. They will be at home at Coleraine after July 1. The bride's traveling costume was of dark blue with which she wore a black sailor hat trimmed with a wreath of white roses.

Eighth Birthday,

Trinity Cathedral Auxiliary Celebrates Occasion.

At the birthday party of the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity cathedral that was held yesterday afternoon in the guild hall of the church Mrs. W. E. Jones, the president, gave a short talk on missions and Rev. Thomas W. MacLean, the vicar, gave a lecture on Alaska, comparing the diocese of Duluth with that of Alaska and giving outlines of the work of Bishop John D. Morrison, who is in charge of this territory, and that of Bishop Peter Trimble, who is stationed in Alaska. Dr. MacLean spoke of Miss Farthing, a missionary worker to Alaska, whose death occurred there about a year ago.

Miss Beulah Magner, pianist, and Miss Gladys Magner, cellist, played two duets, "Calm as the Night" by Buck, and "Scenes That Are Brightest," from the opera "Maritana."

The hall was decorated with pine trees and spruce and the walls were hung with snow shoes, Alaskan baskets and curios. The large birthday cake was surrounded with eight green candles, representing the number of years since the organization of the auxiliary. Narcissi were the table flowers.

At each birthday party an offering is made for the education and support of women missionaries and for the support for one year of one who is home on sick leave.

"Little Mozart of Duluth" Is Sensation in Pittsburgh

LOUIS GOMBERG.

That Louis Gomberg, the young piano pupil of Mrs. D. H. Day, has been received with much enthusiasm in Chicago and Pittsburgh, where he has played, is shown from the following extract of a letter written by Mrs. Day to her husband:

"I was simply overcome at the reception Louis received in Pittsburgh. He played in a small hall in an art building before an audience composed entirely of musicians, musical critics and students. Mr. Sandek, who, as you know, is one of the great soloists here, and a Mr. Jensen, who is a composer as well as a fine pianist, were astounded and said that there was no child his equal in this country. They called him a second Mozart and said his work was that of a finished artist and not at all like that of the so-called wonderful children they have often heard.

"Mr. Sandek told me that they have what the city considered a wonderful little 8-year-old girl pianist, but that she plays as a child, while Louis as a matured musician, and that their little prodigy was not to be compared in any way with Louis.

"The students, too, were so excited about him and asked so many questions about my method of teaching, and how I managed to get such a little fellow to play with such wonderful understanding. They are planning to engage him for a big concert on our return trip. Louis was very well received in Chicago, too, particularly by the editor of the Musical Monitor and some of his friends, but nothing like the sensation he created here. I wonder how they will receive the little tad in New York. We leave tonight for the big burg."

Surprise Luncheon Is Given for Mrs. Lanners

Mrs. Harry W. Lanners of 4524 West Sixth street was the honor guest of a 1 o'clock surprise luncheon given yesterday by the members of the former Ladies' Aid Society of Plymouth Congregational church. Those present were:

Mesdames—

C. R. Keyes,	H. C. Brown,
H. H. Phelps,	N. C. Batley,
C. M. Brooks,	Addie Alcirk,
R. M. Weaver,	A. F. Rockwell,

Mr. and Mrs. Lanners recently moved into their new home on Sixth street.

One Candidate Takes Test for Licentiate

Examinations in theory and history of music that are required by the Minnesota Music Teachers' association of all candidates for licentiate were given this morning at Central high school by Isabel Pearson Fuller. There was one candidate.

Club Gives Card Party.

St. Michael's Club of St. Michael's Catholic church, assisted by the Ladies' Aid society, entertained at cards at the church hall last night. Favors for progressive 500 were won by Mrs. Vincent Grady, Miss Katherine Carey, William McGraw and Harold Kester. About 150 persons attended.

Aid Society Elects Officers.

Mrs. Victor Dash was elected president of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Christian church at the meeting held yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. Charles Arthur was re-elected vice president, Mrs. A. A. Douglass was elected secretary and Mrs. A. R. Spielman was re-elected treasurer. Plans were discussed for the supper that will be served at the annual meeting of the church that will be held June 1. At that time the society will give its report for the year.

Dr. Sanford Is Unable to Fill Duluth Engagement

According to a message received yesterday by Dr. Mary McCoy it will be impossible for Dr. Maria Sanford of Minneapolis to lecture in Duluth when she comes to Northern Minnesota next week. Dr. Sanford expressed her regret at not being able to fill an engagement here but her time for the next two months is taken up with lecture dates. Duluth club women had hoped to hear Dr. Sanford either just before or just after her appearance at the district convention at Chisholm next Tuesday and Wednesday at which gathering she will discuss the significance of the European war in its relation to the women and children of the warring nations.

How to Escape Divorce Danger; Marry Man Past 44 Years Old

Chicago, May 20.—If you would keep your husband, be sure he is more than 44 years old before the ceremony is performed.

This significant advice follows the findings of a supplementary report on the causes of divorce, issued today by Mrs. Leonora Z. Meder, retiring commissioner of public welfare.

The report includes the following tabulation of the chances of the marriage ending unhappily:

Bridegroom's Age.	Per Cent.
21 to 24	10
25 to 29	23
30 to 34	26
35 to 39	21
40 to 44	11
45 to 49	5
50 to 54	2
55 to 59	1
60 to 65	0

The "danger age" is fixed by different causes, according as it is taken in the case of young men between 21 and 24 years or between 26 and 39 years.

"Back of a majority of marriages contracted at an early age," reads the report, "divorce was found to result from two chief causes, each of which is interrelated with the other—hastiness and elopements.

"The causes which lead the older couples in the divorce court are far more complex. Intemperance and immorality on the part of the husband and extravagance on the part of the wife, however, were found to be the predominating factors."

Other significant deductions made in the report are:

"More men seek divorce than women.

"Men seldom oppose divorce proceedings. Women practically always do.

"Five mothers-in-law are mentioned in divorce petitions to every father-in-law.

"The rarity with which men who marry at an age exceeding 44 years seek divorce is commented on as follows:

"'Proceedings in the suits investigated showed that men of mature years seldom enter into marriage hastily. They ponder the qualifications of the woman and weigh their own abilities as husbands and providers.'"

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Live in Your Own Sphere.

A woman writes in and asks me what I think of the course another woman has pursued in the bringing up of her two children. It seems that the woman in question is a gentlewoman in reduced circumstances. In her early married life she had only to command and all that money could buy was at her feet. But all was swept away in a night and the husband left his family in abject poverty.

The mother was left to do the best she could, and she has done well and provided a comfortable living. She moved to another city and bravely began the task of earning a living for herself and two young daughters. But she made this mistake. She reared her daughters to be ladies, in the old-fashioned sense of the word, and she would never permit them to earn a livelihood for themselves when they were able to do so.

Moreover, the peculiar ideas of this woman as to what constituted desirable associates for her daughters has shut them out of a good deal of enjoyment in which young people naturally take an interest. They have not been invited to mingle in society because of their impoverished condition financially. Yet the mother has brought them up to believe that they should associate with none but the very select. So they have led lonely lives and been fed upon a diet of past glories and triumphs.

What an existence for two young women of today. How happy they might be if their mother did not use her influence against their obtaining happiness. How happy they might be in working and earning their own living and associating with many of the true gentlemen and gentlewomen with whom their station in life brings them in contact, who lack money and power, and yet have a full measure of happiness and contentment. What will they do when their mother is no longer the mainstay of the home?

Their mother has made a grave mistake. She should have reared her daughters to honest toil and to be gentlewomen at the same time. If a rich lover came awooing, all well and good, but if he was poor and worthy, also well and good. There is hardly a question but what these girls will need the friendship of the class of people among whom they have been made to hold themselves aloof. When they are forced to the necessity of making friends with those who are their equals, it may not be so easy to do so.

Women Pluck Feathers From Their Hats

United States Commissioner Outlines New Immigration Policy.

San Francisco, Cal., May 20.—A new immigration policy of the United States government, as brought about by war conditions in Europe, was outlined briefly today by United States Commissioner of Immigration Anthony Caminetti in an address before the California Federation of Women's clubs.

"President Wilson," said Commissioner Caminetti, "does not desire to send one single immigrant back to his country where any danger might come to him."

Mr. Caminetti added that it was now the policy of the Federal government to start as soon as possible to make a good citizen out of each immigrant.

Discussing the wearing of bird-plumed hats by women, Mrs. Percy P. Pennypacker, general president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, asked:

"Can women's bird-plumed hats pass in review before their own consciences?"

Women in the convention hall who were wearing plumage removed their hats and plucked out feathers.

Instructive Pamphlets

Club Topics, the Short Story and Women in Literature Are Taken Up.

"How to Prepare a Club Topic," is one of three pamphlets issued by Mrs. T. G. Winter as chairman of the Literature and Library Extension committee of the General Federation of Woman's clubs. This was issued in conjunction with Mrs. Katherine Evans Blake.

"Club papers are the device of clubs for securing unity of intention and action through unity of information and opinion," says the first pamphlet. "That which we think about together takes form from the best in all our minds.

"The first step in your actual preparation is the taking of stock of the material on hand. Write out all your preconceptions and opinions on the subject before submerging them under the information you are about to gather. They may furnish elements making for interest, individuality and the charm of imagination and enthusiasm.

Master the Facts.

"Make yourself master of the elementary facts concerning the topic or author or book you are to study—so thoroughly master them that you will not have to look them up again. Read and re-read striking presentations or beautiful passages. Let them establish themselves in your brain cells and become part of you. Now, and not till now, are you ready to absorb other person's opinions—books of criticism—to face them with your own, judge and appreciate them.

"Quotations in prose give authority and grace. Quotations in poetry give refinement and charm. Anecdotes change the mental atmosphere and relieve the oppressive solemnity of the unaccustomed speaker, while the humorous story is the best of devices for pointing a moral or adorning a club paper.

"A change that may revolutionize the club program is found in the admirable tendency to abandon the reading of papers, substituting the address, the talk from notes or the discussion.

"Do not forget that the joy of studying together is a most important element in club success. Unless our efforts are a delight to ourselves who speak and our friends who listen, we have failed."

The Short Story.

The pamphlet that gives a program outline for the study of the short story says:

"Each is a small masterpiece. You can hardly hope to better it in your own telling, therefore it is better to read it aloud than to tell about it. The program leader may either read it entire or she may read the most striking passages, linking them by her own narrative. Afterward compare it with others of the same classification, bringing out the plot, and the technique by which the author crystallizes his central idea.

"So far as possible do your own criticism. Printed criticism is only the thought of others about books, and it is good to get in the habit of thinking your own thoughts rather than taking them second hand. Discussion and the habit of forming sane judgments are among the chief benefits of that joint thinking that we call club work. After you have worked out your own estimate, you will be in a position to appreciate the wisdom of more experienced critics, which should be to you an inspiration, not a dogmatic authority."

The third pamphlet deals with the part women have played in literature. They are separated into types as, the enchantress woman, the woman of the chivalrous idea, the learned woman from Portia down to the princess, the vampire, the child, the rebellious woman and woman as dealt with by women.

WRITE TO GOVERNOR SLATON.

Leo M. Frank, a young Jew, is under sentence to be hanged at Atlanta June 22.

The country is familiar with his case. He was convicted after a trial that was a farce, on evidence of the flimsiest character, and largely as a result of mob pressure. The presiding judge, now dead, expressed grave doubt of his guilt. Guilty or not, he has not been proved guilty, and to hang him would be a blot on American civilization.

The country is writing to the governor of Georgia, urging him to exercise clemency, and to pardon Frank or commute his sentence to life imprisonment.

It will be an act of mercy and of good citizenship to spare time enough to write a letter to Hon. John M. Slaton, Governor, Atlanta, Georgia, adding your plea for justice to the swelling tide.

Those optimists who thought the war had got beyond the poetry stage were disillusioned shortly after the Lusitania went down.

A USEFUL INSTITUTION.

The annual report of the Young Men's Christian association, published today, shows again that in all its many-sided activities this splendid local institution is progressive, enterprising, efficient.

The money that is contributed to this institution is soundly invested, and yields large dividends in community betterment.

What a mine-sweeper Col. Roosevelt would make!

THE GRIM STRUGGLE AHEAD.

That the shrewd observers of Great Britain are under no illusions about the task that lies ahead of them is shown by a well considered editorial in the London Observer of May 5, a copy of which is at hand.

There is here no bombastic assurance of speedy victory—no assurance of victory at all, indeed, unless that victory is gained at the cost of a long and bitter struggle. There is no under-estimate of the resources and valor of Germany. There is a deep-seated realization that the fight has just begun, and that long, weary months of suffering and sadness lie between today and the end of the war that has shaken Europe from end to end.

Under the title "The War of Exhaustion" the Observer says: "No one can be a sound critic of the war who does not possess a thorough knowledge of Germany itself or fails to rate at the very highest the immense strength of the enemy. We can assuredly beat it on certain conditions not yet attained, but we have not yet begun to break it down.

"All men now know two things which every competent witness had been steadily asserting. In the first place, the nation as a whole still labors under a serious under-estimate of the task before us. Secondly, the optimism was insane which imagined a few weeks ago that the worst of the war would be over by June and that high summer would see the allies on the high road to victory. It is almost of life and death importance to destroy these delusions once for all, and to realize that our more vivid hopes must be postponed until the allies have secured that overwhelming preponderance of available forces which they do not yet possess."

This virtual acknowledgement that German efficiency and German preparedness are only to be overcome by an overwhelming preponderance of numbers is at once a high tribute to these distinctly Teutonic qualities, and an assurance that the ruling thought of England is soberly reckoning the hazards, and has realized the stern necessities of the situation.

Continuing its coldly logical analysis of the situation the Observer says: "Of our own three million troops authorized—a vast number, but more will be required—only a quarter are yet in the field. The Dardanelles must be opened before Russia's even larger reserves can be brought into fuller play. Other factors probably will intervene at no distant date. Nevertheless, months must elapse before these new forces can exert anything like their full effect. Despite our gradually improving position, the interval must be checkered more or less by further delays, by disappointments, in a certain sense by dangers. There will be bowls as well as rubbers. At some points we shall progress. At others it will take us all our time, as in the deadly struggle around Ypres, to hold our own or to recover our footing.

"Let us face these facts, realizing that we must raise again all our conceptions of the magnitude, the duration, the frightful cost of this struggle, and that we can only win by a more thorough exertion of national vigor backed by an endless determination of national character."

This honest and candid estimate of the situation squares completely with what The Herald said the other day, that this is to be a war of "attrition" and that the victory will go in the end to the side that has the greater resources and the greater power of endurance.

Of all place on earth, one would suppose that Detroit was the best equipped to stand a street car strike.

BRITAIN'S UPHEAVAL.

To abolish party government temporarily and to create a government composed of the strongest men of all parties is a wise war measure. France did it at the very outbreak of the war. Great Britain is just coming to it.

The upheaval that is bringing about the new coalition government in England probably indicates a realization in the British isles that the end of war is yet distant. It indicates, too, some inevitable dissatisfaction with the past conduct of the war, particularly on the naval side. It proves that Britain understands now, if she has not understood before, the grim and desperate character of the business that confronts it.

Nobody who is familiar with the carryings on of Dr. Dernburg has had the folly to ask "What's in a name?"

STARTING THE RECREATION SYSTEM.

The first essential to a successful recreation system such as Duluth is striving to create is a comprehensive plan. That is in hand. The next essential is the money. Part of that has been provided—enough for an experiment during the summer months; though it must not be forgotten that the plan involves taking over the highly important social center work during the colder months. The final essential is a good man to direct the work, and this need seems to have been fully met by the selection of John R. Batchelor, physical director of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. By training, experience and character Mr. Batchelor appears to be abundantly qualified for this vital work, and he should have the fullest possible public support.

Incidentally, credit is due the Y. M. C. A. for contributing the services of Mr. Batchelor despite the fact that it needs them itself.

If the jingoes run out of other causes for war, they might start one to keep Dr. Dernburg.

CALIFORNIA GOES THE LIMIT.

The only valid criticism that has been made of the Minnesota non-partisan election law is that it is inconsistent to have the legislature non-partisan and the state officers partisan.

Nobody, any more, criticizes having non-partisan elections of judges. Almost nobody criticizes non-partisan county offices. A good many criticize the non-partisan legislature, and there was a strong inclination to blame the non-partisan law for the many sins of the late session. These criticisms, though, are all ill-founded. The house was bad, but the senate was good; and the same non-partisan law produced them both.

But when you contend that it is inconsistent to have a non-partisan legislature and a partisan set of state officers, the contention is valid.

It is true that national party lines have no bearing whatever on state elections, especially since legislatures ceased to elect United States senators; and that justifies the non-partisan legislature. But it is also true that national party lines have no relationship to state officers, and that if the legislature is to be non-partisan state officers should be too.

California has gone the whole road. The legislature which lately adjourned put the whole state government, from governor down, on a non-partisan basis. Not only the legislature, but state and county officials, are to be nominated and elected without the confusion of partisanship.

And that's a much more sensible step than the step some people are proposing in Minnesota—the repeal of the non-partisan law.

It ought not to be repealed. It ought to be extended so that in Minnesota, which led the way, as in California, which followed and went further, only candidates for senators and representatives in congress shall remain on the party ballot.

To Him Who in the Love of the Forest

Warren H. Miller in American Forestry.

At least once a year, even to the most cultured of us, there comes that primitive appeal, the call of the red gods, and we long to get away from the worry of civilization and plunge into the wilderness, alone, or with that treasured possession, a real friend.

The mountained forests stretch endlessly before our eyes; the oaks and maples and hickories clothing the hardwood ridges; the pines, the balsams and the hemlocks filling the rocky ravines and lining the water courses. Here a lake, looking up to the sky in spotless azure; there a tiny pond, girt with dead timber; yon a tangled marsh grown over with dense thickets of alder, briar and gum.

Within the green depths the wild creatures, these children of nature, go about their life work; the shy deer nibbling the green grasses in the hollows, the lordly elk feeding in the mountain meadows; the predacious creatures—wolf, lynx and mountain lion—watching the trails and runways; the mink, otter and weasel following the water courses; the wild turkeys and ruffed grouse scratching acorns and weed seeds on the hardwood ridges; while over it all the song and movement of the smaller bird life attract the eye and ear. A dimple on the placid surface of the lake speaks of the rise of a large trout, while a sudden splash and the interrupted croak of a frog tells of the swift strike of the black bass at his prey on the lily pads.

Nature is kind, and abundant, and lavish in her hospitality to the forest man who really knows her, to whom her trees are not just trees but oaks, maples, balsams, hemlocks, each having in her scheme of existence; to whom her plants and rocks are known by name; to whom her birds and animals are brethren of the wild whose habits and customs are familiar; her fishes and reptiles a matter of everyday knowledge. Such a man, possessed of the skill and knowledge which fits him to take his niche in the life of the forest, has the cornucopia of plenty showered upon him; his burden of life is light; he has ample time to develop those nobler qualities of the soul too often grown up with tares in the worry and fret of civilian existence. For, out of the wilderness have come the great truths that are the foundations of right living; out of the voice of the wilderness have spoken the prophets that have swayed mankind.

The Two Glasses

There sat two glasses, filled to the brim,
On a rich man's table, rim to rim,
One was ruddy and red as blood,
And one as clear as the crystal flood.

Says the glass of wine to the paler brother:
"Let us tell the tales of the past to each other.
"I can tell of banquet, and revel and mirth,
And the proudest and grandest souls on earth
Fell under my touch as though struck by blight,
Where I was king I ruled in might.
From the heads of kings I have torn the crown;
From the heights of fame I have hurled men down,
I have blasted many an honored name;
I have taken virtue and given shame.
I have tempted youth with a sip, a taste,
That has made his future a barren waste.
For greater than a king am I,
Or any other army beneath the sky.

"I have made the arm of the driver fail,
And sent the train from the iron rail.
I have made good ships go down at sea,
And the shrieks of the lost were sweet to me,
For they said behold how great you be,
Fame, strength, wealth, genius before you fall,
For your might and power are over all."
"Ho! Ho! pale brother," laughed the wine,
"Can you boast of deeds as great as mine?"

Said the water glass: "I cannot boast
Of a king dethroned, or a murdered host.
But I can tell of a heart once sad,
By my crystal drops made light and glad,
Of thirst I've quenched, of brows I've laved;
Of hands I've cooled, and souls I've saved;
I've leaped through the valley, dashed down the mountain,
Flowed in the river and played in the fountain,
Slept in the sunshine and dropt from the sky,
And everywhere gladdened the landscape and eye,
I have eased the hot forehead of fever and pain,
I have made the parched meadows grow fertile with grain;
I can tell of the powerful wheel of the mill
That ground out flour and turned at my will;
I can tell of manhood debased by you,
That I lifted up and crowned anew.
I cheer, I help, I strengthen and aid;
I gladden the heart of man and maid;
I set the wine-chained captive free,
And all are the better for knowing me."

These are the tales they told each other—
The glass of wine and its pale brother—
As they sat together, filled to the brim,
On the rich man's table rim to rim.

Before and After.

Agnes Repplier in the Atlantic: A casual study of newspapers before and after the proclamation of war is profoundly instructive. Even the illustrated papers and periodicals tell their tale, and spare us the printed page. Pictures of recruits in place of club women. Pictures of camps in place of convention halls. Pictures of Red Cross nurses bending over hospital beds, in place of militants raiding Buckingham palace. Pictures of peaceful ladies sewing and knitting for soldiers, in place of formidable committees baiting Mr. Wilson or pursuing the more elusive Mr. Asquith. Pictures of pitying young girls handing cups of broth and ever-welcome cigarettes to weary volunteers, in place of suffragists haranguing the mob of Hyde park. Never was there such a noteworthy illustration of Scott's archaic line—

"O woman! in our hours of ease."

Never did the simplicities of life so triumphantly efface its complexities.

Crabshaw—Why not? They are used to it.

The Bench and The Presidency

By Savoyard.

Washington, May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—It would be difficult to cite a situation in our political history like that now on the carpet. The Democratic party is standing pat on Woodrow Wilson and his administration, and the G. O. P. is going about with a lantern hunting a candidate for 1916. They have a big bunch from which to pick. There is talk of Weeks of Massachusetts. He has a full barrel of money, which triumphed over Sam McCall's full barrel of brains in the last election for United States senator in Massachusetts. Then mention is now and then whispered of Henry Cabot Lodge, who would be mighty glad to be assured of a re-election to the senate.

There was much talk of Whitman at one time; but a man who is a failure as governor at Albany would be impossible as president at Washington. Ohio has three or four candidates for the Republican nomination, Indiana has two, Pennsylvania at least one, Illinois two, Michigan one, Iowa one, Missouri one, and there are others. For a while the Republicans were blissful in the nonsense that they could elect a yaller dog in 1916; but that damphoolery is now discarded.

To show that they realize that they have the fight of their lives on their hands, the Republicans all through the month of April urged Mr. Justice Hughes with ceaseless persistence and practical unanimity. When a political party goes to the supreme court for a candidate for president it is tantamount to a signal of distress.

"When the devil is sick, the devil a monk would be;
When the devil is well, devil a monk is he."

No party will ever go to the bench for a candidate as long as it has a layman who can make a strong race. There is a feeling in this country that the bench is like the church in this particular—neither must dabble in politics. That is the reason the Whigs would never nominate John McLean for president, and in 1856 the Republicans rejected that same Justice McLean and took up John C. Fremont, who, not many years earlier, tried to make California a slave state. At least, he opposed that clause of the state Constitution prohibiting slavery. The John McLean I am talking about is not the same McLean some of you may be thinking about, though both hailed from Ohio.

David Davis, while on the supreme bench, had ambitions to be president and in 1872 he beat Wendell Phillips for the nomination in the national convention of the Labor party, then very active in politics; but the Liberal Republicans at Cincinnati preferred Horace Greeley to him, after which his case was hopeless. Subsequently his resignation from the bench to become senator cost Samuel J. Tilden the presidency.

President Lincoln made Salmon P. Chase chief justice of the supreme court to keep him out of politics. At the time there was serious opposition to the renomination of Lincoln in the Republican party and it was about to settle on Chase. That opposition held a national convention which nominated John C. Fremont for president and John Cochrane for vice president, but when the regular convention nominated Lincoln and Johnson the opposition collapsed. It is curious to note that James A. Garfield was for the Fremont ticket.

Chase was a candidate before the Democratic national convention in 1868 and had he been named and the greenback plank left out of the platform it is very likely that U. S. Grant would never have been president. In the days of their dark despair the Democrats used to look to Mr. Justice Field of the supreme bench with imploring eyes, and he was willing, too, but it came to naught. Proctor Knott was at the head of his publicity bureau in 1880, but in the national convention of the Democratic party his highest vote never reached 100. Since 1880 no supreme court justice was mentioned for president until 1912, when Mr. Justice Hughes stopped the clamor for his nomination by an emphatic refusal to countenance the movement.

And now Mr. Justice Hughes has again declined to re-enter the game of politics. Had he been nominated for president in 1908 he would have been elected. He was then a candidate for the distinction and he would have been chosen, had not Theodore Roosevelt been as much master of the convention as Mark Hanna was of that of eight years earlier. Roosevelt, however, served notice that if the convention rejected Taft he would take the nomination himself, and that settled it.

In 1910 the stand-patters, to get him out of the way, caused Taft to nominate Hughes to a vacancy on the bench. He accepted and is much in love with the job, if gossip is to be credited. Nobody knows what reception the people would give to a candidate for president taken from the supreme bench. He might run like the cholera, and then he might not. Governor Hughes made a great reputation as governor of New York; but, less fortunate than Tilden and Cleveland, the bosses of his party were too strong for him, and many of the reforms he advocated were rejected, though some of them he was able to accomplish.

It is a tribute to the man—that the worst element in his party clothed him with the ermine in order to be rid of him in the field of politics. Now they would be glad to draft him to pull the chestnuts of the G. O. P. out of the fire.

Since the positive and authorized announcement taking Justice Hughes out of the calculation, the boom of Mr. Burton is booming with greater vigor.

"I Will Help Thee."

"I will help thee." Oh, the sweetness, oh, the sureness of His word!
Hush, O heart, be still and listen, for thy fainting cry is heard.
"I will help thee." With that fleetness comes the answer back to me.
Oh, be swift to claim its surety, for His promise is to thee!

"I will help thee." Ah, no matter to what depths his help must reach,
Through what lengths, or through what mazes, it must come thy soul to teach
That His promised word once given shall forevermore abide.
Rise, O heart, be swift to greet Him, for thy Lord is by thy side!

The Mischief Makers

Editorial in the Springfield Republican.

President Wilson's grave words of warning in his talk to the Associated Press should have a restraining influence not only on the fabricators of false news like the stories from Turtle bay, but upon the writers and speakers who are resorting to equally reprehensible means in order to persuade the country to prepare for war. To advocate a big army or a small army or no army at all is the privilege of every citizen in a free country, and widely different views may be held by persons equally patriotic. To a fair argument on either side there can be no proper objection, but it could be wished that both writers and publishers would exhibit a greater sense of responsibility in the matter of appeals to panic, suspicion, and hatred. Just now we are in a way to develop a first-class crop of Bernhardis of our own; it is time to leave off moralizing upon the European militarists and consider the extent to which their views are being propagated in this country in the interest of a big army and navy. Some of these agitators have even demanded that pacificists be suppressed as a menace to their country; that temper is an ugly symptom which ought not to be ignored—from its very beginning militarism is hostile to freedom and appeals not to reason but to passion and prejudice.

The present crop of alarmist writings is due directly to the war, and its vicious methods may be exxplained by the collapse of the hard-worked theory that great armaments are the best and cheapest insurance of peace. Till Aug. 1, 1914, there were plenty of sensible people who really believed that. War, they thought, had been made unthinkable by the magnitude of the preparations for it. When they learned the enormity of their blunder, and especially when they learned how their credulity had been abused by those under no such illusion as to the meaning of the mad competition in armaments, their feelings underwent a revulsion. It is useless now to tell them that the way to make sure of peace is to have the strongest army or navy. With the outbreak of war militarism was put on the defensive, and the new tactics of its advocates show that to have a chance of success it must shift its ground.

To the demand for increased economy and efficiency no exception can be taken. Whatever money is spent on army or navy ought to be spent honestly and wisely—there should be no controversy over that. The question of the ideal organization is wholly legitimate; it is a matter on which the people ought to be instructed. Nor need there be the least sensationalism in a discussion of the size of the army or navy. General intelligence upon military subjects is a good thing, and a check on that silly jingoism which fancies that because the United States is big and rich it can be as rude and insolent as the yellow press demands.

Very different is the attempt now being made to drive the country into militarism by lurid pictures of imaginary perils. On the lower levels this literature is of the battle of Dorking variety; the events of the war now going on are used to give a terrifying lifelikeness to a fancy picture of a foreign army destroying our militia or a foreign fleet laying our coast cities in ruins. Of fiction of this sort the world since 1900 has had rather a surfeit, yet after all it is only fiction: it is on the whole less baneful than the efforts of more serious writers to represent this or that foreign nation in the light of a future enemy.

One author of some notoriety has worked it out to his own satisfaction that whichever side wins in the present war, the United States must prepare to fight the victor. Other writers have proposed the variant that the United States must prepare to fight the loser, who will promptly look for cheap consolation by scoring off a weak nation like this. All these theories are worked out with details so plausible that careless readers are not likely to notice their contradictions. The canard from Turtle bay is a fair sample of the methods employed to arouse baseless suspicion, and these methods are being unscrupulously used just now, by writers who surely must know better, as a means of working up a military spirit and securing support for a great army and navy. If freedom is being abused it is by these sensationalists and not by even the most extreme advocates of pacificism.

Of the hyphenated press it is needless to speak, because its motives are too apparent. If the New York Staats-Zeitung tries to stir up hostility toward Japan, it is because Japan is England's ally, and therefore Germany's enemy. Of the extent to which these trouble-breeding forces have been at work in recent years the typical American has little conception; only the perfect freedom of the press in this country has made possible such systematic efforts to injure our relations with friendly powers. In Germany such a thing is not thinkable; it is but a year or two since the Norwegian explorer, Amundsen, was refused permission to lecture in Berlin because he was to speak in a foreign language. If liberty were to be curtailed in the United States it would cease to be the United States, but this freedom ought not to be abused in the interest either of a foreign nation or of American militarism.

Americans are not lacking in patriotism or in readiness to defend their country. Whatever defense may cost they are willing to pay for it, in money and in service, when the need is apparent. At present they see no occasion for panic, and it is only by conjuring up fantastic pictures of remote perils that the panic-mongers can hope to impress the country. Too strong a protest cannot be made against the deliberate and systematic efforts now being made to immerse this country in the detestable atmosphere of suspicion, fear, and hate which has rested like a mephitic cloud on Europe for a decade and which was in no small part precisely such an artificial product. If there is any country in the world which can face the future with courage and good will it is the United States, and such defensive measures as are necessary can be taken without the slightest envy, dislike, or distrust of any other people. It is time for reputable writers and publishers to pull up and take some measure of the risk of working for army and navy reform from a demagogic appeal to fear and dislike of other countries. Measures for defense need not mean ill-will, but the country would be far safer unarmed and pacific than bristling with bayonets, full of pride and aggressive, and quivering with fear of "foes all around." The present agitation is full of mischief.

Says a Man in Love Is Dizzy.

James Montgomery Flagg in the American Magazine: There is an impression in some circles that a man in asking a woman to marry him is paying her the highest compliment in the power. Tommyrot! He hasn't the vaguest idea of being complimentary—he just wants the lady to leave her home and live with him in a manner to which she is entirely unaccustomed.

The Governor

State Press Comments on Minnesota's Executive.

On the Job.

Chaska Valley Herald: You've got to hand it to Governor Hammond for being governor in fact as well as in name. It's rather a pleasant sensation to feel that the interests of the state are safeguarded by a man "on the job," after quite a season of just the opposite.

A Real One.

Le Sueur News: Governor Hammond is a real governor. He is an every-day sort of a man who wears with acquaintance with his work. He does not throw responsibility on others. He is governor of Minnesota himself. This has been plainly shown during the term of the legislature. At no time has he been neglecting the duties of his office to jockey for place.

Can't Blame Them.

Staples World: The contrast between the present governor and what has gone before is so great as to cause many Republican papers to hand some fine bouquets to Governor Hammond.

Some Test!

Warroad Pioneer: There is one test that the prospective candidates for governor must measure up to, in order to be elected. They must equal or exceed the present governor in ability—and that is no small contract.

Governor in Fact.

Princeton Union: Governor Hammond is not, as some people would have us believe, obsessed with his own importance. He is an everyday sort of a man, one who will wear well. As long as he is governor he will never delegate the duties imposed upon him to another—he will be governor in fact as well as in name.

They Should.

Slayton Herald: The Lee supporters are gradually seeing the light and are beginning to appreciate the manliness, foresightedness and executive ability of Governor Hammond. And why shouldn't they?

Ground for Divorce.

Gonvick Banner: After having the honor of making his acquaintance and the pleasure of listening to one of his eloquent orations, we see the reasons why the press has said and is saying so many nice things about Governor Hammond. He's a man through and through and the Banner is proud of the fact that it supported this capable executive at the past campaign.

Congratulates the Governor.

Detroit Record: Governor W. S. Hammond has announced that he will appoint Carlos Avery, present executive agent of the game and fish commission, as state game and fish commissioner when the new law creating that position becomes operative on Aug. 1. People in Detroit and throughout the state will be immensely pleased with Mr. Avery's selection, not only because of his competency, but also because of his uniform fairness and his inherent desire that the state shall receive every possible benefit from the money expended in the department over which he has control. Personally, the Record extends its felicitations to Mr. Avery and its congratulations to the governor.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

So shall we ever be with the Lord. (I Thess, 4:17.)

They shall walk with me in white; for they are worthy. (Rev. 3:4.)

We are taught to believe of the blessed, that they "serve Him day and night in His temple," that "His servants shall serve Him." And this must be with powers and endowments developed in harmony with higher worlds, so that all the tastes, the desires, the affections, the artistic powers, the intellectual gifts, which belong to each individual, each with his own special capacities, trained and developed and exercised in spiritual modes of life, will be suited to that higher world, where they dwell in the presence of the Almighty God, and the "Lamb who is in the midst of them." The activities of a condition of life such as we cannot yet conceive, we shall enter upon, if fitted for it, trained for it, by the exercise of our gifts during our life in this world; we shall be like weapons in the Hand of God, ready for what service He may will.—Thomas Thelluson Carter.

I do the day's work
Whatever the weather,
For Duty and I
Can be cheery together;
In fog, rain or wind,
There is aye a clear view
Through the hours of the day
That has tasks to pursue.

I do the day's work
Though a vision of sorrow
May be in the cloud
That hangs over tomorrow,
Since heart, brain and hands
Are all busy today,
There is joy in my life,
And the trouble can stay.

I do the day's work,
Whoever may blame me.
If I work at my best
No critic can shame me,
For heartache and worry
And dread flee away.
When Duty and I
Are together all day.

Education and the Child.

Lillian D. Wald in the Atlantic: Education and the child is a theme of widest social significance. To the age-old appeal that the child's dependence makes upon the affections has been added a conviction of the necessity for a guarded and trained childhood, that better men and women may be developed. It is a modern note in patriotism and civic responsibility, which impels those who are brought in contact with the children of the poor to protect them from premature burdens, to prolong their childhood and the period of growth. Biologists bring suggestive and illuminating analogies, but when one has lived many years in a neighborhood such as ours, the children themselves tell the story. We know that physical well-being in later life is largely dependent upon early care, that only the exceptional boys and girls can escape the unwholesome effects of premature labor, and that lack of training is responsible for the enormous proportion of unskilled and unemployable among the workers.

The stronghold of our democracy is the public school. This conviction lies deep in the hearts of those social enthusiasts who would keep the school free from the demoralization of cant and impure politics, and restore it to the people, a shrine for education, a center for public uses.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

•••The United States supreme court today handed down its decision in the income tax cases, a majority of the court holding that the income tax law is unconstitutional. The opinion of the court was written by Chief Justice Fuller. The court was divided five to four. Those against the law were Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Field, Gray, Brewer and Shiras; for the law, Justices Harlan, White, Brown and Jackson.

The Farm as a Disciplinarian.

Arthur M. Judy in the Atlantic: Unceasingly we farmers are made to realize that a task delayed is a task rendered increasingly difficult. Build the fence today; a month from now the post holes will cost you twice as much. Sow the alfalfa today; not another day in the season can it be sown with success. Pick up that strand of barbed wire today; tomorrow your horse will be maimed by it. So fall, day by day, demonstrations of the needfulness of "doing it now," until the desire to be prompt, to snatch the opportunity, becomes almost an obsession. Great as is the demand in the city for promptness, it is not so unpitying as the country demand, because in the city the demand comes largely through people, and people are not so exigent as things. People will receive excuses, provide substitutes, alter requirements. Things will not; things, therefore, are more unmercifully exigent than human masters. Disciplined under such masters, it seems to me the country-bred must have greater ingrained power to do the hard thing and "do it now" than the city-bred.

A Government of Lawyers.

Herbert Croly: The existing political order has been created by lawyers, and they naturally believe somewhat obsequiously in a system for which they are responsible, and from which they benefit. This government of law, of which they boast, is not only a government by lawyers, but is a government in the interest of litigation.

It makes legal advice more constantly essential to the corporation and to the individual than any European political system. The lawyer, just as much as the millionaire and the politician, has reaped a bountiful harvest from the inefficiency and irresponsibility of American state government and from the worship of individual rights.

MOVED TWO TOWNS.

To the Editor of Tht Herald:

The "steamed" editor of the News Tribune should study up a little on state geography. In his over-zealousness to place Minnesota in the "dry" column, he has moved Baudette and Spooner out of Beltrami county and placed these two thriving villages into Roseau county. Quite a feat, even for a newspaper editor, to move two towns a distance of twenty-five miles without letting the citizens know about it. Very truly yours,

BILLY SUNDAY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Of late your columns have contained many articles boosting the work done by one Billy Sunday, the evangelist, and it seems that a large proportion of Duluth's citizens are very eager to have him include your city in his itinerary. The following from the current issue of the International Musician should, therefore, come in at a rather opportune time, and is respectfully submitted to Sunday's admirers:

"On May 26, 1912, Billy Sunday delivered an oration before the old soldiers of Beaver Falls, Pa., that made a great hit. It was a classical gem, devoid of all the catchy vulgarisms that Sunday usually indulges in. Nobody expected such fine diction, sublime logic, and eloquent, scholarly phrases emanating from a man whose stock in trade is aptly applying catchy epigrams full of vituperation and often vulgarity. A local paper said that his eloquence was 'tipped with the fire of God.' No wonder! Every word of it was filched from that masterpiece of either ancient or modern oratory, namely, that incomparable Decoration Day address delivered in the Academy of Music, New York city, on May 30, 1882, by Col. Robert Ingersoll, whom Sunday, in sizzling, vitriolic rhetoric, has consigned to the very hottest place in Satan's dominions. It is a lamentable and deplorable fact that Sunday, who is continually posing as 'better than thou,' deliberately stole the product of a man whom he is continually denouncing as the spawn of the devil, conceived in the womb of hell, and tried to palm it off on his auditors as his very own. This exposure was made by the New York Times of Jan. 31, 1915, in parallel columns."

An article I read appearing in your paper a short while ago, headed "When Sunday Works," was written in nice style, and proved rather captivating, and one has to admit, it left a strong desire on the part of the reader to be able to hear the fellow himself. But, whoever wrote that article forgot to include stuff like the following, which Sunday recently worked out of his system, "Come on, you bull-necked, beetle-browed, hog-jowled, peanut-brained, weasel-eyed four-flushers, false alarms, and excess baggage," etc. Does that sound as if it came from the lips of one committed to the teachings of the gentle Nazarene?

I make the unqualified statement that Sunday's work is doing real religion no good whatsoever. Real repentance can certainly not be induced by such a display of gutter-snipe billingsgate. Therefore, I ask, does Duluth understand the caliber of the man she would so willingly welcome? Yours very truly,

HOWARD E. KIMPTON.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

"The Old Open Bucket."

How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood,
When fond recollection presents them
to view,
The orchard, the meadow, the deep
tangled wildwood,
And every loved spot which my infancy
knew.
The wide spreading pond and the mill
that stood by it,
The bridge where the cataract fell.
The cot of my father, the dairy house
nigh it,
And even the rude bucket that hung
in the well.
Chorus.
The old oaken bucket; the iron bound bucket,
The moss covered bucket that hung in the well.

II.

That moss-covered bucket I hailed as a treasure,
For often at noon when returned from the field
I found it the source of an exquisite pleasure,
The purest and sweetest that nature
can yield.
How ardent I seized it with hands that were glowing,
And quick to the white pebbled bottom it fell.
Then soon with the emblem of truth
overflowing,
And dripping with coolness, it rose from the well.

III.

How sweet from the green, mossy
brim to receive it,
As poised on the curb it inclined to my lips,
Not a full flushing goblet could tempt
me to leave it.
Though filled with the nectar that
Jupiter sips,
And now far removed from the loved and forgotten,
The tear of regret will intrusively swell,
As fancy reverts to my father's plantation,
And sighs for the bucket that hung
in the well.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling of or concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

A. C. P., Kinney.—Would you please answer through the Open Court the following questions: When was the Lusitania built? What tonnage? In what year did she make her record trip? What length and width?—The Lusitania was built in 1907 at Glasgow. Her gross tonnage was 32,000; her length 790 feet and width, 88 feet. Her record trip was made in 1908, four days and fifteen hours.

E. H. Thomas, West Duluth.—Is there a regular ebb and flow tide in Lake Superior?—The United States hydrographic officer says there is no tide in Lake Superior. The water rises and falls but this is due to the wind.

What the Child Is Learning

The Eighth Grade.

By the time the student reaches the eighth grade his education has progressed far enough so that his fond parents are not so ready to help him with his problems, and his father is apt to say:

"Why, don't you know that?" Instead of answering the question offhand.

Shakespeare, Victor Hugo, Lord Byron, James Fenimore Cooper and Sir Walter Scott are some of the authors whose works are read and studied in the last grade, the aim of the course being to arouse and create a taste for good literature; to secure accurate and distinct interpretation of the meaning of the author; and to improve oral expression.

In the upper eighth grade the students read the story of the Iliad and Odyssey, Plutarch's Lives, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Ben Hur," "Last Days of Pompeii," "Seats of the Mighty," by Gilbert Parker, and other standard works.

Cube root, the metric system and mensuration are taught particularly in the B eighth grade. This includes practical application of long, square and cubic measures; finding area, circumference, diameter, radius, surface and volume of spheres and triangles; systems of weights and measures in the decimal scale, such as liter, gram, decimeter, centimeter, etc.

In the A eighth grade the work delves into the mysteries of substitution; square and cube root, with decimal co-efficients and fractional and literal exponents; quadratics; ratio and proportion, and simpler proportions.

Technical study of the noun, pronoun, adjective, adverb, and verb forms the bulk of the grammar class work. The classes, properties and forms of verbs are considered carefully. The preposition and conjunction also are divided into classes.

Geography and history, as in the seventh grade, are combined to some extent. Europe and the British Isles, their geographical construction and relation to the United States form one of the main topics of study.

History students in this class take up a thorough study of the Civil war, paying close attention to the condition of the North and South before the war, and the various causes of the struggle. Military operations, results of the war, and the reconstruction period are titles of sub-divisions of the work which follows.

Administrations of Presidents Johnson, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, McKinley, Roosevelt, in some cases Roosevelt, are taken up in order following the completion of the study of the war.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

We Leave It to Grandma

ONE of the sweetest memories of childhood is the soap and sugar poultice grandma applied when we suffered a festering stone bruise. We know now that it was fearfully insanitary treatment, but, oh, how nice it felt to be nursed and petted and bound up in soap and sugar!

Grandma, we have said some mean, low, ungentlemanly things about you in this execrable column. We have treated many of your fondest delusions with utter scorn. Probably you think we are ungrateful for the good things you have contributed to domestic medicine. But we ain't. We'll back your old-time cough seerup against any of the patented dope your grandchildren squander money on today; we'll have one of your good old flaxseed meal poultices in preference to any modern medicated mud at 50 cents a daub when we need poulticing; and your unbeatable senna leaves are good enough for our liver. For the aspersions we may have cast upon your ideas of obstetrical technique and baby-raising you will pardon us, we hope, now that this testimonial has been presented you. Especially do we crave your forgiveness, since we now come to you for aid.

Grandma Remembers It.

You remember, grandma, how folks used to have a certain ailment known, bluntly, as the itch? Yes, that's the one—the same old seven-year itch—only we don't think it should last more than seven hours or so today. Well, it's around again. Yes, everybody's catching it, some of the very best families. And, grandma, guess what they're calling it? Eczema, tetter, uric acid in the blood, impure blood, poison, erythema, chicken-pox—why, they're calling it by any other name than scabies. As much as the doctor's life is worth to come right out and say it is the itch.

Indeed, yes, they take it from towels, powder rags, contact—tango parties and all that sort of thing. They are innocent, poor things, so they pass it along unconsciously. We suspect the restlessness of the itch has much to do with these modern dances, grandma. When you get the itch you just can't sit still. And it's worse when you get warmed up.

Now, we leave it to you. They come to us and laughingly observe that you've already told them you believed it was the seven-year kind—and we're stumped for an answer, being, as you might say, diffident when desirous of holding a patient. We know you're right—you know the itch when you see it. That ointment we tell the young folks to rub in is nothing more nor less than your selfsame old cure for the itch, sulphur and lard, only we prescribe it nicely tinted and flavored, for the psychic effect. Grandma, it's the itch without any beating about the bush, and we compliment you upon your memory.

Questions and Answers.

Running Ears: Can running ears be cured and how? What is the best nerve tonic you know of?

REPLY.

Yes, by having the underlying cause in nose or throat treated by a physician who specializes on such work. There is no such thing as a nerve tonic, other than ordinary tonics.

* * *

Infectious Period of Whooping Cough: How long after a child gets whooping cough is he capable of infecting others?

REPLY.

As long as the cough produces any expectoration.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

FOUND GUILTY IN SEVEN MINUTES

John Mack Is Quickly Convicted of Grand Larceny Charge.

It took a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court yesterday afternoon only seven minutes to reach the conclusion that John Mack was one of the two men who broke into Sam Dahl's room at the Grace hotel on the night of May 6 and stole $5 from Dahl.

The jury convicted Mack on a charge of burglarly in the third degree. He faces a prison term of not more than five years. The prisoner will be brought before the court for sentence later.

Mack was jointly indicted with Andrew Niemiecka by the May grand jury. When their case was brought to trial yesterday morning the men demanded separate trials. Niemiecka will be tried today.

NEXT SEASON GOOD FOR THEATER GAME

L. N. Scott, St. Paul Playhouse Owner, Optimistic About Business.

"The next theatrical season will be a splendid one," said L. N. Scott of St. Paul while here yesterday evening. Mr. Scott is proprietor of the Metropolitan and Shubert theaters of St. Paul and is a pioneer theatrical man of the Northwest.

With Frank McCormick, Lac Stafford and George J. Shern all of Minneapolis, Mr. Scott was the guest of Charles A. Marshall of the Lyceum theater. Mr. McCormick is the owner of the Cafe McCormick of Minneapolis.

The men are stockholders in the U. S. Display Advertising company of Duluth and attended the annual meeting, held at the company's offices in the Lyceum building yesterday afternoon.

Following the meeting, Mr. Marshall entertained the visitors at the Kitchi Gammi club. Mr. Scott and Mr. McCormick are old friends of the Duluth theatrical man. It was rumored that the latter was looking over Duluth as a prospective location for a hotel or cafe, but he merely laughed when questioned about it.

Mr. Scott established a theater in St. Paul thirty years ago and has been prominent in Minnesota theatrical activities since that time.

FARM AND RETAIL PRICES OF MEAT

Explanation of Difference Very Simple and Highly Interesting.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—What caused the difference between the farm and the retail prices of meat, is explained in an article on "The Marketing of Livestock," by K. F. Warner, printed in a bulletin containing "Studies in Marketing," by L. D. H. Weld, of the Minnesota College of Agriculture, and others. The explanation is exceedingly simple and highly interesting in view of all the talk that has been heard on the subject.

The weight of the dressed carcass is only 51 per cent of the live weight for cattle; 77 per cent for hogs; 47 per cent for sheep. This fact is often lost sight of by those who can not understand the wide spread between farm price and retail prices of meat.

In the case of beef, the packer sells the whole carcass for less than he paid for the live animal. For example in 1913, the average price of cattle to the packers at South St. Paul was $6.25 per hundred. Thus a 1,000-pound steer would cost the packer $62.50. He sold the careass for $58.65 (average), and got $16.06 for by-products. Thus he received $73.71 for the animal that cost $62.50, a gross margin of $11.21. Out of this $11.21 the packer had to pay the expenses of his packing plant, the freight to local distributing houses, and the operation of these houses.

The retailer paid $58.65 for the carcass, and sold the whole for $84.20 to consumers, at prices ranging from 12 or 14 cents to 30 cents a pound, an average of about 16 cents a pound for the whole carcass. The gross margin for the retailer was $25.55, or 30.3 per cent of selling price. Since it costs retailers from 20 to 25 per cent of sales to do business, it is apparent that the retail butchers are not making inordinately large profits, but that the costs of doing business are very high.

The Minnesota farmer gets for his animal about 57 or 58 per cent of the price finally paid for the by-products and the meat together.

The success of the Livestock Shipping association is clearly shown by Mr. Warner's article in the fact that it costs from 50 cents to $1 per 100 pounds to market livestock from the farm to the packer at South St. Paul through a local buyer, whereas it costs from 30 to 40 cents only through the shipping association.

Campaigns For Pure Foods

have been eye-openers to the American people. Scores of food products have been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

One of the commonest faults—and a serious one—is the deficiency of mineral elements in white flour foods. To this lack is due, in large degree, nervous prostration, anemia, rickets in children, and many other ills.

Nearly a score of years ago a wonderful food—made from whole wheat and barley—was devised. It contains all the nutriment of the grain, including the valuable mineral salts so necessary for perfect building of body, brain and nerves.

That food is

Grape-Nuts

It has been awarded highest merits and place in the Westfield Book of Pure Foods, and in the N. Y. Globe's exceedingly exclusive Pure Food Directory.

Ready to eat—delicious economical—nourishing.

Baking Powder Biscuits

Light as a Feather

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Baking Powder Biscuits made by this recipe are so far ahead of ordinary baking powder biscuits that, if once tried, you will never use any other recipe. Try it the next time you run short of bread. Save this recipe. 29

K C Baking Powder Biscuits

Three cups flour; ¼ to ½ cup shortening; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; about 1 cup milk or water; 1 teaspoonful salt.

Sift three times, the flour, salt and baking powder. Work into the flour the shortening, using lard or butter for shortening. Then mix to a very soft dough with the milk. The softer the biscuit enters the oven, the lighter it comes out. Never knead baking powder biscuits; press the dough into shape and roll lightly. Cut in small shapes and bake on a sheet or very shallow pan in a hot oven. In placing biscuits in the pans place well apart, not allowing edges to touch. Small biscuits are better than large ones. Large biscuits do not have the proper amount of time to raise and bake.

Have you seen the new K C Cook's Book? Brimful of appetizing recipes that simply must be successful every time if the few simple directions are carefully followed. You would gladly pay 50 cents for this valuable book, yet we send it absolutely free upon receipt of the colored certificate packed in every 25-centcan of K C Baking Powder. JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago. Small cans do not have Cook's Book certificates.

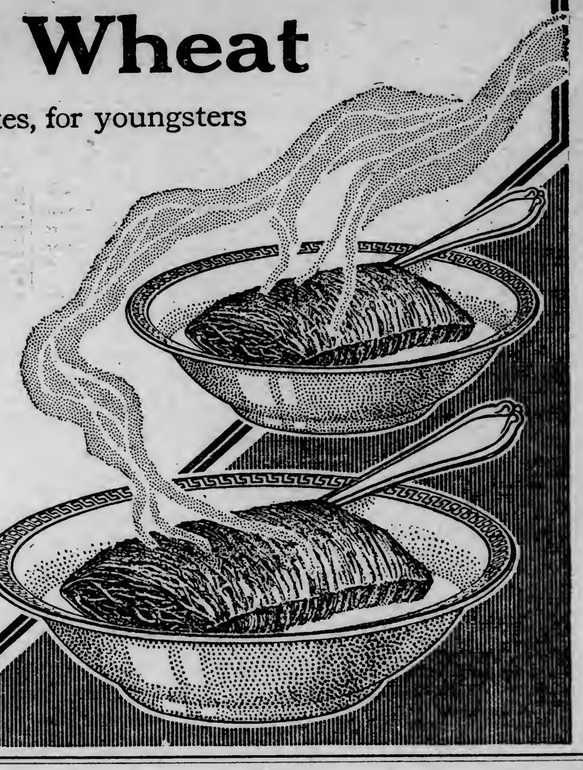
The Strongest Man in the World is only a baby when he lies on his back and takes orders from a rebellious stomach and a trained nurse. The best food to coax back the digestive organs to natural vigor is a food for invalids and athletes, for youngsters and grown-ups — contains all the body-building material in the whole wheat grain made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. The delicate, porous shreds of baked wheat are retained and digested when the stomach rejects all other foods.



Made in America

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. Also delicious with fruits. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 23.

2. Samuel II, 1-7, V, 1-5: David, King Over Judah and Israel.

THE CONNECTION.

After David spared Saul's life the second time the latter went on back to Gibeah, and David, fearing further danger, went down to the Philistines and offered his allegiance to Achish, but, when war arose with Israel, Achish's leaders were afraid David would betray him to the enemy and kept him away from battle. David was a sort of frontier guard and was at Ziklag when the news came that Saul and Jonathan had fallen in the battle at Gilboa. He had been waiting for news. The first one to tell him of the death of the two men was an Amalekite who showed David Saul's crown and bracelet, and thinking he would reward any one who had killed him, claimed to have done so himself, but David had him killed on the spot for laying violent hands on God's anointed. Then he composed the beautiful song recorded in the first chapter of second Samuel. Soon he took up the practical question of duty and was soon on the throne. Our lesson tells of that.

THE LESSON.

I.

David Established in Hebron Over Judah. 1-4.

"And it came to pass after this, that David inquired of Jehovah, saying, Shall I go into any of the cities of Judah? And Jehovah said unto him, Go up. And David said, Whither shall I go up? And He said, Unto Hebron. So David went up thither, and his two wives also, Ahinoam the Jezreelitess, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite. And his men that were with him did David bring up, every man with his household; and they dwelt in the cities of Hebron. And the men of Judah came, and there they anointed David king over the house of Judah."

1. TRAINED.—It was a hard task before him. The people were divided among themselves, distrustful of him as too intimate with the Philistines and fearful of the Philistines who lived too near them for comfort. He had his great gifts of magnetic leadership, artistic power in music and poetry and speech, unselfishness in feeling and wisdom and courage in action. He had spent ten or twelve of his thirty years in the school of hard and varied experience. At court he had met and overcome temptation, learned some of the arts of governing, become acquainted with leading men and acquired great influence. In his outlaw days he had mastered the arts of war, learned the conditions of his own country and risen to be a popular hero. He had learned how to endure hardship, had acquired a valuable knowledge of the nations round about him, had gathered a finely drilled body of men to support him and had become rugged as well as gentle in character.

2. TRUSTFUL.—His confidence in God was one of the chiefest points in his character. He had his ambitions and knew what was right but he chose for himself the will of God. He sought God's help each step in his approach to the throne and when he reached it he had learned how to trust God well. He knew duty called him to a struggle he would gladly have avoided and he walked into that struggle with faith and hope.

3. TACTFUL.—It was his own tribe of Judah that chose him king and put the crown on his head. He established his court at Hebron, farthest from the Northern Philistines, full of sacred memories, among a people who knew his heroic services and Saul's prophecy that he should one day be king; he was close to the friendly branch of the Southern Philistines. Possibly he recognized the suzerainty of Achish and paid him tribute.

He had a starting place from which he extended his sway over all the tribes eventually. He put his brave followers and their families in the cities round about him as a wall of protection. His fathers had been buried there in the cave of Machpelah and the associations of the place were inspiring and unifying. The men of Judah chose him because they loved and admired him, knew that God had directed Samuel to anoint him and had heard that Saul had confirmed that choice. He had not seized the scepter. He had been led to the throne. Behind him was the power and purpose of God and the devotion of the great tribe of Judah.

II.

Wisely Winning the Other Tribes. 5-7.

"And they told David, saying, The men of Jabesh-gilead were they that buried Saul. And David sent messengers unto the men of Jabesh-gilead, and said unto them, Blessed be ye of Jehovah, that ye have showed this kindness unto your lord, even unto Saul, and have buried him. And now Jehovah show loving kindness and truth unto you; and I also will requite you this kindness, because ye have done this thing. Now therefore let your hands be strong, and be ye valiant; for Saul your lord is dead, and also the house of Judah have anointed me king over them."

1. BENEVOLENCE.—First it was toward the people over on the east side of the Jordan at Jabesh-gilead who had rescued the bodies of Saul and his three sons from the enemies who had fastened their bodies to the wall at Beth-shan and gave them honorable burial. How free he was from vindictiveness as he now thought of his old enemy with nothing but love, love because he was the Lord's anointed, father of David's wife and father of his dearest friend, Jonathan. But Saul had treated him in such a devilish way it is really a mystery how he could love him.

2. FAVOR.—The message was sent to them as soon as he heard of their kindness to the dead. It was full of praise, calling them "blessed"; a prayer for God's blessing on them; a recognition of Saul's right to rule, calling Him "your lord"; an assurance to them that God would show "loving kindness and truth" to them; an acknowledgement of his indebtedness to them as Saul's friend and son-in-law and successor; an announcement of his selection as king of the great tribe of Judah; an assurance that he would give them protection so that they could be strong and valiant, and a delicate request that they give him a loyal support. It was a wise, far-sighted, sincere and affectionate message. How they received it we don't exactly know.

III.

Established Over Israel Also. v. 1-5.

"Then came all the tribes of Israel to David unto Hebron, and spake, saying, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh. In times past, when Saul was king over us, it was thou that leddest out and broughtest in Israel: and Jehovah said to thee, Thou shalt be shepherd of My people Israel, and thou shalt be prince over Israel. So all the elders of Israel came to the king to Hebron; and King David made a covenant with them in Hebron before Jehovah; and they anointed David king over Israel. David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years. In Hebron he reigned over Judah seven years and six months; and in Jerusalem he reigned thirty and three years over all Israel and Judah."

1. EXHAUSTION.—Abner, Saul's general, established Ish-bosheth, a weak son of Saul, over the ten northern tribes with capital at Mahanaim on the east of Jordan, and they took the name of Israel. As long as Abner supported him he did fairly well, but they grew weaker and David grew stronger and finally Abner broke with him.

2. UNION.—It was a final triumph of David's diplomacy and generosity. He loved his people and did his best for them all. The northern tribes sent their leaders down to Hebron and put their crown on David's head and he wisely moved to a more central location in the impregnable heights on which the city of Jerusalem was afterward built. A great historical era is opening to the nation.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The city in which, by divine direction, David established himself, was not only one of the most ancient in existence, but also one which was encircled with associations which, to an Israelite, must have been peculiarly sacred. There Abraham, the father of the faithful, sojourned for a considerable portion of his life in Canaan, and hard by was the cave of Machpelah, in which he buried the remains of Sarah, and in which his own ashes and those of Isaac and Jacob were afterward deposited. Hebron was made a city of refuge and a city of the Levites. Hence, from both its holy associations, its central situation, and the probable favor of its inhabitants toward him, it was a most appropriate place for David's capital.—Taylor.

David appreciated the highest motives in others, and to these he appealed. It is probable that the men of Jabesh-gilead were only rough frontiersmen on a far border of Israel, but on one occasion their action had risen to a great moral height. David chose to appeal to them on the high plane which they had once reached. He appealed to the best that was in them; he did not defy the worst; in fact, did not recognize it.—J. R. Brown.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. How may our ambitions adapt themselves to the will of God?
2. What are the connections between honors and responsibilities?
3. What is always the noblest course to pursue with an enemy?
4. How may one acquire such nobleness who is naturally vindictive?

No matter what you want, it will save you time and money if you use Herald Wants.

Prepare to Invest

From now on capital is going to be in greater demand than ever in the United States because our foreign sources of supply for it are cut off.

The man with money to lend will be in a very strong position because there will be so many borrowers and they will be eager to pay good interest on money.

Convention Visitors Will Be Guests of Chisholm Women

The delegates and other club members who attend the convention of the Eighth congressional district that will be held at Chisholm Tuesday and Wednesday will be entertained at the homes of Chisholm women. Mrs. Peter Olesen, the district president, asks that all who intend to go send their names at once to Miss Nellie Z. Peterson, president of the Women's club of Chisholm, in order that the hostesses may know for how many guests they are to make preparations.

Miss Schmied and Brother Introduce Fox Trot

Miss Berta Schmied and Leo Schmied introduced the Maurice fox trot at the Lyceum last night, giving the one step for an encore. For these dances Miss Schmied wore a white gown embroidered in silver butterflies and finished with a green chiffon girdle. The Maurice fox trot will be given again tonight.

At the matinee Miss Schmied and her brother repeated the black and white polka and the Parisian tango that were given Monday and Tuesday nights.

At the afternoon and night performances Miss Schmied received some beautiful bouquets of American beauty roses.

Will Entertain Auxiliary.

Mrs. R. A. Anderson of 220 Nineteenth avenue west will entertain the auxiliary of the B. and L., S. M. E., tomorrow afternoon.

Dolls Are Now Being Made-in-America

Cleveland Plain Dealer: When the American little girl receives her next new doll, it is very apt to be one that was made in the United States, for the doll industry has been given great impetus by the curtailment of shipments of dolls from Germany.

Some of the factories work night shifts to meet the orders in the busy season, and with one factory alone employing fifty men, and turning out as many as 7,000 composition heads every twenty-four hours, one may gain some idea of the proportions this industry has reached.

Dolls' heads are made in plaster molds of many different sizes, and of a peculiar dough made of a combination of wheat paste and wax that becomes very hard after being exposed to the air for a few hours.

This solution is poured into molds and allowed to stand long enough to permit a coating of paste to harden on the inside, when the rest of the solution is turned out and the paste coating left to harden.

Molds stand until the heads thoroughly harden, and then they are opened and the dolls' heads are plunged into pails of soft pink wax and wheat paste to give them the desired fleshlike appearance.

Several hours longer are required in the process of drying this coating, then the painters provide the heads with eyes, noses, mouths and eyelids. One artist works only on the whites of the eyes, and the head is passed to another, who puts on the dot of paint that makes the pupil, another adds the eyebrows and another the lips and nostrils. By means of an air brush the pink blush seen on the cheeks is bestowed. The air brush is worked by electricity and requires much skill in handling. When the heads are completed they are shipped to factories where the bodies of the dolls are made. There they are joined to the bodies and are then ready for sale.

Another season will see the manufacturers even better prepared to supply the trade than they were this year. They are making a greater variety in facial expression than they have made before.

Church Meetings.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the First Christian church will give an old-fashioned spelling match and name social tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the church. Dr. L. W. Kline and E. R. Cobb will be the captains on the sides and a prize will be given to the person who "spells down" the others. The number of letters in a person's first and last names will determine the number of cents he will be required to pay for admission. Mrs. James Davis will be in charge of the program. A social hour will conclude the evening's entertainment.

The Ladies' Union of Pilgrim Congregational church will give a May supper tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in the church parlors. Circle No. 4 will be in charge.

* * *

The Ladies' Aid Society of Lester Park M. E. church will give a supper at the church tomorrow night from 6 to 8 o'clock. The members of the committee on arrangements are Mrs. H. Bartlett, Mrs. Arthur Howell, Mrs. J. E. Watt and Mrs. Frank Hall.

AMUSEMENTS

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players in "Mam'zelle," assisted by Miss Berta Schmied and her brother.

NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.

REX—Blanche Sweet in "The Captive," photoplay.

Theater Gossip.

Some strange and unusual dance steps are likely to be seen at Saturday night, at the dance DANCE WEEK contest which will AT LYCEUM. bring "Dance Week" at the Lyceum to a close. Few people know the same dance steps, and every little circle of dancers has steps of its own which may or may not be known to the next circle. Already ten entries have been received at the Lyceum box office for the contest Saturday night, and as they represent virtually all districts in Duluth, the audience Saturday night will see the new dances as they are danced in different parts of the city.

The dance contest will bring to a close the engagement of Miss Berta Schmied and her brother, Leo Schmied. Saturday night will also be a "request" night, and the Schmieds will present those dances for which the most requests are received. This is proving a record-breaking week at the Lyceum, the attendance being the largest since last summer. Next week "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will be the attraction.

The New Grand offers for the week-end a new bill that is very well bal-
GOOD BILL anced with a pleasing ar-
AT GRAND. ray of vaudeville talent. Burns, Brown and Burns are elected to nerve, or rather unnerve, the audience in the opening position with their hair-raising escapades of balancing and gymnastic feats.

Dunlay and Merril combine comedy with song, resulting in a vaudeville concoction with a punch. They are a clever duo, using excellent song numbers interspersed with side-splitting chatter.

Hager and Goodwin, two clever young men, and a piano, offer a diversion in singing, dancing and comedy that is a delight.

A surprising act of its kind is Lady Alice's Pets, embracing a number of cats, dogs, birds and rabbits. A feeling of "brotherly love" predominates among the "actors" in this offering, resulting in a cleverly worked out routine in which the rats, cats, dogs and birds do marvelous stunts.

The Hearst-Selig News projects as usual interesting views from all over the world. The photoplay feature, "The Jest of Jealousy," tells a beautiful story in a charming manner. "A Lucky Strike," a comedy, and a Vitagraph special, "Behind the Scenes," complete the bill.

The story of "The Captive," playing at the Rex today, is laid during the days of the recent Bal-
WAR PLAY AT THE REX. veloping through the kan war, the plot de-love of a young Turkish noble for a Montenegrin peasant woman.

At the opening of the story, a young peasant of Montenegro, Marko Martinovitch, living on the border between Montenegro and Turkey, is supporting his sister and little crippled brother on a tiny farm with a poor but comfortable cabin. The call to arms comes and he leaves the fields to go to war.

In contrast to this one is shown a dinner at the castle belonging to Mahmud Hassan, a great Turkish Bey, who is also leaving for the front to fight for his country. The brave peasant is slain and the Turkish noble taken prisoner. The prisoners are allotted to the bereaved women of the district as servants to do the work of the absent or slain men. Sonya, Blanche Sweet, in revenge for her brother's death, treats Mahmud in the most humiliating manner, taking the horse out of the plow and forcing him to drag it and compelling him to do the menial tasks of cooking and washing. But in the face of all they both come to realize the growth of a mutual sentiment.

JITNEY NOT PROFITABLE

Driver Turns in Permit and Will Operate Taxicab.

Wear and Tear on Car Eat Up All the Profits.

There is no money in the jitney business.

At least, one driver thinks so, and he will no longer operate a jitney in Duluth, but will run a taxicab instead.

He is Henry Sampson of 260 South First avenue east, who had taken out a permit from City Treasurer McLean about a month ago to operate a jitney, but appeared in the office again yesterday and declared that he is going out of the jitney business and will start a taxicab. As a result he will not be required to operate under the ordinance passed last Monday.

Mr. Sampson claims that the wear and tear on an automobile in the jitney business eats up all the profits that can be made, and that when the machine is no longer fit for service, then the driver is out a car.

According to Mr. Sampson, many jitney drivers will have to quit within a few weeks, when their cars begin to show the effects of constant travel. He claims that there is no profit in the 5-cent fare, considering the life of an automobile.

"I'm going into the taxicab business, where I can make a living and not lose my car after a year or two," he said.

Devine Has Not Decided.

Minot, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. M. Devine, former governor of North Dakota, has not decided whether he will accept the superintendency of the North Dakota reformatory, which was tendered him by the state board of control, to succeed J. Brown, resigned. Mr. Devine probably will reach a decision in a very few days.

Forks Club Raises Money.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—With three days set aside for the raising of its annual budget of $5,850, the Commercial club committee in charge of the work succeeded in raising more than half the sum the first day.

PAVEMENTS AND BUILDING CODE

Members of Improvement Club Discuss Live Local Topics.

Members of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club discussed the proposed paving of Thirty-ninth avenue from Third to Seventh streets at its meeting last night at the Merritt school. The project is to be pushed by property owners so that the improvement can be made next year.

The proposed building code also came in for discussion informally. Certain objections to features of the code will be presented by a committee of the club to the commissioners.

LODGE WILL PLAN ANNUAL PICNIC

Plans for the annual picnic and outing of the West Duluth lodge No. 255, Royal League will be made at a meeting of the lodge to be held next Tuesday evening at the West Duluth Commercial club rooms. The outing will be held jointly with Pocahontas lodge. Invitations will also be extended to the Zenith and Ruth councils of Duluth.

A challenge to play baseball between the West Duluth and Zenith lodges will undoubtedly be issued. This game is an annual feature of the outing.

West Duluth Briefs.

A meeting of the Oneota Cemetery association will be held this evening at the West Duluth public library. The matter of improvements to be made this summer at the cemetery will be taken up.

Mrs. Sarah Erickson of Virginia is a guest for a few days at the home of West Duluth relatives. She will leave next week for Scanlon where she will spend the summer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emil Johnson.

Miss Sadie Davidson, 124 South Fifty-ninth avenue west, is spending a week visiting relatives in the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Julia Salverson, 410 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, left yesterday for Seattle, Wash., where she will spend the summer visiting her son.

Just For Emergencies

We know a man who has a Savings Account, "just for emergencies," as he terms it.

He deposits five or ten dollars two or three times a month—once in awhile twenty or fifty. And this man has a good paying business.

"Sometimes I need money quick—a business emergency—and with this savings account I always know where to get it. On one occasion it actually saved me several hundred dollars. I cannot afford to be without it."

Think it over, Mr. Business Man.

SATISFIES NEITHER SIDE

New Train Service to Suburbs Criticised By Both Factions.

Steel Plant Employes Want Earlier Train; Residents Later One.

Railroad transportation between the suburbs as recently changed is satisfactory to neither the men employed at the steel plant nor the residents of New Duluth and Fond du Lac, according to employes of the plant and residents of the suburbs. The wait of more than a half hour for the evening train to take the employes home is the principal cause of complaint.

"While the time of waiting for the train has been reduced materially still the service is not satisfactory," said one of the employes last night. "All of the men who can do so are taking automobiles home at a cost of about 10 cents more than the train fare but still there are about 200 men using the train. These men are through work at 5:45 and get to the railroad tracks before 6 o'clock. Then there is the wait until 6:25 when the train arrives.

"In this cold weather with the sharp wind blowing off the lake it is anything but pleasant to wait. The old ramshackle building provided as a depot has absolutely no conveniences where the men may sit down or even shelter themselves."

Suburbanites Displeased.

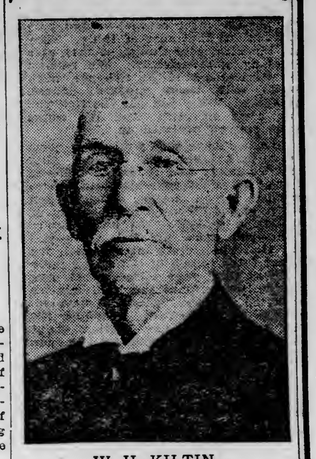
New Duluth people are also indignant over the change. Several men residing in the suburb have been compelled to walk from the end of the street car line at Seventy-first avenue since Monday evening on account of the change. A number of men as well as women employed uptown have been unsuccessful in getting their hours of employment changed to conform with the change in train schedule and as a result have to walk because the train leaves the Union station at 5:25 instead of 6:10 o'clock as formerly.

A hearing before the state railroad and warehouse commission will be asked and at that time requests for train service that will be satisfactory to the entire community, will be made. A special train operated from New Duluth at about 6 o'clock will be asked for the steel plant employes and it is proposed to request that the train recently shifted to 5:25 be replaced to 6:10 o'clock leaving the union depot.

Another request that will be made by residents of Morgan park which will have the support of New Duluth and Fond du Lac people, will be the placing of a special night train to be operated at least once if not twice each week. This train service is wanted for Wednesday and Saturday nights or if not both nights to have it at least for Saturdays. Many of the residents of the suburb wish to spend at least one evening in Duluth, shopping or going to the theaters and believe that the request will be granted by the railroad when the matter is placed before the officials in the right light.

L. R. Taylor, secretary of the New Duluth Commercial club, was in Duluth this noon attending the meeting of the Rotary club, before which body the railroad transportation to the suburbs was placed.

WEST DULUTH BUILDERS



W. H. KILTIN.

The one name that glares at the people of West Duluth more than any other is that of W. H. Kiltin. Pedestrians see either the name or the initials at nearly every corner and wonder how a man can be popular enough to have his name imbedded in the sidewalks.

Mr. Kiltin might be called the man who put the "con" in concrete in West Duluth. He probably has built more sidewalks in this end of the city than any other man. For several years his firm had the city contracts for sidewalk construction.

In the early days of concrete sidewalks they were commonly referred to as "cement" walks. Shortly after starting on his first job in West Duluth one of the property owners on an adjoining street asked Mr. Kiltin what kind of a walk he was laying.

"Cement," said Mr. Kiltin.

"Who's C. Ment?" asked the man. "I never heard of him before."

WILL FEAST IN LAND OF MIDNIGHT SUN

Edda Lodge No. 15, Daughters of Norway, will celebrate a "Feast of the Land of the Midnight Sun" this evening at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. It is for members of the Sons and Daughters of Norway and friends of members.

A program has been arranged at which a feature will be a national pageant where members of the society will appear in the various forms of dress of Norway. A drill by small children will also be a feature of the program.

The women in charge of the program are: Mrs. J. J. Olson, Mrs. P. Lund, Mrs. L. Larson, Mrs. N. Sorenson, Mrs. J. Nellson, Mrs. L. N. Hanson, Mrs. M. Holterud, Mrs. O. Thornes and Mrs. P. Wick.

LOST LIFE IN LAKE.

Clarence Lucas, Formely of West Duluth, Drowned in Washington.

Clarence Lucas, former superintendent of the Le Seur sawmill in West Duluth, who recently lost his life by drowned in Mirror lake, near Wickersham, Wash., was drowned during the evening while inspecting a boom of logs on the lake, according to information gained by local friends of the man. He was owner of the Libert lumber camp, and while inspecting the logs, is believed to have slipped into the water and been unable to save himself.

He leaves a widow and five children. Mr. Lucas was in West Duluth for several years and had many friends in this end of the city. He resided at Seattle.

TEN NEW MEMBERS FOR MOOSE LODGE

Ten new members were initiated into the West Duluth lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose at its meeting at the Moose hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street last night. Following the work a smoker was held by the lodge.

PERMITS TO RUN JITNEYS

Ninety-Eight Drivers, Including One Woman, Have Already Applied.

Permits Will Later Be Exchanged for the New Licenses.

Out of the ninety-eight jitney permits already issued by City Treasurer McLean, forty-six are for the operation of Ford automobiles, the remainder being divided among cars of twenty-four different makes.

J. O. Rennings of 705 West Second street has the first permit and he is operating two Ford cars. Mrs. Frances Fay of 407 First avenue west is the only woman who has obtained a permit up to the present time.

According to the records on file in the city treasurer's office, ninety-eight permits have been issued for the operation of the following automobiles: Ford, 46; Studebaker, 7; Maxwell, 6; Chalmers, 4; E. M. F., 4; Reo, 3; Hudson, 3; Kissel, 2; Michigan, 2; Stoddard-Dayton, 2, and Franklin, Buick, Metz, Case, Haynes, Stearns, Moline, Pullman, Empire, Winton, Cadillac, Page, Regal and White Steamer.

For the present the jitney drivers will use the permits issued by the city treasurer, but as soon as the licenses are issued they will be compelled to obtain one before being permitted to operate in Duluth.

Jitney drivers are now arranging for liability insurance policies and these will have to be presented to the city clerk and their formal applications passed on by Commissioner Silberstein and the city council before a license is issued, according to the new ordinance passed last Monday. The ordinance will go into effect June 9.

CUT PRICES ON BARBERING

Fifteen-Cent Haircuts and 10-Cent Shampoos Cause Arrests.

Lack of License Offended Dignity of State of Minnesota.

Ten-cent shampoos and 15-cent hair cuts brought three barbers into police court this morning, while the lack of state licenses brought grief to two others.

Wielders of shears and razors must observe the law, according to Walter Dunlop, 10 East Superior street, member of the state board of barbers' examiners, or more arrests will follow.

R. P. Jentoft, proprietor of a hair cutting shop in the Rex hotel building, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street, paid a fine of $7.50 for having one too many apprentices in his shop, while Alfred Furo, the apprentice, is out $3.50 as a result of his ambition to become a barber too quickly. The state law provides that a shop may contain one apprentice for every two licensed men.

Bright and early this morning Court Officer Youngberg invaded the Modern Barber college, 20½ East Superior street, and arrested Claude Robinson, the proprietor, and Philip Villancourt and Carl Gustafson, "students" in the college.

Examiner Dunlop, who swore to the complaint, said that Robinson was allowing his men to charge 10 or 15 cents for haircuts, shampoos and massages, "contrary to the peace and dignity of the state of Minnesota."

In barber schools no one is allowed to charge for his services, no matter how long and shaggy the customer's hair may be, or how rough the bristles on his face.

Robinson, Villancourt and Gustafson pleaded not guilty to the charges placed against them and will be given a hearing before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting this afternoon.

Haley's special planked tenderloin steak. 417 West Superior street.

ROBBERS LOOT TWO SALOONS

Liquor and Small Amount of Coin Taken; Change Overlooked.

Burglars broke into the saloon of Joe Mantag, 2229 West Superior street, stole some liquor and rifled the till, early this morning, and then repeated the performance in the saloon next door. The second place, 2231 West Superior street, is operated by Sadowski & Ptasek.

Intoxicated by the success of their first venture, as well as by the liquid refreshments stolen in the Mantag place, the burglars overlooked nearly $2 in small change, which had been left on the bar at the Sadowski & Ptasek saloon. In addition to the liquor, they secured a total of about $6 in silver.

In each case the robbers entered from the rear door or window after cutting the screen. At the Mantag place the visitors cut a screen covering in the rear door transom, and went in via the overhead route.

Patrolman Duff found the Sadowski & Ptasek door open shortly after 2 o'clock this morning and reported the case to headquarters. So far no arrests have been made.

DIPLOMATIC DOCUMENTS

Italy Shows Each Step Resulting in Denunciation of Triple Alliance.

Interchanges Began Dec. 4, 1914, and Ended on May 4, 1915.

Rome, May 19, via Paris, May 20.—Diplomatic documents which disclose each successive step in the negotiations which resulted in Italy's denunciation of her treaty with Austria and Germany are contained in the Green Book issued by the Italian government.

This history of diplomatic interchanges begins with a telegram sent by Foreign Minister Sonnino to the duke of Avarna, Italian ambassador at Vienna, on Dec. 9, 1914, instructing him to notify Count von Berchtold, then Austrian foreign minister, that the Austrian advance in Serbia constituted a fact covered in article 7 of the triple alliance treaty entitling Italy to compensations. Count von Berchtold replied that his opinion did not agree with this view, but on Dec. 20 intimated that he had begun to change his mind.

Burian Tried to Evade.

Baron Burian, who had succeeded Count von Berchtold, tried to evade any definite expression of opinion. The duke of Avarna, Feb. 22, telegraphed that Austria evidently was trying to gain time but that she undoubtedly was being pressed by Germany.

On March 9 Austria consented to discuss compensations. Foreign Minister Sonnino laid down the cardinal points of the Italian demands. Baron Burian answered that Austria would not accept. Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador in Rome, on March 20, in the name of Germany, guaranteed the execution, after the conclusion of peace, of any agreement made by Austria. Signor Sonnino agreed to resume negotiations on the condition that Vienna would make concrete proposals.

Seven days later Baron Burian asked Italy to give formal agreement to the following clauses: First, the maintenance of benevolent political and economic neutrality throughout the war; second, Austria to have a free hand in the Balkans; third, the renunciation on the part of Italy of any further compensation, and fourth, the maintenance of the existing Italo-Austrian accord concerning Albania. On April 2 Baron Burian added that in exchange for these pledges Austria would give to Italy the districts of Roveredo, Riva and Trentino as well as a few villages.

Demands Contemptible.

Signor Sonnino replied he considered these demands contemptible; nevertheless they were permitted to stand.

The rumors of a separate Austro-Russian peace persisting, Rome asked Vienna for a definite answer. In reply Vienna added a small zone in the province of Trent to the Italian compensation.

On April 25 the Duke of Avarna reported that the Austrian government did not believe Italy ever would make war and that consequently Vienna regarded a continuance of the discussions as useless.

On receipt of this report Signor Sonnino, considering any accord impossible, denounced the alliance with Austria-Hungary. He said that last summer Austria-Hungary, without reaching any agreement with Italy and without giving Italy any notice whatever, even disdaining the advice of Italy that moderation be observed, had sent to Serbia on July 23 an ultimatum which was the cause of the present conflagration. Thus Austria-Hungary had disturbed the status quo in the Balkans, creating a situation which was of advantage to herself alone. Such a course of violence made benevolent neutrality impossible for the reason that Austria-Hungary was fighting to attain an object diametrically opposed to the vital interests of Italy, her ally.

Tried for Friendly Relations.

Nevertheless, for a period of several months, Italy endeavored to bring about a situation favorable to the re-establishment of friendly relations between the two countries, but these negotiations brought no practical results. Consequently the alliance was denounced by the Duke of Avarna on May 4. The duke on this occasion said Italy was confident of her rights and he affirmed to the Austria-Hungarian government "that from this moment Italy resumes entire liberty of action, declaring that her treaty with Austria-Hungary is hereby annulled and without effect."

LACK OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES

cease to sit in the new coalition cabinet, which will be constituted for the sole end of carrying on the war. The Daily Chronicle agrees with this view.

Precipitated Crisis.

The Times and the Daily Mail claim that what actually precipitated the sudden crisis was a dispatch to the Times from Northern France, revealing that a shortage of high explosives was seriously hampering operations, and that when the friction arose between Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty and Lord Fisher, first sea lord of the admiralty, it became imperative to take action. These papers and the Morning Post express the conviction that one of the first results of the new departure will be some scheme for national service not merely for actual fighting, but for provisions, munitions and employment.

A huge advertisement appears in all the morning papers in behalf of the war office, calling upon men up to the age of 40 to enlist. The Daily Mail describes this as a scandal when many young idlers are about the streets, and adds that it is clear that compulsion is coming.

Redmond Refuses.

The Daily Mail says it understands that John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, refuses to join the new ministry. Newspaper predictions regarding the new appointments differ considerably. The Morning Post nominates Andrew Bonar-Law, opposition leader in the house of commons, for Earl Kitchener's coadjutor at the war office, but most of the other papers point to David Lloyd George.

According to the Times, it has not yet been decided which are the ministers to retire. This paper says that the whole administration from top to bottom will be changed, reappointments not being limited to the cabinet. The new plan, says the Times, is that there should be a fair division of offices, both small and great, between the several political parties, according to a ratio of their representation in parliament, that instead of the former unwieldy cabinet yielding an inner council to conduct its affairs, the new cabinet will, in effect be a real war council. The nearest parallel to the new coalition, adds the paper, can be found in "the ministry of all talents," formed by Fox and Grenville in 1806.

011,000,000, is the greatest shown for any state, while Illinois and Pennsylvania, with $15,484,000,000 and $15,484,000,000 respectively, are close rivals for second place. Other states which rank high in total wealth are Ohio, with $8,908,000,000; California, $8,464,000,000; Iowa, $7,868,000,000; Texas, $6,860,000,000; Massachusetts, $6,303,000,000; Missouri, $5,842,000,000; New Jersey, $5,743,000,000; Minnesota, $5,547,000,000; Michigan, $5,427,000,000, and Indiana, $5,195,000,000. No other state is credited with as much as $5,000,000,000.

When the comparisons are applied on a per capita basis, however, a very different showing is made. The highest per capita figure for wealth in the hands of individuals and commercial organizations—that is, exclusive of the non-taxable property owned by governmental, educational, charitable and religious institutions—is given for Nevada, $4,865. Next in order come Iowa, with $3,345; North Dakota, $3,210, and California, $3,113.

Wealth of Other Countries.

The latest published estimates of the wealth of foreign countries show $108,280,000,000 for the British Empire in 1903, of which amount $72,997,000,000 was credited to the United Kingdom. The estimate for the United States in 1904 was $107,104,000,000. The wealth of Germany in 1908 was estimated at $77,864,000,000. Comparable estimates are not available for other nations.

"The questions here are these: Has the existence of invisible government been proven? Has the existence of a bi-partisan boss rule been proven?

"Who is the censor of the morals of men in this country? Well, my friend, Mr. Bowers, during his address divided the history of the country into three parts. The colonel has had himself put in the class with George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. He has put behind him Messrs. Guggenheim, Penrose, Barnes and many others whom he suffered for so many years. Mr. Roosevelt has changed his company. He has drawn new companions of the dim past."

Continuing, Mr. Ivins referred to the defendant as "this master molder of libel; this master molder of phrases with which to attack his enemies," and said there was "not one iota of evidence that showed a corrupt and machine ruled government. The only example of control was the control Mr. Platt exercised over this defendant."

Country Still Safe.

Mr. Ivins later said: "The country has not gone to the devil because this defendant wasn't re-elected president; congress has not gone to the bowwows; everything is going on as usual."

When Col. Roosevelt published the alleged libelous statement "he meant to kill Barnes," Mr. Ivins declared.

"Nobody has a privilege to lie," he added. "A libel is based upon a lie. Unless a libel is the absolute truth it is not justified."

"What right," Mr. Ivins asked, "had this defendant to don the yellow robe of master of morals? He says he cast off Mr. Barnes. The evidence is that Mr. Barnes refused to support him any more after the things he did and said in 1910."

Mr. Ivins urged the jury, in considering the credibility of the defendant to remember his statement in which he said he would never again be a candidate for president.

In discussing the evidence in regard to the legislative deadlock of 1911, over the election of a United States senator, Mr. Ivins said:

Barnes Not a Prophet.

"Mr. Barnes was not a prophet or the son of a prophet. He didn't know at the beginning of the contest that the Democrats were likely to desert William A. Sheehan at the last moment."

Mr. Ivins recalled the editorials that had appeared in the Albany Evening Journal and remarked: "The supposition here is that Mr. Barnes is eminently crooked simply because he is so undeniably straight."

Of the testimony of William Loeb, Mr. Ivins said:

"Mr. Loeb said that Mr. Barnes confessed his dishonor to him. Can you imagine Mr. Barnes selecting that man to confess to that he had a deal with Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall? And when Mr. Barnes challenged the truth of that statement Mr. Loeb brought back with him as a witness to corroborate him the dreadful Mr. Guggenheim."

FLEET OF WARSHIPS IS DEFENDING THE COAST IN WAR GAME OF NAVY

invasion is the task of Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, commanding the Atlantic fleet.

The great naval strength represented on the Hudson river for the past week, is at his disposal, each unit to carry out its part in a scheme of national defense, such as would obtain in actual war.

The question whether the United States has been invaded, or whether the enemy fleet has been repulsed, is to be determined by Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, president of the naval war college.

He is now at sea on the cruiser Brooklyn accompanied by representatives of the leaders of the opposing forces. The Brooklyn is to keep constantly in touch with the movements in the game by wireless.

Submarines Disabled.

Washington, May 20.—Two of the submarines engaged in the Atlantic fleet's war game off the coast were disabled last night, and were taken in tow for Newport, R. I., to be repaired. Reports to the navy department announced that the E-2 broke her crank shaft, and the K-1 developed engine trouble. Just where the submarine flotilla was operating was not announced.

the allies have occupied the Turkish position of Kilid Bahr, on the European side of the straits and opposite Chanak. Occupation took place after the position had been reduced by a bombardment of the fleet.

On the western front the only indication of activity is the continuance of artillery duels.

The Italian parliament meets today. It is generally felt that the momentous decision of war or peace can hardly be postponed beyond this sitting.

The German press, while admitting that war with Italy can hardly be prevented, views the prospect calmly. The opinion is expressed that Austria may be compelled to make a separate peace with Russia, but that this would result in the release of more German troops for service on the western frontier.

German Statement.

Berlin, May 20, via London, 4:45 p. m.—The German headquarters staff today gave out the following statement:

"In the western theater: Gloomy and hazy weather hindered active fighting in Flanders and Northwestern France yesterday. We made a little progress in the Lorette hills.

"At Ablain a night advance attempted by the enemy was repulsed after hand to hand fighting.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle artillery duels were especially fierce. At daybreak the French commenced an attack to the east of Ailly, extending over a wide front, but were everywhere repulsed, in certain sections after fierce hand to hand fighting.

"In the eastern theater: We had no engagemdnt with the strong forces of the enemy reported to be advancing on the line of Shadora-Frauenburg.

"Russian attacks on the Dubysa were repulsed. Nine hundred prisoners and two machine guns remained in our hands.

"Yesterday we attacked to the north of Hodubis. We captured a hill and took 500 more prisoners.

"Russian forces advancing south of the Niemen were completely defeated at Gryczkabuda, Symtwoty and Szakl. Remnants of the enemy's forces are fleeing in an easterly direction into the forest. Minor divisions still are holding Sutkl.

"The losses of the Russians in killed were very heavy and the number of prisoners for this reason increased by only 2,000. Two hundred and four more machine guns were captured.

"In the southeastern theater:

"Our troops which penetrated across the San river, north of Przemysl, again were attacked yesterday by the Russians in a desperate assault.

"The enemy everywhere was repulsed with very considerable losses. This morning we opened a counter-attack on one of his wings and stormed the enemy positions. He is fleeing as quickly as possible."

French Statement.

Paris, May 20, 2:50 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the military situation which reads:

"There has been nothing since Wednesday night to report."

PROBLEM OF ARMAMENT

fearlessly in the face and act accordingly; by those whose conduct is guided by reason and judgment." If we are a nation possessing these characteristics, he declared, "then we will fearlessly and courageously take up the present problem which it is our duty to determine, and will determine it properly and be prepared in the proper way and with the proper spirit for what may come hereafter."

No Direct Reference to War.

The secretary of war made no direct reference to the present European conflict. He said that he purposely refrained from discussing the defence policy which should be adopted and the details which must be carried out to make that policy effective. He urged his audience not to shrink from consideration of the problem and not to permit themselves to be diverted by "terms of opprobium." "Militarism," he said, "used as a term of reproach to divert proper consideration of what must be considered if the subject is to be considered at all. Militarism, in the sense of having the military force interfere in the slightest with the conduct of our government by our authorities, is not conceivable in this country. Militarism in the sense of the absolute necessity of proper military precautions and military preparations, is the very subject matter for consideration; it is the imperative question for decision; and it needs stout hearts and sound minds to decide it. We are surely not so much deluded as to believe that we can reach by intuition what others can only acquire by training and experience. We are surely not so sacreligious or irreverent as to believe that Providence has unjustly discriminated in our favor and against other people of the world."

Self-Preservation.

Secretary Garrison laid down as his "first and indisputable premise" that self-preservation is the first law of a nation. The second premise was that "a nation to deserve preservation must be sane, just, righteous, self-respecting and courageous." Since these virtues, he said, were obtained only by conflict they could be retained only by being prepared to defend them from inevitable assaults. He took issue with the belief that if a nation takes military precaution it invites what it seeks to prevent or repel.

"The Roots of War" were discussed in a paper by Oscar S. Straus of New York, formerly minister to Turkey. Mr. Straus was unexpectedly called home yesterday, but his paper was read by the secretary.

Other speakers were Hamilton Holt of New York, editor of the Independent, and John B. Clark, professor of political economics in Columbia university. They talked about feasibility of a league of peace.

LOSES PIECES OF BONE—HAPPY NOW

In Avery, Texas, lives Ira Dovis, who suffered for years with a chronic sore on his foot which doctors advised would never heal without scraping the bone. Mr. Davis states that one box of Allen's Ulcerine Salve drew out several pieces of bone and lots of pus, and the sore healed up completely.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 has been known as the only salve powerful enough to reach chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing. Because it is so powerful it often heals burns and scalds without a scar in a remarkably short time.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve heals from the bottom up and draws out the poisons. If applied on new cuts and sores it heals in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take. Sold by The Spencer Pharmacy Co., and other leading druggists.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

For Spring Cleaning use GOLD DUST

WHETHER it is at house-cleaning time, or at any other time, Gold Dust meets every cleaning and brightening need.

PRESBYTERIANS IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY

One Hundred and Twenty-Seventh Meeting Opens at Rochester.

Rochester, N. Y., May 20.—The one hundred and twenty-seventh general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States opened here this morning with commissioners, prominent divines and leaders in missionary, education and every phase of Christian activity from all parts of the nation and foreign fields present. The attendance is estimated at between 1,200 and 1,500. Communion and the sermon of the retiring moderator, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander of Pittsburgh, Pa., were the features of the opening session.

Election of a moderator was expected to be the chief business of the afternoon. Among those mentioned prominently for the position is the Rev. Dr. J. Koss Stevenson and Prof. Charles R. Erdman of Princeton seminary; Rev. Dr. John Marquis, Coe college, Iowa; Rev. George B. Stewart, Auburn seminary, and Rev. Charles Wood of Washington.

To Cause Debate.

Among the questions to come before the assembly, the report of the committee on the assembly's relation to Union seminary, is expected to cause a spirited debate. The report concedes that the seminary legally is right in its independence, criticizes its manner of teaching theology and by making no recommendations is expected to open the way for criticism of the progressives by the ultra-conservatives. Another discussion may follow the three conflicting reports on merging the college board, board of education and board of publication and Sabbath school work. Eight members favor merging the three boards, one favors merging the first two, and six voted to define more clearly the duties of each board but opposed a merger.

Tonight a reception will be given the delegates.

ASKED ITALY TO ACT AS PEACE MEDIATOR

Extraordinary Allegation Comes in Dispatch From Turin; Not Verified.

Paris, May 20, 11:30 a. m.—The Gaulois today publishes a curious dispatch under a Turin date which mentions a very extraordinary alleged development in the Italian situation.

This message declares that Prince Von Buelow and Baron Von Macchio, the German and the Austrian ambassadors at Rome, as a last request of the Italian government, asked it to act as a mediator for peace between the central empires and the allies.

This report has not been heard from any other source.

DARNELL IS GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE

Must Serve Three Years for Violation of Mann Act.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—James Morrison Darnell, recently convicted of violating the Mann white slave act, in transporting Ruth Soper from Owatonna, Minn., to Chicago and thence to Kenosha, was today denied a new trial by Federal Judge Geger and sentenced to three years' imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth, sentence to begin at noon tomorrow.

Before being sentenced Darnell addressed the court and said that what he had done had been for the benefit of the women involved in his case.

JAMESTOWN GIVEN 1917 GRAND LODGE

North Dakota A. O. U. W. and Degree of Honor End Forks Meeting.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jamestown was selected by the grand lodges of the A. O. U. W., in 1917, and the Degree of Honor for their next meeting place. Williston and Devils Lake opposed Jamestown.

The following officers were elected by the A. O. U. W.: Grand master, Bradley C. Marks, Bismarck; foreman, C. R. Green, Cavalier; overseer, John E. Nuss, Grand Forks; recorder, E. J. Moore, Fargo; receiver, R. S. Adams, Lisbrook; inside watchman, A. F. Bjornson, Mountain; outside watchman, F. D. Monty, Hamilton, Mont.; representatives of supreme lodge, George J. Price, Grand Forks; W. J. Kneeshaw, Pembina, and John Carmody, Hillsboro.

Degree of Honor.

Officers for the coming year of the grand lodge of the Degree of Honor, follow: Grand chief of honor, Mrs. Frankie Lyman, Cando; lady of honor, Mrs. Elsie Powell, Devils Lake; chief of ceremonies, Madge McBride, Cavalier; recorder, Mrs. Kate Blewett, Jamestown.

Mrs. Emma Zuger of Bismarck was elected delegate to the superior lodge in 1917.

PRESIDENT HAS PRAISE FOR NAVY

Executive Pleased With Appearance of Fleet and Efficiency of Men.

Washington, May 20.—President Wilson's impressions of the Atlantic fleet which he reviewed at New York early this week, were set forth in the following statement issued at the White House today upon the president's return.

"I was greatly struck by the appearance of the fleet and the quiet efficiency shown by the officers and men, as I am sure everyone must have been who had the pleasure of seeing it assembled at New York. There could have been no more interesting verification of Admiral Dewey's statement that the navy was never in a better or more efficient condition and that the country has every reason to be proud of it not only, but every reason to wish to go forward in its policy of steadily adding to its strength and equipment."

TRAVEL TO IMPROVE.

Railway Men Talk Optimistically While in Duluth.

Visiting railroad men here yesterday expressed the opinion that travel would show an improvement during the next few months.

Fred Lyon of the Rock Island, one of the veteran traveling passenger agents of the Northwest; R. M. Andrews, traveling passenger agent of the Union Pacific; F. W. Martin, traveling passenger agent of the San Pedro; W. J. Gilkerson, passenger agent of the Grand Trunk; H. J. Ellis, district passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley, with headquarters in Minneapolis; A. L. Burnham and G. A. Mitchell, assistant freight agents of the Northern Pacific, and William Hughes, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington, were in the city, while A. W. Morris, general district passenger agent of the Great Western, with headquarters in Minneapolis, and William Mitsch, traveling passenger agent of the same line, are here today.

Mr. Mitsch stated that the passenger business of the Great Western in this territory has not shown a decrease at any time within the last eighteen months, and that the prospects are bright for a decided increase in the near future.

DENIES ROOSEVELT CHARGE.

Mrs. Robert M. La Follette Replies to Attack on Peace Party.

Madison, Wis., May 20.—Former President Roosevelt's attack on the woman's peace party is the subject of a reply by Mrs. Robert M. La Follette. She declares that instead of the movement being "silly and base" and as "influenced by physical cowardice" as characterized by Mr. Roosevelt, "the teaching of the folly of voluntarily destroying in one great holocaust what the constructive powers of humanity have taken centuries to build up" is not an ignoble abandonment of a national duty, but the the highest patriotic service.

COPPER COUNTRY MAN EUROPEAN WAR VICTIM

Calumet, Mich., May 20.—Andrew Thomas of Hubbell, Houghton county, who joined the Canadian contingent at Winnipeg, is dead in France. A letter of good-by received by his sister, Lottie Thomas, said only "Wounded three times today, am dying; good-by."

Sheboygan, Wis., May 20.—The Wisconsin Securities company of Milwaukee has purchased the Sheboygan Gas Light company taking a stock of $250,000 and assuming a bond issue of $250,000, it was announced today. The Wisconsin Securities company controls public utilities in Fond du Lac, Green Bay and La Crosse, Wis., Winona, Minn., and Evanston, Ill.

Charge Being Investigated.

Hancock, Mich., May 20.—A United States seaman named Schulz, one of the regular navy men sent here to look after the Yantic, is in the county jail on a charge of having assaulted Shipkeeper Barton. Schulz was shortly to have been transferred and is said to have blamed Barton for the change and in order to get even assaulted the shipkeeper on board the Yantic. The matter was reported to the proper authorities and G. Houze of Duluth, representing the navy department, arrived here to investigate. A court martial on board the Yantic is said to be a possibility.

Organize New Association.

Oshkosh, Wis., May 20.—An important action taken Wednesday in connection with the State Industrial institute, which has been in progress for three days, was the organization of an association of continuation school directors and board members. The following officers were elected: President, E. G. Cooley, Milwaukee; secretary, A. R. Graham, Racine; executive committee, L. H. Wood, Beloit, chairman; W. E. Maddock, Superior; and W. F. Foulkes, Appleton.

Dies on Wife's Grave.

Gregory, S. D., May 20.—In deep grief constantly since his wife died, a little more than a year ago, Joseph Vavruska, a homesteader, died of a broken heart on his wife's grave in the local cemetery. He was 65 years old and is survived by three grown children.

Farmer Kicked to Death.

Karlstad, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Charles Peterson, one of the prominent young farmers of Augsburg, ten miles southwest of here, who was kicked to death by a broncho in his own barn Saturday, was held yesterday. He was the only son of Michael Peterson of Stephen and leaves a wife and several small children.

Warren Postoffice Growth.

Warren, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—This postoffice will be raised from the third class to the second class beginning with the next quarter, July 1. This puts Warren on the eligible list for government buildings and shows the growth in the community in population and wealth.

PARAGRAPHIC COMMENT OF THE SPORTING WORLD

BY BRUCE.

JESS WILLARD says he is going to save his money and that he desires to defend his title. Jess is giving his managers lots of worry.

* * *

Branch Rickey will not allow the members of the St. Louis Browns to swear. But Branch cannot keep those fans who watch the team from swearing.

* * *

Frank Chance used to swear terribly when he was manager of the New York Americans. Now that he is not managing them he must also swear terribly when he looks at the standing.

* * *

Now that Jimmy Clabby and George Chip have been suspended for thirty days, the boys will probably take a fishing trip together.

Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette hold the team championship of the boxing world, but remember Chip and Clabby have known each other only a short time.

* * *

Caleb Bragg, who owns $12,000,000 is to drive in the Indianapolis automobile speed contest. Wonder if his heirs will contest the will.

Yale refused to accept the cup it won from Harvard in the dual track meet, thus showing that it requires real effort to overcome a habit.

New York Knockout Brown says he is not a hasbeen, which proves that he is a young man with a wonderful imagination.

Eva Tanguay is suggesting that the baseball magnates charge 10, 20 and 30 cents to get into the major league ball parks. They had better hurry and send Eva a season pass.

Jack Curley says a boxing contest between Jess Willard and Jim Coffey will draw $100,000. The late Count Tolstoi has nothing on Curley as a dreamer.

It's getting so now that it doesn't give an unknown boxer any reputation for beating Ad Wolgast.

* * *

Those who argue that the farm is the place for young men, need only qualify their argument by pointing to Ad Wolgast.

* * *

We hereby suggest that playing on the Cincinnati team should serve as excellent training for submarine work.

* * *

Jim Corbett declares that outraged nature defeated Jack Johnson. Guess Jim has not been reading any of Jack Curley's articles.

Christy Mathewson is surely making a wonderful record in baseball. He actually writes his own stuff.

Charley Comiskey declares he would not accept $50,000 for Jack Fournier. But why tell an untruth without some just provocation?

* * *

Percy Haughton is now coaching the Harvard baseball team. Five feet of books is about all that stands between Perse and the presidency of the institution..

* * *

Ban Johnson says there is not the slightest prospect that peace will be declared between the Feds and organized baseball. This is the most encouraging news those desiring peace have heard for some time.

John Tener was recently taken for Jess Willard. That's a pretty big honor for a fellow who has only been governor of Pennsylvania and president of the National league.

SETTLING GRAECO ROMAN WORLD TITLE

Fifty Wrestlers Begin Tournament for Championship in New York.

New York, May 20.—Fifty wrestlers began here last night a series of bouts that are expected to settle the championship of the world, Graeco-Roman style. Alex Aberg, holder of the world's title, was present to defend his honors against challengers and took part in the shortest bout of the night, throwing Fritz Moni of Switzerland in 53 seconds with a reverse head-lock.

In the other bouts last night, Pierre Le Colosse, the French champion, threw Karl Vogel of Bavaria in 3 minutes and 30 seconds with a side roll and arm lock; Sulo Hevonpa, champion of Finland, won a fall from Hans Fuerst of Austria, in 7 minutes and 10 seconds; George Lurich of Russia and Georges Sandele of Greece wrestled for five minutes, Lurich getting the Greek's head in chancery and tossing him over his shoulders; John Tigan, champion of Mongolia, threw Giovanni Guarno of Italy in 1 minute with a body lock.

William Berner, champion of Germany, and Karl Pospisil of Bavaria wrestled for two periods of 10 minutes each, the limit allowed, without either gaining a fall.

The bouts will be continued tonight.

NORTHERN LEAGUE

SOX NEARLY WIN GAME

Flickers Score Two Runs in Ninth and Win By 3 to 2 Count.

Hits By Altman and Morse and Croakes' Error Spill Beans.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—Duluth yesterday almost won a game. The visitors led by the score of 2 to 1 up to the ninth frame. With one gone Jerry Altman busted one to center field that old Dad Ford could not handle, and then Morse smote one to left that netted three sacks and counted Jeremiah. Muggsy McGraw strode to the plate in the role of pinch hitter and laid one down the first base line that Bud Croake bungled on, and the winning domestic run dribbled over the plate.

The victory of yesterday gives the Flickers the big end of the series, yesterday's victory making a two-straight drive.

The final game of the series will be played today, the members of the visiting squad leaving after the game for home.

The score in detail:

ST. BONIFACE WINS FROM ORE DIGGERS

Brandon, Man., May 20.—Brandon had its first taste of Northern league baseball in several years yesterday, when the game scheduled for St. Boniface was played on the local lot. A large crowd witnessed the game, which was won by the St. Boniface team by the score of 12 to 4. Both pitchers were hit hard, but Boardman succeeded in keeping his hits scattered. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Virginia	0	1	0	1	1	0	0	0	1—	4	9	2
St. Boniface	3	8	0	0	0	0	0	1	x—12	12	1

Batteries — Sorenson and Agnew; Boardman and Spellman.

PEGGERS' ERRORS LOSE GAME TO FORT BILL

Winnipeg, Man., May 20.—Fort William copped the second game of the series from the Peggers yesterday by the count of 9 to 7. The playing of the Winnipeg team was of the farcical order, 11 errors being chalked up. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Fort William	1	1	0	3	0	3	0	1	0—9	11	2
Winnipeg	2	1	3	0	1	0	0	0	0—7	9	11

Batteries—Higgins and Fusner; Patterson and Huerta.

SWAMP ANGELS SCORE WINNING RUN IN NINTH

Fargo, N. D., May 20.—Superior scored the needed run to win in the ninth inning of yesterday's game and defeated Unglaub's Uhlans by the count of 7 to 6. Both Ryan and Ellis were hit hard. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Superior	1	3	0	0	0	2	0	1	—7	14	3
Fargo	0	0	1	0	0	1	2	2	0—6	12	2

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants Win Majority.

New York, May 20.—New York made it two out of three from Chicago yesterday, winning the deciding game of the series by a score of 5 to 1. The visitors hit Stroud, a New York youngster, hard. In the ninth inning, Marquard went into the box and retired two Chicago batsmen with the bases full. The Giants drove Vaughan, the veteran left-hander, into retirement in six innings. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
New York	0	0	0	3	0	2	0	0	x—5	6	1

Batteries—Vaughn, Adams and Archer; Stroud, Marquard and Meyers.

Pirates 7; Braves 0.

Boston, Mass., May 20.—Mamaux held the Braves yesterday while Pittsburgh scored seven times off the delivery of Ragan in five innings. Crutcher, who took Ragan's place in the Boston box, did not allow a hit in the last four innings. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh	3	0	0	0	4	0	0	0	0—7	10	0

Batteries — Ragan, Crutcher and Gowdy, Whaling; Mamaux and Gibson.

Coombs' Winning Streak.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 20.—Jack Coombs won his third straight victory and scored his second successive shutout of the season yesterday when he blanked Cincinnati. Coombs held the visitors to five hits. Brooklyn hit Ames freely. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0	5	1
Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	x—2	9	1

Batteries—Ames and Clark; Coombs and Miller.

Cardinals 3; Phillies 0.

Philadelphia, May 20.—Griner performed a remarkable feat in yesterday's game in which St. Louis shut out Philadelphia, 3 to 0, pitching to only twenty-seven batsmen in nine innings. Griner was touched up for only two singles and he did not give a pass while he was given perfect support by his teammates. In attempting to reach second, Byrne was touched out by Butler, whose foot struck the runner on the head. Byrne suffered a slight concussion of the brain and Stock took his place. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	1—3	6	0
Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0	2	5

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago 9; Philadelphia 7.

Chicago, May 20.—The wildness of the Philadelphia pitchers paved the way for a 9-to-7 victory for Chicago yesterday in the final game of the series. After giving his eighth base on balls in the eighth, Wyckoff was succeeded by Pennock, who allowed three more. This, coupled with opportune hitting, including a safe bunt by E. Collins and a double by Schalk, gave the locals the game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	0	3	1	0	2	0	1	0	0—7	10	2
Chicago	0	0	1	0	3	0	0	5	x—9	8	2

Batteries—Wyckoff, Pennock and Schang; Cicotte, Benz, Scott and Schalk.

Indians 5; Red Sox 2.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 20.—Cleveland evened up the series with Boston yesterday, winning 5 to 2. Joe Jackson made his debut as a first baseman and did well. Third Baseman Wambsgass of Cleveland and Catcher Thomas of Boston were retired because of injuries. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	1	0	0	3	1	0	0	0	x—5	10	1

Batteries—Foster, Ruth and Thomas, Carrigan; Hagerman and O'Neill.

Tigers 3; Yankees 1.

Detroit, Mich., May 20.—Cobb's daring on the bases helped Detroit defeat New York, 3 to 1, yesterday. His single in the third inning sent Covaleskie home with the run that tied the score. The fleet Georgian stole second and third, but Peckinaugh's stop of Veach's bounder over second stopped the rally. In the eighth, Cobb walked, stole second, advanced on a wild pitch, and came home on Young's single. Tyrus had four stolen bases to his credit. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	x—3	6	1

Batteries—Keating, Caldwell and Nunamaker; Covaleskie and Stanage.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Newark 7; Pittsburgh 3.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 20.—The Newark Federals defeated Pittsburgh here yesterday, 7 to 3. Mosely, for the visitors, was unhittable in the pinches, while Hearne was hit hard and in bunches. He was relieved in the seventh by Barger, who stopped the scoring. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Newark	0	0	3	0	0	1	3	0	0—7	10	0
Pittsburgh	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	1—3	7	2

Batteries — Mosely and Rariden; Hearne, Barger and O'Connor.

AMERICAN ASS'N.

No-Hit, No-Run Game.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—Harry Harper, 20-year-old left-handed pitcher, recently obtained from the Washington American league club by the Minneapolis team, pitched a no-hit, no-run game against St. Paul yesterday. Bunched hits and errors gave Minneapolis four runs. Harper, although wild, steadied with men on bases and struck out twelve men. The game was a play-off of a postponed game from April 26. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Paul	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0	0	4
Minneapolis	0	0	0	1	0	3	0	0	x—4	5	0

NO HEART DAMAGE FOUND IN OARSMEN

Harvard Hygiene Professor Publishes Results of Investigations.

Cambridge, Mass., May 20.—Permanent damage to the heart does not result from rowing under the present college system, according to results shown by an examination of oarsmen at Harvard college, conducted by Dr. Roger J. Lee, professor of hygiene. In an article in the Harvard Alumni Bulletin Prof. Lee says:

"No evidence has been discovered in the study of this group of forty-two cases that would tend to show that the present system of intercollegiate rowing, with a four-mile race and a long preliminary training period, causes permanent damage to the heart, particularly as has been the case at Harvard, where only organically sound students are permitted to participate and are kept under medical supervision.

"Furthermore, rowing persisted in by college oarsmen for an average of over five years after graduation fails to show that the size of the heart is affected."

COLLEGE BASEBALL

Ithaca, N. Y., May 20.—By shutting out Cornell 2 to 0 yesterday, George Sisler, pitching for Michigan, evened the score for his defeat by Cornell at Ann Arbor last Saturday. Sisler struck out eleven batsmen and allowed the Ithacans but one hit.

Cambridge, Mass., May 20.—Harvard required ten innings to defeat Holy Cross college yesterday 2 to 1. The Crimson won on consecutive doubles by Gannett and Capt. Hardwick.

New Haven, Conn., May 20.—A home run in the ninth by Cram won a stubbornly contested game for Brown over Yale yesterday 8 to 7. Legore of Yale scored a homer in the fifth with the bases filled.

Philadelphia, May 20.—By a rally in the ninth inning, the University of Pennsylvania baseball team defeated Villa Nova college yesterday, 3 to 2.

Princeton, N. J., May 20.—Princeton baseball team defeated Dartmouth yesterday, 5 to 1.

Other games yesterday—At Annapolis—Navy, 5; Catholic university, 4; at Westpoint—Army, 4; St. John, 0.

LOOKING FOR PITCHER.

President of Chicago Cubs to Look Over Stallings' List.

Chicago, May 20.—President Thomas of the Chicago Nationals, left for Boston yesterday in search of a pitcher. He admitted that Pitcher Davis of no-hit fame "looked like a likely man," but would not say he would make Manager Stallings an offer for him.

If unsuccessful at Boston, President Thomas will try to make a trade with Philadelphia. He said he would not part with Zimmerman, though he was prepared to make other sacrifices to strengthen his pitching staff.

FIVE NEW PLAYERS HAVE BEEN SIGNED BY O'BRIEN

Two Pitchers, an Infielder and Two Outfielders Will Join White Sox in Duluth—Home Season Will Open Friday—Horace Webb Out at Winnipeg.

Darby O'Brien has signed Pitchers Jackson of St. Joseph and Turner of Des Moines, Infielder Brown and Outfielder Dinkle of Terre Haute and Outfielder Tauman of Fort Wayne. All of these players will join the club at Duluth, according to a wire O'Brien sent to The Herald early today.

Just when the new players will arrive the wire message fails to state. Darby says the men are all good. The signing of the five men undoubtedly means that some of the present members of the White Sox squad will, like the Arabs, fold their tents and silently steal away in the night.

In this connection it would not be surprising to those on the inside to see one of the most popular players on the team let out. There are rumors regarding this performer that may materialize.

With two additional pitchers on the team it is very likely that some of the members of the present staff will get the hook. Darby's flingers have been going bad so far—whether it is too early to pass judgment or not—and there will be some action in the near future.

Season Opens Tomorrow.

Starting with the parade and ending when the last man has been put out, tomorrow promises to be a large day. The home season will be officially opened with the game between Darby's Dooks and the Swamp Angels from across the way. The parade is scheduled to start at the city hall at 1:30, while Mayor Prince is slated to cut the plate with the first thrown ball at 3 o'clock.

A brass band will lead the parade through the downtown streets and render sweet music during the progress of the game. It is expected that some of the Superior fans will assist in making the day a gala one.

Horace Webb is Out.

According to gossip in the somewhat unhappy Northern league baseball family, Horace Webb wanted to tell some of the other magnates how to operate the league. Also it is bruited about a bit that Horace was somewhat disappointed at the slovenly way the turnstile worked up at the Peg. If a certain magnate is right in his conception of the situation, there will not be wailing and gnashing of teeth because of the fact that Webb has disposed of his interests in the Winnipeg Baseball club to Gale Brooks of Minneapolis.

As was stated in this paper yesterday, there is a strong probability that a majority of the games of the Northern league that are scheduled for St. Boniface will be transferred to Brandon, Man., which is situated west of Winnipeg and which was formerly a franchise holder in the Western Canadian league.

It is stated that owing to the fact that the jump from Brandon to Duluth may cause some schedule complications, it is not certain that all of the games originally scheduled for St. Boniface will be played in Brandon.

Brandon sets the circuit somewhat agog, speaking from the geographical standpoint. As in the censored case of Winona, the Western Canadian town is out of hailing distance of the other seven cities of the circuit.

However, St. Boniface hasn't been drawing even flies and Winnipeg has not been setting any new records. The fans of Grand Forks are peeved because the management of the team moved the bleachers back from the diamond, believing that the fans would donate an extra two-bit piece to sit in the grandstand and get a nearup view of the perspiring athletes.

The newspapers of Grand Forks are already roasting the fans for not giving the team better support—and the Flickers are leading the league and the season is but in its infancy. The move to Brandon may or may not be in the nature of an experiment, but it is dictated by the financial straits the magnates of the league find themselves in thus early in the season.

Bad weather has contributed its share of the gloom stuff—more than its share in fact. Whether the grim struggle for the blood-stained gonfalon of Mars, that is going on in the trenches of Europe, will affect the attendance of the three Canadian franchise holders of the Burmeister organization, is a question that the advance of the season will have to answer.

CONNIE MACK STILL BAKER'S NEMESIS

Chicago, May 20.—Efforts of Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league club, to persuade Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans to swerve from his announced determination not to sell or trade Infielder Frank Baker have met with defeat, according to a story printed here. Mack, according to the story, reiterated to Comiskey's agent his previous announcement that he would "not sell Baker for a million dollars."

"Baker is not for sale or trade," Mack is quoted as having told Comiskey's agent. "He will play with no club but the Athletics."

The story says Comiskey offered Philadelphia a big cash price and a pitcher in trade for Baker.

ALL BUT ONE RACE MEETING SUSPENDED

London, May 20.—The government, through the board of trade, yesterday requested the Jockey club to suspend all race meetings after this week for the duration of the war with the exception of the Newmarket meet.

Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, announced last night that the Jockey club had complied with the request of the government to stop racing.

An exception is made of the Newmarket meeting because the town's industries are dependent on racing.

YOU'RE RIGHT, JUDGE. HE STUFFS HIS MOUTH SO FULL OF "CHAWIN' AND SPITTIN'" NO ONE WANTS HIM AROUND. HE DOESN'T KNOW ABOUT THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.

IT'S just possible that a lone man or two hasn't heard that a little of the Real Tobacco Chew gives more satisfaction than a big wad of the old kind. But they switch over quick when they learn about it—and then they tell their friends about the merits of the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

"Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste."

Racing Season Opens.

New York, May 20.—With the twenty-second running of the Metropolitan handicap at one mile for 3-year-olds and upward, featuring the card, the eastern racing season will begin at the Belmont park racetrack here today. Although thirty-seven entries were made for this event last December, only nine starters are named by the racing secretary.

Doc Roller Hurt.

Montreal, Que., May 20.—Wladek Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, threw Dr. Roller here last night so hard that the doctor's knee was wrenched and he was not able to continue the contest after one fall, which was won by Zbyszko in fifty minutes with a toe hold.

Detroit, Mich., May 30.—By winning last night's block, 300 to 278, Walker Cochran of Chicago defeated Clarence Jackson of Detroit in their 18.2 balkline billiard match by the total score of 1,800 to 1,312. The match began Monday afternoon.

DUAL MEET ON FRIDAY

Central and Denfeld Track Teams Will Clash for First Time.

Former Is Favorite But New School Has High-Class Men.

Tomorrow afternoon the Central and Denfeld high schools will meet in their first dual track meet. The field events, including the shot put, discus throw, high jump, pole vault, and possibly the hurdles, will be held on the Central campus. The dash and runs, including the 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards, half-mile, and mile run, will be staged on the boulevard course, Fifth avenue west.

The two schools recently held their interclass affairs, in which their representatives were selected to compete in the interscholastic meet. The students of both institutions are very much interested in the affair, and it is expected that there will be a large turnout from both places to root for their favorites.

Central Is Favorite.

Central will enter the meet as favorites over their rivals, but the Denfeld men say that there will be some surprises in store for the Red and White athletes. This is Denfeld's first track team, and they are somewhat hindered by inexperience. Under the guidance of Athletic Director Hiestand, a former Central pedagogue, the West Duluth school will undoubtedly be represented by some strong teams in all athletic branches in the future.

It is expected that Hrutiford, the crack Central captain, will be the largest point winner and star of the meet, but he will be hard pressed by some other good hilltop men, as well as the Denfeld representatives.

Good Marks Likely.

Some good marks will probably be made if the weather is favorable. Hrutiford holds a record of ten seconds flat in the 100-yard dash, a record equaled only once before in Central athletics when Matt Brown was prominent in local high school track work. Bob Paine, Central high jump champion, with a mark of 5 feet 6 inches, will not be in the meet, but in Lewis, the sophomore captain, the Central team has a man who is expected to take care of the event. The teams of both schools have not been definitely decided upon as yet. Each team will enter two men in each division.

In the dashes and runs, Central high will be represented by Capt. Hrutiford, Stevens, Karon, Lewis, Kerr, McKay, Anderson, McCabe, Boyd, Legare, Collins, Seymore. The field events will be taken care of by Capt. Hrutiford, Hoopes, Peterson, Karon, Kerr, Lewis, Anderson, Parsons and Jentoft.

In the dashes and runs, Denfeld will be represented by Lemieux, Deutsch, Myles, Rosborough, Mayhew, Moore, Jacobson, De Faivre, Newsome, Allen, Erickson and Ashbeck. The field representatives will be Donald, Meyers, V. Johnson, G. Johnson, Moore, Allen, Dunstan, Lemieux, Myles, Rosborough and Martin.

GRADES IN FAST GAMES

Jackson-Irving Ball Game Thrown Out Owing to Mix-up.

There was a curious mixup in the grade school baseball game between the Jacksons and Irvings yesterday. One of the kids knocked a long foul. The ball was thrown back in the diamond, the second baseman getting it. In the meantime the umpire had thrown out a new ball to the pitcher. A man was tagged off second base with the ball that should have been thrown to the umpire and this caused the break up of the game. The game will be played over.

In the Western division the Adams rather easily defeated the Emersons by the score of 8 to 1. The Washburns won two games in the Eastern, the Jeffersons and Salters being the other winners.

The results:

Western.

Adams, 8; Emerson, 1.

Eastern.

Doubleheader, Washburn, 23, 26; Franklin, 4, 12.

Jefferson, 6; Endion, 3.

Salter, 15; Lakeside, 7.

GAMES TODAY:

HILL URGES MORE SOIL CULTIVATION

Tells Illinois Visitors That Wealth of Country Lies in Soil.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—Predicting that the population of the United States would reach 400,000,000 before the close of the Twentieth century, James J. Hill, addressing 200 members of the Peoria, Ill., Association of Commerce, who were here yesterday on a trade excursion, urged the "conservation of our resources and proper cultivation of the soil so we will be prepared to feed this great multitude."

Referring to the agitation for the development of trade with South American countries, Mr. Hill said:

"What do we desire from South America? Perhaps we might be able to sell some of our manufactured products, but the wealth of this country lies in the products of the soil. The prominent South American countries produce cattle, corn and wheat as we do, and compete with us in the markets of the world."

Change for Recruits.

London, May 20.—An announcement by the war office in connection with the appeal by Lord Kitchener for more men for the army, states it has been decided that recruits enlisting into the regular army for the duration of the war shall be accepted up to the age of 40 years and that the minimum standard height for such recruits shall be five feet two inches for the infantry. This decision applies also to enlistments into the territorial forces.

104,000 Men

In the jungles and fields, in our factories, etc., 104,000 men are employed to meet the demand for Goodyear tires.

No other tire commands anywhere near such favor. And this spring has shown, in sales to dealers, an increase of 52 per cent.

Extra Values

The reason is, we fortify our tiers. We give the best that others give, plus five exclusive features. In costly ways, employed by no one else, we combat:

Rim-Cuts — Insecurity
Blowouts — Punctures
Loose Treads — Skidding

And we never skimp. Despite all price reductions, Goodyears are better than ever. Lately we have added three conspicuous improvements.

Some Goodyear supremacies can be seen at a glance. Compare size and thickness with the average tire. Compare number of fabric plies.

Prices Down

Goodyear has made in about two years three great price reductions, totaling 45 per cent. The last was on February 1st. Our matchless output enables a value which no other maker can duplicate.

Goodyears mean less trouble, less upkeep. That is proved by our exclusive features, our dominant place, and the swelling Goodyear tide. We urge you to join this army. Any dealer will supply you.

"FRAMERS OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE U.S.A." NO. 4

Gouveneur Morris—"Father of the Penny"

AMONG all the framers of the Constitution of the United States none were more adept at constructive statesmanship than the "father of the American decimal system" and originator of the copper cent. The finish, style and arrangement of the Constitution fairly belong to the brilliant and eloquent Morris. From his youth to the hour of his death he was a devoted and dauntless worker for American progress. His unrivaled ability as an orator was known throughout Europe, and his funeral orations on Washington, Clinton and Hamilton are treasured American classics. Gouveneur Morris was an indomitable supporter of the Louisiana Purchase. He it was who rescued LaFayette from prison walls and aided him from his private purse. Personally he was very handsome; his nature was impulsive, but his heart was warm and generous. He loved society, and his hospitality was famous. All his life he drank the creative brews of malt and hops, and who will dare say that it weakened his will power or detracted from his success, his fame, his glory and his might? It was upon the tenets of the Constitution of the U.S.A. that Anheuser-Busch 58 years ago founded their great institution. During these 58 years they have daily brewed from the finest barley and hops beers famous for being alive with natural force and nutriment. Their great brand BUDWEISER, because of its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, exceeds the sales of any other bottled beer by millions of bottles. BUDWEISER'S popularity grows daily, and 7500 people are daily employed to keep pace with the public demand.

EASTERN ROWING DOPE IS VERY SADLY SCRAMBLED

Early Races Furnished No Line on Probable Winners at Poughkeepsie or the Hudson; Elder Ten Eyck Coming to Duluth; Local Crews Need More Work.

In a letter received by Jimmy Ten Eyck yesterday from his father, well known to a host of rowing enthusiasts here, the elder Ten Eyck, one of the deans of the American rowing game, declares that the dope is badly scrambled in Eastern intercollegiate circles.

The Princeton eight defeated Columbia and Pennsylvania on Lake Carnegie the Saturday before last, Vivian Nicholls' Quakers finishing back in the ruck.

Last Saturday Yale came through with a victory over Cornell and Princeton, the eight coached by the "Grand Old Man" Ithaca being beaten by a crew that was not generally classed with Courtney's lads.

Harvard has beaten the Navy, but so has Princeton and Pennsylvania. Out of this tangled skein of the dope it is quite impossible to weave the fabric of a guess as to the probable winners at Poughkeepsie or the Hudson.

Duluth followers of the rowing game are especially interested in the American Henley regatta that is to be contested on the Schuylkill river, Saturday.

It is probable that Pennsylvania, Columbia, Yale and Harvard may enter eights, in addition to the eight that is to carry the flashing colors of Syracuse. In the Syracuse eight will be two of the lads that have learned the rudiments of the game in Duluth Boat club shells.

All during the present season the freshmen eight of Syracuse has been defeating the varsity eight in trial spins. This is the precise reason why the freshmen are to enter the American Henley event. This is also another reason why Duluthians are greatly interested in the outcome of the contest.

Old Jim Coming Out.

An item of sport interest is contained in the statement that the elder Ten Eyck, a genial soul, the very essence of cordiality and an encyclopedia of rowing knowledge, will be out here in time for the Northwestern and will accompany son Jim and his oarsmen east for the National and Springfield.

It is not true that the elder Ten Eyck assists in the coaching of the rousing native crews, as some might be led to suspect. James the first sits silently and alert in the coaching launch, observing with shrewd and knowing eyes the work of the men James the second is shaping. If the second James wants any advice or opinion from the first James, he asks for it. The elder Ten Eyck never ventures an opinion. The harmony is something inspiring to behold in this jangling world.

Hurry Up the Boats.

It is a fact that the oarsmen here are not getting enough work. There is only one eight-oared shell at the boat club. The rest of the eights were disposed of last fall. Every day it is expected that the new consignment of shells will arrive. There are not as yet sufficient oars to go around. Also the coaching launch is not here as yet. Therefore it is not an alarmingly strange and eerie fact that the men are not at the present writing in the physical condition that they were in at this time last season.

From this time on there will have to be a lot of work. The work of building an eight to compete with the Argonauts, who are going to the National this season, the Unions of Boston and the crack New York Athletic club eight is some task, and, in passing, it might be noted that no one realizes its thorny obstacles any more keenly than Coach Jimmy Ten Eyck.

"I believe that I can put together an eight as great as the two eights of 1913," said James today. "We had two grand eights that year. But it will require a lot of work. I want to feel that the club has one of the greatest senior eights in its history when we board the train for Springfield. The regatta to be staged on the Connecticut river in August is going to send some great eights away from the stake boats. Duluth can ill afford to send anything but a crack aggregation down East. They are after our scalps and it will require some tall hustling on our part to prevent some of the Eastern crews from getting our number."

BACK PAY AVAILABLE.

Smallwood Entitled to Salary During Contest, Says Greene.

Judge W. H. Smallwood can get his salary for the period between April 13 and May, just as soon as he puts in his order for the money.

After a conference yesterday with City Attorney Greene, Commissioner Voss decided that the council will follow the opinion handed down last Monday by the former, stating that Judge Smallwood is entitled to the back salary. No action will be taken at this time, he said, regarding the money drawn by W. L. Windom, the city attorney having suggested that it would be best to wait until the supreme court decides on the appeal.

SCHOOLS MAKING ANNUAL EXHIBITS

Work of Pupils of Gilbert District Is Now Being Shown.

Gilbert, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—All of the teachers and students in this district have been unusually busy during the past two weeks preparing for the annual school exhibits which began today at 2:30 p. m. at the McKinley primary, Genoa, Hutter, Kellog and St. Louis River schools. Tomorrow at 2 p. m. the exhibits of the Gilbert primary school will take place, and at 8 p. m. those of the Gilbert high school.

All of the schools have had a most successful term and the exhibits this year surpass all other years. The teachers are urging all of the parents to attend and see the work done by the children during the term.

A very interesting feature to many will be the work done in the commercial, domestic, and manual training departments. In the domestic science department the girls will be sewing and cooking and engaged in other domestic occupations; in the manual training department the boys will be working at the forges, lathes and carpenter tools and show the general public how the work is done. A splendid selection of specimens have been made by the boys this term.

Largest Graduating Class.

The graduating class this year is the largest ever to graduate from the Gilbert school. Twelve will graduate this term.

A number of new features will be added and the following is a schedule of the various programs to be given during the remainder of the term:

May 20—Annual exhibits at the McKinley, Elba, Genoa, Hutter and St. Louis River schools.

May 21—Annual exhibits at the Gilbert primary schools and high school.

The junior class of the Gilbert high school will give their annual hop in honor of the seniors, Friday evening, May 28, at the high school auditorium. On May 29 the juniors and seniors will give their annual picnic at Cedar Island lake.

Baccalaureate services will be held at the high school auditorium Sunday morning, May 30, and will be in charge of Rev. W. Fritz of the Methodist church.

Class day exercises will take place May 31 at the auditorium.

Commencement exercises will be given Thursday evening, June 3.

On Friday evening, June 4, a farewell party will be given for the senior graduates.

ELY CITY COUNCIL REFUSES LICENSE

Declines to Have Permit Transferred to Tower Saloon Keeper.

Ely, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council Tuesday evening awarded the printing and publishing work to the Ely Miner.

The application for transfer of liquor license of Joseph Gerzin to Charles Mike, formerly a Tower saloon keeper, was rejected. It was decided that all men between the ages of 21 and 50 must pay a poll tax, and all men of those ages must work one day on the city streets or pay $1 tax.

Chief of Police Elias La Beau was instructed to collect the dog tax and City Clerk Knutson was instructed to purchase the necessary dog tags.

The matter of purchasing a road drag was referred to the purchasing committee with power to act.

Officials' Bonds Approved.

The bonds of Elias La Beau, chief of police; Arthur Knutson, city clerk; John Somrak, police officer, and Nick Aijala, street commissioner, were read and accepted.

The report of William Vouti, clerk of court, was accepted.

The request of Elias La Beau to tap the city water main in Whiteside's addition was granted.

CHISHOLM YOUNG MEN'S CLUB TO GIVE DANCE

Chisholm, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Encouraged by success of their past efforts at social entertainment, the members of the Young Men's club have decided to give a dance at the Chisholm opera house, Friday, May 28 and Sims' high class orchestra will furnish the music. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of William Douglas-Smith, John Dwyer and William Williams.

HIBBING TAKING TO CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

Hibbing, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The part the Saturday club will take in the clean-up and paint-up campaign here next week will be outlined at a business meeting of the organization Saturday.

Mrs. H. H. Faust, the president, declared today that members were enthusiastic over the campaign and would do everything to make it a huge success.

With the Commercial club, health and park boards and fire and police departments and village council all working to this end, those behind the movement anticipate one of the biggest clean-up movements ever put through on the range. The support of each school child is pledged on cards distributed among pupils by teachers and Supt. of Schools C. C. Alexander declared today that every child is enthusiastic.

"Me for 'GETS-IT' When I Have Corns"

Simple As Saying It; Never Fails.

It does your heart good to see how easily and quickly any corn comes out when you put "GETS-IT" on! And then when you've gone along for years trying everything, when you've sat up nights wrapping up your toes in bandages, smearing on salves that rub off or swell up the corn, pasting on cotton plasters that make corns pop-eyed, slaughtering your toes with razors, jabbing them with knives and pruning to the quick with scissors—and then you put on 2 drops of "GETS-IT" and see your corn fall right off—why, it just looks like a miracle. Just try it. "GETS-IT" never fails. No pain, no trouble. Use it for any corn, callus, wart or bunion.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

HIBBING COMMERCIAL CLUB'S NEW SECRETARY

J. EARL LAWLER.

VICTOR POWER HAS TILT WITH PLUMBER

Hibbing's Mayor Objects to Pay for Proposed Plumbing Inspector.

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council will advertise for bids for the construction of a pavement from Hibbing to Alice to be done this summer. This was decided by the village council last night.

Alice people have been agitating for a pavement to this place for some time. The distance from Hibbing proper is more than a mile. Since this addition was annexed to Hibbing many residences have been built there and it promises to be the residential section of Hibbing in a few years. Now there are a large number of houses being built there.

An argument between Mayor Power and F. E. Clark, a local plumber, relative to the value of a plumbing inspector here enlivened the meeting considerably. Local plumbers urged that the council appoint William Purcell village plumbing inspector at a salary of $125.

Considers Salary Exorbitant.

Mayor Power declared that this was an exorbitant salary for the work judging from its value to the village. Clark declared that it was doubtful if a competent man could be hired for anything less and Mayor Power declared that he did not see why one could not be.

Purcell was finally appointed at a salary of $95 a month with a promise that if the work proved too heavy he would be given a raise.

Mayor Power declared that with the exception of the first two or three months when old connections were inspected, a plumber working for the village would have practically an easy time.

MANY HIBBINGITES GOING TO CHISHOLM

Smoker and Lunch By Chisholm Club Will Draw Large Number.

Hibbing, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many local people will attend the smoker and Dutch lunch to be given by the Chisholm Commercial club at its clubrooms tonight. The entire membership of the Hibbing organization has been invited, and, according to Secretary J. E. Lawler, it is expected that nearly every member will attend.

Mayor Power will be the principal speaker. Short talks will also be given by President Robert Stratton, Secretary Lawler, President Harris of the Chisholm club, who extended the invitation the Hibbing organization, and other Chisholm people.

ORE SHIPMENTS ARE QUITE LARGE

Many Boats Clearing From Two Harbors for Down the Lakes.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ore shipments from the local ore docks the past week were up to the average, although there was no rush. The Iron Range railroad is shipping approximately 1,000,000 tons per month, and it is expected this will be materially increased after June 1.

The following boats loaded here and cleared up to last night:

Tuesday—Alexander McDougall, Venus, Douglas, Houghton and the James A. Farrell.

Wednesday—Pathfinder.

Thursday—Hemlock, Quincy, Princeton, Barge James A. Nasmyth, Steamer B. M. Chilban, J. W. Gates and Jupiter.

Friday—Thomas F. Cole, A. C. Dinkey, George Stevenson, Barge James A. Roebling, Steamer Matafa, Barge Alexander Holly, Steamer Charles Weston, G. G. Crawford, Henry H. Rogers.

STUMP PULLER CLAIM NOT PROPER OFFSET

Court Rules in Passing on Counter Claim in Doctor's Suit.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The district court session is progressing at a rate which is making up for the long time spent on the recent fire damage case which required fifty-two days to try, and is getting rid of cases at the rate of about two a day.

The case of Dr. M. M. Hursh vs. M. O'Brien of Cohasset, which went to the jury Tuesday night, resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff. Dr. Hursh sued for a doctor bill of $110, and Mr. O'Brien filed a counter claim against Dr. Hursh of $60 for a stump-pulling machine which Mr. O'Brien had loaned to the doctor and which the former claimed the latter had failed to return. The court ruled that the claim for the stump-puller was not a proper claim against the doctor's bill, and the jury returned a verdict in favor of the doctor.

The case of Claud Fish vs. Richard Anderson, in which Fish sought to recover the price of a horse shot by Anderson, was next tried. Suit was for $200, and a verdict of $50 was returned for the plaintiff.

MOTHER IS GIVEN CHILD'S CUSTODY

Marital Affairs of Corwins Aired in Virginia Court.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—After hearing much of the marital trouble of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Corwin during the trial of the divorce case of the woman against the man, Judge Hughes late yesterday granted the boon and awarded the mother the custody of their 3-year-old child. The woman is allowed to again assume her former name of Estelle Call. She is 23 and Corwin, who is a locomotive engineer running out of Duluth, 25. They were married Feb. 20, 1911. They formerly lived at Coleraine and Gilbert. The woman charged cruel and inhuman treatment which Corwin denied on the stand and made a number of allegations.

Judge Hughes has ordered that both sides file briefs by June 12 in the injunction case of the Elks' lodge against the water and light board of this city to prevent having service shut off for non-payment of charges. The Elks claim to have a prior contract with the public service corporation formerly owning the plants.

BIWABIK PROGRAM.

NEW FARMERS EXPERIMENT.

Purchasers of Land Near Cohasset Plant Many Potatoes.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Henry and Will Grober, who last fall bought the Buck farm west of Cohasset, like the prospects in an agricultural way here, and they report that they are trying out farming in a "small way." They are putting in eighteen acres of potatoes, while they will give the onion game a trial with about three acres. These are two of the specialties which they are trying out, and their trials of other crops are in the same proportions. They can afford to put in such acreages in trial plots, as they have over 160 acres cleared. These men are expected to make a success of their farm, and prove a valuable addition to the farming element of the county.

BUHL JOTTINGS.

Buhl, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work on the addition to the Catholic church has been progressing rapidly during the past week. The framework is complete and workmen have finished shingling the entire roof. Elaborate mural decorations have been designed. The work will be completed in five weeks.

C. M. Pelican, who has operated a pool parlor in the so-called Lewis building, will occupy the Close building.

The "open house" at the high school building Friday afternoon, May 14, was attended by a large number of persons. Regular work was carried on by classes in order to give parents an idea of the achievements of the pupils.

AN EASY WAY TO GET RID OF UGLY PIMPLES

Bathe your face for several minutes with resinol soap and hot water, then apply a little resinol ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with resinol soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished to find how quickly the healing resinol medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear and velvety.

Resinol ointment and resinol soap stop itching instantly and speedily heal skin humors, sores, burns, wounds and chafing. Sold by all druggists.

"MIKEY" LAPSES AGAIN.

Returns to Ely From Doing Time and Sleeps on Street.

Ely, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Mikey" Vali, lumberjack, created excitement going to sleep in the rear of the postoffice building Tuesday afternoon. The school children threw stones and tried to attract his attention in every way but "Mikey" could not be disturbed. Police Chief Elias La Beau arrested him. He was released yesterday on condition he leave town at once and not return. "Mikey" had just returned from serving a sixty-day sentence at Duluth on the charge of being drunk and disorderly.

DATE IS CHANGED.

Two Harbors to Observe Memorial Day on May 31.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The general committee, having charge of the Memorial day arrangements, held a short meeting last evening and changed the date from the celebration from Saturday to Monday, as the latter day will be generally observed. The committees on the arrangements reported that the plans were nearly completed.

IRON RANGE SHOPS WORKING SIX DAYS

Two Harbors, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The car shops, tank shops and paint shop of the Iron Range railroad has resumed working six days per week. During the past winter these shops have been working but five days per week. The machine and boiler shops will continue on the five-day-week basis for the time being at least.

Virginians Gave Liberally.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several hundreds of dollars was collected in Virginia from the Finnish people to be used in relief work in Finland by a committee consisting of Dr. K. V. Arminen, Attorney Victor Gran, Editor Rilpa of the Finnish daily and Charles Tolonen, all of Duluth, who were working in this city this morning. They are pleased with their success here.

New Grand Rapids Concern.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new automobile repair shop and auto livery business was launched here this week by Howard Doran and Leo Richardson, and their business will be conducted in a building which will occupy the lots on the corner of Hoffman avenue and Fourth street.

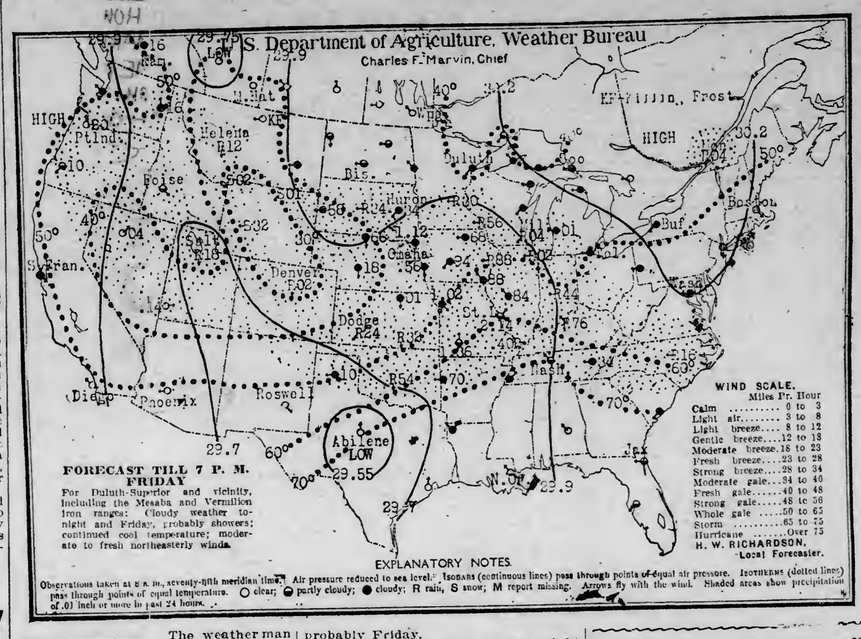
Ely Church Affair.

Ely, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ladies of the Presbyterian church gave a strawberry short cake social yesterday afternoon with very good success.

Buhl to Play Hibbing.

Buhl, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Buhl city team and the Hibbing Tigers will play here Sunday afternoon. The two teams were to play last Sunday, but owing to unfavorable weather the game was postponed. A week from Sunday the Gilbert city team will meet the Buhl nine. Following the game the "Fats" and the "Leans," two local aggregations, will clash.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. FRIDAY

For Duluth-Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Cloudy weather tonight and Friday, probably showers; continued cool temperature; moderate to fresh northeasterly winds.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

Observations taken at 8 A. M., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain, S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

RAIN

The weather man got switched somehow. The cloudy weather predicted two days ago, which turned to be fair weather, must have become mixed, for today was to have been fair, according to predictions and here are heavy clouds. A year ago today there were electrical storms and plenty of rain. The sun rose this morning at 4:26 and will set this evening at 7:42, giving fifteen hours and sixteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Freezing weather prevails in Colorado and Wyoming, and snow is falling over almost the whole of the latter state. Temperatures have risen somewhat over most of the Central Valley states and the Lake region. During the last twenty-four hours precipitation occurred over Central and Western states. Heavy rains fell over Missouri and Iowa."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 20.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Minnesota—Cloudy in north and probably showers in south portion tonight and Friday.

Wisconsin—Rain tonight and probably Friday.

Iowa—Probably showers tonight and Friday; not much change in temperature.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Friday.

South Dakota—Probably showers tonight and Friday.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight, probably rain in west portion; Friday cloudy.

Lower Michigan—Rain tonight and probably Friday.

Upper Michigan—Unsettled tonight and Friday; probably rain.

RESISTENCE TO DISEASE

The power of your body to resist disease and to fight it after disease gets a foothold is one of the most precious possessions you have.

You weaken this power when you let your general health run down, your blood gets thin and your nerves unsteady.

You weaken it when you worry, when you overwork or are guilty of excesses of almost any kind, when you do not get sufficient sleep and when you are under-nourished, either because you do not eat the right kind of food or because your digestion is out of order.

You preserve your power to resist disease when you keep good hours, eat proper food at regular intervals and are temperate in all things. You increase and strengthen it when you build up your blood and nerves by the timely use of a tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, free from alcohol, opiates and harmful drugs of any kind.

These tonic pills and careful attention to your diet will go far toward keeping you in health. Two booklets, "Building Up the Blood" and 'What to Eat and How to Eat," contain just the information you need and will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dieting the Plow Horse

Dieting the horse that draws the plow may sometimes be carried to undesirable extremes.

A man once started to train his horse to live on sawdust—just as he was getting him educated the animal died.

Some men start to train their businesses to do without advertising.

Just as they get them nicely trained the sheriff steps in and has a nice little auction sale.

Business needs the building effect of advertising just as a draught horse needs food.

FURNISHING POWER ON WESTERN MESABA

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern Power company from its big generating plant here will soon be furnishing light and power to a large part of the Western Mesaba range. It is expected the high power transmission line to Nashwauk and other points will be in service by June 11 and electricity will then be furnished to Nashwauk, Keewatin, Coleraine, Taconite, Marble, Calumet, Bovey and other points. The Laurel and Crosby mine at Nashwauk will be furnished power as will the washing plants there. The plant here where the electricity is generated has been enlarged and made one of the most complete in the state.

BLAME GAS EXPLOSION FOR MESABA TRAGEDIES

Mesaba, Minn., May 20.—Deputy Coroner Ed Darrow of Aurora, who investigated the fire here Tuesday night that resulted in the death of Mrs. Otto Nyssonen and her 12-year-old son, whom she tried to rescue and perished in their burning home, believes that a gas explosion caused the fire. The charred bodies of the mother and child were taken to Aurora and the funerals will probably be held there tomorrow.

PASSES THROUGH CANAL, SEEING WAR MOVEMENTS

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alec McDonald today received a letter from his brother, John McDonald, who has lived several years in India, telling of his voyage from India to Inverness, Scotland, where he is now visiting, and of passing through the Suez canal, where the Turks and English are doing a lot of fighting. He saw much of the defensive works and many troops. Mr. McDonald will come here to visit his brothers, Alec and Lachlan, before returning to the Orient.

Wore Men's Clothes.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pending receipt of word from relatives in Hutchison, Wis., of Johanna Halvorson, the woman arrested here on the charge of masquerading in man's attire, nothing has been done in the case. She is being held. She claimed to have come here two months ago to find her brother, but he has not been found, and Tuesday evening she was picked up while wearing men's clothing.

Tuberculin Cows Killed.

Aurora, Minn., May 20.—Six cows, on which the tuberculin tests caused a reaction, indicating tubercular trouble, and belonging to families in Aurora and belonging to families in Aurora and Gilbert, were killed by Dr. H. C. Lyons, veterinary surgeon, member of the state live stock sanitary board. The owners will be paid by the state for the cows.

To County Work Farm.

Virginia, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Victor Ketolle was sent to the county work farm for ninety days today by Judge Carey.

The Commercial club tonight will further perfect plans for entertaining the state solons June 12.

Chisholm Musical.

Chisholm, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.) — The Weissmiller School of Music will give its fourth annual musicale June 8.

DISCUSS CANDIDATES FOR SUPREME BENCH

Three Members of North Dakota High Court Are to Be Chosen.

Fargo, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The press and the people of North Dakota are already showing interest in the next supreme court election, as three members, or a majority of the court will elect them.

The judiciary of this state is selected under a non-partisan plan; when one position is to be filled the two candidates with the highest number of votes, regardless of any political affiliations, are declared the nominees and fight it out at the fall election.

The terms of Justices Fisk, Goss and Burke expire this year. That all three will seek re-election, seems assured, in fact it has already been announced in an informal way that Justice Burke was again in the race, and it is generally taken for granted the other two are. There has been some talk of dividing the state into two Federal judicial districts. If this should be done it is conceded that Justice Fisk would stand a splendid chance for appointment to the new district judgeship, but the division may not occur prior to the next general election.

Former Chief Justice Spalding, who was defeated last year by A. M. Christianson of Towner, will be a candidate again for the supreme court, according to his friends. He served about eight years, filling an appointive term and completing the six years to which he was elected. His defeat was in the nature of a surprise and there are many people of the state anxious to have him back on the supreme bench as they regard him as especially qualified.

A. G. Divet of Wahpeton, a leading attorney and for two terms a member of the legislature, is also a candidate said to be well equipped. There has been some talk of District Judges Kneeshaw of Grafton, Crawford of Dickinson and Allen of Lisbon being in the race.

FEEL YOUNG!

It's Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets For You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets open the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or gripping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two occasionally and have no trouble with your liver, bowels or stomach. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

MEETS SAME FATE AS DID HIS SON

Canadian Northern Yardmaster Killed By Cars at Rainy River, Ont.

Baudette, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Knight, yardmaster of the Canadian Northern railroad at Rainy River, Ont., was killed by a west bound freight shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. A brakeman noticed the body on the tracks after the train had cut it in two.

The fatality is made doubly sad as a son of Mr. Knight's was killed in the same yards last November. He leaves a widow and one son. The remains were shipped to Litchfield, Minn., for burial.

QUIT MOORHEAD FIELD.

Breweries Not Having City Licenses, Close Their Places.

Moorhead, Minn., May 20.—The brewery agencies in Moorhead which do not carry city licenses will go out of business today as a result of Monday's election. While this point has not been ruled upon by the attorney general, the local agencies are of the opinion that they can not legally continue their business after the county canvassing board files its certificate, which will be done today.

CONTESTS AT GRAND FORKS

Students Will Compete in Annual Interscholastic Declamatory Test.

High School Superintendents of State Will Also Have Session.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—High school superintendents of North Dakota will meet here tomorrow in annual conference at the state university.

The annual state interscholastic declamation contest also will be held, and the annual final contest in the North Dakota High School Debating league.

The declamation contest this year has attracted an exceptionally large number of contestants, the entrants being: Nellie Young, St. Thomas; Esther Woldy, Edmore; Esther Steenreynolds; Anna Sutherland, Cando; Mae Persons, Courtney; Bulah Quamme, Northwood; Florence Swengel, Bathgate; Jessie Murray, Drayton; Wilhelmina Scott, Walhalla; Irma Roberts, Rolla; Glenna Garvin, Grand Forks; Lillian Johnson, Cooperstown; Wilbur Liebeler, Langdon; Elmer Grandsen, St. Thomas; Leslie Kelly, Edmore; Dangill Lae, Northwood; Arnold Fostenson, Cando; Verner Johnson, Cooperstown; Willard Vestre, Drayton; Chester Nelson, Inkster; Kenneth Briden, Walhalla; Howard Hoskins, Rolla; James Rosoff, Grand Forks.

In the state debating league, the Mohall and La Moure high schools will compete for the state title. These two schools were victors in the series of debates held during the recent winter season. They will compete for possession of a cup, the trophy given.

The state field and track meet will attract more than 100 athletes from over twenty high schools. The contest seems to lie particularly between the Grand Forks and the Cavalier high schools. Last year these two schools tied for first honors.

Drayton will make a strong bid for the relay race banner, having won that event last year.

High School Conference.

In the high school conference, many important questions will be discussed. The sessions will be held on the mornings of both days, the afternoons being given over to other features. On the first day the report of the state high school inspector, high school examiner, the committee on syllabi, and a summary of educational legislation will feature. Discussions will be led during the same session by Supt. J. S. Bjornson, La Moure; Supt. E. R. Edwards, Jamestown; P. W. Reimheel, Larimore; Y. G. Barnell, Devils Lake; O. K. Tholleheau, St. Thomas; and C. L. Love, Mandan.

On the second day, round table informal discussions will feature the work of the organization. The questions for consideration under this head include county aid for high schools, absolute essentials in a high school course, effective supervision of high school work, tenure of service, high school mortality, stereopticon work, the declamation contest, and narcotics in the high school.

Charles H. Keene, director of hygiene and physical education of the Minneapolis schools, will make an address on the question, "Physical Education in the Public Schools."

One of the features that will be staged for the benefit of high schools that have commenced work in wireless telegraphy will be a demonstration by the university station.

THIEF RIVER BANK WILL AID FARMERS

Will Loan Them Money Without Interest to Erect Silos.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. L. Hansen, president of the First National bank of this city, announces that money has been set aside by the bank, through his efforts, which will be loaned absolutely free to the farmers of this section for use in the construction of modern and up-to-date silos.

There will be no interest charge whatever on the various amounts, and the loans will run for a period of one year from date. The fund so set aside amounts to $15,000, and it has been estimated that $300 will construct a silo suitable for use in this section.

Fifty Farmers Benefit.

This will give fifty farmers a chance to improve their facilities for caring for their stock during the winter, and will have a tendency to increase the size of the several herds, as many farmers in this section have been accustomed to reducing the size of their herds during the winter on account of the task of feeding too many head. It is estimated that one year will be sufficient time on the notes as a silo will pay for itself in that time.

Mr. Hansen states that in case the farmers show the proper spirit and willingness to co-operate with him in this effort he will be more than willing to increase the appropriation so that it will accommodate 100 instead of fifty applicants. There are no strings attached to the offer, except that the farmer applying for the loan be worthy and imbued with the proper amount of enthusiasm and interest.

ISHPEMING SCHOOL HEAD IS SUMMONED

E. E. Scribner, for Thirteen Years Superintendent, Dies Suddenly.

Ishpeming, Mich., May 20.—E. E. Scribner, superintendent of the Ishpeming schools, died suddenly Tuesday of an attack of heart disease, at the grammar school.

During the thirteen years that he had been at the head of the Ishpeming schools, Mr. Scribner compiled full data concerning every student who attended the schools, from the kindergarten to the senior.

Mr. Scribner was born in Oswego, N. Y., April 1, 1862, and after completing his high school course there he entered Cornell university, from there he was graduated in 1887. While in college he was an athlete and was a member of the rowing crew of his class. Upon completing his college course he accepted the superintendency of the schools in Trumansburg, fourteen miles from Ithaca. He remained in charge of the schools there until he accepted the superintendency of the Dunkirk, N. Y., schools, resigning the latter position when he came to Ishpeming to take the superintendency in 1902.

Was High Mason.

Mr. Scribner was a thirty-second degree Mason, a knight of Pythias, an Elk, a Maccabee, and he held membership in other fraternal and social organizations. During practically all of his residence in Ishpeming he had been prominent in Masonic and Pythias circles. He was the Michigan director of the National Educational association, and president of the Peninsula Record Publishing company.

Mr. Scribner is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Quick of Courtland, N. Y.

The body was taken to Trumansburg, N. Y., for burial. It was sent away last evening and was accompanied by Mrs. Scribner, Mrs. Louise Stone, whose home is in Trumansburg, and George Hayden, editor of the Peninsula Record. The funeral services were held in Grace Episcopal church at 5 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Carl G. Ziegler, the rector.

CAPTURE NINETEEN COYOTES IN ONE DAY.

Hazelton, N. D., May 20.—Capturing nineteen coyotes in one day Walter Mulske and F. A. Scheelmeister got $47.50 in bounties for their work. They found two dens from which they caught the young coyotes and they also landed some of the old ones.

FARGO NOT FEARING BLIND PIGS' COMING

Laws of North Dakota Too Drastic for Such Offenses.

Fargo, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local prohibitionists are figuring what the effect of closing the saloons in Moorhead will be locally. Many imagined it would result in a large number of blind pigs here and a regular epidemic of bootleggers, but because of the heavy penalties for such violations under the North Dakota law these offenses may be fewer than anticipated. Blind piggers can be fined from $200 to $1,000 and sent to jail for ninety days to twelve months for the first offense and to the state penitentiary for convictions on a second offense. Bootleggers get six months. These heavy penalties have a discouraging effect on violators of the prohibition law.

Gopher Laws Lenient Here.

Prohibitionists feel that the Minnesota legislature overlooked a bet in not providing for a more drastic penalty for illegal liquor sales. Under the present law only fines, without imprisonment, are provided. With a friendly judge, a man can afford to take a chance and violate the law. This light penalty will probably make the enforcement of the dry laws more difficult in Minnesota, according to local prohibition workers.

One of the results of prohibition in Moorhead will be the establishment of soft drink places in Fargo. It is estimated that Fargo men spend over the bars in Moorhead from $500 to $750 daily. It is thought that after the saloons close many of these will want some place where they can secure soft drinks. Some of them would not patronize ice cream parlors frequented by women, and it is probable that properly conducted soft drink places could be operated in Fargo at a profit.

Why Should You Tolerate a Poison In Your Home?

Never Let the Skull and Crossbones Pass Your Threshold—It's the Only Way to Be Safe.

Of course you frequently need a powerful antiseptic and germicide—nearly all families do. That is why "Benetol" has met with such instant success.

Your Home Isn't Safe With Poison About.

But "Benetol" is absolutely harmless whether used externally or taken internally. And strange as it may seem, U. S. government tests show it to be much stronger as a germicide than even pure carbolic acid!

Put a bottle of "Benetol" in your medicine chest and throw away any mercury tablets, acids or other poisons you may have around.

Then use your "Benetol" in any way that you may have previously used the others.

Instead of ever harming you, "Benetol" will always protect and help you. Gargle with it for a cold or sore throat. Wash out the nasal passages with it to cure catarrhal affections. Sweeten your stomach with a morning swallow. It will sterilize and keep your bowels and kidneys in the best of condition.

Use it for the instant relief from cuts and burns. Teach the children to use it. Nothing will ever take the place of "Benetol" in your home after you learn of its wonders. If you have never tried it, let us send you our trial combination of "Benetol" liquid, ointment and tooth cream. This combination is not sold by dealers, but is sent direct on receipt of 10 cents to pay postage and packing.

Buy "Benetol" in 25c, 50c and $1.00 sizes, in nearly all drug stores.

Made only by the Benetol company, 130 Benetol building, Minneapolis, Minn.

Sold, recommended and guaranteed in Duluth by all druggists and leading drug stores everywhere.

FARGO SHRINE DOINGS.

El Zagel Temple Plans on Entertaining Visiting Nobles.

Fargo, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Illustrious Potentate F. L. Gage and the other officials of El Zagel Temple are planning a big Shrine celebration here June 4. There will be a large class for initiation at that time and visiting nobles from Minnesota, South Dakota and all over North Dakota are expected in attendance. The ceremonial session will follow a parade in the afternoon and a banquet at 6 o'clock. On this occasion the new addition to the Masonic temple will be opened for the first time. This addition to the temple makes it the second largest in the entire United States used exclusively for Masonic purposes. Arrangements will also be completed for the trip on a special train to the Imperial council at Seattle, July 9 to 20.

RED RIVER SETTLERS TO ATTEND FARGO FAIR

Fargo, N. D., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The early Red River Valley settlers are planning a big time in July at the interstate fair. A tent will be erected at the fair grounds and it will be the rendezvous for the pioneers all week. There will be one day devoted to the early settlers and a special program will be arranged. I. P. Clapp has been elected president; H. H. Harrington, vice president, and H. J. Hagen, secretary, for the ensuing year and a committee named to take charge of the arrangements for the meeting fair week.

SOWED RED CLOVER.

Richland County, N. D., Farmers Planted Much of That Forage.

Wahpeton, N. D., May 20.—Hundreds of farmers of Richland county seeded red clover with their grain crops this spring. The acreage with some was limited, but one company put in between 500 and 600 acres. The farmers claim the red clover will be the salvation of the state and that it will be a feature of every farm in the Red River valley within a few years. It is not only a profitable crop within itself, they contend, but possesses the qualities that will restore fertility to lands too long cropped in wheat.

MILL CITY BURGLARS TUNNEL INTO VAULT

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—Working night after night with the determination of mining prospectors drilling for veins of gold, cracksmen drilled and dug their way through the brick and concrete roof of the vault in the rear of the Northwestern Fuel company's offices, 527 Marquette avenue, and early yesterday completed their work, dropped into the vault and plundered the strong box of all it contained, about $500.

L. B. ARNOLD IS DIRECTOR.

Duluthian Chosen Officer of State Public Health Association.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—The Minnesota Public Health association which just met here elected officers with the exception of president, as E. W. Randall, who has been filling that position, declined to serve and the choice was left to the board of directors.

Dr. H. Longstreet Taylor of St. Paul, who had been secretary and treasurer, was succeeded by Dr. W. L. Beebe of St. Paul as secretary, and Dr. Paul Cook of St. Paul as treasurer. Dr. H. W. Hill, executive secretary, who came to Minnesota about a year ago on leave of absence from the Institute of Public Health of London, Ont., was granted leave from his duties for seven months, effective after the board of directors shall have named a new president.

Directors elected to serve five years are: L. B. Arnold, Duluth; Harry L. Merrill, Hutchinson; Mrs. George H. Christian, Minneapolis; Dr. A. B. Stewart Owatonna; W. L. Goodkind, St. Paul; Mrs. J. M. Bishop, Thief River Falls; Dean A. F. Woods, university farm; Dr. John M. Rains, Willmar; C. C. Stillman, secretary, Associated Charities, St. Paul.

Directors for the two-year term are: Dr. H. Holte, Crookston; Dr. Paul Cook, St. Paul.

Directors for the one-year term are: W. A. Laidlaw, St. Paul; Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Warren.

CROW WING COUNTY WILL VOTE JUNE 28

Brainerd, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Crow Wing county will vote on county option June 28. A petition bearing 1,114 names was filed in the dry committee, H. F. Michael, R. R. Livingston and D. D. Haggard of Brainerd and W. S. Pitt of Crosby. The names included petitioners from every part of the county.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Fargo, N. D.—A meeting of the board of directors of the Merchants' auxiliary to the State Fair association, was held at the Commercial club rooms. The officers to take charge of the affairs for the ensuing year were elected and are as follows: President, W. P. Porterfield; vice president, George Rusk; secretary-treasurer, F. Watkins. Mr. Watkins was re-elected to his position, having served in that capacity during last year.

Dickinson, N. D.—What is claimed to be the biggest price ever paid for farm land in Western North Dakota was secured by Mrs. R. W. Fenne, when she sold 320 acres south of Taylor for $11,200, or $35 an acre.

Glen Ullin, N. D.—Johnson Construction company of Fargo were the successful bidders for the erection of an addition to the local high school. The 36 by 80, two-story and full basement building will cost $10,000.

Fargo, N. D.—Bertha Terry, colored, who shot Gilmore Hayes during a quarrel in the colored section of the city several weeks ago, was dismissed from custody. When she appeared in court to answer to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, Hayes failed to make his appearance and it later developed that he had left town some time Saturday.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Devils Lake is going to have its time chimed out to it in the future, a big chime clock having been purchased by the State bank, which will announce the quarter hours.

Bismarck, N. D.—Among new concerns incorporated is the Oliver Mercer Telephone company, Center, capital stock $10,000; directors, E. T. Knox, Stanton; I. O. Lee, Hanover; H. C. Richey, Stanton; Henry Schulte, Center; H. O. Monson, Center, to build line from Center to Stanton and perhaps to Hazen, and from Center to Fort Clark, and branch lines; in all about 125 miles at an estimated cost of $7,000.

Minot, N. D.—Harry F. Ward, member of the Boston University School of Theology, will be here May 26, 27 and 28, to deliver five lectures on "The Christianizing of the Social Order."

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Theresa — The Northwestern Band association plans two conventions this year. The first will be held at this place on Sunday, June 20. The next meet will be held at Iron Ridge on Aug. 22.

Oconomowoc—The annual convention of the Waukesha County Sunday Schools association will be held here Friday, May 28, at the Congregational church.

Milwaukee — Mrs. Louise Fenton Brand, who has been dramatic critic of the Milwaukee Sentinel for eight years, has resigned and will, on June 1, become special research and bulletin worker for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association.

Madison—A proposal to increase the pay of members of the legislature from $500 for the biennium to $1,000 was approved by the assembly when that body adopted the Smith joint resolution, 18a, which provides for the amendment of section 12 of article IV of the Constitution to provide for the change.

Green Lake—The family of Decator Mitchell, owners of Mitchell's Glen, found the body of a man floating in the water, May 16, and notified the authorities of Green Lake. When the body was taken from the water a card bearing the name of A. F. Reed, and showing membership in the Order of of Loyal Moose of New London was found.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock—The traction company has commenced laying its temporary track on Front street, and every effort will be made to get the job completed as soon as possible.

Calumet—The body of Stephen Pangrasi, aged about 30, was found near the Tamarack pond May 17 by workmen in the employ of the Tamarack Mining company while coming from work at No. 5 shaft. Death was caused by a bullet wound, the missile going through the heart and probably causing instant death.

Hancock—Congressman W. Frank James received an invitation from Judge Curtis asking him to deliver the address on Memorial day at Ironwood on May 30 and accepted.

Dickinson, N. D.—What is claimed to be the biggest price ever paid for farm land in Western North Dakota was secured by Mrs. R. W. Fenne, when she sold 320 acres south of Taylor for $11,200, or $35 an acre.

Glen Ullin, N. D.—Johnson Construction company of Fargo were the successful bidders for the erection of an addition to the local high school. The 36 by 80, two-story and full basement building will cost $10,000.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore, stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve-building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from Boyce Drug Store, 331 West Superior St., or any druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—Mrs. R. S. Griggs, Mrs. Fred Metcalf, Mrs. Louis Hanson, Hugh Thompson and H. G. Johnson have been chosen by the Woman's Civic league as the judges for the Drosky contest for the best kept lawn and premises during the summer.

Brainerd—M. D. Stoner of the Cuyuna Range Power company appeared in behalf of his company before the city council and was given permission to build a power line from the Gruenhagen farm to the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine on South Sixth street, the pole line to run down Summit street and through Bane's new Brookside addition. The city is to be kept immune from any damage suits which may arise over the pole line or its operations.

Sauk Rapids—James King Miller, aged 87, for fifty-eight years a resident of this vicinity, passed away at his home in Sauk Rapids May 18. He came to Watab, Minn., in 1857, and on Aug. 19, 1862, enlisted in Company I, Seventh regiment, Minnesota volunteers, and served as sergeant until his discharge Feb. 29, 1864, for disability. He was appointed first J. W. of the North Star Lodge No. 23. He was later S. W. and twice W. M. and again S. W. of the lodge.

International Falls—The local Sons of Norway fittingly observed the 101st anniversary of that country's independence day by an entertainment Monday night at the Norweglan Lutheran church.

Moorhead—Donald Currie, one of Moorhead's old residents, died at his home May 17. He was 84 years old and had lived in Moorhead for over 18 years. Mr. Currie came to this city from Wahpeton. He is survived by his wife, four sons and three daughters.

Crookston—The family of L. J. Mumford, formerly of Calgary, Alta., will move to this city soon. Mr. Mumford was appointed as salesman for the Western Silo company of Des Moines, Iowa, for Northern Minnesota, and at the present time is located here. The Mumfords made their home in Glyndon several years ago.

Faribault—A verdict for $5,500 was given Miss Emma Huettner against the Dan Patch railway Saturday. Miss Huettner had sued for $25,200, costs and disbursement in her suit. The case of Caroline Seith vs. the Dan Patch is now before the court.

Albert Lea—Le Roy, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suby, who live near Lake Mills, Iowa, was crushed to death under the wheels of a wagon from which he fell after he and a man named Larsen had gone to a pit for a load of sand.

Lake City—When Rev. Silas Hazlett, a pioneer Presbyterian minister of Lake City, celebrated his 91st birthday recently, he announced that he had attended church services every Sunday but one during the past sixty years. The Sunday he failed to attend was recently while ill.

Moorhead—The new 10-inch artesian well which the city has just sunk at its property on First avenue north, has now been completed, and Tuesday Supt. Warner tested it by pumping from it at the rate of 100 gallons per minute for several hours.

Little Falls—A heavy frost occurred here Monday night, ruining gardens and doing probably slight damage to crops. Wheat and corn, it is thought, will not be affected by the frost, as neither is far enough advanced in growth to suffer damage, but oats may be injured.

Stillwater—Iver Hanson, alias Ever Hansson, was sentenced by Judge Stolberg to the St. Cloud reformatory under the indeterminate plan. He was accused of grand larceny in the second degree, in that he stole a number of articles from the dwelling of Philip Horrisberger of the town of Woodbury while the family were at church May 9.

St. Cloud—Representative Frank E. Minette of Sauk Center declares in a letter written to the Journal-Press that while he is to go to Montana on business, that he will still make Sauk Center his home. Mr. Minette also explains his attitude on the recent telephone bill.

FATHER LEAVES HIS OFFICE AND MOTHER POSTPONES HER TEAS WHEN JOHNNY'S TEAM PLAYS BASEBALL

One Duluth Attorney Has Not Missed Game His Boy Has Played This Year; Staid Citizens Become Violent Partisans on the Corner Lots When Grade School Teams Meet.

Have you ever watched kids play baseball? Get out to one of the kid games—it's great sport; you'll find yourself thrilled, yelling like a Comanche, shouting advice and encouragement, and taking a mental hike back to the days when you were a kid and played on the corner lots.

The Duluth Grade School Baseball league is enlisting the interest of the parents of the players as well as the interest of the students of the various schools. Parents of the boys might be discovered looking anxiously at their watches around the hour 3:30 in the afternoon, and then suddenly making a bolt for the door. Why certainly, the "old man" wants to get out and see his kid play.

There is a certain lawyer in Duluth, well known for his fondness for clean sports, who has a youngster playing on the Lakeside team. It is said that the attorney has not missed a game this season. Sure, gets out every time the Lakesides play and is rooting for the team and for his kid.

He is not the only father who is taking a decided interest in the baseball playing of the grade school kids of Duluth. There are other fathers—yes, and mothers, too—who are taking a real and genuine interest in the games of the school league.

Postpone Teas.

Now it is said—of course it may be only gossip—that a mother in the East end called up some ten or twelve women only recently and postponed a scheduled tea—do they schedule teas?—because her boy was going to play on the afternoon the tea fell on.

Fans outside of the public schools are beginning to sit up and take nourishing notice of the progress of the various teams of the grade school league. There is something irresistible about kids, anyway; somewhere a poet sang about all the world loving youth. If the enthusiasm of parents, brothers and sisters, and in fact about every member of a large number of families scattered throughout the city can make a success of the Duluth Grade School Baseball league—why, the league is an assured success.

It is a great thing for the kiddos—yes, and a great thing for the parents.

Only the other day some pedestrians were passing a vacant lot of the city. A respectable man, well dressed, was yelling like a crazed Indian. He waved arms like the flails of a windmill and yelled like one dotty.

"He's safe! You're crazy! He's safe by a mile!"

It was only his kid arguing whether he was safe at second. Yes, but think of the germs that fond parent killed that afternoon.

Oh, yes, the kid baseball league is a grand little institution; it is bringing fathers and sons together on the vacant lots of the city and the league is making a lot of wild-eyed enthusiasts out of some of our most severe business men.

Here's success to the league.

RED WATSON IS DUE HERE

California Boy Scheduled to Work Out at Duluth Auditorium.

Red Watson is due to reach the Head of the Lakes today. The California pugilist will finish his training for the Mandot meeting of May 28 in Superior and Duluth, being scheduled to work out at the Duluth Auditorium today. Kid Billings will work with the red-head from the time he arrives until the day before the meeting with the New Orleans baker boy.

Tommy Walsh promises to have Mandot here by next Tuesday. That will give the baker boy an opportunity to taper off in his training and take a final workout on Wednesday.

While Mandot holds the shade in boxing skill, Watson, it is believed, will depend on aggressive tactics, carrying the battle to Joey and counting on hard hitting and ability to assimilate punishment.

Walsh and Mandot are expected in Chicago today.

AL CUMMINGS AS A COMEBACK

Former Duluth Twirler Heaving Great Ball in the Three-Eye.

Al Cummings, who used to fling for the Duluth White Sox, is now pitching great baseball for Quincy of the Three-I league. To date Smiling Al, as the fans up in these parts used to call him, has won five games and lost none.

Before being taken ill with typhoid-pneumonia, Cummings was considered one of the most promising young pitchers in the country. His long and severe illness left him rather weak for a number of seasons. A lot of staunch friends of Cummings are rooting for his comeback.

BASEBALL GAMES SCHEDULED.

International Falls Fans Have Some Lively Contests Booked.

International Falls, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Baseball fans of this city have a strenuous month ahead as several games with some of the fastest teams in Northern Minnesota are scheduled.

Bemidji will meet the local bunch next Sunday with what is reputed to be one of the fastest teams that Bemidji has ever put in the field. On May 30 and 31 Baudette will be here with a strong bunch and early in June Hibbing's nine will come here for a three-game series.

Byers Wins at Pool.

Clayton Byers won from Eddie Dawson in the last block of the 600-point pocket billiard contest last evening, the final score being 66 to 512. Byers made a high run of 29, while Dawson strung the ivories along for a run of 25.

HAS CLASH WITH COURT

Judge Threatens to Remove Bailey for Remarks in Riggs Case.

Final Argument Against Government Motion Being Made.

Washington, May 20.—Former Senator Bailey today presented the final argument in the district supreme court in opposition to the government's motion to dismiss the temporary injunction secured by the Riggs National bank against Secretary McAdoo, Comptroller Williams and Treasurer Burke, which charges the first two officials with conspiring to wreck it. Senator Bailey followed Samuel Untermyer, who made the concluding argument yesterday in support of the motion to dismiss.

During arguments, Senator Bailey clashed with Justice McCoy.

Senator Bailey was arguing for the admissibility of an affidavit disclaiming relations between the bank and Lewis Johnson & Co., bankrupt stock brokers. Justice McCoy interrupted to say he had already admitted the affidavit and further argument would only take time.

"Your honor has taken more time than I required for what I wished to say," said Mr. Bailey.

"Your remarks are highly improper," returned the justice. "Another of that kind and some other counsel will argue this case."

Mr. Bailey said that if the court felt that way about it, he would withdraw. After a conference, however, he said to the court: "I owe my clients a duty higher than I owe myself and I will remain."

Arguments proceeded.

SENT TORPEDO AT SURVIVORS

Charge Made Against Germans at Inquiry Into Falaba Sinking.

London, May 20.—An inquiry into sinking March 28 of the British steamer Falaba by a German submarine and the subsequent loss of 100 lives including that of the American, Leon C. Thresher, was begun today by Lord Mersey, president of the board of marine arbitration.

Solicitor General Buckmaster, opening the case for the board of trade, made these charges:

That the Falaba was torpedoed in board daylight at a distance of 100 yards.

That the German submarine when first sighted was flying a white ensign.

That while the people of the Falaba were struggling in the sea, the submarine sent a torpedo through them, the shock throwing the occupants of the boats into the water.

That the crew of the submarine stood jeering as the victims struggled in the sea.

NEW QUARTERS ARE POPULAR WITH BOYS

'Pittsie' Ryan, Globe-Trotting 'Newsy,' Will Speak; Activities Outlined.

The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. is proving very popular in its new quarters at the Y. M. C. A. building. All the activities are in full swing.

Friday night is social night, and the special feature for this week will be a talk by "Pittsie" Ryan, who has spent the last four years walking around the world. He will tell some of his interesting experiences. The rest of the program will include games in the big gymnasium, followed by a swim and closing with refreshments.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 there will be a trip. Each boy will bring his carfare and lunch. Baseball and other games will fill in the program.

Arrangements are being made for a reunion of all 1913-14 campers, also a closing dinner for all committee men.

The camp and outing committee will meet next week to outline the special program of summer activities.

J. R. Batchelor left last night for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for his vacation. He will visit Chicago, Gary and Milwaukee in the interests of the playground work. On his return to the city he will supervise the playgrounds for the summer. Mr. Batchelor's successor for the boys' department for the summer will be appointed this week.

COL. POTTER HERE FOR SHORT STAY

Comes on Business Connected With Proposed Mississippi Canal.

Col. C. H. Potter, United States engineer in charge of the St. Paul district, is in the city today on business in connection with the proposed canal from Lake Superior to the Mississippi river. Col. Potter was formerly in charge of the Duluth district, but was transferred some years ago. Recently announcement has been made of his coming transfer to Portland, Or. He said this morning that he will be relieved at St. Paul on July 24 and will then leave for Portland. He added that he is sorry to leave Minnesota, for he has become very much attached to the state and its people during his long residence here and in St. Paul.

Col. Potter would not discuss the Mississippi canal matter, as he is not at liberty to do so before his report to the board of engineers.

"Two years ago we made an adverse report on it," said Col. Potter this morning, "but the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota appointed commissioners to fight the matter through and offered criticisms to our report. The matter is in the hands of the army board of engineers in charge of rivers and harbors, and the matter has simply been referred back to us to have the criticisms made investigated and answered."

Col. Potter returned to St. Paul this afternoon.

Goes to California.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 20.—A. H. Turrittin, state superintendent of banks, has left for Oakland, Cal., to attend the fourteenth annual convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State banks, which will be held May 25-28. He will read a paper.

BUFFALO IS WAKING UP

Making Efforts to Have Harbor Improved to Hold Importance.

Fears Canadian Route Will Take Much of Its Receipts.

Buffalo is evidently waking up to the fact that she must do something to retain her importance as a lake terminal when the Welland canal will have been enlarged. For years Buffalo has done nothing to accommodate vessel interests, and only recently owners of the islands in the harbor have threatened to levy a tax on vessels tying up at them.

Now the city council at Buffalo seems likely to condemn the islands with a view to removing them and thereby improving the harbor facilities. Besides that, the city has applied to the war department to have the harbor otherwise improved.

A hearing was held there the other day before the United States engineer in charge of that district, at which it was urged that a wider harbor entrance be provided for the harbor. The underlying argument of almost all the speakers at this hearing was a fear that if Buffalo did not improve her harbor Canadian competition was going to get a large percentage of the traffic which has always come down in American bottoms. Canada with its small population, it was stated, was spending a much greater proportion of money on its waterways and harbors than the United States.

Small Ports Beat Buffalo.

One of the principal speakers for the new harbor was Harvey D. Goulder, counsel for the Lake Carriers' association. Mr. Goulder said the situation was a vital one for Buffalo shipping interests. He said that he could give figures regarding the harbor entrances of Port Holland, Manistee, St. Joseph, Benton Harbor and a number of other small ports up the lakes, all of which, he claimed, had better harbor facilities than Buffalo, although one boat coming into this harbor brings in more ore or grain than some of these ports receive in a whole season.

No Change in 100 Years.

The entrance to Buffalo harbor, Mr. Goulder said, was laid out almost 100 years ago. Twenty-five years before this the first boat built on the lakes for commercial purposes was launched at Buffalo and was finally taken down below the falls on wheels because of lack of business in the upper lakes. The annual tonnage coming into Buffalo has increased from a few thousand tons to 77,000,000 in 1913.

"At that time," said Mr. Goulder, "530,000 bushels of grain was a record year, while we think nothing of the fact that 200,000,000 bushels pass through Buffalo elevators every seven months."

When the present entrance was laid out, according to Mr. Goulder, the average freighter was only 150 feet long. In eighty-seven years these boats have grown until they are now built 624 feet long. The largest passenger boats up the lake for many years did not exceed 153 feet in length, as compared to the 500-foot steamers running between Buffalo and the upper ports today.

"When Buffalo's annual grain receipts were one-tenth of the amount which now enters the port daily," said Mr. Goulder, "the present Buffalo harbor was laid out. Not only has this entrance never been widened to meet changing conditions, but it has actually been reduced. The original harbor entrance was 200 feet wide. By placing buttresses on one side of this, however, the available space has been reduced to 140 feet."

Buffalo Council's Project.

As to the condemning and removing of the islands the wharves and harbors committee of the Buffalo city council has submitted a report directing the corporation counsel to apply in special term of supreme court for an order confirming the awards in the condemnation proceedings to acquire the islands in the Buffalo river for the relief of congestion in the inner harbor. The report was tabled for a week.

If the report is adopted by the aldermen—and it is said to be likely that it will be—approved by the councilmen and signed by the mayor, Buffalo will acquire the property at a cost of $325,000, the amount of the awards made by the apprisal commission. Action must be taken by the city on the report by June 29 if the islands are to be acquired.

SEVEN CUT OFF BY WILL

Four of Disinherited Children Bring Contest Against Favored Daughter.

Two Other Sons, Who Are Ministers, Make No Protest.

When Henrietta Janzig died at her home in Hermantown about a year ago, aged 85, she left all of her worldly possessions, by will, to one of her eight children.

Four of the seven children who were cut off from inheritance came into probate court yesterday afternoon to protest against the instrument being admitted to probate.

The hearing on the will contest was not concluded yesterday and is in progress today before Judge S. W. Gilpin.

Mrs. Janzig died April 21, 1914, leaving an estate consisting of a farm in the town of Herman valued at $2,500. In her will, she bequeathed this property to Mrs. Anna Brelsemeister, a daughter, with whom she lived for seven or eight years prior to her death.

The will excluded seven other children, four sons and three daughters. Four of the children are involved in the contest which is now pending. They are: William and August Janzig, sons, residing in Hermantown; Mrs. Minnie Fritz, Proctor, daughter, and Mrs. H. Bartholdi, Duluth, daughter.

Two other sons, Gustav Janzig, residing in Iowa, and John Janzig, a resident of South Dakota, have filed no protest. Both Gustav and John are ministers.

The will is being contested on the ground that Mrs. Janzig, at the time she executed the instrument in December, 1910, was old, infirm and childish, and not mentally competent to make a will which would express her real wishes. It is also claimed that Mrs. Brelsemeister procured her mother's signature by undue influence.

At the time Mrs. Janzig executed the will she was the mother of nine children. Shortly afterwards, however, one of her daughters, a Mrs. Lueck died.

Charles E. Adams appears as attorney for the contestants and John A. St. Clair is in court to represent the interests of Mrs. Briesemeister.

New, Positive Treatment to Remove Hair or Fuzz

(Beauty Notes)

Women are fast learning the value of the use of delatone for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No failure will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone.—Advertisement.

BERT FARRELL AS HAT STYLE FIXER

Commissioner of Public Works Emulates Mayor of Chicago By Wearing Cowboy Hat.

Duluth is now in the midst of a revival.

No, Billy Sunday isn't in town, nor are the Duncans here with bare feet and a few veils.

It is just Bert Farrell, commissioner of the public works division who started this revival.

What's the revival?

The cowboy hat.

Bright and early this morning "Bert" entered the city hall with a big wide-brimmed hat suggestive of the plains and Dustin Farnum in "The Virginian."

"Bert" claims it is an old hat and that he didn't want to throw it away, but the skeptical ones declare that he is re-establishing the sombrero style in Duluth.

When William Hale Thompson became mayor of Chicago a few weeks ago, all his friends wore cowboy hats in the big parade, because the new city executive has always worn the same style hat he wore when out on the plains in Montana and Wyoming when a young man. Now, the hat is the rage in Chicago.

Maybe, "Bert" will get by with this revival in Duluth.

PASTOR TELLS OF CONDITIONS

Rev. D. S. McCorkle Continues Testimony About Mining Camps.

Declares People Were Compelled to Go to Saloons for Amusement.

Washington, May 20.—Conditions growing out of the Colorado coal strike were further delved into at today's hearing before the Federal industrial relations commission. Rev. Daniel S. McCorkle of Sunrise, Wyo., pastor there of one of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company's mining camps, continued his testimony. The witness told the commission that when he went to Sunrise he was informed by the church authorities that the Colorado company maintained the church, but that the fact was to be kept secret. He said he urged that this be made public.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was ready to take the stand at the conclusion of Rev. McCorkle's testimony. Mr. Rockefeller had been summoned to testify regarding correspondence made public since the original inquiry in New York.

Had to Go to Saloons.

At sunrise, the Rev. McCorkle said, the people were compelled to go to saloons in a nearby town for amusement and school facilities were bad. After the Ludlow catastrophe, he said, reports were circulated that the company was planning to send to Sunrise "its armed hireling detectives," and he preached a sermon asserting that a corporation which would send armed men into a working community was guilty of treason.

After his sermon Mr. McCorkle said he received a letter from the head of the church in Wyoming declaring that he must stop preaching Socialism. Afterward, he said, he publicly denounced the Ludlow killings and detective efforts to remove him from the church followed.

Later he went to Denver and saw L. M. Bowers, one of the company heads.

"I saw Mr. Bowers for half an hour," said McCorkle. "He denounced all forms of social service among the miners as 'Satanic.'"

DULUTH FAVORED BY WEATHER MAN

Minneapolis Shivers With Two Inches of Snow, Say Knights Templars.

Duluth is not the only city in the U. S. A. where straw hats are not popular just now. Other cities farther south are said to be shivering with chills, and the cold wave appears to have extended over a large part of the country.

Duluth Knights Templars, who returned from Minneapolis today, stated that two inches of snow covered the ground in the Mill City and that the air there is raw and cold. Duluth is in fact a favored city in regards to weather, they say, and there is no cause for complaints when comparing the Zenith City with places that boast earlier spring weather.

BELGIAN SOLDIER, VETERAN OF NINE BATTLES, TELLS HIS STORY TO THE HERALD

Honorably Discharged After Being Disabled By German Bullets.

In Thick of Terrific Fighting From Liege to Antwerp.

Passing through nine of the most terrific battles of the European war and to be able to tell the story after being honorably discharged from the service because of being disabled, is the experience of Ramie Robeir, age 24, who is now a guest at the home of his sister, 3214 Vernon street. Robeir carries with him the marks of German bullets, one of which went through his right arm, another through his right side and right hand crippled because of the cutting of a cord by the bullet which entered his arm.

For two months, from the beginning of the war and the firing of the first guns at Liege until the siege of Antwerp, Robeir was in the thick of the fray. Nine battles were fought during that time, some of them extending over a period of twelve days.

Hand-to-Hand Fighting.

Privations of every kind were endured during that period. On one occasion while fighting near Hofstade his regiment was for eight hours called upon to defend its positions by a hand-to-hand encounter following a bayonet charge.

On Aug. 2, Robeir was a private in the Third Belgian Infantry at Ostend. His regiment was ordered to the front to defend the position in front of Liege. The regiment arrived there on Aug. 3, and they were immediately in the thick of the battle. Less than half of his regiment is now living, in the opinion of Robeir.

"We fought for three days before Liege before we had to retire from our positions. Then we fell back gradually to Tirlemont," said Robeir to The Herald this morning. "Here we fought the enemy for seven days before we were compelled to give way.

In Onslaught on Louvain.

"We encountered the terrible onslaught at Louvain, where for four days and nights we repulsed the advancing Germans. Then we took up a position near Lier and again for three days we withstood terrific fire of the enemy.

"The most consistent fighting probably took place in the vicinity of Hofstade, Semst, Weerde and Hippeghem, where for eight days we repulsed the advance. It was on one of these nights that for eight hours we fought almost hand to hand against a bayonet charge of the enemy. The enemy outnumbered us nearly two to one and compelled the retreat of my countrymen. Two of the days in the vicinity of these villages the men were without food, except cabbage, which they managed to pick up in the fields."

Covered With Blood.

Robeir said that when he left this engagement his clothes were covered from head to foot with blood, and that his face and hands were gory, but he had no wounds.

The battle then was forced at Malines and Waelhem, where for twelve days the conflict raged. His next battle was at Wetteren, where, after a day's onslaught, the fight shifted to Hnelem, where for five days one of the most terrific battles of the war was fought.

Hit by Two Bullets.

It was at the close of a twelve-day battle, on Oct. 2, at Waver St. Catherine and Waelhem that he was wounded. During the thick of the engagement he was struck by two bullets, one of which went through his right arm, and the other through his side, going between his ribs and coming out of his back. These laid him prostrate. He was picked up by two companions.

As he was being carried from the battlefield a bullet killed one of his assistants and fragments from a shrapnel incapacitated the other. Through superhuman effort Robeir got up and crawled to the edge of the firing line, then managed to walk through a stream up to his waist in water to a point where an ambulance carried him to the hospital.

He was taken to Antwerp where he was placed in the hospital. During several days while the Germans were bombarding the city he was in this institution. On Oct. 7 his removal was made necessary because of the destruction of the hospital by the siege guns of the enemy.

He was then removed to Ostend where he remained until Oct. 15, when he was taken to Plymouth, England for treatment.

Home in Ruins.

"My home at Bishoote, six miles from Ypres, is nothing but ruins," said Robeir. "There is nothing left. Every building has been burned and the place devastated. It is only what is to be expected. I have nothing to go back for."

The entire country in the wake of the army was destroyed. Where any opposition was made to the advancing German army, Robeir said everything was destroyed. In one instance where a farmer had refused to give up his horses to the soldiers, the farmer and his three minor sons had been killed by bayonet thrusts, Robeir said.

Robeir got his discharge from the army on leaving the hospital early this year. He then got permission to come to America. On May 1 he left England on the steamship Saxonia and in mid-ocean met and signalled the ill-fated Lusitania on May 5.

"I am glad to get away from there with my life. I feel almost certain that not many more than a fourth of my comrades in the Third infantry regiment will survive. Hundreds of them are now dead and many more are in the hospitals."

Robeir expects to make his home with his sister and brother-in-law this summer.

For members and their invited friends. Entertainment 8 p. m.; dancing 9 p. m. Bluett's Orchestra. Refreshments.

CITY BRIEFS

Fourth Annual Ball.

Don't forget the trainmen's ball at Woodman hall, Friday evening; May 21. Tickets $1. Blewett's orchestra.

Duluth Hustler Wins.

The highest honors in the contest Monday night for new life memberships for the Michigan union, the men's organization of the University of Michigan, were won by a Duluth student, Charles S. Lamb. Mr. Lamb secured a total of eight new life members at a cost per student of $50. Thus in one night he turned into the funds of the union contracts totaling $400. Mr. Lamb is only a freshman student here.

Tom Howard in the City.

Tom Howard is the name of a new brand of high grade domestic, Sumatra wrapper and Havana filler cigar, made in perfecto and blunt shapes. Made by the Dworshak Cigar company. Ask your dealer for an introduction to Tom Howard.

"Ladies' Night."

Alpha Council, Modern Samaritans, will enjoy a "Ladies' Night" this evening at their council chambers, Fourth avenue west and First street. The first part of the evening an entertainment of music, song and story will be enjoyed. Dancing will begin at 9. Blewett's orchestra will furnish the music. The Beneficent Degree has provided refreshments and a number of friends have been invited.

Furniture Salesrooms Open Tonight.

M. W. McGregor, trustee for the creditors, Cameron-Johnson-Horgan company, states balance stock must be sold this week as he leaves for Chicago. Hundreds of pieces at 30c on the dollar. 2110 West Superior street.

Case Ready For Jury.

In Judge Dancer's division of the district court this afternoon, the personal injury suit of Jalmar Laaksonen against Charles Sandboe will be given to the jury. The action is one in which Laaksonen is seeking to recover $1,500 damages for personal injuries sustained by himself in a runaway on the Lang road near Floodwood last November. The plaintiff declares that his horse became frightened at Sandboe's automobile.

McGregor's Trustee Furniture Stock

Is fading away rapidly. Hundreds of pieces going at 20c on the dollar. I leave for Chicago in a few days, hustle if you want furniture bargains. Open tonight till 10 o'clock. Cameron-Johnson-Horgan company, salesrooms 2110 West Superior street.

Will Consider Metcalfe Case.

The civil service commission will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to consider the appeal of R. N. Metcalfe, former health inspector, who was discharged by Health Director Fahey when the latter took office a month ago. Mr. Metcalfe claims that he was discharged without cause and that he is still entitled to the position.

Wants Damages From City

Olof Peterson filed a claim with City Clerk Borgen this morning for $100 damages as the result of an alleged fall on a plank sidewalk near Nineteenth avenue west and Second street on the morning of May 10. His claim will be presented before the council next Monday evening.

Bids Asked for Paving.

Bids were advertised for this morning on the paving of First street, from Twenty-eighth avenue east to the Congdon park; Sixth street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenues east; and Sixteenth avenue east, from Sixth to Eighth streets. The bids will be opened on June 2. According to the engineer's estimates, the former pavement will cost $30,519, and the latter two, $25,080.

Wedding and Social Stationery.

Recovers on Contract.

A jury in Judge Cant's division of the district court this morning returned a verdict in favor of Cyrille Fortier, defendant in an action brought by Robert Bourdage to recover about $800 for alleged services in performing work covered by a contract in a logging deal. The defendant counterclaimed for damages and was awarded $214.17 on his cross bill. The jury retired at 4:31 o'clock yesterday afternoon and reached an agreement at 8 o'clock this morning.

Tenor Postpones Visit.

Harold Hurlbut, prominent tenor, who formerly resided in Duluth, and who had planned to spend the summer here after an absence of nearly fifteen years, will not be able to carry out his plans, according to word received by his friends this morning. Mr. Hurlbut states that he has a singing engagement in New York for the entire summer and that he has also arranged to receive instruction from several eminent teachers, so that he will be unable to visit Duluth for another year at least.

NO TRACE YET OF "MYSTERY CAR"

Three days' search of Duluth and Superior for the driver of the mysterious Studebaker roadster which may have run down Alec Carpenter Monday night on Garfield avenue and left him dying, has brought the city authorities no nearer a solution.

Police have quizzed the men who served as watchmen on the Interstate bridge the night of the accident in the hope that they might remember the cars which crossed the river about that time and furnish some kind of a description.

The identity of the Duluth business man who stopped his machine at Superior street and Garfield avenue shortly after the accident to inform Patrolman Magner that "a man was lying in the road near the viaduct" is said to be known to the police and his testimony may throw some light on the case.

Andrew Sjolund night watchman for the Duluth Lumber company, 360 Garfield avenue, who was but a short distance away when Carpenter was struck down, told his story to County Attorney Warren Greene and Deputy Coroner McAuliffe yesterday.

His account of the affair tallies closely with that given by Larry McDonough, 28 West Seventh street, Superior, who ran over Carpenter's feet as he lay in the street. When McDonough's machine struck Carpenter he went back and took the injured man to police headquarters.

Work of investigation will be continued, according to the deputy coroner, who hopes to find some further clew as to the identity of the driver responsible for the injuries resulting in Carpenter's death.

James Curran, 801 Woodland avenue, described in newspaper reports as the man with Carpenter up to a short time before the accident, was in no way connected with the case and was confused with another person bearing the same name, who was a friend of Carpenter's.

SOME HITCH IN EFFICIENCY PROGRAM

A slight hitch in the efficiency program at the Duluth postoffice was apparent today.

At 2:20 o'clock this afternoon only one of the three stamp windows was open, and about thirty people were waiting to be served. It has been declared since the reorganization went into effect at the office that the service would be more efficient and give better satisfaction to the public.

REMARKABLE CO-OPERATION

Whole City Thanked for Excellent Work During Clean-up Week.

Work Urged for Year Round; Few Places Still Neglected.

Remarkable co-operation during clean-up and paint-up week featured all work of the city officials, welfare committees and the people of the city in general according to the final report of the clean-up and citizens' committees made public today. The city has greatly benefited by the work done so far, and it is urged that efforts be continued the year round throughout the city to keep it clean and healthful. A few places have been neglected, it is said, and it is urged that these be cleaned up at once. The reports follow in part:

Clean-up Committee Report.

"The clean-up and paint-up committee at this, its last meeting, wishes to publicly express its keen and very deep appreciation for the splendid support it received from the many civic organizations and individual citizens of Duluth.

"Organized for the sole purpose of endeavoring to promote the welfare of the city, the committee feels very grateful that its efforts have been so well rewarded, for it is very generally conceded that much progress has been made during the past two weeks in cleaning, painting, tree-planting, and otherwise making the city more healthful and attractive.

"The co-operation was wonderful, and while it is impossible to enumerate all the assistance rendered, the committee wishes to particularly thank Commissioner Silberstein for his whole hearted and consistent support through the police, fire and health departments.

Help From All Sides.

"The various clubs, the newspapers, the clergy, the schools, the moving picture theaters, the Woman's council, the Housewives' league, Charles Marshall and many others did splendid work.

"The civic pride in this city is wonderful; co-operation is very pronounced, and the desire on the part of the people at large to leave nothing undone in making Duluth the very best city in the country, speaks volumes for its present substantial position and its continued material progress in the future.

Respectfully,
"E. W. RUSSELL,
"General chairman.
"F. X. GRAVEL,
"Chairman, Inspection Committee.
"W. N. HART,
"Chairman, Finance Committee.
"BENTLEY P. NEFF,
"Chairman, Publicity Committee.
"H. J. HOCKWITH,
"General Secretary."

Some Spots Untouched.

The inspection committee reported to the general committe in part as follows:

"Gentlemen—Your committee of investigation, beg to make its last report as follows:

"That they find rubbish on Second street between Lake avenue and First avenue west on a vacant lot.

"Also note that the empty space back of the row of brick tenements on the corner of Second avenue east and Second street on the west side of the avenue. The owners of this property should be notified concerning this alley or back part of their property.

"Also note that the papers we spoke of in our former report between the windows and the sidewalk on the Fifth avenue side of the Fortland block are still there. This is not only an unsightly condition, but it is a fire risk as well.

"Also note vacant lot between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenue east on Fifth street about 150 feet frontage on the upper side should be cleaned of all rubbish.

"Also note a vacant lot at 15 Fifth street that someone has been dumping rubbish of all kinds since our first visit to that locality.

"We would advise that the creek between Fifth and Sixth avenues east and Seventh street should be followed from the Boulevard down to the termination of same, as the entire length seems to be a public dumping ground.

"Will also state that this should apply to the creek from Cascade park to the Boulevard as that seems to be also used for a dumping ground.

Good Work All Over City.

"We are pleased to state that taking the entire city as a whole, that there has been a great deal of good work done along the cleaning up line, as well as painting.

"We would advise that you get in touch with the city authorities asking them to look after more especially, vacant property, as we find that outside of that our city is in good, clean shape generally speaking, and we have especially noticed that all private property, lawns and back yards and alleys, have been cleaned up much better than any time in the last few years. With warmer weather coming on, there could be much more done by each and every one to beautify our city to a still much greater extent.

"With our highest appreciation to all the good workers for cleanliness, we are,

"Very truly yours,
"MEMBERS OF THE INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE,
"FRANK NIXON,
"R. D. ANNIS,
"C. H. KELLY,
"M. R. BUSH,
"By F. X. GRAVEL,

FIRST PAVING JOB ATTRACTS IDLE

About 150 applicants for jobs crowded around A. N. Nelson, contractor, when he started work on the Woodland avenue pavement this morning. Only twenty-five men were hired for the present.

The Woodland avenue pavement is the first on which active operations have started and Mr. Nelson expects to have his crew continuously at work until the pavement is completed. For the present he is plowing both sides of the street, so that he will be able to lay the curbing and keep the center of the street open to traffic at the same time. The thoroughfare will be paved from Fourth street to Kent road.

In addition to the Woodland avenue pavement, four other pavements will be started this week, it was announced this morning. These are in Minnesota avenue, East Ninth street and West Sixth street.

About 100 men will be employed on these three streets.

ASKS HEAVY DAMAGE FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Suit for $20,000 damages on a cause of action for the alleged wrongful death of her husband was brought by Mrs. Minnie Jurevitz against the Northern Pacific Railway company in district court this morning. Mrs. Jurevitz, the plaintiff, is the widow of Waldemar Jurevitz, who was killed under the wheels of a moving freight car on Jan. 14, 1915. He was in the employ of the company as a carpenter.

TAX PAYING IS HELD OFF

St. Louis county property owners are making no effort to pay their taxes before they are obliged to this year, according to George H. Vivian, county treasurer.

Mr. Vivian declared that while a great many of the smaller taxpayers had appeared at his office to pay their taxes, few of the larger taxpayers had sent in their checks as yet.

"Apparently they are holding back until the last moment," said Mr. Vivian, who declared that while the collection of the larger amounts was heavy at this time a year ago, checks for amounts in excess of $100 were almost a curiosity these days.

The last day for paying the first half of the current real estate taxes is May 31. After that day a 10 per cent penalty attaches. The second half may be paid on or before Oct. 31.

TWO ASK DAMAGE FOR IMPRISONMENT

An aftermath of a fistic battle, which occurred in a sawmill camp near Alborn last February, in which Henry T. Agnew, one of the proprietors of the mill, was assaulted and beaten by several of his employes, is being aired before Judge Cant and a district court jury today.

Two cases were called for trial yesterday afternoon in which John Dulkowski and William Schulz, plaintiffs, are each seeking $3,122.50 damages for alleged false imprisonment, claimed to have been caused by Henry T. Agnew. The two men are suing Agnew and his brother, Patrick Agnew, engaged in business as Agnew Bros.

Each claims that Agnew caused his arrest on Feb. 2, 1915, on a charge of assault. On Feb. 9, the cases against them were dismissed by Judge Cutting in municipal court. The plaintiffs claim that Agnew acted in bad faith and maliciously in procuring their arrest and imprisonment.

Agnew, on the other hand, asserts that he was badly battered up and alloges that he had probable cause. He also alleges that he presented his case to the county attorney's office and that it was on the advice of the assistant county attorney that a warrant for their arrest was obtained.

PATENTS FISH PRESERVING BOX

A. Miller McDougall has been granted a patent on a process for the preserving and marketing of fish, according to word received today from Washington; and Mr. McDougall announces that he has formed a company which will use the patent in its colleting and marketing of fish, for which the little steamer Phelps has been brought here from Lake Ontario. The new company will be known as the Northern Fish company, and its officers are:

A. Miller McDougall, president; Gordon Patterson, vice president and manager, and C. C. Thompson, secretary.

The patent is on a special box in which the fish are preserved at the temperature and in as nearly the condition they were in when taken out of the water as possible, and it is said to be much in advance of former systems for giving the fish to the consumer in fresh condition.

CAR ACCOUNTANTS HOLD CONFERENCE

G. L. Ossman, car accountant of the Omaha system; J. L. Hurd, holding a similar position with the Northern Pacific; F. M. Gates of the Soo line, and G. D. Clark of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific and Canadian Northern, held a conference in Duluth today on the interchange of car accounts. The meeting was one at which only routine business was transacted, its object being to devise an improvement on the plan of securing a better interchange of car reports.

OBITUARY

Colonel Cyrus Roys of Elkhart, Ind., died on a train May 19 en route home from Florida, where he had spent the winter. For many years Colonel Roys was a resident of Chicago. He was attorney for the Lake Shore and Michigan Central and the Wisconsin Central railroad.

Samuel Lehr, brigadier general of the national guard of Pennsylvania, retired, one of Allentown's best known citizens died May 18, aged 77 years. He was a member of the city council, a former mayor of Allentown and a veteran of the Civil war.

POLICE MUST ANSWER.

Citizens' Calls at Headquarters Will Get Immediate Attention.

Waiting for policemen after citizens have called headquarters and asked for assistance will be less in evidence in the future.

Chief of Police McKercher yesterday issued an order directing officers at the station to answer all calls at once, using the emergency patrol or a motorcycle, instead of waiting until the policeman on the beat nearest the scene of trouble made his next hourly report.

"The people have a right to this service," said the chief, "and they may as well have it. They shouldn't be obliged to wait until the man in that territory reports."

LIKES HOSPITAL EASE.

A soft bed at St. Luke's hospital, with clean blankets, and a real feather pillow, was so attractive to Stanley Schulz, aged 28, that he tried to fake an injury last night.

Schulz, a transient, was bumped by a jitney bus when he attempted to cross Superior street near Fourth avenue west yesterday morning and Police Surgeon Harry Klein ordered him taken to the hospital. When it was discovered that Schulz was none the worse for wear, he was discharged as cured.

An hour or so later shrieks and moans of a man who lay in the middle of the street at London road and Ninth avenue east attracted a crowd of pedestrians, as well as the police emergency. When the police surgeon arrived he discovered that the man doing the moaning was Schulz, who claimed the "jitneys had injured him."

"He wants to go back to his bed at the hospital," said the surgeon, after feeling for broken bones. Schulz was taken to headquarters and later released with a warning.

STRAY DOGS IN DANGER.

Owners Slow In Securing Licenses This Spring.

There are about 1,000 dogs in Duluth and, up to the present time, but 400 licenses have been secured by dog owners from City Treasurer McLean.

Owners are very slow in getting the licenses, according to Mr. McLean, and unless they hurry, the dogs will be taken to the pound by dog-catchers and the police, who will shortly receive orders to round them all up.

After a dog is caught, the owner, if he wants the animal, must pay $2 to the poundkeeper and also purchase a 1915 license. Otherwise, all animals caught will be killed.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

BELGIAN SOLDIER, VETERAN OF NINE BATTLES, TELLS HIS STORY TO THE HERALD

Honorably Discharged After Being Disabled By German Bullets.

In Thick of Terrific Fighting From Liege to Antwerp.

Passing through nine of the most terrific battles of the European war and to be able to tell the story after being honorably discharged from the service because of being disabled, is the experience of Ramie Robeir, age 24, who is now a guest at the home of his sister, 3214 Vernon street. Robeir carries with him the marks of German bullets, one of which went through his right arm, another through his right side and right hand crippled because of the cutting of a cord by the bullet which entered his arm.

For two months, from the beginning of the war and the firing of the first guns at Liege until the siege of Antwerp, Robeir was in the thick of the fray. Nine battles were fought during that time, some of them extending over a period of twelve days.

Hand-to-Hand Fighting.

Privations of every kind were endured during that period. On one occasion while lunging near Hofstade his regiment was for eight hours called upon to defend its positions by a hand-to-hand encounter following a bayonet charge.

On Aug. 2, Robeir was a private in the Third Belgian infantry at Ostend. His regiment was ordered to the front to defend the position in front of Liege. The regiment arrived there on Aug. 3, and they were immediately in the thick of the battle. Less than half of his regiment is now living, in the opinion of Robeir.

"We fought for three days before Liege before we had to retire from our positions. Then we fell back gradually to 'Tirlemont,'" said Robeir to The Herald this morning. "Here we fought the enemy for seven days before we were compelled to give way."

In Onslaught on Louvain.

"We encountered the terrible onslaught at Louvain, where for four days and nights we repulsed the advancing Germans. Then we took up a position near Lier and again for three days we withstood terrific fire of the enemy.

"The most consistent fighting probably took place in the vicinity of Hasselade, Capust, Wevrade and Hippegem, where for eight days we resisted the advance. It was on one of these nights that for eight hours we fought almost hand to hand against a bayonet charge of the enemy. The enemy outnumbered us nearly two to one and compelled the retreat of my countrymen. Two of the days in the vicinity of these villages the men were without food, except cabbage, which they managed to pick up in the fields."

Covered With Blood.

Robeir said that when he left this engagement his clothes were covered from head to foot with blood, and that his face and hands were gory, but he had no wounds.

The battle then was forced at Malines and Waelhem, where for twelve days the conflict raged. His next battle was at Westeren, where, after a day's onslaught, the fight shifted to Heelem, where for five days one of the most terrific battles of the war was fought.

Hit by Two Bullets.

It was at the close of a twelve-day battle, on Oct. 2, at Wayer St. Catherine, and Wavre-la that he was wounded. During the thick of the engagement he was struck by two bullets, one of which went through his right arm, and the other through his side, going between his ribs and coming out of his back. These laid him prostrate. He was picked up by two companions.

As he was being carried from the battlefield a bullet killed one of his assistants and fragments from a shrapnel incapacitated the other. Through superhuman effort Robeir got up and crawled to the edge of the river, where he managed to walk through a stream up to his waist in water to a point where an ambulance carried him to the hospital.

He was taken to Antwerp where he was placed in the hospital. During several days while the Germans were bombarding the city he was in this institution. On Oct. 7 his removal was made necessary because of the devastation of the hospital by the siege guns of the enemy.

He was then removed to Ostend where he remained until Oct. 15, when he was taken to Plymouth, England for treatment.

Home in Ruins.

"My home at Bisboote, six miles from Ypres, is nothing but ruins," said Robeir. "There is nothing left. Every building has been burned and the place devastated. It is only what is to be expected. I have nothing to go back for."

The entire country in the wake of the army was destroyed. Where any opposition was made to the advancing German army, Robeir said everything was destroyed. In one instance where a farmer had refused to give up his horses to the soldiers, the farmer and his three minor sons had been killed by bayonet thrusts, Robeir said.

Robeir got his discharge from the army on leaving the hospital early this year. He then got permission to come to America. On May 1 he left England on the steamship Saxonia and in mid-ocean met and signalled the ill-fated Lusitania on May 5.

"I am glad to get away from there with my life. I feel almost certain that not many more than a fourth of my comrades in the Third infantry regiment will survive. Hundreds of them are now dead and many more are in the hospitals."

Robeir expects to make his home with his sister and brother-in-law this summer.

Fourth Annual Ball.

Don't forget the trainmen's ball at Woodman hall, Friday evening, May 21. Tickets $1. Blewett's orchestra.

Duluth Hustler Wins.

The highest honors in the contest Monday night for new life memberships for the Michigan union, the men's organization of the University of Michigan, were won by a Duluth student, Charles S. Lamb. Mr. Lamb secured a total of eight new life members at a cost per student of $50. Thus in one night he turned into the funds of the union contracts totaling $400. Mr. Lamb is only a freshman student here.

Tom Howard in the City.

Tom Howard is the name of a new brand of high grade domestic, Sumatra wrapper and Havana filler cigar, made in perfecto and blunt shapes. Made by the Dworshak Cigar company. Ask your dealer for an introduction to Tom Howard.

"Ladies' Night."

Aloha Council, Modern Samaritans, will enjoy a "Ladies' Night" this evening at their council chambers, Fourth avenue west and First street. The first part of the evening an entertainment of music, song and story will be enjoyed. Dancing will begin at 9. Blewett's orchestra will furnish the music. The Benefigent Degree has provided refreshments and a number of friends have been invited.

Furniture Salesrooms Open Tonight.

Case Ready For Jury.

In Judge Dancer's division of the district court this afternoon, the personal injury suit of Jalmar Laaksonen against Charles Sandboe will be given to the jury. The action is one in which Laaksonen is seeking to recover $1,500 damages for personal injuries sustained by himself in a runaway on the Lang road near Floodwood last November. The plaintiff declares that his horse became frightened at Sandboe's automobile.

McGregor's Trustee Furniture Stock

is fading away rapidly. Hundreds of pieces going at 30c on the dollar. I leave for Chicago in a few days, hustle if you want furniture bargains. Open tonight till 10 o'clock. Cameron-Johnson-Horgan company, salesrooms 2110 West Superior street.

Will Consider Metcalfe Case.

The civil service commission will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to consider the appeal of R. N. Metcalfe, former health inspector, who was discharged by Health Director Fahey when the latter took office a month ago. Mr. Metcalfe claims that he was discharged without cause and that he is still entitled to the position.

Wants Damages From City

Olof Peterson filed a claim with City Clerk Borgen this morning for $100 damages as the result of an alleged fall on a plank sidewalk near Nineteenth avenue west and Second street on the morning of May 10. His claim will be presented before the council next Monday evening.

Bids Asked for Paving.

Bids were advertised for this morning on the paving of First street, from Twenty-eighth avenue east to the Congdon park; Sixth street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenues east; and Sixteenth avenue east, from Sixth to Eighth streets. The bids will be opened on June 2. According to the engineer's estimates, the former pavement will cost $30,519, and the latter two, $25,080.

Wedding and Social Stationery.

Recovers on Contract.

A jury in Judge Cant's division of the district court this morning returned a verdict in favor of Cyrillo Fortier, defendant in an action brought by Robert Bourdage to recover about $800 for services performed in performing work covered by a contract in a logging deal. The defendant counterclaimed for damages and was awarded $214.17 on his cross bill. The jury retired at 4:11 o'clock yesterday afternoon and reached an agreement at 3 o'clock this morning.

Tenor Postpones Visit.

Harold Hurlbut, prominent tenor, who formerly resided in Duluth, and who had planned to spend the summer here after an absence of nearly fifteen years, will not be able to carry out his plans, according to word received by his friends this morning. Mr. Hurlbut states that he has a singing engagement in New York for the entire summer and that he has also arranged to receive instruction from several eminent teachers, so that he will be unable to visit Duluth for another year at least.

NO TRACE YET OF "MYSTERY CAR"

Three days' search of Duluth and Superior for the driver of the mysterious Studebaker roadster which may have run down Alec Carpenter on Garfield avenue and left him dying, has brought the city authorities no nearer a solution.

Police have quizzed the men who served as watchmen on the interstate bridge the night of the accident in the hope that they might remember the cars which crossed the river about that time and furnish some kind of a description.

The identity of the Duluth business man who stopped his machine at Superior street and Garfield avenue shortly after the accident to inform Patrolman Magner that "a man was lying in the road near the viaduct" is said to be known to the police and his testimony may throw some light on the case.

Andrew Sjolund night watchman for the Duluth Lumber company, 261 Garfield avenue, who was but a short distance away when Carpenter was struck down, told his story to County Attorney Warren Greene and Deputy Coroner McAuliffe yesterday.

His account of the affair tallies closely with that given by Larry McDonough, 28 West Seventh street, Superior, who ran over Carpenter's feet as he lay in the street. When McDonough's machine struck Carpenter he went back and took the injured man to police headquarters.

Work of investigation will be continued, according to the deputy coroner, who hopes to find some further clew as to the identity of the driver responsible for the injuries resulting in Carpenter's death.

James Curran, 501 Woodland avenue, described in newspaper reports as the man with Carpenter up to a short time before the accident, was in no way connected with the case and was confused with another person bearing the same name, who was a friend of Carpenter's.

SOME HITCH IN EFFICIENCY PROGRAM

A slight hitch in the efficiency program at the Duluth postoffice was apparent today.

At 2:20 o'clock this afternoon only one of the three stamp windows was open, and about thirty people were waiting to be served. It has been declared since the reorganization went into effect at the office that the service would be more efficient and give better satisfaction to the public.

REMARKABLE CO-OPERATION

Whole City Thanked for Excellent Work During Clean-up Week.

Work Urged for Year Round; Few Places Still Neglected.

Remarkable co-operation during clean-up and paint-up week featured all work of the city officials, welfare committees and the people of the city in general according to the final report of the clean-up and citizens' committees made public today. The city has greatly benefited by the work done so far, and it is urged that efforts be continued the year round throughout the city to keep it clean and healthful. A few places have been neglected, it is said, and it is urged that these be cleaned up at once. The reports follow in part:

Clean-up Committee Report.

"The clean-up and paint-up committee at this, its last meeting, wishes to publicly express its keen and very deep appreciation for the splendid support it received from the many civic organizations and individual citizens of Duluth.

"Organized for the sole purpose of endeavoring to promote the welfare of the city, the committee feels very grateful that its efforts have been so well rewarded, for it is very generally conceded that much progress has been made during the past two weeks in cleaning, painting, tree-planting, and otherwise making the city more healthful and attractive.

"The co-operation was wonderful, and while it is impossible to enumerate all the assistance rendered, the committee wishes to particularly thank Commissioner Silberstein for his wholehearted and consistent support through the police, fire and health departments.

Help From All Sides.

"The various clubs, the newspapers, the clergy, the schools, the moving picture theaters, the Woman's council, the Housewives' league, Charles Marshall and many others did splendid work.

"The civic pride in this city is wonderful; co-operation is very pronounced, and the desire on the part of the people at large to leave nothing undone in making Duluth the very best city in the country, speaks volumes for its present substantial position and its continued material progress in the future.

Respectfully,
"E. W. RUSSELL,
"General chairman.
"F. M. PRINCE,
"Chairman, Inspection Committee.
"W. N. HART,
"Chairman, Finance Committee.
"BENTLEY P. NEFF,
"Chairman, Publicity Committee.
"H. H. BECKWITH,
"General Secretary."

Some Spots Untouched.

The inspection committee reported to the general committe in part as follows:

"Gentlemen—Your committee of investigation, beg to make its last report as follows:

"That they find rubbish on Second street between Lake avenue and First avenue west on a vacant lot.

"Also note that the empty space back of the row of brick tenements on the corner of Second avenue east and Second street on the west side of the avenue. The owners of this property should be notified concerning this alley or back part of their property.

"Also note that the papers we spoke of in our former report between the windows and the sidewalk on the Fifth avenue side of the Portland block are still there. This is not only an unsightly condition, but it is a fire risk as well.

"Also note vacant lot between Twelfth and Thirteenth avenue east on Fifth street about 150 feet frontage on the upper side should be cleaned of all rubbish.

"Also note a vacant lot at 15 Fifth street that someone has been dumping rubbish on all kinds since our first visit to that locality.

"We would advise that the creek between Fifth and Sixth avenues east and Seventh street should be followed from the Boulevard down to the termination of same, as the entire length seems to be a public dumping ground.

"Will also state that this should apply to the creek from Cascade park to the Boulevard as that seems to be also used for a dumping ground.

Good Work All Over City.

"We are pleased to state that taking the entire city as a whole, that there has been a great deal of good work done along the cleaning up line, as well as painting.

"We would advise that you get in touch with the city authorities asking them to, look after, more especially, vacant property, as we find that outside of that our city is in good, clean shape generally speaking, and we have especially noticed that all private property, lawns and back yards and alleys, have been cleaned up much better than any time in the last few years. With warmer weather coming on, there could be much more done by each and every one to beautify our city to a still much greater extent.

"With our highest appreciation to all the good workers for cleanliness, we are,

"Very truly yours,
"MEMBERS OF THE INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE,
"FRANK NIXON,
"R. D. ANNIS,
"C. H. KELLY,
"M. R. BUSH,

FIRST PAVING JOB ATTRACTS IDLE

About 150 applicants for jobs crowded around A. N. Nelson, contractor, when he started work on the Woodland avenue pavement this morning. Only twenty-five men were hired for the present.

The Woodland avenue pavement is the first on which active operations have started and Mr. Nelson expects to have his crew continuously at work until the pavement is completed. For the present he is plowing both sides of the street, so that he will be able to lay the curbing and keep the center of the street open to traffic at the same time. The thoroughfare will be paved from Fourth street to Kent road.

In addition to the Woodland avenue pavement, four other pavements will be started this week, it was announced this morning. These are in Minnesota avenue, East Ninth street and West Sixth street.

About 100 men will be employed on these three streets.

ASKS HEAVY DAMAGE FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Suit for $20,000 damages on a cause of action for the alleged wrongful death of her husband was brought by Mrs. Minnie Jurevitz against the Northern Pacific Railway company in district court this morning. Mrs. Jurevitz, the plaintiff, is the widow of Waldemar Jurevitz, who was killed under the wheels of a moving freight car on Jan. 14, 1915. He was in the employ of the company as a carpenter.

TAX PAYING IS HELD OFF

St. Louis county property owners are making no effort to pay their taxes before they are obliged to this year, according to George H. Vivian, county treasurer.

Mr. Vivian declared that while a great many of the smaller taxpayers had appeared at his office to pay their taxes, few of the larger taxpayers had sent in their checks as yet.

"Apparently they are holding back until the last moment," said Mr. Vivian, who declared that while the collection of the larger amounts was heavy at this time a year ago, checks for amounts in excess of $100 were almost a curiosity these days.

The last day for paying the first half of the current real estate taxes is May 31. After that day a 10 per cent penalty attaches. The second half may be paid on or before Oct. 31.

TWO ASK DAMAGE FOR IMPRISONMENT

An aftermath of a fistic battle, which occurred in a sawmill camp near Alborn last February, in which Henry T. Agnew, one of the proprietors of the mill, was assaulted and beaten by several of his employes, is being aired before Judge Cant and a district court jury today.

Two cases were called for trial yesterday afternoon in which John Dulkowski and William Schulz, plaintiffs, are each seeking $3,122.50 damages for alleged false imprisonment, claimed to have been caused by Henry T. Agnew. The two men are suing Agnew and his brother, Patrick Agnew, engaged in business as Agnew Bros.

Each claims that Agnew caused his arrest on Feb. 2, 1915, on a charge of assault. On Feb. 9, the cases against them were dismissed by Judge Cutting in municipal court. The plaintiffs claim that Agnew acted in bad faith and maliciously in procuring their arrest and imprisonment.

Agnew, on the other hand, asserts that he was badly battered up and alleges that he had probable cause. He also alleges that he presented his case to the county attorney's office and that it was on the advice of the assistant county attorney that a warrant for their arrest was obtained.

PATENTS FISH PRESERVING BOX

A. Miller McDougall has been granted a patent on a process for the preserving and marketing of fish, according to word received today from Washington; and Mr. McDougall announces that he has formed a company which will use the patent in its collecting and marketing of fish, for which the little steamer Phelps has been brought here from Lake Ontario. The new company will be known as the Northern Fish company and the officers are:

A. Miller McDougall, president; Gordon Patterson, vice president and manager, and C. C. Thompson, secretary.

The patent is on a special box in which the fish are preserved at the temperature and in as nearly the condition they were in when taken out of the water as possible, and it is said to be much in advance of former systems for getting the fish to the consumer in fresh condition.

CAR ACCOUNTANTS HOLD CONFERENCE

G. L. Ossman, car accountant of the Omaha system; J. L. Hurd, holding a similar position with the Northern Pacific; F. M. Gates of the Soo line, and G. P. Clark of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific and Canadian Northern, held a conference in Duluth today on the interchange of car accounts. The meeting was one at which only routine business was transacted, its object being to devise an improvement on the plan of securing a better interchange of car reports.

OBITUARY

Colonel Cyrus Roys of Elkhart, Ind., died on a train May 18 en route home from Florida, where he had spent the winter. For many years Colonel Roys was a resident of Chicago. He was attorney for the Lake Shore and Michigan Central and the Wisconsin Central railroad.

Samuel Lehr, brigadier general of the national guard of Pennsylvania, retired, one of Allentown's best known citizens died May 18, aged 77 years. He was a member of the city council, a former mayor of Allentown and a veteran of the Civil war.

POLICE MUST ANSWER.

Citizens' Calls at Headquarters Will Get Immediate Attention.

Waiting for policemen after citizens have called headquarters and asked for assistance will be less in evidence in the future.

Chief of Police McKercher yesterday issued an order directing officers at the station to answer all calls at once, using the emergency patrol or a motorcycle, instead of waiting until the policeman on the beat nearest the scene of trouble made his next hourly report.

"The people have a right to this service," said the chief, "and they may as well have it. They shouldn't be obliged to wait until the man in that territory reports."

LIKES HOSPITAL EASE.

A soft bed at St. Luke's hospital, with clean blankets, and a real feather pillow, was so attractive to Stanley Schulz, aged 28, that he tried to fake an injury last night.

Schulz, a transient, was bumped by a jitney bus when he attempted to cross Superior street near Fourth avenue west yesterday morning and Police Surgeon Harry Klein ordered him taken to the hospital. When it was discovered that Schulz was none the worse for wear, he was discharged as cured.

An hour or so later shrieks and moans of a man who lay in the middle of the street at London road and Ninth avenue east attracted a crowd of pedestrians, as well as the police emergency. When the police surgeon arrived he discovered that the man doing the moaning was Schulz, who claimed the "jitneys had injured him."

"He wants to go back to his bed at the hospital," said the surgeon, after feeling for broken bones. Schulz was taken to headquarters and later released with a warning.

STRAY DOGS IN DANGER.

Owners Slow in Securing Licenses This Spring.

There are about 1,000 dogs in Duluth and, up to the present time, but 400 licenses have been secured by dog owners from City Treasurer McLean.

Owners are very slow in getting the licenses, according to Mr. McLean, and unless they hurry, the dogs will be taken to the pound by dog-catchers and the police, who will shortly receive orders to round them all up.

After a dog is caught, the owner, if he wants the animal, must pay $2 to the poundkeeper and also purchase a 1915 license. Otherwise, all animals caught will be killed.

MARKET HAS FAIR UPTURN

Wheat Strong on Southwest Crop News and Good Cash Demand.

Flaxseed Off With Lower Cables---Small Support From Crushers.

Duluth, May 20.—The market was strong around the close on renewed buying. May wheat closed 1⅜c up; July 1c up and September 1c up. May durum closed 1c up; July 1c up, and September 2¼c up.

Oats closed 1½c up at 52½@53½c for on track; rye unchanged at $1.12@1.13 and barley unchanged at from 65c to 75c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ¼c up at 62½c bid, and July ⅜c up at 63c asked.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.42, and calls at $1.46½.

More news regarding damage through flies in sections of the Southwest, led to a strong situation in the wheat markets today. The market opened with a substantial upturn on the execution of a large grist of buying orders, and short covering by operators, who had become alarmed over the bullish crop advices.

A strong demand for cash wheat was reported at Duluth, and sales of some round lots of one and two northern were reported to millers down the state, and for Eastern shipment. Supplies of spring wheat in the elevators at the Head of the Lakes are now down to 2,500,000 bu, of which 600,000 bu is said to be owned by local millers. With the wheat still under contract to go out, the tight supply situation existing here is becoming more fully emphasized. Taking into consideration that receipts have fallen off of late, small relief from that quarter is looked for. Millers and exporters are reported to be scouring the country for supplies, and down in Minneapolis premiums running from 5c to 8c are being offered for choice wheat. Special strength was shown at Duluth in May wheat, its quotation today going up to above the Chicago basis.

Information being received by Duluth grain men is most encouraging regarding prospects over the Northwest. The cold brand of weather with rains that has prevailed during the past week, is said to have resulted in the wheat plant being better rooted so that it is in fine shape to withstand any adverse conditions that may develop later.

Clearances were large at the seaboard again today mounting to 1,271,-000 bu of wheat and flour. Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at around 4,000,000 bu of wheat.

May wheat opened 1c up at $1.54½ and stood at that figure at the noon hour. July opened ⅛c up at $1.49½, and gained ⅝c more. September opened ¼c up at $1.20½, and gained ½c more.

Business in durum was more active and its market was strong. May durum opened 1c up at $1.51, and held there. July opened ½c up at $1.48½, and gained ½c more. September opened 1¼c up at $1.19, and gained 1c more.

Flaxseed Weak.

Lowered cables and continued apathy on the part of crushers led to a further weakening in flaxseed. It is reported that British buying of seed has fallen off of late and that supplies from Argentina are being pressed on that market. More liberal Argentine arrivals at the Atlantic seaboard are also predicted.

May flax opened ¼c off at $1.93¼, and closed 1c off at $1.92¾. July opened ¾c off at $1.96 and closed 1¼c off at $1.95¼ asked. September opened ¼c off at $1.99 and closed ¼c off at $1.98 bid. October opened unchanged at $1.99 and closed 1½c off at $1.97½ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ½c off at $1.76 asked and July ½c off at $1.81½.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 2¾c off at $1.81¾ and London ⅞c up at $1.89¼.

MARKET GOSSIP.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following from New York: "Export crowd all report exceeding dullness. The little interest shown this morning by exporters has petered out with no business reported done. Europe seems to be out of it for the time being. Some of the largest European houses are not even getting a cable. Continued crop damage reports accompanied by buying orders will have to come, otherwise the pronounced dullness will be a heavy weight on the market."

Broomhall's weekly international review says: "The wheat market has ruled dull with generally more pressure to sell old crop. I have made a careful investigation of the likely foreign supplies available to the United Kingdom between May 10 and July 31. Weekly shipments will be 6,680,-000 bu roundly against 4,800,000 bu requirements. In the advent that this full amount is not shipped, and remains with exporters, then prices will be affected."

* * *

Minneapolis — Cash market was strong. Spring wheat was scarce on the sample tables and all grades were firmer and wanted. One northern blue stem sold at 5c@8c over May, and velvet chaff, 2c@3c over May. Flour sales were better. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.54½ to $1.60½, and No. 2 northern at from $1.50 to $1.57½. Stocks of wheat in Minneapolis elevators decreased 500,-000 bu in five days.

* * *

Inglis wires from St. Joe, Mo.: "In Kearney, Adams, Clay and Western Fillmore counties, a large percentage of fields are weak, short and spindling. Extreme eastern counties promise a good crop. It has never lacked moisture. Rain may be beneficial but that depends on weather following it. It would be good for oats and favorable for corn planted. It is still cold and wet."

* * *

Clement Curtis of Chicago says: "Our reports this morning show no damage sections. Loss by fly and bugs will not exceed our estimates of yesterday, 50,000,000 bu."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market was affected early by the heaviness in America and the easiness in Buneos Aires, but late steadied with better inquiry from the Continent. Spot market was generally steady. American grades were ½d lower, others unchanged. Cargo market was easy, winters 4½d lower while Plate and Manitobas were 3d lower. Indian offers were liberal. Some apprehension is being developed owing to private cables received of a less favorable character of American winter outlook, and Winnipeg's comparative steadiness helped to check the decline."

"Corn—There is an improved demand for spot, and lighter arrivals. These served to offset the weakness in Buenos Aires and America. There is talk of disappointing shipments from Argentine this week, early estimates were for 2,500,000 bu."

B. W. Snow wired Logan & Bryan from Elnora, Ind.: "Situation is better than might have been expected. Every field inspected today shows heavy fly damage. A large part of the area will prove a failure. Appearance of crop from car windows across Marion, Lawrence and Davis counties shows fly damage beginning to be apparent, and numerous fields are being plowed up. The loss through Central Indiana is evidently severe and very large acreage will offset a considerable portion of it. Oats prospects are excellent. Very little old corn is left in farm cribs."

Bartlett Frazier had the following from their Liverpool agent: "The French and Italian governments are undoubtedly trying to form reserves of wheat, and it would not surprise me if the British government did the same thing from purchases already made. Foodstuffs are always usefully used during a war and the consumptive demand in Western Europe is undoubtedly very large. Prospects of supplies from Russia while the war lasts are very slim."

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following closing letter from Chicago: "Wheat—Steady cables and unfavorable crop reports found market oversold. Shorts became liberal buyers, while the advance was met with realizing sales from scattered sources. Later, when the Missouri crop figures were issued a further advance was made, but lost by further realizing sales. Rains were general throughout, and Le Count reports red rust in vicinity of Wichita, resulting from excessive moisture. Political news was mixed. Cash wheat was steady. We favor sales on all sharp rallies."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Fear of Black Rust Leads to Upturn in Prices of Wheat.

Chicago, May 20.—Fear of black rust led today to an upturn in prices for wheat. Excessive moisture especially in Kansas resulted in advices that the conditions for the plague were distant only a step. Bullish crop reports from Indiana tended also to cause an advance, and so too did the steadiness of cables. Opening prices, which varied from ¼c off to ⅞c up, were followed by decided gains all around and then a moderate reaction.

Additional strength showed itself later, but was checked by the imminence of Italy's entrance in war with Austria. The close was unsettled at ⅝c to 1¼c net advance.

Corn values hardened in sympathy with the action of wheat and owing to less favorable weather. Besides, cables were firm. After opening a shade to ⅜c higher, the market continued to rise.

Somewhat improved eastern demand helped later to prevent any decided setback. The close was steady at 1½c to 1¾c above last night.

Oats reflected the strength of other cereals. Traders, though, were well divided as between the buying and selling sides.

Firmness of grain and hogs affected provisions. Advances, however, were slight.

UNCERTAINTY IN STOCKS

Trading Is Trifle More Active But Lacks Public Interest.

Foreign Situation Is the Dominant Factor—Closing is Steady.

New York, May 20.—Prices tended downward again at the outset of today's market operations, the only exceptions being certain of the war specialties, which recorded gains of 1 to 3 points. Standard shares, including the speculative leaders, were fractionally lower, while Chesapeake & Ohio and Missouri Pacific were under further pressure in connection with impending developments affecting their future. Secondary quotations were better, the general list showing marked recoveries before the end of the first half hour. Trading was relatively light, however, the foreign situation acting as a restraining influence.

Stocks made further recovery from their early declines today, particularly the specialties, Bethlehem Steel rising 6 points, while standard railways, United States Steel and the coppers shook off their initial heaviness. Later, however, the entire list reacted and grew dull, partly as a result of the increasing weakness in Chesapeake & Ohio and a 3-point decline in Rock Island. Toward midday the market became very dull, traders deeming it most advisable to await advices from abroad before engaging in fresh commitments. Bonds were heavy, with 1 to 2 points decline in Rock Island and Missouri Pacific under selling pressure.

Dealings became increasingly dull in the early afternoon, leading shares yielding fractionally on small offerings. Specialties moved irregularly, Cuba sugar advancing 6 points.

Uncertainty, based largely on the foreign situation, was the dominant characteristic of today's market. Trading was a trifle more active, but lacked public interest.

A sudden advance of three points in Missouri Pacific, followed by an equally abrupt decline of 2¼, was the only feature of the late trading. The closing was steady.

BUTTE & SUPERIOR SHOWS ACTIVITY

Operations in mining stocks at Boston today were again confined to a few issues. At the start the market was strong, and then on profit-taking and selling on fears of foreign complications, the early advances were largely lost.

Heavy trading came in Butte & Superior, its quotation selling up to a high of $70.25. Later heavy profit-taking appeared, and the close was just 50 cents up at $68.50. American Zinc was also active and strong, closing $2.12 up at $46.63. North Butte was also well traded in, and it closed 25 cents up at $30.75.

Calumet & Arizona closed 62 cents up at $63.50; Copper Range 25 cents up at $50.50; Green-Cananea, 38 cents off at $28.50; Mchawk, 50 cents up at $68.50; Quincy, $2 up at $84, and Shattuck, 50 cents up at $26.50.

At New York, Amalgamated Copper closed fractionally up at $65.38, and Anaconda a shade up at $31.50.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Alex-Scott sold at $8.25; Butte & London at 23 cents; South Lake at $6.50; Chief Cons. at 75 cents; Keating at $1.87; New Baltic at $3.25; United Verde Extension at $4@4.18; and Goldfields Merger at 27 cents.

A meeting of Carnegie Lead & Zinc shareholders will be held in the Sellwood building on June 8, and the adjourned annual meeting of the Butte & Ballaklava Copper company will be held on June 1.

Advices to the Chile Copper company from its plant in South America state that operations began on May 18. This that operations began on May 18. This mine is second only to Utah, and its production is expected to be worked up to 200,000,000 lb a year.

* * *

At St. Louis, lead closed nominally at 4.12½c, and spelter strong at 14.00 @15.50c.

At London, spot copper closed at £75 17s 6d, up 12s 6d; futures at £76 17s 6d, up 12s 6d, and electrolytic at £87, unchanged.

* * *

A New York wire said: "Inquiries are still being made in the copper market, but no important business has been closed recently. The interests continue to quote 19c."

* * *

Amalgamated Copper company's report for sixteen months ending April 30, 1915, showed a surplus of $422,333, against a deficit of $2,669,793 in 1913.

* * *

Lake Superior copper companies, under contracts with the United States government, are turning out enormous quantities of copper for use in the manufacture of ammunition. The Quincy company has sold nearly its entire output for the year under contracts which are not subject to annulment. Calumet & Hecla is understood to have sold its output through December under similar contracts at prices above 20 cents a pound. All previous production figures will be broken this year.

By Mayor Prince:

"An ordinance regulating the moving of houses and other buildings in Duluth, Minn., and the removal of electric wires to allow such moving of houses and providing a penalty for the violation thereof."

Upon motion of Mayor Prince, this ordinance was laid upon the table.

The ordinance by Commissioner Merritt entitled, "An ordinance to appropriate from the public utility fund the sum of $560 for the purchase of a Ford automobile for the use of the water and light department," took its third reading.

Mayor Prince moved the adoption of the ordinance, and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Farrell, Silberstein, Voss, Mayor Prince—4.
Nays—None.

The ordinance by Commissioner Silberstein entitled "An ordinance appropriate from the public safety fund the sum of $165 for the purchase of a motorcycle for the police department" took its third reading.

Commissioner Silberstein moved the adoption of the ordinance, and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Farrell, Silberstein, Voss, Mayor Prince—4.
Nays—None.

The ordinance by Commissioner Silberstein entitled "An ordinance regulating the business of carrying passengers for hire by auto cars which are held out by signs, voice or other device or advertising to operate or run, or which are operated or run over the streets or avenues of the city of Duluth, indiscriminately discharging receiving passengers; requiring the operators of such business to carry liability insurance; providing for licenses to carry on such business and for the proper application thereof; providing a penalty for a violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, and repealing all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, in so far as they may be in conflict," took its third reading.

Commissioner Silberstein moved to amend the ordinance as follows:

Commissioner Silberstein:

To strike out section 4 and substitute the following:

Sec. 4. The liability or identity insurance for each auto car carrying passengers as in this ordinance specified shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000). The policy shall provide for, and be made to cover all injuries to any person or persons that may be caused by such auto car. Such policy shall in no such case that an action may be brought thereon to the extent of the liability therein provided, by any person injured by reason of any act of the owner, driver, operator, manager or other person in such operation of said vehicle; or by the representative of any person killed by such act.

Such policy shall be always kept filed with the city clerk, and shall have a condition that it cannot be canceled after loss, or without written notice to the city of Duluth, and in case of any cancellation, the license herein provided for, issued to the person whose policy is so canceled, shall become by virtue of such cancellation, inoperative and void, unless another policy is forthwith issued, approved and filed in lieu of said canceled policy.

Commissioner Silberstein moved the adoption of the amendment and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

Yeas—Commissioners Farrell, Silberstein, Voss, Mayor Prince—4.
Nays—None.

Commissioner Silberstein:

That Sec. 5 (in the second line), Sec. 6 (in the second line), and Sec. 7 (in the first line) be amended by striking out the word "council," and substituting the words "commissioner of public safety."

Ordinance No. 602.

By Commissioner Silberstein:

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE BUSINESS OF CARRYING PASSENGERS FOR HIRE BY AUTO-CARS WHICH ARE HELD OUT BY SIGNS, VOICE, OR OTHER DEVICE OR ADVERTISING TO OPERATE OR RUN, OR WHICH ARE OPERATED OR RUN OVER THE STREETS OR AVENUES OF THE CITY OF DULUTH, INDISCRIMINATELY DISCHARGING OR RECEIVING PASSENGERS; REQUIRING THE OPERATORS OF SUCH BUSINESS TO CARRY LIABILITY INSURANCE; PROVIDING FOR LICENSES TO CARRY ON SUCH BUSINESS AND FOR THE REVOCATION THEREOF; PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR A VIOLATION OF ANY OF THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES, OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES, IN CONFLICT HEREWITH, IN SO FAR AS THE SAME MAY BE IN CONFLICT.

The City of Duluth does ordain:

Section 1. Unless it appears from the context that a different meaning is intended, the following words shall have the meaning attached to them by this section:

The word "street" shall mean and include any street, avenue, alley, court, lane or public place in the city of Duluth;

The words "auto-car" shall mean and include any motor vehicle engaged in the business of carrying passengers for hire, which is held out, by sign, voice, or other device or advertising to operate or run, or which is operated or run over the streets or avenues of the city of Duluth, indiscriminately discharging the receiving passengers.

Sec. 2. Whenever the word "auto-car" is used in this ordinance it shall be considered as meaning any automobile, auto-bus, or motor-bus for hire, as the case may be, such as are in this ordinance sought to be regulated.

Sec. 3. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to carry on the business of operating an auto-car in the city of Duluth without first having secured liability insurance in a reliable insurance company, as specified and for the purposes set forth in section 4 of this ordinance, and without first having obtained a permit and license as in this ordinance required.

Sec. 4. The liability or identity insurance for each auto-car carrying passengers as in this ordinance specified shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000). The policy shall provide for, and be made to cover all injuries to any person or persons that may be caused by such auto-car. Such policy shall be in such form that an action may be brought thereon to the extent of the liability therein provided, by any person injured by reason of any act of the owner, driver, chauffeur, manager or other person in such operation of said vehicle; or by the representative of any person killed by such act.

Such policy shall be always kept filed with the city clerk, and shall have a condition that it cannot be canceled after loss, or without written notice to the city of Duluth, and in case of any cancellation, the license herein provided for, issued to the person whose policy is so cancelled, shall become by virtue of such cancellation, inoperative and void, unless another policy is forthwith issued, approved and filed in lieu of said cancelled policy.

Sec. 5. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to run or operate any auto-car shall first procure a permit from the commissioner of public safety of the city of Duluth for said purpose. Said permit shall only be procured in the following manner: The applicant for such permit shall file with the city clerk an application, in writing, thereof stating:

(a) The type of auto-car intended to be used;

(b) The horse power thereof;

(c) The factory number thereof;

(d) The state license number thereof;

(e) The seating capacity thereof according to its trade or factory rating;

(f) The name of the person to be in immediate charge thereof as driver;

(g) The age, residence and nationality of the driver;

(h) The number of the chauffeur's license; and

(i) The "streets" over which such auto car is to be operated.

Sec. 6. Upon receiving such application, the city clerk shall refer the same to the commissioner of public safety, who must, pursuant thereon if all provisions of the ordinances of the city of Duluth are compiled with, as in this ordinance or otherwise provided.

Sec. 7. Upon the permit being granted by the commissioner of public safety, the applicant shall present the same to the city clerk, who shall receive and file the same in his office, and the applicant thereafter and before a license is issued to him, shall present a policy of liability insurance to the city council for approval or disapproval, and when approved the same shall be presented to the city clerk, who shall then indorse the number of such policy, the name of the company and the agent's address, and the date of the policy, upon each respective permit, and the city clerk shall then, and not till then, issue a license to the applicant in conformity to and with the terms of the permit presented. The license shall contain the same number as the corresponding permit, aside from any other numbers that may be on the license, and the word "revocable" shall be plainly written or printed upon its face.

Sec. 8. Each permit shall, among other things, contain a certain number to identify the permit; it shall also state the license fee to be charged by the city clerk, and the word "revocable" shall be plainly written or printed upon its face.

Sec. 9. The operation of such auto-cars shall be subject to the following restrictions:

1st. No person operating such vehicle shall carry any passengers or permit any passengers to ride on the running boards or anywhere except on the seats of the vehicle.

2nd. No such vehicle shall carry more passengers than can comfortably be seated therein, except that children 5 years of age or under may be carried for every seated passenger, and that not more than two extra passengers may be carried in a car when they will all comprise a single party, desiring to travel together, and are willing to submit to the temporary crowding of the car, and no passenger shall stand on the doors or any part of the vehicle than the seats.

3rd. But one passenger shall be permitted to ride on the seat with the driver, besides the driver or chauffeur of such vehicle.

4th. No such vehicle shall take on or discharge passengers while in motion.

5th. All passengers must be received and discharged at the curb; that is to say, not in the roadway used by vehicles, but on the sidewalk or curb or as near thereto as the auto can approach. Passengers shall be allowed to alight or board the car on the right-hand side only, and the left rear door shall always be kept closed, provided that in a right-hand drive car the passenger in the front seat may be allowed to enter and leave the car from the left hand side.

6th. No such vehicle shall travel faster than ten (10) miles an hour between Third avenue east and Eighth avenue west, on Superior street, and not more than fifteen (15) miles an hour in other parts of the city.

7th. The driver of any such vehicle shall bring his car to a full stop at least thirty (30) feet from a steam railroad before going over the crossing of such road.

8th. No driver of any such vehicle shall engage in any unnecessary conversation with passengers, nor smoke a pipe, cigar or cigarette while driving such vehicle containing passengers; nor drink any intoxicating liquors during the hours in which he is engaged in operating; nor shall he solicit passengers by loud calling or shouting, or sounding a horn, bell or whistle.

9th. The driver of any such vehicle must take to police headquarters all articles left in his machine by passengers within the twenty-four hour period.

10th. Signs shall be carried on such vehicles indicating the route thereof, and no driver or chauffeur shall refuse to proceed as far as the end of the route.

11th. Such car shall not be stopped to discharge or receive passengers at any place except within fifty (50) feet of the intersection of streets and avenues in the city of Duluth.

12th. No such auto-car shall be operated except by a chafeur licensed by the state of Minnesota and who has had two (2) months' experience. Provided that where anyone is operating his own car and has been engaged in such business for two months, the provisions of this sub-division shall not apply.

13th. Such cars shall be provided with chains for the rear wheels, which chains shall be used on the car during wet weather and in the winter time.

Sec. 10. The license fee for such license shall be at the rate of $1.50 for every seated passenger that the car can carry in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, for each year during which such vehicle shall be operated. Such annual license shall expire on the first day of May of each year and the amount shall be reduced in proportion to the unexpired period of the current year at the time the license is issued; but no license shall be issued for less than $5.00.

Sec. 11. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding sixty days.

Sec. 12. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Sec. 13. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty days after its passage and publication.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT —OF— ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— NORTHERN LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY.

We, the undersigned, Marcus F. Bates and Marcus W. Bates, do hereby certify that we are respectively the President and the Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company, a corporation duly created, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota.

That at a special meeting of the stockholders of said corporation, held at Duluth, Minnesota, on the 18th day of May, 1915, which meeting was duly called for the expressly stated purpose of amending the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company, at which meeting all of the stockholders of said Northern Land and Lumber Company were present in person, and at which meeting all of the shares of the capital stock of said corporation were duly represented and voted, it was resolved by the unanimous vote of all said stockholders and of all of said shares of stock, to amend the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company by changing and amending Article 2 and Article 5 and the last paragraph of Article 8 thereof, as set forth in the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted, to-wit:

Resolved, That said Article 2 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 2.

The general nature of its business shall be to acquire timber and timber lands; to log the same and to manufacture lumber and all lumber products; to purchase, handle and dispose of lumber, timber and lumber products; to purchase, improve, lease, sell, dispose of and deal in lands, tenements and hereditaments, also mixed and personal property, and to mortgage or in any way encumber or pledge or hypothecate any or all of the property belonging to said corporation.

Resolved, That said Article 5 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 5.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00).

ARTICLE 8.

Resolved, That the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, which fixes the time of the annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation on the first Wednesday after the first Monday of July in each year at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the by-laws of the corporation, be amended so as to read as follows.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation shall be held on the first Tuesday of June of each year at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of said corporation, in the City of Duluth, Minnesota, or at such other place as may be fixed by a majority of the Board of Directors.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the President and Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company be and they are hereby authorized and directed to embrace the foregoing resolutions amending Article 2 and Article 5, and the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, adopted at said meeting of said stockholders, in a certificate duly executed by them, to be approved, filed, recorded and published pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided.

That immediately after the meeting of the stockholders of said corporation held as aforesaid, a meeting of the entire board of directors of said corporation was held, at which meeting all of the directors of said corporation were present, and the resolutions above set forth were adopted by the unanimous vote of all of said directors of said Northern Land and Lumber Company.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed the corporate seal of said corporation this 18th day of May, 1915.

MARCUS F. BATES, (Seal)
As President of Northern Land and Lumber Company.

Ordinance No. 602.

By Commissioner Silberstein:

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE BUSINESS OF CARRYING PASSENGERS FOR HIRE BY AUTO-CARS WHICH ARE HELD OUT BY SIGNS, VOICE, OR OTHER DEVICE OR ADVERTISING TO OPERATE OR RUN, OR WHICH ARE OPERATED OR RUN OVER THE STREETS OR AVENUES OF THE CITY OF DULUTH, INDISCRIMINATELY DISCHARGING OR RECEIVING PASSENGERS; REQUIRING THE OPERATORS OF SUCH BUSINESS TO CARRY LIABILITY INSURANCE; PROVIDING FOR LICENSES TO CARRY ON SUCH BUSINESS AND FOR THE REVOCATION THEREOF; PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR A VIOLATION OF ANY OF THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES, OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES, IN CONFLICT HEREWITH, IN SO FAR AS THE SAME MAY BE IN CONFLICT.

The City of Duluth does ordain:

Section 1. Unless it appears from the context that a different meaning is intended, the following words shall have the meaning attached to them by this section:

The word "street" shall mean and include any street, avenue, alley, court, lane or public place in the city of Duluth;

The words "auto-car" shall mean and include any motor vehicle engaged in the business of carrying passengers for hire, which is held out, by sign, voice, or other device or advertising to operate or run, or which is operated or run over the streets or avenues of the city of Duluth, indiscriminately discharging the receiving passengers.

Sec. 2. Whenever the word "auto-car" is used in this ordinance it shall be considered as meaning any automobile, auto-bus, or motor-bus for hire, as the case may be, such as are in this ordinance sought to be regulated.

Sec. 3. It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to carry on the business of operating an auto-car in the city of Duluth without first having secured liability insurance in a reliable insurance company, as specified and for the purposes set forth in section 4 of this ordinance, and without first having obtained a permit and license as in this ordinance required.

Sec. 4. The liability or identity insurance for each auto-car carrying passengers as in this ordinance specified shall be five thousand dollars ($5,000). The policy shall provide for, and be made to cover all injuries to any person or persons that may be caused by such auto-car. Such policy shall be in such form that an action may be brought thereon to the extent of the liability therein provided, by any person injured by reason of any act of the owner, driver, chauffeur, manager or other person in such operation of said vehicle; or by the representative of any person killed by such act.

Such policy shall be always kept filed with the city clerk, and shall have a condition that it cannot be canceled after loss, or without written notice to the city of Duluth, and in case of any cancellation, the license herein provided for, issued to the person whose policy is so cancelled, shall become by virtue of such cancellation, inoperative and void, unless another policy is forthwith issued, approved and filed in lieu of said cancelled policy.

Sec. 5. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to run or operate any auto-car shall first procure a permit from the commissioner of public safety of the city of Duluth for said purpose. Said permit shall only be procured in the following manner: The applicant for such permit shall file with the city clerk an application, in writing, thereof stating:

(a) The type of auto-car intended to be used;

(b) The horse power thereof;

(c) The factory number thereof;

(d) The state license number thereof;

(e) The seating capacity thereof according to its trade or factory rating;

(f) The name of the person to be in immediate charge thereof and driver;

(g) The age, residence and nationality of the driver;

(h) The number of the chauffeur's license; and

(i) The "streets" over which such auto car is to be operated.

Sec. 6. Upon receiving such application, the city clerk shall refer the same to the commissioner of public safety, who may issue a permit thereon if all provisions of the ordinances of the city of Duluth are complied with, as in this ordinance or otherwise provided.

Sec. 7. Upon the permit being granted by the commissioner of public safety, the applicant shall present the same to the city clerk, who shall receive and file the same in his office, and the applicant thereafter and before a license is issued to him, shall present his policy of liability insurance to the city council for approval or disapproval, and every policy approved shall be presented to the city clerk, who shall then indorse the number of such policy, the name of the company and the agent's address, and the date of the policy, upon each respective permit, and the city clerk shall then, and not till then, issue a license to the applicant in conformity to and with the terms of the permit presented. The license shall contain the same number as the corresponding permit, aside from any other numbers that may be on the license, and the word "revocable" shall be plainly written or printed upon its face.

Sec. 8. Each permit shall, among other things, contain a certain number of days during the permit; it shall also state the license fee to be charged by the city clerk, and the word "revocable" shall be plainly written or printed upon its face.

Sec. 9. The operation of such auto-cars shall be subject to the following restrictions:

1st. No person operating such vehicle shall carry any passengers or permit any passengers to ride on the running boards or anywhere except on the seats of the vehicle.

2nd. No such vehicle shall carry more passengers than can comfortably be seated therein, except that children 5 years of age or under may be carried by seated passengers, and that not more than two extra passengers may be carried in a car when they will all comprise a single party, desiring to travel together, and are willing to submit to the temporary crowding of the car, and no passenger shall sit on the doors or any part of the vehicle than the seats.

3rd. But one passenger shall be permitted to ride on the seat with the driver, besides the driver or chauffeur of such vehicle.

4th. No such vehicle shall take on or discharge passengers while in motion.

5th. All passengers must be received and discharged at the curb; that is to say, not in the roadway used by vehicles, but on the sidewalk or curb or as near thereto as the auto can approach. Passengers shall be allowed to alight or board the car on the right-hand side only, and the left rear door shall always be kept closed, provided that in a right-hand car the passenger in the front seat may be allowed to enter and leave the car from the left hand side.

6th. No such vehicle shall travel faster than ten (10) miles an hour between Third avenue east and Eighth avenue west, on Superior street, and not more than fifteen (15) miles an hour in other parts of the city.

7th. The driver of any such vehicle shall bring his car to a full stop at least thirty (30) feet from a steam railroad before going over the crossing of such road.

8th. No driver of any such vehicle shall engage in any unnecessary conversation with passengers, nor smoke a pipe, cigar or cigarette while driving such vehicle containing passengers; nor drink any intoxicating liquors during the hours in which he is engaged in operating; nor shall he solicit passengers by loud calling or shouting, or sounding a horn, bell or whistle.

9th. The driver of any such vehicle must take to police headquarters all articles left in his machine by passengers within the twenty-four hour period.

10th. Signs shall be carried on such vehicles indicating the route thereof, and no driver or chauffeur shall refuse to proceed as far as the end of the route.

11th. Such car shall not be stopped to discharge or receive passengers at any place except within fifty (50) feet of the intersection of streets and avenues in the city of Duluth.

12th. No such auto-car shall be operated except by a chaffeur licensed by the state of Minnesota and who has had two (2) months' experience. Provided that where anyone is operating his own car and has been engaged in such business for two months, the provisions of this sub-division shall not apply.

13th. Such cars shall be provided with chains for the rear wheels, which chains shall be used on the car during wet weather and in the winter time.

Sec. 10. The license fee for such license shall be at the rate of $1.50 per seated passenger that the car can carry in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, for each year during which such vehicle shall be operated. Such annual license shall expire on the first day of May of each year and the amount shall be reduced in proportion to the unexpired period of the current year at the time the license is issued; but no license shall be issued for less than $5.00.

Sec. 11. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding sixty days.

Sec. 12. All ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Sec. 13. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty days after its passage and publication.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT —OF— ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— NORTHERN LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY.

We, the undersigned, Marcus F. Bates and Marcus W. Bates, do hereby certify that we are respectively the President and the Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company, a corporation duly created, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota.

That at a special meeting of the stockholders of said corporation, held at Duluth, Minnesota, on the 18th day of May, 1915, which meeting was duly called for the expressly stated purpose of amending the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company, at which meeting all of the stockholders of said Northern Land and Lumber Company were present in person, and at which meeting all of the shares of the capital stock of said corporation were duly represented and voted, it was resolved by the unanimous vote of all said stockholders and of all of said shares of stock, to amend the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company by changing and amending Article 2 and Article 5 and the last paragraph of Article 8 thereof, as set forth in the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted, to-wit:

Resolved, That said Article 2 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 2.

The general nature of its business shall be to acquire timber and timber lands; to log the same and to manufacture lumber and all lumber products; to purchase, handle and dispose of lumber, timber and lumber products; to purchase, improve, lease, sell, dispose of and deal in lands, tenements and hereditaments, also mixed and personal property, and to mortgage or in any way encumber or pledge or hypothecate any or all of the property belonging to said corporation.

Resolved, That said Article 5 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 5.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00).

ARTICLE 8.

Resolved, That the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, which fixes the time of the annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation on the first Wednesday after the first Monday of July in each year at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the by-laws of the corporation, be amended so as to read as follows.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation shall be held on the first Tuesday of June of each year at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of said corporation, in the City of Duluth, Minnesota, or at such other place as may be fixed by a majority of the Board of Directors.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the President and Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company be and they are hereby authorized and directed to embrace the foregoing resolutions amending Article 2 and Article 5, and the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, adopted at said meeting of said stockholders, in a certificate duly executed by them, to be approved, filed, recorded and published pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided.

That immediately after the meeting of the stockholders of said corporation held as aforesaid, a meeting of the entire board of directors of said corporation was held, at which meeting all of the directors of said corporation were present, and the resolutions above set forth were adopted by the unanimous vote of all of said directors of said Northern Land and Lumber Company.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed the corporate seal of said corporation this 18th day of May, 1915.

FINDERS ARE NOT KEEPERS

The vast majority of people do not like to keep what they find—whether it be an umbrella, a bull pup, a bracelet or a bond. They want to give it back to the owner, so they read the "Lost and Found" columns of The Herald to trace the losers. If you lose anything, make a bee-line to the telephone, call 324, either line, and put a "Lost" ad in The Herald.

ITALY'S WAR MEASURES NOW BEFOR SENATE

LORD KITCHENER, ONCE IDOL OF THE BRITISH, NOW CONDEMNED

MARSHAL IS ASSAILED ON ALL SIDES

Some London Papers Call Into Question His Military Genius.

Accused of Ordering Wrong Kind of Shells for the Artillery.

Caused Death of Thousands of British and Brought on Crisis.

London, May 21.—One of the most remarkable features of the ministerial crisis in Great Britain at the present moment is the sudden outbreak, more or less severe, of newspaper attacks upon Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, the British secretary of war, who at the outbreak of the war was the nation's military idol and was loudly proclaimed by the same newspapers as the only man in the country for the position of war secretary.

The Daily Mail and other newspapers under the same ownership have been most violent in these attacks, even going so far as to call into question the military genius of the field marshal. The Daily Mail says:

"It never has been pretended that Kitchener is a soldier in the sense that Field Marshal Sir John French is a soldier. Kitchener is a gatherer of men, and a very fine gatherer, too, but his record in the South African war as a fighting general, apart from his excellent organizing work as chief of staff, was not brilliant.

Nothing Suggests Qualities.

"Nothing in Kitchener's experience suggests that he has the qualities required for conducting a European campaign in the field and we can only hope that no such misfortune will befall this nation as that he should be permitted to interfere with the actual strategy of this gigantic war."

Proceeding to accuse Lord Kitchener of having "ordered the wrong kind of shell," the Daily Mail asserts that "despite repeated warnings that a higher

HENDERSON TO BE IN CABINET

British Labor Leader Will Succeed Herbert Samuel on New Board.

London, May 21.—The first authoritative announcement as to an appointment in the British national cabinet outside of Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, is that of Arthur Henderson, a labor leader, who succeeds Herbert Samuel as president of the local government board. The trade unionists are highly pleased at the appointment.

TO CUT OFF STATE AID

Bills in Wisconsin Legislature Affect Agricultural Societies.

Organizations Said to Be Old and Well Established.

Madison, Wis., May 21.—New bills introduced in the assembly by the joint finance committee today cut off various agricultural organizations from sharing in state aid. They include the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, Wisconsin Cheesemakers' association, Wisconsin Buttermakers' association and Southern Wisconsin Dairymen and Cheesemakers' association. A similar bill was introduced yesterday affecting the Wisconsin Cranberry Growers' association. Testimony was offered the finance committee that these organizations were old and well established and should by this time be on their own feet. The bills are also aimed to carry out the administration's pledges of retrenchment and economy.

A bill abolishing state aid for bounties on wild animals also was presented by the committee. It is said the state pays out about $46,000 a year in this way.

METHODS OF CHAIRMAN OBJECTED TO BY OTHER COMMISSION MEMBERS

CHAIRMAN OF COMMISSION CRITICIZED BY MEMBERS

FRANK P. WALSH.

Call for Better Treatment of Witnesses By Frank P. Walsh.

Believe Questioning of Rockefeller Should Be Greatly Modified.

Examination Is at First Continued in Same Offensive Manner.

Washington, May 21.—Just before John D. Rockefeller, Jr., resumed his testimony today before the industrial relations commission, all the commissioners except Chairman Walsh met in executive session to consider their "round robin" of last night calling for more moderate treatment of witnesses. Some of the commissioners did not conceal that they thought the chairman's questioning of Mr. Rockefeller yesterday should have been modified.

After the executive session, the other commissioners did not make public their letter to Chairman Walsh, which it was understood they would do should their suggestion go unheeded.

"The examination of Mr. Rockefeller," said Chairman Walsh, "has and will be conducted with due consideration and the truth will be arrived at."

Mr. Rockefeller began today by reading a prepared statement, which related to Chairman Walsh's questioning on his view of the regularity of the conviction of John R. Lawson, a mine worker's leader. His statement follows:

Rockefeller Statement.

"Since giving my testimony yesterday I have read with care the stenographers' transcription of the questions asked by the chairman of this commission in reference to the Lawson trial and my view of certain hypothetical cases, and the course I would take, should the facts subsequently prove to be as presented.

"As these questions all relate to a criminal appeal at present pending before the courts of this country, I feel that my position cannot be too precisely stated, both as respects the questions already asked and questions of a similar nature which may be ad-

AGAIN ATTACK DARDANELLES

Fierce Fighting in Progress at Neck of Gallipoli Peninsula.

British Battleship Throwing Shells From the Gulf of Saros.

London, May 21.—Cabling from Athens the correspondent of the Reuter Telegram company says fierce fighting is in progress near the neck of the Gallipoli peninsula. The big guns of the British battleship Queen Elizabeth are being fired from the Gulf of Saros, thus assisting in the allies' attack. The Turks are being supported by the guns of the Sultan Selim (formerly the German cruiser Goeben), which are being fired from the Sea of Marmora. Turkish troops from Aivali, in Asia Minor, are said to have been transferred to the Dardanelles.

Newspapers of Athens, the correspondent declares, say the British authorities have increased to $10,000 the reward offered by them for information leading to the destruction of the German submarine, the presence of which has been reported in the Mediterranean.

CRIMINAL ACTION AGAINST PACKERS

Government to Test Constitutionality of Container Law.

Albany, N. Y., May 21.—Criminal action against Armour & Co. and Swift & Co., packers, has been instituted by Attorney General Woodbury to test the constitutionality of the state container law, it was announced today. It is alleged that the two packing companies failed to mark the weight upon hams and bacon that were wrapped. It also is charged that those meats were sold with the wrappers and that the purchaser paid for the wrapper the same price he paid for the meat.

Since the passage of the container law the companies have contended that they were not required to stamp the weight upon meats that were wrapped.

GERMANS PROTEST AGAINST SHIPMENTS

Berlin, via London, May 21.—A meeting to protest against American shipments of war materials was held last night by the Deutscher Wehrverein. A resolution was adopted calling for the discontinuance of export from Germany of goods particularly needed in America, dyestuffs and the limitation of imports from America as far as possible until the trade which is declared objectionable is stopped.

GERMAN LOSS IS ENORMOUS

Russ Official Statement on Recent Fighting in Carpathians.

Some Teuton Regiments Reduced to a Single Company.

Petrograd, May 21, via London.—This official statement referring to the recent fighting in the Carpathian mountains was issued here today:

"In the fighting of the past three weeks since the beginning of the operations of the enemy in the Carpathians their losses on May 10, 12 and 13 during which the fighting lost some of its intensity, averaged 10,000 a day. On the other seventeen days they were much heavier, especially during the period between May 16 and May 19, when they amounted to several tens of thousands daily.

"Certain regiments of the enemy have been reduced to a single company. Their total losses during this period, including 40,000 prisoners, captured by us, have undoubtedly reached to one-fourth or one-third of their total strength.

"The score of guns lost by the enemy in this fighting is as nothing compared with their total number, but it must be borne in mind that owing to the lack of horses and the scarcity of projectiles—between two and three million shells having been expended by the enemy during this period—the enemy left behind on old positions several hundred guns. This circumstance has helped to equalize the odds, which were in favor of the enemy."

MANY SPECTATORS CROWD COURTROOM

Former Senator Bailey Concludes His Argument for the Riggs Bank.

Washington, May 21.—A big crowd of spectators, drawn as a result of yesterday's clash between Former Senator Bailey and Justice McCoy, filled the district supreme court room today at the resumption of arguments on the government's motion for the dismissal of the treasury injunction obtained by the Riggs National bank against treasury officials.

Senator Bailey of counsel for the bank, resumed his concluding argument in opposition to the motion. He replied in detail to Samuel Untermyer, who made the closing argument for the government.

Mr. Bailey in concluding his argument declared the law fixing the powers of the comptroller, as construed by the treasury officials, would be unconstitutional in that it would require bank officials to furnish criminal evidence against themselves.

"It is time in this country that the officials' power and the citizens' rights be determined," said Mr. Bailey as he took his seat.

BARNES-ROOSEVELT JURY WOULD DIVIDE THE COSTS

In Case This Can Be Done Will Return Verdict for Colonel.

Judge Sends Jury Back; Stood 11 to 1 for Roosevelt on Poll.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 21.—After once reporting an illegal verdict to the court in favor of Theodore Roosevelt the jury trying William Barnes' suit for libel failed today in more than three hours of additional deliberation to arrive at a verdict that was legal.

Soon after court reopened the jury sent a message to the court. Justice Andrews called one attorney for the plaintiff and one for the defendant. The two lawyers went to the jury room and then escorted the foreman to a telephone booth in the judge's chambers.

The foreman used the telephone for about five minutes and then returned to the jury room.

Colonel Pleased.

Col. Roosevelt declined to comment for publication on the action of the jury. By the expression of his face, however, it was most apparent that he was as pleased as he possibly could be. His counsel said their client was perfectly willing to divide the costs if there was any way in which it could be done. State law may prevent this. They made it plain in the presence of the defendant that a verdict was the

HOW ALLIANCE WAS ANNULLED

Final Document Sent By Italian Government to Austria.

Gives Its Reasons Why It Resumes Liberty of Action.

Paris, May 21.—A Havas dispatch from Rome says:

The final document in the Green Book issued by the Italian government is the note sent by Foreign Minister Sonnino to the duke of Avarna, Italian ambassador at Vienna, annulling the triple alliance. The note which was communicated to Baron Burian, Austrian foreign minister on May 4, closes with the following statement:

"All efforts of the Italian government encounter the resistance of the imperial Austrian government which, after several months, decides to concede only the special interests of Italy in Avlona and to promise insufficient concession of territory in Trent—a concession which admits of no normal solution of the situation from an ethical, political or military point of view. This concession, moreover, would not be accomplished except at an undetermined period; that is to say, only at the end of the war.

"In view of this condition of affairs the Italian government must renounce the hope of reaching an agreement and sees itself constrained to withdraw all propositions of settlement. It is equally useless to give a formal appearance to an alliance which would be destined only to dissimulate a reality of continued mistrust and daily disagreements. That is why Italy, confident in its right, affirms and proclaims it will resume from now on its liberty of action and declares null and hereafter without effect, its treaty with Austria-Hungary."

GERMANS MAY HAVE TO ABANDON BASE

French Artillery Destroys Bridge in Vicinity of Cernay.

Basel, Switzerland, May 21, via Paris—French artillery has destroyed a bridge across the river Thur, in the vicinity of Cernay. It is believed that Cernay, which has been the supply and hospital base of the German forces in the Hartmans-Wellerjopf and Hirzenstein regions of Upper Alsace, must be evacuated.

The roads around Cernay, as well as the town itself, are badly damaged. The French artillery throws fire balls at night, illuminating a wide stretch of country. They are thus able to observe the movement of troops at night and fire on them.

FINAL STEP FOR WAR NOT YET TAKEN

Expected Senate Will Vote Unanimously for the Bill.

Cabinet Will Draft Declaration of War Soon After Senate Acts.

Ultimatum May Be Sent to Austria as the First Step.

Paris, May 21.—The Rome correspondent of the Havas agency telegraphs that Premier Salandra introduced in the senate today the bill passed by the chamber of deputies yesterday, conferring upon the government plenary powers in regard to the conduct of war.

"It is predicted that the senate will vote unanimously for the bill," the message adds.

"The Messaggero declares that the council of ministers will meet after the session of the senate and that the ministers probably will draft a declaration of war against Austria-Hungary."

IMMUNITY SUSPENDED.

London, May 21.—In a dispatch from Rome the correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says:

"Premier Salandra this morning obtained the royal signature to a decree suspending the diplomatic immunity of the Austrian and German ambassadors to the Vatican who leave tomorrow."

Ultimatum to Austria.

Geneva, May 21.—An ultimatum from Italy to Austria may be expected today and a declaration of war before the end of the week, according to information from Rome.

Baron von Macchio, the Austrian ambassador, is expected to leave Rome today. He and Naby Bey, the Turkish ambassador, are ready to start at a moment's notice. Prince von Buelow,

SWISS ARE TO TAKE GERMANY TO TASK

Federal Authorities Will Ask Explanation of Sinking of Lusitania.

Berne, Switzerland, via Paris, May 21.—The Swiss Federal authorities have decided to make suitable representations to Germany on the sinking May 7 of the Cunard line steamer Lusitania by a German submarine, as a result of which three Swiss citizens lost their lives.

The government is awaiting knowledge of the German reply to the Washington note on this subject so as better to be able to choose a wise course of procedure.

The Swiss think well of President Wilson's note, but to most newspapers it appears to be hardly strong enough. The argument is being made here by Swiss observers that the Swiss representations will have great weight because behind them will be the Swiss army, 500,000 strong.

ASSOCIATED WESTERN YALE CLUBS MEET

Kansas City, May 21.—Former President William H. Taft and 300 other visiting Yale alumni are here today to attend the two-day convention of the Associated Western Yale clubs. The association includes all Yale clubs in the West, and as far East at Pittsburgh.

The men are being entertained by the local club, of which there are about 150 members. The business of the convention will be the election of officers for next year and the discussion of plans for interesting Western young men in Yale.

BACKYARD GARDENING.

If you can't find your clothes one of these frosty mornings, take a look in the back yard.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

So far as dispatches reaching this country from Rome indicate, Italy has not as yet taken the final step to plunge her into war with Austria-Hungary. Yesterday the Italian parliament gave the government full powers to act.

A Geneva dispatch says Italy may send an ultimatum to Austria today, and that a declaration of war will come before the end of the week.

The Messagero of Rome states that after the Italian senate has met, the cabinet probably will draft a declaration of war.

Several small engagements occurred yesterday in France and Belgium. The official German statement says French attacks failed. The French statement admits the Germans gained some ground near Ypres, but asserts they were driven back subsequently.

Although the Russian war office concedes that the Austro-German forces in Galicia have won further victories, it asserts the Austro-German losses in that section during the last three weeks at upwards of 10,000 men a day.

The struggle for the Dardanelles, which has brought on some of the most deadly encounters of the war, proceeds with unabated ferocity.

WEST STILL ELUSIVE.

Raymond J. West, wanted by the St. Louis county authorities to answer to a charge of deserting his wife and taking $40 from his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. C. Cottrell, 822 Garfield avenue, has not been in a Minneapolis hospital as has been supposed.

According to a letter received by Sheriff John R. Meining yesterday from the sheriff of Hennepin county, no trace of West having been in a Minneapolis hospital could be found.

OAK HALL BUILDING.

Clothes of Today and Yesterday—

To prove how far we've advanced in producing pleasing styles, get out the family album and look at grandfather in his best Sunday suit—rather a change from the styles of today?

Yet there are men today who think clothes, as they are generally worn, are extreme; they sigh for the saggy, baggy days of old and seldom look well dressed.

Certainly there are extremes of fashion—young men will always demand them. But clothes, as they are generally worn now, are built to bring out to the best advantage a man's appearance—cut on natural body lines to fit the figure perfectly without unnecessary padding, wadding and other interior "structural" upbuilding.

Here you will find the highest type suits for Men and Young Men, priced at—

$18, $20, $22.50, $25, $30 and $35

For the man who practices the art of getting more than a full equivalent for his money, Oak Hall Special Clothes represent a saving of $3.00 to $5.00, at..... $15

S. S. LEAGUE TO BEGIN PLAY

Baseball Season of Church Organization Will Open Wednesday.

Eight Teams Included; All Said to Be Evenly Matched.

The schedule of the Duluth Sunday school baseball league will start next Wednesday. There are eight teams in the league, representing the First and Second Presbyterian churches, the First Methodist, the St. John's Episcopal, the Endion Methodist, First Christian, St. Paul's Episcopal and Glen Avon churches.

Those who have worked toward the organization of the league believe that all of the teams are very evenly matched and that the brand of baseball will be very fast for youngsters. All of the best baseball material in the various churches represented has been tried out. Following are the rules covering the playing of all of the games and the schedule:

Rules For League.

All games shall begin not later than 6:45 p. m.

Seven innings shall constitute a game, except in case of darkness or rain. The umpire may call the game at the end of the fourth inning and it shall stand as played.

No abusive language shall be used on the field and each player is expected to help create the spirit of good fellowship.

Each member shall attend Sunday school at least 75 per cent during the schedule. Violating this rule shall forfeit the game.

Each team shall furnish an official, whose decision on the field shall be final except in case of interpretation of rules in which case the decision of the board of managers shall be final.

Each team must have at least seven men on the field.

Each members shall pay a fee of 10 cents and receive a ticket good for one year from May 1 and shall entitle him to participate in all activities of the league during that period.

All postponed games shall be rescheduled and when as re-scheduled shall be a part of the regular schedule and subject to the same rules.

No player registered in any team shall be eligible to play on any other team without the written release from the manager of the first team and the consent of the board of managers.

In case of a protested game the team entering the protest shall do so in writing within twenty-four (24) hours after the game is played and shall deposit with the protest the sum of $1 which in case of protest being lost shall go into the treasury of the league.

Every Monday morning beginning May 24, 1915, each captain shall send in a list of members of his team who were in Sunday school the day before. This list must be signed by the superintendent, assistant or teacher, certifying its correctness. Only one miss shall be allowed.

Games shall be played Mondays and Wednesdays beginning May 25.

Each captain shall enter a list of players with their entry fee of 10 cents, not later than March 24, 9 p. m., at the Y. M. C. A. Third avenue west and Second street, and no captain shall play any person during the schedule, not on that list.

The schedule follows:

Wednesday, May 26.

First Methodist vs. First Presbyterian—Twelfth avenue east.

First Christian vs. Endion M. E.—Children's home.

Second Presbyterian vs. St. John's English Lutheran—Thirty-second avenue west.

First Home Game of the Baseball Season Called Off.

J. Plavius won the opening home baseball game of the season. Pluvius won it on a forfeit, the Dooks failing to appear at the grounds. Herr Blume walked around the block about noontime, cast a look at the lowering skies, and declared that no attempt would be made to play. If the weather man comes out of it by tomorrow, the Dooks and the Red Sox from over the bay will be seen in action, the game starting at 3 o'clock.

BIRMINGHAM OUSTED AS CLEVELAND BOSS

Cleveland, Ohio, May 21.—Joe Birmingham resigned as manager of the Cleveland American league baseball team today.

According to announcement made by President Charles W. Somers, Birmingham's resignation was requested. No successor has been named.

Birmingham succeeded Harry Davis as manager in 1912. He had played in a Cleveland uniform as an outfielder since 1906.

Poor showing of the team last year and so far this year led to his retirement.

Buffeds Want Lord.

Chicago, May 21.—Specials from Portland and Kansas City say Harry Lord, former third baseman of the Chicago Americans, has received an offer to join the Buffalo Federals. Lord recently was released by Chicago so he could become partner with Hugh Duffy in the Portland, Maine, club.

ASSESSING WORK TEN DAYS AHEAD

Will Close Saturday; Book Improvements Save Much Time.

Valuation of the city's personal property will be brought to a close tomorrow night, ten days ahead of time, according to an announcement made this morning by Deputy Assessor Fowler.

All the assessors, who have been canvassing the city since May 1, will be discharged and work will then be begun on assembling the figures and preparing them for the tax books.

Last year the valuation work required the entire month of May but because of numerous improvements made in the rolls and books in the office, the men were saved considerable time and trouble this year.

The special clerks hired by Mr. Fowler will be required to work about six more weeks, before the books are ready for the county auditor.

IMPROVES SERVICE AT STAMP WINDOW

Clerk From General Delivery Window to Be Shifted, Says McEwen.

By a shifting of the forces of the general delivery and the stamp windows at the Duluth postoffice, the efficiency of the stamp department will be materially raised, according to Postmaster William E. McEwen.

"The fact that there was but one clerk in the stamp department between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon was due to the absence of one clerk on a vacation and the absence of a third for lunch," said Mr. McEwen today. However, the criticism in The Herald yesterday regarding this matter has directed attention to a defect, and this will be corrected. During the whole day with the exception of early morning and late in the evening there are three clerks at the stamp windows. Yesterday one clerk was on a vacation, and a second left for his lunch between 2 and 3 o'clock.

"The work at the stamp window requires some experience if the work is to be done well. We have an employe in the general delivery department who has had experience in selling stamps, and she will be shifted part of the time to the stamp department temporarily."

Postmaster McEwen said that criticism was always welcome regarding any defects in the service, and any report would be investigated and corrected as quickly as possible.

"JITNEY JOCKEY" GETS INSURANCE

First to File His Policy With the City Treasurer.

George St. George of 2502 West Third street is the first "jitney jockey"—the newest name for a driver—to file an insurance policy with the city treasurer.

Mr. St. George filed his policy this morning and it will be submitted to Commissioner Silberstein, who will report on the matter to the city council. That body will finally decide whether a license will be granted to him, giving him the right to operate on the Duluth streets under the new jitney ordinance.

About 100 jitney drivers have already obtained permits to operate their cars in the city.

TAX COLLECTION IN SHERIFF'S HANDS

Collection of personal property taxes delinquent for 1914 is now in the hands of Sheriff John R. Meining.

On Monday a force of deputy sheriffs will begin serving citations against delinquent taxpayers, the list of which is larger than ever before.

The law provides that unless the tax is paid the sheriff may seize the property against which the tax is levied and sell it to satisfy the amount of the tax.

Under the statute, the sheriff is given until June 1 in which to make his collection. In addition to the amount of the tax, the delinquent must pay penalties and clerk's fees.

Calling for Armour Products.

M. M. Gasser, the well-known grocer on Superior street, in a talk today stated that his store is feeling the influence to a marked degree of the advertising campaign that is being conducted in The Herald by Armour & Co. to popularize the Armour products. "People are coming into our store daily and demanding the Armour goods," continued Mr. Gasser, "and I am strongly in favor of the publicity campaigns carried on by our big food concerns in an effort to acquaint the public with these high-grade standard goods."

"AMPHIBIOUS."

W. B. Allen in Scribner's Magazine: Speaking of fish stories, one cannot help being reminded of the occasion when a committeeman was examining a class of boys in the South. "Can any of you," he asked, "tell me what 'amphibious' means, and give a sentence to illustrate?" A bright little darky held up his hand. "I know, sah! It's lying! Mos' fish stories am fibious!"

BORN IN U. S.; NOT A CITIZEN

Mrs. Lea Burnette, Almost Lifelong Resident of This Country, Arrested.

Held for Crossing Border After Being Stopped at Line.

That a woman's citizenship is the same as that of her husband is maintained by Brown McDonald, immigration officer in Duluth, who yesterday arrested Mrs. Lea Burnette, aged 28, who was born at Escanaba, Mich., and a resident of the United States all her life excepting two years. She was arrested at Houghton, Mich., for crossing the boundary line at International Falls. She had been barred by the federal authorities.

The allegations are that she and a musician, George Davis, crossed the line on a ferry as man and wife. Davis' home is at Fort Frances. Mrs. Burnette, who was married at Chassel, Mich., is the mother of four children, all born in the Michigan Upper Peninsula.

Officer McDonald declares Mrs. Burnette is not a citizen because she married a Canadian fifteen years ago, who had not taken out his naturalization papers, although he lived in Michigan. A woman's citizenship is held to be the same as that of her husband.

The authorities declare that Mrs. Burnette, after landing in the United States, hired a livery rig, which carried her to a station on the D. W. & P. railway, where she boarded a train for Duluth. It is said she passed two weeks in New Duluth and afterward went to Houghton, Mich., where she was arrested. She was left at Hancock, Mich., where she will be held pending word from the secretary of labor.

SCORES ANNOYERS OF THE PRESIDENT

Mrs. Catt Repudiates Suffragists Who Tried to Harry Him.

New York, May 21.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the Empire state campaign committee, for which she is speaking in the interest of votes for women in the upper part of the state, has issued a statement condemning the action of the women in New York, who attempted to reach the president when he was in New York on Monday. Mrs. Catt's statement says:

"I believe I can speak authoritatively for 99.9 per cent of the hundreds of thousands of suffragists of the Empire state when I declare that they unqualifiedly condemn the attempt made yesterday to harry the president. The great majority of American suffragists have had no sympathy with the militant tactics of the small British group called suffragettes, even when applied across the sea, and will not welcome the introduction of those methods here, and especially by British women.

"Suffragists, as well as all other citizens, realize that no president since Lincoln has had such serious and delicate problems to solve, nor responsibilities so significant, as Mr. Wilson. Quite forgetful of party affiliations or claims of any sort, the public mind is turning to him with a genuinely tender and sincere solicitude, for upon his clear and correct judgment just now may turn the future fate of our nation. We are distressed that any person in the name of our cause should have attempted to intrude upon his peace of mind.

"New York is a campaign state, and the authority to decide the question is the electorate of the state, not the president. Even those believing that the shorter and easier process of enfranchising women is by the Federal route should know that it is congress and three-fourths of the legislatures which are the deciding authority, not the president.

"Although the denial of the vote to American women is a monstrous injustice, there is neither sense nor logic in harrying the president over it."

Mrs. Catt is an ex-president of the National American Woman Suffrage association and is now president of the International Woman Suffrage alliance, which she founded, and whose members include women from all the countries at war as well as many others.

ST. PAUL BANKER ON CROP OUTLOOK

Crookston, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. W. Wheeler for years a local banker, now president of the Capitol Trust company of St. Paul, returned home last evening after having spent several days in Polk, Red Lake, Marshall, Kittson and Pennington counties, where he has interests and before returning to St. Paul last evening Mr. Wheeler said:

"The Red River valley never looked better in the past thirty years. I never saw the crops so uniformly good or as large an acreage seeded as at the present time. The fields show better cultivation than ever before and the ground worked up so mellow this year that the results of the extra cultivation show up splendidly. One very encouraging sight presented is the large number of fields planted to corn last year that are in grain this year.

"The increased corn acreage is a special significance in connection with weed eradication. The weed problem is a big one and where fields are badly infested there is nothing that will help to eradicate them more than corn which is well cultivated. In addition to getting rid of the weeds, the cultivation adds to the productiveness of the soil.

Weeds Cause Waste.

There has always been a tremendous waste because of weeds and it is high time their progress was checked. I believe this to be one of the big problems for the farmers to solve. In a farm that is badly weed infested, that is by the noxious weeds that choke out the grain, the profits are also choked out and a vigorous campaign should be waged against weeds. Corn and potatoes well cultivated will help wonderfully to clean up weed infested farms and for these reasons increased corn and potato acreages have a double significance—they clean the land and at the same time add to its fertility because of the cultivation.

"General conditions in the valley are very good."

Minot Has Woman Officer.

Minot, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minot has a policewoman, Miss Eleanor Marshall being appointed, and she has qualified. Miss Marshall spent two weeks at Grand Forks, where she worked with Mrs. Pearl Blough, police matron of that city. Mrs. Blough is a former Minneapolis woman.

SWEDISH STUDENTS OFFERED ESSAY PRIZE.

High school students of Swedish birth will have an opportunity to enter a competition which has been started by the Gustavus Adolphus college of St. Peter, Minn. The college offers a prize of $15 or a semester tuition worth $22.50 for the best essay in Swedish to be written by a high school pupil.

The essay must not be more than 1,100 words in length and may discuss any subject the student chooses. The contest will close June 30. The essays must be mailed to O. J. Johnson, president of the college.

FARGO EDUCATION BOARD TO CHANGE

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The membership of the board of education is to again be disturbed. At the recent election A. H. Dodsley was selected as one of the members and his election made the board stand five to four against W. E. Hoover, the present superintendent. Mr. Dodsley is chief clerk of the Standard Oil company and has just received notice he will be transferred next month to Sioux City, Iowa. This will leave the board of education tied four and four and considerable interest attaches to the successor to Dodsley, who will be appointed by the remaining members of the board and whether he will be for or against Hoover.

FRIENDSHIP REWARDED.

Three Mill City Women to Share in Big Estate.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 21.—Through long-time friendship with Mrs. Georgia W. Tyler, who died in Los Angeles April 25, three Minneapolis women share in her estate which is valued at about $250,000.

After legacies aggregating $40,000 are deducted, Mrs. J. W. Tarbell of 2409 Humboldt avenue south, is to receive the residue of the estate to dispose of at her death "to someone equally as deserving." Mrs. F. H. La Due of 914 East Nineteenth street is to get $10,000 and Miss Ellen Purcell of 1606 Irving avenue north is to receive $5,000 of the $40,000. The balance goes to friends in other cities.

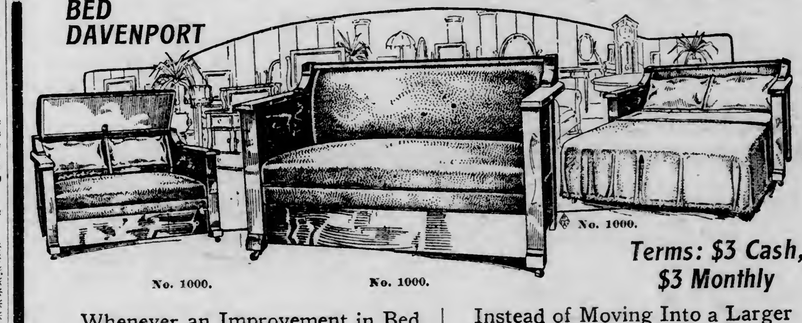
THIS KODAV $25.50

BED DAVENPORT



No. 1000. No. 1000. No. 1000.

Terms: $3 Cash, $3 Monthly

Whenever an Improvement in Bed Davenports Was Announced

It was the makers of the Kodav that made the announcement, and in this Kodav Bed you will find the very latest features brought out by the makers. When you place this bed in your home you will have the satisfaction of knowing that there isn't a Bed Davenport made that operates more simply than this one.

Its Simplicity of Operation Insures Lasting Wear

The more complicated anything is, the more apt it is to go wrong in some way. The extreme simplicity with which this Kodav operates greatly lessens any chance of its getting out of order. It is designed for service, and no matter whether you use it as a bed every night or only one night a month it is always ready, never out of order, changing from a beautiful piece of furniture to a comfortable bed smoothly and silently.

Instead of Moving Into a Larger Flat, Move in a Kodav

When you rent a house or an apartment your rent is based largely on the number of rooms desired. With a Kodav you combine two rooms in one, lessening your monthly rental; you have a very beautiful piece of furniture by day and a cozy, comfy sleeping room at night. It is the only piece of furniture in your home that will give you continuous 24-hour service.

Upholstered in KODAV ART LEATHER

Not only have the makers of Kodav Bed Davenports developed the convenience and simplicity of their Bed Davenports to a remarkable degree, but they have also devoted a great deal of time and money to discover a fabric that would give the same service as leather, and their efforts have met with success, for the fabric they use in their upholstering does not only resemble genuine leather, in appearance, but it also wears like the genuine.

PREJUDICE IS DEFENSE

Editor of Italian Newspaper Given Hearing Before Commissioner.

Accused of Trying to Extort Money By Threats.

Attorneys for Vincenzo Cimino, editor of El Corriere Italo Americano, will attempt to show that the defendant is the victim of religious prejudice, at the hearing of the Italian editor before United States Commissioner Pressnell this afternoon. Cimino is charged with sending threatening matter through the mails.

The arrest of Cimino followed a series of incidents which caused considerable stir among Italian-Americans of Duluth. One of these was the arrest of a Presbyterian missionary, who was charged with sending an obscene letter through the mails to Father Zarilla, the Italian priest at Duluth. Cimino is said to have printed articles in the Corriere written by the missionary defamatory to the character of Father Zarilla.

While this charge is not a part of the case against Cimino, Attorneys McKnight and Richard Jones, who are acting for the editor, claim that religious prejudice was back of the action against their client. They also claim that the articles written in the Corriere said to have threatened Italians of the city if they did not come across with funds for his paper, he would "write them up," were not sent through the mail or written with the idea of extorting money. After the write-up, they say, Cimino did not expect any of the victims to be in a sufficiently amiable frame of mind to contribute to the Corriere.

Egbert Oakley, assistant United States attorney, conducted the state's side of the case at the hearing today. Capt. Fiskett, Eugene Fiskett, Italian Consul Castigliano and Pasquale Di Santo were examined. They testified that Cimino had come to them asking funds for the paper. Capt. Fiskett also received a copy of the paper in which the alleged threat was written.

Attorney McKnight said this noon that he would move to have the case dismissed on the grounds that Cimino had no intention of extorting money when he wrote the articles in the paper or when he sent them through the mails.

HEARING REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Presbyterians Especially Interested on Report on Evangelism.

Rochester, N. Y., May 21.—The program of today's session of the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States consisted of the announcement of standing committees and the presentation and consideration of the reports of the permanent committee on evangelism, executive committee, and the committee on Christian life and work.

The assembly got fairly under way yesterday afternoon with the election of Rev. J. Ross Stevenson, D. D., Lld., president of Princeton Theological seminary, as moderator.

TOO NARROW FOR SAFETY ZONES

Safety Commissioner Finally Decides Not to Establish Them.

Because Duluth streets are too narrow, Commissioner Silberstein will not establish safety zones at this time, he announced yesterday.

After an examination of Superior street yesterday, Mr. Silberstein decided that the establishing of a four-foot zone would not leave room for the passage of two vehicles at the same time.

Mr. Silberstein said this morning that he will hold a conference with Manager Warren of the street car company some time next week for the purpose of coming to some agreement on the near-corner stop he recently proposed. Mr. Warren repeated today that the company is willing to co-operate with the city and that the change will be ordered when all arrangements have been made.

ASKS ABSENCE TO EARN SOME MONEY

Wisconsin Legislator Has Spent $500 Allowed By State.

Madison, Wis., May 21.—Assemblyman Minkley, Social-Democrat, asked the house today for an indefinite leave of absence, saying the $500 paid him by the state had now been spent and that he desired a few days to return to his trade to earn enough to continue. He promised that as soon as he saved a small amount he would return to his legislative duties.

CHICAGO BALLOT IS FOUR FEET LONG

Commissioner Voss of the finance division this morning received from Chicago a sample ballot, four feet long and nearly two feet wide, containing seven ordinances, calling for bond issues totaling $4,000,000, and five municipal propositions initiated by the citizens of the Windy City.

The ballot was sent by W. W. Blackshaw of this city, who is visiting in Chicago.

"With such a ballot," writes Mr. Blackshaw, "I am beginning to have my doubts about the value of the initiative."

CHARITIES COMMITTEE ASKS PUBLIC'S HELP

The committee on charities of the Duluth Commercial club held a brief meeting during the noon hour today and passed upon a form of letter to be sent out to known charitable institutions to gather information, and a short discussion of methods took place also.

F. W. Paine, chairman of the committee, is desirous that individuals solicited for charities inform either him or Col. Eva, secretary of the club, in order that a tab may be kept on solicitors, in view of the fact that the committee's work is to be for the protection of all Duluthians from solicitors of unworthy or fake institutions.

SUPERIOR

WILL SEARCH SEWERS FOR ANDERSON'S BODY

Working on the theory that Axel Anderson, who disappeared Saturday evening, has met with foul play and that the body was probably shoved into a sewer, permission has been obtained by friends to make a search of the sewers in the hope of locating the body. The search will begin this afternoon. A close watch has also been kept of the river and sewer outlets.

Sites for Auditorium.

Offers of six sites for the proposed municipal auditorium were received by the city commissioners of Superior yesterday. The sites are located on Grand avenue, between Winter and Broadway. The size of the sites range from five to fifteen lots and the prices from $4,500 to $10,000.

More Names for Recall List.

A supplementary list, containing about seventy names, as an addition to the petition asking for the recall of Mayor J. S. Konkel, will be filed tomorrow, according to statements made by leaders of the recall movement. This will give more than the required one-fourth of the voters of the city. It is expected that this number will be contested in the courts on the contention that the state law requires one-third of the voters on a recall petition.

EARNINGS OF ROADS GAIN

Traffic in Nearly All Lines Reported Better in April.

Heavy Exports of Industrials; Higher Rates Help Boost Receipts.

Traffic officials of both Eastern and Western railroads express the opinion that the business situation of the country has fully turned the corner. April traffic with the railroads generally is reported to have made a better showing than March. On some roads, including the New York Central, April earnings exceeded those of the corresponding month last year.

This improvement embraces traffic in coal, iron and steel besides in many manufactured lines. The movement of steel to various equipment and manufacturing plants to be manufactured into shrapnel shells and other munitions, is said to have played its part in improving railroad traffic. The activity at the steel plants has also stimulated the demand for coal, which has been further affected by the brightening industrial outlook.

The boom in export trade is conceded to have been communicated to industrial lines. Profits on exports and the great credits which shipments abroad are building up for the United States, are counted upon to induce freer spending among Americans. That expectation has already led to some increases in capacity on the part of manufacturers for home consumption.

Eastern railroad earnings are now reflecting the higher freight rates granted last December, which became effective towards the end of February. Officials are confident that returns for May and June will show marked improvement.

Great Northern Busy.

A satisfactory showing was made by the Great Northern in its net traffic returns for March. Net earnings for the month, after making allowance for taxes, were $1,554,611, as compared with $1,388,585 last year, an increase of $166,026. For the nine months ended March 31, the road's net earnings were $22,337,681, an increase of $1,003,581 over the corresponding period of 1914.

Numbers of farmers from the Middle and Southwest states are reported to have taken up lands in Great Northern territory this spring, and with the largely increased acreage under crop officials predict that the road's facilities will be taxed to the utmost next fall to move the traffic likely to offer.

JURY STILL OUT.

Up to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, no verdict had been reported by a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court which has under consideration the question of the guilt or innocence of Andrew Neimiecke, charged with burglary in the third degree.

The jury retired at 10 o'clock this morning. Neimiecke was jointly indicted with John Mack on a charge of having entered a room at the Grace hotel on the night of May 6 and stealing $5 from one Sam Dahl.

Mack was tried this week and found guilty.

Episcopal Bishop Organizes St. Luke's Mission for Center of City.

Meetings at Former Christian Church—Rector Named Later.

Bishop J. D. Morrison of the Duluth Episcopal diocese has organized St. Luke's Mission to serve the down town, hillside and Duluth Heights districts, and meetings will take place at Odd Fellows hall, corner of Fifth avenue west and Fourth street, in the building formerly occupied by the First Christian congregation. Services are conducted at 11 o'clock each Sunday morning and Sunday school begins at 9:45.

This mission church was organized to serve those members of the Episcopal church who live in or close to the center of the city, and the indications are, it is claimed, that St. Luke's will grow to quite large proportions and later may be established as a parish with a permanent rector.

At present, C. A. Knippenberg is superintendent of the Sunday school and has charge of the services, pending the obtaining of a rector.

CATCHES TROUT WEIGHING OVER TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS.

Baudette, Minn. May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. Calvert of Rainy River, Ont., caught a trout weighting twenty-five and three-quarter pounds, three feet and seven inches long and twenty-two inches in circumferences at Whitefish bay in the Lake of the Woods this week. He brought it to R. W. Ball of this place, who is mounting the specimen.

RANKIN AT SPOONER.

Will Deliver Address to Graduating Class June 4.

Spooner, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. W. Rankin of the state educational department has been secured to deliver the commencement address the evening of June 4 at the Auditorium. Mr. Rankin is one of the best-known educators in the state and has been identified with the public schools of Minnesota for about twenty-five years.

The annual school exhibit will be held at the schoolhouse next Friday, May 28. The schools expect to have a complete exhibit of the work of the various grades, as well as of the work accomplished in the manual training department, cooking exhibits and other work done in the domestic arts department, as well as of the agricultural work done during the year.

On Sunday evening, May 30, Rev. C. W. Aanesstad will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the Auditorium for the graduating class.

BAUDETTE LETS CONTRACT.

J. L. Donahue Will Lay Water Mains in That Village.

Baudette, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The council purchased one of the school buildings which they will convert into a fire hall and council chamber.

The contract for the laying of water mains on Main street, between Third and Fourth streets, was let to J. L. Donahue by the council. Mayor J. U. Williams was elected a delegate to represent the village at N. M. D. association at Coleraine next month.

The village will send one fireman to the annual firemen's meeting at Pine City.

Jerry Petrik has purchased a residence from the Baudette Home and Improvement company.

The Woodlawns of Duluth will play the home team here on Saturday and Sunday. Peacock and Clemens will be the battery for the locals.

Frank Slipp received word this week that his uncle, Timothy Desmond of Maple Lake, is dead. He was one of the few survivors of the First Minnesota, who fought at Gettysburg.

FOR CROW WING FAIR.

County Board Appropriates $500 and Superintendents Are Named.

Brainerd, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners have donated $500 for the support of the county fair held by the Crow Wing County Agricultural society at Pequot.

The fair association has named these superintendents: Horses, Glen Slocum; cattle, William Guida; sheep and swine, J. T. LePage; agriculture and horticulture, F. W. Ford; art and culinary, W. H. Cloud; machinery, J. G. Thurlow. School department, Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley, county superintendent of schools and A. J. Gafke, county agricultural agent. Concessions and privileges, Benn A. Wagner. Entertainment and reception committee, W. H. Cloud, J. G. Thurlow, Benn A. Wagner; judge of livestock, James Montgomery. For other departments competent judges will be provided by the state agricultural college.

NEW PRESIDENT OF JOHNS HOPKINS

Baltimore, Md., May 21.—In the presence of hundreds of distinguished educators, scientists and men of letters, Dr. Frank Johnson Goodnow, adviser to the Chinese government, was inaugurated president of Johns Hopkins university late yesterday. The ceremony took place at Homewood, the new site of the university.

The honorary degree of doctor of laws, was conferred on the following: Henry White of Baltimore, former ambassador to France; Michael Idvorsky Pushing of Columbia university, Serbian consul in New York; Robert Simpson Woodward, president of Carnegie institute, Washington, D. Frost Hurt Blueberries.

Cumberland, Wis., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The recent heavy frosts did considerable damage to fruit and it is feared ruined the blueberry crop, which had blossomed early and gave every indication of a heavy yield.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court:

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Order Reversed.

In re estate of Garafalia Herrick, Izzie H. W. Lawton, appellant, vs. Luella H. Fiske, respondent—

1. Where, on appeal from a judgment, based upon findings of fact and conclusions of law, the judgment is reversed upon the ground that the findings of fact are not sustained by the evidence, and new or additional findings are necessary to support any judgment subsequently to be rendered, a new trial follows as of course where the reversal is without specific directions as to further proceedings in the court below.

2. The supreme court is without authority to make findings of fact in causes presented on appeal from the trial court, or to direct the trial court to find a particular fact, except perhaps where the evidence is conclusive upon the question.

3. A reversal of a judgment upon the ground that the findings of the trial court are not sustained by the evidence is not to be understood as a direction to the trial court to change its findings without a further trial of the action.

Order reversed. BROWN, C. J.

DAKOTA COUNTY
Order Affirmed.

Margaret Fitzgerald, as administrator, et al, appellants, vs. Annie Fitzgerald, etc., et al, respondents—

1. An order of the trial court denying a motion to vacate a judgment, upon the ground that the same was rendered upon an unauthorized stipulation of her attorney, and without her knowledge or consent, held not clearly against the evidence, as contained in conflicting affidavits submitted on the motion, nor an abuse of discretion.

Order affirmed. BROWN, C. J.
Schaller, J. took no part.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Conviction Not Sustained.

State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. Oliver Garrison, appellant—

Evidence considered and held not to sustain the conviction of defendant on a charge of willfully and without legal excuse failing to furnish food, shelter or clothing to his minor children.

Order reversed. BUNN, J.

BLUE EARTH COUNTY.
Decision Affirmed.

C. S. Bigelow, respondent, vs. Harry E. Hill, appellant—

Defendant requested plaintiff, a physician, to attend and treat defendant's niece, who was a member of his household, her parents having been divorced. He did not inform plaintiff that the patient was not his daughter or that he did not expect to pay for the services. Plaintiff supposed until after his second visit to the patient that she was defendant's daughter, but then learned that she was his niece. Dfendant paid a bill for drugs and one for the services of a nurse. It is held that under the circumstances the trial court was justified in finding an implied promise by defendant to pay for the services of plaintiff.

Affirmed. BUNN, J.

KANDIYOHI COUNTY.
Reversed With Directions.

City of Willmar, respondent vs. Village of Spicer, appellant.

In the absence of statutory provision to the contrary a woman who marries while she is a pauper changes her own legal settlement and takes that of her husband.

The statute in this state, G. S. 1913 section 3071, does not change this rule, and the trial court erred in holding that the legal settlement of the pauper in this case was in defendant village.

Reversed with directions. BUNN, J.

Proof Not Furnished.

Lewis Lohn, respondent vs. Luck Land company, appellant.

In proving the elimination of the owner's right to redeem from a sale of land pursuant to a tax judgment, it is necessary to show by the assessment books that, when the notice of expiration of the time of redemption issued, the land stood assessed in the name of the one to whom the notice was directed. The recitals in the notice do not furnish the required proof.

Judgment affirmed.

WILKIN COUNTY.
No Reversible Errors.

Peter Glaum, respondent vs. P. H. Skaug, appellant.

Plaintiff, at the trial, testified that defendant agreed to pay $2 per acre commission if defendant sold his farm to the purchaser found by plaintiff at a price agreeable to defendant. Defendant testified that the sale price was to be $65 per acre net, and plaintiff was to have the excess, if any, or else was to look to the purchaser for his commission. The jury found plaintiff's version of the agreement true. There was competent evidence to sustain the finding.

The record discloses no reversible errors in the rulings at the trial.

Order affirmed. HOLT, J.

CHIPPEWA COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. Christ Lucken, appellant—

In the trial upon a charge of forgery, when the identity of the accused and his guilty intent are necessary to be proven, it is proper for the state to prove that he passed other forged checks, similar in appearance, upon other persons near the same place and at about the same time, and the fact that he had been tried and acquitted upon some criminal charge in relation to these other checks would not render the facts in connection with passing or uttering them inadmissible.

Conceding that a defendant charged with forgery may offer samples of his ordinary handwriting solely as standards of comparison, the genuineness of such samples, unless conceded, must be established by clear and satisfactory proof, and the trial court's ruling will not be reversed unless palpably erroneous. In this case one of the three samples, offered together was objectionable as being made after defendant's arrest, and, as to all, more satisfactory evidence bearing upon their genuineness, although readily obtainable, was not offered, hence no error in the ruling excluding the proffered samples.

Error may not be predicated upon a ruling made when the record shows acquiescence and an immediate withdrawal of the question ruled on.

An alleged allusion by the county attorney to defendant's failure to testify is not ground for reversal unless the record directly states that the allusion was made.

The evidence of defendant's guilt is so ample and convincing that the appellate court should not search for technical errors not raised by the assignments of error nor discussed in the briefs.

No abuse of discretion is apparent in the court's denial of a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Orders affirmed. HOLT, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

City of St. Paul, respondent, vs. H. E. Robinson, appellant—

1. Neither the Constitution nor the statutes of this state give the right of trial by jury to persons charged with petty offenses under the ordinances of a city.

2. The publication of an ordinance of the city of St. Paul under the 1900 Home Rule Charter might lawfully be made on Memorial day.

3. The common council of the city of St. Paul, under that charter, had the right to pass an ordinance restricting the use of street car transfers to the persons to whom they were issued. The city council possessed only such legislative power as is granted to it by the Constitution or statutes in express terms and such as is necessary to the full employment of powers expressly granted. The power was given to grant franchises for the operation of street railways and to regulate and control the exercise of such franchises. This conferred, by implication, the power to require issuance of transfers by the railway company and to regulate the manner of their issuance by the company, and the manner of their use by the public.

4. The evidence is sufficient to establish all the elements necessary to constitute an offense under the ordinance.

Order affirmed. HALLAM, J.

SCOTT COUNTY.
New Trial Granted.

Martin Martinson, appellant, vs. Town of Eagle Creek, respondent—

A description in a highway petition is sufficient if monuments be designated which enable persons familiar with the locality to locate the way upon the ground with reasonable certainty. The description in a petition for a cartway in this case, locating the way by reference to a bridge, a railroad track, a section line highway, and a private road is held to be sufficient. The court having dismissed the petition on receiving it in evidence, it was not necessary for the petitioner to offer further proof.

Order reversed and a new trial granted. HALLAM, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

Strite Governor Pulley Co., respondent vs. Patrick J. Lyons, et al., defendants, Patrick J. Lyons, appellant.

1. The error of the court, if any was committed, in making confusing statements in his charge to the jury as to the forms of verdict to be used in certain cases, is without prejudice if, subsequently and before finishing his charge, the court clearly instructs the jury how it should proceed and under what circumstances each form of verdict should be used.

2. Craven vs. Skobba, 108 Minn. 165, 121 N. W. 625, followed to the effect that, "When the jury returns a verdict which is not justified in any view of the evidence and law of the case as embodied in its instructions, the court may refuse to accept it and require the jury to return and report a proper verdict."

3. It is not reversible error if the court in a civil action fails to notify absent counsel when the jury returns into the court room, either for additional instructions or to return the verdict.

4. Record examined and the evidence held sufficient to sustain the verdict.

5. There is nothing presented by the record from which it can be inferred that the verdict was given under the influence of passion or prejudice.

Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

PENNINGTON COUNTY.
No Reversible Error.

State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. Julien Provencher, appellant—

1. Where a notice forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquor to an habitual drunkard is served upon a bartender, then on duty in a saloon, and is thereafter seen and examined by the proprietor of the saloon, it is actual notice to such proprietor, from the time that he so examined it.

2. The proprietor is liable for any sale of intoxicating liquor to such habitual drunkard made, either by himself or any of his bartenders, after he received such notice.

3. The notice is not invalid for failing to show upon its face that the person signing it is one of the persons authorized by statute to give it, but is invalid unless the person signing it was in fact one of the persons authorized by statute to give it, and such fact must be established at the trial.

4. If the names "Boyce" and "Boise" be pronounced as English words, and the letters therein be given the sound ordinarily given to them in the English language, they are idem sonans, and the use of one in the notice and of the other in the indictment is not a fatal variance.

5. There is no reversible error in the rulings or charge of the trial court.

Affirmed. TAYLOR, C.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

American Security & Investment Company, respondents, vs. F. C. Penny, appellant—

1. An agent to sell property cannot also represent the purchaser, at least unless his relation to each adverse party is fully understood and assented to by the other, and, if he violates his duty in this respect, he forfeits his right to compensation. But if he merely brings the parties together, and is not expected to take part in the negotiations, and in fact does not do so, he may recover compensation for bringing them together.

2. The evidence in this case shows conclusively that plaintiff merely brought the parties together, and did not act for either party in the negotiations between them.

Order affirmed. TAYLOR, C.

EXPLANATION BY GREAT BRITAIN

Desires to Correct Misunderstanding Concerning American Ships.

London, May 21.—In an effort to correct what the government believes to be a misunderstanding of Great Britain's attitude toward American ships and American cargoes in other neutral bottoms, detained under the order in council, the foreign office has issued an explanatory memorandum.

This explanation is supplemented by a statement that cotton cargoes which the government agreed to purchase under the cotton agreement have all been bought by the government, and that actual details concerning the payment only await proof of ownership and papers showing the actual contract price. It is explained that as most of these papers must come from the United States, there would still be some unavoidable delays before the owners of the cotton get their money.

Mr. Retailer? A Question

How many people pass your store windows in a day?

How many of this number ever stop to give your windows or your store a second thought?

A very small percentage.

Now, then, when a manufacturer advertises his brand of goods in the newspapers it is safe to say that more than half the people who pass your store have seen it.

The story of those goods will have left an impression on their minds.

If their eye catches a glimpse of those goods in your window they will turn involuntarily.

It will increase the business of any merchant to co-operate with the manufacturer's newspaper advertising.

Clothes Designed To Appeal On Different Basis Than Price Alone

WE DO MORE THAN ADVERTISE "greatest values for the least money"—we deliver them and in doing so we keep faith with the public to whom our printed statements must appeal on the grounds that honesty is the best policy and that truth will prevail. This is a Store of Service to the public, not only for today or tomorrow, but for today and all the tomorrows to come. That's why our clothes are designed to appeal on different basis than price alone.

LEFT HIS WIFE IN EUROPE BUT BROUGHT HOUSEKEEPER TO AMERICA

Austrian Consul Believes "Eternal Triangle" Is Becoming Too Common and Would Make Example of Prisoners Held By Immigration Department.

Leaving one's wife in the "old country" and then sending for a "housekeeper" may form the basis for a good dramatic plot, but it does not meet the approval of the immigration authorities. Stefan Gyovia, An Austrian, played the leading male role in such an affair, and he with his "housekeeper," Etel Papal, who were living as husband and wife at Ramsay, Mich., were brought to Duluth by Immigration Officer Brown McDonald. The third person in the "Eternal triangle" is the real wife of Gyovia and lives in Austria-Hungary. She has a 2-year-old child, and the recent birth of another child of which "Wife No. 2" is the mother, brought about the dramatic force which precipitated the husband into the county bastile here and caused "Wife No. 2" to be lodged in the Bethel Home for Women.

Would Set an Example.

Officer McDonald says that the Austrian consul at St. Paul would like to have an example made of Gyovia and his "housekeeper," so that the practice of wife desertion may receive a setback.

According to Officer McDonald, Gyovia has a somewhat checkered career. He has been in this country more or less since 1907, having made three trips to the old country. His first wife died five years ago.

Afterward he was remarried, and during last March filed a suit in chancery in the circuit court at Ironwood, Mich., asking a divorce, charging that his wife had refused to come to this country to live with him.

As the wife was not in this country, the legal papers in the action were served on the Austrian consul at St. Paul, who informed the immigrant officers that Gyovia's wife in Hungary stated that she had not refused to come to this country to live with her husband, but on the contrary was anxious to do so. The chief obstacle to her doing so was the fact that Gyovia had sent her only $10 during the last year, and this was insufficient to keep her and her child, pay a hospital bill for a serious operation she had undergone, and pay passage for herself and child to the United States. She said further that she was unwilling for her husband to secure a divorce, and that he was in love with another woman to whom he had sent a ticket for passage from Hungary to Ramsay, and was then living with.

Living With "Other Woman."

Gyovia was found at Ramsay living with this woman, it is said, as husband and wife, the former being employed as a miner. They admitted that she had come here on a ticket sent by Gyovia, and that she had been assured by a lawyer of Ironwood that he "would separate Gyovia from his wife for $60." This sum had already been paid, they said. They said the lawyer assured them that he would secure the divorce before the Papal woman arrived here, and upon this assurance Gyovia sent her a ticket. Upon her arrival the divorce had not been secured, and they say that the lawyer assured them that Gyovia had the right to hire the woman as his housekeeper, which he did.

FIRE, SMOKE AND WATER SALE

OF THE TWIN PORTS CLOTHING COMPANY'S ENTIRE STOCK OPENED WITH A MIGHTY RUSH!

We wish to thank the people of Duluth and those who came from a distance to participate in this Sensational Clothing Sale, and surely those who came reaped a reward. Thousands of dollars worth of new Spring and Summer Wearing Apparel for men and boys only slightly damaged by the recent fire in the Mesaba block directly above our store, now being slaughtered at prices that take neither cost or value into account. ONLY DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE TO BE HAD AT THIS SALE.

(From Herald May 4.)

HEAVY FIRE LOSS IN SAMPLE ROOMS

About $2,000 Damages Sustained From Blaze in Mesaba Block.

A considerable loss was sustained by the Twin Ports Clothing company, 405-407 West Superior street, directly below the Tonskemper sample rooms. After the fire had burned through the floor the salvage corps was unable to prevent damage by water and smoke. M. Cook, manager of the Twin Ports company, was unable to make an estimate of the probable loss this morning.

(From Herald May 4.)

TO ADJUST FIRE LOSS.

Insurance adjusters are expected to arrive in Duluth this evening to commence work in adjusting the loss sustained by the Twin Ports Clothing company in the fire that did considerable damage to the Mesaba block late Monday evening. While the fire was confined to the second floor, the salvage corps was forced to batter down the door leading into the Twin Ports store on Superior street, and their stock suffered considerably from the heavy smoke and water that emanated from the floor above.

THOUSANDS OF GUNS FIRED

Greatest Artillery Battle in the History of the World.

Fierce Fighting at Ypres in Which Germans Made Gains.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, May 6.—"This is the greatest artillery battle in the history of the world; the expenditure of ammunition is fabulous," writes an observer from behind the British lines at Ypres, describing the fighting of April 25 and 26, which resulted in considerable gains for the Germans.

After describing the almost continuous cannonading that had been going on for days, with literally thousands of guns in almost continual action, the observer suggests that the intensity of the firing may be judged by the fact that at one small bridge across the Yser twenty German guns fought eighteen English and French guns all night, until finally the German guns were silenced. "The French 75's," he notes, "were fired so rapidly that they sounded like an endless roll of thunder multiplied by a thousand."

The Canadians' Work.

Touching briefly on the Canadians' part in the battle, he says: "One of the most notable incidents of the battle was the work done by the Canadian supply column. Not a cartridge or shell was a second late in reaching the man behind the gun, and when the black fumes blew across a section of supply men and they fell, others rushed in and kept the fighting line replenished until the wind blew the fumes away.

"During the afternoon two aeroplanes—supposed to be British—marked and shaped exactly as the British aircraft are, flew over the German lines, and it was noticed that the German shells played all about them without effect. Then they would fly over the British lines and back again, but the German shells always fell far short of bringing them down. On their third visit the Canadian field battery let them have several shots. One aeroplane, badly damaged, volplained down into the German lines, and the other fled out of sight behind the German trenches."

Artillery in Action.

Describing the artillery fighting, the writer says: "As far as our glasses could carry, we could see the white bursts of shrapnel, the black bursts of the German giant guns, or the feathery floating clouds of anti-aircraft shells which broke in the reverberating dome of the sky, where both German and English aeroplanes soared. The old theory that shooting causes rain was disproved, for the sun shone brightly over the indescribable scene. The wind was so strong that the aeroplanes facing it made no headway, and standing into the wind in one place like kites, the British aeroplanes seemed as stationary as the top of the Eiffel tower, directing presumably the British gunfire.

"From behind our hill two British monoplanes soared so low over us that we could see their guns; they climbed into the sky to drive away a Taube biplane which was flying over the hill sidewise in the heavy wind. The Taube took to flight at a height so great that it looked like a dot in the sky even with our glasses turned on it. Soon the white puffs of the German anti-aircraft guns and the muddier white puffs of the British sky guns punctured the sky above and below the glittering dots which were the aeroplanes gleaming in the sunlight.

Peasants Plowing.

"Behind our hill were Belgian peasants plowing. Further behind them, in a meadow, we could see men playing football. I discovered later that some of the men in the match were to march five miles tonight and enter the trenches in the maelstrom of fire which we were beholding. I spoke to one of these men, who told me that he was one of those who had been the first to be sent to the war last August. The umpire impatiently called time while I talked to the goalkeeper.

"Tonight the glares of the battle illuminate the sky of Belgium for many miles. The tower of the Cloth hall at Ypres and two church steeples were visible in the rays of the evening sunset, but many fires were burning in the town, and my glimpse of the ruins of the Cloth hall tower may have been my last, for the German shells were falling about it incessantly."

POSITION OF THE JAPANESE WOMEN

Prizes Awarded for Proverbs on Ideals for Womanhood.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Tokio, April 5.—The growing interest in Japan in the woman question, which was enhanced by the participation of women as canvassers for their husbands in the recent election campaign, has been further manifested in a call for proverbs issued by a Tokio daily, the Yorodzu. The newspaper asked for epigrams on the topic, "What a Man Would Wish of His Wife," believing this one of the burning questions of the day when so much is said in Japan about the sphere of woman.

The journal concludes from the character of the many thousands of replies that the position of Japanese women is still that of "good wives and wise mothers" and of retiring, thrifty careers in home and kitchen.

On the other hand it expresses the opinion that as men desire women to remain in that sphere their own state must be inactive and narrow, making them unworthy, as undesirous, of a different kind of womenfolk. Hence the next contest will be: "Men as Seen by Women."

The prizes for proverbs on ideals for womanhood were as follows:

First prize—A good wife lays the foundation of a bronze statue.

Second prize—To buy gold rings is to hasten the selling of iron pans.

Third prize—Even Queen Victoria was a wife before her husband.

Soft cotton makes gunpowder.

The wife that complains of poverty is the maker of poverty.

Nature planted a beard on man and engraved dimples on woman.

Fourth prize—No wife is too good for her husband.

When the wife is gentle indoors, the husband can be firm out-of-doors.

Jealousy is like an injection needle—if it goes too far, harm ensues, while too little of it does no good.

Fifth prize—Your economy is a great by-product to increase the net income.

The home with an insincere wife is more precarious than a flying machine with an injured propeller.

One end of vanity passes into prison.

The heaviest load for the husband is the wife's vanity.

A cheery face is the best toilet.

Luxury is a bomb that destroys the home.

Wife out, creditors in.

Be the mother of a great man rather than the wife of a prime minister.

To talk happiness with an untrue wife is like admiring the moon with a blind man.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from Boyce drug store or any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

GREAT BRIDGE ACROSS EUPHRATES FINISHED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Rotterdam, May 4.—A Constantinople telegram announces that the German engineers have completed the great bridge across the Euphrates, near the railway station of Djerabulus on the Bagdad railway. The bridge is now open for traffic. It is understood that trains can now run through from Konia, the terminus of the Anatolian railway, to the Euphrates.

Djerabulus is on the Euphrates, northeast of Aleppo, on the border of the Mesopotamian desert. The terminus of the railway has been for several years at Bulgurlu, in Asia Minor, and the German engineers who have been constructing this section of the line have had the tremendous task of piercing the Taurus mountains with tunnels cut through the solid rock.

MANY OFFERS OF SKIN MADE TO ARMY MAN

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, May 6.—"Skin: Officer requires 4x3-inch piece of skin to cover wound and expedite his return to duty; opportunity for unselfish patriot."

This advertisement, which appeared this week in the personal column of The Times, brought answers and offers of skin from more than fifty volunteers within two days. The advertiser is an army man confined in a hospital because of an aviation accident.

WEST END CLEAN-UP TO BE CONTINUED

Billboards and All Forms of Rubbish Under Public Ban.

Great Improvement Shown in Western Part of the City.

The present clean-up campaign being carried on in the West end will be carried to the point of beautification of the entire district and will include the abolishment, if possible, of the billboards, which line some of the principal streets in this end of the city. A petition is to be started among the school children having part in the campaign which will probably be universally signed in the West end, and will be forwarded to the city commissioners asking them to order the billboards removed.

The billboards are said to be very conspicuous on some parts of Superior street and Piedmont avenue, as well as on vacant lots on some of the other streets. Back of these the campaigners for a clean district claim that they have found heaps of dirt and rubbish that have caused considerable trouble.

"The billboards must come down, if we want our district thoroughly beautified," said a member of the West End Beautifying club of the Adams school yesterday. "Our district has probably more billboards than any other part of the city. Back of these boards we have found heaps of rubbish. It seems that the residents of the vicinity find the place back of the boards a good place for disposing of cans, rubbish and other stuff that is thrown out of the houses. The sooner they are disposed of the easier the clean-up of the district will be accomplished."

Since the clean-up campaign started among the children of the schools in this end of the city, there has been a great improvement in the looks of the district, according to Capt. K. A. Franklin, who has charge of the squads. Reports are being received of the work of the children every day. The five captains have the work well in hand and inspect the entire district at least once every week.

NO ALUM IN ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ALL SURE TO WIN BUT STILL WORK

Girls in May Queen Contest Busy; Ballot Boxes Nearly Filled to Capacity and Have Days to Go Yet.

Each confident of winning the prize offered by the merchants of the West end and being crowned "May Queen" at the festival to be held a week from tonight, the seven young women who have entered the contest are working hard to get their friends to vote for them. The final vote must be cast before 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

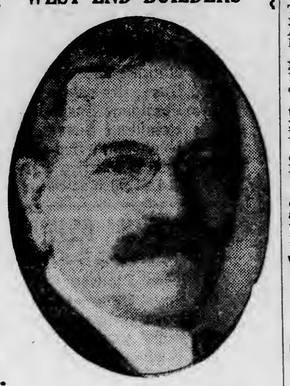
The standing of the contestants is impossible to tell. Each claims to know of thousands of votes that have already been deposited for them in the ballot boxes at the drug stores of the West end. Some of these boxes now are almost filled to capacity.

"I had my fortune told this morning," said Miss Alice Mattson yesterday afternoon. "The fortune teller told me I was going to be successful in some venture that I had just enered upon and that has given me more confidence than anything else. I have visited all of the stores and everybody I have met has promised to assist me to win."

Similar confidence is expressed by Miss Linda Olson, Miss Goodny Nellson, Miss Inga Brende, Miss Anna Olson, Miss Ruth Peterson and Miss Edith Olson.

The committee of business men appointed to count the votes will begin work Wednesday morning. It is expected that it will take at least two days to count all of the votes. Each vote represents a 25-cent purchase made in some store of the West end and the business men say that business has never been as brisk as during the past week or since the opening of the campaign.

WEST END BUILDERS



JOHN J. MOE.

Probably no other man in the West end has worked so hard to make this end of the city an ideal spot in which to live, as well as a live business center, as has John J. Moe. For nearly a quarter of a century Mr. Moe has been a consistent booster for the upbuilding of the West end morally and commercially.

Mr. Moe has taken a lively interest in the work of the West End Commercial club and the recent activities of the business men. Every public movement in the West end finds him working actively in its interest:

Mr. Moe was alderman from the Seventh ward during several terms under the old form of government. He has also served the city for a number of years as a member of its school board. His activities are not only confined to the work of this end of the city, but Duluth at large. Until recently he was president of the Duluth Retail Merchants' association.

In addition to his activities as a public spirited citizen, Mr. Moe has found time to build up one of the largest retail establishments in the city.

D. P. MARKEY AGAIN HEADS MACCABEES OF THE WORLD

D. P. MARKEY.

San Francisco, May 20.—Delegates to the Knights of the Maccabees of the World and other members of that organization who are here attending the annual session of the order, were guests yesterday at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Election of officers and adoption of a plan to raise a million dollars for the aid of orphans and aged members of the order occupied the attention of the convention. It was proposed that each of the 335,000 members voluntarily contribute $1 and all new members donate $1 as a nucleus of the fund.

The following officers were elected: Supreme commander, D. P. Markey, Detroit; lieutenant commander, S. W. Hall, San Francisco; supreme record-keeper, L. E. Sisler, Detroit; chaplain, A. W. Fry, Chatham, Pa.; master-at-arms, George S. Starrett, Columbus; sentinel, M. J. Bulger, New Orleans.

WEST END

CLEAN-UP TO BE CONTINUED

Billboards and All Forms of Rubbish Under Public Ban.

Great Improvement Shown in Western Part of the City.

The present clean-up campaign being carried on in the West end will be carried to the point of beautification of the entire district and will include the abolishment, if possible, of the billboards, which line some of the principal streets in this end of the city. A petition is to be started among the school children having part in the campaign which will probably be universally signed in the West end, and will be forwarded to the city commissioners asking them to order the billboards removed.

The billboards are said to be very conspicuous on some parts of Superior street and Piedmont avenue, as well as on vacant lots on some of the other streets. Back of these the campaigners for a clean district claim that they have found heaps of dirt and rubbish that have caused considerable trouble.

"The billboards must come down, if we want our district thoroughly beautified," said a member of the West End Beautifying club of the Adams school yesterday. "Our district has probably more billboards than any other part of the city. Back of these boards we have found heaps of rubbish. It seems that the residents of the vicinity find the place back of the boards a good place for disposing of cans, rubbish and other stuff that is thrown out of the houses. The sooner they are disposed of the easier the clean-up of the district will be accomplished."

Since the clean-up campaign started among the children of the schools in this end of the city, there has been a great improvement in the looks of the district, according to Capt. K. A. Franklin, who has charge of the squads. Reports are being received of the work of the children every day. The five captains have the work well in hand and inspect the entire district at least once every week.

NO ALUM IN ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ALL SURE TO WIN BUT STILL WORK

Girls in May Queen Contest Busy; Ballot Boxes Nearly Filled to Capacity and Have Days to Go Yet.

Each confident of winning the prize offered by the merchants of the West end and being crowned "May Queen" at the festival to be held a week from tonight, the seven young women who have entered the contest are working hard to get their friends to vote for them. The final vote must be cast before 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

The standing of the contestants is impossible to tell. Each claims to know of thousands of votes that have already been deposited for them in the ballot boxes at the drug stores of the West end. Some of these boxes now are almost filled to capacity.

"I had my fortune told this morning," said Miss Alice Mattson yesterday afternoon. "The fortune teller told me I was going to be successful in some venture that I had just entered upon and that has given me more confidence than anything else. I have visited all of the stores and everybody I have met has promised to assist me to win."

Similar confidence is expressed by Miss Linda Olson, Miss Goodny Nellson, Miss Inga Brende, Miss Anna Olson, Miss Ruth Peterson and Miss Edith Olson.

The committee of business men appointed to count the votes will begin work Wednesday morning. It is expected that it will take at least two days to count all of the votes. Each vote represents a 25-cent purchase made in some store of the West end and the business men say that business has never been as brisk as during the past week or since the opening of the campaign.

WEST END BUILDERS

JOHN J. MOE.

Probably no other man in the West end has worked so hard to make this end of the city an ideal spot in which to live, as well as a live business center, as has John J. Moe. For nearly a quarter of a century Mr. Moe has been a consistent booster for the upbuilding of the West end morally and commercially.

Mr. Moe has taken a lively interest in the work of the West End Commercial club and the recent activities of the business men. Every public movement in the West end finds him working actively in its interest.

Mr. Moe was alderman from the Seventh ward during several terms under the old form of government. He has also served the city for a number of years as a member of its school board. His activities are not only confined to the work of this end of the city, but Duluth at large. Until recently he was president of the Duluth Retail Merchants' association.

In addition to his activities as a public spirited citizen, Mr. Moe has found time to build up one of the largest retail establishments in the city.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

"BROTHER'S KEEPER" SLASHED IN FIGHT

Two Try to Correct Relative's Morals With Disastrous Results.

Two brothers, trying to regulate the conduct of a third, started a fight last night which landed both of them in jail, and during the "correction" one was badly slashed about the hands. The third brother, whose conduct was being questioned, is in St. Mary's hospital.

Several days ago William Sweitzer, 466 Mesaba avenue, charged his brother Frank with living with a woman who was the wife of a Minneapolis man, and was told that if he didn't "shut up" there would be trouble.

The promised "trouble" started at the Sweitzer home last night when Frank is said to have attacked William with a knife. In the struggle William's left hand was badly cut, while Frank received severe body cuts.

A third brother, Albert, interfered when Patrolman Danielson tried to take the two combatants to headquarters. After a tussle with William, the officer released his hold to devote his attention to Albert, and placed the third man under arrest.

William escaped while Albert was scuffling with the patrolman, but was recaptured about twenty minutes later at his home.

After hospital attendants had examined Frank's injuries, they declared slashes across the face and about the body would keep him confined for several days, but that his wounds would not prove serious unless complications set in. He was unable to swear out a warrant charging his brother William with assault, and until he does, William, nursing a badly cut hand, will stay in jail.

Albert was arraigned before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting this morning on a charge of resisting an officer, and a stay of three months for sentence was granted by the court.

TO CUT OFF STATE AID

killing two bills of considerable political significance, which had administration backing.

One by Senator Ackley was aimed at independent nomination and required a candidate to give notice of ten days ahead of the primary that if defeated he proposed to run independently. The other by Senator Hanson, would have repealed the law for a campaign pamphlet under which for four years past, candidates for state and legislative offices have advertised themselves in a publication issued by the state and sent to all voters.

The Ackley bill was passed a week ago, but today was reconsidered and killed.

After amending it to require existing liquor licenses to be secured by transfer in order to prevent the maximum number from being exceeded the senate engrossed the Stevens bill permitting hotels to hold licenses which were denied them under the supreme court's decision interpreting the Baker law.

The assembly passed the Budlong bill giving railroad telegraphers and station agents one day's rest in seven and killed a bill by the same author allowing exemption from taxation of homesteads to the value of $1,200 each owned by veterans of American wars.

The assembly killed by a vote of 49 to 29 the Grell bill giving a locality the power to suspend the Sunday saloon closing law.

METHODS OF CHAIRMAN OBJECTED TO BY OTHER COMMISSION MEMBERS

dressed, and I therefore desire to give to this commission my opinion on these matters in the form of a written statement, which will be unequivocal and admit of no misunderstanding or misinterpretation.

Justice Above Suspicion.

"As already expressed, my opinion is that justice should be so administered as to be above suspicion and if in any material particular the trial of Mr. Lawson has been wanting in this respect, I, for one, should desire to see the supreme court of Colorado, to which the appeal has been taken, carefully consider every ground that may be urged and grant a new trial should any material ground be sustained.

"I have no more right than any other citizen in this country to attempt to interfere with or influence the courts of justice, and questions which are so framed as to seek to put me in the position of appearing to concede that there has been wilfull tampering with the courts or of stating what I am prepared to do to influence the future course of justice, either as respects Mr. Lawson or any other person, I cannot regard as other than improper questions and a direct reflection upon those who are charged with the administration of justice. To sinister reflections of this kind I must decline to be a party even by inference."

Should State Fact.

When Mr. Rockefeller concluded, Chairman Walsh said:

"If there are any questions I ask, that you think should not be answered, you should state the fact and the commission will consider what should be done. I suppose your high regard for law extends to all officers charged with administration of the law?"

"Yes, it does," said Mr. Rockefeller.

"You haven't a contempt for officers of the law, who do not do your bidding?"

"I don't undertake to disect the officers of the law."

Chairman Walsh then read a letter written to Mr. Rockefeller by L. M. Bowers, former superintendent of the executive department of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company on Nov. 18, 1913, which included the following:

"You will be interested to know that we have been able to secure the cooperation of all the bankers of the city, who have had three or four interviews with our little cowboy governor, agreeing to lend the state the funds necessary to maintain the militia and afford ample protection so that our miners could return to work, or give protection to men who are anxious to come here from other states.

Urged Governor to Act.

"Besides the bankers, the chamber of commerce, the real estate exchange, together with a great many of the best business men, have been urging the governor to take steps to drive these vicious agitators out of the state. Another mighty power has been rounded up by the gathering together of fourteen of the editors of the most important newspapers of Denver, Pueblo, Trinidad, Walsenburg, Colorado Springs and other cities.

"Still the governor hobnobs with Hayes, Lawson, McLennan and the rest of the gang and either refuses or begs for more time to bring the strike to an end. Yet we are making a little headway.

"There probably has never been such pressure brought to bear upon any governor of this state by the strongest men in it as has been brought to bear upon Governor Ammons."

Commissioner Walsh also called Mr. Rockefeller's attention to another letter written to him by Bowers on Dec. 22, 1913, in which the latter said:

Strike Would Have Been Short.

"If the governor had acted on Sept. 23 as he has been forced to act during the last few weeks, this strike never would have existed ten days.

"We used every possible weapon to drive him into action, but he was glove-in-hand with the labor leaders and is today, but the big men of affairs have helped operators in whipping the agitators, including the governor. Everybody is giving him more or less taffy to keep him from backsliding. The enclosed is a sample of the resolutions being sent to him, besides any number of personal letters."

"Do these letters show your policy?" asked Chairman Walsh.

"I did not write them, so they can scarcely be said to show my policy," returned Mr. Rockefeller.

"I propose to call your attention to six letters written by you, in which you say that you back up these actions by Mr. Bowers."

"The letters mean," returned Mr. Rockefeller, "that there was disorder in Colorado. Naturally every citizen would use every influence to get the public officers to do their duty."

Had to "Back Up" Men.

He declared emphatically that it was absolutely necessary for him to "back up" the men placed in charge of the coal properties.

Several times he objected to form and nature of the chairman's questions.

Despite protests led by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Chairman Walsh evidently was not inclined to reduce his vigorous attitude and repeatedly plied Mr. Rockefeller with questions which the latter declared improper. Once Mr. Walsh and Mr. Rockefeller parried hotly with questions and answers, Walsh demanding "yes or no," explaining, however, that the witness could develop his answer.

"But you said I must say yes or no and stop there," declared Mr. Rockefeller. "I sat there yesterday all day and heard a witness who was permitted to answer questions at any length he desired and I demand the same right."

Situation Relieved.

When Mr. Walsh agreed that Mr. Rockefeller could answer questions as he wished, the tense situation appeared to be relieved.

"Wasn't it a fact," asked Chairman Walsh, "that the price of coal was raised during the strike and that it was prohibitive to the poor?"

"I didn't know what the price of coal was and had knowledge only of our own coal, not about that of other producers."

"Do you know that Attorney General Farrar of Colorado went to the governor and asked him for the use of the militia to install strike breakers in your mines?"

"I knew nothing of it," said Mr. Rockefeller.

"Did your company cheat the coal miners in weights?"

"Never to my knowledge."

"Did the companies with which you combined cheat their men?"

"We never combined with any other companies," said Mr. Rockefeller.

"Your father paid $6,000 for sending out alleged facts for the coal operators of Colorado?"

"Yes, but it was understood the money was to be paid back by the operators."

Mr. Walsh read a letter by Bowers, saying "One or two of the competitive companies were cheating their miners through false weights."

Mr. Rockefeller said that he knew nothing of that.

LORD KITCHENER, ONCE IDOL OF THE BRITISH, NOW CONDEMNED

explosive shell was required, Lord Kitchener persisted in sending shrapnel such as was used against the Boers, thus causing the deaths of thousands of British soldiers and incidentally bringing about the cabinet crisis."

After lauding the military strategic skill of Sir John French and his chief of staff, Sir William Robertson, the Daily Mail adds: "If by any chance Kitchener went to France to conduct the campaign we would probably have a costly object lesson in the difference between African and European warfare. It is to be hoped that Kitchener with proper and necessary assistance will remain at the war office, though when the inevitable compulsory service comes his sphere of usefulness will be greatly diminished."

Same Excuse.

Other newspapers in a less outspoken manner seek to reduce Lord Kitchener's value to that of a good recruiting officer, or they may excuse him on the ground of being too much occupied in producing recruiting advertisements to attend to the supply of proper ammunition.

The Times in an editorial says:

"Our armies in the field require reinforcements and shells of the right kind. Neither has been provided in adequate quantities for the simple reason that Lord Kitchener's orders were given too late. Plain warnings were disregarded and the nation was lulled into a false security by misleading official reports with the result that thousands of British lives were sacrificed in an unequal contest.

"The nation will not allow that situation to recur. It must be set right and be set right quickly, or the consequences will be swift and startling. The whole trouble arose because Lord Kitchener assumed a burden to which no man could have proved equal."

Urges Change.

The Times then forcibly urges that the business of supplying army shells and other necessaries of war be given into other hands.

While some newspapers are thus almost calling for Lord Kitchener's retirement, other organs like the Morning Post and Daily News protest that a "dead set" has been made against him. The Morning Post says:

"The new government will not likely be so foolish as to throw over the man whose presence has held the confidence of the nation and of our fighting forces since the beginning of the war, but will rather seek to support and co-operate with Lord Kitchener and take from his overburdened shoulders the secondary work of reorganizing the country's industrial resources so as to supply the army with adequate supplies and munitions."

The Daily News in an editorial protests in the strongest language against what it terms a press campaign against Lord Kitchener, "organized of some of the newspapers who at the beginning of the war forced him upon the country."

ITALY'S WAR MEASURES NOW BEFORE SENATE

German ambassador, wired today to servants awaiting him at Chiasso that he had "postponed his return for a day or two."

There are about 20,000 Italians of military age in Germany, and it is said the authorities of the latter country are placing every obstacle in the way of their return to Italy. Hundreds are being stopped every day on the slightest pretext at Basel on the frontier.

The Swiss government is taking every step possible to maintain its neutrality.

A general mobilization is expected the day Italy enters the war.

Full Powers to Government.

Rome, via Paris, May 21.—The chamber of deputies has adopted the bill conferring full powers on the government. The vote was 407 against 74. One member abstained from voting.

The bill passed amid tremendous enthusiasm.

Call Italy Traitor.

Berlin, May 21, via London.—The morning papers publish long reports of the meeting yesterday of the Italian chamber of deputies. Few make editorial comment but those which discuss the situation take a resolute but unexcited attitude. The most prominent feeling expressed is revulsion at what is regarded as Italy's treachery in turning on a former ally.

GERMAN LOSS IS ENORMOUS

p. m.—The war office made the following statement today:

"Western theater of war: North of Ypres colored French troops attacked our positions east of the canal during the night. The battle continues.

"An attack by the British south of Neuve Chapelle broke down under our fire. We shot down an enemy flying machine at Fresnoy.

"A further attack, begun yesterday by the French in the forest of Ailly, failed.

"Eastern theater of war: In the region of Shavli there were only minor engagements. On the Dubysa our attacks east of Kodubh reached Besiagola and gave us another 1,500 prisoners. East of Miloszajcie and Zemigola the Russians were driven back across the river. Further south the battle has come to a standstill.

"Southeastern theater of war: The situation is unchanged.

"Since the first of May 104,000 prisoners, seventy-two cannon and 253 machine guns have been captured by the army under Gen. Mackensen and the other German troops fighting in the Austro-Hungarian army."

French Statement.

Paris, May 21, 2:37 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon issued this statement:

"To the north of Ypres and to the east of the Yser canal, the enemy last night attacked our trenches. He gained a footing, but an immediate counter-attack resulted in his complete expulsion and we gained ground.

"Further to the south British troops made some progress at a point north of La Bassee.

"Nothing else has been reported."

Compels All Impurities To Abandon System

Blood Troubles Can not Remain If Properly Treated.

There is in S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, a property that absolutely compels harmful influences to disintegrate and lose their identity. No matter what they are called nor how destructive they are there is in S. S. S. a powerful, searching counter influence to annihilate the most eruptive germ, causes the mucous linings to convert it into an inert substance that is quickly thrown out of the blood and out of the body by the skin, lungs, kidneys, bowels, and destroyed in the liver. There is not a single advance in medicine today that in any sense is an improvement over S. S. S. Surgery is a wonderful, masterful science, but when it comes to purifying the blood S. S. S. stands alone. Thousands of doctors have prescribed it. Their patients do not always know it is S. S. S., because they leave the treatment to the doctor implicitly. But fair-minded doctors long ago realized that in the vegetable nature of S. S. S. were certain ingredients that to the blood in sickness were just as essential as the flesh-building elements of the grains, meats, fats and sugars of our daily food. The average doctor is humane and of trained intelligence. He has seen the recoveries from worst cases of blood trouble by the use of S. S. S. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist. Accept no substitute. And if you wish proper advice on any form of blood trouble, write to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 102 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is worth while doing so.

NO MORE CONVICTS TO WORK AS SERVANTS

Montgomery, Ala, May 21.—The practice of detailing convicts as servants in the homes of Alabama state officials and laborers at the capitol and other state institutions was abolished by an executive order today by Governor Henderson. The order which declares the practice illegal will return about seventy-five convicts, mostly negro women, to the penitentiary and state convict farm.

HIBBING CHILDREN IN MEMORIAL PARADE

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two thousand school children will lead the Memorial day parade here May 31, according to plans of Superintendent of Schools C. C. Alexander. The line of march will begin at the village hall at 10 o'clock in the morning and will extend to the cemetery, where Company M will conduct military exercises over the graves of dead soldiers.

HIBBING DAMAGE CASE'S THIRD TRIAL

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Abel Laitinen, a local musician, has been granted a third trial in his fight for damages against the Great Northern Railway company for injuries alleged to have been received in an automobile wreck.

The case has been threshed out before two district court juries and each fixed Laitinen's damages at $1.

Laitinen declares that he was run down by a Great Northern train between Alice and Hibbing, Sept. 28, 1913. The machine was wrecked. Laitinen states that he was thrown several feet and fell upon his head. In his petition for $10,550 damages, Laitinen maintains that one side of his face is paralyzed and that he cannot follow his profession as a musician.

WOMAN ALLEGES DRINK WAS ILLEGALLY SOLD

Virginia, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Forti, a Chestnut street saloon keeper, is to have a hearing before Judge Carey in municipal court this afternoon on the charge of selling drink last Sunday. Mrs. Sarah Trueman makes the complaint alleging that while looking from her window last Sunday she saw men enter and leave the saloon and that she gave a man 25 cents to purchase a bottle of beer, and he brought it to her. She then made complaint and swore out a warrant.

CHISHOLM MAN HAS SUED THE WOODMEN

Virginia, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Modern Woodmen of America, through their head camp at Rock Island, Ill., are made defendants in a suit for $1,000 filed in the district court by Matt Kayfist of Chisholm, who seeks to collect the life insurance policy of his deceased brother, Blas Kayfist, who died as the result of injury at Buhl, April 10, 1914.

Blas Kayfist was a member of the camp at Chisholm.

Help the Stomach Digest Your Food

When the stomach fails to digest and distribute that which is eaten, the bowels become clogged with a mass of waste and refuse that ferments and generates poisons that are gradually forced into the blood, causing distress and often serious illness.

Most people naturally object to the drastic cathartic and purgative agents that shock the system. A mild, gentle laxative, positive in its effect and that will quickly relieve constipation is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. It does not gripe or cramp, but acts easily and pleasantly and is therefore the most satisfactory remedy for children, women and elderly persons. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

GILBERT NOTES.

Gilbert, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The last literary program of the Gilbert High School Literary society was held Thursday afternoon at the high school auditorium. The president, Gertrude Rubenstine, and the secretary, Dewey Rutherford, presided. This society has had a very successful year.

The Norwegian Ladies' Aid of Eveleth held their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Olson at the Gilbert location. A large number was present. Luncheon was served.

G. T. Turner, pastor of the Presbyterian church, left for Duluth to attend the World's Presbytery conference, held at Duluth during the week.

Sunday, A. Bell, range superintendent of Presbyterian missions, assisted by Rev. T. San Tella, Italian range minister of Hibbing, will conduct the services at the Presbyterian church.

Gilbert Child Burned.

Gilbert, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Aili Jarvanen, the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvanen, who died Tuesday afternoon at the Moore hospital, was held from the Finnish church Thursday afternoon. Interment was made at the Gilbert cemetery.

Loses Leg Boarding Train.

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—While attempting to board an ore train bound for Duluth two miles south of Hibbing, John Anderson, age 23, fell under the wheels. One leg was cut off. He was taken to the Rood hospital here. Anderson had been working at a mine here. He is not married. His injuries may prove fatal.

Chisholm Woman Sues.

Virginia, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Fannie Halcher, wife of a Chisholm miner, has started suit against Richard Hodge, mining captain, employed by the Shenango Furnace company at Chisholm, for $3,000 for alleged assault. The case will come up at the next court term at Hibbing.

Mother Dies in Russia.

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph Learner, manager of the Empress theater, has received the news of the death of his mother in Slovechnu, Russia. She died March 13 and the letter telling of the death has been over two months in reaching Mr. Learner.

Chisholm K. P. Memorial.

Chisholm, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Memorial services will be held at the M. E. church by the Knights of Pythias, June 6, when services suitable to the memory of the brothers will be conducted by Rev. E. F. Stidd.

Eveleth Church Services.

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. F. J. Barrackmann of Duluth will hold services Sunday morning at the usual hour at the Presbyterian church in this city, supplying for Rev. Phillip A. Schwarz, who is in the East.

Momentous Future In Woman's Mind

The expectant mother revolves in her mind all we understand by destiny. And it is of the utmost importance that her physical comfort be our first thought. There is a most splendid remedy for this purpose, known as "Mother's Friend." It is applied over the muscles of the stomach, gently rubbed in, and at once penetrates to relieve all strain on nerves, cords, ligaments and all parts involved. It makes the muscles so pliant that they expand naturally. And at the same time they are invigorated by the absence of harassing pains so apt to distress the mind. Whatever will add to the comfort of the expectant mother is a great and helpful influence since a calm and peaceful period must have a wonderfully beneficial impress upon the coming child. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" of any druggist and you will realize why so many women declare it to be the most helpful remedy they know of. Write today to Bradfield Regulator Co., 402 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a splendid book of great interest and value to every expectant mother.

GERMAN SHAKESPEARE SOCIETY HAS MEETING

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Amsterdam, May 5.—The German Shakespeare society held its usual annual meeting at Weimar on the last Sunday in April, but only eight delegates were present.

A committee was appointed to prepare for the celebration next year of the tercentenary of the poet's death, and resolutions were passed avowing that Shakespeare belonged to Germany as much as to Great Britain.

The society voted a subscription of $1,500 to the German war loan.

Invented Safety Device; Killed.

Paris, via London, May 21.—Albert Moreau, a French aviator, has been killed by a fall of his aeroplane at Melun. Moreau was the inventor of a safety device to prevent the capsizing of aeroplanes. In 1913 he won the Bonnet prize with a self-righting aircraft, which he drove without touching the levers.

VEGETABLES ARE CHEAPER

Variety and Supplies of Greenstuffs Good; Prices Working Lower.

Strawberries Feature in Fruits; Butter Market Is Slightly Easier.

Increased variety and generally lower prices in green vegetables is the feature in the produce market today. With home-grown stuff beginning to make its appearance to a greater extent, a gradual lowering in vegetable prices will follow as a natural sequence.

The potato market is fine, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company and the Culbertson Bros. company. Choice Minnesota stock is now offering at 55 cents a bushel. As supplies in this territory are being steadily worked down and new Southern tubers will not make their appearance for some time yet, a higher range in them is predicted by dealers in the near future.

Florida tomatoes are being received more freely and their prices are slightly lower. A further decline is likely soon. Florida celery is offering in good quality, taking the place of the California vegetable, in which the season is now over. Minnesota onions are now off the list, but supplies are coming freely from Texas and are quoted on a reasonable price basis.

Strawberries Abundant.

The headliner in fruits is strawberries. Berries now coming to hand from Missouri and Tennessee, are pronounced exceptionally choice, and they have commanded a heavy sale during the last week. Prices are lower and a further drop is looked for next week.

Quotations in oranges are firm, and no change is expected till Valencias make their appearance in about three weeks. Figures in lemons are now thought to have struck their peak. Supplies in the south are reported good, and their marketing on a more extended scale will be due shortly. The first car of Cuban pineapples was received at Duluth this week. Dealers say that prices in them will not be much lower this season. Box Ben Davis apples are still in good supply and their quality is pronounced exceptionally good for so late in the season.

Butter Market Lower.

A slightly easier market in butter will be appreciated by consumers. Creamery is quoted 1 cent off today at 28@30 cents a pound. Though the make of the creameries is increasing steadily, the market in butter is not expected to work down to any extent for some time yet. A strong Eastern demand is reported by the Bridgeman-Russell company, and the Victor Produce company. That the trade at this point with dealers in the East is developing rapidly is shown in the fact that the steamers equipped with refrigerator facilities are now taking down capacity loads to Buffalo. A gratifying development in shipments of perishables from here to Buffalo has taken place since the service went into effect last June.

Though receipts of eggs are increasing, their market is firm at 19@21 cents a dozen. Demand is proving sufficient to keep supplies well cleaned up, and some eggs are still going into storage.

Meats Going Up.

Meats are working higher, advance of ½ to 1 cent a pound showing through the list. Packers aver that receipts of livestock have fallen off at packing points, and a better export inquiry is now being met with. American packers have recently taken large orders from France and England.

Trade in poultry is light at present. Storage poultry supplies are nearly exhausted, and receipts of live birds are small.

TROYER IS CONFIRMED.

Former Duluth Officer Now Head of Fargo Police.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—Chauncey H. Troyer, former Duluth chief of police, has been confirmed by the city commission as Fargo chief and taken charge of his new duties. Police Commissioner Dahl introduced the motion for the acceptance of the appointment and it was confirmed without a dissenting vote.

A proposed ordinance, raising the salary of the chief of police from $1,500 per annum to $2,000 per annum, received the first reading and the measure will be taken up and given further consideration at some future meeting. The measure will be taken as an amendment to the original ordinance.

RAILROAD NOTES ARE EXTENDED BY GOULDS

New York, May 21.—After numerous conferences, proposals and counter proposals, it was learned yesterday that the estate of Jay Gould, which holds about $6,000,000 of the Missouri-Pacific railway notes, expiring June 1, had agreed to extend payment for another year. The agreement, it was said, was based upon certain conditions which were not disclosed, but were of a nature to prove acceptable to other noteholders. Bankers representing the Goulds as well as other financiers, acting for the new dominant interests in Missouri-Pacific, made statements to the effect that a very large majority of the notes would be deposited, thus averting receivership. Under these conditions, an amicable reorganization of the road is probable.

MANY AFFECTED WITH HOOKWORM

Alarming Condition of Population of the Republic of Panama.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Panama, May 1.—The cabled report that 60 per cent of the population of the republic of Panama had been found affected with the hookworm disease by Dr. L. W. Hackett of the International health commission of the Rockefeller foundation, is interesting in other respects. The report indicates that of the adult population 67 per cent are affected, while of the children practically 79 per cent have the disease in a more or less pronounced degree.

The report of Dr. Hackett is the result of more than seven months' investigation in all parts of the country. Ten thousand adults came under direct examination.

"Routine examination of the blood," says the report, "showed that a large majority of persons living in the interior of the republic are directly anemic, the average blood being 50 per cent of normal, indicating a dangerous degree of lowered resistance. Since the parasite affects the children most heavily, stunting their bodies and minds and causing them to fall an easy prey to other diseases, the figures reveal an alarming condition existing among the rising generation. This state of physical debility is due to the complete absence of all sanitary equipment and regulation in both schoolhouses and dwellings in the interior."

The report shows that more than 3,000 homes were visited and instructive talks given to nearly 12,000 persons. Lectures were given in thirty-three schools. Three laboratories are now working in various parts of the republic.

SUCCESSFUL ORATORS IN PEACE CONTEST

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 21.—Orators from the Atlantic seaboard won first and second prizes last night in the ninth national contest of the intercollegiate peace association. There were six contestants representing every section of the country and chosen by three elimination contests, held successively in college, state and groups of states. Their orations were judged the best of about 400 representing twenty-four states.

The final prizes awarded after a speaking contest before the members of the conference on international arbitration were distributed as follows:

First, $100, Frederick Wennerberg, Boston college; second, $80, Wilford Bocher, University of West Virginia; third, $70, Nearle Pinney, University of Michigan; fourth, $60, Roy Paynter, Washburn college, Topeka; fifth, $50, W. W. Isles, University of Oklahoma; sixth, $40, Clarence J. Young, Reed college, Portland, Or.

The conference on international arbitration tonight heard the views of John S. Ewart of Toronto regarding the possibilities of international cooperation in avoiding occasions for war.

TWO SOLDIERS DIE IN MIMIC TRENCH WARFARE

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, May 6.—Two soldiers are reported dead in the military camp at Colchester, a few miles from London, as a result of inhaling poisonous gases while engaged in mimic trench warfare. It is said that experiments were being conducted for the purpose of developing means to counteract the gases alleged to have been used by the German troops in Flanders.

A sapper who had gone into a gas-filled trench was overcome and several others went in search of him also succumbed. The sapper, a private named Williams, and the commander of the squad, Lieut. Darton, died before fresh men succeeded in getting the party into the open air.

He ate and drank always wholesome food and barley malt in moderation and was rewarded thereby with health and a hale old age, dying at 87. In the first Congress, 1789, in the exigency of raising revenue to pay for the war and the cost of government, Madison moved to fix a duty on malt liquors at 8 cents expressing the opinion that this rate "would be such encouragement as to induce the manufacture (of such mild malt beverages) to take deep roots in every state of the Union."

Note:—Roger Bevery described the manner of manufacturing beer in Virginia, Madison's native state, as follows: "The richer sort generally brewed their small beer from malt which they had from England. The poorer sort with Indian corn malted by drying in a stove." Arnold's "Origin and History of Beer and Brewing."

GERMAN SHAKESPEARE SOCIETY HAS MEETING

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Amsterdam, May 5.—The German Shakespeare society held its usual annual meeting at Weimar on the last Sunday in April, but only eight delegates were present.

A committee was appointed to prepare for the celebration next year of the tercentenary of the poet's death, and resolutions were passed avowing that Shakespeare belonged to Germany as much as to Great Britain.

The society voted a subscription of $1,500 to the German war loan.

Invented Safety Device; Killed.

Paris, via London, May 21.—Albert Moreau, a French aviator, has been killed by a fall of his aeroplane at Melun. Moreau was the inventor of a safety device to prevent the capsizing of aeroplanes. In 1913 he won the Bonnet prize with a self-righting aircraft, which he drove without touching the levers.

VEGETABLES ARE CHEAPER

Variety and Supplies of Greenstuffs Good; Prices Working Lower.

Strawberries Feature in Fruits; Butter Market Is Slightly Easier.

Increased variety and generally lower prices in green vegetables is the feature in the produce market today. With home-grown stuff beginning to make its appearance to a greater extent, a gradual lowering in vegetable prices will follow as a natural sequence.

The potato market is fine, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company and the Culbertson Bros. company. Choice Minnesota stock is now offering at 55 cents a bushel. As supplies in this territory are being steadily worked down and new Southern tubers will not make their appearance for some time yet, a higher range in them is predicted by dealers in the near future.

Florida tomatoes are being received more freely and their prices are slightly lower. A further decline is likely soon. Florida celery is offering in good quality, taking the place of the California vegetable, in which the season is now over. Minnesota onions are now off the list, but supplies are coming freely from Texas and are quoted on a reasonable price basis.

Strawberries Abundant.

The headliner in fruits is strawberries. Berries now coming to hand from Missouri and Tennessee, are pronounced exceptionally choice, and they have commanded a heavy sale during the last week. Prices are lower and a further drop is looked for next week.

Quotations in oranges are firm, and no change is expected till Valencias make their appearance in about three weeks. Figures in lemons are now thought to have struck their peak. Supplies in the south are reported good, and their marketing on a more extended scale will be due shortly. The first car of Cuban pineapples was received at Duluth this week. Dealers say that prices in them will not be much lower this season. Box Ben Davis apples are still in good supply and their quality is pronounced exceptionally good for so late in the season.

Butter Market Lower.

A slightly easier market in butter will be appreciated by consumers. Creamery is quoted 1 cent off today at 28@30 cents a pound. Though the make of the creameries is increasing steadily, the market in butter is not expected to work down to any extent for some time yet. A strong Eastern demand is reported by the Bridgeman-Russell company, and the Victor Produce company. That the trade at this point with dealers in the East is developing rapidly is shown in the fact that the steamers equipped with refrigerator facilities are now taking down capacity loads to Buffalo. A gratifying development in shipments of perishables from here to Buffalo has taken place since the service went into effect last June.

Though receipts of eggs are increasing, their market is firm at 19@21 cents a dozen. Demand is proving sufficient to keep supplies well cleaned up, and some eggs are still going into storage.

Meats Going Up.

Meats are working higher, advance of ½ to 1 cent a pound showing through the list. Packers aver that receipts of livestock have fallen off at packing points, and a better export inquiry is now being met with. American packers have recently taken large orders from France and England.

Trade in poultry is light at present. Storage poultry supplies are nearly exhausted, and receipts of live birds are small.

TROYER IS CONFIRMED.

Former Duluth Officer Now Head of Fargo Police.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—Chauncey H. Troyer, former Duluth chief of police, has been confirmed by the city commission as Fargo chief and taken charge of his new duties. Police Commissioner Dahl introduced the motion for the acceptance of the appointment and it was confirmed without a dissenting vote.

A proposed ordinance, raising the salary of the chief of police from $1,500 per annum to $2,000 per annum, received the first reading and the measure will be taken up and given further consideration at some future meeting. The measure will be taken as an amendment to the original ordinance.

RAILROAD NOTES ARE EXTENDED BY GOULDS

New York, May 21.—After numerous conferences, proposals and counter proposals, it was learned yesterday that the estate of Jay Gould, which holds about $6,000,000 of the Missouri-Pacific railway notes, expiring June 1, had agreed to extend payment for another year. The agreement, it was said, was based upon certain conditions which were not disclosed, but were of a nature to prove acceptable to other noteholders. Bankers representing the Goulds as well as other financiers, acting for the new dominant interests in Missouri-Pacific, made statements to the effect that a very large majority of the notes would be deposited, thus averting receivership. Under these conditions, an amicable reorganization of the road is probable.

MANY AFFECTED WITH HOOKWORM

Alarming Condition of Population of the Republic of Panama.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Panama, May 1.—The cabled report that 60 per cent of the population of the republic of Panama had been found affected with the hookworm disease by Dr. L. W. Hackett of the International health commission of the Rockefeller foundation, is interesting in other respects. The report indicates that of the adult population 67 per cent are affected, while of the children practically 79 per cent have the disease in a more or less pronounced degree.

The report of Dr. Hackett is the result of more than seven months' investigation in all parts of the country. Ten thousand adults came under direct examination.

"Routine examination of the blood," says the report, "showed that a large majority of persons living in the interior of the republic are directly anemic, the average blood being 50 per cent of normal, indicating a dangerous degree of lowered resistance. Since the parasite affects the children most heavily, stunting their bodies and minds and causing them to fall an easy prey to other diseases, the figures reveal an alarming condition existing among the rising generation. This state of physical debility is due to the complete absence of all sanitary equipment and regulation in both schoolhouses and dwellings in the interior."

The report shows that more than 3,000 homes were visited and instructive talks given to nearly 12,000 persons. Lectures were given in thirty-three schools. Three laboratories are now working in various parts of the republic.

SUCCESSFUL ORATORS IN PEACE CONTEST

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 21.—Orators from the Atlantic seaboard won first and second prizes last night in the ninth national contest of the intercollegiate peace association. There were six contestants representing every section of the country and chosen by three elimination contests, held successively in college, state and groups of states. Their orations were judged the best of about 400 representing twenty-four states.

The final prizes awarded after a speaking contest before the members of the conference on international arbitration were distributed as follows:

First, $100, Frederick Wennerberg, Boston college; second, $80, Wilford Bocher, University of West Virginia; third, $70, Nearle Pinney, University of Michigan; fourth, $60, Roy Paynter, Washburn college, Topeka; fifth, $50, W. W. Isles, University of Oklahoma; sixth, $40, Clarence J. Young, Reed college, Portland, Or.

The conference on international arbitration tonight heard the views of John S. Ewart of Toronto regarding the possibilities of international cooperation in avoiding occasions for war.

"SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE"

is a farce comedy dramatized from Earl Derr Bigger's novel of the same name and produced by George M. Cohan. The scene of the story is at Baldpate Inn, where a short story writer is to write a complete story in 24 hours, for which he has wagered $5,000 with the owner of the place. He believes he has the only key to Baldpate and the action of the play starts in earnest when the owners of the other keys make their appearance, each in succession. The bribing traction magnate, who offers $2,000 bribe in order to secure concessions from the city, has a key; a woman newspaper reporter, who has been tipped off as to what the story writer is trying to accomplish, has Key 3; Peter, the Hermit, who makes his home in the woods on top of the mountain, has a key, and a charming adventuress, who has been lured to the hotel with the expectation of getting the large bribe fund that has been put in the safe by the traction magnate, has a key, and then finally the mayor and his good man Friday, also show up with a key. The first act closes with all the crooks lined up in front of a shiny-barreled pistol held by Magee, the writer. In the second act there is a murder in which the victim returns to life, and a thrilling bit of gun play that keeps the audience in real suspense. Magee finds himself a prisoner at the mercy of the men whose fate he holds in his hands. The old hermit saves his life, and the curtain goes down with the roll of bills blazing merrily in the fireplace. Just as the audience is about to leave, filled with excitement, the curtain rises. The owner of the inn rushes in to tell it is all a joke on his friend to tell him of the absurdity of the melodramatic stories he has been writing. The telephone bell rings when you expect the play is over, but instead Magee comes out of the room with the copy of the finished story in his hands, which is the tale of his unusual experience at Baldpate Inn.

"SHODDY."

A Paris cablegram tells a story that will make Americans uncomfortable and indignant. Here is part of it:

An unfortunate situation has arisen with regard to granting contracts to American manufacturers, owing to the failure of even the big houses to deliver goods according to sample. Several important American contracts have been cancelled. Two important cases in point were the delivery of a monthly consignment of fifty thousand pairs of boots below sample—the soldiers tore the boots into strips—and of two hundred thousand pairs of socks delivered and found to be thirty per cent wool and seventy per cent cotton, while the contract called for seventy per cent wool and thirty per cent cotton.

Of the twenty-five of the largest American houses with which the French government is doing business, only one has the record of never falling below sample.

This is a fine way for America to go after that world trade which is hers for the seeking—if she deserves it!

Yet we should not be too hasty to condemn American dealers. That item about shoes reminds us that some months ago in these columns The Herald quoted a remarkable story from an organ of the shoe trade to the effect that agents of certain European governments, trusted with the buying of war supplies, were deliberately selecting old and inferior stocks and were apparently pocketing the difference. The story went further and indicated other lines in which similar practices were being exhibited.

The fault may not lie with American dealers. It may lie with crooked purchasing agents. Such things have happened.

But unhappily, too, American dealers have dealt dishonestly. During the Civil war and the Spanish-American war, some of them dealt dishonestly with their own country.

Possibly the fault is not ours. Let us hope so. If it is ours, it demands attention.

America cannot capture the world's trade with shoddy. It would be a fool to try it.

How long before the dancing masters will spring "the Italian hesitation"?

ITALY AND THE WAR.

War between Italy and the Teuton empires—for war against Austria means war against Germany too—now seems inevitable, though Italy has displayed a marvelous faculty for hovering precariously on the brink. She still is, at this writing, on the brink; but active participation seems only a matter of hours.

It cannot be said of Italy that she has delayed her entrance to choose a moment when victory for the allies is in sight. In point of fact matters have been going none too well for the allies of late, and the co-operation of Italy must be very welcome indeed.

Italy is going into the war for a very definite purpose, in which sentiment—except national ambition—cuts very little figure. She is going into it for what she can get out of it. She is seizing the opportunity, as she conceives it, to regain something of her ancient greatness—or rather the ancient greatness of her ancestral states. She wants, chiefly, control of the Adriatic and possession of the Coastland territory inhabited by an Italian-speaking population. Her claim is based in part rather solidly on an old Venetian title; in part quite flimsily on titles very debatable, though it is true that the Austrian title may in some cases be equally debatable.

Austria, under von Bulow's skillful coaxing, was ready to give much. She offered some territory, and a free port at Trieste. It may have been the part of wisdom for Italy to accept these not unreasonable concessions, taking what it could get and abiding in peace and safety. Yet the popular ambition and a very popular thirst for war seems to have been too much for the government. Some fear of later retribution from Germany and Austria for Italy's failure to remain in the Triple Alliance may have been a factor, too; though the Triple Alliance was a defense against a war of aggression, and this was no war of aggression against the Alliance.

Italy wants the Adriatic, and above all it wants Trieste. If it gets it, Austria is humbled indeed, for Trieste is her principal seaport, and her chief naval base.

Of chief interest now, though, is the probable effect of this new situation on the outcome of the war. It makes nearly complete the war zone that now surrounds Germany and Austria. On the north only the narrow Danish boundary line is at peace. On the west there is only the Netherlands, with hostile waters behind. On the south there is only Switzerland, and the junction of France and Italy behind Switzerland makes the war line complete even here. On the east there is Rumania, but there is more than a probability that Italy's plunge will be imitated not only by Rumania but by Bulgaria and Greece.

Italy's enlistment is very timely for the allies. In the West, they are painfully holding their own. In the East, Russia has been getting much the worst of it of late, and though a little while ago Silesia was threatened by an invasion through Cracow and Hungary by an invasion through the Carpathians, now the Russian hosts that offered the threat are engaged in a desperate effort to save themselves.

Many troops will have to be drawn from somewhere, probably from Poland, to meet the Italian aggression. Italy's war strength is about 1,200,000, and she has been preparing herself for months. Her navy is the eighth in order, just behind Russia's; though navies have been cutting little figures in this war.

It is the most important and most interesting event of the war for many months. It leaves the Teutonic empires less ground for hope of ultimate victory; but it shows what a mighty force is needed to defeat them.

It must be that Fate is kind in refusing to permit the opening of the local season on Friday.

WHAT WILL THE G. O. P. DO IF IT COMES BACK?

The Old Guard element in the Republican party has been hopeful of late—hopeful that a turn in the political kaleidoscope in 1916 will restore the party to power and themselves to control.

True, that hope has grown somewhat fainter since signs of a strong business revival have been multiplying so rapidly; but hope is a flame that it is hard to extinguish.

What would the Republican party do if it returned to power?

Senator Ollie James of Kentucky in an interview in the Kansas City Star recently asked some very pertinent questions that still remain unanswered:

1. Will they pledge themselves to repeal the Federal reserve bank act?
2. Will they revise the tariff upward again?
3. Will they repeal the Federal trade commission act and its companion regulatory measures?

In brief, will they dare to pledge themselves to undo the cardinal achievements of the Wilson administration?

They will not dare to threaten the undoing of any of these achievements.

What, then, will they do? And on what ground can they ask for a return to power?

The Spanish Cavalier, all legends to the contrary notwithstanding, seems to be about the farthest from being "off to the war" of any of the European gentlemen.

GERMANY TEACHES THE WORLD.

Whether Germany is right or wrong, and whether she shall win or lose in the titanic struggle now in progress, even her bitterest enemies must admire the efficiency and thoroughness that are characteristic of her policies in war and peace.

Even should the fate of war decree that Germany shall be obliterated as a nation, the lessons the world is learning from her would make her history as it stands abundantly worth while.

In peace, her self-development has been marvelous and far-reaching. Perhaps the thoroughness of her methods cannot be better illustrated than by the partnership Germany brought about between science and industry, through which the researches and experiments of the student's closet have contributed mightily to the wonderful development of her industrial efficiency.

In war, her thoroughness and efficiency took the form of a preparedness that ran to the minutest detail, so that it is now plain that if she is to be beaten in this war, it will only be by the force of overwhelming numbers and a crushing superiority of resources.

And even now, in the midst of war, Germany with characteristic patience and deliberation is preparing for the conditions that will prevail when war is over.

When the war ends, vast armies of men will be suddenly released. Industry will be paralyzed for the time being. The men who have spent months—maybe years—in the trenches will be out of touch with industry, and industry will be out of touch with them. In every nation engaged in the war there will be a critical period of readjustment before industry and labor find themselves again in a settled relationship.

It is for this readjustment that Germany, with the end of the war still invisible, is preparing herself; and in all probability she is the only embattled nation so far-seeing. It is pretty hard to get ahead of a nation that overlooks nothing, and that neglects no slightest detail of the present or the future.

There has already been a conference between representatives of the government and of all the national labor organizations. A translation of the proceedings made by the United States bureau of labor statistics shows that they were guided by a definite aim, and nobody can doubt in the light of what Germany already has done that when the war is over the surplus armies will vanish like May snow under the noon-day sun, the individuals departing promptly, each to the precise place assigned him.

The world, whether or not it agrees with Germany's world policies and whether or not it sympathizes with its military aims, may well go to school to German thoroughness and efficiency.

Seekers for signs will see tremendous significance in the fact that this year was to have been the thirteenth annual congress on navigation.

The Moral Nation

Editorial in the Kansas City Star.

As usual Rabbi Wise of New York voiced the deepest and noblest feeling of the nation when he said:

There is but one way to avoid the policy of revenge—namely, if we now prove our national greatness, not by seeking to retaliate upon our offenders, but by acting upon the answer to the question: "What is best for the world?" The cause of the war and its continuance lies in the fact that every nation answers the question with reference to itself alone. We must ask what is best for all the nations.

Civilization has been a long struggle to develop men who will consider the rights of others as well as their own. So long as a man considered only his own interests there was barbarism. When no man could trust his neighbor there was no opportunity for civilization to be built upon. The security and co-operation essential to progress did not exist.

Out of hard experience men learned to live together. The tribe whose members co-operated most effectively was the tribe that survived. The tribe whose members were constantly in a turmoil was the tribe that perished. The necessity of co-operation within the group was so impressed on the mind of primitive man that treason seems to have been the first action that was made a crime and punished by the tribe. This singling out of treason arose from the fact that it was impressively destructive.

The next step in civilization must be, as Rabbi Wise suggests, for nations to learn the lesson that individuals have been learning. "The genuinely moral person," as John Dewey writes, "is one in whom the habit of regarding all capacities from the social standpoint is formed and active. Such a one forms his plans, regulates his desires and hence performs his acts with reference to the effect they have upon the social groups of which he is a part. • • • It is the business of men to develop such capacities and desires, such selves as render them capable of finding their own satisfaction in fulfilling the demands which grow out of their associated life."

The genuine moral nation might be defined in the same way. Perhaps the war may help to bring this fact home to the conscience of the world.

The Other Side.

Agnes Repplier in the Atlantic: We are bidden to protest against the wickedness of all war, not because men die, but because wives are widowed; not because men slay, but because mothers are childless; not because men do evil, or suffer wrong, but because, in either case, women must share the consequences. For the sake of these women war must be stopped, is the popular clamor—not unsuggestive of Mr. Winkle imploring the submerged Mr. Pickwick to "keep up" for his sake. After all, the vast majority of men would be only too happy to escape war for their own sakes. They do not covet loss of income and destruction of property. They do not gladly aspire to an armless or legless future. Not one of them really wants a shattered thigh, or a bullet in his abdomen. And, in addition to these (perhaps selfish) considerations, we might do them the justice to remember that they are not destitute of natural affection for their wives and children; but that, on the contrary, the protection of the family is, and has always been, a factor in war. It lent a desperate courage to the Belgian soldier who saw his home destroyed; it nerved the arm of the French soldier who knew his home in peril. The killing of women and children at Scarborough sent a host of tardy volunteers into the British army. It is about the only thing on earth which the least valiant man cannot stomach.

The Democracy of Lloyd George.

Alfred G. Gardiner in the Atlantic: Lloyd George is the first real expression of the supremacy of the democracy. Other men have interpreted democracy from without, philosophically, objectively; but here is one who comes hot from its very heart, uttering its thoughts in its own language, feeling its agonies and aspirations with passionate sympathy, making them vivid and actual with the glow of his mind and the swift imaginative illumination of a poetic temperament. All his thought and action comes from his direct experience of life. No man of distinction ever carried less impedimenta, or was more free from the dominion of the past or of other minds. He lives by vision, not thought; by the swiftness of his apprehension, not by the slow correlation of fact and theory. If he wants to introduce a shipping bill, he takes a voyage to study the life of the sailor at first hand; if he wants to know about coal mining, he goes down a coal mine; if he wants to know what is wrong with casual labor, he mixes with the crowd at the dock gates in the early morning, to hear with his own ears and see with his own eyes. It is this directness and actuality, this independence of all theory and doctrine, that give him his astonishing volition. He is not encumbered with precedent, but leaps to his own conclusion and flashes to his own goal careless of all the criticisms of the learned.

Ruggles Writes Up A Baseball Game

Franklin P. Adams in New York Tribune.

At the recent opening of the baseball season in New York there appeared on the press stand, a new correspondent representing those two publications "The Conning Tower" and "The Gotham Weekly Gazette" conducted with distinction in the New York Tribune by Franklin P. Adams. The correspondent was one "Col. Marmaduke" Ruggles introduced to this country by Harry Leon Wilson in his recently published "Ruggles of Red Gap." (Ruggles, it may be remembered was a very correct English valet who came to America in the service of an American family and who quickly acquired the title of "Col.," democratic ideas, and some American slang.)

Following is Ruggles' story reprinted in part from "The Conning Tower" just as written by F. P. A.

A year come quarter-day it is that I have been in North America. I may be pardoned, I trust, if I say that in that brief period I have grown so accustomed to the manners and speech of our late colonists that I am able to endure them without the shocks that I experienced during my first fortnight in the New York city. Scores of strange customs, in dress and diction, which at first gave me a bit of a jolt, now contribute nothing to my astonishment. Inured I am to their eccentricities. I mean to say, I am almost quite a little Hepzibah to their stuff.

After luncheon, which had consisted of a thick soup, a fairish chop, not too rare, and a plum tart, I brisked down to the Daily Morning New York City Tribune office, for a chat with Mr. Geoffrey-Parsons, an oldish josser, and one of their sub-editors. Dressed in a goodish lounge-suit of tweeds he was, form-fitting but necessarily large, and with rather an air, save for his collar, which he allows to remain too wide apart at the middle, an effect which might be eliminated by drawing closer the cravat.

"Yes, Mr. Ruggles," he said. "What's the good word?"

It was a fair crumpler. Good words I had, and in abundance, for one's vocabulary is one's thought-apparel; and one should be plenteously and variously equipped. It is a matter I have been sedulous about, always. I am, as one of their illustrated weeklies once said of me, at that particular point with the Noah Webster material.

However, I had learned a habit of theirs—to answer one of their queries with another. Rude it is, like returning a letter unopened. It would never do with us. But I had to pay him out.

"Quite so, sir," I said. "How is every small thing?"

I rather had him there, for he elected to close the parley, leaving me a winner, with the last word.

"How would you like to go to the based-ball game," he asked me, "and do us a bit about it?"

"I should absobeastlylutely love it, old dearo,' I replied, resolved to see it throughout like a dead sportsman.

Upon an air-tram I went, through what would have been our Bloomsbury, past their Wapping Old Stairs, which they call "Harlem." Beside a tarn, hard by a bit of a stream it was. "Polo Grounds," they called it, and groomed and lawned it was in a way that would have done Wimbledon itself no discredit. Seats everywhere there were, but I was taken into the pressmen's cage, where the journalists were engaged in taking notes of the encounter, which was, I learned, between the Manhattans and the Brooklyns. These are but boroughs of the same city, yet these North Americans, with that drollery of exaggeration they so frequently employ, term these players the National league. Undeniably comic, but it would never do with us.

Loud the exhortations were from the spectators. When Mr. Pfeffer, the Brooklyn's throwing fellow, appeared to be losing his skill, I heard all manner of discourteous remarks. Surely he must have heard some, for once I distinctly observed him, when a chap cried, "Eject him, he is rotting!" give the nawvy a jolly good glare. But the counsel seemed sound, for Mr. Pfeffer was thereafter ejected, and a Mr. Schmutz, a stalwart looking North American, kindly did his throwing for him. Friendly assistance of this sort is common, I believe, one man frequently batting for another who may feel misgivings about his hitting out prowess.

Back to the Daily Morning New York City Tribune office I came, with John Hines in his motor I went. It was top-hole, no end, riding along through what would be Piccadilly, and along the Embankment. I re-entered the sub-editor Parsons' room. Though it was quite evening, he was attired precisely as when I saw him in the early afternoon. I made no comment, as I trust I know my place. But a lounge-suit in the evening—it would never do with us.

"Shall you have any difficulty with your article, Mr. Ruggles?" he asked me.

"I fancy not," I answered. "I fancy it will be a clay-pipe snapper."

The Power of Mother's Song

From Billy Sunday's sermon in Paterson on "Mother:" There is power in a mother's song. It's the best music the world ever heard. The best music in the world is like biscuits—it's the kind mother makes. There is no brass band or pipe organ that can hold a candle to mother's song. Calve, Melba, Nordica, Eames, Schumann-Heink—they are cheap skates compared to mother. They can't sing at all. They don't know the rudiments of the kind of music mother sings. The kind she sings gets tangled up in your heart strings. There would be a disappointment in the music of heaven to me if there were no mothers there to sing. The song of an angel or a seraph would not have much charm for me. What would you care for an angel's song if there is no mother's song?

The song of a mother is sweeter than that ever sung by minstrel or written by poet. Talk about sonnets! You ought to hear the mother sing when her babe is on her breast, when her heart is filled with emotion. Her voice may not please an artist, but it will please anyone who has a heart in him. The songs that have moved the world are not the songs written by the great masters. There is nothing in art that can put into melody the happiness which associations and memories bring. I think when we reach heaven it will be found that some of the best songs we will sing there will be those learned at mother's knee.

The Boss in the Light.

Kansas City Star: Is it any wonder that a "boss" likes the invisible government? For, did you ever know a "boss" to be brought out into the daylight and examined critically that everybody wasn't tempted to exclaim: "Well, good heavens, so that—that!—is what we have let boss us around and select our officers for us and run our government for us! Well, for the love of Mike!"

Refused to Take Blame.

Brooklyn Citizen: "I'm a self-made man," said Mr. Cumrox.

"Didn't your wife have something to do with your career?"

"She used to say so. But after seeing how I behave in society she refuses to take any of the blame."

What Minnesota Needs

Editorial in the Cambridge North Star.

Minnesota most needs a Man.

We use a capital letter, because that is the kind of a man the state needs—not a lower case or small cap man but a man big enough to lead—big enough for us to look up to.

This man ought to get into politics, not necessarily as an office holder—though the Lord knows we need larger men in a great many of our public offices.

But he ought to take a lead in directing the affairs of the people. Our citizens are as intelligent and as aggressive as are those of any commonwealth in the Union, but they are a busy lot, attending to their farms and factories and stores—so busy that they don't give the attention to politics that they ought.

Besides the state has been cursed with small issues, and cheap politicians have kicked up so much dust concerning these inconsequential affairs that the electorate have often been unable to see matters clearly.

We can all remember when elections were lost and won on the issue of the taxation of vacant railroad lands, and on the question of whether or not the railroad gross earnings tax should be increased. Either of these problems could have been solved by any child in the eighth grade. Then everyone got terribly excited about the merger of two railroads—a matter that had to be, and was, adjusted by the courts. Following that, every voter was appealed to regarding the question of whether or not a state convention had been run according to the rules. Lately the jangle has been over the regulation of drinking places—with more excitement than before.

Of course these matters have needed some consideration, but none of them have deserved the exclusive attention of the voters.

Other matters like economical and efficient administration of public affairs, the development of some of our resources and the conservation of others, the development of our educational system, including the university, have been neglected, because no one in recent years has taken the trouble to raise these issues to the dignity they deserve; because no man big enough to see things as they are and to point out to the people what ought to be done has devoted himself to the work.

Of course Minnesota has men who can do such things—but who will discover one and induce him to take up the task?

Who will find the Man?

To Toil With the Hands

Arthur M. Judy in the Atlantic Monthly: Behold by the very nature of your methods of education you prevent men and women from discovering in their most educative years the glory and dignity of physical toil. While at the same time, by your system of industry, you drive them to perform that toil when they do not esteem it. Hence inevitably a growing sense of the inferiority of their position, a growing lust after what they are led to esteem superior positions—a growing danger to the nation.

Against this danger there is one power which could be flung with prevailing might—it is a reformed system of education, which, by making all youths comrades in physical toil through all of school and college life, will bind them with ties which no subsequent diversifying of occupations can entirely rend. For whatever may be their tasks in after life, they will carry into them a realization that from toil with their hands came some of the noblest parts of their character; that in toil of the hands lie some of the grandest opportunities of manhood.

Such convictions would go far to strengthen the foundations of the republic by vastly increasing, on the one hand, the joy, the conscientiousness, the efficiency of labor; by vastly decreasing, on the other, the isolation of the people into classes with no binding ties of mutual sympathy and respect.

With the calmest judgment that I can command, I stand ready to maintain that, if I had, from my early years on to these latter days of mature manhood, given one-half my time to labor with my hands and the other half to intellectual pursuits, I should now be a far stronger man than I am, and I should have effected more for the good of the world.

"Back to the country" is a good cry to be uttered by city people; but to the educated there is a better; it is, Back to your share of the tasks you are learning to shun or to stigmatize; back to the toils which harden the muscles, quiet the nerves, make firm the will, beget courage and hardihood and develop a common life between you and the plain people. Thus, and I might perhaps say thus only, can you escape the false pretensions, the artificial restrictions, which prent the educated classes from being true elder brothers to the toiling millions.

Do a share of the fundamental work of these millions, and so shall you find a home in their hearts and they in yours.

War and the Birth Rate.

Popular Science Monthly: If the war is sifting out from the possible parent-stock of the future a larger proportion of those who are relatively more fit from an evolution or eugenic point of view, what is possible in the way of counteractive? Among the revaluations after the war may we not expect some change of public sentiment in regard to eugenic ideals, some more marked disapproval of selfish forms of celibacy, some more cordial encouragement of those desirable people who marry chivalrously while it is still springtime with them, without waiting till the bridegroom has secured twice the income his father had? There is patriotism in dying for our country; there is a conceivable patriotism in marrying for her and in bearing children for her. It is to be hoped that one of the results of the terrible struggle in which we are engaged will be to direct more serious and widespread attention to the falling birth rate and the risks involved. We must insist on a discovery of the facts and causes of the decline in the British birth rate, and on a full discussion of the possibilities of checking the decline differentially. There is need of more plasticity in the ideal of "getting on," but it can hardly be regarded as a bad sign that there appears to be continual increase in the number of parents of good type who keep their families small because they do not wish their children—especially the girls—to run the risk of thwarted and unhappy lives. These risks have to be lessened, and that without making slackness feasible. In another connection we are all agreed that the lowering of the still far too high death rate among healthy infants must continue.

Where Ignorance Is Bliss.

Atlanta Constitution: They have discovered a wild man in Ohio who doesn't know that a war is on. More of his kind would help prosperity along.

Northern Minnesota, Land of Opportunity

Chorus of Minnesota Boosters.

Glad to See the Visitors.

Little Falls Herald: Much good will come to Northern Minnesota if the contemplated trip through Northern Minnesota by the governor and a number of the members of the legislature comes about. Needed legislation for Northern Minnesota will not be hard to get once the man from Southern Minnesota sees its wealth of possibilities.

We'll Bite—Can You?

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: Can you beat Northern Minnesota's climate?

Best on the Globe.

Sunbeam Sunbeam: Immigration is coming to Northern Minnesota from east, west, north and south this spring as the people are beginning to find out that this is the best locality on the globe for a poor man to get a start.

Now Is the Time.

Gonvick Banner: A few years hence hundreds of people will regret that they did not take advantage of opportunities in Northern Minnesota. 'Tis a pity they can't see beyond the end of their nose.

Best Climate, Too.

Grand Rapids Herald-Review: Even though climate is such a feature in advertising the various cities of Florida and California, it is a subject Northern Minnesota cannot afford to neglect in its publicity. Michigan and Wisconsin had more snow storms last winter than did Northern Minnesota. When the matter of health is taken into consideration, physicians tell us that the climate of Northern Minnesota is the most healthful of any in the Northern states.

Always on Hand and Leading.

Aurora News: Minnesota butter and Minnesota potatoes have entered open competition and taken the prizes. Minnesota crops always stand at the head of the list and we never have crop failures.

Coleraine, June 10-11.

Chisholm Tribune-Herald: The Northern Development association will meet this year at Coleraine, Thursday and Friday, June 10 and 11. The program has just been issued, showing that those willing and anxious to push the northern section of the state to its greatest development are progressive and fully alive to the requirements of the people. The program for two days is lengthy and provides amusement as well as many topics of a business nature for those attending. It is to be hoped that Chisholm sends a representative delegation to the meet. Work of development is not done by good wishes. It requires practical as well as hard work to bring the wilderness into cultivation and make it habitable for twentieth century civilization.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlivan, the Sunshine Man.

"If we keep our minds just thinking
Of helpful and kindly deeds
Our hearts well-filled with sunshine
As we scatter abroad the seeds,
They will blossom in the sunshine,
They will grow so large and bright,
That we'll thank our Heavenly Father,
For the sunshine's warmth and light."

—Beth Camp.

For those who live, as she did, with their whole talents dedicated to God's service, death is only the gate of life—the path from joyous work in this world to greater capacities and opportunities for it in the other.—Horatia K. F. Eden.

"When thou passeth through the waters they shall not overflow thee."—Isaiah xliii 1-7.

When Mrs. Booth, the mother of the Salmation Army, was dying, she quietly said, "The waters are rising but I am not sinking." But then she had been saying that all through her life. Other floods besides the waters of death had gathered about her soul. Often had the floods been out and the roads were deep in affliction. But she had never sunk! The good Lord made her buoyant, and she rode upon the storm! This, then, is the promise of the Lord, not that the waters of trouble shall never gather about the believer, but that he shall never be overwhelmed. He shall "keep his head above them." Yes, to him shall be given the grace of "aboveness." He shall never be under, always above! It is the precious gift of spiritual buoyancy, sanctified good spirits, the power of the Christian hope. When we are in Christ Jesus circumstances shall never be our master. One is our Master, and "we are more than conquerors in Him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in His own blood."

—From "Daily Meditations."

Why, then, be cast down and go always a-moping?
Look up!—did it rain? See the bow in the sky!
Go forth, like the birds at dawn, singing and hoping
For bright noon of glory and song by and by.
Dayton, Ohio.

The Curtain of the Dark.

O blest is man, who in these latter days
Hath been permitted by the gods to raise
Earth's ancient curtain of the dark, that blight
That fell like pestilence with every night!

Then in the deep pit of the moonless sky
Only the frightened stars went hurrying by Above earth's midnight forests; and dark seas
Drew from the shrouding night their mysteries.

And rivers rolled in darkness and lone heights
Lifted vain summits in the leveling nights
That wiped out inequalities of earth
As in reft hearts death leaveth level dearth.

So all these dark things in the darkness seemed
To be to earth as dreams which she had dreamed
In nighttime; while there stalked with blazing eyes
The nightmare beasts for hungry sacrifice.

O blest is man, who in these latter days
Hath learned the curtain of the dark to raise!
And may he learn, ere flits this human breath,
To raise at last earth's darkest curtain, death!

—M. E. Buhler in the New York Sun.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

•••The names of the Duluth enumerators for the state census have been made public at St. Paul. Each ward is divided into two census districts. The enumerators are Oliver C. Dalrymple, E. F. Krelwitz, Charles H. Eldridge, Lawrence E. Horton, E. C. Clow, Paul F. E. Wieland, August Hagberg, F. O. Renard, David Ogilvie, Edward Norelius, J. H. Rankin, Charles Schiffman, Capt. D. H. Morgan, Charles W. Viers, Olaf G. Olsen and William T. Hall.

•••Associate Justice Field has entered upon the thirty-third year of his service as a member of the United States supreme court.

•••The Manitoba school question has been settled through the good offices of Lord Aberdeen, governor general of Canada, who has succeeded in having the obnoxious remedial order withdrawn.

•••W. T. Tawner left for St. Paul yesterday to file with the secretary of state articles of incorporation of the Royal Mutual Life association, an organization composed of West Duluth incorporators.

•••P. F. Smith of West Duluth has purchased J. A. Connery's hotel at Proctorknott for $6,000. Mr. Smith will not remove from West Duluth, where he holds a lease of the Bennett hotel.

•••Ex-Congressman M. O. Hall and J. C. Pierce of Red Wing, Minn., are in the city today and were entertained by Emil Olund to a drive over the boulevard. Mr. Hall is considering the question of making his home in Duluth.

•••Duluth temperature at 7 a m today, 48; maximum yesterday, 42; minimum yesterday, 34.

•••Thomas Devine, a former resident of this city and well known in lumber circles, has returned to Duluth to remain after a five years' absence on the Pacific coast.

•••R H. Hunt left today for Cripple Creek, Colo., where he will be connected with a mining company.

•••George W. Brown, whose leg was amputated last night at St. Mary's hospital by Dr. Taylor, is in a very critical condition. A fall down a flight of stairs was the cause of his injury.

•••The 9-year-old son of George Ebner of the city engineer's office, who was lost in the woods near Sucker river while on a fishing trip with his father and several others, was found by the searching party yesterday afternoon. He said he slept between two logs the previous night and suffered considerably from the cold weather.

•••Company G of the National Guard will elect a second lieutenant on May 23. Nelson Sickles and J. T. Watson are the candidates.

Safety First.

Detroit Free Press: "Waldina," said the weather man thoughtfully to his wife, "I have decided to grant your request and allow you to give a big return party to all your friends who have been so royally entertaining us. But only on two conditions. First, that the date of the party shall be tomorrow night, and, second, that I shall do all the ordering."

"Oh, well, two conditions are better than none," said the weather man's wife philosophically. "I'll call up everybody on the telephone and you go ahead and see the caterer. How many shall I invite?"

"Oh, everybody you know. We'll make all the other parties look like family picnics. Invite about 300," replied the weather man.

And she called up everybody worth calling up.

The next day was the day of the big storm. It rained pitchforks, cats and dogs, torrents and plain rain, while the wind blew the roofs off houses and the houses from under roofs.

Everybody that had a home to stay in stayed in it. This included all those invited to the weather man's dinner.

The weather man thought it best never to tell his wife that, having had what the baseball literary gentleman call "inside dope" on the coming of the big storm, he had never even seen the caterer.

Restaurant French.

New York Evening Journal: An English journalist and a private of the Irish Guards were dining recently at a restaurant in a small French town. The soldier, who had picked up a few scraps of the language, insisted on ordering everything in doubtful French, while the journalist would offer explanations that were in the nature of criticisms. At length Tommy's temper rose to the explosive point. "Will you," he said in English, "be so good as not to interfere with me in the use of my French?" "Very well," replied the journalist. "I simply wanted to point out that you were asking for a staircase when you wanted a spoon!"

LIKES THE HERALD AND RANGE TOWNS

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have just finished another business trip, in the interests of my art galleries, on the Iron range. This has given me the opportunity to once more use the Duluth daily papers. I desire to express my appreciation of both the matter and the form of your publication.

It seems to me to rank high among daily news sheets.

Let me also record another impression, namely the contribution that the railroad and steel companies, operating on the range, are making toward orderliness, neatness and beauty. The range towns are making fine progress toward civic beauty. I have visited Grand Rapids, Coleraine, Hibbing, Chisholm, Buhl, Mountain Iron, Virginia, Eveleth, Gilbert, Aurora and Two Harbors.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of copies of "The Baggage Coach Ahead" from Miss Edith Henderson of Westboro, Wis., and from Hazel Burr of Ontonagon, Mich.

Requests have been received for "The Battleship Maine," and "I'll Paint You a Sign, Rum Seller," from Miss Edith Henderson of Westboro, Wis.; "Casey at the Bat," from A. C. of Duluth. The editor had a copy of this and it is published this evening.

Casey at the Bat.

It looked extremely rocky for the
Mudville nine that day.
The score stood four to six with just an inning left to play
And so, when Cooney died at first, and
Burrows did the same,
A pallor wreathed the features of the patrons of the game.

A straggling few got up to go, leaving there the rest
With that hope that springs eternal within the human breast;
They thought if only Casey could get one whack, at that They'd put up even money, with Casey at the bat.

But Flynn preceded Casey, and so likewise did Blake,
And the former was a pudding and the latter was a fake;
So on that stricken multitude a death-like silence sat.
For there seemed but little chance of Casey's getting to bat.

But Flynn let drive a single, to the wonderment of all,
And the much despised Blake tore the cover off the ball;
And when the dust had lifted, and they saw what had occurred,
There was Blake safe on second and Flynn a-hugging third.

Then from the gladdened multitude went up a joyous yell;
It bounded from the mountain top and rattled in the dell;
It struck upon the hillside and rebounded on the flat.
For Casey, mighty Casey, was advancing to the bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place;
There was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face.
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat.
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt.
Then, while the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hip.
Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather-covered sphere came hurtling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there.
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one!" the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar.
Like the beating of the storm waves on a stern and distant shore.
"Kill him! Kill the umpire!" shouted some one on the stand;
And it's likely they'd have killed him, had not Casey raised his hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone;
He stilled the rising tumult; he bade the game go on;
He signaled to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew;
But Casey still ignored it, and the umpire said: "Strike two!"

"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and the echo answered "Fraud!"
But the scornful look from Casey, and the audience was awed.
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lips, his teeth are clenched in hate;
He pounds with cruel violence his bat upon the plate.
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

Oh! somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright:
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light.
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout;
But there was no joy in Mudville—mighty Casey was struck out.

Ailments of Men Happily Overcome

SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Undoubtedly the following suggestion will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring in "nervous exhaustion," weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

By taking it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's short-comings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, let it be stated that the prescription calls only for three-grain Cadomene tablets, in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration. The tablets contain no opiates or habit-forming drugs, so a physician's prescription is not necessary. Well stocked pharmacies supply these tablets which possess the most wonderful tonic—invigorating powers imaginable. The effect of their use is soon apparent in new strength and nerve force.—Advertisement.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling of or concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

J. H.—Would you tell me through your paper if a man can fish in the creeks around Duluth without a license if he is native born, and how much does a license cost, and is this license good in the fall for big game? I have not seen the new game laws so I don't know. Can I get arrested if I fish without a license and how many fish can I catch in one day, and how long must they be. I mean speckled trout or any kind of a fish? You have not said in your paper how careful a fellow must be. I would like to know, that's why I ask.

2.—And why does the U. S. not put the embargo on ammunition to stop this cursed war? It is too bad that we, as a neutral, only can help the stronger side. I have had your paper for nine years every evening, so I hope you will oblige to print these few lines. —You do not need a license to fish. You do need a license to hunt big game in the fall. The season is now open for all kinds of fish but bass. You must not take fish except pickerel and suckers in any way but by angling with a line. Trout must be six inches in length, and you are limited to twenty-five in one day.

Placing an embargo on arms would not stop the war and would be a worse violation of neutrality than to sell arms to any country that can buy.

A Victim—Through the Open Court, will you please tell me to whom I should send a claim against a music publishing company of New York city, now under indictment for fraudulent use of the mails. I sought information from the postoffice inspector in charge, but a letter from him today failed to give the required instructions. I wish to file a claim so I may get a share of what may be coming to the too-trusting.—Your letter does not give enough information on which to base an answer. If a receiver has been appointed, you should write to him.

Reader, Carlton—Do you know of a good remedy to kill worms in a dog. We have tried all we can think of on our dog but he still has them and we do not like to kill him, because he is a very good dog.—The kind of remedy depends upon the kind of worms. Santonine, areca nut and turpentine are all used. For a small dog very little of any of these remedies is used. It is best to ask the druggist or a veterinary as to the size of the dose to be given. A laxative should follow after the medicine has been given.

Mrs. J. F. Garland, Ironwood—Would like to know the nicknames of all teams in the Northern league. Thanking you in advance.—The list follows: Duluth, the Dooks; Superior, Red Sox; Winnipeg, Peggies; St. Boniface, Chefs; Grand Forks, Flickers; Fargo, Uhlans; Fort Williams, Fort Bills; Virginia, Ore Diggers.

SEARCH OUT NEEDY SICK

Commercial Club Committee Will Investigate Hospital Facilities.

Will Try to Find Cases Unable to Obtain Treatment.

The committee on public health of the Commercial club will endeavor to obtain definite, accurate information on the adequacy of hospital facilities in Duluth.

The first meeting of the committee was held yesterday, and in taking up the question of hospital treatment the committee is following out the course laid down by the former public health committee.

An effort will be made to determine definitely the number of people in the city within a fixed period who needed hospital treatment and did not obtain it because of inability to pay hospital fees and disinclination to accept public charity. That is the class of cases toward the relief of which the agitation for a public hospital was directed. In getting that information the committee will endeavor also to obtain definite facts as to the manner in which the dependent sick are being cared for and all other facts pertinent to the question of the need for further hospital facilities or for additional methods of caring for people needing hospital treatment.

After its investigation the committee hopes to be able to submit to the public affairs committee a report showing the true conditions existing and suggesting such remedial measures as may be found necessary.

COURT HOUSE BACHELORS CHALLENGE "OWNED" MEN.

Preparations are being made at the courthouse for the annual baseball game between the bachelors and the benedicts.

"Dick" Hodgson, to whom has been intrusted the destiny of the bachelors, has hurled a defi to the opposing host.

"Spike" Crosby, manager of the married men's team, has accepted and as soon as the weather permits will call his crew together for practice.

It is probable that the game will be played some time next month at Desmond park. The bachelors have been defeated for the last two years, but have hopes of "putting it over" this season.

TO GRAND COMMANDERY.

Many Michigan Knights Templars Expected in Copper Country.

Calumet, Mich., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is expected that fully 1,600 Knights Templars and ladies will come to the Copper country the second week of June to attend the annual grand commandery of Michigan. Traverse City Knights Templars are coming north by automobile, forty of them, traveling to Frankfort on wheels, ferrying over to Menominee and running the rest of the way to Calumet with their machines.

Three big excursion boats, the North American and the South American and a D. & C. steamer, will bring the majority of the visitors from Southern Michigan.

Special excursion trains will run in from the iron country and other upper peninsula towns. A special drill field has been laid out at Calumet and grandstands are being erected.

CAMPAIGN FOR CENTER CANAL

Those Desiring It Working for Big Representation at June Hearing.

Advocates of Breakwater Arming With Arguments; Lively Meeting Likely.

That there will be an attempt to block the construction of a breakwater to protect the Duluth harbor from the action of waves rolling in during the heavy storms that every season experiences, there seems no longer to be doubt. Just what form it will take is, as yet, a question, but that influence is being sought to block it is no longer concealed.

The opposition to the breakwater plan comes from men who favor the closing of the Duluth and Superior entries, and the construction of a central canal.

Campaign Begins.

Yesterday and today it developed that there is really a campaign on, and that it is a very active one. Ever since Maj. Peek announced the hearing on the breakwater matter for June 10, there has been growing activity. Yesterday at least one, and, it is understood, more than one of those interested in a central canal project has been canvassing the board of trade building, trying to stir up sentiment in favor of that plan and against the breakwater plan. Others have been canvassing other business centers of the city, and they hope to have a large and influential representation at the hearing before Maj. Peek at the Commercial club on the morning of June 10. That is what is being urged at present.

In the meantime those who want to see a breakwater built are not idle. It is expected that there will be a large representation of business men present who will urge upon the government engineer the necessity of immediate action to protect the harbor; and with arguments to try to prove the necessity of such a breakwater and the fallacy of the central canal idea.

Arguments May Be Heated.

That there will be a merry war break loose at the June 10 hearing seems certain. Those who have studied the marine situation have been arming themselves with arguments and data to beat down attempts to bolster the central canal idea and to delay work on the breakwater. Judging from remarks already heard concerning the matter, the advocates of a breakwater intend to put it up pointedly to the central canal advocates to explain why, aside from selfish interests as property owners on the point, they want a central canal; and are ready to show that with the Duluth and Superior entries closed, and the current of St. Louis river driving directly to the central canal, were one built, the Duluth-Superior bay would not only be a storage pool for sewage for lack of current to move it, but the ice problem in the spring would be an almost insurmountable one.

Where Would Ice Go?

"The sewage question would be a big one," said one of the leaders of the breakwater advocates today, "but another thing that would be a menace to shipping that would be most serious must be taken into consideration. That is the matter of clearing the bay of ice in the spring. At present the current of the river, swinging two ways, the Superior side aided by currents from the Nemadji and other rivers, drives the ice out of the two canals and the harbor is clear in a comparative short time after the break-up occurs. But with a central canal, the current of the St. Louis river would head directly for the canal, which would be practically opposite to it, and then how about the ice at the docks on either side of the harbor? The only way I can see to get rid of it, would be to pole it out or to dragnet it with a couple of tugs on each net. That would be a fine condition, I'm sure.

"But there is one thing that we realize: Had it not been for the blocking tactics of those who want a central canal we would have had a breakwater ere now. In the meantime the docks in the Duluth harbor are severely damaged during every storm, and boats in the harbor, not moored away up the river, are in constant danger. That is what they have accomplished to date."

DOWN-AND-OUT BALL PLAYERS BETTER BEHAVE

Police Are Looking for Enough of Them to Give Work Farm a Team.

Scouts who search the bush leagues for likely looking baseball players are not uncommon, but scouts who search a town for material for their future opponents are new to the baseball world.

"Cops" on Duluth's force are trying to recruit a baseball team at the work farm so that the men "in stir" can play a game with the police nine.

This year the work farmers ignored the annual challenge sent by policemen.

"Maybe they haven't got a team," suggested Patrolman Honnold, whose middle name is Gowdy.

"Let's send them one," replied Capt. Oscar Olson, whose middle name is Walter Johnson.

So the word went out that the "farm" needed good ball players and woe to the drunk or "vag" who, in his palmy days, played the great American game.

WILL MAKE CITIZENSHIP PROCEDURE IMPRESSIVE

Courts Asked to Give Solemnity to Swearing in of Aliens.

Court procedure during the naturalization of aliens is to be re-established and made more dignified, in order to impress upon near-citizens of the United States the splendor of American ideals, according to R. K. Doe, naturalization examiner for the state of Minnesota. Mr. Doe, in Duluth yesterday, said:

"I have visited two members of the district court bench—Judges Cant and Ensign—in regard to this move. I also have visited Judge Hughes, who presides in the range court. These three have placed the stamp of approval upon the idea, and I will see Judges Fesler and Dancer in the near future."

Under the new system it is planned to have displayed in the courtroom a large American flag. The presiding judge will deliver an address at the opening of the court and solemnity will characterize the naturalization proceedings.

DAMAGE FOR INJURIES.

Autoist Must Pay Rig Driver $650, Says Court Jury.

A jury in Judge Dancer's division of the district court late yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for $650 in favor of Jalmar Laaksonen, and against Charles Sandboe. Laaksonen sued for $1,500 damages for damages sustained in a runaway accident. While driving along the Lang road about three miles out of Floodwood one day last November, Laaksonen's horse became frightened at an automobile approaching from the opposite direction. He was thrown out of the rig and severely injured. Sandboe, the defendant, was driving the car.

COPPER COUNTRY WILL ENTERTAIN MILWAUKEEANS

Calumet, Mich., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The entire upper peninsula is preparing a magnificent reception for the annual excursion into this section by the Milwaukee Merchants' & Manufacturers' association, 150 strong, headed by Governor Phillip of Wisconsin. THE engagement has been announced of Miss Mabel Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Porter of Spokane, Wash., formerly of Duluth, to Kenneth D. Hauser of St. Paul. The wedding will take place the latter part of June at the Porter home.

Miss Porter, who has visited in Duluth several times since the family moved to Spokane, was here in January. She was graduated from Wellesley college in 1913 and is one of the best known musicians in Spokane.

Mr. Hauser, the son of E. V. Hauser of St. Paul, is an alumnus of the University of Minnesota and a member of many St. Paul clubs.

Diamond Rings Are Barred for Girl Graduates

High school girls of Bellaire, Ohio, who are fortunate enough to receive diamond rings for graduation presents, will not be allowed to wear them at the commencement exercises. Caps and gowns, tailored white waists and skirts and cotton gowns not to exceed a certain cost, have been imposed upon girls who sighed for chiffon, crepe de chine and bolts of lace, but the decree that has gone forth in the Ohio town calls for simplicity in the way of commencement clothes.

Birthday Surprise.

Miss Frieda Otto of 313 Minneapolis avenue was surprised by a number of her friends last evening at her home. Music and dancing were enjoyed. Those present were:

Misses—

Matinee Musicale Program

Kneisel Quartet, Julia Culp, Percy Granger and the Fuller Sisters Are First Choice of Board.

The board of directors of the Matinee Musicale at the home of the president, Mrs. J. M. McKindley, 1024 East First street, decided to write to four artists relative to making engagements for next year. Those chosen by the board are the Kneisel quartet that has been on the Matinee Musicale program four seasons; Julia Culp, the soprano, who is well known for her German lieder; Percy Granger, the Australian pianist, and the Fuller sisters, who sing and play English folk songs in costume. This list is by no means final, but represents the first choice of the board. It will be some time before it is known definitely who will be on next season's program.

At the last concert given by the Matinee Musicale this spring the members and their guests were asked to hand in the names of three musicians they wished to hear next year, one for voice, one for piano and one for strings. Only a small per cent of the audience availed themselves of the opportunity and the votes were scattering. The club feels it can afford a fourth artist recital next season.

At the meeting yesterday the music teachers who belong to the Matinee Musicale, petitioned that Mrs. K. A. Ostergren be re-appointed leader of the piano teachers' round table.

The committees for next year are being named by the board and this work will be completed as soon as the personnel of several of the most important committees can be arranged definitely.

Eighth District Club Will Consider New Constitution

The question of adopting a new constitution for the Eighth congressional district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs will come before the delegates at the convention in Chisholm next week. The constitution that will be submitted by the committee, of which Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst is chairman, is as follows:

Article 1—This organization shall be known as the Eighth Congressional District of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs. Article 2, object: The object shall be to bring into closer touch club members comprising the district, thereby promoting the interests of the state federation along the lines of civic, educational and moral improvement. Article 3, membership. Article 4, meetings: The annual meeting for the election of officers shall be in April; special meetings may be called by the president or at the written request of any three club representatives. Article 5, officers: Officers of the district shall be a president, a vice president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, federation secretary, treasurer, auditor. Article 6, amendments: This constitution may be amended at any annual meeting by a two-thirds vote of those present entitled to vote, provided written notice has been previously given of text of amendment.

By-law 1, election of officers: Nominations shall be made from the floor; election shall be by ballot, a majority shall elect; the treasurer, corresponding secretary and auditor shall alternate with the president and recording secretary, also federation secretary; the term of office shall be two years. By-law 2, vacancies: Vacancies occurring in office, by removal or inability to serve, shall be filled at any regular meeting by a majority vote, except in the case of the president, when the vice president automatically takes office. By-law 3: The annual dues of clubs having a membership from 15 to 50 shall be $3; clubs of 15 or less shall be $2; the amount of dues of all clubs having a membership of over 30 and under 100 shall be 10 cents per capita; the amount of dues of all clubs having a membership of 100 and over shall be $10 (see constitution of state.) By-law 4, club representation in state (see state constitution): All clubs having a membership of 100 or over shall be entitled to three delegates, one of whom shall be the president or her appointee; clubs having a membership of less than 100 shall be entitled to two delegates, one of whom shall be the president or her appointee; the year book last issued shall be taken for the basis of enumeration and shall include all classes of members.

The annual dues become due and payable to the federation treasurer for the following year at the close of the annual meeting. Clubs delinquent in dues will be denied representation in the annual convention. No club can honorably withdraw from the federation until all dues have been paid, and any club failing to pay such dues shall be declared delinquent; by-law 5, club representation; clubs with a membership of under fifty shall be represented in the district federation by two delegates, the president, or her appointee, and one other. Clubs with a membership of over fifty shall be represented by three delegates, the president or her appointee and two others. All club members shall be entitled to the privileges of the floor, but only the accredited delegates, general officers and chairmen of standing committees may vote. By-law 6, the presiding officer shall appoint all standing committees and shall be ex-officio a member, and shall preside at all district and board meetings.

The recording secretary shall keep a minute record of all meetings, also a record of all clubs and their officers and shall make an annual report. The corresponding secretary shall call the roll of each meeting and shall conduct the correspondence and send out all notifications of meetings. CAKE-WALK CRAZE MAY PUT TANGO AND OTHER STEPS TO ROUT

Symptoms of the "Disease" Already Apparent in the South; Revival of Popular Negro Dance Meeting Public Approval; Pas-ma-las Also Gaining Favor.

Bring out your silk hats and your high-heeled shoes.

Cake walking, with its scintillating music, may soon be the rage in Duluth.

Already this famous old form of dancing has been revived in the South, and its popularity is sweeping the nation, as did the trot, tango and hesitation.

Prominent stage favorites in the large cities of the East are introducing the cake walk and the Pas-ma-Las with their song numbers and dances, and reports state that the revival is meeting with the approval of the public.

At this rate, it won't be long before Duluthians will be gathering in the dance halls and starting out to the tune of "Rufus Takes the Cake" or "Way Down in Georgia." Arm in arm, the man and his partner will go prancing around a room, their heads thrown back and their bodies swaying to these popular melodies of the South. It wasn't many years back when these dances were the rage of the nation and indications are that they may replace the tango and the hesitation.

As the Virginia reel followed the minuet, the square dances succeeded the reel and the waltz the square dances, the cake walk dances became popular about the time of the Spanish-American war. They had been the popular form of dancing among the negroes of the South, but not until 1898 did the general public take them up. As soon as they were introduced, the people dropped all other dances and no program was complete without a majority of the cake walk steps. Some of the greatest music hits of the country were created for these dances, and many Duluthians still remember Ely Green's "Cake Walk," "Whistling Rufus," "Way Down in Georgia" and "Rastus Takes the Cake."

The cake-walk was also popular at weddings, the best dancers usually being given a handsome cake prepared for the winning couple. That's how the name originated among the darkies, who "pitched in" to buy a cake for the best couple at a dance.

Like the waltz and two-step gave way to the bunny hug, the bear cat, tango, one-step, trot and hesitation, maybe these will all go into the discard for a revival of the cake-walk and the Pas-ma-Las, a form of this dance created by the negroes.

Girls' Clubs to Meet at Y. W. C. A.

All girls' clubs of the work department of the Y. W. C. A. will meet at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. assembly hall. An exhibit of the work that has been done by the girls will be held in the clubroom, and the championship basket ball game will be played in the gymnasium. Miss Indianola Willcuts of Holyoke, Minn., will give a talk on birds.

Elks Will Dance.

The Elks will give a dancing party and supper at their clubrooms this evening. This probably will be the last dance of the season.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Baldwin Players, assisted by Miss Berta Schmied and her brother, in "Mam'zelle."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—Photoplay, "The Woman."

Theater Gossip.

While the appearance of Miss Berta Schmied and her brother at the Lyceum this week has naturally been the feature of the Baldwin company production, and taken first place in local interest because of the fact that they are so well known to Duluth people, there are several other specialties in the vaudeville program of the second act that are deserving of special mention. Miss Anne Bronaugh, the leading woman, who handles the difficult part of "Mam'zelle" so well, has a charming little French song that rather surprises her friends and shows unexpected ability as a singing comedienne. Walter Baldwin, Jr., and A. Romaine Callender in their jitney sketch have provided a generous measure of comedy at every performance, and Chester McLeod in his Scotch songs and dialect stories has been what the vaudeville performers call a "riot." The Baldwins have shown their ability to stage a vaudeville performance if the occasion arises.

SHOW TALENT AS VAUDEVILLIANS.

The week's engagement will close tomorrow evening, with the "request" program by the Schmieds, and the dance contest following the regular performance. Next week "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will be the attraction, opening with the Sunday matinee.

VARIETY IN NEW GRAND SHOW

A well-balanced vaudeville bill with a number of excellent photoplays made a very entertaining show at the New Grand yesterday, the opening of the week-end program. The show as a whole was varied and full of pleasing features, and good audiences turned out despite the unfavorable weather.

"Lady Alice," who put a number of rats, cats, dogs, mice, birds and rabbits through a series of difficult turns, may be said to be one of a very few women not afraid of a rat or mouse. She handles all of her pets gently, and cats and rats perform together without any sign of antagonism. The rats show considerable intelligence and cleverness, walking tight wires, doing acrobatic stunts, and many other "tricks." Jones, Brown and Burns do a clever acrobatic act that is original and clever.

Hager and Goodwin, two young men and a piano, offer a breezy bit of entertainment. One of their best numbers is the musical imitation of all the noises on a circus grounds. It is a combination of monologue, song and orchestra accompaniment.

Dunlay and Merrill, a man and a woman, entertain with a lot of clever nonsense and some songs well put over. Mr. Dunlay appears in a Charlie Chaplin costume, which made a big hit.

"The Jest of Jealousy" is a photoplay with a love story and a lot of vigorous Western sideplay. "A Lucky Strike" is an unusually funny comedy film, with a fine wind-up. "Behind the Scenes" is a portrayal of a real tragedy taking place behind the scenes in the acting of a play-tragedy. The Heart-Selig News Pictorial shows the leading news events of the week.

"THE WOMAN" AT THE REX.

The fifth in the series of Lasky-Belasco productions—which have done more than any other productions to make motion picture history during the current season—will be "The Woman" at the Rex today and tomorrow. An extraordinary cast—each one being a star, is one of the features of this production. "The Woman" has been played on the stage the world over but this is the first attempt to produce it in pictures. The early indiscretion of Standish, the stalwart young politician, whom the grafting bunch at Washington are trying to "get," in the stage production comes out only by the dialogue on the screen. The story is told in vivid pictures and they are the most beautiful of the play, taken on a wild New England coast. In the games among the big woods, the youthful pair forget in their happiness till the last boat has slipped out of the harbor, and left them.

Before you buy a cut price glove

Think of more than merely the appearance of the glove—consider what service you can expect it to give. How will they wash? Will the fabric pull and turn yellow and the glove lose its shape and become baggy? How will the tips wear?

In Kayser Silk Gloves every one of these features is guaranteed to give satisfactory service. That is why twelve thousand dealers and millions of American women prefer them—why more of them are sold than of all other silk gloves combined. Be sure you get complete glove value. Ask for Kayser's.

BORDER CITY GIRLS JOIN IN CONTESTS

Competing in Raising Tomatoes and Other Kinds of Vegetables.

International Falls, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some interesting work along agricultural lines is being carried on by girls in the Alexander Baker high school in this city.

Many of the grade girls are engaged in competing in the tomato contests, and have taken their plants home from the school hot-beds and transplanted them in their gardens. Girls in the normal training department are also taking up agricultural work along certain lines.

To Aid Rural Teachers.

The idea of this is that when they go out and teach in rural districts the things that they have learned in the line of agricultural science may be taught to farmers' children and also to farmers themselves. Treatment of potatoes for scab was given one day this week by the girls and the work proved very interesting. The formaldehyde treatment was used, the potatoes being placed in a solution consisting of a pint of formaldehyde to forty gallons of water and allowed to stand for two hours. This is considered the best known treatment for potato scab.

CLAIMS HUSBAND THREATENED HER

Mrs. Ilmi Oja Asks District Court for Divorce and Alimony.

Abner Oja, aged 33, has been cited to appear in district court tomorrow and show cause why he should not be compelled to pay his wife, Ilmi Oja, aged 24, $50 for the purpose of prosecuting a divorce case against him and $25 monthly allmony during the pendency of the action.

Mrs. Oja filed her complaint against her husband with the clerk of the court this morning. She asks that a decree be granted to her on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and on the further ground that Oja is an habitual drunkard.

The woman declares that on several occasions her husband has threatened to kill her. On April 15 last, she says, he attacked her with a knife and threatened to stab her. She also claims that on May 2 last he kicked her and threatened to take her life.

The Ojas were married in Finland on May 6, 1907, and are parents of two children, the custody of whom is sought by the mother. She also asks the court to permit her to resume her maiden name, that of Ilmi Jokinen.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Disapproves of Women Proposing

A Chicago pastor says a woman is foolish who does not marry if she possibly can. And he adds, "If a worthy man does not ask her, let her ask the man." Imagine it!

Evidently men are not married because they lack courage to propose.

I am sure all that leads up to the marriage relation is approached somewhat timidly by many men—for it's a trying time; but most men who really desire to marry a woman can muster up the courage to ask her. The man who really is afraid usually receives the necessary encouragement in liberal applications, once timidity is adjudged to be the stumbling block in his case.

I doubt not that many a man has been helped over an awkward situation, once an inkling of what lies at the bottom finds its way to the surface. But ask a man outright to marry you—well, I do not approve of the minister's advice.

To marry is the natural thing, and no one disputes that it is the best thing that a man or woman can do if they do it for legitimate reasons. But there always have been people of both sexes who have abstained from marriage for reasons that are varied, and doubtless there always will be; and I cannot see why such unmarried folk are not entitled to respect, and to continue to live in an unmarried state if they desire.

There are men and women as peculiarly unfitted for marriage as there are those particularly well adapted to it. I believe that marriage is best for most people, but I oppose the idea that women should propose to men—at least not yet.

Much has been written to show that woman does the selecting, and that man is lured to his fate, all the time believing himself captor, and not captive, which he really is. There is much that is readily understood and believed in such a statement. But let us not spoil the art and sentiment of it by encouraging a worthy woman to propose to a worthy man. A worthy man will propose to the woman he loves, and a worthy woman will wait for him to ask her.

IN BAD SHAPE.

Boston Advertiser: Representative Houston of Tennessee tells a story on his predecessor, George P. Jones, who was known in his day as "the watchdog" of the treasury.

Jones was a merchant, and one day an irate old lady dismounted in front of his store, gathered up her voluminous black calico riding skirt, took her eggs under arm and sailed into the store.

The names she called him would have made a Missouri mule blush. Backing out flushed with victory, she was about to mount when she remembered that she had not fired the most effective shot in her ammunition chest, so, opening the door, she shouted:

"And I want to tell you, George P. Jones, that you have got the worst shape any man ever had."

Swallow & Hopkins Win Action Against Iroquis Iron Company.

Suit Alleged Violation of Contract for Purchase of Ore.

For failure to carry out the terms of a contract for the purchase of 100,000 tons of iron ore from the Helmer, No. 1 mine on the Mesaba range, the Iroquis Iron company must pay George C. Swallow and Louis J. Hopkins, copartners as Swallow & Hopkins $48,572.57 if a verdict returned by a jury in district court this morning stands. The case has been on trial for the past week before Judge Bert Fesler.

Claim Breach of Contract.

Swallow & Hopkins, owners of the mine, brought suit to recover $70,000 from the Iroquis company, claiming that the defendant concern broke its contract to purchase 100,000 tons of ore at $2.82 a ton after 14,000 tons had been shipped and accepted by the company. The Iroquis company admitted that the agreement had been terminated, but asserted that it was done in accordance with an option contained in the contract.

Evidence adduced at the trial developed that under the terms of the agreement, the purchaser of the ore might terminate the contract if the ore in two successive cargoes would prove to contain less than 50 per cent iron natural. One full cargo was taken from the docks and another shipment, smaller than full cargo, followed.

The Iroquis company claims that tests showed that in both cases the ore ran less than 50 per cent iron natural. The company, through its officials at Chicago, notified Swalow & Hopkins that it would exercise the option contained in the contract, and refused to accept any more shipments.

The plaintiffs claimed at the trial that two full cargoes were shipped and that the second shipment would not have been made except at the instance and solicitation of officials of the company who had knowledge at the time they asked for it that the grade was slightly lower than 50 per cent. Evidence was also produced to show that the ore of the next cargo proposed to be shipped tested 52.3 per cent iron natural.

Sue for Loss of Profits.

The plaintiffs sued to recover for their loss of profits for the season. The contract was entered into on Dec. 24, 1912, and the first shipments under it were made in June, 1913.

Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell appeared in the case as attorneys for Swallow & Hopkins and Theodore Hollister of this city and H. K. Tenny of Tenny, Harding & Sherman of Chicago, represented the Iroquis company.

The case was given to the jury last night. The jurors reached an agreement during the night and returned their sealed finding to the court this morning. It was opened and read when court convened at 9:30 o'clock.

SEES MORE USE OF STEEL

Carnegie Company Official Discusses Requirements That Must Come.

Col. Henry E. Bope, vice president and general manager of the Carnegie Steel company, is a firm believer in the eventual prosperity of the steel trade. He expresses the conviction that the country's requirements for steel are growing much more rapidly than is production. With the ending of the war, he predicts, a great boom will develop in this country as a result of the demand to be expected from European countries for materials to repair the property ravages brought about through the struggle.

He is quoted as follows in the course of an interview upon the situation:

"The uses for steel are increasing all the time and more steel is required for the old uses. Take the single case of the railroads. A recent inquiry for equipment called for cars of a total capacity of seventy-seven tons, which, with the weight of the car itself, would make the total loaded weight over 100 tons. A car so heavy would destroy light rails and heavier rails must follow, not only on the road buying these cars, but on other lines. If the roads were to buy all the rails they need the single item of extra weight on this basis would increase their needs 1,000,000 tons. Of course, the increase in weight will come gradually, but the tendency upward is here.

"Then there is the matter of axles and other materials which are steadily increasing in weight. Not long ago the maximum weight of an axle was 500 pounds; today it is 650 or 700 pounds. And the steel wheel must come into more general use as another result of the heavy loads which wheels are being made to bear. Finally the railroads, both steam and electric, are learning that the steel tie is more economical, handier, and gives better service than the wooden tie. A steel tie will outlast about three wooden ones for an interurban road, and about two in the case of a steam road.

"All this means more steel. And I have given only a few instances.

"But an even more trustworthy sign of better times for the trade and for industry, generally, is to be found in the crop reports. I should not be surprised if we had a $12,000,000,000 crop this year. And the farmer is the backbone of the country's prosperity. Incidentally the farmer is also a great user of steel. He buys wire, nails, automobiles and agricultural implements."

Col. Bope concluded by saying he thought that there were already signs of betterment, as indicated by the fact that sales since the beginning of the year had shown a slow but continuous increase.

CASE GOES TO JURY.

Considering Division of Royalties in Iron Mining Lease.

A jury in Judge Dancer's division of the district court is deliberating this afternoon upon a verdict in the case of Samuel H. Hoar against the Kabekona Iron company.

The plaintiff is suing to recover $500 alleged to be due him on Nov. 1, 1913, from the defendant company for his interest in royalties paid the Kabekona company by the Robertson-Hoar Iron company. The jury retired to consider its verdict shortly before noon today.

FORMER BROOKSTONITE KILLED IN GREAT WAR

Brookston, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Word was received here this week that Peter Nord, a former resident of this community, had been killed in action in the European war. Mr. Nord served three years in the United States army, and last fall he went to Canada and enlisted with the volunteers from that country. He was well known here and his death is greatly regretted by all of his local friends.

GRAND FORKS MASONS TO DEDICATE TEMPLE

Grand Forks, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The decision of the local Masonic temple recently completed, will take place June 15. The grand lodge officers will conduct the dedicatory exercises.

Various other Masonic events which will take place during the week of June 10 to 17 will bring several thousand Masons to the city, according to present indications.

D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Remedy

How many hospital patients have been soothed of their frightful itch, of the scorching pain of skin disease, by the famous D. D. D. Prescription for eczema, a soothing fluid, washed in by a nurse's hand!

A SUPERVISING NURSE (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient: "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

Doctors, too, use D. D. D. in private practice. DR. GEO. T. RICHARDSON frankly writes: "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle.

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific at 25c, 50c and $1.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES WILL LAST THREE DAYS

G. A. R. Veterans Will Visit All City Schools Next Friday.

Will Attend Church Sunday, May 30—Program for Monday, May 31.

Three days' commemoration will mark Memorial day exercises this year.

A joint committee, with representatives from the Citizen's Staff, the J. B. Culver, No. 128 and the Willis A. Gorman No. 13 posts, G. A. R., has virtually completed its arrangements for the elaborate tribute to the soldiers, sailors and marines who gave their lives for their country.

On Friday, May 28, memorial exercises will be held in the various schools of the city, with representatives of the G. A. R., or the Spanish War Veterans, present to give an address to the pupils on the meaning of Memorial day observance.

The high school, parochial high school, R. E. Denfeld high school, Ely school, Irving high school and Washington school will have their exercises beginning at 9 a. m. The Ely school will give its program in conjunction with the Denfeld high school students.

At the state normal school exercises will begin at 11 a. m., while in all other buildings the programs have been arranged to begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Sunday morning, May 30, the G. A. R. and other military organizations will attend services at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Third street and Third avenue west.

A detail from the G. A. R. posts, accompanied by the fife and drum corps of the Gorman post, will participate in a flag-raising ceremony at the Northern Pacific roundhouse, Garfield avenue near Michigan street west. J. E. Goodman, master mechanic of the terminal, is in charge of the arrangements.

Holiday Monday.

Monday will be a public holiday and school children will participate in the parade, as well as in the exercises of the day. Civil war veterans will be assembled at the courthouse Monday at 9:30 a. m. and will be reviewed before a moving picture camera before starting the parade. The parade will start at 10 a. m., with the members of the two G. A. R. posts in automobiles, following the custom started last year.

Starting at 11 o'clock, the Memorial day exercises will be presented before a large assemblage at the Auditorium, after which the veterans will return to Memorial hall, at the courthouse, to attend a banquet given them by ladies of the Grand Army and members of the Woman's Relief corps.

Monday afternoon the usual services will be given at the various cemeteries, and graves of the men who fought and died for their country will be covered with flowers. The school children will assist in this ceremony.

The old soldiers assigned to the various schools for Friday's program, with the schools to which they have been assigned are:

MOISTURE GIVES CROPS BIG BOOST

North Dakota Crop Conditions Are All Pronounced Ideal.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Barring excessive moisture in some low spots in the lower part of the Red river valley on which seeding has been delayed, it would be difficult to figure out more advantageous conditions as far as moisture is concerned than now exist in North Dakota. Until last week the bulk of the precipitation this spring has been in the south half of the state. As a result the northern part, especially the northern tier of counties was needing rain badly and the lack of sufficient moisture was becoming very evident especially in the northeastern counties. The rains of last week struck those sections more heavily than elsewhere in the state and brought up the general average. Advices from all sections of the state are that there is ample moisture at this period.

Farmers Plant Corn.

The farmers are now busily engaged in corn planting and the indications are there will be about a 20 per cent increase in that crop over last year's acreage. In some localities potatoes have been planted but the bulk of that work will start during the coming week. The potato acreage will be larger than formerly as many sections of the state are now planning to raise the tubers and counties in which large acreage has formerly been planted are preparing to erect warehouses so the crop can be handled more profitably for the growers.

Barring a decrease in the barley acreage and possibly a very slight decrease in the flax acreage, all other crops will either hold their own or show an increase. The oat crop is practically the same as last year, winter rye was larger, spring rye about the same and the wheat acreage will show a total of more than 8,000,000 acres this year as against 7,200,000 last year. This increase is due to the fact that so much new land is being opened up in the western part of the state.

Bemidji Naval Militia.

Bemidji, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bemidji's naval militia company may be organized next Tuesday night, when Guy A. Eaton, commander of the Minnesota naval militia, will meet the young men of the city at the city hall and explain the work and requirements of such a body.

Duluthian's Mother Dies.

Negaunee, Mich., May 21.—Mrs. Johanna Sheehan, aged 80 years, mother of James Sheehan of Duluth, an old resident, died Wednesday. Mrs. Sheehan had lived here continuously for over forty-five years. She was the widow of John Sheehan, who died in Negaunee twelve years ago. They came here when Negaunee was only a small settlement. For a short time before coming to the village they resided on a homestead near Little Lake.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BANKERS WILL MEET JUNE 16

Thirteenth Annual Gathering of North Dakota Organization at Bismarck.

Governor Hanna Will Welcome Financiers and Many Others Will Speak.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretary W. C. Macfadden of Fargo announces the thirteenth annual session of the bankers of the state to be held in Bismarck June 16 and 17 has no terrors for the members, none of whom are in the superstitious class. From the number of letters he has received he anticipates the largest attendance the organization has ever had at an annual meeting. He reports the membership of the organization is increasing most satisfactorily and because of the location of the coming session many bankers from the western part of the state who have not been in the habit of attending the sessions will be present.

Incident to the regular program there will be several entertaining features by the people of Bismarck. Wednesday afternoon there will be tea for the ladies who are visiting with the bankers. In the evening there will be a theater party followed by the annual ball. Thursday morning an auto ride will be taken to Fort Lincoln, the Indian school, the state capitol building, the state penitentiary and other places and there will be a luncheon at noon for the visitors. At 4 in the afternoon the visitors will be given a steamboat ride on the Missouri, going to Rock Haven on one of the big steamers that ply that stream.

Governor to Welcome.

The serious part of the program, however, will not suffer by the entertainment. Governor Hanna will welcome the delegates in behalf of Bismarck Wednesday morning, and after the response there will be a business session till noon. In the afternoon Theodore Wold of Minneapolis, governor of the ninth district reserve bank, will speak and will be followed by Prof. Smith, the livestock expert of the First National bank of St. Paul.

Thursday forenoon the speakers will be William J. Burns, the head of the detective agency; H. J. Draker of Milwaukee, B. A. Rudin of Richmond, Va.; E. B. Wilson of New York and J. J. Arnold of Chicago. Early in the afternoon the election of officers will be held and other routine business transacted.

STRUGGLE FOR WEAPON.

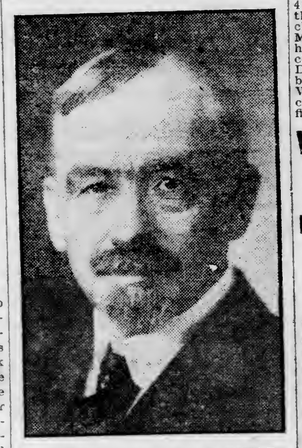
Wisconsin Boy Shoots and Fatally Wounds Brother.

Eau Claire, Wis., May 21.—Park Monroe, aged 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Monrie, Town of Bridge Creek, is dead as the result of being shot by his 9-year-old brother, Ruggles.

This tragedy occurred as the two boys were starting out after the cows. The elder brother suggested that they take a .2 rifle along.

According to the story told of the tragedy, the father told the boys where the gun was. Both ran to get it and the younger boy reached it first. In the friendly tussle that followed, the weapon was discharged, the bullet entering the older boy's breast. Medical help was summoned, but the wound was fatal, the boy passing away after three days of suffering.

TO ATTEND NORTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY COMMENCEMENT



DR. WEBSTER MERRIFIELD.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former President Webster Merrifield of the North Dakota university will attend the annual commencement exercises of the university in June He resides in California, and he has not attended any commencement exercises since he quit the presidency several years ago.

MINIMUM WAGE SCALE IS RAISED

North Dakota Educational Board Recognizes Higher Living Cost.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. R. Edwards of Jamestown was appointed state high school inspector for the ensuing year at the meeting of the state high school board here yesterday, succeeding R. H. Heyward of Grand Forks, resigned.

The board of education took cognizance of the higher cost of living by increasing the minimum wage of superintendents in classified high schools. In each instance the minimum of wages is increased $100 a year, while the minimum monthly wage of high school teachers was advanced $2.50 a month.

For "Six and Six" Theory.

The board also gave its approval of the junior and senior high school plan, approving the so-called "six and six" theory, which is being quite generally adopted by schools of the country.

Another change made by the board is the advancement of the date of state examinations, these being fixed for the third week in March.

In the classification of high schools, 41 were placed in the first class, 27 in the second class and 63 in the third class. The Bisbee, Bowbells, Edmore, Milnor, Mohall, Page, Ray and Walhalla schools were added to the second-class list, and those at Belfield, Calvin, Donnybrook, Egeland, Marion, Petersburg, Rolette, Underwood, Walcott and Wimbledon were added to the third-class list. Hatton was placed in the first class.

WAR MUNITION CASE SUBMITTED TO JUDGE

Milwaukeean's Attempt to Hold Up War Supplies Is Argued.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 21.—After extended arguments by counsel for both sides on the staying of the order obtained by General Samuel Pearson requesting the Allis-Chalmers company and others to show cause why they should not be restrained from manufacturing war munitions, Circuit Judge William J. Turner late yesterday took the case under advisement.

Attorney Max Pam of Chicago, representing the Allis-Chalmers company, cited treaties, proclamations, statutes and decisions on international law and asked the court to quash the order.

"This is an attempt by the plaintiff, claiming to be the owner of property in Germany, to arrogate to himself the high prerogative of representing the great German empire," said Attorney Pam. "This is entirely a political situation, and is not for the courts to decide. Appeal can be made only to the administrative officials, and a court of equity cannot take cognizance of this action.

Bound By Government's Acts.

"Regardless of our personal beliefs, hopes and ideals, international law prescribes in the manner in which this matter should be dealt with. The United States, through proper officials, already has informed the German government, that by all known rules on international law, this country has the right to send munitions of war to belligerents. As a citizen of this country, General Pearson is bound by the acts of the government."

Attorney Henry Cochems, for the complainant declared that the action is instituted by General Pearson as independent of politics, and that the private relief sought by his client, is the only relief available.

FINNISH CHURCHES MAY BE COMBINED

Meeting of Two Organization in Hancock to Consider Idea.

Hancock, Mich., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The national convention of the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran and the Finnish National church of America, with representatives from all parts of the United States and Canada, will meet here June 12. The principal business to come before this convention will be action on the proposal to merge the two churches, which is likely to carry. A committee, headed by President J. K. Nikander of Suomi college here, the only Finnish higher institution of learning in America, recommends that the consolidated church be known as the Finnish-American Evangelical Lutheran church of the United States and Canada.

The Hancock convention will be attended by 500 delegates, including representatives from as far east as Massachusetts and as far west as Astoria, Or., and British Columbia to the Arizona and Utah mining camps on the south.

YOUNG MAN KILLED NEAR CUMBERLAND

The hoisting apparatus broke and a heavy iron bar struck young Hanson on the head, inflicting fatal injuries. The funeral will be held at the Timberland church Friday afternoon.

CROSBY CLUB CAMPAIGN.

Lively Contest for Athletic Club Members Just Held.

Crosby, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Crosby Athletic club campaign for new members came to a successful close Wednesday evening.

The following teams competed for two $8 tennis rackets: William Elder-John Harp; A. E. Lovdahl-Paul Regan; William Deering-F. S. Bloomfield; Marc Atkinson-H. H. Garceau; Ross Gillis-Fred Young.

Each team were assigned by the management of the club eleven prospective members and two old and after six days of soliciting the campaign was made a free for all for the contesting teams. The full fledged membership was placed at $5, the limited or allowing the use of the tennis courts to 4:30 p. m. $2.50, and the annual dues for old members $2, and each dollar collected by one of the teams was to count a point at the closing of the contest.

The Bank-Post team were the victors turning in 71½ points, the Mic Mac's were second with 46½ points. The total number of points turned in by all teams was 180 or representing $180. The campaign was not only an exciting one but it brought about the end in view, a large membership. Further than arranging for tennis tournaments the club will give social dances occasionally, the first of which will be given in the near future.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS HAS JITNEY BEER.

International Falls, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The slim, little dime is no longer needed to buy a glass of beer in this city. The jitney beer arrived Tuesday afternoon when a local saloon keeper cut the price of the amber fluid to 5 cents and soon all competitors did likewise. For years this city was one of the few places that served dime beer.

STATE'S CHIEF WITNESS DEVELOPS SMALLPOX

Wabasha, Minn., May 21.—After an entire day had been devoted to securing a jury in the district court here, it developed that the principal witness in the case, a sister of Madeline Wermerskirsch, who was charged with murder in the first degree, had developed smallpox. The jury had been sworn and all was ready to begin the taking of evidence.

Miss Wermerskirsch, 19 years old, is accused by the state of having strangled to death her infant child last winter. County Attorney M. Marx asked that the case be postponed.

BRACKEN WILL QUIT IF BOARD DESIRES

State Health Official Is Peeved Over Reduced Appropriation.

St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—Rumors that Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary and executive officer of the state board of health, had submitted his resignation to the board were denied by Dr. W. A. Jones, chairman of the board, and by Dr. Bracken himself. However, it developed that Dr. Bracken had in formed the board he was ready to step out whenever it might think his services no longer desirable. He has held his position with the board for the past eighteen years.

At the recent meeting of the board, Dr. Bracken presented a statement in which he deplored the loss of revenues to the department resulting from the activity of an unfriendly legislature. This activity, he said, was undoubtedly due to antagonism toward him on the part of members of the legislature. While his resignation, he said, was available, if the board desired it, yet he hated to retire under fire.

For the purpose of giving the position a definite status, he suggested that the secretary at the July meeting be appointed for a period of two years.

The suggestion was laid over until the July meeting, at which time salaries for the year will be fixed and employes of the department named.

Dr. Bracken said Wednesday that there was no friction between himself and members of the board.

NORTHERN LEAGUE

DOOKS TAKE FINAL GAME

Flickertails Are Finally Beaten, Sox Winning 6 to 4.

Two Fast Double Plays Are Pulled By Darby's Cohorts.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 21.—Darby O'Brien's Dooks won the final game of the series here yesterday by the score of 6 to 4. Bryant started h'll work for the visitors, but was wild and unsteady and gave way to Boley, who finished in scintillating fashion.

In the sixth round O'Brien was hit by a pitched ball, Bryant doubled and Brammell tripled to deep center, the fusillade of hits placing the enemy in the lead. The locals threatened to take away the lead thus gained, but two fast double plays prevented. Croake pulled down a fast grounder, touching first and then heading the runner off at second, while Wolfe, O'Brien and Croake figured in the second one. The score:

VIRGINIA WINS EASY GAME FROM ST. BONIFACE

St. Boniface, Man., May 21.—Virginia had a picnic with St. Boniface yesterday, winning the final game of the series by the lopsided score of 10 to 2. The locals solved the delivery of Garvey for but four hits, while Voorman was hit to all corners of the lot. The game the day before yesterday was played at Brandon. Yesterday's game was played here.

Burmeister declared before leaving here that some arrangement would probably be effected that would do away with conflicting dates here and at Winnipeg. If the plan is adopted Winnipeg will practically have continuous baseball. Score: R. H. E.

HARVARD AT PHILADELPHIA.

Two Crews and a Sculler Will Represent Crimson Oarsmen.

Cambridge, Mass., May 21.—Harvard university will have representatives in three events of the American Henley regatta at Philadelphia on Saturday. The second varsity eight, which left last night, the sophomore class crew, winner of the class crew championship of Harvard and Yale, and N. P. Darling of Worcester, an individual sculler, will be the Crimson entries.

On the same day the Harvard varsity eight will meet Cornell at Ithaca, N. Y.

DOOK SHORTSTOP IS HITTING THE PILL

HARRY WOLFE.

Harry Wolfe has played the best baseball of any of the members of the White Sox team on the road trip that has proved so disastrous. The hitting of the shortstop played a large part in winning the three games copped by the Dooks. Harry was late in getting into his hitting stride last year. The kid seems to be starting early this season.

BIG COLLEGES ARE ENTERED

Crack Crews to Compete at Philadelphia; Art Osman Will Row.

Harvard, Princeton, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, and possibly Columbia and Yale are among the colleges that have entered eight-oared crews in the American Henley that will be rowed tomorrow on the Schuylkill river course at Philadelphia. In addition to the college eights the Union Boat club of Boston, which is expected to be one of Duluth's strongest rivals at the National, the Harvard sophomore crews, and the third eight of the University of Pennsylvania are also down on the entry list.

Art Osman of Duluth is slated to represent Syracuse in the senior sculls. J. B. Ayers, a former Harvard oarsman, who competed in the Diamond sculls in the English Henley last year, will enter the sculls, and John B. Kelly, the crack of the Vesper Rowing club, is also down on the list. In these two men young Osman will be competing against the class of the East. If the Duluth lad makes a creditable showing it will be speaking volumes for his ability.

One of the special events carded is an eight-oared contest between the Union Boat club and the Vespers. The outcome of this race will be watched very closely by Jimmy Ten Eyck of the Duluth club. It is most likely that the local eight will be called upon to meet both of these eights at the Springfield national.

GOLF MEET IN PROSPECT

Duluth May Hold Big Invitation Tourney During Present Season.

An invitation golf tournament may be held on the Northland links some time after the first week of August. Announcement of the plans that have been talked over by members and officials of the club were made today, though John Mullin of the games committee stated that nothing was definite as yet.

The state golf tournament will be played over the Minnekahda links the first week in August. If the invitation golf meet is decided upon for Duluth, all of the cracks of the state will be asked to include Duluth in their competition plans. Many of those competing at Minneapolis it is believed would come to the Head of the Lakes and play in the invitation event.

If the weather man has a little mercy, the ball sweepstakes event will be played off at the Northland club tomorrow. This event is one in which every player puts up a ball, the winner and second man taking down the balls as prizes.

New Billiard Record.

St. Louis, Mo., May 21.—A new world's billiard record was made here last night when Charles Morin of Chicago scored a high run of 18 in an intercity tournament three-cushion game with Frank Benson of this city. Morin won the game 50 to 32.

DARBY O'BRIEN'S DOOKS BACK ON THE HOME SOD

The Orator and Mates Ready to Start a Winning Streak—Changes Contemplated in Team; Pitching Squad to Be Reduced; Superior Team Looks Strong.

Darby O'Brien and his players slid into town early today on slippery rails. It's hard to down the Irish; despite the disastrous road trip, the Dook smiles and declares that his merry men will show the fans some real baseball before the season is very much older.

Turner, the new pitcher, is here. The other players signed recently by the Irish Orator are expected to arrive later in the day. It is stated that Dinkle or Tauman will be seen in the outfield, and that Jimmy Collins will be shifted from the third base job to a position in the garden. Brown will probably be assigned to the awkward corner of the diamond.

There is going to be a shakeup in the pitching staff. The Dook has Bryant, Cadreau, Posten, Jackson, Turner, Boley and Hoffman. The heaving brigade will probably be cut to four knoll performers. Someone, or several someones, will get the can.

Brammell has been let out to Winnipeg. The former Virginia player was not belting the spheroid and his usefulness in the outfield was therefore rendered null and void. Winnipeg was shy a catcher, and Brammell is expected to fill the job.

There may be several other changes in the Dooks before long. One change in prospect concerns an infield position. Several contemplated shifts may be hastened or averted by the performance of the players on the home lot.

Game Is Uncertain.

Up to the time of sending the sheet to press, it looked rather dubious for the playing of the opening game today. The weather man is still juggling around an axe and is still harboring a grouch of huge proportions.

Herr Blume declared, while fretfully observing the lowering sky, that the game would be played if the weather man gave the athletes any show whatever. Double-headers are piling up at an amazing rate. The local magnate fancies not the idea of playing two games on Sunday, and will therefore pull the combat listed for this overcast day if such a feat lies within the bounds of human possibility.

Games May be Switched.

It may be that games will be switched between Brandon and St. Boniface. Yesterday's game was played in the little French town, across the Red river from Winnipeg. The game the day before yesterday was played in Brandon. Some of the boys like to travel, possibly, but the trip will pall even on the nerves of a busn leaguer if tried every other day.

Reds 6; Phillies 2.

Philadelphia, May 21.—Cincinnati hit the delivery of Alexander hard yesterday and Philadelphia was defeated, 6 to 2. Both of the home team's tallies were made on home run drives by Becker and Gravath in the fourth inning. With the exception of this inning, Dale was very effective.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	1	10	0
Philadelphia	0	4	2

Batteries—Dale and Dooin; Alexander and Killifer.

Cubs 4; Braves 2.

Boston, Mass., May 21.—Chicago improved its hold on second place against Boston yesterday by a score of 4 to 2. Hughes struck out eleven Chicago men, but his fine twirling was undone when the Cubs scored three runs in the seventh on Zimmerman's double, a pass, a single by Williams and Magee's muff of Knisely's long fly.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	4	8	2
Boston	2	5	2

Batteries—Pierce and Bresnahan, Archer; Hughes and Gowdy.
Two-base hits—Egan, Fisher, Zimmerman, 2; Smith. Three-base hit—Williams. Stolen bases—McLarry. Sacrifice hit—Smith. Double plays—Phelan, Zimmerman and Saier; Gowdy and Maranville. Left on bases—Chicago, 4; Boston, 6. First base on errors—Chicago, 1; Boston, 1. Bases on balls—Hughes, 1; Pierce, 4.

Cardinals 3; Brooklyn 1.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 21.—An error of judgment by Schulz in the first inning yesterday gave St. Louis enough runs to win from Brooklyn 3 to 1. With two out and Dolan on second, J. Miller hit to the third baseman, who had an easy throw to first to retire the side. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	3	6	0
Brooklyn	1	8	1

Batteries—Sallee and Snyder; Dell and O. Miller.

Pirates 6; Giants 2.

New York, May 21.—Pittsburgh took the first game of the series from New York yesterday 6 to 2. Perritt was knocked out of the box in the second inning. Schupp, who succeeded him, was wild, helping Pittsburgh swell its total of runs. Carey stole home in the eighth. Adams was steady throughout. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh	6	9	1
New York	2	6	2

Batteries—Adams and Gibson; Perritt, Schupp, Ritter and Meyers, Smith.

STROMBOLI WINS THE METROPOLITAN

Belmon's Gelding Almost Equals Record of Historic Event.

New York, May 21.—August Belmont's 4-year-old gelding Stromboli, by Fair Play-St. Priscilla, carrying 118 pounds, with Jockey Turner in the saddle, won the Metropolitan handicap at one mile, the feature of the card at the opening of the Eastern racing season at the Belmont park race track yesterday. A huge crowd watched the twenty-second running of this event, for which ten horses started, one of them being Rock View, a stable companion of the winner, which finished last, after running out at the turn into the stretch, Jockey Dugan refraining from forcing him to further effort.

Schuyler L. Parson's Sharpshooter finished second, three-quarters of a length behind the winner, with Capt. E. R. Cassatt's Flying Fairy third, five lengths away. The time, 1:39 4-5, is just two seconds slower than the track record for this race, made by Fashion Plate five years ago, and equaled by Ruskin, last year's winner. The Belmont entry was the public choice, and both jockey and horse were vociferously cheered when they returned to the judges' stand after the contest.

CALIFORNIA COLLEGES BREAK; RUGBY STOPPED

San Francisco, Cal., May 21.—The University of California and Leland Stanford university broke off athletic relations yesterday, and Rugby football, played nowhere else among American major colleges, thereby went into the discard. Whether it will be revived if the schools get together again was admitted to be questionable.

Rupture between the schools was caused by California's insistence that freshmen be not placed in varsity competitions. To this Stanford, with a student body one-fourth as large as her rival, would not accede. It was said there was no chance of an agreement for at least a year.

Where Experts Count

The motor oil that goes into your tank or crank case should have a pedigree back of it.

For it means efficiency, smoothness of operation, protection and economy; or, it means wear, carbon trouble and expense, according to its quality.

Who makes your motor oil?

"Standard Oil" experts stand back of Polarine. Their experience with every kind of lubricating problem and with every make and type of standard motor car is worth purchasing, since it costs "per gallon of oil" the same as you are asked to pay for common oil, and saves that cost in repairs many times over.

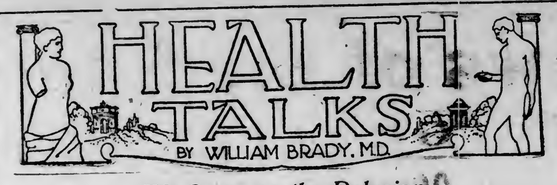
FRICTION REDUCING MOTOR OIL



We Score on the Delusion

OUR mail the other morning brought documentary evidence that one reader believes what we say. The lady exhibits a remarkable indifference to the speech of the people. She seems to act on conviction, regardless of what the neighbors may think. Hear her:

"My children and I have benefited very much by your fresh air talks, and they have been freer from colds this past winter than ever before. I keep them out for hours every day regardless of the state of the weather, whereas I used to bundle them indoors if it turned cold or damp or rainy. They practically sleep outdoors now, too. I want you to know how much we appreciate your good advice in this particular matter. When I began reading your articles I frankly thought you were a bit queer, especially about your views on the 'catching cold delusion.' Now, thank fortune, I have ample evidence that you are right."

Shame, to spoil a good family that way. Think how much it will take right out of the pocket of the family doctor!

Ah, but this testimonial is conspicuous by its intrusion among scores of other letters from readers who just know we are wrong about the "cold" proposition—no, these others haven't tested our wild theory, as they call it, but they just instinctively know we are wrong. Weren't they brought up on weatherphobia? Haven't they been dodging drafts (moving fresh air) all their sickly lives? What's a chest protector for anyway?

Score one victory for us. That one will bring at least a dozen others in time. The great difficulty is to get the first fresh air crank started—after that the thing just naturally spreads through the community by force of example.

If this eerie of erudition continue disseminating common senso hygiene for a few more years we expect our readers, if any surviving that long, will have forgotten what is to "take cold."

The same panacea has been held, by persons of experience, to be the best remedy for pretty nearly every other malady, including deliriums. It might make you forget, but it would make you more liable to pneumonia. Alcohol in any form is bad for the kidneys.

There was but one game in the Duluth Grade School Baseball league yesterday, the Washingtons defeating the Endions by the score of 16 to 5. This win places the Washingtons at the head of the percentage column of the Eastern division. During all of the present season the Washingtons have been playing a consistent game. From the start of the pennant race the players have shown a steady improvement. The Jeffersons, Salters and Lakesides are still in the race with both feet, but it will require some real hustling upon the part of the kid members of these teams to head off the rush of the Washingtons.

CANADA THANKS BAN JOHNSON FOR GIFT

Donation of Baseball Paraphernalia to Canadian Soldiers in France Brings Forth Enthusiastic Response.

Chicago, May 21.—The most famous ball players of the American league will be asked to autograph some of the baseballs which President Johnson will forward, among other paraphernalia, to the Canadian soldiers in France who want to while away the intermissions between battles, in playing the American national game.

President Johnson said today he would ask the players to contribute signed baseballs to the collection of materials he will provide which will include in the first consignment five gross of balls, fifty bats, six masks, and six catchers' protectors, with six sets of new uniforms to go later.

Reports reaching Chicago from France indicate that baseball, introduced among the French and British soldiers by Canadian troops who learned the game at home, is taking a firm foothold back of the trenches. The French are described as enthusiastic rooters.

Toronto, Ont., May 21.—The telegram from President Johnson of the American league that the club owners and players were arranging for a donation of baseball paraphernalia for use of the Canadian soldiers in France, came as a welcome surprise to the mayor of this city, and those who follow the American national game in this country. The following telegram of acceptance was sent to President Johnson by Mayor Church of Toronto:

"Your very thoughtful, generous and popular offer received and transmitted to the Canadian government and accepted with thanks. The government will arrange shipment. Will further communicate with you. Sporting goods sadly needed at the front, and constantly asked for by our men. Offer will be greatly appreciated.

"I take the opportunity offered by this auspicious occasion to thank you personally, and your generous club owners and players. You will all be paid in affectionate remembrance by our Canadian sportsmen for your splendid offer, kindness and good will as manifested in the tokens.

"We have recently completed the hundredth anniversary of peace with your people. May it be perpetuated, for all wish you well. Canadians pray that God will give the British and American peoples deliverance from the perils of these evil times. T. L. Church, mayor"

BOXERS TO SHOW AT AUDITORIUM

Watson, Billings, Stewart and Nelson to Give Exhibition.

Red Watson arrived in Superior yesterday and during the afternoon worked out at the Duluth Auditorium, boxing with Kid Billings and Young Stewart.

On Monday evening Watson, Billings, Stewart and Art Nelson, the Hawthorne, Wis., boxer, will appear in a free exhibition at the Auditorium. Watson is accompanied by "Handsome" Jack Kearns, his manager, who also has Billy Murray and Jack Bonds in tow. Bonds is the young Pacific coast heavyweight that James J. Corbett recommended. Bonds has been working out in Chicago and is said to be a comer.

Mandot is expected to arrive here next Wednesday. Joe and Tommy Walsh are believed to be in Chicago at the present time.

Watson will train in Superior.

WAINO KETONEN STILL WINNING

The Little Finn Disposes of Archie Parker in Handy Style.

Waino Ketonen, world's champion middleweight wrestler, dropped a line today. The little Finn has returned to the East. At Ashtabula, Ohio, the first part of the present week Waino added another victim to the long list of wrestlers he has beaten the present season, disposing of Archie Parker, considered invincible down in the Middle states, in two straight falls.

Ketonen won, the first fall coming in 27 minutes and the second in 12.

This makes forty-nine straight matches that Waino has won. That is an amazing record and proves the class of a boy who is without a doubt the greatest 158-pound grappler in the world.

BADGERS BEAT GOPHERS IN TEN-INNING GAME

Madison, Wis., May 21.—In a thrilling 10-inning game played on a field drenched with rain, Wisconsin defeated Minnesota, 7 to 8, at Camp Randall yesterday. Moon and Galvin pitched great ball for Wisconsin. Score:

Ouimet Defeated.

Brookline, Mass., May 21.—Francis Ouimet, national amateur golf champion, was defeated yesterday by Jesse Guilford, former New Hampshire titleholder, in a play-off match which followed a triple tie for medal honors in the Country club's tournament last week.

Guilford went around the course in 77 strokes, Ouimet in 79 and W. C. Chick of the Country club in 80.

Wet Weather for Meet.

Cambridge, Mass., May 21.—Heavy clouds early in the day indicated a probability of wet weather for the running off of the preliminary events in the annual New England intercollegiate athletic meet on the new field o fthe Massachusetts Institute of Technology today. The finals will be decided tomorrow. Dartmouth was a prohibitive favorite.

SUPREME COURT WILL DECIDE CASE

Will Determine If Ore Royalties Are Assessable as Credits.

For the purpose of obtaining final adjudication of the question of whether minimum iron ore royalties are assessable as an item of "money and credits" under the personal property tax statute, an appeal will be carried to the supreme court from the decision handed down by Judge Cant in district court Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Cant held that minimum royalties accruing to resident fee owners of St. Louis county iron mines were assessable and taxable as "credits" within the meaning of the statute. He upheld a $35,000 assessment for "money and credits" made against the Royal Mineral association in 1913. Of the $35,000, $5,000 was cash and $30,000 minimum royalties due for the year.

W. D. Bailey of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, attorneys for the Royal Mineral association, yesterday afternoon announced that an appeal from Judge Cant's decision would be taken to the supreme court. Charles E. Adams, special county counsel, will represent the taxing officials in the matter.

The report of the decision published in a morning paper stating in effect that tax receipts into the county treasury would be increased more than $1,000,000 as a result of the court's ruling, afforded amusement to the taxing authorities acquainted with the situation.

As was stated in The Herald, the decision, if sustained, will result in more than $1,000,000 in minimum royalties being placed on the assessment rolls in Duluth. The tax on moneys and credits, as fixed by statute, is three mills on the dollar.

Duck Killing Expensive.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 21.—William Denor, Charles Czarnetzki, William Edmunds and M. H. Mott, all of Sauk Rapids, who pleaded guilty to killing five ducks, were fined $50 and costs. Harvey Wilson of Clearwater was tried before Judge Donahue of this city and fined $10 and costs for killing a swan on April 3. A Federal prosecution may also follow.

BENEFITS NOT OPEN TO DOUBT

Results of Compulsory Temperance as Introduced Into Russia.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Petrograd, April 15.—A report on the results of compulsory temperance, as introduced into Russia since the beginning of the war, has been prepared by Prof. A. L. Mendelson of the Russian Society for the Preservation of the National Health.

In the opinion of Prof. Mendelson, the beneficial results of compulsory temperance are not open to doubt. In proof of his contention he cites the reduction of alcoholic sickness in Petrograd and of the attendance at anti-alcoholic sanatoriums, the decline in the number of cases of dipsomania and alcoholic insanity, and also of general mental affections. He notes also a reduction of indirect manifestations of alcoholic sickness, of traumatic injuries and suicides. For example, from July to December there were in 1913, 97 suicides, while in 1914 the total was reduced to 14.

Other results of temperance, says the professor, were an increase in savings banks deposits and a reduction in the number of small loans made by the pawn shops. For the first two months of 1915 the savings banks of Petrograd received deposits exceeding the figures of the corresponding months a year ago by 1,500,000 rubles, while throughout Russia the deposits increased by 100,000,000 rubles.

Sunday Evening Suppers

YOU need never fear the unexpected Sunday supper guest when you have a package of Creamettes in the house.

Creamettes is the new, more tender, macaroni product made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor of its own.

As you know, ordinary macaroni takes from 30 to 35 minutes to cook. Creamettes cooks to a delicious tenderness in from 5 to 8 minutes—less than one-third the time. Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, with chicken or with nuts.

PUPILS' WORK EXHIBITED

Domestic Science and Arts Represented at Denfeld School Display.

Many Excellent Features Reflect Credit Upon the Students.

Exhibitions, which are very interesting in themselves, and even more interesting as showing what school children are taught, are to be seen at the R. E. Denfeld high school. The displays are those of the domestic science and arts departments of the school.

It is impossible to draw comparisons among the various departments. Each is unique and complete and shows that great interest has been taken in the work by the children and the teachers.

Sewing Department.

In the sewing room, totaling 40 girls from the junior and senior classes, the work, which is optional, shows every kind of wearing apparel used by women. Here a part of the room looks like the display of a first class women's store. Dresses, kimonos, fancy worked underwear, underskirts, corset covers, and articles of wear too numerous to mention, are included.

Here also is the display of fancy work, such as crocheting, tatting, embroidery and work that has been prepared by the girls and some of which will be sent to their friends next Christmas as presents. One unique feature is a serving tray, having been made by the boys of the manual training department, with the embroidered initials of the girls worked into the linen under the plate.

Miss Esther A. Perusse, instructor, said this morning that the girls who entered the class are not only showing great interest in the work, but are turning out a different kind of work, that is not only a credit to themselves, but would be so to many first-class modistes' shops.

The display at the cooking department is very commendable. In this class are more than sixty girls from the freshmen and junior classes. The exhibit includes canned goods, made last fall; baking, such as bread, rolls, cookies, raised doughnuts, tarts; prepared meats, such as veal loaf, steaks, roasts and gravies and sauces. A liberal display of candy is also shown.

The exhibit is displayed on a long table that stretches the entire length of the room. Special instructions have been given the students in preparing dishes for the sick room, and these, containing the broths and other prepared foods, are exhibited.

Junior Work Excellent.

Miss Irene Walker, instructor of the class, said that the work of the juniors, which includes the second year of their instruction, is especially good. Many of the girls of the freshman class, who are now taking their first year's course in cooking, are also displaying rapid progress in learning the art of cooking.

Exhibitions of free-hand drawing in the arts department shows clever work on the part of the students. Here drawing from life is one of the features. Many scenes about West Duluth are portrayed on the walls. Miss Jessie Guild is instructor of the class. Many of the artistic drawings have been framed and labeled with the name of the pupil.

S. A. Foster, principal of the high school, said this morning that he would be pleased to have those interested in the work call at the school and view the exhibit. The school will be open to the public during the afternoons next week and those who wish to see what the students are doing will be able to view the work at that time.

DRILL TEAM WILL VISIT THE RANGE

The entire drill team of Old Hickory Camp No. 1555, M. W. A., as well as officers of the lodge, will leave tomorrow evening over the Canadian Northern on a special car for Virginia, where they will have charge of the initiation of one of the biggest classes of candidates ever enrolled into the order at one time. The West Duluth members will return Sunday morning over the Duluth Missabe & Northern.

The officers who will go are: John C. Ramsbottom, consul; A. R. Armstrong, vice consul; S. P. Wick, advisor; Wallace Lovlace, banker; W. E. Tuscan and M. T. Carlson. The team of sixteen members will be under the direction of Capt. C. C. Salter.

The drill team is one of the most proficient in the Woodmen jurisdiction. It has taken several prizes at Woodmen conventions, and will go this summer to California to participate in the competitive drill to be held at the convention at San Francisco. An exhibition drill to be given by the team will be one of the features following the initiatory work tomorrow night. Large delegations from Hibbing, Eveleth, Biwabik, Gilbert and other range cities have arranged to be present.

NORWAY AND UNCLE SAM IN PAGEANT

Edda lodge, No. 15, Daughters of Norway, entertained an audience that packed the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue, last evening, at a pageant representing Norway and some parts of the United States. One of the features was that of the representation of "Uncle Sam" and the "Goddess of Liberty."

A drill given by sixteen small girls wearing white frocks with red and blue stars and carrying American flags was one of the features. Booths, at which refreshments were served, were presided over by women in costumes. The various characters were represented as follows:

"Uncle Sam," Paul Olson; "Goddess of Liberty," Miss Grace Hansen; "King Haakon," Carl Knutson; "Queen Maud," Mrs. Inga Anderson. Attending the booths were Mrs. P. Lund, Washington, D. C., booth; Mrs. Louis S. Larsen, Christiania; Mrs. N. Sorenson, Trondhjem; Mrs. M. Holterud, Gudbransdalen; Mrs. L. H. Hansen, Stavanger; Mrs. M. Nelson, Bergen; Mrs. M. Nielson, Nordland; Mrs. M. Thorness, Mrs. L. Rud, "Hammerfest"; Mrs. Peter Wick, fancy booth.

AMOL G. SWANSTROM.

If you wish to know who has the fastest ten-horse power motor boat on St. Louis river ask Amol G. Swanstrom. To hear him tell it there is only one boat that develops any speed and that is the "Gee Whiz." That is the boat he happens to own.

The "Gee Whiz" did win one race some years ago and its owner still claims it to be the "best ever" and says he has a challenge out for anyone who disputes his statements.

Mr. Swanstrom has lived in the western end of the city for twenty-five years, but he says it is only until recently that he realized that West Duluth was the "brightest spot" in town. He recently engaged in business on Central avenue and has become one of West Duluth's best boosters.

Mr. Swanstrom is at present interested in the forming of a boat club in this end of the city. It is proposed to reorganize the Western Boat club as soon as conditions warrant good boating on the river.

WOMEN MEMBERS TO INITIATE CLASS

Yeomen Organize Team to Take Charge of Ceremonies.

The work of initiation of a class of new members into the Non-Excelled homestead, No. 4276, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, next Wednesday evening at Gilley's hall, will be conducted by women of the order. A team of young women has been organized, which will occupy all of the chairs that evening and carry out the work.

Invitations have been extended to members of the Duluth homestead and the three Superior homesteads to attend the affair. The work will commence at 8:15 oclock sharp. Following the initiary work, the members of the team will be hostesses for the members present and will serve light luncheon.

The following are the members of the team and the positions they will occupy during the evening:

Miss Anna Duggan, captain; Miss Genevieve Brassard, foreman; Miss Pheobe Brassard, master of ceremonies; Mrs. Rita Trimble, correspondent; Mrs. Marie Ermatinger, overseer; Miss Emma Lambert, chaplain; Miss Irene McDougall, master of accounts; Miss Martha Onsgaard, courier; Miss Alice Whalen, Rebecca; Miss Tillie Soshie, Lady Rowena; Miss Esther Johnson, watchman; Miss Amelia Perry, black knight; Mrs. Genevieve Young, Girth; Mrs. Hand, Wamba; Miss Mabel Smalley, sentinel; Miss Margaret Brassard and Miss Jennie Lambert, leaders.

WILL PRESENT PLAY.

Denfeld Girls Will Be Seen in "The Silver Thread."

The Denfeld High School Girls' club will give its first annual play at the auditorium of the high school next Wednesday evening. "The Silver Thread" is the title of the production. Rehearsals have been conducted during the last two months.

The play is in three acts. The first and last act are in two scenes. The music will be furnished by Jackson's orchestra. The following is the cast:

MERRITT SCHOOL PROGRAM.

Pupils Will Entertain for Benefit of Playgrounds Fund.

Children of the Merritt school, Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street, this evening will give a program to which people of the district have been invited. The proceeds will go towards purchasing equipment for the playgrounds adjoining the school.

Every room in the building is represented in the entertainment. The program is follows:

Group of songs, "Bird Song," "Spring Song," "Baby's Boat Song;" folk dance, Mrs. M. B. Herrick's pupils.

Dramatization of "Barbara Fritchie;" folk dances, "Chimes of Dunkirk" and "Carousel," by Miss Clara Simon's pupils.

Group of song, "Shadows," "Hobby Horse" and "Echo;" dramatization of "Hansel and Grutel;" folk dances, "Shoemaker's Dance" and "Swedish Clap Dance," Miss Gertrude Flaherty's pupils.

Calesthenics by fourteen boys; folk dance, "Russian Skater's Dance;" songs, "The Butterfly" and a roundelay, "Early to Bed," etc., "Evening Song," by Miss Margaret Thorn's pupils.

Dramatization of "Sleeping Beauty;" songs, "Wake, Children, Wake," "May Time," "The Donkey" and "The Woodpecker," Miss Gertrude Wellington's pupils.

Receive First Communion.

A class of more than 100 boys and girls will receive their first communion at St. James' Catholic church, Fifty-seventh avenue, Sunday morning. The ceremony will take place at 9:30 o'clock. The class is one of the largest that has been received into membership of the church at one time in recent years.

West Duluth Briefs.

Rev. John Begley, former assistant pastor of the St. James Catholic church, now at Deer River, is spending a few days visiting friends in this end of the city. He will leave this evening for his home.

The Sunshine circle of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church will be entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Jorgensen, 832 South Sixty-third avenue west.

Miss Margaret Myles, 422 North Fifty-eighth avenue west entertained last evening for the Sunshine circle of the Westminster Presbyterian Sunday school.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the St. James' Catholic church will meet on Tuesday afternoon at Gilley's hall, 322 North Central avenue. The hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Baker, Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Masse and Mrs. Nelson.

Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

Mrs. J. O. Johnson will entertain next Thursday afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church at the meeting of the society to be held in the church parlors.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all banking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturday evening.

TWENTY YEARS FOR POISONING SPOUSE

Mrs. Cynthia Buffum Pleads Guilty and Is Sentenced for Crime.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 21.—Mrs. Cynthia Buffum, the Little Valley woman on trial in supreme court on a charge of poisoning her husband, Willis Buffum, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree today.

CYNTHIA BUFFUM.

Mrs. Buffum was sentenced to not less than twenty years imprisonment.

ROUTED FROM BED; PLACED IN CELL

Tenant Arrested for Making Too Strenuous Demands for Repairs.

Peacefully asleep in his room at 811½ East Third street, Harry Dahl, 42, was disturbed last night by Police Sergeant Englert, who routed him out of bed to inform him that he was under arrest, charged with disorderly conduct.

Mr. Dahl rubbed his eyes, donned his clothes, and finally accompanied the officer to headquarters, where he was given a bunk in a cell for the remainder of the night. He was released on bail this morning and will be given a hearing before Judge Cutting this afternoon.

John W. Nagle, 220 Fifth avenue west, who made the complaint late last night, alleged that Dahl was in the habit of calling up his home over the telephone without provocation, and annoying the members of his household, according to police. It was stated that Mr. Dahl lived in a house owned by Mr. Nagle, and that his telephone calls were for the purpose of making complaints regarding alleged defects in the residence.

CLOQUET LICENSE DEBATE.

City Attorney Is Pitted Against St. Louis License Advocate.

Cloquet, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A debate on the question, "Resolved, That the licensing of saloons would be for the best interests of Carlton county," was held last night at the Diamond theater, F. T. Persinger upholding the negative and Charles Meeker of St. Louis, Mo., the affirmative. Each speaker was allowed forty minutes for the presentation and fifteen minutes for rebuttal.

Mr. Meeker, opening the debate tried to change the wording of the question but was interrupted, and from then on his speech was rather more of a typical "wet" speech than a debate. He tried to show that more saloons brought more churches, more morality and less crime. His speech was full of sarcasm and ridicule.

Mr. Persinger stayed firmly by the question and contended that the saloons were not for the best interests of Carlton county. His talk was forceful and he did not resort to anything but facts and figures to prove his point. He produced the Carlton county criminal record for ten months. He showed that with no saloons in 1914 crime decreased 282½ per cent under 1913.

CLOQUET PLANNING FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Cloquet, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee appointed by the Commercial club to arrange plans for a Memorial day celebration perfected the plans.

Monday, May 31, was selected as the day and a parade was arranged taking in all the school children of the city and to which the public and especially those owning vehicles are invited.

The line will commence to form at the Garfield school building at 1:45 p. m., taking in all school buildings as it progresses the main streets toward the cemeteries. Flags will be presented to all the school children. A committee of young ladies will arrange local flowers for placing on the graves of the buried veterans. Local gentlemen will be the speakers of the day. It is expected that a firing squad of Spanish war veterans will care for the salute to the dead. Because of financial conditions the committee have sought to lessen the expense as much as possible and feel that Cloquet can have a good celebration without a large expenditure of money. The city band and the fife and drum corps will have charge of the music.

TO PREPARE DATA ON ORE ROYALTIES

Decision on Assessment Will Affect 200 in Duluth.

As a result of the opinion handed down yesterday by District Judge Cant that the city assessor may list iron ore royalties in the valuation of "moneys and credits," J. Allyn Scott, city assessor, announced this morning that he will immediately begin to prepare data on all royalties received in Duluth. More than 200 Duluthians will be affected by this decision, in his estimation.

These figures, he said, will be included in "moneys and credits," and will be placed on the St. Louis county tax books after July 1. According to the laws of Minnesota, every person must bring in a list of his moneys and credits to the city assessor's office before July 1, otherwise the assessor has the right to make a valuation and to add a penalty of 50 per cent. This mandatory provision is included in section 7 of chapter 285, laws of Minnesota, as follows:

"The assessor shall ascertain as nearly as possible the particulars of the personal estate subject to taxation under this act of any person who has not brought in such list, and shall estimate its just value according to his best information and belief. He shall also add thereto 50 per cent of the estimated value of such property as a penalty; and such estimate, with the penalty of 50 per cent, shall be entered in the valuation books, and shall be conclusive upon any person who has not seasonably brought in a list of his estate unless he can show reasonable excuse for the omission."

Although the decision of Judge Cant will be appealed to the supreme court, Mr. Scott will prepare his tax lists to include the royalties. The opinion of the court, he said, would not be handed down for some time, and in all probability the tax will have to be paid this year, as the valuations will be spread on the county's books within a few months. In case the supreme court reverses the opinion of Judge Cant, action will then have to be taken against the county officials, Mr. Scott said.

BIG ASSESSMENT ROLL.

Will Contain 246 Pages Prepared By City Official.

What is probably the largest assessment roll on record in the city hall is now being prepared in the city assessor's office on the Gary sewer job.

When completed, the roll will contain 246 pages and will cover assessments on all the property benefited by the sewer built throughout a great portion of Gary during the last winter.

The assessment roll covers an 80 per cent advance assessment, amounting to $28,742.36. The engineer's estimate on the entire job amounts to $35,927.94.

THREE MONTANANS ARE AUTO VICTIMS

Helena, Mont., May 21.—When an automobile overturned eight miles east of Helena Wednesday night, the driver, Jimmie Jones; Howard M. Little, a saloon owner, and Mrs. R. C. Reed were killed instantly. Miss Evely Chapman suffered severe injuries.

The lighting apparatus of the wrecked car was out of commission and the driver failed to make a curve in the road.

Bemidji vs. Border City.

International Falls, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bemidji will be the second team to line up against the local nine next Sunday. Bemidji boasts of the fastest team that has ever represented the city on the diamond and the game will be a tough one, as the locals are practicing hard and going at a fast pace.

ONE FAMILY IN FIFTEEN HAS AUTO

More Than 1,200 Machines Owned in Duluth, Assessor's Figures Show.

One person out of every seventy-five in Duluth owns an automobile.

Figuring five members to a family and 90,000 people in Duluth, one family in every fifteen has an automobile.

There are 1,201 automobiles and ninety-nine motorcycles in Duluth, according to figures already available in the city assessor's office.

Deputy assessors, who have been placing a valuation on all the automobiles in Duluth, have completed their work and clerks are now assembling the figures for the county tax books.

Last year there were about 1,000 automobiles registered, showing an increase of more than 200 machines during the year.

METCALFE APPEAL WILL BE HEARD

For the first time since civil service was established in Duluth ten years ago, the commission will this afternoon hear an appeal of a discharged employe.

R. M. Metcalfe, former health inspector, has appealed to the commission to be reinstated in the department, claiming that he was discharged by Health Director Fahey without any cause and that he is still entitled to his position.

It is expected that the commission will make a decision after the hearing this afternoon, which is scheduled to take place at 2 o'clock. Commissioner Silberstein, Dr. Fahey and Mr. Metcalfe will testify before the commission, which consists of R. W. Nichols, George Parker and M. J. Pillatrault.

Fargo Memorial Day Plans.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in recent years the G. A. R. veterans will have an adequate place for holding the annual Memorial exercises. The new auditorium with a seating capacity of 2,500 will be the place in which the exercises will be held this year. Rev. W. J. Hutcheson of the Broadway Methodist church will deliver the chief address, and many other leading ministers of the city will participate in the program.

PUPILS' WORK EXHIBITED

Domestic Science and Arts Represented at Denfeld School Display.

Many Excellent Features Reflect Credit Upon the Students.

Exhibitions, which are very interesting in themselves, and even more interesting as showing what school children are taught, are to be seen at the R. E. Denfeld high school. The displays are those of the domestic science and arts departments of the school.

It is impossible to draw comparisons among the various departments. Each is unique and complete and shows that great interest has been taken in the work by the children and the teachers.

Sewing Department.

In the sewing room, totaling 40 girls from the junior and senior classes, the work, which is optional, shows every kind of wearing apparel used by women. Here a part of the room looks like the display of a first class women's store. Dresses, kimonos, fancy worked underwear, underskirts, corset covers, and articles of wear too numerous to mention, are included.

There also is a big display of fancy work, such as crocheting, tatting, embroidery and work that has been prepared by the girls and some of which will be sent to their friends next Christmas as presents. One unique feature is a serving tray, having been made by the boys of the manual training department, with the embroidered initials of the girls worked into the linen under the glass.

Miss Esther A. Perusse, instructor, said this morning that the girls who entered the class are not only showing great interest in the work, but are turning out a different kind of work, that is not only a credit to themselves, but would be so to many first-class modistes' shops.

The display at the cooking department is very commendable. In this class are more than sixty girls from the freshmen and junior classes. The exhibit includes canned goods, made last fall; baking, such as bread, rolls, cookies, raised doughnuts, tarts, prepared meats, such as veal loaf, steaks, roasts and gravies and sauces. A liberal display of candy is also shown.

The exhibit is displayed on a long table that stretches the entire length of the room. Special instructions have been given the students in preparing dishes for the sick room, and these, containing the broths and other prepared foods, are exhibited.

Junior Work Excellent.

Miss Irene Walker, instructor of the class, said that the work of the juniors, which includes the second year of their instruction, is especially good. Many of the girls of the freshman class, who are now taking their first year's course in cooking, are also displaying rapid progress in learning the art of cooking.

Exhibitions of free-hand drawing in the arts department shows clever work on the part of the students. Here drawing from life is one of the features. Many scenes about West Duluth are portrayed on the walls. Miss Jessie Guild is instructor of the class. Many of the artistic drawings have been framed and labeled with the name of the pupil.

S. A. Foster, principal of the high school, said this morning that he would be pleased to have those interested in the work call at the school and view the exhibit. The school will be open to the public during the afternoons next week and those who wish to see what the students are doing will be able to view the work at that time.

DRILL TEAM WILL VISIT THE RANGE

The entire drill team of Old Hickory camp No. 1555, M. W. A., as well as officers of the lodge, will leave tomorrow evening over the Canadian Northern on a special car for Virginia, where they will have charge of the initiation of one of the biggest classes of candidates ever enrolled into the order at one time. The West Duluth members will return Sunday morning over the Duluth Missabe & Northern.

The officers who will go are: John C. Ramsbottom, consul; A. R. Armstrong, vice consul; S. P. Wick, advisor; Wallace Lovlace, banker; W. E. Tuscan and M. T. Carlson. The team of sixteen members will be under the direction of Capt. C. C. Salter.

The drill team is one of the most proficient in the Woodmen jurisdiction. It has taken several prizes at Woodmen conventions, and will go this summer to California to participate in the competitive drill to be held at the convention at San Francisco. An exhibition drill to be given by the team will be one of the features following the initiatory work tomorrow night. Large delegations from Hibbing, Eveleth, Biwabik, Gilbert and other range cities have arranged to be present.

NORWAY AND UNCLE SAM IN PAGEANT

Udda lodge, No. 15, Daughters of Norway, entertained an audience that packed the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue, last evening, at a pageant representing Norway and some parts of the United States. One of the features was that of the representation of "Uncle Sam" and the "Goddess of Liberty."

A drill given by sixteen small girls wearing white frocks with red and blue stars and carrying American flags was one of the features. Booths, at which refreshments were served, were presided over by women in costumes. The various characters were represented as follows:

"Uncle Sam," Paul Olson; "Goddess of Liberty," Miss Grace Hansen; "King Haakon," Carl Knutson; "Queen Maud," Mrs. Inga Anderson. Attending the booths were Mrs. P. Lund, Washington, D. C., booth; Mrs. Louis S. Larsen, Christiania; Mrs. N. Sorenson, Trondhjem; Mrs. M. Holterud, Gudbransdalen; Mrs. L. H. Hansen, Stavanger; Mrs. M. Neilson, Bergen; Mrs. M. Nielson, Nordland; Mrs. M. AMOL G. SWANSTROM.

If you wish to know who has the fastest ten-horse power motor boat on St. Louis river ask Amol G. Swanstrom. To hear him tell it there is only one boat that develops any speed and that is the "Gee Whiz." That is the boat he happens to own.

The "Gee Whiz" did win one race some years ago and its owner still claims it to be the "best ever" and says he has a challenge out for anyone who disputes his statements.

Mr. Swanstrom has lived in the western end of the city for twenty-five years, but he says it is only until recently that he realized that West Duluth was the "brightest spot" in town. He recently engaged in business on Central avenue and has become one of West Duluth's best boosters.

Mr. Swanstrom is at present interested in the forming of a boat club in this end of the city. It is proposed to reorganize the Western Boat club as soon as conditions warrant good boating on the river.

WOMEN MEMBERS TO INITIATE CLASS

Yeomen Organize Team to Take Charge of Ceremonies.

The work of initiation of a class of new members into the Non-Excelled homestead, No. 4276, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, next Wednesday evening at Gilley's hall, will be conducted by women of the order. A team of young women has been organized, which will occupy all of the chairs that evening and carry out the work.

Invitations have been extended to members of the Duluth homestead and the three Superior homesteads to attend the affair. The work will commence at 8:15 oclock sharp. Following the initiary work, the members of the team will be hostesses for the members present and will serve light luncheon.

The following are the members of the team and the positions they will occupy during the evening:

Miss Anna Duggan, captain; Miss Genevieve Brassard, foreman; Miss Phoebe Brassard, master of ceremonies; Mrs. Rita Trimble, correspondent; Mrs. Marie Ermatinger, overseer; Miss Emma Lambert, chaplain; Miss Irene McDougall, master of accounts; Miss Martha Onsgaard, courier; Miss Alice Whalen, Rebecca; Miss Tillie Soshie, Lady Rowena; Miss Esther Johnson, watchman; Miss Amelia Perry, black knight; Mrs. Genevieve Young, Girth; Mrs. Hand, Wamba; Miss Mabel Smalley, sentinel; Miss Margaret Brassard and Miss Jennie Lambert, leaders.

pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree today.

Mrs. Buffum was sentenced to not less than twenty years imprisonment.

ROUTED FROM BED; PLACED IN CELL

Tenant Arrested for Making Too Strenuous Demands for Repairs.

Peacefully asleep in his room at 811½ East Third street, Harry Dahl, 42, was disturbed last night by Police Sergeant Englert, who routed him out of bed to inform him that he was under arrest, charged with disorderly conduct.

Mr. Dahl rubbed his eyes, donned his clothes, and finally accompanied the officer to headquarters, where he was given a bunk in a cell for the remainder of the night. He was released on bail this morning and will be given a hearing before Judge Cutting this afternoon.

John W. Nagle, 920 Fifth avenue west, who made the complaint late last night, alleged that Dahl was in the habit of calling up his home over the telephone without provocation, and annoying the members of his household, according to police. It was stated that Mr. Dahl lived in a house owned by Mr. Nagle, and that his telephone calls were for the purpose of making complaints regarding alleged defects in the residence.

CLOQUET LICENSE DEBATE.

City Attorney Is Pitted Against St. Louis License Advocate.

Cloquet, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A debate on the question, "Resolved, That the licensing of saloons would be for the best interests of Carlton county," was held last night at the Diamond theater, F. T. Persinger upholding the negative and Charles Meeker of St. Louis, Mo., the affirmative. Each speaker was allowed forty minutes for the presentation and fifteen minutes for rebuttal.

Mr. Meeker, opening the debate tried to change the wording of the question but was interrupted, and from then on his speech was rather more of a typical "wet" speech than a debate. He tried to show that more saloons brought more churches, more morality and less crime. His speech was full of sarcasm and ridicule.

Mr. Persinger stayed firmly by the question and contended that the saloons were not for the best interests of Carlton county. His talk was forceful and he did not resort to anything but facts and figures to prove his point. He produced the Carlton county criminal record for ten months. He showed that with no saloons in 1914 crime decreased 282½ per cent under 1913.

CLOQUET PLANNING FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Cloquet, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee appointed by the Commercial club to arrange plans for a Memorial day celebration perfected the plans.

Monday, May 31, was selected as the day and a parade was arranged taking in all the school children of the city and to which the public and especially those owning vehicles are invited.

The line will commence to form at the Garfield school building at 1:45 p. m., taking in all school buildings as it progresses the main streets toward the cemeteries. Flags will be presented to all the school children. A committee of young ladies will arrange local flowers for placing on the graves of the buried veterans. Local gentlemen will be the speakers of the day. It is expected that a firing squad of Spanish war veterans will care for the salute to the dead. Because of financial conditions the committee have sought to lessen the expense as much as possible and feel that Cloquet can have a good celebration without a large expenditure of money. The city band and the fife and drum corps will have charge of the music.

TO PREPARE DATA ON ORE ROYALTIES

Decision on Assessment Will Affect 200 in Duluth.

As a result of the opinion handed down yesterday by District Judge Cant that the city assessor may list iron ore royalties in the valuation of "moneys and credits," J. Allyn Scott, city assessor, announced this morning that he will immediately begin to prepare data on all royalties received in Duluth. More than 200 Duluthians will be affected by this decision, in his estimation.

These figures, he said, will be included in "moneys and credits," and will be placed on the St. Louis county tax books after July 1. According to the laws of Minnesota, every person must bring in a list of his moneys and credits to the city assessor's office before July 1, otherwise the assessor has the right to make a valuation and to add a penalty of 50 per cent. This mandatory provision is included in section 7 of chapter 285, laws of Minnesota, as follows:

"The assessor shall ascertain as nearly as possible the particulars of the personal estate subject to taxation under this act of any person who has not brought in such list, and shall estimate the just value according to his best information and belief. He shall also add thereto 50 per cent of the estimated value of such property as a penalty; and such estimate, with the penalty of 50 per cent, shall be entered in the valuation books, and shall be conclusive upon any person who has not seasonably brought in a list of his estate unless he can show reasonable excuse for the omission."

Although the decision of Judge Cant will be appealed to the supreme court, Mr. Scott will prepare his tax lists to include the royalties. The opinion of the court, he said, would not be handed down for some time, and in all probability the tax will have to be paid this year, as the valuations will be spread on the county's books within a few months. In case the supreme court reverses the opinion of Judge Cant, action will then have to be taken against the county officials, Mr. Scott said.

BIG ASSESSMENT ROLL.

Will Contain 246 Pages Prepared By City Official.

What is probably the largest assessment roll on record in the city hall is now being prepared in the city assessor's office on the Gary sewer job.

When completed, the roll will contain 246 pages and will cover assessments on all the property benefited by the sewer built throughout a great portion of Gary during the last winter.

The assessment roll covers an 80 per cent advance assessment, amounting to $28,742.35. The engineer's estimate on the entire job amounts to $35,927.94.

ON THE IRON RANGES

EVELETH INVITES PAVING POINTERS

Wants Advice Before Letting Proposed City Contracts.

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bids are to be opened at the next meeting of the city council for the paving of Monroe, Pierce, Jones and Jackson streets. There is some difference of opinion as to the best kind of paving to use and the council has invited all property owners and to others interested to be present and give their ideas before the contract is let.

Different Bids Asked.

Contractors have been asked to bid on concrete, creosote block, brick, hillside brick and sandstone and to submit samples. With the prices of the various kinds of paving and samples at hand it will be easier to decide.

City Engineer C. M. Dorway has recommended a hillside brick or something similar for Pierce and Jones street. The grade on Pierce, he states, is nearly 10 per cent and on Jones street over 6 per cent. Mr. Dorway gave estimates of the costs of various kinds of paving at the council meeting this week but there was little discussion of the matter.

Setting Out Trees.

Park Commissioner J. A. Spurrier has been busy with a crew of men the last few days setting out trees and shrubs in the parks and boulevards. About 500 trees and 2,500 shrubs were received and set out to replace defective trees and shrubs and at new locations.

Mr. Spurrier states that some damage was done in the parks by the storm.

CHISHOLM IS TO ENTERTAIN WOMEN

Committee Named for Coming Meeting of Eighth District Clubs.

Chisholm, Minn., May 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Federated Clubs of the Eighth congressional district will meet here in annual convention on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 25 and 26. Each of the twenty-four clubs in the district will be represented and the Woman's club is making plans to entertain about 125 delegates and visitors.

The visitors, except those from the neighboring range towns, will arrive on the morning Missabe train from Duluth. They will be entertained at luncheon at 11:30 a. m. at the high school building. The meal will be prepared and served by the girls of the high school domestic science classes, under the supervision of Miss Crow.

The convention will open Tuesday afternoon. On Tuesday evening the delegates and visitors will be entertained at a reception at the library. Flowers and plants from the municipal greenhouse will be used in decorating the club rooms during the days of the convention.

Will Visit Mines.

There will be open sessions on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning and afternoon. The delegates and visitors will be taken to the mines and other places of interest during their stay in the village.

The convention will close early on Wednesday afternoon so as to allow the delegates to return to their homes on the 3:55 Missabe train.

Following are the committees, which have been appointed by the president of the Woman's club, Miss Nell Z. Peterson:

Housing—Mrs. C. E. French, Mrs. T. J. Smith, Mrs. William Conley.

Train—Mrs. William Conley, Mrs. H. H. Angst, Mrs. George L. Train.

Decorations—Miss Margaret Palmer, Mrs. W. G. Eisenman, Miss Peterson.

Refreshments—Mrs. Ferdinand Drotning, Mrs. C. R. Woods, Mrs. E. H. Nelson.

Luncheons—Mrs. F. M. Andrews, Mrs. William Ulrich, Mrs. L. M. Chapman.

Printing—Mrs. F. M. Andrews, Mrs. E. H. Nelson.

Credentials—Mrs. C. R. Woods, Mrs. L. M. Chapman, Mrs. Ferdinand Drotning.

HARTNESS GIVEN PISTOL.

Former Captain of Eveleth Militia Company Honored By Men.

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A banquet was served by Company F, Third infantry, Minnesota National Guard, at the armory in honor of Capt. J. C. Hartness, whose resignation as captain of the company was accepted several weeks ago. The retiring commander was presented with an automatic pistol by the men of his command.

About sixty men were seated at the banquet table. First Lieut. C. U. Jenkins was toastmaster, calling on a number of members for short talks. Following the banquet a social hour was spent in the armory club rooms. Capt. Mahon and Judge W. E. Moylan assisted in making the evening an enjoyable one with songs and stories and the company quartet sang.

EVELETH MOOSE LODGE HAS BEEN INSTITUTED

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Moose lodge has been instituted here with a charter membership of ninety-six. The institution took place at the auditorium with a delegation of Moose from Virginia, Hibbing, Chisholm and Buhl present.

The following officers were installed by District Deputy Supreme Dictator T. L. O'Keefe of Virginia: Past dictator, Solomon Sax; dictator, Edward H. Hatch; vice dictator, J. J. Brinee; prelate, J. E. Crane; secretary, Victor Parks; treasurer, Carl Niemi; inner guard, Richard Abrahamson; trustee, one year, L. O. Magee; trustee, two years, J. S. Saari; trustee, three years, John Glode.

CHISHOLM TO HOLD ITS FIRST MEMORIAL

Services in Honor of Nation's Dead Planned for May 30.

Chisholm, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local camp of Spanish-American Var Veterans on Sunday, May 30, will honor the nation's soldier dead. They will endeavor to have the council purchase a wreath of flowers and bring out the Commercial band. A parade will start from the village hall on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and proceed to the cemetery where Joseph Austin will deliver an oration and the graves of the departed will be decorated.

The school children, Boy Scouts and all interested citizens will join the parade. Civil war Veterans Cass and Hubbard will lead the parade as guests of honor. For the past two years the local veterans and citizens have honored the day with the Hibbing militia, at Hibbing and this will be the first attempt to observe the day in Chisholm.

BEAR RIVER PHONE CONTRACT AWARDED

Hibbing Concern Will String Wires for New System.

Bear River, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The directors of the Bear River Valley Rural Telephone company have awarded the contract for stringing wires of the telephone line operating from Hibbing and Chisholm through Bear River to Togo to the Home Electrical & Construction company of Hibbing.

One thousand poles have been peeled and are ready to be set. The recent rains have taken the frost out of the ground which will allow the holes to be dug without difficulty from that score and an experienced telephone man has been secured to superintend a crew of men organized locally to prepare the line for the stringing of the wires. They hope to start this crew Monday the 24th. Local labor will be utilized wherever possible, labor to apply in payment of stock.

Metallic Circuit.

The main line will be a metallic circuit. An extra line will be run from the Lake district to Bear River to accommodate patrons at the lakes.

A unit type switchboard has been purchased from the Western Electric company, the first unit of which has space for ten lines. Other units can be added as the company extends its service. The outlook is promising as surrounding districts have approached the company with a view to having service extended to their territory.

PLAYGROUND SUPERVISOR.

Hibbing Saturday Club Will Act on Mr. Settle's Suggestion.

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Need of a playground supervisor here has been given considerable attention by the Saturday club since the statement by T. S. Settle, field secretary for the recreational and Playground association of America, that playgrounds without a supervisor are worse than no playgrounds.

Mrs. H. H. Faust, president of the club, said that the playground committee is actively working towards the appointment of a supervisor here. Miss Sophia Wiley, chairman of the committee in charge, will report at an early meeting of the club.

MAY INCREASE INTEREST

If Keewatin Cannot Borrow Money From State Treasurer.

Keewatin, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Village President P. M. Stone and Village Trustee O. J. Reppe are in St. Paul for the purpose of negotiating a loan from the state treasurer for the village. If they are not successful another election will be called making the interest on a $80,000 bond issue 6 per cent instead of 5 per cent as at present. It is the belief of the council that if the bonds have been advertised for sale at 6 per cent there would have been no trouble in disposing of this issue.

WANT LEAGUE GAME FOR EAGLES' MEETING

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is probable that the Northern league will play ball in Eveleth during the Eagles' state convention. Games are scheduled in Virginia for that date and an effort is being made to have them transferred to Eveleth. The management of the Virginia team is willing that the games be played here, but it is necessary to obtain the consent of the league president. The proposition has been taken up with President John Burmeister and it is probable that it can be arranged satisfactorily.

EVELETH BRIEFS.

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report of the market master for the month of April shows that business amounting to $1,524 was transacted through the market during the month. The barns were used by the farmers who traded in the city. The register shows that 382 teams were stabled during the month.

The Bricklayers' union has petitioned the council to employ only union labor hereafter on city contracts. In a petition to the council the union points out some of the advantages of the use of union men.

Approximately 100 dogs are licensed to roam the streets of Eveleth. Since the dog catcher began his work May 1, 100 dog owners have visited the city clerk and obtained the tags that gives their dogs the right to live.

The city has engaged Mrs. Dora E. Lee as visiting nurse for the months of June, July and August. Mrs. Lee is employed by the school district during the months school is in session and in giving her employment for the summer months she will be kept on the job the entire year.

Firemen to Boost Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Preparations are being made by the local firemen to advertise Chisholm at the state convention of firemen, at Pine City, June 8. In addition to advertising badges, the delegates will take along a handsome pamphlet showing views of the town and descriptive literature.

VIRGINIA CLUB IS TO MAKE PROTEST

Complaint to Be Filed Against Certain Railroads.

Virginia, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club will voice before the state railroad and warehouse commission its protest against certain local railroad conditions alleged to exist here and to that end last night instructed its transportation club to file complaints with the commission covering the following points:

Lack of physical connection between the Iron Range and Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroads; lack of physical connection between the Great Northern and Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroads; the question of the removal of the Iron Range railroad station to a point within the city of Virginia. The station is now in the village of Franklin; the establishment of reasonable passenger service over the Great Northern railroad to points west of Virginia.

President Murphy Quits.

M. A. Murphy, the club president, startled the members by formally resigning because he said there was a lack of interest in the club's work. He commented upon what he termed the lack of interest in club work shown by business men. The resignation will take effect two weeks hence. His successor is being considered.

ILL LUCK PURSUED CHICAGO SUICIDE

W. F. Engel, Who Took Gas, Known in Two Harbors and Duluth.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. F. Engel, who committed suicide by taking gas in Chicago last Tuesday of this week, was at one time a resident of this city and was well known here.

He came here in 1898 and was employed by the Iron Range railroad here. Hard luck seemed to follow him and while here he suffered a number of serious injuries. He lost his right hand in 1904, and for some time after he recovered he acted as assistant yardmaster, but was later made operator at Duluth Siding. He later met with a more serious accident which necessitated his leaving the service entirely.

TWO HARBORS CONCERT.

Girls' Glee Club to Entertain, Assisted By Duluth Woman.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The City Girls' Glee club, assisted by Miss Agnes Mae Johnson of Duluth, will give a concert this evening in the high school assembly hall at 8 o'clock. Following is the program: "The Lotus Flower," Schuman; reading, "A Scene From Polly of the Circus," Margaret Mayo, Miss Agnes Mae Johnson; solo, "My Lover, He Comes on a Ski," Leighter, Miss Berry; trio, "Sweet May," Barnby, Misses Margaret Peterson, Esther Johnson and Vienna Passenen; group of dialect reading, Miss Agnes Mae Johnson; cornet solo, "A Little Grey Home in the West," Lohr, Prof. Henry H. Hammill; "'Twas April," Nevin, girls' glee chorus; reading, "The Happy Prince," Oscar Wilde, Miss Agnes Mae Johnson; solo, "Joy of the Morning," Ware, Le Roy Ballieu; song, "At Dusk," Terhune, girls' glee chorus; Miss Carolyn Jacobi, Fred Doerr, and Miss Maybelle Owens will be the accompanists.

CHISHOLM CLUB HAS LUNCH AND SMOKER

Chisholm, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club last night entertained at a Dutch lunch and smoker at Sartori hall. The Commercial band furnished the music. Victor Power, mayor of Hibbing, was among the speakers. He pointed out the advantages of maintaining an active organization. The meeting was attended by all of the active business men of the village.

CHISHOLM POLICE CHIEF IS INJURED

Chisholm, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Police Chief A. L. Bergerson is laid up as the result of a peculiar accident at his home. Mr. Bergerson was cleaning out the pipes of a sink with lye and had stopped up the hole with a plug. When the lye came into contact with the sewer gas it caused an explosion, blowing out the plug and causing the lye to shoot up in Mr. Bergerson's face. The lids of both eyes and the face are badly burned and may result in permanent disfigurement.

Chisholm Man Hurt.

Chisholm, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Bividovick was thrown from the Matzell meat market wagon and sustained injuries to both ankles that have placed him on crutches.

Engage Chisholm Pianist.

Chisholm, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Pearle A. Sheehy, Chisholm's successful pianist, has been re-engaged as accompanist for Prof. George Jensen, basso, at the final meeting of the Monday, May 24, musicale at Hibbing. Miss Sheehy has appeared on the musicale program during the past year and her playing has been much enjoyed.

THE USE OF SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simple moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

CLEARING

There is no use writing anything about this weather—it speaks for itself. To begin writing about it might lead one astray and into the realm of violence, which is far from our even-tempered disposition aside from the fact that we could be arrested for the thoughts that surge. This is a nor'easter and that explains it all.

A year ago today was fresh and mild. The sun rose this morning at 4:25 and will set this evening at 7:43, giving fifteen hours and eighteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The disturbance centered over the Upper Mississippi Valley has caused widespread rains over Eastern, Central, Northern and Rocky Mountain states, and fresh to strong northeasterly winds on Lake Superior. Heavy rains fell over Southeastern Nebraska, and Southern Missouri. The temperature has fallen over the Southwest and has risen decidedly over the Ohio Valley and Southern Lake region. Light to heavy frosts occurred in Colorado, and the Central and Western portions of Kansas and Nebraska."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 21.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Minnesota and Wisconsin—Rain followed by clearing tonight; Saturday fair with rising temperature.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Saturday; cooler in extreme east portion tonight; rising temperature Saturday.

North and South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; light frost in exposed places tonight; rising temperature Saturday.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; probably local showers in west portion.

Upper and Lower Michigan—Rain tonight and Saturday, partly cloudy.

VERMILION OLD-TIMERS' MEETING

Plans Being Perfected for Annual Gathering at Ely.

Ely, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Old Settlers' meeting was well attended and the committee to arrange the reunion this summer appointed.

Victor Dash, Duluth; Ted Wheeler, Tower; James C. Robb, Eveleth; W. C. Barrett, Hibbing; E. T. Sandberg, Aurora; W. J. Trythal, Nashwauk; C. J. Mott, Coleraine; Bror Magnusson, Chisholm; Nick Shank, Biwabik; W. P. Chinn, Gilbert; Andrew Hawkinson, Virginia; Thomas Owens, Two Harbors, were appointed on a committee to get the names of all old-timers of the Vermilion range in their respective communities and submit the names to the secretary in order that an announcement of the coming celebration may be sent them.

When the old settlers organized here last summer it was decided to hold this year's celebration at Tower. On account of the burning of the Vermilion hotel in that city, it is deemed advisable to hold the meeting here this year. Ely and Tower will alternate the annual celebrations. The entertainment committee will arrange a program for the dates which will be Friday and Saturday of the first week in August.

It was suggested that there be a grand old fashioned ball, lake and auto trips, and races.

The dues were placed at $1 per male member. These dues are only for getting the preliminary works in order and are payable to the treasurer at once. Receipts will be issued bearing the date to Aug. 1, 1915.

To Plan Events.

As soon as the lists of names are given the membership committee and the entertainment committee completes the list of events, each member will receive a program and a cordial invitation to be present.

The appointed committees follow:

By-laws—Henry Chinn, John Dinsmore and I. G. Cox.

Entertainment — Grant McMahon, Charles Trezona, Thomas E. Miller, Bart Coffey, Richard Hodge, John A. Harri and Thomas Jury.

Executive—President John Anderson, Vice Presidents Mike Weinzierl and Charles Sandberg, Sr., Secretary F. B. James, Treasurer P. T. Brownell, and all members of the entertainment and by-laws committees.

Reception—A. J. Fenske, Louis Eisenach, Harry A. Chinn, Thomas C. Grierson, Joseph Martinetti, Jacob Klobuchar, James H. White, J. M. Brown, Jack Seraphine and Elias La Beau.

CHILDREN WILL HELP.

Hibbing Youngsters to Aid In Proposed Clean-up Campaign.

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fifteen hundred school children next week will devote their efforts to making Hibbing a better village to live in, according to estimates of Superintendent of Schools C. C. Alexander, who is distributing cards among the pupils to pledge their support.

"We are not giving the cards to any children who are too young to actually help in the work," Supt. Alexander said today. "Teachers tell me, however, that the children are showing unexpected enthusiasm.

"Each child is being impressed with the importance of cleaning up their own premises first and then to help clean up other places, vacant lots and the like. It is probable that the children will organize their efforts. Some system in assigning work may be arranged."

CHORAL CLUB PLANS ON GREATER YEAR

Virginia, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the Virginia Choral club were given a banquet at the Episcopal church guild room by the guild last evening. The organization had a most successful year and decided next year to increase the membership from twenty-eight to forty-two and to give three big range concerts. J. E. Howe was elected president, Lyle Brundage, vice president and Miss Myrtle King, secretary.

STATE SOLONS WILL SEE HIBBING DISPLAY

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—State legislators will be shown an industrial exhibit at the Lincoln high school here when they visit Hibbing. Superintendent of Schools C. C. Alexander announces that as much of the exhibit to be displayed here Friday, June 4, to Hibbing parents, will be preserved for the visit of the law makers June 12.

Big Trees Doomed.

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The big pine trees that stand close to the pumpmen's houses at St. Mary's lake must be removed. The tall trees stand exposed to the wind and are liable to fall when there is a bad storm. Commissioner Joseph Wilson has decided that they must be cut and the work will be done at once.

JERRY EDMUNDS IS HIBBING'S HERO

Snatches Victory From Chisholm During Very Tense Moment.

Hibbing, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Captain Jerry Edmunds, in his most approved fashion and in a manner which made him one of the most popular players on the Duluth White Sox nine last year, grabbed the ball from the pitcher's reach of Cy Dahlgren on the end of a bat yesterday afternoon for three bases, knocking in three runs with the contest with the Chisholm Braves. Hibbing won by a score of 5 to 2.

The situation was tense enough to meet the unanimous approval of all when Jerry approached the plate. The bags were full and two men were irretrievably gone. Two strikes had been called on Edmunds. Also three balls. With all the gusto of a north wind on a June morn Dahlgren, slab artist once for Cincinnati, went through the preliminary motions of hurling the ball. The ball came over the pan and Edmunds responded in such a way that nothing will ever be too good for him here.

Five Runs Are Made.

Four runs were made for the Colts in the fifth inning when Edmunds made the wonderful swat. Another run was annexed in the sixth. Chisholm made their two runs in the sixth. An error and two nice hits tell the story. For the Hibbing nine, Jimmy Withers hurled ball that was unsolvable by the Braves. He was well supported. Despite the cold weather more than 700 fans attended the game.

Tomorrow and Sunday Hibbing will meet the Chisholm miners again. Wilson will probably do the heavy work for the local team Saturday while it is probable that Reiger will pitch Sunday. Dahlgren will hurl for the Chisholm Braves Sunday again.

LAKE COUNTY FAIR PLANS DISCUSSED

Directors Make Changes in Rules and Arrange Other Details.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The directors of the Lake County Agricultural society held a special meeting last evening, at which preparations for the 1915 fair were advanced and a number of important changes were made in the rules governing the conduct of the fair and the premiums to be paid. The dates fixed for the 1915 fair are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 15, 16 and 17. Superintendents for the various departments have not been agreed upon, but it is the understanding that those who acted last year will serve again at the coming fair.

One of the most important changes in the rules which will be in effect this year, is that children under the age of 12 years will not be admitted after 7 p. m. unless accompanied by their parents.

According to a communication the state crop improvement association has recommended the following field crops as being most suitable for Lake county: Marquis wheat, Kherson oats, Carmen No. 3, McKinley and Early Ohio potatoes.

In order to encourage the growth of these crops, the Lake County Agricultural society will give a larger premiums for these varieties than any others.

Prizes to Be Offered.

The offers this year for varieties named are:

Marquis wheat, best peck, first, $2, second $1.

Kherson oats, first prize $3, second, $2.

For the best bushel of the three above named varieties of potatoes—First prize, $5, second, $4, third, $3, four $2, fifth $1.

The premiums in best class of potatoes have been doubled since last year.

There will be the usual number of attractive special prizes this year. The land department of the Iron Range railroad will offer $100 and the Lake County Farmers club $25.

Another important change in the rules by the directors will be effective in the women's departments. Heretofore the society has paid premiums on practically everything exhibited, whether listed in the premium list or not. With this method it was impossible for those in charge to know just how much money would be required to pay the premiums. With the new regulations, which are practically the same as those in force in other counties, only such articles as are listed in the premium book will be received. It is therefore very necessary for those who desire to make exhibitions to first read over the premium list.

To Make Fair Success.

The directors of the association are starting early to prepare for the coming fair with one ambition in view, and that to make it the biggest and best county fair that has ever been held in Lake county. Special stress will be exercised in the live stock department and an effort will be made to persuade every owner of blooded stock in the county to exhibit same at the fair. The premiums will be such as will be expected to lure the stock owners to bring their stock to the fair. Last year the stock department entries were increased 50 per cent over former years and this year another large increase is expected.

Ely-Winton Game Sunday.

Ely, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The baseball game between the Ely and Winton teams which was scheduled for last Sunday and canceled on account of the rain, will be played at the Ely park Sunday. The Ely lineup will be as follows: Pitcher, Gianotti and Williamsen; catcher, Lambert; first base, Chinn; second base, La Beau; third base, Martin; shorstop, McCarthy; right field, Erickson; left field, Pauley; center field, Gianotti; substitutes, Aijala, Maki, Gibson and Hill.

Ely Teacher Surprised.

Ely, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A surprise party was tendered Miss Elsie Beuchler, principal at the Central school building by the girls of her class, Thursday afternoon. Besides the class the faculty of the Central school and Miss Lenita Meyer were present. Miss Beuchler was presented with a silver fruit set. A delightful luncheon was served by the girls.

Eveleth Garden Prizes.

Eveleth, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The prize list for the gardening contest has been completed. Twenty-seven prizes will be offered. The first will be $10, two $5 second prizes are offered, five $2 third prizes and ten $1 fourth prizes. Three cash prizes have also been offered for each of the four locations.

Child Sounds False Alarm.

Ely, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A false alarm was turned in from Box No. 24 yesterday afternoon. One of the neighbors saw a little girl turn in the alarm and the little girl was located. It is not decided whether the matter will be taken up further.

To Consider Purchases.

WONDERFUL REMEDY IN TIME TO SAVE WOMAN

Mrs. Williams Gets on Way to Health After First Dose of Treatment.

Mrs. Peter Williams of 2749 Eighteenth street, south, Minneapolis, was desperately ill with stomach trouble. She faced the probability of an operation.

After taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, discovered for her by a kind friend, she found herself on the way back to health. Mrs. Williams wrote:

"I have taken Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for the fourth time and I am feeling like a new woman. I am entirely out of pain. I had been sick for eighteen months and four of our best doctors could do nothing for me. They all agreed that an operation was the only thing. One day a man told my husband of your remedy and that night he brought it home to me."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

THE PRICE OF SUCCESS

Many people pay a terrible price for success, sacrificing for it health and happiness. Neurasthenia, a typically American disease, is due to worry over the struggle for success more than to any other one thing.

Neurasthenia is a condition of nervous exhaustion in which the system fails to recuperate after unusual demands upon its nervous energy. Its symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed towards building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Begin the treatment today before your condition becomes chronic.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

STRONG CASH DEMAND BULGES WHEAT PRICES

Market Advances on Urgent Bidding; Minneapolis Dealers Buy at Duluth.

Flaxseed Bulges at Close in Burst of Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 21.—The market was strong up to the close, with steady buying in evidence. May wheat closed 2¼c up, July 2¾c up, and September ⅞c up. May durum closed ⅛c up, July 4c up, and September ¾c up.

Oats closed ⅜c up at 53¼@54¼c for on the track; rye, 2c up at $1.14@1.15 and barley unchanged at from 65 to 75c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 3c up at 62⅝c bid and July ⅜c up at 63⅜c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at $1.45 and calls at $1.51.

A sharp bulge developed in the wheat market today, attributable to a combination of bullish factors.

The main factor in the upturn was the strong supply situation and congestion in the May future at Minneapolis. When shorts began to seek cover down there, they found nothing offering, and on excited bidding, the quotation was run up 6¼c to $1.59 or 3c over its figure here. Sales of No. 2 and 3 northern to millers in the southern portion of the state and to Minneapolis dealers were reported by Duluth elevator men. Under the situation as it had developed, Minneapolis operators were advised to be willing to take any wheat that could be picked up here. Minneapolis elevator stocks showed a decrease of 590,000 bu in the week, leaving only around 4,000,000 bu to wheat is marketed early in July. To heighten the congestion receipts are falling off indicating that stocks in farmers' hands are being rapidly cleaned up.

Southwest news of the day was all on the bullish order, the concensus of it all being that wheat has sustained serious damage through flies and cinch bugs. Under the present lineup in the world's wheat markets, this talk is a more potent market factor than it would ordinarily have been. Crop conditions in the winter territory will be given strict attention between now and harvest time.

Liverpool was strong, with winter wheat held at 3d advance due to advices from this country. It is interesting to note that for the first time on record, Duluth No. 1 northern was specifically quoted on the Liverpool market today.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at $1.55 and advanced 1⅝c more up to the noon hour. July opened ¼c up at $1.50¼, and advanced 1¾c more. July opened unchanged at $1.21¼, and gained ¼c.

Business was again limited in durum. May opened unchanged at $1.61, sagged 1c, and then recovered to the same extent. July opened unchanged at $1.49 and gained 1c.

Flaxseed Quiet.

Business in flaxseed was quiet and featureless and its movement was narrow. Operators are said to be holding back for developments in the crop situation. The prospective European demand and the extent of Argentina's marketings are being given attention. Sharp buying to fill some orders developed at the close and its market was run up.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.92¾, and closed ½c up at $1.93¼ nominal. July opened unchanged at $1.95¼ and closed 1c up at $1.96¼. September opened unchanged at $1.98 and closed 1¼c up at $1.99¼ bid. October closed 1¼c up at $1.98¾ nominal.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1¾c up at $1.77¾ bid, and July 1⅞c up at $1.79⅞ bid.

At Buenos Aires, flax closed 1½c up at $1.33⅛, and London ⅞c up at $1.90⅛.

MARKET GOSSIP.

At Minneapolis: Cash wheat was very strong. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5⅞@8½c over May and velvet chaff at 2½@3½c over May. Flour sales were a little better. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.60@1.67, and No. 2 northern at from $1.58@1.64½. Wheat stocks in Minneapolis elevators decreased 590,000 bu in the week.

Decount wired: "From Wellington, Kan., to Joplin, the crop has been damaged by fly. Some fields are fair, but others poor. Lots of fields are in splendid condition in Southeastern Kansas and the wheat is mostly headed. There is fly damage in this section, but it will still yield a fairly good average crop if nothing more happens to it."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Steady American cables and strong closing in Buenos Aires helped to establish a firmer undertone here but trading is dull. Spot market is steady, unchanged to ½d higher. Cargo market was irregular. Winters held at 3d advance, Plates at 4½d higher and Manitobas unchanged.

"Corn was easy on better Argentine news, quiet demand for spot and easy cargo market."

B. W. Snow wired: "Referring to Davies and Knox counties, Indiana, and Lawrence county, Illinois, crossing White and Wabash valleys. Last fall Davies showed serious fly infection and all its crop seen today was in bad shape. Yield in best fields will be small, and a large acreage is worthless with some being turned down. In Knox and Lawrence counties there was some fly damage last fall but it was not then regarded as serious. Situation is now very much mixed, but the loss is greater than anticipated. A few fields show but little injury but the larger part will be materially cut in yield. Plant is heading with a rank growth but examination shows sufficient larvae to cause heavy straw fall. Full damage will not be recognized until harvest time and present denials are probably based upon rank growth of stalk. Acreage is large, but the rate of yield will finally show below normal. Twenty-four hours general rain put the soil in perfect condition for corn and oats."

Argentine shipments: Wheat, 4,712,000 bu vs. 3,696,000 bu last week and 1,176,000 bu last year; corn, 1,474,000 bu vs. 1,401,000 bu last week and 1,178,000 bu last year; oats, 600,000 bu vs. 440,000 bu last week and 440,000 bu last year.

New Zealand wheat crop is estimated at 4,900,000 bu against 5,200,000 bu last year.

It is semi-officially reported wheat stocks at Odessa, Russia amount to 8,000,000 bu and along the Dnieper river ports to 2,000,000 bu.

Clement Curtis of Chicago wired: "Summary of our reports on wheat covering every state east of the Rockies shows average condition of 88 per cent or 6 points decline from May 1, principal losses being in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. Condition of oats is good. South reports an increase of 10 to 20 per cent in oats. Corn prospects are helped by rains. South is reporting 15 per cent increase in corn acreage."

Modern Miller says: "Rapid deterioration in wheat conditions has come throughout entire winter wheat belt and the Modern Miller confirms heavy damage. In Oklahoma 25 per cent wheat acreage is infested with fly. Damage is estimated at 40 per cent. Heavy rains have flooded wheat. Kansas is badly infested with Hessian fly. Rains have checked chinch bugs, but some of principal counties reported damage as high as 45 per cent. It is too early to estimate accurately but our advices indicate a crop not exceeding 120,000,000 bu. Missouri shows the greatest deterioration. Southern Illinois principal counties producing normally, 40 per cent of the crop have been badly damaged. Central Illinois shows some deterioration and the crop along Illinois river is reported good. Western and Southern Indiana has been hard hit by fly and many fields have been plowed up. Central and Eastern sections are but slightly affected. Ohio has some fly but there has been no material damage. Kentucky reports shows a low average condition, as compared with last year."

Bradstreets world's clearances for week: Wheat, 7,657,388 bu and corn, 1,200,340 bu.

C. E. Lewis & Co. had the following closing letter from Chicago: "Bullish crop news was again the factor for higher prices, with shorts and Eastern commission houses competing for the offerings on the advance. A resume of crop conditions issued by the 'Modern Miller' confirmed considerable damage over a widely scattered area. There was a good demand for old crop wheat in all centers which resulted in sharp advances of May, with Northwestern markets leading. Statistical news was a standoff. Weather conditions are ideal and advices indicate crop has sufficient moisture to carry it to maturity. New wheat is offered liberally for last half of July and first half of August shipment, but buyers show no inclination to take hold. The short interest has been greatly reduced on this advance, and we favor sales on all bulges for the present."

Bullish Crop Reports From Illinois Send Wheat Upward.

Chicago, May 21.—Bullish crop reports from Illinois today gave the wheat market here an upward swing. A leading expert sent word that a large acreage in the southeastern section of the state was worthless and that in other fields the damage had been greater than seemed probable. Some buying for an export house caused the May option to lead the advance. Opening prices which varied from ¼c off to ½c advance, were followed by gains all around, and then a moderate reaction.

Reports that suggested 64,000,000 bu less wheat in Kansas and Oklahoma than was harvested for 1914 caused a second swell in prices. There were also advices that millers were competing for the unsold wheat at Duluth. The market closed strong at 1⅞c to 1⅞c net advance.

Corn rallied owing to the bulge in wheat. After opening ⅛@¼c to ⅜@½c down the market ascended above last night's level.

Need of dry, warm weather was an element later in a decided upturn. The close was firm at ⅝@½c to 1c above last night.

Oats traders took their cue from the action of wheat.

Higher prices for hogs tended to lift provisions.

LIGHT TRADING IN THE COPPERS

Operators Await War Developments; Quotations Firm in Leading Issues.

Operations in mining stocks were on a more limited scale today as a result of a disposition to await developments in the war situation before incresing commitments. Quotations were, however, firmly held throughout the list.

Butte & Superior was the heaviest stock traded in on the board. It closed $1.50 up at $69.75.

American Zinc closed 37 cents up at $47; Alaska Gold 75 cents up at $35.50; Calumet & Arizona 75 cents up at $64; Copper Range unchanged at $50.50; North Butte, unchanged at $30.75; Oscoola $1 up at $77; Quincy $1.25 up at $85.25; and Shattuck ½ up at $27.

At New York, Amalgamated Copper closed 62 cents up at $66, and Anaconda unchanged at $31.50.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Alex Scott sold at $8; Chief at 75c; Keating at $1.50; United Verde Extension at $4.25@4.50; Calaveras at $1.94@2; Jumbo Extension at $1.25@1.38; First National Copper at $2.06@2, and Atlanta at 40@39c.

It is reported that Butte & Superior has refused offers to sell 500,000 pounds of spelter per month for one year at 16c a pound.

Copper exports for week ended May 20, were 11,357 tons against 2,264 in same time in 1914. From May 1 they were 24,658 tons against 26,837 in 1914.

At London copper closed steady, spot at 75 pounds 5s, off 12s 6d; futures at 76 pounds 5s, off 12s 6d, and electrolytic at 87 pounds, unchanged.

A New York wire said: "There has been no marked buying in copper and while the large producing interests continue to hold the metal at 19c, it is stated that several of the important concerns are willing to accept 18¾c on firm bids for considerable quantities of the metal."

Another wave of buying is near in the copper metal market according to George Walker the Boston expert. The United States government is reported arranging to make big purchases. The buying of Utah, Anaconda, Chino, Ray and Miami copper shares is understood to be from influential sources.

Failure of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power company directors to take dividend action at their last meeting was disappointing as it had been expected that payment of the quarterly dividend of $1.50 would be resumed. Directors aver that there never was any intention to declare a dividend at this time. While the company's plants are now operating at something close to full capacity, it is felt that no disbursements of dividends should be made until the losses due to the recent depression have been more fully made good.

Announcement is made that the Butte & Superior has contracted for sale for 2,500,000 pounds of spelter at 13 cents per pound; deliveries to be made 500,000 pounds a month for five months. The company is now employing 1,200 men and for May will pay them $4 a day.

MANY BOATS TO LAY UP

Scarcity of Cargoes Cause Ships to Be Put in Ordinary.

Coal, Ore and Grain Moving Slowly—Dispatch Too Good.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some owners who have enough ore under contract to operate with a little coal to help out, are up against a shortage of ore for the rest of this month, and are planning to put ships into ordinary until next month. They believe they will be in a position to put boats back in commission in June, but possibly not before the middle.

The opinion prevails that the dullest part of the season is likely to be the period up to June 15. The hope is that from then on the season will steadily improve. This is based upon two things. First, that the lower ore rate from the mines to the Head of the Lakes ports will encourage shipping, and that furnaces will do considerably more buying after June 15. It is known that many furnaces are using ore they have had in the yards for years.

Persons who have passed furnaces in Ohio and Western Pennsylvania the last few weeks have remarked upon the way furnace stocks are being dug out of the ground. When business is done along extremely cautious lines, the practice is to clean up furnace stocks before laying in a supply. When buying to restock begins, the furnaces will need more ore than they usually would; but how long they can remain out of the market is the principal point of interest now.

Grain cargoes are so scarce that tonnage offered at the low rates of the last week, both at Chicago and the Head of the Lakes, has failed to bring out anything. A number of ships will be ready for down cargoes before Monday, and have no prospect of getting anything in the meantime.

"If we could get the business we have contracted to carry, it would be comparatively easy to keep the boats moving for a while at least," a manager said yesterday. "The ships report for a load, and by the time the message reaches Cleveland, they are loaded, and when the telegram announcing they are loaded reaches us, they are out in the lake. Dispatch is so good that it looks as if a fourth of the boats might be laid up to advantage."

ROADS MAY CHARGE FOR LOADING ORE

Important Decision Handed Down By Interstate Commerce Commission.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 21.—The interstate commerce commission has handed down its decision in the complaint of mining companies against the charge of 5 cents a ton for loading ore into boats at Marquette, Ashland and Escanaba, sustaining the railroads.

The ore mined in the Gogebic, Marquette and Menominee ranges goes to the ports where docks charge for loading ore. Corrigan-McKinney & Co., the Newport Mining company and the Hayes Mining company carried the complaint to the interstate commerce commission. They charged the railroads were adding to the burden of the mining companies by the loading charge and made it harder to compete with the mines back of Duluth and Two Harbors. The Mesaba and Vermilion ranges take a 5-cent lower rate June 1, which should, to some extent, prove beneficial to those properties.

The upholding of the dock charge may encourage the roads with docks at Duluth and Superior and Two Harbors to publish a charge of 5 cents to make up the difference between the present freight rate and the new rate after June 1. This charge cannot be effective this year and should the railroads attempt it the interstate commerce commission might follow precedent and suspend the tariff until it had been considered. This might take years. The commission might also fail to sustain the freight rate if a dock charge was made.

The decision just handed down, however, removes any question as to the freight rates on ore for 1915 and shippers and buyers should not have this point to contend with any more this season.

PACKAGE FREIGHT BUSINESS LIGHT

Slump Experienced in Westbound, But Eastbound Holds Up.

Although eastbound package freight is holding its own and the steamers from the upper lakes are finding all they can take care of, there has been a slump in the last week in westbound freight. This condition has been expected and will probably continue until the middle of the summer. All the vessel owners appear confident that July will see an increase in business and that the end of the season will be a prosperous one.

The dullest part of the season, particularly for the bulk freighters, will be the period up till June 15. The hope is that from then on conditions will steadily improve. This is based on the lower ore rates which go into effect at that time, and on the hope that the furnace men will be buying more at this time. It is known that many furnaces are using ore which they have had in the yards for years.

Sailor Hurt By Hawser.

John Tennesen, aged 25, a sailor on the steamer Sirius, was slightly injured last night when a hawser parted, the hook striking him over the head and rendering him unconscious. Police Surgeon Harry Klein was called and the injured man was removed to St. Mary's hospital. He was reported to be recovering this morning. Tennesen lives at Fort Erie, Can.

NORTHEAST GALE HITS ALL LAKES

Wind Blows Thirty to Forty Miles an Hour—Clear Saturday.

Storm warnings were hoisted at 10:30 this morning to warn sailors that a northeast gale is starting. At 11 o'clock the wind was blowing at a velocity of thirty miles an hour, but Mr. Richardson, the weather forecaster, says that it will get above the forty-mile clip at times during the day and probably tonight.

The storm covers almost all of the lakes, and Lake Superior is especially "blessed," for the storm center is near here and moving this way. The storm is centered over Northeastern Iowa and is moving north-northeast. Similar weather conditions are spread over the Eastern, Central and Rocky mountain states.

Forecasts hold out a hope for tomorrow. Mr. Richardson says that the storm will last today and perhaps some of the night, but that there is an indication of clearer and warmer weather for Saturday.

HEARING GOES OVER TO JUNE 17

Attorneys Secure Postponement in Equity Exchange Case.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Equity Co-operative Exchange case has been adjourned till June 1 on request of attorneys for the exchange. Late yesterday afternoon Attorney General Linde concluded reading the salient features of the more important affidavits and announced that the time of the court would not be longer taken up as affidavits would have to be read by the court in chambers. Efforts of Attorney Manahan, for the exchange, to make a stump speech were suppressed by the court, who insisted that he could not listen to anything but remarks on the case. Manahan then make a motion for continuance in order to secure evidence to rebut that of Attorney General Linde. The plaintiffs announced they would not oppose reasonable adjournment and June 17 was fixed. The attorney general's forces are confident they have made sufficient showing to have a receiver appointed. Attorneys for the exchange insist they will produce testimony and affidavits to refute the charges when the hearing is resumed next month.

TO CHISHOLM MEETING.

President Olesen of Cloquet to Attend Women's Club Gathering.

Cloquet, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Peter Olesen of Cloquet, president of the Eighth district of Minnesota Women's Federated clubs, will go to Chisholm Monday to preside at the convention to be held next week.

Mrs. Olesen has had charge of the program and has secured a number of excellent speakers, one of whom will be Prof. Maria Sanford of Minneapolis.

The general topic for discussion will be civic welfare. Mrs. Olesen although not one of the regular speakers will discuss "The Good Influence of Community and Mother's Club." Those who will attend the convention from Cloquet, are Mrs. F. D. Vibert, Mrs. J. T. Sheean, Mrs. C. E. Canfield, Mrs. C. B. Watkins and Mrs. James Fleming.

MAN NEAR BROOKSTON HIT BY FALLING TREE

Brookston, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Steffen was quite badly hurt when he was struck by a falling tree while working on the town road. The tree struck him in the face and he was thrown against a stump and pinioned there until coworkers extricated him. He escaped luckily, as no bones were broken and he will be as well as ever in a few days.

Ed Antcliff, who recently purchased a twenty-acre tract of land a short distance west of the village, suffered a severe misfortune when his new house was completely destroyed by fire. The building had just been erected, and was ready to be shingled. The cause of the fire has not been determined, as there were no brush fires in that vicinity recently.

SIX YEARS TO BRING SUIT

Greene Says City May Start Action Against Paving Contractor.

P. McDonnell May Be Held If Superior Street Work Is Defective.

If the city of Duluth can prove that the Superior street pavement, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenues east, is now defective because Patrick McDonnell, contractor, failed to carry out his contract, then the municipality has a right of action against him and his surety, according to an opinion handed down by City Attorney Greene. Otherwise, he states, it will be impossible to hold him to the contract.

The city attorney's opinion is valuable in that it states that although the ten-year limit has expired, the city still has six years from Aug. 15, 1914, in which to bring action against Mr. McDonnell and his bondsmen. This question has been in doubt but it is now probable that the city will shortly bring suit against Mr. McDonnell and his surety to compel the repairing of East Superior street.

City Attorney Greene's opinion is in answer to a communication he received from Commissioner Farrell of the works division asking him to establish the validity of the surety bond covering the street improvement for a period of ten years, and as to whether the contractor and the surety company can be held liable for repairs at this time.

Was Election Issue.

The East Superior street pavement was one of the principal issues during the recent municipal campaign, the claim having been made by Mr. Farrell that Roderick Murchison, former commissioner, had failed to enforce the contract and that as a result, it had expired and will fall. The contention was raised by A. E. McManus, who managed the campaign for the former official, that the contract was still valid, although it was admitted that Mr. Murchison had failed to demand repairs on the ten-year guarantee. Immediately after taking office Mr. Farrell asked for an opinion on the matter and Mr. Greene's statement follows in part:

Still Has Right of Action.

"I view the agreement as one that could be enforced at any time within six years from the end of the ten-year limit. The ten years, during which the pavement was to be kept in good order, expired on Aug. 15, 1914. I think there would still be a right of action, therefor, against McDonnell, if, at the end of the ten years, said pavement was not in good order and condition; and also against his bond, assuming that the bond adequately secured the contract.

"If, however, you have or can get satisfactory evidence that McDonnell did not perform this contract properly, and if the pavement was in bad condition at the end of the ten years in consequence of his failure to perform, you would unquestionably have a right of action against him and his surety. If, on the other hand, the defects in the pavement at the end of the ten years were due to some other cause than failure to perform the contract properly, it would be doubtful whether you could hold McDonnell. Whether you could or not will depend on the decision in the case of Hugh Steele vs. the City."

Depends on Steele Case.

The case of Hugh Steele against the city is now before the district court and a decision is expected at any time. Mr. Steele made some repairs on a West Superior street pavement and the city has refused to pay for them, claiming that his contract called for the repairs after the pavement was completed, while Mr. Steele contends that it was additional work and requested by the city.

Last winter the council ordered East Superior street repaved, but property owners protested against the improvement, claiming that business conditions did not warrant such an expense and that the work should be laid over for about three years.

NORTHERN MINNESOTA BEST DAIRY COUNTRY

Joel Winkjer, former state food and dairy inspector, but now working for the Minnesota State Dairy and Creamery association, at the Spalding, today declared that Northern Minnesota is rapidly developing as a dairy section, and predicted that within a reasonably short time this part of Minnesota would be recognized as possibly the greatest dairying section in the state, if not in the Northwest.

At the present time, Mr. Winkjer is looking over the state field to find the best markets for the association he is representing. He declared that the affairs of the association were in a rather indefinite shape at the present time, but that organization and up-to-date methods were being employed to place it on a progressive plane.

"You have a wonderful dairying section up here in this northern part of the state," said Mr. Winkjer. "Northern Minnesota has not as yet come into its own. This portion of the state is just beginning to take on real development in regards to its dairy interests. With conditions almost ideally fitted to dairying, it will be only a comparatively short time before really remarkable results will be obtained by dairymen."

NOT IMMEDIATELY DRY.

If Polk County Votes Out Saloons They Will Continue Till November.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The saloons of Polk county, if the county goes dry next Monday, will not be closed for six months, the local and Crookston liquor dealers being fortified with license which will extend over that period.

In Crookston, new licenses have just been issued to saloon owners, while here the the date of issuing licenses is in November.

Nov. 24 will be the last saloon date in Polk county if the county goes dry.

AITKIN POSTOFFICE IS IN SECOND CLASS

Aitkin, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. M. Hughes of Minneapolis, postoffice inspector for this district, was in town this week making arrangements for the transfer of the local office from third to second class, which will take effect July 1. The proposed new rural delivery route was also gone over by the inspector, and if it is established, will be known as route 3.

Brainerd Man Tried.

Brainerd, Minn., May 21.—W. T. Larrabee, charged with keeping an unlicensed drinking place, was tried in the municipal court. Two drayloads of liquor were found at 422-424 Front street. Mr. Larrabee testified the same had been sold to the Mississippi club. Judge Gustav Halvorsen took the case under advisement.

JUDICIAL COWARDS ARE SCORED BY JUDGE FISK

Grand Forks, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Banish cowards from the bench," declared Chief Justice C. J. Fisk of the North Dakota supreme court, in an address here yesterday at the dedication of the new courthouse, "by educating the people to understand that they cannot afford to continue a judicial system that is faulty."

Independency of the judiciary, Judge Fisk maintained, was possible through longer tenure in office, and compensation that would prove an incentive to unbiassed decisions.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT —OF— ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— NORTHERN LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY.

We, the undersigned, Marcus F. Bates and Marcus W. Bates, do hereby certify that we are respectively the President and the Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company, a corporation duly created, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota.

That at a special meeting of the stockholders of said corporation, held at Duluth, Minnesota, on the 18th day of May, 1915, which meeting was duly called for the expressly stated purpose of amending the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company, at which meeting all of the stockholders of said Northern Land and Lumber Company were present in person, and at which meeting all of the shares of the capital stock of said corporation were duly represented and voted, it was resolved by the unanimous vote of all said stockholders and of all of said shares of stock, to amend the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company by changing and amending Article 2 and Article 5 and the last paragraph of Article 8 thereof, as set forth in the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted, to-wit:

Resolved, That said Article 2 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 2.

The general nature of its business shall be to acquire timber and timber lands; to log the same and to manufacture lumber and all lumber products; to purchase, handle and dispose of lumber, timber and lumber products; to purchase, improve, lease, sell, dispose of and deal in lands, tenements and hereditaments, also mixed and personal property, and to mortgage or pledge any way encumber or pledge or hypothecate any or all of the property belonging to said corporation.

Resolved, That said Article 5 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 5.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00).

ARTICLE 8.

Resolved, That the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, which fixes the time of the annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation on the first Wednesday after the first Monday of July in each year at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the by-laws of the corporation, be amended so as to read as follows:

The annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation shall be held on the first Tuesday of June of each year at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of said corporation, in the City of Duluth, Minnesota, or at such other place as may be fixed by a majority of the Board of Directors.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the President and Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company be and they are hereby authorized and directed to embrace the foregoing resolutions amending Article 2 and Article 5, and the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, adopted at said meeting of said stockholders, in a certificate duly executed by them, to be approved, filed, recorded and published pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided.

That immediately after the meeting of the stockholders of said corporation held as aforesaid, a meeting of the entire board of directors of said corporation was held, at which meeting all of the directors of said corporation were present, and the resolutions above set forth were adopted by the unanimous vote of all of said directors of said Northern Land and Lumber Company.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed the corporate seal of said corporation this 18th day of May, 1915.

MANY BOATS TO LAY UP

Scarcity of Cargoes Cause Ships to Be Put in Ordinary.

Coal, Ore and Grain Moving Slowly—Dispatch Too Good.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some owners who have enough ore under contract to operate with a little coal to help out, are up against a shortage of ore for the rest of this month, and are planning to put ships into ordinary until next month. They believe they will be in a position to put boats back in commission in June, but possibly not before the middle.

The opinion prevails that the dullest part of the season is likely to be the period up to June 15. The hope is that from then on the season will steadily improve. This is based upon two things. First, that the lower ore rate from the mines to the Head of the Lakes ports will encourage shipping, and that furnaces will do considerably more buying after June 15. It is known that many furnaces are using ore they have had in the yards for years.

Persons who have passed furnaces in Ohio and Western Pennsylvania the last few weeks have remarked upon the way furnace stocks are being dug out of the ground. When business is done along extremely cautious lines, the practice is to clean up furnace stocks before laying in a supply. When buying to restock begins, the furnaces will need more ore than they usually would; but how long they can remain out of the market is the principal point of interest now.

Grain cargoes are so scarce that tonnage offers at the low rates of the last week, both at Chicago and the Head of the Lakes, has failed to bring out anything. A number of ships will be ready for down cargoes before Monday, and have no prospect of getting anything in the meantime.

"If we could get the business we have contracted to carry, it would be comparatively easy to keep the boats moving for a while at least," a manager said yesterday. "The ships report for a load, and by the time the message reaches Cleveland, they are loaded, and when the telegram announcing they are loaded reaches us, they are out in the lake. Dispatch is so good that it looks as if a fourth of the boats might be laid up to advantage."

ROADS MAY CHARGE FOR LOADING ORE

Important Decision Handed Down By Interstate Commerce Commission.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 21.—The interstate commerce commission has handed down its decision in the complaint of mining companies against the charge of 5 cents a ton for loading ore into boats at Marquette, Ashland and Escanaba, sustaining the railroads.

The ore mined in the Gogebic, Marquette and Menominee ranges goes to the ports where docks charge for loading ore. Corrigan-McKinney & Co., the Newport Mining company and the Hayes Mining company carried the complaint to the Interstate commerce commission. They charged the railroads were adding to the burden of the mining companies by the loading charge and made it harder to compete with the mines back of Duluth and Two Harbors. The Mesaba and Vermilion ranges take a 5-cent lower rate June 1, which should, to some extent, prove beneficial to those properties.

The upholding of the dock charge may encourage the roads with docks at Duluth and Superior and Two Harbors to publish a charge of 5 cents to make up the difference between the present freight rate and the new rate after June 1. This charge cannot be effective this year and should the railroads attempt it the Interstate commerce commission might follow precedent and suspend the tariff until it had been considered. This might take years. The commission might also fail to sustain the freight rate if a dock charge was made.

The decision just handed down, however, removes any question as to the freight rates on ore for 1915 and shippers and buyers should not have this point to contend with any more this season.

PACKAGE FREIGHT BUSINESS LIGHT

Slump Experienced in Westbound, But Eastbound Holds Up.

Although eastbound package freight is holding its own and the steamers from the upper lakes are finding all they can take care of, there has been a slump in the last week in westbound freight. This condition has been expected and will probably continue until the middle of the summer. All the vessel owners appear confident that July will see an increase in business and that the end of the season will be a prosperous one.

The dullest part of the season, particularly for the bulk freighters, will be the period up till June 15. The hope is that from then on conditions will steadily improve. This is based on the lower ore rates which go into effect at that time, and on the hope that the furnace men will be buying more at this time. It is known that many furnaces are using ore which they have had in the yards for years.

Sailor Hurt By Hawser.

John Tennesen, aged 25, a sailor on the steamer Sirius, was slightly injured last night when a hawser parted, the hook striking him over the head and rendering him unconscious. Police Surgeon Harry Klein was called and the injured man was removed to St. Mary's hospital. He was reported to be recovering this morning. Tennesen lives at Fort Erie, Can.

NORTHEAST GALE HITS ALL LAKES

Wind Blows Thirty to Forty Miles an Hour—Clear Saturday.

Storm warnings were hoisted at 10:30 this morning to warn sailors that a northeast gale is starting. At 11 o'clock the wind was blowing at a velocity of thirty miles an hour, but Mr. Richardson, the weather forecaster, says that it will get above the forty-mile clip at times during the day and probably tonight.

The storm covers almost all of the lakes, and Lake Superior is especially "blessed," for the storm center is near here and moving this way. The storm is centered over Northeastern Iowa and is moving north-northeast. Similar weather conditions are spread over the Eastern, Central and Rocky mountain states.

Forecasts hold out a hope for tomorrow. Mr. Richardson says that the storm will last today and perhaps some of the night, but that there is an indication of clearer and warmer weather for Saturday.

HEARING GOES OVER TO JUNE 17

Attorneys Secure Postponement in Equity Exchange Case.

Fargo, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Equity Co-operative Exchange case has been adjourned till June 1 on request of attorneys for the exchange. Late yesterday afternoon Attorney General Linde concluded reading the salient features of the more important affidavits and announced that the time of the court would not be longer taken up as affidavits would have to be read by the court in chambers. Efforts of Attorney Manahan, for the exchange, to make a stump speech were suppressed by the court, who insisted that he could not listen to anything but remarks on the case.

Manahan then make a motion for continuance in order to secure evidence to rebut that of Attorney General Linde. The plaintiffs announced they would not oppose reasonable adjournment and June 17 was fixed. The attorney general's forces are confident they have made sufficient showing to have a receiver appointed. Attorneys for the exchange insist they will produce testimony and affidavits to refute the charges when the hearing is resumed next month.

TO CHISHOLM MEETING.

President Olesen of Cloquet to Attend Women's Club Gathering.

Cloquet, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Peter Olesen of Cloquet, president of the Eighth district of Minnesota Women's Federated clubs, will go to Chisholm Monday to preside at the convention to be held next week.

Mrs. Olesen has had charge of the program and has secured a number of excellent speakers, one of whom will be Prof. Maria Sanford of Minneapolis.

The general topic for discussion will be civic welfare. Mrs. Olesen although not one of the regular speakers will discuss "The Good Influence of Community and Mother's Club." Those who will attend the convention from Cloquet, are Mrs. F. D. Vibert, Mrs. J. T. Sheean, Mrs. C. E. Canfield, Mrs. C. B. Watkins and Mrs. James Fleming.

MAN NEAR BROOKSTON HIT BY FALLING TREE

Brookston, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Steffen was quite badly hurt when he was struck by a falling tree while working on the town road. The tree struck him in the face and he was thrown against a stump and pinioned there until coworkers extricated him. He escaped luckily, as no bones were broken and he will be as well as ever in a few days.

Ed Antcliff, who recently purchased a twenty-acre tract of land a short distance west of the village, suffered a severe misfortune when his new house was completely destroyed by fire. The building had just been erected, and was ready to be shingled. The cause of the fire has not been determined, as there were no brush fires in that vicinity recently.

SIX YEARS TO BRING SUIT

Greene Says City May Start Action Against Paving Contractor.

P. McDonnell May Be Held If Superior Street Work Is Defective.

If the city of Duluth can prove that the Superior street pavement, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenues east, is now defective because Patrick McDonnell, contractor, failed to carry out his contract, then the municipality has a right of action against him and his surety, according to an opinion handed down by City Attorney Greene. Otherwise, he states, it will be impossible to hold him to the contract.

The city attorney's opinion is valuable in that it states that although the ten-year limit has expired, the city still has six years from Aug. 16, 1914, in which to bring action against Mr. McDonnell and his bondsmen. This question has been in doubt but it is now probable that the city will shortly bring suit against Mr. McDonnell and his surety to compel the repairing of East Superior street.

City Attorney Greene's opinion is in answer to a communication he received from Commissioner Farrell of the works division asking him to establish the validity of the surety bond covering the street improvement for a period of ten years, and as to whether the contractor and the surety company can be held liable for repairs at this time.

Was Election Issue.

The East Superior street pavement was one of the principal issues during the recent municipal campaign, the claim having been made by Mr. Farrell that Roderick Murchison, former commissioner, had failed to enforce the contract and that as a result, it had expired last July. This contention was raised by A. E. McManus, who managed the campaign for the former official, that the contract was still valid, although it was admitted that Mr. Murchison had failed to demand repairs on the thoroughfare. Immediately after taking office Mr. Farrell asked for an opinion on the matter and Mr. Greene's statement follows in part:

Still Has Right of Action.

"I view the agreement as one that could be enforced at any time within six years from the end of the ten-year limit. The ten years, during which the pavement was to be kept in good order, expired on Aug. 16, 1914. I think there would be still the right of action, therefor, against McDonnell, if, at the end of the ten years, said pavement was not in good order and condition; and also against his bond, assuming that the bond adequately secured the contract.

"If, however, you have or can get satisfactory evidence that McDonnell did not perform this contract properly, and if the pavement was in bad condition at the end of the ten years in consequence of his failure to perform, you would unquestionably have a right of action against him and his surety. If, on the other hand, the defects in the pavement at the end of the ten years were due to some other cause than failure to perform the contract properly, it would be doubtful whether you could hold McDonnell. Whether you could or not will depend on the decision in the case of the Hugh Steele vs. the City."

Depends on Steele Case.

The case of Hugh Steele against the city is now before the district court and a decision is expected at any time. Mr. Steele made some repairs on a West Superior street pavement and the city has refused to pay for them, claiming that his contract called for the repairs after the pavement was completed, while Mr. Steele contends that it was additional work and requested by the city.

Last winter the council ordered East Superior street repaved, but property owners protested against the improvement, claiming that business conditions did not warrant such an expense and that the work should be laid over for about three years.

NORTHERN MINNESOTA BEST DAIRY COUNTRY

Joel Winkjer, former state food and dairy inspector, but now working for the Minnesota State Dairy and Creamery association, at the Spalding, today declared that Northern Minnesota is rapidly developing as a dairy section, and predicted that within a reasonably short time this part of Minnesota would be recognized as possibly the greatest dairying section in the state, if not in the Northwest.

At the present time, Mr. Winkjer is looking over the state field to find the best markets for the association he is representing. He declared that the affairs of the association were in a rather indefinite shape at the present time, but that organization and up-to-date methods were being employed to place it on a progressive plane.

"You have a wonderful dairying section up here in this northern part of the state," said Mr. Winkjer. "Northern Minnesota has not as yet come into its own. This portion of the state is just beginning to take on real development in regards to its dairy interests. With conditions almost ideally fitted to dairying, it will be only a comparatively short time before really remarkable results will be obtained by dairymen."

NOT IMMEDIATELY DRY.

If Polk County Votes Out Saloons They Will Continue Till November.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The saloons of Polk county, if the county goes dry next Monday, will not be closed for six months, the local and Crookston liquor dealers being fortified with license which will extend over that period.

In Crookston, new licenses have just been issued to saloon owners, while here the the date of issuing licenses is in November.

Nov. 24 will be the last saloon date in Polk county if the county goes dry.

AITKIN POSTOFFICE IS IN SECOND CLASS

Aitkin, Minn., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. M. Hughes of Minneapolis, postoffice inspector for this district, was in town this week making arrangements for the transfer of the local office from third to second class, which will take effect July 1. The proposed new rural delivery route was also gone over by the inspector, and if it is established, will be known as route 3.

Brainerd Man Tried.

Brainerd, Minn., May 21.—W. T. Larrabee, charged with keeping an unlicensed drinking place, was tried in the municipal court. Two drayloads of liquor were found at 422-424 Front street. Mr. Larrabee testified the same had been sold to the Mississippi club. Judge Gustav Halvorsen took the case under advisement.

JUDICIAL COWARDS ARE SCORED BY JUDGE FISK

Grand Forks, N. D., May 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Banish cowards from the bench," declared Chief Justice C. J. Fisk of the North Dakota supreme court, in an address here yesterday at the dedication of the new courthouse, "by educating the people to understand that they cannot afford to continue a judicial system that is faulty."

Independency of the judiciary, Judge Fisk maintained, was possible through longer tenure in office, and compensation that would prove an incentive to unbiassed decisions.

LEGAL NOTICES.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT —OF— ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— NORTHERN LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY.

We, the undersigned, Marcus F. Bates and Marcus W. Bates, do hereby certify that we are respectively the President and the Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company, a corporation duly created, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota.

That at a special meeting of the stockholders of said corporation, held at Duluth, Minnesota, on the 18th day of May, 1915, which meeting was duly called for the expressly stated purpose of amending the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company, at which meeting all of the stockholders of said Northern Land and Lumber Company were present in person, and at which meeting all of the shares of the capital stock of said corporation were duly represented and voted, it was resolved by the unanimous vote of all said stockholders and of all of said shares of stock, to amend the Articles of Incorporation of said Northern Land and Lumber Company by changing and amending Article 2 and Article 5 and the last paragraph of Article 8 thereof, as set forth in the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted, to-wit:

Resolved, That said Article 2 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 2.

The general nature of its business shall be to acquire timber and timber lands; to log the same and to manufacture lumber and all lumber products; to purchase, handle and dispose of lumber, timber and lumber products; to purchase, improve, lease, sell, dispose of and deal in lands, tenements and hereditaments, also mixed and personal property, and to mortgage or in any way encumber or pledge or hypothecate any or all of the property belonging to said corporation.

Resolved, That said Article 5 be amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE 5.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which this corporation shall at any time be subject is the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00).

ARTICLE 8.

Resolved, That the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, which fixes the time of the annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation on the first Wednesday after the first Monday of July in each year at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the by-laws of the corporation, be amended so as to read as follows.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of said corporation shall be held on the first Tuesday of June of each year at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of said corporation, in the City of Duluth, Minnesota, or at such other place as may be fixed by a majority of the Board of Directors.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the President and Secretary of the Northern Land and Lumber Company be and they are hereby authorized and directed to embrace the foregoing resolutions amending Article 2 and Article 5, and the last paragraph of Article 8 of said Articles of Incorporation, adopted at said meeting of said stockholders, in a certificate duly executed by them, to be approved, filed, recorded and published pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided.

That immediately after the meeting of the stockholders of said corporation held as aforesaid, a meeting of the entire board of directors of said corporation was held, at which meeting all of the directors of said corporation were present, and the resolutions above set forth were adopted by the unanimous vote of all of said directors of said Northern Land and Lumber Company.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto subscribed our names and affixed the corporate seal of said corporation this 18th day of May, 1915.
